STRIKE-TORN KITCHENER SEES NEW STREET FIGHTING

PROBABILITIES.
Moderate south-west winds; fair and warm. Saturday, moderate to fresh south-west winds; mostly fair and continuing warm with showers in some districts.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXII., No. 105 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1934 — PRICE THREE CENTS

TOBACCO PROBE REACHES SWIFT CLIMAX

BRITISH TROOPS READY TO RUSH INTO HODEIDAH

Arabian Nomads Already Sweeping in From Desert, Looting City.

DEFENDERS FLEE.

Italy Orders Three Warships to Port to Protect Nationals.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 4 (C.P.-Havas). — The Imam of Yemen, variously reported as dead, alive, and crushingly defeated by King Ibn Saud, was said to-day to have addressed an appeal for help to King Fuad of Egypt.

(By Albert W. Wilson, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, May 4 (AP)—British occupation of Hodeidah was threatened to-day because of the breakdown of the civil administration at that important South Arabian port as a result of the headlong flight of Yemeni hill warriors, before the conquering troops of Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia.

Apprehension over the future ambitions of the powerful Ibn Saud in other parts of the Arabic world were overshadowed in British official quarters by alarming reports that a state of anarchy exists in Yemen itself.

Reports to-day said Ibn Saud's formidable military machine was in possession of a great part of Yemen—a state bounded by the Red Sea, the desert and British-controlled Aden.

New Threat Crops Up

It was indicated that the fighting between Ibn Saud and the Imam Yahya, ruler of Yemen, probably was over, but the danger of widespread disorders brought a new threat to the early establishment of tranquility.

Pending the restoration of order by Ibn Saud in Hodeidah and other towns evacuated by the retreating Yemeni, British official circles indicated it may be necessary for British authorities to take over control.

British armed forces already have been dispatched to the war zone to assure the saftey of foreign residents and interests.

It was indicated, Italy and France—whose Arabian connections compel their interest in the situation—may also make some move.

Meanwhile, Nomads of the desert are reported to be rushing into Hodeidah and looting the city, the capture of which Ibn Saud is reported to have made certain by putting the Yemeni to utter rout.

Rush Three Warships

ROME, May 4 (AP)—The Italian Government to-day ordered three light warships to Hodeidah to protect Italian subjects and property which may be endangered by the conflict in Yemen.

The order for the dispatch of the warships to the danger area came from Benito Mussolini as Premier and Minister of the Navy.

Airedale Pup Is Found Record Time

J. L. O'Connor, 496 Bethune Street, advertised the loss of an "Airedale pup, answers to name of 'Buzz.' Brass-studded collar. Any-harboring will be prosecuted. Phone 659W."—on Tuesday last.

One hour and three-quarters from the time The Examiner was off the press, to be precise at 5.45 o'clock on the same day, the dog "Buzz" was recovered as a direct result of the advertisement in The Examiner.

The Weather

With summer heat again to-day, the thermometer reached this afternoon 84 degrees in the shade, while the lowest last night was 50 degrees.—W.P.

Your Evening Smile

MISSING DAD

Mother (to small child): No, pet, your daddy is not dead. He's joined a golf club.

Trolley tours lasting a day or a week-end are being tried in Scotland.

Help Put Over Clean-Up Week in Peterborough

Peterboroughs annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Give-a-Man Job Campaign opens on Monday, and will continue all next week. Citizens are urged to co-operate with Relief Officer Metheral of they want a man to do odd jobs. Now is the time to clean-up the yards and remove the winter's dirt and also to paint-up and to hundreds of other jobs around the house.

MACE CAPTURED IN WAR OF 1812 TO BE RETURNED

Roosevelt Request to Congress Will Restore Trophy to Ontario Parliament.

TAKEN, BATTLE OF YORK.

Gesture to be Made at Time of Unveiling of U. S. Tablet in Toronto.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (A.P.). — President Roosevelt to-day asked the United States Congress to return the mace of the Parliament of Ontario, captured during the war of 1812, and now held at the Annapolis Naval Academy.

In a special message, Mr. Roosevelt called attention that on July 4 a memorial tablet to the United States forces killed in action will be unveiled in Toronto.

"The suggestion has been made," he said, "that it would be a gracious act for the United States to return this historic mace to Canada at the time of the unveiling of the tablet."

The message of the President follows:

"During the war of 1812 the mace of the Parliament of Upper Canada, or Ontario, was taken by the United States forces at the time of the battle of York, April 27, 1813.

Held in Naval Academy.

"That mace, which had been the symbol of legislative authority at York (now Toronto) since 1792, has been preserved in the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

"On July 4, 1934, there is to be unveiled in Toronto a memorial tablet erected by the United States daughters of 1812 to the memory of General Pike and others of the United States forces who were killed in action. The Mayor and Council of Toronto are providing the site for the memorial.

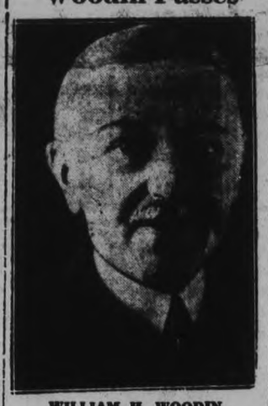
"The suggestion has been made that it would be a gracious act for the United States to return this historic mace to Canada at the time of the unveiling of the tablet.

"The face is a token of representative government, established at York nearly a century and a half ago. It symbolizes the orderly rule of such government in Canada, continuing from that day to this.

"Since the agreement of 1817, the two countries have by common accord maintained no hostile armaments on either side of their boundary; and every passing year cements the peace and friendship between the peoples of Canada and the United States.

"I heartily recommend to the favorable consideration of the Congress the enactment of a joint resolution authorizing the return of the mace to the Canadian Government."

Woodin Passes



WILLIAM H. WOODIN,
Former Secretary of the United States' Treasury in the Roosevelt Administration, who died suddenly last night in a Manhattan hospital.

MARKETING ACT UNDER PRESSURE

Members Hope to Shove Controversial Bill Through House To-day.

DEBATE SALARY CUTS.

OTTAWA, May 4.—(CP)—Another drive to advance the controversial natural products marketing act through the House of Commons will be made today. The bill is in the committee stage and on its last appearance an appeal by Liberals to have it sent to the Agriculture committee met with a refusal from the government. Both Liberals and independents will press for numerous changes when the committee proceeds to consider the individual clauses.

Last night the House considered estimates for the immigration department and the Minister, Hon. W. A. Gordon, was met with demands for reduced expenditure in view of the reduced number of people entering the country. No progress was made. The salary reduction bill to continue the 10 percent civil service pay cut on all employees except those receiving less than $1,000 a year was also considered and little progress made.

Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minster of the Interior and superintendent of Indian Affairs, had better luck with his estimates and the House approved the votes for the Indian department. Numerous members offered suggestions as to the safeguarding of the interests of the Red Men, among them one from George B. Nicholson (Cons. Algoma East) that the territory in Ontario and Quebec North of the height of land be closed to white trappers.

SCENIC DRIVE IN ASHBURNHAM IS DISCUSSED

Board of Works Discusses Building Road Along Otonabee River.

COST NOT LARGE.

Higher Price of Road Oil is Blamed on the N. R. A.

Preliminary consideration of a proposal to build a scenic drive from the east end of Hunter street bridge along the river north to Nicholls Park was given by the Board of Works at a meeting last night. The project is to be studied as a possible field for relief work later this year.

Although last night was the first occasion on which the matter has been discussed officially, individual members of the Council, along with City Engineer Parsons, have been investigating the possibility of the drive for some time. The drive in all would be about three-quarters of a mile in length. A section of Driscoll Terrace and Ross street would be included in the route at present being considered, and two stretches of new roadway would be constructed as connecting links.

Following the east bank of the river, a considerable portion of the drive would pass over property owned by the Quaker Oats Company Having conversed with company officials, Mayor Denne and other members of the board who have taken an interest in the matter expressed the opinion that the Quaker Oats will be willing to offer indefinitely the use of the land for that purpose. The board asked Engineer Parsons to prepare a plan of the drive for submission to the Quaker Oats officials and authorized him to prepare an estimate of the cost of the project.

Cost Small.

Mayor Denne declared that the cost to the city would be very small, while considerable manual labor for unemployed would be provided. Chairman of the board, James Hamilton, pointed out that while (Turn to page three)

Service Pays

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., May 4 (C.P.).—Dr. Campbell A. Stokes, 76, of Edinburg, who had the reputation of never refusing a call from the sick, left an estate valued at $160,000.

When he died a month ago, the physician was at the bedside of a five-year-old boy, whose arm had been broken.

A Fireman's Life

OMAHA, Neb., May 4 (C.P.).—An entry in the log book of Company 17, Omaha Fire Department reads:

"Thursday, May 3—Call answered to home of J. A. Stoll. Robin tangled in twigs and twine wound about radio aerial. Robin rescued by Captain William Bowes by means of ladder. Robin's leg broken too badly to heal; amputation performed and bandage applied. Robin last seen foraging among bushes."

That, says Captain Bowes, is just an incident in the life of a fireman.

STRIKERS FIGHT STREET BATTLE AT KITCHENER

One Man Has Skull Fractured and Many Others Are Injured.

TEAR GAS CONQUERS.

Police Badly Battered in Melee—Five Charges Laid.

KITCHENER, Ont., May 4 (C.P.).—A riot which broke out at the plant of the Lang Tanning Company this morning sent one man to the hospital with concussion of the brain and resulted in injuries to many others, among them being several police constables. Tony Killbasa, a striker, is the wounded man. He was struck over the head by a worker who used his heavy lunch pail with telling effect after he is alleged to have been attacked by Killbasa.

The latter is believed to have a fractured wrist, also P.C. Howelett, one of the seven policemen on the scene, suffered a fractured rib as a shower of stones hailed down on the officers. P.C. Schippling stopped one particularly large boulder with his hip, while only the hard helmets saved Constables Eddie Byrne and Bill Ferguson. Byrne was struck on the head by a heavy rock, while Ferguson got his head in the way of a coffee pot which some hard-pressed striker had thrown.

Tear gas and police clubs were used freely to-day, as the crowd of more than one hundred strikers and sympathizers threatened to overpower police women, screaming loud enough to be heard over a large part of the city, snatched up stones and charged in, only to be met by police in a counter charge. Clubs beat a tatto on many shoulders and arms, and finally tear gas brought an end to the melee after the seven officers had fought off the clawing, scratching attackers..

As a result of the wild melee, five charges of obstruction were laid by the police, four against men. Three of the men were remanded to jail until May 10. The fourth, Tony Killbasa, according to the police, is in the Kitchener and Waterloo Hospital, and he was similarly remanded and placed in the custody of the sheriffs. Mary Uhryn, also charged with obstruction, was allowed out on her own bail until May 10 on condition that she remain away from the Lang Plant.

The men remanded to jail are Thomas Fortuna, Thomas Koskall and John Szmigelski.

First Tourists Stay At Exhibition Park

A record for the early arrival of tourists in this section of the province was chalked up last night, with the arrival at the tourist camp at Exhibition Grounds of a party of tourists from Montreal en route to Toronto.

The party, which consisted of two married couples, according to Jack Gillespie, caretaker of the grounds, camped at the grounds overnight, leaving here early this morning.

AGED MAN IS GASSED COMPANION UNCONSCIOUS

TORONTO, May 4 (CP)—Peter Cunningham, 76, is dead, and J. Kennelle, 60, is still unconscious, victims of gas poisoning at a rooming house to-day. Then men, tenants on the third floor of the house, were found by the landlord. Tracing the fumes of gas, the landlord found Cunningham dead on the bed and Kennelle on the floor. A gas jet on a small stove was open and the room filled with deadly fumes.

BUYING TACTICS SAID CHALLENGE TO PARLIAMENT

Imperial Purchases Must Be Cleared Up, Stevens States Emphatically.

SERIOUS REVELATIONS.

Situation Tense as Committee Grows Dissatisfied With President's Answers.

OTTAWA, May 4.—(CP)—Declaring that the revelations of the tobacco purchases by the Imperial Tobacco Company were so serious as to challenge parliament and that the company would have to clear them up, Hon. H. H. Stevens put the situation definitely and in no uncertain terms, up to the company in the committee on mass buying and trade relations here today. Gray Miller, president of the firm, denied he was holding back information and promised to meet the minister's demands as far as possible.

The situation grew tense in the committee as members became dissatisfied with Mr. Miller's answers on the policies of his company in fixing prices at which it would buy the products of the growers, the minister, who is chairman of the committee, then brought the issue squarely before the witness.

The committe had reached a point where the matter of whether Canadian leaf competed with other Empire grown leaf in the British market was being discussed.

South African tobacco sold in the British market in 1927 for 17.8 cents and Canadian, 25 cents, said Mr. Stevens. In 1932, South African tobacco had dropped to 14.9 and Canadian to 12 cents. This price was paid notwithstanding that the 1932 crop was a finer type of tobacco than Canada had ever produced in her previous history.

"That," said Mr. Stevens, "followed your arbitrary cut in 1931, down from 30 to 22 cents. There is a sequence of events here which, in my opinion, would seem to indicate a control over the prices to the grower other than ordinary mercantile factors.

"I must say," declared the Minister, "that it is an appalling thing

(Continued on Page Three.)

SUGGEST TAXING UNSPENT MONEY

Would Attach Demurrage Stamp Equal to 1 p.c. of Bill's Face Value.

CHECK UP MONTHLY.

OTTAWA, May 4 (C.P.).—Continuing its study of the new Bank Act, the House of Commons Banking Committee meets to-day with two additional theories of reformed money before it. Yesterday the committee was presented with samples of a new form of money designed to literally "burn a hole" in one's pocket and impell its owner to spend it.

The sponsor was E. S. Woodward of Vancouver, National executive secretary of the Free Economy League of Canada. The money would have to be stamped every month and a demurrage stamp equal in value to one per cent. of the face value of the bill attached. Thus there would be no point in hoarding money and in order to avoid having to pay the tax people would rush to get rid of money as fast as possible and turn it into goods and services, business would pick up, unemployment would vanish.

The other witness yesterday was Gerald G. McGeer, Vancouver lawyer and student of social credit. He elaborated on the plan he had submitted to the committee earlier in the week for basing the volume of the country's currency on the value of the collective activities of the people rather than on gold.

His scheme was not identical with the Douglas plan, he told the committee. In fact he did not believe the Douglas plan could be worked into the form of a practicable statute.

New Organist

CYRIL RICE,
Whose appointment as organist at St. Andrew's United Church is announced. The choir is to give a concert in the church, under the direction of Mr. Rice on Monday next, with several assisting artists on the program.

MISS LANCASTER DIES SUDDENLY

Superintendent of Anson House Had Been Ill Only a Week.

ON ANNUAL HOLIDAY.

Miss Annie M. Lancaster, superintendent of Anson House passed away at Enid, Oklahoma today according to telegraphic information received by her friends in this city early this afternoon.

Appointed superintendent of the Protestant Home, now known as Anson House, 21 years ago on November 1st, last, Miss Lancaster left the city four weeks ago last Wednesday for her annual vacation. In the ordinary course of event, she had expected to resume her duties today.

After visiting with her only sister, Mrs. B. A. Kittredge at Tulsa, Oklahoma, Miss Lancaster left about two weeks ago, it is learned, to visit a nephew E. L. Kittredge at Enid. It was while she was with her nephew that she was taken suddenly ill, and had to be removed to hospital a week ago.

Miss Margaret Harrison, assistant superintendent at Anson House, by whom news of Miss Lancaster's death was received stated to The Examiner: "News of her illness was most unexpected. Miss Lancaster left here a little over four weeks ago in her usual good health to go on her annual vacation. We were hoping however, from letter we had received from Miss Lancaster and her relatives, that she was making satisfactory progress from her illness. We do not know what occurred at the last".

Secretary of Y.W.C.A.

Miss Lancaster was a native of Melrose, Ontario, but as an infant she went with her parents to Petrolia. She received her education in the Petrolia School and at the English and Classical School at Boston, Mass.

Before accepting her appointment as superintendent of the Protestant Home here in the year 1912, Miss Lancaster was secretary of the Y.W.C.A. at Niagara Square, New York. At one time she taught Old Testament history in Buffalo Y.W.C.A.

During her residence in this city, Miss Lancaster had been very prominent in various activities including the Women's Canadian Club of which organization she is a past president; the local Council of Women, and the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E.

She had served in executive capacity on all the above named organizations and was for years a member of the executive in the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's church. She was also a member of the Red Cross Society; the Army and Navy League; and the League of Nations.

A fine type of Christian woman she was held in widest esteem and affection, particularly by the inmates of the Protestant Home. Her hobbies were gardening, needlework and verse making.

While funeral arrangements are uknown to her friends in the city, it was believed probable that the remains will be brought to Petrolia for interment in the family plot.

Mines operated in the days of ancient Rome and discovered recently at Narni, Italy, are to be developed again.

A canal connecting the Severn and the Thames rivers is proposed in England.

DRIVER FAILED TO SEE LANTERN VICTIM'S BUGGY

Accident Unavoidable, Verdict of Coroner's Jury in Melville Fowler Fatality.

TRAFFIC LIGHT DIM.

Deceased Suffered Compound Fracture at Base of Skull, According to X-ray.

Finding that Melville David Fowler, 37-year-old Smith Township farmer came to his death as a result of injuries received in an accident on Highway 7, on the night of April 28 last, in a collison with an automobile driven by Clifford Hartman, a coroner's jury last night expressed the opinion that the accident was unavoidable.

Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young conducted the proceedings, while Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., examined the various witnesses.

Clifford Hartman, 23-year-old bank clerk in the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, driver of the car that was involved in the fatality was represented by A. L. Elliott.

Going into the witness box, Hartman gave his evidence in a straight-forward and convincing manner, and related that he had been driving towards Bridgenorth at a speed of about thirty-five miles an hour, when he suddenly came upon the buggy.

"I didn't see the buggy until it was right in front of me, then it looked grey just like the pavement."

"I Saw No Red Light"

Witness declared positively, "I saw no red light on the buggy," and expressed the opinion that the reason he had seen no light was because the lamp on the buggy was not lighted.

Provincial Constable W. Warren and Highway Traffic Officer A. E. Hornick, who testified how they had gone to the scene of the accident after first having interviewed the driver of the car at Nicholls Hospital, both gave evidence of having examined the buggy lamp.

The lamp contained plenty of oil, the officers testified, and lighted readily, but when closed the lamp smoked badly. Both agreed that the red glass on the lamp was badly smoked up, and that it was almost impossible to distinguish any

(Turn to Page 10, Please)

Sold Gold In Teeth To Get Money To Live

TORONTO, May 3.—(C.P.)—Rev. R. W. Ellis, of North Bay, yesterday told the Presbyterian Synod in Toronto and Kingston that he had been forced to sell the gold from his false teeth because of straightened circumstances in which he lived. He made the statement in explaining his inability to contribute to the church's pension fund. "I wonder if anyone can match that?" he asked.

Rev. Mr. Ellis said he had maintained a family of five for some time last year on $5 a week. This year he had received $10 a week while awaiting his grant from the Home Mission Board. He said he had to permit his insurance policies to lapse.

Rev. Stuart Parker declared if he had known of Mr. Ellis' predicament he would have assisted him.

Business conditions in Brazil are reported to be better than a year ago.

65,000 SCOUTS NOW ENROLLED OVER DOMINION

5,000 Badges Issued During Year for Specific Public Service.

VICEROY LAUDS PROGRESS.

Baden-Powell Praises Delegates for Bearing at World Jamboree.

OTTAWA, May 4 (C.P.).—Steady growth of the Boy Scout movement in Canada was reported at the annual meeting of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scouts' Association held here to-day under the chairmanship of His Excellency the Governor-General, Chief Scout for Canada.

The year just ended was an active one owing to the special relief activities of the organization, which now numbers more than 65,000 boys and leaders. More than 5,000 badges were issued during the year to Scouts qualifying for specific public service.

Postponement until next spring of the visit to Canada of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell was confirmed, and plans for their entertainment previously made were carried over until next year.

A report was presented upon the participation of a representative patrol of Canadian Scouts in the fourth world Scout jamboree in Hungary, and a letter read from Lord Baden-Powell, stating that the Canadian Scouts had distinguished themselves by their bearing and Scout efficiency.

Australians Celebrate.

The holding of an international Scout gathering in connection with the 100th anniversary of the City of Melbourne, Australia, December 27-January 7, was announced in a letter from Sir Isaac Isaacs, Governor-General and Chief Scout for Australia, to His Excellency the Governor-General. The hope was expressed that a representative of small groups of Canadian Scouts would be able to attend.

The report of the Dominion Medal Board recorded the issuing of 28 medals and eight lesser recognitions awarded Scouts for life-saving. The silver wolf, the highest honorary Scout decoration, was awarded during the year to J. W. Mitchell, Provincial president of the Scout Association of Ontario; H. M. Jockel, assistant Provincial Commissioner for Wolf Cubs for Quebec; Julius H. Griffith, Provincial president for British Columbia, and District Commissioner Sidney Lightfoot of Souris, Man. Announcement also was made of the presentation to Hon. Vincent Massey by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America of the highest American Scout decoration, the silver buffalo.

Right in Style

WINFIELD, Kansas, May 4 (C.P.)—Going through an old trunk, Mrs. P. L. Mitschler found a dress pattern she purchased 20 years ago and had never used.

She decided to make a dress by it.

Now neighbors are asking to borrow the pattern "because it's so stylish."

Dignity First

HADDONFIELD, N.J., May 4 (CP)—Pants is pants and skirts is skirts in Haddon Township, where the community fathers have passed an ordinance to emphasize the distinction.

A jail sentence of 90 days or a $50 fine is provided for the male who wears a skirt or the female who dons trousers.

JAPAN TO MAKE OWN DECISIONS ON PEACE IDEAS

Implies She Will Never Again Discuss Questions With Western Powers.

RESPECTS TREATIES.

Wants No Repitition of Geneva Incident When She Quit League.

(By Glenn Babb, A.P. Foreign Staff.)

TOKYO, May 4 (A.P.). — Foreign Minister Koki Mirota voiced a vigorous expression of Japan's new "hands off China" policy to-day and implied that Japan proposes never again to discuss the question of peace in the Far East with Western Powers.

Addressing the annual conference of Prefectural Governors, the Foreign Minister declared that Japan refuses to submit to a repetition of what happened at Geneva in 1932 "when unfortunately Japan's opinions concerning the maintenance of peace in Eastern Asia were rejected —compelling us to secede from the League of Nations."

Although Hirota mentioned only Geneva in this, his first public expression on the Tokyo Government's recently enunciated policy toward China, there was a strong implication that Japan intends never again to debate Oriental questions on equal terms with the Occident as she did at Washington in 1922 when the Nine-Power Treaty was framed.

Exchange Views.

Referring to the Powers' treaty rights in China, Hirota said that "if necessary, Japan is willing to exchange views individually with the Powers concerned about their rights and interests."

But, recalling Japan's difference with the Occident which led to her departure from Geneva, he added:

The Foreign Minister restated the main points in recent declarations through which Japan answered the question of Great Britain and the United Sates concerning her policy in Eastern Asia.

Hirota reiterated that Japan respects existing treaties and the rights of other Powers in China.

Then he added:

"Japan is the principal protector of the stability and the peace of Eastern Asia.

"It is Japan's mission to maintain peace and order in Eastern Asia in co-operation with the other countries of the Far East.

"Japan sincerely desires the unification, integrity, and prosperity of China which can be attained only through China's own self-awakening efforts."

PREMIER HENRY HINTS ELECTION DATE END JUNE

Expected to Set Day and Dissolve Legislature Within Week, 10 Days.

ESSEX LIBERALS SPLIT.

Henry Demands Hepburn Reveal Beauharnois Fund Share.

TORONTO, May 4 (CP)—Political issues were submerged to-day as party ranks buzzed with talk of the election date, which Premier George S. Henry intimated at the Toronto Conservative rally would be around the end of June.

There were a lot of forecasts going around, some placing the voting on June 21. The Mail and Empire to-day said it had learned on good authority the Premier would name the date and dissolve the Legislature within a week or ten days. June 27 and June 28 were other predictions.

Two Liberal candidates still remained in Essex North. Mitchell F. Hepburn has endorsed A. A. Marentette as the candidate, but Dr. P. N. Gardner considers himself the official candidate and he intends to remain in the race.

Mr. Marentette was chosen at a Liberal rally in Belle River last Tuesday night, while Dr. Gardner was named candidate in Tecumseh last June at a convention addressed by Mr. Hepburn. The executive of the North Essex Liberal Association split on the question, with the result the convention which chose Mr. Marentette was called.

Backs Gardner

Alfred Quenneville, President of the association, has declared Dr. Gardner the official candidate and refuses to recognize the Belle River convention or its choice.

Rumors of an independent candidate appearing in Windsor-Sandwich riding are heard, with Mayor Arthur Reaume of Sandwich mentioned as the man. Although he had been reported a nominee for the Liberal convention Thursday night, his name failed to appear, with the result he is rumored planning entry as an Independent.

Some political circles consider there is a possibility the Conservatives will throw their support to the Independent candidate if he appears instead of placing their own standard-bearer in the riding.

Austin B. Smith, present member in the Legislature, is believed assured of acclamation as nominee for Essex South when the nomination convention is held on May 11 at Kingsville. He will face Lambert Wigle, Liberal candidate, on the voting day.

Beauharnois Involved.

Beauharnois questions have lined themselves in the campaign with beer and wine, McCaughrin charges and other issues. Premier Henry shoved Beauharnois into the field when he asked Mitchell F. Hepburn a few questions at the huge Conservative rally last night.

Premier Henry wanted to know "how much money has come from the Beauharnois site to reinforce the financial purse of the Liberals." He also wanted to know "how much of the $750,000" was given Mr. Hepburn for campaigning purposes.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation found a supporter in Professor J. King Gordon of the United Church College, Montreal, who addressed a political gathering at Kingston. He said the C.C.F. offered "a definite solution to basic causes of social injustice."

Silence Golden

MIAMI, May 4 (CP)—Because of a motto he found pasted in his father's desk years ago, Roger Babson, statistician, did not discuss the New Deal when he addressed students of the University of Miami.

The motto, Babson said, was as follows: "The codfish would nevxer have been caught if he had not opened his mouth"—and so Babson talked of other subjects than the New Deal.

CONSERVATIVE STEAM ROLLER IS BEING OILED

Henry Predicts Victory Will Be His "Before First of July."

BATTLE IS ON.

Has No Apologies to Make For Record Premier Tells Rally.

By JACK HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, May 4.—(CP)— The Conservative steam-roller which for nearly 30 years has crushed all opposition in Ontario is gathering force today for another test. Within the next six weeks or two months, Premier George S. Henry will guide the machine on the election path. The exact election date is still a mystery, but to 2,000 cheering supporters the premier last night declared victory would be his 'before the first of July' and thus gave the first definite intimation June would be the month.

Without mincing words, the premier slashed into detractors of his administration and, in passing, asked Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, to tell the province: 'How much money has come from the Beauharnois site to reinforce the financial purse of the Liberals in this province? How much of the $750,000 was passed on to him for campaign purposes."

"I think," said Mr. Henry, "this is a fitting question. Mr. Hepburn should tell what his personal interest was and how much he got. There is evidently mud in the valley of humiliation."

The Battle is On

All day long the probable election date had been discussed. There was a buzz of interest when the premier rose. Referring to the polling day, he said: "I haven't fixed any date yet but feel like saying, in an old biblical phrase, 'look to your tents O Israel, for the battle is on.'" Again later he declared everything pointed to success "before the first of July" and this time his followers roared their approval.

The government was going to the country, he said, without any apologies to make for its record. True, money was being spent in considerable amounts, but it was being utilized for rendering service to the public of the province and to development of natural resources. Opposition claims that government expenditure could be reduced 50 percent were ridiculed by the premier, who challenged Mr. Hepburn to show how it could be done.

All Cabinet Ministers?

"Power and promises at any price," was the slogan of the Liberal leader, Mr. Henry continued. Mr. Hepburn, he said, had promised practically every Liberal candidate a cabinet position, and if the Liberals did assume power there would be a 'legislature of cabinet ministers without any followers."

The province of Ontario, he said, "has some horse sense left yet," and would hardly accept leadership from a "'young jockey on a horse that has been beaten eight times," referring to Mr. Hepburn and the Liberal party. For nearly 30 years Ontario had been governed wisely by Conservative administrations.

Col. Price declared the oppostion groups were composed of all sorts of parties and peoples. At one Liberal meeting in South York, the Internationale had been sung and the chairman had stated to the speaker "that's fine, you join in our songs and we'll join in with yours."

The Conservative party, according to Mr. McCrea would swing into line with "vigor, vim and punch which will carry us to victory" at the polls. No "disunited quadrility" could be entrusted with the governing of Ontario; instead the Conservative administration must still carry on the work it had been doing. He struck an optimistic note with the declaration periods of prosperity were always preceded by rapid development of mineral resources, and declared the present activity in Northern Ontario gold fields presaged the better days to come.

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1934.

Canada Packers quote:

Bacon hogs — F.O.B., $7.60; off truck, $7.75.
Selects, $1 per hog premium.
Sows 3c off bacon prices
Dressed Hogs— Head on, $12.50; headless, $13.00.
Cream—No. 1 (on truck). 21c.
No. 1, delivered, 22c.
Special, 2c per lb. premium.

TOBACCO FIRM'S HUGE PROFITS ARE DISCLOSED

Investment of $25,000 on National Firm Brought Imperial $1,375,000.

IN 5 YEAR PERIOD.

Stevens' Mass-Buying Committee Checks Up on Company's Financial Set-up.

OTTAWA, May 4 (C.P.)—For an initial investment of $25,000 representing a 50 per cent interest in the National Tobacco Co., the Imperial Tobacco Company has in the past five years received dividends aggregating $1,375,000 according to Grey Miller, president of the Imperial Company, who testified before the Stevens mass buying committee here yesterday. Mr. Miller's statement came in an interrogation by Norman Somerville, committee counsel.

The Imperial Co. had received the $25,000 back, in National Co scrip while, at the same time, the value of the shares acquired had become $2,000,000. Taking a survey over the past 10 years, the dividends paid to the Imperial on their initial investment was in excess of $2,000,000 Mr. Somerville brought out.

Financial Set Up

The committee questioned Mr. Miller closely on the financial set up of the company. Actual cash put into it amounted to $14,162,747.20. Over a period of nearly 40 years, however, through acquisitions of other companies its present capital structure was $63,733,309 although the market value of Imperial Tobacco stock yesterday was in the neighborhood of $100,000,000.

Representatives of the Imperial Tobacco Co., the Rock City Tobacco Co., and certain tobacco growers had been in conference in an effort to smooth out their difficulties, said Hon. H. H. Stevens, committee chairman, at the opening.

These gentlemen made considerable effort to come out to an understanding, said Mr. Stevens. No plan of agreement had been reached. There was one notable exception, the Macdonald Tobacco Co., he had been informed, refused to participate in any effort to arrive at an understanding and would not attend the conference.

He had received personally from the Imperial Tobacco Co. and the Rock City Tobacco Co. what might be termed their "views," but in neither case did these views indicate a definite or satisfactory understanding.

The effort that was made indicated it was within the realm of possibility that these various parties by getting together further with some assistance from a government official might arrive at a plan of settlement; but no such official was available. The committee might keep this angle of the situation in mind.

16,000 Shareholders

Mr. Miller told the committee he believed it was not a mistatement of fact that the financial stability of Canada was one of her most precious possessions. There was a vast amount of foreign capital invested in Canada, he said. Destruction of the confidence of foreign investors in Canadian enterprises would work incalculable harm to every citizen of the country. There were more than 16,000 shareholders of his company resident throughout the world, of which 3,500 resided in Canada. Shares of the company were held in 46 countries of the world.

The success of the Imperial Tobacco Co. of Canada during the past few years of stress had contributed to some modest degree to the confidence of residents and non-residents in the financial stability of Canada as a whole, Mr. Miller thought. He suggested the committee permit the company to preserve a degree of privacy in relation to confidential details of its business which would have no bearing on the principles at issue and a disclosure of which could serve no purpose.

DELORO WOMAN IS FINED $200

Follows Raid on Home, Police Finding Quantity of Liquor Mash.

MT. HOPE HOME BURNS.

TWEED, May 4. (Examiner Correspondence).—Charged with having a mash suitable for the manufacture of illicit liquor, Mrs. John Cross, Deloro, was found guilty and fined $200 and costs in the county police court before Magistrate Casement at Madoc on Wednesday. The fine was paid.

The case followed a raid and search of the Cross home by the R.C.M.P. assisted by the Provincial Police. A large quantity of mash apparently recently mixed in a large barrel, was destroyed by the authorities.

Fire completely destroyed home and contents of Wilson Boomhorner, of Mount Hope, near Arden on Sunday. Very little insurance was carried on the property.

Damage of $300 was done at the home of Harry Letch, Tamworth, on Wednesday, when the radio in his home caught fire from some unknown cause. It was completely wrecked, while some damage was done by smoke and water. Mr. Letch resides at the C.N.R. station at Tamworth.

John Dwyer of Hungerford township while working for Felix Courneyea, accidentally gashed his foot with an axe on Wednesday. The wound was such that it required three stitches. Dr. Dale treated the injured man.

Gardner Harton of Flinton who has been undergoing treatment for a fractured leg had a plaster cast applied and expects to return home at the end of this week.

Peterboro Included Ottawa Fair Area

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP)—Directors of the Ottawa Winter Fair today had decided the district for the fair should be that part of Ontario east of and including Peterborough, Haliburton, Northumberland, Nipissing and Temiskaming Counties, thus making it a regional fair.

A reciprocal agreement with directors of the Lachute, Que., Spring Fair, which is being held from June 13 to 16 also was approved. Exhibitors from the Ottawa Fair region will be allowed to enter the Lachute Fair, and in return entries from certain counties in Quebec in the Ottawa Valley will be received at the Ottawa Fair.

In search of adventure in the Far East, Lady Isabel Blunt-Mackensie and Miss Daphne Day, society women of Chichester, England, recently left Liverpool in a cargo boat as members of the crew.

The Tombigbee river is one of the chief rivers of Alabama.

Last chance MEN!
SATURDAY IS THE LAST DAY TO GET ONE OF THESE Tailored-to-Measure
SUITS 17.75
LOUIS GREEN 432 George St.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

BUEHLER BROS. LIMITED
387 George 50c MEAT ORDERS DELIVERED FREE Phone 3680
DON'T MISS THESE EXTRA MEAT SPECIALS FOR SATURDAY

LOIN VEAL STEAK 15c lb.
LEG VEAL STEAK 19c lb.
LOIN VEAL CHOPS 15c lb.
VEAL
VEAL LEGS
VEAL ROLLS
VEAL RUMPS
SHOULDER VEAL CHOPS
13c lb.

BLUE BRAND BEEF
BLADE ROAST or SHORT RIB
12c lb.
CHUCK ROAST - - 9c | SHOULDER ROAST - 9c

FRESH CREAMERY BUTTER 2 lbs. 45c

YOUNG PORK—FRESH CUT AND LEAN

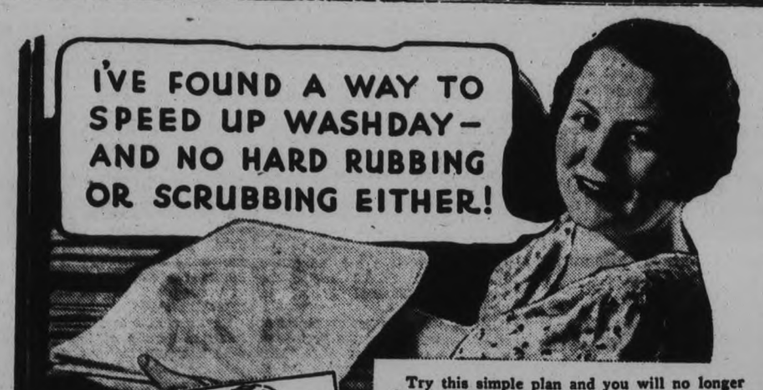
LEAN PORK BUTTS	FRESH PICNIC HAMS	PORK LOIN ROAST	MEATY SPARE RIBS	PORK TENDER-LOIN
17c lb.	13c lb.	20c lb.	10c lb.	25c lb.

SLICED BOLOGNA	VEAL SHANKS	VEAL KIDNEY	VEAL STEW	RIB BOIL
2 lbs. 25c	5c lb.	2 lbs. 25c	6c lb.	7c lb.

SMOKED PICNIC HAMS While They Last 13c lbs.

Select any cut you wish from our window.

BUEHLER BROTHERS



Try this simple plan and you will no longer dread washday. Soap the clothes in the usual way with Pearl White Naptha Soap, then soak them overnight in cold water. While you sleep Pearl loosens the dirt so completely that hard rubbing and scrubbing are unnecessary. Next morning a quick, easy wash and thorough rinse will give you the freshest, cleanest wash your heart could desire. Pearl White Naptha actually does the hard work for you. It makes such a difference to washday.

"I've been housekeeping for over 30 years. I like to iron clothes washed with Pearl White Naptha because I can be proud of the results. They are so sparkling and white and undamaged by rough handling in the washtub."

"I used to despair at the rubbing and scrubbing needed to keep the children's clothes clean and smart. Since I found Pearl White Naptha I don't mind how many clothes they soil. The wash is so easily and quickly done."

"I've found that cheap bar soaps are expensive in the end. With Pearl White Naptha there's no damage from hard rubbing and scrubbing. It costs a fraction more than common makes but it's a real quality laundry soap."

There are many reasons why you will prefer Pearl White Naptha. It costs so little for a laundry soap of quality and its pure whiteness and clean, fresh smell will delight you. There's nothing like it to ensure a cleaner, sweeter wash in a shorter time.

DOROTHY MARTIN IS WINNER W.C.T.U. ORATORICAL CONTEST

Competition Proves Interesting Feature of Open Temperance Gathering.

PRESENT PRIZES.

An event of much interest to both junior and senior Temperance workers, was held last night in the Sunday School hall of George street United Church. This took the form of an open meeting and was sponsored by the local union of the W.C.T.U. with the president, Mrs. J. H. Rowe, in the chair. A short devotional period opened the meeting, Mrs. R. Bamforth leading in prayer.

The chief purpose of the gathering was the presentation of prizes and medals won in the recent contests held under the educational department of the W.C.T.U.

The oratorical contest proved an interesting feature of the evening, when six girls including Beryl Johnston of All Saints' Anglican, Aileen Winslow, George street United, Sylvia Boorman, Murray street Baptist, Margaret Rae, Mark street United, Marie Casey, St. James' United, and Dorothy Martin of Trinity United churches, competed for the silver medal.

Declare Winner

The judges, Mrs. J. E. J. Millyard, Mrs. L. J. Pettit and Miss Connie Wagar, found it no easy task to decide upon the winner but the decision as announced by Mrs. Pettit, went to Dorothy Martin of Trinity Sunday School.

In making her report, Mrs. Pettit complemented the youthful competitors, all of whom were under thirteen years of age, upon their excellent expression and fine memory work.

Temperance Appeal

Miss C. Rosamond Duff, field secretary of the Dominion W.C.T.U. was present as guest speaker and delivered a stirring temperance appeal. Miss Duff outlined the work of the W.C.T.U., paying tribute to its founder, Francis E. Willard. She declared that with all the forces banded against temperance and prohibition the women are not discouraged and have a definite program of campaign.

The "Do everything" policy of the W.C.T.U. is based upon the 146th Psalm the first verss of which are the keynote of praise and the following verses outline the plans This was Frances Williams' 6 beloved Psalm upon which she planned her great mission.

Poster Prizes

As follows: First, Mary Duncan, Queen Alexandra School; Second Doris Frost, Prince of Wales and June Aronmstrong, Queen Alexandra. The third prizes went to Lyle Glover and Stanley James of Prince of Wales, and Jack Graham and Irene Simpson of King George.

The awards for the scientific temperance held last fall were also made, with special prizes going to Annie Elliott, Warsaw; Doris Inkpen, Park Street Baptist; Laura Meals and Winifred Hunter of Springville. The thirty-six contestants who entered, represented the Sunday Schools at George Street United, Park Street Baptist, Murray Street Baptist, Mark Street United, Springville and Warsaw.

As a fitting conclusion to the evening was the pageant "The Awakening of Mrs. Jones" presented by the Young People of Gilmour Memorial Church and directed by Mrs. R. D. Wright. The solo parts in the pageant were well taken by Mrs. E. Wand, with Mrs. G. X. Tyler accompanying at the piano.

The pageant gave a vivid picture of the work carried on by the W.C.T.U. in its various active departments. Effective costuming and the fine interpretation of he offices represented by the large cast of well-trained characters, made this pageant a most impressive one. Mrs. Tyler, who has charge of the Young People's work of the W.C.T.U., gave a brief resume of her very successful beginning in this branch, and is very hopeful for the enterprise in the future.

During the evening delightful guitar music was provided by the Aloha Serenaders, pupils of Miss Ludbrooke.

Mrs. Rowe, the president, expressed the thanks of the W.C.T.U. to all those who assisted in making the evening so great a success and the gathering was dismissed with prayer by Rev. Mr. Tyler.

BUYING TACTICS SAID CHALLENGE

(Continued from Page 1)

to me that I see no explanation for it.

"Explain this to me; in the United States, where Harrison is the dominating factor, the price fell from ten cents to seven cents in 1931; and in that same year, Lee, who was associated with Harrison, comes to Canada; and there is a drop from 30 to 20. There is a significance, I may say, a sinister synchronization of facts, Mr. Miller, and we are not getting the explanation," said Mr. Stevens.

"I told you yesterday—and I can't impress this too strongly, we have here in this evidence from the growers statements that challenge Parliament, and Parliament stands challenged to justify the treatment the growers got; and the man who sits beside you came from the United States and, by the way, it would be well to read what Mr. Roosevelt said of the prices received by the growers there.

"Your brief does not answer the vital points. That is the difficulty with the brief; and that is the difficulty with you this morning."

Mr. Miller asked if an opportunity could be afforded him to "make a fair statement—to try to put it down in a fair way. If you have any feeling we are holding back anything, I wish you would get that out of your mind," he added.

Between Two Fires

"I think you are confronted with a serious difficulty. If you answer our questions frankly and to the point, the answers must cast reflection on your staff," said Mr. Stevens. "And you can't have it both ways. That is the way it appears to me from the evidence from the other side. We have had other evidence, and I don't disbelieve these men. They impressed the committee very strongly. And these are other facts—the facts of the Sutherland report and in your own brief. All these question ought to be and must be answered," the Minister said.

Conferences between Mr. Harrison, in charge of all buying of leaf tobacco for the British American Co., who was in New York in 1931 and Mr. Buell in a similar capacity for the Imperial Co., had aroused the curiosity of the committee earlier.

Why Consult U. S. Official?

"Why should you consult someone in the United States as to what you should pay in Canada for leaf tobacco?" questioned Mr. Somerville. The British American Co. did not buy Canadian leaf tobacco.

Mr. Harrison had a knowledge of world conditions in leaf tobacco and the conversations were to get a world picture, replied Mr. Miller. He denied these conferences were for the purpose of fixinf the price in Canada, but admitted Mr. Harrison had said the prices which were being paid in the first week of 1931 of 30 cents per pound were too high. The British American Co. held a large number of shares in the Imperial Co., and their buyers being here his company wanted to avail themselves of his knowledge.

Not Satisfactory

Protests the explanation was unsatisfactory followed. "His answers are unsatisfactory," objected J. L. Ilsley (Lib., Hants-Kings). "If he has no other explanation, then he has no explanation."

"The point counsel has been pressing is of great importance," said Mr. Stevens joining in the protest. "Here we have a Canadian product largely consumed in Canada, and we would like to know just why a very powerful influence in the United States should be consulted in regard to the price to be paid for Canadian tobacco."

The question of instructions to lower prices given in Montreal at the end of the first market week in the 1931 season to Mr. Lee, who had just entered the services of the Imperial Co. as buyer, figured in the discussions. Mr. Lee had had experience with growers in Kentucky.

The committee will meet again on Tuesday.

Suggestion Incorrect

Suggestions made by counsel at yesterday's proceedings of circumstances relative to the purchase of the 1931 crop were incorrect, said Mr. Miller.

He denied 1931 crop prices had been dropped suddenly within a week from 30 to 20 cents. "We did not reduce our top prices in 1931 or in any other year," he said. The top price was offered for the best quality. When his company paid 20 cents per pound for tobacco, it was for tobacco worth 20 cents per pound.

"In your judgment," commented Mr. Sommerville.

The higher prices paid for the 1930 crop as compared with the 1931 crop were "not wise or good" for the industry, said witness.

"Do you mean the growers, too?" questioned Hon. H. H. Stevens, committee chairman.

The 1930 prices were not good for the growers in the long run, replied witness.

There was no relation between the top price or the general average price in a tobacco season, said Mr. Miller.

Witness went on to explain that F. R. Gregory was the senior officer in charge of the purchasing of tobacco leaf in 1931, with Mr. Lee junior to him. Lee, however, did not direct these operations.

Average Below 14 Cents

Gregory was given instructions with regard to the 1931 crop to purchase at a top of 30 cents but to have the average below 14 cents.

Mr. Miller said that 36.5 percent of the Imperial's purchases was made at 27.65 cents. At the end after the opening of the market in 1931, Mr. Lee had gone to Montreal and discussed the situation with Mr. Buell. He then returned to Delhi with a confirmation of the instructions to Mr. Gregory.

The total purchases in 1931 averaged 22.97 cents per pound.

"I was astounded by the charges made with regard to the statements attribued to Mr. Lee in the hotel at Tillsonburg," said Mr. Miller. "Mr. Lee says there is no foundation for these charges."

Mr. Lee had had wide experience in buying tobacco. All the producers spoke highly of his operations. Mr. Hiller repeated that 36.5 of the purchases were made the first day. A total of 63 percent of the purchases had been made in the first week, while over 90 per cent had been contracted for by the end of the second week.

Price Slump Starts.

Mr. Sommerville took Mr. Miller over the list which the latter had filed with the committee, giving the average purchases and prices from day to day in the fall of 1931. On Tuesday, October 6, the market had opened and 3,774,400 pounds of tobacco had been bought at an average of 27.65 cents per pound.

"That may include different grades," suggested Mr. Sommerville.

"Yes, sir."

"On Wednesday, October 7, the average was 26 cents," continued Mr. Sommerville. "On Thursday it was 22, Friday 20, and on Saturday 19 cents per pound."

"After Mr. Lee's visit to Montreal, the price went down to 18 cents on the following Monday. On Tuesday, it became 19; on Wednesday, 16; on Thursday, 16; on Friday, 16; and on Saturday, 17 cents.

"On the next Monday," Mr. Sommerville continued, reading from Mr. Miller's list, "the price was 16; on Tuesday, 15, and on Wednesday, October 21, the average price was 15. So, from October 6 to October 21 you have these variations of the average price.

"I observe no further buying done from Otober 21 to November 8, and in the meantime may I draw your attention to what happened? The farmers of the district, aroused by the prices paid, approached the Ontario Government for asstance. You know that?"

"No, sir."

The Price Jumps.

"I am told that was a fact. When that became known—that assis ance was going to be given—on November 8 your average prices jumped from 16 cents to 23 cents per pound."

Mr. Miller declared he thought Mr. Sommerville must be confusing his facts respecting the Ontario Government.

"In 1931 there was that promise," insisted counsel.

"What was the promise?" asked Mr. Miller.

"That there would be assistance given to the growers so that they might hold their crop against this depreciation in prices."

"We have no knowledge of that," said Mr. Miller.

"How do you account for the jump in the prices from October 21 to the 23 cents at which the market opened on November 8?" asked Mr. Sommerville

"I tried to explain," said Mr. Miller. "We buy the best crops we can at the top price. Later on, if we come across better tobacco we pay a better price."

"Do you want this committee to believe that from October 8 to October 21 you did not run across these better crops?"

"No, I don't make that statement," said Mr. Miller. These prices were the average of the day, he added.

"There is a 50 per cent. increase in your average after the landslide," commented counsel.

"Don't you think that qualities have a bearing on it?" asked Mr. Miller.

Mr. Sommerville read out the quantities purchased and the prices paid. A total of 35,000 pounds had been bought at 23. Next day, 65,000 pounds were bought at 16.89. Next day the total of 124,000 pounds had been bought at 23.23. Why the variation? counsel asked.

"Because of the qualities of the tobacco in our judgment," replied Mr. Miller.

Resurrection From Death, Puppy Barks For Food

Literally in his "second life" after being asphyxiated with poison gas. Thirteen, fox terrier puppy being used for a life and death experiment by Dr. Robert Cornish, University of California scientist, at his laboratory in Berkeley, is pictured actually sitting up to eat after barking for food. The photo was made 14 days after the terrier had been officially pronounced dead by asphyxiation. Dr. Cornish resurrected the puppy and has kept it alive with injections of adrenalin, powerful heart stimulant, and heparin, a solution mixed with the blood of another dog.

Nobody Wants Soviet Exile

Apparently untrouoled by efforts of France to deport him and by the reluctance of Turkish government to grant him sanctuary, Leon Trotsky, Soviet exile, plays with his dogs at his villa near Royan. Insert, Madame Trotsky, who lives in exile with her husband.

POLICE SERVICE.

PITTSBURGH, May 4 (C.P.). — Pittsburgh's Mayor, William N. McNair, has proved himself something of a rough-rider.

After visiting Central Police Court he found himself without transportation. Stepping into the street he hailed Lieut. Edward Kirby bounding along astride a motorcycle.

The Mayor hopped into the side car, and curtly said:

"City Hall, Lieutenant."

SCHOLARSHIP FOR QUEEN'S

KINGSTON, Ont., May 3. (CP). It was announced this afternoon that Queen's University has been presented with a sum of money to provide for a scholarship valued at $100 to be awarded annually, by Isaac Cohen, proprietor of a buttery company. The scholarship will be open to students registered in the faculty of applied science.

SCENIC DRIVE IS DISCUSSED

(Continued from Page 1)

the work might be started this year, it could be spread over two or three years. The route offers ideal scenic possibilities and, as well, a shortened link of communication between the north section of East City and Hunter street bridge would be provided, he said.

Specifically, the drive over the route considered most practical after a preliminary study would commence at the east end of Hunter street bridge and follow the shore north to the Driscoll Terrace angle. Continuing along Driscoll Terrace to the Douro street corner, it would proceed around the bend of the river close to the bank as far as Hazlitt street. Ross street would be followed into the park.

Tender for Oil.

Alderman Hamilton announced that only one tender for street oil had been received. It was from the Imperial Oil Company, quoting eleven and one-half cents per gallon. Several members voiced protests at the fact that the price was two cents a gallon higher than that asked last year and opined that the city is to be a victim of the NRA. The chairman and Mr. Parsons were empowered to purchase the oil which will be required for this summer, securing it, if possible at a price more advantageous than that quoted in the tender.

A tender by the Thomas A. Rehill Company to supply cement at $2.08 per barrel without sacks was approved.

City Engineer Parsons outlined the work which is under way in the city at present. Repairs to a section of road in Jackson Park which were halted by the freeze-up last fall are to be completed. Park Hill road is to be re-surfaced at the Aylmer street corner and Sherbrooke street from Park street to Monaghan road is being serviced. Grass seeding will be carried out where top soil has been placed in James Stevenson Park.

On the recommendation of Mr. Parsons, the board decided to discontinue dumping of materials other than those which can be burned on the dump at the foot of Simcoe street. In the future the city property to the east of James Stevenson Park in East City will be used.

Because the fish have suddenly and mysteriously abandoned their usual haunts near Upper Lochfyne, Scotland, herring fishermen have had to give up fishing for the season and may face want.

PROFESSOR WITH BRILLIANT RECORD HEADS BISLEY TEAM

Lt.-Col. H. F. G. Letson Won Honors During War

(By Central Press Canadian)

VANCOUVER, May 3. — Lieut.-Col. H. F. G. Letson, M.C., of Vancouver, who has been appointed commandant of Canada's 1934 Bisley team, is assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the university of B. C., and former officer commanding the First B. C. Regiment.

A native son of Vancouver, he has mixed university and military pursuits since 1916, when he was a student at McGill College here. He left his books to enlist in the 196th Western Universities Battalion as a private, soon winning promotion. In 1916 he joined the 54th Battalion in France as a lieutenant.

Wounded at Vimy Ridge in March 1917, he was awarded the Military Cross for gallantry in that action, and was invalided eo England.

After the war he resumed his studies at the university, completing his B.Sc. degree. He went ot London University for his Ph.D., in mechanical and electrical engineering, and later won an appointment to the staff of U.B.C.

Before the war he took a prominent part in student affairs and was a member of several college athletic teams. His war time injury prevents his continued participation in athletics, but he has always been a keen and an accomplished rifle shot.

LT.-COL. H. F. G. LETSON, M.C. Commandant of Canada's 1934 Bisley team.

Here's Value and Variety in SUMMER WEIGHT - SUITS -

$19.75

FLANNELS
TROPICAL WORSTEDS
SEA SUCKERS
SPORT TWEEDS, and
MEDIUM WEIGHT WORSTEDS

The temperature is rising (and so are prices), but comfort will be the most predominating thought in every man's mind.

Assembled here you get the greatest selection in the city of all the popular light-weight garments and Summer Suits, whatever your desire may be. All are faultlessly tailored by Fashion-Craft, but they must be seen to be appreciated.

THE LABEL IS YOUR GUARANTEE.

Fashion Craft Shops LIMITED

B. A. HICKEY, Manager 390 GEORGE ST.

SEE CONTROL OF PRODUCTION REMEDY TOBACCO INDUSTRY

President of Imperial Company Presents 11 Point Summary of Survey.

STEVENS PROBE

OTTAWA, May 4 (C.P.)—Control of production was the remedy for the problems in the tobacco industry, Grey Miller, president of the Imperial Tobacco Co. of Canada Ltd., told the parliamentary price spreads and mass buying probe yesterday.

An 11-point conclusion of his survey of the industry was put before the inquiry by the tobacco company head as follows:

1—In the past few years the production of Canadian tobacco has exceeded by 36 per cent to 44 per cent the total Canadian consumption of domestic and foreign leaf tobacco manufactured in Canada into cigars, cigarettes, plug, snuff, smoking and chewing tobaccos.

2—In the past few years the production of Canadian tobacco has been from 49 per cent to 60 per cent in excess of apparent world consumption of Canadian tobacco.

3—Production of flue-cured tobacco for the five years 1924 to 1928 averaging six and one-quarter million pounds, has been increased to an average of 23,500,000 pounds in the five years 1929 to 1933.

Too Much Flue-Cured

4—The problem of overproduction is primarily due to the increased production of flue-cured tobacco.

5—An important potential market for Canadian leaf tobacco exports may be found in Great Britain.

6—Canadian leaf tobacco must meet competition of other empire leaf tobacco in Great Britain on an equal footing.

7—Canadian leaf tobacco constitutes only a small percentage of the total of leaf tobacco withdrawn for consumption in Great Britain, and represents approximately 15 per cent of empire leaf tobacco so withdrawn.

8—The high price of Canadian leaf in relation to prices of other empire leaf has been an effective deterrent in extending the use of Canadian tobacco in Great Britain.

9—The duty of 40 cents a pound on leaf tobacco imported into Canada ranging from 208 per cent to 372 per cent protection on comparable prices of U.S. flue-cured tobacco has been responsible for the high prices paid for Canadian leaf tobacco in years when production was less than consumption.

10—Any commodity returning an unusual profit thereby encourages exploitation and frequently results in overproduction.

11—Production of flue-cured tobacco in Canada has been exploited to the point of over-production.

Home and School Association News

KING EDWARD SCHOOL.

The April meeting of the King Edward Home and School Association was held on Monday evening. The president, Mrs. S. Gillespie, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. The secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and adopted and several items of business discussed. A musical program was presented by the pupils of Miss Searles, those taking part were Paul Meeks, Laura Lee, Ruth Smith, Elsie Chambers, Margaret Arnold Francis Wells, Aileen Selion, Hazel Scriver. Dr. McPherson gave an interesting talk on cleanliness as regards progress in class work. Mrs. H. Turner was a delegate to the Home and School Federation convention held in the Royal York, Toronto, recently, and gave a very interesting report of the proceedings. A few of the topics touched on were a larger membership, a taste for better motion pictures, and musical training in the school. Mrs. Mackness, on behalf of the association, thanked all those taking part in the program. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

NOMINATED FOR MODERATOR

BROCKVILLE, Ont., May. 3—(CP)—Meeting at Spencerville, the Presbytery of Brockville Presbyterian church, nominated Rev. Dr. S. Davies, Smiths Falls, to become moderator of the synod of Montreal and Ottawa. The presbytery agreed to co-operate in the celebration of the 100 anniversary of the congregation of Mountain Station to be observed this year.

BLAST WRECKS GARAGE.

LONDON, Ont., May 3 (C.P.).—The garage at the rear of Mrs M. Atwell's home to-day was in ruins, the result of fire and explosion. A car owned by Mrs. Atwell's brother-in-law, Clarence Bourne, was also destroyed, total loss being estimated at $500.

Fire officials said failure to extinguish a bonfire in the back yard caused the fire and the explosion.

HUNT MASHER

FORT ERIE, May 3.—(CP)—Police are on the lookout today for a motorist who has been accosting young girls on their way home from Phipps Street school seeking to coax them into his automobile on promises of purchasing candy.

Parents of children thus accosted complained to Chief of Police Griffin today with the result streets adjacent to the school will be patrolled for a time.

HUNT MISSING EMPLOYEE

FORT ERIE, Ont., May 3.—(CP)—The search for Joseph Snodgrass, employe of the Canadian Railway mail service here who disappeared Monday, switched today to Buffalo where a man, answering his description, was seen to alight from a bus. Ontario provincial police, Fort Erie police and authorities on the other side of the border have instituted a search for the missing man.

Saxon King Coolly Received, Seat Barred As Entry Jars Decorum Of English Council

RAMSGATE, England, May 4.—(C. P. Cable)—A Saxon king wearing a winged steel helmet and carrying a heavy sword ruminated today on his abrupt dismissal by a group of civilian councillors.

He was Councillor A. B. Kemp, who clanked into the council chamber in great state last night, causing a flutter of astonishment. He offered apologies to the mayor, saying he was representing Hengist in the town's jubilee pageant and had had no time to change after a rehearsal.

The mayor remarked, "I appreciate your enthusiasm for the pageant but I must ask you to withdraw and resume ordinary attire before returning."

The Saxon King meekly gathered up his regal accoutrements and departed.

LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY

See page 19

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 419 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.50 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
Member: Ontario Associated Dailies. T. L. Ashton, manager, Canada Permanent Building, Toronto.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc. Chicago Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1934

A COLORFUL FIGURE GONE.

The sudden death of T. Herbert Lennox, K.C., member of Parliament for North York, removes a great deal of color from the political stage and brings to an end a successful career in law and in public life.

"Herb" Lennox was among the most popular of Canadians, a man who radiated geniality and good humor and whose friends were innumerable.

For thirty years he had represented North York, serving for five terms in the Ontario Legislature, and for the past three Parliaments had been the riding's spokesman in the Federal Parliament.

After two defeats in succession at the beginning of his association with public life, Mr. Lennox was successful in eight elections in a row, one of his defeated opponents being none other than Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Liberal leader.

The Lennox picnic, held every year and attended by Conservatives, Liberals and independents alike, had become an Ontario institution; it has had many imitators, but none have been successful in equalling the Lennox demonstration, either in attendance or in enjoyment.

Many thousands attended each year, and it is not surprising to note in a newspaper reference that nobody got as much enjoyment out of the picnic than the genial host himself, whose joy it was to meet and greet the army of guests.

Public life is the poorer by reason of the passing of this genial Canadian, who scored success after success at the polls because people simply could not help liking him.

THE MODIFIED GOLD TAX.

The modification of the gold tax so that the levy is to be collected only from the dividend-paying companies will undoubtedly prove generally satisfactory.

The majority of Canadians saw no reason why, in view of the national need of revenue, that an industry that had benefitted hugely by a combination of circumstances for which its own efforts were in no way responsible should not be called to contribute a portion of this unusual profit toward the public treasury.

At the same time it was recognized that in the form in which the levy was originally announced the gold tax would have a damaging effect upon low grade ore propositions, and would undoubtedly cripple the great development that the increased price of gold had brought about.

The modified tax, which is based on profits rather than on production, will be paid largely by the "big fellows"; it does not apply to non-dividend-paying concerns nor to placer mining, and the harmful effect of a direct tax on production has therefore been averted.

It is unfortunate that greater consideration was not given the whole question before the gold tax was announced; if the matter had been studied from all angles many investors would have been saved the losses they have sustained.

But next to being right in the first place the next best thing is to be willing to recognize a mistake and to correct it, and by doing so in this case the Federal Government has earned general gratitude.

The principle of the gold tax was sound, and now that its application has been modified the country will approve of the levy.

IT'S UP TO CANADIAN BUSINESS.

President Anthes of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association gave the members of that organization a timely and sound bit of advice when he declared in a recent speech in Toronto that business men, not governments, must save Canadian business.

"If we have to ask the Government to come in and run our business for us," said Mr. Anthes, "we had better give it up. Canada has to put her house in order, but we have to do it."

The Examiner believes that the head of the Manufacturers' Association is absolutely right.

The evidence already given before the Stevens Committee and the general feeling throughout the country that radical changes in business practices are required cannot be disregarded.

There are abuses and misjustices that must be ironed out, and if business executives and manufacturing heads are slow to realize the need and slower to take steps to clean house on their own account, the Canadian people are going to demand that their Government deal with the situation.

And if this Government should fail to act upon that demand, they're going to turn out the administration and put in another Government that will.

Canadian business should not wait for that development.

If, as the Ottawa Journal points out, the more responsible and more intelligent members are willing and able to impress upon the less responsible and less intelligent, which are in a vast minority, that property involves responsibilities as well as rights and are able to compel them to play fair with the public, then there will be no need of Government interference.

SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENTS.

When admirers of the Communist system eulogize conditions in Russia, as did the imported orator who addressed a meeting on the market square the other night, they are either ignorant of what is going on under the Soviet rule or they hope that their audience is.

For significant developments are taking place in Russia.

In the first place, the old idea of equality of wages is being scrapped in favor of the plan of paying the highest wages to the best workers.

At the same time the competitive marketing of food supplies is coming back into the picture.

The most remarkable change, however, is that the beautiful fairy tale that Russia was being governed by the people through the medium of the small local governing bodies throughout the country has now been officially discarded.

At the recent meeting of the All-Union Congress it was decided that the local cells of the Communist party are to be made subordinate to the central executive.

That means that two million Russian Communists will be the only persons politically recognized among 165,000,000 people, and they in turn will be under the thumb of a little group of dictators at Moscow.

This situation has, of course, always existed under the Soviet rule, but the real truth has never been officially recognized.

It is now admitted that there is no political liberty in the land of the Soviet, and that the people there have merely substituted one form of political dictatorship for another.

It would be well to remember that fact when the capitalistic system is being assailed by revolutionaries, for whatever its faults that system gives Canadians personal liberty and democratic government, both of which are lacking under Communistic rule.

THE CHASE AFTER DILLINGER.

United States officers may have captured John Dillinger before this is printed. Or they may have failed. Since Dillinger got out of prison with the use of a gun which he had whittled from a block of wood, he and those who travel with him have killed 13 who sought his arrest.

Reports say there are 5,000 people in pursuit of the Dillinger gang. The last definite report is that Dillinger was at a little Bohemian resort near Mercer, Wis., and in seeking his capture there two men were killed and four injured.

Five thousand men is indeed a great company to be in pursuit of one man and his associates. We have not the least doubt they all mean well, but the whole country seems to have got itself worked up into a typical American lather with its accompanying lack of effective action. It was much the same in the Lindbergh case. Reports indicated that officers and helpers were hurrying about by the hundreds, but they produced no results. Those who had broken the law were more adept than those who sought to enforce it.

Each and every day the newspapers announce what the officers have to say and where they intend to go. They have given out more statements on this one case within the last two weeks than Scotland Yard would deliver in two years or even longer on all the cases which are handled there. The United States officers are brave enough; they do not hesitate to go in where there is danger, but they are poorly directed. That is why 13 have been killed while Dillinger remains at large.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

THAT TAX ON GOLD.

No sensible or patriotic Canadian can possibly want to do anything calculated to injure the country's gold industry. Such a thing, considering what this industry has meant to Canada's credit and prosperity in general, is unthinkable. But it seems equally without sense or patriotism to set up a cry that the Government's tax on gold is calculated to greatly injure the gold industry. That cry, it seems to us, sent out all over the world, and especially through the United States, is likely to do more harm than the tax.

It may be, as is claimed, that this tax means injury for low-grade mines. It can hardly be shown that it means much of consequence for the high-grade mines. Because if that can be shown—if, in other words, our mines can't produce gold, profitably at a minimum return of $30 an ounce—then our gold mining industry must be a precarious thing.

During the past year the price of gold has averaged $28 an ounce. With that price gold mining prospered; paid dividends and bonuses. In the circumstances, it is a little difficult to appreciate the argument that they are going to be destroyed at a price of $30 an ounce. The thing doesn't make sense. If it does make sense, if the arguments being put forward in some quarters are valid, then what would happen to our gold industry in the event of gold going back to its old price? Or to anything like its old price?

The Journal yields to no quarter whatsoever in its appreciation of the value of the gold-mining industry, in its desire to see it prosper. It is a tremendous thing for Canada. On the other hand, it is also tremendously important that Canada endeavor to balance her budget; and Canada's budget can't be balanced without taxes. Moreover, gold producers who are shouting about this tax might bear in mind that what they are getting in Canadian currency for their gold is a direct result of the Government's monetary policies, certainly of a fortuitous world monetary condition. The whole of Canada therefore ought to have the right to share in whatever benefits flow from that condition.

No doubt consideration will be given, and ought to be given, to the peculiar position of the low-grade mines. That, however, is a far different thing from being stampeded into withdrawing the tax entirely, or from being influenced by certain people interested chiefly in the stock market. As for that other class, the class that is out to make party capital out of the case, their cries may be seen through by anybody.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Federal Government secured a 2 to 1 victory on the second reading of its marketing bill. The battle, however, has all to be fought over again in committee.

Now that the gold tax has been revised to make the big companies carry the whole burden, the agitation will quickly subside. Most people are always more than willing to have the other fellow do the paying.

"The only thing we are quite clear about at the present time is that there is an election on, and anything may happen between now and voting day."—St. Thomas Times-Journal. And afterward, too, which is perhaps the worst feature of it all.

While our American cousins are trying to find out what has become of Dillinger, Ontario folk are endeavoring to solve the mystery of why Mr. Meighen has resigned—just at this moment.

If in your clean-up operations you can find a job for an unemployed man you will be contributing materially to the success of next weeks', clean-up campaign.

The advent of 13 sets of twins in Boise, Ind., in the last six weeks ought to justify Senator Borah in delivering an oration on the progressiveness of his home city and state.—Detroit Free Press.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

STORM DRIFT

By ETHEL M. DELL

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER 55

Tiggie's question had the merit of complete directness. He looked full at the other man with a candor that evidently failed to see any cause for the animosity that seemed to be struggling for expression in his inquiries.

Norman jerked himself together under the calm scrutiny. "Doesn't my name convey anything to you?" he said.

Tiggie hesitated for a second; then, "I'm afraid I must trouble you to speak openly," he said. "I'm not good at jumping to conclusions."

Norman glanced towards Harvey who was still breathing fierily. "This isn't much of a place for a private talk," he said. "Can't I be alone with you?"

"No," said Harvey aggressively.

Tiggie looked at him. "Do you know, old chap, I think perhaps I'd better see this gentleman alone for a few minutes? But stay within reach! Wait for me in the bar-parlor, if you don't mind."

Harvey met his look with something of a glare. But there was that about Tiggie at the moment—perhaps it was his complete reasonableness—which both disarmed and compelled. Harvey turned like a sullen dog and went out, pulling the door after him.

Then, in the shabby old inn dining room with its oilcloth covered floor and black horsehair stuffed chairs, Tiggie turned and faced his enemy by the torch-like flares of the ill-trimmed lamps.

"Now," he said, and his voice was brief and business-like, as though he had no further patience for subterfuge, "What is it you want with me?"

The other man's face changed at the curt address. He stared for an instant, then he laughed—a biting, cruel laugh.

"Oh, that's your tone, is it? I'm a damned intruder, eh? Well, in a sense—I am." With a fierce movement he pulled a letter out of an inner pocket and tossed it on the table by which they stood. "Did you write that, may I ask?"

Tiggie looked downwards. It was his own letter of six weeks before, addressed to Philip Grierson. After a second's thought, he picked it up.

"It was not written to you," he observed.

Norman laughed again. There was something searing in his laughter, like the hiss of a branding iron; it suggested the deliberate intention to torture. "I'm aware of that," he said. "You would scarcely have adopted that tone to me, I imagine. You admit you wrote it then?"

"Certainly," said Tiggie.

"And why?" said Norman.

Tiggie squared his shoulders. "Have you any particular reason for questioning me?"

"Yes, I have." Swift as lightning came the counterthrust. "A fairly obvious one to any ordinary intelligence! Do you refuse to tell me your motive for writing that letter?"

"I don't see how it affects you," said Tiggie.

The red-gray eyes flashed sudden fire. "Perhaps you would say that the fact of my wife entering into a marriage contract with another man while still bound to me would not affect me either?" said Norman, dwelling on the words in a fashion which somehow did not belie that fiery look.

"Your wife?" said Tiggie. "I have never met her."

Norman's lips went back slowly, showing his teeth. "Then who is the lady whom you state in that letter you have married?" he said.

"Nothing whatever to you," said Tiggie with the steely hardness of the man who will die under torture sooner than cry out.

"Oh, indeed! And you really believe that?" Norman's voice was cold and slippery; the eyes of the tormentor still looked out of his grimly-smiling face. "You really believe tha Viola Norman is nothing whatever to me?"

"There is no such person that I know of," said Tiggie.

"That you know of!" The words came back to him quietly, menacingly. The branding iron was poised ready, waiting to descend upon the bared flesh. "You call her by another name perhaps. But—she i not entitled to any other. I don't profess to know what garbled story she may have told you. Women are proverbially inaccurate—especially where their morals are concerned. But I now tell you this, and I can produce full proof. This woman you say you have married is my wife. Do you hear? My wife! And nothing that you can say or do will alter that."

The iron struck home, burning its awful impress of destruction that nothing could ever erase, and Tiggie, prepared though he was for the blow, was momentarily bewildered by the sheer agony of it. He stood stiffly silent, gripping his whole being in the effort to repress all signs of suffering; but the sweat broke out on his forehead and ran down his face. And the man who wielded the iron smiled a devilish smile at the sight.

"You didn't expect me quite so soon perhaps?" he suggested.

Tiggie still stood, rigid, all the wholesome color gone from his kindly countenance and the stony bitterness of despair looking out of his eyes.

He spoke at last in a voice that sounded dead because of the emotion he had strangled. "What have you come for?"

Norman slightly shrugged his shoulders. "I have come for the obvious—to assert my rights. In consequence of an unfortunate accident, my wife traveled to England without me. I followed on the earliest opportunity—to find her bigamously married to another man; that is to say, if you did go through the marriage ceremony with her, which I doubt."

He flung the words with supreme contempt, and a sudden inexplicable shiver went through Tiggie; he clenched his hands hard against his sides to repress it or some impulse which it engendered.

"Before we discuss my actions," he said in the same dead voice, "I should be obliged if you would show me the certificate of your own marriage."

"With pleasure." Norman's hand went to his pocket and brought out another envelope without an instant's hesitation. He took a document therefrom and spread it on the table for Tiggie's inspection. "And now, perhaps, you will produce yours!" he said.

"Later—if necessary," said Tiggie.

He bent stiffly over the paper, and there was a silence while Norman stood openly watching, a sneer on his lips and malice in his eyes.

Tiggie looked up at last, "This may—or may not be genuine," he said. "I must—of course—take steps to find out. Meantime"—he paused a moment, looking hard into the red-gray eyes—"meantime, Mr. Norman, you can see for yourself that I am alone here—except for my brother-in-law—and perhaps the sooner you leave me the better."

"Oh, you're threatening me, are you?" said Norman. "A further charge of assault will hardly count in your favor in a court of law."

"That's my affair," said Tiggie. "Will you go, please?"

But Norman stood his ground. "I haven't finished yet," he said. "You may take it from me, that certificate is genuine. You can verify it as soon as you like. But I'm not quite such a damn' fool as to imagine that you've been staying down here all these weeks for the benefit of your health. I've found out all there is to know in that respect, thanks to the information supplied by your letter. As I say, I have come to assert my rights, and I shan't be prevented by any brute force. That I assure you."

Again that odd quiver went through Tiggie. He made an almost violent gesture of repression. "In what way do you propose to assert—your rights?" he asked.

"Ah! Now we're coming to it." A harsh note of triumph sounded in Norman's voice. "That is exactly what I am here to talk about. Knowing my wife as I do, I am quite prepared to believe that she represented herself to you as free—a bitterly wronged woman, doubtless. You, I take it, fell into the trap, and now you find yourself in a deuced awkward position. The point is this. Do you still want to keep her now you know the truth?"

Tiggie's breath quickened as if he were struggling in mortal combat. "I have yet to find out the truth," he said.

Norman shrugged his shoulders again. "As you like! For my part, I should imagine that an early understanding might have been preferable from your point of view. However, you know your own business best, and I'm not prepared to be too magnanimous. She goes back with me on the next boat."

He swung round with the words, but in the same instant Tiggie's hand came out and gripped his shoulder with the grip of a giant. His voice came almost in a whisper, but it was terrible. "Whatever else happens—that won't!" he said.

Norman stopped short with an ugly laugh. "Well, there's going to be some sort of payment for this," he said. "You don't think I'm the sort of ninompoop to share my wife free with another man, do you? Either you pay for the goods—or I take 'em back! And in that case"—his words came sharp and stinging like the flick of a whip across Tiggie's set face—"you may take my word for it, she'll do the paying."

"You dirty scoundrel!" said Tiggie, with a hard intake of the breath.

And there, on the very verge of violence, he stopped short, wheeling abruptly to face the suddenly opened door. Joe Penny entered, briskly intent upon his evening's work.

"Excuse me, gentlemen!" he said. "I thought you'd finished. There's a nice fire upstairs if you'd like to smoke there. I don't suppose the lady'll object."

It is in moments such as these that the trammels of civilization tighten into the bonds that gall. The effect upon Tiggie was as that of the curb on the runaway. It jerked him to a standstill. He stood staring dumbly at Joe Penny while Norman broke into a brief scoffing laugh.

The landlord stared too, as though he sensed something unusual in the atmosphere, but only for a couple of seconds. Then he too laughed indulgently. "P'raps you'd sooner sit in the parlor," he said. "It's handier for the bar. The other gentleman's there, and I've served him twice already. As I says to my missis, "That picture ought to be a wonderful one when it's finished.' But there! These artist gentlemen"—he went off into hearty chuckles—"you never know with 'em—never know. Can I clear, sir?"

Tiggie pulled himself together with a supreme effort, finding the interruption harder to meet than the crisis had been. "Yes, all right, clear away!" he said.

Then he turned to Norman who stood surveying him with open mockery. "We'll discuss this matter again," he said.

Norman nodded. "I thought we should," he said, and with the words he sauntered in front of Tiggie to the door. "When you've had time to adjust your ideas, you might let me know. But—don't forget I'm returning by the next boat to Bombay, will you?"

He had reached the passage. He paused to give full effect to his words, and his look was that of the gambler who sees his winnings coming to him past a crowd of losers. He even seemed to wait for Tiggie's deferred blow as if he might have turned that also to good account.

But Tiggie's moment of madness had passed, and he had himself in hand. "I shall forget nothing," he said, and turned aside forthwith to join Harvey in the bar-parlor.

Norman went slowly up the stairs with the devilish smile still on his face.

(To be continued)

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

EDMONTON, ALBERTA

The city of Edmonton, capital of the province of Alberta, was established in 1756 as a fur trading post by the Hudson's Bay Company. Local history throws little or no light on the early development of the town. On the south bank of the North Saskatchewan, a little settlement sprang up which was incorporated under the name of Strathcona, in honor of the famous C.P.R. builder. These two cities were amalgamated in 1912.

The origin of the naming of the city goes back to the early Hudson's Bay Company days. A young English clerk came out to enter the service of the H.B. Company, from Edmonton, England. At the time of his arrival no one seemed concerned about naming the settlement. This was about the beginning of 1800. This clerk, John Pruden, besought his superiors to christen the town with the name of his native city in England, and for want of a more original name, this one was chosen.

Foreign Affairs

To Interpret the Spirit of Our Age It is Exigent to Place the High in Contrast to the Lowly and the Poor.

(By H. W. L. McNOOD)

That Little Mexican Girl of Last Week.

MENDOTA CALIFORNIA

The greatest of all speakers and writers gave force to His messages by placing in contrast opposites. You will recall the Publican and the Pharisee, and Dives and Lazarus, and Simon and the woman at the feet of the invited Guest. In the articles for this contribution the writer has chosen to place in contrast some folks who are living in the environment of this age.

Last week we ventured on the story of a little Mexican girl working in the cotton fields of California. Keep in mind the kind of home in which she is living. In the same kind all the migratory workers live. In this outhouse of a home there is one iron bed. That's where the baby sleeps. The baby has the scarlet fever, and it rolls and tosses in delirium. Picture the mother trying to soothe the sufferings of the baby and at the same time shooing the flies away. Her mother care seems hopeless. Fever and clouds of flies, imagine such a scene. The crisis is on. What shall she do? Call the doctor and let it be known that there is scarlet fever in the camp, causing everybody to lose his and her job, or shall she take the risk involved? What would you have done?

Think of the desolation of that home. Ahe iron bed is the only bed in that home. It is one of five in the whole camp. In this family there are five members besides the little girl of fifteen. The six sleep on the floor huddled together. The baby sleeps in the wee iron bed. The father and mother and two grown brothers, a little brother and the fifteen-year sister sleep!

* * *

A Junior High School and the American Negro.

NYACK, NEW YORK

In the Negro, or Black Belt, of the Southland to stir up sentiment against these lowly folks is easy. But in the Northland the reader would expect the liberated from physical slavery, would find ready protection from social slavery. Anti-Negro sentiment is supposed to be extinct in that part of the nation from which came Emancipation.

Recently the pupils of the Ninth-grade classes in English of the Junior-Senior High School at Nyack, were handed this questionnaire and asked to characterise the statements in it as "true or false." Quotations in exact words:

1—The difference between the black and white races is not mere degree, but of kind.
2—The educated negro is less of of a burden on the courts and less likely to become a dependent or a defective than the white man.
3—No negro should hold office of trust, honor, or of merit.
4—The negro should be simply a door-mat of American civilization.
5—I place the negro on the same social basis as I would a mule.
6—The negro should be given the same education advantages as the white man.
7—The inability of the negro to develop outstanding leaders dooms them to a low place in society.
8—No negro has the slightest right to protest or even question the illegal killing of one of his race.
9—The negro is by no means fit for social equality with the commonest white wan.
10—I would not patronize a hotel that accommodated negroes.
11—Is it possible for the white and negro races to be brothers in Christ without becoming brothers-in-law?

There are other questions to be stated before this writer comments.

* * *

Bulgaria Has a Name of Which to Be Proud.

BULGARIA

There are men in every community who command confidence when things of high importance are to be adventured. For a revolution to be successful two items enter the count. The undertaking must be just, and right. The leader must command confidence by what he is and by his record.

Bulgaria is fortunate. Dimitroff is a veteran leader of the Bulgarian working class. The world is asking, "Who is this Dimitroff? What has he done? Do the people believe in him?" He has been rather obscure. But he has been a silent, far-seeing, confidence-creating worker. Almost overnight he has become the symbol of revolutionary courage and defiant resistance to reaction. Bulgarians, as these lines are being written, by the million are clutching at every bit of news about the man.

As Britishers search out the story of Prince George or of Ramsay MacDonald, the Bulgarians are treasuring up all information depicting the life struggle, and the source of the strength of Dimitroff.

The story of Dimitroff does not stand alone. Nor does the story of any leader, whether he be great or ordinary. Dimitroff is one of a class with which he has merged his life. And only as he has merged his life when obscure can he now command the allegiance of his people. It is thus that a true man comes to effective leadership. Apart from the losing of one's self in the community or in the nation can any man come to constructive leadership? Office-confined men never come to grips with the issues that cry for solution.

The life story of Dimitroff is the life story of the Bulgarian working class. To know Dimitroff is to understand the surge, the irrisistible surge of Bulgarian revolution. To write the story of Peterborough you must write the story of a few men who have invested themselves in the city's welfare and progress. That story will be written some of these days.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

MAY 4, 1904

Chief Newhall intends enforcing the new traffic law calling for a red light or reflector on the back of bicycles....The planting of 6,000 evergreen trees on Armour's Hill commenced yesterday.

May 4, 1914

The Peterborough Lumber Co. mill opened for the summer to-day and the McDonald Lumber mill will open in a few days....Wm. Lech and Sons, furriers, have purchased over 7,000 muskrat pelts this year, paying from 37 to 40 cents each for them.

MAY 4, 1904

Shareholders of the Canadian Cordage Co. here, at a meeting yesterday, were informed that the company's net profits now reach $36,170....Two important by-laws will be voted upon here to-morrow: establishment of a beet sugar industry, and the building of a Collegiate Institute.

A Thought

SOMEBODY

Somebody did a golden deed,
Somebody proved a friend in need,
Somebody sang a beautiful song,
Somebody smiled the whole day long.
Somebody thought 'tis sweet to live,
Somebody said I am glad to give.
Somebody fought a valiant fight,
Somebody lived to shield the right.
Was that somebody you?

One-Minute Pulpit

The Lord liftеth up the meek; he casteth the wicked down to the ground.—Psalm 147:6.

WHY BAR TROTSKY?

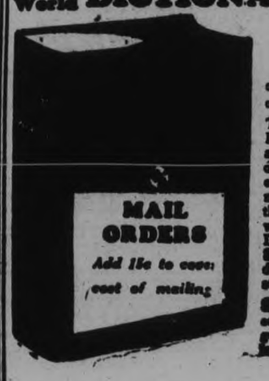
LONDON, May 3 (C.P. Cable).—Jack McGovern, fiery Laborite demanded in the House of Commons this afternoon why Leon Trotsky had been refused permission to enter Britain when "so many Nazi revolutionaries are admitted," the question bringing no reply from the Government. Previously Sir John Gilmour, Home Secretary, had announced refusal of permission for Tritsky to enter the country.

GRETA NISSEN ROBBED

LONDON, May 4 (A.P.)—A well-dressed burglar robbed the home of Greta Nissen, actress, of $5,000 worth of jewels early today.

A brother, awakened by the thief, batted the intruder until he broke away and escaped. Miss Nissen's home is near Park Lane.

New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster



COUPON

Clip 3 Coupons

on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98c

This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green tonilo leather, gold stamping.

Special—To get it bound in embossed art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edge and thumb indexed, send $1.09 extra.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

.....

10

Heavy Trading in Liquor Issues at Toronto-Prices Hold Firm

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	186	....	....
Con Bake	9½B	....	....
Br Am Oil	15	14⅞	15
Can Bread Co	3⅜	3½	3½
Bldg Prods	22⅜	....	....
Bell Tel	119½	119	119¼
Burt F N	33	....	....
Brazilian	11	10⅞	10⅞
Can Cem	8	....	....
C P R	16⅞	16⅝	16⅝
Can Dredge	23	....	....
Can Car and F	7¼	7	7
Can Canners	7¼	....	....
Can Oil	13¼	....	....
Can Malt	33½	33¾	33
Cookshutt	7½	7¼	7¼
Dom Bridge	34⅝	....	....
Dist Seagram	18	17¼	17¼
Dom Stores	20¾	....	....
Ford A	23	22¾	22⅞
Gypsum L and A	6¾	6¾	6¾
Cons Gas	180	....	....
Goodyear	122	120	120
Walk G and W	36½	34⅜	35
Int. Nickel	2800	2785	2785
Int. Util. "A"	3½B	..	..
Ind. Alcohol	11⅞	11½	11½
Imp. Oil	15	14⅜	14⅞
Imp. Tobacco	11⅜	11⅜	11⅜
Con. Smelt	160	159	159
Laura S.	59-60	..	..
Loblaw "A"	17⅜	17¼	17⅜
McC. Frontenac	13⅞	13¾	13¾
Massey Harris	5½	5⅝	5½
Moore Corp.	16⅜	16½	16⅜
Page Hersey	70	..	..
Pressed Metals	17½	17	17
Photo Eng.	18¼-20	..	..
Int. Pete	26⅜	26¼	26⅜
Std. Steel	7¾	7	7
Service Stations	8¼	..	..
Sup. Petro.	25	24½	24¾
Stand. Paving	3⅜	3¼	3⅜
Tip Top Tailors	9-9¾	..	..
C. Vinegar	26½	26¼	26½
Weston's Ltd.	38	37	38
Steel of Can.	36½	36	36
Union Carb.	43½	43	43⅝
United Corp.	5⅝	5½	5½
U. S. Rubber	22¼	21⅝	21⅝
U. S. Steel	47⅜	46¼	46½
Vanadium Corp.	23⅞	22¼	23⅛
Westinghouse	38¼	37⅛	37⅛
Warner Bros.	7	6⅝	6⅝
Yellow Cab.	5¼	5⅛	5⅛
Woolworth	51½	50½	51

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE AND CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme Oil	28	26½	27
Ajax Oil	112	110	111
Ashley Gold	95	90	90
Algoma	17½	15½	16
Amity	2¾	2⅝	2⅝
Bagamac	26	24	24
Base Metals	155	150	152
Barry Hollinger	16	15	16
Bobjo	50	48	49
Braylorne	1425	..	..
BRX	125	122	122
Bunker Hill	3⅞	3	3
Bear	44	42	44
Canadian Kirk	10½	9½	9½
Chem. Research	215	205	210
Cent. Patricia	72	68	70½
Cent. Manitoba	12	11	11
Coast Copper	485	470	470
Cassels Treth.	57	55	57
Dalhousie Oil	45	..	..
Dome	3750	3625	3750
Dom. Explorers	4-5	..	..
Eldorado	301	290	290
Falconbridge	375	..	..
Federal Kirk	6	6	6
Hollinger	1575	1550	1570
Home Oil	155	155	155
Howey	130	129	130
Hudson Bay	1300	1285	1295
Int. Nickel	2800	2780	2790
Kirk. Hudson	70	68	69
Kirk. Lake	55	53	53
Kirk. Townsite	30	27	27
Gunnar	163	155	156
Green St.	87	80	83
Harker	14½	12	12½
Little L. Lac	475	460	460
Robb. Mont.	9	8	8¼
Bradian	275	270	275
Columario	32	30	31½
Gods Lake	148	145	145
Halcrow	34	31	31
Read. Authier	97	95	97
Coniagas	200	..	..
Granada	79	77	78
Paymaster	28½	25	28½
Lakeshore	4975	..	..
Lee Gold	16	14½	14½
McIntyre	4560	4525	4550
Macassa	275	270	270
Maple Leaf	68	65	68
Malartic	62	60	62
Mining Corp	195	190	190
Malrobic	5½	5	5
Moffat-Hall	5½	..	..
McMillan	67	66	66
McVittie-Grah.	67	66	66
McWatters	44	43	43
McKenzie	123	122	122
Noranda	4005	3940	4000
North. Canada	31	30	31
Nipissing	235	..	..
Nordon	12½	12¼	12¼
Pend Oreille	100	95	97
Pioneer	1310	..	..
Premier	138	127	138
Reno Gold	96	93	93
Ribago	1⅞	1½	1⅝
Sherrit-Gordon	113	111	112
Siscoe	220	215	217
San Antonio	390	380	380
Sudbury Basin	180	170	179
St. Anthony	58	56	57
Sylvanite	260	251	253
Teck Hughes	610	590	610
Thompson Cad.	49	46	46½
Ventures	95	93	93
Waite-Amulet	127	..	..
Wayside	43	40	41
Wright Harg.	895	880	885
Wainwright	73	70	72½
White Eagle	35	33	34

UNLISTED

Beattie	120-123
Bathurst	4¾-5
McLeod Cockshutt	43-46
Pickle Crow, asked	78
Red Lake Gold Shore	34-38
Smelter Gold	30-32
Tobourn	148-153
Great Bear Dev.	35-37

Sales—946,000

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

CHICAGO.

	May	July	Sept.
High	78⅝	79¼	79⅞
Low	78¼	77⅝	78⅛
Close	77½	78¾	79⅜

WINNIPEG.

	May	July	Oct.
High	66⅜	68¼	66⅛
Low	65½	67½	67⅜
Close	63⅜	68⅛	66

LIVERPOOL CABLES.

Due—Chicago ½ to ⅝ lower. Winnipeg ⅛ higher.
Open—⅛ to ¼ lower.
1.30—⅛ lower.
2.15—Unchanged to ⅛ lower.
Close—⅛ to ¼ lower.

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	66⅛	64¾	64¾
Auburn Auto	43⅛	40½	40½
Allied Chem.	145¼	..	..
Amer. Can.	100¾	99¼	99¾
Am. Sneit.	41	39¾	40
Am. R. & S.S.	14¾	14⅝	14¾
Am. and F. P.	9	8¾	8¾
Am. Tel. & Tel.	114¾	112	112½
Am. Roll. Mills	23½	22	22½
Anaconda Cop.	15¾	15⅜	15⅝
Balt. & Ohio	26½	26⅜	26⅜
Baldwin Loco	12½	12¾	12⅝
Bordens	24¾	24	24⅜
Byers, A.M.	24½	..	..
Bendix Avn.	17¼	16⅜	16⅝
Beth. Steel	38¼	37g	37⅞
Briggs	18	17½	17⅝
Canada Dry	25⅝	24½	25⅝
Case, J.I.	64¾	58⅜	59¼
Chrysler	47¼	45⅜	46⅞
Columbus Gas	13⅞	13⅝	13⅝
Cons. Gas	34¼	33¼	33⅜
Com. Solvents	24½	24	24
Dupont	92⅞	91	91
El Bond & Share	16	14⅞	15
El Power & Ligh	6¼	6⅛	6⅛
Elec Auto L	24	23	23⅜
Freeport Texas	43	42½	43
Fox Film	16⅛	15½	15⅝
Gen Elec	21⅝	21¼	21¼
Gen Food Prod.	34¼	37⅛	37⅞
Gen. Motors	36⅛	35¼	35⅝
Gillette Saf Raz	11	10⅝	10⅝
Goodyear	34⅛	33⅛	34⅛
Houston Oil	23⅜	24	24¼
Hudson Motors	16⅛	15⅞	16¼
Int. Harvester	38⅝	38	38
Inter. Nickel	28¼	26	26
Interboro R. T.	9⅜	..	..
Inter. Tel. & Tel.	13⅝	13¼	13½
Johns-Manville	53	53	53
Liquid Carb	32	31	31
Mont Ward	28¼	27⅜	27⅝
Mack Truck	35⅝	..	..
Nash Motors	20¼	19⅝	20
N. Y. Cetnral	31¼	30¼	30¼
National Biscuit	40	39¼	39¼
North American	17¼	17⅛	17⅜
Phillips Pete	19	18¼	18⅜
Pack. Motors	4⅝	4⅛	4⅜
Penn. Ry.	32¼	31⅜	32⅛
Pub. Serv. N.J.	37¼	36⅛	36⅛
Radio Corp.	8¼	7⅞	7⅞
Radio-Keith	3¼	3¼	3¼
Raybestos-Man.	18½	18¼	18½
Sears Roebuck	45⅝	45	45
Sim. Bed Co.	18½	18	18⅛
Stand. Brands.	21¼	20⅝	20⅝
Stand. Gas & El.	11¼	11	11⅛
Std. Oil of N.J.	44⅝	44⅛	44⅛
Socony-Vac.	16⅝	16⅛	16⅝
Studebaker	5⅛	5¼	5¼
Stewart-Warn.	8¼	8⅛	8⅛
South. Pacific.	25½	24½	24½
Texas Corp.	35½	35¼	35½
Timken Roll. B.	32½	32	32⅛
Union Pacific	131⅝	129⅝	131⅝

INDUSTRIAL ISSUES STEADY IN TORONTO TRADING TO-DAY

Turnover in Nickel, Ford "A," Some of Oils and Brewery Corporation Heavy.

GAINS-LOSSES EVEN.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.). — Prices hardly budged to-day while trading proceeded on a substantial scale on the industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange. Dealings in the liquor issues, Nickel, Ford A, some of the oils, and the Brewing Corporation shares were heavy. Price changes were mainly in small fractions and these were about equally divided between the losses and gains.

Some of the brewery issues recorded moderate recessions in the early session but most of them were made up before the closing. Brewing Corporation Pfd. closed a half point down and Walkerville was off 1¼. Walkers common and Distillers Seagrams were the leaders of their group and at the close the former was off ⅝ and the latter up an equal amount. Industrial Alcohol finished the session unchanged at 11¾.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—The stock market quietly tapered off following a moderate rally in the first hour today. Selling developed in some of the Utilities. Firmness predominated in silver shares. The late tone was steady. Spiegel-May-Stern and U. S. Smelting were up three or more points. American Sugar Refining, American Smelting, Chrysler and Santa Fe showed gains of a point or more. American Telephone lost more than a point. Case and Consolidated Gas were easy. Transfers approximated 800,000 shares.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTHEAL, May 4.— (C.P.)—Securities on the Monteral stock exchange advanced at the close today but gains were mainly confined to fractions. Trading was fairly brisk.

Paper stocks were strong with St. Lawrence Paper Preferred touching a new peak and closing at 25½ with a 1¼ point gain, St. Lawrence Corporation Preferred was ½ higher, at 11½ after establishing a new top.

Canadian Industrial Alcohol issues were weak and Bruck Silk and Dominion Textile both lost a point.

Penalty Amendment To Bank Act Lost

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP) — The House Banking Committee turned down to-day an amendment to the Bank Act to penalize banks the face value of a loan if an interest rate in excess of seven per cent. was charged. The vote was 7-5.

The amendment was proposed by W. A. Beynann (Cons., Moose Jaw). For years the banks have charged more than seven per cent interest through the consent of the borrower, with the backing of a Privy Council judgment. The present revision of the Act would stop this, in addition laying the bank and its employees open to fines for exacting the excessive interest.

RED UPRISING FAILS.

PARIS, May 3 (C.P.). — A feeble Communist effort to rekindle hostilities with police in the "Joan of Arc City" municipal tenements of Paris flickered out early to-day.

One hundred defiant youths—discouraged by the indifference of 2 000 police who withdrew after a few skirmishes—dispersed shortly after the police went home.

JUST A MYTH.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 3 (C.P.) —Belief that a huge sea serpent was inhabiting the waters of Lake Ontario, in front of Kingston, were partly exploded to-day when a local citizen said that he had rowed out three-quarters of a mile to where the alleged monster had been seen, and found nothing but a water-logged trunk of an elm tree, on which several loons had been perching.

BOND LIST

WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

1936	105 -105⅝
1937	109⅛-110⅛
1941	107⅜-108⅜
1952	101⅛-102¼
1958	104¾-105⅛

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

1948	109 -109¼

London society women are wearing toeless sandals for evening wear.

Two Experienced Bank Managers Are Able To Detect True Signature When Put To Test

The ability that experienced bank managers have in detecting forged cheques was graphically displayed yesterday during a case before Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy in Supreme Court. Two bank managers, Vincent Eastwood, this city, and J. A. Stewart, of Edmonton, Alberta, batted 1000 in picking out a true signature when put to a test by Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C.

Of chief importance in the case was whether or not a woman's name to a note was really her signature. Mr. Eastwood and Mr. Stewart, after comparing her signature with the one on the note stated that in their opinion the signature on the note was truly hers.

Mr. Gordon then produced six cheques and asked the bank managers separately to select which ones had the woman's signature. Mr. Eastwood said one of the six had her signature and another was a tracing of her signature, while the others were merely copies by other persons of her signature. Mr. Gordon admitted this was correct.

Mr. Stewart also studied the cheques choosing the correct signature, refusing to pass the traced signature and declaring that the other four had been written by other persons.

Poor Negro Granted Right To Appeal Case

LONDON, May 4 (CP Cable). — The Law Lords of the Privy Council, the Empire's highest tribunal, to-day granted a poor Bermudan negro the right to appeal against a death sentence, in forma pauperis —without expense.

Warren Duane Smith, colored, was found guilty of murdering two illegitimate children of his wife, and sentenced to death by the Chief Justice of Bermuda.

When the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council heard the application for leave to appeal, Crown counsel admitted there had been matters connected with the trial which made the case one where leave to appeal should be granted.

DELORO PLANT BEEN KEPT BUSY KIWANIANS TOLD

Silver Mining in Ontario is Explained by R. A. Elliott.

NO WAGE CUTS.

Ore From Cobalt First Shipped to Deloro in 1906.

Widely known throughout Central Ontario for his activities in connection with baseball, R. A. Elliott, manager of the Deloro Mining and Smelter Company as guest speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon at Empress Hotel to-day revealed himself in the role of a good after-dinner speechmaker, and as a metallurgist of wide experience.

Introduced by Art Moffatt, the guest speaker remarked upon the fact that he and President A. B. Gates of the Kiwanis Club had been class mates at Queen's University.

In the course of an unusually interesting and informative discourse Mr. Elliott spoke of the silver Cobalt ores of Northern Ontario, with special reference to the history of the discovery and development of the town of Cobalt and its relation to the town of Deloro. He also entered into an explanation of the process of refining as carried on at the Deloro Mining and Smelter company's plant, besides touching briefly upon the accident prevention work that has been fostered by the company during the past ten years.

In dealing with the history of mining in Ontario, Mr. Elliott stressed the contribution which railroad development had made to the successful development of the province as a whole.

It was when the Canadian Pacific Railway line was being built through Sudbury, he stated, that deposits of nickel were discovered, resulting in establishment of the richest nickel field in the world. History repeated itself in 1903 when "Cobalt blue" and native silver was discovered, on the present townsite of Cobalt.

Mr. Elliott reviewed the history of mining in Deloro going back to the year 1858 at which time two shafts were sunk. The mines were flooded in 1903 by the waters of the Moira River and mining has never been carried on at Deloro since, he said.

Ore from Cobalt was first shipped into Deloro in 1906, and since that time the company had been operating a smelter with increasing success. In the past three or four years the speaker said, despite the depression through which the rest of the industry has been passing, the Deloro Mining and Smelter Company has been operating 24-hours a day; 7 days a week; and 365 days in a year, paying employees a wage that had been prevailing in pre-depression years.

Mr. Elliott proceeded to discuss some of the technical processes in connection with the extraction from the ore of arsenic, silver, cobalt, and nickel. He referred also to the comparatively recent development of cobalt metal —a metal used in the manufacture of high speed steeling, known as Stellite steel.

Dr. C. B. Waite, who stated that he originally set out to become a mining engineer but switched to the study of medicine ably moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was extended by the president of the club.

Guests at the luncheon included "Bill" Kay, executive member of the Ontario Baseball Association, "Bill" Regan, secretary Trent Valley Baseball League; and Pete Lang.

A RICH STRIKE.

HELENA, Mont., May 4 (C.P.)—Montana gold prospectors eagerly scanned assay reports to-day that showed values of $27.123.14 a ton in samples submitted from a vein discovered in the property of the Channel Gold Mines, Limited, at Marysville.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.). — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., were reported unchanged to-day, with the exception of Louisiana strawberries, 24 point case, quoted at $3.50, and California lettuce, 6 doz. case, quoted at $6.

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, May 4 (C..P.) — The Toronto wholesale cheese market was quiet to-day, with dealers buying large colored paraffined and government grades at 10¼c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New—Large, 11½c; twins, 11¾c; triplets, 12c. Medium. — Large 15½c; twins, 15¾c; triplets, 16c. Old—Large 17½c; twins 17¾c; triplets, 18c.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A-large, doz., 17c; grade A-medium, 15c; grade "C" 14c.

Churning Cream — No. 1, lb., 22c; No. 2, 20c. Butter—No. 1 solids, 22c; No. 2, 21½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag, 95 cents.

Wife Of Belleville Mayor Passes Away

BELLEVILLE, Ont., May 4 (C.P.). — Margaret Kane McCaughen, wife of Mayor George O. Tice, died late last night in Belleville General Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was born in Hastings County, but resided is the West for some years before moving to this city 15 yeass ago.

A Presbyterian in religion, she took an active interest in the work of the church, and was also interested in Y.M.C.A. and Red Cross work, especially during the war years.

The deceased was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and the White Shrine of Jerusalem.

Surviving are her husband, Mayor George O. Tice, one son Claude D. Tice, city editor of the Ontario Intelligencer, two brothers John and James of Brighton, also one sister, Mrs. James Snider of the same place. The funeral will take place on Monday.

Further Development Peterboro Gold Find

COBOURG, May 4. — Arthur Cooper, mining expert, stated yesterday a report had been received from the Ontario Department of Mines on samples of gold ore found north of Peterborough and that work will start immediately on the property. He refused to say what the assay report contained, but declared it warranted further development.

Mr. Cooper said an engineer would arrive from Montreal to work on the property next week. The ore body is said to be eight feet in width.

FIRST KENTUCKY ENTRY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (C.P.): —Discovery, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's chestnut colt, and one of the favorites, was the first to be enterde to-day for to-morrow's Kentucky Derby. His entry was formally posted shortly after the list was opened.

GAINS EVIDENT MINING SHARES

Trading in Senior Golds and Base Metal Issues Fairly Quiet.

BEAR SILVERS ACTIVE.

TORONTO, May 4 (CP) — Although buying was in smaller volume than the average over recent session, it was sufficient to take care of the day's offerings in the Mining Section of the Toronto Stock Exchange, and price changes were, in the majority of cases, on the upside. Senior issues in the gold and base metal groups were quiet and in the silvers only the Bear Lake stocks came out in any quantity.

Lake Shore and McIntyre boarded only a few sales and the former had a drop of 25 cents again gain of 25 for McIntyre.

Dome aded 50 cents, Hollinger 10, Bralorne 10, Wright Hargreaves 25 cents, and Teck Hughes 10. Pioneer finished slighty lower.

CHECKING DOPE RING

FORT ERIE, Ont., May 4 (C.P.) —Customs forces on both sides of the International Peace bridge were mobilized today to combat the activities of a 'dope ring', believed to be smuggling quantities of morphine and other narcotics from Canada into the United States.

Several seisures have been made during the past fortnight by inspectors searching bus passengers.

2 DIE FOR MURDER.

LONDON, May 4 (C.P.-Havas).— Two youthful workers, Albert Probert and Frederick Parker, paid the supreme penalty for the murder of an 80-year-old merchant here today. They were hanged at Wandsworth Prison.

NO DELAYS.

DENVER, May 4 (C.P.). — Even rattlesnakes cannot keep laborers on a Denver unemployment relief project from their work. Removing stone from a mountain near Denver, the workmen discovered 15 rattlesnake nests and killed many reptiles. They officially listed their work as a "supplementary rattlesnake eradication project."

HOG PRICES.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.).—Bacon hog quotations were irregular to-day at $7.60 to $7.75 f.o.b. shipping point with $1 premium for extras.

To-day's prices were: Kitchener $7.60, down 15c; London $7.60, unchanged; Hull, Que., off truck $8.25, up 15c; Peterborough $7.60, unchanged.

19 IN KENTUCKY DERBY.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4.— (A.P.)—Nineteen thoroughbred three-year-olds were entered to-day for the running of the 60th Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs to-morrow.

The entries included 15 colts, two geldings and two fillies, the Dixiana Farm's Mata Hari, and Col. E. R. Bradley's Bazaar. The latter was coupled with Blue again as the Bradley entry.

Railways of Cuba are doing more business than a year ago.

Manila, P.I., claims to have the largest sundial in the world.

Toronto Livestock Review

TORONTO, May 4 (CP)—Prices declined on all classes of livestock except sheep and lambs during the dull trading on the Toronto market during the week. Veal calves recorded the biggest loss of 50 cents followed by cattle with a drop of 25 cents on steers and fed calves. While butcher cattle declined 15 cents. Hogs lost 10 cents on the closing market, while sheep and lambs remained unchanged at the previous week's level.

Runs of cattle and calves were heavier, while hog and lamb receipts were about the same in volume compared with the previous week. Cattle supplies were too heavy for market requirements and 300 head were unsold at the close.

Weighty steers of choice quality were firm on Monday, selling at $6 to $6.50 with a top lot at $6.75. Prices, however, dropped 25c with closing tops on mediums and good steers at $5.75 to $6.

Good and choice butchers sold mostly at $4.85 to $5.35, with a few individual tops at $5.50. Plain butchers sold downward to $3.50.

Butcher cows and bulls held steady throughout the week selling at $3.75 to $4.25 for choice cows with good bulls at $3.25 to $3.75. Canners went at $1.25 to $1.50, with bologna bulls at $2.75 to $3. Choice fed calves dropped 25c after a steady opening, closing at $6 to $6.75. Medium to good quality calves sold from $4.75 to $6.

Store cattle trade was dull, with some unsold at the close. Light stockers ranged from $3.50 to $4, with a few feeders at $4.50. Milkers and Springers sold slowly at $30 to $45 each.

The calf supply of 3,400 head was also too heavy and prices dropped 50c after a steady opening. Choice vealers opened at $6.50 to $7 and closed at $6 to $6.25. The bulk of the supply consisted of common to medium calves, selling from $3 to $5.

Hogs were a liberal supply of 5,600 head. The market held steady to Thursday at $7.75 f.o.b. for bacons, bacons, $8.10 off truck, and at $5.50 off cars. Thursday's trading was slow on the few truck hogs offered with prices down 10c at $8 for bacons. Packers were quoting $7.50 f.o.b. for week-end deliveries.

Sheep and lambs receipts of 2,100 head included 1,500 Western fed lambs. The best quality lambs sold steady at $9, while common to medium feed-lot brought $6.50 to $8.50. Spring lambs of good weights and quality sold at $7.50 to $9 each, with tops mostly around $8. Light Spring lambs brought $4 to $6 each. Sheep were unchanged at $1.50 to $4 cwt., according to quality.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Livestock Branch:—

	Cattle.	Calves.	Hogs.	Sheep-Lambs.
This week	5,160	3,410	5,554	2,091
Last week	4,188	2,902	6,896	2,356
1934 to date	88,416	36,891	87,910	4,441
1933 to date	84,682	31,043	85,876	34,639
This week	5,735	2,120	5,360	1,742

Races — Entries — Selections Comment — Results

Kenilworth Entries

(For Saturday, May 5)

First Race.

The Leamington, purse $700, for 2-year-olds, four and a half furlongs (6):

Mary Litch 110, Hardatit 109, Foreign Lady 113, St. Moritz 110, King Bonny 107, Lady Marlboro 107.

Second Race.

Purse $700, claiming 3-year-olds, 5½ furlongs (8):

xLady Rene 96, Tremolo 112, Mindreader 112, xInflate 102, xInsor 107, Jere 106, Trigling 110, Spook 109.

Third Race.

Purse $700, claiming 3-year-olds —5½ furlongs (8):

Mysterious Nell 101, Hidden Lore 110, Svelte 107, Tullihoo 110, xKeive 108, xCanny Scot 107, Herward 106, Distributè 116.

Fourth Race.

Claiming purse $700, for 4-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, six furlongs (12-4):

xKalchink 100, xToe Dance 108, Pertoxical 115, Thunder Light 107, xBaumboy 100, xPrince Rupert 100, Candy Pot 105, Lady Worthmore 107, Clarry 109, Babe Gaiety 109, Sea Kale 109, Taximan 105; also eligible: Gold Coinage 105, Lady Hilda 113, Miss Gormley 113, xSugar Jar 100.

Fifth Race.

The Ontario Handicap, purse $1,000, 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, seven furlongs (12):

A-Pensweep 104, Carhan Queen 100, Crofter 110, B-Shady-Well 120, A-Sweepstaff 102, x-Easter Hatter 110, B-Irish Kid 96, Lady Marnock 106, Syndic 105, Bethankful 98, Battle Plane 108, Gaffing 95.

A-H. O. Hatch entry. B-E. P. Seagram entry.

Sixth Race.

Claiming, purse $800, 4-year-olds and up, six furlongs (12):

All Forlorn 106, x-Dark War 107, Sir Byron 106, Capitalist 114, x-Fred Almy 103, x-St. Nick 103, Uma 103, x-Manya 104, Sias 109, Seemego 109, Black Target 117.

Seventh Race.

Claiming, purse $700, 4-year-olds and up, one mile and seventh yards (8):

Blighter 109, x-Steel 101, Powder Monkey 109, Top Hattie 107, x-Pan 98, Arrow Swift 109, x-Brook Hattan 101, Woolorack 109.

x-A.A.C.

Clear and fast. First post time, 2.30 Standard Time.

MURRAY'S SELECTIONS

AT KENILWORTH

First Race—	Second Race—
Mary Litch	Trigling
Foreign Lady	Inflate
Lady Marlboro	Jere
Third Race—	Fourth Race—
Kieva	Toe Dance
Distribute	Candy Pot
Hidden Lore	Sea Kale
Fifth Race—	Sixth Race—
Shady Well	Fred Almy
Easter Hatter	Manya
Syndic	Dark War
Seventh Race—
Powder Monkey
Steel
Brookhattan.

Seven o'Clock Closing By-Law Covers All Types Of Retailers Except Grocers

A curious situation has developed as a result of the large meeting of retailers held on Wednesday night under auspices of the retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce. Grocerymen who clamoured so insistently for the enforcement of the city by-law governing closing of retail business at seven o'clock on ordinary week nights, will doubtless be greatly surprised to learn that the by-law covers every type of retail business in the city but their own.

The reason for exemption of the grocerymen from the by-law, it is learned by The Examiner, was because at the time the by-law was enacted the majority of the grocerymen in the city were not in favor of seven o'clock closing.

Early closing of other businesses as enumerated in the by-law, is to be enforced, it is learned, and already the co-operation of the city police has been sought in making a check-up of merchants who remain open for business after seven o'clock.

So far as the Wednesday half-holiday question is concerned, it was stated to The Examiner this morning, that a petition asking the City Council to make Wednesday half closing compulsory on all retailers is to go into circulation among the merchants almost immediately.

DOUGHTON, N.C., May 4 (C.P.). — Two persons were believed to have perished and 5 homes have been destroyed by forest fires which continued unabated to-day after sweeping through approximately 200,000 acres of mountain forests in North-Western North Carolina.

- Yesterday—A barren waste....trees.... rock....a hill....under the surface.... Gold....The discovery....exploration.... development....test mining....shipment of 6 cars of ore....value $30,000.
- Today—A small complete mining plant in operation....A High-Grade Gold mine thoroughly proven....sufficient ore indicated to warrant the immediate erection of a mill....R. N. Palmer, M.E., personally directing operations at the mine.... Materials for the foundations are now at the property....
- Tomorrow—Erection of another mill to grind out bullion for the world markets ....more work for workers....more profits for investors....Another producer for Ontario.

MONT LYON GOLD MINES LIMITED

Order now through P. C. Rainey, Grand Hotel, Peterboro, or direct from....

CANADIAN EXPLORATION COMPANY

1804 Royal Bank Bldg., Toronto

ROBT. FAIR & CO. Limited

ANNUAL MAY HOUSEFURNISHINGS EVENT

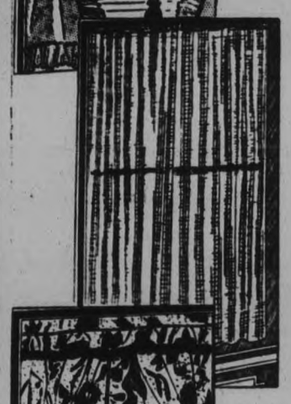
Commencing May 5th and continuing to May 31st, this great Housefurnishings event will be of outstanding importance to thrifty buyers in this city and surrounding districts. You will find here large and complete stocks of dependable quality Housefurnishings and Floor Coverings at reasonable prices. You will find here also experts to consult and advise with you in your home problems.

Summery CURTAINS

Specially Priced at

98c pr.

Frilled Curtains—not a pair worth less than 1.29. Ivory voile or marquisette with self-colored dots, others double frill effect with colored edge or with batted ruffles in rose, blue, gold or green. 2¼ yards long.



Plain Swiss
Dotted Swiss
Fishnet
Tuscan Net
Curtains

A choice of styles for every room. Price .....

1.59 to 2.95 Pair

Colors: white, cream or ecru. Plain, dotted effects, conventional designs, floral borders. All 2¼ yards long.

Frilled Curtains

Fine quality Plain and Cushion Dot Marquisette Curtains. Wide ruffles on edge and cornice valance. Shades of white, ivory or ecru. 2¼ yards long.

1.49 to 2.95 pr.

Let your windows say it's Summer with these cheerful, gay Curtains. Crisp and washable, they will keep your home looking fresh all Summer. Buy several pairs at this saving.

Bissell Carpet Sweepers

We are showing all the new Sweepers, featuring the improved Hilo brush control and Cyco ball bearing, at new low prices..

3.95 to 6.95

Cocoa Matting

Strongly woven of twisted cocoa fibre that will give years of wear and service. Choice of three widths:

27 inches wide. Yard 75c
36 inches wide. Yard 90c
45 inches wide. Yard 1.25

Special estimates given for churches, public institutions and the Summer home.

Cocoa Mats, 59c to 98c Each

Heavy brush fibre, firmly bound.

Cushion Forms—Special!

Kapok Cushion Forms, well filled and covered with good quality white cotton. All the sizes listed at the one low price: 18 x 18, 20 x 20 and 22 x 22 inches 49c

SILK DRAPERY

50-inch Silk Drapery at a greatly reduced price. Odd lines taken from our regular stock. Plain and figured Damasks that make colorful drapes for living and dining-rooms. Shades are rose, green, blue, gold and rust. All sunfast ..... 98c yd.

Silk Drapery, 1.49 and 1.95 Yard

Rich and lustrous in color that lends itself to harmonize with all room decoration. Beautiful new shades of rust, green, blue and gold. 50 inches wide and sunfast.

Slub Repp, 1.25 Yard

Superior quality Slub Repp. New shades, new patterns, plain or small designs. Rust, blue, green, rose and gold. 50 inches wide and sunfast.

SILK CURTAIN NETS

Beautiful new Plain and Figured Silk Nets with plain or taped edge Some have floral designs. Suitable for livng-rooms and dining-rooms. 36, 40 and 46 inches wide .....

59c, 69c, 79c, 89c and 98c Yard

TUSCAN CURTAIN NETS

One of the most used and popular curtain materials this season. Large or small square mesh designs with plain or fancy finished edge. Some have conventional designs. 40 to 45 inches wide .....

49c, 59c, 69c and 79c Yard

Marquisettes, 25c and 29c Yard

36-inch Marquisettes in white, cream or ecru; also colored conventional patterns and small neat coin spot effects. Suitable for sash, bedroom and kitchen curtains.

Window Panels, 59c and 89c

To those who prefer single cutrains on their windows we include these Panels at a very moderate price. Deep floral borders across bottom, scalloped and fringed. White and cream. 2¼ yards long.

Curtain Nets, 25c and 29c Yard

A long wearing curtain material at a low price. Floral and conventional designs on square mesh ground. Plain and tailored edges. Suitable for most windows. White, cream and ecru. 36 inches wide.

Celanese for Curtains, 98c Yard

Silky Celanese for glass or sash curtains, ideal for French doors. Finely woven and beautiful in texture. Ivory shade. 50 inches wide. Regular 1.25 yard.

Regular 25c and 29c Floral Cretonnes

Allover patterns in Floral Cretonne, light and dark grounds. Here is your opportunity for curtains for the Summer cottage; also suitable for bedroom curtains and covering boxes. 36 inches wide. English Floral Cretonne, 27 inches wide, in the Lower Price Basement Store, 15c yard ..... 19c yd.

Shadow Cloths, 39c and 59c Yard

Reversible Floral Shadow Cloth with allover designs on light and dark grounds, for sun-room and bedroom drapes; also for day beds. 50 inches wide.

Furniture Tapestry 1.25 to 2.25 Yard

For chairs, couches, etc. Large and small floral patterns in green, tan and blue colorings. 50 inches wide.

SPECIAL ORDER DEPARTMENT

We wish to bring to your attention that we specialize in Made-to-Order Curtains, Drapes and Bedspreads. Our Workrooms are prepared to handle all kinds of special display work at moderate cost. Expert work and satisfaction guaranteed.

FLOOR COVERING OF ALL KINDS

ONE OF THE LARGEST AND BEST ASSORTED STOCKS IN THIS CITY TO CHOOSE FROM!

Linoleum—A Durable Floor Covering

At a very special low price. Suitable for most any room and will give excellent service. It comes two yards wide, in small block and floral patterns. Sq. yard 37c

Baroleum, 49c Sq. Yard

A new felt base floor covering in marble block tile effects. Ideal for kitchens. Will give years of service at low cost.

Floor Oilcloth, 49c Sq. Yard

All new patterns for bedrooms, bathrooms, halls and kitchens: small neat block and semi-floral effects, also wood flooring patterns. One, two and two and one-half yards wide.

Congoleum Floor Covering 65c Sq. Yard

Three yards wide, in bright colorful patterns for bedroom, kitchen or dining-room. Floral and tile effects.

Congoleum and Oilcloth Passage Floor Covering, 35c to 55c Yard

Congoleum Passage Floor Covering, 27 inches wide. Oilcloth Passage Floor Covering, 18, 24 and 36 inches wide.

Linoleum Floor Covering 85c Sq. Yard

Printed Cork Linoleum with glazed finish. Stands hard wear. Patterns are suitable for kitchens, dining-rooms, halls and bathrooms. Two and four yards wide.

Inlaid Linoleum 1.25 and 1.50 Sq. Yard

The pattern goes to the back of the canvas. Block and marble tile effects for kitchen and bathroom. Two yards wide.

Straight Line Inlaids 1.75 Sq. Yard

A heavier grade of block and marble tile Inlaid Linoleum. Good choice of patterns and colorings. Two yards wide.

Table Oilcloth 45", 45c Yard 54", 55c Yard

First quality Table Oilcloth. A big assortment of the season's newest colorings and patterns. Serviceable for the Summer cottage.

CONGOLEUM RUGS

Gold Seal quality Congoleum Rugs. Guaranteed to lie flat and need no fastening. Choice of the new designs for kitchen, bedroom and dining-room: block, floral and marble designs.

Discontinued Patterns 20% Discount

We have a large stock of discontinued patterns of Congoleum Rugs. You can have your choice at this generous discount for the May Sale. All Gold Seal, perfect, and carry the Gold Seal guarantee.

The Season's New Patterns

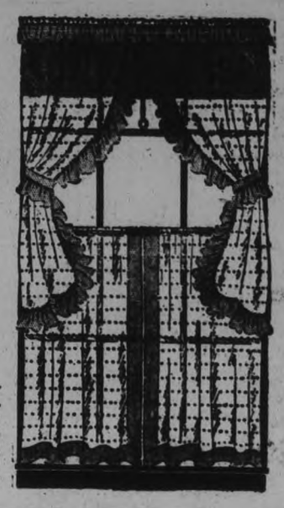
6' x 9'	5.50	9' x 10' 6"	9.60
7' 6" x 9'	6.85	9' x 12'	11.00
9' x 9'	8.25	9' x 13' 6"	12.75
		9' x 15'	13.75

We sell JOHN S. BROWN'S Famous Linens. Everything for the June Bride.

Kenwood Blankets, 4.50 to 12.95
Pure Virgin Wool. They make acceptable Gifts.

Cottage Sets

98c pr.



Of ivory voile with printed coin spots on Curtain and on Ruffle, tailored edge on Sash Curtain. A selection of rose, blue, green and gold.

Cottage Sets

1.59 to 1.95 pr.

A fine quality voile or novelty marquisette. Sash Curtains are neatly tailored and Upper Curtains trimmed with Priscilla valance. Will fit window up to two yards long.

THE FIRST SHIPMENT HAS ARRIVED

Rice Straw Rugs

FOR YOUR SUMMER HOME

Of course, Summer's coming, and we predict it will be sizzling, so plan your Summer cottage furnishings now. Rugs are a big consideration, and these will give excellent service and will cost you little. Bright floral designs with green, blue and brown borders.

Size 2' 3" x 4' 6". Each	39c	Size 6' x 9'. Each	1.95
Size 3' x 6'. Each	69c	Size 8' x 10'. Each	2.95
Size 4' 6" x 7' 6". Each	1.25	Size 9' x 12'. Each	3.50

Windson Grastex Rugs

A better quality Grass Rug, strongly woven of fine sea grass and cotton warp. Colorful designs.

6' x 9'. Each	3.50	9' x 12'. Each	6.95

Everwear Cocoa Fibre Rugs

Made of heavy cocoa fibre with attractive stencilled designs. A serviceable Rug for verandah, porch or cottage. Sizes 4' x 6' to 6' x 9'. Each.... 4.75 to 9.95

Window Shades Specially Priced

FIRST QUALITY WINDOW SHADES—Standard size, in plain white, cream or green Mounted on sturdy rollers. 36 x 72 inches. Complete with fixtures 69c

OPAQUE SHADES—Oil finish, in white, cream and green. 36 x 72 inches. Mounted on strong guaranteed rollers. Complete with fixtures and ring pull 85c

DUPLEX SHADES—Oil finish, combination green and white, 36 x 72 inches, mounted on on strong rollers. Complete with fixtures and ring pull 1.19

This Store specializes in making Shades in odd sizes for public institutions and for the home. A telephone call will bring our representative to take measurements, give estimates and later to install he Shades without any extra charge. We invite a trial of this service.

Lower Price Basement Store

SPECIALS IN HOME FURNISHINGS

Silk Drapery

In plain and brocaded effects. Colors: gold, green, and yellow and gold. 50 inches wide. Regular price to 1.49 ..... 59c yd.

Feather Pillows

Well filled. Generous size, 16 x 25 inches. Covered with fancy art stripe ticking. Just the thing for the Summer cottage. Regular 1.49 ..... 99c pr.

100 Pairs New Frilled Curtains

Cream or white with colored borders of rose, blue, green or gold. 2¼ yards long ..... 39c pr.

Frilled Curtaining

Frilled Curtaining by the yard, fresh and new. Plain scrim, self frills with colored silk stitched edges or frills with dots in green, gold, blue or pink ..... 15c yd.

White Marquisette

Plain centre with heavy taped border. Extra strong for wear ..... 12½c yd

ROBT. FAIR & COMPANY Ltd.

Saturday a Day of Spring Clearance Prices Throughout the Entire Store

Everything New in Yard Goods

LINEN CRASH SUITING— In pin stripes. 36 inches wide. Yard 98c

TWEED PATTERNS IN LINEN—Suitable for dresses, suits and summer coats. Colors, white and blue, white and brown, white and tan. 36" wide. Yard 75c

WAFFLE CLOTH—Very new. Colors, rose, green, blue, peach, red and white. 36" wide. Yard 59c

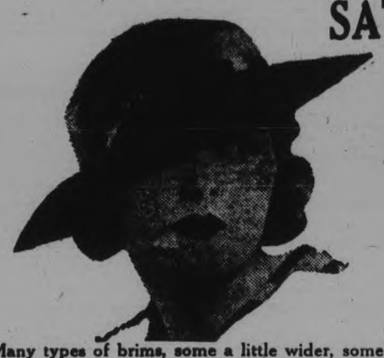
NEW NOVELTY PIQUE—White and pastel grounds with pin dots of contrasting colors. 36 inches wide. Yard 59c

DOTTED SWISS ORGANDIE VOILE—White ground with colored dots of red, green, or blue. Light ground with white dot. Yellow ground with white dot. 36 inches wide. Yard 49c

Novelty Summer Gloves

Chamoisette, Silk Pique, White, Rose Beige, Eggshell, Grey, Navy.
Plain pullon and with fancy cuffs of mesh and organdie. Sizes 6 to 8
49c to $1 Pair

Millinery Clearance



SATURDAY
Spring Hats
1/2 Price

Many types of brims, some a little wider, some a little narrower. Each one easy to wear and comfortable in a good fitting head size. Several are specially becoming to matrons. Navy, black, brown.

Guaranteed Silk Hose

Stop and consider what it means to have your silk hose insured, whether it is the fault of the wearer or the fault of the hose, we repair absolutely without charge every pair of silk hose we sell our customers. Just bring to the store the hose needing repair before Monday evening and you receive them back Thursday as good as new. Let us solve your silk hosiery problem.

79c
2 PAIRS 1.50

Final Clearance SPRING COATS & SWAGGER SUITS Saturday AROUND COST PRICE

100 SILK CREPE DRESSES
Clearing
$3.95

Regular values up to 19.50. Plain and printed crepes, printed chiffons, lace and georgette combinations. Colors, black, navy, light blue and pastel shades. Sizes 14 to 53.

Many of the new Summer Dresses are here. We invite your inspection

LENNOX DEATH STIRS MOURNING

Was Most Popular Member With All Parties in the House.

LEAVES 2 VACANCIES.

OTTAWA, May 4 (C.P.)—Widespread regret was expressed in the capital yesterday when the news of the death of Col. Herbert Lennox, Conservative member for North York, was circulated among ministers of the government and members of parliament. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, who is taking a brief rest from the extraordinary heavy pressure of work of recent weeks, could not be reached. Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley, who will be leading the government in his absence expressed the sorrow of the government and the party.

Col. Lennox was in his place in the House last week and the news of his illness came as a surprise but none anticipated its early fatal result. He was a most popular member with all parties in the House and although he infrequently delivered an address he was always heard with interest and appreciation.

When on the occasion of almost his last appearance in the House, Col. Lennox was called to act as chairman of the committee of the whole, he was given an ovation from all parties.

With the death of Col. Lennox there are two vacancies in the House of Commons, the other being in Toronto East, vacated by the death of Hon. E. B. Ryckman, former Minister of National Revenue. The standing in the House is now: Conservative 135, Liberal 88, Liberal Progressive three, Progressive one, United Farmers of Alberta 10, Labor three, Independent Labor one, Independent two and vacant two.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

EXPLAIN IT IF YOU CAN

Do you know about Ora and Myron Weagle? They were born and they grew up in the little town of Black Thread Center, Connecticut—and Ora became a writer of books and Myron became a hotel man. And Ora, who was never much good, used to say:

"My father was a sloppy, lazy, booze hoisting old bum and my mother didn't know much besides cooking, and she was too busy to give me much attention and the kids I knew were a bunch of foul mouthed loafers that used to hang around the hoboes up near the water tank and I never had a chance to get any formal schooling and I got thrown on my own as just a brat. So, naturally, I've become a sort of vagabond that can't be bored by thinking about his 'debts' to a lot of little shopkeeping lice, and I suppose I'm inclined to be lazy, and not too scrupulous about the dames and the liquor. But my early rearing did have one swell result. Brought up so unconventionally, I'll always be as anti-Puritan. I'll never deny the joys of the flesh and the sanctity of beauty."

But Myron was a decent and hard working fellow, and his story was somewhat different. He'd say:

"My father was pretty easy going and always did like drinking and swapping stories with the boys, and my mother was hard driven taking care of us, and I heard a lot of filth from the hoboes up near the water tank. Maybe just sort of a reaction I've become almost too much of a crank about paying debts, and fussing over my work and being scared of, liquor and women. But my rearing did have one swell result. Just by way of contrast, it made me a good, sound, old-fashioned New England Puri-

And there you are. Ora and Myron Weagle have never lived outside of Sinclair Lewis' novel, "Work of Art." And yet they do exist. Everybody knows members of the same family, two brothers or two sisters, who are as different as two people can be. They had what seemed the same environment, but one rejected what the other took and one took one fork out of his childhood and the other wandered down the other road....They can't explain it and neither can you and neither can anybody else—and I'll have more faith in the wise men of science when they are able to clarify as common a phenomenon as that.

Trent River

Mrs. J. Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. John Armstrong of Havelock attended the Ladies' Aid afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Brown on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNeely had as their Sunday guests: Mr. and Mrs. Bert McNeely and children of Donegal; Mr. Jack McNeely, of Peterborough; Mrs. Foster of Lindsay Mr. John Walker and Mr. and Mrs. George Walker of Norwood.

Mrs. Henry Wood, who has been residing at "Cedar Isle" left Wednesday for Niagara Falls, Ont. to remain with relatives for an indefinite time.

Tuesday visitors with Mrs. H. R. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Wood were Mrs. (Rev.) Balfour of Lindsay (formerly of Havelock) and Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Denike of Havelock.

Mrs. M. E. Knox of Picton is a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. William Morton and Mr. and Mrs. George McNeely of Norwood Road.

Mr. James Griffith has returned home from Picton where he spent a few weeks with his niece, Mrs. M. E. Knox.

Air circuses promise to be popular in Scotland during the summer.

Shanghai, China, homes have more than 4000 electric refrigerators.

Backaches
indicate kidney trouble. Gin Pills give prompt and permanent relief as they act directly but gently on the kidneys—soothing, healing and strengthening them. 50c a box at all druggists.

PUPILS STUDY IN ARMOURIES

Plans for New High School Under Way at Madoc.

READY FOR SEPTEMBER

MADOC, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The High School Board of Madoc are to be highly congratulated on the expeditious arrangements made, following the destruction by fire of the High School building last Wednesday.

With the loss of only three school days the students are housed in the Armouries and work re-organized. New seats were ordered and are installed.

Plans are already under way for a new school which will probably be ready for use on the re-opening of the school in September.

On April 27, in the Community Hall, Madoc, Mr. J. L. Irwin, Dairy Produce Grader of Belleville, was present at a meeting of the cheesemakers of the district.

Mr. W. E. Schuster also gave an interesting and instructive talk on the aims and object of the recently-formed association of the Central Ontario Common Crusaders.

Mr. W. O. Springer, president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce spoke of the necessity of satisfying good customers with a first class product.

Mrs. John Connell and daughter, Miss Constance Connell of Toronto, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kelly last week.

Rev. T. H. H. Hall, formerly of Madoc, has been appointed to take charge of the mission at Belleville, and will have jurisdiction over the airport at Trenton.

He is to succeed Rev. Gerald Graham.

Rev. Mr. Hall was ordained in 1908, and served six years as missionary at Bancroft, and subsequently at Rawdon, Newboro, and Madoc. He was appointed to Merrickville in 1924, and is well known in the Militia as Chaplain of the Hastings and Price Edward Regiment.

Mrs. Ludbrook of Peterborough spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Fair, in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Burtt of Tweed were visitors in town on Monday.

Mr. W. H. Bailey spent Tuesday in Belleville.

Mrs. (Dr.) Kingston of Grand Forks, B.C., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. Rollins.

Miss Kathleen Lahey left town on Tuesday last to reside with her nephew, Dr. John OConnell of Cardinal.

Mr. Gray Rivers left on Tuesday to attend the High School at Essex for the remainder of the school year.

Miss Jennie Aylesworth of Toronto is spending a few days in Madoc, the guest of Mrs. Mary Moon.

Rev. G. W. Rivers and Mr. Wm. McMechan attended the meeting of the Belleville Presbytery in Grace Church, Trenton, on Tuesday.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

"Religion That Fizzles Out" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. H. P. L. Seymour at the morning service at St. John's United Church on Sunday. The boys' and girls' story at this service will be, "God Sees the Little Flower." In the evening, Mr. Seymour will preach on "Religion That Works." Sunday School and men's meeting will be held in the church hall at 2.30 p.m.

Services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Robinson, and will be at the usual hours. Sunday School will be in the church hall at 2.30 p.m., and the St. Andrew's Bible Class will meet in the church at 3 p.m., the topic at this meeting being "The Difference — Christ."

Services at Christ Church (Anglican) will be conducted by the rector, Rev. T. H. Floyd, at the usual hours. The morning service at eleven o'clock will be a celebration of the Holy Communion. Sunday School and Bible Class will be held in the parish hall at 10 a.m.

On the Seymour United Church circuit services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. G. MacTavish, who will take as his sermon theme, "The Divine Pledge." Services will be held at Tabernacle at 11 a.m., Zion at 3 p.m., and Stephens at 7.30 p.m.

In the Gospel Hall evangelistic services are being conducted by Mr. R. McCrory of Hamilton and J. Monypenny of London, England. Services are held nightly, except Saturday, at 8 p.m., and on Sunday at 3.45 p.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Mrs. Stele has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCrae, Toronto.

Miss Viola Couch has returned from Toronto, where she was the guest of friends.

Miss Helen McCredie has returned home from Queen's University, Kingston, accompanied by her friend, Miss Jean Millican, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Judge O'Connor had a very light docket to deal with when he presided over Division Court at Campbellford on Wednesday morning. A few judgment summons were the only matters His Honor had to deal with, and these he easily disposed of.

Those attending the Liberal-Conservative convention, held in Toronto on Wednesday, and at which Premier George S. Henry was the speaker, were Messrs. C. H. Davidson, R. J. Allan and E. C. Dolman. J. M. Bygott accompanied the party to Toronto, where he had private business to transact.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Calver were visitors to Lindsay on Thursday.

MINNOWS HINDER FIREMEN

ROCHESTER, Ind., May 3 (AP)—Minnows interfered with firemens' attempts to control a blaze at an ice storage house on the shore of Lake Manitou. They collected in such number at the screen on a suction hose used to pump water from the lake that the pumper had to be stopped several time

Obituary

MRS. THOMAS RICHARDSON

Stricken with a seisure three days ago while travelling on the train from her home at Lavant to visit her son who resides in this city, Bella Stevens the beloved wife of Thomas Richardson, passed away at 124 Maude street at six o'clock last evening. She was 70 years of age, and was a native of Balderson, Ont.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Richardson is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Thompson, Toronto; Miss Minerva Richardson, Salt Lake City, Utah; Mrs. Wilfrid Huth, Ottawa, and four sons, Lloyd of Edmonton, Herbert of St. Catherines, Henry of Toronto, and James of Peterborough.

She was a member of Lavant United Church.

The funeral is to be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from Belleghem's Funeral Home with the Rev. A. E. Moorhouse, pastor of St. James' United Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

MRS. JOHN PUGH.

The death occurred at Nicholls Hospital yesterday afternoon in her 92nd year of Sarah Jane Edgar, widow of John Pugh of Otonabee Township.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edgar, the deceased was a native of Smith Township. Her husband predeceased her fourteen years ago. She leaves four sons: William of Barrie, Ont., Robert, Alfred and Abner, all of Manitoba, and three daughters: Mrs. B. Johnston, 124 Dublin Street; Miss M. Pugh of Saskatchewan, and Mrs. William Breckenridge of Otonabee Township.

The funeral is to be held at 2.30 o'clock from Comstock's Funeral Home, with the Rev. G. K. Tyler, pastor of Park Street Baptist Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

Weddings

McCONNELL—PEAKE.

NORWOOD, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence). — A pretty May wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Patterson on Wednesday, May 2, at five o'clock, when Mary Edith, youngest daughter of the late Rev. Mr. Peake and Mrs. Winterbourne of Winnipeg, became the bride of Charles McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McConnell. Rev. E. Cook of Freserville officiated and Miss Ivy Blunt of Toronto played the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Patterson, and was lovely in a white satin gown, white gloves, hose and shoes. Her veil of tulle was prettily arranged with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of roses and fern. They were unattended.

During the signing of the register Miss Ina McConell, sister of the groom, sang "O Promise Me."

After the ceremony the bride led the way to the dining-room, which was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers.

Later, amid showers of confetti, the happy couple left on their honeymoon, the bride travelling in a blue swagger suit, blue hat and grey accessories, wearing the gift of the groom, a brown fox fur. They will reside on the groom's farm in Belmont

HASTINGS Y.P.S. SUPPER GUESTS

Young People of St. Andrew's Church Conclude Season.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

HASTINGS, May 3.—A happy event was the banquet held in St. Andrew's Sunday School room on Monday evening, April 30th, sponsored by Rev. S. H. Hill, B.A., for the Young People's Society of the church. This was their final social evening for the season.

The supper was in charge of the Ladies' Aid of the church, who did everything possible towards making the evening successful.

Special printed invitations were mailed to the young people of Trinity United Church and the A.Y.P.A. of St. George's Church, who were to be their guests. An attendance of over one hundred was most gratifying. The long tables were most attractive with trimmings of green and yellow matching the colors of the room; golden daffodils were in dainty containers, and yellow candles burning in green holders completed the decorative scheme. At 6.30 the army of workers was kept busy serving the guests, and all did justice to the dainty refreshments served.

A delightful program followed the banquet in the form of toasts, readings, vocal and musical selections.

The toast to "Our King," proposed by the Rev. S. H. Hill, was followed by a reading by Miss Annie Spooner and a duet by Miss Hazel Kerr and W. Flatman. The toast to "Our Country" was proposed by Dr. Wilson, followed by an instrumental by Miss Madeline Dodd, and the response to the toast by Mr. G. Sine.

Miss M. Richards, teacher of the "Dutch Line" School then contributed a monologue.

The toast to the "Young People's Society," proposed by Miss Annie Spooner, was followed by a duet by Miss Lily Dodd and Miss Hazel Kerr, and the toast responded to by Mr. W. Flatman. Reading by Mr. Francis Kennedy.

The toast to "Our Guests and Visitors," proposed by Miss Jessie Whitred, was followed by a reading by Miss Richards, and the toast responded to by the guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Barker of Norwood.

God Save the King brought this successful event to a conclusion.

Y.P.A. OF CAVAN FINAL MEETING

Society's Winter Season Concludes With Fine Program.

REV. DR. LANG PRESIDES

CAVAN, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence) — Cavan Y.P.A. held its final meeting of the season last night with a good attendance of members and friends of the society.

The Rev. Dr. Lang was chairman for a very enjoyable program. He gave a short humorous address after which "The Fireside Group," with Mrs. Good, Toronto, as accompanist, contributed a group of songs: "Throw another Log on the Fire," "Waggon Wheels," "There's an Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor" and "Taps." Ralph Staples gave two readings and had to respond with two encores. The Misses Norma and Jean Gillis, pleasingly sang a duet, for which Mrs. Good was accompanist.

Miss Margaret Brown was accompanist for a duet and encore by Nan Fallis and Ernest Boyle. Mr. Oakley Carley contributed two enjoyable readings.

A short play "These Women," proved entertaining. Those taking part were the Misses Verda Braithwaite, Dorothy Cobley, Mary Cathcart and Messrs. R. A. Sutton, Ralph Staples and Will Swain. A piano duet which was heartily encored was played by the Misses Dorothy Cobley and Audrey Nill. Miss Juan Shields of Mount Pleasant with her mother as accompanist, delighted the audience with a solo to which she had to respond with an encore. Mr. Bob Sutton and Miss Dorothy Cobley rendered violin and piano duets. Mr. Percy Hamilton contributed mouth organ and guitar selections which were much enjoyed.

Between numbers Dr. Lang told several amusing stories and read a poem on "Women."

A feature which is voted much applause was the gymnastics put on by a group of young men. A very enjoyable evening was spent and twenty-two dollars was added to the treasury of the Y.P.A.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Coulter, Lindsay called on Cavan friends on Sunday.

Mrs. Ruth Keegan Taylor and brother Mr. Everett Keegan have moved to Peterborough.

Mrs. Good returned to her home in Toronto on Thursday after spending a few days at the parsonage.

Popular Astronomy

THE MOON

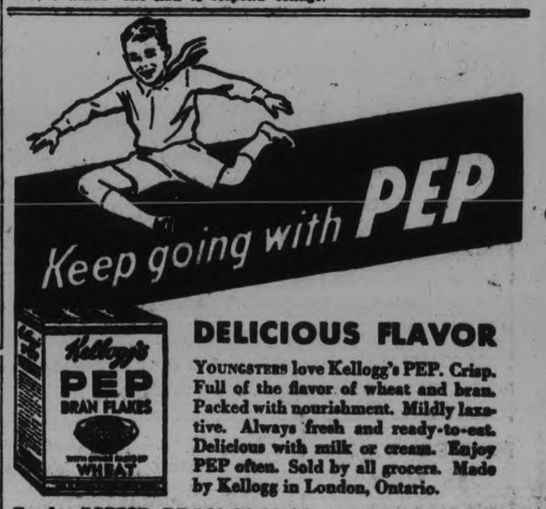
I saw the new moon late yestere'en,
Wi' the auld moon in her arms.
—From an Old Scotch Ballad.

BY H. W. L. MAHOOD

The density of the moon is about three fifths that of the earth. Its mass is only one eightieth. The force of gravity is one sixth that of the earth at its surface. The rotation of this companion of the earth attracts the attention of every student of planet or star movements. One rotation is made on its axis while making one revolution in its orbit. The moon is not two faced. Towards the earth the same face is always turned. There is one hemisphere of the moon surface on which no human eye has ever gazed, in its entirety.

The collective effect of the moon's librations—the libration in longitude, the libration in latitude, and the so-called diurnal librations—is such that about four-sevenths of the lunar surface can be seen, while three-sevenths remain forever concealed from view. The surfaces of globes is proportional to the squares of their diameters, and their volumes proportional to their cubes, and it follows that the surface area of the moon is about one-fourteenth of that of the earth. And the bulk is one-forty-ninth. The total surface of the moon is about equal to the combined areas of North and South America, and the face it keeps always toward the earth is slightly greater in area than Russia.

The moon is not blessed with an atmosphere. No bodies of water have been discovered on its surface. Astronomers hold that this orb does not have enough gravitative power to hold permanently an atmosphere. This fact is easily understood because the critical velocity with which a particle would have to move to escape from the control of the moon is only one and a half miles a second. With no atmosphere there is nothing to temper the alternate changes either from light to darkness, or from heat to cold.



DELICIOUS FLAVOR

YOUNGSTERS love Kellogg's PEP. Crisp. Full of the flavor of wheat and bran. Packed with nourishment. Mildly laxative. Always fresh and ready-to-eat. Delicious with milk or cream. Enjoy PEP often. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Truly BETTER BRAN-FLAKES . . . Ready-to-eat

GOD ONCE AGAIN TAKING A HAND HUMAN AFFAIRS

Rev. E. J. Springett Addresses British - Israel Federation.

OLD AND NEW AGREE.

Kingdom of God Pertains to Things of This World as Well as Hereafter.

"God is once again taking a hand in human affairs. The "if" and "but" days, the times when God said: 'If you obey my commandments, if you order your lives as I desire, you shall be rewarded, but if you refuse, you shall suffer,' these days are passing, and God has substituted for them the words, 'I will' and 'I shall.'

"And we shall yet realize that the only hope of the world is in our reliance and our faith and our confidence, in Almighty God.

"And these knees of ours that are so stiff that we cannot kneel, these necks of ours that are so stubborn we cannot bow, these hearts of ours that are so full of pride that we dare to stand up and defy Almighty God to His face, shall all be changed.

"And these teachers who, when we ask for bread, have given us a stone, shall stand between the porch and the altar and shall cry: "Spare Thy people, O God."

"And then, in that great day of God Almighty, shall result the happiness and peace and prosperity that have been petitioned for since the beginning of time."

The Rev. E. J. Springett, Dominion Commissioner for the British-Israel Federation, delivered the second of two inspiring addresses presented last night and the night previous in the Canadian Legion Hall.

Last night, his theme was "Armageddon—What? When? Where?" and he had a large and attentive audience in the hall of the Canadian Legion for one of the characteristicaly potent and inspiring addresses for which this eloquent speaker is noted throughout Canada.

The president of the local branch of the Federation, Alan Macnab, presided, and introduced the topic and the speaker, who, he said, is leaving soon to spend the next three months in Western Canada.

Old and New Agree

Opening his discourse with a brief explanation of the scope and basis of the British-Israel thought, the Rev. Mr. Springett declared: "It is not a new cult nor sect nor church nor ism. We do not belong to that type of belief which arrogates to itself a special brand of holiness, forgetting the words of Christ: 'He that thinketh he stand, let him take heed lest he fall,' but we aim to bring to you the whole of The Book, claiming that the twin Gospels of the Redemption and the Atonement are contained in the Old Testament as well as in the New and that the Books are complements, one of the other.

"We claim also that God's purpose for man is concerned with the here and the now as well as with the hereafter, and that He is not out of contact with human affairs, as many so-called Christians assert."

Turning to the basic subject of his discourse, the speaker went on:

"We are all hoping and praying and talking for peace. But from the dawn of history down to the present time, there has been a constant struggle between the forces of good and evil, in the spiritual and moral as well as in the physical and material spheres.

"But the enmity between good and evil, between right and wrong, seems to coalesce in a particular time which is known as "the great day of God Almighty," with the center and heart of that 'day' bound up in a 'battle.'

"The expression: 'the great day of God Almighty' has to do with the direct intervention of God in human affairs. In many of the great crises in the history of mankind, God has taken a direct and active part, such as the day of the creation of the first man, a being who was given dominion, but not domination, over the earth; the day when Abraham of Ur of the Chaldees received a direct call from the Almighty; the day when Abraham's descendants broke away from the bondage of Egypt; the days of the Death and the Resurrection and the Ascension of Christ; these all were epochal milestones in the progress of God through the lives of humanity.

"And now we see rapidly approaching the great day of God Almighty and the battle which has been erroneously termed the Battle of Armageddon. In the Bible, the great day is spoken of, and also the place called Armageddon, but the Battle of Armageddon is not mentioned anywhere.

"And on that day shall be seen the collapse of the world powers which began with the rise of the Babylonian succession, in 606 B.C."

The Battle Joined

"We realize that the actual physical conflict of the last war came to an end in 1918, but do we realize that since that date, in the industrial, financial, economic and spiritual spheres, we have only been in a state of armistice, or temporary cessation of hostilities? A war of attrition has been going on, the battle between Mammon and the people generally. And in this war, the casualties have been disappointed lives, unattained desires, lost aspirations and the effacement of ideals. In this war, the losses have been greater than in the physical conflict and the war between the forces of good and evil has never been more strenuously waged by the agents of the devil.

"The devil is extremely active just now in the propagation of that insidious evil which is undermining our civilization and eating like a cancer into the vitals of society. I am talking generally about that type of spiritual warfare which is going on in the hearts and minds of men, in and outside churches, which is causing loss of faith and leading to extravagant ideas in the realm of religion and spiritism, with a temperary cessation of doubt and a temporary comfort which is not based on any sound foundation.

"In these days, the devil is capable of assuming the functions of an angel of light and so deceive men by his evil machinations.

"And the culmination of it all will be the great day of God Almighty."

The Vision of St. John

The Rev. Mr. Springett read here from the 16th chapter of Revelations, where the inspired writer pictures the "three unclean spirits like frogs," who "work miracles" and "issue from the mouths of the dragon, the beast and the false prophets." From verse 15 he drew the picture of the coming of God, "like a thief," to "His people," a phrase which meant always in the Book: 'His people Israel.'

The Hebrew word "Armageddon," went on the speaker, meant the 'Hill of Magiddo,' and was applied to the Mount of Carmel which rises above the valley of Magiddo, or the Plain of Esdraelon, which rises above the Bay of Acre and where recently the fortified Port of Haifa was constructed.

The speaker quoted the Prophet Joel, who wrote of the day when the Lord will break again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem and bring His people into the Valley of Jehosaphat, which means the Valley of the judgment of Yahweh of Jehovah, or the Valley of Decision, and has also been termed the Valley of Thrashing, where the nations would be trodden down as of old the growers thrashed their grain. "And in that dread day when the sun and moon shall be darkened, the Lord shall be the only refuge for His people."

"When the match will be placed to the powder barrel upon which Europe now sits is unknown. It may be now, when the news of to-day carries despatches with regard to a disturbance in Arabia which has sent British warships and Italian troops on guard.

"And where will Britain be in the struggle? Shall we have to send men as we did in the last Great War? I am voicing my own opinion alone when I say I do not think so. I think that the movements of those people most adjacent to the scene of the struggle will be so rapid and decisive and will be imbued with so tremendous a force, that Britain will have no time to participate, as she did in 1914 to 1918.

"As far as physical preparation is concerned, we are absolutely helpless in the face of the great affairs that will be brought into being on that great day of God Almighty and we shall realize then as, pray God, we might realize now, that we are absolutely dependent upon the Jehovan power which is at our command and which is our safety and protection against that day and against the great forces, headed by anti-Christ which are to-day combining in definance of God."

Unearthly Helpers

The speaker referred to the 'mighty ones' who will be sent by God to work His will, as in the past 'mighty ones' smote the first-born of the homes of Egypt and the power of Assyria, and other armed hosts, millions in number, although the earthly soldiery numbered few, appeared to the terrified German forces in the vision of the "Angels of Mons."

Referring to the League of Nations, the speaker considered it as "doomed" and absolutely powerless to maintain the equilibrium of the world.

"God alone can ensure the peace of the world and we of the Celto-Saxon race have it within our power to realize our responsibility and the task that devolves upon us in the unification of Celto-Saxendom the world over."

At the conclusion of his address, the Rev. Mr. Springett announced an interval for questioning. A written query asked why knowledge of the kingdom of God on earth was not imparted to the people from the pulpits. The Rev. Mr. Springett said:

"As a result of the ordinary training of the ordinary clergyman of any denomination, knowledge of the Book is the least thing they have. There are all kinds of commentators and other books which try to tell you just what the Book means, but nothing of what it really does say.

"To the subject of the kingdom of God, the minimum of attention is given. The ordinary conception taught for years in organized religion is that the Kingdom of God is entirely and purely a spiritual manifestation and that it has nothing whatever to do with the material manifestations of the life which we live here and now.

"But God said: 'If you obey My commandments, there shall be no disease among you.' Did He mean in the hereafter, when all disease and suffering shall be wiped away and God shall wipe away all tears? No, He meant here and now. He said: 'Do as I wish and you shall prosper in whatsoever thing you shall put your hand to.' Did He mean hereafter? No, He meant here and now.

"The majority of teachers do not believe this Book any more than the majority of so-called Christians believe it. It is British-Israel truth that tells you that the Kingdom of God really pertains as much to affairs of this world as it does to life hereafter."

Scottish War Hero Barred From Canada And U.S.

As the New York skyline appears to Hugh J. McLeod (SHOWN), the Scot who was twice decorated for bravery while serving with the British forces in the Dardanelles and who is now at the detention house on Ellis Island, New York. McLeod has a wife and two children (one of which he has not yet seen), living away in San Francisco. He was discovered when stowed away on the incoming S.S. Aquitania recently and held on Ellis Island. Twice before he was arrested when entering the United States from Canada, and was sentenced to jail for illegal entry to the States. He said he would serve a two-year jail sentence this time, if given the right as an established resident to live with his family.

FIRES IN WOODS AT GOODERHAM

Fire Rangers Called Out to Check Outbreak.

BOBCAYGEON ROBBERY

LINDSAY, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence) — Fire Rangers Harry McColl and Roy Hadley were summoned to Gooderham this week to fight three bush fires which had broken out in that section. The fires constitute a real menace and every effort is being made to get them under subjection before serious damage is done.

The sad death occurred at Ross Memorial Hospital on Thursday of Ellen Wileman, a highly esteemed resident of the town. The deceased, who was the wife of J. H. Wileman, baker, was in her fifty-first year.

The funeral took place here under Masonic auspices on Thursday of a well-known C.N.R. engineer, in the person of Walter Wetherup. Death was the result of injuries sustained some time ago in London.

The wedding took place at Bobcaygeon on Tuesday of Ella Thurston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Thurston, and Alex Nesbitt, both of that village.

A case of robbery at Bobcaygeon has been reported to the police. It took place at the village on Sunday when a young man who was entertaining two friends at his cottage was slugged and relieved of his money, car, driver's permit, etc. His car was found abandoned near Brooklin, but no trace of the two men has been found.

Arthur Williamson Leads Omemee Y.P.U.

OMEMEE, May 4.—A business meeting was held on Monday evening by the members of the Young People's Union of Trinity United Church. The election of officers resulted in the following:

President—Arthur Williamson.
Vice-president—Eleanor Sherin.
Secretary—Helen Reddick.
Treasurer—Francis MacPherson.
Pianist—Lily Race.

Additional members of the executive—Doris Vaughan, Mary Faulkner and Harvard Reddick.

Delegate to the summer school—Helen Reddick.

YOU GET MORE FOR EACH DOLLAR
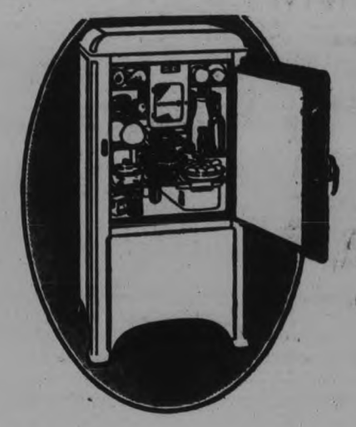
YOU INVEST IN THIS NEW LEONARD ELECTRIC



FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY the Leonard has been known as the quality refrigerator. Now the large sales volume permits Leonard to be sold at no higher cost than ordinary refrigerators.

See this new Leonard. It has looks—beauty. Charming, modern lines. Snowy finishes—non-fading, hard as flint. Inside, there's more room—and every inch of it usable.

Twelve freezing speeds—extra-fast freezing tray—cold chest for storage—a "vacation temperature" that cuts operating cost when the owner is away—ice tray lifter—and a score of other features.

There are 7 beautiful new models. Come in and see them—NOW.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
Chill-o-meter, with 12 freezing speeds; Automatic Steady-Kold Defroster; Chromium-plated hardware; All-Porcelain cooling unit; Removable Ice Tray Supports; Vegetable Crisper; Sanitrays.

LEONARD
THE COMPLETE REFRIGERATOR
ON DISPLAY WITH
J. W. WATSON
446 George St., Peterborough. Phone 968
ALSO THE ROBERT SIMPSON COMPANY LIMITED
382 GEORGE ST., PETERBOROUGH
Phone 3800

For you
THIS EVERYDAY LUXURY
The luxury of a complexion kept lovely by Yardley Lavender Toiletries can be yours, even though you spend but little on cosmetics. The daily use of Yardley Toiletries, luxury that it is, costs so little. Soap that long outlasts ordinary soap, All-Purpose, snow-white cream, a mist-fine powder, and a fragrance so correct for every occasion—these lovable items will win your heart when you begin their daily use. 146
YARDLEY LAVENDER
LONDON • TORONTO • NEW YORK • PARIS

NO MATTER HOW MANY DICTIONARIES YOU HAVE, OR THE COST OF SAME, THEY ARE OUT OF DATE AND INCOMPLETE, WHEN COMPARED TO THE

NEW WORLD DICTIONARY OF THE AMERICAN LANGUAGE
BASED ON THE ORIGINAL WEBSTER ENTIRELY NEW EVENING EXAMINER

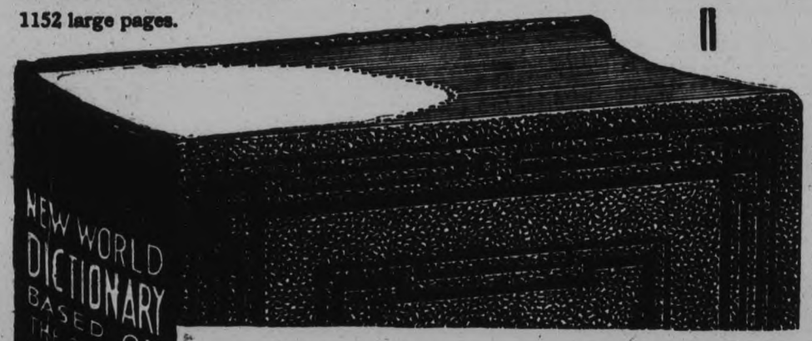
1152 large pages.



Printed on fine clear white paper, bound in good quality dark green textile leather [special design] with gold stamping. The most durable binding known to the trade.

The extensive vocabulary contains not only the ordinary words in general use but the new and unusual words that have come into use as a result of the revolutionary development of the automobile, aviation, radio, telephone, wireless telegraph, moving picture industry, the arts, science and commerce, all of which will be found in regular alphabetical order in the main vocabulary. A very complete list of synonyms and antonyms, as a separate section a complete summary of English grammar and other features of educational value.

This Dictionary must be seen and examined to appreciate its size, scope, value and handsome binding.

Readers appreciate this great educational enterprise, as is evidenced by the large number of books distributed.

Those who have not taken advantage of the offer are advised to do so before it is withdrawn.

The distribution can not last forever and we hope no one will be disappointed.

The new Dictionary should be in every home and office.

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED

To get it bound in art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb index, send $1.00 extra. An ideal gift in fine box.

Clip 3 Coupons on consecutives days and present or mail same to this paper with 98 cents

MAIL ORDERS will be filled when postage is added.

Find Coupon Page 4

Lakefield

Mr. James Deck of Cache Bay was in the village attending the funeral of his half-brother, Rev. Mr. Deck.

Mrs. John Sanderson is attending the annual Diocesan meeting of the W.A.

Miss Victoria Johnston has returned home from a visit to friends in Peterborough.

Miss Ethyldra Hunter was visiting friends at Mount Julian last week.

Mr. Bert Deck of Peterborough attended the funeral of his cousin, Rev. Milton Deck, on Thursday.

Mrs. Armstrong is in Toronto attending the Diocesan annual meeting of the W.A.

Mr Sam Spence of Toronto spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Spence.

Captain and Mrs. William Scollard and daughters, Mary and Nancy of Young's Pont were in the village on Monday.

Miss Sarah Wilson, who is attending the Normal School in Peterborough was the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse on Sunday.

Miss Daubuz was in Peterborough this week visiting friends.

Mr. Robert Casement of Madoc spent the week-end with his brother, Mr. W. H. Casement.

Miss Mollie Thomson is visiting friends in Toronto.

Mr. Robert Woodhouse of Buffalo N.Y., visited Mr. and Mrs. George Woodhouse on Sunday.

Miss Mollie Thomson is visiting friends in Toronto.

Miss Isabel Sutton of Toronto spent the week-end with friends in the village.

Miss Billy Atwood, who has been visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs. Marling, returned o Toronto on Monday.

Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. Breckenridge of Westwood were in the village on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Renaud of Norwood were in the village on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Windrim of Omemee and their family were in the village last week attending Mrs. Moore's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs Ernest Logon and daughter Judith of Peterborough were in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Langley returned to the village on Tuesday after a winter spent in Peterborough.

Japan has just passed a law controlling cocoon production.

● Sailings FRIDAYS from MONTREAL
To Plymouth, Havre, London and Belfast, Liverpool, Glasgow. Third Class Ocean Rates to Great Britain: $82.00 one way, $144.50 return, lowest rates also in Cabin and Tourist. Book through your Local Agent or Cunard Line, 27 Bay Street, Toronto.

Sail CUNARD
ANCHOR-DONALDSON

CLEAN-UP

PAINT-UP

May 5 to 12 - AND GIVE SOME MAN A JOB - May 5 to 12

Big "Paint" Value

HIGH IN QUALITY. LOW IN PRICE. GREAT IN COVERING CAPACITY.

Gallon 2.50 - Quart 69c - Pint 39c

16 Best Colors

ELEPHANT LEAD

25 POUNDS WHITE LEAD
1 GALLON BOILED OIL
1 QUART TURPENTINE
Outfit $3.69

Complete Stock of Canada Paint Products at Lowest Prices.

Garden Rakes 59c McClennan's Spading Forks 95c

232 Charlotte St. Phone 16

For Clean-Up Week You'll Find

It's a Joy To UTILAC

We have never sold anything which gave so much satisfaction as Utilac, the original quick drying enamel. Our customers buy it again and again because they are so pleased with its easy working, its beauty of finish and durability.

Make your furniture, woodwork, walls, etc., new again with this beautiful satin gloss enamel. Nineteen modern colors to choose from.

QUART	PINT	½ PINT	¼ PINT
$1.50	85c	50c	30c

COLEMAN BROS.

445 GEORGE ST. PHONE 617

ROUTLEY'S

341 George St.

SPECIALS FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

2000 ROLLS SUNWORTHY PAPER

For Any Room in the House
Regular up to 65c Per Roll 19c

Money cannot buy a better Paint.

$2.85 Gal. $1.60 ½ Gal. 85c Qt.

ACME PAINT AND UNIVERSAL VARNISH— Gallon $1.49

Special! FLOOR WAX..... 5 lbs. for $1.00

DURALITH

(The New Wall Texturing Material)

Is ideal for refinishing all kinds of wall board, Gyproc, etc., also plasttered walls and ceilings where there are cracks and imperfections that cannot be eliminated by either paint or paper.

Sold Wholesale and Retail by

J. J. DUFFUS COMPANY

REAL CHALLENGE TO ALL CITIZENS

Merchants Take Initiative in This Special Week's Program.

Spring's challenge has been accepted by the citizens of Peterborough, and already gardening implements have been brought to light from the dim recesses of summer kitchens and tool sheds whither they were cast at the beginning of the long dreary winter. But not only have lawn rakes been vigorously brought into action in the coming process for the removal of accumulated refuse in the garden, but the interior of many homes are at present topsy turvy in the annual process of Spring cleaning.

Peterborough is on the threshold of the annual "Clean-Up; Paint-Up; Give-a-Man-a-Job Campaign" which is sponsored by the retail merchants section of the Chamber of Commerce, and today all the leading hardware, and household furnishing stores in the city are featuring articles of special interest to the busy housewife, and equally so to the householder who prides himself on the appearance of his garden and the exterior of his house.

The merchants whose advertisements figure on this page, are some of the worthy citizens who have taken the initiative in this laudable campaign, which has received the wholehearted approval and endorsation of Mayor Roland Denne.

Permission For Fire

Backyard fires in various sections of the city, for which by the way general permission must first be obtained from the Fire Department in the general interest of fire prevention, may be interpreted as beacons flashing the news that it is time to join the busy brigade armed with rakes, shovels and other garden tools for the springtime warfare against all that is ugly or unsightly.

Mother Nature is expected to work wonders with her "tears" of rain, and her "smiles" of sunshine but to be in complete harmony with the dainty blooms of tiny crocusus, snowdrops and hyacinths, and the stately tulips which will follow in turn, it is the aim of scores of citizens, to have their premises spick and span. In this endeavor they not only give evidence of their own pride in attractiev sanitary surroundings, but they are undoubtedly stimulating interest on the part of others.

The campaign is one that should receive the unhesitating support of all, Mayor Denne beleves. He pointed out that not the least important object of the three-fold campaign is to supply odd jobs to the city's unemployed, and men may be obtained on short notice by application to Art Metheral at the city relief office.

The importance of the campaign is also recognized by the Board of Health as a means of safeguarding the health of the city, as it is apparent that brighter, cleaner and more wholesome premises generally, will tend to add to the prestige the community has won in the somewhat broad field of beautification.

CLEAN-UP WEEK BRINGS RESULTS

Better Health and More Attractive Surroundings Be Results.

One of two bad apples will quickly spoil a whole barrel if not removed, and simliarly, one or two neglected, unsanitary homes will adversely affect the well-being and appearance of a whole street!

By the inauguration of "Clean-Up Week" civic authorities have duly recognized the truth that cleanliness of surroundings plays an important role in preserving the general health of the community, quite apart from the bad outward impression caused by dirt and untidiness.

Women know this instinctively; they have an inherent sense of cleanliness in seemingly unimportant things. Spring Cleaning has always had its place in their round of daily labor, looked on as an unavoidable nuisance by mere men but as a vital necessity by the mistress of the home, who has to look after the well-being of the family and the bright sanitary condition of the home.

Community Undertaking

So popular has "Clean-Up Week" become that it is now a community undertaking, which means individual responsibility. Example works wonders, so start now to clean up thoroughly all around the home, inside and out. A little careful investigation will show how much has to be done after Winter months of furnace stoking, ash sifting and constant in-door life.

The reward of a general "clean-Up" campaign is found in the realization of a good job well done, of a spick and span community and the added benefit of comfort and enjoyment, which Healthful cleanliness affords.

Join forces with Old Dutch

Saves money, time and work because it's made with pure

"SEISMOTITE"

It's Spring again—the growing season when the earth wakes to joyful life under the returning warmth of the sun. And while nature freshens the whole world, we all feel the natural urge to brighten up the corner where we live. You'll find that Old Dutch gets exterior walls, wood or stone steps, porches, window frames and doors beautifully clean quickly and at low cost.

Old Dutch is made with pure "seismotite" (pronounced sis'-mo-tite), a scratchless cleaning and polishing material of volcanic origin that cleans quicker and cleans more things. Seismotite particles cover more surface because they are flaky and flat-shaped. As a result, Old Dutch goes farther and does more cleaning per penny of cost. Avoid cleansers containing destructive grit.

Buy Old Dutch—today! It polishes as it cleans porcelain, enamel and tile; is kind to the hands, doesn't clog drains, is odorless and removes odors.

Doesn't scratch. Made in Canada

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY AND GET SATISFACTION BY DEALING AT

The Choate Hardware

38 Hunter St. East Phone 257

FOR ALL HARDWARE LINES

CITY-WIDE FREE DELIVERY

JAP-A-LAC PAINTS
MILORGANITE FERTILIZER
VARSOL SAFE DRY CLEANER
RENNIE'S SEEDS

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

"COVERWELL"

The Season's Paint Value!

HOUSE PAINT

Colors: dark brown, inside white, outside white, light yellow, light grey, light brown, French blue, dark green, apple green, medium grey, dark buff, cream.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
57c	1.10	2.19

FLOOR PAINT

Colors: orange yellow, golden brown, slate, battleship grey, light yellow.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
57c	1.10	2.19

FLAT WALL PAINT

Colors: white, light ivory, light blue, light green, light brown, light grey.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
67c	1.29	2.49

ENAMEL

Fast drying. Colors: light brown, light green, white, light blue, light grey, ivory.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
72c	1.39	2.69

GROUND COLOR

A good base for a good job.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
59c	1.15	2.25

4-HOUR FLOOR VARNISH

Dries quickly, hard and glistening.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
72c	1.39	2.69

VARNISH STAIN

Colors: light oak, dark oak, walnut, mahogany.

Quart	½ Gallon	Gallon
59c	1.15	2.25

—Basement, C.D.S.

GIVE ODD JOBS TO UNEMPLOYED

Keynote and Central Thought in Campaign is Employment.

Work for the unemployed and unskilled laborer is one of the special needs contemplated by the big community effort sponsored by the retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce which swings into action on Saturday — namely the "Clean-Up; Paint-Up; Give-a-Man-a-Job" campaign.

"Give-a-Man-a-Job"—that word "give" should not be too strongly emphasized. It smacks too much of charity, whereas the keynote and central thought in the campaign is employment, by which labor is exchanged for wages. Some of the work may not be urgent. Probably it could be postponed, and because it is brought on now in this Spring of an abnormally trying period, perhaps it falls within the exact connotation of the word "give."

Work for the unskilled man may be work you could do yourself, but because his need deserves your sympathy it is suggested that you let him do it.

You require a skilled painter for most decorating jobs around the house, but for painting a fence you can buy paint ready mixed and engage any of the unemployed to do that work for you. And you will prolong the life of the fence.

Or you might have the shingles stained. Even if they have been put on within the last two or three years they are still in fair condition for a protective stain treatment. If you are going to have a couple of rooms re-papered why not think of this "Give-a-Man-a-Job" appeal? Let one of the men who need a job strip the walls of old paper.

Hundreds of Odd Jobs

The services of unemployed men, for any of the hundred and one odd jobs around the home and garden that need doing each Spring, may be readily obtained upon application at the unemployed registration bureau in charge of Art Metheral at the city hall.

Many of our citizens can do something to put substance into this "Give-a-Man-a-Job" campaign and respond to the appeal which many who are unemployed are anxiously hoping will produce some material results.

It is not the work that has already been started, but the numerous other jobs, even the odd jobs, that will count if those who can will only do their share.

Those question marks that have been painted on the uptown sidewalks have served to emphasize an urgent community problem and at least a partial solution.

Those Spring jobs help the men who give as well as the men who receive. Houses and stores to be painted; rooms to be papered; plumbing needs that should not be delayed; furnaces that require overhauling or scrapping; chimneys that should be rebuilt; roofs that have outlived their time and a whole long list of jobs the carpenter would like to do.

Who is going to be first, with their application for help. Telephone Art Metheral, unemployed registration bureau 933W.

CO-OPERATIVE SPIRIT NEEDED

"Clean-up Week" Success Only if Everyone Co-operates.

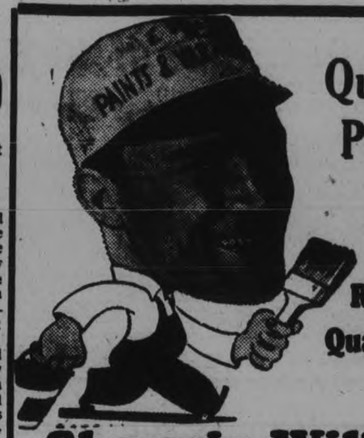
There is something refreshingly wholesome in the thought that one week in the year is set aside in most communities as a period for chasing dirt and cleaning up all around. Young and old, rich and poor, in mansion and cottage, all do their bit in the drive for healthful cleanliness.

It goes without saying that women-folk are in the foregront of this campaign, for theirs is the all-the-year-round job of keeping the home, inside and out, spick and span and a better, healthier place to live in. An all-the-year-round job, simply itensified during the one week.

Woman's Second Nature

"Tidying up" is the average woman's second nature—(don't we know it)—and, for this reason, the inside of most homes are clean and sanitary, thanks to "elbow grease" and modern mechanical labor-saving devices. But to the community at large, it is the outside "cleaning-up" that comes as a duty. Cleaning-up front yards, cleaning-up back yards, cleaning-up verandahs, doors, floors, a coat of paint here, some new shingles there, not just to make them LOOK nicer but to make cleaner, more healthful, safer surroundings for everybody.

The little "Old Dutch" lady in the big poke bonnet is helping millions of Canadian housewives every day, in their quest for quicker, better, easier cleaning and, she, in combination with Spring sunshine and fresh air, will help just as effectively with the outside jobs.



Quality Paints and Brushes Result in Quality Jobs Use

Sherwin-Williams

PAINTS AND VARNISHES FOR YOUR PAINT-UP JOBS.

They Cover Better They Wear Longer
Interior and Exterior

Known the world over for high quality,, Sherwin Williams Paint Products include a paint, varnish, stain or enamel for every purpose.

Consult us on all your painting problems. We can help you in making the right selection. We carry a complete line.

Boeckh Sunbeam Brushes

Will assure you a good paint job. They are inexpensive and absolutely guaranteed. SEE OUR 25c and 30c LINE.

PRATTEN HARDWARE

396 GEORGE STREET PHONE 2710

EMPIRE Paint Store

301 George Street

'Phone 2480 We Deliver

FOR CLEAN-UP, PAINT-UP WEEK WE ARE PUTTING ON A

1c - SALE - 1c

Remember how we saved you money last year.
If it goes on with a brush, we have it.
Your continued patronage solicited.
We Guarantee all our products.

FOR HAVING YOUR DRAPERIES FAULTLESSLY CLEANED

At Lansfield's. In fact you'd expect to pay more for much inferior work. Newer, costlier and better methods protect your draperies here.

$1 .. DRESSES, SUITS AND COATS, CLEANED AND PRESSED $1

LANSFIELD'S 207 CHARLOTTE PHONE 400

House Furnishings

FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

FRILLED CURTAINS—In a large variety of styles and new color arrangement, suitable for any room. Some have valances. All are complete with tie-backs. 2¾ yards long. Priced, the pair, from..... 59c to $4

TAPESTRY FOR UPHOLSTERING—New designs and colors. Floral designs, also plain and small two-tone effects. 50 and 52 inches wide. Specially priced from, yard..... 1.25 to 3.50

MADRAS, SCOTCH MAKE—Good wearing quality. Several designs to choose from. All have borders. Cream shade. 36 inches wide. Regular price, 29c, for, yard..... 17c

RUBBER STAIR TREADS—Good quality, corrugated with plain edges, curved nose to fit over steps, brown color.
Size 7 x 18 inches. Special at, each..... 18c
Size 9 x 18 inches. Special at, each..... 25c

McBride & Franks

431 George St. Phone 2069

May Days

SATURDAY
...WIND UP OF 3 BIG DAYS

ANOTHER NOTABLE LIST OF SAVINGS
BRINGS 3 BIG DAYS TO A CLOSE

HALL'S — THE STORE
OF BETTER VALUES IN QUALITY MERCHANDIS

Early Clearance of SPRING HATS

Regular Values up to 3.95

2.79

Here's a grand opportunity to purchase one or more Hats to complete your wardrobe. Tailored sailors and narrow brims, as well as large brimmed models in light weight fashionable straws. Bright shades, also black, navy and brown. A splendid selection at an appealing price.

Women's and Misses' Styles

Hall's Staples for Quality and Value

BLEACHED COTTON—Full yard wide. Practical weight for many uses. Extra special, yard..... 19c

UNBLEACHED SHEETING—Splendid quality, firm, durable weave, 72 inches wide. Special, yard..... 39c

UNBLEACHED COTTON—36 and 40-inch Cottons that are noted for their wearing qualities. Two widths. Yard 19c

LINEN TOWELLING—22-inch Irish Linen Towelling in red or blue checked patterns. Regular 29c. Yard..... 24c

CRASH LUNCH CLOTHS—52-inch Cloths of firm Irish linen crash with multi-colored borders. Extra value.. 89c

WHITE TABLE OILCLOTH—On quality muslin back. Slight imperfections, these do not affect the wear. 45 inches wide..... 29c

LINEN PILLOW CASES—Lovely fine quality Irish Linen Cases with deep hemstitched hem. Pair..... 69c

TUBFAST PRINTS—Many, many interesting floral and conventional patterns in all shades. Stock up. Yard.. 15c

Headline Values we have Featured for 3 Big Days

CREPE HOSE — Decidedly smart and good looking. Slight irregularities class them as "Imperfects." A host of popular shades, and a full range of sizes, 8½ to 10½. Shop early for best choice. Pair 69c

Checked Taffeta — The newest and one of the smartest materials for dresses, blouses and trimmings. Small plaid and checked patterns in green, red, black, etc. 38 inches wide. Yard 98c

Dress Crepes — Regular 98c Flat Crepes and Roshanara Crepes priced to give an exceptional value. All plain shades in light and dark tones. 38 inches wide. Real savings at, yard 79c

Kiddies' Mesh Socks — Cool Cotton Mesh Socks in sizes 5½ to 8½. This is a special purchase, and at this price are an outstanding value. Every Summer shade, plains or with striped tops. Pair ... 19c

May Sale of DRESSES

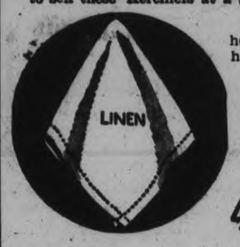
1.98

Linens ... Tub Prints ... Stripes and Printed Cottons

Purchase your Cotton Frocks NOW—and be ahead of your budget for Summer Frocks. Smartly tailored, simply styled in flowered prints, shirtmaker stripes, polka dot prints and conventional patterns. Mostly short sleeve styles, effectively trimmed with fresh, crisp organdy, voiles or pique. Women's and misses' sizes, 14 to 49. A truly wonderful value. All tubfast colorings.

A Great Special Purchase of Men's Hemstitched Linen 'Kerchiefs

A special purchase of a manufacturer's overmakes purchased by one of our headquarter buyers on a recent trip to Ireland. The large quantity purchase permits us to sell these 'Kerchiefs at a great discount.



Fine quality, snowy white Irish linen with hemstitched hems. Generous size—all in all one of the best values we have seen in some time. Two qualities and two low prices.

15c Each | 4 for 50c

29c Each | 4 for 1.00

Summer Underwear at Special Low Prices

VESTS AND BLOOMERS—For women and misses. Soft, finely knit mesh and plain knit cottons. White only. Special, garment..... 21c

PANTIES AND VESTS—The smartest cuff knee Panties and shaped top Vests with dainty applique trims. Small and medium sizes. Each.... 27c

KIDDIES' VESTS—Short sleeve, finely ribbed Cotton Vests for kiddies 4 to 12 years. A special feature for Saturday, each..... 15c

BROADCLOTH SLIPS—Women's fine quality Slips with shaped tops that fit comfortably. All sizes in the lot. Each..... 49c

COOL SNUGGIES—The newest for Summer. They fit without a wrinkle and tub beautifully. Pink or white, in small, medium and large. Pair 49c

KIDDIES' BLOOMERS—Silk Knit Bloomers and Panties, plain tailored or applique trims. Sizes 4 to 14 years. Extra special, pair..... 49c

Repeat Features for 3 Big Days

GIRLS' DRESSES—Tubbable Cotton Print Dresses in a number of very attractive styles for girls 4 to 14 years. Small sizes with matching panties..... 98c

GIRLS' PULLOVERS—Neat short puffed sleeve styles with round neckline, lacey knit, in pastel pink, blue, maize and green shades. Sizes 6 to 14..... 98c

WHITE GLOVES—Fine Mesh and Plain Fabric Gloves. White is very fashionable this season, and these Slip-on Gloves are the newest. Sizes 6 to 8. Pair..... 59c

WHITE PURSES—Smart Purses to compliment your Summer outfits. Roomy styles with smart trims. Lined, well fitted, and a real bargain at..... 1.00

WINDOW SHADES—First quality Water Color Shades, mounted on dependable roller. Cream, white or green, in standard window size. Each 69c

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAINS

F.o.b. shipping point:—Wheat: carlots, 77c to 79c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Lower prices for grains resulted yesterday from general showery conditions, that tended to remove anxiety as to drought dangers for crops.

A decided curtailment of speculative activity in wheat, and other cereals as well, was apparent, many traders holding off to await more definite indications as to whether widespread prolonged shortage of moisture was about ended, or would become worse. Monetary developments, including a statement by Secretary Morgenthau that the United States Treasury $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund could be utilized for the purchase of silver, attracted only passing notice.

Wheat closed unstable at almost the day's bottom figures, ¾c to 1¼c under Wednesday's finish; corn, ¼c to ¾c down; oats, ¼c to ⅝c off; and provisions varying from 5c decline to an equal advance.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

The continued lower trend in butter prices featured trading on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

The further advance of the producing season resulted in fresh No. 1 butter in carlots or less easing 1c to 1½c at 19c to 20c a pound. To retailers solids at 21c to 22c and prints at 22c to 23c were off a cent. Receipts were 620 boxes.

Eggs were off slightly, graded shipments in carlots or less selling at 18c to 19½c a dozen for A-large, 18c to 18½c for A-medium, 17c to 17½c for B, and 15 to 15½c for C. Asking prices for Western carlots were ½c about the general prices. Arrivals totalled 4,672 cases.

Cheese held unchanged at 10c to 10¼c a pound for fresh Ontario make. No boxes arrived.

Potatoes were steady at 95c to $1 for Quebecs per 80-lb. bag; $1 to $1.05 for New Brunswick Green Mountains per 80-lb bag, and $1.25 to $1.30 for Prince Edward Green Mountains, per 90-lb bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 4. — Longs let go of only enough wheat to meet a slightly improved export demand on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, with the result futures prices held small gains throughout and closed ¼c higher to unchanged.

Foreign sales of Canadian wheat were estimated at 500,000 bushels. Trading was not large in volume, but the market exhibited a strong undertone, and ignored the easier tendency at Chicago where prices ruled fractionally lower.

May wheat closed at 64¾c, July at 65¾c, and October at 37¼c. It was suggested the Government agency filled export requirements. Liverpool wheat was steady, and closed unchanged to ¼d lower.

There was no improvement in the cash grains demand. Coarse grains operations were practicaly a standstill, with quotations holding firm.

Futures:

	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev Close
Wheat—
May	.64¼	.64¾	.64¼	.64¾	.64¼
July	.65¾	.65¾	65½	65⅝	65½
Oct.	.67¼	67⅝	67¼	67¼	67¼
Oats—
May	.31¼	31⅝	.30⅞	.31⅝	.31¼
July	.32¼	32⅝	32¼	32½	.32¼
Oct.	.33¼	33⅝	33¼	33⅝	33¼

PIONEER PASSES

KILLARNEY, Man., May 3.—(C.P.)—George Crawford, 84, pioneer of the Killarney district, is dead here. Born at Dalhousie, Ont. he came to Manitoba in 1881.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A GREAT ASYLUM HORROR

On this date, in 1890, the people of Montreal were alarmed at the word that fire had broken out in the asylum of St. Jean de Dieu at Longue Pointe, then a distant suburb of the city, but now swallowed up by that great centre of population. Fire fighters rushed to the scene; hospital ambulances tore eastward with surgeons and nurses; police rode to keep away the soul-stirred crowd of relatives of inmates and curious spectators.

When the newspaper men got there the spectacle was a fearsome one. Flames had control of the main building and were rapidly spreading to the others. The good nuns and their assistants were powerless to stay the flames or to control the lunatics. Mad men and women, raving in their terror, broke away and fled into the near-by woods; others, shrieking with terror, gathered in groups or in some cases, rushed back into the burning buildings, to save some supposed treasure in their dormitory. The police gathered many of the more desperate cases into barns and outbuildings, guarding them so that in their frenzy they might not add to the horror of the situation. The nuns shephered the lesser insane into the chapel and the buildings out of danger, each performing acts of heroism which in other walks of life would have won medals.

But, despite all the endeavors, many inmates perished in the flames. Their poor fogged minds could not grasp the peril; they remained stricken helpless; and they died in the flames. The exact number of casualties was never exactly known. It was over 100, but others wandered away and perished in the woods. No such tragedy could now occur. The hospital was rebuilt and is practically fire proof, now many times larger than the one that was burned in 1890. I have seen many horrors in the course of a half century of newspaper life. I pray that no one shall ever have the memory that I have of that fearful day and night when the Longue Pointe asylum was burned. It was a living hell!

DRIVER FAILED TO SEE LANTRN

(Continued from Page 1)

light shining through the red glass.

Effect of Moonlight

Although the night of the accident was bright and clear with a full moon in the sky, the traffic officer, stated in evidence that his experience of moonlight nights was that automobile lights appeared to "chop off at short distances."

"On a dark night automobile headlights will penetrate," he stated, "but on a moonlight night they will not."

Evidence of identification was given by Marcus Fowler, a brother of the dead man.

Charles H. Westlake, Smith Township farmer testified that he came upon the scene of the accident as he was driving home at about 11.45 o'clock. "I noticed the broken buggy on the east side of the road out on the pavement." There was no one else present at the scene, witness related, so he stayed there and kept other cars from running into the wrecked buggy. The horse, he said, was lying injured some yards further up the highway. The injured man had been removed to hospital.

Describing the damage to the buggy witness testified, the rear spring was smashed, the top of the buggy and the seat were off, and the shafts were broken and turned in under the vehicle. The lamp on the buggy, witness said, was cold when he arrived.

Medical Evidence

Dr. C. D. Hewett, who attended the victim of the accident at the hospital stated that when he first examined Fowler he was unconscious and had two large incisions in the back of his head. A compound fracture of the base of the skull was revealed later in an x-ray examination. The injury was sufficient to cause death, he said.

Dr. Herbert N. Young who was called to the hospital to administer the anaesthetic, gave evidence of a similar nature to the previous witness.

George Tyndall, Smith Township farmer first learned of the accident on the morning following. He related that he had seen Fowler driving his horse and buggy north on Reid street, Peterborough, at eight o'clock on Saturday night. It was dark at the time and Fowler had his buggy lamp lighted, the witness declared.

Cecil Downey, of Reaboro said he reached the scene of the accident at about 11.30 o'clock, shortly after the smash had occurred. He was going in a northerly direction driving in a car owned by Albert Hickson.

Signalled Passing Car

Relating how the car in which he was riding had been stopped by a young man and a girl who stood in the middle of the road waving their arms, the witness told of how upon Hartman's request Hickson had driven Hartman's car to Nicholls Hospital. The injured man was in the back seat, and Hartman accompanied him to the hospital.

The witness drove Hickson's car, and the girl back into the city.

Albert Hickson of Reaboro corroborated the evidence of his friend, and testified that Hartman's car had a damaged right fender, and that the right headlight was broken and out of commission.

At the hospital witness stated, Hartman told him he did not see the buggy and could not have avoided the accident.

Clayton Sanderson, whose farm is in the vicinity of the scene of the accident, about two miles out on the Chemong road, described how he had been going home when he first learned of the smash. He said there were no hills or curves on the highway at that point, just a slight incline to the south. He took the injured horse into his stable and kept it there, he also stated.

Harold Milburn of Chemong road came along at about 12.30 o'clock from the north. He saw "a buggy pretty well wrecked up," and also a horse at the side of the road, he related.

John Heaslip, road patrol man, described the section of the highway on which the accident occurred as being in "good" condition. Questioned as to weather conditions, witness replied dryly, "At that time of night I wouldn't know. I was sleeping."

The Driver of the Car.

Clifford Hartman, who gave his age as 23 years, and stated he was a bank clerk in the employ of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, testified that he owned a Ford model A coach, late 1928. On Saturday night last, he said, he left from a point near Brock street rink, Peterborough, at 11.30 o'clock to drive to Bridgenorth. It was a bright moonlight night. The lights on his car were in good condition and were on "high beam" for country driving.

"I didn't see the buggy until I was right on top of it. It looked grey just like the pavement. I imagine I pulled a little to the left to try and avoid the crash because the bumper and the right side of the car apparently struck the left rear wheel of the buggy," witness said.

35 Miles an Hour.

Relative to his speed immediately prior to the accident, Hartman said, "I was doing approximately 35 m.p.h. It might have been a little more or a little less."

In reply to the crown attorney, Hartman thought the buggy might have been about two car lengths ahead of him when he first saw it.

"How is it you did not see the buggy until within such a short distance of it," the Crown demanded.

"It was late at night, and you do not expect to see a buggy out at that time," Hartman replied.

In reply to a subsequent question, Hartman stated, "I was looking for red lights. I never saw one all the way out from Peterborough. There was no red light on the buggy."

Asked to explain to the jury why he had not turned out, Hartman told the Crown, "in the short space of time I had from when I first saw the buggy I could not turn out, although I did turn out a little bit."

After striking the left rear wheel of the buggy, the car driver related, the buggy slewed around a little and the car became disengaged from the buggy and proceeded for thirty to thirty-five feet before it was brought to a stop.

Picked Up Injured Man.

He proceeded to give evidence relating to how he had picked up the injured man at a point on the east side of the pavement, near the shoulder of the road. Fowler was bleeding from the head and he groaned once or twice as he was being lifted into witness' car.

Later in the proceedings a juryman asked, "When you were driving did you have both hands on the wheel?"

"Yes."

In further reply to the Crown, witness said he was taking Miss Phyllis Jopling to her home at Bridgenorth.

Juryman: "It would not be possible that you were giving the young lady more attention than that which you should have been giving to your driving?"

"No," Hartman replied.

Taking the witness box, Miss Jopling, who gave her age as 21 years, corroborated the evidence of Hartman. She judged the speed prior to the crash to have been from 30-35 m.p.h.

Witness believed that both she and Hartman had seen the buggy at about the same time. She believed the driver of the car had done everything possible to avoid striking the buggy.

After Miss Jopling had been questioned at some length, the crown attorney asked her if there was anything further she might like to say that might be of assistance to the jury.

Did Not See Light.

"Yes, sir," the witness said, "I did not see a light on the buggy."

Constable Gordon Puffer of the city police department gave evidence regarding weather conditions on the night of the accident, while Joseph Detcher, garage operator, to whom Hartman took the damaged car after the accident, also gave evidence regarding damage to the car.

Provincial Constable W. Warren went to Nicholls Hospital in company with Traffic Officer Hornick after being notified of the accident. At the hospital Hartman told witness he did not have time to do very much after he had first seen the buggy. The buggy, Hartman had stated, just appeared in front of him all of a sudden. He had seen no light on the buggy, he told the officer.

At the scene of the accident the officer related he had examined the buggy lamp. There was plenty of oil in the lamp, but when the lamp was lighted it smoked badly, so that he could scarcely see the red light through the smoke.

Traffic Officer Hornick corroborated the evidence of Constable Warren, stating "the red light on the lamp was hardly visible in view of the fact that the glass was smoked up badly."

No Evidence of Speeding.

The officer said that his investigations at the scene of the accident had failed to disclose any evidence of excessive speed on the part of the driver of the car.

He expressed the opinion that moonlight had the effect of "chopping off the lights at short distance. On a dark night lights will penetrate, but on a moonlight they will not penetrate," he said.

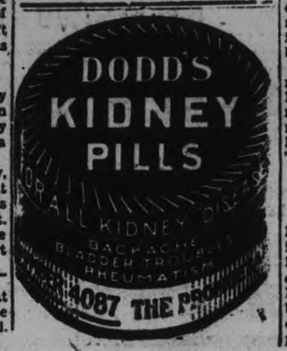
Members of the jury were Messrs. Harry McLaughlin, John Robertson, Laurence Campbell, Harry Campbell, William Packer, Ted Boyer, Sidney Whatley (foreman), William Mowry, William Boyle, W. E. Lech, Thomas Ritchie and David Flynn.

Weddings

RANSOM—CORK.

TWEED, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—The wedding was solemnized at Trafalgar Castle, Ontario Ladies' College, on Tuesday, May 1st, of Miss Constance Cork, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ernest Cork, to Mr. Henry Albert C. Ransom. Dr. C. R. Carscallen officiated, and Miss L. Golden played the wedding music. After a honeymoon to Quebec and Boston, the young couple will reside in Toronto. The bride is well known in Tweed and vicinity.

Baldassare Longhena was the last of the great architects of the late Renaissance in Venice.



3 MONTHS ON BISCUITS AND MILK

Woman's Digestive Troubles

Everyone who is subject to any form of indigestion should know of this woman's experiences. Advice from one who has had such severe attacks is advice worth having. She writes:

"I suffered from indigestion, gastritis, and constipation, and was so very ill, I had (on medical advice) to live on soda biscuits and milk for three months. Well, a friend advised me to take Kruschen, and now I am pleased to say my troubles are ended. I can eat and enjoy a good meal without any painful after-effects, my skin is clearer—in fact, quite clear—and there is no sign of constipation. I would advise anyone suffering the same to take Kruschen."—(Mrs.) M.R.L.

The immediate effect of the six salts in Kruschen is to promote a natural flow of the digestive and other vital juices of the body. Soon after you start on Kruschen you will find that you are able to enjoy your food without any distressing after-effects. And as you persevere with the "little daily dose," you will see that the relief which Kruschen brings is lasting relief.

Obituary

ELIZABETH MARSH

TWEED, May 4. (Examiner Correspondence). — Elizabeth Bertha Marsh, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs Sherman Marsh of German Settlement passed away and was buried on Saturday, April 28th, from the home of her parents, with Rev. Mr. Price of Actinolite conducting the services. Interment was in Victoria cemetery, Tweed.

MRS. WALTER FERGUSON

The death occurred on Tuesday morning at the Western Sanitarium after a lengthy illness, of Mrs. Zulma Ferguson, wife of Mr. Walter Ferguson of Sulphide.

The late Mrs. Ferguson was born in Foxboro fifty-six years ago and had resided all her life there and at Sulphide. She was the daughter of the late Austin and Anne Snider.

Left to mourn her death besides the husband are four brothers—Ernest Snider, West Huntingdon; Leonard, Foxboro; Richard, Toronto, and Harry of the township of Thurlow.

JACK CARRIERE

Word has been received of the recent death of Jack, the three year year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Carriere (nee Ivy Corbett) who who passed away in St. Mary's Hospital, Buffalo, N.Y. Death was caused by meningitis and followed an illness of one week's duration.

WILBUR McKEOWN

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Trudeau of Belleville were called to Sheenboro, Quebec, owing to the death of the latter's brother, Mr. Wilbur McKeown. Mr. McKeown was well known in Tweed, having visited here at various times. His death occurred on Saturday and the funeral was held from his late home on Monday morning, April 30th.

CHARLES McLEAN

The death occurred at the Belleville General Hospital on April 28, of Charles McLean of Roslin, after a brief illness.

The late Mr. McLean was born in Hungerford Township sixty-four years ago and had resided as a farmer in this township at Roslin all his life. He was the son of the late Charles and Isabel McLean.

Left to mourn his death besides the widow are one son, Clarence McLean of Dundalk, Ont; two sisters, Mrs. James Pycock of Toronto, and Mrs. Alma Brooker of Independence, Missouri. The late Mr. McLean was a member of the Latter Day Saints.

JOHN ROLLINS.

MADOC, May 4.—On the morning of April 25th, there passed away quietly at his residence in Madoc village John Rollins, at the age of 75 years. He was a son of the late William John and Mrs. Rollins and had resided the greater part of his life in the Allen Settlement where he was a successful farmer moving to Madoc village twelve years ago.

John Rollins was one of a quiet nature and was especially noted for his honesty and Christian charity and will be missed not only by his immediae friends, but by many whom he helped on life's way. In religion he was a Presbyterian and in politics a Conservative.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon in the Cooper (Allen Settlement) Church, where he had attended worship for many years. The service was under the auspices of the Orange Order and was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Hunter, of St. Peter's Presbyterian church, Madoc, assisted by Rev. Mr. Trumpour of Eldorado, and the choir of St. Peter's church. Interment was made in the family plot in the adjoining cemetery, the bearers being nephews.

Besides a number of nephews and nieces, he leaves behind a sister, Mrs. Alice Allen, who devotedly nursed him through his long illness; and two brothers, Samuel of Madoc, and Rev. James Rollins of Toronto.

QUOTES ON JAP GOODS

LONDON, May 4.—(C.P. and A. P. Cables)—Quota restrictions on imports of Japanese goods into the British colonies were understood today to have been decided on by the British government, following the breakdown in textile market discussions between Britain and Japan.

HOW'S YOUR STEERING?
Complete and specialized service. "Weaver" wheel aligner. Drive on.
GILLESPIE GARAGE
"Service That is Service"
378 Aylmer St. Phone 950

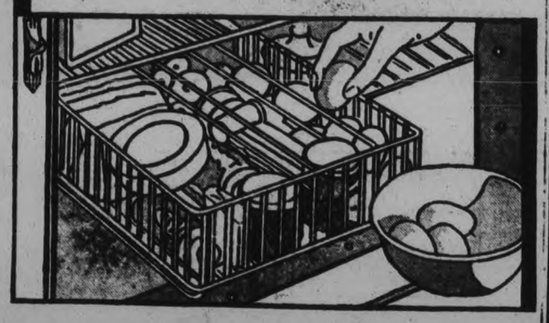
SUPERFLUOUS HAIR
Permanently Removed
By Electrolysis. All Skin Diseases successfully treated. Facial and Scalp Massages.
ANNE GRAHAM LOGAN
Dermatologist
(Formerly of Hiscott Institute)
12 Years Experience.
118½ Hunter W. 'Phone 3102
m.w.f-Feb 15-3501

LADIES!
Our New Beauty Parlor will open Saturday, May 5th, for your convenience, equipped with the famous Nestle Multi Triumph Permanent Waving Machine.
Nestoil Waves are kind to the hair. Call and let us show you the many advantages of this system.
If your hair is in poor condition, we have a special preparation for treatment.
SPECIAL PRICES FOR TWO WEEKS:
$3.50 Wave for $2.50
$5.00 Wave for $3.50
$5.50 Wave for $4.50
$6.50 Wave for $5.50
G.W. HALL Barber Shop
Operator, Mrs. M. Dulyea, several years' experience. Phone 1633J
3d,107,5127

Blue Coal Prices Reduced
For Prompt Delivery
Buy when the getting is good—Later Prices not Guaranteed.
Egg and Nut . $14.00
Stove 14.25
Pea 12.00
J. E. A. Fitzgerald Estate
PHONES 110 AND 111.
Coal, Coke and Wood Dealer.
11d,115

PHONE 2200
SAVE BY BUYING COAL NOW.

Utility Basket Saves Space in the FRIGIDAIRE '34



EVERYWHERE women are talking about the new convenience and economy brought to electric refrigeration in the Frigidaire '34. An automatic release slides the ice trays out at a touch of the finger. Defrosting is automatic. The motor is quieter than ever—and so efficient that it uses amazingly little current. Several models have shelves adjustable up or down; the Servashelf for arranging things; lifetime porcelain inside and out; larger vegetable Hydrators and a cold storage compartment. Learn the many ways in which the Frigidaire '34 makes inconvenient refrigerators entirely out of date. Stop in tonight.

HERE IS A REFRIGERATOR THAT ACTUALLY USES LESS CURRENT THAN ONE ORDINARY LAMP BULB

Made in Canada by Frigidaire Corporation, Toronto
JOHNSTON'S
TIRE, BATTERY AND RADIO SERVICE
GEORGE AND McDONNEL
OPEN EVENINGS. PHONE 2123
A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1934

LOCALS

GYM PAGEANT TO-NIGHT.
Rush seats 25c. Still a few seats at 35c and 50c. 1d-106-5159

ICE REFRIGERATOR.
Nearly new. Cost $85.00. Reduced to $17.50. Heintzman Hall. 'Phone 258.
1d-106-5149

FOR QUICK SALE
New Studebaker Car just received from factory. Never been used Substantial reduction for quick sale. T. H. Ruth and Son, 184 Simcoe street. 3d-106-1671

CHILDREN'S COATS
Special Sale of Infants' Silk Coats, $1.50 and $2.95, and Children's Coats, 2 to 9 years, $2.95 to $5.00.
Peterborough Fancy Goods Store, 372 George Street; Miss A. Curtis.
3d,106,5121

AT MOORE'S BEAUTY PARLORS
New Spring prices on permanents: Reg. $7.50 wave oil $5 (with Marroil shampoo included); reg. $5 wave oil, $3.75; reg. $3.75 Moore Wave, $2.50; reg. $7.50 Naturelle Croquignole, $5 (with Marro oil shampoo included; reg. $5 Moore Wave Croquignole, $3.75. — 296 Charlotte St. 'Phone 3095.
6d-107-5084.

LAWN MOWERS GROUND.
Lawn mowers completely overhauled and set, and ground by new, up-to-date machinery. This is the place where the professional gardeners come, why don't you? Quick service and free collection and delivery. New and used mowers for sale. See our "Clipper" at $5.75 or our "Samson" 16" all steel. 5-blade Lawn Mower at $18.00. Your old mower taken in trade. 'Phone 109J, or call at Wm. Taylor, 221 Hunter St. W., Lawn Mower Expert.
2d-106-5137.

LEAKY EAVETROUGH
does considerable damage to your buildings. Why not have us repair or renew the old trough at once at a new low price. Phone Goodfellow's, 379 Water Street.
mwf. May4, 4665

RUMMAGE SALE.
St. Andrew's C.G.I.T. in basement of church, Saturday, May 5. Doors open at 10 o'clock, Kirk street entrance.
1d-106-5152.

TONITE
IS ONE OF THE BIG NIGHTS AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE. WHEN THE ANNUAL Y.W.C.A. PAGEANT WILL BE PRESENTED, WITH 500 HEALTHY, HAPPY GIRLS TAKING PART.
8 o'Clock To-night
Grand Opera House

Public Oxford Group Meeting
Sunday, May 6, at 8.30 p.m.
Y. M. C. A.
1d-106-5153

Diamond Engagement Rings and Wrist Watches
Have you seen the newest designs in Bluebird Perfect Diamond Rings?
These new creations of Diamond and Wedding Rings to match are very smart.
Moderately priced from $15.00 to $150.00.
Trade in your old watch for a new one. We will give you a liberal allowance for your old timepiece.
See the newest in Bulova Watches at $24.75, $29.75 and $37.50.
Also a few Ladies' Wrist Watches at $3.95 and $7.95.
Three only Gent's Wrist Watches at $5.00.
Three only Gent's 15-Jewel Wrist Watches, $7.95.
See these Specials now.
Warne's
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

KNOX CHOIR.
Rehearsal to-night at 8 o'clock for play 'Bulbal.' All attend please.

MADAME NEVADA
will be at Montgomery Hotel from Wednesday to Saturday.
2d,106,5128

PIANO SPECIAL.
Upright piano. Splendid practice instrument. Only $79.50. Heintzman Hall, 'Phone 258.
1d-106-5150.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED 75c
All mowers overhauled, ground, and set by hand, the only way manufacturers recommend. Every mower guaranteed in perfect cutting order or money refunded. 20 years experience. Mowers called for and delivered 25c. Charlton's General Repair and Welding Shop, Wolfe street, opp. Knox church. 'Phone 2288J
2d-47-1756.

One Locomotive
Electric Washer Copper Tub
$23.50
One Locomotive Electric Washer. Porcelain tub with heater, reduced $24.50. Saturday, only .$55.00
1¼ Burner Moffat Enamel Front Electric Stove, used $41.50
One Tudhope Electric Rangette, Four burner with control. Special $30.00
One Electric Refrigerator, 1933 model, reduced $39.00. Saturday only.
Miller-Powell Co.
438 GEORGE ST.

SAT., MON., TUESDAY
5c BREAD 5c
Salt, box 5c
Jelly Powders 5c
Pineapple, 2 cans 25c
Raspberries, cans 21c
Pearl Soap, 3 bars 13c
Plum Jam, large size ..25c
Med. Old Cheese, lb. .20c
Red Rose Tea, ½ lb. .25c
Quick Arrow Soap Flakes pkg. 10c
Brunswick Sardines, can 5c
Pickle Onions, large jar 25c
New Carrots, 2 bunches 15c
New Cabbage, lb. 5c
Bananas, 3 lbs. 25c
Pineapples, each 25c
Cucumbers, each 15c
Head Lettuce, Green Onions
Rhubarb, Leaf Lettuce, Raddish, Tomatoes.
Asparagus, 2 bunches .25c
Baby Beef Pot Roast ..12c
Baby Beef Oven Roast .14c
Baby Beef Prime Rib Roast 20c
Red Brand Pot Roast ..14c
Red Brand Oven Roast 16c
Rolled Veal Roast 13c
Fresh Pic Nic Ham ...13c
Butt Roast of Pork 16c
Peameal Bacon, lb. ...25c
Breakfast Bacon, lb. ..18c
Hamburg Steak, lb. ...12c
Beef Cuttings, lb. 12c
Bologna, lb. 15c
Streaky Pork Chops ..18c
Weiners, lb. 18c
Pork Sausage, lb. 15c
P. J. HARRISON
Phone 725-2118 We Deliver

Dairy Butter, Lb. 22c
Guaranteed Quality—5 Lbs. for 1.05
2 Tons Bread Flour, Prairie Blossom (Cash and Carry) .....cwt. 2.19
3 Lbs. Shortening 29c
Oranges, Special 29c, 39c, 49c
4 Large Grapefruit for 25c
New Cabbage, lb. 5c
New Carrots, 2 bunches 15c
Eggs, Grade A, medium 15c
Eggs, Grade A, large 17c
10 Lbs. Sugar 69c
Black Tea, Special 49c
Red Rose and Lipton's, old price, ½ lb. 25c
3 Large Cans Tomatoes 25c
2 Lbs. Meadow Cream Sodas 25c
5 Tins Pork and Beans 25c
5 Tins Tomato Juice ..... .25c
3 Tins Crosse & Blackwell Soup .25c
Maple Syrup, guaranteed, 13 lb. 2 oz. to gallon—while it lasts ...gal. $2
Palmolive Soap, now, bar 5c
Jelly Powders, Special.....5 for 25c
Bread, Loaf 6c
ALLEN'S
Cor. George and Sherbrooke Sts.
Phone 2445.

Coat and Suit SPECIALS
SUITS
JUST RECEIVED — A NEW LOT of High-class SWAGGER AND FORM-FITTING SUITS, in newest becoming styles. Various sizes and shades. Very low prices. Take the opportunity to get one while they last, for .....
$9.98 $12.98
COATS
Choicest shades and best fabrics. Made to sell at $15.00. Special at $7.98 $9.98
BLACK'S
GEORGE AND KING STREETS

AUTO LOANS
And Re-Financing
1930 Models and Later
Private Sales
FINANCED.—SEE
G. W. LUNDY
95 Hunter St. W. Phone 213
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE CO., LTD., TORONTO

THE 1934 HOSTESS.
The new 1934 "Hostess" Electric Refrigerator now on display at Heintzman Hall. 'Phone 258.
1d-106-5162.

HEINTZMAN HALL IS RADIO BARGAIN HEADQUARTERS.
Beautiful, brand new "Lyric" $100. Reduced to $69.50. Gets police and airplane calls. Terms, $7.00 cash, balance $2.00 weekly. A limited number at this price. Heintzman Hall. 'Phone 258.
1d-106-5148.

SONS OF ENGLAND.
Members of Lansdowne Lodge are requested to meet to-night, May 4, at the Lodge rooms at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements to attend the funeral of our late Bro. G. C. Smith. G. Benton. President.
1d-106-5155.

ONE CENT SALE IN DRUGS
Exceptional opportunities to buy Pensiar Household Remedies on one cent sale, and other nationally known drug needs at lower prices, at Borland's Drug Store, 222 Charlotte street, near Aylmer. Call in, or phone 274 for delivery.
1d-106-5164.

FOR TOURISTS AND CAMPERS.
We have several good beds, springs and mattresses. These beds have been replaced by Marshall and Simmons outfits. Will sell for $5 complete unit.—Grand Hotel, 295 George street.
1d-106-5160.

ALL SAINTS DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS NANCY ANNA BROWN'S FOLKS, IN THE PARISH HALL, ON WED., THURS. AND FRIDAY, MAY 9, 10 AND 11TH, AT 8.15 O'CLOCK. ADULTS 25c., CHILDREN 15c.
3d-4-7-8-5151.

POCAHONTAS COAL
Choice Pocahontas Coal, Red Jacket, Champion, and Helvetia Hearn Coal; also all sizes of Coke in stock at current prices.
McCarthy & Johnston, Phone 96. Tues.,Fri.

TINSMITHING, EAVETROUGHING AND FURNACE WORK
Eavetroughs, Furnaces and Pipes Cleaned. A good job done and prompt service given. Repairing and tinsmithing of all kinds. A. E. Micks, 212 Hunter street. Phone 423.
1d,106,1736

CARD OF THANKS
Mr. and Mrs. H. Revoir and son, Clayton, of Trent River, wish to express their appreciation and thanks to their friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, during and since their recent fire loss, and especially for the generous shower of gifts tendered them Tuesday night at "Cedar Isle."

SPLENDID REPORTS READ AT MEETING

Women's Association of George Street United Church Holds May Conclave.

The regular May meeting of the W.A. of George Street United Church was held in the Board Room of the Sunday School hall with a very large attendance. Mrs. W. Hanbridge's group was in charge of arrangements and the guests were received by Mrs. J. A. Spencer and Mrs. Putenham.

The president, Mrs. J. C. Smith, presided and Mrs. Morrow had charge of the devotional exercises. Mrs. Rowe read the Scripture lesson followed by prayer by Mrs. Sandercock. After singing "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross", excellent reports of the work were given by the secretary, Mrs. C. G. Staples and the treasurer, Mrs. S. Oke.

Miss Mary Elliott, corresponding secretary, read several letters of appreciation from members to whom sympathy had been extended and flowers sent. Mrs. P. Hagerman, for the sick and visiting committee, reported 59 calls made during the month.

Mrs. Latimer for Lookout Committee reported 10 calls made.

It was decided to put flowers on the pulpit for Mothers' Day and arrangements were left in charge of the Decorating Committee.

Mrs. Tinney gave a wonderful report of the work done by the sewing committee in connection with relief work. Thirteen sewing meetings were held and 245 pieces of clothing or bedding given out to 25 homes.

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard was the speaker of the afternoon, giving a very interesting talk on "One of the Women of the Bible". This was Priscilla, whose name is mentioned six times in one chapter. She accomplished so much in her own home and set an example for all future generations, living Christ constantly. While the church and its different organizations do so much good they teach only a few hours a week while the home is naturally the example for the greater part of the time.

Two solos were "A May-day song" and "My Task" were beautifully rendered by Master Frederick Fowler accompanied by Mrs. Glover.

The following submitted reports for their groups: Mrs. Flannery, Mrs. Handbridge, Mrs. Girven and Mrs. Harris announced that her group intended holding a garden party in June at the home of Mrs. Stabler. A committee composed of Miss Mary Elliott, Mrs. Latimer and Mrs. Flannery were appointed to confer with refresentatives of other oranizations of the church to make arrangements for the annual congregational picnic.

A hearty vote of thanks to Rev. J. E. J. Millyard, the soloist and his accompanist, was voiced by Mrs. F. Mather and extended by Mrs. Smith.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

TWO WINDY DAYS

EMPORIA, Kas., May 3 (CP)—History repeated itself when workmen began repairing an old residence here. On the back of the first board torn from the house April 17, 1934, was written, "April 17, 1883. Windy as the devil. Henry." April 17 this year was windy and the carpenter who tore off the board was named Henry.

Adam to Blame?

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 4 (C. P.). — The problem of farm rentals originated way back in the Garden of Eden, says W. M. Landess, Shelby County agricultural agent, commenting on the proposed conference on protection o fUnited States cotton tenants.

"Adam and Eve were put out of the Garden of Eden because they wouldn't abide by the rental terms," Landess says, "and there has been a tenant problem ever since."

BORN

FINN.—On Friday, May 4, 1934, to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Finn, a daughter.

DEATH.

PUGH.—On May 3, 1934, at Nicholls Hospital, Sarah Jane Edgar, relict of John Pugh, of Otonabee Township, in her 82nd year.
Funeral at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday Afternoon from Jomstock's Funeral Home, with the Rev. G. K. Tyler officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

RICHARDSON.—On May 3, 1934, Bella Stevens, the beloved wife of Thomas Richardson, aged 70 years, at the home of her son, James Richardson, 124 Maude street.
Funeral on Saturday, May 5, 1934, at 2 p.m., from Belleghem's Funeral Home. Interment at Little Lake cemetery.

THOMPSON. — At the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Warne, 327 Downie Street, on Friday, May 4, 1934, David Thimpson, in his 76th year.
Funeral announcement later.

Weddings

WELSH—THOMAS.
BETHANY, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence). — At the United Church parsonage, Bethany, on May 1, in the presence of immediate families, Dillis Thomas, to Ted Welsh. The young couple left on the evening train for points east on a short honeymoon.

Obituary

MISS MARY A. CROWLEY.
The funeral was held to St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Peter's Cemetery on Friday morning last of the remains of Miss Mary Agnes Crowley, who died on Wednesday, April 25, at the age of 53 years.
Requiem Mass was celebrated by her brother, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Crowley of Sault Ste. Marie, assisted by the Rev. Dr. V. J. Masterson and the Rev. J. J. O'Brien.
The funeral was held from the residence of her sister, Mrs William Lynch, of McDonnel street, the bearers being: Messrs. William Bray, William Maher, Sr., William Maher, Jr., Frank Lynch, Thomas and James Lynch.
Other surviving relatives of the deceased are, a sister, Mrs. M. J. Shea, of Sudbury, and a brother, William Crowley of Edmonton.

China's mint in Shanghai is turning out 400,000 Chinese dollars a day.

Glasgow, Scotland, will build libraries for use of tenants of municipal houses.

Elsie Bennett's
GIFT SHOPPE
345 George St.
We are featuring new genuine Sheffield Reproductions. Comports, Trays, Rose Bowls and Bon Bons ..... 2.75 Up
Dealers for the well- known Rolex Watches. Ladies' and Gent's Wrist Watches ..... 8.95 Up
Blue white Diamond Rings 10.95 Up
Wedding Rings ..... 5.00 Up
SPECIAL THIS WEEK-END Hollow Silverware, Comports, Bon Bons, Candle Sticks, Baskets, etc. 1.00
WE REPAIR WATCHES, CLOCKS AND JEWELLERY

USED CARS
1932 Dodge Sedan—Privately owned. Small mileage. Equipped with heater. Complete $300
Durant Sedan—Reconditioned. Good tires. A snap at $300
1929 Pontiac Business Coupe—Completely overhauled. Finish and upholsterly like new $300
1933 Chevrolet Master Six De-Luxe Coach—Like new. A real buy.
LILLICO MOTORS
383-385 WATER ST.
"Service That Satisfies"

LACKAWANNA ANTHRACITE COME-CLEANER
Prices Reduced
FOR PROMPT DELIVERY
Now is the time to buy and save money. Prices for the month of May only.
Egg & Nut $14.00
Stove .. 14.25
Pea 12.00
W. J. NELSON
233 SIMCOE ST.
'Phone 2906.
3d-107

FIRE ALARMS.
Damage estimated at $100 was caused to a shed at the rear of 302 Boswell avenue late yesterday afternoon, in a fire attributed to spontaneous combustion of some oily rags.
Other alarms receieved this morning by the Department included a grass fire at the rear of 681 Aylmer street; a shed fire at 730 Bethune street, attributed to the grass fire on Aylmer street; a rubbish fire at 305 Louis street; and another grass fire at the corner of Lansdowne and Aylmer streets.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

GAS STOVE.
A request has been made for a small gas stove for use in the summer months. Please telephone Miss McCarthy at The Examiner and it will be called for.

STORY HOUR CONCLUDES SATURDAY.
The Children's Story Hour which has been a weekly feature at the Public Library during the past winter, concludes to-morrow morning, F. M. DelaFosse, librarian, informed The Examiner this morning. The Story Hour, he said, would be resumed next Fall.

DANCING ◆ TONIGHT ◆ MAYFAIR ◆
THE SEASON IS ENDING AT THE MAYFAIR. COME AND DANCE TO OUR SMART MUSIC!
JOHNNY THOMAS AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Admission 10c
Dancing 5c

Shoe REPAIR
SAVE MONEY!
You save money when you keep your shoes well repaired! Let us do the work for you at prices that mean extra value. We call and deliver — Try us to-day.
OUR REPAIR DEPARTMENT
Guarantees you work of excellence
NEW SERVICE
391 GEORGE ST. PHONE 147

SPECIALS for MEN
CHECK CIGARS, Reg. Each 5c
Special, 7 for 25c; 15 for 50c
RAZOR BLADES For Gillette Type Razor 12 for 25c
POKER HANDS EXCHANGED
MALANE'S CIGAR STORE 144 Hunter St.
GOSSELIN'S CIGAR SHOPS 348 George - 99 Hunter W.

10 Days' Removal Sale! Prices Slashed!
By May 15th, Roy Rome's Music Store (now located at 292 Charlotte Street West) will be at 291 George Street, 2 doors south of the Grand Hotel. To those who desire to save on Instruments, Strings, Sheet Music, etc., we sincerely advise they take advantage of our Removal Sale, as everything will be offered at cost price.
Here are listed just a few of the bargains:

	Reg. Price	Sale Price
Guitars-Hawaiian	$12.00	$7.00
Guitars-Hawaiian	$13.00	$7.50
Harmonicas—Marine Band, etc.	75c and up	50c to $1.50
Strings, Jews Harps, etc.	15c and up	Half of Reg. Price

Fiction Books—Mystery, Western, Romantic, to go at 25c to 75c.
One hundred and fifty to choose from.
ROY ROME
292 CHARLOTTE ST.
2d-107-5163

ESTABLISHED 1899
"It's Confidence That Does It"
Extra Special! ORANGES. Dozen ..... 19c, 25c & 35c
GRAPE FRUIT— 5 for 25c; 4 for 25c and 3 for 25c
Sweet Potatoes, 2 lbs. 19c
Cucumbers..10c, 15c and 20c
Baby Beef The quality is wonderful. Also Milk Fed Veal. All our meats are Government Inspected. Insist on seeing the stamp.
Chickens for Roasting. . . . . .
Boneless Pot Roast, lb. ..10c
Cottage Rolls, lb. 17c
Pork Tenderloin, lb. 25c
Boneless Leg Fillet Veal .18c
ONIONS
Silver Skins, 2 lbs. 19c
Spanish, 3 lbs. ...25c
Cooking, 6 lbs. ..19c
Bananas, 3 lbs. ..25c
Strawberries, pint .19c
PINE APPLES—Ripe beauties .....19c and 25c
1 lb. Dairy Butter 21c with a purchase of 50c
PALM OLIVE SOAP 5c
Princess FLAKES, 2 pkgs. 29c
Shoe Polish, tin 5c
Chamois, each 15c
Amber Honey, 2½ tin 19c
Rhubarb, 2 bunches .19c
Beets, 2 bunches ...19c
J.W.P. Tomatoes, 3 tins 29c
Choice Peas, 2 tins ..25c
G. B. Corn, 2 tins ...25c
Wax Beans, 2 tins ..25c
Dessert Pears, 2 tins 25c
Porter S. White Co.
'Phones 2960-2961 - 346 Charlotte

HAVELOCK'S UNITED CHURCH WAS DEDICATED MAY 2, 1884

Originally Stood as Land Now Occupied by John Gibb's House.

ALL LABOR FREE.

HAVELOCK, May 4. (Examiner Correspondence).—A few interesting facts in connection with the history of Havelock United Church (formerly Methodist) which are the topic of conversation here this week, on account of the celebration of the Golden Jubilee are as follows: Rev. Isaac Puffer was the first minister of the Methodist Church here; he was ordained in 1884, and placed on the Blairton circuit, preaching at Blairton, Havelock, Rockdale, Victoria and Garrison's (now Preneveau).

The first church was built by free labor, and was situated on the site now occupied by Mr. John Gibb's house. The land was donated as a gift from Edward and William Martin.

The church was dedicated on May 2nd, Rev. D. E. F. Gee of Norwood assisting Rev. Mr. Puffer at the dedicatory service. Norwood choir sang at both morning and evening services on the day of dedication.

Members of the first church board were: Messrs. James Wilde, Thomas Wilde, Allan Peters, Wm. Johnson, Robert Johnson, Wm. Houston.

Some of the first Sunday School teachers were: A. V. Fuller, J. R. Peake, Walter Shipman and James Wiseman. Mr. Wm. Johnson was the first superintendent.

Miss Effie Wilde (now Mrs. Herb. Williams) was first organist of the Sunday School and prayer meetings.

There was no caretaker of the first church; the people took turns at looking after the building.

The First Choir.

In 1888 the first choir was formed with Wealthy Johnson as organist, Walter Shipman as leader, and the following members: Lizzie Johnson, Mrs. Seccombe, Nellie Wilson, Effie Wilde, Edith Wilde, Ida Wilde, Dr. Jeffs, Hannah Parker, Robert Wiseman, J. R. Peake.

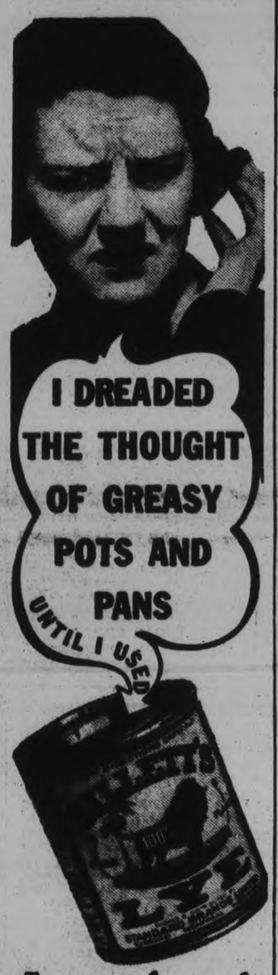
The W.M.S. was organized in 1894 by Mrs. A. R. Campbell of Peterborough. Mrs. W. H. Jeffs was first president of the society here.

The Epworth League and King's Daughters' class were organized and led by Mrs. W. H. Jeffs.

The present church was built in 1896. The corner-stone was laid by Rev. T. W. Jolliffe of Campbellford, who was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mary Jolliffe, now Mrs. A. C. Denike.

The dedicatory service was preached by Rev. Albert Carman, D.D., general superintendent of the Methodist Church.

On February 14th, 1913, the official opening of the new pipe organ was held. The old organ was sold to the White Church at Rush Point. In 1927 the outside steps at the front of the church were altered, the entrance remodelled, and shorter flight of cement steps replaced the old wooden ones.



It cuts through grease—makes messy kitchen jobs easy!

DON'T be a slave to kitchen chores. Just use a solution of one teaspoonful of Gillett's Pure Flake Lye dissolved in a quart of cold* water. It puts an end to stubborn stains. Lifts grease and grime off like magic!

Gillett's Lye is indispensable for all your heavy cleaning . . . for stopped-up drains . . . for toilet bowls. Order a tin from your grocer today. Say good-bye to hard rubbing and scrubbing!

*Never dissolve lye in hot water. The action of the lye itself heats the water.

FREE BOOKLET—Be sure to get the new revised Gillett's Lye Booklet . . . it tells how this powerful cleanser and disinfectant will lighten dozens of household tasks. Contains full information for soap making, thorough cleansing and other uses on the farm. Write for free copy to Standard Brands Limited, Fraser Ave. & Liberty St., Toronto, Ont.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

"Spring winds sow disquietude"—so says Robert Louis Stevenson, in his famous essay, but he was speaking of love.

Spring winds also sow respiratory diseases, and the incidence of these diseases is in direct ratio with the dryness of the weather. The best kind of a spring for colds, that is to say, the spring in which to have a lot of colds, is one in which wet cold weather alternates with dry, windy weather. The two elements represent factors which are present in all lung disease—first, weakening of the resistance of the body which is created by cold and damp, and, second, the spread of the infectious agent or germ.

The anti-spitting campaign which was vigorously pushed a number of years ago has rather died down and needs to be re-emphasized. For a while the theory was abroad that such diseases as tuberculosis and pneumonia arrived at the lungs by way of the blood instead of by way of the air and the prevalence of this theory probably accounted for the soft pedaling of the anti-spitting campaign, but commonsense has again prevailed, and it is recognised that most lung trouble gets to the lungs by way of the air which is breathed in.

MR C HAS A COLD

It is not a particularly pleasant subject but, like many unpleasant things, its recital may stimulate all of us to be more careful in our habits.

You wonder why you have a cold. Where could you have caught it? Perhaps you caught it in a restaurant or at that nice warm lunch counter. This is the chain of events: Mr. Jones, who has a cold, hawks and spits up a gob of infectious material on the pavement. Mr. Smith, hurrying to get his lunch, steps in this material and enters the restaurant, where you are enjoying your meal. Inside the door he wipes his feet on the floor a moment, the warm air rushes c the spot, picks up some of this material and wafts it on to your plate, where either you breathe it in or eat it. Three or four days later you begin to feel chilly, headachy and stuffed up, and come down with a cold. You wonder where you got it. You try to think of every circumstance in your life in the past few days. You ascribe it to sitting in a draft, or wearing light underwear, or going without your rubbers. In fact, you ascribe it to everything except the real cause—that chain of events which you did not notice and of which you were not cognizant.

TIMES IMPROVING

ATLANTA, May 5. (CP).—Money is getting easier, for pennies have displaced buttons and pins as the common obstructions in the windpipes and throats of children here. When Dr. Murdock Equen removed a penny from the oesophagus of Billy Sawell, 13-months-old, it was the third penny so recovered at his clinic in two days.

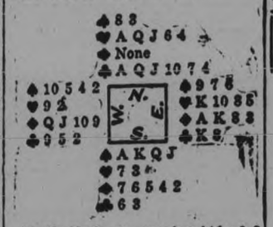
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

NEGLECT OF DUTY COSTS GAME

Many partners think that their duty ends when partner has bid game, even if he has first shown another suit and asked them to choose between makes. This often proves to be expensive policy, as was the case with this hand.



North made an opening bid of 2 clubs. Bidding continued: East, 2 diamonds; South, 2 spades; North, 4 hearts, obligating partner to go game in spades, if able to do so, otherwise to shift to clubs upon equal strength in hearts and clubs. Instead of bidding 4 clubs, knowing that his partner was longer there than in hearts, South passed.

The opening lead was the K of diamonds. The declarer ruffed, leaving him the same number of trumps as East held. North led a spade. He led back a trump from dummy, took the Q finesse and lost to East's K. East forced the declarer to ruff. North led his ace of trumps, picking up West's last heart, but North was afraid to lead his last trump, hoping to find each opponent with a single heart. He felt that before trying this he must take his finesse in clubs.

North led his last spade, and dummy's 6 of clubs was led. The finesse of the 10 lost to East's K East led another diamond, taking out declarer's last trump. North led a club. Winning that trick, he led another club. East trumped and led his last diamond. West was in the lead. Dummy won the spade but East ruffed the next lead of spades, putting the contract down 2 tricks, East and West having won 3 trump tricks, one diamond and one club trick.

Had South performed his duty of carrying his partner to 5 clubs, game would have been won without trouble. The declarer would have ruffed the diamond lead. He would have entered dummy with a spade lead. A club return would have lost a trick to East's K of trumps. North would have ruffed another diamond, and then 2 leads of trumps would have dropped all opposing clubs leaving him a trump.

North would have put dummy in the lead with a spade. Upon the 2 high spades left in dummy the declarer would have discarded his 2 lowest hearts. A lead of a heart from dummy would have lost a single trick to East. That opponent would have led a diamond. North would have trumped with his last club, but his 2 good hearts would have insured him 5-odd.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

LUNCHEON

Green Bean Salad Hot Muffins
Apple Sauce Cookies Milk

DINNER

Baked Potatoes Four-Point Salad
Green Beans, Buttered
Spinach or Other Greens
Vanilla Maple Nut Tart Tea

An apple a day is said to keep the doctor away. Well, a salad a day helps a lot, too, or maybe two. So I am suggesting a green bean salad for lunch, and while you're cooking the beans you might as well cook enough to be served buttered for dinner.

Today's Recipes

Green Bean Salad—Cut one pound new string beans into strips lengthwise. Cook in boiling salted water with a large cube of bacon until just tender. Drain and chill. Heap in lettuce cups. Cover with thin rings of new onions and serve with French dressing.

Four-Point Salad—Choose a cabbage head large enough to serve as a container. Trim off the outer leaves, hollow out carefully and cut the shell into four deep points. Fill with a combination of shredded cabbage, celery, carrot, tuna or salmon with green pepper. Serve with lemon slices and parsley.

Vanilla Maple Nut Tart—One tablespoon gelatin, one-half cup cold water, two eggs, three-fourths cup maple syrup, few drops almond flavoring, three-fourths cup chopped nut meats, one half cup cream, vanilla wafers. Soak gelatin in cold water five minutes. Beat egg yolks slightly, add maple syrup and cook over hot water, stirring until blended and thickened. Stir in gelatin. Cool, add flavoring, nuts and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and whipped cream. Line a deep pie plate with vanilla wafers and pour in mixture. Chill and serve. Serves six.

Wife Preservers

Here is a new sandwich filling which is very good for luncheon or supper: Drain oil from can of sardines, take out bones, mash well with one-fourth head of cabbage, boiled, and one tablespoon horseradish. Spread on white or rye bread.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Orange Marmalade

Four medium or three large oranges, four lemons. Slice halves or quarters of unpeeled fruit very thin. Measure and add five times as much cold water. At once, or any time during the next 24 hours, boil the mixture rapidly for an hour. This should reduce the quantity by half. Measure in two or four-cup lots. It is always better to cook in small amounts, as a better flavor and color are obtained. If oranges are very sweet, more lemon juice may be needed; one tablespoon per cup makes a good allowance. Heat the mixture to boiling. Boil five to ten minutes, add three-fourths cup sugar to each cup of fruit. Boil the first lot rapidly to the jellying stage. It should not require longer than ten minutes. If a longer time is required, the next lot should be boiled correspondingly longer before the sugar is added. Pour into sterilized glasses and seal at once with paraffin.

Use Lemon

Keep a lemon cut in halves in the bathroom. Rubbed over the surface of the bathtub when the tub has been emptied after bathing, this cleans it quickly and well.

WIRES BOMBED

ZARAGOZA, Spain, May 4. (AP) Twelve bombs were exploded on the outskirts of Zaragoza to-day, destroying electric conduits. Labor agitators were blamed by authorities. Three youths were arrested carrying bombs concealed in their clothing.

BEE HIVE GOLDEN CORN SYRUP

A GREAT ENERGY FOOD

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

FENELLA W.M.S. PREPARES QUILT

Series of Leaflets on China Are Ably Given by Several Members.

SOCIAL HOUR SPENT.

FENELLA, May 4 (Examiner Correspondent).—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held in the Community Hall on Wednesday.

The first part of the afternoon the ladies were busily quilting the quilt to be sent in the Autumn to the West. After the quilting the usual meeting was held.

Mrs. N. C. Leach read the treasurer's report. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Macklin, with Mrs. George Montgomery as program leader. The devotional leaflet, "Jesus and His Friends," was read by Mrs. Fred Talling. Mrs. Sol. Leach then took charge of the program, and hymn, "Better Day is Coming," was sung.

A series of leaflets on Chapter 8 of "Living Issues in China," by Dr. H. T. Hodgkin, M.A., M.D., were read by the following ladies: "The Growth of the Christian Fellowship," by Mrs. S. Leach; "Some Chinese Viewpoints," by Miss Ruby Herrington; "Is the Chinese Christian Church Ready to Take Entire Responsibility?" by Mrs. James Knox; "China's Christian Heroes," Mrs. Roy Smith; "What Shall the Christian Missionary Do?" by Mrs. C. W. Macklin; and a Chinese reading by Mrs. N. C. Leach, and the program ended with hymn, "When He Cometh." The meeting closed with the Mispath Benediction and the usual social half hour spent.

Born.—On May 1 to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eagleson, a son.

WOMAN POINTS WAY IN TRADE

Marries Bostonian and Builds Up Flourishing Lobster Business.

$25,000 IN 6 MONTHS.

CLARK'S HARBOR, N.S., May 4 (C.P.)—A woman was far-sighted, and now Nova Scotia lobstermen enjoy a thriving trade with the New England states.

When Miss Fanny Nickerson went to Boston from Clark's Harbor, all she brought with her was a knowledge of lobsters. She joined Avery Powell's firm as bookkeeper.

Soon they were married, and right after that they became business partners also. They began importing lobsters from Clark's Harbor, and the business grew. Then the husband wanted to shift to American lobsters.

But Mrs. Powell thought he was wrong. They split, and she organized her own company to import Nova Scotia lobsters. She cleared $25,000 in six months. That convinced her husband. They became business partners once more.

Since then, they paved way for the organization of the Consolidated Lobster Company, Inc. Now they are executives of the company, and they still find plenty of profit in lobsters from Nova Scotia.

CENTRETON.

The Ladies' Aid met in the Sunday School room on Tuesday afternoon. There were 15 members and one visitor present. Plans were made for the summer work. The June meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Walton.

R. Honeywell, F. Etcher and James Haines were visitors to Cobourg on Tuesday.

H. Chapple spent a few days in Bowmanville.

Mrs. C. Turk and Clifton, Mrs. J. Lisle and Joyce were guests of William Score on Tuesday.

BIG DAY—Saturday

AT UPTOWN SILK SHOPPE

Eight Feature Headliners That Mean Big Savings

Weldrest Full Fashioned Silk Hosiery

HOSE

Chiffon Silk

Sheer and dull finish, full fashioned. Excellent wearing quality in all newest colors. Sizes 8½ to 10½. Extra value, pair..... 75c

Genuine Crepe

Full-fashioned, in all sizes and colors. Hundreds of customers have been satisfied. You, too, will be more than pleased, especially at the price, pair..... 1.00

Triple Guard Hose

Full-fashioned, chiffon silk, triple guarded at toe and heels. Just imagine this quality, which should sell at least for 1.50, now obtainable in all colors and sizes for the price of, pair..... 1.00

New Heavy Service Hose

Have you tried our new Heavy Service 10-Thread Hose? It's full-fashioned and all-silk. And the price is only, pair..... 1.00

200 White Sample Handbags

Washable and smartest styles, in pouch, underarm and chain handle styles. Similar types to the 3.00 Bags. Priced at, each..... 99c

All-Silk Crepe Slips

Bias cut and straight styles, lace trimmed, adjustable straps. All sizes. Regular 1.95, for.... 1.25

New Silk Slips

Guaranteed to wear well. All colors and sizes. Marked down from 1.25 to 98c

Wash Fabrics

Printed Linen — Striped Pique — Real Irish Linen — Flowered Batiste Voiles — Dotted Dimity Voiles — Colored Piques. All 36 inches wide. Regular to 69c, for, yard..... 39c

UPTOWN SILK SHOPPE

404 GEORGE ST. PHONE 3619

CUT DOWN NEEDLESS RUNS!

Not only daughters—but ever so many mothers, too—are cutting down expensive stocking runs by Luxing their stockings after every wearing. Lux preserves the precious elasticity which enables stockings to s-t-r-e-t-c-h under strain. Cake-soap rubbing or so-called "bargain" flakes which may contain harmful alkali, ruin elasticity . . . then runs start so easily.

So take no chances! Lux stockings every night! It's so easy . . . takes only two minutes. Ask your dealer for the new big economy package today!

LUX preserves Stocking ELASTICITY

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mr. M. J. Hanrahan announces the engagement of his daughter, Catherine Agnes, to Leo N. Girard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Girard of this city. The wedding to take place next week at the Church of the Sacred Heart.

* * *

Miss Regina Van der Hoorn, who stays with Mrs. R. S. Staples in Cavan, has one again attained a brilliant scholastic standing in the third year at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. She heads a very large class of students, with a total markage of 102.3 per cent. (The maximum of 100 per cent. is open also to a bonus of 100 marks for summer project).

* * *

Mrs. Stuart of 202 Stewart street, attended the annual banquet of the Spencer Foundation Garment Company, in the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, yesterday.

* * *

Master Neil Brooks, small son of Mr. and Kenneth Brdoks of 593 George street, entertained a number of his young friends on Monday afternoon, in celebration of his sixth birthday anniversary. Among those present were Francis May, Marlene Crow, Stewart Wigg and Douglas May.

* * *

Mr. Charles D. F. Hutchings of Otonabee has passed the examinations for the Intermediate year at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, with high standing, receiving 69 per cent. in a large class of candidates.

* * *

Last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of Mark Street United Church, a Super-Health dinner was served to over one hundred people, in charge of Mr. Hazlewood of Toronto, who spoke briefly on food values and health, at the conclusion of the repast. Mrs. Chartren, president of the society, was in charge of arrangements.

* * *

Mr. H. Earl Petrie, son of Mr. T. H. Petrie of Cedar Hedge Farm, Otonabee, has passed the Intermediate year examinations of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, with very good standing, being sixth, with 77.6 out of 100 per cent. in a large class of candidates.

* * *

Mrs. A. Todd and baby Joanne, of Port Perry, and the former's sister, Miss Charlotte McMahon of Millbrook, were visitors on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. T. Garrity, Fradette avenue.

* * *

A number of the 'Teen Age Girls of the W.A. of St. John's Church, with their leader, Mrs. F. D. Craig, went to Toronto to-day for the Conference of members of 'Teen Age Girls' branches which will be held to-night in St. Paul's Memorial Hall, Toronto, in connection with the annual meeting this week of the Women's Auxiliary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada. The group included Betty Castle, Rosemond Castle, Doris Davis, Helen Leslie, Mary Carr and Gertrude Lemmings.

* * *

Miss Dorothy Sager sang at the Closing Recital given by out-standing students of the Toronto Conservatory of Music in Massey Hall on Wednesday evening. She sang a group of ultra-modern English songs by Arnold Bax and Martin Shaw, and was warmly complimented by Dr. Healey Willan and other prominent musicians. Miss Sager is from the studio of Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park.

* * *

Mr. J. C. Wood of South Monaghan has passed the Second year Degree examinations of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, with high standing. Out of a maximium of 3,300 marks, Mr. Wood gained 2,248.

* * *

After concluding a very enjoyable season of carpet bowling the members of the Ladies' Carpet Bowling Club of George Street United Church and a large number of friends enjoyed a sumptuous banquet in the Canadian Legion Hall, served by representatives of the Super-Health Aluminum Co. The tables were beautifully decorated with pretty pastel-shaded runners of rose and green crepe paper, silver baskets of daffodils, tulips, and snap-dragons, with silver candlesticks halding rose candles. The head table, at which were seated the convenors of the bowling: Mrs. F. Miller and Mrs. S. Wildman; the skips, Mrs. W. H. Cunningham, Mrs. J. Spencer, Mrs. W. H. Hales, Mrs. R. Reynolds, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. C. Wiley, Mrs. B. Frederick, and those taking part in the program, was centered by a candelabrum, holding tall tapers in spring colors. After the lecture on health by Mr. C. Hazelwood, representative of the Super-Health Co., Mrs. F. Miller presided for the remainder of the program, which included vocal solos, by Miss Dorothy Sager and Mrs. T. E. Curvin, accompanied by Mrs. D. R. Howat and Mrs. W. A. Greenslade. Prizes were then presented to the winning rinks; Mrs. W. H. Morton making the presentation to Mrs. W. H. Cunninghams rink; Mrs. Wildman to Mrs. J. A. Spencer's rink, both winners of an equal number of games; and Mrs. J. C. Wood to Mrs. W. H. Hale's rink, close runners-up. Each skip made a graceful acknowledgment an behalf of her rink. Two beautiful bouquets of flowers were presented to the convenors: Mrs. F. Miller, convenor of the games, and Mrs. S. Wildman assistant, on behalf of the club, by Mrs. W. H. Cunningham and Mrs. J. W. Hales, while Mrs. Lane read an address expressing the appreciation of the members for their services during the winter in arranging the games and carrying out the program so successfully. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to those taking part in the program and to the SuperHealth Co. by Mrs. Spencer and seconded by Mrs. Wildman. There were one hundred and twenty-five guests present.

FASHION SERVICE

Here's a pretty little cotton frock and apron—and very easy to keep in order and repress after tubbing.

Whether you want a cotton frock for home wear or for porch or for casual morning wear for summer, today's pattern is delightful.

The dress is exceedingly simple. The neckline is so new—so are the smartly cut sleeves, which like the neckline, are edged with ruffling.

And imagine how quickly the one-piece apron is made with all the edges finished with bias binds.

Style No. 2587 is designed for sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39-inch material with 1⅝ yards of 35-inch contrasting and 2¼ yards of plaiting.

Price of Pattern 15 Cents

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment
Allow five days for return

Miss Tomkins Gives Short Talk On Malay

At the regular monthly meeting of the Otonabee Chapter, I.O.D.E., held on Wednesday afternoon in the green room of the Y.W.C.A., with a good attendance, a very interesting talk on the Malay Peninsula was given by Miss S. A. Tomkins.

The regent, Mrs. B. Jackson, presided and reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and adopted.

Mrs. Jackson was appointed as delegate to the annual National Chapter meeting in Toronto, from May 28th to June 2nd. Mrs. Jackson was also appointed as the chapter's representative on a committee for the Canadian National Institute of the Blind.

Two new members were welcomed to the chapter, which heard a report of the annual Provincial meeting in Hamilton, from Mrs. F. Hooper, Provincial Councillor.

Mrs. D. W. Clark and Mrs. C. Sherwood, councillors for the month of May, will be in charge of a community bridge party, with tea served at Mrs. D. W. Clark's home, on Wednesday afternoon, May 16th.

Donations Approved By Bennett Chapter

Miss Whipple Kelly, McDonnel Street, was hostess at the monthly meeting of the Major Bennett Chapter I.O.D.E. on Thursday night. About forty girls were present. The meeting was opened by the singing of "God save the King," with Miss Sybil Jackson at the piano. Regent Miss Violet Davidson was in the chair. It was decided to give donations to the Red Cross Society and to the Peterborough Health Association. Further plans were made in connection with the coming dance the Chapter is having at the Kawartha Clubhouse on Friday, May 23. The committee in charge is: Convenor, Miss Helen Cole; refreshments, Miss Pat McClellan; treasurer, Miss Helen Tewsley; tickets, Miss Lillian McClellan; floor show, club house orchestra, Misses Dorothy Henderson, Isobel Duthie, Eileen Sanderson, and Violet Davidson. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

MISS FLORENCE EDWARDS HEADS GRENFELL MISSION

Miss Florence Edwards was elected as president of the local branch of the Grenfell Labrador Mission Society, at the annual meeting held this week at the home of Mrs. G. R. Langley, Burnham Street.

The reports showed a very successful year just ended, the total funds for the year being $196.29.

The society expressed indebtedness to the ladies of Knox and Murray Street Churches for assistance given during the year in making garments for the annual bale to be sent in June to Labrador.

Officers for the year will be as follows: Mrs. W. R. Morris, honorary president; Miss F. Edwards, president; Mrs. G. R. Langley, first vice-president; Mrs. G. M. Roger second vice-president; Mrs. D. B. Falkner, secretary; Mrs. F. M. Somerville, treasurer.

DEAN'S CAFE
Opposite Capitol Theatre
SPECIAL SATURDAY
TURKEY DINNER 35c

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

To be competent and at the same time good-natured is an unusual combination. It is important for the expert homemaker to appreciate this and to be on her guard against allowing her annoyance to show when she sees those who should know how to do a thing well, being careless about it. This is really one of the most difficult things a fine homemaker has to contend with. She has worked hard to find the best ways to do the work, and has found what seems the most expert. To be competent means just that—that the person knows the best way of performing tasks which fall to her lot to do, and that she does them thus expertly. The competent homemaker is the successful one as far as her management and work are concerned. To add good-humor to this is the final touch of a great nature.

* * * * * * *

To be careless and good natured is a common combination. Such a person lets work slide off her shoulders with a laugh, not heeding its quality. The home is run in a hap-hazard way, sometimes well, but more often shiftlessly. To get the work out of the way somehow, anyhow, seems satisfying to her, and since it does not bother her, she fails to appreciate it may be disturbing to those of her household. Her saving grace is her even disposition. This should not be belittled, however much one could wish her work was as fine as her disposition.

* * * * * * *

The difference in mental attitude between the competent worker and the easy-going, is the gulf to be bridged. The former needs to meet the latter with sufficient leniency to prevent herself from becoming ill-natured. The latter needs to put her work up to the good standard of her disposition. If the two characters meet but half-way on the bridge, they have a modicum of success, which is about all that can be expected.

* * * * * * *

It is of vital importance to the competent woman that she find a way to accept a situation, if she cannot exchange it, with the same determination to conquer herself, that she exercised in conquering work and problems of good management. It would be regrettable for her to get lax in her expert method, but to preserve them and keep her amiability is worth a grand endeavor.

By GLADYS GLAD

WASH FACE, KEEP HAPPY SAYS AMERICA'S SWEETIE

By GLADYS GLAD

The charming Mary Pickford, who is still as much America's sweetheart as she was back in her "Pollyanna" days, says that the best beauty secret in the world is to wash your face and keep happy. And if Mary's continued loveliness is any sample, there certainly must be a great deal of truth in her belief.

However, to really preserve a flawless complexion entails a bit more than merely washing the face. It entails a knowledge of how to wash the face. And that's a bit of knowledge that a good many women lack. Through ignorance, they often use improper skin cleansing methods. And they do a great deal of injury to their complexions.

Ever since Cleopatra's day, olive oil has been recognized as an excellent complexion beautifier. Personally I think it one of the best skin cleansers in existence. For olive oil not only removes surface grime from the skin, but also sinks deep into the pores and loosens any accumulated extraneous matter.

The best time to use olive oil as a cleanser is at night, before retiring. And let me say, before you ask it, that the use of this oil will not make a Bearded Lady out of you. Olive oil does not cause hair to grow where Nature doesn't intend hair to be. It softens, cleanses and nourishes the skin, but does not cause any actual hair growth on the face.

To use this oil properly at night, for cleansing oil should first be warmed to blood temperature. Then a generous quantity of it should be smoothed over the face and massaged gently into the skin. This should then be wiped away with cleansing tissue, and a second application of the warm oil administered. This second application should be permitted to remain on for a while.

After this, if you are afflicted with an oily skin, all the oil should be wiped from your skin, and then a good astringent should be applied to close the pores. If your skin is dry, however, it is better merely to blot up any excess oil, and permit the remainder to remain on your skin overnight. For the oil will nourish your dry skin, and help to keep it soft, smooth and velvety.

An in addition to this treatment don't forget the second part of our Mary's instructions. KEEP HAPPY. That's the most important beauty advice you can have. Believe you me!

Mary Pickford

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Eyebrows

Violet: Apply a generous coating of cold cream to your brows before the plucking, and allow it to remain on for a bit. Then do the plucking, and when finished, apply witch hazel to close the pores.

Shampoo

Elna: When shampooing your hair, do not first moisten it with hot water, as this tends to set the grease. Apply a good, liquid soap, and lather your hair repeatedly until all the grease has been removed, then rinse thoroughly to remove all the soap.

Lipstick

Alice J.: If you apply and remove the lipstick properly, and it is a reliable brand, it should not rob your lips of any of their natural color. A light, vivid lipstick with yellowish-red tones would be best for you. Better check your health if your lips are colorless.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlets on 'The New Figure' and 'Beauty Culture' write, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

50 FAMILIES FOR NORTH

TORONTO — Fifty families now on relief here have been selected by the Provincial Settlement Board to be placed on farms in Northern Ontario, Board of Control was advised yesterday by the Welfare Commissioner. The board authorized him to spend $1,050 in providing about 30 of the families with clothing.

LAING'S CANADIAN CREAM SAUCE
C.C.C.
RECOMMENDED BY FRANCES THOMPSON

CHURCH EXTOLS REV. J. RIDDELL

Former Minister of Millbrook and Centreville Now at St. Mary's.

CHURCH FLOURISHING

MILLBROOK, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence) — The many friends of Rev. John Riddell, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Millbrook and Centreville will be glad to learn of the fine spirit shown and the high appreciation accorded the minister at the annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian Church at St. Mary's, Ontario, where Mr. Riddell moved upon leaving this community.

The St. Mary's Journal-Argos has the attached report of the meetng, held on Wednesday, with treasurer's statement, showing total receipts of $4,981.09. In addition, the Girls' Carry-On Club raised $204.43; this report being presented by Miss Erma Lewis, "and the girls are to be congratulated on their splendid showing both from social and a financial standpoint in the work which they are carrying on."

"From the report of the McMaster Mission Band one would gather, a faithful band of willing workers had been in at each meeting for their financial report showed they had raised $39.97, and also sent toys, etc., to an Indian School to the value of $3.25. The W.M.S. met its full allocation of $380, and in addition sent an outfit for an Indian girl, and a bale to an Indian school, valued at $64.69. Miss Norris and Mrs. Thos. Whyte presented the report of the Ladies' Aid Society which showed $403.05 had been raised, and in this connection the name of Mrs. David Maxwell, past president, was mentioned for the splendid service she had rendered the society, and her faithful and untiring efforts for many years when filling the president's office.

The Sunday School reports were read by Miss Nettie Fairbairn and Jas. Savage, and revealed an encouraging year with $135.26 as the total raised. The reports of the Pioneer Presbyterian cemetery, Choir Fund, and Session Fund, all showed a balance on hand, and the Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Riddell, are actively carrying on. The expense to the roof of the church, after the cyclone, was $617.36, covered by generous donations for which the Board of Managers extended hearty thanks.

Mr. F. W. Hutton, on behalf of the managers and the congregation, expressed appreciation of the work of the pastor, during these trying years of depression, and stated that under his leadership the congregation had kept together in a fine spirit of unanimity and co-operation. But it was not only his work as a pastor that the congregation recognized, but also the high standard of his sermons. He assured Mr. Riddell he held a warm spot in the heart of every member of his congregation. Rev. Mr. Riddell in reply thanked the congregation through Mr. Hutton and the Board of Managers for the kind words he had spoken. "Mrs. Riddell and myself appreciate the kindness of the congregation and their cordial attitude at all times. We feel as one family, as a unit of this congregation and of the Presbyterian church as a whole," he said.

Nearly 230,000,000 acres n Russia will be devoted to crops this year.

A. COMSTOCK & SONS

SUMMER FURNITURE

The Plaza Chair
$1.49

There are so many uses for Folding Chairs in Summer—on the beach or lawn, the porch, at camp, for bridge. These are sturdily made with reinforced seats. Enameled in green or orange with bright striped canvas coverings.

Deck Chair
(as shown)
$2.89
Recliner alone 1.29

COMSTOCK'S
PHONE 156 - 300 GEORGE ST.

Driverless Vehicle Breaks Shop Window

MARMORA, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence). — A driverless car careened down the hill of the business street of this village yesterday morning, finally jumping the curb and crashing into the plate glass window of Sweet's store. The car, owned by G. C. Airhart, had been parked as usual outside the Marmora Herald office, but a few minutes later it started down the hill on its lone ride.

Mr. Airhart's Scotch terrier dog left in the front seat of the car, remained in the vehicle until the crash and then jumped through a window and went into hiding to recover from the shock.

"Yes, fine! It's great to hear your voice again!"

WHEN YOU THINK OF A FRIEND FAR AWAY... AND YOU HAVEN'T SEEN HIM (OR MAYBE, HER) FOR WEEKS... AND YOU CAN'T FIND TIME FOR WRITING LETTERS...

Have a visit by Long Distance... it's the next best thing to being together.

● Distance disappears when you pick up your telephone: you are talking to someone 100 miles away or so before you realize it, and for as little as 30 cents. Long Distance is easy to use, dependable, personal. See rates in front of your directory.

H. H. P. JOHNSTON
Manager

Save time and work with this handy Cake!

For 50 years, Bon Ami Cake has been saving cleaning time, all over the world. And today, it is more popular than ever. Simply because it cleans so quickly... so easily... and yet so thoroughly!

Women like the handy shape of the Bon Ami Cake and its economy—the way it lasts and lasts. They like, too, the fact that Bon Ami doesn't scratch but leaves everything undulled and nicely polished.

Buy a Cake of Bon Ami. Try it on your bathtubs, kitchen utensils, sinks, windows, mirrors, etc. See for yourself how much better and quicker it cleans!

BON AMI
—sold in Powder form, also.

Made in Canada

MOTHER AND SON ARE WOUNDED AT LONELY FARM

Posse Combs Northern Bush and Captures Neighbor After Chase.

YOUTH MAY DIE.

Ten Year Old Lad Tramps Six Miles to Spread Alarm.

SHILLINGTON, May 4.—A courageous 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mackwood, settlers living in an isolated farm, six miles from here, tramped wearily through the dense bush in the early hours yesterday morning, reaching here in an exhausted condition, to bring word of the alleged attempt to murder his mother and an older brother.

Shot With Rifle

Both were shot by bullets from a German Mauser rifle, said to have been fired by a neighbor, Walter Kirn, who lived alone on a small adjacent farm. After a posse of some twenty-five men from the neighboring countryside had scoured the woods, Kirn was captured, disarmed, and is now lodged in the jail at Iroquois Falls.

Edmund Mackwood, aged 18, who was first shot, is in a critical condition, with a slim chance to live, Dr. Arnott reported, with bullet wounds in the chest and arm. Mrs. Mackwood, the mother, was shot in the left arm, which was shattered. Both have been taken to the Matheson Hospital.

Previous to the alleged shooting, Kirn, police allege, attempted to burn the Mackwood farmhouse, and it was the noise of the flames which awakened Mrs. Mackwood and her four children. After the shooting, Kirn returned to his own farm and allegedly set his own home on fire. It was completely destroyed. With his rifle under his arm, he then took to the bush and disappeared. Neighbors say that for some time past he has been acting queerly, and doubts were expressed as to his mental condition.

When brought to Shillington late last night, his only remark, police say, was: "I did not know I had done it." He expressed no regrets and refused to say anything else. He also remained silent during the time the pose was bringing him in.

Father in Shillington

The father was absent from his home when the shooting occurred. He had come here Wednesday night to get a team of horses which he had stabled on another small farm which he owns here, remaining overnight. His first intimation was the news brought by his son.

"The courage shown by the ten-year-old lad, Flibyster, in making his way here through the bush was remarkable," E. H. Bastien, the local postmaster and storekeeper, said last night. "It took him hours, and at times he had to wade through snow and water above his waist. At one point he had to ferry himself across a small stream on a log. He was soaked to the skin and exhausted when he reached my store and gave the news.'

Mr. Bastien immediately notified Constable Noyes of the Provincial Police at Iroquois Falls, sixteen miles away. Word of the shooting spread rapidly and a posse of twenty-five men was hastily organized, headed by the father. They proceeded to the scene of the shooting, and later to Kirn's home, but Kirn was gone.

REVISION OF MEAT CLAUSES IN OTTAWA TREATIES COMING

May Lead to Issues Requiring New Planning of Empire Trade.

CANADA NOT AFFECTED.

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Eng., May 4. (CP).—Informal discussions may be expected shortly on the meat clauses of the Ottawa agreements. These clauses lapse on June 30 and, of Dominions, concern only New Zealand and Australia. But they raise issues which—in the view of many well-informed observers here—will eventualy demand a new planning of Empire trade. The Elliot schemes to make British agriculture pay are bringing the demand to a head.

And the questions at issue will be:

(1) Is development of British Agriculture to be carried to the point of curtailing imports of farm products from the Dominions?

(2) If not, at what point is development of British Agriculture to be arrested and, in return what further facilities are to be afforded the export of British industrial products to the Dominions?

Dominion statesmen have recognized the right of the British farmer to first call on the British market.

PEASANTS SHOT

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 3. (C. P.-Havas).—Two peasants were killed and three gendarmes wounded when they fought a pitched battle over the right to use a road near Provadia to-day. Use of the road led to rivalries between two neighboring villages. The prefect of the district ordered the road kept open. A dozen gendarmes were sent to see that the order was obeyed. Gunfire greeted their arrival, and the officers shot it out with the gun-toting peasants, killing two.

CITY SOLICITOR TO MAKE EFFORT TO GET IN TAXES

Owners in Arrears But Able to Pay Will Hear From Solicitor.

COAL AND ICE TENDERS.

Minimum Wage Scale Be Paid at City Hall Committee Orders.

City Clerk S. R. Armstrong was asked to "look into" a declaration by Alderman Fred. Tuggey that two girls employed as office workers on the city staff are being paid wages below the Minimum Wage Act requirements by the Finance Committee of the City Council at a meeting last night. "The city should certainly abide by the minimum to which other concerns are forced to adhere," Mr. Tuggey asserted.

One of the two girls in question is a regular employee of the city administration staff, while the other is temporarily employed in the relief office. The aldermen present debated the question of whether or not city office workers come under the protection of the Minimum Wage Act, but all agreed that the city should meet the minimum.

The committee directed City Solicitor John R. Corkery to notify those property-owners in the city who are in arrears in taxes and yet are able to pay the taxes that payments must be made. The action was taken at the suggestion of Mayor Denne, who reported that in several instances citizens who can afford to pay are finding it more advantageous to ignore the levies. He pointed for illustration to a gravel-pit owner who has exhausted the gravel on his property and has no more use for the land.

The matter of renewing insurance on the city automobiles and trucks was left in the hands of Chairman George Macdonald.

Coal and Ice Tenders.

At a meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee the city clerk was instructed to seek tenders for coal for the various city departments during the coming year. A reminder that summer is at last approaching, the Property Committee decided to ask for tenders on a summer supply of ice for the city drinking fountains. Alderman Walter Stocker, chairman of the Parks Committee, was empowered by his committee to purchase one hundred young maple trees for planting in the city.

A half dozen tenders, quoting prices ranging from $4.50 to $8.50 per cord, were read by Alderman Tuggey, chairman, as the Relief Committee took up the matter of next winter's wood supply. The two lowest tenders were submitted by the Peterborough Fuel and Transfer Company and the Scott Coal and Lumber Company.

A rather sharp division of opinion among the members of the committee arose on the matter. Alderman Tuggey expressed the opinion that the best bargain lay in a tender coming from outside the city, while Aldermen Fitzpatrick and Macdonald urged that the two local tenderers be given the business. Their tenders are the lowest and both firms are heavy taxpayers in the city, they pointed out.

The committee decided to inspect the wood offered by the local tenderers before settling the matter. It is probable that three thousand cords will be purchased.

GREATEST VALUE IN TORONTO

ATTRACTIVE ROOMS WITH BATH
$2.00 $2.50 $3.00
WITH RUNNING WATER
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00
EXCELLENT FOOD
Breakfast from - - - 35c
Luncheon - - 50c and 60c
Dinner - - 60c, 85c, $1.00
WAVERLEY HOTEL LIMITED
TORONTO
Write for Folder

?

TURN TO PAGE 9

LONGER MILITIA TRAINING STIRS FRENCH PROTEST

Gen. Wegand Blamed for System to Offset Low War-time Birth Rate.

NEED 200,000 MEN.

Army Claimed at Weakest When Hitler's Nazis Growing Strong.

By STUART MORONEY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

PARIS, May 4th, (A.P.)—A roar of protest resounded throughout France to-day against the general staff's plan to lengthen the military service of conscripts.

General Maxime Wegand, chief of staff, was blamed by the Socialists for permitting France to drift into a position where long service seems the only method by which to compensate for the low war-time birth rate.

Under a system devised by former Premier Edouard Daladier, arrangements were made to maintain the effectives without increasing the length of service. This won approval in the chamber of deputies, but stalled in the Senate.

The system was wrecked, Socialists charged to-day, by the opposition of General Weygand and the general staff—so that, they said, the French army is at its weakest just when Chancellor Adolf Hitler's German forces are growing strong.

15 Months' Service

The general staff now is urging increasing the compulsory service of one year to 15 months, contemplating further extension if Germany continues strengthening her military.

The Daladier plan to keep conscript forces at a minimum of 300,000 men during the critical period between 1935 and 1939 was to retard the age at which young recruits begin their soldering that they might be called later to fill the gaps in the conscript "classes" of the war generations.

It is in this four-year period that the comparatively few boys born between 1914 and 1918 will come of military age.

The advocates of the general staff's plan, accused of blocking the Daladier program, assert that the average, normal conscript class of 250,000 a year will be half that in 1937.

"Militarists" led by Andrue Tardieu, minister of state without portfolio, the Socialists claim, are exerting the utmost pressure upon Premier Doumergue who they say has not yet approved the idea of increasing the service.

Saturday
DRESS Specials
2.89
60 smart dresses in a one-day event. Wide variety of material and styles. Some long sleeves, some short sleeves. Printed silks and rough crepes. Sizes 14 to 20. Reg. up to 4.95 garments. Saturday $2.89

Misses' Dresses
3.89
Floral and printed crepes of excellent quality. Many styles. Regular to $6.95. A group of 25 for Saturday selling, each .$3.89

Smart HATS
2.95
New large brim styles, ribbon and feather trim in the season's best shades. Limited quantity, individual styles. Saturday, each $2.95

BIG SATURDAY VALUES IN LINGERIE
Taffeta Suede Slips—Correct cut, full size. Lace trim. Each $1
Silk Crepe Slips—Excellent quality bias cut, adjustable straps, nicely trimmed with lace. Very special. 1-Day special $1.39
Panties and Bloomers — Made from best quality non-run knit cloth. Regular 89c and 95c. Special Saturday selling. Each 69c
Silk Crepe Skirts
3 new styles, navy silk crepe of excellent quality. Very smart, each ... $2.95
Clearing Swagger Suits
All new, 5 only to sell and five big bargains for those who buy them.
The HODGEN'S Company
331 George

Softball Schedule

SOUTH-END LEAGUE.

On the opposite page appears most of the South-End Softball League schedule. However, the last part of it was inadvertently missed, and is continued here. The May game between Cogs and Orioles should be scheduled for May 9th. Following is the final seven games of this schedule:

July 25—A.S.A.A. vs. Nationals.
July 27—Cogs vs. Albions.
July 30—A.S.A.A. vs. Orioles.
Aug. 1—Albions vs. Nationals.
Aug. 3—Cogs vs. A.S.A.A.
Aug. 8—Orioles vs. Albions.
Aug. 10—Nationals vs. Cogs.

City Classified Guide

This is a regular Friday feature. Here business firms tell, in brief, their story of service. It's another worth-while feature of The Examiner. It is for your convenience.

Is Your Name Here?

Read this Classified Guide carefully. Your name may be hidden in one of the ads. If you find it, bring in the paper, show us and we will give you a Guest Ticket to the Capitol Theatre.

Antiques

FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK!
Furniture Upholstering, Repairing, Refinishing, Polishing, and Chesterfield Covering. For Estimates, call
H. G. RUMARY
352 WATER ST., Opp. Market
PHONE 1096
Miss Agnes Palmer, 194 Reid St.

Bait

TROUT FISHERMEN!
Dew Worms, 40c Per Hundred
ELLIS ARMSTRONG
909 Water St. Phone 584j
A. Rupert Winslow, 198 Barnardo Ave.

Carpenters

G. S. NORTON & SON
House Repairs and General Carpenter Work
168 McDonnel St. Phone 1972j
Wm. Milliken, 253 Burnham St.

Locksmith

GET IT REPAIRED.
Baby Carriages Re-tired. Yale Keys Cut, 30c. Umbrellas Repaired, 35c. Scissors Sharpened, 10c Pair. Locks Repaired. Safe Combinations Repaired. Car Locks Repaired.
ALEX. E. PATRICK, Locksmith
443 GEORGE - 'PHONE 1946J
Miss Angella O'Shea, 257 Rubidge St.

Motor Oils and Greases

Guaranteed Motor Oil and Greases, Turpentine, Safe Clean Naphtha Cattle Spray. Roof Coating. Wholesale and Retail.
Have your Oil Changed and your Car Greased Here, and Save Money.
OIL-ATERIA
182 SIMCOE STREET.
Geo. N. Rogers Clayton Chowen
Miss Annie Abramson, 289½ George.

Plumbing

GOODFELLOW'S
Plumbing and Heating Service
379 Water
'Phone 599.
Miss Eliz. J. Clancy, 366 Carlisle Ave.

Dairies

—WE HAVE FRESH CHURNED BUTTERMILK, ice cold. Try our delicious COUNTRY CLUB ICE-CREAM and PASTEURIZED CHOCOLATE MILK.
NIELSON'S DAIRY
'Phone 1510 - 461 George Street
Open Evenings—We Deliver.
Miss Emily Thomas, 304 Margaret Av.

Fly Swatters

KING OF FLY SWATTERS
A Peterborough Product.
Will not smear the fly, and does not mar or scratch the furniture. Will outlast dozens of ordinary Swatters.
OKLAHOMA JACK
88 St. James Street - Box 824
Peterborough
W. Frank Hopkins, 52 St. James St.

Laundry

CLEAN-UP WEEK IS HERE. WHEN YOU START TO CLEAN-UP NEXT WEEK, you would save yourself much worry and work by letting us do your Curtains, etc. ASK ABOUT OUR ECONOMICAL SERVICE.
RIVERSIDE LAUNDRY
'Phone 3084 - 10 HAGGART ST.
CALL RIVERSIDE for CLEANLINESS.
Mrs. Melina Barrette, 1 S. Edison Ave.

Shoe Repairing

S. KITCHEN
IS NOW OPERATING in the Premises formerly occupied by J. C. Miller at 51 HUNTER STREET E.
21 Years' Experience — Work Guaranteed. Moderate Prices.
Gerald A .Wood, 1 S. Park Hill Road.

Taxis

ELITE TAXI
Phone 182
7-passenger cars at your service, day and night. A dependable driver assured. Special rates on out-of-town trips.
'Phone Us for your Next Taxi.
John F. McCarthy, 305 Reid St.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

At the CAPITOL

TODAY AND SATURDAY

GEORGE RAFT in "THE TRUMPET BLOWS"
Oliver Hardy and Stan Laurel in "OLIVER THE 8th"

MATINEE SPECIAL
Another Thrilling Chapter of
Rin-Tin-Tin Jr. in "THE WOLF DOG"
Mrs. Robt. Mulligan, 262 Sherbrooke.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD CLOSES

Passes Resolution Recommending Board of Administration be Abolished.

"TOO MUCH RED TAPE"

TORONTO, May 4 (CP)—Annual sessions of the Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston were ended to-day with the body on record as recommending abolition of the General Board of Administration. The Synod passed a resolution at its closing session yesterday, recommending to the General Assembly that the board be abolished.

Rev. J. B. Skene resented a communication from the board asking no litigations be started without the boards' consent. He said the communication was "dictatorial."

Dr. D. T. L. McKerroll declared the church woud never thrive until authority was decentralized.

When objections were made to Rev. Mr. Skene's motion recommending abolition of the board, Rev. Mr. Skene declared he would not withdraw it as the church had been suffering for years from "red tape" and the "medieval intelligence of the board of administration."

The increasing consumption of alcoholic beverages came in for criticism and the Ontario Government's beer and wine bill was protested in another resolution.

LIQUOR REVENUE UP

VICTORIA, May 3.—(CP)—British Columbia liquor revenues showed an unexpected gain of 25 percent in both January and February, and 40 percent in March over the corresponding figures of last year, figures available today revealed.

Liquor estimates for the fiscal year commencing April 1, 1934, had been placed at $300,000 less than in the same period last year, but current indications are they will be up instead of down.

Thursday Deaths

(By The Canadian Press)

Toronto.—Col. Herbert Lennox, Conservative member of Parliament for North York, one of the most colorful figures in Canadian politics.

New York.—William H. Woodin, 65, former Secretary of the United States Treasury, head of the Treasury during the 1933 banking crisis.

London.—Viscount, Tredegar, 67, President of the National Union of Conservative and Unionist Associations and of the Royal Agricultural Society of London.

New York.—Harry H. Stevens, 78, well-known concessionaire at New York stadia and race tracks, who had built a $1,000,000 business from a $2 peanut stand.

Winnipeg.— Charles A. Vanderlip, promoter and manager of exhibitions and amusement parks in Winnipeg for many years and active in city politics.

Berlin.—Professor Friedlander, 84, historian of Germany songs and popular music.

Stratford.—John Purcell, 67, veteran postal service employee.

London, Ont. — Miss Anna Burges Shaw-Wood, 63, noted figure in charitable endeavors, the Canadian Red Cross Society, and church work.

There's Refreshing Health and Bubbling Vitality in every glass of Kkovah Salts for CONSTIPATION INDIGESTION BILIOUSNESS HEADACHES DIZZY SPELLS 20
KKOVAH SALTS
MAKE YOU FIT - KEEP YOU FIT

Featured for 10 Days Only
AT HEINTZMAN'S
Play-Day
ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE

With the family sized Porcelain Tub
$59.50 CASH
Or $5 Down and $5 a Month for 12 Months
This direct drive model, made to sell at a much higher price, will give years of service. It's strong, sturdy, quiet running mechanism is guaranteed for one year by the International Washer Co. It has a Standard ¼ H.P. motor, the soft cushion rolls of the wringer wring dry, it washes beautifully clean, it's full sized porcelain tub holds a large washing. Don't delay seeing it.
HEINTZMAN & CO.
PHONE 258 - ROYAL BANK BLDG.

COLLEGIATE CADET MESS ELECTS CLAYTON HEAD

Ways and means of improving the efficiency of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute Cadet Corps were recently discussed at a dinner meeting of the Mess.

Officers elected for the ensuing year by the Mess were as follows: Mess president, Jack Clayton; secretary-treasurer, Walter Perry.

Th function was well attended by members of P.C.I. Cadet Corps, as well as by a representation from Lindsay Collegiate Cadet Corps. toast list was as follows:

The King, proposed by W Ford; chairman's address, J. Claytos; Our Guests, proposed by H. Botnick, reply by Lt.-Colonel W. Gordon Hall, V.D.; The School and Principal, proposed by H. Marsh, reply by Principal H. R. H. Kenner; The Corps, proposed by J. Wood, reply by H. A. Craig, of the teaching staff, as corps instructor.

LOST HOPE — BUT INDIGESTION ENDED
By English Specialist's Formula

"It seems almost beyond belief," writes a Nottinghamshire man who had suffered for eight years with acute indigestion, "that for a paltry sum I had rid myself of such a terrible and painful complaint."

It was the formula of a London, England, Stomach Specialist, who has been studying and treating stomach ills for many years, that led to this remarkable recovery—a formula that is being used with great success in many English hospitals.

This formula, recently made available to Canadians following the attainment of huge sales in England, is known as Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Sufferers from Acidity, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Flatulence, Gastritis and stomach troubles generally, will find this powder a great help in ending pain and distress.

Ask your druggist for Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. It is sold in bottles, (powder or tablets), at 75¢, but never loose. To get the genuine, look for the signature, "Alex. C. Maclean." Sole Canadian distributors, Rigo Agencies, Toronto.

Home and School Association News

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL.

The regular meeting of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association was held in the Kindergarten room with a very large attendance. The president, Mr. Frost, in the chair.

The first item on the program was two beautifully rendered piano solos by Miss Muriel Moorhouse, followed by the secretary's report by Mrs. F. Patterson and the treasurer's report by Mrs. A. Spicer.

A whistling solo by Miss Mignon Mayneord was very much appreciated, as well as two vocal solos by Jack Gibson.

The roll call showed the largest attendance of parents of pupils in Miss Millburn's room.

Piano selections were rendered by Gale Kimberley, Jack Mason and Ruth Barry. These young musicians were warmly applauded.

Several recitations were given by pupils of Miss Millburn's room, each representing a Canadian tree.

A playette, "Betty in Dreamland," was presented by the pupils of Miss Wagar's room.

The membership convenor submitted an excellent report showing a large increase in membership as the result of a drive for a larger organization.

Mrs. N. Todd, the delegate to the Home and School Federation in Toronto, gave a splendid report of the proceedings and created an increased enthusiasm among the members.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

RELIEF WORK FOR GROVE BEFORE HE STARTS GAME

BOSTON, May 4 (AP).—Although Bob "Lefty" Grove can cut loose with his pitching arm without suffering even the slightest twinge nowadays, it will probably be some time before he starts another game for Boston Red Sox.

"Grove says he is feeling fine and raring to go," Manager Bucky Harris said yesterday, "but I have no idea when I will be able to start him. That does not mean, however, that I am not going to use him very soon, within the next few days if St. Louis Browns or Detroit Tigers force me to use a relief pitcher.

"I think that would be the best spot for Bob's return. Nine innings might be a bit too much for him just now, but both of us agree that a few doses of relief work will tell the story. He has never been in better shape, physically and mentally, and when he tells me he wants to go in, then in he goes."

SAVE ON Genuine Heavy Duty Tires
6-PLY 4-ply tires at still lower prices
ALL ARE GENUINE GOODYEARS WITH SAFE SPEEDWAY TRACTION
Size 4.40-21.. $6.40 | Size 5.00-19.. $8.85
Size 4.75-19.. $8.15 | Size 5.25-18.. $9.90
Plus Tax
Don't let this opportunity slip by! If you need new tires, or will need them soon, act now. You'll never get a better tire bargain than this.
Every tire made with Supertwist cords—fully guaranteed.
GOODYEAR
WATSON Tire & Radio Supply Co., Ltd.
GEORGE AND BROCK STS. PHONE 968

ROOSEVELT ANNOUNCES PLAN TO REBUILD ARMY, NAVY FORCES

All Branches, Including Air Force, to be Completely Modernized.

WILL SPEND MILLIONS.

By EDWARD L. RODDAN
Copyright, 1934
Central Press Canadian

WASHINGTON, May 4.—A thorough overhauling and complete modernization of Uncle Sam's military defences on land, sea and air is planned by President Roosevelt during his term in office, it was learned to-day.

The re-organization of the military and naval establishments will be gradual. Although he sees no need for undue haste, the chief executive is determined to get rid of outmoded defence units, antiquated training methods, and whatever else is found unsuited to the great task of making America impregnable to foreign attack.

The fact that glaring holes exist in the national defence structure is due, as the President knows from his experience in the World War and after, to the political considerations which crop up in Congress whenever modernization is suggested.

The air service has been singled out first for a thorough study of its needs and deficiencies because of the tragic experience of the army air corps in attempting to carry the mail. The failure of the air corps was due largely to the fact that it was called upon without sufficient preparation to perform a work with which it was unfamiliar, but the mail experience also provided valuable lessons. For the first time it brought home to the country in vivid fashion, the fact that army fliers were poorly equiped and lacking in necessary flying training.

Needs Re-organizing

The army is handicapped by other things besides lack of proper equipment. Some of the training fields designated by Congress after a great deal of political manoeuvring, are unsuited to be used for training purposes because of consistent fog or for other reasons. Until new sites are selected, the training of new pilots will continue to be hasardous.

The need for modernization is just as great in the artilery, coast defences, and other branches of the regular army. Many of the old-time posts have lost their usefulness and are retained merely because Congress insists upon keeping them. Likewise, several old-time forts along the eastern seaboard are maintained in operation, although their value as defence units is practicaly zero.

The navy is perhaps least encumbered with unwanted stations and defence plans, but a survey would be helpful in adapting its purposes to changing conditions, especially in the Pacific. The new building program, sponsored by the administration and authorized by Congress, is the first step in bringing the nation's "first line of defence" up to the efficiency point which the president wants it to maintain.

Brasil has authorized numerous projects for new railway construction.

CORONA
HOTEL
Ste. Catherine and Guy Sts.
MONTREAL
CANADA
(Next Door to His Majesty's Theatre)
Rates:
Single from $1.50
Double from $2.00
Suites from $4.00
GEO V. GREEN,
Managing Director.
THU.FRI.SAT.

WILBUR GLENN VOLIVA

Warning members of his community at Zion City, Ill., that he is a handy man with a pistol, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, leader of the Christian Apostolic church, carries two revolvers to discourage revolt against his administration. He is also fighting for control of Zion Industries, Inc., once valued at $10,000,000.

WOMAN SUES BANK FOR $7,000

Mrs. Georgena Speers Seeks to Recover Mortgage and Accrued Interest.

WESTERN FARM.

The vagaries of the weather along the wheat belt in Western Canada which frequently ruins crops year after year resulting in untold financial difficulties for once prosperous farmers forms the background for an action in the non-jury sessions of the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy in which Mrs. Georgena Speers, formerly of Yorkton, Saskatchewan, is suing the Bank of Toronto for $7,000, consisting of a mortgage and accrued interest.

Hearing of the mass of evidence in the case was concluded late yesterday afternoon and argument of the two counsel, Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., for Mrs. Speers, now a resident of this city, and J. W. Pickup, K.C., of Toronto, for the Bank of Toronto, was heard this morning.

Mrs. Speers brings the action to recover the money from the bank on the grounds that her signature, which appears on her husband's note to the bank in 1922, was forged and although she signed a mortgage on a quarter section of land owned by her as security for his indebtedness to the bank and has maintained interest payments on the mortgage through the years she received no benefits from the money originally borrowed by her husband from the bank. It is also set forth on her behalf that she signed the mortgage on her property under a mental strain through illness and without proper advice.

The bank maintains that there is no proof that the original note was not signed by Mrs. Speers and that the money borrowed by her husband did benefit her and that she has acknowledged her indebtedness by mortgaging her farm and maintaining the interest payments.

Give a Mortgage

Mrs. Speers testified in the case that she had purchased and owned a quarter section of land two miles from Yorktown and that her husband owned a half section a mile away. The home and farm buildings of the family where on her piece of land, and her husband farmed her land as he did his own.

While in bed on February 4, 1922, she was requested by her husband to go to the Bank of Toronto, where he did his banking, and sign a mortgage on her property to cover his indebtedness to the bank for approximately $4,000. She stated that she pointed out that she was unable to go but her husband explained that the bank manager had said that she must come and sign the mortgage. She did go to the bank and signed the mortgage, she testified. "I told them that if Mr. Speers owed the debt to the bank, I had right to help pay for it," she related.

The mortgage she gave to the bank did not represent any money she had received from the bank on her farm. After she had given the mortgage she renewed notes and made interest payments to the bank from monies received for crops off her land.

Not Her Signature

Mrs. Speers testified that the note, dated February 1, 1922, to the bank, which apparently carried her signature, did not carry her signature because she had never signed it nor been asked to sign it. In 1931, she said, the bank manager, then a Mr. Miller, informed her that the bank would accept $600 to close the note. Witness said she refused this proposition and the manager stated he would then have to follow orders and sell her farm.

Under cross-examination, Mrs. Speers said she did not sign the note, dated February 1, 1922, because she was sick in bed that day, and a few days later was removed to hospital where she underwent a serious operation. In meeting payments on her husband's note to the bank, she said she had given large portions of the crops from her farm annually, although some years there was little or no crop, had shared with the bank the funds from the sale of her chattels, and had also given the bank a large portion of the money she had received from her husband's life insurance.

Mrs. Lillian Speers Graham, of this city, daughter of the plaintiff, said that her father had always done all his own business and although reputed to be a successful farmer he had little business training. His wife and family were trained to do as he desired. She also testified as to her mother's serious illness in February, 1922, explaining that she was called home at the time.

Mrs. Agnes B. Hall, of Parry Sound, stated that as a child she had lived with the Speers at Yorkton. She also testified that Mr. Speers wishes were always followed by the household, and that Mrs. Speers always did what he directed.

Opening the defendant's case, William Andrew Stewart, manager of the Yorkton branch of the Bank of Toronto from 1924 to 1929, testified that from a comparison of the signature of Mrs. Speers it was his opinion that it was her true signature on the original note to the bank. He said that Mrs. Speers had periodically come to the bank and renewed the note to the bank and had made interest payments on it.

Vincent Eastwood, this city, after studying examples of Mrs. Speer's signature stated that he would accept the signature on the original note as hers.

NEW ORGANIST TO ST. ANDREW'S

Cyril Rice Has Been Appointed Organist and Choirmaster.

CONCERT ON MONDAY.

Cyril Rice has been appointed organist and choirmaster of St. Andrew's United Church, it is announced.

Mr. Rice although, quite a young man, is well known in musical circles and comes to this city with highest recommendations. For a number of years he held fame as a boy soloist and made several continental tours. Later he became soloist and assistant organist at the famous "Little Church Around the Corner" in New York City.

During the brief period that Mr. Rice has been here, he has shown marked ability in choir work and St. Andrew's choir should benefit greatly under his leadership. It is believed that he will be a decided adjunct to the musical life of the city.

On Monday, May 7, the choir will give a concert in the church under the direction of Mr. Rice. The program will include a number of part songs and glees by the choir mostly unaccompanied, while Mr. Rice will also render two group songs. The choir is to be assisted by several outstanding artists, including Hyman Goodman, first violinist Toronto Symphony Orchestra, who recently received great praise as soloist with the Symphony playing Mendelssohn concerts for violin; Agnes Logan Greene, solo pianist, who will play one group of numbers and will act as accompanist for Mr. Goodman; Mrs. Ross Williamson, soprano soloist of St. Andrew's Church, and Mrs. Cyril Rice who will be accompanist for the choir.

It is predicted that the program will be most interesting and enjoyable to all music lovers in the city and district.

UNCLE SAM SPENDS $14,000 A MINUTE

More Than Five Billion Since July 1st.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (A.P.).—The United States Government has been passing out an average of $14,000 every 60 seconds, day and night, for the past 10 months.

Government spending for the first 10 months of the present fiscal year has averaged $19,152,392.14 a day.

Against this expenditure it has collected a daily average of $8,184,154.89. This means that $10,968,237.25 of every day's expenditure is borowed.

In other words, for every $1 collected the government has spent $2.34 of which $1.36 went to emergency recovery expenditures. Since last July 1, the government expended in all about $5,822,427,211.

Congoleum Rugs at Comstock's . :

NEW 1934 PATTERNS TO CHEER UP YOUR HOME

6' x 9' $5.50
9' x 10½' 9.60
9' x 12' 11.00

We also have other sizes to suit any room.

Contest open to all. You may be lucky, so get your entry form from us to-morrow.

COMSTOCK'S

PHONE 156 - 300 GEORGE ST.

FREE

a Beautiful RUG For your Home

Special Offer

If you purchase a genuine Congoleum Gold Seal Rug during the period of the contest, and then prove the winner of the Prize Rug, you have the option of taking the Prize or having the full purchase price of the rug you have already bought returned to you.

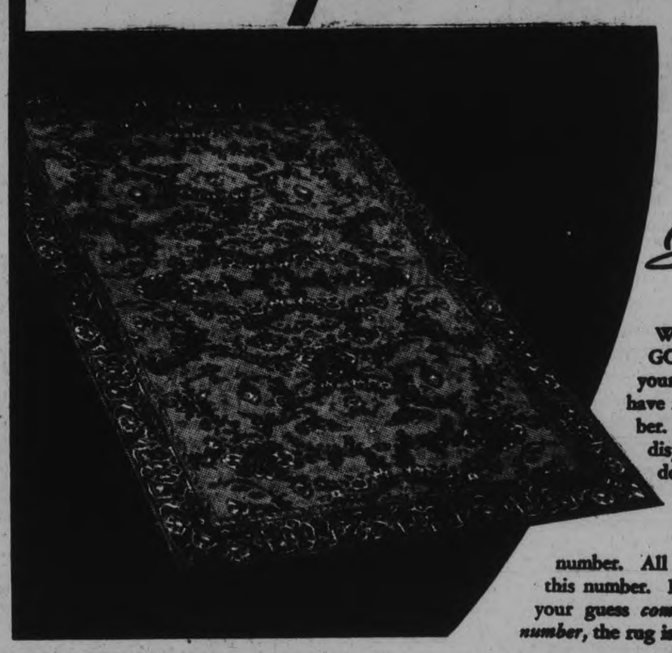
The Gold Seal

Note carefully that the Gold Seal shown below appears on the surface of all genuine Congoleum. It is the hall-mark of Canada's finest floor covering — your unqualified guarantee of satisfaction.

Made in Canada

Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs are made in Canada, by Canadians for Canadians.

This is Congoleum Gold Seal Rug "ALDEN" Pattern No. 678.



Would you like this beautiful CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUG for your home absolutely free? You can have it . . . by simply guessing a number. The rug shown here will be on display in your dealer's store window until next Saturday. Beneath the seal which identifies it as a genuine CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUG is a secret number. All you have to do is to guess this number. If you guess correctly or if your guess comes nearest to the correct number, the rug is yours absolutely free.

CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL Rugs

No Obligation to Buy

There is no obligation to buy anything. Entry into this contest is Free. Simply go into the store where you see the Prize Rug displayed, ask for an entry form and record your guess. The contest will positively close at noon next Saturday. At 4.30 p.m. the same day the winning number will be posted in the window where the rug is now displayed. There are no "strings" to this offer. Everybody stands the same chance. Think what owning this rug will mean to you. It is one of the famous 1934 CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUGS which are unmatched for beauty. It will give you astonishing service. It is sanitary, easy to clean, lies flat without fastening of any kind. And it can be yours absolutely free if you act now.

The full 1934 range of CONGOLEUM patterns will be on display at your dealer's, so take this opportunity of looking them over. They are the best investment in house furnishing you can make.

CONGOLEUM CANADA LIMITED - MONTREAL

LOCAL DEALERS IN CONGOLEUM RUGS

A COMPLETE LINE OF CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
D. BELLEGHEM & SONS
188 HUNTER STREET PHONE 85

A Wide Range of Congoleum Rugs
CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED
Watch for Prize Rug in Window.

LATEST PATTERNS AND SHADES IN CONGOLEUM RUGS
COMSTOCK'S
PHONE 156 300 GEORGE ST.

LET US SHOW YOU THE NEW CONGOLEUM RUGS
CAIN BROS.
178 HUNTER STREET PHONE 80

NEWEST—SMARTEST—CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
ROBERT FAIR & CO., LTD.
THE STORE OF DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

SPECIAL SHOWING OF CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
RICHARD HALL LIMITED
BEAUTIFUL PATTERNS Almost Every Conceivable Shade

SPECIAL VALUES IN CONGOLEUM RUGS AT HOME FURNISHING CO.
204-206 CHARLOTTE STREET. PHONE 1488

A CONGOLEUM RUG FOR EVERY PURPOSE AT McBRIDE & FRANKS
431 GEORGE STREET PHONE 2000

A Complete Line of Congoleum Rugs at
CHERNEY FURNITURE STORE
213 Charlotte Street. Phone 226

HUGGER SECURES GIRL

HAMILTON.—Police to-day were searching for the man who grabbed Malissa Thompson, 16, as she walked into the darkened sidedrive of her home last night, and kissed her several times, frightening the girl so badly she fainted and lay unconscious for nearly an hour before being discovered. Police and a doctor were called and the girl was found to have suffered a severe bruise in the fall to the cinder path. Officers searched the entire area for several hours but could not locate the hugger.

Toronto Defeats Albany Senators 6-4 to Even Series

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

The locker rooms this week rang with shouts of: "This is the first game of the season."

It was also my first try and only the 18 holes could have convinced me of the need for more practice.

Like the majority I thought that I'd drop into my old swing after a few holes. I found myself making mistakes that I haven't made since I first broke 80. Looking up to see where the ball was going before I even hit it.

Everywhere I looked players were making practice swings with their heads bobbing up. Then they were surprised when their heads came up in the swing.

With the damp ground your clubs gather mud and pieces of turf. It helps if you keep the clubface clean.

BRADMAN SCORES DOUBLE CENTURY

Australian Eleven Wins by an Inning and 297 Runs.

LONDON, May 4.—(C. P. Cable)—With sparkling batting and bowling that included a double century for the redoubtable Don Bradman, the touring Australians today overwhelmingly defeated Worcestershire, first-class county side, in the first engagement of their long tour in England this summer.

The Australians won by a full innings and 297 runs, aided by Bradman's brilliant innings of 206 and fine bowling by the veteran slow bowler, Clarence Grimmett, and young Bill O'Reilly, who is expected to be the mainspring of the attack against England.

Bradman compiled 206 runs in three and a half hours at bat— a shade under a run a minute, displaying every kind of stroke. Grimmett took a total of 9 wickets for 80 runs, and O'Reilly captured 4 for 26. Grimmett's second - innings bowling analysis showed 4 wickets for 27 runs in 15.3 over including seven maidens.

The scores: Worcestershire, 112 and 95; Australians, 504 (Bradman 206, W. M. Woodfull 48, W. A. Oldfield 67, Howarth 4 for 135).

Kent scored a decisive win by an innings and 35 runs today in the first county cricket match of the season, beating Glamorgan at Cardiff.

Scores were: Kent, 332 (W. H. Ashdown 109); Glamorgan, 95 and, following on 202 (A. P. Freeman 7 for 41 and 5 for 67, M. J. Turnbull 53.)

Closing scores in other matches: M.C.C., 142 (Patsy Hendren 81, E. R. Holmes 6 for 16, A. R. Gover 4 for 35) and 124 for 3; Surrey, 558 for 7, declared (Hobbs 50, Harry Squires 110, T. M. Barling 176, R. J. Gregory 99, H. M. Garland-Wells 79), at Lord's.

Cambridge, 248 (Bartlatt 55, Hargreaves 4 for 57); Yorkshire, 495 for 8 (Herbert Sutcliffe 182, T. A. Barber 103, Maurice Leyland 51, A. Mitchell 61, A. B. Sellers 52 not out), at Cambridge.

Oxford, 396 (Desaram 176, Mitchell-Innes 107) and 157 for 4; Gloucestershire, 276 (C. J. Barnett 59, B. J. Allen 70), at Oxford.

FRENCH MIDDLEWEIGHT WINS

PARIS, May 4. (AP). — Marcel Thil, French claimant of the world middleweight championship, won a 15-round match last night from the Belgian challenger, Gustave Roth. The bout was fairly even until the tenth when Roth began to weaken under Thie's heavy hitting. Thie piled up a decisive margin in the final rounds. Thie weighed 157½ pounds, Roth 157.

SCHOTT GAINS THIRD VICTORY

Senators Connect For 13 Hits But Toronto Hurler Effective in Pinches.

RED WINGS WIN AGAIN.

(By the Associated Press)

Alone of the clubs picked in preseason forecasts to battle it out for the International League pennant, Rochester Red Wings have played consistent, winning ball in the first two weeks of the campaign.

Support the best pitching of the loop with tight fielding and timely, if not especially heavy, batting, the Red Wings have pulled away to a comfortable lead over the rest of the field.

Beaten only three times, twice by 1-0 counts, Rochester hung up its 10th victory yesterday, a 4-1 conquest of the hapless Baltimore Orioles. Tony Kaufman was in form for the Red Wings, allowing only four hits. One of his four passes, to Abernathy in the fourth, produced the Orioles' lone run for Johnny Kroner followed with a double.

Gene Schott was walloped for 13 hits by the Albany Senators but was effective in the pinches and Toronto earned a 6-4 decision that strengthened their hold on second place. Ed Chapman's wildness—he walked eight men and made one wild pitch— was his own undoing.

Bisons on Comeback

Buffalo Bisons, showing further evidence of a comeback since their return to their own stadium, blasted out 10 runs against Newark Bears in the first six innings and then had to hold on grimly to win 10-8. George Milstead pitched effectively until the ninth when the Bears drove him to cover with a six-run rally.

Eleven runs in the sixth—the biggest scoring splurge of the season—gave Montreal Royals an easy 15-4 victory over Syracuse Chiefs. Ray Fritz, allowing only eight hits, had no troubles until the ninth when Syracuse counted three times. The Royals sent 14 men to the plate in the big sifth, gathering ten of their 14 hits in that frame.

Softball Schedule

SOUTH END LEAGUE

1st Half

May 7—Orioles vs. Nationals.
" 8—A.S.A.A. vs. Albions.
" Cogs vs. Orioles.
" 10—Nationals vs. A.S.A.A.
" 14—Albions vs. Cogs.
" 15—Orioles vs. A.S.A.A.
" 18—Nationals vs. Albions.
" 21—A.S.A.A. vs. Cogs.
" 23—Albions vs. Orioles.
" 25—Cogs vs. Nationals.
" 28—Nationals vs. Orioles.
" 30—Albions vs. A.S.A.A.
June 1—Orioles vs. Cogs.
" 4—A.S.A.A. vs. Nationals.
" 6—Cogs vs. Albions.
" 8—A.S.A.A. vs. Orioles.
" 11—Albions vs. Nationals.
" 13—Cogs vs. A.S.A.A.
" 15—Orioles vs. Albions.
" 18—Nationals vs. Cogs.

2nd Half

June 22—A.S.A.A. vs. Albions.
" 25—Orioles vs. Nationals.
" 27—Cogs vs. Orioles.
" 29—Nationals vs. A.S.A.A.
July 4—Albions vs. Cogs.
" 6—Orioles vs. A.S.A.A.
" 9—Nationals vs. Albions.
" 11—A.S.A.A. vs. Cogs.
" 13—Albions vs. Orioles.
" 16—Cogs vs. Nationals.
" 18—Albions vs. A.S.A.A.
" 20—Nationals vs. Orioles.
" 23—Orioles vs. Cogs.

First named team is home team.

Postponed games are to be played on the first open Tuesday or Thursday night. First team in each half to play a two-out-of-three game series, the winners then meet in each half will also play a three-game series, the winers then meeting for the league championship in a three-out-of-five game series. All games start at six o'clock.

HOLD FENCING LAURELS

NEW YORK, May 4. (AP). — United States fencers retained the Col. Robert M. Thompson Trophy against the British team in a three-day international series completed last night.

The Americans, leading 34 to 30 after the foils and epee competition, won the sabres division, 20-12, to win the series by the decisive margin of 54 to 42.

Cards Triumph Over Phillies For 5th Straight

WHERE'S TROPHY, BIG SEARCH ON

Moncton Hawks Have Not Received Cup Won in Contest With Detroit.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.)—Lost—a magnificent $1,500 mounted silver trophy donated 10 years ago by Hamilton B. Wills, Toronto sports enthusiast, for competition between champion amateur hockey teams of Canada and the United States.

The Monction Hawks won the honor this year, when the series was revived after 10 years, but the mark of the honor is missing. By their decisive victory over the Detroit White Stars the Hawks are entitled to the prize if and when it can be located. Even the donor is unable to say where it is.

It was pride in the achievements of the great Toronto Granite team, Olympic champions of 1924, that prompted Mr. Wills to donate the trophy that year. Dunc Munro, Hughey Fox, Hooley Smith and Bert McCaffery were among the hockeyists of note in that famous line-up.

It was arranged a Granite team should go to Boston to contest with a team from that city for the trophy. Various things interfered, however, and the Granites could not get away. Montreal sent a team to Boston, however. The Canadians were defeated and the trophy was forwarded to that city.

Then the series was discontinued, and the trophy dropped out of sight. The hockey authorities on both sides of the line are conducting a search for it.

DELORO SPORTSMEN ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

F. Leal to Head Amateur Athletic Association for 1934.

MARMORA, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—At the annual meeting of Deloro Amateur Athletic Association held in Deloro Hall on Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—F. Leal.
Vice-President—W. Simmons.
Secretary - Treasurer — J. McCrodan (re-elected).
Managers: Baseball—W. Simmons (re-elected). Tennis—M. Carrigan. Bowling—D. Robertson (re-elected). Hockey—T. Cousins (re-elected). Playgrounds — No appointment. Football—No appointment. Auditor —C. R. Quinn (re-elected).

Nearly all lines of sport showed a small profit on last year's operations, and in the case of the others the deficit was small.

Wrestling Last Night

(By the Canadian Press.)

Toronto—Joe Malcewicz 203, Utica, N.Y., defeated Earl McCready 235, Amulet, Sask, 39:58. (McCready unable to continue after first fall).

Camden, N.J.— Joe Savoldi 200, Three Oaks, Mich., defeated Rudy Dusek 215, Omaha, two falls to one.

Albany, N.Y.— Jim Londos, St. Louis, defeated Len Macaluso, East Aurora, N.Y., 52:10 (Macaluso unable to continue after first fall.)

As early as the sixteenth century toast formed a favorite addition to English drinks, especially sack and punch.

The halibut is the largest and most important of the flat fish.

Important Matches On Closing Program

LONDON, May 4.—(C. P. Cable)—The long soccer season ends in England Saturday—a week later than the Scottish—and some of the very last games will be all-important to a number of clubs.

Preston North End, Bolton Wanderers and Brentford are still fighting for the right to accompany Grimsby Town from the Second to the First Division next season. Bolton Wanderers have an easy task with Lincoln City, the tail-enders. Preston, tied with Bolton on points and slightly behind on goal average, travel to Southampton. Brentford, a point below the other two, also has a difficult away match at Bury.

Manchester United and Millwall clash on the former's grounds in a match that will decide which team will do its playing in the Third Division next autumn, going down from the second alongside Lincoln City. A win or Millwall will send the United down; a win for the United will put Millwall down on goal average under Swansea Town.

In the third northern the championship is still open—along with the right to get up into the Second Division for the winning team. Stockport County, now two points behind the deadlocked Chesterfield and Barnsley, have a great chance of making the grade.

Home Run Kings

Home runs yesterday—McManus, Braves, 1; Berger, Braves, 1; Jackson, Giants, 1; Allen, Phillies, 1; Medwick, Cardinals, 1.

The Leaders—Klein, Cubs, 6; Ott, Giants, 6; Hartnett, Cubs; 5; Foxx, Athletics, 4; Bonura, White Sox, 4; Allen, Phillies, 4; Allen, Phillies, 4; Medwick, Cardinals, 4.

League totals—National, 75; American, 58; total, 133.

GIANTS IMPROVE POST BY DEFEATING PIRATES

Travis Jackson Accounts for New York Runs With Triple and a Homer.

CUBS LOSE 6-0.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

St. Louis Cardinals, riding the crest of a hitting wave, apparently have begun to justify some of the predictions made for them before the National League season started.

After losing seven of their first nine games and probably causing Manager Frankie Frisch to tear several hairs from his somewhat scanty thatch, the Cards began hitting and coming back last Sunday. An 8-7 triumph over the Phillie yesterday made it five in a row in this spurt and gave them a .500 average.

In the course of this streak they have collected 60 hits and 34 runs to make victories possible although only one pitcher has gone the route. Yesterday's contribution was 11 blows off Phil Collins of which Joe Medwick, young leader of this clouting parade, collected two singles and his fourth home run of the campaign.

Cubs Lose, 6-0

The St. Louis winning streak, while it has improved the Cards' standing considerably, hasn't won them a first division berth so far. Boston Braves, the only team they had a chance to oust from the top four yesterday, came through with a smashing 6-0 victory over Chicago Cubs and went into a tie with the defeated Pittsburgh Club a half game ahead of the Cards.

Ed (Butch) Brandt added to the southpaw plague that has bothered the Cubs recently by holding the Chicago sluggers to two puny singles to shut them out for the first time.

Strengthen Position

New York Giants, led by Travis Jackson, improved their position at the top of the standing by defeating the Pirates 5-3. Jackson accounted for four runs with a triple with loaded sacks and a homer while Herman Bell hurled some good relief ball after Watson Clark had made a weak start.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati battled through seven scoreless innings before the Dodgers got to Ray Kolp for three runs, enough to win 3-2, in the eighth. Johnny Moore's triple, one of five hits off Ray Benge, brought in both Red allies in the same innings.

Rain wiped out all four American League games, leaving for to-day the eastern openings with Cleveland at Washington, Chicago at Philadelphia, Detroit at New York and St. Louis at Boston.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press).

Ed Brandt, Braves—Shut out Cubs with two hits.

Danny Taylor, Dodgers — Knocked in two runs with single in rally that beat Reds.

Herman Bell, Giants — Gave Pirates only five hits in six innings of relief pitching.

Joe Medwick, Cardinals—Batted in five runs against Phillies with home and two singles.

ASSAULT CHARGE LAID

CHATHAM, Ont., May 3. (CP).—The 15-year-old lad against whom a charge of assault was preferred yesterday as the result of an altercation at the Bloomfield School, Raleigh Township, during which Bobby Copley, 14, had both arms fractured at the elbows, will appear in court to-morrow morning.

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C
Rochester	10	3	.769
Toronto	7	4	.637
Newark	9	7	.563
Syracuse	6	5	.546
Montreal	7	7	.500
Albany	5	6	.455
Baltimore	4	10	.286
Buffalo	4	10	.236

Yesterday's Results.

Toronto 6, Albany 4.
Buffalo 10, Newark 8.
Montreal 15, Syracuse 4.
Rochester 4, Baltimore 1.

Games to-day: Newark at Buffalo; Syracuse at Montreal; Baltimore at Rochester; Albany at Toronto.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C
New York	8	5	.615
Cleveland	6	4	.600
Detroit	7	5	.583
Washington	7	7	.500
Boston	6	7	.462
St. Louis	5	6	.455
Philadelphia	6	8	.429
Chicago	4	7	.364

Yesterday's Results.

All games postponed—Rain.

Games to-day: Chicago at Philadelphia; Cleveland at Washington; Detroit at New York; St. Louis at Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	11	3	.786
Chicago	10	5	.667
Pittsburg	7	6	.538
Boston	7	6	.538
St. Louis	7	7	.500
Brooklyn	6	8	.429
Philadelphia	4	9	.308
Cincinnati	3	11	.214

Yesterday's Results

Brooklyn 3, Cincinnati 2.
Boston 6, Chicago 0.
New York 5, Pittsburg 3.
St. Louis 8, Philadelphia 7.

Games today: Boston at Chicago; Brooklyn at Cincinnati; New York at Pittsburg; Philadelphia at St. Louis.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Minneapolis	10	3	.769
Indianapolis	8	5	.615
Kansas City	7	6	.538
Toledo	6	6	.500
Louisville	6	7	.462
Columbus	5	7	.417
Milwaukee	5	8	.385
St. Paul	4	9	.308

Yesterday's Results

xKansas City, 5 Toledo 3.
x 10 innings.
Columbus 4, Milwaukee 1.
Indianapolis 5, St. Paul 3.
Minneapolis 6, Louisville 1.

Games to-day: Kansas City at Toledo; Minneapolis at Louisville; St. Paul at Indianapolis; Milwaukee at Columbus.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By the Associated Press.)

Paterson, N.J. — Vince Dundee 157, middleweight champion, outpointed Al Diamond 155½, Paterson (15); retained title.

Paris, France—Marcel Thil 157½, France, outpointed Gustave Roth 157, Belgium.

St. Louis— Clyde Chastain 174, Oklahoma, outpointed Al Stillman 171, St. Louis (10).

Dallas—Cowboy Eddie Anderson, 141, El Paso, outpointed Frankie Graham 136, Oklahoma City (10).

Need Any Golf Clothes For That Week End Game This Week?

SHIRTS

The always popular white "Golfer" style with collar attached. All sizes 1.95

FLANNELS

We are featuring grey-white and blue green flannels with the new side buckles. Also the new washable gabardine slacks $2.25 up.

SWEATERS

Both sleeve and sleeveless styles in a variety of shades and patterns. See the new "Prince of Wales weave." $1.50 up.

"Quality costs such a little more."

AL. SHARPE

Gentlemen's Wearing Apparel

326 GEORGE ST.

CLEM LOUGHLIN IS REPORTED AS CHICAGO HAWKS' NEW COACH

Former Winnipeg, Victoria and Detroit Star Rumored to Lead World's Champions on Gorman's Retirement—Coached London Tecs to Two Titles.

By Central Press Canadian

WINNIPEG, May 4. — When Tommy Gorman, who guided the Chicago Black Hawks to their first Stanley Cup triumph, announced recently that he would not return to the "Windy City" next year, he set the hockey world buzzing with rumors of just who would succeed him as coach of the world champions. Some said that Frank Patrick would get the job. Others that Lionel Conacher or Helge Bostrum held the inside track.

Now comes the apparently well-founded information that none other than Clem Loughlin will lead the swooping Hawks during the 1934-35 race. According to reliable information received in this city, Loughlin, while in Winnipeg last week, received a hurry-up call from Major Frederick McLaughlin to come to Chicago and talk the matter over. What happened only time will tell.

The selection of Loughlin would certainly be welcome news to western Canada and Winnipeg and Vancouver hockey fans in particular. Loughlin first gained fame as a clever defenceman with the Winnipeg Monarchs of a number of years ago. After a most successful career in amateur ranks he jumped to the professional company with Victoria Cougars of the Pacific Coast league. In 1925 he was still a member of that team when they defeated Canadiens to win the Stanley cup.

Played Under Lester Patrick

Numbering among his teammates were such hockey-greats as Frank Frederickson, who later went on to gain a great name for himself with Boston in the National Hockey League, Harry Holmes, Jocko Anderson and Frank Foyston. The team was managed by Lester Patrick.

After the Pacific Coast league disbanded, Loughlin next wore the sweater of Detroit. It was with the present day Red Wings, but then the Cougars, that Loughlin wound-up his active hockey career.

With his playing days over, Loughlin was soon given a job as boss of the London Tecumsehs of the International League. He has done well by himself and the London club since he took to coaching and has guided the Tecs to two championships in the past two years.

Taking him all round, Loughlin is a shrewd student of the great Canadian pastime and if given the chance he may take up the torch where Tommy Gorman left of.

The Loire is the longest river of France, having a length of 620 miles.

PENMANS

Knitted Outerwear

Cleverly patterned ... smartly styled ... with that easy-fitting comfort that means so much in sport.

. . . wherever well-dressed men congregate

You'll like these new Summerweights "by Brock". Smartly styled in velvety lightweight felts . . . just the hat for the bright days of early summer.

HATS BY Brock

WOLTHAUSEN, BROCKVILLE
Hatters to Gentlemen for over Half a Century

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

Bullough's Campanula Wins Newmarket Classic

CAPITOL

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY 2.30 - 7.00 - 9.00

A GREAT WEEK-END PROGRAM!
Excitement! Thrills! Love!

ADDED FOR LAUGHTER

OLIVER HARDY and STAN LAUREL —in— 'Oliver the 8th'

This is a Scream!
Their Funniest Comedy of the Season!
Also "SONG HITS BY ROY TURK"

MATINEES ONLY • Another Thrilling Chapter RIN-TIN-TIN JR. in "WOLF DOG"

EVEN MONEY ODDS LOUGHRAN BATTLE

Blonde Walter Neusel Meets Former Light Heavy Champion To-night.

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — They're feeding another young and aggressive heavyweight to Tommy Loughran at Madison Square Garden to-night—blonde Walter Neusel of Germany.

For a time it looked as though the Philadelphia veteran would be a short-ender at 8 to 5, but the odds were shrinking rapidly to-day and indications were they would be at even money by the time the former light heavyweight champion and his youthful rival enter the ring for their ten-round bout.

Neusel packs a fairly healthy wallop, is hard to hurt and has plenty of strength and stamina, but veteran critics doubt whether he is ready yet for such a master craftsman as Loughran.

Both Primo Carnera, heavyweight champion, and Max Baer, who'll fight Primo for the title here June 14, think Tommy will win; Baer emphatically so.

"Loughran wil blind the Dutchman," said Max. "He pokes left hands into your face until you begin to think someone's trying to smother you with a leather blanket. I'd like to how as much as that fellow's forgotten about boxing.

Loughran gave Baer the worst licking of his life here three years ago.

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS.
HALL & CARLE — Barristers, solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephone: Office No. 68. R. R. Hall, K.C., residence No. 602 T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No 3086.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND, K.C., M.P.P. — Barrister, Solicitor Notary Public, Peterborough. Phone 191. Money to Loan. 378 Water Street.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors, and Notaries. Office: 416 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1590. E. A. Peck M.P., P. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

GORDON & ELLIOTT — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Patents and Trade Marks. Money to Loan. Telephone 3800. — Hon. G. H. Gordon, K.C., Alexander L. Elliott, Toronto Telephone Number Main 6383. Office: 410 Saturday Night Building.

14-DAY MEETING FORT ERIE PLANT

Canadian Racing Association Allots Dates for Season.

TORONTO, May 4.—At a meeting of the Incorporated Canadian Racing Association yesterday applications for licenses were dealt with and racing dates for the season were allotted. The Niagara Racing Association, operating at Fort Erie, was the only club to take advantage of the new government regulations permitting the staging of one meeting of 14 days, instead of two of seven days. Fort Erie will operate from July 4 to July 19.

Racing Dates.

The racing dates are as follows:
Ontario Jockey Club, Woodbine Park—May 19-May 26.
Thorncliffe Park Racing Association—May 28-June 4.
Hamilton Jockey Club, Hamilton—June 26-July 3.
Niagara Racing Association, Fort Erie—July 4-July 19.
Hamilton Jockey Club, Hamilton—Aug. 4-Aug. 11.
Thorncliffe Park Racing Association—Sept. 8-Sept. 15.
Ontario Jockey Club, Woodbine Park—Sept. 22-Sept. 29.

Exhibition Softball Saturday Afternoon

An exhibition men's softball game will be played at three tomorrow afternoon on Central grounds between Brintons and Nationals, the latter a Southend League team. Boney Kitchen and Abbott will twirl for the City League entry. All players wanting a chance to catch on with Brintons should be on hand, as this will be the last chance between the team is signed up.

CRICKET

The following players are requested to be present at the Oval to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2.15 o'clock: W. Binks, J. Chamberlain, F. Dyer, J. Gore, G. Langhorne, J. Lawrence, R. Mawhood, D. Mitchell, E. Salisbury, R. N. Stuart, Walton, and T. Williams.

CAPITOL 4-DAYS-4 Mon. - Tues. - Wed. Thurs.

A Production That Dwarfs the Greatest Shows of the Past!

. . . THE SHOW EVENT OF EVENTS!

3d

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse, Soccer Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

It seems to us a very sad thing indeed the way all those teams are not fighting to get into the East Peterborough Baseball League this year. You'd think it was an epidemic ward or something. Of course, the baseball boys will see that something is done down that direction this year, but they ought to sort of make up their minds this side of July 1st. With all those folks down around the south-end back to work again, the old E.P.L. should be clicking like bargain day at a brewery this summer—and shekels rolling in by the wheel-barrow load! First-class grounds are available at the Exhibition Park, there are more ball players than ever around—in fact nothing is needed but some action toward organizing teams.

• • • • • • •

If that loop ever curled up this year, along with a flock of other people we'd feel decidedly lost several nights a week through June and July. We'd miss those hectic battles which prevailed last year especially. We'd miss those beautiful draggy bunts of Doug Hatton as the C.G.E. catcher went hammering down to first like Riskulus might do in the coming Kaintuck Dubby. And what about those wicked smashing clouts of Doug Moore that made the fielders climb on their bikes and go for a ride? And remember how Fred Hickey, who could look Da Preem Carnera in the eye, used to gracefully hop five feet more in the air to spear a wild heave? Not forgetting either Rooke's digging into the dirt with uncanny accuracy to spear one headed for China. And the way Len Hollingsworth, the Jones boys, Red Dallin and the others would chase fly balls all over creation and generally nail 'em too.

• • • • • • •

And we certainly can't forget Lefty Billingsley. The lanky Cog forkaider would slowball 'em to death, occasionally crossing a startled batter up by tossing one by his whiskers faster than it takes a kid to scram these days when he sees a carpet hanging over the clothes-line! The way he used to nick runners off first base was a downright shame. His "surprise throw" to first not only surprised the runner but often surprised the firstbaseman, too. And sometimes the batter would half-swing and the umps would start to say "Ball", before they'd realize the spalding was over around first. More guys were caught flatfooted on Lefty's sudden step and heave to the initial sack than there are fallen arches in a police parade. In fact, we've often wondered if Lefty himself wasn't a little surprised at where he tossed the ball!

• • • • • • •

Then, there was Percy Vannest and his smoke ball that had the batters up to their knees in the water bucket. And Jeff Hardill curving the sphere around opposing bats and looking extremely disgusted when the umps guessed wrong. Yeah, and a flock of other good ball players, with more coming up this year. What about 'em? Do they have to play scrub ball this summer, or stay out of sports, or maybe wind up by trying softball? C.G.E. and possibly Cogs are willing to play this year, but what about Fosters, Crescents, or Raybestos or some of those other live spots where the diamond stars abound. They'll have a meeting next Tuesday and we hope something definite and encouraging comes out of it.

• • • • • • •

We are being criticised by the sports' writer-upper in Kingston—and to a lesser extent by our Oshawa sparring mate—for drinking tea. Seems they consider it a pansy drink. Though, by that token, one wouldn't swear that they didn't gumzle the odd mug of Salada themselves! Besides, we've got to have some sort of beverage for working hours while waiting for the election. The Oshawa chap concludes his remarks thusly: "However, we think the Liftlock City writer is right about his 'call' for the King's Plate. We are living in the wrong city to come right out and say so—it might be mistaken for disloyalty—but this time we think 'Madame' was right." But we doubt if the fact that both Madame Mollee LaMurphy and the Oshawa sports' scribe think the Oshawa hoss, Horometer, will not cop this race May 17th will scare the lads who lay their dough around these parts to any great extent.

• • • • • • •

Tommy ("Bing") Miller, playing-manager of the C.G.E. entry in the Men's Softball League, is worrying about his pitching staff. Fred Martin is the only hurler he has yet, but he figures on getting a couple more shortly. He should be okay then. The Electrics worked out at Central last evening and something like thirty were present. Several other good prospects couldn't make it owing to work. Bernie Ashmore and Cliff Cadd will likely do the catching for C.G.E., while some of the infielders are F. Jones, Weese, Les Calladine, Mel Starr, Fleming and Newson. Outfielders on hand last eve included Miller, Sproule, Len Hollingsworth and Gardner. There is plenty of offensive and defensive strength there, but another good twirler or two is needed before this team will stack up well on paper with others in the loop.

• • • • • • •

Petes' senior baseball opening practise is at two o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon in the Exhibition Grounds. Every player wanting a tryout should be on hand with spikes and gloves—or come anyway, if you haven't these things. Knotty Lee wants plenty of material to select his '34 squad from, and it'll likely require several workouts before he starts signing 'em up. This workout is open to every ball player in town, or surrounding district, and it's up to those with senior ball ambitions to hustle out and battle for a place. No one is going to coax them out, and they can't kick later and say, "We didn't get a chance." A number of new players were signed up last year, kids without previous experience in the C.O.B.L. The same thing will happen against this season, if the lads rate it.

• • • • • • •

Vin McQuaide and Mickey Compeau left Kingston the other day for Brockville, and it looks like they'll play ball for the latter town this summer. The Ponies will miss 'em plenty, especially McQuaide. He was their star right-fielder and led the whole league in hitting last season. Compeau was good in spots, and had a lot of color. Down in Kingston they're beginning to realize was it means to the Ponies with these players seeking greener pastures, but hope to fill in with Tommy Boyd at short and George Clarke in right. Both are fair fielders and get quite a few base-hits every year. Brockville is also importing three stars from St. Thomas, including Lefty Weeks — dandy southpaw who wanted to come here this year. Quinn of Kingston may yet wind up in Brockville.

• • • • • •

Sport shorts: Normal plays All-Stars at eight, and Thistles meet Capitals at nine in 'Y' cage games Sat'day eve to end their schedule . . . . C.G.E. five-pin bowlers are waiting for word from the 'Y' team as to when the 'city championship' series begins . . . . City Baseball League is grateful for the five-dollar donation yesterday by Silverwood's Dairy, the money being "in aid of junior ball" . . . . May 9th (next Wednesday) is the date of the next City Loop meeting, and prospective teams should be ready to enter by that date . . . . Some of the men's softball teams are being criticized here and there for loading up with pitchers, but they'll likely have their grief later when the twirlers get jealous of each other and star scrapping over who pitches what game!

RALPH'S TERRIERS

Herb Ralph has called a practise for the Juvenile Terriers on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Oval. All prospective players are asked to attend.

QUICK PRINTING SERVICE Modern Plant

LIGHT BROCADE SECOND IN FIELD

Veteran Steve Donoghue Rides Butt's "Spend a Penny" to Third Hole.

ONE OF TURF'S BIG 5.

NEWMARKET, England, May 4 (CP Cable).—Sir George Bullough's good three-year-old filly Campanula to-day won the classic One Thousand Guineas Stakes over the mile course here.

Lord Durham's Light Brocade was second, and Sir Alfred Butt's Spend a Penny, ridden by the veteran Steve Donaghue, was third in the 120th running of the historic event—one of the turf's five classics for three-year-olds.

Campanula scored her fourth consecutive victory since two defeats at the start of her racing career last year.

Nine ran, the race being worth approximately $30,000.

Dominating the fillies just as Colombo dominates the colts, Sir George's beautiful Daughter of Bladford, out of Vesper Bell, was odds on choice at 2 to 5. Light Brocade was 100 to 6 against, Spend a Penny 100 to 9. As on the Two Thousand Wednesday, there was special place betting in which Light Brocade was 3 to 1 and Spend a Penny 5 to 4.

Major Leaders

(By the Associated Press.)
(Including Yesterday's Games.)

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Batting—Allen, Phillies, .385; Ott, Giants, .383.

Runs—Klein, Cubs, and Vaughan, Pirates, 15.

Runs Batted In—Klein, Cubs, and Medwick, Cardinals 15.

Hits— Moore. Giants 23; Leslie, Dodgers, Berger, Barves, Allen, Phillies, Medwick and Martin, Cardinals, 20.

Doubles— Ryan, Giants, 7; English, Cubs, and Berger, Braves, 6.

Triples—Suhr, Pirates, 3; Lindstrom, Pirates, 3, Herman, Cubs, and Collins, Cardinals, 2.

Home Runs— Ott, Giants, and Klein, Cubs, 6.

Stolen Bases—Martin and Rothrock, Cardinals, Piet, Reds, Frey, Dodgers, and Chiosza, Phillies, 2.

Pitching—Bush, Cubs, 4-0; Hubbell, Giants, 3-0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Unchanged from yesterday.

The greens committee are certainly cashing in on this week of fine weather. They have a number of men working on the greens and tennis courts, and a big improvement is already noticed.

× × ×

Now the boys need not worry about the greens being in shape. They will be good by May 24th.

× × ×

But what we now want is a little more interest on the part of some of the skips. You know the last date for accepting the personnel of the rinks is rapidly getting near—May 16.

× × ×

The committee can not do it all, and if your name is left out of the schedule book—why just look in the mirror for the answer. So we are asking on behalf of the membership committee if the boys will just put a little extra push into this game for the next week, why there will be no trouble getting our full quota of rinks.

Canadians Increase Lead In Bikeathon

TORONTO, May 4.—(CP)—Torchy Peden and Jules Audy, Canadian leaders in Toronto's six-day bicycle race has increased their lead over Charlie Winter, New York, and Frank Bartell, Newark, to 72 points at 8 o'clock this morning. Reggie Fielding, Toronto, and Laurent Gadou, Montreal, were tied with the leading teams in mileage but were far behind in points.

8 a.m. standing:

	Miles	Laps	Pts.
Peden-Audy	1621	3	576
Winter-Bartell	1621	3	504
Fielding-Gadou	1621	3	393
McNamara-Rush	1621	1	507
MacDonald-Zach	1621	1	391
Boucheron-Mouton	1621	1	291
Vankempen-Ottevaire	1620	8	278
Petri-Beckman	1620	3	499
Van Steambrouck-Lepage	1620	3	385

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

Last Times To-night 7 and 9
"FASHIONS FOR 1934"
with
Bette Davis, William Powell, etc.

STARTING SATURDAY

GUN-PLAY AND GANG-PLAY

A fearless gunner of the open spaces clashes with modern gangsters and shows them new tricks about their own racket.

FOX FILM presents
ZANE GREY'S
The LAST TRAIL
with
George O'BRIEN
CLAIRE TREVOR
EL BRENDEL
LUCILLE LA VERNE
Screen play by Stuart Anthony
Directed by James Tinling

PERILS OF PAULINE THE INVENTORS

Two Matinees, at 1.15 and 3.15 p.m.
SATURDAY
CHILDREN 10c ADULTS 25c
Complete show at each performance and prizes for the lucky boys and girls.

ENJOY A SHOWER and a SWIM
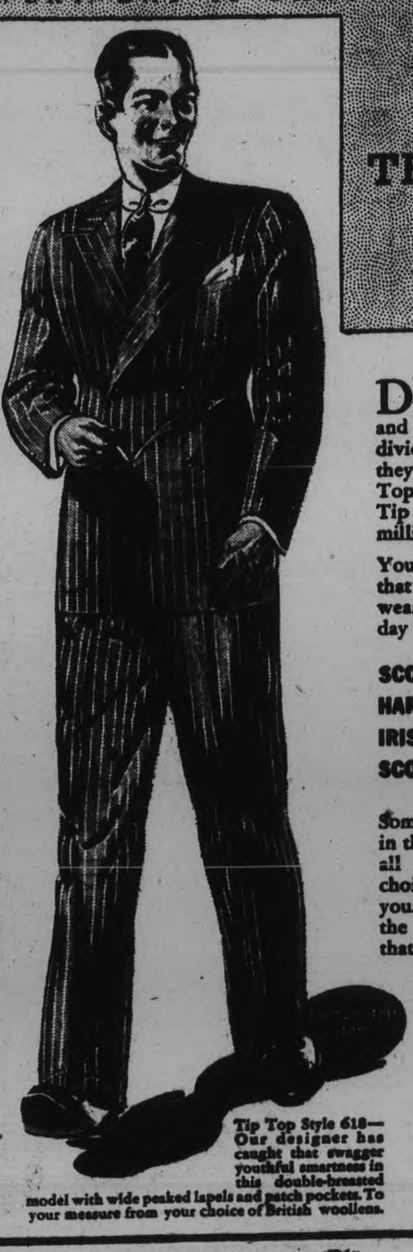
EVERY DAY AT THE
Y.M.C.A.
At a remarkably low cost. Healthful—Refreshing—Invigorating. Special summer rates now in effect.

BEAVER MEADOW CLUB RE-ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

The Beaver Meadow Golf Club has re-organized for the outdoor season and work has begun already on the greens. Temporary greens will be ready for this week-end, when players and visitors will be welcomed — no green fees being charged. Both the fairways and greens have come through the winter in excellent shape, and the club should prove more popular than before this year. Information may be had by phoning 735J.

Officers elected for 1934 are: President, Robert Simmons; vice-president, T. J. Pitchford; secretary-treasurer, P. G. Pirie; executive members, Alex Gollitt and R. D. Taylor.

EVERY DAY IS BARGAIN DAY AT TIP TOP TAILORS



YOU CAN TAKE THESE SPRING FABRICS TO THE LIGHT

DURING the past two or three years a lot of men have been buying their clothes in the dark—"no-name" suits and topcoats at so-called bargain prices. And when they have divided that price by the number of days' satisfactory wear, they have found that "sale prices" are not so alluring. Tip Top Tailors have no "sales"—every day is bargain day at Tip Top Tailors—a name that has satisfied more than a million buyers.

You have a wide range of choice of beautiful British woollens that you can take to the light. They'll wear and wear and wear, and hold their smartly tailored shape until the last day of service.

SCOTCH TWEEDS
HARRIS TWEEDS
IRISH DONEGALS
SCOTCH HOMESPUNS
WEST OF ENGLAND WORSTEDS
BRITISH SPORTING FLANNELS
BOTANY SERGES
SAXONYS

Some conservative, some boldly patterned, in the new shades of blue, grey, brown—all particularly Spring-like. Make your choice—have it hand-cut and tailored to your individual measurements in one of the new single or double-breasted styles that are being worn this spring.

Your Unrestricted Choice AT ONE PRICE $23.50

All Union Labor Employed

Tip Top Style 618—Our designer has caught that swagger youthful smartness in this double-breasted model with wide peaked lapels and patch pockets. To your measure from your choice of British woollens.

Tip Top Tailors

329 GEORGE ST. PHONE 3415
W. K. SLOANE, Mgr.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Miss Viola Murry,
Lakefield, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on sample for analysis shows that you are of a very undecided nature. You are rather given to exaggerate your own powers at times and belittle them at others. You are a creature of moods and prefer to be left alone many times when you could enjoy the company of others. You are not very determined about anything though you have at times a propensity for leadership but always at the last moment seem to lack sufficient will-power to enable you to put your 'best foot forward' and show what you can do. You have talent and you are idealistic and romantic. I thing you could find self-expression in dramatic art as a hobby. This would force you to act against you will and create a desire to really do something worth while. Clubs where many different types of people congregate are essential to one of your type, although you may not wish to attend them now. You would derive much pleasure from them if you could see your way clear to become a member and thereby gain self-confidence and poise. Your number is 7. Your birthsign is Capricorn the Goat. You are ruled by Saturn. Your best months are March and November and your lucky days are Tuesday and Saturday.

Miss Bernice Lynch,
114 Robinson St., Peterborough.

The handwriting as indicated on sample for analysis indicates that you are quite energetic at times yet you appear to put off things till the last possible moment. Then you spur yourself on with a mental whip and try to make up for lost time. This is all very well as long as you are not engaged upon some important work, but if you were, you would have to take more time in which to think properly before you rush ahead as you seem to have a faculty for doing. The uneven size of your small letters shows plainly that you are changeable, and that you do not quite know your own mind. The capitals denote a tendency to dramatize yourself so that you appear glamorous and forceful to others. You see, you want to impress people through your personality, and in doing so you become temperamental. The body of your writing shows that at times you are too direct and dogmatic, and that you grasp new ideas slowly and cautiously. This tendency is noteworthy in that it contradicts some of the other characteristics. You see, you appear not to want to grasp new ideas till they seem to be your own. You are skpetical about anything which you have not tried yourself. Your number is 3. Your birthsign is Scorpio the Scorpion. You are ruled by Mars. Your best months are January and July, and your luck day is Tuesday.

Ruth Fee,
Lindsay, Ont.

The handwrting as delineated on your card for analysis reveals you as a person of moods, either depression or joy, one day one thing and the next another. Yet this does not detract from your merit whatsoever, because you are optimistic, cheerful and thoughtful. Your visions are as a rule keen and penetrating and your imagination is apt to be of the romantic and idealistic type as shown in the crossing of your 't' bars. You have the ability to work well and diligently but do not always feel inclined to do so. I think that you become physically tired, and then every effort is too great for your strength. You can keep a secret if it is necessary to do so, but you are not at all secretive by nature. Your constitution seems to be somewhat delicate at present, and it would be well for you to seek more out-of-door recreation during the summer months, but above all else try to avoid getting over-tired or worried. Your number is 6, and your best day is Saturday. Your birthsign is Aquarius, the Man, ruled by Uranus. April and August are the best months.

Miss Ethel Lake,
Lakefield, Ont.

The delineation of your handwriting for analysis, is expressive of a vivid personality. You have a keen gift of imagination and often soar away beyond the realms of every day life. This gift would serve you well in a literary field, were you to connect your thoughts with lucid continuity. But, I do not think you have aspirations in this particular line of endeavour though you do wish to be respected, and admired for being 'just you' among your friends. You are well bred and have a considerable amount of family pride. This is noteworthy in that it keeps you apart from the usual motley crowd and distinguishes you as different. You are refined and graceful as well as well poised. You do not go to extremes in any way and do all things in moderation. You are modest and discreet, humorous and philanthropist. I wish to say in regards to publishing the name that you suggested that I should use, in answer to your delineation, that it was impossible, as only correct names are used. You number is 11. Friday your lucky day. August and December the most fortunate months. Libra the Balance is your birthsign. You are ruled by Venus.

FRANKLIN'S COMPOSING STICK

LONDON, May 3 (C.P.).— A composing stick which Benjamin Franklin used when he was a journeyman printer in London in the early 18th century was presented to-day to the Franklin Institute of Arts and Sciences of Philadelphia.

The relic was donated by the Ancient Society, the Worshipful Company of Stationers and Newspaer Makers, and was received on behalf of the Institute by W. W. Fry, president of N. W. Ayer & Company, as trustee for the Institute.

OFF COLOUR? HOW IS YOUR LIVER?

Wake up your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

Your liver's a very small organ, but it certainly can put your digestive and eliminative organs out of kilter, by refusing to pour out its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels

You won't completely correct such a condition by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage. When they've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will soon bring back the sunshine into your life. They're purely vegetable. Safe. Sure. Ask for them by name. Refuse substitutes. 25c at all druggists. 48

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, May 5

While the lunar operations for this day seem to wield a devastating and dubious force, yet a mutual configuration offers offset in the suggestion that the best endeavors be concentrated in connection with secret combines, rings, or by methods of strategem, tact, diplomacy or intrigue. But curb the tendency to impulsive, rash, quarrelsome and vindictive behavior.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a lively year, but one in which much depends on the avoidance of quarrels, tempests, litigation and other untoward indulgences. Benefits accrue through contacts with corporations, rings secret bodies or through secret agreements, intrigue or strategy.

A child born on this day should be talented, versatile, but inclined to use expediency rather than principle in its dealings. It may be turbulent, rash and of intemperate speech unless given early discipline.

OBSERVE THE TREATY.

PARIS, May 3 (C.P.). — The French Government to-day called Japan to observe the Nine-Power Treaty to the letter in a straightforward reply to Tokyo's note explaining Japan's "Asia for Asiatics doctrine."

AIR OF VICTORY AT TORY RALLY

Members of Conservative Associations Meeting in Toronto.

HAMMER HEPBURN.

TORONTO, May 3 (C.P.).—Predictions of election victories came thick and fast to-day as members of the Ontario Conservative Associations addressed a rally here.

Hon. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence, urged support for the Provincial and Dominion Governments.

Referring to the South Oxford by-election, where the Conservative candidate was defeated, Mr. Sutherland said this was a thing of the past, and the Provincial election would tell a different story.

"No government of Ontario ever went to the county more deserving of success than the Henry Government," he said.

Hon. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health for Ontario, said he heard before entering the hall that the election date had been announced. "If so, I'm glad of it, for some of us don't know it yet."

He attacked Mitchell Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal leader, for "not having the courage to sit in the Legislature where we could roast him from across the aisle."

Harry Nixon, Progressive Chief, had contradicted himself in the letter he wrote explaining why he voted for the Government's beer bill, the Minister continued. Mr. Nixon had taken a major part in all discussions until the beer bill came up and then "lacked the courage to take part in that important discussion."

Jumpy Nerves

Yield to the soothing action of this medicine. You will eat better . . . sleep better . . . feel better . . . look better. Life will seem worth living again. Don't delay any longer. Begin taking it today.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

VICEROY TO VISIT R.M.C.

OTTAWA—The Governor General will make his annual visit to the Royal Military College, Kingston this week-end. It has been the custom of His Excellency to visit the staff and cadets of the R.M.C. each spring. He will reach Kingston at 10.30 Saturday forenoon and remain until Sunday night. He will also be the guest while in Kingston of the officers of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

ECZEMA, RASHES & OTHER SKIN TROUBLES

Soothed & Healed by Zam-Buk Ointment

Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap 25c. cake.

FLIGHT DELAYED.

NEW YORK, May 3 (A.P.).—Lowering skies and fog halted for another day at least the projected New York-to-Rome flight of Cesare Sabelli and Captain George Pond. The two fliers, who intended to inaugurate the year's trans-Atlantic flying season, did not even take the trouble to drive through the rain and fog to Floyd Bennett Field to-day, where their monoplane, "Leonardo Da Vinci" stands in readiness.

YOUR GREY HAIR

can be restored to its Natural Colour without the use of a dye or tint.

Angelique Grey Hair Restorer

is made from roots, and barks, and restores the ORIGINAL COLOUR in the NATURAL way, at the same time giving the hair its natural, healthy lustre.

—Sold under a Money Back Guarantee—
PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

Manufactured by
ANGELIQUE PRODUCTS LIMITED, TORONTO
For Sale by BOND'S DRUG STORE

Fri-tf

WRIGLEY'S

Favorite in Canada for Over 25 Years

W-195

MAKES WORK EASIER!

BRICK BRADFORD—In the City Beneath the Sea — By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

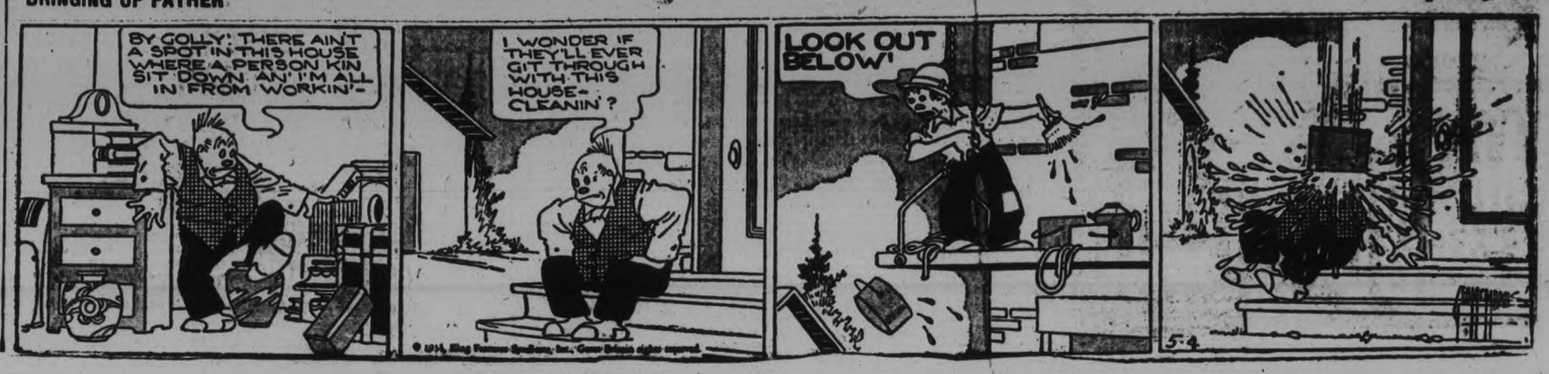
MUGGS McGINNIS — Hi-Diddle-Diddle! — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — All Wind — By GEORGE SWAN

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus



SOMEONE WANTS WHAT YOU HAVE OR HAS WHAT YOU WANT! use this Classified Page

REAL VALUES IN EXPERTLY RECONDITIONED

Used Cars

Low Prices - Easy Terms
Chevrolet Coupe, 1933. . .
Pontiac Sedan 1932, (Special).
Willys-Knight Sedan, 1928.
Buick Sedan, 1929.
Buick Coupe, 1929.
Essex Sedan.
Falcon-Knight Sedan.
Durant Sedan, (4 cylinder).

J. J. DUFFUS CO.

a For Sale—General

BUNDLES OF CLEAN PAPER, 5c each. Examiner Office. 6d-108-A

12" MIXED WOOD, $6 CORD. 12" Pine, $5 Cord. 'Phone 4097 6d-107-5086A

COLLECTION OF 20 NAMED EXHIbition Gladiolus Bulbs for $1.00. Worth much more if purchased separately. Young, 502 Chamberlain Srteet. 'Phone 1622J. 2d-106-1706A

PIANO, MASON & RISCH, LATEST model. Will sell cheap for cash. Write Box 1705, Examiner. 3d-107-1705A

SEED AND FEED GRAIN — OATS, Barly, Wheat, Grass Seeds; Black Diamond Plow Points, Glauber Salts. Try a Bag Marmill Chick Starter and - Egg - Laying Concentrates, Mashes — they are giving results. Pressed Hay and Straw. Land and Lawn Fertilizer — at 93 Simcoe Street. 'Phone 2540. E. A. Scott. 2d-106-5130A

BRAND NEW ELECTRIC WASHER, only used a few times. Cost One-Sixty-five. Heavy duty style Bargain, terms. Apply 536 Patterson Street, Afternoon or Evening. 3d-107-1715A

?

CLEAN UP PAINT UP GIVE SOME MAN A JOB MAY 5 to 12

a For Sale—General

ROTTEN MANURE AND TOP SOIL. 'Phone 2661. 30d-127-2436A

FULL MEASURE! QUARTER CORD Dry Mixed Wood, $1.50. 'Phone 58. 6d-107-1605A

TYPEWRITERS — YOU'LL NEVER pick up a Bargain like this again. Save $25.00 on late No. 5 Rebuilt Underwood. New machine guarantee; easy terms; free trial. Underwood Elliott Fisher Limited, 355 George Street. 'Phone 2626. 4d-20,25,30,4-1224A

DOOLEY POTATOES, $1.25 AT Farm. 'Phone 996 ring 14 3d-106-1643A

IRISH COBBLER SEED POTATOES, $1.50 and $1.75 a Bag. Bruce Johnston, 'Phone 3658W. 4d-107-1662A

TWO-STOREY FRAME BUILDING, 45 x 20; 3 Lots, near Little Lake. Also White Enamel Sink. Miss Scott, 109 Hunter Street E. 3d-106-1667A

PRAM, PERFECT CONDITION. 163 Monaghan Road. 3d-106-1645A

SWEET CLOVER AND TIMOTHY Seed.. R. F. Wood. No. 2. Millbrook, Ont. 'Phone 206 ring 6, Millbrook. 4d-107-1646A

TRICYCLE, GOOD CONDITION, large size Apply 513 King Street. 3d-106-1645A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, $2. HARDwood, $2.50. Pulkinghorn, 'Phone 278. 4l-107-1683A

FOX TERRIER PUPS, CHEAP. 249 Reid Street. 3d-106-1582A

REFRIGERATOR, ENAMEL LINED, size 28 x 18 x 42, $12.00; Gas Plate, 2-Burner, $1.50; General Electric Sun Lamp, Model P, with Bulb, Floor Standard, $15; General Electric Mantel Clock, Tambour model, $8; Feather Mattress, full size, $2. 'Phone 1014W. 2d-106-1680A

MIXED WOOD, $2. 12". STEPHENson, 3576W. 6d-109-1694A

12-FT. PUNT, NEW, CHEAP. 'PHONE 3480. 3d-107-1710A

HAPPY THOUGHT QUEBEC HEATer, complete with Lynn Oil Burner, in good condition. 'Phone 2719W. 2d-106-1712A

SILVERWOOD'S ICE-CREAM— TAKE home a Brick for Dessert. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-106-1718A

ICE-COLD DRINKS, ICE-CREAM — Charlotte Store Open Evenings. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-106-1717A

SEVERAL GOOD USED COOK Stoves, also Princess Pat Quebec Cook, almost new, all at reasonable prices. A. E. Micks, 212 Hunter Street. 'Phone 423. 1d-106-1737A

MEN AND YOUNG MEN — WE ARE Selling Clothes that you'll be proud to Wear; Suits $3.95 up, Spring Coats $2.50 up, Odd Coats $1 up, Pants $1 up, Vests 25c, Hats 50c, All kinds of Good Used Furniture, Cook Stoves, Gas Stoves, one Apartment size. Piano, very nice condition, $35. Ruskin's Aylmer Street (opposite Fire Hall). 2d-107-1741A

WHEN YOU BUY A GILSON SNOW Bird you buy the Best.. Two brand new Electric Washers, used as rural Demonstrators; good as new; guaranteed. Big reduction, easy terms. Also have One Used Beatty, One Conner, One Bluebird Electric Washer. Above must be sold at some price. Apply Patterson Showroom, 261 George. Open Evenings. 'Phone 3707. 3d-107-1713A

CHILD'S CRIB AND MATTRESS, Pedal Bike, Oak Rocker, Book Case, Wringer, Tub Stand, Day-bed Mattress, Gent's Light Suit 40, 2 Tennis Racquets. 87 Princess Street. 1d-106-1723A

DOLLAR LOADS — DRY SLABS. 'Phone 58. 12d-117-1724A

MAPLE LEAF LIQUID MALT MAKES the Finest Home-Brew you ever tasted. It's different—nothing to add, no boiling, no odor! Made in a Modern Sanitary Plant from Canadian-grown Barly and Selected Hops. Delivered to your home, with Fresh Brewers' Yeast. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded. 'Phone Steward 2480, before 6 p.m., or write P.O. Box 797. 23-107-1732A

TWO REFRIGERATORS ONLY — 1 Genuine Leonard Porcelain lined, $35; One other $12; both household size. Sanitary Ice. 'Phone 3700. 2d-107-5137A

VERY SATISFIED SAYS: "CRESS Corn or Bunion Salves are worth $3." They do the work. On Sale at all Peterborough Drug Stores. 1d-106-5166A

HEAVY BRITISH PLATE MIRROR, Framed 18 x 40; Fumed Oak Library Table, Extension Tables, Centre Tables, Some Valuable Books. M. T. Butcher, 679 Stewart. 1d-106-1757A

GOOD TOP SOIL. 'PHONE 3366. 33-108-1748A

UPRIGHT PIANO, CHEAP. 'PHONE 3626F. 3d-106-1752A

BEAUTIFUL PLAIN UPRIGHT WILlis Piano ,reasonable for quick sale. 'Phone 2284. 2d-107-1746A

a For Sale—General

JACKET WATER HEATER, 5-GALlon Water Eank, New Car Jack, Ash Sifter. 205 Aylmer Street. 1d-106-1753A

20 YARDS INLAID LINOLEUM, TILE pattern, nearly new. Will sell cheap. Apply 184 Wescott Street. 3d-108-1744A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HEATED APARTMENT IN BANK OF Commerce Building. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-4177B

UPPER APARTMENT, MODERN, BALcony, 5 Rooms, Twenty Dollars. 'Phone 443W. 6d-108-1615B

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURnished, heated, all conveniences. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer Street. 4d-106-1613B

HOUSE, NO 249 WOLFE STREET. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-3682B

LOWER APARTMENT. APPLY 183 Lock. 3d-107-1697B

BEDROOM, WITH SUNROOM; Housekeping privileges; private. Write Box 1704, Examiner. 3d-107-1704B

APARTMENT, WEST-END, HOT WAter heating. 'Phone 3825. 3d-107-1708B

CLEAN 3-ROOMED FURNISHED OR Unfurnished Flat, central; conveniencs; reasonable, suitable for Couple. Box 1721, Examiner. 2d-107-1721B

FURNISHED GROUND FLOOR Apartment; also Unfurnished Rooms. 'Phone 70W. 3d-106-1650B

FURNISHED ROOM, CENTRAL. 'Phone 878. 3d-106-1653B

FOUR UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR Rent, rasonable. 170 Charlotte Street. 3d-106-1657B

HOUSE, 12 INVERLEA. POSSESSION immediately. Apply between 2 and 8 p.m. 3d-106-1660B

NO. 358 HUNTER STREET WEST (Bungalow). Possession First June. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5109B

HOUSE, 408 BELMONT AVENUE (corner Belmont and Weller) Apply 437 George Street. dtf-2199B

HEATED APARTMENT, IN GRAND Central Building. Possession arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-p

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURnished. 527 George Street. 6d-108-1641B

COSY! BRIGHT APARTMENT, LOWer Floor, full plumbing, beautiful verandah, residential; central; low rent. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 5d-107-1609B

TWO LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING Rooms, newly decorated. 64 Hunter W. 3d-106-1669B

APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 1232J. 6d-110-1716B

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS, 3-PIECE bath, 'phone, also garage. 666 Downie Street. 3d-107-164;B

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, FURNISHed. 516 Charlotte. 6d-110-5144B

SIX-ROOMED HOUSE, THREEpice bath, central. Apply 374 Downie. 3d-108-1745B

THREE UNFURNISHED HOUSEkeeping Rooms. 663 Water. 3d-108-1749B

BUNGALOW, FIVE ROOMS, OAK floors, built-in kitchen cabinet, cemented cellar, Hecla furnace, electric stove and gas connections, wood or coal fireplace, large garden. 215 Crescent Street. 1d-106-1760B

c For Rent—General

GARAGES—ALSO 4-BURNER GAS Stove for Sale. Apply Montreal House. 3d-108-1673C

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immdiate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1397C

GARAGES TO RENT— CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

d Real Estate

FOR SALE — EAST ½ LOT 20, CONcession 3, Emily, 100 acres; good location. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street, Peterborough. dtf-4232D

GOOD BUILDING LOTS, SIXTY Dollars and up. Apply 234 Antrim. 3d-1061648D

FOR SALE — 6-ROOMED HOUSE, good garden. Bargain for cash. Apply 234 Antrim. 3d-106-1647D

FOR SALE — CASH DEAL: 7-ROOM House, all conveniences, large garden. Apply 219 Simcoe Street. 'Phone 1773W. 3d-108-1755D

e Summer Cottages

STONEY LAKE— NICELY FURNISHed Cottage to Rent for Season; Three Bedrooms, Screened Verandah, spring water, boat, firewood, handy to Stores. L. Hales, 72 Shanley Street, Toronto. 4d-1 3,4,5-1636E

CHEMONG— FURNISHED COTTAGE for Season. Write Box 1735, Examiner. 3d-106-1738E

f Boarders Wanted

FURNISHED ROOMS, WITH BOARD, private home. 'Phone 1647F. 3d-106-1678F

BRIGHT, WELL FURNISHED FRONT Room, suitable for 2 Business Girls or Men; Board optional. Apply 473 Aylmer Street. 2d-107-1740F

g Help Wanted, Male

WANTED — EXPERIENCED FARM Hand for few weeks, moderate wage to follow team part time. State wage to Box 5107, Examiner. 3d-106-5107G

g Help Wanted, Male

AGENTS — SELL OUR LOW PRICED Household Necessity. Best commissions. Big season now on. Write Drug Sales Co., London, Ont. 3d-106-1666G

WANTED — MAN OR BOY WITH Wheel. Apply 224 Perry. 3d-108-1729G

h Help Wanted, Female

COOK - GENERAL. REFERENCES. Apply Mrs. J. F. Strickland, 359 Hunter W. 3d-106-5112H

MAID FOR HOUSEWORK. MRS. P. Gosselin, 531 Gilmour. 2d-107-1725H

WANTED — MAID FOR GENERAL Housework, sleep out preferred. Apply 409 Aylmer Street. 3d-108-1739H

i Radio

ROGERS RADIO — SEE THE NEW Car Radio at Patterson's Showrooms, 261 George Street. Also have One Late Model Used Set, in first-class condition; bargain. Terms. 3d-107-1714I

1933 C.G.E. CAR RADIO, IN GOOD condition. Complete $30.00. Call 1715W. 3d-30,2,4-5085I

EXCHANGE.

WILL TRADE BRAND NEW RADIO or Electric Washer as whole or part payment on Good Used Car, balance cash. Write Box 1707, Examiner. 3d-107-1707

j Employment Wanted

PAINTING, PAPERHANGING, AND Kalsomining. Reasonable Rates. 'Phone 939. 3d-107-1590J

EXPERIENCED FARM HAND WANTS Work. Apply 659 Water Street. 'Phone 1542W. 3d-106-1636J

MARRIED MAN WANTS FARM Work, Experienced; state wages; would take charge of or Rent Equipped Farm, Dairy or Poultry. State full particulars at once, Charles Stewart, R.R. 2, South March. 3d-106-5120J

EXPERIENCED WOMAN WISHES Position as Cook or Cook-General. Write Box 1677, Examiner. 3d-105-1677J

WOMAN WANTS WORK, SMALL family, town only. 352 Park Hill Road. 3d-108-1736J

CAR WASHING BY EXPERIENCED Man. Satisfaction on all jobs, $1.00. Cars may be left at Corner Service Station, S.-E. Corner Aylmer and Charlotte Streets, or 'Phone 806, and they will be called for. M. Williamson. 3d-108-1742J

PAINTING, PAPERING, AND GRAININg. George Hawke, 1549. 2d-108-1758J

m Lost

C.C.M. MASSEY BICYCLE. REward. 'Phone 443W. 3d-108-1662M

BLUE-GREY ANGORA CAT. REward. 'Phone 1816J. 4d-106-1722M

CAMEO RING, SET WITH PEARLS. Reward if returned to Examiner Office. 2d-106-1745M

G.M.A.C. RECEIPT BOOK. PLEASE return 390 Mark Street. 3d-108-1762M

o Live Stock

FOR SALE — BROOD SOW, DUE one month; Durham Bull, fit for service. E. A. Hunter, Route 7. 3d-106-1651O

FOR SALE — 5 TWO-YEAR-OLD Durham Cattle. 'Phone 3 ring 3, Douro. 3d-106-1663O

TWO HEAVY HORSES, CHEAP 'Phone 2643. 3d-106-1693O

FOR SALE — TWO FRESH COWS. W. Chrow, Chemong Road (edge of City). 3d-106-1672O

CLYDE HORSE, 1,500, RISING 6, BY Auction, at the Market, Saturday, 11 o'clock. 2d-106-1703O

CLYDE STALLION. APPLY W. G. Grant, Chemong Road. 3d-107-1696O

FOR SALE — REGISTERED YEARling Shorthorn Bull. R. Matchett, Fraserville. 4d-2 4,7,1-1668O

p Poultry

CUSTOM HATCHING. W. WELCH. 'Phon 2526F. 3d-106-1676P

200 BRED-TO-LAY BARRED ROCK Chicks, Hatched April 30. 'Phone 995 ring 5. 3d-107-5125P

MASTER FEEDS— CHICK STARTER and Grower, are the best to buy. J. A. Fehr, 88 Aylmer. 1191W. 3d-107-5143P

q Wanted

WANTED — LIVE POULTRY. PAY good price. 'Phone M. Florence, 3573J. 26d-113-5098Q

ALL KINDS OF RAGS, RUBBERS, Copper, Brass, Iron, etc. Highest cash prices. D. Florence, 342 Stewart Street. 'Phone 694W. 30d-126-4967Q

WANTED — OLD GOLD. HIGHEST price paid. Phillips' Dental Laboratory, 408½ George (opposite Lech's). 6d-106-5067Q

WANTED — ONE OR TWO UNFURnished Rooms; must be reasonable. Write Box 1654, Examiner. 3d-106-1654Q

SMALL HOUSE, FAMILY OF THREE Relief rent. Write Box 1658, Examiner. 3d-106-1658Q

WANTED — METRONOME, IN GOOD condition. 'Phone 3474W. 3d-106-1670Q

WANTED — TO RENT, MEDIUM sized Modern House, good locality, for family of two. Phone 1548M. 3d-106-1681Q

SEVERAL UNFURNISHED ROOMS Wanted This Month for Adults. Particulars to Box 1698, Examiner. 3d-106-1698Q

WANTED — CEDAR LOGS AND Shingle Bolts by The Alfred McDonald Lumber Company. 3d-107-5126Q

WANTED— TO BUY, GARAGE THAT can be easily moved; must be reasonable. Write Box 1685, Examiner 3d-107-1655Q

CAVALCADE WORKS THE DERBY ROUTE

Is Clocked in 2.10 3-5, With Last Quarter in 24 2-5 Seconds at Louisville.

By Alan Gould—A.P. Sports Editor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP).—Apparently satisfied by yesterday's good workout that the record-breaking English-bred colt, Cavalcade, is no longer either train-sick or subject to stage fright, the railbirds took a deep breath and voiced a ringing vote of confidence in the ability of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan's horse to capture the 60th Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Although this development by no means settles the matter to the satisfaction of one and all, the consensus now is that there will be no toast "to the ladies" after the three-year-old classic is run off at Churchill Downs, despite the high respect in which Charles T. Fisher's filly, Mata Hari, or Colonel E. R. Bradley's equine beauty, Bazaar, are held by horsemen.

There's still a wide range of opinion on the big battle of the bluegrass, with two days more in which to shift the odds or argue the prospects of a fleet field of thoroughbreds, but the indications are that Cavalcade, coupled with Time Clock, winner of this year's Florida Derby, as the Brookmeade Stable entry, will go to the post around 5 p.m. (C.S.T.) Saturday as a 2 to 1 choice.

Westwood W.M.S.

Church Society Meets at Mrs. W. Morris' Home.

WESTWOOD, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence) — The May meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's United Church was held on Wednesday afternoon, May 2, at the home of Mrs. W. Morris.

The president Miss J. Davidson presided and was assisted in the devotional exercises by Mrs. John Hope and Mrs. R. C. Brackenridge. Two interesting readings were given, the first "A Frontier Hospital at Work" by Miss Mary Cameron, and "The Cross for Everyone" by Mrs. Stephen Elmhirst. A lovely duet was rendered by Mrs. David Brackenridge and Mrs. F. Mortlock.

After a lengthy business discussion, several readings on the subject "The Growth of Christian Friendship" were given by: Mrs. J. Clydale, Mrs. Mortlock, Mrs. Morris and Miss Davidson. Following these readings a special prayer for China was offered by Miss E. Comstock.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments and a social time was spent.

Denmark's new trade agreements with Germany and France are expected to greatly benefit Danish farmers.

q Wanted

WANTED — TO RENT, MODERN 6-Roomed House, with garage; adults only; June 1. State rent. Write Box 1754, Examiner. 2d-107-1754Q

SPOT CASH PAID FOR YOUR CAR. 261 George Street. 3d-107-1719Q

REFRIGERATOR AND MEDIUMsized Cook Stove. 'Phone 2063W. 3d-106-1726Q

WANTED — TO BUY, SET OF Ladies' Golf Clubs, Left, also Right-hand Set, and Set of Right-hand Gent.'s. Write Box 1736, Examiner. 3d-106-1736Q

WANTED — USED WHEELBARROW, in good condition, reasonable. 'Phone 3722M. 3d-107-5141Q

s Used Cars for Sale

FOR SALE—STAR TOURING, CHEAP. Apply 421 Water. 3d-107-1700S

FOR SALE — TWO-WHEEL TRAILer. Apply 390 Mark Street. 3d-108-1761S

t General Notice

PLOWING, TRUCKING, AND WOOD for Sale. 'Phone 1066W 3d-106-1656T

RIDING SCHOOL NOW OPEN, AT Exhibition Grounds. S. Bishop. 3d-108-1750T

LANDSCAPE GARDENER — NOW doing Landscape Work in Peterborough, Wants Gardn to take care of for the Summer. E. Jessen., P. O. Box 796, Peterborough (Agent for Brookdale Nurseries, Bowmanville). 4d-108-1661T

w Pet Stock

COCKER SPANIEL PUP (MALE), 5 months old. Write Box 1614, Examiner. 3d-107-1614W

Advertise in The Examiner

J. K. HUGHES, LTD.

CHEVROLET AND OLDSMOBILE DEALERS
OPPOSITE POST OFFICE
'PHONE 1347 PETERBOROUGH 'PHONE 1347

Prices Slashed to Clean Out Our Stock

A LOT OF MOTORISTS HAVE ALREADY TRADED OR ARE WAITING TO TRADE THEIR CARS ON THE NEW

CHEVROLET AND OLDSMOBILE

THIS HAS GIVEN US A REAL SELECTION OF USED CARS

NOW is your chance to secure one at a BARGAIN PRICE
WE NEED THE ROOM. SEE US TO-DAY

1932 CHEVROLET SPECIAL SEDAN (Small mileage).
1932 CHEVROLET CONV. COUPE (Like new).
1933 CHEVROLET MASTER SEDAN (Nearly new).
1931 CHEVROLET SPORT COUPE (Fender-wells and Trunk).
1930 CHEVROLET STD. COUPE (Tires and finish like new).
1930 CHEVROLET SPEC. SEDAN (Good finish, good tires).
1930 CHEVROLET STD. SEDAN (New tires).
1928 CHEVROLET COACH (A real buy).
1927 CHEVROLET COUPE (Cheap for cash).
1932 PONTIAC COACH (Like new).
1928 PONTIAC STD. SEDAN (In nice shape).
1927 PONTIAC COACH (Good running order).
1929 DURANT SEDAN (Extra special appearance).
1931 FORD SEDAN (Good Shape).
1930 PACKARD SPEC. COUPE (Cost new over $4,000, a sacrifice).

FOR THOSE INTERESTED WE HAVE FIVE (5) PICKUP TRUCKS

Six Free Lubrications will be given with any Used Car purchased. (The G.M. Lubrication plan).

OUR REPAIR DEPARTMENT will Completely Overhaul your Car if you desire to continue driving it.

OUR DUCO AND PAINTING DEPARTMENT can estimate and give complete satisfaction on any painting and lettering job.
OUR STOCK OF GENUINE PARTS IS AT YOUR SERVICE.

DOMINION TIRES OUR SPECIALTY

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF FRANCIS LAWRENCE AYOTTE, LATE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF SMITH, IN THE COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH, CARPENTER AND FARMER, DECEASED.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, Pursuant to the Trustees Act, R.S.O. 1927, Chap. 150, that all Creditors and others having CLAIMS or DEMANDS against the Estate of the said FRANCIS LAWRENCE AYOTTE, who died on or about the 16th Day of November, A.D. 1933, at the Township of Smith, in the said County of Peterborough, are required on or before the 11th Day of June, 1934, to send by post prepaid or deliver to the undersigned, Joseph A. O'Brien, Solicitor for the Administrator of the Estate of the said Deceased, their Christian names and surnames, addresses and description, the full particulars in writing of their Claims, a statement of their Accounts, and the nature of the Security, if any, held by them.

AND TAKE NOTICE, That after such last mentioned date the said Administrator will proceed to distribute the Assets of the said Deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims of which he shall then have notice, and that the said Administrator will not be liable for the said Assets or any part thereof, to any person or persons of whose Claim notice shall not have been received by him at the time of such distribution.

DATED at Peterborough this 19th Day of April, A.D. 1934.

JOSEPH A. O'BRIEN,
325-7 George Street,
Peterborough, Ontario,
Solicitor for the Administrator,
Francis Lawrence Ayotte Estate.
4d-21,28,4,11-4935

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
(Effective Sunday, April 29)
Going East—
4.55 p.m.—Indian River, Norwood Havelock Daily except Sunday
7.40 p.m.—From Toronto Daily except Sunday
11.00 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls Ottawa Montreal Quebec Boston and New York Daily except Sunday
11.10 a.m.—Sunday only to Havelock
1.30 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Ottawa, Smith's Falls Montreal, St. John, Boston, and New York daily.
Going West—
4.50 a.m.—Toronto, Guelph, Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago, and New York daily.
7.20 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit, and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
9.35 a.m.—To Lindsay and Bobcaygeon
3.50 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit Chicago, and intermediate points between Peterborough and Toronto Makes connections with the Trans-Canada Limited for Winnipeg and Vancouver. Daily except Sunday.
5.45 p.m.—Sunday only for Toronto and points West.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS TIME-TABLE.
(Corrected to April 29th)
8.35 a.m.—For Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo London, Windsor, and Detroit.
12.01 Noon—For Port Hope, Oshawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Philadelphia, and New York. Connects at Port Hope with the Maple Leaf Ltd. for London, Windsor, Detroit, Port Huron, Flint, and Chicago. Makes connection East-bound for Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal.
1.45 p.m.—For Lakefield.
5.12 p.m.—For Lindsay, Toronto, and connects at Toronto with International Ltd. for London, Port Huron, and Chicago, also with the Continental Ltd. for Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Vancouver; with the North Bay, Timmins, Rouyn and Cochrane train, and with the 11.45 p.m. train for Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
8.20 p.m.—For Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cornwall, Montreal and the Maritime Provinces.
Daily—
1.30 a.m.—Fool Train from the C P.R. Depot for Ottawa, and makes connection at Ottawa for Montreal.
7.30 p.m.—Sundays Only, for Lindsay, Toronto, and makes connections for Western Canada, Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
All Trains operate on Eastern Standard Time and Daily except Sunday from Canadian National Railway Depot, Charlotte and Bethune Streets, unless otherwise shown.

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY

Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE STREET - PHONE 40

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK — By R. J. Scott

SAFE DRIVING PAYS

If Car owned and operated, following DISCOUNTS allowed:
10%, No Claims One Year. 15%, No Claims Two Years.
20%, No Claims Three Years. 25%, No Claims Four Years.
Above Discounts apply to all coverings. Private Passenger Cars only.

20% DISCOUNT on Commercial Vehicles if owned and operated without claims for Thirty-four Months.

HILL, WEDDELL & HILLS
124 HUNTER STREET, PETERBOROUGH.
Telephone 14. Est. 1883.

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN CO.

ESTABLISHED 1885

3% ON DEPOSITS

Interest paid or added half yearly, 30 June and 31 December, in each year. Every facility is afforded to Depositors both in depositing and withdrawing their money.

For sums of $100 and upwards this company's debentures afford a safe and profitable investment. Further information in regard to which will be gladly furnished upon request.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

W. G. MORROW,
Managing Director.

Office Hours:
9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Open Saturday's until 5 p.m.

C.D.S. GROCETERIA
"Where It Pays to Shop"

Combination Meat Special

4-LB. ROAST BEEF (Average)
1 LB. FRESH SAUSAGE
½ LB. BREAKFAST BACON ALL FOR 69c

Fresh Pork
Picnics ..... lb. 14c
Butts ..... lb. 17c
Fresh Tenderloin lb. 25c

Choice Prime Rib Roast (Rolled) .. lb. 19c
Blade or Short Rib Roast ..... lb. 13c
Rolled Veal Roast, lb. 13c

FINEST Cooked Ham—Sliced - - lb. 41c

SUNGLO FRESH Creamery Butter - - 2 lbs. 49c

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

FRIDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION:

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony. 10—Variety 11—Instru. Trio. 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

(DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

5.15 P.M.
3—WABC—On the Air Tonight.
4—CRCT—Jackie Heller
11—WEAF—Oswaldo Mazzucci, 'cellist
5.30 P.M.
14—WEAF—Frank Merriwell's Adventures.
14—WJZ—Singing Lady
5.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Gordon, Dave and Bunny.
15—WEAF—Alice in Orchestralia.
6.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Indian Serenader
3—CFRB—Dick Steele
3—WABC—H V Kaltenborn (CBS)
4—WJZ—Irene Beasley.
6.15 P.M.
6—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
1—WJZ—Angelo Pernanio's Orch.
6.30 P.M.
1—WABC—Enoch Light's Orch.
8—CRCT—Beckett Reports.
11—WEAF—Cheerio Musical Mosaics.
6.45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas
4—WEAF—William Hain.
7.00 P.M.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume.
4—WABC—To be Announced.
7.15 P.M.
3—CRCT—Market Reporter.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen
6—CFRB—Just Plain Bill
1—WJZ—Peter Van Steeden's Orch.
7.30 P.M.
7—WJZ—Gershwin's Orch.
4—WEAF—Fur Trappers.
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch
3-11-CRCT—News and Musicale.
11—WABC—Music on Air.
7.45 P.M.
6—WBEN—The Goldbergs
4—WJZ—Gus Van and Arlene Jackson
4—WABC—Boake Carter
8.00 P.M.
6—WABC—Phil Duey and Frank Luther
1—CRCT—Cities Service Orch and Jessica Dragonette
1—WJZ—Bobby Dolon's Orch
8.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—The Music Makers.
4—CKNC—Folk Song Recital.
12—WABC—Court of Human Relations
4—WJZ—Carlos Gardel.
8.45 P.M.
5—WJZ—Babe Ruth
9.00 P.M.
12—CRCT—C V. Cavers: Service to the State (CRC)
1-4-WEAF—Waltz Time.
1—WJZ—Phil Harris Orch.
9.15 P.M.
4—WABC—Ruth Etting.
6—CFRB—Barney and Shawn.
4—CRCT—Tito Fandos (CRC).
9.30 P.M
4-7-WEAF—One Night Stands.
10—CFRB—Powder Box Revue
1—CRCT—In Good Old Summer Time (CRC)
1—WJZ—Phil Baker and McNaughton's Orch.
10.00 P.M.
7—WEAF—First Nighter.
15—WABC—The Program of the Week
7—CFRB—Duart McLean's Orch
12—CRCT—Stories That Must Be Told.
10.30 P.M.
1—WEAF—Jack Denny and Don Bestor's Orch.
11—CRCT—Melodic Strings (CRC).
4—WJZ—Mario Cozzi
3-1-CFRB—Roxy Reporter and Pompeian Program.
11.00 P.M.
11—WJZ—Three Scamps.
1—CRCT—Moonlight on Pacific.
1—WEAF—Ben Pollack's Orch.
4—WABC—Edith Murray.
11.15 P.M.
4—CFRB—Isham Jones' Orch.
11.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
1-3-CRCT—Vincent Lopez' Orch. and the News.
12.00 MIDNIGHT.
15—CFRB—Pattern of Melody.
15—WJZ—Derby Eve Program.

SATURDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.00 NOON
13—CRCT—Pedro Yon, Organist.
4—CFRB—Knickerbocker Quartette.
12.30 P.M
15—WABC—Saturday Syncopators.
3—CRCT—Rex Battle's Orch
3—CFRB—News Broadcast
1.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Vic and Sade
15—CFRB—Madison Ensemble.
2.00 P.M
1—WJZ—Don Russo's Orch.
4.30 P.M.
15—CRCT—Lady Next Door.
11—WJZ—Mary Macs.
1—CFRB—Russian Gypsy Orch.
5.00 P.M.
14—CRCT—Kaltenmeyer's Kindergarten.
12—CFRB—Oxford-Cambridge Debate.
5.30 P.M
11—CRCT—Platt and Nierman.
12—WEAF—Economers in the New Deal.
5.45 P.M
4—CFRB—Tito Guizar.
6.00 P.M.
15—CFRB—Ragansky's Ensemble.
8—CRCT—Indian Serenader
10—WJZ—Al Peerce and His Gang.
6.15 P.M
15—WABC—Rip Lasher.
12—CFRB—The Mining Broadcaster.
6.30 P.M
11MWEAF—Rimber's Ensemble.
12—WJZ—Ivory Stamp Club.
15—WABC—Frederick Wile.
6.45 P.M.
12—CRCT—Flying with Al. Williams.
5—CFRB—Kentucky Derby.
7.00 P.M.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume.
12—CRCT—Community Welfare Talk
7.15 P.M
12—WEAF—Dr Stanley High.
7.30 P.M
1—WJZ—Don Bestor's Orch.
15—CFRB—The Green Room.
3-11-CRCT—News and Musicale.
10—WABC—Thelma Goodwin and Paul Keast.
7.45 P.M
1—CFRB—Isham Jones' Orch
15—WEAF—Jules Landi.
8.00 P.M
2—CKNC—The Cotter's Saturday Night
10—CRCT—Teddy Bergman and Stearn's Orch.
10—CFRB—Morton Downey
8—CKNC—News of the Week.
12—WJZ—Art in America.
8.15 P.M
8—WJZ—The Bavarian Peasant Band
8.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Hands Across the Border
8—WEAF—Nite Dream Hour.
9.00 P.M.
3—CRCT—Events of the Week.
1-4-WJZ—De Marco Sisters and Stern's Orch.
1—CFRB—Perdie Moore's Orch
10—WEAF—House Party.
1-4-WABC—Grete Stenckgold and Andre Kostelanetz.
9.30 P.M
15—CFRB—Roy Heltcot, "Looking at Life."
7—WEAF—Beatrice Fairfax.
1—WJZ—Eddie Duchin's Orch.
10.00 P.M
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
12—WABC—Byrd Broadcast.
10—CRCT—Acadian Serenade.
10—WEAF—Terrapane Travelcade.
10—WJZ—Behind the Scenes.
10.30 P.M
10—WEAF—To be announced.
1—WJZ—Barn Dance
1—CRCT—George Wade's Cornhuskers.
3-10-CFRB—News and Peter the Great.
11.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Sylvia Froos.
1—WEAF—Eric Madriguera's Orch.
4—CRCT—Charles Dornberger's Orch. (CRC).
11.30 P.M
6—WEAF—One Man's Family.
1—WJZ—Brito's Orch.
3-1-CRCT—News and Little Jack Little's Orch.
12 MIDNIGHT.
12—CRCT—The Northern Messenger.
1—WJZ—Jack Denny's Orch.
10—WEAF—Carefree Carnival
1—CFRB—Ted Fiorito's Orch.
12.30 A.M.
1—WJZ—Vincent Lopez' Orch.
1—CFRB—Gus Arnheim's Orch.

Wave Lengths

Station	Metres	Kilocycles
CKNC Toronto	291	1030
CFCF Montreal ...	291	600
CROO Ottawa	...	880
CFRB Toronto	434	690
CKAC Montreal ...	411	730
CRCT Toronto	312	960
CKCL Toronto	517	580
CKLW Windsor ...	555.6	540
CHNC Toronto	357	840
CKCO Ottawa	...	1010
KDKA Pittsburg ..	306	980
KMOX St Louis ..	275	1090
WABC New York ..	349	860
WTIC Hartford ..	323.8	1060
WGR Buffalo	845	550
WBBM Chicago ...	389	770
WBEN Buffalo	333	900
WEAF New York ..	454	660

FEIST
25 SONGS
HITS OF THE DAY
"Pretty Polly Perkins"
"An Old Water Mill"
"I Knew You When"
"Springtime Sweethearts"
"Over Somebody Else's Shoulder"
"My Dear"
—25 Cents Per Copy—
AT YOUR MUSIC STORE

C.D.S.
The Proper Place to Fill Your Needs for Summer!

Sunny Days ARE HERE AGAIN

STORE HOURS—9 a.m. until 5.30 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. until 9.30 p.m.

PHONE 3000

CANDIES

PEPPERMINT PATTIES, covered with dark chocolate. Over 45 pieces to a lb. box. Special, lb. 29c
Maraschino Cherries, lb. box 25c
Delicious Peanut-filled Satins, lb. 15c
Salted Peanuts, lb. 10c
Marshmallows, lb. 15c
Betty Joyce Chocolates, lb. 29c
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

STYLE TIP for men

Buy an Eatonia Suit with TWO pairs of trousers

The best advertisement we have for these famous Suits are the men who wear them. Smart in style—tailored of fine woollens—quality tailored—at a price that makes them wonderful value—WHAT MORE CAN A MAN ASK FOR IN A SUIT OF CLOTHES! Of course, if you have never worn EATONIA you won't be as enthusiastic about them as the men who do wear them. But take this tip—make your next Suit an EATONIA! Smart London styles for young men—other popular styles for men more conservatively inclined. All-wool tweeds, all-wool worsteds and all-wool serges—models for everyone. Each $25
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

$25

WHITE AND PASTEL
Neckwear!
Saturday Each 1.00

Buy several of these smart pieces for Summer frocks. Of organdy, linen and cotton pique in high and novelty necklines, ruffles, frills and tailored styles. White and pastel shades. Each $1

Full-Fashioned Rayon Hose
Bemberg Hose, rayon to top with cotton reinforcement. Shades: gala, ball, clearsan, biscayne, jungle, gunmetal, London smoke. Sizes 8½ to 10. Special, pair.... 49c

Misses' Thread Silk Hose
A first quality fashioned Hose with lisle tops, heel and toe. Shades: plaza, midfawn, matin, moonbeige. Sizes 7 to 10. Pair 29c

Child's Knicker Hose
Reinforced at heel, toe and sole. Turndown cuffs. In marl mixtures and allover patterns. Sizes 7 to 10. Pair..... 19c

Smart Handbags
Strap and underarm styles—some of real leather, others of wool tweed. Colors: blonde, beige, blue, black. Fitted with purse and mirror. Each..... 1.79

IT'S TIME FOR
White Gloves!
Buy BRAEMORE
Pair 50c

The smartest finishing touch to a Summer costume is a pair of fine White Gloves. For quality and economy buy Braemore. Of fabric in pull-on style, 4-button length with picot top. Sizes 6 to 8. Braemore value, pair 59c
—Main Floor C.D.S.

Men's and Boys'
Running Shoes

Sturdy Brown Canvas Running Boots with rubber reinforcements and trims. Sturdy corrugated soles and toe guards. Sizes 2 to 5½ and 6 to 9, including ½ sizes. Special, pair..... 77c

Women's White Kid Shoes
Smart new arrivals for Summer in three neat styles. Fancy stitched Vamp Ties and Pumps. High heels and Cuban heels. Widths AA to D. Sizes 4 to 7. Saturday, pair.. 2.98

Women's Elk Sport Oxfords
Good looking, comfortable Shoes of white and natural elk, with long wearing crepe rubber soles and heels, insulating leather insoles. Sizes 4 to 7½. Pair..... 1.98

Misses' and Child's Sandals
Of brown elk with sturdy crepe rubber soles and insulating leather insoles. One-strap, side buckle fastener style. Sizes 8 to 2. Pair 95c
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

NEW BETTER DRESSES and JACKET FROCKS
In Prints and Pastels 8.95

Pretty pastels and gay Bemberg prints in fine quality silk crepes. Lovely styles for women and misses. The two-purpose Jacket Frocks are particularly adaptable for Summer occasions. Colors: pink, blue, mauve, green, yellow and white. Sizes 14 to 20, and a few half sizes, 34½ to 44½. Each ....

Smart Dresses of Seersucker
Each Only 1.95

They'll be tremendously popular this Summer, so be sure you have at least one. One of the smart shirtwaist styles is illustrated, others come with organdy collars and tie and bow necklines. Colors: yellow, blue, pink, green and white. Sizes 14 to 44. Saturday, each 1.95

Summer Dresses
Of Celanese Crepe
Smart new styles for Summer wear with short and cap sleeves, button and applique trims and either plain or pleated skirts. White, waterlily, yellow, pink and blue. Sizes 14 to 44. Each..... 2.95

Early Summer Hats
You'll find a wonderful selection of felts, silk crepes, leghorns and straws (trade name) at the store Saturday, in the newest styles for Summer wear. White, natural, grey, navy, green, powder, maize and black. Each ..... 1.95 to 4.95
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Cotton Carnival CONTINUES SATURDAY

Clearance of Cotton Voiles and Piques
A good assortment of smart designs and colors. Special, yard..... 29c

Irish Dress Linen
Linen Dresses and Suits are smart for Summer. Choose from a good selection of colors: rose, pink, blue, green, brown, sand and white. 36 inches wide. Yard..... 29c

Cool Pique Voile
A splendid material of firm weave with a firm cord. In light and dark backgrounds. 36 inches wide. Yard..... 49c

Rippleray
A new cotton material for street and sport wear. Plaids, stripes and conventional designs in bright colorings. Yard..... 39c
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Special! Oil Opaque
Window Shades
"Seconds" of a heavy quality oil opaque in green, cream and white. Size 3' by 6'. Complete on durable roller. Special, each .. 79c

Filet Curtain Net
Extra fine quality Net for this low price. In dainty designs. Ecru and white. 38 inches wide. Yard..... 29c
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Here it is!
The Modern New EASY
Vacuum Cup WASHER

Exclusive with the C.D.S. in Peterborough

99.50 AND 129.50

We have been fortunate in securing the exclusive agency in Peterborough of these fine EASY Washers.

If you have been waiting for the ultimate in washing machine efficiency and value, you need not wait another day! In the EASY you'll find the perfectly balanced combination of advanced and up-to-day features.

The VACUUM CUP PRINCIPLE is exclusive in EASY. The fast-moving cups flush air, soap and water through and through the mesh of the fabric, not merely washing the surface, but driving out the stubborn, imbedded dirt. See them Saturday.
—Basement, C.D.S.

Gentle as a Woman's Hands ...yet the most thorough method of washing known...

Women's White "LASTEX"
Girdles and Combinations
One-way stretch, deep Girdles and one-piece Combination Garments with net brassiere top. Small, medium and large sizes.
Girdles, each..... $1 Combinations, each..... 1.95

Rayon Bloomers
Regulation style Bloomers in pastel shades, with elastic at waist and knee. Small, medium and large sizes. Special Saturday, pair.... 29c
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Boys' 2-Piece Grey
Flannel Suits
Smart looking and cool for Summer. Shorts are lined and compete with belt. Sizes 2, 4 and 6. Suit..... 1.95
—2nd Floor, C.D.S

Boys' Coveralls
In khaki or blue cotton materials. Long and short sleeves. Sizes 2 to 5, Second Floor. Sizes 6 to 10, Main Floor. Special, suit... 89c

Eatonia Casting Rods
With interlocking joint sand shaped double cork handle with nickel trimming. Agatine guides. 4, 5 and 6-ft. lengths. Eatonia value, each..... 2.95

Eatonia Silk Casting Lines
25-yard spool, 18-lb. test 50c
25-yard spool, 27-lb. test 75c
50-yard spool, 27-lb. test 1.45
—Basement, C.D.S.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

KING ALBERT MURDERED, AUTHOR'S STARTLING CHARGE

PROBABILITIES.
Moderate north-west winds; fair and somewhat cooler to-night and Sunday.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXII., No. 106 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1934 — PRICE THREE CENTS

LINER COMBED IN VAIN FOR DILLINGER

BELGIUM'S KING TAPPED ON HEAD AUTHOR CLAIMS

Says Albert's Fatal Fall Biggest Spoof Ever Put Over on World.

NO BRUISES ON BODY.

Blames Loved Monarch's Death on His Opposition to War.

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., May 5. —(AP)—King Albert of Belgium did not meet death in an accidental fall, but was killed by being "tapped on the back of the head," Colonel Graham Seton Hutchison told the Nottingham Writers' Club last night, according to the Nottingham Journal.

Colonel Hutchison, author and publicist, has written a number of books and plays under the name of Graham Seton.

Describing the story of King Albert's death, last February 17, as the "biggest piece of spoof put over on the world in the last six months," Hutchison is reported to have said:

"He did not die as a result of an Alpine accident, believe me.

"I know the facts.

"This spoof was put over by planned perjury in such a way that it is simply baffling to intelligent people."

"The story of Albert's death was issued in Belgium before he was dead. A man with a rope around his waist does not go climbing by himself."

Mentioning that Albert's field glasses were found 300 yards distant from the body and saying he had ascertained that there were no bruises on the King's body or hands, Hutchison continued:

"In other words, he was tapped on the back of the head. That is known in Belgium. Nobody dares speak of the death of King Albert in Belgium today."

"The facts are that King Albert was opposed to war.

"He would not play any part in 'the devilry' of France in conspiring for war against defenseless Germany.

"He was a great unifying force tempt as being unworthy of any gentleman.

"It is an outrage on the dead."

(Continued on Page Two.)

BRITAIN ASKS IBN SAUD'S AIMS

Laughs at Rumors of Alliance between Italy and Defeated Yemeni.

ONLY GUARDING CITIZENS.

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Eng., May 5. (AP).—Great Britain and Italy have demanded that King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia state his ultimate objections in his war against the fleeing Yemeni, it was learned authoritatively to-day.

At the same time, it was learned in official quarters, that the British Government ridicules reports Italy has a "treaty of defensive sort with the Yemeni and therefore is alarmed because she backed the wrong horse."

It was emphaticaly stated, as reports piled up telling of Ibn Saud's conquering forces' relentless drive toward Sana, capital of Yemen, that the British view Italian interest in the situation as entirely similar to Britain's protection of her nationals.

The Imam Yaha, ruler of Yeman, was reported to have fled as, with cannon pounding and his motorized military, Ibn Saud approached his city.

Well Robbed

SUNBURY, Pa., May 5.—(C. P.)—There is nothing like a good robbing of his filling station to start the day right for Samuel Heasey.

In the eight years he has been in business his place has been looted 53 times. Things have got so now that Heasey doesn't leave things around any more. The last visit of the burglar netted only six packs of cigarettes.

Hero Pilot Saves Lives of 18 Passengers

Supero airmanship of Pilot Ernest Bashan (INSERT) saved lives of eighteen occupants of this airliner when it was forced down, as shown, in woods near Tottenville, N. Y. Unable to find Newark Airport, owing to fog and rain after flight from Chicago Bashan stayed aloft until fuel ran low. Then he landed his ship so skillfully passengers escaped with slight bruises. Among the passengers was L. B. Spencer of West Welland, Ontario.

"GET DILLINGER" DEMANDS GIVEN ALL U. S. POLICE

Officials Skeptical of Rumor Outlaw Aboard Ship Scotland-bound.

SURE HE IS IN CHICAGO.

Blame Gangster's Lieutenant For Shooting in Fostoria Hold-up.

CHICAGO, May 5.—(AP) — A triple-alliance flung out its combined man-hunting power today in a fresh foray, designed to end the criminal career of John Dillinger.

Three powerful arms of the law —United States Government agents, a special "flying squad" of picked city police, and secret detectives from the State's Attorney's office —joined in the newly organized hunt, for the elusive gunman. Their only instruction was: "Get Dillinger."

Their organization completed, the officers presesd their hunt in Chicago, satisfied that the killer still lurks somewhere in the city's underworld haunts.

Vigorously they pursued this course, despite a report that Dillinger is on the high seas, en route to Greenock, Scotland, aboard the steamer Duchess of York.

The report, said Chicago police had cabled authorities in all ports of the British Isles that Dillinger had taken passage on the vessel which is due in Greenock today.

"Bunk" was the way Sergeant Frank Reynolds, head of the "flying squad" of Dillinger huntsmen characterized the report.

In Chicago Wounded

He pointed to police evidence that Dillinger is hiding out in Chicago, possibly wounded.

Officials of the Canadian De-

(Continued on Page Five.)

Labor Is Seeking No Party Alliances

LONDON, May 5 (CP Cable). — Suggestions for an alliance between Liberals and Labor, already rejected by the Liberal National Convention, received a further setback to-day in a statement from George Lansbury, head of the Labor Party.

While the Labor Party in the present House would be glad to receive the support of either Tories or Liberals "in its fight against reaction," said the veteran Laborite, the party had not the slightest intention of receding from its Socialistic stand, and there could be no sort of alliance with any other party.

Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal leader, last night stated he would be prepared to co-operate with anybody, but the Liberal party could not support Socialistic measures.

Your Evening Smile

WHO KNOWS

"This is the age of the clever girl."

"But who knows the age of the clever girl?"

May Head "Army"

EVANGELINE BOOTH

Commander Evangeline Booth of New York, daughter of the founder, is expected to succeed General Edward J. Higgins as head of the Salvation Army throughout the world when the latter retires next November. She would be the first woman to rule the famous organization.

FISHING CRAFT GROUNDS IN FOG

Captain and 26 of Crew Escape in Dories—Reach Sydney Harbor.

CARGO IS SAVED.

NORTH SYDNEY, N.S., May 5 (C.P.). — Captain Cecil Moulton and his crew of 26 escaped to shore in their dories to-day after the Gloucester fishing schooner Program struck Petrie's Shoal at the entrance of Sydney Harbor.

The big Banker, owned by the Gorton Pew Company, was being pounded to pieces when the men abandoned her and the captain said she probably would be a total loss.

She was inward bound from the Grand Banks for supplies and bait when she got off her course in the dense fog and ran on the rocks.

Her catch of 10,000 pounds of halibut and 2,000 pounds of salt cod was taken off and stored with a local fish dealer.

At noon, the Dosco tug Cruiser was standing by the stranded vessel. If the schooner is not leaking too badly she will be hauled off.

Heavy fog during the last twelve hours paralyzed shipping in Cape Breton ports. A number of Lunenourg schooners which left for the Banks yesterday after replenishing their supplies returned last night.

Up on the northern coast of Cape Breton the Norwegian steamship Rutenfjell ran aground near Cape Egmont to-day and was asking for assistance.

HAMILTON MAYOR WINS

HAMILTON, May 5. (CP). — On receipt of notice from Osgoode Hall that the injunction against Daylight Saving had been dissolved, Mayor H. E. Wilton shortly before noon to-day issued a proclamation that Hamilton would go on fast time at midnight to-night.

ROSE GARDENS WERE HARD HIT BY COLD WINTER

Perennials Suffered Heavily During Severe Cold Weather.

GRASS IN LAWNS KILLED.

Florists Report the Sale of Many New Plants to Citizens.

The winter of 1934 will long be remembered by local amateur flower gardeners as the most destructive to plant life that this city has ever experienced for more than a score of years. While farmers are engaged in computing their losses through killing out of fall wheat and clover, city flower gardeners are also discovering that the severe frosts laid waste large sections of their gardens and lawns.

Perennials which are accustomed to pass through the winter successfully failed to stand the extreme cold of last winter. Roses were particularly hard hit and some of the finest rose gardens in the city have been badly depleted. There is scarcely a lawn in the city which has not many wide patches of dead grass, which will have to be resown.

Members of the local Horticultural Society do not think that the results of the destructive winter will discourage amateur gardeners in their work of beautifying the grounds about their homes. It is reported that interest in horticulture here has never been keener and it is hoped that gardeners will soon be busy repairing the damaged parts of their gardens. Florists report the sale of many new plants.

Taking Pickerel In Sucker Netting

A member of the Fish and Game Protective Association has asked The Examiner to convey a warning to persons netting suckers to the effect that this permission will be cancelled if there are any more reports of pickerel being taken before the season opens on May 15.

"We have been informed that the nets for suckers are also catching pickerel and that some are being taken from the water. This is against the law, and it will be necessary to stop the sucker netting around the locks if men are going to ignore the law protecting pickerel until May 15th."

Rabbit on Hoof

ROANOKE, RAPIDS, N. C., May 5.—(C.P.)— Wham! went the ball from Jim Poyner's bat in a sandlot game.

Up popped a rabbit in left field just in time to catch the ball on the chin.

Poyner later reported the rabbit stew he had for dinner was very good.

Quick Justice

GUELPH, Ont., May 5 (C.P.). —Justice moved quickly in the case of a 12-year-old boy here who was found guilty of stealing more than $30 from a woman's purse. The boy buried the money but recovered it when arrested. He was brought into Juvenile Court the same afternoon and committed to Industrial School at Mimico. He ate dinner in the institution the same night.

DID AMERICANS ACTUALLY FIND SCALP ON MACE?

Some Historians Claim it Was Speaker's Wig Found in 1813.

HISTORANS DIFFER.

Question Again Raised When President Seeks to Return Mace.

TORONTO, May 5 (CP)—Did the United States forces which burned the Ontario Parliament Buildings in 1813 actually find a human scalp hanging from the mace? Or was the so-called scalp simply the Speaker's wig? Once again historians are raking through weighty volumes in an effort to answer these questions. Interest was aroused with President Roosevelt's request to the Congress yesterday for the return to Ontario of the mace taken from the Parliament Buildings during the War of 1812.

Story "Incredible"

In his "Early History of Upper Canada," recently published, E. C. Guillet of Toronto refers to the occurrence, and expressed the opinion it was "incredible" the United States officers should have been fooled by taking the Speaker's wig for presentation to General Dearborn as a human scalp.

Robert Gourlay, a contemporary historian, stated a scalp was actually found. According to his version, a scalp had been sent to the Clerk of the House as a curio and had been carelessly tossed into a drawer. The American officers, in his opinion, embellished their stories by stating it was found hanging from the mace. This, he said, explained the letter sent by Commodore Chauncey to the Secretary of the Navy, in which it was stated the scalp did hang over the mace.

Historians, taking neither side, repeatedly stated they could not see how the "Americans could be fooled since they could inspect the wig (or scalp) at Annapolis" whence it had been sent. However the curator of the Annapolis museum has stated equally as often he knows nothing about the thing, but expressed the opinion Commodore Chauncey would undoubtedly know the difference between a scalp or wig, because of the difference in size and shape.

According to Mr. Guillet, Gourlay's explanation has all the "earmarks of authenticity." Incidentally, the same author declares it was fairly well understood the burning of the buildings was accomplished without authority. An American officer, according to his his theory, was so enraged at finding the scalp or wig—that he set fire to the building.

BANCROFT MAN'S BACK IS BROKEN

Is Hurled From Roadster as Car is Ditched Returning From Belleville.

FRIEND DRIVING.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., May 5.—(C. P.)—Gordon Powers, 27, of Bancroft lies in Belleville General Hospital today with a broken back and paralyzed from the waist down as the result of an accident which occurred on the highway three miles west of the city last night.

Powers was riding in a roadster driven by Roy Maxwell of the same place and was returning to Bancroft when the accident occurred. According to the story told to the police, Maxwell was turning off the heater when the car went out of control, leaped the ditch and took out 15 feet of wire fencing.

Powers was thrown out and was found some distance from the car. He was brought to the hospital in a passing motor. His condition is reported as serious.

DUCHESS YORK CAPTAIN WIRES POLICE AT PORT

Scottish Officers Taking No Chance on Outlaw Plan to be on Hand.

SHIP DOCKS TO-NIGHT.

Desperado Believed to Have Boarded Canadian Vessel at Halifax.

GREENOCK, Scotland, May 5. — (AP) — Captain Stewart, master of the S. S. Duchess of York, reported by wireless to the Greenock police today that he had searched the big ocean liner fruitlessly for John Dillinger, American desperado.

The local police said they were satisfied that Dillinger, rumored on his way to Great Britain, was not aboard captain Stewart's ship but, nevertheless, alien officers will meet the ship when it arrives later in the day.

It is understand here that detectives also will board the Duchess of York at Belfast to satisfy themselves that the rumors are untrue.

LIVERPOOL, May 5 (C.P.). — Police announced to-day that they will search the liner Duchess of York upon her arrival on Sunday morning to satisfy themselves concerning rumors that John Dillinger, United States desperado, is aboard.

A high official of the local detective branch said that while no advices had been received from United States authorities, reports here that the number one gangster of United States is en route to England could not be ignored.

(The Duchess of York sailed from Halifax, N.S., on April 29)

The official announced that detectives will board the liner as soon as she docks. He said no one would be allowed to come ashore until every passenger has been scrutinized and the vessel searched.

An official of the Canadian Pacific said the company had not received any intimation that Dillinger was aboard the ship.

Authorities expressed the opinion that if the gangster should be aboard, Liverpool would be the most likely place to apprehend him since he might easily escape detection at both Greenock and Belfast, where the vessel calls late to-day.

An official said should Dillinger try to enter England the Government would "give all possible aid to American authorities."

The Government had no official report that the gunman was en route here, and believes such rumors untrue but, should he ever attempt to escape from the United States to Great Britain, authorities would hold him for a return to his homeland.

Frost Damages Are Not Heavy In Mains

Workmen of the Utilities Commission are not yet through repairing the damage caused to water services in the city by the severe winter frosts. During the past few days some unforeseen leaks have developed in later mains owing to the winter damage.

"It is not as serious as it might have been," R. L. Dobbin, manager of the Utilities, stated. "In fact we have been lucky and it is a real surprise that there isn't more trouble that has developed. None of the leaks are serious and can easily be repaired."

It was explained that the work done during the winter in thawing frozen services and hydrants had lessened the trouble at this time. "We will have a certain amount of digging to do," Mr. Dobbin said. "But much of it will be fore the laying of new services."

Keene Boy Wins Queen's Scholarship

Several students from this district who are attending Queen's University have won awards in the Faculty of Arts' honor list, which was announced to-day. In the first year Science group, H. M. McFarlane, of Keene, is awarded a $100 scholarship; and two Marmora students, D. D. Airhart and Sidney Bulbuk, have been awarded each $75 scholarships.

The '01 Fellowship in English of $80 has been won by F. J. Wilson, of Sunderland. Dorothy Lean, of Cobourg, won the medal in Mathematics, and Margaret E. McGregor, of Bowmanville, the medal in Spanish.

Revolt in Desert

IBN SAUD

Fiery Arab, king of Saudi, Arabia, Ibn Saud is giving the British no end of trouble in the east — enough at least to cause England to despatch a warship to Aden in the Arabian sea. Ibn Saud, who has learned modern methods of warfare, has extended his kingdom along the Red Sea coast of Arabia. By defeating Iman Yahya and the Yemini troops, it is feared Saud may perpetrate a "great Arabia" campaign.

GRIMSBY TOWN PRESTON TEAM WIN PROMOTION

English Soccer League Concludes Season—Lincoln City Relegated.

BARNSLEY ADVANCES.

Tottenham Hotspurs Make Great Showing in First Division.

LONDON, May 5.—(C.P. Cable.) —The long English season ended to-day with last-ditch battles for promotion and relegation, which resulted in Preston North End gaining the right to entry into the First Division along with Grimsby Town.

Manchester United beat Millwall 2-0 on the latter's grounds, which sends Millwall down to the Third Division along with Lincoln City next season.

Barnsley Advances.

The thrilling struggle for promotion from the Northern Section ended in success for Barnsley, who won over New Brighton by the only goal scored, while Chesterfield, after leading the division all season, finished one point back as a result of a grim scoreless battle with Stockport County. Norwich City were already assured of promotion from the Southern Section.

Arsenal Wins.

Arsenal, already having won their second league championship, maintained a three-point margin at the close by beating Sheffield United 2-0, while Huddersfield Town were winning at Birmingham, 3-1.

The teams promoted next season are: Grimsby Town and Preston North End from the second to the first; Barnsley from the third Northern and Norwich City from the Third Southern to the Second Division.

(Continued on Page Five.)

The Weather

May appears to have made a great start in setting this summer off on a dash for new heat records. Yesterday the mercury rose to 84 degrees and the city sweltered in heat that made citizens think of bathing in the Otonabee. Yesterday was the record high for the year, but for the past five days the thermometer has been registering over 70 degrees.

Commenting on the heat wave, Walter Peters, weather recorder, said, "It is exceptional this early, although we sometimes get heat like this at the end of May. I have look over my records and I have not found anything to match it so early in May."

STEVENS LASHES POLICIES IN USE BY LARGE FIRMS

Declare Dividends — Wages So Low Workers Forced on Relief.

REMEDY ESSENTIAL.

Turns on Chamber of Commerce for Criticism—Points to Its Business Record.

MONTREAL, May 5 (C.P.). — Chiselers of industry—although the Minister of Trade and Commerce did not actually use the word made popular by President Roosevelt — were roundly condemned by Hon. H. H. Stevens in an address to Montreal businessmen last night.

Mr. Stevens verbally lashed big firms which, while continuing to declare dividends to shareholders, paid wages so low their employees were forced to seek relief from taxpayers' money; declared he would not sit by silent while firms which played the game in business were "crucified" by those that did not, and stated while he did not recommend an NRA for Canada, there was certainly need of something.

The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in its demands for curtailed government expenditure and balanced budgets, also came under fire from the Minister. He was "amused" by the Chamber's criticism.

Did, he asked, business do better on its own behalf Companies had increased the mortgage bonded indebtedness of industries and business corporations in Canada 500 per cent. during the past 17 years, from $220,000,000 to $1,178,000,000. In that time business expansion and output had only increased 50 per cent.

Program Approved.

What voices were raised against heavy governmental expenditures of the past 15 years? When the government was spending money on the huge Canadian Government Merchant Marine project pressure was brought to bear by businessmen to proceed with the program.

"Turn your eyes on your own activities," he said. "See if criticism cannot be directed on your own activities." Mr. Stevens advised the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade to discipline their own members and preach to them what they preached to governments.

Industry should organize itself not into combines to mulct the public, not into great organizations of industry, but into associations for the purpose of discipine so that fair and ethical practices would prevail.

"I say plainly if you are going to let those who play the game square in business be crucified by those who will not, then somebody, some power, must step in and adjust it. As far as I am concerned I will not stand idle or silent as long as there are men in charge of industries who will pay their own employees a rate of wages crushing the individuals down into penury on the one hand and on the other will set up destructive competition against the fair businessman."

NIAGARA GORGE OFFICE BURNED

Blaze Believed Started by Children Sweeps Whole Building.

$7,000 DAMAGE.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 5. (CP). In a spectacular blaze which swept up from the bottom of the Niagara gorge on the old incline railway the Whirlpool Incline Railway offices and store were completely destroyed at one o'clock today with an estimated loss of $7,000, covered by insurance.

The property is owned by the Niagara Falls Parks Commission. The fire started at the water's edge and is believed to have been started by children. For a time it was feared that two firemen had been lost in the flames but they were later found safe.

Fireman Percy Murray was overcome by smoke. The long incline tunnel from the water's edge acted as a funnel to fan the blaze all through the machinery and engine used for lowering and raising the car and the firemen could do little beyond preventing the spread of the flames.

Direct air service between Warsaw and Berlin has just been established.

HEPBURN GIVES HENRY ANSWER ON BEAUHARNOIS

Only $2,000 Received by Liberals From Sweezey for Campaign Fund.

ASKS TORY SHARE.

Estimates $3,000,000 Spent by Distillers to Get L.C.B. to Handle Goods.

WINDSOR, Ont., May 5 (C.P.).—Ontario Liquor Commission and the Beauharnois power deals were the Ontario Liberal Party's ammunition as the Ontario general election campaign warmed up to-day. Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, intends inquiring into what he calls a "toll gate system" in the Ontario Liquor Commission, and he asks a few questions of Premier Henry regarding Beauharnois.

Mr. Hepburn addressed 3,000 persons at Lansbury Park in Walkerville last night after a convention of Windsor-Walkerville Liberals had selected unanimously Mayor David A. Croll of Windsor as their candidate for the coming election.

Mayor Croll was given the nomination without a ballot after B. Ross MacKenzie withdrew from the lists.

$2,000 for Liberals.

Mr. Hepburn replied to Conservative intimations regarding Beauharnois contributions to the Liberal campaign fund by declaring only $2,000 had been received from R. O. Sweezey, power executive. Then Mr. Hepburn asked what the Conservatives obtained from the same source and wanted to know if "little Johnny Aird" was still Premier George S. Henry's collector."

"Does Premier Henry know the source of the fund?" queried the Liberal Leader after intimating the Conservative Party had so much money it was at a loss what to do with it.

Mr. Hepburn said he had a letter from a Scottish distiller who maintained he was unable to sell his liquor to the Ontario Liquor Commission without "local influence."

Mr. Hepburn estimated $3,000,000 was expended by distillers in this manner in an attempt to have the Commission handle their goods.

Old Country distillers would be conferred with if the Liberals were elected, he declared, in an effort to determine the amount of money expended in this connection.

Dug 360 feet deep in 1828 a shaft in Yakutsk, Siberia, is being cleared and made still deeper to learn the depth to which the ground is permanently frozen.

Agricultural Notes Of Interest To Farmers In District

EMERGENCY GRAIN AND HAY CROPS

Now that the full extent of the loss caused to Fall Wheat and Clovers is being realized farmers from all parts of the county are enquiring and making plans to use special crops that will partly replace those that have been destroyed.

Owing to the lateness of the season it is not advisable to sow spring wheat, and anyhow over a period of years, the yield per acre of spring wheat in Peterborough County has not been high enough to make it a popular crop.

With wheat entirely removed, barley is about the best substitute as far as cereal grains are concerned and doubtless the acreage will be considerably increased this year. In addition to the special market that is now establishd for barley, suitable for malting purposes from the standpoint of feed for livestock it is one of our most valuable feeds; especially when we consider that barley has a food value practicaly equal to corn, being almost as high in carbohydrates and slightly higher in protein content.

Over a period of years the O.A.C. No. 21 variety has given the highest yield per acre. Barley can be sown alone at about two bushels per acre or if the farmer prefers a mixed grain crop, the O.A.C. No. 21 variety can be sown with either Alaska or O.A.C. No. 3 Oats at about equal quantities, the above varieties of oats are earlier than the main crop and mature at about the same time as Barley.

Despite the fact that Peas are rather hard to harvest they make a very satisfactory crop and can be used to good advantage this year.

While there are several varieties the Canadian Beauty, Potter, Arthur or Prussian Blue seem to be the most popular and have given satisfactory results over a period of years.

With so many clover fields destroyed or partially destroyed the problem of securing a satisfactory crop of hay is even a greater problem to many farmers this year than his grain crop. While there will be many mixtures used this year, possibly the safest and easiest one to

(Continued on Page Eight.)

HOLSTEIN MARK

GUELPH, Ont., May 5. (CP)—Vimy Ridge Fancy, two-year-old Holstein heifer owned by the Ontario Reformatory here is credited with having produced 10,825 pounds of milk testing 3.75 percent fat under test in the 305 day division of the R.O.P., in her last lactation period. The heifer was bred by Vimy Ridge Farm here and in each of three months during her milking period gave over 1,200 pounds.

"Blind" Justice Uses The X-Ray

Unique scene in Dedham, Mass., jail as Abe Faber who is on trial with the Millen brothers for slaying of two policemen during bank holdup, underwent mental and physical test. He is shown on operating table under X-ray machine, while Drs. Evelyn Mitchell and A. Everett Austin, psychiatrists, check results.

ANNUAL INSPECTION AT GROVE BRINGS HONORS TO CADET CORPS

Morning Parade is Followed by Smart Performance by High School Squad.

FEW PARENTS ATTEND.

LAKEFIELD, May 5. (Examiner Correspondence).—Perfect weather conditions for the annual cadet inspection at The Grove on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The Corps marched on the field led by their bugle band and presented a smart appearance in their trim khaki uniforms red berets, green hose with scarlet tops. The terrace was filled with admiring and interested spectators who felt a personal pride in the showing made by the boys.

Capt. E. Churchill-Mann, R.C.D., was the inspecting officer and expressed heartiest approval of the showing made in company, platoon and section drill as well as in physical training. The corps was handicapped this spring by the backward weather which kept back the outdoor drill but nevertheless the lack of the usual time was not apparent and the corps made a good impression in every way and did credit to their instructors, Capt. T. W. B. Marling and G. W. Smith.

Everyone connected with The Grove takes a keen interest in the cadet corps and there were present Masters and their wives, small boys, visitors and friends of all ages ranging from little Innis MacKenzie, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie, to the Headmaster himself, who was here, there and everywhere, making people feel at home.

The cadet officers were as follows: Cadet captain, Edward Wood; platoon commanders, Douglas MacDonald, Allan Dawe; company ser-

(Continued on Page Eight.)

Thankless Job

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C., May 5 (C.P.).—No one wants to be dogcatcher here. Two former holders of the office decline reappointment with thanks. They said that small boys stoned them, dog owners threatened to beat them up, and that dogs that were impounded were mysteriously released as rapidly as they were nabbed.

The city is considering scrapping the dog ordinance.

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1934.

Canada Packers quote:

Bacon hogs — F.O.B., $7.50; off truck, $7.65.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.

Sows 3c off bacon prices

Dressed Hogs— Head on, $12.50; headless, $13.00.

Cream—No. 1 (on truck), 22c.

No. 1, delivered, 23c.

Special, 2c per lb. premium.

Advertise in The Examiner

SPRING FLOODS PLAYING HAVOC NORTH ONTARIO

Eleven Injured as C.N.R. Train Leaves Tracks After Washout.

BRIDGES DAMAGED.

Peace River Eases in Alberta —Lake Head Roads Awash.

(By the Canadian Press).

Springtime's flood menace still clung to Northern Ontario and Northern Alberta to-day as swollen rivers tumbled over their banks to block roads, drive people from their homes and disrupt train service.

The Peace River in Alberta's north lost some of its anger to-day and Fort Vermilion residents prepared to return to flood-swept homes. Ice and silt covered the roads in the district. The tumbling waters washed through North Vermilion homes and at Red River wrecked six buildings and moved 17 others from the foundations.

The ferry service between North Vermilion and Fort Vermilion was disrupted when the cable was damaged, forcing the telegraph operator to cross the rushing waters in a small boat to tap the line for contact with other towns.

Eleven persons were victims of the flood menace in Northern Ontario when six cars of a Canadian National Railways train left the tracks which were damaged by rising waters. The 11 persons were passengers of the only passenger car on the mixed train which was jarred by the sudden stop, resulting in slight injuries to those aboard.

Soo Watches River.

Residents north of Sault Ste. Marie scanned the flooded country where the Agawa River and the Goulais River threshed about railway tracks, bridges and roads. The water showed signs of receding and Algoma Central Railway officials hoped to resume traffic northward on Sunday.

The Agawa River which washed away the Algoma central track in Agawa canyon had receded six inches. At the Goulais River bridge water trickled about the approaches and the river broke its banks to plunge across the Batchawan road and the Searchmont road between Searchmont and Northland.

In Bay View, sub-division of Sault Ste. Marie, residents were moving about in boats. Water rushed into the cellars of their homes when the swollen Davioux creeks switched from its usual course.

Flood waters slapped against roads in the lake-head country and swept away a bridge at Shabaqua on the trans-Canada highway. The Swanne River at James on the Sioux Lookout branch of the Canadian National Railways tumbled out of its course and wrecked 200 yards of rails.

BELGIUM'S KING TAPPED ON HEAD AUTHOR CLAIMS

(Continued from Page 1)

between the Walloons and the Flemish.

"I am in a position to say that when Albert I was dead, the Communists—who in fact represent the interests of international finance — were able to stand up on their hind legs and yell for revolution, Hutchison said.

Official Indignant

LONDON, May 5.—(AP)—An enraged official of the Belgian embassy in London today invited Colonel Graham Seton Hutchison to come there and repeat his story of King Albert's death — promising Hutchison a "sock on the jaw" if he does so.

Indignantly saying he was ready to tell "this Col. Hutchison he is a liar," an embassy spokesman fumed at word from Nottingham that Hutchison had said the late Belgian monarch was slain and did not really die an accidental death while mountain climbing.

"If he will come to this embassy and dare to repeat it to me, I will give him a punch on the jaw and tell him it is the most scandalous thing I ever heard," the spokesman declared.

"There is not a single person in Belgium who does not know the real facts about how our beloved king met his death.

"There are some people who—to get a little notoriety—will invent the most horrible lies.

"All decent - minded people throughout the world will, I am sure treat such a statement with con-

---

Salvaging of sunken ships is to be attempted in Table Bay, South Africa, where 300 vessels are said to have gone down in 300 years.

Soft Hearted

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 5. — (C.P.).—Said the judge to Mrs. Peter Heath, as he sentenced Peter to 30 days in the workhouse for beating her:

"I'll keep him locked up as long as you like, Mrs. Heath. Let me know when you think he's had enough."

One hour later Mrs. Heath came back.

"Your Honor," she said, "may I take him home now, please?"

East Emily

Mrs. N. Edmunson and Mrs. B. Lang and daughter Marion of Smith spent Monday afternoon visiting with Miss Ida Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Wilson and children of Peterborough spent Sunday faternoon visiting at the home of Mr. Walter Moncrief.

Misses Gertrude and Irene Fee of Toronto are visiting with their mother, Mrs. Annie Fee.

Mrs. W. Madill and son Lawrence of Toronto spent Sunday visiting with the former's sister, Mrs. Annie Fee.

Mrs. J. McBain and son Eric of Peterborough spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Fee.

Mr. Oswald Ruth made a business trip to Millbrook on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Strain and baby of Ennismore spent Sunday visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Strain.

Mr. Clifford Strain spent the week-end with friends in North Monaghan.

Mrs. George Bannon of North Monaghan spent a few days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Carew.

Quite a number from this district attended the Conservative convention in Lindsay on Monday.

Mrs. Albert McConnell is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong of Janetville.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Harrison were visitors to Peterborough on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCarrell were visitors to Peterborough on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Harrison and family of Smith spent Sunday visiting with the former's brother, Mr. William Harrison.

Miss Helen Storey of Toronto spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Storey.

Miss Marion Storey of Peterborough spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Storey.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Jackson spent Sunday visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mann in Smith.

'EX' PRIZE LIST IS COMPLETED

Will be Distributed After Approval of Federal Department is Received.

DATES AUG. 20 TO 25

The prize list for the Peterborough Exhibition was approved by the directors last night and will be forwarded to the Federal Department of Agriculture for their endorsation.

Special encouragement is given this year for exhibits of cheese and honey by district producers and also for a larger showing in the commercial classes of the sheep and swine departments.

It was also decided not to deduct the two dollar membership from prize money, a change that will no doubt be appreciated by exhibitors. Vivian Milburn, manager of the Exhibition, reported that he had received a number of special prizes, and that the list would be ready for distribution as soon as possible.

The Exhibition dates have been advanced this year to week of August 20-25, and plans are already well advanced.

Two Toronto Men Held In Stock Case

HAMILTON, Ont., May 4.—(CP)—Harry McAllister and William George Fleming, two Toronto men, were placed under arrest here yesterday afternoon on charges of vagrancy as a result of complaints made to police by local stockbrokers and bankers. Yesterday police stated, a man entered the office of Draper Dobie and Company and offered a certificate for 10,000 shares of Sherritt Gordon Mines for sale, asking $11,000 for the certificate. The manager phoned the Trust Company in Toronto which issues the certificates on behalf of the mine and discovered that the document should be for 10 shares only. When he turned to speak to the would-be customer the man seized the certificate and fled.

This morning a second man entered the Dominion Bank and offered for sale another stock certificate. He was refused and left the building, but police traced him to a main street west rooming house where the arrests were made.

G. R.

Liberal-Conservative

CONVENTION

County of Peterborough

A convention of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Peterborough, for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding of the County of Peterborough in the approaching elections in Ontario, will be held in

CANADIAN LEGION HALL, Murray St. Peterborough

—on—

THURSDAY, May 10, 1934

at 2 o'clock p.m. (Standard Time)

The meeting will be open to the public and will be addressed by

HON. GEO. S. HENRY

Prime Minister of Ontario

J. F. STRICKLAND, K.C., M.P.P.

T. P. LANCASTER, M.P.P.

E. A. PECK, K.C., M.P.

MAYOR DENNE OF PETERBOROUGH and the Candidate

In view of the approaching Ontario elections the message of the Prime Minister of Ontario should be of interest to every elector.

COL. R. E. BIRDSALL, President JOHN R. CORKERY, Secretary

God Save the King!

FIRE FOLLOWS ARBOR DAY FUN

School Shed at S. S. No. 7, Cavan, Destroyed by Blaze on Friday.

WOOD SUPPLY SAVED.

CAVAN, May 5. (Examiner Correspondence). — The usual Arbor Day program of Spring cleaning outdoors at S.S. No. 7, Cavan was somewhat enlivened yesterday when the shed and part of next Winter's wood supply was destroyed by fire.

The work of cleaning the school yard had just been done and before the teacher and pupils had left for the woods for the afternoon, precaution was taken with the two piles where rubbish had been burned and water thrown on the ashes but after dinner a stiff breeze blow up, fanning the live embers and causing the piles to blaze up anew, the flames running along the dry grass to the shed, igniting it. Lewis Pudsey noticed the fire and gave the alarm.

Volunteers saved the greater part of the wood that was stored in the shed. The loss was not heavy.

Grass Fires Menace Lakefield Buildings

LAKEFIELD, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—The fire brigade had two runs to fires which threatened seriously on Friday afternoon. The first call came at 12.30 p.m. to a grass and rubbish fire at Charlton's Mill, and at 2.30 p.m. a call came from Hilliard McCrocken's house at the west end of the village where a grass fire had caught in the fences and done serious damage to them. Prompt action saved the surrounding buildings in both cases. Last year's leaves were nearly all caught in the early winter and this spring the leaves and dead grass have made more raking and burning than usual, and the brigade are warning people against careless handling of these fires, which can so easily menace a community.

"Couldn't Believe Only a Few Extra Dollars Could Buy So Much More Car Until I Saw the New Dodge"

SAY THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS EVERYWHERE . . . .

Get Amazing Facts in "Show-Down" Plan!

There's only one way to find out which of the new 1934 cars gives the most for your money. That is to compare. Dodge offers you an easy, simple way to do this. It's called the "Show-Down" Plan. It takes the guess-work out of car buying. Gives you facts—not claims. Ask any Dodge dealer about it—and get a copy of the FREE "Show-Down" score card.

Advertisement endorsed by Department of Engineering, Chrysler Motors.

The New Bigger DODGE

DELIVERED TO YOU IN PETERBORO $937

The new, bigger Dodge on 117-inch wheelbase: Coupe with rumble seat; Four-door Sedan; Convertible Coupe. On the 114-inch wheelbase: Coupe; Two-door Sedan; Rumble seat Coupe; Four-door Sedan; Convertible Coupe.

LILLICO MOTORS

383-385 WATER STREET PETERBOROUGH PHONE 362

The Golden Text

Phil. 2: 9—"Wherefore also God highly exalted him, and gave unto him the name which is above every name."

Sabbath Message For The Shut-Ins

Written for The Examiner by the Ministers of the City.

DAVID'S BEQUEST—1 Chron. 28:9.

By REV. HAROLD BROWETT, Bethany Tabernacle.

An aged father had come to the end of a strenuous life. In the network of years he had gained experience. He tries at the last moment to pass it on to his son that he may benefit by it. But its choicest nuggets he finds too numerous to instill in so brief a time.

Here his mind seizes on the heart of the matter and he sees all of life's knowledge or ignorance; successes or failures; sin or redemption from sin, based in the truth of the word He uttered and gave as a treasure-cask into the hand of a wise man, who Himself afterward wrote, "A wise man will hear and will increase learning and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsel. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction." And likely at the moment of writing he had before him the memorandum of the father's words.

"And thou, Solomon my son, know thou the God of thy father and serve Him with a perfect heart and with a willing mind: for the Lord searcheth all hearts and understandeth all the imaginations of the thoughts: if thou seek Him, He will be found of thee; but if thou forsake Him, He will cast thee off forever."

Its Meaning.

Its meaning was to express the deep concern of the father for the son's future life and work. He knew what the son would have thrust upon him of bitterness, hatred, intrigue and temptation.

It meant that the father had gone that way, and as we read the record of the triumphs and failures of David, especially at that dramatic moment when Nathan pointed his finger and uttered, "Thou art the man!" who does not feel that here is flesh and blood?

It meant that the son could be guided by mature experience—if he had the wisdom to receive it. The world is full of advice, but most of it bursts out from ignorance. How could a machinist advise an astronomer? But this was different. David was expert in the way Solomon was to go.

Its Subject.

Its subject was that of the most consequential message of life. Properly taken it would lead Solomon into the sanest channel. It would give any man the benefit of a wisdom beyond the human with which to meet the knotty problems of this life. But it does more—it points the way to Life Eternal!

Its subject was the element of success or failure. It depended for its success, of course, upon the wisdom of the hearer. If he allowed other things a higher relative value, then the message was lost and his success a matter of scheme and chance with bitterness.

Its subject was, how to know God. David takes a short-cut across coldness in religion, he says, "Know the God of thy father—serve Him with a perfect heart and a willing mind." Centuries afterwards, Jesus uttered the same thought when, to the bad woman at the well, He said, "They that worship God must worship in spirit and in truth." This anathematizes formal Sunday religion in favor of the "every-moment-of-the-day" kind. This was the subject David stressed.

Its Object.

Its object was to do Solomon personal good. How often men tend to draw away the shoulder from God's merciful pleading, "Son, give Me thine heart?"—not the cloak—the heart! Its object is to change the man who is wise enough to receive it. To change him for good. To give him Life Eternal.

Its object was to teach Solomon how to find God. It is a message the cold human heart needs to-day—"If thou seek Him, He shall be found of thee." True then. True now! To those who have never sought Him as the Bearer of their sins the message should be an arrow into the heart. In other burdens of grief or need weigh you down, you should seek this Burden-Bearer. The following verses are those of a hymn by Mrs. J. F. Pullyblank, city:

Has most everything gone wrong?
Pray, pray again.
Is your heart without a song?
Pray, pray again.
Are you burdened down with care?
Can't find comfort anywhere?
Don't forget God answers prayer,
Pray, pray again.

Are there loved ones you would win?
Pray, pray again.
Would you see them free from sin?
Pray, pray again.
Jesus died to save them all.
If they'll listen to His call
They'll be pardoned one and all,
Pray, pray again.

This, the word I leave you,
Pray, pray again.
Only Christ can take you through,
Pray, pray again.
Look to Jesus every day,
Strive to walk the narrow way,
Without ceasing watch and pray,
Pray, pray again.

TORONTO CONSERVATORY MIDSUMMER EXAMINATIONS

The Toronto Conservatory of Music announces that the Midsummer Local Examinations for 1934 will be held throughout Canada in June and July next. Applications and fees from Ontario Candidates east of Sault Ste. Marie should reach the Conservatory not later than May 15, 1934.

Be patient and of good heart.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church

Rev. A. T. Barr, B.D., D. Ph. Minister — A. E. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., Organist.

11.00 A.M.—THE MINISTER.

Men Who Made Mistakes

2—THE MAN WHO SOLD HIS BIRTHRIGHT.

MISS ELIZABETH WALKER, our Deaconess, will be introduced to the Congregation.

Anthem—Holy Art Thou ..... Handel
Anthem—The Roseate Hues of Early Dawn ..Slater

7.00 P.M.—THE MINISTER.

Scenes of Other Days

2—THE OLD TOLL-GATE.

Anthem—Lead, Kindly Light ..... Evans
Anthem—Hark, Hark, My Soul ..... Gounod

SUNDAY SCHOOL AT 3.00 O'CLOCK
MID-WEEK SERVICE, WEDNESDAY, 8.00 P.M.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Religious and Social Questions Answered By DR. WYLIE CLARK

I have attended many funerals and I consider very few preachers know how to conduct a funeral service. What is your idea about it?—U. T.

There is no place where the minister's good sense is so apparent as in the home where death for the time being holds everyone in its grip. It is so easy to speak the wrong word or assume a wrong attitude. To jar the feelings of the bereaved or gratify by a sentence the curious is fatal to the harmony of peace which should be overall.

Dr. Wylie Clark

Some ministers think they are the corpse and by look and voice try to be so. Some think they are the mourners and manage to put tears both in their eyes and voices.

Some think they are the whole thing, preacher, undertaker, mourners and friends, and try to carry off the entire business.

It is easy to criticize. It is much more difficult to say what ought to be. I think we can all agree that the service ought to be simple, sincere and comforting. The minister's way, of applying the hymn, the word of God and the deep things of his own heart, leaves an impression which will abide.

The questions asked about marriage and divorce by—D. R. C.

Unless the woman has obtained a divorce her marriage would not be legal. It is altogether likely the divorce has been obtained in the United States. If so the laws of Saskatchewan do not accept the right of the United States to set aside a marriage performed in Saskatchewan.

I fancy the man could not legally be married again in Saskatchewan without obtaining a divorce for himself. He could be legally married in the United States. As the case is complicated you had better consult a lawyer.

Is it right to raise money for church purposes—the minister's salary, missions, church repairs, et cetera, by giving suppers, teas and entertainment?—L. A.

I think most church workers believe that there is only one right way to support and honor the Lord's work and that is by straight voluntary giving. Many churches fancy that this is too high a standard for them to reach so they follow other methods.

No one ever heard of an elder's wife giving a tea to buy a carpet for her front room or for her stairs or to help her husband's salary. Why should the church or the manse or the minister be so humiliated?

I saw some place where the church was called the "Society of the Holy Imagination." That seems to make the church a mere dream and not a reality in a real world.—D. R. S.

The church is such a big thing that there may be a number of definitions and all of them be right. The difficulty is to find a definition big enough to include all phases of what the church is and what it stands for.

The definition quoted by the questioner seems to have a range of possibilities wide enough and deep enough to include all the functions of the church.

ions of faith and worked out in serigether in righteous conception of its place in the midst of life—a brotherhood seeking to form into reality what its members had seen in visions of faith and wrked ut in serious hours of meditation; that is the society translating its spiritual forces into life in this world.

Here also we have all the opportunities of worship and prayer presented to us. The soul communes with God and reaches those places of high estate where the will of God is comprehended.

Cathedral Musings

FROM ignorance arises fear, and from fear comes all the cruelties, hatreds, intolerances and bigotries which man by inflicting upon one another defiles the Divine Image in which he is created.

In our present stage of partial ignorance there can be no unformity of belief or knowledge. Men are not and never have been born equal. Each to-day is but the sum total of his past. We are by no means equally capable of perceiving truth as we can only apprehend that which we are fitted to preceive, that for which we are spiritually ready. Even the disciples of the Master had not arrived at a point where they were capable of bearing the burden of the ultimate knowledge. So that to be intolerant of another's religion or belief is to assume an attitude of omniscience that only God can rightfully possess, and in doing so we are really belitting the Light, which it is well to remember, lighteth EVERY man, and is not the exclusive possession of this church or that, this religion or the other. We may not always agree with the other's viewpoint, but our attitude should be to help him enlarge HIS consciousness and conception, not to seek to impose OUR conception upon him, and to always bear in mind that the truth or falsity of our own conception is bound to reflect itself in our lives, in the everyday six days of the week far more faithfully than when we are on our best behavior on the seventh day. Heaven has no place for superstitions and still less room for sectarian differences.—Frater IX., Rosicrucian Order, San Jose, Calif.

Pension Racket Is Found In Hastings

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 5th. — The Ontario Old Age Pensions Board has asked the Crown Attorney in Hastings County to institute action against a man resident there who is alleged to have been offering to obtain pensions for old people for a consideration of $10 each. The Crown Attorney has handed the matter over to the Provincial Police for investigation.

Twelve cases have been brought to the notice of the Board, Hon. Dr. David Jamieson, chairman, stated yesterday. From each of these was collected $10, or a total of $120, two of the contributors being deaf.

MRS. F. NICHOL HEADS BRANCH

Financial Statement Read at Annual Meeting of Roseneath Institute.

INVITATIONS ACCEPTED.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, May 5.—Mesdames Ezekiel and Delbert Brisbin were hostesses to the annual meeting of the Womens Institute that was held in the town hall on Thursday afternoon, with a goodly attendance present. The secretary Mrs. Chas. Sandercock, read the financial statement for the year, showing a balance of $8.61.

Correspondence was read, including a letter from Warkworth Dramatic Club, accepting the invitation to present their play "Wild Ginger," in the Orange Hall on the evening of Thursday, May 24th.

Other correspondence was from Hastings and Fenella, accepting the invitation to attend the summer meeting in the town hall on May 22nd. Considerable time was taken up in discussing the menu.

The committee appointed for arranging the hall and lunch were Miss J. Johnston, Mrs. Charles Sandercock, Mrs. Earl Waldie, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. William Mouncey, Mrs. M. D. Brown and Mrs. Delbert Brisbin.

On motion of Mrs. Ryan, and Mrs. E. Blodgett that Mrs. Albert Tucker contribute a number for the program for the District Annual Meeting at Fenella on June 21st.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Baxter with Mrs. M. D. Brown and Mrs. Wm. Mouncey as program committee.

At this period the president, Mrs. Frank Nichol spoke briefly in voicing her thanks to the officers and members for their splendid co-operation during the past year, and without hesitation the ballots were dispersed among the members for election of new officers.

These were president, Mrs. Frank Nichols; Vice-President, Mrs. Barton Thackeray; Secretary, Mrs. M. D. Brown; Pianist, Miss Joy Morrison.

The district representatives for the year are the executive and Mrs. Charlton Grigg and Mrs. Charles Sandercock, District Director to be Mrs. Frank Nichol.

Program Committee for the year are Mrs. Albert Halstead, Mrs. Ednel Blodgett and Mrs. Earl Waldie. Good Cheer Committee, Mrs. Joseph Braithwaite.

A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring secretary and to the other officers who responded with pleasure.

A hearty hand clap was given the hostesses for their kind hospitality. Delicious refreshments were served and a social half hour was spent.

ANGLICAN

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Ven. E. C. Blagrave, D.D., Rector.
Rev. E. R. James
Fifth Sunday After Easter.

8.30 a.m.—Holy Communion
11.00 a.m.—Choral Communion. The Rector will Preach.
3.00 p.m.—Sunday School and Bible Classes Closing Meeting of the Men's Class.
7.00 p.m.—Evensong. Rev. E. R. James.

F. G. Mann, Organist and Choirmaster.

ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Cor. Rubidge and Sherbrooke Sts
Rev. J. D. Paterson, Rector.

11.00 a.m.—Holy Communion. Preacher: Rev. John Blodgett of Wycliffe College.
3.00 p.m.—Miss Dorothy Worboy will Address an Open Meeting of Bible Classes and Sunday School on her Work with the Sunday School-by-Post Mission Van (illustrated by her own Pictures). All welcome.
7.00 p.m.—The Choir will Sing "The Daughter of Jairus."

BROCK STREET ASSEMBLY HALL

(227 Brock Street, near Aylmer)

Christians gathered unto the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. (Matt 18 20)

Lord's Day—
Sunday School ..... 10 a.m.
Sunday School and Bible Class ..... 3 pm
Breaking of the Bread .. 11 a.m
Gospel Preaching ..... 7 p.m
A cordial invitation to all.

SALVATION ARMY

Public Services 11 a.m., 3.15 & 7 p.m
Sunday School 2.15 p.m

All Children Attending No Sunday School, We Have Room For You—All Ages. Babies-in-Arms Class. Mothers, Come with Your Babies.

QUARTERLY MEETING AT THE FREE METHODIST CHURCH

296 Aylmer Street—on Sunday, May 6 with REV. G. F. BALL, District President, in charge.

9.30 A.M.—LOVE FEAST.
11.00 A.M.—PREACHING.
11.45 A.M.—COMMUNION.
7.00 P.M.—PREACHING.

Everybody welcome.
B. G. SUTTON, Pastor.

AUBURN GOSPEL MISSION

SERVICES at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. In the Evening MISS LAURA M. HARMON, outgoing Missionary to Borneo, East Indies, will Speak. Children's Meeting Wednesday, from 7 to 8 o'clock, followed by Prayer Service. You are welcome to all Services.

ROMAN CATHOLIC

St. Peter's Cathedral

Holy Hour - - 7 to 8 p.m
Masses at 7.30 9.00 and 10.30 a.m

Character must stand behind and support everything, the sermon, poem, picture, play.

PARK STREET BAPTIST

Rev. G. K. TYLER, B. Th., Pastor.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

11.00 A.M.—PROF. A. L. McCRIMMON, LL.D., of McMaster University, will Preach.
3.00 P.M. - - BIBLE SCHOOL
7 p.m.—Prof. A. L. McCrimmon, LL.D.
GUEST SOLOIST: MISS JESSIE PATTISON
Special Music and Singing by the Choir.
YOU ARE INVITED TO WORSHIP AT THESE SERVICES.

GOSPEL HALL

(Corner McDonnel and Water Streets)

11.00 A.M. - - - BREAKING OF BREAD
3.00 P.M. - - SUNDAY SCHOOL AND BIBLE CLASS
7.00 P.M. - - - PREACHING OF THE GOSPEL
8.00 P.M. (MONDAY) - - BIBLE READING.
We Give You a Hearty Invitation.

THE UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA
GEORGE STREET CHURCH

REV. J. E. J. MILLYARD, Pastor.
David H. Howat, Organist and Choir Director.
Miss Dorothy Bager, Soloist.
GUEST PREACHER:

REV. R. J. McCORMICK, M.A.

Minister of Zion Tabernacle, Hamilton.

11 a.m.—"The Spirit of Jesus"
7 p.m.—"The Challenge of Our Day"

JUNIOR SCHOOL 11 A.M. SUNDAY SCHOOL 3 P.M.
MID-WEEK SERVICE, WEDNESDAY, 8.00 P.M.

ST. ANDREW'S UNITED CHURCH

Rev. Chas. V. McLean, M.A., Ph.D., Minister.

101st ANNIVERSARY

REV. ROBERT POGUE, B.A.

Guest Preacher — At 11 A.M. AND 7 P.M.

Mrs Ross A Williamson, Soloist.
Mr. Cyril J. Rice Mus.Bac., Choirmaster.
Choir Concert on Monday Evening at 8 o'clock.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

REV FRANK M WOOTTON - - - Pastor
Miss Mabel Clarry - - Organist and Choir Director

MORNING SUBJECT:

"Breaking Down Walls"

EVENING SUBJECT:

"A Self-Confessed Failure"

A SUBJECT OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO YOUNG PEOPLE.
Sunday School in Reid Street Hall - 3.00 p.m.
A Cordial Welcome to All.

MARK ST.

"The House of Friendship"
Minister:
Rev. Charles D. Daniel.
Organist and Choirmaster, Harolde Kitney.

11 a.m.—"The Meaning of the Ascension"

3.00 P.M. CHURCH SCHOOL AND BIBLE CLASSES
6.45 P.M. - - YOUR SONG SERVICE
"A Great Delusion of the Devil"

KNOX

REV WM. McDONALD, B.A., B.D., Minister.
Mr. Wm R Potter, Organist.

11 A.M. - - "A SERMON SEQUEL TO THE STORY"
3 P.M. - - - Sunday School and Bible Classes
7 P.M. - - "THE CONSTRAINT OF CHRISTIAN LOVE"
We Welcome Worshippers.

ST. JAMES' United

Rev. A. E. Moorhouse, Minister. Mr. F. Stevens, Organist.

26TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL
HOURS OF SERVICE: 11.00, 3.00, AND 7.00

REV. H. R. PALMER, D.D.

OF PORT HOPE. A BRILLIANT SPEAKER.
MONDAY EVENING, 8 o'clock, in WESLEY HALL—By DR. PALMER: "THE LOYAL NORTH OF IRELAND."
SILVER COLLECTION.

BETHANY GOSPEL TABERNACLE

Christian and Missionary Alliance—Rev. H. P. Browett, Pastor.
10.00 A.M.—SUNDAY SCHOOL.
11 a.m.—Speaker: MATHEW HISCOX.
7 p.m.—OF, FOR, BY, WITH YOUNG PEOPLE

Christian Science Society

PETERBOROUGH
Branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

SUNDAY SERVICES 11.00 A.M. AND 8.00 P.M.
SUNDAY SCHOOL 9.30 A.M.
Paragon Hall, corner Brock and George Streets
Subject for Sunday, May 6th:

"Everlasting Punishment"

Wednesday Evening Meetings at 8 o'clock—including Testimonials of Healing through Christian Science.

FULL GOSPEL PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

370 Water Street (North of Simcoe)
REV GEORGE A. CHAMBERS, Pastor.

7.00 P.M.—CHRISTIAN WATER BAPTISMAL SERVICE (Illuminated).
11.00 A.M.—COMMUNION: TAKING IN NEW MEMBERS.
9.45 A.M.—SUNDAY SCHOOL. None too old to Learn.
TUESDAY, 8 p.m.—BIBLE STUDY. "SHOULD CHRISTIANS GO TO WAR?"
Bring Your Bibles and Come.

MURRAY STREET BAPTIST

REV. J. B. SUTCLIFFE, M.A., B.D. Minister.

7 p.m.—"Burning Hearts"

MR. SUTCLIFFE WILL SING AT THIS SERVICE.

11 a.m.—Communion.

Mr. Arthur Collison, L.A.M., A.D.C.M., Organist and Choir Director.

Jesus Acclaimed as King — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Matthew 21:1-46.

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Jesus had repeatedly refused to allow the people to proclaim him king. But on his last visit to Jerusalem he encouraged them to do so. Seated upon a donkey's colt he headed a procession of Galilean followers waving palms and singing, "Hosanna to the Son of David".

Arriving at the temple he for the second time in his ministry drove from its courts the religious racketeers who were commercialising the religion of the nation. "My house shall be called a house of prayer: but ye make it a den of robbers", he said.

Copyright, 1934, by Central Press Association, Inc.

Next morning as he came to the city he saw a fig tree in full leaf, and, being hungry came to it for fruit. Finding on it nothing but leaves he cursed it for its barrenness as a lesson to his own nation whose religion was all show and no fruit.

In a series of parables Jesus passed judgment upon the wickedness of the nation, likening them to wicked vineyardmen who gave the owner no fruit and even stoned his servants and finally killed his son.

(GOLDEN TEXT—Phil. 2:9)

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office 419 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.50 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
Member: Ontario Associated Dailies. T. L. Ashton manager. Canada Permanent Building, Toronto.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden Inc. Chicago Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1934

THE "DRYS" GET BUSY.

It is not surprising to find the temperance forces in this district busily engaged in preparations for taking part in the coming election campaign; as a matter of fact, the present activity on their part was inevitable and has been so ever since the two old parties officially adopted sale of beer and wine by-the-glass as their policy.

In short, the temperance sentiment in the province has been deliberately flouted by the Government as a unit and by the Hepburn Liberals, even although a section of the Opposition declined to "acquiesce" and will seek election as "dry" followers of a "wet" leader.

The two old parties by their attitude have practically said to those citizens who are opposed to any freer sale of intoxicants that neither their opinion nor their votes are of any great consequence, and in the face of that situation nothing is left for the thousands who decline to vote for sale by-the-glass, but to make it possible for their views to be expressed on election day, either through the medium of independent dry candidates or by supporting old party standard-bearers who are willing to pledge themselves to the people of the province on the beer question.

It is probable that in more than one riding the decision of the temperance forces will be in favor of the first course on the ground that an independent dry group in the Legislature would carry more weight than a small dry minority of a "wet" party.

UNCLE SAM, SUPER-SPENDER.

So much is heard these days in Canada about government spending and the hugeness of the national debt that it may afford a certain amount of relief to cast a glance outside the boundaries of the Dominion and see how other folks are faring in this respect.

Figures just released at Washington give us a picture of spending and borrowing that show that when it comes to these operations our American cousins are setting a pace that makes us look like novices.

For the past ten months Uncle Sam's Government has been spending at the rate of $14,000 a minute, day and night.

The total for the period has averaged $19,162,392.14 every day of the entire ten months.

And the worst feature of it is, that the revenue has never come close to equalling the expenditure, for the collections have averaged only a little over eight million dollars a day.

In other words, the United States has been getting into the red at the rate of nearly eleven millions every day for the greater part of the past year.

No wonder our friends across the border are asking, "Where are we going?" and no wonder, too, nobody seems to be able to come forward with a satisfactory answer to the question.

These are days of financial worries for all governments, but the United States administration seems to be piling up debt at a dangerous rate.

GOING UP.

There is nothing but good news in the monthly review of business conditions in Canada for March as prepared by Donald M. Marvin, economist of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Business activity throughout Canada continues to expand, Mr. Marvin declares.

March of last year was the low point in the depression, and since then he says recovery has been "rapid, consistent and impressive."

In the past three months car loadings were almost 26 per cent. larger than in the corresponding month of 1933, steel production has doubled, automobile production rose from 13,268 units to 29,655 units, and newsprint made a gain of 42 per cent. over the volume produced in the first quarter of 1933.

The power industry has expanded operations to meet revived industrial demand, and the volume of energy generated has established new records appreciably above the peaks established in 1929.

Gold mining is more prosperous than ever before, and the output of base metals promises to establish new records.

In both the Maritimes and British Columbia there is active demand for more lumber than has been ordered in many years.

A remarkable advance has taken place in security prices, and the advance registered in the price of industrial bonds, according to the report, has been sufficient to warrant the hope that the time is not far off when it should be possible to float new securities to finance the requirements of industry, while the increase in the price of Government bonds has been of such magnitude as to permit refinancing at an appreciable saving in interest charges.

THESE CHANGES SHOULD HELP.

The Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries is to be congratulated upon the new scale of fishing licenses for non-residents, particularly upon the low priced short term license and the family permit system for tourists.

These changes, if properly advertised across the border, should attract a much larger influx of American fishermen than has been noticed here for several summers.

For Americans who are able only to make a brief visit to this province the department has provided a three-day license, costing only $1; a decided improvement over the old system whereby a non-resident angler was charged a license fee of $5.50 whether he intended to fish only half a day or all summer.

This innovation should prove decidedly popular, and perhaps even more so will be the family license which gives our summer visitors a much more favorable "break" than they have hitherto been accorded.

Under the new system an American tourist, his wife and children will all be entitled to fish to their heart's content in Ontario waters upon the payment of $8, which covers the cost of licenses for the whole family for the entire season.

In other years every member of the family who wanted to fish had to pay an individual license of $5.50, which meant that a married couple with five children over the age of twelve were compelled to pay into the Ontario treasury the sizable sum of $38.50 for a privilege that this season will cost but $8.

The whole plan was needlessly expensive and drastic, and it is safe to say the more generous treatment of American tourists now put into effect will materially increase the number of angling visitors.

The changes are decidedly in the right direction, and they should be effectively advertised where publicity will do the most good.

"BEATING THE SLUMP."

At the April meeting of the board of directors of the Canada Cycle and Motor Company, Limited, J. W. Gibson, vice-president, made some interesting comments on how the company had been able to continue its success in spite of the general slump in business conditions. Pursuance over many years of a liberal policy of newspaper advertising was given as an important factor in enabling the company to "beat the slump." In explaining how well his company has weathered the depression, Mr. Gibson stated that many years of newspaper advertising had created in the C.C.M. trade mark an asset worth more than the company's whole plant and equipment.

This is not an isolated instance of how advertising has enabled business concerns to overcome the effects of general depression. There have been many such testimonies in recent months. And they are significant in that they show the extent to which newspaper advertising has helped industries and businesses of all kinds to weather the storm and pass on into the smoother waters of better business. There is a moral in this that should not be overlooked, and it applies to every kind of business which depends for its success on reaching the consuming public.—Oshawa Times.

HOW THEY KILLED HOCKEY IN ITS CRADLE.

So Ottawa is to pass out of professional hockey! It will be as though England gave up cricket. And yet, though there's little profit in saying it, the thing was inevitable. When they took the old Canadian professional league and merged it into another and bigger one that took in United States cities, then hockey, so far as Ottawa was concerned, was condemned. The Journal said so at the time. It might go on—as it has been going on—for a time, but the end was inevitable. This city simply could not compete with New York and Chicago, and Boston and Detroit, which had enormous auditoriums, and big populations from which to draw attendance, and money to buy up the best players. Putting it baldly, Ottawa couldn't compete in "Big Business." Nor could Hamilton.

For that is what hockey became. Instead of a glorious game, with wholesome and friendly rivalry between Canadian cities, and with community pride in the achievements of local players the mainstay of support, what came was a commercial thing in which the element of local enthusiasm was killed, and in which money became the arbiter.

Ottawa citizens, proud of their city's hockey traditions, of the name and fame of the "Silver Seven," of the traditions of the McGees and the Alf Smiths and the Harvey Pulfords, could never work up enthusiasm over a lot of outside players hired to play in the old red, black and white colors against a team from, say, Chicago, the members of which hadn't been born or reared within a thousand miles of Chicago's outskirts. And so with New York and Detroit and Boston. The thing that made hockey was gone.

Twenty years ago a contest between Ottawa and Montreal, or between Ottawa and Canadiens, or perhaps Quebec, with the Vezinas and the Joe Halls and other colorful gladiators in the picture, was an event. There was something about it that was of the very warp and woof of our sporting traditions, something that was in the blood. There was or could be nothing of that kind, nothing of the old pride or the old legends or war-cries, in a spectacle of an Ottawa team that wasn't home-bred playing against a team in the uniform of a foreign city, and playing at a disadvantage because of a matter of hard cash. It was a matter of victory for the side with the biggest bank roll. And the biggest bank roll wasn't in Ottawa, and couldn't be.

Perhaps death of hockey in Ottawa will mean its resurrection—as a Canadian game, confined to Canada. There would be difficulties, undoubtedly—because hockey players can't be blamed for going where they may get the biggest money—but it is hard to think that a truly Canadian hockey league, with the old enthusiasm and friendly rivalry brought back, wouldn't have a chance to succeed. The Journal, for its part, would like to see it tried.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

At least we know now that the provincial election will take place "before July," as Premier Henry puts it.

Many hours of work for unemployed men should be provided within the next few weeks, if the citizens generally co-operate in the clean-up campaign.

Kingston's "sea serpent" turns out to have been a water-logged tree trunk. And thus is wasted a story that should have been kept in reserve for the dog days.

Over 13,000 Americans became Canadian citizens last year, according to official returns, doubtless representing the interest on the millions of Canadians who have become citizens of the United States.

Premier Partullo says British Columbia will run her own show if an agreement cannot be reached with the Federal Government. What the Premier really means is that he and the Cabinet will run the show, as the control has passed out of the hands of the Legislature.

Radio is still in its infancy and, as remarked, yowls like it.—St. Catharines Standard.

If we could all do as we please who would wash the dishes?—Kingston Whig-Standard.

Another good picture would be spring and winter arm in arm.—Toronto Telegram.

There is melody in a Hollywood marriage which is too often followed by melancholy.—Sherbrooke Record.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

STORM DRIFT

By ETHEL M. DELL

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER 56

"It's a damned plant!" said Harvey.

"It's nothing of the sort," said Tiggie. "It's genuine."

He sat down heavily and rested his elbows on the wooden table while he wiped his face.

Harvey stood looking down at him with a queer mixture of affection and contempt on his face. "Why didn't you murder him?" he said.

"I did very nearly." Tiggie spoke without raising his eyes. "Joe Penny came in in time to prevent it."

"Confound him!" said Harvey. "He's the most persistently superfluous person I've ever met. Well, what next? Are you going to scrag him in the night, or what?"

"No," said Tiggie; "I've said I'll see him again. I shall probably give him a damn' good hiding before I've done."

"What's the good of that?" said Harvey scathingly. "It'll only make him drive a harder bargain."

"Yes, I know." Tiggie spoke out of the despair of his soul. "He's out for a bargain, too."

"And you let him live!" ejaculated Harvey.

Tiggie raised his head and looked at him. "I suppose you're drunk," he said.

Two pin-points of lights, oddly menacing, filled the places of the pupils in Harvey's eyes. "Thanks for the compliment, I am!" he said. "And I propose to be—for some time to come. Any objection?"

"Oh, none," said Tiggie wearily. "Go to hell your own way! It's all one to me."

"Thanks!" said Harvey again, smoothing his beard. "My ultimate destination may or may not be the inverted fairyland of which you speak, but I am glad to know that you have no serious desire to prevent me accomplishing the journey at my own discretion. My affairs being thus satisfactorily disposed of, I propose to return to yours. Since you have apparently decided to let this unnecessary lump of human matter continue to cumber the earth, may I know what steps, if any, you propose to take for the protection of the unfortunate girl who has placed herself in your care?"

He poured out another drink from a bottle that stood on a tray close by with the words, and held it towards Tiggie who mutely shook his head, when he proceeded to drink it himself almost in the same sweeping gesture.

"I don't know," Tiggie said. "I don't know what I can do—except thrash him every time he tries to come near her."

"Oh, don't be insane!" said Harvey. "That sort of nursery drivel won't get you anywhere. You'll tell me you're going to give her up to him next."

Tiggie leapt to his feet. "Damn you, Harvey!" he said. "You'll get it yourself if you don't look out."

Harvey made him an elaborate bow. "Have I roused the devil at last? Don't let me absorb your energies! Just listen to me! Don't parley any more with that brute! You've done enough of that. Take him for a walk tomorrow—rightto the top of Slimby Point where there's no one to interrupt—and when you've got him there—well, if you can't do better, thrash him—thrash him till he can't crawl. I've got a good thick stick you can have. Do the thing properly, man! Make your mark!"

Tiggie was breathing fast and hard, and again that uncontrollable tremor went through him. "If I only could!" he said. "My stars! If I only could!"

Harvey uttered a laugh that had an impish sound. "Well do it, man! Do it! There's nothing to prevent you. You can verify his credentials afterwards; but this'll give him something to go on with and keep him away from her while you're doing it." He gave Tiggie a sudden critical look. "I suppose you can manage him all right."

Tiggie returned the look with sober scorn. "It's you who are talking drivel now," he said.

"Right!" said Harvey. "It's my privilege sometimes. That'll make a good beginning. He'll be tamer after that. But you'll have to watch out. There's a good spread of muscle there if I know anything about anatomy."

"Muscle!" said Tiggie. He pushed up his sleeve, and with clenched fist slowly doubled his arm.

Harvey laughed again. "I see! That's quite the prettiest part of you if you only knew it. You've got weight too. And so's he, but . . . Well, get down to it! Do your damnedest—and argue afterwards! If you play your cards decently, you ought to get the best of that argument—easily. If you don't—heaven help you, that's all!" He turned once more to the bottle on the tray.

Tiggie stood watching him. "You'll kill yourself, Harvey," he observed after a moment.

"No, I shan't," said Harvey, and drained the glass again. "Not yet, anyway. If I do, it's no great odds to anyone. D'you think Janet would break a single egg over my loss?" Not she!"

"I don't know so much," said Tiggie.

Harvey threw back his head and laughed till his spare figure shook. "She wouldn't. You may take it from me. She'll just go on picking till the last hen ceases to cackle, and then she may—or may not—have time to look round and say 'Poor dear Harvey! I hope they'll give him a bit of canvas and a paint box where he's gone.'"

An echo of the blunt Janet's speech was in his voice, and a shadowy smile touched Tiggie's grim lips. The vision of his sister's homely face with its gray wisps of hair rose before him. "She's a good sort—Janet," he said.

"I've always said so," said Harvey. "Well, get on with it, man! Give him the best you can hand out, and may all the stars fight for you! I suppose we'd better keep an eye on our friend tonight and see he doesn't go raising hell at the cottage."

"If he did that," said Tiggie with a deep breath, "I believe I should kill him!"

"That's right!" said Harvey approvingly. "You're coming on."

"But he won't do that," said Tiggie, calming down again. "He won't do anything in a hurry. It'd spoil his game."

"Oh, don't you be too sure!" said Harvey. "But don't worry. I'll keep watch tonight. It'll give me something to do. You have a good rest and get into punching trim for tomorrow!"

"Aren't you going to bed tonight?" said Tiggie.

The artist's fiery eyes glanced over him like a flashing weapon. "Don't you be so personal!" he said. "I never go to bed unless I'm sleepy. What's the use?"

Tiggie took the hint. What was the use of arguing with a man who was obviously in an abnormal state of mind? Had he not been so heavily burdened himself, he would have been seriously uneasy regarding Harvey. As it was, he had no room left for further anxiety. Harvey must go his own mad way, as he had doubtless gone on previous occasions with no very disastrous results. He was probably shortening his life by his excesses, but that again was his own affair. He was not a man to live and die in the ordinary way. As to stopping him, it would obviously be a waste of time to attempt it.

He knew very well that there was no sleep in store for him either that night. The bitter problem had to be faced and there was no evading it. In the first place he could not hope to keep it from Viola, whether Norman's claims were substantiated or not. She was bound to know all that he knew. To conceal it from her for any length of time was not possible, and the large honesty of his nature would not have permitted it even had it been. No, she must know the truth as far as he himself knew it.

If her marriage with Norman was valid, and there was very little doubt in his mind on this point, then there could be only one course to follow. For he would never give her up. Norman must be compelled to set her free. But by what means this could be accomplished was a matter yet to be determined. The man was obviously willing to be bought, but what was his price? Tiggie was not rich. He had a little money of his own besides his pay, and this might suffice. He did not know. Divorce proceedings had never interested him. The possibility that he himself might ever be involved in anything of the sort had never crossed his mind. But now he faced it. Nothing short of divorce could be contemplated, and that would mean—what? The sacrifice of his profession in all probability, but the safeguarding of Viola for all time. After all, did anything else matter but that?

He awoke to the fact that Harvey was pouring himself out another drink, and a sudden revulsion of feeling came upon him, making him recoil in sheer disgust. For the first time he found the artist's presence intolerable.

"Well, I'm going," he said, and turned to the door.

"That's right," Harvey called after him. "Have a good night!"

"A good night! Ye gods!" said Tiggie as he went heavily away.

(To be continued)

NEWS OF OUR OWN VILLAGE

Geo. Henry, premier of this fair province, is going to be a visitor in our midst next Thurs. afternoon, George being slated to speak a pleec at the Tory convention on that date. Art Meighen aint likely to accompany him, your scribe gleans.

A May Day meeting was held on the village Market Square last Tues. nite, but didn't produce no fireworks, and no tear gas bombs nor riot squads was needed to keep law and order at the same, we note, approvingly.

Trout fishing begun in these parts on Tues. last, but the boys aint been having no great amt. of luck as yet. Mebbe the fish aint recovered from the frost bites they got last winter, lads, say we, helpfully.

Sid Mitchell of the staff of this great family journal started the straw hat season here during the heat wave the middle of this week, but Sid don't seem to have the same success in starting fashions as the Prince of Wales, his being about the only straw kelly seen up to the present writing.

A warm spell snuck in on the village this week, to the approval of all and sundry, folks being seen out in the open air for the first time since they started hibernating last Sept. or thereabouts.

K. Lee's ball club has started getting out the kinks and they hope to be hot for May 24th when the lads from Kingston, east of here, will be pleasant visitors in our midst. Let's hope the boys will start hitting the old apple early and keep it up all season.

The sucker season is on in the cricks and such. This aint got nothing to do with the stock market, your scribe hastens to inject, suckers being took the year round in the same.

The "dry" of this neighborhood has been holding meetings and it looks like they was trouble ahead for some of the politicians if the boys don't promise another vote on the beer bill. More of this anon, likely.

—F. D. C.

A Thought

MAKING 'EM LIKE IT!

A preacher on looking up from his sermon he was reading was horrified to see his young son in the gallery pelting the congregation below with chestnuts. Before he could get out a word of reproof, his young hopeful cried out: "You 'tend to your preachin', daddy; I'll keep 'em awake."

One-Minute Pulpit

The Lord looked down from heaven upon the children of men to see if there was any that did understand, and seek God.—Psalm 14:2.

Foreign Affairs

The American People Are Taking Stock of the Actual Conditions That Still Prevail.

(By H. W. L. MAHOOD)

THE UNITED STATES

Many people are asking when will the depression come to an end. This question is a reminder. One of the active Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church tells a story on himself. The Bishop mentioned here is noted for his ability and remarkable common sense. When he was a pastor in a small hamlet in the Wyoming Conference he sent his son with the itinerant horse and buggy to a nearby town for the mail. A thunder storm broke before the son returned home. He was soaked. The father looked at the rain drenched boy and said: Why didn't you drive under cover until the storm was over? The answer was shot back, "I didn't know it was going to stop." The disgusted father retorted, "You young fool, it always has."

The boy has grown up and has surpassed any dream the father ever had for his boy. This preacher is one of the notable clergymen of the United States. That rebuke of the father over sixty years ago was used effectively in a recent conference. The son was delivering an address on the depression and used the incident to describe the attitude of many persons who are living as if no recovery would ever come. "I didn't know it was going to stop."

The depression in business, and industry, and economics is not as serious as the depression in the church. A recently returned missionary from India writes, "How spiritually dead he has found the church in his native land. Many preachers are delivering formal, inconsequential, lifeless literary productions which they call sermons. These sermons have no burning in them, no cleansing fire, no food for depleted souls, no stirring passion that helps men and women into a firm resolution to break from sin and sinful association and declare for Christ."

The deadening effect of the post war prosperity has blinded many a man to the import of Jesus Christ to this age. It has made deaf the ear of the Church to the Voice. There seems to be no place in the church where the Spirit of God can break through.

Take this into your reckoning. For year after year God has been supplying the Americans with an abundance of food, wheat, corn, meat and milk to feed the millions who appeal for food, and with cotton for clothing. The United States has paid more than $64,000,000 to reduce the crop of wheat, and finds that after all the millions of the people's money have been spent in order to raise the price of the flour, the plan has failed. He who gives the sunshine and the rain nourishes a larger crop per acre, overcoming the effect of acreage reduction and making the futility of man's own plans most evident. As this fact stands out indisputably it ought to lead the N.R.A. officials to listen humbly to hear what God is trying to say. While all this may be true and imperative, it is in the church the opportunity ought to be given the Spirit of God to break through with the message needed. For this the whole world is eager. When given the people will recognize its fitness.

A few months ago the former Democratic National Committee chairman the Hon. Vance McCormick of Pennsylvania said: It is written across the wheat and cotton fields of America, "God is trying to speak to His people. He would tell us that the material things which have so absorbed our attention since the war are not the real things of living."

Some very definite things can now be said about the working of the N.R.A. It has helped some, mostly the larger industrialists. But it has harmed the smaller manufacturers in the villages and towns. These have not had the the capital for mass production. Mass production can control the competitive market.

The costs of living in the smaller communities are less than in the great city centers. But the difference is not sufficient to enable the smaller manufacturer to compete with the moneyed industries. The little man has not been helped as has the big man.

The condition of all industrial plants has lifted up into the light the fact that a certain degree of planned industrial life is essential. While this cannot be denied it must be accomplished in such a manner in a Democracy as not to interfere with individual initiative and resourcefulness.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

KINGSTON, ONTARIO

The city, situated at the foot of Lake Ontario, at the source of the St. Lawrence River, and at the foot of the Rideau Canal, is one of several towns, villages and cities scattered over the world to bear this ancient title.

But it is significant that the most important city in Canada bearing the name, should have been selected as the site for the first parliament of Canada. On one of its streets may be seen to this day the house in which the first parliament of Canada was held.

The city, which yields only to Quebec in the importance of its historic background, originally was named King's Town, but through the years the two words were contracted into one.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer, although a pen-name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter. Letters over 400 words will be cut down at discretion of the editor.

THANKFUL TO Y.M.C.A.

To the Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Being a returned man and after having been in the hospital for some time I came to Peterborough with only thirty cents. I went to the Y.M.C.A. for a bed. There I told the secretary it was all I had. He told me to put in in my pocket and gave me a good room which I was very thankful for.

Yours sincerely,
Transient Veteran.

GRATEFUL TO RED CROSS

Dear Mr. Editor:

Would you please allow me to express my views in sincere gratitude towards the Red Cross Society.

It is my sincere wish to also thank the kind-hearted people who are donating money into the fund in order to keep the association in a position to carry on the good work.

As one who has benefitted by the services of the Visiting Housekeeper, Mrs. Poole, I desire on behalf of my wife and family to express our appreciation of the very fine service rendered during my wife's recent illness.

The Red Cross Housekeeper is sure a boon to the poor person on relief. The City of Peterborough could surely do with four more like her. She herself is so apt and skilled in her work about the house and so kind and gentle with the children that it is with the greatest respect that I wish to tender her and the Red Cross Association and also the good-hearted people for the help and kindness which we have received.

I think it is unfortunate that many of the unemployed fail to appreciate the service which the Red Cross Society is rendering through the work of the Visiting Housekeeper, Mrs. Poole.

J. F. Chase,
67 Park St. South.

TRENT RIVER.

The cheese factory opened Thursday morning, with Mr. George Brooks in charge.

The Seymour West Women's Institute meet Thursday, May 10th, at the home of Mrs. John Locke. This is the annual meeting, when election of officers will be held, also the program for the coming year will be arranged.

Trent River Women's Institute will meet Thursday, May 10th, at the home of Mrs. John JoJhnston, Havelock Road. The roll call will be the paying of dues and election of officers will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Umphrey and son Jimmie were visitors on Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Isaac Free and family of West Seymour.

New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster

COUPON

Clip 3 Coupons

on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98c

This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green textile leather, gold stamping.

Special—To get it bound in enhanced art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edge and thumb indexed, send $1.89 extra.

NAME 11

ADDRESS .....

FINANCIAL AND MINING REVIEWS

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	175-196	..	..
Con. Bakeries	9¾	..	..
Br Am Oil	15	14⅞	14⅞
Bell Tel	119½	..	..
Burt F N	33	32½	32½
Brazilian	10¾	10⅝	10⅝
B.C. Power A	29	..	..
Can Cement	8⅛	8	8
C.P.R.	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜
Can. Dredge	23b	..	..
Can Car & F	7	7	7
Can. Canners	7¼-7½	..	..
Can. Oil	13¼	..	..
Can. Malt	33¼	33½	32½
Can. Malt	33¼	32½	32½
Cockshutt	7⅝	7½	7½
Dom. Bridge	34½	34¼	34¼
Dis. Seagram	17½	17	17
Dom. Stores	20½-21	..	..
Ford A	22⅞	22½	22½
C.G.E.	140b	..	..
Gypsum L & A	6¾	6⅝	6⅝
Con. Gas	179	..	..
Goodyear	120	..	..
Walker G & W	35½	33	33½
Int. Nickel	2810	2775	2790
Ind. Alcohol	12	11½	11½
Imp. Oil	15	14¾	14¾
Con. Smelt	158	150	150
Laura S.	50	..	..
Loblaw "A"	17½	17¼	17¼
Mon. L. H. & P.	38¼	..	..
McC. Frontenac	13⅞	13½	13½
Massey-Harris	5½	5¼	5⅜
Moore Corp.	16½	16½	16½
Page Hersey	60¼	60	60
Pressed Metals	17	17	17
Int. Pete	27	26¾	26¾
St. Steel	6⅜	..	..
Serv. Stations	8⅛	..	..
Sup. Petro	25½	..	..
Stand. Paving	3¼	3⅛	3⅛
Wineries	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜
Weston's Ltd.	37½	..	..
Steel of Can	36	36	36

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

CHICAGO.	July	Sept.	May
High	79¾	80¼	79¾
Low	76⅞	78	79
Close	79¾	80¼	79¾

WINNIPEG.	July	Oct.	May
High	67½	68¾	66¾
Low	66¾	68⅛	66
Close	67⅛	68⅞	66¾

LIVERPOOL CABLES.
Dhe—Chicago ⅝ to ⅝ higher; Winnipeg ⅝ to 1 higher.
Open—¼ higher.
Close—Unchanged to ⅛ higher.

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	64⅝	62⅝	62⅞
Auburn Auto	42	39½	40
Allied Chem	145½	144½	145½
Amer Can	99⅜	98⅛	98⅛
Am Smelting	40½	39⅛	39½
Am Rad & S S	14⅜	14¼	14⅜
Am & For Pow	8⅞	8¼	8⅜
Am Tel & Tel	112	110	110⅜
Am Roll Mills	22⅛	21¼	21¼
Anaconda Copper	15⅜	15¼	15¼
Baldwin Ohio	27	25½	26½
Baldwin Loco	12¼	11⅞	11⅞
Bordens	24½	23⅞	23⅞
Byers A M	24	....	....
Bendix Avn	16⅜	16⅛	16½
Beth Steel	37⅞	36½	37
Brigs	17¼	17⅛	17⅛
Canada Dry	24⅜	23¼	23¼
Can Pacific	16⅜	16½	16⅜
Case J I	59⅜	55¼	55¼
Chrysler	46⅜	45	45
Columbus Gas	13⅜	12½	12⅜
Coca Cola	118½	117¼	117¼
Cons Gas	33⅜	33	33
Com Solvents	24¼	23½	23⅜
Dupont	90⅜	88⅜	88⅜
Erie	19	....	....
Elec Bond & sh	14⅜	14	14
Elec Pwr & Light	6⅛	5⅝	5⅝
Elec Auto L	23⅜	22⅜	22⅜
Freeport Texas	42⅞	41⅜	41⅜
Fox Film	15¼	155⅝	15⅝
Gen Electric	21⅝	20⅝	20⅞
Gen Motors	36	34⅜	34⅜
Gillette Saf Raz	11	10⅜	10⅜
Goodyear	34	33½	33½
Hudson Motors	16	15¼	15⅜
Int Harvester	38⅛	37¼	37½
Inter. Nickel	28⅛	26⅜	27⅜
In. Tel. & Tel.	13⅜	13	13
Johns-Manville	52½	51	51
Liquid Carb.	30⅜	30¼	30¼
Mont. Ward	27⅞	26½	26½
Nash Motors	20¼	19⅛	19¼
N. Y. Central	30½	28⅜	29
Nat. Biscuit	39½	39	39
North American	17⅜	16½	16¼
Phillips Pete	19¼	18⅝	18⅜
Pack. Motors	4⅜	4½	4½
Penn. Ry.	32⅛	31⅜	31½
Pub. Serv. N.J.	36	35¼	35¼
Radio Corp	8¼	7⅜	7⅞
Radio-Keith	3¼	..	..
Sears Roebuck	45½	44⅛	44⅛
Sim. Bed Co.	18¼	17⅜	17⅜
Stand. Brands	20⅜	20¼	20¼

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE AND CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme Oil	27	26	26
Ajax Oil	114	112	114
Algoma	16	15¾	15¾
Amity	2¾	2½	2¾
Bagamac	25	23	23
Base Metals	153	151	152
Barry-Holling	15½	15	15
Bobjo	49	46	46
Braylorne	1410	..	..
Bear	42	40	42
Bunker Hill	3½	3	3⅛
Brownlee	4½	4	4¼
Canadian K.	9½	8½	8½
Chem. Re.	210	205	207
Cent. Patricia	69	66	68
Cent. Manitoba	10-11½	..	..
Coast Copper	460	..	..
Cassels-Tre.	57	56	56
Dalhousie Oil	45	42	42
Dome	3675	..	..
Dom. Explorers	4¼	4⅛	4¼
Eldorado	295	280	280
Falconbridge	380	375	380
Federal Kirk.	6	..	..
Hollinger	1575	1550	1560
Home Oil	155	..	..
Howey	1285-1325	..	..
Int. Nickel	2800	2780	2790
Kirk. Hudson	70 asked
Kirk. Lake	54½	53	54
Kirk. Townsite	29-30	..	..
Gunnar	165	155	160
Little Long L.	460	450	460
Bradian	275	..	..
Green St.	83½	80	80
Columario	30	..	..
BRX	123	115	115
Read Authier	97	92	92¼
Parkhill	68	66	67
Harker	12	12	12½
Lebel Oro	18½	17½	18¼
Lakeshore	4950	..	..
Lee Gold	13	..	..
McIntyre	4500	4450	4450
Macassa	273	260	260
Maple Leaf	69	65	66
Malartic	61½	..	..
Mining Corp.	190-195	..	..
Malrobic	5½	5	5½
Moffat-Hall	6	5¾	6
McMillan	67	65	66
Mc-Vittie-Grah.	74	73	73
McWatters	44	43	44
McKenzie	132	..	..
Noranda	3076	3075	3075
North. Canada	32	31	32
Nipissing	235	..	..
Nordon	13	12	12
Pend Oreille	93-98	..	..
Pioneer	1316	1275	1275
Premier	130	125	125
Reno Gold	93	92	92
Ribago	1¼-1½	..	..
Sherrit-Gordon	113	111	11
Siscoe	217	212	212
San Antonio	390	380	385
Sudbury Basin	185	178	181
St. Anthony	56	52	54
Sylvanite	254	243	243
Teck Hughes	610	605	605
Towagamac	60	57	57
Thompson Cad.	46	46	46
Ventures	93¼	92	92
Waite-Amulet	127	..	..
Wayside	41½	40	40¼
Wright Harg.	395	380	390
Wainwright	72	70	72
White Eagle	34	33	33

UNLISTED

Bathurst	4½-5½
Beattie	120-123
McLeod Cockshutt	40-42
Pickle Crow	67-74
Red Lake Gold Shore	39-42
Smelter Gold	29-30½
Toburn	148-155
Young Davidson, asked	37
Gt. Bear Dev.	34-36

BOND LIST
WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

1936	105-105⅝
1937	110 -110¼
1937	109⅝-110⅛
1941	107¾-108⅛
1952	101⅜-102¼
1956	104⅝-105

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

1948	109⅛-109⅝

Maidstone, England, has voted to open public parks from 2 o'clock Sunday afternoons for tennis, bowls and miniature golf.

Stand. Gas & El.	11	10	10
St. Oil of N.J.	44⅝	43¾	43⅞
Soconol-Vac.	16⅛	15⅝	15⅝
Studebaker	5¼	5	5⅛
Stewart-Warn	8⅛	8	8
South. Pacific	24⅜	23½	23⅝
Texas Corp.	25⅞	25	25
Timken Roll B.	32⅛	31½	31½
Tex. Gulf Sulph.	34¼	34	34¼
Union Pacific	128⅜	128½	128½
Union Carb.	43⅝	42¼	42⅛
United Corp.	5½	..	..
U. S. Rubber	22¼	21⅛	21¾
U. S. Steel	47	45¼	45⅝
Vanadium Corp.	23⅝	22¼	22¼
Westinghouse	37½	36	36⅛
Warner Bros.	6⅞	6½	6½
Yellow Cab	5¼	5⅛	5⅛
Woolworth	51¼	49⅞	50⅛
Nat. Distilleries	28	26½	26⅝

TELEPHONE 2786 or 2787
We invite you to make use of our board room facilities.
PRIVATE WIRE TO LEADING EXCHANGES
HIGH SPEED TICKER SERVICE
Leeming & Leeming
STOCK BROKERS
Cor. George & Hunter St. Peterborough, Ont.

6d-17,24,31,Ap,7,14,21,28,5-4433

MINING PROSPECTS SWARM SCHREIBER-JACKFISH AREA

North Shore Gold Mines Limited Among Most Promising Properties in North-west Ontario—High Values Received on Properties of Company.

(Fort William Times-Journal.)

In common with numerous north-western Ontario gold fields, the Schreiber-Jackfish area, east of the lakehead on the mai nline of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is this season experiencing exceptional activity. Possibly like other areas, this field had only to get aggressive leadership to lift it into the active class, and in the case of the immediate Schreiber area this is being supplied by North Shores Gold Mines, Ltd.

Preparations for mill installation on the North Shores follows a conservative program that has been unser way for the past couple of years in which time the property of the company, formerly known as the McKellar-Longworth, has shown definite mine possibility.

With this advance, attention has been drawn to other parts of the field, and in the past few days it has been announced that another property — the Dwyer-McPhee, will also be the scene of immediate development, pointed toward the installation of a small mill on the property as well, in the course of the next few months.

In Jackfish Area.

Meantime, in the neighboring Jackfish area, the work of the Siville-Ferrier Syndicate on one of the oldest mining locations in the Lake Superior region, has been the locale of active prospecting, resulting in the exposure of very favorable conditions and much promise. On the Longworth-Greer claims in the same general area discoveries of the past season have attracted attention, and this prospect will also get further development.

Mining men throughout Ontario have been watching the North Shores Gold Mines, limited, effort, with a great deal of interest, for it provides an example that might well be followed by other properties of similar characteristics which are found in various fields in Northwestern Ontario. Before embarking on costly plant installation and mill plans, the North Shore organization made a thorough test of the property by the medium of ore shipments to eastern smelters.

Results Obtained

The results as secured from each individual car were as follows, the lowest grade ore having been mined near the surface:

Destination.	Weight tons.	Value per ton (without prem.)	Value with gold at $32
Noranda	25.91	$ 49.71	$ 76.96
Int. Nickel	31.888	83.41	129.13
Int. Nickel	30.36	212.47	326.94
Int. Nickel	30.238	97.94	151.61
Int. Nickel	30.963	24.44	37.84

The McKellor-Longworth property was discovered in 1898 and patented in 1903, according to Ontario Department of Mines reports, and since that time has had varying fortunes, having one been the subject of company formation as Schrieber Gold Mines, Ltd. A couple of years ago the property was acquired by Robert N. Palmer, of Scranton, Penn., who instituted an exploration program that has brought outstanding results.

Aided by proximity of the C.P.R. main line, only three miles distant, the property was pointed toward ore shipments, as a means of testing the average run of values, and also obtaining the resultant revenue to assist in continued development.

Test Shipment

More recently a test shipment was made to the Kennedy-Nutt mill plant a Owen Sound for mill test purposes, and this is new reported to have returned $90.05 per ton on straight mill run test of 20.63 tons.

On the basis of such returns North Shores Gold Mines, Ltd., was formed and preparations made for development on an enlarged scale with the idea of putting ore in sight for a mill which will be installed this spring or early summer.

Several veins have been located on the property, but so far work has been concentrated on only three: the No. 1, 2, and 11. The No. 2 vein has been followed for a distance of 1,000 feet, and its full length has not been determined owing to heavy overburden. The No. 2 vein was first discovered on the west side of a syenite ridge, and from the foot of he ridge a shaft was sunk 18 feet and a drill driven eastward in the ore into the hillside for a distance of more than 150 feet. Assays from samples in the adit gave values reported as $82.50 per ton over a vein width of 8.65 ins.

Ore mined from the upper right part of the stope and ore on surface over the adit averaged $17 per ton, and was of much lower grade than that obtained in underground work, officials state.

Second Ore Body

The extension of the number two vein has proved up a second ore body of commercial ore to the east. This is wider and richer than ore on surface near the west shoot. The No. 1 vein has been exposed for 200 feet by surface trenching, but the entire length has not been determined. An adit has been driven on this vein for 140 feet and samples gave assays of from $1 to $61 over narrow width. No. 11 vein parallels Nos. 1 and 2, and has been traced for a length of 250 feet by trenching. Bulk samples taken from this vein gave assays of $8.40 to $35.20 per ton.

At present North Shore Gold Mines Ltd., has definite possibilities of profitable operation on a modest scale, and from the type of ore that has been developed so far the grade may be expected to be rich. By proceeding along the lines laid out, it will be possible to secure revenue from the operation of the 25 ton mill which it is proposed to instal: carry on development, and the latter work may conceivably enlarge the enterprise to much greated stature than at present indicated. At any rate, the work has shown the way for ohers in the vicinity, and has in no small measure revived the hopes for the immediate area.

Northeast of Schreiber

A deal of a few days ago with a Toronto house, H. Don Miller and company, will bring development to one of the better known gold prospects to the northeast of Schreiber. This is the Dwyer-McPhee group, and is located about 3½ miles from the railway town. The property has been characterized by the exposure of high grade ore in several places, and sampling some time ago by the late Dr. J. Mackintosh Bell revealed an assay sheet that is distinctly encouraging to the hope that a mining operation may be based on the present showings.

The program outlined for the Dwyer-McPhee contemplates diamond drilling on the No. 1 vein. An adit will be driven on the No. 2 vein for possibly 360 feet, and the work is expected to provide "backs" to the ore in the adit which will represent a substantial tonnage. This ore wil be used to feed a 25-ton mill which it is planned to install on the claims.

The possibility is by no means remote that in the two operations named, Schreiber may this year sport two gold producing mines. True, they may be small mines compared with the giants of other fields.

But production is the main thing, and if this can be achieved in this field after the many years it has been idle, the results will stiffen the backbone of the local mining fraternity and renew prospecting effort which may bring to light yet other properties of promise.

Early Discovery

In the Jackfish area, another of those romantic touches is given to the work of the Siville-Ferrier syndicate, since the exploration of this syndicate is on some of the earliest ground staked along Lake Superior. This was known as the Elgin mine, and in the old days a tunnel was driven which revealed some high grade gold and silver ore, according to musty records of the Ontario department of mines.

However, the present instance, the Siville-Ferrier Syndicate has disregarded the old work, which was, indeed, rather extensive, but the present explorers decided to look afield for other showings. They have been successful to the extent that a new mineral zone has been opened up which is declared to have a width of 150 feet, and length of some 2,000 feet as traced. The work has been under way for some months, and while winter operations were necessarily on a reduced scale, it is proposed to resume very active development with the disappearance of the snow.

Field Information

Field information is to the effect that results here and at the Longworth-Greer have induced renewed interest on the part of outsiders, and that with many new claims taken up there is assurance of a busy season. This will embrace the territory round about Schreiber and Jackfish and northward toward Long Lac.

While the writer of this article does not presume to suggest any definite geological relationship between Long Lac, Little Long Lac and the areas to the westward of these points, one cannot overlook the evidence of the map. After all, under the current urge for gold, areas that have long been forgotten, or possibly never touched, by prospectors are getting a real combing. A line drawn directly north of Jackfish and projected for a little over fifty miles will actually bisect Little Long Lac. The distance is less than the distance from Long Lac to Beardmore by many miles.

ESCAPED YOUTH TAKEN

TORONTO, May 5 (CP)—Robert Fagan, 17, who escaped from custody at Barrie last night, was captured to-day by Toronto detectives. He had been sentenced in Toronto Wednesday to six months imprisonment for a series of "flim-flam" thefts. While in charge of an officer of the Barrie force, Fagan asked permission to go to the washroom and leaped 15 feet from a window to the ground to escape.

$34.76 GOLD AT LONDON

MONTREAL, May 5. (CP)—Bar gold in London up four cents at $34.76 an ounce in Canadian funds: 136s 2d in British funds. The fixed $35 Washington price amounted to $34.92 in Canadian.

Circuit Leaders

Home runs yesterday.—Ruth, Yankees, 1; Harris, Senators, 1; Medwick, Cardinals, 1; Hurst, Phillies, 1; Cuccinello, Dodgers, 1; Jordon, Braves, 1; Camilli, Cubs, 1.

The leaders.—Klein, Cubs, 6; Ott, Giants, 6; Hartnett, Cubs, 5; Medwick, Cardinals, 5; Foxx, Athletics, 4; Benura, White Sox, 4; Allen, Phillies, 4.

League totals—National, 80; American, 60; total, 140.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, May 5 (C.P.). — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., were reported unchanged today.

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, May 5 (C.P.). — The Toronto wholesale cheese market continued weak to-day, with dealers buying large colored paraffined and government grades at 10¼c to 10½c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New—Large, 11¼c; twins, 11¾c; triplets, 12c. Medium. — Large 15½c; twins, 15¾c; triplets, 16c. Old—Large 17½c; twins 17¾c; triplets, 18c.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 5 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A-large, doz., 17c; grade A-medium, 15c; grade "C" 14c.

Churning Cream — No. 1, lb., 22c; No. 2, 20c. Butter—No. 1 solids, 20c; No. 2, 19½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag, 90 cents.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 5.—(AP)—Stocks, led by the alcohols and some of the farm group, suffered relatively severe declines today. Losses of one to around four points were recorded in a selling rush that put the ticker tape several minutes in arrears during the second hour. There were some mild recoveries just before the finish, but the close was heavy. Transfers approximated 875,000 shares.

TORONTO MINES

TORONTO, May 5 (CP)—Mild weakness developed in the cheaper gold issues in the final session of the week on the Toronto Stock Exchange, while the senior golds were quiet and steady, base metals and silvers were generally firm in slow action.

Sylvanite came out in volume, and the price drifted down to $2.69, off 4 cents, while Maple Leaf weakened a cent or two, also on good volume. Siscoe, San Antonio, Ventures, McVittie, Macassa were all off 1 to 3 cents. There were only a few sales in high priced issues.

Sudbury Basin was again actively taken and the price edged up 6 cents to $1.85. Sherritt also firmed a cent and other issues of the group including Hudson Bay and Base Metals Corporation slipped lightly. Noranda was inactive.

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

TORONTO, May 5. —(CP)—Consolidated Smelters was hammered for a nine-point loss on the Industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The general board was barely steady, a narrow margin of losses over gains showing at the close. Walkers common and Distillers Seagrams were again offered in heavy volume at fractionally lower prices. Distillers dropped ¼ and Walkers ⅝. Canadian Industrial Alcohol was unchanged at 11½.

Volume was fair in the oils and gains were held for International Pete and Imperial Oil. Dominion and Imperial banks dropped 1 to 2 points and Canada Permanent advanced 3 to 128.

MRS. W. H. BOLTON DIES

PORTLAND, Ont., May 5.—(CP)—Emily Priscilla, wife of William H. Bolton and daughter of the late Richard Blake, Brockville, is dead today at her home at Portland in her 74th year.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Lyons, wife of Rt. Rev. Dr. Lyons, of Kingston, Bishop of the diocese of Ontario, Mrs. Guy L. Walker, Detroit, and Miss Hilda, Portland; and one son, L. L. Bolton, assistant deputy minister of the Department of Mines, Ottawa.

GROUP TO UNITE

CHATHAM, Ont., May 5.—(CP)—The United Workers and Unemployed Association of Chatham have arranged for affiliation with the Ontario Workers' Federation. At a meeting of 250 persons here last night the first steps toward the affiliation were completed and another resolution passed protested against the treatment accorded strikers at Kitchener.

FOUR TORNADOES HIT OKLAHOMA.

TUSLA, Okla.— Four tornadoes twisting over Oklahoma within 24 hours, left four persons dead today, but spared several school children in their path.

GRIMSBY TOWN PRESTON TEAM WIN PROMOTION

(Continued from Page 1)

Teams relegated are: Newcastle United and Sheffield United from the First to the Second; Lincoln City and Millwall from the Second to the Third.

The battle for promotion from the Second Division along with Grimsby Town, who long ago made sure of getting one of the two brackets, was carried right to the last fixtures. Preston and Bolton started the day in a deadlock with Brentford only a point back. The issue was decided when Preston beat Southampton 1-0, while Bolton were being held to a 2-2 tie by the tail-end Lincoln City, already doomed to relegation. Brentford beat Bury 2-1, but the victory came too late.

Huddersfield Close Second.

Huddersfield finished a close second to Arsenal in the championship race. Tottenham Hotspurs, who finished their season a week ago, are in third place, a great showing for a club that did its playing in the Second Division last season. Manchester City, the cup finalists, beat the Wolves 4-0 to finish in a tie for fourth place with Derby County, but the latter got the call on goal average.

LONDON, May 5.—(CP Cable)—Closing games in the English Football League today resulted as follows:

Division 1.

Arsenal 2, Sheffield United 0.
Birmingham 1, Huddersfield Town 3.
Derby County-Sunderland played previously.
Everton 2, Aston Villa 2.
Leeds United 3, Chelsea 1.
Manchester City 4, Wolverhampton Wanderers 0.
Middlesbrough 4, Leicester City 1.
Sheffield Wednesday 2, Stoke City 2.
West Bromwich Albion 2, Portsmouth 1.

Division 2.

Blackpool 1, Bradford 1.
Bradford City 2, Grimsby Town 1.
Bury 1, Brentford 2.
Fulham 1, Oldham Athletic 2.
Hull City 0, Burnley 1.
Lincoln City 3, Bolton Wanderers 2.
Millwall 0, Manchester United 2.
Notts County 1, West Ham United 2.
Port Vale 3, Nottingham Forest 1.
Southampton 0, Preston North End 1.
Swansea Town 2, Plymouth Argyle 1.

Division 3—Southern.

Aldershot 3, Charlton Athletic 2.
Bristol City 5, Southend United 1.
Clapton Orient 0, Coventry City 0.
Luton Town 2, Bournemouth 0.
Newpot County 1, Crystal Palace 0.
Norwich City 0, Bristol Rovers 0.
Queen's Park Ranger 5, Gillingham 0.
Swindon Town 3, Reading 1.
Torquay United 0, Exeter City 2.

Division 3—Northern.

Barow Twelve 0, Gateshead 1.
Carlisle Unitde 3, Accrington Stanley 0.
Chester 1, Southport 0.
Crewe Alexandra 3, Tranmere Rovers 1.
Doncaster Rovers 3, Darlington 2.
Halifax Town 4, Rochdale 2.
New Brighton 0, Barnsley 1.
Rotherham United 1, Mansfield Town 2.
Stockport County 0, Chesterfield 0.
Walsall 5, Hartlepools United 0.
York City 2, Wrexham 4.

Irish League

BELFAST, May 5.—(C. P. Cable) —The Irish soccer season ended today coincidentally with the English, Distillery holding Linfield, the Irish league winners, to a draw and thereby, gaining the Belfast City Cup. The Belfast Cup competition takes the place of the league schedule late in the season.

Glenavon and Portadown played a scoreless draw in the mid-Ulster Cup final.

Belfast Cup closing matches resulted as follows:

Linfield	1	Distillery	1
Celtic	4	Cliftonville	0

New STUDEBAKER
Special Dictator
ST. REGIS SEDAN
DELIVERED IN PETERBORO WITH LICENSE $1120
This is the same model Studebaker which Bob Mackenzie drove 15,000 miles in 15 consecutive days without being greased since it left the assembly line and with only three oil changes.
LOCAL STUDEBAKER DEALER
Chas. H. Elliott
253 Hunter St. W. at Bethune. Phone 1300
Office of J. E. A. Fitzgerald

Races — Entries — Selections
Comment — Results

Kenilworth Entries

FOR MONDAY, MAY 7

FIRST RACE

Purse $700, The Juvenile, for maiden 2-year-olds, 4½ furlongs (7)—Dedication 112; a-Which Prig 102; Leo D. 105; Chunk 109; a-Donstick 102; Candy Store 109; St. Moritz 109. A—H. C. Hatch entry.

SECOND RACE

Purse $700, claiming, 3-year-olds foaled in Canada, 6 furlongs (9)—x-Stage Idol 106; Entangle 98; x-Grayohink 100; Ville Crest 103; Glaze 105; x-Running Showers 100; Ruskit 112; Rosepath 110; Masque Mar 112.

THIRD RACE

Purse $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (9)—Flyer 110; Powder Monkey 110;; x-Black Jewel 103; Athol 110; x-Egad 101; Margie Lou 104; Rock Crest 104; Timon 106; Cornelia Clara 104.

FOURTH RACE

Purse $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (9)—Sun Shadow 113; x-Theone 99; Don Carlos 109; Polonian 110; Zegora 104; Traumagne 114; x-Sixty Ninth 101; x-Pan Toy 104; x-Princeton 101.

FIFTH RACE

Purse $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (10)—Black Diamond 106; x-Uma 99; Charlie 106; The Hun 110; Darksini 110; x-Style Corner 112; Federal Reserve 113; Rough Waters 106; Transpose 104; Stephanus 106.

SIXTH RACE

Purse $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (10)—Flying Fantom 104; Morgil 113; Barter 106; Hek 106; x-Energetic Boy 112; x-Tom Jack Jr. 101; x-Dr. Syntax 107; ;Meridian Queen 110; Maebee 112; ;Mrs. Foster 107.

SEVENTH RACE

Purse $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, one mile and 70 yards (6)—Gold Coinage 105; Frigid Frosty 109; Thunderlight 109; x-Stepoff 100; Mr. Gaiety 109; ;Par Excellence.

X—Apprentice allowance claimed. Clear and fast.

KENILWORTH SCRATCHES

Fourth—Thunder Light, Prince Rupert, Miss Gormley, Sugar Jar.
Fifth—Shady Well.
Sixth—St. Nick.
Seventh—Powder Monkey.
Track—Clear and fast.

Ump. Quigley's Jaw Fractured By Foul

CINCINNATI, May 5 (AP)—Ernest Quigley, National League umpire, sustained a fractured jaw when struck by a foul tip while officiating in the Cincinnati-Brooklyn game yesterday. He was given first-aid treatment in the clubhouse, and removed to a local hospital. Dr. Fithian, who made the examination which revealed the fracture, said he feared the umpire might also suffer a cerebral hemorrhage.

WIDNES DEFEATED 1-15

WEMBLEY STADIUM, London, May 5.—(CP Cable)—Hunslet defeated Widnes by 11-5 in the Rugby League's Cup final this afternoon, scoring its second victory in the 37 years of the competition. The last Hunslet victory in the final was 26 years ago.

J. GRAEME WATSON H. E. WALLACE
Watson, Wallace and Company
Members of The Toronto Stock Exchange
302 Bay Street, Toronto
Bonds, Industrial and Mining Shares
136 Hunter Street, Peterborough
Telephone 3277
George W. Lundy, Manager
Private Wire Facilities. Quotation Service

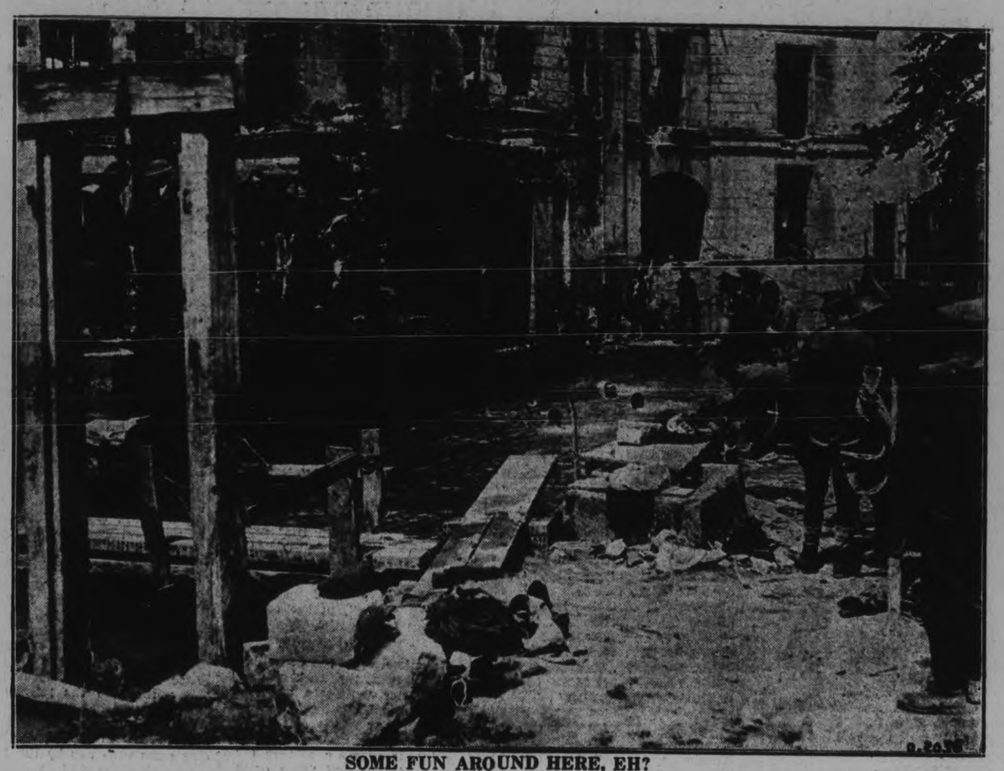
You Can Measure the Quality of Seiberling Tires by Their Quality Appearance
When you see this tire and compare it with other makes, you will believe that we have made an error in your favor in the price we ask.
TUNE UP SPECIAL
Motor Tune Up.
Flush Radiator and Clean Cooling System.
Change Oil in Crank Case.
Change Lubricants in Transmission, Rear Axles and Steering Gear.
Reset Generator Charging Rate.
Adjust Carburetor.
Check Battery and Report Condition.
SEIBERLING
Special Service TIRES
J. J. DUFFUS CO.
WATER STREET AT CHARLOTTE PETERBORO
General Motors Products

THE GODS OF WAR HAD NO REGARD FOR HOME AND HUMANITY

AN OFFICER'S BURIAL

The burial of Major E. L. Knight, of the Eaton Battery, Major Knight was a brother-in-law of Dr. Lorne Robertson, of Stratford. Scenes similar to this were by no means uncommon, and bring home in a striking manner the terrible consequences of war.

—Canadian Official War Photograph



SOME FUN AROUND HERE, EH?

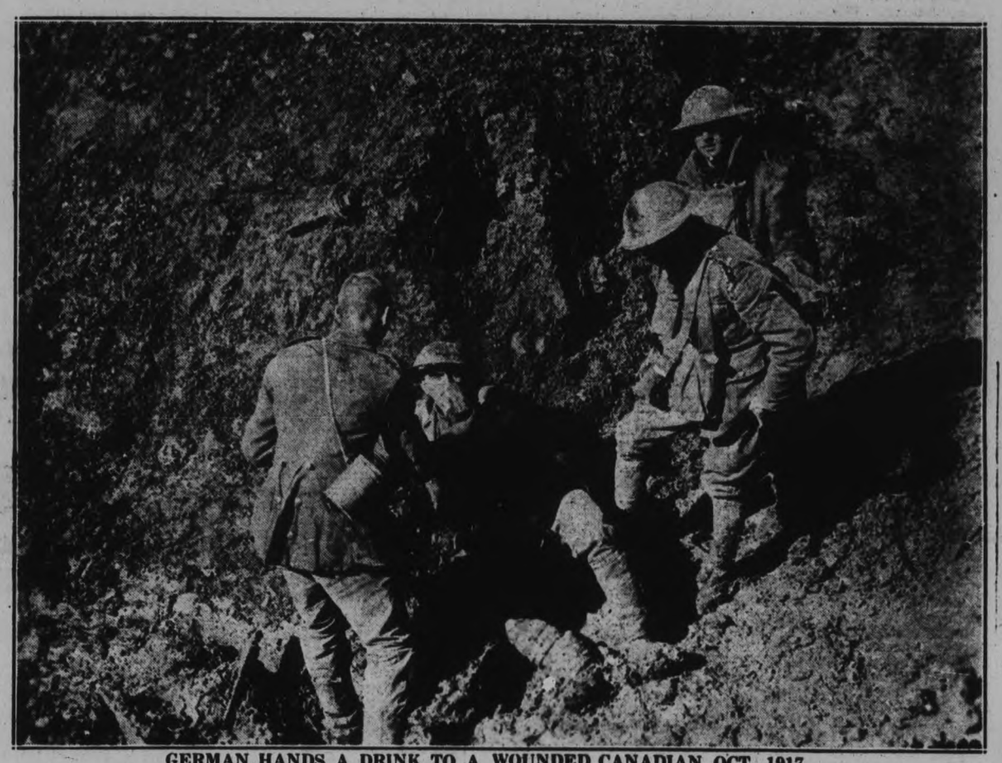
Not the Lion's Club swimming pool, but some nobleman's private resort, France. If the water was cold it gave the crumbs a chill and besides Canadians were always in the swim.

—Canadian Official War Photograph

FRONT LINE NEAR HILL 60

This may be Metropolitan left or thereabouts. Look well at this picture. There are 10,000 to 15,000 Canadians dead within a mile or so of this very spot.

—Canadian Official War Photograph



GERMAN HANDS A DRINK TO A WOUNDED CANADIAN, OCT., 1917

These men, though enemies in the sense that they were opposed to each other during the war, were nevertheless "brothers under the skin." Here is a German soldier giving succor to a wounded Canadian by providing him with a drink of water. One wonders whether it was a factor in saving his life.

Canadian Official War Photograph

WHAT THE ENEMY DID TO THE BEAUTIFUL AND HISTORICAL CLOTH HALL AT YPRES

The above picture shows the famous Cloth Hall at Ypres at night. From an architectural standpoint and historical significance this building was recognized as being one of the most magnificent in all Europe. The devastation created by enemy shell fire can be seen at a glance, but only those who have actually seen the damage done can realize the extent of the destruction. The Germans in the early stages of the war concentrated their guns here on many occasions.

—Canadian Official War Photograph

A WOUNDED GERMAN CAPTURED DURING A RAID

It was typical of Canadian stretcher bearers that their treatment of the enemy wounded which fell into their hands was friendly, and everything possible was done for them. Here they are just arriving at a dressing station located in a quarry, with the dugout entrance showing at the right.

—Canadian Official War Photograph

COLORFUL PAGEANT PRESENTED BEFORE CAPACITY AUDIENCE BY GYMNASIUM CLASSES OF Y.W.C.A.

500 Girls Take Part in Grand Procession March.

BABY CLASS BIG HIT.

The Enchanted Garden of Peter Pan Subject of Pageant.

(By Jeanette

Brilliantly presented and full of color, the Pageant of the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium classes as produced before a capacity audience at the Grand Opera House last night, was one of the most beautiful of the many entertainments presented in years past under the expert tuition and direction of Miss Caroline F. Littlefield, Physical Director of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Intent appreciation and repeated applause greeted each section of the display of physical skill which formed the first portion of the entertainment, and the gay and sparkling pageant, "The Enchanted Garden of Peter Pan", which made the close and sent the watchers home at an early hour, after a thoroughly delightful evening.

The manner in which these pupils of the 'Y' gymnasium present their clever exercises and graceful dances reveals the keen interest they take in the work and the splendid type of training which is imparted to them by the director.

The performers on the stage last night included the dignified members of the senior classes, the sprightly intermediates and the jaunty juniors, while the babies, some of whom could not have been much over two or three years of age, were transported with the charm of the stage lights and the applause with which the audience greeted their tender efforts in entertaining.

In their trim shorts and middy blouses, the various classes ringing the changes on varying shades of blue, with black and white as the old stand-bys, the massed classes, over five hundred strong, joined in the March Processional which annually opens this 'Y' pageant.

Emerging from the stage door at the left, they came in ordered fashion, marshalled by Miss Littlefield, down to the rear of the house, thence up the aisle to an inclined runway which took them directly to the stage, marching in time to the tune of 'Smiles,' which seemed especially appropriate at each face bore a smile.

'Daily Dozen'

After a brief introductory speech by G. A. Gillespie, the physical exercises were presented, each run through to a brisk, snappy tempo and to the command of a whistle from the wings.

The music which accompanied these exercises seemed to be extremely well chosen this year, setting the note for the well-trained demonstrations of skill in various types of gymnasium work.

'Annie Rooney', 'The Sidewalks of New York' and 'School Days,' for instance, were just right as a musical accompaniment to the jovial dumbell exercises by the Juniors. Then came the expert and intricate windmill whirls and other variations by the alert Seniors, with applause greeting their skillful fancy club swinging, and a variation of the old 'Spanish Cavalier' as the orchestral background for this outstanding bit of physical drill.

By request, the members of the Babies' class presented their 'Daily Dozen', the funny little tikes arousing so much uproarious mirth by their unconsciously gleeful antics that they repeated the various movement after an insistent encore. Not one of the senior members of the gymnasium classes, no matter how intent on their individual task, was a harder worker than these miniature creatures who panted through a dumbell drill and waved their legs energetically in the air while lying flat on their wee backs. 'Three Blind Mice' and 'Yankee Doodle' were their particular brands of music, they went off, many goose-stepping carefully, to the strains of 'Pop Goes the Weasel', and 'London Bridge is Falling Down' accompanied their curious convolutions.

The demonstration by the Elementary Class of single stick drill was most interesting and graceful. The popular tune of the day, 'Pretty Polly Perkins', set the note for this graceful interlude.

In other seasons, we have had in these entertainments special demonstrations of Swedish and Danish gymnastics. The German type supersedes them this year, in extremely attractive illustrations of a smoother-paced, more melodic sort of exercise that goes to a flowing tempo.

Graceful Drill

The girls, who are members of the Senior classes, come in with a springing action that sends them flying up a few inches from the floor at each step and sets the stage for the unusual exercises which follow. They jump rhythmically in a series of muscular foot and arm exercises in a weaving, graceful mode. Then they show what really can be done with skill and effort and expert training. With hands stands for one of the partners in the duos which work through the drill, the other is supported in the air. The same effect is achieved in standing positions, with one girl raising the other in quick, careful movements that appear almost effortless. Even the pyramidal formations which closed this section were most original and unusual in type. Much applause greeted this number.

The graceful conception of Peter Pan and his enchanted garden, a fantasy arranged by Miss Littlefield, which formed the second portion of the program, was colorful in the extreme. Although each season sees a variety of beautiful costumes, this year's clothing seemed, if possible, more tasteful and decorative than ever before. The lovely colors seemed to blend so well and the garden idea lent itself so well to the theme of the presentation.

Two cunning wee children, acting as Wendy and Michael, followed Peter Pan (a blithe and graceful sprite in scalloped green outfit and clever toe-dancing feet), into the enchanted garden, where all the flowers and birds and other fanciful creatures came to life and disported themselves gaily, to the delight of the two little guests.

Tiny rosebuds and forget-me-nots, in delicious deep pinks and sky blues, golden daisies with petalled blossoms as clothing, and exquisite pansies in mauve and yellow, form the floral background for the sparkling, vivacious pagentry of the episode, which opens with a seriesof ecstatic bird whistles. These are members of the Babies' Gym class.

"From Eastern Caves"

Gorgeously beautiful were the Senior dancers as spirits of Night, with flowing ebon draperies and filmy scarves, bespangled with silver stars. They do a shadowy, gliding dance that presently ushers in the weird creature of the night, the black-clad bats with fluttering, hooked wings that move unceasingly in an encircling dance. These are members of the Senior School Girls' class, while the Elementary tap dancers are the witches who follow on their heels and do a clever, clattering number with brisk effect, clothed in garments of black and red, with witches' hats and witches' hair-tipped wands.

But the birds come to the rescue (Junior Gym members), and arrange a birds' council in which take part the brilliantly-plumaged creatures, orioles, blue birds, cardinals, robins and darling little humming birds, all appropriately garbed for the occasion, with simulated beaks and flapping wings.

Of especial interest are the captivating Wood Elves (Junior Tap dancers) who tap away so blithely and cheerfully in a gay little dance that they charm and onlookers alike. They wear cunning green pointed caps and capes, with bright red tunics and jaunty little red and green shoes.

Then come the friendly ferns in a stately marching dance that is most effective to the tune of the pretty 'Glow Worm' composition. Gracefully clad in fern green long slashed frocks, the streamers that depend from their wrists carry out the fern illusion most beautifully. They are Elementary Gym members, while Senior Tap dancers come next in the guise of the sportive, energetic woodpeckers, who, with syncopated tap dancing, staccato in mode, announce the fairies' advent, and appear in most effective outfits of black and white, with infinitesimal pointed red caps. Their shorts are made of black velvet.

Filmy Apparel

The costumes which follow are exquisitely designed, with filmy chiffons as the materials. First come the lovely Woodland Fairies (Senior Toe Dancers) in grass green chiffons of ballet dancer type with large extended gossamer wings. They are accompanied by the glistening Dragon Flies, in subdued greens and blues, with glittering dragon fly lights on their heads and costumes. (An idea of the ingenuity practise in the manufacture of these pageant costumes may be gained from the whisper that these little glittering, brilliant insects were once the mirror-lined caps of powder compacts).

And then arrive the baby dancers as dainty little sunbeams in tiny frocks of apricot and tangerine chiffon, fluttering about in gauzy dances in the wake of the graceful fairies and busy dragon flies.

The Finale brings Peter and all the elements of the Fantasy on the stage for a last colorful ensemble and a period to a beautiful presentation of a fairy tale that has enchanted the hearts and minds of many in years gone by, since Barrie penned the imagery of Peter Pan and the Never, Never Land' where folks never grow old.

During the performance, many beautiful floral tributes were presented to the director, Miss Littlefield.

The effective decorations of the proscenium opening, in formal, conventionalized cardboard flowers, were by courtesy of Hall's Store and the Canadian Department Stores.

The music which meant so much to the entire production and its many sections was skilfully provided by an orchestra composed of a pianist, Mrs. E. M. Foster, a violinist, George V. Gatfield, a girl saxaphonist, Miss 'Mickey' Foster, and the veteran drummer and trap manipulator of the Grand Opera House, Robert W. Beach.

Favorable industrial operations are creating optimism in Japan.

MUSIC TEACHERS AND PUPILS

The Toronto Conservatory of Music Midsummer Local Examinations for 1934 will be held throughout the Dominion in June and July next. Applications and fees from Ontario Candidates east of Sault Ste. Marie, must reach the Conservatory not later than

MAY 15TH, 1934

Application forms and Annual Syllabus containing full particulars will be mailed on request.

TORONTO CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
COLLEGE ST. AND UNIVERSITY AVE. TORONTO 2

... for economical transportation

CHEVROLET — GENERAL MOTORS PRODUCTS

SOLD ON CHEVROLET the moment they TOOK THE WHEEL

There are 5 cars to choose from in the low-price field . . . YET MORE THAN 1 OUT OF 3 BUYERS PICK NEW 1934 CHEVROLETS

NATURALLY we are proud to have created Canada's most popular automobile. All the more so because people are counting values—comparing quality—checking on delivered prices—as never before in automobile history.

Chevrolet has always been stronger on proof of value than on mere "claims". People recognize this in Chevrolet's many exclusive features: Fully-enclosed, protected "Knee-Action", Body by Fisher, valve-in-head six cylinder engine with Blue Flame head, Fisher built-in Ventilation, exclusive YK frame, to mention just a few.

And just as long as motorists go on comparing, checking and testing, Chevrolet will hold and increase its great sales leadership. Because Chevrolet refuses to compromise on quality. The industry's leading engineers . . . the great General Motors Proving Ground . . . and an organization with "an ear to the ground and an eye to the future" . . . take care of that. Low delivered prices—easy GMAC terms.

Convince YOURSELF

See the Car! Drive It! Try the Ride!

FULLY ENCLOSED "KNEE ACTION" The safety type of Knee-Action. Fully protected against wear-and-tear — unharmed by dirt, mud, ice, water or flying stones.

BLUE FLAME CYLINDER HEAD . . . Exclusive to Chevrolet; increases power, speed and "pick-up", at the same time reducing gasoline consumption. Other advanced engine features: Harmonic Balancer, in addition to Cushion-Balanced engine mountings; Octane Selector; automatic spark control.

BIGGER POSITIVE BRAKES Greater brake-lining area than ever for greatest safety. Air-cooled drums for freedom from warping and repairs. "Soft", easy foot pressure.

SAFETY GLASS . . . In windshield and ventilators of all Chevrolet models at no extra cost. Does not discolor or "blister".

STURDY, SMART FISHER BODY . . . Strong as modern coachcraft can make it. Beautifully streamlined. Designed and built by the world's largest makers of automobile bodies.

EXCLUSIVE YK FRAME . . . A new kind of car-foundation, pioneered by Chevrolet. Many times stronger than any other in its class. Built like a bridge for strength and rigidity.

BUILT-IN NO-DRAFT VENTILATION . . . The genuine Fisher type, pioneered by General Motors. Not a "make-shift", but an integral part of the car design. Has new rain and snow deflector. New exclusive, reverse-type screened cowl ventilator gives added comfort.

NEW CHEVROLET

PRICED AS LOW AS $844 FOR THE MASTER SIX

Delivered at factory, Oshawa, fully equipped. Freight and Government license only extra.

Standard Series Chevrolet as low as $710 Easy GMAC terms.

C-9A

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE . . . PRODUCED IN CANADA

J. K. HUGHES, Ltd.

Water and Hunter Sts., Peterborough. Phone 1347

A. T. TINNEY & SON, Associated Dealer, Cavan

PARLIAMENT HILL HEARS

By WILFRID EGGLESTON

The sting of the following letter is in the tail!

One of the members from the eastern townships recently received a letter from an aged constituent, a lady who had attained her ninetieth year.

Dear Mr. Blank (she wrote): "Times are very hard, and I'm getting on in years, and my health is bad. I don't suppose I'll ever see you again till we both reach Heaven—and that can't come too soon now!" Signed, Mrs. So-and-So.

P.S.—"By the way, that agent of yours who promised me a washing machine if I voted for you hasn't been heard of since!"

* * *

Senator H. H. Horsey tells a story about a Maritime politician who subsequently rose to lofty ranks in Canadian public life.

The budding politician was conducting his first campaign. There were a number of colored voters in his constituency, and he was given the name of a certain influential "buck" whose support must be secured, according to his agents, at all costs.

He proceeded to interview the big fellow. In his youthful enthusiasm for the party he hoped to represent in parliament, the politician expounded at great length on its achievements since Confederation.

The colored gentleman, however, continued to stare down at his boots, apparently quite unimpressed.

At last the politician, sensing his failure to make progress, thrust his hand into his pocket and pulled out a five-dollar bill. The eyes of the prospective voter brightened, and he immediately said: "Ah, Mr. Dash: Dems de arguments! Dems de agruments!"

* * *

Senator George P. Graham, who on the occasion of his 75th birthday recently was much feted and honored, among others by his 11 newspaper associates in the Red Chamber, can look back on a long mentary life. In the main it was a tranquil one, but Senator Graham keenly recalls the gruelling initiation he had to face when he first came to Ottawa as minister of railways.

Federal members never really take too kindly to the transfer of provincial representatives (as Geo. P. was then) to the Federal House, much less to the government, and Mr. Graham felt keenly at first the chilly atmosphere created by some of the Liberals, and the antipathy of Cinservatives who, in his own words, "had it in their minds to straighten the humps on the young man."

The late Senator Fowler, then a member of the House of Commons, took advantage of the presentation of the intercolonial estimates by the young minister to comb the latter down.

The inexperienced Mr. Graham was fair game for Mr. Fowler, who was a hard hitter and a relentless critic. For an hour, on one occasion, Mr. Fowler proceeded to attack the system of purchasing oil for the railway for use in locomotives, and worked himself up into a fever heat, with the idea that he would make the new minister lose his temper, and then demolish him.

But even in those juvenile days, George P. seemed to sense that a minister who loses his temper while piloting estimates through the House is done. He went patiently through the examination, and finally Mr. Fowler sat down, breathless, ready to jump on the next vulnerable item. Along it came—plush, for upholstering cars.

Mr. Fowler got up, wrathfully.

"Was this plush purchased in the same way as the oil?"

"Oh, no," sweetly replied the minister of railways. "In quite a different way."

"What is the difference?" shouted Mr. Fowler, madder than ever.

"The oil," mellifluecously rejoined Mr. Graham, "was purchased by the gallon, where as the plush was bought by the yard!"

A great shout went up at Mr. Fowler's expense, and the opposition ceased. Ever afterwards, so Mr. Graham tells me, there was little trouble with any of his estimates.

* * *

Did you know....that there are ten vacancies in the Senate, four on the government side, six on the opposition....the Senator Cote is a descendant of the Abraham Martin, pilot of Quebec, who gave his name to the Plains of Abraham where Wolfe and Montcalm fought ....that Sir Robert Borden was once a professor in an American institution of learning....that Senator Barnard's father has a line of stage coaches in British Columbia over a route of 400 miles long, carrying mail and passengers up the Fraser to the regions where gold has recently been discovered?

* * *

Just to show that a man is as young as he feels, I append here the observation made by Senator Onesiphore Turgeon, shortly after he had been appointed to the Senate in 1923, in writing a letter to his son in Saskatchewan (Judge Turgeon of the Supreme Court).

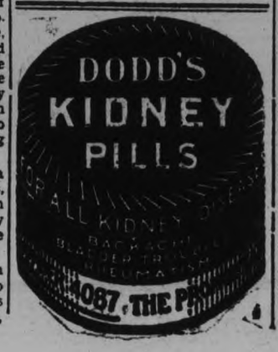
"I don't feel at home in the Senate," he said, "there are so many old men around."

The point is that at the time of his appointment Turgeon had just reached his 74th birthday!

* * *

I hear....that Sam Jacobs, M. P., from Montreal, one of the three Hebrews in the House, sent a postcard from Atlantic City to Hon. R. J. Manion, who, it will be remembered, made a slashing attack on the inaction of the Mackenzie King government in 1930 in failing to reply to the Hawley-Smoot tariff with something good and hot, and seeking some "red-blooded" action instead of "cold feet."

"From a Wandering Jew to a Red-blooded Canadian," was the way Sam Jacobs signed his postcard.



PUBLIC TO KEN OLD JOHN PEEL IN NEW MANNER

It is Recalled Famous Huntsmen's Coat Was Grey, Not "Gay."

MEMORIAL PROJECT.

(By Thomas T. Champion)
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON. — (C.P.) — Plans for the long-promised memorial at Caldbeck to the "well-kenned" huntsman are now under way. The fame of John Peel rests almost entirely on the song, so it is only fair that John Woodcock Graves, the author of the song, and William Metcalfe, the composer, are to be honored with him. The memorial is to be in the form of a public shelter at Caldbeck and the cost of it will be $1500.

John Peel—whose coat, incidentally, was "so grey," and not "so gay" as many revised versions of the song insist—was of purely local fame during his life. His hunting, which was always done on foot, was chiefly remarkable for the enormous length of the "runs"—one of them lasted more than ten hours.

At the end of the day it was his wont to go over every incident in the chase with an old crony. To the uninitiated he must have been a bit of a bore, and so Grannie Graves found him the night he chose her son for his confidant. She left the men to their chatter and started singing over the old rant, "Bonnie Annie," to her grandson in the cradle.

But it was Grannie Grave's crooning which brought fame to the huntsman. John Graves wrote the words of his song to Grannie's tune and William Metcalfe amended the tune to fit the words. "You'll be sung when we're both run to earth," said Graves at the end of the evening. And so it has turned out.

The Manfactured Iron Trade Conciliation Board of Scotland has just reported that selling prices do not warrant any increase in wages.

A George II tea and coffee service was sold recently in London for $2200.

CORONA HOTEL

Ste. Catherine and Guy Sts.
MONTREAL
CANADA
(Next Door to His Majesty's Theatre)

Rates:
Single from $1.50
Double from $2.50
Suites from $4.00

GEO V. GREEN,
Managing Director.

MISERY, STARVATION PREVAILS IN ENGLAND, NOVELIST'S CHARGE

J. B. Priestly Tells of Privation and Sordid Conditions in New Book.

SCORES DOLE SYSTEM.

(By William Hillman, Central Press Canadian Correspondent.)

LONDON, May 3. — Misery, suffering, privation and even starvation "a-plenty," prevail in England. England now is a "muddling, irresponsible country."

J. B. Priestly, famous novelist, reviewing England in a book "English Journey," just published, is causing wide-spread comment with the bitter and candid observations he makes of his country. He finds Britain has lost the leadership of the world it once held.

The face of industrial England fills him with horror. A tram ride through part of Birmingham rouses anger in him:

"There was nothing, I repeat, to light up a man's mind for one single instant; I loathed the whole long array of shops, with their nasty bits of meat, their cough mixtures, their 'Racing Specials,' their sticky, cheap furniture, their shoddy clothes, their fly-blown pastry, their coupons, and sales and lies, and dreariness and ugliness. I asked myself if this really represented the level reached by all those people down there on the pavements."

Farther north his narrative becomes that of a traveller in the Inferno. His picture of derelict Jarrow is a terrible indictment of industrialism and its achievements:

Scores "Dole" System

'One little street may be more wretched than another but to the outsider they all look alike. One out of every two shops appeared to be permanently closed. Wherever we went there were men hanging about, not scores of them, but hundreds of thousands of them. The whole town looked as if it had entered a perpetual penniless, bleak Sabbath. The men wore the drawn masks of prisoners of war. A stranger from a distant civilization, observing the conditions of the place and its people, would have arrived at once at the conclusion that Jarrow had deeply offended some celestial emperor of the island, and was now being punished."

Speaking of the dole, upon which growing thousands of Britons subsist, Priestly says:

"It is a poor shuffling job and one of our worst compromises. Nothing is encouraged by the dole except a shambling, dull-eyed, poor imitation of life. The Labor exchanges stink of defeated humanity. The whole thing is unworthy of a great country. But the idea of liberty remains in England.

"There is not so much of liberty here as I should like, but there is a great deal more than there is in many countries now.

"All over the world the shutters are being closed, the blue pencils are being sharpened, the gags and seals and warrants for summary arrest are being brought out.

"There is some liberty yet in England."

ENGLISH YOUTH IS LEFT $40,000

George Harrison Visits Hastings on His Way Home.

INSTITUTE MEETING

HASTINGS, May 4.—(Examiner Correspondence).—George Harrison, a young English lad, recently made a visit to the village before his departure to England to collect a fortune of $40,000 to which he has fallen heir. Three years ago Mr. Harrison attended Trinity United Church garden party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fleming. Here he was greeted with much applause by his comic and cowboy songs and his own accompaniments on his guitar. Since then he has been rambling around the province and visiting various radio stations. As soon as possible he will return to Canada.

Mr. William Whitred, of the Cobourg road, was awarded $12.50 as second prize in the weather contest held by the Toronto Sports Weekly. Six were eligible for the second prize of $75, so it was equally divided, each one receiving $12.50. Mr. Whitred guessed fourteen correct answers from the sixteen.

Women's Institute.

The May meeting of the Hastings Women's Institute was held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday, May 1, with an attendance of 31.

Regret was expressed at the illness of the president, Mrs. Walter Fowlds. Due to her absence, Mrs. Scott Fife presided.

It was decided that Mr. Ferguson, of Guelph, from the department of drainage, examine the local proposed athletic grounds and give an estimate of the cost of drainage.

They further decided that the Institute form a committee, and the following, Rev. P. J. Kelly, A. Clapper, G. Stevenson, J. V. Findly, G. Gowans and A. J. McKenty, to be appointed with them to supervise and assist in the work of the athletic grounds.

To assist the branch financially, a progressive euchre will be held on Thursday evening, May 31, in the Council Chambers. Suitable prizes will be awarded.

On May 22, the Hastings branch will be the guests of the Roseneath branch at their summer series meeting. All members are invited.

The following day, May 23, the same speaker of the department of institutes will give as her address, "The Challenge of Age," in the Council Chambers, Hastings.

The June meeting has been well planned for by the program committee. Mrs. MacDonald, convenor, will give an outline of the yearly program. Miss M. McCarthy, of Peterborough, will give a demonstration on art. A contest will be interesting. The roll call will be, "Song, Say or Pay."

The guest speaker at this meeting was Mrs. E. Birdsall, president of the Westwood Women's Institute, who gave a very splendid paper on "More Beautiful Canada." She also spoke words of encouragement to the newly organized branch and offered many helpful suggestions which would benefit financially and socially.

The debate, "Resolved that the pioneer women have done more for the Dominion of Canada than the modern women," proved a very important part of the program. The judges, Mrs. Finlay, Mrs. Fife and Mrs. Brown, gave the decision in favor of the negative side. Splendid debating was done by both sides, showing careful and thoughtful preparation and presented in good form, many of the points being hotly contested. The affirmative was upheld by Misses Grace Orr and Helen Kelleher and the negative by Misses Christina Stinson and Marcella Sullivan. Prizes were given as awards to the winners.

A vote of thanks was extended to the guest speaker and the debaters for their generous efforts in making a successful meeting.

Mrs. J. A. Coughlan, Mrs. Hoard, Mrs. Hay and Mrs. Hubble provided dainty refreshments

Hastings' Personals.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Hess were in Havelock on Tuesday, May 1, for the reception day in connection with the golden jubilee of Havelock United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Runnels and son, George, of Toronto, were recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Runnels.

Rev. and Mrs. Battersby have been in Toronto this week attending the annual diocesan meeting of the Anglican Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dainard, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dainard and family, of Lindsay, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart and son, Jack, of Foxboro, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Dainard.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wood and son, Gordon, of Keene, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Dickey.

Miss Mae Huycke is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Gould, in Havelock, during the golden jubilee of Havelock United Church.

Miss Della Plant, Pterborough deanery officer, was in Toronto during the week attending the annual diocesan meeting of the Anglican Church.

The Public School of the village was closed on Thursday, due to a case of scarlet fever. The health officer fumigated the school as a prevention against the epidemic spreading.

WHEAT MOVING TO MONTREAL

Over Hundred Cars Daily Passing Through Lindsay From Pt. McNicoll.

FISH PATROLS BUSY.

LINDSAY, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—According to an announcement by C.N.R. officials, about one hundred cars of wheat from Port McNicoll for Montreal have been passing through town daily during the past fortnight. It is expected that this will continue for a few weeks, and the movement will mean that six million bushels have been shipped to the eastern port. This shipment is being handled by the regular train crews.

According to figures given out by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, farmers in Victoria County have in a single year cut wood valued at $185,730. This takes into consideration only the forest products of farms.

Fish and game overseers have launched their drive against those who are catching fish illegally in the waters in this district with a determination to stamp out the practice. On Wednesday another local citizen was fined by Magistrate Jordan for having a lunge in his possession, and two more men who were caught the same day at Scugog Lake with three big fish in their possession. They will appear in court in a few days.

WILSON'S BACHELOR 100 Havana Filler Cigar

Obituary

ERNEST HANNAH.

LIFFORD LINE, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—The sad news reached Lifford on Friday of the death in Oshawa of an old Lifford boy in the person of Ernest Hannah, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Hannah. His death was due to blood poisoning.

Left to mourn his loss are his wife and one daughter, a stenographer in General Motors, Oshawa.

The late Mr. Hannah attended Lifford school, and a host of former school mates join with other friends in mourning his decease.

BLAIRTON L.O.L. HAS OPEN NIGHT

Over 100 Attend for Celebration of Sixty-fifth Anniversary.

HONOR DAVID LITTLE.

MARMORA, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—Blairton L.O.L. 1255 celebrated its sixty-seventh anniversary with an open meeting in Blairton Orange Hall on Thursday evening at which over one hundred persons were present. Wor. Bro. David Little who is eighty-one years of age and has been a member of the Order for sixty-four years, presided in an able manner.

Following the singing of "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow," addresses were given by the following: Wor. Bro. Alex. McFaul, W.M., of L.O.L. 1255, Wor. Bro. R. Wrightly of Havelock, District Master; Wor. Bro. R. Sanderson of Havelock, Past County Master; Sis. Mrs. James Toms, W.M., of Havelock L.O.B.A.; Bro. J. Kinnaird of Havelock, Bro. J. Sexsmith, ex-M.P., and Wor. Bro. W. J. Cottrell, Deputy County Master of Centre Hastings.

Bro. Kinnaird's stirring message was "Protestantism," and Wor. Bro. Cottrell discoursed on "The Rock of Ages." Songs were given by Bro. A. S. Robertson and Master W. Cartwright. Refreshments followed the singing of the National Anthem.

As the gathering was about to disperse, Wor. Bro. Sanderson, on behalf of Blairton L.O.L. 1255, presented Wor. Bro. D. Little with a honorary membership certificate to replace the one lost some years ago in a fire which destroyed the latter's home. Of sixty-four years' membership in the Order, forty-three years have been spent by Wor. Bro. Little in Blairton Lodge.

BARN IN MARMORA DESTROYED BY FIRE

Blaze Threatens Surrounding Houses—Many Roofs Set Ablaze.

MARMORA, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—Some excitement was caused in the early afternoon of Friday through the burning of a barn situated to the rear of the residence on Main Street, last occupied by Joseph Kelly. Sparks from this conflagration ignited the shingles of the roof of the residence owned by the Pearce Company and rented by John Dougall.

With the aid of the two chemical engines and the hose, the fire was subdued, but only after it had caused some damage to the roof. Owing to a small breeze prevailing at the time, sparks also ignited roofs of the homes of Lorne Gray, D. Campion and Mrs. C. Nichol, which were situated on the same street, and also the homes of Louis Green, James Shaw and Pat O'Brien, situated on streets to the east. These minor outbreaks were quickly quelled.

Greater Employment In Motor City Plant

OSHAWA, Ont., May 5 (C.P.) — An important announcement which will have a great effect in providing for the re-employment of a considerable number of the former employees of General Motors of Canada Ltd., here at Walkerville, was made yesterday by H. A. Brown, vice president and general manager of the company. Mr. Brown announced that a separate assembly line for trucks and commercial cars was being set up, and that this will employ about 150 more men in the Oshawa plant.

Plans have also been laid for expansion of operations in the Walkerville plant which will mean employment for about 150 additional skilled men, about 50 of whom are already at work.

The British Post Office Department, which controls telephone and telegraph communication, will lay all wires underground herefater.

1933 AWARDS ARE DISTRIBUTED TO ASSOCIATION CHEESE MAKERS

Alfred Merrills Predicts Better Prices for Product This Season.

PRIZE WINNERS.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 5 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Champion cheesemakers, all members of the Campbellford Cheesemakers' Association, received the reward of service last evening, when prizes for the 1933 season were distributed at Campbellford, when members of the association with their wives foregathered in the Clifton Tea Rooms and enjoyed a social evening. Two of the speakers scheduled to address the meeting, W. A. Fraser, M.P. of Trenton, and F. J. McArthur, M.L.A., of Cobourg, were unable to be present, however, being held up on political business.

W. V. Drewry of Warkworth, president of the organization, made a very efficient chairman for the evening, which consisted in cards, the presentation of awards, all of which were made on the basis of high scoring cheese; a musical program; short addresses, and a delighful lunch served by Mrs. C. W. Smith.

The following is the list of prize donors, their winners, and the score the individual maker made.—1, Bank of Montreal Cup, Fred Remington, Hoard's, 93.81 (the 2nd time won). F. J. McArthur, M.L.A., chair, Fred Remington, Hoard's, 93.81; 2, A. D. Bennett, lamp, F. M. Little, Menie, 93.29; 3, W. A. Fraser, M.P., rug, W. V. Drewry, Warkworth, 93.19; 4, John Murray, rug, Douglas Turney, Morganston, 93.18; 5, Robert Simpson Company, Toronto, dish, Walter, Andrews, Burnley, 92.80; 6, G. A. Kingston, subscription to Campbellford Herald, Wesley Shillinglaw, Empire, 92.76; 7, Locke Brothers, Campbellford, smoker's outfit, Sam Hobbs, 92.70.

Alfred Merrills, representative of the Eastern Ontario Dairymens' Association and president of Beaver factory, addressed the gathering briefly, stressing the good work done in the past by the makers, which had been considerably benefited by the gatherings held by them at the grading station and factories. He saw prospects, he said, of beter prices for cheese this season, based on the fact that buyers were already looking for Campbellford cheese, and knew where to place them. He also stressed the importance of the increased consumption of cheese on the home market.

Interesting Figures

Speaking for Mr. McArthur, and making the presentation for the local member, G. A. Kingston of Campbellford gave some interesting figures regarding the cheese industry in 1874, aken from the minutes of the Brae Factory, at which time T. Hume was president; Gilbert Bedford, secretary, and Charles Clark, Alex Donald, and James Whitton, directors. In this year the factory had 1,072,627 pounds of milk, from which was made 109,971 pounds of cheese, averaging 9¾ lbs. of milk to a pound of cheese. There was $12,725 realized this season, the average price of cheese being 11.57 cents. Milk was $32.02 a standard, the whey bringing $131.30, or 48 cents a standard. Mr. Kingston also pointed out that the interest businessmen were taking in the cheese business was a tribute to the trend of the times.

J. A. Murray stated that the cheese industry was the safety valve of the whole milk industry, for it took the milk out of the country. This fact was realized by the Government, who were always willing to help in any way to further these interests. Cheese sets the price of all other milk products, he stated, and it was a tribute to Ontario that in no other place in the world did makers have to conform to so high a standard before they could make cheese. He complimented Mr. Turney in winning his prize.

Others speakers who briefly addressed the gathering were: D. Wilson, manager of the Bank of Montreal, who made the bank award; Councillor A. D. Bennett, who welcomed the association to Campbellford when presenting his prize; A. G. Thompson, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce; S. A. Maguire; and William Rannie, for twenty-seven years president of a cheese factory, and although retired, an ardent follower of the cheese game still.

Contributing to the musical program, vocal solos were given by E. H. Lewis, with Mrs. Lewis accompanying, and Mr. Darling of Morganston; a reading by J. D. McEachern; and a solo with guitar accompaniment by the Hutcheon Brothers.

Oscar K. Sloane Is Scholarship Winner

In the announcement of scholarship winners in the motor mechanics course conducted annually by General Motors of Canada, Limited, appears the name of Oscar K. Sloane of Peterborough, who is among the group awarded a special one-week course. The competition was open to one boy from each technical school in the province taking the motor mechanics course. All the students were from the third year. During the competitive course recently completed the students were given two days' mechanical work on a McLaughlin-Buick, two days on a Chevrolet, a written examination and a trip through the plant.

A COMPLETE Printing Service LOW PRICES

ANNUAL INSPECTION

(Continued from Page 1)

geant Major J. Gunn; colour officer, Tom Dench; colour sergeants, Carter, Doble; band sergeant Frewer; section commanders—No. 1, Allan Gray; No. 2, Payne; No. 3, Ian MacLean; No. 4, MacMaster. There were about sixty cadets in the corps. The physical training was especially good and the boys made an excellent showing in jumping, running, bar work and ending with the Grove salute.

High School Inspection

The High School cadets received the approbation of the inspecting officers at the annual cadet inspection held on Thursday afternoon on the grounds. The corps made an excellent showing and presented a neat smart appearance as they marched by the saluting base. The friendly and co-operative spirit prevailing between the High School and The Grove was manifested in a nice gesture when the bugle band of The Grove was loaned to the High School for the inspection.

The marching was good and the company drill well carried out, also the platoon and section manoeuvres. The physical training was good and showed an intensive training despite the weather and an early date for inspection and reflected credit on their instructor, T. W. Chaplin and their cadet officers.

The tug of war was a very well contested feature of the "P.T." The drill this year presented some new and very popular features and the spectators were delighed.

Captain Churchill Mann, the inspector, congratulated Mr. Chaplin, Cadet Captain Morrison and the corps in the showing made and said that the result in spite of the handicap of a late season, showed the spirit put into the work, the esprit de corps which is one of the best features of the cadet work.

We are all wearing the King's uniform, saluting the one flag and are part and parcel of the greatest Empire the world has known. The physical training helps to develop the muscles and the wind and the drill helps you to work together and to achieve success we must all work together.

As this was his first day as Inspector, Captain Mann asked that a half holiday be granted at a very early date.

Mr. Harvey also spoke briefly, words of encouragement and appreciation. The attendance of parents was disappointingly small and a greater display of interest would be a great benefit to the corps and encourage the instructor and officers.

Rev. A. W. MacKenzie, D.D., headmaster of The Grove, was present and showed his interest in the proceedings as usual. Mr. MacKenzie has done a great deal to promote the existing good feeling and friendly competition between the schools. The cadet officers are: Captain, Hugh Morrison platoon commanders, Harry Jewell and Walter Spence; section commanders, Harry Nicholls, James Maloney, Wilfrid Morin and Joe Blewett.

MARMORA BRIDGE PROGRESSING FAST

Concrete Retaining Walls Laid on East Pier—Steel is Laid.

MARMORA, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—Work on the new cement bridge which will span the Crow River is progressing in an interesting manner. The concrete retaining walls on the east pier are almost finished, and are now to the height of the floor of the new bridge.

The first row of steel for the floor of the bridge is now in place. The steel is fast in the concrete of the pier and is turned with a curve to a horizontal position. When the forms are in position for the floor of the bridge, the steel will be buried in the concrete.

Men are now at work removing sections of the old bridge, and as soon as this steel structure is out of the way, the eastern pier in the river will be poured to the height of the floor of the bridge. All danger of any trouble arising from high water is now past.

MANVERS ASSOCIATION ENJOYS SOCIAL EVENING

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, May 5. — A very enjoyable social evening was spent by the A.Y.P.A. of St. Mary's Church, Manvers Parish, on Wednesday, May 2nd, when they entertained about fifty members of the Omemee A.Y.P.A. of Christ Church. The hall was very tastefully decorated in blue and white. The following program was very much enjoyed: Reading, Vera Strachan; violin duet, Clarence Page and George Tims; pantomime, Muriel Hannah, Isobel Sisson, Vera Strachan and Marjory Page, and Jack Hannah and Kenneth Henderson; humorous duet, Lawrence Staples and George Tims; reading, Lena Mulligan; trumpet solo, Ben Page with accompaniment by Robt. Sisson;; solo, Lawrence Staples.

Following the playing of several games, dainty refreshments were served. The meeting closed with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Agricultural Notes Of Interest To Farmers In District

(Continued from Page 1)

use consists of two bushels of Oats and one bushel of Peas per acre, using either O.A.C. No. 144, O.A.C. No. 72 or Banner Oats along with O.A.C. No. 81 Golden Vine or Prussian Blue Peas. This mixture is ready to sow as soon as a good seed bed can be prepared and is ready to cut when the Pea Pods are about half grown. The hay is cured in the same manner as a clover timothy mixture and is fairly easily handled.

Soy Beans are becoming popular as an Annual Hay Crop especially in Western Ontario and under favorable growing conditions produce a fairly satisfactory yield of high quality hay being especially high in protein. Soy Beans can be sown broadcast at the rate of one and a half bushels per acre and in this district can be safely sown anytime after May 5th. The O.A.C. No. 21 is the most hardy and widely grown variety used in Ontario at the present time.

In addition to the above crops many farmers still sow our Millet and providing there is plenty of moisture, it will produce a high yield of hay. However, millet is a fairly heavy feeder and the hay is also rather difficult to cure on wet seasons.

There are several varieties of Millet on the market but either the Hungarian or Siberian No. 92 will give satisfactory results. The crop is usually sown around June 1st and when these varieties are used from one half to three quarters of a bushel is sown per acre.

Cossack Alfalfa has gained a considerable amount of publicity this year and doubtless many farmers will be trying it alone without a nurse crop. In this respect it is doubtful if the Cossack will give any better results than the well known varieties Grimm and Ontario Variegated. With a favorable year Alfalfa can be sown alone without a nurse crop and providing there is plenty of moisture throughout the year, a fair yield of hay will be secured. To do this however, the land must be in a high state of cultivation and free from weeds. Otherwise the yield will be low and hay very weedy. However, the farmer that has a choice bit of land that he wishes to try alfalfa on in this way, can use either Grimm or Ontario Variegated Variety and be assured of practically the same results as with Cossack and Alfalfa.

Sweet Clover can also be grown in the same manner but like Alfalfa the success of a hay crop grown without a nurse crop depends upon the general tilth and cleanliness of the soil combined with a season of ideal growing conditions.

There are a number of factors which contribute to the success or failure in seeding down to grass and clover. Chief among these are the quality of the seed, the condition of the soil, and the time and method of seeding.

When securing the seed, it always pays to select the best grade. By so doing the purity and germinating capacity of the seeds can now be taken more or less for granted, thanks to our inspection system and the integrity of the seedmen.

The importance of adequate preparation of the seed bed cannot be too strongly emphasized. Grass and clover seeds are very small and unless a finely pulverized surface is prepared, a considerable proportion of the germinating seed cannot make a satisfactory contact with the soil. The cost of seed can be cut down very materialyl by careful soil preparation, since less seed is required. The best way to insure a good stand of grass and avoid a patchy crop is to seed on firm, well cultivated land. Firm soil and shallow seeding are very necessary. If the soil is loose it should be packed.

The advantage of early seeding should not be overlooked. Results at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa invariably have been better when small seeds have been sown in May, and the earlier in May the better. This permits the small seedlings to become established before the hot weather. What with the late fall last year, which hindered fall ploughing, and the promise of a late spring, the seeding of timothy and clover is likely to be seriously delayed. Every effort should be made, however, to seed down as early as possible so as to insure a good stand. This is the more important because of the depleted stocks of feed.

Mrs. Stevens Gives Address At Warsaw

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, May 5. — A large number attended the W.M.S. of the United Church, on Thursday, May 3. Mrs. Wilkinson presided.

Mrs. Sargent gave an interesting report of the executive gathering on Temperance work on Wednesday. Mrs. Wilkinson spoke on the necessity of every woman using her vote for the Temperance cause, as well as the necessity for prayer.

Mrs. Thomas Cooper, convenor of Group D, took charge. "How sweet the name of Jesus Sounds." was sung, and Mrs. T. Clements led in prayer. Mrs. McIlven sang in her usual feeling manner "Tell Mother I'll be There." Mrs. Stevens of Knox W.M.S., Peterborough Presbyterial associate helpers' secretary, gave a helpful and interesting talk on the work of the associate helpers' secretary.

The quarterly tea was served by Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. McIlvena, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. T. Clements, Mrs. Charlotte Dewart, Miss Annie Dewart and Mrs. Henry Dewart.

Lakefield

Mr. J. M. Twist left last week for Milford Bay, Muskoka, where he will spend the summer.

Rev. Elgie Joblin of Hall's Bridge was in the village on Thursday attending the funeral of Rev. Milton Deek.

Mrs. Martin Holland and Master Phillip were visiting Toronto friends last week.

Mrs. Joe Lemay was in Toronto last week visiting friends.

Miss Ora Dunford of Hall's Bridge was a week-end visitor at her home in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Webster and children were in Toronto last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Logan of Bethany were in the village attending the funeral of Mrs. J. Moore last week.

Miss K. E. Simpson of Toronto was in the village for the week-end.

Miss Margaret Battersby of Westwood was in the village on Friday last.

Mrs. W. C. Dunford and daughters of Toronto were in the village for the week-end with Miss Amy Watson.

Miss Dewart of Hall's Bridge was in the village on Friday.

Mrs. D. Woodhouse of Niagara Falls was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse this week.

Mr. Charles Casement of Madoc is the guest of his uncle, Mr. W. H. Casement.

Mrs. Stanley Daus-Knowles of Penetanguishene is visiting her mother, Mrs. H. J. Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Redpath were visiting friends in Toronto last week.

Mr. Frank Adams and his daughters, Misses Clara and Florence Adams of Peterborough, attended the funeral of Rev. Milton Deck on Thurday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coyle and daughter, Marion, of Cobourg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Coyle last week.

Miss Mabel Robinson of Peterborough was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Blakeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watson were visiting friends in Peterborough last week.

The name of Mr. W. N. Stabler was inadvertently omitted from the list of pall-bearers at the funeral of Mrs. Jefferson Moore and the name of C. W. Garbutt was incorrectly put in.

Mrs. Willis of Whitby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse.

Mr. Williams of Omemee was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bullock.

Mr. Jack Brown and daughter Joyce were in the village from Youngs Point on Monday.

Rev. C. S. Reddick, D.D., of Omemee and formerly minister of the Lakefield Methodist Church was in the village on Thursday attending Rev. Mr. Decks funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hill and family of Buffalo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Hill last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Lemay and daughters of Toronto were guests of the formers parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lemay last week.

Miss Lilian Mason spent the week-end in Peterborough with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Mulkins, Misses Audrey and Frances and Master Donald, left on Sunday for Port Colborne, where they will reside. Mr. Mulkins was recently transferred to the staff of the Canada Cement Company's Port Colborne plant.

Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin of Lakehurst were in the village on Thursday atetnding the funeral of the late Rev. J. Milton Deck.

Mr. Donald Hood of Kaladar was the week-end guest of Mrs. and Miss Osborne.

Mrs. H. A. Shearer and Mrs. Wallace Shearer of Hall's Bridge attended the funeral of Rev. Milton Deck on Thursday last.

Mrs. W. G. Stone of Burleigh is the guest of her granddaughter, Miss Ione Sanderson.

Mrs. Isaac of Whitby was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodhouse on Sunday.

Mrs. A. Moore, who was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Brown, has returned to her home in Belleville.

Mrs. Fred Armstrong of Wesley attended Rev. J. M. Deck's funeral on Thursday.

Lakefield Parish Honors Fr. W. Wingle

LAKEFFIELD, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence). — Rev. W. T. Wingle, who has been assisting Rev. J. J. Garvey for the past six months, left this week for Pembroke. Shortly before his departure, a parish social was held, at which practically every family in the parish of St. Paul's was represented, and Father Wingle was presented with an address and a purse of money as a tribute of regard and appreciation of his work during the winter months. Miss Veronica Johnston read the address and Miss Martha Garvey made the presentation.

The social was held at Mr. and Mrs. M. Allen's home on Queen Street. Father Wingle will be greatly missed in the community, where he made a great many friends, and his popularity was not confined to the members of his own flock but he knew most of the people in the village, and by his friendly spirit established a strong place in the regard of the community. He was a popular member of the curling club and his work with the highway camps was excellent. The parish has welcomed home Father Garvey from his trip south, and hope for a complete return of health.

CUT OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT

Boys and Girls get

FREE BICYCLES ROLLER SKATES SOFT BALLS

WRITE A NEW SLOGAN FOR VIP

VIP VITAMINS IRON TONIC

The delicious, scientific chocolate flavored drink.

Win one of these 100 PRIZES

5 $35 C. C. M. BICYCLES for the 1st 5 BEST SLOGANS

40 PAIRS OF ROLLER SKATES for the next 40 BEST SLOGANS

55 SOFT BALLS (personally autographed by Lionel Conacher, Canada's foremost athlete) for the 55 next BEST SLOGANS

100 PRIZES WORTH . . . $500

It's easy! It's fun! Get busy now and win your bicycle; ride it on The King's birthday!—June 3rd.

READ THESE SIMPLE RULES CAREFULLY

1. The VIP advertising slogan now used is "Keeps You Vibrantly Healthy". THINK UP A BETTER ONE, consisting of 7 WORDS OR LESS. Get a tin of VIP. Just inside the cover is a little book. It tells you all about VIP. Try VIP. Taste how delicious it is. Tear off the FRONT Cover of the little book. Pin this to a sheet of paper. On the paper PRINT your NEW VIP advertising SLOGAN; also YOUR NAME and ADDRESS (Note:—you may send in as many slogans as you wish, but EACH SLOGAN must be accompanied by the FRONT cover of a VIP book, or a facsimile of same.)

2. Contest open to children 17 years of age and under. By entering contest you agree to accept judges' decision as final. All slogans submitted automatically become property of makers of VIP.

3. Send your slogans (and FRONT covers of book) not later than midnight, May 30th to VIP, 92 Jarvis St., Toronto. Winners will be notified by mail. Prizes will be awarded on or before June 2nd. YOU WON'T HAVE TO WAIT LONG.

V-12

MOTHERS . . . DADS! Get the children a tin of VIP from your druggist or grocer. Help the youngsters. The specially processed wheat germ in VIP puts weight on children. VIP'S Iron is good for the blood. Scientific Food Products, Ltd., 92 Jarvis St., Toronto.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1934

CONGER

COAL

SUMMER PRICES
in effect NOW

EGG.....14.00 STOVE. 14.25
NUT.....14.00 PEA 12.00

'Phone 48
266 Charlotte St.
T. O. DONALDSON
Local Manager.

H. T. HICKEY
Phone 2024
ALTERATIONS AND BUILDING
Of All Descriptions.
Homes Built to Order.
Houses Converted Into Duplexes.

CRICHTON
EYESIGHT SPECIALISTS
170 Charlotte St. 'Phone 3478J

LOCALS

DR. T. W. H. YOUNG

Doctor of Medicine and Master of Surgery (Toronto University), Graduate of Edinburgh, Glasgow, and London. Special attention given to Skin and Blood Diseases. Office, 305 Stewart Street. Hours: 2 to 5 and 6 to 8. Phone 347.
4d,28,2,5,9,1540

"PRINCESS BUL-BUL"

in George Street Sunday School Hall, for the last time by Knox Choir, Monday, May 7th, at 8.15 p.m.; auspices of Co-Workers Bible Class. Admission 25c and 15c.
2d,3,5,5142

EXPERT EYESIGHT SERVICE

which cares for your eyes in a thoroughly modern scientific manner, at reasonable prices. Edith Warren Kee, Optometrist Permanent office at Harris Drug Store, 172 Charlotte. Phone 527.
w,s-3245-tf

PLUMBING, HEATING, TINSMITHING

Have W R. Turner, 198 Simcoe Street, Phone 591
REPAIR EAVETROUGHING
Agents for Hecla Furnaces.
t.t.s-tf

"MOTHER'S MOMENT"

presented by Dramatic Club in Mark Street Sunday School Auditorium, on Friday, May 11, at 8.15 p.m.; auspices of Young People's Society. Adults, 25c; children, 3 for 25c.
1d,107,5167

A Correction.

In an advertisement in last night's Examiner for used cars at Lillico Motors, the price quoted for a 1932 Dodge Sedan was $300. This should have been $800. We regret this error.

ANTHRACITE COAL

Spring prices.—Egg, Stove, Nut down $1.00 per ton; Pea, 75c. Fill your bins now before prices advance. Phone 96. McCarthy and Johnston. W,S,2103

LADIES' AUXILIARY

To Canadian Legion meet Monday, May 7th at 8 p.m. Country store night.
1d-107-5174.

AT MOORE'S BEAUTY PARLORS

New Spring prices on permanents: Reg. $7.50 wave oil $5 (with Marro-oil shampoo included); reg. $5 wave oil, $3.75; reg. $3.75 Moore Wave, $2.50; reg. $7.50 Naturelle Croquignole, $5 (with Marro oil shampoo included; reg. $5 Moore Wave Croquignole, $3.75. — 296 Charlotte St. 'Phone 3095.
6d-107-5084.

TWO TEN-YEAR-OLDS

—And on this, the tenth anniversary of their business Birthday Year, Harris and Boddy, "The Sign People," show expansion by opening up a "Superior House Decorating Department." In this work they are applying that same artistic taste and sense of color harmony which characterizes their sign work. 382 Aylmer street. Phone 881.
2d,2,5,5106

BE A TROUT.

Evidently trout do not bite at anything. They say 'what have you to offer?' Put in famous Reading Hard Coal, and while it may not be palatable, it is satisfying in the extreme. Sanitary Ice costs no more. 'Phone 3700.
dtf.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED 75c

All movers overhauled, ground, and set by hand, the only way manufacturers recommend. Every mower guaranteed in perfect cutting order or money refunded. 20 years' experience. Mowers called for and delivered 25c. Charlton's General Repair and Welding Shop, Wolfe street, opp. Knox Church. Phone 2208J.
2d.47,1756

GRENFELL LABRADOR MEDICAL MISSION.

The following subscriptions are acknowledged with many thanks by the treasurer of the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission:

A Friend	$5.00
Mrs. F. M. Somerville ..	2.50
Another Friend	1.00
Mrs. F. C. Anderson	1.00

24-HOUR SERVICE
We Specialize in Re-Building Automobiles that have been Wrecked. Body and Fender Repairs Welding etc. Also Re-Painting and Re-Ducoing. All Jobs Guaranteed
J. J. DUFFUS COMPANY
PETERBOROUGH
Tues Sat -t

DUFFUS FUNERAL SERVICE
Open All Night.
'PHONES - 1703. 1760. 1173W
Sat.-tf

LET US
RE-FINANCE
Your Car Payments
1930 Models and Later
AUTO LOANS, PRIVATE SALES FINANCED.—SEE
G. W. LUNDY
95 Hunter St. W. Phone 213
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE CO., LTD., TORONTO
1d-3

Repair Department
Our repair department is well equipped to handle all repairs, and to give you real service.
"Your Watch" cleaned and put in good order.
"Your Diamond Ring", new claws and reset.
"Jewelery" repaired and refinished.
"Silverware" repaired and replated.
"Clocks" cleaned and repaired.
Let us have your repairs now.
Good work guaranteed at moderate prices.
Warne's
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

NOTICE.

The men of the Sacred Heart Parish will receive Holy Communion in a body at the 8 o'clock Mass, Sunday May 6th.

KING GEORGE HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The regular meeting will be held Tuesday, May 8th. Miss Tomkins, guest speaker.
1d-107-5175.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

re sharpening lawn mowers: It is a well known fact that it is next to impossible to sharpen a lawn mower accurately with a file, as a great many mowers made to-day have hardened steel blades. Some resort to emery-dust, turning the wheel backwards. The objection to this is that the clearance behind the cutting edge is reduced, which makes more surface in contact with the straight cutting bar than before. After the edges become the least bit dull, the lawn mower has to be adjusted very close, so that it tears the grass, and spoils the lawn, instead of shearing it, and making the mower run harder than ever. The more it is sharpened by emery dust the worse it becomes. We have new and up-to-date machinery for properly grinding the blades and cutting bar, and are experts at this work. Value considered, our prices are by far the lowest and when you have your mower ground here, you have a mower that will not harm the tender blades of grass, nor break your back pushing it. To save you trouble, we call and deliver free. Just 'phone 109J.—Wm. Taylor, 221 Hunter street W.
1d,107,5184

LACKAWANNA ANTHRACITE
SOME-CLEANER ANTHRACITE GUARANTEED
Prices Reduced
FOR PROMPT DELIVERY
Now is the time to buy and save money. Prices for the month of May only.
Egg & Nut $14.00
Stove .. 14.25
Pea 12.00
W. J. NELSON
253 SIMCOE ST.
'Phone 2906.
2d-107

After B.A. at 72

HAMILTON, Ont., May 5. — (CP)—Seventy-two years of age and retired, Henry Edwards, Dundas, never expects to make use of the additional education he is acquiring, but in a back room of the Board of Education offices here he is writing his British and Canadian history examination in the hope of obtaining a degree that will entitle him to write 'B.A.' after his name.

Mr. Edwards is studying under the eyes of the local examiner for the University of Toronto and has successfully written on a number of degree subjects. It will take at least another year for him to complete the course. "Like Plato, I find pleasure in thought," he replied when asked why he was studying.

School Collapses Six Meet Death

STUTTGART, Germany, May 5. —(C.P.-Havas).—Five students and their teacher were killed to-day when the central part of a country school building at Winterbach, near here, collapsed. An as yet undetermined number of students were injured.

Harrowing scenes of frantic mothers and fleeing, crying children were enacted after the deafening crash had been heard throughout the village.

Firemen and doctors and nurses rushed to the scene and worked amid the ruins. They found the body of the teacher in a position suggesting that he was heroically trying to protect two students who had rushed to his side when the crash came.

WHEEL KILLS CHILD

ATHENS, Tenn., May 5 (AP)—An automobile, rounding a curve, threw a wheel which rolled across the sidewalk, striking five-year-old Cleo Batton, walking with her mother yesterday.

She was killed. The car driver was held.

DIED

MURPHY.—Suddenly, at his home in Bethany, on Friday, Mr. Samuel Murphy, in his 77th year.

Funeral on Sunday at 2 p.m. in United church with interment in St. John's cemetery.

LONSBERRY.—On Thursday, May 3, 1934, Frank Lonsberry of Warsaw in his 76th year.

The funeral will be held from Warsaw United Church on Sunday, May 6, 1934, at 2.30 p.m. Interment in Warsaw Cemetery.

THOMPSON.—On May 4, 1934, David Thompson, aged 78 years.

Funeral on Monday, May 7, 1934, at 2 p.m., from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lillico, 748 Water street, with the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

HANNAH.—Entered into rest at Oshawa General Hospital on Friday, May 4, 1934, J. Ernest C. Hannah, the beloved husband of Pearl M. Fitzgerald, in his 53rd year.

Funeral from the family residence, 320 Gliddon avenue, Oshawa, on Monday, May 7, 1934. Service at 1.30 p.m. (D.S.T.) Interment at Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough, at 4 pm. (Standard Time).

a new DEAL for the FARMER

FOR a quarter of century The Renfrew Machinery Company has recognized the consideration due the farmer in his dealings with the manufacturer. Now a new sales policy makes it possible to give this recognition tangible form in a substantial reduction in prices. This new policy saves us money and we pass this saving on to you. It enables you to buy a $125 Separator of guaranteed Renfrew quality for $79, and deal direct with Renfrew's own representative in your district. He'll tell you about the "New Deal."

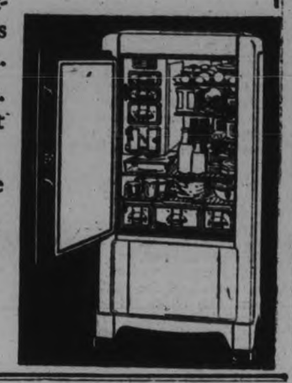
District Representative
R. C. HEARD
891 Water St.
Peterborough, Ont.
TELEPHONE 573-J

Before You Buy
SEE THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY
KELVINATOR

An electric refrigerator is a lifetime investment. It pays to buy the best—which is always the least expensive in the long run.

By all means, see the new Kelvinators. They are the finest Kelvinator has built in 20 years in the industry.

There are 13 models—a size and type for every home, every budget.



LOCAL DEALERS
GRANT & LOUCKS
CO., LTD.
418 George St. Phone 796.
EASY TERMS

Obituary

MISS ANNIE M. LANCASTER

The remains of Miss Annie M. Lancaster, superintendent of Anson House, who passed away suddenly at Enid, Oklahoma yesterday morning, will arrive in this city on Monday night and will rest at Comstork's Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be held in this city on Tuesday, according to Mrs. Robert Neill, president of Anson House Board, after which the remains will be forwarded to Petrolia for interment.

E. L. Kittredge of Enid, a nephew of the late Miss Lancaster will accompany the remains to this city. While all details in connection with the funeral services have not yet been completed, further announcement will be made in Monday's Examiner.

DAVID THOMPSON.

David Thompson, well known and respected resident of this city and district in which he had spent his lifetime, was found dead in bed at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. A. J. Warne at 327 Downie street, late yesterday afternoon. Passing away from a heart attack, the late Mr. Thompson was 78 years of age.

He was born in Douro township and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson Thompson. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. A. J. Warne of Downie street, and Mrs. J. E. Lillico, of 748 Water street, also by one brother, George Thompson.

The funeral is to be held on Monday at 2 p.m. from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lillico, 748 Water street, with services conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, pastor of St Paul's Presbyterian church. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

All Saints' Choir To Render Cantata

A musical treat is in store for those who attend the evening service to-morrow at All Saints' Church when the choir will sing the famous work of Sir John Stainer, The Daughter of Jairus. This work was first presented at the closing service of the Triennial Musical Festival, 1878, in Worcester Cathedral and is replete with fine choruses, solos and a duett. This is to be the last special musical service of the season by the choir.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

SPECIAL SPEAKER AT TEMPLE.

Three American envoys of the Salvation Army, in the persons of Adjutant Ryan of Milwaukee, Adj. Rostett of Minneapolis, and Adj. Leader of Detroit, will lead the services in the Salvation Army Temple here on Sunday. They will be assisted in the services by Majors Riches and Woolcott. Services are at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., with Sunday school at 2.15 p.m.

MATTRESS WANTED

If a mattress (double bed size) is available anywhere, it could be used to advantage in a home where the bread-winner is on part time. Please telephone Miss McCarthy at The Examiner and it will be called for.

IN MEMORIAM.

MURPHY.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah Murphy, who died May 5th, 1922:

A cluster of loving memories,
The fondest the heart can frame,
We weave them into a garland
And tuck them around her name.
Ever Remembered By the Children.

FATAL DOSE KILLS 3

SAPULPA, Okla, May 5 (A.P.)—Doses of what Chester Barrett thought was quinine proved to be poison and killed three members of his family. Six others, including himself, are seriously ill.

Barrett, unemployed, last night gave seven of his eight children, his wife and himself doses from an old receptable that at one time had contained the medicine.

Three of the children recovered recently from measles and Barrett sought to ward off fever by giving what he supposed was the quinine.

Countess Haig will lead a pilgrimage of 500 veterans and women from Scotland to battlefields of France and Belgium this year.

Dance Tonight
LEGION HALL, DANCING FROM 8.30 TO 12.00
OLD TYME AND MODERN
A real place for a Real Time.
GEORGE FURPHY AND HIS BAND.
Admission 25 Cents.

MOOSE HALL, Near POST OFFICE
DANCE TO-NIGHT
MOOSE HALL, Near POST OFFICE
SATURDAY - MAY 5TH - 7.30 P.M.
ADMISSION - 35 CENTS PER COUPLE; 25 CENTS SINGLE DOOR AND SPOT PRIZES
ORCHESTRA: "J. BLACK'S MELODY MAKERS"
The Boys who have always a Large Crowd, owing to the High Tone and Quality of Music they render.
RIGHTS OF ADMITTANCE RESERVED.

DANCE TONIGHT
MAYFAIR
ALWAYS A GOOD TIME AT THE MAYFAIR.
JOHNNY THOMAS AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Admission 10c Ladies Free
DANCE 5c

FREE During Floglaze Demonstration at HIGGINS HARDWARE
137 HUNTER STREET WEST
Monday — Tuesday — Wednesday
ONE ENAMELLED END TABLE
ONE ENAMELLED CHAIR
No obligation to buy. Adults, fill in your name and address and bring to this store on the above days.
Name .....
Address .....

Keep Fresh and Fit
A Shower—A Plunge—Every Day in Cool, Clear, Filtered Water at the
Y. M. C. A.
SUMMER RATES TO OCTOBER 1ST
YOUNG MEN AND SENIORS, $3.00
Boys, 10-16, $1.00-$1.50
For Boys' Swimming Periods call 246.

10 Days' Removal Sale! Prices Slashed!
By May 15th, Roy Rome's Music Store (now located at 292 Charlotte Street West) will be at 291 George Street, 2 doors south of the Grand Hotel. To those who desire to save on Instruments, Strings, Sheet Music, etc., we sincerely advise they take advantage of our Removal Sale, as everything will be offered at cost price.
Here are listed just a few of the bargains:

	Reg. Price	Sale Price
Guitars-Hawaiian	$12.00	$7.00
Guitars-Hawaiian	$12.00	$7.50
Harmonicas—Marine Band, etc. ..	75c and up	50c to $1.50
Strings, Jews Harps, etc.	15c and up	Half of Reg. Price
Fiction Books—Mystery, Western, Romantic, to go at 25c to 75c.

One hundred and fifty to choose from.
ROY ROME
291 CHARLOTTE ST.
2d-107-5163

ROUTLEY'S
341 George St.
SPECIALS FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK
2000 ROLLS SUNWORTHY PAPER
For Any Room in the House
Regular up to 65c Per Roll 19c

Money cannot buy a better Paint.
$2.85 Gal. $1.60 ½ Gal. 85c Qt.
ACME PAINT AND UNIVERSAL VARNISH—Gallon $1.49
Special! FLOOR WAX..... 5 lbs. for $1.00

Blue Coal Prices Reduced
For Prompt Delivery
Buy when the getting is good—Later Prices not Guaranteed.
Egg and Nut .$14.00
Stove 14.25
Pea 12.00
J. E. A. Fitzgerald Estate
PHONES 110 AND 111.
Coal, Coke and Wood Dealer.
11d,115

USED CARS
1932 Dodge Sedan—Privately owned. Small mileage. Equipped with heater. Complete $800
Durant Sedan—Reconditioned Good tires. A snap at $300
1929 Pontiac Business Coupe—Completely overhauled. Finish and upholsterly like new $300
1933 Chevrolet Master Six De-Luxe Coach—Like new. A real buy.
LILLICO MOTORS
383-385 WATER ST.
"Service That Satisfies"

AID PROMISED TO PENSIONERS OVER MARRIAGES

Those Who Acted in Good Faith Will be Protected Says McLaren.

MARKET BILL STALLS.

Moore, Ontario Liberal, Points to Similar Acts Failure Abroad.

OTTAWA, May 5.—(C.P.)—Assurance of a satisfatcory solution of the problem of doubtful marriages among war pensioners has been given by Hon. Murray MacLaren, Minister of Pensions and National Health. In many cases where pensioners were in receipt of allowances for dependent wives and were unable to establish the legality of their marriages the Board of Pensions Commissioners cancelled the allowances.

Early in the present session Prime Minister R. B. Bennett stepped into the picture and had the allowances restored when complaints were made and the contention advanced the onus of proving the marriage invalid was on the board and not on the pensioner.

The legal aspects of the individual cases are now being reviewed by the Department of Justice. Col. MacLaren, when his estimates were before the House of Commons last night, said if neecssary legislation would be passed to protect the position of the pensioner who had acted in good faith and was unable to produce legal proof of his marriage.

Market Bill

The house made a brief attempt to advance the marketing bill through committee of the whole yesterday but soon turned to other matters. Before it did so, W. H. Moore, (Lib., Ontario) called attention to what he termed the failure of marketing bills in other countries, particularly Roumania and Holland. He described the measure as Socialistic and pleaded with the government to abandon its more radical features.

A move to have the house railway committee review the accounts of the Canadian Pacific Railway was checked when the speaker, later sustained by a vote, ruled out of order an amendment to the motion to set up the railway committee proposed by Wilfred Hambury (Lib., Vancouver-Burrard). He argued that since the Federal Government insisted on checking the expenditures of the British Columbia Government if a loan were to be made it should follow the same practice with the Canadian Pacific for which the government guardanteed bank loans of $60,000,000.

Caleys Disperse For Summer Months

The May business meeting of the Caledonian Club which was held last evening in the Woodmen of the World Hall closed the club for the season.

A. D. Clark, president, conducted the business. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were submitted, and the regular routine business discussed. The Club will suspend all its activities during May, June, July and August, but will be reopened at a business meeting on the first Friday in September.

In the fall of this year the Club will celebrate its twenty-first anniversary, and although no plans have been definitely drawn up, it was decided to hold a celebration in observation of this important event. The form of this will be decided upon later on by the members. A membership campaign is also on.

After the business a service of ice cream and cake was dispensed and community singing engaged in.

Fashion Service

Today's dress in windblown silhouette is blue and white plaided silk crepe in combination with plain white. Various points about this model make it very slimming and suited to many figures.

It is equally smart carried out in one material. For summer, washing silks, cotton and handkerchief linen prints, etc., are popular mediums.

Pattern No. 3450 cuts in sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 2½ yards of 39-inch material with 1½ yards of 39-inch contrasting.

Order Fashion Department. Price of pattern 15 cents. Spring Pattern Book 10 cents. Send stamps or coin (coin is preferred).

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment. Allow five days for return.

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY

Japan, eastern world-power, has had more than her share of publicity during the past few years, and it is rather surprising that we have no had more commemorative issues of one type and another during this time. Be that as it may, one must go back to the days following the war to locate some of the most interesting pictorial issues.

The "peace issue" of 1919 ranks among the most beautiful of all Japanese postal issues. The two designs of this are illustrated; the larger size, depicting the dove and olive branch; the smaller portrays the dove in the central portion, while the olive branches have been included in the design of the border. There are just the four stamps in this set, two of each design; none of which is by any means high in price, and they are worthwhile additions to any collection.

The coronation issue of 1916, provides some interesting subjects. Two designs appear on the left. At top, is shown the "Cap used in the Ceremony," lower left; "The Imperial Throne." A third design in the issue portrays the "Place of Coronation." This is another short set, composed of only four values, of the three designs mentioned.

At top right, we illustrate a stamp issued in 1916, it represents a "Mandarin Duck," and we must admit that it would take an eastern mind to see the duck.

For the most part the stamps of Japan fully represent the quaintness of the oriental mind. The designs in many cases are so intricate, that even the experienced collector has to look at least twice to decide which is the top or bottom of the stamp. Were it not for the denominations shown in the regular numeral type, the average collector would be hard put to decide in many cases, especially those of the ordinary issues. The commemoratives have usually a more distinctive or occidental design which cannot be mistaken.

Japanese stamps, as a whole, cannot be called popular; usually the boy or girl starting out, greatly treasures a few Japanese stamps; but as they become more advanced the interest in these seems to drop off. In one sense this is rather surprising as a most comprehensive collection of most all issues may be built up at small cost, as compared to many other countries. Ignoring the first few issues; those from 1871 to 1875, there is only one stamp that catalogues as high as $10, the next two highest being $4 each, and other than half a dozen more, the balance are all well below the $1 limit. These prices refer to used copies, only. There are quite a large number at from two to five or ten cents each; thus putting a nice collection within the reach of most anyone.

There are, of course, some drawbacks; in the first place, although not high in price, some varieties are very hard to secure in good used condition. On the regular issues of 1899-1900, and that of 1913, there are a very large number of perforation varieties and innumerable small minor varieties, which if starts to specialize in will give something to hunt for. Watermark varieties are few, and quite easy to discern, eliminating one annoying difficulty.

Preceding remarks, include all air post stamps, but not the Japanese offices abroad. This latter group is composed of two parts; offices in China, and offices in Korea. There are one or two higher catalogue value stamps among these; and the balance are for the most part between the 15 cents to about 75 cents class. The issues consist of different Japanese stamps with small overprints in oriental characters, and not being too numerous, should not be overlooked by any means.

We do not know of any speculative circumstances regarding any stamps of Japan; and although not being among some of the most popular, we believe them worth the attention of the average collector, who is not blessed with too many dollars to spend, and is not in too great a rush to complete his collection.

EXCHANGE CLUB

Name .....
Street .....
City .....
Province .....
Age .....
Signature of Parent or Guardian
.....
Size of Collection.....

At the Theatres

AT THE CAPITOL.

GEORGE RAFT IN "THE TRUMPET BLOWS"

There is plenty of entertainment in this week-end bill. George Raft stars in one of his characteristic successes with a title that doesn't really mean anything at all; Laurel and Hardy get plenty of laughs in the comedy, "Oliver the 8th," there are some snappy song hits by J. Roy Turk, and another chapter in the serial, with Rin-Tin-Tin, Junior, in "Wolf Dog."

The Raft picture, which the sleek little dark man invests with that attraction so peculiar to this skinny actor, is mainly about a bullfight but it has several interesting angles. Adolphe Menjou, elder brother of Manuelito Montes (George Raft), is a bandit in disguise and the 'dare' which takes him to the bull ring to watch his brother fight a 'real' bull, almost results in his capture. Here is the place in which an idea occurs to Pepe (Sidney Toler), and the day is saved for Senor Montes, his brother, and Frances Drake, who is the luscious sweetheart (Chulita) of Manuel. She dances the rumba in a 'snake hip' fashion calculated to enchant the men and annoy the ladies, and Pancho prepares to marry her, ignorant of the fact that Manuel also craves for the lady's affections.

The bull-fight in the arena provides plenty of excitement in a picture that opens with a crucifix in a cemetery as the central motif, with the friends of the departed singing their virtues. This matter of the cemetery illustrates the cleverness of Pancho, the bandit.

"Oliver the 8th" illustrates the troubles that await the pair of tonsorial artists, Mr. Hardy and Mr. Laurel, when they commence to dabble in matrimonial correspondence. To see the large Mr. Hardy and the thin Mr. Laurel enjoy a goofy meal with a goofy lady and very goofy butler ('Jitters') is a scream worthy of their efforts in the past.

Many of the song hits of the day are heard in the "Song Hits" short reel, with a lady with beautiful teeth singing several of the composition of Mr. Turk, and another lady with revealing silhouette dancing some more of them. A hotcha duo dance accompanies "From One 'Til Two." Other numbers are "You're Mean to Me," "My Sweetie Went Away," and "Are You Lonesome To-night?"

—Jeanette.

DON'T PAY HIGH PRICES FOR FURNITURE

We can furnish your home from cellar to garret with the best Canadian merchandise and

Our Prices Are Lowest
Our Terms Are Easiest
-For-

EVERYTHING THAT IS NEW IN FURNITURE including medium and high grade Chesterfield Suites, Bedroom Suites, Dining-room Suites, Breakfast Sets, Kitchen Outfits, Carpets, Rugs, Beds, Bedding Stoves, Baby Carriages, and Washing Machines.

HOME FURNISHING COMPANY

HARRY FLORENCE, Mgr.

204-206 CHARLOTTE

'Phone 1428.

26 Years in the Furniture Business in Peterboro.

t-t-s-tf.

Quick Relief Now From Neuralgia

Real ASPIRIN Starts Taking Hold in Few Minutes

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia . . . the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN'S quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

WHY ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches bottom, it has started to disintegrate.

What it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence its fast action.

MADE IN CANADA

Does Not Harm the Heart

A man is rated by the words he uses. The possession of an ample and correct vocabulary often means the difference between success and failure. For a mere trifle you can have the latest and most authoritative list of words, the

NEW WORLD Dictionary

BASED ON THE ORIGINAL WEBSTER ENTIRELY NEW

The Evening Examiner Advises Every Young Man and Every Young Woman

to get this new up-to-date dictionary. It contains not only the usual words in every-day use but thousands of new words, many never before published in a dictionary. It is not the ordinary volume, it is larger, more words to the page, more pages, more words correctly defined than in any comparable book. It is handsomely bound in dark green textile leather with gold stamping. Tell your friends about it.

The supply of Dictionaries is being rapidly exhausted

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED

To get it bound in art cover maroon and old gold with full gold edges and thumb indexed, send $1.00 extra. An ideal gift in fine box.

Clip 3 Coupons on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98 cents

MAIL ORDERS will be filled when postage is added.

Find Coupon Page 4

Rush Point

RUSH POINT, Belmont, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence)—Miss Jean Pollock arranged an interesting program for Thursday evening's meeting at the Rush Point Church. The Rev. Mr. Kemp conducted the devotional exercises. The scripture lesson was read by Miss Jeanne Blakely. The topic was ably handled by Mr. Carl Barton on "What We Believe and the Influence our Belief has on our Actions and on our Lives in General."

Comic readings were given by Miss Mae Seeney and by Miss Corinne McArthur. Betty and Leland Petherick sang "I'm Leaving on the New River Train." Mr. Carl Barton delighted the audience with two violin solos "Henry Ford Waltz" and "Good Night Little Girl of my Dreams" with Spanish guitar accompaniment played by Lloyd Petherick.

A cordial invitation was extended to the Rush Point residents to attend any or all of the services and programs celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Havelock United Church held in Havelock all this week, and printed programs were distributed at this league meeting.

Miss Rena Toms conducted the contest for the evening and kept the sides guessing plenty for some time. Results of contest, Blues 15, Whites 15, Khaki 15, Red 5.

Mr. Carl Barton spent Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mensies.

Mr. Norman Blakely of Rush Point was called back to his work on the railroad at Trenton.

Mrs. Harry Petherick spent Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Arnold Keating.

Mr. Murnie Barton returned to work at Oak Lake after spending Sunday at his home here.

Mr. Keith Saunders was at Rush Point on Sunday.

Monday, April 40th was the first real spring day here, and the farmers turned out gladly to the work in the fields. The cold backward weather has prevented cultivation and seeding and farmers are somewhat worried over prospects for the coming harvest. Many herds of young cattle and flocks of sheep are already out on the ranches for their summer pasturage though the fresh grass is growing slowly thus far.

Mr. Carl Barton spent Monday on a business trip to Peterborough.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Chili Con Carne Mashed Potatoes
Molded Vegetable Salad
Angel Sponge Cake
Coffee or Tea

This is a tasty and inexpensive menu.

Chili.—Two pounds hamburger, one large can kidney beans, one can tomato puree, one onion, chopped fine; salt and pepper to taste, small amount red or chili pepper. Drop ingredients into three pints boiling water and let simmer one hour. Serves six.

Angel Sponge Cake.—Four egg whites, one-fourth teaspoon cream of tartar, four egg yolks, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one cup sugar, three-fifths cup water, one cup sifted flour, one teaspoon flavoring, vanilla or almond. Whip the whites until they form points, add cream of tartar. Whip the yolks until lemon colored Boil the sugar and water until it reaches the soft ball stage as for boiled frosting. Add slowly to the beaten whites, then add the yolks, fold in the flour and baking powder and flavoring. Bake in slow oven 350 degrees for one and one-fourth hours.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Hartford Sauce

One cup mayonnaise, three-fourths teaspoon or more curry powder, one-fourth cup chili sauce. Stir the chili sauce into the mayonnaise and sprinkle the curry powder as generously as your taste allows. More rather than less curry is desirable.

Vanilla Ice Cream

Two teaspoons gelatin, one-fourth cup cold milk, one and three-fourths cups scalded milk, one cup sugar, dash salt, two cups thin cream, one tablespoon vanilla. Soak gelatin in cold milk with sugar and salt. Stir until sugar and gelatin are dissolved. Cool. Add vanilla. Turn into freezing unit and freeze ot a mush, stirring frequently. Remove from refrigerator, fold in cream which has been whipped and continue freezing.

CITY TREASURER'S SALE OF LANDS FOR ARREARS OF TAXES CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH

TO WIT:

BY VIRTUE OF A WARRANT issued under the hand of the Mayor and the Seal of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough, bearing date the 19th day of September, 1933, and to me directed, commanding me to levy upon the several parcels of land, hereinafter described, for arrears of taxes due thereon, together with all lawful costs and charges in connection therewith, I hereby give notice, that unless the said arrears of taxes and costs be sooner paid, I shall, pursuant to the Provisions of The Assessment Act, at the City Council Chamber, in the City of Peterborough, on the 26th day of June, 1934, at the hour of Ten o'clock in the forenoon, proceed to sell, by public auction, the said lands or so much thereof as may be necessary to discharge such arrears of taxes and all lawful costs and charges in connection with such sale.

No.	Description and	Location	Years in Arrears	Taxes	Costs	Total
	SOUTH WARD
1.	W. 27'-2" of E. 54'-4" of Lot 6, less the C.P.R. line—Plan 43	S.S. Chamberlain St.	1929, 1931	$ 26.53	$ 9.94	$ 39.26
2	Lot 33—Plan 96	W.S. Lynch St.	1927-8-30-31	18.31	9.69	28.00
3	That part of Lot 6—E. of C.N.R.—N. of Lake and W. of George Sts.	210 Lake St.	1926 to 1931	264.66	15.85	280.51
	CENTRE WARD
4.	E. 70' of W. 105' of N. 84' of Lot 7—S. of King and W. of George Sts.	220 King St.	1927 to 1931	241.44	15.26	256.70
5.	W. 74' of Lot 3 and E. 6'-4" of Lot 4—N. of King St. and W. of George St.	N.S. King St.	1929-30	30.86	10.23	50.09
6.	N. 53' of S. 128'-9" of that part of Lot 6 immediately W. of and adjoining Louis St.—N. of King and W. of George Sts.	287 Louis St.	1927 to 1931	291.20	16.51	307.77
7.	N. 62'-5" of that part of Lot 6—N. of King and W. of George St., immediately W. of and adjoining Louis St., the N. boundary of Lot 6 always considered as 257'-5" N. of King St.	297, 299 & 301 Louis St.	1927 to 1931	1,564.57	48.34	1,612.91
8.	E. 31'-4" of W. 64'-6" of N. 60' of Lot 6—S. of Charlotte and W. of George Sts.	215, 217, 217½ Charlotte	1927 to 1931	1,239.58	40.22	1,279.80
	WEST WARD
9	S. 30' of Lot 8—Plan 33	E.S. Cross St.	1927 to 1931	59.41	10.72	70.13
10.	S. 23' of N. 165' of W. 60' of Lot 23—S. of McDonnell and W. of George Sts.	E.S. Park St	1929 to 1931	74.27	11.09	85.36
11.	Lot 3—Plan 92	N.S. Sherbrooke St.	1929-30	50.88	10.50	61.38
12.	S. 23' of N. 145' of E. ½ of Lot 22—S. of McDonnell and W. of George Sts.	W.S. Gilchrist	1928 to 1931	12.07	9.53	21.60
	NORTH WARD
13.	S. 52' 6" of Lot 9—S. of London and W. of George Sts.	E.S. Bethune St.	1927 to 1931	500.53	21.73	522.26
14.	N. 25' of Lot 16—Plan 127	W.S. Bethune St.	1929, 1931	26.14	9.86	36.00
	EAST WARD
15.	W. 70' of Lot 9—Plan 1A—S. of Douro and E. of Rogers Sts.	S.S. Douro St	1929 to 1931	93.70	11.57	105.27
16.	N. 14'-10" of Lot 208 and S. 14'-2" of Lot 209—Plan 1A—N. of Hunter St. E. and W. of Rogers St.	W.S. Rogers St.	1928 to 1930	54.33	10.59	64.92
17.	Lot 36—Plan 19A	S.S. Woodbine Ave.	1929, 1931	41.41	10.26	51.67
18.	N. 82'-5" of Lot 36 and N. 82'-5" of Lot 37—Plan 22A	S.S. Caddy St.	1929 to 1931	28.50	9.94	38.44
19.	Lot 34—Plan 19A	S.S. Woodbine Ave.	1929 to 1931	30.50	10.00	40.50
	All the above lots are Patented.			$4,659.83	$291.85	$4,951.68

City Treasurer's Office, March 17th, 1934.

W. ADAMS, City Treasurer.
131-Sat. June 16-4498

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mackenzie of Monaghan ownship have removed to 571 Weller street, where they will reside in future.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Mackay of Park street entertained the members of the George street and Simcoe street branches of the Bank of Montreal, at their home on Thursday evening, when a dinner, bridge and dance was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. D. Jones. Mr. Jones, who has been accountant at the Simcoe street branch here has been transferred as accountant of the branch of the bank in Belleville and leaves next week. He was presented with a handsome gift by the staff members, as a memento of their friendship and esteem.

* * *

An event of interest locally took place recently in California when a group of friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Southworth at their orange grove at Greenspot, Mentone, California, to celebrate Mr. Southworth's birthday anniversary. A pleasant evening was spent in games and social intercourse. A unique feature of the gathering was the fact that every guest was a former Canadian, at present living or visiting in California. The host and hostess are quite well known in Peterborough and vicinity, the Southworth family having founded and operated up until a few years ago, the Trent Valley Creameries at Campbellford and Keene, also the creameries at Havelock and Norwood. The following is a list of those present with their former homes in Ontario: Mr. and Mrs. Matt Skuce, Mrs. Ida Hubbard, Mrs. Emma Lacheur, Miss Marie Turcotte, Mr. Bill McCarthy, and Mr. George McCartney (who was for many years identified with the R. Fair Company here) all of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Grant and Miss Maude Southworth, of Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin and daughter Catherine, of Campbellford and Beaverton; Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Southworth and Mr. Hugh Southworth, of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Gibson and Mrs. Anna Montgomery, of Picton, also the Rev. J. L. Cameron, of St. Catharines, Ontario.

* * *

Mr. H. B. Rye has a birthday anniversary to-day.

* * *

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Crowley has returned to Sault Ste. Marie after attending the funeral here of his sister, the late Miss Mary A. Crowley.

* * *

Friends of Mrs. G. F. Liddle of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, will be interested in the success of her choir of forty-five ladies' voices, the Beaches Ladies' Madrigal Choir of Toronto, which is to give a Mother's Day program at the Royal York Hotel on Sunday next under the auspices of the William Lyon Mackenzie Chapter of the I.O.D.E. The entire proceeds of a silver collection will be applied to relief work in the city. The choir will also sing at the reception to be tendered Mary Pickford during her visit to Toronto next week.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting of the Gleaners' Class of Mark Street United Church, held last evening at the home of Mrs. E. Borland, a social hour was spent in contests and games, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. Prizes for contests were won by Mrs. Hanwell, Mrs. T. I. Hill, Mrs. B. Morrison and Miss Mabel Reynolds. During the business period, an interesting talk was given by Mrs. F. W. K. Harris.

The friends of Mr. W. Nugent of 774 Water street will be pleased to know that he is progressing favorably after his operation for appendicities in Nicholls Hospital.

* * *

Mr. R. Gliddon has a birthday anniversary to-day.

* * *

Mr. H. P. Kennedy of Toronto, president of the Edmonton Stock Yards, was in the city yesterday renewing old acquaintances.

The many friends of Mrs. L. LeBarr of the Charlotte Street News store, will be very glad to know that she has recovered sufficiently from her recent illness to resume her business duties.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Leo F. LaPalm and little son, Leo Frederick, of Rochester, N.Y., are visiting Mrs. LaPalm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Lane, Hunter street west.

* * *

Dr. J. M. McCulloch of Charlotte street has a birthday tomorrow.

* * *

Mrs. J. Hopcroft entertained at her home at a miscellaneous shower held in honor of Miss Agnes Hanrahan, whose marriage to Mr. Leo Gerard takes place next week. The bride-elect received many beautiful gifts, which were appropriately acknowledged. An address was read by Mrs. Frank Smith. The evening was spent in games and dancing, followed by the service of dainty refreshments. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Smith, Mrs. A. Madden, the Misses E. Williams, G. Rogers, G. Huggins, L. Cockerill, E. Tamblyn, E. Nicholson, V. MacNamee, Hopcroft, and Messrs. Leo Gerard, L. Hanrahan, V. Coones, H. Wells, Frank Doig, T. Jordan, R. Gerard, H. O'Toole, Cliff Houston.

* * *

Mr. J. F. Shaughnessy of Haggart street has a birthday tomorrow.

* * *

The banquet held by the Beaver Club on Wednesday evening was arranged by Mrs. E. Bradbury, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, assisted by Mrs. A. Jewell, Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Schweir, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Haran, while Mrs. Brooks attended to the tea. The table assistants were the Misses Jean Jewell, M. Fowler, Betty Bradbury. The evening ended with an enjoyable dance, the music being arranged by Mr. E. Suddards and his orchestra.

* * *

"Standing Mute of Malice" is the title of an interesting article which appears in to-day's issue of the Toronto Mail and Empire. Written by Mr. C. H. Ireson of Peterborough, it has to do with an old punishment meted out to those who, accused of a major crime, refused to plead—"Stood Mute." In this way, they saved their lands from confiscation and preserved their means for their heirs. But they had to undergo a barbarous punishment which revolts the present-day mind. It was called "onere, frigore et fame" (Weight, cold and hunger), and the victim was compelled to be slowly crushed to death by a heavy weight placed on his body while in a reclining position, and was denied food and given only foul water to drink, while being subjected to bitter cold.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanrahan of 522 Armour Road commemorate tomorrow the twenty-second anniversary of their wedding.

POTATOES BRING $1.75 ON MARKET

Eggs 13 to 17 and Butter 23 to 25 on Market.

Contrary to the unusual packed condition of the basket section of the market, there were few patrons this morning. The long lines of baskets filled with eggs had few buyers.

Butter had a regular quotation of 25 cents, with a few ladies asking 23 cents a pound.

Eggs were generally priced at 15 cents, with a low range of 13 and a high of 17 cents a dozen.

Chickens were 15 to 18 cents and a couple of fat turkeys were offered at 20 cents a pound.

On the open market, potatoes were $1.65 a bag, with Irish Cobblers at $1.75 and seed potatoes at $1.35.

Blooming pansies and red and pink geraniums were 20 cents a box, with foliages at 10 cents a plant and plant slips of all types on sale. A little boy offered "prize iris" slips at a nickel apiece, and pussy willows whose silver buds had changed to yellowish, feathery plumes, were a nickel a bunch.

Cabbage, cauliflower and onion plants were selling at two boxes for a quarter, and potted asparagus ferns, healthy and well-branched, were 20 cents each.

White Leghorn fowl in a crate were 50 cents each, raspberry canes were 3 and 5 cents apiece and English gooseberry canes were 25 cents.

A quartette of whimpering small collie pups were crowded into a crate, with a price of $2 apiece on their heads. Next to them were peaceful porkers enjoying plenty of room and fresh air, and priced at $8 a pair.

More than 6,150,000 feet of motion pictures were imported into South Africa last year, a gain of nearly 26 per cent over 1932.

Battleship Grey

The ideal color for verandah Floor. Not too light—yet not too dark.

200 QUARTS "HARD-WEARING" FLOOR-ENAMEL

EXCEPTIONAL BIG VALUES

PAINT UP—CLEAN UP WEEK

Special 69c Quart

Order early. Make sure of your supply. Four other good colors. Quality guaranteed.

Free Delivery McClennan's 'Phone 16

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

A new style of furniture is coming in. When named it is variously called Modern Classic and Twentieth Century furniture. It is designed on classic lines and is, therefore, in pronounced contract to the modernistic furniture which has been featured in the past few years. This new type requires more special settings suited to itself. The incoming furniture vogue is far from bizarre. It is difficult to introduce pieces into already furnished rooms when new furniture is needed to be substituted for worn out pieces, unless the previous furnishings were modernistic.

* * * * * * *

The new furniture is restful in style rather than striking. One is not impressed by its presence in a room because it is different, but because it is different, but because it pleases the eye. Straight lines so omnipresent in modernistic furniture are neither stressed nor avoided, but neither are curves shunned.

* * * * * * *

One striking feature of the 20th Century furniture in fact is the return of curves. These are lines of beauty which have been sorely lacking in modernistic pieces. So pronounced is this feature, that the up-to-date modernistic furniture already is influenced by it, as instanced in modifications of the severity of the usual straight and angular shapes. There is no doubt that furniture and figures both are returning to curved contours and lines or beauty.

* * * * * * *

The name Modern Classic which is applied to the new 20th Century style of furniture, is revealing. It gives in its name its two characteristics. It is modern but built on classic lines. It is graceful without extravagance of embellishment. It does not feature carving, either the choice sort done by hand, or the mechanical reproductions made separately and glued in place. It is simple but not severe. Since curves, are introduced as instanced in cabriole legs, the standard supports for mirrors on bureaus, etc., the furniture could scarcely be severe. It can be stately, gracious, and pleasing and it is these characteristics which are focusing attention.

Earthquake Gives Pacific Coast Scare

VANCOUVER, May 5 (CP)—After shaking houses, toppling articles off shelves and causing anxiety to thousands of persons, minor earthquake tremors which last night shook Pacific Coast points from Washington to Alaska had faded to-day without causing any serious damage.

The tremblors which shook Vancouver, Victoria and Washington State points as well as the lower interior of British Columbia were centered in the Straits of Georgia. Separate tremblors shook points in Alaska for 48 hours, with the last of them occurring last night.

500 LINDSAY LEGHORNS GIVEN HAVEN AFTER FIRE

DORVAL, Que., May 4. (CP).—Through the kindly offers of the station master here 500 leghorns from Lindsay, Ont., will have a roof over their heads till some permanent quarters are found for them.

The chickens were en route here from Lindsay to their owner P. A. Brinworth who came from Montreal recently to establish a chicken farm and had just finished building an $800 coop in which he had stored $200 worth of feed. Fire destroyed coop and contents and the embers were not quite dead as the train bearing the leghorns pulled into the station.

Seeing the plight in which Brinworth and his leghorns found themselves, the station master offered to put up the chickens; time their owner is looking about for a site for another chicken farm.

A LITTLE SPREE

EAST WINDSOR, Ont., May 5 C.P.)—A bunch of the boys were whooping it up—at the soft drink bar in the basement of the Russian Orthodox Church here. Melbin Kranack, who tends the bar, giving his version of the subsequent battle, said the boys were all inebriated, and admitted "popping' one of the guests with a "pop bottle" under provocation. Six assault charges in all have been laid, and the case will be heard here Tuesday.

GET DILLINGER

(Continued from Page 1)

partment of Imigration at Halifax, N.S., likewise expressed surprise at the London report.

The suspicion arose that "wooden gun" John might have been involved in the bank robber at Fostoria, O., in which five men were shot by two fast-firing raiders, one of whom had flaming red hair.

Although he is reported to have dyed his hair that color, Department of Justice officials said they understood that Dillinger himself was not involved in the Fostoria affray. Homer Van Meter, a member of the Dillinger gang, was identified by Patrolman L. L. Stagger as one of the robbers. Another report said Dillinger had been sighted riding through his old town of Mooresville, Ind., in a motor car, with a relative.

Two Mooresville residents told the Indiana State Police they had seen him, and a group of state police went to the scene to investigate.

Dillinger, however, was not found.

PREPARING FOR WAR

PEIPING China, May 5.—(AP)—Officials from outer Mongolia said today Soviet Russia is rapidly placing the entire area upon a war-time basis.

The Soviet action, in the view of the visiting Mongolians, is an attempt to remove a threat of a possible Japanese invasion of Russia via North China and Mongolia.

His Third Set

GUELPH, Ont., May 5. (CP) Anybody can have two sets of teeth during a life-time, but it is the height of something or other to have three. John Young, 69, is now growing his third set and four healthy young molars are sprouting through his gums Mr. Young had been without teeth of any kind for eight years, when he lost the last of his second set. A few weeks ago he felt an irritation in his mouth. He went to a dentist. "Nice new teeth," commented the drill-and-fill man.

Mon-day at BUEHLER Phone 3680

Hamburg Steak 3 lbs. 29c

Neck Bones 5c lb.

Veal Shank or Stew 5c lb.

RIB OR LOIN VEAL CHOPS 14c lb.

Lean Beef Cuttings 3 lbs. 29c

Shoulder Veal Chops 12c lb.

Bologna 2 lbs. 25c

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Yesterday we described an unpleasant chain of events which might result in the production of a respiratory infection—the transmission of the infection from the respiratory system of one individual who spits on the sidewalk to the respiratory system of another person exposed to the germs which are taken from this dried sputum and wafted in the air.

This process holds for the common cold; also for pneumonia and tuberculosis. In all these diseases, however, there are secondary factors which lower the resistance and prepare the ground for the growth of the infection once implanted.

One of these, which is easy to prove, is occupation. Lung disease is commonest in four classes of workmen — upholsterers, tobacco workers, metal workers and stone workers. All of these are dusty trades, and dust breathed into the lungs definitely lowers the resistance to infection. Besides that, of course, dust tends to play about and accumulate upon its surface infection so that the two things operating together, the mechanical irritation of the dust and the infection, predisposes these workers to lung disease.

Prome time immemorial the lowering of the resistance of the body from the cold and wet has been ascribed as a cause of respiratory disease. In fact, the experience is crystallized in the term "catching cold."

Much of the danger involved in these secondary factors can be prevented by quite simple means. In most of the dusty trades now it is compulsory for the workmen to wear masks which sift the dust out before it enters the lungs. On windy spring days it is always wise to protect the nose and mouth from gusts of wind and dust by holding a handkerchief before the face.

The old-fashioned precaution of keeping the body warm and dry with rubbers, heavy underwear, umbrellas, raincoats, etc., is still a part of wisdom. Grandmother's precautions to change into dry clothes are still good.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

A REMARKABLE RESULT

The most efficient informatory double is one which considers a double of any bid for less than game as informatory, provided the doubler's partner has not previously either bid or doubled. At love score this means that the doubler promises his partner within three tricks of the fulfilment of the contract, which must be undertaken. Here is a remarkable example of the occasional great utility of this rational sort of conventional double. Neither side was vulnerable at the time.

	♠ K J 9 8 7 2 ♥ 4 3 ♦ Q J 6 4 ♣ 9
♠ 4 3 ♥ 10 9 7 6 5 ♦ 7 2 ♣ 10 8 4 3	W. N. E. S.	♠ None ♥ K Q J 2 ♦ A K 8 5 3 ♣ A K Q 2
	♠ A Q 10 6 5 ♥ A 8 ♦ 10 9 ♣ J 7 6 5

Bidding went: South, 1-spade; North, 3-spades; East, doubed for a bid from West, thereby promising to furnish not less than seven tricks' assistance for a responsive bid in either hearts, diamonds or clubs; South, 4-spades, thinking he had settled the fate of the informatory double by bidding so high; West 5-hearts, believing his partner; North, stupidly, 5-spades, thereby laying his side open to a business double which would hurt, or, worse yet, that he might drive opponents into a successful small slam contract; East, 6-hearts, which South doubled. Who ever heard of a small slam being made against an opening bid? It does not happen often, but it does happen.

The opening lead was North's K of spades. Dummy ruffed with the J, then led the K of hearts. South's ace won the trick. South hoped to take a club trick. North hoped to win at least one diamond trick, but both were doomed to disappointment. South forced dummy to ruff again, by leading the ace of spades.

A second winning round of hearts was led from dummy. It dropped all opposing trumps. Then West did something which proved to be his salvation, although few players in his position would have deemed it necessary. He led dummy's ace and K of diamonds, then he ruffed a diamond, instead of leading off clubs, expecting them to break. Dummy was put in with a club and the declarer used next to his last trump to ruff another lead of diamonds, establishing a diamond in dummy, upon which he could later on discard a club if that suit did not break, as West knew by that time must happen.

West led another club, took dummy's ace and K of clubs, then for the twelfth trick dummy's long diamond was led, and on it West discarded his 10 of clubs. He used his last trump to ruff dummy's losing club, thus fulfilling his small slam contract.

Seventy-eight-year-old W. J. Nevard, of Great Bentley, England, has just completed 50 years as bell-ringer, during which time he rung in 400 belfries.

FUR STORAGE

Protect your Fur Coat against SUMMER HEAT, FIRE, THEFT, MOTHS AND DUST IN OUR MODERN STORAGE VAULT

Storage and Insurance for $2.00 'Phone 94 WE CALL FOR AND DELIVER

SCIENTIFIC FUR COAT CLEANING

A department in our factory is equipped with the latest modern process for Cleaning Fur Coats and Linings at moderate charges.

EXPERT REPAIRING, REMODELLING AND RELINING OF FUR COATS NOW AT SUMMER PRICES.

WM. LECH & SONS, LTD.

Established in Peterborough Over 73 Years.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

BE BEAUTIFUL

"Dear Miss Glad: Quite some time ago, you wrote a series of articles on hair rinses. In one of them, you described a rinse especially suited for use on fine, pale blonde hair. I'd like to try this rinse, and would be grateful if you'd repeat the instruction for me.

"ANGELA."

The rinse to which you refer is composed of lemon juice, peroxide vinegar and water. Your hair should first be thoroughly shampooed and every bit of soap rinsed out with clear water. Then the strained juice of one lemon, one tablespoon of peroxide, and one tablespoon of cider vinegar should be mixed with a pint of clear water, and the solution used as the last rinse. This rinse will help to bring out the highlights in hair of your type, and will give it more body and gloss.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: I'm not naturally a back-slapper, but I smply must tell you how excellent I think that reducing course in your 'New Figure' booklet is. You see, I've tried it, and managed to lose 33 pounds. And believe me you, I certainly look years younger. However, when I was a mere kid, my mother always dosed me with sulphur and molasses in the spring. I'd like to take this tonic now. Can you tell me just how it is made?

HAZEL."

If you eat properly, and modify your diet with attention to better elimination, you will have no need of sulphur and molasses, or any like tonic. However, to make the sulphur and molasses mixture, place about one ounce of plain sulphur in a container, and pour over it a quart of molasses. Then stir the ingredients until they form a smooth, even mixture. This mixture should be taken in tablespoon doses three times a day. The modern substitute for the sulphur and molasses mixture is sulphur and cream of tartar which may be purchased in the form of lozenges in any drug-store.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: I am fortunate enough to posses a set of lovely, even, white teeth, and I intend to keep them in that condition for as long as possible. I'm very careful in the cleansing of my teeth, and always procure a new toothbrush every three months. However, how should one treat a new toothbrush before using it? Some cleansing procedure is essential, is it not?

"BESSIE."

It is indeed essential that a new toothbrush be cleansed and disinfected before it is used on the teeth. A simple but effective procedure is to scrub the new brush with soap and hot water, and then to permit it to soak over night in a strong solution of cold salt water. You should also disinfect your toothe brush after each brushing, you know. An oxygen-producing medium is best for this purpose. The simplest method is to wash the brush after you use it, rinse it, sprinkle salt on it, and permit it to dry. The salt will not only sterilize the brush, but will also help to keep the bristles stiff.

EDITOR'S NOTE: To obtain Miss Glad's pamphlets on 'The new Figure' and 'Beauty Culture' write, care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, and ten cents in coin for each, to cover cost of printing and handling.

I.O.D.E. Chapter Plans Hope Chest

At the regular meeting of the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. Mitchell, with the regent, Mrs. C. S. Browne, presiding, it was decided to hold a bridge party at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday evening, May 11th

Preparations are being made to have a Hope Chest in the Autumn, in order to increase the Chapter funds.

Mrs. F. Hooper, delegate to the Provincial chapter convention held recently in Hamilton, read her report on the convention.

The next regular meeting, which will take the form of the annual picnic of the society, will be held at Mrs. Walter Belleghem's summer home at Chemong Park.

At the close of the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. W. Derry and her group, with coffee poured by Mrs. Roy White.

Nearly 100,000 pairs of shoes were made in little Costa Rica last year.

"Teddy — shame on you, slapping poor Spike! I'm worried about Teddy, Madge. He won't play — won't eat. He just mopes."

"His color is bad Marian, and his eyes aren't bright. Often these are signs a child needs a laxative. Give Teddy some Castoria tonight."

"Come for a walk with us, Madge. Teddy's feeling fine. I gave him Castoria last night. It was just what he needed."

"I was sure of it, Marian. Castoria is an ideal children's laxative. And it's the grandest thing to relieve colic in babies, too. It clears out little systems thoroughly — gently, too. There are none of the harsh drugs in it that make some laxatives so harmful for children."

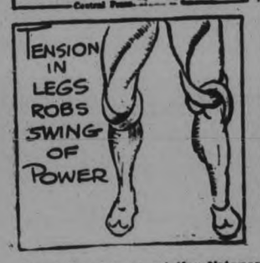
CASTORIA

The children's laxative from babyhood to 11 years

Leafs Take 2 to 1 Lead in Albany-Toronto Series

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON



Not being able to get the distance he is accustomed to, a pupil of mine asked me what he should do when playing his wood clubs.

I told him that if his swing lacked the usual power he should give more attention to the action of his feet.

I had him concentrate on rolling both feet sideways without lifting his heels. This, coupled with keeping his chin back soon put him to hitting a long ball.

I then explained that his legs had tightened up and prevented him from getting the free hip action needed for power in the swing.

The rolling of the feet loosened up his leg muscles so that his hip action was soon restored.

LUCK MAY TURN TO JIMMY BALL 'PEG SPRINTER

Veteran Athlete May Become One of Canada's Hopes for Empire Games.

GOES INTO TRAINING

(By Elmer Dulmage—C.P. Staff Writer).

Into training in a few days goes Jimmy Ball, the galloping Winnipeg druggist who very nearly won an Olympic title six years ago and is no longer one of the world's great quarter-milers. The slender Manitoban competes because he loves it. He can lose as well as he could once win.

If Ball should happen to win a place on Canada's British Empire Games team it would please him immensely. No athlete goes into training without having before him a definite objective and Jimmy's objective is the White City Stadium at London. He would like to take another crack at an international field.

There is no question involved, at least there shouldn't be, of Ball becoming one of Canada's hopes in the Empire Games. He has passed his peak and his great days are behind. Just the same, the flying druggist is able to uncork a 49-second quarter when he is right and the Empire is notably lacking in runners of this calibre.

Perhaps Bill Fritz, Queen's University intercollegiate champion and one or two others will make the going tough for Ball. Alf Mullias of Toronto has been improving fast and Harold Wright, 1932 Olympic sprinter, would certainly be a dangerous rival if he decides to concentrate on the 440-yard distance.

Wright moved from Edmonton to Vancouver after the Olympics where he made a better showing than any Canadian sprinter in the 100 and 200 metre events. A few years ago he ranked high among quarter-milers and if he decides to return to the longer distance he should easily win a place on the Dominion team.

But Ball is still the man to beat in this country. He won the Canadian title last year at Fort William and for this feat was awarded the Norton Crowe Memorial Trophy for being the outstanding athlete of the year. Certainly his triumph was one of the year's more dramatic developments in track.

The Winnipeg veteran finished second to Ray Barbuti of United States in the 400-metres final at the 1928 Amsterdam Olympiad. He turned his head 10 yards from the tape to see his foe throw himself out of stride and become one of trackdom's "goats." He hasn't made any more errors like that, but the luck has been against him consistently.

In the Hamilton Empire games he fell at the finish of a 220-yards heat and injured his leg. He was far from being at his best for the quarter-mile final and failed to place. Shortly before the Los Angeles Olympics an attack of boils kept him from training properly and again he was beaten.

He's older now and about ready to receive a smile from Lady Luck. The chances are bright that the flying druggist will win himself another overseas trip.

LONDON, May 5 (C.P. Havas)—Fear that continental engagements might entail a clash with the United States kept Great Britain from subscribing to European regional pacts on armaments, Lord Lothian, former Under Secretary of State, declared yesterday. Great Britain ought rather to have recourse to the Briand-Kellogg Pact, he added.

BOONEMEN COP FIRST INNING ADVANTAGE FOR 6-2 TRIUMPH

Redwings Retain International League Lead by Defeating Orioles 6-2.

ROYALS BLANK CHIEFS 2-0.

(By The Associated Press)

Cincinnati Reds may be having their troubles in the majors, but their class Double-A minor loop affailiate, Toronto Maple Leafs, are doing quite well by themselves in the International League.

Rated as an almost certain second-division outfit before a working agreement with the Reds was arranged, the Leafs have played strong ball so far this season and to-day held second place with eight victories and four defeats.

Two men sent down by the Reds, Walter Hilcher and Joe Morison, helped the Leafs to a 6-2 victory over Albany Senators yesterday. Hilcher pitched steadily all the way, allowing only eight hits and fanning five. Morrisey took down hitting honors with four successive singes, drove in one run and scored two himself. The Leafs sewed up the game, as it turned out, in the first frame, when they bunched hits off Jimmy Carithers for three runs.

Wings Retain Lead

Rochester maintained its grip on the lead with a 6-2 conquest of Baltimore Orioles. Pete (Jablonowski) Appleton travelled the route for the Orioles and might have had a chance to win if he could have kept the home run ball away from the plate. Johnny Mize, Tom Winsett and buddy Lewis all connected for the circuit for the Wings.

Big Walter Brown pitched Newark Bears to an easy 5-1 decision over Buffalo Bisons, giving up only seven hits and fannning ten; Ollie Carnegie, Bison slugger, went down on strikes four times in a row.

Curly Ogden, veteran Montreal Royal pitcher, was in great form and blanked Syracuse Chiefs, 2-0, on six hits; Ray Coombs, nephew of the famous Jack Coombs, likewise gave up only six safeties, three of them going to Butch Henline.

KENTUCKY DERBY TO BE RUN TO-DAY

Battle Between Kings and Queens of 3-year-old Realm.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5 (A.P.).—Already steamed up by a spring heat wave, the Capital of the Blue Grass and the captains of the American turf will turn on an old-time revival of enthusiasm to-day for the sixtieth running of the glamorous Kentucky Derby, featuring for the first time in years a rpal battle between the kings and queens of the three-year-old thoroughbred realm.

Close to 50,000 spectators, the biggest crowd in at least four years, is expected to jam Churchill Downs, rain or shine, to see whether two great fillies, Colone E. R. Bradley's Bazaar and Charles T. Fisher's Mata Hari, can repeat turf history by outracing a fleet band of colts, headed by the record-breaking Cavalcade, favorite and chief hope of the East.

(By the Associated Press).

New York—Walter Neusel, 197½, of Germany, outpointed Tommy Loughran, 186, Philadelphia (10); Al Ettore, 187¾, Philadelphia, and Arthur Huttick, 185, New York, drew (6).

Berlin, Germany — Isidoro Gastanaga, Spain, stopped Vincenz Hover, Germany (4).

Louisville, Ky.—Freddie Miller, 124¼, Cincinnati, knocked out Paul Dazzo, 124¾, Chicago (6).

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press.)

Harry Lavagetto, Pirates—Knocked in two runs against Giants with single and double.

Bob Weiland, Red Sox—Limited Browns to six hits.

Joe Medwick, Cardinals — Clouted fifth homer against Phillies.

Earl Averill, Indians— Led attack on Washintgon pitchers with double and triple.

Guy Bush, Cubs—Pitched six hit ball against Braves for fifth victory.

Lefty Gomes, Yankees—Shut out Tigers with three hits, fanning five.

Sam Leslie, Dodgers—Rapped Cincinnati hurling for three singles.

KING EDWARD OPENS SEASON WITH 14-11 WIN

Plenty of Hitting and Base Running as Central Team Goes Down to Defeat.

SCHOOL SOFTBALL.

King Edward opeend the Public School Softball League yesterday with a 14-11 victory over Central in a fair game. There was plenty of hitting and base-running with a number of errors thrown in. The southend boys got away to an early start with three counters in the first inning but Central got two back in the second and another in the fourth. The homesters put the game in the bat bag in the last half of the this frame when they chased across seven runs and added four more the next inning. Central got one in the fifth and made a bid for the contest in the sixth with seven counters but the rally was nipped.

Some fair softball was dished up, through the game was strange to the boys and they weren't at their best. Ferguson relieved Strickland in the fifth for the victors and Copperthwaite replaced Campbell in the fifth for Central. Hoy and Mackness were the fielding stars. The teams:

Central: Millen, cf; McKinnon, lf; McClelland, 3b; Greenley, lf; Brown, ss; Hoy, 2b; Campbell, p, 1b; McInnes, c; Copperthwaite, 1b, p; Rumming, rf; Clarke, 1b.

King Edward: Mackness, ss; Fine, lf; Berwick, 3b; Castle, c; Ridley, rf; McWilliams, 2b; Leggitt, 1b; Strickland, p; Ferguson, p; Murduff, cf.

Score by innings:

Central	0201170—11
King Edward	300740x—14

Umpires — H. Dormer and F. Scates.

Rifle Association Organizes For Year

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, May 5.—The Lakefield Rifle Association met on Wednesday evening in the Town Hall for organization for the season of 1934 with a fair attendance present. Officers were elected as follows:

Captain—W. A. Payne.

Sec. Treas.—G. H. Spence.

Committee—B. Q. Denoh, William Bickell and William Trude, Jr.

A club shoot will be held on May 24th and the Silver Salver competition shoots will be held May 31st, June 7th, 14th and 21st with club shoots on June 28th and Labor Day.

NO HEAVY TRAINING FOR McLARNIN GOLF, FAST SPARRING IS PROGRAM

Vancouver Champion No Fanatic on Roadwork—To Develop Speed

Right from the moment articles were signed for his bout with Barney Ross, Jimmy McLarnin, welterweight champion of the world, started serious training. But no heavy work for Jimmy. His ring weight is to be 145 pounds. He now strips at 149, which means only four pounds between now and May 26. Jimmy, no fanatic of roadwork, will concentrate on developing his speed against fast sparring partners. He is now in training at Vancouver, but will shortly fly to New York and it is expected will take up training quarters at Atlantic City. Jimmy is shown here in three phases of his training. LEFT, as he spars with one of his five brothers. CENTRE, doing some of his roadwork. RIGHT, on the links. Jimmy plays from 18 to 27 holes of golf every day.

By A. F. ROBERTS
Central Press Canadian Writer

VANVOUVER, May 5. — Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver's own world's champion, has gone into serious training for his fifteen-round battle with Barney Ross, lightweight titleholder.

No longer is Jimmy the easy-to-meet and friendly chap of a few days ago. He is living on strict schedule and there is very little time now for casual visitors.

Ordinarily anyone who wishes to see Jimmy or to talk to him on the telephone finds it an easy matter. But now one of his numerous family—there are five brothers and two sisters in addition to his father and mother—answers the telephone or door bell and the visitor gets no farther unless Jimmy says so.

Jimmy's day starts at 8 o'clock or so and his training schedule at 9 with a few light setting up exercises, followed by four rounds with the heavy punching bag and then a similar number with the light bag.

Then come four to six rounds of good honest scrapping with Bob, Jimmy's younger brother, who is a husky fellow, packing quite a wallop himself. And the workout ends in time for a good rubdown and a rest before luncheon.

Only a Little Roadwork

In the afternoon Jimmy does 18 or 27 holes of golf — he usually shoots between 85 and 95—and then returns home for another four rounds of fighting and some shadow boxing. He is on careful diet and retires every night about 10 o'clock.

Jimmy is 27 and weighs about 149 now, so that he will have no trouble coming down to 145 for the bout on May 26. He does a little roadwork occasionally, but is not a fanatic about it.

Lots of fighters leave their best fights in the gymnasium," he says, in support of his contention that a heavy training schedule is not necessary.

"Of course when I go into training camp in New York I will do more fighting and I hope that Pop Foster will line up plenty of fast sparring partners. I will need all my speed against Barney."

Jimmy hasn't fought since last year, when he won the welterweight title in less than a round, and he realises that is something of a handicap. However, he has always kept in good condition and is fit as a fiddle now.

The champion is planning to fly to New York early in May, taking his father and his brother along with him.

"Unless some unforseen circumstance arises, I'll be in the pink of condition for the bout and I am sure I'll give Barney plenty to worry about," he says.

MAX BAER PROTESTS TOMMY LOUGHRAN'S DEFEAT IN N.Y.

Heavyweight Title Contender Climbs Into Ring When Neusel Awarded Decision.

NO KNOCKDOWNS.

NEW YORK May 5. — (AP) — Blond Walter Neusel, tough young German, galloped over the old warhorse of the heavyweights, gallant Tommy Loughran last night, to win a 10-round decision that left a crowd of 10,000 roaring, half in favor, half against.

It was Tommy's first start since he lost his heavyweight title chance in 15 rounds to Primo Carnera in Miami in February, and he made it so close that Max Baer, whose turn at the championship comes in June, was the loudest of the dissenters.

Max climbed half into the ring when the judges disagreed and Referee Arthur Donovan gave the decision to Neusel, and shouted that Loughran had been robbed.

"You won, Tommy," he yelled at the top of his voice. "It's decisions like this that ruin boxing."

It was a rough, close, mauling duel, with Loughran, slower than he was against Carnera, and not nearly as rugged, striving desperately to hold the raging Teuton at bay.

No Knockdowns

There were no knockdowns though Neusel fell in the first round after missing a wild right, and Tommy skidded to the floor in the seventh when he hit a wet spot in his own corner. Neither was hurt much nor in danger of a knockout at any time.

But for his continual holding Loughran might easily have pulled out the decision, as he had been doing for years against the roughest and strongest of his young foemen. Instead Tommy was content to jab occasionally and as Neusel rushed grab the German fiercely n both arms. The crowd booed him frequently.

Neusel never stopped rushing and struggling, even when Tommy held him closest. The blond walloper, who had bested Ray Impellittier, 'King' Levinsky, and now Loughran, simply lowered his head at each bell and flung himself forward winning with both hands, missing more punches than he landed.

BOSTON RED SOX PLAYERS ARE PUT ON BONUS SYSTEM.

BOSTON, May 5 (A.P.).—Eddie Collins, general manager of the Red Sox, announced yesterday that President Tom Yawkey, after a conference with President William Harridge of the American League, had decided to put a bonus system for his players in force this year.

The bonus provides a gift of a certain percentage of each player's salary if the club finishes third, twice as much if the club is second, and three times as much if the Red Sox win the pennant.

N. Y. WRITERS PAN McLARNIN

Printers' Ink Used Freely Because of Vancouverite's Weight Advantage.

RACIAL ILL-FEELING.

By SAM ROBERTSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, May 4. (CP).—It might be a sound idea for Jimmy McLarnin to bring along a couple of platoons of Canada's famed Mounties as a bodyguard when he invades New York to gamble his welterweight crown against the steam and guile in the fists of Barney Ross.

Hardly likely to increase the Vancouver bomber's popularity hereabouts is the fact that some metropolitan writers of sporting pieces are lambasting him roundly—with printers' ink—because he will have an advantage of 10 pounds or less over the Hebrew champion of the lightweights in their May 26 engagement.

Jimmy is being made to appear like a very rowdy rowdy. Ross, in comparison, would seem to be a Lilliputian trying to protect his poke of candy.

Racial Ill-feeling

If the campaign of vituperation continues it might lead to racial ill-feeling, should New Yorkers be able to think about such things in these days of assorted new deals and income tax payments.

But in case it should, it might be well to consider there are some 2,000,000 Jewish inhabitants of the city, against 40,000 Canadians and 225,000 sons of Erin.

Hence, it follows, a handful of Mounties might not be out of order the night of the fight.

The contract calls for McLarnin to weigh not more than 145 pounds when he climbs through the ropes. Ross will scale from 135 to 138 or a shade more. The figures cause certain writing men of Manhattan to dub the match "lopsided" "unsporting" and even to place it in the category of a big-little man fight.

Pulled from the pugilistic closet is the 1932 meeting between McLarnin and Sammy Fuller, the Boston lightweight. Fuller absorbed a bad trimming that night and the commentators use the fight to back up their argument that the Vancouver puncher is forever chasing around looking for little men to fight.

Completely lacking from the diatribes, however, is the fact that both Messrs. Fuller and Ross, or their handlers perhaps, were the seekers after the matches, not McLarnin.

Bau Claire, Wis.—Iowa Joe Rivers, 143½, Cedar Rapids, Ia., outpointed Eddie Ran, 146, Poland (10).

Hollywood, Calif.—Bom Godwin, 175, Miami, Fla., stopped Benny Miller, 175, Los Angeles (4).

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Rochester	11	3	.786
Toronto	8	4	.667
Newark	10	7	.588
Montreal	8	7	.533
Syracuse	6	6	.500
Albany	5	7	.417
Baltimore	4	11	.267
Buffalo	4	11	.267

Yesterday's Results.

Toronto 6, Albany 2.
Montreal 2, Syracuse 0.
Newark 5, Buffalo 1.
Rochester 6, Baltimore 2.

Games to-day: Newark at Buffalo; Syracuse at Montreal; Baltimore at Rochester; Albany at Toronto.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	9	5	.643
Cleveland	7	4	.637
Detroit	7	6	.538
Boston	7	7	.500
Washington	6	8	.429
Philadelphia	6	8	.429
St. Louis	5	7	.417
Chicago	4	7	.364

Yesterday's Results.

Cleveland 5, Washington 3.
Boston 4, St. Louis 1.
New York 3, Detroit 0.
Chicago at Philadelphia—Rain.

Games to-day: Chicago at Philadelphia; Cleveland at Washington; Detroit at New York; St. Louis at Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	11	4	.733
Chicago	11	5	.688
Pittsburg	8	6	.571
St. Louis	8	7	.533
Boston	7	7	.500
Brooklyn	7	8	.467
Philadelphia	4	10	.286
Cincinnati	3	12	.200

Yesterday's Results

Brooklyn 6, Cincinnati 3.
Chicago 8, Boston 1.
Pittsburgh 4, New York 3.
St. Louis 3, Philadelphia 1.

Games today: Boston at Chicago; Brooklyn at Cincinnati; New York at Pittsburg; Philadelphia at St. Louis.

Games to-morrow: Philadelphia at Chicago; New York at Cincinnati; Brooklyn at Pittsburg; Boston at St. Louis.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Minneapolis	10	4	.714
Indianapolis	8	6	.571
Kansas City	8	6	.571
Louisville	7	7	.500
Toledo	6	7	.462
Columbus	6	7	.462
Milwaukee	5	9	.357
St. Paul	5	9	.357

Yesterday's Results

Columbus 3, Milwaukee 2.
Kansas City 12, Toledo 2.
St. Paul 2, Indianapolis 0.
Louisville 5, Minneapolis 2.

Games to-day: Kansas City at Toledo; Minneapolis at Louisville; St. Paul at Indianapolis; Milwaukee at Columbus.

Games to-morrow: Milwaukee at Toledo; Kansas City at Columbus; St. Paul at Louisville; Minneapolis at Indianapolis.

GOMEZ GAINS THIRD VICTORY OF THE SEASON

Combines With Hefty Clouting of Ruth to Give Yankees 3-0 Victory.

INDIANS TRIUMPH 5-3.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

So long as the Yankees have Vernon Gomes, who is sometimes known as "Goofy" to his teammates but frequently makes the opposing batters look as if the nickname belonged to them, they hardly need the hefty hitting that promises to make them one of the most dangerous teams in the American League this season.

After being knocked out in the opening game of the season, the tall Castilian from Rodeo, Calif, has run up three straight victories, allowing the opposition, eight, six and three hits and a total of three runs. He hurled the three-hit game yesterday, gaining his first shutout at the expense of Detroit Tigers, as Babe Ruth helped him to a 3-0 triumph.

The Yanks needed that triumph to keep them ahead of Cleveland Indians, who trimmed Washington 5-3 in their Eastern opener and remained only a half game behind the league leaders. Lefty Lloyd Brown, a former Senator, hurled a steady game and hit two singles that counted in the scoring of Earl Whitehill.

Sox Going Up.

Boston Red Sox, battling to gain and hold a place in the first division, defeated St. Louis Brown 4-1 in the other American League battle as Bob Weiland pitched six hit ball for his first victory of the season. The White Sox and Athletics were rained out for the second day in succession.

Chicago Cubs finally found a left hander they could beat and cut New York's lead in the National League race to a half game as they pasted Tom Zachery, Boston veteran, to cover inside of three innings and went on to give Braves an 8-1 lacing.

First Setback for Hubbell

The Giants, meanwhile, took a 4-3 defeat from the Pirates as the slim southpaw, Carl Hubbell, absorbed his first defeat of the season. The Bucs rapped Hubbell hard in the early innings and carried Red Lucas through to a victory.

St. Louis Cardinals rank up their sixth straight victory despite the wildness of Lefty Will Walker, when an error started a two-run rally in the first, and Joe Medwick smacked his fifth homer in the fourth. The Dodgers, with their one reliable thrower, Van Mungo, on the hill, gave Cincinnati Reds their sixth consecutive defeat, 6-3, with an early assault on Paul Derringer.

Gadou And Fielding Lead Toronto Grind

TORONTO, May 5.—(C.P.)—Reg. Fielding, Toronto, and Laurent Gadou, Montreal, forged to the front overnight in the Toronto six-day bicycle race and were leading Torchy Peden and Jules Audy by a lap at eight o'clock this morning.

The 8 a.m. standing:

	Miles-laps	Pts.
Fielding-Gadou	2241-2	405
Peden-Audy	2241-1	704
Macdonald-Zach	2241-1	476
Winter-Bartell	2240-9	604
McNamara-Ruah	2240-7	635
Van Kempen-Lepage	2240-7	410
Boucheron-Mouton	2240-7	373
Petri-Beckman	2239-9	635

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, it's been a pretty quiet week in sporting circles, about the only unusual thing being the Toronto ball club opened its home season Wed. and drew a crowd of 15,000 customers. That oughta be good news for everybody, including the amusement tax branch of the Ontario Government, which will have some hope of collecting some of the back taxes from the Toronto outfit. 15,000 is a nice crowd these days, Mac, and listening to the affair over the radio, they seemed to be a pretty happy crowd, too, and they even give Honest George Henry a cheer when Geo. took part in the opening ceremonies. It was tought luck Mister Booe's Leaves hadda take it on the chin, that kinda thing almost always taking the joy outa life for the 1st day fans. However, the Leaves has been going along pretty nice, and if they can keep it up they oughta continue to draw the customers. Last season the patronage was so light the average crowd coulda all rode down to the ball orchard in a coupla Gray coaches.

They ain't been nothing of moment in the big show this week, Mac, except plenty lusty clouting, with the National Leaguers setting the pace. Looks sorta unusual to see the older loop leading the American circuit in home runs, but up to the present it's been doing that very thing and by considerable. That new ball in the National must have plenty of the old punch to it.

Well, Mac, the local lads will soon be hard at it getting ready for the May 24th opener, and something seems to tell me Mister Lee oughta have quite a ball club, neighbors, quite a ball club. With a coupla newcomers in the person of this here now Mister Murray and Mister Knobka (Sig to you), the Petes may spell plenty of trouble for all and sundry. The injection of some hitting strength would make a whale of a lotta difference, I'll say the world. With Kingston as the opposition, the Victoria Day doings should be all to the mustard, and I'll be astonished, and I don't mean praps, if they ain't a real old-time crowd out for the same.

Well, Mac, it'll be kinda treat watching a game without shivering after the past winter.

Nothing more for now, so I'll take it on the lam,

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

Queen Mary Swamps King George School in Opener 15-1

CAPITOL

4-GREAT DAYS-4
Monday - Tuesday
Wednesday - Thursday

3 Shows Daily 2.30-7.00 9.00

TO-NIGHT AT 7 - 9
George RAFT in "THE TRUMPET BLOWS"
LAUREL and HARDY in "OLIVER 8TH"

HERE THEY COME! The producers of "42nd STREET" "GOLD DIGGERS" and "FOOTLIGHT PARADE" bring you the Kings and Queens of the Show World in a Production that dwarfs the greatest shows of the Past!

Wonder Bar

First National All-Time Triumph!

All These Wonder Stars in the Wonder Show!...
KAY FRANCIS
DICK POWELL
AL JOLSON
DOLORES DEL RIO
RICARDO CORTEZ
HAL LEROY
GUY KIBBEE
HUGH HERBERT
FIFI D'ORSAY
RUTH DONNELLY
LOUISE FAZENDA
★10 FAMOUS STARS!
★4 GREAT COMEDIANS!
★600 GORGEOUS GIRLS!
★5000 PERFORMERS!
★MAMMOTH SPECTACLES!
★5 BIG SONG HITS!
"Going to Heaven on a Mule" "Why Do I Dream These Dreams?" "Wonder Bar" - "Vive La France" and "Don't Say Goodnight"

Note! Feature at 3.00 - 7.30 - 9.30

ADDED HIT "GOBS OF FUN"

EAST-END TEAM CLOUTED HARD

Winners Completely Outclass King George Lads in Pitching, Fielding and Hitting.

BARRAGE FROM START.

Pounding two pitchers hard throughout seven innings. Queen Mary knocked off King George by a 15 to 1 count in their opening game of the Public School Softball League schedule on the East City diamond yesterday. The winners completely outclassed the King George lads in pitching, fielding and hitting. Some dum base-running was seen—the players not being accustomed to softball rules. G. Cooper was hit hard by Queen Mary and gave way to Hawks, and returned again to the mound late in the fray. The losers' lone tally came in the fourth, while the Q. M. boys got two in the first, three in the third and fourth, five in the fifth and one apiece in the last two frames. The teams:

Queen Mary—Robson, 2b.; Mortimer, 3b; Tully, 1b; Craig, rf; Jones, lf.; Gdaham, p.; Merrett, cf.; McGregor, c.; McLean, ss.; Neiman.

King George—Scriver, c.; Cooper, p., lf.; Hawks, 1b., p; Gandy, ss.; Northcott, 2b; Emery, 3b; Seymour, cf; Vivash, lf; Agnew, rf.

Score by innings:
Queen Mary .. ..203 351 1—15
King George .. ..000 1000— 1

Umpires—L. Agnew and J. Pearce.

Softball Schedule

CHURCH LEAGUE.
(First Half).
Junior Section.

May 7—George Street vs. St. James', at King Edward Park.
May 9—St. John's vs. All Saints', at Queen Mary School.
May 10—Lakefield United vs. George Street, at Queen Alexandra School.
May 11—St. James' vs. St. John's at Quen Mary School.
May 14—All Saints' vs. Lakefield United, at Lakefield.
May 16—George Street vs. St. John's, at Queen Mary School.
May 18—All Saints' vs. St. James', at King Edward Park.
May 21—Lakefield United vs. St. John's, at Queen Mary School.
May 22—All Saints' vs. George Street, at Queen Alexandra School.
May 23—St. James' vs. Lakefield United, at Lakefield.

In games in which Lakefield United are playing, umpires will be supplied by Lakefield United and the league executive. In other games the two city teams not playing must each supply an umpire.

At the close of the second half, the two leading teams will play a two out of three series for the junior championship shield now held by St. James'.

Juvenile Section—"A" Series.

May 8—Trinity vs Knox, at Queen Mary School.
May 9—St. Andrew's vs. George Street, at Queen Alexandra School.
May 15—Trinity vs. St. Andrew's, at Queen Mary School.
May 17—Knox vs. George Street, at Queen Alexandra School.
May 22—George Street vs. Trinity, at Queen Mary School.
May 25—St. Andrew's vs. Knox, at Queen Mary School.

Juvenile Section—"B" Series.

May 10—St. Paul's vs. St. John's, at Queen Mary School.
May 14—St. James' vs. Murray Street, at Queen Mary School.
May 17—St. Paul's vs. St. James', at King Edward School.
May 18—St. John's vs. Murray Street, at Queen Mary School.
May 23—Murray Street vs. St. Paul's, at Queen Mary School.
May 23—St. John's vs. St. James', at King Edward School.

At the close of the second-half schedule, the two leading teams in each series will enter the playoffs for the championship shield won in 1933 by Knox. In each series the two teams not playing must supply the umpires for these juvenile games.

Bantam Section—"A" Series.

May 9—St. John's vs. Trinity, at Queen Mary School.
May 10—St. James' vs. George Street, at Queen Mary School.
May 14—Park Street vs. St. John's at Queen Mary School.
May 14—Trinity vs. St. James', at King Edward School.
May 17—George Street vs. Park Street, at King Edward School.
May 17—St. James' vs. St. John's, at Queen Mary School.
May 21—Park Street vs. St. James' at King Edward School.
May 22—Trinity vs. George Street, at Queen Mary School.
May 22—George Street vs. St. John's, at Queen Mary School.
May 23—Trinity vs. Park Street, at King Edward School.

"B" Series.

May 8—Mark Street vs. St. Paul's, at Queen Mary School.
May 11—Knox vs. All Saints', at Queen Mary School.
May 14—Knox vs. Mark Street, at Quaker diamond.
May 15—St. Paul's vs. All Saints', at Queen Mary School.
May 18—Mark Street vs. All Saints', at Queen Mary School.
May 23—St. Paul's vs. Knox, at Queen Mary School.

At the close of the second half, the two leading teams in each of "A" and "B" series will enter the playoffs. The teams playing in this Bantam section supply their own umpires. This is the second year of this section, St. James' winning last year.

All games postponed will be played before the second half of that section begins. Games are all called for 6 p.m. In each of these games the second team is the home team.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse, Soccer Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

And so we have summer. A whole week of it now, and more coming up. Being fooled repeatedly by the weather's caprice, we waited all week to see if it would snow or the temperature dive toward the cellar floor. But no, looks like we can lay in our supply of sunburn lotion. The fishermen are going about lying as they never did before of the whoppers they caught or nearly caught. Ball managers are yipping about how their teams will have that old pennant in their hip pockets without half trying. Golfers are disappearing daily into the wilds. Drugstores report a boom in salves and liniments. And there is no rest for ye sportswriter. And so we have summer.

• • • • • • •

Sometimes the dice roll seven. We mean on the first roll, and not when your point is six. And it appears as if the bones are behaving nicely for the East Peterborough Baseball Leaguers. Looked like no dice at all for this loop at first, but the galloping dominoes, after a bit of rubbing and coaxing, are getting hot now. And the signs are pointing to at least three squads in this smart intermediate circuit, with maybe a fourth—all local ones, too. The latest good news is that the Foster brothers, Len and Darcy, hope to have a team again in the E.P.I. Both told us yesterday they expected to, but wouldn't be positive for a day or two.

• • • • • • •

And now if Bob Abbott would revive his Raybestos team all would be joy and bliss. C.G.E. and Cogs would step back in quickly enough if assured of a four-team loop. Raybestos had an ultra-nifty outfit in four years ago but stepped out and turned over players and equipment to help get the senior club going again. 'Twas a gallant gesture. And it would be quite a thing too if this team would organise again and help keep the E.P.I. alive. Players are available, some of their equipment is still around, and Raybestos could easily line up another strong contender for intermediate honors. We hope they think it over, and four teams are represented at the next loop meeting. Incidentally, we'd suggest an amendment or something regarding that rule of allowing only one player to transfer from one team to another in the E.P.I. in a year.

• • • • • • •

Manager Lefty Sturgeon is certanly lining up a softball machine that looks strong on paper. They don't pay off on paper profits, but nevertheless the team that knocks off the Brintons this year will cop the title—or else we're screwier than usual. The heat gets you making predictions right and left these days. Brintons this year are pretty well made up of last year's champ Sugar Bowl squad, and this is about how they will line up: Catchers, Pat Calladine and Harg Dugan; pitchers, Sturgeon, Currie, Naish, Simmons and Abbott; infield, Smith, Bradshaw, G. Dormer and H. Dormer; outfield, Playford, Weir, Williamson and Webb. Maybe a few more, but this looks like the team.

• • • • • • •

The opening of the Men's City Softball League schedule has been pushed forward two days in order to have the schedule and city playoffs completed in time to go into the O.A.S.A. playdowns. That means that the first game will be on Wednesday, May 16th, instead of two days later. Just a week and a half away. Another thing in connection with this loop is the offer of a trophy to the most valuable player in the circuit, the executive to decide this. Dave Cowan is putting the cup up for annual competition in this regard. Standing about fifteen inches high, the silver trophy is a neat one—the same, incidentally, that was offered for competition in the Indoor Softball League a couple of years ago. Since that loop ceased to function, the donor decided the cup should be put to other use.

• • • • • • •

Public School Softball League swung into action on three fronts yesterday. King Edward beat Central, 14-11, in a pretty fair game; Queen Mary swamped King George, 15-1, in a poor tilt; and Prince of Wales took a 23-19 nod over Queen Alex in a so-so tussle. The kids found the big ball and the new rules tough to get onto in these first games, with some sloppy fielding and dumb base-running resulting. But they will improve in a week's time. F. Scates and H. Dormer did the umpiring in the King Edward-Central game and dished up some colorful officiating in Big League style that had the hundreds of kid spectators highly entertained. When Monsieur Scates tore across the diamond and went to one knee, bringing his arm around with a swoop to point accusingly at a kid and roar: "Yer out!"—there wouldn't be a murmur of dissent! Games Monday are: Queen Mary at Central, Queen Alex at King George, and Prince of Wales at King Edward.

• • • • • • •

Church Softball League—by golly, we're handing the softballers plenty of space these days!—schedule appears in today's paper, except the senior section which is open till Monday. George St. and Mark of this section meet Thursday at Nicholls' Oval, with Trinity and Knox tangling at King Edward Park the next night. The loop has 26 teams in now. The games are drawn so as not to conflict with other leagues. Most of the games are slated for Queen Mary school, but teams may use any suitable diamond closer to home in home games. Anyone can play in the City Loop two games before losing their Church League standing. Expenses approved at last night's executive meeting were: Two bucks for score-cards, $5.20 for a juvenile shield, $2.50 for engraving and $1.50 for secretarial expenses. Opening ceremonies will mark the first games.

• • • • • • •

A Canadian Press bulletin stated this morning: "W. M. Tackaberry sportswriter for the Toronto Mail and Empire, and Assistant Secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association for many years, died suddenly early today. He had left work just a few hours before." The news will be received with regret by a great many around here. 'Tack'—as he was known widely—was not only a popular writer around Toronto, and a very valuable members of the O.H.A., but he was a swell fellow personally. And he took a personal interest in any town that went in for sports at all, especially hockey. Local hockey officials got lots of breaks from him, and could always look for a square deal in schedules, referees and playoffs. 'Tack' did as much, if not more, secretarial work on the O.H.A. than Secretary Bill Hewitt. He will be missed a great deal.

• • • • • • •

Sport-hash: Fashion-Craft men softballers will practise at Central at 5.45 next Tuesday and Friday evenings . . . . City Baseball League meets in Duffus' Tuesday at eight bells, and several new entries are expected at this time . . . . Too bad the E.P.I. meeting is the same evening as there are men interested in organising both circuits . . . . Three Toronto senior lacrosse teams have grouped up with Orillia—yet they thought Peterborough was too far to come! . . . . There ought to be some action around here soon by the big lacrossers as they're holding up plans for organizing a City Lacrosse League . . . . Lefty Grisdale will be one of the Fashion-Craft hurlers, we hear . . . . Various local loops, baseball, softball and lacrosse, are very slow about organizing this season, but will get squared away eventually.

Repeat ENTERTAINMENT

STARTING TODAY
Continues
MONDAY — TUESDAY
Mat. 2.30; Nights 7 and 9 o'clock

GUN-PLAY AND GANG-PLAY
A fearless gunner of the open spaces clashes with modern gangsters and shows them new tricks about their own racket.

FOX FILM presents
ZANE GREY'S
The LAST TRAIL
with
George O'BRIEN
CLAIRE TREVOR
EL BRENDEL
LUCILLE LA VERNE
Screen play by Stuart Anthony
Directed by James Tinling

PERILS OF PAULINE THE INVENTORS

Studebaker Driven 15,000 Miles In 15 Days In City For Brief Stay With Local Dealer

After a run from Ottawa, Bob MacKenzie driving a Studebaker Dictator St. Regis sedan, pulled up in front of the office of Charles Elliott, local Studebaker dealer at half past two yesterday afternoon, and after a brief stay continued on to Lindsay en route to Hamilton where he was scheduled to arrive last night.

On Friday, April 13, the car driven by MacKenzie, started out from Toronto on a "fifteen thousand miles in fifteen days" endurance run designed to demonstrate the stability and stamina of the Studebaker cars.

Despite the inauspicious significance commonly applied to the Friday of any month, when it happens to fall on the thirteenth, the run was successfully completed. The sturdy Special Dictator has never "missed a beat" and MacKenzie and his relief driver have kept a foot everlastingly on the throttle, so that when MacKenzie arrived here yesterday his sealed speedometer recorded 17,824 miles.

In the 17,824 miles that had been "clocked" on the speedometer at the time of the car's arrival here, and which have been run off under every imaginable kind of weather condition since April 13 last, it is interesting to note that the oil in the car has only been changed four times, while the automobile has not been greased since leaving the factory at the commencement of the trial.

British American gasoline; Autolene oil and Goodyear tires have been used by the car throughout the run.

After MacKenzie had turned his log book over for Mr. Elliott to record the exact time of his arrival here, the driver of the car who is an experienced race track driver, intimated there is a possibility he may enter a Studebaker Canadian-built car in the Indianapolis races this year or next.

HORSES UNHURT STABLES BURN

Explosion of Oil Stove Destroys Two Barns at Louisville, Kentucky.

80 IN BUILDINGS.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Two stables were destroyed last night by fire at Chuchill Downs where approximately 1,000 thoroughbreds are housed, including the 19 entries for to-day's Kentucky Derby, but all the racers escaped the flames. The fire started after an oil stove had exploded.

Approximately 80 horses were in the two buildings destroyed, including Higward, J. W. Parrish's long shot entry for the Derby. All were led safely over to the track and the infield with the assistance of several of the first spectators to arrive.

The buildings of wooden construction and containing hay, burned rapidly. The flames leaped so high they could be seen in Louisville several miles away and four alarms were turned in.

Major Leaders

(By The Associated Press)
(Including yesterday's games).

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting: Berger, Braves .397; Ott, Giants, and Suhr, Pirates .392.
Runs: Vaughan, Pirates 16; Klein, Cubs, 15.
Runs batted in: Klein, Cubs, and Medwick, Cardinals, 17.
Hits: Berger, Braves; Moore, Giants; and Leslie, Dodgers, 23.
Doubles: Ryan, Giants, 7; English, Cubs, and Berger Braves, 6.
Triples: Suhr Pirates, and W. Herman, Cubs, 3.
Home runs: Ott, Giants, and Klein, Clubs, 6.
Stolen bases: Frey, Dodgers, 3; Rothrock and Martin Cardinals; Piet, Reds, and Chiosza, Phillies 2.
Pitching: Bush, Cubs, 5-0; Walker, Cardinals, and Lucas, Pirates 2-0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting: Reynolds Redsox .436; Vosmik, Indians .435.
Runs: Morgan, Redsox, 14; Vosmik, Indians 13.
Runs batted in: Reynolds, Redsox, 17; R. Johnson, Redsox, and Foxx, Athletics, 16.
Hits: Reynolds, Redsox, 24; Werber Redsox 23.
Doubles: Werber, Redsox, 8; Greenberg, Tigers, Knockerbocker and Averill Indians, 7.
Triples: Manush, Senators, 3; Chapman, Yankees, R. Johnson and Reynolds, Red Sox; Higgins, Athletics, and Campbell, Browns, 2.
Home runs: Ruth, Yankees; Foxx Athletics; and Bonura, Whitesox, 4.
Stolen bases: Walker, Tigers 7; Gehrig, Yankees 4.
Pitching: Ruffing and Gomez, Yankees Thomas, Senators; and Hildebrand, Indians, 3-0.

Queen Alex. Defeated 23-19 In First Game

In a free-hitting and rather loosely played opening game of the Public School Softball League yesterday afternoon at the Prince of Wales' grounds, the homesters earned a 23-19 verdict over Queen Alex. It was a ding-dong battle with the issue pretty much a toss-up till the final out. Some wild base-running, hard clouts and muffed throws contributed to the high score. The teams appeared fairly well-matched and showed possibilities of smart play with more practice. A large crowd of young rooters kept up plenty of noise as the runs came scampering across.

The batteries:
Prince of Wales — A. Jay and McIlmoyle.
Queen Alex—H. Galley and Metcalfe.

TORONTO MAIL SPORT SCRIBE WRITES "3 0" IN SCOREBOOK

W. M. Tackaberry Dies Shortly After Helping Put Morning Paper "to Bed."

WELL KNOWN FIGURE.

TORONTO, May 5 (C.P.).—W. M. Tackaberry, sports writer for the Mail and Empire, assistant secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association, and friend of thousands of sportsmen and sports writers in Canada and the United States, died early today, just a few hours after he had helped put his paper to "bed."

"Tack's" desk was still cluttered this morning—just as it always was. An old blue-handled paste-brush stood in the mug which Tack prized so greatly. Old cuts were piled on one corner of the table. A few baseball results and standings were still lying there.

Hundreds of young sportsmen, starting out on the path of athletic glory, had been helped by "Tack." To those who knew Tack—to those men who had been on assignments with him; who sat beside him at baseball, rugby, hockey and countless other games Tack was rated a real sportsman.

His "byline" was familiar the country over. So was his work with the Ontario Hockey Association, of which he proudly boasted, "It's the greatest hockey organization in the world."

Prominent Figure.

Tack had been prominent in sport circles since he played lacrosse and rugby. Born in Kemptville, he moved to Ottawa when a young man, and began his newspaper career with the Ottawa Journal. Later he moved to Toronto to join the sports staff of the Daily Star, under W. A. Hewitt, who was then sports editor. In Toronto he played for the crack St. Simons lacrosse team which toured the eastern United States as Canadian representatives and also played rugby with Eurekas.

Thirteen years ago Tack left the Star to join the Mail and Empire. When Hewitt became secretary of the O.H.A., Tack was appointed as his assistant, a post he held for many years. During that time he has appointed officials for most of the hockey games throughout Ontario, and in addition was one of the ace referees on the O.H.A. staff.

Several times he accompanied the Toronto baseball team on its southern training trips in the spring. He was a familiar figure behind the third-base line at Maple Leaf Stadium, where, score-book in hand, he could be seen in a box behind third base every day the team was at home.

He is survived by his widow, one son, John, and a daughter, Gertrude, both University of Toronto students.

FREDDY MILLER HOLDS FEATHER RING TITLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.— (A. P.)—The National Boxing Association's world featherweight championship crown was still perched to-day on the head of Freddy Miller of Cincinnati, as Kentucky's first legal world championship prize fight was a matter of history.

Before a crowd of Kentucky Derby fans, Miller retained his title last night by knocking out Paul Dazzo of Chicago in the sixth round of a scheduled 15-round fight.

Miller, weighing 134½ pounds, carried the fight to Dazzo from start to finish, winding it up with a terrific left to the chin that put the Chicagoan down for the count. Dazzo weighed 134¾ pounds.

KENILWORTH RACE STRIP OPENS TO-DAY

Five King's Plate Eligibles Listed in Entries at Border City.

WINDSOR, May 5 (CP)—King's Plate atmosphere prevailed at Kenilworth Jockey Club track this afternoon with no less than five eligibles for Canada's historic turf classic slated to face the barrier in the Ontario Handicap. This Canadian-bred event at seven furlongs will carry a purse of $1,000 to top the first day's program of the seven-day Spring meeting.

Gaffing from the Mayfair stables, E. F. Seagram's Irish Kid, Harry Hatch's Easter Hatter, Sweepstaff and Pensweep are the other 1934 King's Plate eligibles listed in the Ontario Handicap field. Also nominated for Kenilworth's opening features are W. C. Irvine's Battle Plane; Shady Well; Lady Marnock; Crofter. Shady Well from the Seagram Stables has been assigned top weight of 120 pounds, and this handicap star will likely be made the favorite at post time.

With the Beroni Stables came Mike Peters, sensational apprentice rider at Oaklawn track at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Peters was the leading rider at the Oaklawn meeting.

Among the riders here for the Kenilworth program are the following: J. Thomas, Tracy Vercher, C. Critchfield, F. Fellows, K. Horvath, T. Aimers, R. Moser, F. Madeley, P. Remillard, J. Burrill, J. Gwynne, Whitey Abel, D. Sorenson, N. Wall, G. Pruchnicki, F. Mann, N. Leblance, A. Yerrat, A. Snider, M. Held, J. McTague, H. Peden.

Spain may authorize its railways to raise rates 15 per cent.

Public telephone booths are to be installed in section houses of the London police department for unmarried officers who live in those quarters.

SENIOR VOLLEYBALL TESTS

TORONTO, May 5 (CP) — The Ontario senior volleyball championship will be decided to-day. Among the teams expected to compete will be London, Galt, St. Catharines, Brantford, Toronto Y.M.H.A., Central Y.M.C.A. "B" team, and Central's "Businessmen's" squad.

J. J. DUFFUS CO.
ANNOUNCES THE Official Closing of Their
BOWLING ARENA
TO-NIGHT

and express very sincere appreciation of the wonderful patronage enjoyed during the past season.

OUR THANKS are extended to The Examiner for its hearty co-operation; also to teams, captains, and all bowling organizations.

NEXT FALL we will re-open with equipment and facilities unsurpassed in so far as human ingenuity and financial requirements can provide.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Mrs. D. M. Smith,
283½ George St., City.

Your handwriting portrays versatility. In some instances this is a good characteristic, but in your particular case it seems to rob you of something definite. It is as though you make up your mind to do certain things, and then go off and accomplish other things, and leave the very task you had intended to do, undone. You are nervous, and do not seem at all strong, and no doubt these characteristics are responsible for your versatility. However, one who has reached your years of maturity, should be resting more as the years pass, instead of forcing the tired body to overwork. That very tall capital 'P' in the word Peterborough, shows that you have a very good imagination, but the following letters reveal a tendency to let all your excellent ideas 'slide' into discard. You are quite a kindhearted person, but will have to use better judgment if you wish to avoid people who will 'sponge' upon your good nature. Your birthsign is Scorpio the Scorpion. You number is nine. You are ruled by Mars, and this should create a fighting spirit in you. January and July are your best months. Tuesday your lucky day.

Ruth M. Spatt,
Campbellford, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis represents ingenuity and progressiveness. The firm pressure of the writing indicates that you are pleasant, friendly and straightforward. You detest secrecy, and do not understand why certain types of people must resort to fabrications, when the truth as you see it is preferable at all times. You are steady going and industrious, and do not seem to allow yourself to 'rush' into propositions, unless they are for the good of others who are less fortunate than yourself, then, I believe that you do hurry in order to be on time with your benevolence. Your capital letters show interest in artistic surroundings, nature study, music and all things that are pleasing and beautiful to the eye. Your "h" shows instructive ability. I have no doubt that you could be patient enough to show others how to do things which you have learned yourself, even if you had to school yourself with mighty concentration and will-power in order to learn them, because study does not seem to come very easily to you. I have told you all the good points which I see in your writing, hoping that you will try to make the most of them as you grow older, for your writing should change to a more upright portrayal from now on. As it is, it depicts youth, and a certain cramping of ideas and style. No doubt you will overcome these characteristics as you see the wisdom of doing only the work which is necessary, and doing it well, instead of as now, trying to do too many things at the same time. Even the characteristic of 'rushing' to do benevolent acts robs you of something in time (if you let yourself do it too often) and the chances are that your own lessons or work would be hastily accomplished, and not nearly as thoroughly as you ought to have done them. You ask for numbers, days, months and vocation, but did not tell me your birthdate so I shall be unable to give you anything but an outline on vocation as indicated in the writing. You appear to me to be about seventeen or eighteen and so from characteristics as illustrated in your writing I should suggest commercial training for you. Of course you may write again, and give me the dates which are necessary for horoscope and numerology if you wish, but please be sure to use your own name as above, and mention the date upon which the delineation appeared in print. You may ask personal questions regarding your ambition also. No pennames are being used, or names which do not bear correct address.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GUNEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, May 6

Sunday's horoscope is an excellent one for all affairs of church, state and all manner of philanthropic projects. The aspects for finances are excellent, with promotion, dignity and honors accompanying and assisting to the fruition of high hopes. Yet those in employment should be careful.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of excellent prospect of attaining the goal of high ambitions. Finances are under strong auspices as well as the promise of assistance, promotion or preferment of those in power and authority.

A child born on this day should be capable, ambitious and should win the support or favoritism of those able to confer honors, promotion and solid co-operation.

For Monday, May 7

The planetary configurations for this day hold testimony of some conflicting conditions, with many difficult situations to be composed, but at the same time there are signs of gain, progress and new opportunities either through unforseen change or through the secret manipulations of affairs with mergers, combines or secret societies, possibly through private understandings, subtle agreements, clever contracts or intrigues.

Those whose birthday it is may be given opportunity for progress, profit and a change of benefit despite tenacious obstacles, delays and disappointments to be combated. The gains will be through intrigue, shrewdness, secret agreement, subtlety in contracts or correspondence.

A child born on this day may be studious and serious-minded, but unusually clever in curious or unique expressions of art and literature.

Warsaw

Mrs. Albert Batten has moved into the rooms formerly occupied by Mrs. J. L. Kidd.

Mrs. Stevens was guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sargent while in the village.

Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, Mrs. J. A. and Mr. Fred Crowe from Warsaw, attended the temperance meeting in the Y.W.C.A., Peterborough.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cuffe, on Thursday, May 3rd, a daughter.

Mrs. Robert Moore is with her daughter, Mrs. Gallagher, who is quite ill.

Trent River

A large number of friends and neighbors ascembled at the home of Mrs. A. Wight, "Cedar Isle," on Tuesday night to shower Mr. and Mrs. H. Revoir and son Clayton with miscellaneous gifts to show in some tangible way their sympathy for the great loss they recently sustained from losing their entire household effects through fire destruction. There were upwards of seventy in attendance, including friends from Marmora, Havelock and Donegal and surrounding vicinity, as well as Trent River friends. The old time square dancing and round dancing was the enjoyment of the evening, with music supplied by Messrs. Joseph McNeely, Leonard Craddock and Fred Scott (violins) and Mrs. S. Rylott of Havelock (piano). Charlie Jones of Marmora, official caller for the square dances. Later in the evening John Ruttan called the assembly to order and spoke a few words regarding the purpose of the occasion. The gifts were untied by Mesdames Ross Pollock, John Ruttan and George Alley, while the names were read by Mrs. James Cook. The gifts were many and useful. Mr. Revoir expressed his appreciation on behalf of Mrs. Revoir and son Clayton, after which sandwiches, cake and tea was served. Dancing was resumed after and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carnrite returned Monday night from Chicago, after spending a few weeks during the illness and death of their son Dorwin.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davidson were Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoffman and family of Havelock, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Scott of Norwood Road.

Fear and Worry

Are Shortening Life

The sudden passing of so many men
Has startled many into thought,
Of what may have been the cause.
The more thorough the investigation
The more the attention centres on the nervous system.
Nerve force which should be available
To run the machinery of the body,
The heart, the lungs, the stomach and other vital organs,
Is consumed by intense emotions,
Such as fear, worry and anxiety.
Digestion fails and the action of the other organs
Is slowed down until you become
Sleepless, irritable and finally a victim
To failure of the most vital organs.
You can restore nerve force to the body
By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
Through the circulation of the blood
New vigor and energy is carried to every nook and corner of the body.

LAKEFIELD

Mr. P. J. McFadden of Peterborough, was in the village Wednesday.

Miss Betty Harvey of Queen's University, Kingston, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harvey.

Mr. James McCarthy of Hastings was in the village on Tuesday.

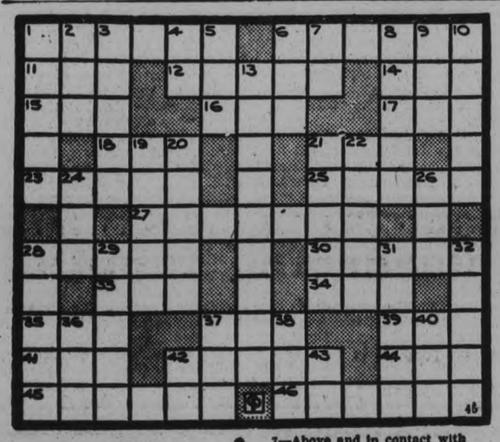
Household Drudgery

The Bane of a Woman's Life

MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

Nature intended women to be strong and healthy instead of weak and sickly, but how can a woman have good health when she has to go through the household drudgery without any relaxation. Is it any wonder she becomes nervous and irritable, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sinking and smothering sensations, and can't sleep at night.

Women who are weak and run down will find in Milburn's H. & N. Pills a remedy to strengthen the system and bring back the much desired health.



ACROSS

1—Used for correcting mistakes
6—Edible fruit
11—Decay
12—A man's name
14—A jutting rock
15—In debt
16—Plural of man
17—A tree cut down
18—Finish
21—A man's name
22—One or that which eases
25—An amorphous substance
27—One of certain musteline weasel-like carnivores
28—Arguments
30—Past participle of lean
32—Diminutive of Albert (pos.)
34—A rounded vase
35—Beast of burden
37—A color
38—A pinch
39—Digit of foot
42—Biblical character
44—A land measure
45—Literary compositions
46—One who tells a bell

DOWN

1—Eat away
2—Propel as a boat
3—A root used for a tonic
4—Erbium (symbol)
5—A male sheep
6—A weight
7—Above and in contact with
8—A volume of maps
9—In addition
10—A musical instrument
13—One sent with a message
19—An independent kingdom near Tibet
20—Refuse or impurity
21—The dwelling place of the dead (myth.)
23—A pasture (Shetland)
24—To be ill
26—A Greek poet
28—A dish
29—Rests or relieves pain
31—The record of a single year
33—A candle
36—Distress signal
37—In law a thing
38—A small mark
40—Wrath
42—A state (abbr.)
43—Thus

CAVAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simpson and son Bruce are visiting friends at Smith's Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey, of Oshawa, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Card recently.

Mr. Douglas White left on Wednesday to work on the C.P.R. at Manvers.

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

BRICK BRADFORD—In the City Beneath the Sea — By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

MUGGS McGINNIS — Horsesense? — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — Get It, Herman? — By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

SOMEONE WANTS WHAT YOU HAVE OR HAS WHAT YOU WANT! use this Classified Page

a For Sale—General

BUNDLES OF CLEAN PAPER, 5c each. Examiner Office. 6d-108-A

12" MIXED WOOD, $6 CORD. 12" Pine, $5 Cord. 'Phone 2097. 6d-107-5086A

PIANO, MASON & RISCH, LATEST model. Will sell cheap for cash. Write Box 1705, Examiner. 3d-107-1703A

BRAND NEW ELECTRIC WASHER, only used a few times. Cost One-Sixty-five. Heavy duty style. Bargain, terms. Apply 536 Patterson Street, Afternoon or Evening. 3d-107-1715A

REAL DRY BUNDLED KINDLING—25 Bundls for a Dollar; also Summer Wood, $1.75 Large Load. Kingdon Barrel Factory. 'Phone 3230. 3d-109-1778A

GASOLINE LAUNCH, 26-FT. LONG, 7-ft. beam, Ford Marine motor, searchlight and full equipment; splendid condition. Now at Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake. Price $150. W. J. Grant, 81 Quebec Avenue, Toronto. 3d-109-1774A

LOT AND HEN COOP. APPLY 308 Burnham. 'Phone 1078F. 3d-109-1766A

NINE-PIECE DINING-ROOM SUITE, Solid Walnut, and McClary Electric Stove (Cream and Green), nearly new; cheap. 690 Aylmer Street. 2d-108-1772A

THREE WHITE ANGORA RABBITS. Apply 239 Princess. 3d-109-1787A

LILIES, DAHLIAS, PERENNIAL Roots, Five for Quarter. Gladiolus cheap. 239 Princess. 3d-109-1786A

DRY MIXED WOOD, $2 LOAD. 'Phone 2409. 6d-112-1684A

IVA CORN HAS BROKEN HER Engagement with Mr. Foot since he is using Cress Corn Salve — on sale at all Peterborough Drug Stores. 1d-107-5180A

OIL STOVE, KITCHEN CHAIRS, Kitchen Table, zinc top, large Oak Rocker, Set Bowls, Iron Vise, Pick-axe, Jacks, Gasoline Tank. Phone 280J. 1d-107-1794A

EIGHT-PIECE SOLID OAK DINING-room Suite, also Cream Lloyd Stroller, $8. Wilton Rugs. Gentleman's Wheel $6; good condition. 51 River Road. 3d-109-1808A

a For Sale—General

ROTTEN MANURE AND TOP SOIL. 'Phone 2661. 30d-127-2436A

FULL MEASURE! QUARTER CORD Dry Mxied Wood, $1.50. 'Phone 58. 6d-107-1605A

IRISH COBBLER SEED POTATOES, $1.50 and $1.75 a Bag. Bruce Johnston, 'Phone 3658W. 4d-107-1662A

SWEET CLOVER AND TIMOTHY Seed. R. F. Wood. No. 2. Millbrook, Ont. 'Phone 206 ring 6, Millbrook. 4d-107-1646A

LOAD MIXED WOOD, $2. HARDwood, $2.50. Pulkinghorn. 'Phone 278. 41-107-1683A

MIXED WOOD, $2, 12". STEPHENson, 3576W. 6d-109-1694A

12-FT. PUNT, NEW, CHEAP. 'PHONE 3480. 3d-107-1710A

MEN AND YOUNG MEN — WE ARE Selling Clothes that you'll be proud to Wear: Suits $3.95 up, Spring Coats $2.50 up, Odd Coats $1 up, Pants $1 up, Vests 25c, Hats 50c. All kinds of Good Used Furniture, Cook Stoves, Gas Stoves, one Apartment size. Piano, very nice condition, $35. Ruskin's Aylmer Street (opposite Fire Hall). 2d-107-1741A

WHEN YOU BUY A GILSON SNOW Bird you buy the Best. Two brand new Electric Washers, used as rural Demonstrators; good as new; guaranteed. Big reduction, easy terms. Also have One Used Beatty, One Connor, One Bluebird Electric Washer. Above must be sold at some price. Apply Patterson Showroom, 261 George. Open Evenings. 'Phone 3707. 3d-107-1713A

DOLLAR LOADS — DRY SLABS. 'Phone 58. 12d-117-1724A

MAPLE LEAF LIQUID MALT MAKES the Finest Home-Brew you ever tasted. It's different—nothing to add, no boiling, no odor! Made in a Modern Sanitary Plant from Canadian-grown Barly and Selected Hops. Delivered to your home, with Fresh Brewers' Yeast. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded. 'Phone Steward 2480, before 6 p.m., or write P.O. Box 797. 2d-107-1732A

TWO REFRIGERATORS ONLY — 1 Genuine Leonard Porcelain lined, $35; One other $12; both household size. Sanitary Ice. 'Phone 3700. 2d-107-5157A

GOOD TOP SOIL. 'PHONE 3366. 3d-108-1748A

UPRIGHT PIANO, CHEAP. 'PHONE 2826F. 3d-108-1752A

BEAUTIFUL PLAIN UPRIGHT WILlis Piano reasonable for quick sale. 'Phone 2284. 2d-107-1746A

ICE-CREAM AND REFRESHING Drinks at Potvin's, 290 Charlotte Street. 3d-109-1798A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HEATED APARTMENT IN BANK OF Commerce Building. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street dtf-4177B

UPPER APARTMENT, MODERN, BALcony, 5 Rooms, Twenty Dollars. 'Phone 443W. 6d-104-1915B

HOUSE, NO. 249 WOLFE STREET. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-3682B

LOWER APARTMENT. APPLY 183 Lock. 3d-107-1697B

BEDROOM, WITH SUNROOM; Housekeping privileges; private. Write Box 1704, Examiner. 3d-107-1704B

BRIGHT ROOM, CENTRAL. 406 Sheridan. 3d-107-1711B

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, FULL plumbing, gas. 322 Mark Street. 3d-107-1709B

APARTMENT, WEST-END, HOT WAter heating. 'Phone 3825. 3d-107-1708B

CLEAN 3-ROOMED FURNISHED OR Unfurnished Flat, central; conveniences; reasonable, suitable for Couple. Box 1721, Examiner. 2d-107-1721B

NO. 358 HUNTER STREET WEST (Bungalow). Possession First June. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5109B

HOUSE, 408 BELMONT AVENUE (corner Belmont and Weller) Apply 437 George Street. dtf-3199B

HEATED APARTMENT IN GRAND Central Building. Possession arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-B

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURnished. 527 George Street. 6d-108-1641B

COSY! BRIGHT APARTMENT, LOWer Floor, full plumbing, beautiful verandah, residential; central; low rent. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 5d-107-1609B

CLEAN, WARM HOUSE. APPLY 345 Rubidge Street. 3d-109-1797B

HOUSE, 12 INVERLEA. POSSESSION immediately. Apply between 2 and 8 p.m. 3d-109-5186B

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 1232J. 6d-110-1716B

TWO FURNISHED ROOMS, 3-PIECE bath, 'phone, also garage. 666 Downie Street. 3d-107-164;B

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, FURNISHed. 516 Charlotte. 6d-110-5144B

SIX-ROOMED HOUSE, THREE-pice bath, central. Apply 374 Downie. 3d-108-1745B

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, UNfurnished. 106 McDonnel. 3d-109-1784B

BRIGHT, MODERN APARTMENT, Furnishd. Unfurnished. Bell Apartments, Hunter Street. 3d-109-1770B

SIX-ROOMED SOLID BRICK HOUSE, conveniences, central; garage, 162A Park Hill Road. 2d-108-1716B

FOR SALE OR RENT — HOUSE, AT Springville, with good garden. 'Phone 971 ring 4. 3d-109-1791B

c For Rent—General

STORE, NO 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immdiate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1397C

GARAGES TO RENT— CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

MODERN STORE, CENTRAL. BELL Apartments. 6d-112-1771C

STORE, 32 292 CHARLOTTE STREET 'Phone 2675. 3d-109-1799C

STORE, ON CHARLOTTE STREET, in Robinson Block. 'Phone 692. 3d-109-1805C

d Real Estate

FOR SALE — EAST ½ LOT 20, CONcession 3, Emily, 100 acres; good location. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street, Peterborough. dtf-4322D

IDEAL HOME ON THE INDIAN River, Warsaw, Seven-roomed House, soft and hard water, outbuildings, good garden grove, electric power available; school and churches. Price reasonable. Mrs. Thomas Rose, Route Eleven, Peterborough. 3d-21,26,5-1310D

FOR SALE — CASH DEAL: 7-ROOM House, all conveniences, large garden. Apply 219 Simcoe Street. 'Phone 1773W. 3d-108-1755D

FOR SALE OR RENT — 50 ACRES, good garden Land, one mile from Post Office; 7-Roomed House, large bank barn, hog pen, and hen house. Good terms to right customer. Immediate possession. Apply J. T. O'Connell, 134½ Hunter Street W. 1d-107-1795D

FOR SALE — AT ONCE, 6-ROOM House, with garage, in Peterborough: $3,000—$500 cash. Owner, 896 Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. 3d-5,8,9-5178D

FOR SALE — TWO FIRST-CLASS Mortgages, Thousand Dollars each, drawing 7% each, to close an Estate. Wanted, Small House to Buy, central; must be a bargain; pay all cash. Eight-Room House, Stewart Street, to Rent, all modern. Vacant June First. Eight-Room all-modern House, large Lot, Gilmour Street. Vacant now. P. Rutherford, 282 George Street. 1d-107-1747D

50-ACRE FARM FOR SALE OR RENT, 6 miles from Peterborough, on Warsaw Road; good buildings, running water. Immediate possession. Apply John Leahy, Route 9. 1d-107-1789D

MODERN HOUSE, ALL CONVENIences, Homewood Avenue. Write Box 1804, Examiner. 3d-109-1804D

e Summer Cottages

STONEY LAKE— NICELY FURNISHed Cottage to Rent for Season; Three Bedrooms, Screened Verandah, spring water, boat, firewood, handy to Stores. L. Hales, 82 Shanley Street, Toronto. 4d-1 3,4,5-1638E

NEW SUMMER COTTAGES, FURnished, Loon Lake, Apsley (two hours from Peterborough); bass and trout, sand bathing beach. Write early, Box 1539, Examiner. 6d-26,1,3,5,8,10-1539E

FOR SALE — STONEY LAKE ISland, 2 Acres, nicely wooded, beautiful spot; Furnished Cottage, boat house, wharf, skiff, ice-house filled; close to Crowe's. Bargain for cash. W. J. Grant, 81 Quebec Avenue, Toronto. 3d-109-1775E

THE F. L. ROY COTTAGES AT Chemong Park are for Rent, season only. Apply Fred L. Roy, The Roy Studio. 3d-109-5173E

f Boarders Wanted

BRIGHT, WELL FURNISHED FRONT Room, suitable for 2 Business Girls or Men; Board optional. Apply 473 Aylmer Street. 2d-107-1740F

ROOM, WITH OR WITHOUT BOARD. 'Phone 1597, or 467 Water Street. 3d-109-1796F

g Help Wanted, Male

WANTED — MAN OR BOY WITH Wheel. Apply 224 Perry. 3d-108-1720G

SALESMEN TO SELL FRIGIDAIRES, Electric Washers, Electric Ranges, and Radios. Real money in this for live wires. Write Box 5099, Examiner. 6d-1,3,5,8,10,12-5099G

HOW TO GET A GOVERNMENT Job. Free Booklet. The M.C.C. Ltd., Toronto (10). 4d-5,12,19,26-1801G

h Help Wanted, Female

MAID FOR HOUSEWORK. MRS. P. Gosselin, 531 Gilmour. 2d-107-1725H

WANTED — MAID FOR GENERAL Housework, sleep out preferred. Apply 409 Aylmer Street. 3d-108-1739H

GIRL OR MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN for Light Housework, for Small Bungalow; one who prefers a good home to big wages; no children. 502 Romaine Street. 1d-107-1777H

WOMEN WANTED TO SEW FOR US at Home. Sewing machine necessary. No selling. Ontario Neck-Wear Company, Dept. 116, Toronto (8). 4d-5,12,19,26-1451H

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS: MUST be experienced. Apply Elite. 'Phone 7. 3d-109-5182H

RUPTURED?

Our improved invention gives you perfect support and freedom without elastic, understraps or steel. Cannot slip. Light. Inexpensive. Write for information—
SMITH MANUFACTURING COMPANY
DEPT. 37 - PRESTON, ONT.
Established 1893.

i Radio

ROGERS RADIO — SEE THE NEW Car Radio at Patterson's Showrooms, 261 George Street. Also have One Late Model Used Set, in first-class condition; bargain terms. 3d-107-1714I

EXCHANGE.

WILL TRADE BRAND NEW RADIO or Electric Washer as whole or part payment on Good Used Car, balance cash. Write Box 1707, Examiner. 3d-107-1707

j Employment Wanted

PAINTING, PAPERHANGING, AND Kalsomining. Reasonable Rates. 'Phone 939. 3d-107-1590J

WOMAN WANTS WORK, SMALL family, town only. 352 Park Hill Road. 3d-108-1736J

CAR WASHING BY EXPERIENCED Man. Satisfaction on all jobs. $1.00. Cars may be left at Corner Service Station, S.E. Corner Aylmer and Charlotte Streets, or 'Phone 806, and they will be called for. M. Williamson. 3d-108-1742J

PAINTING, PAPERING, AND GRAINing. George Hawke, 1546. 2d-108-1758J

l Agents Wanted

SELL EVERY HOUSE, CITY OR Country, 100% All-Canadian Line of Food Products, Medicines, Insecticides, Toilet Preparations, etc. Cash proposition. $26 will buy your first assortment. 90% commission. No risk. Money refunded if not qualified. Territory reserved. Big co-operation. Very attractive catalogue and advertising over Radio. Write immediately without obligation, The Familex Products Company, 370 St. Clement Street, Montreal. 12d-5,8,12,15,19,22,26,29,2,5,9,12-5172L

m Lost

G.M.A.C. RECEIPT BOOK. PLEASE return 390 Mark Stret. 3d-108-1762M

ON FRIDAY, GREY KITTEN. PHONE Capitol Theatre, 1720. 3d-109-5187M

ON FRIDAY MORNING, YELLOW Pekinese, answers to name of "Tony." Liberal reward. 565 George Street. 'Phone 576. 1d-107-1779M

DROP EARRING, ONYX, SET WITH Brilliants. Finder leave at Examiner. 3d-109-1768M

RACK OFF TRUCK, ON THE NORwood Road. Finder please 'Phone 773W. 3d-109-1793M

o Live Stock

CLYDE STALLION. APPLY W. J. Grant, Chemong Road. 3d-107-1686O

p Poultry

200 BRED-TO-LAY BARRED ROCK Chicks, Hatched April 30. 'Phone 995 ring 5. 3d-107-5125P

MASTER FEEDS— CHICK STARTER and Grower, are the best to buy. J. A. Feir, 88 Aylmer. 1191W. 3d-107-5143P

34 BARRED ROCK PULLETS. 'Phone 3133W. 3d-109-5176P

BRAY STOCK HAS EXTRAORDINary Vigor and Stamina. Judge from the following. J. Leslie, Georgetown, reports flock of 132 Bray Pullets averaged 23 eggs per bird last December, 20 in January, 15½ in February — 58½ eggs per bird last December, 20 in January. Still laying heavily. Chicks from such stock naturally live and grow better than average. Prices reasonable. Write for complete information. Bray Chick Hatchery, 45 Clayburn Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont. 4d-30,2,5-5074P

q Wanted

WANTED — LIVE POULTRY, PAY good price. 'Phone M. Florence, 3573J. 26d-112-993Q

ALL KINDS OF RAGS, RUBBERS, Copper, Brass, Iron, etc. Highest cash prices. D. Florence, 342 Stewart Street. 'Phone 694W. 30d-126-4967Q

WANTED — CEDAR LOGS AND Shingle Bolts by The Alfred McDonald Lumber Company. 3d-107-5126Q

WANTED— TO BUY, GARAGE THAT can be easily moved; must be reasonable. Write Box 1685, Examiner. 3d-107-1685Q

WANTED — TO RENT, MODERN 6-Roomed House, with garage; adults only; June 1. State rent. Write Box 1754, Examiner. 2d-107-1754Q

SPOT CASH PAID FOR YOUR CAR. 261 George Street. 3d-107-1719Q

REFRIGERATOR AND MEDIUM-sized Cook Stove. 'Phone 2083W. 3d-108-1726Q

WANTED — TO BUY, SET OF LAdies' Golf Clubs, Left, also Right-hand Set, and Set of Right-hand Gent.'s. Write Box 1736, Examiner. 3d-108-1738Q

WANTED — USED WHEELBARROW, in good condition, reasonable. 'Phone 3722M. 3d-107-5141Q

WANTED — OLD GOLD. HIGHEST price paid. Phillips' Dental Laboratory, 408½ George (opposite Lech's). 6d-112-5161Q

WANTED — TO BORROW ONE Thousand Dollars First Mortgage State terms. 896 Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. 3d-5,8,9-5179Q

or Coupe preferred; must be in good condition. Write Box 1802, Examiner. 3d-109-1802Q

WANTED— SMALL HOUSE, TO BUY, and Pay for like Rent, or would Rent with garden. Would like by May 12. Write Box 1806, Examiner. 1d-107-1806Q

SMALL HOUSE, ADULT FAMILY OF Three. Central or South preferred. Lrite Box 1807, Examiner. 2d-108-1807Q

WANTED—2 OR 3 ROOMED APARTment or Flat, reasonable; Business Couple. Write Box 3432, Examiner 2d-108-3432Q

SEEK TO SECURE FORECLOSURE OF $500 MORTGAGE

Judgment is Reserved in Case Against the Bank of Toronto.

MORTGAGE ACTION.

Executors of LeBrun Estate Bring Action Against Stephen Murphy.

Judgment was reserved yesterday by Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy in Supreme Court in the suit of Mrs. Georgena Spears, now of this city but formerly of Yorktown, Saskatchewan, against the Bank of Toronto in her claim for $7,000, consisting of a mortgage and payments and accrued interest from 1922. His Lordship explained that he would probably withhold his verdict in the case until results of an appeal on a very similar case now before the Privy Council are made known.

The court adjourned at 3.30 yesterday until 1 o'clock Tuesday when hearing will be started in the mortgage action in which Josiah Jones, retired Manvers Township farmer, is suing Melville Jones, executor of the estate of the late Robert Jones, and Arthur A. Jubb, of Toronto. This case was adjourned at the request of W. F. Huycke, newly-appointed counsel for the defendant, Jubb, and in the meantime examination for discovery of the interested parties will be taken. J. W. Stevenson is counsel for the plaintiff.

Some evidence was taken yesterday afternoon in mortgage action brought against Stephen J. Murphy, Ashburnham blacksmith, by Marie Louise LeBrun and John Corkery, executors of the late Honore LeBrun's estate.

Case Outlined

In outlining the case to His Lordship, F. D. Kerr, K.C., counsel for the plaintiffs, said it would be shown that monies were advanced by the LeBrun estate to Mr. Murphy as a loan and that he as security gave a mortgage on his blacksmith shop. The interest on the mortgage is in default, the payments on the principal are in default and the insurance is in default. The action is to secure a foreclosure of the mortgage.

In the defence, W. J. Arthur Fair, counsel for Mr. Murphy, said, evidence would be presented to show that his client does not appear in the mortgage and did not receive any monies from the loan or any benefits from it.

John Corkery, former postmaster here and an executor and trustee of the LeBrun estate, said his son J. R. Corkery is and has been for years solicitor for the estate and has had full authority to invest monies for the estate. He testified that he knew of the existence of the Murphy mortgage, executed by Margaret E. Murphy on property in the city. Under cross-examination, Mr. Corkery said he did not know the defendant, Stephen Murphy, and had had no business dealings with him.

W. F. Morrow, county registrar of deeds, produced a deed, dated January 23, 1931, in which Margaret E. Murphy deeded property to Stephen E. Murphy with J. R. Corkery as trustee.

J. R. Corkery, barrister and solicitor of the city, said he had been acting as solicitor of the LeBrun estate for 15 years. During the time the executors of the will have let him handle all financial responsibilities in connection with the estate and its investments.

Held By Sister-in-Law

On January 23, 1931, he testified that Stephen E. Murphy came to his office and sought a loan of $200, explaining that he would give a mortgage on his blacksmith shop as security. Mr. Murphy showed witness a deed to the property bearing the name of Margaret E. Murphy and explained that she was his sister-in-law, and that he had had the property put in her name because his wife had been in an asylum and he did not want any difficulties if he ever came to sell the property.

Mr. Corkery said he searched the title of the property during the next several days and prepared a new deed for it, in order that Mr. Murphy might hold it in his own name and have no difficulty in transferring it later. He prepared papers for the loan and the mortgage of $500 and Mr. Murphy in company with Mrs. Margaret E. Murphy came to his office together and discussed the whole transaction, which was fully explained to them. The loan was to be $500 at 7 per cent per annum for three years. All details and papers regarding the loan, the new deed, and mortgage were executed and signed.

At this point the court adjourned.

r Personal

HAPPINESS CAN BE YOURS—SEND Birthdate with Stamp for Free Trial Reading. Prof. Raphael. Box 94, Grand Central Station, New York. 6d-26,5,12,19,26,2,9,16-1434R

PRIVATE HOME KINDERGARTENS Pay. We start you. The Canadian Kindergarten Institute, Toronto (10). 4d-5,12,19,26-1800R

s Used Cars for Sale

FOR SALE—STAR TOURING, CHEAP. Apply 421 Water. 3d-107-1700S

FOR SALE — TWO-WHEEL TRAILer. Apply 690 Mark Street. 3d-108-1761S

PONTIAC COUPE, GOOD CONDItoin, rumble seat, for Sale, reasonable. Telephone 1826J. 3d-109-1790S

1926 STAR TOURING, MECHANICally perfect. Real good tires. Will take best offer. 111 Crescent Street. 1d-107-1765S

t General Notice

RIDING SCHOOL NOW OPEN. AT Exhibition Grounds. S. Bishop. 3d-108-1750T

LANDSCAPE GARDENER — NOW doing Landscape Work in Peterborough, Wants Gardn to take care of for the Summer. E. Jessen, P. O. Box 796, Peterborough (Agent for Brookdale Nurseries, Bowmanville). 4d-108-1661T

CAR FOR ALBERTA — ROOM FOR Two, Fare and Expenses. Write Box 1780, Examiner. 3d-109-1780T

LEARN SHORTHAND BY CORREspondence — Write for First Free Lesson. Lane's Business Courses, Department P, 19 Moss Park, Toronto. 1d-107-1783T

PLOUGHING. ED. LYNCH, 2831J. 6d-112-1773T

HAVE YOUR CHESTERFIELD OR Rugs Cleaned by the new Electrolux Vacuum Cleaner: 3 Pieces 75c, Rugs 25c, Demothing $1.00 'Phone 3207J Evenings. 3d-109-1767T

v Situations Vacant

LADIES WANT TO DO LIGHT SEWing at home; good pay; work sent charges paid. National Manufacturing Co., Dept. 43, Montreal. 5d-28,5,20,2 16,3C-5055V

w Pet Stock

COCKER SPANIEL PUP (MALE), 5 months old. Write Box 1614, Examiner. 3d-107-1614W

FOR SALE — BOSTON TERRIER Pups (Male). Apply 266 King. 3d-109-1785W

See us for GOODYEAR Lawn Hose and Your Gardening Supplies

KINGAN HARDWARE, 167 Simcoe. Phone 2300
McCLENNAN HARDWARE, 232 Charlotte. Phone 16
A. E. MICKS, 212 Hunter. Phone 423

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

All Persons having any CLAIMS against JOHN HARPER, late of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Esquire, who died on or about the 8th Day of February, 1934, are hereby required to send their names and addresses and full particulars of their Claims duly verified by Affidavit to the undersigned Solicitors for George W. Lundy and Ernest Sutherland, Executors of the Will of the said Deceased, on or before the Tenth Day of May, 1934, after which last mentioned date the said Executors will proceed to distribute the Assets of the Estate among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims of which they shall then have had notice.

DATED at Peterborough, this 7th Day of April, 1934.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY,
415 Water Street, Peterborough,
Solicitors for the said Executors.
5d-7,14,21,28,5-4728

By-law Enacted In '16 Governs Grocerymen

Enacted eighteen years ago, a city by-law has been unearthed from the archives at city hall, governing the seven o'clock closing of grocery stores within the city. It is to be enforced.

At a meeting of the retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening, the grocery men in particular clamoured for enforcement of the early closing by-law enacted in more recent years. Subsequently it was found that the by-law they sought to have enforced, and which was enacted in 1929, covered all sections of the retail trade, but their own.

That was the situation when The Examiner was discussing the matter on the street yesterday morning, but since that time, the 18-year-old by-law which specially mentions the grocerymen, has been brought to light, and is to be enforced.

City Clerk S. R. Armstrong, stated, "the by-law enacted in 1916 is still in effect."

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS.
HALL & CARLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephone: Office No. 88, R. B. Hall, K.C., residence No. 608. T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 3088.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND, K.C., M.P.P. — Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public. Peterborough. 'Phone 191. Money to Loan. 378 Water Street.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors, and Notaries. Office: 415 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1950. R. A. Peck, M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

GORDON & ELLIOTT — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries. Patents and Trade Marks. Money to Loan. Telephone 3300 — Hon. G. H. Gordon, K.C., Alexander L. Elliott. Toronto Telephone Number Elgin 2321 Office: 410 Saturday Night Build-

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE STREET - PHONE 40

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN CO.
ESTABLISHED 1885

3% ON DEPOSITS

Interest paid or added half yearly, 30 June and 31 December, in each year. Every facility is afforded to Depositors both in depositing and withdrawing their money.

For sums of $100 and upwards this company's debentures afford a safe and profitable investment. Further information in regard to which will be gladly furnished upon request.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

W. G. MORROW,
Managing Director.

Office Hours:
9 a.m. to 4 p.m.
Open Saturday's until 5 p.m.

? CLEAN UP PAINT UP GIVE SOME MAN A JOB MAY 5 to 12

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK - - By R. J. Scott

MISS EVA HIGGINS, PRESIDENT LAKEFIELD JUNIOR INSTITUTE

All Committees Are Appointed at Annual Election of Officers.

YEAR'S REPORTS GIVEN.

LAKEFIELD, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence)—The annual meeting of the Junior Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon with a fair attendance present. Mrs. A. Davis, president of the W.I. was in the chair for the election of officers. Those elected were:

President, Miss Eva Higgins; 1st vice-president, Miss Marjorie Frankish; 2nd vice-president, Miss Muriel Bullock; secretary-treasurer, Miss Ethel Blakeley; district director, Miss Dorothy Tully; directors, Misses Marjorie and Irene Frankish and Mrs. G. Bullock (nee Ida Heard).

Auditors, Misses Bertha Mahood and Winnifred Roseborough.

Delegates to Guelph Conference, Misses Winifred Roseborough and Ethel Blakeley. Convenors of standinb committees.—Flower committee, Miss Edna Huggin; Agricultural, Miss Muriel Bullock; Relief, Miss Edna Higgins; Home Economics, Miss Marjorie Frankish; Health, Miss Marjorie Mahood; Press, Miss Ethel Blakeley.

Reports of last year's activities showed that a great deal had been accomplished and while the membership was not yet at all as large as it should be, nevertheless the field has been extended and the girls are interested in the work and are looking forward to a large field and increased activities. Several plans for making money were discussed, but decision was left over til the next meeting.

A hearty vote of thanks was conveyed to Miss Davis for her assistance.

FRIENDS HONOR CARMEL COUPLE

Over Eighty Gather to Present Mr. and Mrs. L. Olan Miscellaneous Shower.

DANCING FOLLOWS.

MILLBROOK, May 5.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A very pleasant surprise was prepared for Mr. and Mrs. Luther Olan, Carmel, on Wednesday evening when over eighty of their friends and neighbors gathered at the farm homestead to present them with a miscellaneous shower, as a token of the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held in the community.

Kindly greeting was extended to the self-invited guests by Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Olan, the groom's parents, as well as by the guests of honor for the evening, social converse and cards being enjoyed until the supper hour. Following the abundant meal served, Jas. Godfrey read an appreciative address, and large container, daintily trimmed in pink and white, and filled with many-shaped parcels being brought in by Mrs. Percy Elgar, Mrs. Delbert Olan, and Austin Warr, the committee in charge for the happy occasion, and placed before the bride and groom.

The pleasant task of opening the parcels and reading the messages of good-will on the enclosed cards, was proceeded with after Mr. Olan, on behalf of his wife and himself, had briefly expressed their gratitude for the surprise gifts. Mr. George Patterson, father of the bride (Edith Patterson) formerly of Peterborough, and Mr. B. L. Olan, the groom's father, also made addresses, and all joined heartily in singing, "For they are jolly good fellows."

Dancing, with music supplied by Walter Challice and others, and cards for those who preferred this form of entertainment, completed and enjoyable occasion.

GOOD PROGRAM LAKEFIELD SOCIAL

Baptist Y. P. S. Entertains Sister Society of St. Andrew's Church.

LAKEFIELD, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Baptist Young People's Society entertained the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in the schoolroom of the church on Tuesday evening. There was a splendid attendance which filled the room and an excellent program which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present. The program was put on by the visiting society and the Baptist Young People served dainty refreshments at the close.

Mr. T. J. Gruetzner, president of the B.Y.P.U., gave the address of welcome and Mr. T. W. Chaplin, president of St. Andrew's Y.P.S., was chairman. A highlight of the program was the song, "The Old Spinning Wheel," with a real old spinning wheel, a pretty girl (Mary Davis) in a quaint costume, and the entire scene in candlelight. Mrs. Chaplin gave a reading and there were musical numbers including an organ solo by Lulu Smith and a duet by Jean Clark and Virginia Shearer, and a solo by Billy Clark.

The evening was a memorable one and was thoroughly enjoyed by guests and hosts alike, as they fraternized socially over a cup of tea at the close of the evening.

W. A. Meeting

The W.A. of St. John's Church sent away their bale to Blackfoot School, Gleichen, Alta, containing the entire outfit for an Indian child and a number of other useful articles also. Last week a large bale was sent to the white settlers of Western Canada. The branch has had an excellent year's work and has made a splendid contribution to the work of the Diocesan organization. All the pledges have been fully met and a generous contribution made to the Restoration Fund and also to the parochial work.

C.W.L. Euchre

Eight tables of euchre were played at the euchre party held on Monday evening under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League at the home of Mrs. M. Allen, Queen street.

Prizes were won by Mrs. E. Arbour and Mr. Martin Sullivan, and the consolation prizes by Mrs. Arthurs and by Mr. Jack Coughlin.

A very joly evening was spent, and refreshments served.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S. held their regular meeting on Monday evening, with the program having a strong missionary flavor.

Mrs. J. M. Simpson was the leader and prefaced the program with a short talk on missions. The topic, "The Life of David Livingstone' 'was ably presented by Mrs. A. H. Clark, whose admiration and regard for that great hero of Africa inspired her paper which was especially fine.

Other numbers on the program were: Piano duet, Lulu and Douglas Smith; duet, Mary Davis and Jean Clark; reading, Mrs. Shearer; piano solo, Mary Blewett; reading, Roger Davis; song, Billy Clark; piano solo, Lulu Smith.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

CAN'T YOU ENDURE "ROUTINE"

I said to myself: "This business of doing the same thing day after day is very troublesome, very difficult. It is unnatural, it is against the good laws of nature. This is no way for people to be living and I sympathize with that fellow who went to pieces because he grew so sick of lacing up his shoes each morning....On such a day a man should be out-of-doors somewhere, loafing and enjoying himself and delightful spring—and not sitting before a typewriter and puting old words together."

And in that mood of dissatisfaction I opened a book, instead of going to work, and read a paragraph that was written by Professor William Lyon Phelps about Robert Louis Stevenson. This is it:

"He never wrote mechanically. The reason why out of so many aspirants so few attain unmistakable success is because only a few have sufficient energy to last day in, day out, year after year. The novelty of any undertaking will keep most men and women brisk for a month or so; then routine, which has destroyed so many hopeful beginners, changes vigor into mediocrity, and the mediocrity into incompetence. The clerk in the bookstore gazes at the customer with lack-luster eye, as if he almost resented being disturbed by a visitor; the professor gets through the classroom hour as though his little body were a-weary of his great world; the clergyman reads the prayers like Poll Parrot.

"But the deadly dullness of mechanical performances, so characteristic of the majority of the children of men, changes into newness of life those happy mortals who rise above the crowd. The clerk greets the customer eagerly, knowing he is to bring together two forces—an author and a reader; the professor strives to make each recitation an event in the lives of his pupils; the clergyman reads the scriptures as though he had just received it from Almighty God and was giving the audience news of transcended importance."

Robert Louis Stevenson began each book as though it were a glorious adventure. And the beloved Professor "Billy" Phelps opens each classroom hour with a rich secret brimming on his lips. And any man with a smack of pride in him, a fragment of joyous energy, a trace of faith, will be ashamed of himself when he reads these paragraps by William Lyon Phelps.

Wave Lengths

Station	Metres	Kilocycles
CKNC Toronto	291	1030
CFCF Montreal ...	291	600
CROC Ottawa	...	880
CFRB Toronto	434	690
CKAC Montreal ...	411	730
CRCT Toronto	312	960
CKCL Toronto	517	580
CKLW Windsor ...	555.6	540
CHNC Toronto	357	840
CKCO Ottawa	...	1010
KDKA Pittsburg ..	306	980
KMOX St Louis ..	275	1090
WABC New York ..	349	860
WTIC Hartford ..	382.8	1060
WGR Buffalo	545	550
WBBM Chicago ...	389	770
WBEN Buffalo	333	900
WEAF New York ..	454	660
WGY Schenectady.	379	790
WKBW Buffalo ...	202	1480
WJZ New York ...	394	760
WJR Detroit	400	750
WLW Cincinnati ..	428	700
WMAQ Chicago ...	447	670
WTAM Cleveland ..	280	1070

CLASSIFIED ADS are as useful as the day is long.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A GREAT BRITISH ARMADA

On this date, in 1758, there sailed from England, one of the mightiest fleets that ever sailed the seas. It was under the command of Admiral Edward Boscawen and was bound for the attack on Louisbourg. Composed of 23 ships of war, 18 frigates and fire ships and a number of transports it had no equal in British history until that other great armada which sailed, in a reverse direction from Gaspe Basin in the fall of 1914.

Boscawen's plans were well laid. It is narrated that his flagship arrived at Halifax on the very date fixed by him before he left Portsmouth and that so excellent was the navigation that never during the whole passage did any ship of the fleet get out of touch with the flagship, a hard thing to do even in modern days, but remarkable at a time when range finding and signalling was so primitive as then.

No time was lost at Halifax, for Boscawen arrived at Louisbourg on June 1; the naval siege began at once; but fog and stormy seas prevented the army landing until the 8th, when, navy and army working with clocklike precision the troops were landed, Amherst being in charge of the military operations. The Indian scouts of the French were active spies, but as soon as they saw the Highlanders, "the savages without breeches" they called them, they went back to the French line and decided not to venture out again.

It was the 19th before the real attack upon Louisbourg began, with James Wolfe directing the main bombardment. For just a week the siege lasted; then the French capitulated and the greatest fortress in the world fell as a result of combined team work by the navy and army. Neither arm of the service can claim the major share of the credit; the soldiers fought magnificently, but they had to have the support of the navy both on land and sea. Britain then, as now, ruled the seas. Boscawen's fleet was the mainspring of the victory.

SATURDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION:

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony. 10—Variety 11—Instru. Trio. 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

(DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

4.30 P.M.
15—CRCT—Lady Next Door.
11—WJZ—Mary Macs.
1—CFRB—Russian Gypsy Orch.

5.00 P.M.
14—CRCT—Kaltenmeyer's Kindergarten.
12—CFRB—Oxford-Cambridge Debate.

5.30 P.M.
11—CRCT—Platt and Nierman.
12—WEAF—Economers in the New Deal.

5.45 P.M.
4—CFRB—Tito Guizar.

6.00 P.M.
15—CFRB—Ragansky's Ensemble.
8—CRCT—Indian Serenader.
10—WJZ—Al Pearce and His Gang

6.15 P.M.
15—WABC—Rip Lasher.
12—CFRB—The Mining Broadcaster.

6.30 P.M.
11MWEAF—Himber's Ensemble.
12—WJZ—Ivory Stamp Club.
12—WABC—Frederick Wile.

6.45 P.M.
12—CRCT—Flying with Al. Williams.
5—CFRB—Kentucky Derby.

7.00 P.M.
8—WEAF—Baseball Resume.
12—CRCT—Community Welfare Talk

7.15 P.M.
12—WEAF—Dr Stanley High.

7.30 P.M.
1—WJZ—Don Bestor's Orch.
15—CFRB—The Green Room.
3-11-CRCT—News and Musicale.
10—WABC—Thelma Goodwin and Paul Keast.

7.45 P.M.
1—CFRB—Isham Jones' Orch
15—WEAF—Jules Landi.

8.00 P.M.
2—CKNC—The Cotter's Saturday Night.
10—CRCT—Teddy Bergman and Stearn's Orch.
10—CFRB—Morton Downey.
3—CKNC—News of the Week.
12—WJZ—Art in America.

8.15 P.M.
8—WJZ—The Bavarian Peasant Band.

8.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Hands Across the Border
8—WEAF—Nite Dream Hour.

9.00 P.M.
3—CRCT—Events of the Week.
1-4-WJZ—De Marco Sisters and Stern's Orch.
1—CFRB—Ferdie Mowry's Orch.
10—WEAF—House Party.
1-4-WABC—Grete Stenckgold and Andre Kostelanetz.

9.30 P.M.
15—CFRB—Roy Helton, "Looking at Life."

7.30 P.M.
7—WEAF—Beatrice Fairfax.
1—WJZ—Eddie Duchin's Orch.

10.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
12—WABC—Byrd Broadcast.
10—CRCT—Acadian Serenade.
10—WEAF—Terraplane Travelcade.
10—WJZ—Behind the Scenes.

10.30 P.M.
10—WEAF—To be announced.
1—WJZ—Barn Dance.
1—CRCT—George Wade's Cornhuskers.
3-10-CFRB—News and Peter the Great.

11.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Sylvia Froos.
1—WEAF—Eric Madriguera's Orch.
4—CRCT—Charles Dornberger's Orch. (CRC).

11.30 P.M.
6—WEAF—One Man's Family.
1—WJZ—Brito's Orch.
3-1-CRCT—News and Little Jack Little's Orch.

12 MIDNIGHT
12—CRCT—The Northern Messenger.
1—WJZ—Jack Denny's Orch.
10—WEAF—Carefree Carnival
1—CFRB—Ted Fiorito's Orch.

12.30 A.M.
1—WJZ—Vincent Lopez' Orch.
1—CFRB—Gus Arnheim's Orch.

SUNDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

(DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

10.00 A.M.
4—WJZ—Southern Airs.
12—WABC—Church of the Air.
12—WEAF—Dr. S. Parker Cadman.

10.30 A.M.
11—CFRB—Melody Parade.
10—WJZ—Sanovar Serenade.
10—WEAF—The Garden of To-morrow.

11.00 A.M.
12—CKNC—Bloor Street United.
15—WBEN—Trinity Episcopal Services.

11.30 A.M.
4—WJZ—Poet Prince.
12—CRCT—St Michael's High Mass.

12.15 P.M.
4—CFRB—Salt Lake Tabernacle Choir.
15—WJZ—Baby Rose Marie.
11—WEAF—Gordon String Quartette.

12.30 P.M.
11—CFRB—Madison Ensemble (CRC).
9—WJZ—Radio City Concert Symphony.

1.00 P.M.
12—CFRB—Church of the Air.
10—WEAF—Road to Romany.

1.30 P.M.
2—WEAF—Surprise Party.
11—CFRB—Compinsky Trio.

2.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—South Sea Islanders (NBC).
4—CFRB—Edith Murray.

2.30 P.M.
2—CRCT—Concert Artists (NBC).
3—CFRB—Opera Gems.
11—WABC—Lazy Dan.

2.45 P.M.
6—WEAF—Grace Hays.
4—CFRB—Lyric Male Choir.

3.00 P.M.
12—CKNC—York Bible Class.
9—CFRB—Portland Symphony Orch.
10—WJZ—Bar X Days and Nights.

7—WEAF—Talkie Picture Time Sketch.

4.15 P.M.
4—WEAF—Lilian Buckman.
—CRCT—League for Social Reconstruction.

4.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Pedro Via's Orch
7—WJZ—Princess Pat Drama.

5.00 P.M.
12—WEAF—John B. Kennedy.
12—CFRB—Library Shelf.
15—WJZ—National Vespers.

5.15 P.M.
11—CFRB—Maple Leaf Program.
1—WEAF—Waves of Romance.

5.30 P.M.
11—CRCT—L'Heure Exquise (NBC).
4—WABC—Crummit and Sanderson.
7—WJZ—"Grand Hotel."

5.45 P.M.
11—CFRB—Musical Divine from St. Thomas' Church.

6.00 P.M.
11—CRCT—Egon Petri.
15—WEAF—Catholic Hour.
15—WABC—Roses and Drums.

6.15 P.M.
12—CFRB—Harvey Hallatt.

6.30 P.M.
12—WABC—Smiling Ed. McConnell.
8—CFRB—World Review.
7—WJZ—Hill Billy Heart Throbs.

7.00 P.M.
12—CFRB—Jarvis Baptist Service.
10—WEAF—Sonata Recital.
12—CKNC—Yorkminster Church
12—CRCT—St. Stephen's Church.
4—WABC—Hampton Institute Choir.
10—WJZ—Charlie Previn's Orch.

7.30 P.M.
4—WABC—Nick Lucas.
6—WJZ—Joe Penner Comedy.

7.45 P.M.
12—WABC—Rin-Tin-Tin Thriller.

8.00 P.M.
6-2-CRCT—Rubinoff and Jimmie Durant.
10—WABC—Freddie Rich Entertains.
10—WJZ—Kaleidoscope to (CRC).

8.30 P.M.
10—CFRB—California Melodies.

9.00 P.M.
10—WJZ—George M. Cohan and Revelers' Quartette
8—CRCT—Imperial Grenadiers (CRC).
10—WABC—Family Theatre.
10—WEAF—Manhattan Merry-Go-Round.

9.30 P.M.
1—WABC—Fred Waring's Orch., Ford Program, CFRB.
2—CRCT—Album of Familiar Music.
3—WJZ—Walter Winchell.

10.00 P.M.
12—CFRB—British-Israel Federation
4—CRCT—Madame Schumann-Heink.
6—WEAF—Victor Young's Orch.
10—CFCM—Within the Abbey (CRC).

10.30 P.M.
12—CRCT—New Hall of Fame Program.
10—CFRB—45 Minutes in Hollywood.

11.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Canadian Capers.
15—WJZ—International Tit-bits.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume.

11.15 P.M.
11—WJZ—Annio Bolognini, 'cellist.

11.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Little Jack Little's Orch.
3-10-CRCT—Press and Atlantic Nocturne (CRC).
1—WJZ—Phil Harris' Orch.

12 MIDNIGHT
1—WJZ—Jimmy Lanceford's Orch.
1—WABC—Red Nicholas' Orch.

GANDHI IN CRASH

CALCUTTA, May 5 (A.P.)—The Mahatma Gandhi's traditional good luck stayed with him yesterday and he escaped, unhurt, when the automobile in which he was travelling with friends from Ranchi toward Jamshedpi smashed against a milestone, the car was wrecked.

MRS. C. MACOUN GUEST SPEAKER

Addressed Ladies' Aid at Trent River Meeting.

RECEIPTS WERE $14.60

TRENT RIVER, May 5. — Ideal weather conditions favored the Ladies Aid "afternoon" Wednesday when Mrs. Thomas J. Brown opened her home for the occasion. There were over seventy ladies in attendance.

The first part of the afternoon was taken up with a short session of the Aid regular meeting, with the president, Mrs. Gordon Shearer in charge. Hymns, "Jesus Keep Me Near the Cross," and "What a Fellowship," were sung followed by the Lord's Prayer in concert. Scripture reading from Psalm 19 was read responsively, led by Mrs. Shearer. The deaconess, Mrs. H. R. Wood gave a report of the cards sent to the sick. The president, Mrs. Shearer, spoke a few words regarding Mrs. H. R. Woods birthday on April 4th, and asked for a hearty clap of hands in her honor. The members voted to hold further meetings in the church dining hall when afternoon tea would be served. Miss B. French was appointed to arrange for the program. A number of members paid their annual dues. The program was as follows: Piano duet, "Robin's Return," the Misses Margaret and Helen Brown. Mrs. Charles Macoun of West Seymour was then called upon to give an address, her subject being "The Ideal Woman, past, present and future." Mrs. Macoun is an eloquent speaker and gave several amusing illustrations, particularly among the Indian Race, where she spent some time near the Indian reserves in different parts of Ontario. Vocal duet "There's an Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor," by the Misses Reta Longmuir and FiedaThompson.

Mrs. George Brooks, President of the Women's Institute spoke briefly on behalf of the Institute asking the hearty co-operation of those present to attend the Institute meeting in June when a summer speaker from the department would be here, and Mrs. Brooks also thanked the members of the Aid for the use of the church dining hall for the event.

Vocal solo, "When Mother Prayed," by Mrs. Thomas W. Brown (West Seymour.) Miss B. French played the piano accompaniments for the afternoon. The members gave a hearty vote of appreciation to Mrs. Brown for the use of her home for the event.

Members of the United Church congregation donated articles useful and fancy, which were sold from a fancy decorated booth. Miss B. French was appointed auctioneer, Mrs. Thos. K. Thompson as clerk; everything offered was readily disposed of, realizing $6.75. Dainty refreshments, consisting of tea, sandwiches, cake, baked beans, salads and jellies, were served, for which the small fee of ten cents was charged, and together with the sale of articles $14.60 was added to the Aid treasury.

Marmora Tories Elect Delegates

MARMORA, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—A meeting of the Marmora Liberal-Conservative Association was held in the White Hall on Thursday evening with a fair attendance. The object of the meeting was to elect delegates for the West Hastings Conservative Convention which is being held in Marmora on May 11th.

The president, R. E. Bonter, occupied the chair and explained that the local association was entitled to seven delegates, to include the president.

The following six were duly elected: J. E. Jones, G. Wellman, A. T. Neal, W. A. Sanderson, W. R. Linn and G. B. Airhart.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

MAY 5, 1924

The total of the tax roll for North Monaghan last year was $30396.54, it was shown at the Council meeting last night....With work opening very slowly around town this spring, a large number of men remain unemployed at present.

MAY 5, 1914

At the Police Commission meeting here yesterday, P. C. Phimister's resignation was accepted, H. D. Lawrence was named constable, and Mrs. (Adjt.) McElhiney was appointed police matron .... The Board of Works is deliberating the request of Barrie's new store for permission to place a goods elevator in the sidewalk on George street.

MAY 5, 1904

A fine new rubber-tired hearse with two large silver lamps in front has been delivered to Messrs. Lane and Eano, Hunter street undertakers....With so many men coming to work in Peterborough lately from cutside places, the problem is to find enough boarding houses.

Prepared medicines exported from France last year weighed 10,2000 tons.

MONDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12 NOON.
12—WABC—Voice of Experience.
11—WJZ—Musical Varieties.

3.00 P.M.
1—CRCT—Radio Guild.
4—WEAF—Bill Whitley, baritone.
11—CFRB—Oahu Serenaders.

3.15 P.M.
7—WEAF—The Wise Man.
11—CFRB—Rhythm Kings (CBS).

4.45 P.M.
14—WEAF—The Lady Next Door.
11—CRCT—Concert Favorites (NBC).

5.00 P.M.
12—WJZ—Your Health
15—CFRB—The Dictators.

5.15 P.M.
4—WJZ—Jackie Heller.

5.30 P.M.
14—WJZ—Singing Lady.
12—CFRB—Travel Talk.
14—WEAF—Frank Merrivell's Adventures

5.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Gordon, Dave and Sunny.
4—WEAF—Margaret West

6.00 P.M.
4—CRCT—Indian Serenader
4—WJZ—Irene Beasley.
3—CFRB—Dick Steele, Boy Reporter.
12—WABC—Buck Rogers

6.15 P.M.
7—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim
3—CFRB—Fred Hotson.
8—WJZ—Army Band

6.30 P.M.
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports
7—WEAF—Grandmother's Trunk.

6.45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
10—WABC—Dixie Circus.
10—CFRB—Crazy Water Crystals.
11—WEAF—Gould and Shefter.

7.00 P.M.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume.

7.15 P.M.
6—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen.
4—WJZ—Baby Rose Marie.

7.30 P.M.
1—WJZ—George Gershwin's Orch.
4-6-WEAF—Shirley Howard and the Jesters.
10—CFRB—Canadian Goodrich Program and Luigi Romanelli.
3-10-CRCT—Canadian Press News and Musicale.

7.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Boake Carter.
4—WJZ—Mario Cozzi.
6—WBEN—The Goldbergs

8.00 P.M.
10—CFRB—Mary Eastman and Evan Evans (CBS).
1—CRCT—Charles Dornberger's Orch
10—WEAF—Socony-land Sketch

8.15 P.M.
8—WABC—Edwin C. Hill
15—CFRB—Repertory Theatre of Air.

8.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Voice of Firestone.
15—CFRB—Musical Highway
4—WABC—Bing Crosby and Hayton's Orch.
10—WJZ—Grace Hayes.

8.45 P.M.
15—CKCL—Flying Pinaers.
12—WJZ—Babe Ruth Baseball Comment.

9.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Hawaiibound.
1-4-WEAF—Sterling's Gypsies.
10—WABC—Rose Ponselle and Andre Kostelanetz Orch.
—WJZ—Greater Minstrels.

9.15 P.M.
11—WGR—Piano Twins.
1—CFRB—Ferde Mowry and Orch.

9.30 P.M.
11—CRCT—Conservatory String Quartette.
2—WABC—The Big Show.
10—WEAF—Captain Dobbs' "Ship of Joy."
11—WJZ—Melody Moments

10.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Duart McLean's Orch.
1—WABC—Wayne King's Orch.
4—CRCT—Gene Arnold and Male Quartette.
9—WJZ—Symphony Orch.

10.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Melody Lane (CRC).
10—CFRB—Pompeian Program

10.45 P.M.
4—WJZ—Siberian Singers.
1—WGR—Aubee's Mountaineers.

11.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Call of the North (CRC).
1—WJZ—Emil Coleman's Orch
3-4-WEAF—Press and Mary Courtland.
4—WABC—"Fats" Waller.

11.15 P.M.
1—WEAF—Dan Russo's Orch.
4—WJZ—Poet Prince.

11.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Billy Siesett's Orch and News.
1—CFRB—Charlie Davis' Orch. (CBS)
1—WEAF—Clyde Lucas' Orch.
1—WABC—Charlie Davis' Orch.

12 MIDNIGHT.
1—WJZ—Reggie Childs' Orch.
1—WEAF—Jack Berger's Orch.

C.D.S. Monday Specials!

ON SALE AT 2 P.M. SHARP!

Girls' Print Dresses
A shipment of dainty new styles in cotton prints with short sleeves, V necklines, white cotton pique collars, button trim, patent leatherette belts and 2-inch hems. Polka dots, florals and plaids. Sizes 8 to 14. 2 P.M. Special, each..... 69c
—2nd Floor, C.D.S

Women's Print Blouses
A good value in smart Cotton Print Blouses in fancy checks and plaid designs, with high necklines and short puff sleeves. Colors: red, blue, green and brown. Sizes 32 to 40. 2 P.M. Special, each..... 89c
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

SPECIAL OFFER IN Flor-Glo Floor Wax
5-lb. Pails
Each 69c
—Basement, C.D.S.

Vests and Bloomers
Of rayon striped cotton. Small, medium and large sizes. A real value. 2 P.M. Special, each 25c
—2nd Floor, C.D.S

Drapery Remnants
Nets, Chintzes, Damasks and Shadow Cloths in the lot. Be early for best selection. 2 P.M. Special, each 5c to 1.25
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Crash Linen Cloths
Good quality Crash Cloths with mauve, blue and green borders. Ideal for cottage, camp or home. Size 54 x 54 inches. 2 P.M. Special, each.... 89c
—Main Floor, C.D.S

Men's Cotton Socks
A fine Summer Hose for dress or work wear. Of durable cotton yarns in plain shades or colored fancy patterns. Sizes 10 to 11½. 2 P.M. Special, pair..... 15c
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

PETERBOROUGH MARKET QUOTATIONS

RETAIL

Fruits

Oranges, 19c to 45c dozen; grapefruit 2-5 for 25c; bananas, 3 lbs 25; lemons, 19-25c doz.; cooking apples, 19c pk.; Spy apples, 20-35c pk.; McIntosh, 35c; Greenings and Talmon Sweets, 30 cents a peck; Russets, 25c peck; cooking figs, 3 pounds for 25 cents; cocoanuts 15 and 25 cents; pears, 5c each; watermelons, 20-30c each; grapes, 25-30c lb.; cranberries, 19c lb.; rhubarb, 10c bunch; strawberries, 19c pint; pineapples, 19-25c each.

Vegetables

Potatoes, 30-40c peck, $1.75-$2.00 bag; Spanish onions, 3 lbs., 25c; sweet potatoes, 2 pounds 19 cents; carrots, 40c peck; new carrots, 2 lbs. 15c; cabbage, 5-6c a pound; Savoy, 10c head; lettuce, 2 bun. 10c; head lettuce, 9c; iceberg, 10c a head; spinach, 3 pounds for 19c; mushrooms, 40 cents a pound; cucumbers, 15c each; cauliflower, 20-25c each; cooking onions, 10 lbs. 25c; green onions, 5 cents a bunch; parsley, 5c bunch; celery, 10-20c bunch, celery hearts, 9c a bunch; asparagus, 2 bunches 25c; peppers, 5c each; tomatoes, 12½-15c lb. (imported); 10c a pound (hothouse); vegetable marrow, 15c each; turnips, 3 for 10c; parsnips, 30c peck; water-cress, 5c bunch; new beans, 19c lb.; beets, 20c pk., new, 10c bu.; radishes, 7c bunch.

Nuts

Mixed, 19-23c lb.; shelled walnuts, 40c lb.; peanuts, 15c to 25c lb.; shelled almonds, 49c lb.; Valencia almonds, 48c pound; shelled pecans, 25c lb.; Brazil nuts, 19-21c lb.; Italian chestnuts, 25c lb.; California budded walnuts, 33c lb.; filberts, 45c lb.

Dairy Produce

Creamery butter, 23-27c pound; dairy butter 22c lb.; lard, 10-12c lb.; shortening, 9-11c lb.; eggs, 13-20c doz.; clover honey, 5-lb. pail 49c; golden honey, 5 lbs., 42 cents; amber honey, 39c 5-pound pail; comb honey, 15-35c each; cheese, 14-20c lb.

Fish

Salmon, 14 to 25c lb.; fresh and smoked fillets, 18-19c lb.; finan haddie, 2 lbs., 25c; whitefish, 15c lb.; salt and fresh sea herring, 3 lbs. 25 cents; haddock fillets, 13c lb.; mackerel, 10c lb.; pickerel, 14c lb.; kippers, 10c pair; trout, 17-21c lb.; whitefish, 20c lb.; oysters, 49c pint; smelts, 22c lb.; halibut, 25c lb.; kippers, 10c pair; ciscoes, 20c lb.

Meats

Beef, 5 to 25c lb.; veal, 5-20c lb.; lamb, 12-25c; pork, 7-25c lb.; sausage, 10 to 16c lb.; mutton, 12c lb.

Flour

Bread flour, 24-lb. bag, 59-85c; pastry flour, 55-71c; 98-lb. sack bread flour, $2.10-$2.90.

WHOLESALE

Grain

Fall wheat, 75c a bushel; spring wheat, 72c a bushel; oats, 40c; rye, 55c; barley, 50c; buckwheat, 50c; alsike, $6-$8 bushel; peas, 85c; red clover, $5.50-$7.50 a bushel.

Hay, Bran etc.

Hay, $10-$11 per ton; straw, $5-$6; bran, $18-$19; shorts, $20-$21 ton.

Hides and Wool

Cow hides 4-5c lb.; horse hides, $1.50 each; veal skin, 6c-7c lb.; lamb skins, 40-65c each.

Wool, fine coarse and medium, and rejects, 13-15c lb.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter and cheese prices continued to decline on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

Fresh No. 1 butter lost ¾c at 19c to 19¼c a pound, while to retailers solids and prints were off 1c at 21c and 22c a pound, respectively. Receipts were 312 boxes.

Ontario cheese dropped ¼c to ½c at 9½c to 10c a pound. Arrivals totalled 132 boxes.

Eggs were unchanged, fresh-graded shipments in cartons or less selling at 19c to 19½c for A-large, 18c to 18½c for A-medium, 17c to 17½c for B, and 15½c a dozen for C, with Western eggs ¾c about the maximum of the general prices. Receipts amounted to 2,947 boxes.

Potatoes were firm; Quebec, per 80-pound bag selling at 95c to $1; New Brunswick Mountains, per 80-pound bag, at $1 to $1.05; and Prince Edward Island Mountains at $1.25 to $1.30 per 90-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Prospective acute renewal of widespread drought danger to crops took the wheat market aloft 2½c a bushel yesterday, with little subsequent reaction.

Spring wheat States in particular received only slight moisture relief and the forecast pointed to rainless skies ahead for the Northwest. Weather experts said indications were that a showery period had ended and that moisture furnished was inadequate except in limited sections Southwest.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1½c to 1¾c about Thursday's finish; corn, ⅝c to ¾c up; oats, ½c to 1⅝c advanced, and provisions varying from 2c decline to an equal gain.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 5. — Importers took more than 100,000 bushels of Canadian wheat on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, boosting futures quotations up for net gains of 1¾c to 1¾c.

Much of the wheat was destined for Continental Europe. Good snow covering and strength in outside markets added impetus to the upturn, which lifted May wheat to 69c at the close. July option ended at 66¾c, and October at 68⅛c.

Offerings were on the light side and never exerted pressure on the market. Volume of trade through the pit was quite large.

Canadian mills and shippers took fair quantities of cash grains, with spreads on the active grades showing considerable improvement. The coarse grains prices mounted in sympathy with strength in wheat.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
May	.64⅞	.66⅛	.64¾	.66	.64⅞
July	.65⅞	.66⅞	.65¼	.66⅜	.65⅝
Oct.	.67⅝	.68⅝	.67¼	.68⅛	.67¼
Oats—
May	.31⅞	.32¾	.31⅝	.32¾	.31⅝
July	.32⅝	.34	.32⅝	.34	.32⅛
Oct.	.33½	.34⅝	.33⅛	.34½	.33⅝

LAD CHANGES PLEA

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 5 (C.P.) Walter Vaughan 15½ year old boy, who "confesses" to setting fire to the Aylmer Inn on April 16, where three lives were lost, changed his plea of guilty to one of not guilty yesterday when he appeared before Magistrate Maxwell.

He also made a statement, explaining his connection with the fire.

SUNDAY
CFRB—5.15 P.M.
CKPC
(Daylight Saving Time)
"MAPLE LEAF" Programme
ERNEST SEITZ, Pianist
DONALD HEINS' Orchestra
CANADA PACKERS LIMITED
Producers of "MAPLE LEAF" Hams and Bacon

INSULL CHICAGO-BOUND TO FIGHT HIS GREATEST BATTLE

PROBABILITIES.
Fresh to strong northerly winds; fair and cool. Tuesday—Moderate winds; fair and warm.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXII., No. 107 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, MONDAY, MAY 7, 1934 — PRICE THREE CENTS

OFFICER DIES, ST. THOMAS GUN BATTLE

SAMUEL INSULL RETURNS AFTER 2 YEARS' EXILE

Prisoner Seeks Not Only Freedom, But Complete Vindication.

ADMITS HE ERRED.

Underestimated Effect of Financial Panic Upon American Securities.

PRINCETON JUNCTION, N.J., May 7 (C.P.).— Samuel Insull was placed aboard a Chicago-bound train at 10.20 a.m. (E.D.T.) to-day. The train left the station almost immediately. He landed at Fort Hancock, N.J., at 8.15 a.m. (daylight time) to-day.

He was in the custody of Burton Y. Berry, third Secretary of the American Embassy at Istanbul, who brought him from Greece, and will be turned over to a United States marshal whes they arrive in Chicago.

Insull, his son and the officials occupied the last car of the train.

As they waited on the station platform, Samuel Insull, Jr., discussed the possibility of furnishing bail for his father at his arraignment in Chicago. The younger Insull said that if the amount was under $150,000 they could furnish it, but that if it amounted to more they would "have to see about it."

On the coast guard cutter Hudson, to which he was transferred from the steamer Exilona at Ambrose lightship at 6:47 a.m., daylight time, he issued the first statement discussing the charge against him in Chicago:

"I have erred, but my greatest error was in underestimating the effect of the financial panic on American securities, and particularly on the companies it was trying to build," his statement said.

He continued:

"I worked with all my energy to save those companies. I made mistakes—but they were honest mistakes. They were errors in judgment, but not dishonest manipulations."

"His opening remark in the statement was:

"I am here in America to make the most important fight of my life—not only for freedom, but for complete vindication."

His First Statement.

Before handing the statement to reporters, Insull told them:

"This is the first statement I've made on either side of the Atlantic in relation to my case. Anything else has been faked."

Insull was met at Ambrose Lightship by his son, Samuel Insull, Jr., and affectionately greeted by him on the Evilona. The two breakfasted together.

Arrangements for meeting the former utilities magnate were made by the State Department and were intended to be very secret.

However, when the transfer was made one aeroplane and two seaplanes soared overhead. Two tugs and two yachts manoeuvred about.

The coastguard cutter Hudson set out from the Battery, New York City, at 10 p.m., yesterday with newspapermen, State Department officials and Samuel Insull, Jr., aboard. It tied up at the public health station at Quarantine until 4

(Turn to Page Six) .. ....

Frankford Man Is Remanded To May 14

COBOURG, Ont., May 7.—(CP)—Ralph Kemp of Frankford, who pleaded guilty today to obtaining tires and tubes from a local garage by false pretences, was remanded until May 14 for sentence. Kemp was arrested and brought from Toronto Saturday morning by Chief Constable J. C. Ruse of Cobourg.

Kemp went into a local garage and obtained tires and tubes to the value of $31.00 representing that he had authority of Chief Constable Draper of Toronto to make the purchases. It was later learned that he had no such authority and he was arrested.

INJURED IN BUS ACCIDENT

FREMONT, O.—Mrs. Edith Eskilson, Livingston, Ont., suffered face cuts and bruises in a bus accident here yesterday that cost the lives of two passengers and injured 15 others.

The bus of Great Eastern Stages, Inc. collided with an electric baggage car. County and state authorities are probing the case. The bus was demolished.

Six Skeletons Dug Up Outside Old Ruins At Ft. Erie Believed Soldiers Slain 1812

FORT ERIE, May 7 (C.P.). — Excavation was stopped until such time as American Legion officials arrived late to-day at Fort Erie Beach, where workmen to-day found the skeletons of the bodies of a number of American soldiers who are believed to have lost their lives in the war of 1812.

The spot is adjacent to the ruins of the old Fort Erie. Buttons marked "Seventh Regiment" were taken to Buffalo this afternoon by Past Commander James Graham of Post 71, Canadian Legion, Fort Erie.

The skeletons are in a good state of preservation, the teeth being particularly well preserved. It is believed the spot where thy were discovered contains the bodies of at least six American soldiers.

MAJOR LABOR DISPUTES END SHOPS REOPEN

10,000 Men Go Back to Posts After Weeks of Striking in U. S.

AUTO PLANTS WORKING.

Coal Miners and Leather Workers Reach Satisfactory Terms.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—(C.P.)—A wholesale march of workers—out of the strike lines into the shops and mines—was ordered to-day as four major labor disputes were settled in the United States.

Automobile industry strikes at St. Louis and Kansas City, a leather workers' strike at Peabody, Mass., and a coal miners' strike at Vandergrift, Pa., ended, bringing more than 10,000 men back to their posts.

The strikes in the Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants at St. Louis and Leeds, Mo., Kanhas City suburb, were settled on identical proposals by Richard L. Byrd, Labor member of the National Automobile Board.

First more than 3,000 St. Louis workers—offered freedom from discrimination and re-employment of laid-off men—voted overwhelmingly yesterday to return to work today.

Then Byrd, flying to Kansas City, obtained a similar agreement there last night.

Get Extra Hour of Sleep

More than 500 miners of the Hicks Coal Company in Vandergrift turned back to the mines, victorious in their strike for work under standard rather than daylight time—for "another hour of cool early sleep."

Some 6,000 Massachusetts leather workers agreed to return to-day under a settlement, giving them virtually a closed shop. About 1,000 others still were out as their companies turned down or considered the proposal.

Pressure was applied in the strike of 2,000 cleveland gasoline station attendants.

Union difficulties brought a strike of 1,200 employees of the Wilson and Company packers of Cedar Rapids Iowa. The strike of longshoremen on the Gulf Port docks remained at a standstill.

Two Autos Collide Four Burn To Death

DETROIT, May 7 (A.P.).—Four persons were burned to death and two others were injured in an automobile collision at the northern city limits to-day.

The dead were identified as Belo Dovas, 27, a barber; his wife, Anna, 25; John Bertha, 23, an automobile worker, and his wife, Barbara, 18, all of Flint, Mich.

The victims were riding in an automobile which turned into Woodward Avenue and collided with another car driven by Lawrence Wolfe, 37, of Suburban Ferndale. Wolfe and his wife, Elma, 17, suffered minor injuries. After the collision the first car rolled over and burst into flames.

Your Evening Smile

TELL-TALE SIGNS

"Today's my wife's birthday," said the executive to his assistant "I want her to be very happy when I go home this evening. Can you suggest anything?"

"Yes, sir; I'd suggest you remove that lipstick from your ear."

A Surprise

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 7 (C.P.). — J. T. Jones entered the race for State office, and was surprised to read one account of it.

A Capitol political publication said:

"J. T. Jones is a candidate for Secretary of State, and if elected, will make an excellent State Treasurer."

U.S. MAKING DEAL WITH FINLAND

President Roosevelt Busy on Final War Debt Settlement Proposal.

OTHERS TO FOLLOW.

WASHINGTON, May 7 (A.P.).—Speaker Henry Rainey said to-day he understood President Roosevelt intends to make a war debt settlement with Finland, which is not in default, and then recommend a similar agreement with other nations.

Asked when he expects a debt message from the President, the Speaker said at his press conference that he did not know.

The intimation was that the settlement with Finland could be held up to the rest of the world as an indication of what the United States would do if other nations in default agreed to pay up to date.

President Roosevelt has said he intended to send a debt message to the United States Congress soon but no indication was given as to its contents.

The next installments on war debts are due June 15.

Negotiations with Finland have been in progress for some time. It is the only nation that has paid in full.

Britain Paying.

LONDON, May 7 (A.P.).—Great Britain plan to make another token payment in June or her war debts to the United States, but is hopeful that President Roosevek will submit a new plan for a final settlement of the question before then.

It was officially and emphatically denied to-day that there have been to the present any British proposals or any sort of diplomatic negotiations in reference to the matter.

Great Britain's total debt is $4,636,157,358, and the June 15 instalment is $85,670,765.

PATTULLO IN BROCKVILLE

BROCKVILLE.—Visiting relatives here after a series of conferences in Ottawa with members of the Dominion Ministry, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, spent part of the week-end making an unheralded inspection of Fort Wellington at Prescott.

PLANE CRASHES KILL 11 IN U. S. OVER WEEK-END

Five Machines Pile Up in Various Parts of the Country.

THREE WOMEN VICTIMS.

Worst Tragedy is at Houston, Tex., Where 4 Die in Night Flight.

NEW YORK, May 7. — (CP) — Week-end aeroplane wrecks left a death list of 11 in the United States.

A midnight flight at Houston, Tex. carried a woman and three men to their deaths. The bodies of Bob Glyn, 31, pilot; Miss Gladys Wood 20; Fred Burnett 23, and Leroy Grandy 22 were, found at Dawn Sunday in the wreckage of a private plane a mile from the airport from which they had taken off at 11 p.m. Saturday.

Two women—Miss Elva Carr and Mrs. Lottie Wright — found the wreckage after a frantic all-night search. Alarmed when the plane carrying their friends did not come back, the two set out to find it. Miss Carr and Mrs. Wright had expected to go up when the plane returned to the airport where they waited.

Victims Die In Flames

A woman and two men died in flames at a Fulton, N. Y., airport when their plane fell 300 feet and caught fire. The victims were Leon W. Holly of Fulton, owner and pilot of the plane; Miss Irene Clark 20, of Oswego, N.Y., and John Parsons 21, of Fairhaven, N.Y.

Lowell Markwith 39, Newark flier, and George J. Kuntz 24, a student pilot, were killed near Newmarket, N. J., when their shi p nose-dived into a marshy field after losing a wing in mid-air.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson 18, was drowned in San Francisco Bay when the plane piloted by Harold Christman 31, dropped into the water. Her husband and Christman were rescued by a launch.

W. A. George was injured fatally at Soda Springs, Idaho, in a take-off crash.

MERCILESS SUN DRIES PRAIRIES

No Relief in Sight for Drought Stricken Areas of United States.

FOREST FIRES BREAK.

CHICAGO, May 7—(AP)—A merciless sun, beating down on the parched prairies of the North Central states, gave no prospect of relief to the drought stricken areas of United States today. Only some moderation in the high temperatures of Sunday was predicted.

High temperatures ruled generally yesterday with the Central West taking the brunt of summer's preview. By midafternoon they had soared to 100 degrees at Sioux City, Iowa, breaking all records for May.

In Chicago the mercury jumped to 92.1, smashing the all-time heat record for May 6. The previous high was 86. One death was indirectly attributed to the heat.

Hot winds swept parts of Nebraska, adding to the drought peril. Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin and Minnesota remained rainless and moisture deficiency in Northern Illinois, reached 61 per cent since January 1.

Around Wausau, Wis. forest fires menaced the village of Mosinee-site of the Mosinee Paper mills. Seven families were made homeless.

Czechoslovakia is now served by five air transport lines.

Some Explaining

SALT LAKE CITY, May 7.—(C.P.)—When L. J. Tolman 20, "tells it to the Judge," he'll have a lot to tell about that automobile ride.

He was arrested, charged with these offenses:

1. Speeding.
2. Driving without a motor vehicle operator's license.
3. Leaving the cutout on his automobile open.
4. Passing a car on the wrong side.

CITY CAMPAIGN OF CLEANING-UP GETS UNDER WAY

Scores of Men Are Anxiously Waiting to Get Odd Jobs.

CONSIDERABLE PAINTING.

Many Jobs Are Under Way in Survey Made of the City.

The 'Clean-up; Paint-up; Give-a-Man-a-Job" campaign is in full swing to-day, as the most casual glance around the city will show.

Organized annually by the Peterough Chamber of Commerce with a view of stimulating concerted action on the part of the whole community in Spring cleaning the city, and providing much needed jobs for unemployed men, the effort is producing results.

At the City Relief office unemployed registration bureau, according to Art Metheral the results are not as gratifying as they might be. Scores of men on the unemployed register are anxiously hoping for some work even though it be of the most casual nature. So far only "two or three applications have been received" to quote Mr. Metheral. However it is but the first day of the campaign, and the men are still hoping.

A stroll down George street reveals many newly-painted store fronts, while out in the residential sections it is the rule rather than the exception these days to see gardeners busy with their Spring operations.

Plenty of Odd Jobs

There are hundreds of odd jobs at this time of the year that you could do yourself, but which could just as well be performed by some man who is in need of some support and encouragement. There is painting to be done, storm doors and windows to be removed, screen doors and windows to be put on, lawns to be raked and driveways to be resurfaced. Or, maybe the chimney and roof needs attention. It is more than probable that it does, in view of the severe weather of the past months.

No one can doubt, even after making superficial observation of the work that is being done in all

(Please turn to Page 5)

Woman Is Injured When Struck By Car

Mrs. D. Clark, 201 Stewart street, suffered injury to the ligaments of her left foot early Saturday evening when she was struck at the corner of Aylmer and Charlotte streets by a car driven by Clifton Carl, Fraserville. Mrs. Clarke was walking over the crossing and, according to police, became alarmed when several cars whizzed past her and she stepped back into the path of the car driven by Mr. Carl. Mr. Carl was making a left-hand turn off Charlotte street to proceed north on Aylmer street. Mrs. Clarke was removed to her home where Dr. D. W. Clarke attended her.

GREAT MAN HUNT ON IN DISTRICT FOR DESPERADO

Fugitive Wounds Second Policeman, Own Son During Melee.

FLEES TO BUSH—ARMED.

Shooting Starts as Police Arrive to Arrest Pair for Bicycle Thefts.

ST. THOMAS, Ont. May 7—(CP)—Constable Colin McGregor, wounded when he attempted to arrest Frank Temple, 50, today died in hospital this afternoon and police in all parts of Western Ontario swept into one of the greatest manhunts the district has ever seen in an effort to apprehend Temple, who is heavily armed. The same bullet which wounded McGregor also struck Fred Temple, son of the fugitive, in the neck, while Sergeant Sam McKeown was shot in the arm.

The shooting occurred when the police went to the Temple home to arrest Frank and Fred Temple on charges of bicycle theft dating back to last year. When McKeown grapged with Fred, who was armed with two guns, Frank Temple, who is 50 years old, suddenly opened fire from a woodshed, wounded the policemen and his son and then disappeared. He is believed to have taken to a nearby woods and police from London rushed to St. Thomas to assist local officers in their search.

McGregor sorely wounded, was rushed to hospital but internal bleeding from the wound in his abdomen continued until he died, four hours after the shooting.

Son Likely To Die

Little hope was held for the recovery of Fred Temple. The wound

(Please turn to Page 5)

KIDNAPPED GIRL REPORTED ALIVE

Deputy Expects Young Heiress to be Returned Inside 24 Hours.

MUM ABOUT CONTACT.

TUCSON, Ariz., May 7 (CP). — Returning from an extended trip into the State of Sonora, Soliver White, chief criminal deputy at Santa Cruz County at Nogales, Ariz., said to-day that June Robles, six-year-old kidnapped heiress, is alive and may be returned to her parents within 24 hours.

"I can state with a clear conscience that June Robles is still alive and probably will be returned within 24 hours," White said.

Beyond that he would make no statement, saying that authorities had agreed to "do nothing that might interfere with the safe return of the child."

Authorities said a man and a woman with a child of about the same age as the kidnapped heiress were seen crossing the international border at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday.

White was accompanied on the trip by a man he refused to identify. Coincident with his journey, Al Aguirre ,Tucson Bus Cofpany attache and the man who drove Bernabe Robles, cattle baron and the grandfather of the child, into Mexico a few days after the kidnapping on April 26, made another mysterious trip into Mexico over the week-end.

Special Police Sent To Kitchener Plant

KITCHENER, Ont., May 7 (C.P.). —Ten special officers brought in from Guelph and Galt helped city police discourage further rioting at the plant of the Lang Tanning Company early this morning. Only a few untoward occurrences marked the day.

Several workers were scragged by a crowd of irate women, wives of strikers for the most part. One man carrying his dinner pail was collared by two healthy amasons and was given a real beating before police rushed up and freed him. A lone egg lobbed from the hand of another woman missed its mark and splattered on the pavement.

"Republican Army" Fails to Blow Up War Memorial in the City of Armagh

ARMAGH, Northern Ireland, May 7 (CP)—An abortive attempt early to-day to blow up the Armagh City War Memorial was attributed to members of the "Irish Republican Army," who motored from the Irish Free State and sped back across the frontier after cutting telephone lines leading to the Free State.

It was recalled the Government at Ulster recently banned erection of a memorial at Carrichmore, Tyrone, to Irish Republican Army men who were killed in the uprising of 1916.

Armagh's citizenry were awakened by the explosion caused when one of two land-mines brought by the raiders exploded and partially wrecked the steps of the memorial. But the other failed to explode and the bronze figure of Peace was undamaged.

The bombers took the precaution while on the way to Armagh to waken a doctor and force him to stand by in case of injury to one of their number. As police and inhabitants rushed from their homes the invaders drove off with the doctor, dropping him at the Free State border.

A Saving Bark

RACINE, Wis., May 7 (C.P.).—To Tricksy, a fuzzy little dog with a strong voice, Mrs. Marie Ahrends owes her life.

Taking refuge from the heat, Mrs. Ahrends with Tricksy under her arm went wading in Lake Michigan.

When the woman suddenly stepped into a deep hole and the water closed over her head, Tricksy barked frantically.

The lookout at the coastguard station heard the dog and the woman was rescued.

AUTOMOBILE IS GREAT FACTOR IN EMPLOYMENT

Every New Car Means Many Jobs for Canadians, Rotary is Told.

MUCH NEW BUSINESS.

Increase This Year Has Surpassed Fondest Expectations.

Every time a new automobile is bought in Canada it means 87 days work for a Canadian workman, Norman Berry, sales promotion manager of General Motors, told the Peterborough Rotary Club today in the course of a most interesting address on the automobile industry. In stressing this point, Mr. Berry drew attention to the fact that automobile construction not only meant employment for those directly engaged therein, but for many other people in the sales and servicing of cars, and in the industries from which the automobile manufacturers had to obtain their material.

Introduced by Rotarian N. J. Wootten, Mr. Berry remarked that the automobile was not the invention of any one man, but was a composite of many inventions. In his opinion the man who first found a use for fire and the inventor of the wheel were responsible for the basic principles of automobile construction.

The industry, he said, was scarcely a generation old, yet growth had been prenomenal. In 1900 the total number of automobiles and trucks sold in the United States and Canada was only 4,200. By 1929, the peak year, the total had grown to 5,600,000 machines, with a total value of $3,400,000,000. Since that year the industry had felt the ef-

(Turn to Page 7)

FIND CAP, OAR FEAR SUICIDE

Sarnia Man Disappears—Wife Found With Head Battered.

DOCUMENTS MISSING.

SARNIA, Ont., May 7. — (CP) — Finding of a cap and oar floatng on the St. Clair river, about a mile and a quarter south of Port Lambton today, strengthened the belief of authorities that Matthew Doyle of that village had committed suicide after an alleged attempt to murder his wife Saturday night. Mrs. Doyle was still alive today but her condition was reported serious.

The discovery of the two articles was reported by Constable Robert J. Whiting of the local police detachment who, with other officers, is investigating the case.

Mrs. Doyle's body was found lying in a pool of blood by two sons when they returned to their homes from attending a dance on Saturday night.

She was suffering from a blow on the head, apparently inflicted by some blunt instrument. Later police were able to obtain a few details from Mrs. Doyle. She said she had spent the evening playing cards with her husband and just before retiring they had been standing in the doorway of their home watching boats passing on the St. Clair when she was struck over the head. Further investigation brought out the fact that all documents in the house, including deeds to the house had been removed and burned and that a rowboat had been dragged across the road to the river. The boat, empty, was found Sunday near Walpole Island.

Doyle was convicted six years ago of attempting to murder his wife and was sentenced to Kingston penitiary. He was released about a year ago.

FRANCO-GERMAN ARMS DEADLOCK ROUSES SCARES

Survey Shows Increased Scramble for Armaments by Many Nations.

JAPAN LEADER.

Only 2 Countries, Britain, Switzerland Have Decreased Army Strength.

(By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

GENEVA, May 7 (A.P.) — A scramble for increased arms strength has been given impetus, say observers of the world armament picture, by the Franco-German deadlock and Japan's Far Eastern policies.

Reports keep coming into Geneva from world capitals of added activity to increase military power.

The failure of France and Germany to reach an agreement on armaments has proved the major stumbling block to an accord on disarmament in Europe, while Japan's intention in Eastern Asia have aroused anxiety among leaders in many lands.

A survey conducted in authoritative quarters has revealed that only two nations, Switzerland and Great Britain, show a decrease in army strength.

Suspicions have thrived throughout Europe with the building up of armed forces. These suspicions and uneasiness are reflected in various spy scares, especially in France.

The Line-up

The survey on arms strength shows the following:

France — Increased her fighting force within the last three years by 65,000, though employing civilians to do work formerly assigned to soldiers.

Germany — Increased her 1934 army and navy budget from $333,000,000 to about $386,000,000 and her aviation budget from $33,600,000 to $84,000,000.

Russia — Increased her armies from 562,000 to 678,000 since 1932.

Japan—Increased land, naval and air forces by 100,000 to 400,000 since 1931.

Italy—Added 43,000 to her armed forces, chiefly through air and naval branch increases.

Poland—Raised her army from 280,000 to 341,000.

France's national defense program for 1934-35 is costing 13,500,000,000 francs—the largest since 1928. New armaments and fortifications are included in the army, navy and air budgets.

Belgium also is active, building forts along the entire German border.

Poland and Czechoslovakia are rearing defenses on the German frontier and Poland on the Russian side as well.

U. S. Increases Navy

The United States is among the leaders in the building up of navies. Great Britain has built or authorized naval craft up to 94 per cent of treaty strength; Japan up to 88½ percent.

Many nations are looking to the air lanes in building up their defensive forces.

Japan, for example, is shown by available figures to have increased her military planes to 450 to 2324. Most of her equipment has been purchased in Great Britain and in the United States.

France has made a slightly larger increase than Japan, while Russia, Poland, Italy and Czechoslovakia have been active in this respect.

Westclox Operates From Seven To Five

The Western Clock Company's plant here has compromised on the problem of summer time, and starting Monday, May 7, operation of the plant will be moved a half hour ahead, J. H. Vernor, manager, informed The Examiner to-day. Previously the plant had been operating from 7.30 to 5.30, its employees during the summer will start work at 7 o'clock and will quite for the day at 5.

The plant, one of the busiest in the city, is working on a standard 50-hour week and production is being maintained at the maximum to keep up with new orders. "We have been busy and have every expectation of continuing so," said Mr. Vernor.

GEO. B. WILKINSON DEAD

BROCKVILLE. — George B. Wilkinson, former treasurer of Douglas County, Wisconsin, and member of the Bars of Ontario, Illinois and Wisconsin, is dead here after an illness of several months, aged 68.

HENRY DENIES BEER FLOODGATE WILL BE OPENED

New Plan Does Not Include "Small Restaurants on the Corners."

NO ROADHOUSES.

Creamery, Cheese Factories to be Included in Milk Board's Operations.

TORONTO, May 7 (CP) — The Ontario Government to-day was pledged against opening the "flood gates" of beer and wine and it was prepared to give the farmer greater assistance through operations of the Milk Control Board, formed by legislation passed at the last legislative session.

A week-end of political addresses and conventions speeded up the Ontario general election campaign as the parties prepared for voting around the end of June. Five candidates, including two Cabinet Ministers were named, all of them Conservatives.

The candidates chosen and their constituencies are: A. V. Waters, present member for North Cochrane; Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, for East Simcoe; Dr. H. A. Clark, present member for Brockville, for the new riding of Leeds; Mayor E. Newton Cooper of Meaford, for North Grey, and Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, for Peel riding.

Creameries, cheese factories and condensers would be included in the Milk Control Board's operations if the Conservative Government is returned to power, Mr. Kennedy told the Conservative convention at Brampton, where he was named standard bearer. He declared that through the board's administration, Ontario farmers would have $2,000,000 annually added to their returns.

"I'm going to apply this Milk Board idea to these other places so we'll be able to have real business control over all of them," the Minister declared.

Beer Sale

Premier George S. Henry at the same convention denied his government planned to let down "the flood gates on liquor." The new beer and wine legislation, he declared, would operate through the

(Turn to Page 6, Please)

FEED SHORTAGE SERIOUS IN WEST

Many Farmers in Saskatchewan Have No Hay—Use Seed Grain.

SOME HORSES SHOT.

SASKATOON, May 7 (C.P.). — Many farmers in Montrose district, near Laura, Sask., have no fodder nor hay whatsoever, according to A. B. Chambers, large scale farmer of that vicinity, who to-day contradicted statements made here on Saturday by Hon. Howard McConnell, K.C., Saskatchewan Minister of Municipal Affairs.

At the junction of four municipalities, Montrose, Harris, Perdue, and Loganton, near Laura, the feed situation was very drastic, Mr. Chambers claimed. Horses were being turned loose on the prairies and roadsides to shift for themselves. There was not enough fodder in the district to last even a week, he claimed.

Most farmers had enough seed grain but were without the power to plant it. Horses were being fed seed grain at the rate of three to four bushels a day on many farms.

Not many horses had been shot up to date, Mr Chambers added, although, if conditions became much worse, farmers were considering destroying many animals. Conditions in all four municipalities were practically the same.

Mrs. Henrietta Flanagan has died in Herne Bay, England, at the age of 105.

British Stars Sought By Hollywood

Despite the fact that she is but 16 years old, and has made but one motion picture, two United States film companies are now bidding for the services of Miss Valerie Hobson, of London (ABOVE), who is now appearing in that city in a play. With the disclosure of the fact that Miss Hobson's services are being sought, it was revealed that agents for American concerns spend on the average of $150,000 yearly, seeking new talent from among British stars.

FARMERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF SEED SERVICE

Quite a Number of Farmers Apply for Aid for Seed Grain.

UP TO MUNICIPALITY

No Farmer Need Be Without Grain to be Sown in His Fields.

The number of application forms for seed grain loans that has been issued through the local branch of the Department of Agriculture indicates that this helpful service has been an advantage to quite a number of farmers, A. D. Runions told The Examiner to-day.

"I am not sure whether Asphodel and Belmont Townships have arranged to extend these loans," Mr. Runions said, "but Otonabee and Smith have done so, and quite a number of farmers have applied for them in person and by mail. I don't think any farmer in this area will be without sufficient spring grain seed for his needs."

Mr. Runions said that the earlier reports of damage to the fall wheat crop had not been changed to any appreciable extent, and that most of the fields sowed in this grain were being broken up.

In some parts of the province, according to Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, the original seed loan plan has been broadened, and is no longer confined only to farmers who were in straitened circumstances.

"It is entirely up to the municipalities," Col. Kennedy said. "Any farmer can get the loan whether he is well-to-do or not, but in the fall he is required to repay the loan to the municipality if it is collectable. If it is not collectable, then we bear two-thirds of the loss and the municipality bears one-third. We don't know who are getting the loans, as this is in the hands of the municipalities. We stand behind them in everything they do."

The details of the plan provide that those wishing loans apply to the municipalities who authorize the bank to make the loan for the amount desired, with the approval of the municipal authorities. In the fall the loans are to be paid back, with bank interest. In Essex County seed potatoes are provided under the loan plan.

Life

LINCOLN, Neb., May 7.—(A. P.)—Fate spared them on the battlefield, separated them, and then brought them together in death.

Frank L. Peterson and Charles C. Tellesen fought side by side in the Spanish American war and escaped with only minor casualties.

Tellesen became a physician at Wynot and Peterson a merchant at Valparaiso, about 120 miles apart. Last Friday night Dr. Tellesen was driving here and Peterson was en route home with a truck load of merchandise.

The doctor's car and Peterson's truck collided. Both died within 24 hours. Neither knew who drove the other car.

Ex-Norwood Teacher G. A. Smith Passes

TORONTO, May 7.—(CP)—Gilbert Acheson Smith, former principal of Parkdale Collegiate for 21 years and senior principal of Toronto high schools, was dead here today. Mr. Smith played a prominent part in the educational affairs of the province having been a representative of the high school teachers on the senate of the University of Toronto as well as the advisory council on education of the Whitney government.

He taughtsc hool for four years in Huron County Public Schools. Following his graduation from the University of Toronto as gold medallist in natural science, he taught at Norwood high school, Lindsay Collegiate and Galt collegiate before coming to Parkdale in 1888.

Besides his widow, a daughter, Mrs. James G. Schiller of St. Catharines, and a son, Torrance B. Smith of Detroit, survive.

PLACED IN LIST BEARING BRAND DEBT DEFAULTER

Britain, Canada and Five Other Nations Are Exempted.

GREECE NOT MENTIONED.

Ruling Resented by Moscow —Orders Purchases in U. S. Curtailed.

WASHINGTON, May 7. — (AP)—Attorney-General Homer Cummings decided yesterday Russia was in default on obligations to the United States and was not entitled to receive financial aid fom citizens of the country.

His ruling, which was made Saturday with a view to determining what countries would be barred by the Johnson Act from marketing their securities in the United States or in any other way receiving financial assistance, said that Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Latvia and Lithuania, the five nations that have made token payments on their war debts, were not in default.

As for Canada, Mr. Cummings said he had been asked whether the Dominion is to be regarded as a political sub-division of Great Britain.

"The question should properly be answered in the negative," he added, and this conclusion was suggested to Congress, but it appears to be immaterial in view of my conclusion concerning the intention of Congress as applied to the obligations of subdivisions. Canada, I believe, is not in default."

The opinion cited numerous precedents in international law but Cummings explained he was largely guided in his interpretation of the Johnson act by authorized views of the intent of Congress, and by President Roosevelt's statements concerning war debts.

Britain Not In Default.

The Attorney-General called attention specifically to President Roosevelt's statement of November 7, 1933, when, in accepting a token payment from Great Britain, he said: "I shall not regard the British Government in default."

Cummings gave no opinion concerning Greece, whose debt payments have been postponed in accordance with terms of the funding agreement, or Roumania, with whom discussions are still under way concerning a payment due January 2.

In his opinion the Attorney-General made no mention of other debtor nations but they—with the exception of Finland, which has met in full all payments due—were by interference considered in default.

Soviet Russia was held to be in default by the Attorney-General because it has failed to recognize obligations incurred by the preceding Czarist and Kerensky Governments in Russia.

Under the Czars bonds totalling $86,000,000 were sold in the United States, and the Kerensky regime, during its short life in 1917, borrowed $187,000,000 from the United States treasury.

Resented In Moscow.

MOSCOW, May 7 (AP).—A deadlock in Soviet-American trade moves loomed to-day as a result of a ruling by United States Attorney-General Homer Cummings that Russia is a defaulter under the Johnson Act.

The ruling, shutting off American credit to Moscow, is bitterly resented here.

The Russian Government contends that it cannot be held to have defaulted on the Kerensky debt because its intervention and counterclaims against United States remain unsettled.

It is understood Soviet economic organizations already have been instructed to make no purchases from United States which can be made elsewhere.

JAPS READY FOR TRADE TRUCE WITH BRITAIN

TOKYO, May 7.—(AP)—Japan is eager for an amicable settlement of trade difficulties with Great Britain and is willing to consider any British proposals, Mamoru Shigemitsu, Foreign Vice-Minister, told Charles Dodd, British Charge d'Affaires, today.

The version of their interview on Great Britain's demand that Japan modify her trade program and tactics under threat of a virtual trade war wasobtained from Foreign Office sources.

Mrs. Margaret Torrey, aged 82, arrived recently at Croydon, England, after an 18,000-mile air tour of Africa lasting five weeks.

4 Tattle-Tales

DENVER, May 7 (C.P.). — Fifty-nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-six Denverites apparently won't be tattle-tales. The Municipal Water Board sent out 60,000 postal cards asking the recipients to "tell" if their neighbors were using water outside prescribed irrigation hours.

Four cards have been returned.

New Moderator

Rev. N. R. D. Sinclair of the Presbytery of Barrie, who was elected Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston at the opening session of the annual three-day meet of the United Church in Canada. He is a brother of W. E. N. Sinclair, former Liberal House leader.

MRS. E. N. RHODES TAKEN BY DEATH

Wife of Minister of Finance Succumbs to Heart Attack in 54th Year.

NATIVE OF NOVA SCOTIA.

OTTAWA, May 7 (C.P.).—Parliamentary circles are in mourning today owing to the sudden death of Mrs. E. N. Rhodes, wife of the Minister of Finance, which was a shock to a wide circle of friends. Throughout her whole lifetime Mrs. Rhodes was linked in an intimate way with political affairs either in Nova Scotia or in Ottawa.

The daughter of a Liberal Prime Minister of Nova Scotia, the late Hon. W. T. Pipes, Mrs. Rhodes was later the wife of a Conservative Prime Minister of that province. Two prominent Nova Scotia families of differing political faiths were united in 1905, when Mary Grace Pipes married Edgar Nelson Rhodes, and as the wife of a leading Conservative, Mrs. Rhodes was universally popular.

Recently Mrs. Rhodes had been in excellent health. She entertained a group of friends on Saturday, and yesterday morning she was

(Turn to page six, please)

KEEP ON MOVE FRENCH PLANS FOR PRODUCTS

Government Takes Action to Restore Normal Level of Consumption.

BRING BETTER TIMES.

PARIS, May 7 (C.P., Havas). — The French government is directing efforts toward bringing production and consumption of agricultural products to a normal level.

The measures advanced include the application of the law controlling the sale of wheat; quota protections and an adjustment of the high cost of living.

Two causes are given for the present agricultural crisis: the lack of a market for basic products and the drop in the production price. They result to some extent from the abandonment of the gold standard by other countries, which until the adoption of quota measures at the end of 1931, profited by the devaluation of their currency and flooded France with their products. The situation was made increasingly difficult by two highly successful wheat crops.

The government has re-assured producers by taking measures to keep their products moving. Application of the law of March 17 last concerning unsaleability of wheat will permit the re-absorption of the 1933 wheat crop.

The peasant class on the whole has received the government efforts to achieve a budget balance by economy rather than increased taxation with considerable sympathy. As a result of the financial re-organization of the country the government is attempting to facilitate the exchange of goods between France and her colonies, and to reduce the cost of living by reducing the expenses which bear on the cost of production and consumption.

The normal level of consumption —generally reduced by the slowing up of business both in the cities and in the country—will be restored, the farmers believe, if this course of action is pursued.

AGED CITIZEN PASSES

TORONTO — One of Toronto's oldest citizens, Mrs. M. Moore, died yesterday. She was 100 years old and on her birthday last July was visited by Mayor W. J. Stewart who congratulated her on reaching her 100th year.

National Breweries
YEAST
Health • Energy
Clear Complexion
An Aid for Constipation
Less than One Cent a Dose

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

MONDAY, MAY 7, 1934.

Canada Packers quote:

Bacon hogs — F.O.B., $7.50; off truck, $7.60.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.

Sows, 3c off bacon prices.

Dressed Hogs— Head on, $12.00; headless, $12.50.

Cream—No. 1 (on truck) 20c.

No. 1, delivered, 21c.

Special, 2c per lb. premium.

RENOVATION PLANS ARE DISCUSSED AT BETHANY

BETHANY, May 7. — (Examiner Correspondence).—The W.A. of St. Paul's Anglican Church held their regular meeting at the home of Winnie Nesbitt. There were seventeen members present and the president was in the chair. Plans were discussed regarding the very necessary renovation needed on the church and the work to be commenced at a very early date. The following members were present: H. Sisson, E. Preston, Mrs. E. Medd, Mrs. McCartney, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Fitch, Mrs. Flack, Mrs. Padgham, Mrs. R. Morton, Mrs. F. W. Reynolds, Mrs. R. W. Holden, Miss Nesbitt, Mrs. Hannah, E. Reynolds, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Carns, Mrs. Hopwood, Mrs. Burke and Nancy Padgham.

The hostess served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. R. Morton and Mrs. George Foster.

ICE DAMAGES 2 LAKE CRAFT

Freighters Strip Propellors Amid Floes and Are Taken in Tow.

CENTRE OF SUPERIOR.

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., May 7. (CP) — Ice field floated in the centre of Lake Superior to-day, a warning from steamers after two vessels suffered damage yesterday from the large cakes. The steamers Royalton and Laketon played the rescue roles, taking the freighter Ten and the steaer Damia in tow when they stripped propellors in the ice.

The Royalton and Laketon received distress signals from the Ten and went to the freighter's help. The Royalton, downbound from Fort William, towed the freighter to Iroquois, while the Laketon proceeded on her journey to Fort William.

A short while later the Laketon heard the distress calls from the steamer Damia and went to her assistance to tow the disabled craft to Fort William.

The freighter came to grief off Caribou Island and the Damia was damaged about nine miles from the Island. The Damia is owned by Kenneth Scott of Cleveland and freighter Ten by the Minnesota Transportation Company. The Laketon and Royalton are Colonial Steamship craft.

Look Here for the Date of Slicing

"Maple Leaf" Radio Programme (Donald Bain and Ernest Seitz) is broadcast every Sunday evening over Stations CFRB, Toronto; CFRC, Brantford; CKCO, Ottawa; 6.15 to 6.45; Eastern Standard Time.

BACON

FRESHNESS ENSURED BY DATING

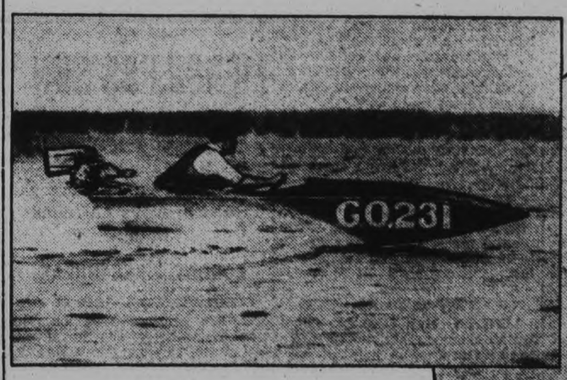
CANADA PACKERS LIMITED
Producers of

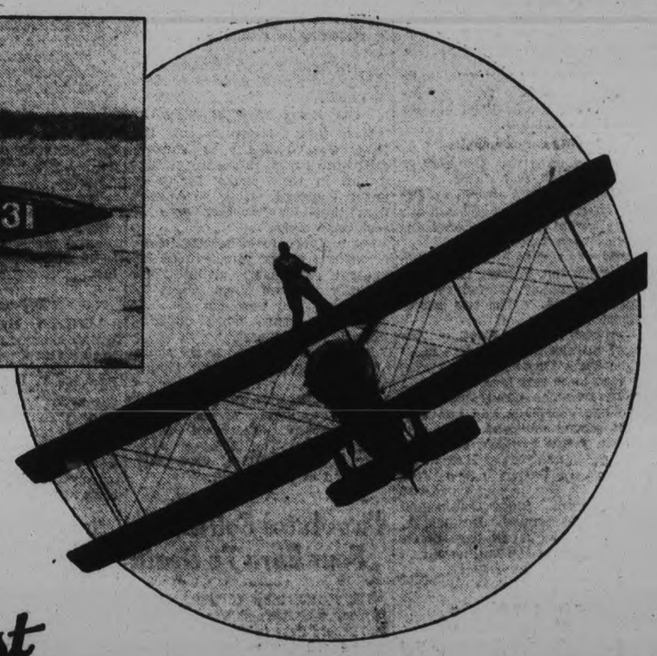
MAPLE LEAF BACON

PLANTS AT: PETERBOROUGH, TORONTO, MONTREAL, HULL AND WINNIPEG

CP-74

Everybody Loves a THRILL





Here's a THRILL for Breakfast

A THRILL indeed—these crisp, curly flakes that have the world's best-loved breakfast flavour—the nut-sweet flavour of "Grape-Nuts" Cereal. Get a package for tomorrow's breakfast. And remember, not only does "Grape-Nuts" Flakes beat everything for downright deliciousness, but it is also exceptionally nourishing—because of healthful grains baked by a special process. Your grocer has it. Made in Canada.

"GRAPE-NUTS" FLAKES

the Smile-Tempting Breakfast Thrill

GF14-34

GOLDEN-FLAKE COMPANION TO "GRAPE-NUTS" CEREAL

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mrs. William Thompson of Mount Julian announces the engagement of her daughter Betsy to Mr. J. C. Blackburn of Hempstead, Long Island; the marriage to take place this month.

* * *

Mr. H. McFarlane of Keene appears in the list of First Year scholarship winners at Queen's University, Kingston. Mr. McFarlane was awarded one of the University scholarships in First Year Science, valued at $100.

* * *

Mr. Donald Skyes of Warkworth has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

The friends of Dr. W. D. Scott will be pleased to learn that he is able to sit up in bed at Nicholls Hospital after his recent operation.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Roy are in Toronto, where Mr. Roy gave a paper on "Specialized Child Photography" to-day, before the members of the Ontario Society of Photographers, in convention, at the Royal York Hotel.

* * *

The many friends of Mr. M. Costello proprietor of the American Hotel, Hunter street west, will regret to learn of his illness in St. Joseph's Hospital following a serious operation on Saturday.

* * *

The Rt. Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Bishop of Toronto, and Mrs. Owen, will be guests of the Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, D.D., and Mrs. Blagrave during their stay in the city. The Bishop will administer the Rite of Confirmation at St. John's Church this evening.

* * *

Mrs. Catherine Lane mother of Mr. Thos. J. Lane of Hunter street west, is eighty-nine years old to-day. Mrs. Lane who lives in Toronto with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Cooney, was born in Peterborough and is the daughter of the late Timothy Dineen and Elizabeth Cavanagh old residents of the city.

* * *

Mr. William McKay of Omemee appears in the list of those who have been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with honors, by Queen's University.

* * *

Miss Jean Cameron of Keene has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Miss Agnes Hanrahan, whose wedding to Mr. Leo Girard takes place to-morrow morning at seven o'clock at the Church of the Sacred Heart, was guest of honor on Friday evening at a kitchen shower held at the home of Miss Valerie Brioux, Lake street.

* * *

Mr. Gordon W. Porter, M.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porter of Lakefield, has been awarded his degree of Bachelor of Divinity by Queen's University, Kingston. Mr. Porter has had a brilliant scholastic career at Queen's, he won the Sarah McClellan Waddell scholarship, while this year, he was awarded the Hugh Gordon Waddell Memorial Travelling Scholarship.

* * *

Mr. James Rollins of Tweed has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science by Queen's University Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Colin Rorke of Picton has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Three children of Mrs. C. F. MacDonald of 55 Sherbrooke street have birthdays on this date: Dorothy, who is fifteen years old, Tom, thirteen, and Maxine, six. They are celebrating by a little joint birthday party at their home.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Honey of Toronto were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnard.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Redpath of 641 Water street and Mr. Charles Morton of 213 Stewart street are in Millbrook today, attending the funeral of the late Mr. James Morton, brother of Mrs. Redpath and Mr. Morton.

* * *

Mr. Howard Pammett, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pammett of Hunter street east, appears in the list of those awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with honors, by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Miss Margaret Sanderson of Lindsay has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with honors, from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. John Stevenson of Port Hope has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with honors, from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Crawford Hall, son of Mrs. S. Dickson Hall of Dennistoun avenue, has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

The Rev. H. R. Palmer, D.D. of Port Hope who arrived for the Sunday School anniversary services at St. James United Church yesterday and who will give his lecture "Loyal North of Ireland", in that church tonight is the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse at St. James parsonage.

* * *

Miss Mary Harvey of Lakefield has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with honors, from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Miss Margaret Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Walker of George Street, has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Queen's University, Kingston. Convocation at the University will be held on Wednesday of this week.

* * *

Miss Reta Palliser of Campbellford has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Gordon P. Ego, son of Mr. and Mrs J. P. Ego of Gladstone Avenue, has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mrs. H. Gordon was hostess on Saturday night, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Girard, 280 Prince Street, at a pantry shower held in honor of Miss Agnes Hanrahan, whose marriage to Mr. Leo Girard takes place to-morrow.

* * *

Miss Anna McGoverin of Picton, Ontario, formerly of Peterborough, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Huffman, 349 Hunter Street West.

* * *

The Spring Conference of the clergy of the Deanery of Peterborough will be held in St. George's Church to-morrow, with district clergymen in attendance, and the Rural Dean, the Rev G. J. Bousfield, presiding. It is hoped that the Bishop of Toronto, the Rt Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, who will be in the city to-night for Confirmation services at St. John's, will remain over for the conference.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Walker, who was designated to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at her graduation two weeks ago in Toronto from the Deaconess' Training School in Toronto, has now assumed her secretarial and visitation duties here, and was formally introduced to the congregation at the morning service yesterday, by the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr. Miss Walker, in a pleasing acknowledgment, thanked the pastor and members of the congregation for the warm welcome extended to her, and bespoke the assistance of the members of the church in carrying on the work assigned to her, which she promised to undertake with love and devotion for young and old alike.

* * *

Mrs. R. F. Thorne and daughter Meta, of Omemee, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thorn of Otonabee, over the week-end.

* * *

In the list of awards in the Faculty of Arts of Queen's University, Kingston, appears the name of Miss Dorothy Lean of Cobourg, winner of the medal in Mathematics.

* * *

The Rev. R. Pogue and Mrs. Pogue of Toronto, spent the week-end in the city, guests of Miss C. Dickson, Dickson Street. The Rev. Mr. Pogue was guest speaker at the 101st anniversary services of St. Andrew's United Church, yesterday.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Mackay of Park Street entertained the members of the W.W.T. Club at her home, on Saturday afternoon.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

A single cake batter can be given such variety that it would scarcely seem that different recipes were not used. Let us take the regulation 1-2-3-4 cake recipe and see how it can be done by adding to the mixture and by diversifying frostings. When a woman wishes to entertain without too much effort in the refreshments she will find the ways described helpful.

* * * * * *

1-2-3-4 CAKE

One cup butter, two cups sugar, three cups flour, four eggs. Also one cup sweet milk and one teaspoon vanilla or other flavorings. Cream butter. Add sugar gradually while creaming butter, and beaten egg yolks, then the flour and milk alternately and vanilla. Add one-half teaspoon salt and two level teaspoons baking powder to the flour before sifting into cake. Beat well and fold in whites of eggs beaten dry.

* * * * * *

CHOCOLATE CAKE

Divide the batter in half and to one portion add one square (or more if you want it) chocolate melted and mixed with a little cold milk to a paste. This will give plain and chocolate cake from the same mixture.

* * * * * *

SMALL CAKES FROM LARGE ONE

The cake can be cut diagonally across to form diamond shaped pieces, or straight across for squares. The sides of the cakes can be frosted or not.

* * * * * *

COLORS AND CAKES

Frost chocolate cake with white icing, and white with chocolate frosting, which can be made by adding melted chocolate to part of the above recipe. Flavor with almond and chocolate with vanilla extract. Or, if made into small cakes, frost some white cake with white frosting, some with chocolate, and frost chocolate cakes in the two ways. Top chocolate cakes with half nutmeats and white cakes with candied or maraschino cherries.

* * * * * *

CHOCOLATE ICINGS

Yellow frosting should be flavored with orange. It is the white frosting tinted with yellow vegetable coloring. Green is similarly toned green, and flavored with pistachio or peppermint. Pink, color with pink, and flavor with strawberry, cherry or vanilla.

For 12 Months Your Dependents Would Receive Your Salary Cheques

Wouldn't it be fine if your employer would promise to continue your full salary to your family for a whole year after your death?

Few employers will make such a provision, but you can make it for yourself under the Salary Continuance Plan of The Imperial Life.

The change to another scale of living after the bread-winner is gone is one of the most difficult readjustments which life can impose.

If, for instance, you should die soon, would your estate provide an immediately available income sufficient to enable your dependents to carry on during that crucial "first year?"

An Imperial Life Salary Continuance Policy providing for the payment to your family of $100 each month for twelve months after your death calls for a saving of only about 10 cents a day on your part now — when you can spare the money.

Imagine what a blessing the continuation of your monthly salary cheques for a whole year would be in helping your family gradually to change to ways of living within the income from whatever estate you may bequeath to them.

Why not get particulars of this wonderful, economical provision to-day?

.....MAIL THE COUPON BELOW FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION.....

The Imperial Life Assurance Co., Head Office, Toronto, Ont. 7

Please send me full particulars of your Imperial Salary Continuance plan.

Name .....

Address ..... Age 269/A

Tuesdat at [redacted] 387 George Phone 3680

BLUE BRAND BEEF

Minced Beef	Porterhouse Steaks Deep Undercut	Beef Cuttings
3 lbs. 25c	23c lb.	3 lbs. 25c

SMOKED DIXIE BACON Sliced or piece - - - 15c lb

FRESH PORK TENDERLOINS	FRESH SPARE RIBS
23c lb	3 lbs. 25c

Loin Veal Chops 15c	Fresh Pickled Shoulder Pork 14c	Brisket Beef 7c

Your Fur Coat

(An Unseasonable Subject)

But if your Coat is stored with us now for Remodelling, Relining, etc., we can give you a price that is reasonable.

Remember, our manufacturing costs are the lowest.

V.R.Reynolds

438 GEORGE ST. S. PHONE 1251w

REV. R. POGUE GUEST PREACHER AT 101ST ANIVERSARY OF CHURCH

St. Andrew's United Church Celebrates Its 101st Anniversary.

CO-OPERATION BIG NEED.

St. Andrew's United Church thronged yesterday with worshippers who joined whole-heartedly in the impressive services marking the 101st anniversary of the old kirk and heard two inspiring sermons preached by Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor for many years of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and now pastor First Avenue United Chuch, Orangeville, who who was the special speaker. Many persons came from long distances to participate in the services and hear Rev. Mr. Pogue.

Special music by the splendid choir, under the direction of Cyril Rice were fine features of both services.

Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean, minister of the church, briefly referred to the long history of St. Andrew's Church in this city and welcomed the many old friends of the church to the services. The church he said had suffered a distinct loss in the death of Miss Annie M. Lancaster, superintendent of Anson House, who for years had been an active member of its congregation.

Co-operation is Big Need

"The Need of Every Member Co-operating in the Work of the Church" was the subject of Rev. Mr. Pogue's most inspiring and eloquent sermon in the morning. He based his text on Nehemiah chapter 2, verse 15 "And ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and in Samaria and unto the uttermost part of the earth" and Acts first chapter, verse 18.

He recalled the story of Nehemiah and the manner in which he had aroused the people of Jerusalem to the need of rebuilding the city's walls to keep out enemy tribes, and how through the co-operation of every citizen the walls were quickly made strong again. In like manner, Rev. Mr. Pogue stated, co-operation of every member was needed in the Church.

Prayer is Work

He stressed the need every member 'working at prayers'. "I call it a work, for work it is, and very hard and difficult work at that—which may be one reason and not a very complimentary one, why so few of us are found engaged in it" he stated.

Saying prayers is not necessarily praying, he explained. Roger Babson, business expert was quoted as saying "Both history and science clearly demontrate the great possibility of prayer" and Mr. Babson likened prayer to an electric wire which connects the electric motor to the source of electric power.

Forces of Prayer

"One thing I have wondered at during this long depression and that is why our Church leaders have not marshalled the forces of the Church of Christ in a great campaign of prayer" he continued. "We have been told to do other things, and I have no criticism to make of the many propositions made. I thank God for the new emphasis that is being given today to the application of the Gospel to our social life, to economics and industry. I thank God for the new awakening which has taken place along these lines. We are now seeking more clearly than ever before that as christions we have other duties in relation to our fellowman than the salvation of their souls."

While these things are good, he went on to say, "We have not been praying. We have not been regarding prayer as the mightiest factor in the situation. I venture to state that if the Church of Jesus Christ had only taken to her knees when this depression began it would have lifted long before this, and many of the reforms which we are seeking by other means would, by now, be functioning in our social order."

Revival Ended Depression

One of the greatest depressions, that of 1859-60, had been ended by a revival born in prayer which swept this continent and the British Isles. "All periods of temporary depression are preceded by a time of moral and spiritual delusion" he said. "With prosperity people forget God."

In the depression of 1859,60 "men turned to God and cried for help" and all kinds of buildings were opened for prayer he explained.

"I fail to see any great change in the Church as a result of depression through which we have been passing. Possibly the fault lies in the spiritual leaders" he said. "It rests altogether with the Church of God whether or not we shall have a new world and a new world order, wherein dwelleth righteousness. Are the members of the Church willing to pay the price? I'm afraid not; we want an easy religion."

Rev. Mr. Pogue continued by stressing the need of every church member co-operating in the various activities of the Church. Too many persons go to Church to "enjoy the spiritual delectation for himself alone" and not to help others and to be served, not to serve. The same spirit of co-operation that prevailed in the war was needed in the Church to-day, he stated. "The strength and power of the light which a given church radiates depends upon the amount of light contributed by each individual Church member" he added, referring to the days of long ago when each member of the congregation lit a candle on entering the church.

More Witnessing

Another need in the Church he said "is more witnessing for Christ". "Have you told others of the Saviour you have found?" he asked. "Surely you must see that this is the Saviour's method for doing his work, His method, and there is none other, of winning the world to Himself. Surely you must see that if the Church fail here she fails everywhere, she fails in the one work by which alone Christ can be made known to the world."

The work of missions, he urged, was another thing in which all members of the Church should co-operate fully. "No Church which is not giving to the limit of its ability for missions is a true church of Christ." When church members' interest in missions begins to wane he said, "Our love for Christ has begun to grow cold." Christ's last commandment must be kept, he declared in conclusion.

Your Health

by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The primary cause of tuberculosis is infection from another human being who has the disease.

We do not always realize over what a wide area the particles which we breathe out from our lungs reach. For instance, a man in ordinary breathing throws his breath nearly twice as far as the point of his finger with the hand and arm extended to its full reach. When he coughs, this area is extended three or four times, so that droplets may go as far as four or five yards from his mouth cavity. The concentration of this material is heaviest within one yard, and gradually thins out, but can be established at a distance of four yards without difficulty.

It is for this reason that people with tuberculosis are taught to cough with a handkerchief or a piece of gauze over their mouths, and to be very careful about the disposal of their sputum. Anyone who has a chronic cough should do the same thing. It is surprising to know how many people have survived with tuberculosis for many years so that middle aged and elderly individuals may be chronic carriers for the disease.

Distance to which droplet are conveyed in ordinary breathing.

Second in importance to human infection is infection through milk from tuberculous cows, but even this is comparatively a minor factor in the spread of the disease.

Much more important are the secondary factors involved: First, the constitution; and, second, the habits of life of the individual. The constitution or physique of the individual cannot be disregarded as a causative factor in tuberculosis. The consumptive types recognizable at a glance—tall, thin, with long chests long arms and necks, thin nostrils and high faces. Blondes more than brunets are liable to tuberculosis. The Irish, the Scotch, the Scandinavians and the north Germans are more liable to the disease than the darker English, French, Spanish, Italians, Greeks, etc.

The habits of life of the individual are next in importance. Tuberculosis is a disease of darkness, of filth, of dust, of bad air, of overwork, of crowded living quarters, of fatigue and bad habits. Its enemies are sunlight, open air, vigorous play of the body and cleanliness.

Distance to which droplets are conveyed in coughing.

The decline in the incidence of tuberculosis, which has gone forward steadily during the past 75 years, has been due more to good living conditions, good food and the spread of the doctrine of healthy living than to any attempts to prevent infection itself. We live in a corn-fed age and in a corn-fed country, and it is for that reason that tuberculosis has ceased to be Captain of the Men of Death. The only break in the steady decline in the incidence of disease occurred during the war when there was a forced lapse from these healthy living conditions.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by seinding 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: 'Indigestion and Constipation,' 'Reducing and Gaining,' 'Infant Feeding,' 'Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes,' 'Feminine Hygiene' and 'The Care of the Hair and Skin.'

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

A NOVELTY FROM PORTLAND

It is not unknown to force an opponent to squeeze his partner, when impossible for the declarer to himself make that coup, but Portland, Me., has just produced a greater novelty, as will be seen when the play made on the following deal unfolds.

Mr. John B. Thomes, who sat East, reported the hand. He was helpless against what happened. After West had shown diamonds and North had bid both hearts and clubs, South obtained the contract at 4-spades.

The opening lead was the K of diamonds. To prevent two trump leads through him from dummy, East won with his ace, and obliged dummy to ruff a second lead of diamonds.

Dummy's last trump was led. The declarer's 10 held the trick. When South led a winning spade West showed out. Then it appeared to the declarer that he must go down a trick on his game contract (one spade, two hearts and one diamond). He led a low heart, putting West in the lead. The declarer ruffed a return lead of damonds. Again West was put in the lead with a heart, and again South ruffed a diamond, now holding the same number of trumps as East, and assuring him that the double grand coup was an accomplished fact.

East had to let go his last heart on the fourth lead of diamonds, so that he could be counted for void hearts, two trumps and three low clubs. Dummy was put in with a club, and three tricks were taken in that suit. At the twelfth trick East had to ruff, from the Q-6, while back of him sat the declarer with the A-J, so both of East's trumps must be picked up, regardless of how East ruffed.

West could have avoided giving South game. When the first heart was led, West should have cleared his hand of that suit, by taking tricks with both of them. Then West should have led a club, instead of a diamond. The club lead will prevent the declarer from obtaining the two ruffs he requires to complete his double grand coup, and he then would have gone down a trick.

If West had taken his two heart tricks and led another diamond, South would obtain one needed ruff. The second ruff he could obtain for himself by leading and ruffing a fourth heart. After which play would go as it did when West twice let South ruff diamonds.

FOR SAFE ECONOMICAL FUR STORAGE

PHONE 340

OUR DRIVER WILL CALL

Barries

Manufacturing Furriers

Ladies' Ready-to-Wear

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

It is said that Helen Kane, the famous "boop-boop-a-boop" girl, regirl, recently dropped 28 pounds of tonnage by eliminating salt from her diet two days a week. Perhaps that's true, but personally, I imagine that Helen did a bit more than just refrain from eating salt twice a week. I imagine she was pretty careful of her diet every day. And probably she also indulged in a bit of exercise, in order to assist in the reduction of her weight.

However, there really is something to that business of refraining from the consumption of salt. For salt, spices, condiments and seasonings all make foods more palatable and delicious. They whet the appetite, and make foods so pleasing to the taste that they induce overeating. And overeating is one thing that any lass who wishes to reduce must avoid.

One would-be-slender lass wrote to me the other day and confessed that she had a very great appetite and very little will power. And she wanted me to tell her something she could take to spoil her appetite. That, of course, would be most unwise. For the appetite plays too important a role in the process of digestion. But I believe that any inclination to overeat can be somewhat curbed by the elimination of salt and spicy seasonings from dishes.

If you are trying to reduce, and you have a voracious appetite, try eliminating seasonings from your foods. Your diet may prove somewhat insipid, but that alone will keep you from overeating. Your meats and vegetables need not be highly seasoned to appease your hunger. And your salads need not be garnished with rich, tasty dressings and sauces. Try using just lemon juice and a bit of oil on your salads, and you won't find yourself half so eager to overeat.

If you are trying to reduce, another thing that you must not do is to eat between meals. If you eat sufficiently at your regular meal times, your body has no real need for any additional foods. However, if this between-meal nibbling has become a habit that you find difficult to break, restrict your nibbling exclusively to fresh fruits, and to the dried fruits, such as prunes and apricots. Fresh and dried fruits are beneficial to the system, and will not be so likely to increase your weight.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Superfluous Hair

Ruth: The superfluous hair bleach to which you refer is made of two teaspoons of peroxide and half a teaspoon of ordinary household ammonia.

Complexion

Dolly: Full information on eradicating pimples, blackheads, freckles and enlarged pores is contained in my "Beauty Culture" booklet. This booklet also contains many excellent make-up hints and information on double chin reduction.

Weight

Marie: I think that a girl 5 feet 4 inches tall and 25 years of age should weigh about 128 pounds.

Cosmetics

Robbie: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge, light lipstick, and dark brown eye-shadow cream would blend well with your coloring.

Shampoo

Mrs. D. F.: The egg shampoo and lemon rinse process for bleached and natural blonde hair is fully described in my "Beauty Culture" booklet. The information is, unfortunately, too long to print here.

A REAL BUGG

MILWAUKEE, Wis. May 7.—(AP)—Howard Wichgelds, two-year-old of St. Francis, complained to his parents of a buzzing in his head.

At Emergency Hospital surgeons removed a bee from the boy's ear.

THROW away that washboard—give the boiler to the junkman! Rinso soaks out dirt. Clothes last 2 or 3 times longer—you'll save lots of money! Rinso is great in washers, too, and like magic for dishes!

MOST WOMEN BUY THE LARGE PACKAGE Rinso

Too WEAK to do Her Housework

Now Strong and Healthy

"I took a severe attack of influenza," writes Mrs. John Fraser of Owen Sound, "and when I was able to get out of bed I was in such a weak condition that I thought I would never get my strength back again. I could not do my housework. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I did, and after taking a few doses I could feel my strength coming back. After taking six boxes I was completely well and as strong as I ever had been."

If you are weak, nervous, chronically tired—if your daily work is a burden—you, too, can quickly build up your strength and energy with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

This is the remedy that was scientifically tested on 40 run-down people at a clinic held at a leading hospital The physician-pathologist in charge of the experiment wanted to find out whether Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could increase red blood cells and haemoglobin which a preparation must be able to do if it is to be of any use in restoring weak, nervous, chronically-tired, thin-blooded people to normal health.

The results were striking. Every one of the forty patients whose blood count was below normal made material gains in red cells in the short test period of about a month. In 38 out of the 40 cases—a 95% record — the haemoglobin in the blood was enriched by 10% or more —some as high as 22%, a remarkable gain in the short period of treatment.

The patients all reported that they had more pep, more energy, more strength, and the sense of physical well-being that always comes from a successful regeneration of the blood stream.*

You can obtain this hospital - tested and scientifically - proven remedy for run-down, thin-blooded conditions from your druggist — 50c a package. Results guaranteed or your money refunded.

Results GUARANTEED with this HOSPITAL TESTED remedy

*—Individual reports on these 40 patients are on file, certified by the hospital pathologist.

A COMPLETE Printing Service LOW PRICES

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation

The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 380 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year

Member Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association

Member Ontario Associated Dailies. T. L. Ashton manager Canada Permanent Building, Toronto.

U S Advertising Representatives: Prudden King & Prudden Inc Chicago Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York City.

Advertising Rates on Application.

R. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

MONDAY, MAY 7, 1934

REMOVING THE DEATH-TRAPS.

From Ottawa comes the news that on certain sections of highway in that district, notably on the Ottawa-Prescott highway and on the Montreal road, the deep ditches along the side of these traffic arteries are being filled in and the whole road allowance levelled.

This improvement will be welcomed by motorists generally, who will hope that the movement that has been started in the Ottawa district will be extended throughout the whole provincial highway system.

Not only should the new roads that are to be constructed this year be made level from fence to fence, but the older highways should be made safer by filling up the present death-traps that exist along many miles of the provincial system.

Many serious accidents have been caused by deep ditches, for in a very large number of cases when an automobile out of control has plunged or skidded off the road surface the drop of four or five feet has resulted in the machine turning turtle with disastrous results.

With these ditches filled in accidents of that type would be virtually eliminated, and the highway death toll would be materially reduced.

At the same time by levelling the sides of the road it would be much cheaper and easier to provide foot-paths for pedestrians, something that in suburban areas at least has been sadly lacking and that has resulted in many fatal accidents.

SHEER NONSENSE.

Because a few persons in attendance at a Liberal political meeting in Toronto sang the Internationale, the favorite song of the Reds, the Attorney-General, Hon. W. H. Price, in a speech the other night endeavored to link the Liberal party up with the Communists.

The incident shows the low opinion that many of our politicians seem to have of public intelligence.

There is nothing more in common between Liberalism and Communism than there is between Conservatism and Communism, and when a party lieutenant attempts to show from such flimsy material that his political opposition is allied with the Red movement he is either decidedly short of effective ammunition or he labors under the delusion that a good many people will believe anything they are told from a public platform.

No one knows better than the Attorney-General that the evidence he brings forward of a Liberal catering to the Red element is based upon a trifling incident that was no more indicative of Liberal feeling throughout the province than the utterance of some Tory ward heeler in Toronto would be of Conservative sentiment in Ontario.

Mr. Price's remarks in this connection were, in short, sheer rubbish; surely the campaign is to be fought out on more important issues than the Attorney-General selected for the edification of his Toronto audience.

EVERYBODY BENEFITS.

This is Clean-up, Paint-up, Give-a-Man-a-Job Week in Peterborough, and the whole purpose of the campaign is clearly set forth in the title.

Citizens generally are urged this week to put their homes and places of business in order, to clean up their lawns, gardens and backyards, to get rid of the fire hazards that may have literally piled up during the winter, ti have their verandahs and roofs and eavestroughs repaired, and a saving and beautiful coat of paint applied where most needed.

These odd jobs, running into the hundreds when the whole city is considered, should mean a very considerable amount of employment for men on the relief lists and for many building trades workers who have long been without work.

As The Examiner has already pointed out, it has been estimated that there is enough urgent repair work to be done here to keep all the city's carpenters, painters, bricklayers, tinsmiths and other building trades workers busy for the rest of the summer.

This week citizens are asked to take stock, to see what repairs are required, and if possible to put the work in hand without delay, thus materially increasing the value of their property, improving the appearance of the city generally and providing many long idle workers with an opportunity to earn so very much needed money.

This is a campaign from which every one should benefit and in which practically every one can help.

THE CONTROL OF RADIO.

Should there be government control of radio broadcasting, as in England, or should it be a private enterprise, as in the United States? Both sides of this question are presented in the current Rotarian Magazine, and Canadians should be interested in the discussion.

The income of the British Broadcasting Company, it is noted, is derived mainly from license revenue, every owner of a receiving set paying a fee of $2.50 per annum, while in America the income of broadcasting stations is derived from advertising.

Commander Stephen King-Hall, British author whose voice is frequently heard over the British Broadcasting Company network, points out that the British listener is very well satisfied. He sees the wireless business as a personal and intimate matter. He listens to programs in his own home, and likes to feel the thing belongs to him and not to a lot of firms whose advertisements already fill half the newspapers.

"With us in England," Commander King-Hall writes, "the B.B.C. is rapidly qualifying for admission to our list of national institutions. I imagine that in the United States the radio ranks in people's minds with the theatre business, the films and the press, and if such were the case in Great Britain, then you would find people quite ready to discuss whether better news, better variety, and better music could be obtained from a commercialized service. But such a question does not arise in British minds."

On the other hand, Earl Reeves, who upholds the American system in this exchange of opinion, believes that advertiser-sponsored programs make for better radio entertainment than does government-controlled broadcasting.

"Surveys show," says Mr. Reeves, "that governmental broadcasting takes two forms: first, it may become the adjunct to the propaganda department of the dominant party, a situation that exists at present in a few countries; or, second, it becomes in its spoken program, wan and colorless, avoiding current or controversial issues, permitting a minimum, even, of political discussion as in England. In either event, the entertainment program is handed down by bureaucratic officials, in its content being what a centralized governmental bureaucracy thinks should be good for the public and useful to itself."

INDUSTRY MUST STAND BY LABOR.

In resisting the activities of the Communist labor organizations in Canada, employers and organized labor stand shoulder to shoulder. The Stratford strike was the first large scale manifestation of the menace that such organizations as the Workers' Unity League present to all elements in Canadian industry. In other parts of the country, the agents of the league, who profess a fraternal interest in the objectives of the Red Internationale of Moscow, are active. As an article published elsewhere in this issue clearly testifies most of the "strikes" in Canada are being called by this organization which has no standing with the majority of organized labor in Canada and is, in fact, working at cross purposes with the established unions as much as with employers.

* * * *

In many cases in Canada plants are being picketted by strikers asking for higher wages and shorter hours when in reality every employee of the plant is a member of one of the recognized unions and union conditions prevail throughout the organization. Such strikes are fakes, conducted purely for publicity purposes or to foment general discontent. But unless the man on the street realizes the character of these "strikes" he is very apt to feel that a group of workers is taking its only possible recourse against an exploiting employer.

* * * *

Labor leaders, representing such organizations as the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada are in an embarrassing position in regard to such strikes. Their own position is undermined by Communist activities as much as the position of employers. Yet they must feel hesitant about condemning the activities of what is after all a competitive labor organization.

The employer who permits himself to be bulldozed by one of these red unions is simply adding to the strength of a wholly subversive movement that is a danger to owners and workers alike.

* * * *

Until about a year ago, the Workers' Unity League was openly affiliated with the Communist party in Russia. But, when public opinion in Canada showed a decided prejudice against Red activities, the league made haste to alter its constitution and now professes to have no direct contact with Moscow. Yet its constitution provides that it "shall strive to strengthen and improve its existing fraternal relations with the Red Internationale of Labor Unions."

So much for the divorce from Moscow.—Financial Post.

HOW THE STRIKE ENDED.

Announcement from Kitchener tells of an assignment made by the De Luxe Upholstering Company. The manager says the assignment came as a result of the strike which lasted during the month of February. The statement says:

"It simply couldn't be done. I told the men at the time that we could not carry on forever. You can't lock your plant for a month, lose your orders and many of your business connections and then pick up where you left off."

This paper admits at the outset that it is not familiar with the financial strength of the Kitchener company or with its ability to stand a strike. And yet there is truth in that statement. It is not possible to have a protracted strike and then start in again upon the strike being settled and be assured of sufficient business for profitable operation, and although there may be those who do not like the idea of profits, it is patent that if there are no profits the days of operation are numbered.

In this case at Kitchener it appears that although the strike was settled, that settlement did not carry with it assurance that there would be work to make the plant run successfully. The world has seen a good many strikes come and go, and it is generally claimed that the outcome is a victory for one side or the other. Truth is that both sides pay for strikes. The men engaged pay through lost wages and the firms pay through lost business, and when operations are again resumed the "lost business" factor is a serious one with which to contend. The lost business may well prove to be the factor which makes it difficult, if not impossible, to pay the better scale of wages decided upon.

There is no better way to prevent strikes than to maintain a fair relationship between the shop and the office all the time. It is not sufficient that such relationship shall show signs of existing only when an agreement is to be negotiated. A pleasant and considerate atmosphere, maintained for twelve months in the year, is not one in which strikes are born.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The profits reported by big tobacco firms in Canada show that a great deal of Canadian money goes up in smoke every year.

Perhaps the Canadian Mounted Police could spare a man for a day or two to help in the Dillinger chase. The Mounties' record of always getting their man would give the much-wanted outlaw something to think about.

One public man who has the faculty of speaking straight out is Hon. H. H. Stevens, whose warning to Canadian business men in a speech at Montreal recently contained some home truths that cannot safely be disregarded.

After all the feverish preparations of recent weeks it is to be hoped that Premier Henry does not change his mind and postpone the provincial election until next fall.

A country doctor is one who can tell a boil from measles without the help of a laboratory girl.—Robert Quillen.

Nothing makes a fellow feel old so quickly as to see younger sister wearing glasses.—Brandon Sun.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office By STANLEY

STORM DRIFT

By ETHEL M. DELL

(Continued from Saturday)

CHAPTER 57

That task of telling Viola pursued Tiggie like a nightmare throughout the dark hours that followed. He could not picture himself even beginning to tell her. The memory of her as she had been that morning met him like a pale specter whichever way he turned. And her words: "I must keep my paradise a little longer—even if it is only a fool's paradise!" He knew now why they had haunted him so.

All through that bitter night, while the rain pounded against his window and the wind roared over the sea, he lay helpless, gazing as it were at the storm driven wreckage around him. And there were times when even his stout heart quailed with that fear to which he could give no name.

In the morning he arose haggard and unrefreshed to make his last fight.

There was no one about downstairs when he descended, and he breakfasted alone, thankful that his early appearance sent Joe Penny scuttling to and fro to serve him, allowing no time for gossip. The wind and rain had abated, and a heavy mist hung over the sea.

"It'll spread in before long," said the landlord. "Hear that siren, sir? That's the Slimby Point lightship."

Yes, Tiggie heard the melancholy sound and wished from his soul that it might cease. It might have been the bellowing of the Giant Despair.

When he went out at last, the ragged white curtain was already drifting over Farne, and the rush of the stream across the road had a weird remoteness, as though it ran underground.

He turned his face to the cliff path. He must see Viola before he did anything else. It was useless to postpone telling her. They must face this thing together. He dared not leave her in ignorance any longer.

Heavily his feet followed the slippery track which they had mounted so lightly the day before. At the gate he paused, but not as he had paused then. The hoot of the distant siren came wailing over the water, and he shivered with a sense of deadly coldness. There seemed to be something horrible in the creeping mist wreaths all about him, as though some evil thing stretched out its ghastly tentacles to feel for him. He entered the little garden almost at a run, conscious of a blind sense of panic, for which there was no accounting.

In the porch he stopped to collect himself and wipe the cold drops of mist—or was it sweat?—from his face. It was evident that the long night's vigil had told upon his nerves. He could not go to her thus. There was nothing more infectious than fear. And after all, what was the meaning of this craven feeling? What had he to be afraid of?

Early as it was, he did not stop to knock, but went straight in and quickly shut the door behind him. Then he stood again in the dark passage, deliberately mustering his self-control.

The door of the little sitting room was closed, but as he stood there he heard a movement on the other side. It opened rather quickly, and Helen stood before him.

"Oh, Tiggie!" she said. "Is it you?"

There was a mixture of relief and consternation in her voice which he was quick to note.

"What is it?" he said. "Is all well?"

"Yes. Oh yes." She answered him with obvious embarrassment. "You—you know—of course you know—that her husband has come?"

"May I come in?" said Tiggie.

She stood back with a mute gesture, and he entered. She was partaking of a hurried breakfast. Turning to look at her, he saw the strain in her eyes which she no longer attempted to hide.

She spoke in answer to his look. "I'm late, I know. I couldn't keep Viola in bed. She insisted on getting up, and I had to help her. I've left Joyce with her now."

"What about—her husband?" said Tiggie. "Have you seen him?"

"Oh, yes," she said again. "He turned up last night, just after supper. I didn't know quite what to do. But he insisted upon seeing Viola, so I had to let him in."

"What?" said Tiggie. "What?"

The blood suddenly went to his head, and for a moment the loud singing of his ears made him deaf to everything else. But she made no attempt to answer him, and the long wail of the siren came through the silence, dinning upon his numbed senses until they responded.

As it ceased again, he awoke to the fact that Helen was speaking uneasily, as though seeking to justify herself. "I didn't like the man, but he is her husband. I told him how ill she had been and tried to persuade him not to disturb her, but it was no use. He was quite determined, so there was no help for it. I had to go and tell her."

"And she?" Tiggie's voice came hoarsely, as if it produced itself without any help from him.

Helen made a hopeless gesture. "Poor little soul! She was as brave as a lion, but she looked—like a terrified rabbit. She said at once that she would see him."

"And then?" There was a metallic sound now in the words—a deadened awful ring. The veins of Tiggie's forehead were standing out in knots.

"Well, then he went to her, Helen said. "He bolted himself in, and was with her for nearly two hours. I didn't know what to do. A faint sob rose in her throat, but she swiftly suppressed it. "I could only sit in my own room and wait."

"Go on!" said Tiggie.

She obeyed him as though recognizing his right to know. "I can't say what passed between them. He kept very quiet. Only once—I heard her crying. I thought of coming to fetch you, but I was afraid it might be a mistake—make matters worse. So I just waited on, and at last he came out. He was very suave, regretted that I had stayed up on his account and said that there was really no need as his wife was now comfortably settled for the night. Oh, Tiggie!" She broke off with a sudden rush of fierce indignation. "What a brute! What a brute!"

"Tell me the rest!" said Tiggie.

She complied as if she had no choice. "He left then, said he was putting up at 'The Sea Lion'. I went to her. She was lying as one dead. I gave her brandy, and she tried not to take it. She begged me to let her die—only let her die. But I made her take it, and after that I don't know whether she slept or not. She seemed to lie in a sort of trance all night long. I couldn't help her, couldn't get near her, though I stayed with her all the time. This morning she said she must get up. I tried to persuade her not to, but it was no good. So I thought it best to give in. She is sitting up in her room now, but she looks—terrible." She paused and made an appealing gesture. "If you see her, for heaven's sake be careful—be very careful!"

Tiggie ignored the words, but more as if he had not heard them than deliberately. "I'll go to her now," he said, and turned to the door.

Helen made no attempt to detain him. Tiggie in that mood was a being unknown to her. "Send Joyce down to me," she said, and began to collect the breakfast things with a kind of dreary energy.

Tiggie's step on the stairs brought Joyce to the bedroom door at the top. She came out to meet him, and put her arms round his neck as he ascended.

"You can come in, Uncle Tiggie. Auntie Viola's up," she said.

Somehow her loving clasp helped Tiggie, wherefore he could not have said. He paused to kiss her and deliver her mother's message, and when he stood up again he had as it were recovered his balance and was his own master again.

He waited until she had run down to Helen before he knocked on the half-open door.

A low murmur answered him, and he entered.

Viola was seated in a chair with her back to the light. She did not stir at his entrance or make any movement of greeting. Her eyes were downcast and the lids did not even flutter at his approach. Save for her upright posture, she might have been a dead person sitting there.

But Tiggie did not hesitate. He shut himself into the room and went straight to her. He went down on his knees before her without a word and stretched his arms around her, laying his face upon her cold clasped hands. She quivered at his touch, but she made no gesture of yielding, only sat there passive in his hold, as though all emotion had drained away.

Even when his arms tightened about her, she made no voluntary movement of any sort. Only at length, in a dry, husky voice, she spoke.

"Have you come to say good-by?"

He clasped her then as he had never clasped her before, raising himself until he held her close against his heart. "No, never—never—never!" he told her deeply. "I'll never give you up."

She didn't resist, but she did not yield. She seemed to lack the strength to do either, yet spiritually she stood apart from him. "You can't give up—what you've never had," she said in the same dry whisper. "I was never more to you than—storm-drift—just storm-drift."

"You are my whole life to me," he told her passionately, wrought into something that was almost frenzy by her words. "You are mine. I will never let you go."

"I am not yours," she said. "I never have been—or can be. I've always known it—in my heart."

He held her faster. "Viola—Viola! Don't say it! It's not true! I'll fight for you—while there's breath in my body! I'll never let you go. I swear it."

She remained passive. "It's no use," she said. "It's all been a mistake. I never ought to have turned to you for help. I ought to have known."

"How could you know," said Tiggie, "when the damn' hound lied to you? But listen! I'm going to take you away. He can take any steps he likes, and the sooner the better. He shall never come near you again. That I swear."

She stirred at that, slowly lifting her head on his breast until her eyes looked up to his. And in their misty depths, like the gleam of stars in a still pool, he saw that smile which he had seen once before—the smile of sacrifice.

"That's—so like you, Tiggie," she said. "But it's impossible. I can't go away with you. How should I ever be able to endure myself afterwards? I've gone near enough to wrecking your life as it is. No, don't speak! Its' no good. I'm casting adrift from you now—you've saved my life twice. God bless you for all you've done for me! But I'm going out of your life now—going for good. You mustn't try to stop me—because, I tell you, Tiggie, it would be easier for me to die than to accept that from you. If you love me—as I love you—you'll understand."

A note of pleading had crept into the husky monotone in which she spoke. But Tiggie steeled himself against it.

"And what about the afterwards for me?" he said. "Do you think life's going to be worth anything whatever to me without you?"

She still smiled at him—her brave, piteous smile. "Oh yes—in time," she said. "Not at first, of course. But by and by—when you get back to your regiment—and everything is the same as before you met me."

"Stop!" broke in Tiggie hoarsely. "If you don't realize what hell it would be—then you've never know me! Besides, the scoundrel is out for money—not for you. I suppose he didn't tell you that."

She started a little at his words, but, though her smile died, her resolution remained. "No, he didn't tell me that," she said. "And I'm afraid I can't believe it, because he threatened to kill you if I didn't—didn't . . ."

"Didn't what?" said Tiggie.

She hid her face from his look. "He is—my husband," she whispered. "I suppose he has—the right."

"Oh, my God!" said Tiggie.

In the silence he kept his arms about her, but his face above her bowed head was set and gray, his eyes stony.

(To be continued)

A Thought

The years are going. Let the chaff and evil part of this life pass without them. As men load the wagon with the sweepings of the street, and, carrying it far to the ocean, cast it into the deep abyss, so bring together all your hatreds, weaknesses, unkindnesses, jealousies, all passions, ingratitudes, and embittering memories, and, tying them into one bundle, let the Old Year sweep them out and drop them into the gulf of oblivion. Expel from your life all sins and sordid aims.—N. D. Hillis.

One-Minute Pulpit

Behold the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither His ear heavy that it cannot hear.—Isaiah 59:1.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE BIRTH OF ONTARIO HYDRO

On this date, in 1906, Adam Beck introduced in the Ontario Legislature the bill which caused an industrial and social revolution in that province. The idea was born at a convention of municipalities at Berlin (now Kitchener in 1902) when a delegate from Toronto proposed the creation of a commission to buy electric energy from the private companies at Niagara Falls, or to develop its own power, and to build transmission lines through the province. Among his hearers was Adam Beck, then mayor of London. The proposal aroused his enthusiasm; he studied it in all its details and within a few months was the chief advocate of provincial electrical development. He persuaded the Whitney government to appoint a commission to study the question. That commission reported two years later in favor of municipal co-operation to secure Niagara power and on July 5, 1906, the Hydro-Electric Commission was appointed with Hon. Adam Beck as chairman.

Under his magnetic personality and wonderful driving power the idea was soon realized. The story of Hydro is known to every resident of Ontario. The Commission was soon able to supply power from its own stations; the private companies were absorbed; the whole province was bound in a chain of electrical development unequalled in the world. Power is supplied at cost, reliable and abundant power for 24 hours a day at a price that encourages people to use it freely. That power has revolutionized industry and home life in the past 23 years. Last year it served 760 municipalities and its capital investment reached $400,000,000 all the property of the people of Ontario, who know that the more power they use in home or factory the better the service and the greater the profit to the municipalities. Ontario leads the world in hydro-electric progress!

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

CONFESSIONS

I've never been able to keep a check book straight.

Compliments embarrass me, but I like them.

I envy every good public speaker.

People who run for public office amaze me, although I know that somebody SHOULD run for office.

How do some people stand hot weather?

I blush.

Sometimes when I hear the golden laughter of negroes, I think "Whether they know it or not, they are laughing at us."

Once, when I was a boy, I prayed that an old witch would die.... Being old, she did die, and I was afraid that people would find me out.

I wonder if I'm as absent minded as I seem, or if I forget only the things I don't want to remember.

I'm not a good business man.

My watch doesn't keep good time any more, but I don't want a new one.

When a policeman comes into my yard, I wonder what I've done.

And I wonder what I would do if I woke up and found a burglar in the room.

I know several happy marriages.

I have cheated at solitaire.

I hate to wait on corners.

My feelings are easily hurt.

Most of my neckties have blue in them.

I'd rather pay the street car fare than match for it.

I know we are not as "different" as we hope we are.

MEN REGISTER FOR ROAD WORK AT CAMPBELLFORD

CAMPBELLFORD, May 7.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Over two hundred and fifty men from the Town of Campbellford and Seymour Township registered for work on the new government road that is to be built between Campbellford and Havelock, when W. C. Ferris of the Department of Labor held a sitting in Campbellford Friday morning to take registrations from these two municipalities The sitting was held in the Public Library and proved a very busy session for this department official, as men flocked to put their names down for road work. Out of the grand total, 124 were residents of Campbellford, among these being many younger men, eager to work. It is not known how many men this ten odd miles of road building will employ. C. H. Davidson is looking after the registration of men for Campbellford, the Seymour end of the labor matter being handled by Robert Innes.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

HULL, QUEBEC

Hull, the industrial centre across the Ottawa River from the capital of Canada, is somewhat overshadowed by the magnificence of Ottawa, but it rejoices in a history dating back 134 years.

In 1800, Philemon Wright, came up with his family and a few friends from Massachusetts and settled there. For a short while the new inhabitants did not concern themselves with a name for the place, and it came to be known as Wright's Settlement. This name did not appear to suit the new colony, so Wright took the matter into his own hands and named the place Hull, after the town of his birth in England. The city has never borne any other name.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

MAY 7, 1924.

The City Council last night decided to keep the public bathing beaches open on Sundays this summer. . . . A check-up on local buildings shows there are 320 stores and shops in Peterborough now and 42 factories and industrial buildings.

MAY 7, 1914.

The Lift Lock here will open for the summer on or before May 15th. . . . Mayor Buller, who went with a large contingent of local baseball fans to Erie for the Petes' first game of the season to-day, will participate in the opening ceremonies.

MAY 7, 1904.

W. H. Kennedy's shingle mill at Omemee was destroyed by fire last evening at a loss of about $4,500. . . . The ratepayers here yesterday voted in favor of a new Collegiate Institute, but against a guarantee for a sugar industry.

HARDY SETTLERS.

NEW LISKEARD, Ont.—Undaunted by their strenuous trip through the rugged Temagami reserve lands from North Bay, Richard Wilton and Edward Wall, formerly of Welland, arrived here with their team of horses and wagon laden with farm implements and prepared to open a homestead in Brethour Township. Wall said just as soon as they were settled they would send for their families.

New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster

COUPON

Clip 3 Coupons

on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98c

This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green textile leather, gold stamping.

Special—To get it bound in embossed art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb indexed, send $1.09 extra.

NAME 12

ADDRESS .....

.....

McIntyre Down $2-Wall Street Weakens-Industrials Soft

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	180	175	175
Con. Bake	9½	9	9
Br. Am. Oil	15	14¾	14¾
Can. Break Co.	3¾	..	..
Bldg. Prods.	22¼	..	..
Bell Tel.	120	119¼	119¼
Burt F. N.	32⅝	32¼	32¼
Brazilian	10⅞	10⅛	10⅛
B. C. Power "A"	28-29	..	..
Can. Cem.	8	7½	7⅝
C. P. R.	16½	15⅝	16
Can. Dredge	22½	..	..
Can. Car and F.	7	6⅞	6⅞
Can. Oil	13	..	..
Can. Malt	32½	31⅛	31½
Cockshutt	7⅛	7	7
Dom. Bridge	34½	34¼	34¼
Dist. Seagram	17	15	15⅜
Dom. Stores	20½	20¼	20¼
Ford "A"	22½	20⅜	21⅝
Gypsum, L & A.	6¾	6	6
Cons. Gas	180	179	179
Goodyear	121	120	121
Walk. G. & W.	33	30	31⅞
Int Nickel	2800	2710	2750
Int Util A	3-4	..	..
Int Util B	90-95	..	..
Ind Alcohol	11½	10	11
Imp Oil	14⅜	14¼	14⅜
Imp Tobacco	11¼	11¼	11¼
Con. Smelt.	151	148	150
Laura S	50	..	..
Loblaw A	17½	..	..
Mont L H & P.	38	37⅜	38
McColl-Front.	13⅝	13¼	13¼
Massey-Harris	5⅝	5	5
Moore Corp.	16½	..	..
Page Hersey	68	..	..
Power Corp.	12	..	..
Photo Eng.	18¼-18⅝	..	..
Int. Pete	26⅞	26¼	26⅞
Std. Steel	6⅜	6	6
Serv. Stations	8-8½	..	..
Sup. Petro	24½	24	24
Stan. Paving	3¼	3	3
Tip-Top Tailors	9	..	..
C. Vinegar	26¼	..	..
Wineries	7½	..	..
Weston's Ltd.	38½	37	38½
Steel of Canada	35⅞	34¾	35½

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE AND CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme Oil	26	25	25
Ajax Oil	114	110	110
Algoma	16	14¼	14¼
Amity	2⅜	2⅛	2⅜
Bagamac	24	21	21½
Base Metals	151	148	148
Barry Hollinger	15	14⅜	14⅜
Bobjo	50	45	46½
Braylorne	1400	1350	1350
B. R. X.	120	110	112
Bunker Hill	3¼	3	3¼
Brownlee	4½	4	4
Can Kirk	8¾	8½	8½
Chem Research	205	160	184
Cen Patricia	70	63	65½
Cen Manitoba	11⅞	10¾	....
Coast Copper	450	....	....
Cassels Treth	60	56	56
Dalhousie Oil	40	....	....
Dome	3700	3610	3700
Dom Explorers	4⅛B	....	....
Eldorado	300	280	280
Falconbridge	400	381	385
Fed Kirk	6	5¾	6
Hollinger	1565	1495	1510
Home Oil	156	148	148
Howey	126	122	123
Hudson Bay	1265	1260	1265
Int Nickel	2800	2720	2750
Kirk Hudson	69	66	66
Kirk Lake	52½	49	49
Kirk Townsite	29	25	25
Gunnar	165	150	158
Little Long Lac	460	440	440
Green St	82	80	80
Harker	12¼	11½	11½
Lebel Oro	18½	15	16½
Columario	30	27	28
Bear	46	40	43½
Read Authier	96	94	95
Park Hill	65	61	62
Bradian	270	....	....
Lakeshore	4950	4875	4875
Lee Gold	14½	13½	14½
McIntyre	4450	4200	4230
Macassa	263	250	251
Maple Leaf	67	60	61½
Malartic	66	63	66
Mining Corp.	195	190	195
Malrobic	5¼	5	5
Moffat-Hall	6	5½	6
McMillan	66	63	63
Mc.-Graham	73	69	70
McWatters	43	39½	40
McKenzie	122	116	116
Noranda	3450	3810	3875
Northern Can.	33	30	32
Nipissing	240	235	235
Nordon	12	11¼	—
Pend-Oreille	95	93	93
Pioneer	1300	1250	—
Premier	130	125	125
Reno Gold	93	90	92
Ribago	1¼	—	—
Sherit-Gordon	112	110	110
Siscoe	215	211	211
San Antonio	381	372	373
Sudbury-Basin	180	175	178
St. Anthony	56	51	52
Sylvanite	260	240	240
Tech-Hughes	610	590	595
Towagmac	59½	52	52
Thompson Cad.	46	43	44
Ventures	93	89	90
Waite-Amulet	127	—	—
Wayside	43	38	39
Wright-Harg.	880	840	850
Wainwright	70	—	—
White Eagle	36	34	34½

Unlisted

Beattie 118-123
Bathurst 4¾-5¼
Smelter Gold 29½-31½
Pickle Crow .67-71
Gt. Bear Dev. .34-35
Young Davidson 38 asked
Toburn 148-155
Red Lake Gold Shore .34-43
McLeod Cockshutt .40-43
Total Sales: 1,071,000.

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Aichison	63	59¼	60½
Auburn Auto	40⅞	36⅛	36½
Allied Chem.	143¾	138⅝	139⅝
Amer. Can.	99	96⅝	96⅝
Am. Smelting	40⅜	37¼	38⅛
Am. Rad. & S.S.	14⅛	13⅜	13⅜
Am. & For. Pow.	8	7⅜	7⅜
Am. Tel. & Tel.	111¼	108¾	109⅝
Am. Roll. Mills	21⅛	19¼	19½
Anaconda Cop.	15⅝	14⅛	14⅞
Balt. & Ohio	25	22¼	23
Baldwin Loco	12	10½	10⅝
Bordens	24	21⅞	22½
Byers, A. M.	23	21¼	22
Bendix Avn.	16¼	15¼	15½
Beth. Steel	37⅛	34⅝	34⅜
Briggs	17	15⅜	16
Can. Pacific	16½	15⅞	16
Case, J. I.	57⅞	53½	54½
Chrysler	45½	42⅜	42⅜
Columbus Gas	12½	11⅜	11⅞
Cons. Gas	33⅛	31⅝	32⅛
Com. Solvents	23½	22¼	22½
Dupont	89⅜	85⅝	86⅛
Erie	19½	17⅞	18⅛
E. Bond & Share	13⅜	12⅝	12⅞
El. Pwr. & Light	5⅝	5⅛	5¼
Elect. Auto L.	22⅜	19½	20⅜
Freeport Texas	41⅞	41	41
Fox Film	15	14¼	14½
Gen. Electric	20⅞	19⅜	20⅛
Gen. Food Prods.	33⅞	33	33
Gen. Motors	35	32⅝	33
Gillette Saf. Raz.	10⅞	10½	10½
Goodyear	32⅜	30½	31⅜
Hudson Motors	15¼	12⅞	13
Int. Nickel	28	27¼	27½
Interboro R.T.	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜
Inter. Tel. & Tel.	13	11½	11½
Johns Manville	51¼	48½	49¼
Liquid Carb.	30½	29	29
Mont. Ward	27⅜	25⅛	25⅛
Mack Truck	27⅞	27⅛	27⅛
Nash Motors	19½	18	18
N.Y. Central	29¼	27⅛	27⅛
Nat. Biscuit	39¼	38¼	38⅝
North American	16½	15¼	15½
Phillips Pete	18½	17¼	17⅜
Pack. Motors	4⅝	4¼	4¼
Penn. Rly.	31½	30	30¼
Pennock & Ford	57	55⅝	55⅝
Pub. Serv. N.J.	35⅞	33⅞	34
Radio Corp.	7¾	7⅜	7⅜
Radio Keith	3¼	3	3
Raybestos Man.	18⅛	17⅜	17⅝
Sears Roebuck	45¼	42⅛	43⅛
Simmons Bed Co	17¼	15½	16¼
Stand. Brands	20⅜	19¼	19¼
Stand G. & E.	10¼	9½	9½
Socony Vac.	15⅜	15	15⅜
Studebaker	5⅛	4½	4⅝
Stewart Warn.	8	7⅝	7⅝
South. Pacific	23½	21	21⅜
Texas Corp.	25	24⅜	24⅜
Timken Roll. B.	31¼	30	30⅜
Union Pacific	127½	124½	125
Union Carb.	42⅞	40	40½
United Corp.	5¼	5	5
U.S. Rubber	22	19½	20¼
U.S. Steel	46	43⅞	44½
Vanadium Corp.	22⅜	20⅝	21
Westinghouse	36⅝	33⅜	33½
Warner Bros.	6⅝	5⅞	5⅞
Yellow Cab.	5¼	4⅝	4⅝
Woolworth	50½	48	48⅜
Nat. Distilleries.	27	24½	24⅞

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

CHICAGO—	July.	Sept.	May.
High	83¼	83⅛	86
Low	81¼	81⅝	83½
Close	82¾	82¾	84¼

WINNIPEG—
Closed (Arbor Day).

BOND LIST

WATSON, WALLACE & CO.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

1936	105 -105⅝
1937	110 -110⅜
1941	107⅞-108¼
1952	101⅞-102¼
1958	104⅞-105⅛

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

1948	109¼-109⅝

DISTILLERIES ARE UNLOADED HEAVY VOLUME

Mild Late Rally Reduces Losses in Spots But General List Closes Down.

DISTRESS SELLING.

TORONTO, May 7 (CP)—Industrial stocks, particularly the interlisted issues, were hammered for losses reaching up to more than two points to-day on the Toronto Stock Exchange, where sentiment was guided mainly by weakness on the New York board. Distillery shares were unloaded in heavy volume, much of it constituting distress selling. A mild rally in the last half hour reduced losses in spots, but 75 per cent. of the board closed on the downside.

Main weakness in the liquor group was centered on the Walker issues, the common receding to 30¼, and the Preferred to 16. The Common came back on a late rally to 31¼ for a net loss of 2¼. The stock was sold in heavy volume, lots of 5, 10 and 25 shares testifying to public selling from weakened margin accounts. Distillers Seagram recovered from a low of 15½ to close at 16¼ for a net loss of ¾. Industrial Alcohol finished ⅛ lower at 11, and Brewers and Distillers down 10 cents at 1.60.

Ford "A" was a weak spot, off more than a point at the close, while Nickel dropped 60 cents, and Brazilian and C.P.R. ⅜ to ⅝ each.

TORONTO MINES SHOW SETBACKS

Losses in Big Golds and Base Metal Issues Limited to $1 To-day.

SILVER STOCKS UP.

TORONTO, May 7 (C.P.) — Trading in mining shares dumped holdings in volume this afternoon as pronounced weakness developed on the industrial markets. The mining section of the Toronto Exchange, while generally lower at the close, had no serious recessions except for a loss of about $2 in McIntyre. In the other big gold and base metal issues losses were limited to $1. Silver stocks had narrow gains at the close.

Selling pressure on the New York Board was the chief influence locally towards lower prices. The drop was not sufficiently wide to crowd margin traders, and offerings were not heavy. Dome dipped to $36 but recovered to 36.75 to close 25 up. McIntyre was forced down to 42.25 for a loss of 2.50. Hollinger dropped 50 cents, Lake Shore 50 cents, Bralorne 60 cents, Wright Hargreaves 40 cents, and Teck Hughes 10 cents.

Noranda weakened 75 cents on slow trading.

CHICAGO WHEAT SHOWS ADVANCES

Broadened Speculative Buying Induced by Drought in Grain Producing Areas.

CHICAGO, May 7. —(A.P.) — Wheat prices shot upward more than three cents at Chicago today on the strength of broadened speculative buying induced apparently by continued drought in grain producing areas. The golden grain was some 7 cents higher than the low of a week ago.

Corn prices also increased more than a cent a bushel.

The two deferred future contracts in wheat, being more directly affected by the weather than the May delivery, showed the most strength. July opened at $1 to $1⅞ cents and advanced early to $2 1-3 cents. September was up a like amount at 83⅝ cents, after opening at 81¾ to 82¾ cents.

80 Miners Sealed In Blazing Shaft

MUELLHEIM, Baden, Germany, May 7.—(A.P.) — With 80 miners certainly dead, the Buggingen potash mine was sealed by authorities to-day in an effort to stop the fierce fire which trapped the workers.

A short circuit caused an explosion which was followed by the fire in shafts more than 2,000 feet below the suface and spread rapidly. Repeated explosions brought cave-ins and death for the trapped miners.

Mine authorities called out all fire fighting and rescue apparatus in the area. They refused to divulge the exact number of men who were below the surface.

GALT MAY NOT ENTER

GALT, Ont., May 7 (CP)—After a lengthy session this morning, the executive of the Galt Terrier ball team advised Secretary Shantz of Inter-City League that the Galt Club would refuse to participate in a seven team league, and if the I.C. officers proceeded to draw up a schedule for seven clubs, they could accept Galt's withdrawal for the 1934 season.

GENERAL WOOLCOMBE DEAD

LONDON (C.P.-Havas).—General Sir Arthur Louis Woolcombe, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., Commander-in-Chief of the Eastern Command, who retired in 1920, died here to-day in his 75th year.

Transients Escape Palmerston Jail

GUELPH, Ont., May 7.—(C.P.)—Smashing out a heavy wire screen into the arms of waiting police at Palmerston, three transients who were arrested for being drunk, clambered out to freedom, and then hiked 18 miles down the railroad track to Goldstone, only to walk in the combination jail and fire hall officers.

In police court here this morning all three pleaded guilty to charges of being intoxicated and were fined $10 and costs or one month in jail. On charges of escaping from custody they elected trial by a higher court and were remanded a week for preliminary hearing.

The trio, John Neff, Edward Taylor and Donald Snell, were picked up in Palmerston by Provincial Constable T. W. Oldfield and Chief Robert Wilson, when they were allegedly trying to climb on to a train as it was leaving the Palmerston station.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, May 7 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., here to-day were: Messina lemons, No. 1, case, $3.75 to $4; No. 2 case, $3.50; Florida grapefruit, case, $5.00 to $5.25; California navel oranges, $4.00 to $5.25; Mexican tomatoes, lug (30 lb.) $3.50 to $3.75; New Orleans shallots, doz., 50c; spinach, bushel, $1.75; cauliflower, crate, $2.35; California lettuce, 6 and 5 doz., $6 to $6.50; California green peas, hamper $3.00; California green beans, hamper, $3.50; Cuban pineapples, case of 18, 24 and 30, $3.50; Louisiana strawberries, 24-pint boxes, $3.00; Argentine grapes, 20 lb. box, $2.50; California carrots, 6 doz. crate, $3.25 to $3.50; Carolina sweet potatoes, 50 lb. box, $2.35 to $2.50; Washington asparagus, 12 lb. case, $2 to $2.25; Texas cabbage, 75 lb. crate, $2.75; Canadian indoor rhubarb, doz, 75c.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 7 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A-large, doz., 17c; grade A-medium, 15c; grade "C" 14c.

Churning Cream — No. 1 lb., 21c; No. 2, lb., 19c. Butter—No. 1, solids, lb, 19¾c; No. 2, 19¼c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag, 90 cents.

$34.73 GOLD AT LONDON

MONTREAL, May 7 (CP)—Bar gold in London down 3 to $34.73 an ounce in Canadian funds; 136s 2d in British funds. The fixed $35 Washington price amounted to $34.90 in Canadian.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, May 7 (CP)—Eggs—Grade A-large, 19½ to 20c; grade A-medium, 18 to 18½c! grade "B", 17½c.

WINNIPEG EXCHANGE CLOSED

WINNIPEG, May 7 (CP)—Winnipeg Grain Exchange was closed to-day for Arbor Day, a public holiday in Manitoba. The Chicago market operated as usual.

HOG PRICES

TORONTO, May 7. (CP).—Bacon hog prices dropped all around over the week-end settling at $7.50 a hundredweight f.o.b. shipping point with $1 premium for extras.

To-day's prices: Hull, Que., $8 off truck, down 25c; Peterborough $7.50, down 10c; Kitchener $7.50, down 10c; London $7.50 down 10c.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, May 7—(CP)—Lambs got back half of last week's loss on the Toronto Livestock market this afternoon with an advance of 50 cents under active buying. Good lambs also gained 50 cents while hogs showed the only drop of the afternoon with a 15-cent loss on all grades. Cattle trade continued very slow but prices were generally unchanged from last week's close. Sheep were steady.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Livestock branch were: Cattle 2,930; calves 490; hogs 1,620; sheep and lambs 910.

A few choice weighty steers ranged from $6 to $6.25 with medium to good butchers at $4.75 to $5 and a few choice at $5.40. No sales were made on plain butchers. Butchers cows brought $2.50 to $4.25 while good bulls sold from $3.25 to $3.75 with bolognas from $2.75 to $3. A few fed calves brought $4.75 to $6.60

Calves went 50 cents higher at $6.50 to $7 for choice with the bulk selling from $4 to $6. Good feed lot lambs also moved 50 cents higher at $9.50. Spring lambs ranged from $4 to $9 each while sheep sold steady at $1.50 to $4 cwt. According to quality. Hogs settled 15 cents lower at $7.50 f.o.b. for bacons $7.85 off truck and $8.35 off car.

Steers up to 1050 lbs. good and choice $4.75 to $5.40; medium $4.50 to $4.75; common $3.50 to $4.25.

Steersover 1050 lbs. good and choice $5.75 to $6.25; medium $4.75; common $3.50 to $4.25.

Fed calves, good and choice $6.25 to $7; common to medium $4.75 to $6.

Cows, good $3.75 to $4.25; medium $3.25 to $3.50; common $2.50 to $3.

Canners and cutters $1.25 to $2.25.

Bulls, good $3.25 to $3.75; common $2.75 to $3.

Stocker and feeder steers, good $4 to $4.50; common $3 to $3.75.

Milkers and springers $30 to $45.

Hogs, off car basis, selects $1.00 premium; bacons $8.25; butchers $1 discount; heavies $1.50 discount; lights and feeders $1 discount; sows $5.25.

Lambs $9.50; medium $8.50 to $9.25; culls $7 to $8.00.

INTERESTING PROGRAM CENTREVILLE MEETING

CENTREVILLE, May 7.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Centreville Presbyterian Church was held in the Sunday school hall on Wednesday afternoon. The meeting opened with song, after which the president, Mrs. D. N. Dodds, offered prayer and Evelyn Donaldson gave the Bible reading. Mrs. D. A. McKenzie gave a delightful reading and Mrs. McLaren sang two much enjoyed solos.

The meeting closed with Mrs. Graham reading the prayer.

Races — Entries — Selections Comment — Results

Kenilworth Entries

(For Tuesday, May 8).

First Race.

Purse, $700, The Chatham, for maiden 2-year-olds foaled in Canada, 4½ furlongs (11):

C-Asperge 109, Miss Worthmore 109, B-Lipton 109, Aromette 109, Pestle 112, Gay Sympathy 109, A-Which Prig 109, B-Cudgeldoe 109, C-Faine 109, A-Prensweep 109, Fine Feathers 109.

A-H. C. Hatch entry; B-R. H. New entry; C-Draymond entry.

Second Race.

Purse, $700, claiming 4-year-olds and up, 5½ furlongs (10):

Cruising 109, X-Uma 99, Sorcery 110, Wacket 110, X-Refiner 100, X-Toy Town 103, Meloy 111, X-Pertoxical 104, Bubbling, Out 114, Kalola 108.

Third Race.

Purse, $700, claiming 3-year-olds, 5½ furlongs (10):

Inzor 107, X-Distribute 110, Corduroy 107, X-Hidden Lore 105, Lady Hockbersor 107, X-Hasty Belle 99, Mindreader 112, Jere 106, X-Gibable 100, Canny Scot 115.

Fourth Race.

Purse $700, claiming 4-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 5½ furlongs (9):

Circulet 115, Babe Gaiety 107, Aymond 113, X-Miss Gormley 106, Candy Pot 107, Syndic 115, Lady Worthmore 109, Lady Hilda 107, Toe Dance 107.

Fifth Race.

The Detroit, purse, $800, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (9):

B-Muckle Do 98, Crap Shooter 113, Grand Rock 101, A-Irene's Bob 110, A-Golden Fate 113, B-Khorasan 113, Stealingaway 113, Wrigley Field 110, Projectile 113.

A-J. E. Smellman entry; B-Mrs. J. Badame entry.

Sixth Race.

Purse $700, claiming 4-year-olds and up, 1 mile and a sixteenth (7):

Margie Lou 107, X-Pan 100, X-Baunboy 95, Huraway 112, Blighter 109, X-Boy Crazy 106, Dark Mission 109.

Seventh Race.

Purse $800, claiming 3-year-olds and up, 1 mile 70 yards (6):

X-Spartan Lady 106, X-Raccoon 112, X-Tremolo 100, X-Representative 103, Arrow Swift 108, X-Saxon Lady 106.

X-A.A.C. Clear, fast.

KENILWORTH SCRATCHES

First—Which Prig.
Second—Entangle.
Third—Egad.
Fourth—Don Carlos.
Fifth—Uma, Stephanus.
Sixth—Mrs. Foster.

CITY CAMPAIGN OF CLEANING-UP GETS UNDER WAY

(Continued from Page 1)

sections of the city, that the annual Spring clean-up is providing work. To name but a few places at random, where signs of activity are apparent, is to give a very incomplete idea of what is being done; but here they are:

Belleghem's house furnishing store on Hunter street is literally being turned inside out, and the work of remodelling and redecorating which is nearing completion is finding work for bricklayers, plasters, paperhangers, painters and carpenters.

To Open Bakery

Just across the road on the other side of Hunter street, a similar gang of tradesmen are finding employment on the premises recently acquired by Weston's Limited which is to be shortly opened as a distributing plant, it is understood.

At Silverwood's Peterborough Dairy, carpenters were busy this morning putting in new windows on the ground floor facing the street, while a few feet south men were employed repairing sign boards.

Still further down Aylmer street, at the Fire Hall, where the principle of the clean-up campaign is enforced all the year 'round, the firemen are engaged in scrubbing and painting.

On Charlotte street Hall's barber shop has recently undergone renovation, while a few blocks west a dwelling house is being converted into two stores, and on the other side of the street at the Shell Service Station inspection pits are being constructed.

Trees are being planted on the boulevards of Sherbrook street, while at the Brock Street Rink where skating and ice hockey was the order of the day a few weeks ago, a remarkable transformation is rapidly nearing completion, and it is but a matter of days now before announcement of its re-opening as a dance hall will be made by the management.

TWO KILLED BY TORNADOES

ALEXANDRIA, La. — Week-end tornadoes hailstorms and torrential rains in Southern Louisiana and Mississippi left two dead, five injured, wrecked homes and damaged crops in their paths.

Kenilworth Results

FIRST RACE.

$700, The Juvenile, for maiden 2-year-olds, 4½ furlongs:

Dedication, 112, Atkins, 12.95, 5.55, 2.55.

Donstick, 102, Young, 5.25, 2.50.

St. Moritz, 109, Abel, 2.20.

Time, 55.

Leo D., Candy Store, also ran.

SECOND RACE.

$700, claiming 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 6 furlongs:

Rosepath, 110, Young, 3.55, 2.30, 2.20.

Villecrest, 103, Madeley, 2.50, 2.55.

Ruskit, 112, Aimers, 3.10.

Time, 1.13 4-5.

Stage Idol, Gra Chink, Glaze, Running Showers, Masque Mar also ran.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, May 7.—(CP)— In sympathy with the downward trend in New York prices on the Montreal Stock Exchange turned lower at the close today. The selling spread to all sections of the list.

Canadian Industrial Alcohol stocks were the focal point of the unloading. The A' touched a new low at 10¼ and closed with a loss of ⅝ at 10⅞. The 'B' dipped to a new maximum at 10¼ but recovered to finish at 10¾, up ¼. The preferred was off ½ at a new low of 14.

Brazilian Traction, International Nickel, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal Power, National Breweries and Shawinigan Power were off small amounts.

WALL STREET CLOSE

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Heavy selling swept the stock market into lower ground to-day. Prices gave way in every section of the list for declines of 1 to 5 points. Recoveries of fractions to a point or so occurred in some shares in the late dealings. Shares off 2 to 5 at their worst included Case, U.S. Industrial Alcohol, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, U.S. Smelting and U.S. Steel. Transfers approximated 2,300,000 shares.

OTTAWA PACTS JUSTIFIED BY RESULTS SAYS THOMAS

By GEORGE HAMBLETON.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, May 7.—(C.P. Cable.)—From the standpoint of results, the Ottawa trade agreements were more than justified, J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, declared in the House of Commons to-day as he took sharp issue with Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the Liberal Parliamentary Party.

Sir Herbert, in the course of a debate on Imperial trade policy, attacked the pacts, declared they had been contested as heartily in Canada as in Britain, and criticized the government's refusal to consider a New Zealand inquiry as to whether Britain would guarantee continued free entry of New Zealand products in return for removal or reduction on New Zealand duties on British imports. He was caustic about plants of Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture, for revival of British agriculture.

Greetings

GALT, Ont., May 7. (CP).—In a turkey that was being dressed over the week-end at Preston Hotel there was found a note in a glass phial, signed by James Burns, Vanguard, Sask., farmer, in which he conveyed Christmas greetings to the purchaser and conveying the information that he had sold it at 8 cents a pound on Dec. 8, 1933. He wanted the buyer to advise him how much a pound was paid for the fowl.

MURRAY'S SELECTIONS

AT KENILWORTH

First Race—	Second Race—
Pensweep	Meloy
Miss Worthmore	Toy Town
Cadgeldoe	Wacket
Third Race—	Fourth Race—
Distribute	Circulet
Canny Scot	Miss Gormley
Hidden Lore	Toe Dance
Fifth Race—	Sixth Race—
Golden Fate	Huraway
Irene's Bob	Boy Crazy
Khorasan	Dark Mission

Seventh Race—
Representative
Sparton Lady
Tremolo.

MISSION RENEWAL COMMENCES AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL

Rev. John F. Coghlan of Quebec City in Charge of Renewal.

FOR TWO WEEKS.

Before a congregation of girls and women, which taxed to capacity the spacious seating accommodation of St. Peter's Cathedral, there was officially opened yesterday evening by the Redemptorist Fathers the two weeks' mission renewal in the cathedral parish.

The mission renewal of this year is in charge of Rev. John F. Coghlan, C.S.S.R., of Quebec City. Father Coghlan is by no means a stranger to Cathedral congregations, and is remembered by the latter especially because of his splendid missionary work of last year. He is assisted by two other prominent members and preachers of the Redemptorist Order in the persons of Rev. A. McCann of London, Ont., and Rev. W. Howard of Brockville, Ont., both of whom have assisted in previous years at missions in the city.

At the morning masses yesterday, Rev. Fathers Coghlan, McCann and Howard outlined briefly the purpose, necessity and the nature of a mission renewal. At the high mass, Rev. Father Coghlan emphasized the distinction between a mission and a mission renewal. "It is not by way of polite formality," stated Father Coghlan, "that I congratulate you on the excellent and faithful manner in which you made the mission of last year. The great spiritual work you so auspiciously began last year will this year, I hope, with God's grace and your co-operation, be brought to a glorious conclusion. The mission of last year marked the commencement of the supernatural task of personal sanctification. This year during the renewal the purpose of all instructions and exhortations will be that of perfecting and consolidating the efforts of last year," continued Father Coghlan.

Invitations Extended.

Although a mission is primarily parochial in its purpose, a kind invitation was issued by the missionary fathers to any outside the parish and of other denominations who wished to attend. The subject matter of all the sermons, both at the morning masses and evening devotions concerns solely the doctrines and moral code revealed by God and enunciated, interpreted, and applied to mankind by the Church. The discourses are of a purely doctrinal and moral nature and in no way controversial.

The daily mission program, as outlined by the Fathers yesterday commences with Holy Mass at the hours of 5 a.m., 7 a.m., and 8 a.m. At the 5 o'clock Mass and the 8 o'clock Mass, the special mission masses, brief instructions are given. The 5 o'clock Mass is always a most important part of any mission, because it serves to accommodate the rank and file of workers who because of their early hours of labor, would find it otherwise impossible to attend.

At the conclusion of women's week next Sunday, the men's mission will commence. Last night at the evening devotions, Rev. Father McCann reminded his hearers in an eloquent sermon of the reason of man's creation and existence. "Man," said Father McCann, "surrounded by the cares, the worries, the perplexities and occupations of this life, is prone to forget the ultimate purpose of his existence. Man was not created for this world for the honors, its titles, or its pleasures. Man was not made for temporalities but for eternity. This life is not the final purpose of man's creation and existence, but only a means to an end. The end of man is to see and enjoy God in eternity. The means which man must use," continued Father McCann, "is to love and serve Him upon earth. To neglect and to overlook this is to lose all. Man's evidence of his love of God is his desire to obey God's law. 'If any man love Me, he will keep My word.' 'He that loveth Me not keepeth not My word'."

Officials of Soviet Russia believe the reduced output of footwear recently was because quality was stressed instead of quantity.

Revenge

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 7 (AP) An angry parishioner attacked Rev. Vincent Sakolowski with a hatchet in the rectory of his church to-day. Using the parish seal as a shield, Father Sakolowski warded off the blows until the arrival of Monsigner Alexander Pitass, who was cut across the bridge of the nose in subduing the man, Michael Pabisz, 42.

The priests said Pabisz and his wife, who hid the hatchet under her coat on entering the rectory, blamed ather Sakolowski for the arrest of their daughter Eleanor, 12, sent to a detention home some days ago after she had been found wandering on the streets late at night.

PRAIRIES SWEPT BY DUST STORM

Saskatchewan, Manitoba Report Seed Whipped Out of Newly Sown Land.

NO SIGN OF RAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 7 (C.P.). — Week-end dust storms sweeping Southern Saskatchewan and Southern Manitoba to-day were followed by reports of seed being whipped out of newly-sown farmland, and necessity of rain in both provinces.

The entire southern part of Saskatchewan was covered with choking clouds of dust and seed was whirled out of the ground at many points. In some sections the storm was the worst of the season.

Southern Manitoba was whipped by high winds and dust for several hours. Souris reported seed was blown out of the ground. At Emerson ditches were filled by the dust and at Morden crop damage was done. Other points were less seriously affected.

Farmers scanned the skies for signs of rain but found none. Numerous points in Southern Saskatchewan have had only an odd shower so far. Temperatures were not abnormally high, mostly in the 70's.

GREAT MAN HUNT FOR DESPERADO

(Continued from Page 1)

in the youth's throat is bleeding profusely.

McGregor had been on the police force since 1926, joining when he was 21 years of age. A widow and two children survive. In the house at the time of the shooting was Mrs. Frank Temple, wife of the fugitive another son, Frank, her three young children, and a married daughter and her son-in-law Clarence Ross.

May Set Insull's Bail At $200,000

CHICAGO, May 7.—(A.P.)—Samuel Insull may find a price of $200,000 set upon his freedom when his train rolls into the Chicago Union station to-morrow.

As U. S. District Judge Philip L. Sullivan issued bench warrants to-day for Insull's arrest, Joseph B. Keenan, Assistant Attorney General, intimated the government might demand $200,000 bail from the 74-year-old man who once dominated the United States' power industry.

Keenan, here from Washington to help prepare the prosecution, said to-day he thought $200,000 would be the proper bail for Insull.

To improve the scenery, fluted factory chimneys are appearing in England.

INITIAL OFFERING OF TREASURY STOCK OF THE

Millar Mineral Exploration Co.

20,000 TREASURY SHARES

only of the Millar Mineral Exploration Co. are hereby offered for public subscription at $1.00 per share. Here is an opportunity to become associated with an enterprise, the stock of which offers a speculation of outstanding merit.

Do not fail to investigate.

Owing to the limited number of shares being offered (20,000) and the many unusual and attractive features in regard to Company's purpose, program and method of operation, an oversubscription is anticipated in which event all rights as to allotment of shares or refunding of subscriptions are reserved.

For Prospectus and further information as to the Company's holdings and program, without obligation, write or wire to

A. CARLYLE (Broker) Federal Bldg., Toronto
or to W. N. MILLAR
387A GEORGE ST., ROOM 3, PETERBORO, PHONE 682.

4d, 7, 9, 11, 14, 5196

MRS. W. L. SMYTH ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE AT NORWOOD

Conference Bases Discourse on Work of United Church W.M.S.

INTERESTING TALK

NORWOOD, May 7.—Mrs. W. L. Smyth, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church for the past five years, addressed an open meeting in the auditorium of Norwood United Church on Monday evening, which was largely attended. Good representations were present from the Missionary Societies of Warsaw, Cottesloe and South Dummer churches.

Mrs. Hugh Robb, a vice-president of the Peterborough Presbyterial W.M.S., presided for the meeting. The Scripture reading was given by Mrs. James Buck, president of the local W.M.S., after which all joined in prayer, led by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, pastor of Warsaw church. Following an anthem by the choir, Mrs. Bazil Tucker, Presbyterial Secretary of Mission Bands, spoke briefly, voicing the appreciation of the Norwood society and introduced the speaker, Mrs. Smyth.

Mrs. Smyth based her discourse on the work of the United Church Missionary Society, giving an interesting resume of its growth since its foundation many years ago. She stressed the need of every woman in the organization doing her best in her own corner, no mattter how small or how narrow, to carry on the work at home and abroad, explaining how they themselves, through their givings, could "stretch their hands across the sea and through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit spread their influence to all around them. In closing, Mrs. Smyth related an appealing story of a bamboo tree in China which gave its life to its master in order that it might be used to carry water to a country athirst. So also must the women of the Women's Missionary Society be willing to dedicate their lives to their Master in order that they may join in spreading the word of Christ into heathen lands.

Rev. Mr. Cleland spoke a few words, expressing the pleasure of the several groups in being privileged to meet and hear Mrs. Smyth. Thiss Thelma Cleland favored with a solo, "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way." The offering was taken by four members of the Evening Auxiliary, and the meeting closed with the singing of the hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign Where're the Sun."

After four fishermen in a boat off Southend, England, had given up without a nibble, they found a six-pound fish impaled on the anchor.

Friend Gave Good Advice

And Dodd's Pills Did The Rest

"I have taken Dodd's Kidney Pills for my kidneys and bladder trouble," writes Mrs. R. W. Langlois, Grande Grave, Gaspe, P.Q. "A friend of mine advised me to give them a trial. I had suffered terribly. After taking six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills my trouble was completely gone." When you feel worn, tired, and run-down, the chances are that your kidneys are at fault. Guard against this trouble by taking 50

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Obituary

MRS. GEORGE WOULD.

NORWOOD, May 7.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—News of the sudden death on Saturday night, May 5th of Ella May Long, wife of Mr. George Would, was a shock to the entire community.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon. May 8th from the family residence, lot 4, con. 11, Dummer. Service at 2 o'clock, with interment in Norwood cemetery. The occurrence is doubly sad, as Mr. Would is at present confined to his bed with a broken leg, which he received about three weeks ago. A family of three are left, one being an infant about six weeks old.

Rev. A. C. Reeves of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, received the had news of the sudden death of his sister in Winnipeg on Sunday morning. Mr. Reeves left on the afternoon train to attend the funeral.

GEORGE A. BABCOCK

JANETVILLE, May 7. (Examiner Correspondence)—A host of citizens of the Janetville community were shocked to learn on Saturday of the sudden death of George Babcock in Lindsay. Decease was due to a partial stroke occurring Friday evening.

The late Mr. Babcock owned a summer home on the Janetville shore of Lake Scugog and he and his family have summeded there for eleven years, making many warm friends among the residents.

He was born at Uxbridge, son of the late Alderman C. Babcock. His early education was acquired at Uxbridge. Shortly after coming to Lindsay he became a partner with his father in the grocery business. Although in poor health for the past year he has continued to maintain a keen interest in his business. He was in his fifty-third year.

Left to mourn his loss are his wife formerly Nettie Rathmell; two daughters and three sons, namely Mrs. Grace McFadden, Miss Dorothy Babcock, Messrs. Carl, John and Donald Babcock.

The surviving brothers and one sister are: Nelson of Connecticut, Ross and Charles of Lindsay, and Mrs. W. Wilson of Lindsay.

THOMAS HEENAN.

The funeral of the late Thomas Heenan was held from his residence Monday to St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, and the remains were interred in the vault. The pallbearers were Messrs. Alex. McGahey, Dennis Shine, W. J. McGahey, John O'Leary, Edward C. Hoolihan and John J. McGahey. The late Thomas Heenan was born in Lindsay 84 years ago, and after his marriage about forty years ago, moved to his late home north of Downeyville, where he resided ever since.

He is survived by his wife, the former Anna Devine, one daughter, Mary in Lansing, Mich., and one son Martin at home.

MICHAEL DOVEY.

DOWNEYVILLE, May 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late Michael Dovey was held from his residence, 66 St. Patrick Street, Lindsay, Friday morning to St. Mary's Church, where requiem mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock, and the remains were interred in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The late Michael Dovey was born at Downeyville seventy years ago, and resided there until a grown man, when he moved to Lindsay with his parents. In his early youth he operated a sawmill and was in the lumber industry until a few years ago. Deceased has been ailing some time, but his death was unexpected, and came as a shock to his family and friends.

Surviving him are his wife, the formr Mary Young, of Ennismore; one son, Michael, of Long Beach, California, also three brothers: Edward of Rhineland, Wisconsin, George of Weston, and Daniel of Toronto

His many friends sympathize with the family in their bereavement.

MRS. JAMES ROBERTSON.

KEENE, May 7 (Examiner Correspondence). — The death occurred at Nicholls Hospital yesterday afternoon of Mrs. James Robertson, after an illness of five weeks' duration. A lifelong resident of Otonabee, the deceased was 71 years of age. She was a daughter of the late John McIntyre and Mary Hewie of Otonabee. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter Mary, and one son William at home, also by one brother Morley McIntyre of Cobourg, two sisters, Mrs. William Carruthers of Vancouver and Mrs. William Campbell of Toronto, and four grandchildren.

The funeral is to be held from the family residence, Lot 20, Concession 2, Otonabee, at 2 p.m., on Tuesday, to Westwood Cemetery for interment. Services will be conducted by the Rev. J. S. Ferguson of Keene United Church.

Clear Skin

Stop Itch in 30 Minutes

Don't let millions of invisible germs or fungus growths make your skin Itch, Burn, Crack, Peel, cause Sores, Pimples, Ringworm, Hand-itch, Athlete's Foot, or Crotch-Itch. You can stop the itch in 30 minutes and quickly heal your skin with Dr. Nixon's Nixoderm. This remarkable prescription, based on the discovery of a famous English Skin Specialist, works fast because made specially for stubborn skin troubles. It must quickly clear and heal your skin or money back on return of empty package. Ask your Drug Store for Dr. Nixon's Nixoderm to-day.

HENRY DENIES BEER FLOODGATE

(Continued from Page 1)

Liquor Control Board so sale of the beverages would be made in "restaurants where service is needed."

Extension of beer and wine sales, he emphasized, did not include "small restaurants on the corners. We don't mean refreshment booths along the roadside. And roadhouses as they are sometimes called do not enter into our scheme of things."

The Liquor Control Board may issue banquet permits for beer and wine, he added, but he maintained the local option bylaws would be date, and charged Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, with trying "to curry" favor with left wing and Communism.

Meeting Postponed

When the United Front party met at Guelph Saturday to select a candidate for South Wellington, the number of delegates proved too small and the meeting was postponed a week.

A farm candidate is promised for East Kent. United Farm People of Ontario intimated it was almost certain there would be a U.F.O. candidate in the running.

Two names have appeared for the Conservative nomination in Ottawa East, with E. J. Labelle and Lionel Choquette in the race. A Liberal supporter will contest South Wentworth, one of the Hamilton ridings, it was announced definitely during the week-end. The convention to choose the standard bearer will be held within two weeks; Theo McCombs, barrister, prominently mentioned as the possible choice.

Here's something new

Kellogg's Whole Wheat Flakes come in a patented package. You don't need to tear to open it. And wait till you see the size! Lots more for your money.

All the nourishment of whole wheat. Get the big red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Divorce Again

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 7.—(C.P.)—Jean Harolw, blonde film actress and her third husband, Harold G. Rosson, have separated. She has announced that she intends to seek a divorce on grounds of incompatability.

Only a few hours after she had served as the matron of honor at a wedding yesterday, the screen star announced she had packed her belongings and left their Beverly Hills home. She said she would file suit for divorce against her cinematographer husband as soon as her film work would permit.

MANY MEASURES FACING HOUSE

Public Works, Farm Relief, Agricultural Credit Bils to be Presented.

MARKETING ACT DRAGS.

OTTAWA, May 7 (C.P.).—With the prospect of additional government legislation being introduced this week, Parliament resumes its sessions to-day. A number of important measures are about ready for introduction, among them the Public Works Bill, the measure to provide relief for farm debtors, and a bill to provide for interim and short term agricultural credit.

How many of these are introduced this week will likely depend on the progress made in passing the Marketing Bill through committee. So far it has met with much opposition since it passed the House on second reading by a vote of 120 to 60.

The budget debate will resume some time during the week and then the Government will get the reaction of the members to the changes announced in the gold tax last week.

A number were critical of the tax as first announced. Instead of a straight .10 per cent. levy on the value of all gold sold, the tax is now a 25 per cent. impost on the premium received by mines above the statutory price for gold and does not apply to non-dividend paying mines or mines which have recently began disbursement of profit to shareholders.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, who took a few days' rest from the burdens of office last week, is expected back in Ottawa to-day.

MRS. E.N. RHODES

(Continued from Page 1)

found dead in her room, the victim of a sudden heart attack.

Father Was Premier.

Her father became Premier of Nova Scotia in 1882, establishing a Liberal rule which endured until 1925, when her husband was returned to power as the head of a Conservative administration.

Three years after her marriage in 1908, she accompanied her husband to Ottawa, when he was first elected to Parliament. During his term as Speaker of the House of Commons she was a gracious hostess and was noted for her simple and charming hospitality throughout her years in Ottawa and in Halifax during the five years prior to 1930 when Mr. Rhodes was Premier of Nova Scotia. Since then she has lived in Ottawa continuously.

Mrs. Rhodes was keenly interested in the history of her native province, and followed public affairs generally with great interest. She attended the debates of the House of Commons regularly, although she took no active part in political affairs.

She was a member of the Church of England, and was born in Amherst, N.S., 53 years ago.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Edgar N., Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. James Bonbright, both of Ottawa.

FINE RECITAL BY PUPILS OF ST. JOSEPH'S CONVENT

Campbellford Sisters Present Their Class in Splendid Program of Artistic Numbers.

DIPLOMAS PRESENTED

CAMPBELFORD, May 7. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — A treat was given music lovers of Campbellford and the district on Friday evening when a musical recital of the pupils of the Sisters of St. Joseph, Campbellford, was held in the High School Auditorium, which was filled to capacity for the event.

The youthful artists showed great talent in their renditions and portrayed the splendid training that they are receiving by the sisters of the convent. Choruses, solos, piano, singles duet and trio, with violin numbers, made a very interesting three-part program, which was featured by the presentation of prizes. Many of the piano numbers were quite difficult of arrangement but were performed with a trueness of note and expression that showed not only fine training, but the splendid musical qualities possessed by the pupils.

Prize winners were: Mary Anne McAvoy, Marie Hollings, Marie Hardy, Margaret Black, Mary Forestell Marie Crosson Flossie Whitton, Alice Tripp, Helen Murray, Lloyd Richardson, Joseph O'Sullivan, Joseph Kelly, Margaret Robertson, June Burgis, Eleanor Armour, Patricia Ironside, Harry Black, Ruth Farrell.

The prizes were presented by the Rev. Father C. J. Phelan, with whom was associated on the platD. J. Lynch. Accompanists for the evening were: M. Black, J. Burgis, T. Hollingks, M. Forestell, L. Richardson M. Crosson.. The program was as follows:

Part 1: Chorus, Peg Away (Bevan); piano trio, Le carillon (Renquet), M. Hardy, B. Clarke, M. A. McAvay; piano, The Donkey Ride (Erb) Master B. Murray; Hungarian Dance (Englemann) M. Bailey, Autufn Leaves (Sherman), D. Ironside; piano duet, May Morning (Coernet), D. Bailey and H. Wood; piano, Prelude in G. (Handel), Master H. MacMillan; Hanging Gardens (Davies) E. Allan; vocal, A Tribute to Mother, the children; piano, Off to Ipswich (Hamblen), M. Robertson; Puck's Dance, (Goodrich), L. Forestell; violin, Flower Song (Lange); Master Joseph O'Sullivan; piano duet, Parade of The Wooden Soldiers, (Jessel), J. Kelly and H. Black; piano, Dance of The Spooks, (Anthony), J. Burgis.

Part II.—Rhythm orchestra, Andante (Haydn), twelve little girls, pianist, J. Burgis, director, R. Richardson; piano, Sailor Dance (Dunhill), E. Armour; Humoreske (Dvorak), P. Ironside; vocal, Little Bit O Honey and Keep on Hopin', (Bond) Master T. Lee; piano, Dance of The Rosebuds (Keats), Helen Murray; "Bonne Mamon, (Gillet) Master J. Robertson; trio, Darkies' Moonlight Dance, (Giles) M. Black, M. McAvoy E. Baker; piano, Menuet in G, (Paderewski), Master R. Richardson; piano duet Irish Airs, (Hart) B. Clarke, R. Farrell; piano, Marche Millitaire, (Schubert) Master L. Richardson; Romance, Op. 24. No. 9 (Sibelius) M. Hardy.

Part III.—Violins, Irish Fantasies (Harris), P. O'Sullivan, A. Robertson T. Lee, J. O'Sullivan, J. Robertson, J. Farrell; piano, L. Richardson; distributon of prizes and diplomas; piano, Faschingsschwank (Schumann), Miss Ina Bowan; vocal, Thy Will Be Done, (Fr. Finn), chorus.

INSULL DOCKS AT FT. HANCOCK

(Continued from Page 1)

a.m., and then set out to meet Insull's ship.

Insull's 2-Year Fight

The story of Samuel Insull's present difficulties begins April 15, 1932, when a receiver was named for the Insull-controlled Middlewest utilities. It continues:

Oct. 4.—Indicted in Illinois for embezzlement.

Oct. 5.—Fled to Greece from Paris, where he had arrived June 22, after learning of indictment.

Oct. 10.—Arrested in Athens. Freed when Greece decided American-Grecian Extradition Pact invalid.

Nov. 3.—U.S. sought arrest as Extradition Treaty took effect.

Dec. 27.—Athens court held crime in State indictment not punishable under Greek law.

1933:

Oct. 31.—Appeal Court again held Insull after United States asked for Insull on Federal indictment for bankruptcy laws violation.

Dec. 5.—Greek Cabinet, fearing international complications, ordered Insull to leave before Jan. 1, 1934; pleas of illness won extensions to Jan. 31, Feb. 14, and finally for an indefinite stay.

1934:

March 10.—Insull "definitely" ordered out by March 15.

March 14.—Hair and moustache blacked, Insull walked through guards undetected and boarded the tramp freighter Maiotis.

March 16.—Apprehended aboard Maiotis. Returned. Papers adjusted. Sailed March 17.

April 2.—Jailed by Turkish authorities at Istanbul.

April 14—Sailed a prisoner aboard S.S. Exilona at Smyrna, United States-bound at last for all his fight to avoid extradition and trial.

AT WARSAW

WARSAW.—May. 7. — Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Butter, creamery, 38c; dairy, 34c; eggs, fresh, 11c, 14c, 16c; chickens, 18c; potatoes, $1.50 a bag.

Oats, 40c a bushel; wheat, 75c a bushel; corn, $1.90 cwt; butterfat, 21c to 22c a pound; pineapples, 16c and 25c each; carrots, 10c a bunch; cabbage, 10c a pound; lettuce, head, 10c a head; lettuce, leaf, 5c a bunch; celery, 10c a head; green onions, 5c a bunch; cooking onions, 7 pounds for 25c; beans, 6 pounds for 25c.

ROTARIANS RALLY.

OTTAWA, May 7.—(C.P.)—Upon a keynote of goodfellowship, the 12th annual conference of the 28th District of Rotary International opens here to-day with upwards of 1,000 delegates to register for the two-day meeting.

From many points business and professional men have been gathering in the capital and as about one-half of the delegates are from the United States, the conference takes on an International aspect.

Early Week Special

AYLMER GREEN LABEL
Plum Jam RED 32 oz. Jar 22c

FOR SUMMER BREAKFASTS
Kelloggs CORN FLAKES 2 pkgs. 15c

PURE
Sunlight LAUNDRY SOAP 5 Cakes 25c

OUR OWN PERFECT STRIKE
Salmon SOCKEYE 2 No. ½ Tins 31c

CHRISTIE'S—SINCE 1853
Date Jams lb. 23c

FRESH TEXAS
Beets 3 Bunches 19

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY ONLY

FANCY MILK-FED
Veal Chops, Steaks lb. 19c

FRESHLY GROUND
Hamburg 3 lbs. 25c

FRESH—SEA
Herring lb. 10c

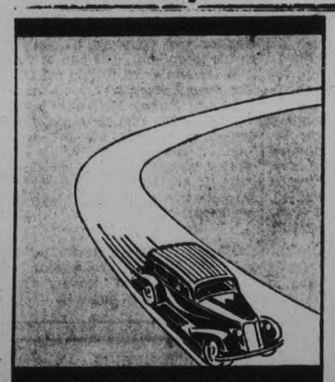
ATLANTIC & PACIFIC

APEX MOTH CAKES 25¢ 25¢
FOR SALE by ALL DRUGGISTS



more than 20,000 m.p.t.* of anti-skid SAFETY

—that's the mileage bonus you can get when you equip with Dominion Royals. Because they're the only tires built of TEMPERED RUBBER—the toughest, longest-wearing tread rubber ever discovered.

TEMPERED RUBBER

★ miles per tire

DOMINIONS

DOMINION TIRES ARE SAFER TIRES

GUARANTEED one year against tire injuries caused by blow-outs, cuts, bruises, rim-cuts, under-inflation and many other road hazards.

DT-164

BUY WHERE YOU SEE THE DOMINIONS SIGN

"DOMINION" DEALERS
LILLICO MOTORS
383-385 WATER ST.
PHONE 362

"DOMINION" DEALERS
J. K. HUGHES Ltd.
HUNTER AND WATER STS.
PHONE 1347

NEW WORLD DICTIONARY
BASED ON THE ORIGINAL
WEBSTER ENTIRELY NEW

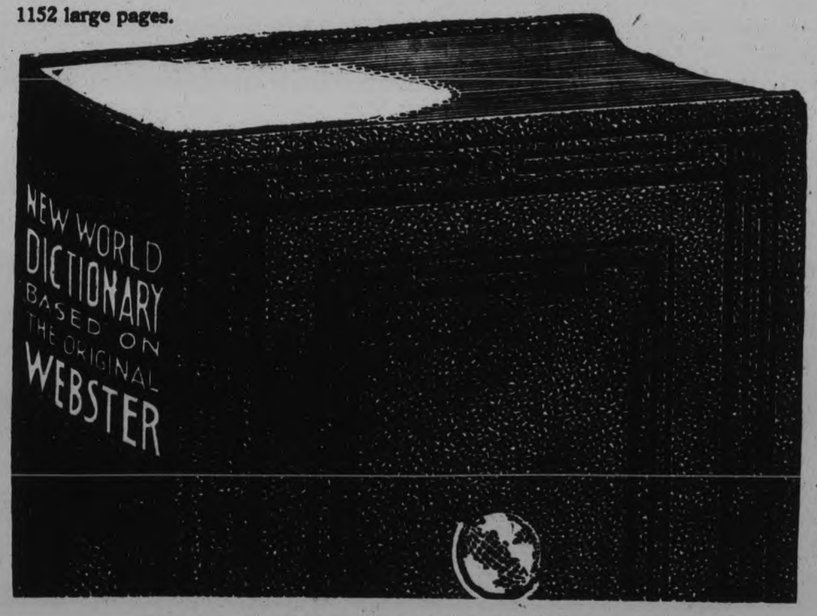
1152 large pages.



THE EVENING EXAMINER believes in education, therefore is glad to lend its cooperation in this great educational enterprise by giving its readers this new, high class, up-to-date dictionary at a mere nominal cost. Do not overlook this opportunity.

Every individual is judged by the words he or she uses and the correctness of their use. The latest vocabulary is indispensible to ones advancement.

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED

SPECIAL—To get it bound in art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges, and thumb indexed, send $1.00 extra.

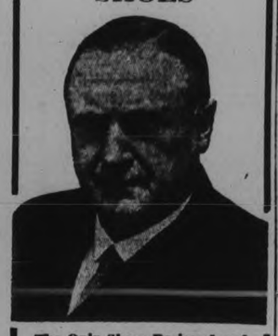
Clip 3 Coupons on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98 cents

MAIL ORDERS will be filled when postage is added.

Find Coupon Page 4

Your Radiator!
Flushing, Welding, Soldering
Complete Radiator Dept.
GILLESPIE GARAGE
378 Aylmer St. Phone 950
"Service That is Service"

COMING
THE FAMOUS
M. W. LOCKE
SHOES



The Only Shoes Designed and Approved by
Dr. M. W. Locke
WILLIAMSBURG, ONT.
Exclusive Local Representatives:
NABORHOOD SHOE STORE
338 GEORGE STREET

Annual Meeting Of Seymour East W.I.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 7.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The annual meeting and election of officers of the Seymour East Women's Institute will be held on the afternoon of Thursday, May 10, at the home of Mrs. John Thompson. Other important business will be featured at this session, at which all members are asked to respond to the roll call with suggestions on gardening.

DIED

BROWN.—On May 6, 1934, Ernest James Brown at his residence, 97 Crescent street, aged 63 years.

Funeral on Wednesday, May 9, 1934, at 1.30 p.m., from the family residence, to All Saints' Church for service at 2 p.m., with the Rev. J. D. Paterson, rector of All Saints' Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSON.—In loving memory of my husband, Walter Johnson, who was killed on May 7th, 1930.

The years are slowly passing,
But still I don't forget;
For in the hearts of those who loved you
Your memory lingers yet.

—Sadly missed—Epsie.

USED CARS!

1927 Oakland Coach $75.00
1926 Ford Tudor $45.00
1925 Jewett Coach $145.00
1932 Frontenac Sedan ...$495.00
1930 Chrysler Coupe with rumble seat—perfect condition.
1928 Durant "66" Coupe with rumble seat; has been carefully driven.

CHAS H. ELLIOTT
STUDEBAKER DEALER
253 Hunter St., at Bethune.
Phone No. 1300—Evening No. 3.
Fuel Office of J. E. A. Fitzgerald

Blue Coal Prices Reduced

For Prompt Delivery

Buy when the getting is good—Later Prices not Guaranteed.

Egg and Nut .$14.00
Stove 14.25
Pea 12.00

J. E. A. Fitzgerald Estate

PHONES 110 AND 111.
Coal, Coke and Wood Dealer.

11d,115

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, MONDAY, MAY 7, 1934

LOCALS

BE A TROUT.

Evidently trout do not bite at anything. They say 'what have you to offer?' Put in famous Reading Hard Coal, and while it may not be palatable, it is satisfying in the extreme. Sanitary Ice costs no more. 'Phone 3700.

dtf.

LAWN MOWERS SHARPENED 75c

All mowers overhauled, ground, and set by hand, the only way manufacturers recommend. Every mower guaranteed in perfect cutting order or money refunded. 20 years experience. Mowers called for and delivered 25c. Charlton's General Repair and Welding Shop, Wolfe street, opp. Knox church. 'Phone 2288J

2d-47-1756.

LEAKY EAVETROUGH

does considerable damage to your buildings. Why not have us repair or renew the old trough at once at a new low price. Phone Goodfellow's, 379 Water Street.

mwf, May4, 4665

WOOD

Good dry body mixed wood, choice heavy dry hemlock slabs; also dry mixed slabs for sale, cut as required. 'Phone 96, McCarthy & Johnston. Mon,Thur.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. Harris and Miss Dickson wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for all the kindness received during Mrs. Harris' long illness, also for the floral tributes and cars loaned, in their recent bereavement.

MALE VOICE CHOIR.

All members please attend the next practice at Knox church on Tuesday night at 8.00 p.m. As this is the last practice before the next engagement, all members must attend.

ALL SAINTS DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS NANCY ANNA BROWN'S FOLKS, IN THE PARISH HALL, ON WED., THURS. AND FRIDAY, MAY 9, 10 AND 11TH, AT 8.15 O'CLOCK. ADULTS 25c., CHILDREN 15c.

3d-4-7-8-5151.

IN BUSINESS AGAIN!

Dion Snelgrove has opened a barber shop at 464 George street; his father, R. D. (Bob) Snelgrove will be associated with him. They will be glad to see old friends and patrons. 2d,2,5,1691

BOTTLES, BOTTLES, BOTTLES

Please don't throw "pop" bottles into the garbage; remember you promised to take them back to the store. If you have too many, phone us; we will gladly call. 5 cents paid for plain quarts. Peterborough Bottling Work, 384 Queen street. Phone 232. 1d,106,1825

CARD OF THANKS

The Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors and secretaries wish to thank all organizations and friends who so generously assisted in helping to make the 'Y' Gym Pageant such a great success this year.

ORANGE RECEPTION AND BANQUET

to Grand Master and Grand Mistress in St. Andrew's Sunday School hall, Friday, May 11, at 6.30 p.m. All L.O.L. and L.O.B.A. members of Peterborough county invited to be present. Tickets 50 cents. Gents, make your reservations early. 2d,7,9,5203

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

W.M.S. annual banquet will be held in George Street Sunday School hall, Friday, May 11, at 6.30 p.m. Short selected program will follow, including bell ringing. Welcome to all women and girls. Tickets 30 cts. each. 2d,7,10,5204

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

Miss Semmens, Director of Children's Work for Canada, will give an address in the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. After the address, the question of Vacation Bible Schools will be discussed. Every Sunday School worker should be vitally interested.

1d,108,5197

NEW BEAUTY SHOP.

Permanent waves with curly ends. $5 wave for $3.50; $3.50 for $2.50. Free shampoo with every finger wave or marcel if booked Tuesday or Thursday this week. Open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Mrs. Dulyea, Hall's Barber and Beauty Shop, 216 Charlotte street. 'Phone 1633J.

2d-109-5189.

TOWNSHIP OF NORTH MONAGHAN

Public Notice is hereby given that all dog owners must keep their dogs tied or penned up and not allowed to run at large. All owners of fowl must keep their fowl in pens or enclosed yards.

It is also contrary to the Township By-law to allow any animals to run at large.

Offenders will be prosecuted according to the terms of by-laws governing the same.

Bruce Johnson, Clerk,
Township of North Monaghan.
2d,7,9,5162

DEMAND FOR ROLLER SKATES

SAULT STE. MARIE.—With the return to popularity of roller skating, dealers here have done a rushing business. They are unable to meet the demand, having sold 400 pairs of skates in 10 days.

The demand has not come from younger children, but from older boys and girls and young men and women.

GIFTS For MOTHER'S DAY

A fine selection of Appropriate Gifts for Mother to choose from.

She will cherish one of our beautiful Flower Baskets, Rose Bowls or some fine piece of silver.

Let us show you some of these fine Gifts that will be suitable and gladden her heart.

Silver Deposit Flower Holders and Rose Bowls, specially priced from $1.00 and up.

Have one delivered for you on Saturday.

Warne's
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

SEE SHOWDOWN BRITISH HOUSE

Empire Policies, Especially Pertaining to Trade to be Threshed Out.

THOMAS KEY FIGURE.

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 7—(AP)—A showdown on the government's Empire policies—especially those pertaining to trade—is expected in the House of Commons tonight.

J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions, is scheduled to reply to a demand of Liberals for a full explanation of the asserted disinclination of the government at present to permit free entry of New Zealand products to England on an exchange basis.

A report that New Zealand has made an 'offer' for a free trade interchange is denied in government circles and Mr. Thomas is expected to emphasize the point in the House debate.

Authoritative quarters anticipate that a general discussion of the government's entire program and policies toward the Dominions may ensue in connection with the trads debate.

It is known that matters affecting South Africa, Australia and possibly Canada are likely to arise.

It is not expected that Walter Runciman president of the Board of Trade, will be able to state Britain's new trade policy toward Japan until later in the week because of the delay in Japan's' reply to last week's virtual ultimatum to modify her trade program and tactics—or face a trade war with Great Britain.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

ROCKER WANTED.

We would be very glad to get a rocking chair for an old lady. Please telephone Miss McCarthy at The Examiner and it will be called for.

FIREMAN RESIGNS.

Fire Chief George Gimblett announced this morning that the resignation of Fireman Robert Carr from the Department has been accepted with effect at the end of a two weeks' vacation period. He resigns after completing twelve years' service with the Department.

IMPROVING HIGHWAY

Two important improvements are being made on Highway No. 7 near Lindsay, The Examiner learns.

Dangerous right angles on the highway at Pottery Corners and also at a point two miles further east are being reduced to curves.

CANADIAN RAILWAYMEN HONOR SYDNEY E. WHITE

MONTREAL, May 7 (C.P.). — From all parts of Eastern Canada and as far west at Winnipeg came members of the Canadian Association of Railwaymen to attend here yesterday the unveiling of a bronze plaque over the grave of Sydney Edwin White, a former president of the association. The ceremony took place in Mount Royal Cemetery, Rev. R. G. Flander officiating at the dedication.

The plaque bears the legend: "This tablet is dedicated by all members of the Canadian Association of Railwaymen to the memory of Sydney Edwin White, killed on duty April 27, 1933.—He was one of God's noblemen." Mr. White was killed in a train accident near L'Epiphanie, Que.

Tribute Is Paid To Miss A. M. Lancaster

Referring to the shock with which news of the death of Miss Annie M. Lancaster had been received by all sections of the community, Archdeacon Blagrave yesterday remarked upon Miss Lancasters' lengthy service as superintendent of Anson House, during the course of the choral Communion service at St. John's Church.

"While in charge of Anson House for over 21 years," Archdeacon Blagrave said, "Miss Lancaster had direct connection with every church in the city. It is only right that we should pay special tribute to her memory for the fine manner in which she discharged an exacting and difficult task. She was conscientious and faithful and had closely attracted many friends to herself throughout the community."

Obituary

MRS. MARY L. FUSEE

On Wednesday, May 2, 1934 there entered into rest Mary Lucinda Chrysler, widow of the late Rev. C. H. Fusee.

She leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, Clarence of Toronto and Melville of Ottawa; also four daughters, Ethel of Whitby; Mrs. (Rev.) H. H. Mutton of Foxboro; and the Misses Eva and Viola of Peterborough; also one sister, Mrs. John Ray of Ottawa and four brothers, E. A. Chrysler and B. F. Chrysler of Sebright; H. H. Chrysler of Orillia and P. C. Chrysler of Toronto.

Funeral services were held from her late residence, 760 Water street on Friday afternoon last with the Rev. J. E. J. Millyard of George street United Church officiating, assisted by the Rev. H. H. Mutton. Interment was made at Little Lake Cemetery.

ERNEST JAMES BROWN

Ernest James Brown, foreman of the woodworking department at the DeLaval plant here for the past nineteen years, died Sunday morning at his residence, 97 Crescent street.

Born in Shropshire, England, 63 years ago, Mr. Brown came to Canada at the age of 16 years and resided for some time in the Eastern Townships before coming to this city in the year 1915. During his long period of service as foreman at the DeLaval Company, Mr. Brown had come to be regarded very highly not only by his employers but by his fellow employees.

He was of a kindly disposition and skilled at his own craft. For many years, Mr. Brown had been an enthusiastic follower of motorboating, and had constructed boats to his own design for his own use.

He was a member of All Saints' Anglican Church.

Following a stroke which he suffered about two years ago, Mr. Brown had been in failing health, and had been forced by illness to reliquish his duties at the DeLaval in February of this year.

Besides his widow, who was formerly Annabelle Budd, Mr. Brown is survived by one son, Ernest George Brown of 203 Rink street.

The cortege will leave the family residence, 97 Crescent street, at 1.30 p.m. on Wednesday, for funeral services at All Saints' Church at 2 p.m., with the Rev. J. Douglas Paterson officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

Overseas Mail

OVERSEAS MAILS.

Mail for the New York route to connect with steamer Washington sailing May 9th will close at the local Post Office at 11 p.m. May 7th.

Mail for the New York route to connect with steamer Bremen sailing May 10th will close at the local Post Office at 10.00 a.m. May 8th.

Mail for the New York route to connect with steamer Berengaria sailing May 12th will close at the local Post Office at 10.30 a.m. May 10th.

Mail to connect with steamer Montclare sailing from Montreal May 11th will close at the local Post Office at 10.30 a.m. May 10th.

Mail to conect with steamer Emp: of Australia sailing from Quebec May 12th will close at the local Post Office at 10.30 a.m. May 11th.

Millions In Treasure Stolen From Peiping

SHANGHAI, May 7 (A.P.). — Charges of stealing several million dollars worth of the rarest treasures in Peiping's celebrated forbidden city will soon be lodged by the highest court in Nanking against Yih Pei-Chi, president of the National Museum and former member of the Cabinet.

In making known plans to file charges to-day, authorities declared the case promises to reveal one of the worst scandals in Chinese political history.

Twenty cases of crown jewels and sleveral cases of classical fans—dating back to China's days of imperial greatness—have disappeared.

Authorities accused Yih of stealing the treasures and selling them to Peiping curio dealers.

Meanwhile, Yih—who is said by investigators to have amassed a fortune—had disappeared.

ARABS BATTLE TO RULE YEMEN

Citizens Prepare for Desperate Defense of Walled Capital Sana.

THRONE AT STAKE.

CAIRO ,Egypt, May 7 (C.P.). — A battle between the two fighting sons of two fierce Arabian fathers—with the throne of Yemen as the prize—may bring a dramatic end to the war between Yemen and Saudi Arabia.

This climax was forecast to-day as the 29-year-old Emir Feisal, leading the conquering army of his father, King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, forged through mountain passes toward Sana, ancient walled capital of Yemen.

Reports said King Ibn Saud intends to place the Prince, also known as Ibn-Abdoul-Aziz-Ibn-Saud, upon the throne of Yemen if he wins Sana.

But, around the old city of Yemeni forces under the command of Seif Al Islam, heir of the Imam Yahya, ruler of Yemen, were reported working feverishly to prepare for a desperate defence.

Civilians were drafted for duty from the frightened population of some 25,000 persons in this historic capital situated in a valley 7,200 feet above the sea and enclosed by brick walls.

Before pushing on toward Sana—about 100 miles east-north-east of Hodeidah—the son of the mighty Ibn Saud assured foreign officials foreign lives and property would be protected there.

He sent a messenger bearing this word to Kamaran Island, where the British sloop Penzance already had carried some of the 300 British citizens in Hodeidah.

Besides the British forces at the port city to assure protection, Italian warships were rushed there and the French destroyer Turbine was ordered to the important point yesterday.

250 FIRE ALARMS ALREADY THIS YEAR

Seventeen Alarms Answered Already by Department This Month.

The week-end brought with it a crop of seven minor fires for the City Fire Department, bringing the total number of alarms for the present year up to 250, as compared with a grand total of 435 for the whole of last year.

Most of the seventeen alarms answered by the department during the first few days of the present month, according to the Fire Chief, have been occasioned by the burning of grass or garden refuse. And in this connection the Chief wishes to urge upon the householders in general that permission of the department must first be obtained before rubbish fires are lighted. Insisting that this regulation must be obeyed in the interests of public safety, the Chief stated that he is anxious to give full co-operation, stating that where he considers it necessary he will send men out to supervise the burning-off of grass or rubbish.

Alarms over the week-end included a small outbreak of fire in the sand shed at the city yards on Townsend Street; a fire in the sawdust pile at the Quaker Oats dam; a grass fire on Monaghan Road at the rear of the C.G.E. plant; a grass fire at the rear of 223 Euclid Avenue, and a chimney fire this morning at 471 Elm Street.

LOGGERS STRIKE ENDED

VANCOUVER — The strike in British Columbia logging camps which has been in progress more than three months and at one time tied up some 3,000 men, today was considered ended.

PIRATES RAID VESSEL

LONDON (C.P.-Havas)—Pirates killed four of the crew of the steamer Tai Yi in an attack to-day off Hong Kong, and escaped with a booty valued at $10,000.

It was reported passengers were thrown overboard.

Remnant Sale

Silks, Cottons, Voiles, Woollens
LOWEST PRICES
Ever offered.
WHITE GLOVES
Chamois Suede, nicely trimmed. Regular 79c pair. Selling at .....
49c Pr.

Uptown Silk Shoppe
404 George St.

Funeral Details Are Completed

Remains of Miss Annie M. Lancaster of Anson House, who passed away at Enid, Oklahoma on Friday morning are expected to arrive in the city by train this evening, and will be conveyed direct to Anson House.

Prior to public funeral services to be conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean at St. Andrew's church to-morrow at 1.30 p.m., a private service will be held at Anson House, primarily for the benefit of aged and infirm inmates of the institution who would not find it possible to attend the church services.

Following the services the remains will be conveyed to Petrolia for interment.

AUTOMOBILE IS GREAT FACTOR

(Continued from Page 1)

fects of the depression like every other industry, and last year fewer than two million machines were sold on this continent. However, the automobile industry had faced the situation courageously and in 1932 spent $25,000,000 in new dies, etc., to turn out new models. As to this year's business, Mr. Berry said that it was surpassing the fondest expectations. General Motors had estimated a 35 per cent increase over last year, while the estimates of other manufacturers ran between 10 and 35 per cent. As a matter of fact the actual increase so far was closed to 100 per cent. than it was to 35.

The speaker emphasized the fact that automobile construction during the depression years had shown great improvement. Cars were more economical in operation, more comfortable, more convenient and better in appearance; the fact that the manufacturer had been called upon to deal with the depression buyer who wanted a lot for his money having much to do with this improvement. Even in depression years, however, the automobile industry had provided a big market for many Canadian products, the speaker pointed out, a large percentage of the total output of many materials being used in the construction of automobiles.

The industry, he said, was looking forward confidently and it would not be long perhaps before the total output of the peak year would be surpassed.

"We expect a lot from 1936 and 1936," remarked Mr. Berry. "They will be good automobile years.

A vote of thanks was proposed to the speaker by Rotarian James Juby.

In announcing the speakers for the month, Rotarian N. J. Wootten, program chairman, said that the speaker for next Monday would be the famous sportsman and writer, Ozark Ripley.

LINDSAY CLASS IS CONFIRMED

Bishop O'Connor of Peterborough Administers Sacrament in St. Mary's Church.

JAMES BLUTE PASSES.

LINDSAY, May 7. (Special to The Examiner)—On Sunday evening at St. Mary's Church His Excellency Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of boys and girls. There was a large congregation present.

The death is announced at Toronto of the late James Blute, brother of Mrs. Alfred Parkin, town. The deceased was born in Campbellford fifty-four years ago and spent the greater part of his life as proprietor of the Windsor Hotel in that town. About four years ago he moved with family to Toronto. Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss eight children. Interment took place at Toronto.

E. Mumford, of Harcourt Township, Haliburton County reports that while in the woods near Haliburton vilage a few days ago he came across two moose. The animals were very large and did not appear startled as Mr. Mumford approached them.

The funeral took place to-day at Pickering of Mrs. J. N. Richardson of Mariposa Township, in her ninety-sixth year. The deceased, who was a Quaker, lived at the Quaker settlement Mariposa Township, practically all her life.

Lumbering business in Haliburton County promises to show a decided improvement this year. Contracts have been let for thousands of railway ties, and a large number of summer cottages will be built at the different lake resorts.

BORN

PATTERSON.—At Nicholls Hospital on Saturday, May 5th, 1934, to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Patterson, a son.

CLARK.—At Nicholls Hospital, on May 6, 1934, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark, a daughter.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR
Permanently Removed
By Electrolysis. All Skin Disease successfully treated. Facial and Scalp Massages.
ANNE GRAHAM LOGAN
Dermatologist
(Formerly of Ilscott Institute)
12 Years Experience.
118½ Hunter W. 'Phone 3102

m.w.f-Feb.18-3501

TURN YOUR
OLD GOLD INTO CASH
Highest prices paid. PHILLIP'S DENTAL LABRATORY, 408½ George St. Opposite Lech's. Phone 2188
Office Hours: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

TO-NIGHT
At 8:15 p.m. in the Church
St. Andrew's Choir Concert
Assisting Artists
HYMAN GOODMAN
First Violinist Toronto Symphony Orchestra
Agnes Logan Green, Solo Pianist
ADMISSION 25 CENTS

Clean Up = Paint Up = Week!
DO YOUR DECORATING NOW

USE THE BEST PAINT!
LUXOR SUPREME, FINISHES, INTERIOR and EXTERIOR
Luxor has no equal for beauty and durability. Easy to apply on any surface, outside or inside. 24 glorious colors.

¼ Pt.	½ Pt.	Pt.	Qts.	½ Gal.	Gal.
35c	55c	90c	1.60	3.00	5.75

CANADA PAINT PRODUCTS
PAINTS that Give satisfaction.
Special Values at 65c., 95c., 1.25 quart.

SUN FLOOR WAX TRY A TIN Regular 50c. Size, Special 39c

DECOTINT Sanitary Water Paint for walls and ceiling
2½ lbs. 35c; 5 lbs. 65c

WALLPAPER
You can save money by buying your Wall Paper at this store. Hundreds of beautiful new patterns to choose from, in halls, living and dining rooms, bedrooms, kitchens and bathrooms. See our values before buying.
Special—300 Rolls 30" Sunworthy Papers
In plain or floral design.
Reg. Values to 85c. Special 33c Roll
Special values for every room in the house, from 7c roll up. Borders 3c yd. up.

TREBILCOCK BROS.
'PHONE 285 409-11 GEORGE ST.

Leafs Divide Twin With Bears--Wings Strengthen Lead

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

If a player could only see himself particularly the way he tightens up his neck and shoulder muscles, when he struggles to keep his head down, much of his suffering could be relieved.

The balance and action of the whole body depends mainly upon whether the head is bent forward, tilted back or toward either side.

If the head is thrown back, obviously the whole swing is upset. Well, the same damage is done when the chin is held down against the chest.

The best way to maintain the correct position is by pointing the chin back of the ball and raising it enough to keep it off your necktie.

CRICKET CLUB EASY WINNERS IN FIRST TILT

Mawhood, Dyer, Lawrence and J. Gore Are High Scorers for Winners.

WHITAKER'S FALL

The opening match of the season was played on Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval between the Peterborough C. C. and Whitaker's C. C. The latter club has been organized by the employees of George T. Whitaker and Co. Ltd. of this city and are a very welcome asset to local cricket. On this occasion the senior team proved much too strong for the newcomers, but the game proved an excellent match practice for the approaching County championship match on May 24. The local committee have not yet been notified as to their opponents or whenever the match is to be played at home or away.

On Saturday the scores were: Peterborough 124, Whitaker 46. On the Peterborough side the high scorers were R. Mawhood 28, F. Dyer 23, retired including one big hit for 6, J. Lawrence 17, J. Gore 17 (retired) and W. Coleman 12. For Whitakers the outstanding performer was A. H. Radford 18, but the rest of the team made weak resistance to the bowling of F. Dyer, 6 wickets for 16 and J. Gore to 2 for 5.

Next Saturday the locals play the Grove School, Lakefield at Lakefield.

Full score:

Whitaker's C.C.

A. Hamilton, Stpd. Mawhood, b. Lawrence	9
G. Colbran, b. Dyer	1
F. Jefferson, ct. Langhorne, b. Dyer	1
G. Monkman, not out	7
J. Wild, b. Dyer	5
A. H. Radford, b. Gore	18
W. Brown, run out	0
J. Hawthorne, b. Dyer	1
T. Jones, b. Bore	1
B. Roberts, b. Dyer	1
H. Spencer, stpd. Mawhood, b. Dyer	1
Extras	1
	46

Peterborough C. C.

W. Binks, b. Jefferson	4
D. Walton, ct. Jefferson, b. Wilde	0
E. Salisbury, run out	0
J. Lawrence, b. Hamilton	17
R. Mawhood, l.b.w., C. Jefferson	28
J. Gore, retired	17
F. Dyer, retired	23
T. Williams, b. Monkman	4
R. N. Stuart, not out	2
W. Coleman, run out	12
G. Langhorne, b. Monkman	7
Extras	10
	124

King George of Greece sat in the Distinguished Strangers' Gallery of the British House of Commons during a recent debate.

GREATEST VALUE IN TORONTO
ATTRACTIVE ROOMS WITH BATH
$2.00 $2.50 $3.00
WITH RUNNING WATER
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00
EXCELLENT FOOD
Breakfast from . . . 35c
Luncheon . . . 50c and 60c
Dinner . . . 60c, 85c, $1.00
WAVERLEY HOTEL
LIMITED
TORONTO
Write for Folder

ORIOLES LAMBAST FOUR BISON HURLERS FOR NINETEEN CLOUTS AND 23-0 TRIUMPH IN SECOND

Baltimore Loses Eighth Straight by Falling to Buffalo in First 4-2.

REDWINGS WIN 16-2.

Hollingsworth and Pattison Hold Newark to Four Hits for Leafs' 7-1 Victory.

(By the Associated Press.)

Baltimore Orioles finally have halted a long losing streak and accomplished it with a run-scoring performance that approached, if it didn't actually excel, all International League records.

Hod Lisenbee had scattered eight hits and pitched Buffalo Bisons to a 4-2 victory over the Orioles in the first game of yesterday's double-header, stretching Baltimore's losing streak to eight games in a row. Then the Orioles went to work. They scored 10 runs in the first innings of the nightcap, added six more in the second frame, and finally wound up with a 23-0 triumph in seven innings as George Granger gave the Bisons only seven hits.

Baltimore hammered home nine runs, drove Harold ("Ace") Elliott and Leslie Barnhart to cover, and were bombarding the third Bison hurler, Fabian Kowalik, lustily before a single out was registered in the first frame.

Eventually Kowalik retired the side, but he in turn was drummed out of the box with two out in the second frame. Johnny Wilson then came in and stuck it out to the finish, although hit hard. All told the Orioles collected 19 hits and took advantage of nine passes, a hit batsman and three Bison errors. The net result of the afternoon's competition was to leave Baltimore and Buffalo still locked in a tie for the cellar with five victories and 13 defeats apiece.

Wings Strengthen Lead.

Otherwise the Sunday program was marked by Rochester Red Wings' sixth successive victory, a 16-2 triumph over Syracuse Stars. With Manager George Toporcer, Estel Crabtree and Tom Winsett contributing three apiece, the Red Wings amassed 21 hits off two Syracuse flingers. With that sort of stick-work behind him, Norbert Kleinke had no worries although he was touched for 11 hits.

The victory enabled Rochester to strengthen its hold on first place for Newark Bears and Toronto Maple Leafs, in a percentage tie for second position, split a double-header.

Henry McDonald's effective pitching and Dale Alexander's home run helped the Bears take the opener, 4-1, but the Leafs came back to take the nightcap 7-1 as Hollingsworth and Pattison gave Newark only four hits.

Royals Break Even.

Montreal Royals made only six hits in each game of a double-header with Albany, but emerged with an even break, taking the second 4-3 after losing the opener 5-4. Lefty Milligan's pitching and a triple by Howard Maple in the fourth inning when the Senators counted three runs, were the big factors in Albany's victory. Ray Fritz had a slight edge over Art Jones in the nightcap although the Senators outhit the Royals, 8-5.

Excepting Toronto, all the first division clubs scored victories Saturday. Albany Senators were good in the pinches and squeezed a 7-5 win out of the Leafs. Montreal bowed by 4-3 to Syracuse in a game featured by effective hurling.

Major Leaders

(By The Associated Press)
(Including yesterday's games)

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting: Leslie, Dodgers, .403; P. Waner, Pirates, .397.

Runs: Vaughan, Pirates, 20; Medwick, Cardinals 16.

Runs batted in: Suhr, Pirates 19; Medwick, Cardinals, and Klein, Cubs 18.

Hits: Moore Giants 26; Leslie, Dodgers 25.

Doubles: English, Cubs, 8; Ryan, Giants 7.

Triples: Suhr, Pirates 5; V. Davis, Cardinals; and W. Herman, Cubs 3.

Home runs—Ott, Giants and Klein, Cubs, 6.

Stolen bases: Frey, Dodgers and Martin Carlinals, 3.

Pitching: Bush, Cubs 5-0; Lucas, Pirates and Walker, Cardinals 2-0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting: Reynolds, Red Sox .492; Vosmik, Indians .434.

Runs: Morgan, Redsox, 17; Manush Senators 15.

Runs batted in: Reynolds, Red Sox 31; Manush, Senators 26.

Doubles: Werber, Red Sox 9; Reynolds, Redsox, and Greenberg, Tigers 8.

Triples: Reynolds, Redsox, 4; Manush, Senators 3.

Home runs: Ruth, Yankees 6; Foxx Athletics 5.

Stolen bases: Walker, Tigers 7; Gehrig, Yankees 4.

Pitching: Ruffing, Yankees and Thomas, Senators, 4-0.

Ernest Brown, British Minister for Mines, recently preached the anniversary sermon in Hope Street Baptist Church, Leith, Scotland.

Baseball Results

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Rochester	13	3	.813
Toronto	9	6	.600
Newark	12	8	.600
Montreal	9	9	.500
Syracuse	7	7	.500
Albany	7	8	.467
Baltimore	5	13	.278
Buffalo	5	13	.278

Yesterday's Results.

Newark 4-1, Toronto, 1-7.
Buffalo 4-0 Baltimore 2-23.
Albany 5-3, Montreal 4-4.
Rochester 16, Syracuse 2.

Saturday's Results

Albany 7, Toronto 6.
Rochester 6, Baltimore 4.
Newark 8, Buffalo 7.
Syracuse 4, Montreal 3.
Games to-day: Newark at Toronto; Albany at Montreal; Baltimore at Buffalo; Syracuse at Rochester.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	12	5	.706
Chicago	12	6	.667
Pittsburg	10	6	.625
Boston	9	7	.563
St. Louis	9	8	.529
Brooklyn	7	9	.438
Philadelphia	4	12	.250
Cincinnati	3	13	.188

Yesterday's Results.

New York 5, Cincinnati 3.
Chicago 11, Philadelphia 5.
Pittsburg 8, Brooklyn 5.
Boston 3, St. Louis 2.

Saturday's Results

Pittsburgh 6, New York 3.
Boston 5, Chicago 4.
St. Louis 7, Philadelphia 1.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati—Rain.
Games to-day: Philadelphia at Chicago; New York at Cincinnati; Brooklyn at Pittsburg; Boston at St. Louis.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	11	5	.688
Cleveland	8	6	.615
Boston	8	7	.563
Washington	9	8	.529
Detroit	7	8	.467
Philadelphia	7	9	.438
St. Louis	5	9	.357
Chicago	4	9	.308

Yesterday's Results

Boston 14, Detroit 4.
New York 6, St. Louis 5.
Washington 5, Chicago 0.
Cleveland 4, Philadelphia 3.

Saturday's Results

New York 10, Detroit 6.
Washington 9, Cleveland 1.
Boston 13, St. Louis 12.
Philadelphia 10, Chicago 4.
Games to-day: Chicago at Washington; St. Louis at New York; Detroit at Boston; Cleveland at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Minneapolis	11	5	.688
Indianapolis	9	7	.563
Kansas City	9	7	.563
Louisville	9	7	.563
Toledo	8	8	.500
Columbus	7	8	.467
Milwaukee	6	11	.353
St. Paul	5	11	.313

Yesterday's Results

Minneapolis 8-1, Indianapolis 5-2.
Toledo 7-13, Milwaukee 6-12.
Louisville 3-2, St. Paul 0-1.
Columbus 12, Kansas City 6.

Saturday's Results

Kansas City 8, Toledo 1.
Milwaukee 10, Columbus 4.
St. Paul at Indianapolis—Rain.
No game at Louisville account of races.
Games to-day: Kansas City at Columbus; St. Paul at Louisville; Minneapolis at Indianapolis; Milwaukee at Toronto.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press).

Paul Waner, Pirates — Hit Brooklyn pitching for three singles.

Lou Gehrig, Yankees—Knocked in three runs against Browns with homer, double and single.

Fred Frankhouse, Braves—Limited Cardinals to four hits in 7 1-3 innings.

Caryl Reynolds, Red Sox — Clouted two triples and single against Tigers, scoring three runs.

Woody English, Cubs—Hit two doubles and two singles for perfect batting day against Phillies.

Willis Hudlin, Indians—Outpitched Roy Mahaffey and contributed double to win victory over Athletics.

Bill Terry, Giants—Led attack on Reds with three hits.

Al Thomas, Senators—Shut out White Sox, giving six hits and fanning five.

SIXTH LINE GIRLS

The girl softballers of Sixth Line will hold a practice at Lang Monday evening at six o'clock, and all girls wishing to catch a place should be on hand.

Indians Defy Foxx's Bat to Beat A's 4-3

First Over, Second Home

Although Depart is going over this hurdle half a length in front of Quick March, the latter horse did a "quick march" to the fire and finished first in this steeplechase held at the Pimlico track.

McLARNIN BACK IN NEW YORK, BEGINS TRAINING THIS WEEK

Vancouver Jaw-breaker Confident He Can Take Barney Ross on May 28, But Believes it Will be Tough Assignment—Training for Past Two Months.

NEW YORK, May 7 (CP)—Looking as nifty as you please and discussing ring matters with a confidence that was contagious, James Archibald McLarnin was back in New York to-day to start training for his welterweight title defence.

He believes his engagement against Lightweight Champion Barney Ross, May 28, is a tough assignment, but after making that confession, he added in the very next breath:

"I make them groggy with my left hand, you know, and finished them with my right."

The cherubic face the Vancouver jaw-cracker poked out of the 'plane that landed him here late Saturday after a 22-hour flight from Seattle, was burned a rich mahogany. To those who said, "Gee, kid, you're looking swell," Johnny confided he'd been trudging eight miles and more on the golf course every day for the past two months.

He also had been boxing a bit out on the west coast, the welter king said. And that was good tidings to his well-wishers, for McLarnin has had only two minutes of prize fighting since he was last in New York 17 months ago—that when his thundering right smacked the welter crown off young Corbett's brow in less than a round.

On Thursday the amiable Canuck is going on to Atlantic City to complete training. He now weighs 147, only two pounds more than he has agreed to be the night of the fight here, and he figures that sharpening up of his punches and timing is his most important task.

HASTINGS SOFTBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZED

Elgin, Cobourg Road and Three Teams From Village to Make Up Loop.

HASTINGS, May 7.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—By far one of the largest and most enthusiastic sporting meetings was held on Friday night in the Star office. The meeting was called for the purpose of forming a Hastings and District Softball League. Delegates were present from five clubs, namely, Elgin, Cobourg Road and three teams from the village, Tanners, Clerks and Outlaws. These five teams have entered and it is felt that Asphodel will also come in, and if not another team in the village can be made up.

It is the intention of the local teams to use the Public school diamond until such times as the softball diamond in the new park is in condition for action. The 24th of May has been marked as the grand opening of softball in Hastings when three games will be played. The schedule will be drawn up in the near future.

The following officers were elected:

Honorary Presidents—L. O. Breithaupt, John F. Fleming, of Elgin, Thomas Williamson of Cobourg Road.

President—Aubrey (Dit) Clapper.

Vice-President — Rev. Father P. J. Kelly.

Secretary-Treasurer — W. W. Knight.

Executive—M. Scott and M. Preston of Elgin, R. Williamson and R. McGuire of Cobourg Road, E. Hahn and M. Hogan of Tanners, L. English and G. Patterson of Clerks, W. Weliman and F. Sargent of Outlaws.

VICTORY KEEPS CLEVELAND NINE IN SECOND POST

Only Western Club in American League to Hold Eastern Battlers.

FOXX GETS 5TH HOMER.

New York, Chicago and Pittsburg Turn in Victories in National Race.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr. A. P. Sports Jr.

Despite the double handicap of having their star hurler, Wes Ferrell, stand firm in his determination not to play for the salary offered him and of a slight shortage in left handed elbowers, Cleveland Indians appear to be doing right well by themselves in the American league campaign.

Since the intersectional play began last week, only the Indians among the league's western clubs have succeeded in winning a game from the east's representatives and they made it two out of three yesterday by defying the thunder in Jimmie Foxx's bat to defeat the Athletics 4-3. This triumph kept Walter Johnson's crew in second place, only a game and a half behind the fast-flying New York Yankees.

Willis Hudlin, who made a late start this season but moved right in with Oral Hildebrand and Monte Pearson as a regular and effective worker, recorded his second victory, taming the A's in all but two innings.

Foxx walloped his fifth homer of the season but it came with empty sacks after the Indians had gained a good lead.

The Yankees maintained their none-too-big lead by turning back St. Louis Browns 6-5 with a couple of late rallies led by big Lou Gehrig. After socking a homer earlier, Lou hit a double to aid in a two run eighth inning rally and singled home the winning tally in the ninth.

14-4 Setback for Tigers

Boston's Red Sox, pressing hard from third place, gave Detroit a painful shellacking, scoring 12 runs in one tremendous inning that produced 10 hits off three pitchers. The final count was 14-4 as Steve Larkin, rookie right hander, finally stopped the shelling. Al Thomas of Washington recorded the only major league shutout in a day devoted largely to heavy hitting by stopping the White Sox with six hits to win 5-0.

Braves Going Up

While the first three teams in the National League standing, New York, Chicago and Pittsburgh, turned in victories over lesser opponents that came rather as a matter of course, Boston Braves took a more active part in their fourth-place duel with St. Louis and captured the first division berth in hand to hand conflict.

Coming on the Cards after they had won seven straight victories, the Braves won 3-2 as Fred Frankhouse got the better of Bill Hallahan in a hurling argument and St. Louis couldn't score until Ed Brandt took the hill in the ninth. The largest crowd of the St. Louis season, about 10,000, saw the game.

The league-leading Giants hopped on Si Johnson for two runs in the first inning and continued batting against Allyn Stout to take their first game in Cincinnati 5-3. The Cubs jumped on Snipe Hansen for eight runs in three innings and hit a couple of other Philadelphia left handers freely enough to assure an 11-5 victory even though Lon Warneke weakened and let the Phillies score all their runs in the fourth. The Pirates likewise piled up an early lead and coasted through to an 8-5 decision over Brooklyn after a homer by Ralph Boyle upset Heinie Meine and gave the Dodgers a chance to do some serious scoring.

Big Noise On Saturday

In the Saturday picture, Babe Ruth was the big noise, smacking out a pair of homers as the Yankees downed Detroit 10-6. Washington surprised Cleveland with a 9-1 shellacking.

In the National League Ralph Birkofer, who formerly wore a Toronto Leaf uniform, turned in a neat mound performance to give Pittsburgh a 6-3 win over the Giants. A cluster of five runs in the eighth enabled Boston to whip the Cubs 5-4.

Richard Hayden, aged 83, and his wife, aged 82, who died within a few days of each other in Bristol, England, were buried in the same grave.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

CAVALCADE NOT FORCED TO EXTEND HIMSELF TO WIN KENTUCKY CLASSIC

Bowling Schedule

TRENT VALLEY LEAGUE

WARKWORTH, May 7 (Examiner Correspondence).—The following is the schedule of games to be played in the Trent Valley Bowling League

First Half

Brighton at:—
Campbellford, June 8.
Hastings, June 1.
Havelock, July 27.
Norwood, June 29.
Warkworth, July 13.

Campbellford at:—
Brighton, June 16th.
Hastings, July 6.
Havelock, June 29.
Norwood, June 1.
Warkworth, July 27.

Hastings at:—
Brighton, May 25.
Campbellford, July 13.
Havelock, June 15.
Norwood, July 27.
Warkworth, June 29.

Havelock at:—
Brighton, July 20.
Campbellford, June 22.
Hastings, June 8.
Norwood, July 13.
Warkworth, June 1.

Norwood at:—
Brighton, June 22.
Campbellford, May 25.
Hastings, July 20.
Havelock, July 6.
Warkworth, June 15.

Warkworth at:—
Brighton, July 6.
Campbellford, July 20.
Hastings, June 22.
Havelock, May 25.
Norwood, June 8.

Second Half

Brighton at:—
Campbellford, Aug. 24.
Hastings, August 3.
Havelock, Sept. 28.
Norwood, August 31.
Warkworth, Sept. 14.

Campbellford at:—
Brighton, August 17.
Hastings, Sept. 21.
Havelock, August 31.
Norwood, August 3.
Warkworth, Sept. 28.

Hastings at:—
Brighton, August 10.
Campbellford, Sept. 14.
Havelock, August 17.
Norwood, October 5.
Warkworth, August 31.

Havelock at:—
Brighton, October 5.
Campbellford, Sept. 7.
Hastings, August 24.
Norwood, Sept. 14.
Warkworth, August 3.

Norwood at:—
Brighton, Sept. 7.
Campbellford, August 10.
Hastings, Sept. 28.
Havelock, Sept. 21.
Warkworth, August 17.

Warkworth at:—
Brighton, Sept. 21.
Campbellford, October 5.
Hastings, Sept. 7.
Havelock, August 10.
Norwood, August 24.

Games may be brought forward on agreement between the teams concerned.

In case a game is postponed, the visiting club have the right to set the date of play.

English Bred Horse Covers Ramous Track in Same Time as Twenty Grand.

NOT RUN IN PREAKNESS.

Veteran Jockey, Mack Garner, Pilots Winner Home After Losing Ten Attempts.

(By C. Robert Kay, Associated Press Staff Writer)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 7 (AP)—Kentucky Derby winners seldom become champion race-horses, but if a Derby winner ever had a fine chance to win the three-year-old crown it is Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan's Cavalcade, which captured the 60th running of the historic race in such magnificent fashion as to beggar description.

Trained to perfection by R. A. "Smiling Bob" Smith and expertly ridden by the veteran jockey Mack Garner, aboard his first Derby winner after ten losing attempts to win the Kentucky classic, Cavalcade on Saturday defeated the best band of thoroughbreds to go to the Derby post in years, and was not forced to extend himself.

Cavalcade is Trainer Smith's first Derby winner, and "Smiling Joe" with a potential champion in his charge, is profiting by the mistakes of others in deciding not to start the English-bred colt in the Preakness at Pimlico this Saturday.

Burgoo King, Derby winner in 1932, won the Preakness the following week and promptly broke down. Broker's Tip, last year's victor, started in the Preakness, lost and broke down. So there will be no over-exertion for Cavalcade.

Take it from Jockey Garner, who rode Cavalcade in his three winning starts this year, the Sloane colt could have raced the mile and a quarter Derby distance in faster time than the 2.04 recorded, but it was not necessary. The track was fast, but softer than on the day Twenty Grand set the record of 2.01 4-5. Here is a comparison of the fractional times of their Derbies:

Twenty Grand. — ¼, 23 1-5; ½, 47 2-5; ¾, 1.12; mile, 1.37 2-5; 1¼, 2.01 4-5.

Cavalcade.— ¼, 23; ½, 47 1-5; ¾, 1.21 1-5; mile 1.37 2-5; 1¼, 2.04.

Saturday's Derby field contained crack sprinters, accounting for the fast time in the early stages. Cavalcade's time for the mile was the same as Twenty Grand's, but this latest race was virtually won at that stage, and Cavalcade was not forced to extend himself in the last quarter, as was Twenty Grand.

Garner said Cavalcade does not like to run in front, but likes to catch horses, and if there had been faster horses in the field, Cavalcade would have caught them.

Cost $1,200 as Yearling

Mrs. Sloane, who purchased Cavalcade for only $1,200 as a yearling, became the fifth woman to own a Kentucky Derby winner. Her Time Clock, which ran coupled with Cavalcade Saturday, won the Florida Derby.

Mrs. Frank J. Heller's Agrarian was third, with Charles T. Fisher's well-backed filly, Mata Hari, fourth. Mrs. Sloane netted $36,175 by Cavalcade's victory; Vanderbilt received $5,000; Mrs. Heller, $2,500 and Fisher, $1,000. The Brookmeade entry was heavy favorite in the betting, at odds of 3 to 2.

Col. E. R. Bradley's Bazaar, the other filly in the field, finished ninth, adding strength to turf experts' conviction that fillies should be disregarded in Derby calculations. Eastern-owned horses ran one, two, three, with Mata Hari giving the best performance among Western hopefuls.

It was the first time in years that the Derby was not won by a horse that was a native of Kentucky.

PLEADS GUILTY TO ROBBERY

TORONTO.—Stewart Greatback, 24, pleaded guilty in police court to-day to the armed robbery of Mrs. M. Gilderoy, manager of a downtown hosiery shop of $94 last night. He was remanded for sentence until May 12. Greatback was captured after a chase through city streets last night, in which Mrs. Gilderoy participated.

A TRAVEL BARGAIN
Sailing Fridays from Montreal to PLYMOUTH, HAVRE, LONDON, and BELFAST, LIVERPOOL, GLASGOW
Third Class Cruise Rates $ 88.00 one way to Great Britain | $144.50 return
$144.50 RETURN 3rd CLASS
COMFORTABLE ACCOMMODATION
PLENTIFUL FOOD OF EXCELLENT QUALITY — MANY AMUSEMENTS TO FILL YOUR DAYS . . . .
Sail FINE STEADY SHIPS . . . .
CUNARD ANCHOR-DONALDSON
217 Bay Street - Toronto or local agent
To the OLD COUNTRY

Tennis Draw Made For Canadian Davis Cup Trials

CAPITOL

4—GREAT DAYS—4
To-day - Tues.
Wed. - Thurs.

HERE THEY ARE IN A PRODUCTION THAT DWARFS THE GREATEST SHOWS OF THE PAST!

"Wonder Bar"

First National All-Time Triumph!

All These Wonder Stars in the Wonder Show!...

KAY FRANCIS
DICK POWELL
AL JOLSON
DOLORES DEL RIO
RICARDO CORTEZ
HAL LEROY
GUY KIBBEE
HUGH HERBERT
FIFI D'ORSAY
RUTH DONNELLY
LOUISE FAZENDA

★10 FAMOUS STARS!
★4 GREAT COMEDIANS!
★600 GORGEOUS GIRLS!
★5000 PERFORMERS!
★MAMMOTH SPECTACLES!
★5 BIG SONG HITS!

"Going to Heaven on a Mule"
"Why Do I Dream Those Dreams"
"Wonder Bar" - "Vive La France" and "Don't Say Goodnight"

ADDED HIT
"GOBS OF FUN"

Note! Feature at 3.00 - 7.30 - 9.30

3 PROVINCES REPRESENTED CANUCK TESTS

Nunns to Meet Bob Murray and Rainville to Oppose Watt on First Day.

ON TORONTO COURTS.

Selected Canadian Team Will Leave for United States About May 16th.

OTTAWA, May 7.—The official draw for the Canadian Davis Cup trial matches was made over the week-end by Philip D. Lyons, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association and chairman of the 1934 Canadian Davis Cup Committee, and provides for six of Canada's leading players from the Provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia to take part in the trial matches next Friday morning at the Toronto Tennis Club.

The trials will be conducted under the direction of Garnet H. Maldrum of Toronto, chairman of the Council of the C.L.T.A., and member of the Davis Cup Committee. Thomas Arnold of Montreal, president of the Province of Quebec Tennis Association and member of the Davis Cup Committee, will also be on hand for the trials, while Walter Martin of Toronto, the Dominion's outstanding player, will represent Mr. Lyons who will not be present.

Immediately after the trials a playing captain will be appointed to look after the team, which will leave Toronto for the United States about May 16.

The Province of British Columbia will be represented at the trials by T. O. Ryall, Western Canada's ranking player, while the Province of Quebec will pin its faith on Marcel Rainville, member of last year's team, and Laird Watt and Bob Murray, the two promising McGill University net stars.

Gilbert Nunns of Toronto has been selected to represent the Province of Ontario, which will also be represented by another player yet to be selected following an Ottawa-Toronto elimination play-off arranged by the Ontario Lawn Tennis Association, to whom had been delegated the selection of the Ontario representatives.

The first day's matches, as drawn by Mr. Lyons, calls for Gilbert Nunns, Ontario, to meet Bob Murray, Quebec; Marcel Rainville, Quebec, to meet Laird Watt, Quebec, and T. O. Ryall, British Columbia, to meet the Ontario representative to be selected.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse, Soccer Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

Mo than thirty prospective senior ball players were on deck at the Exhibition Grounds Saturday loosening the old soup-bones and hoping for the best. It was the initial workout for the Petes, and the players responded satisfactorily. And over a hundred dyed-in-the-wool rooters watched for over two hours. Not much was done in the way of real practise, but it's a start. Tonight and every night from now on, weather permitting, the lads will practise in Stevenson Park. The real work will begin any day now, and Knotty Lee will have his whittling knife sharpened up in a day or two. Several of last year's team couldn't make it Saturday but are expected out this evening.

• • • • • • •

The two new players who received their transfers were out, Sig Konopka and Jack Murray. The latter practised and looked quite promising. He's a lanky youth with an easy, powerful lefthand swing at bat, but throws righthand. Born on this side, Murray has been in California some time, but returned to Toronto last summer and finished the season with Riverdale Grads, proving a real hitter. He may be playing second for the Petes this summer, though of course this is only our guess. He might fill another position better.

• • • • • • •

Konopka—pronounced just as it's spelled with the "o's" as in "lot" and the accent on the second "o"—comes from Detroit, though he was born in Toronto. He is short and hits lefthanded. He could fill any one of several spots. Sig got his experience in the American Baseball Federation, advancing from one class to another till he was hitting tops in Class A ball. Next class to that is semi-pro and he didn't try out in that company. It's made up of ex-Big Leaguers like Harry Heilmann, Red Wingo, Bob Veach, etc., as well as coming stars. Class A ball is at least as fast as our senior calibre, so Sig ought to fit in nicely. He doesn't appear to be over twenty years of age.

• • • • • • •

Tpo early yet to do any forecasting on this year's senior outfit, but that first turnout looked mighty promising. The team ought to be okay defensively, and if it gets the pitching and hitting—and two new hitters wont hurt the cause, either—the Petes might go places. The C.O.B.L. winner generally doesn't hit much real opposition in the playdowns. They generally reach the Ontario finals. So, if the squad handled by Knotty Lee should slip through to cop the Central League flag, they might go the rest of the way with a rush. There, we've got the Provincial championship already, after one workout! Must be the heat.

• • • • • • •

Church Softball League—which has more teams this summer than Cavalcade had backers in the Kaintuck bowler Saturday—opens this gleaming with St. James and George St. juniors tangling at six in King Edward. Ceremony includes a few words from Rev. A. T. Barr; after which a battery of Rev. C. D. Daniel, proxy of the Prov. Boys' Work Board, and President Harold Rehill of the local Board, will try to get the Rev. J. D. Patterson and Rev. G. K. Tyler to swing at three bad pitches. Referees will be Len Agnew and Larry McBain.

• • • • • • •

We understand Sixth Line would like to be back in the Gals' Softball Loop but lacks a manager and a battery. We'd certainly like to see the Lang damsels back, and so would the other teams in this circuit and the fans. In from the start, this team has always been popular and a strong outfit. And, since there isn't much else doing in sports for the lasses down that way in the summer, they shouldn't drop outof softball. In fact, we'd suggest that if Warsaw isn't going to operate, Sixth Line get a couple of their players. This Jean Munroe is a pretty fair southpaw twirler and there is Della Tucker, a catcher and hitter. And there may be others who could be obtained, also. And why not have last year's Sixth Line captain, whoever she is, manage the squad this season? The meeting is this Wednesday at eight Duffus', and several new teams ought to be represented.

• • • • • • •

The other day we ran across an item in The Examiner of May 5th, 1904—thirty years ago. It said: "What about a City Baseball League here? As yet nothing has been done in this respect. A league of at least four teams could be formed without a great amount of difficulty. After the stars have been selected for the Midland League and the Kawartha League, there will still be enough players left to form a strong intermediate and senior city league. A meeting should be called for this purpose in the near future." Evidently, there was trouble even then in getting the City Leaguers started. There is today, but it is hoped when they meet at eight tomorrow (Tuesday) in Duffus', a bunch of new entries, especially bantams, will be represented. It's an open session and everyone interested is invited.

• • • • • • •

The trouble that had Oshawa and the C.O.B.L. up in the air all Spring—but is now settled—seems to have Hamilton and the Inter-County Senior Baseball League jittery now. Brantford wanted to play in a Hamilton loop but the Inter-County circuit had territorial rights over Brantford and wouldn't release 'em. Finally, they agreed to but the other day changed their minds and now insist that Brantford stay in the Inter-County League. And Niagara Falls' loop won't release St. Catharines to let 'em play in Hamilton. It's the old question as to what territorial rights amount to. As a Hamilton dispatch concludes: "It is possible there may be some solution worked out in the next day or so, but if not, the senior baseball here may collapse altogether."

• • • • • • •

Grab-bag: Fashion-Craft softballers practise at Central Tuesday and Friday this week, while Brintons workout there Monday, Wednesday and at three Sat'day . . . . That leaves Thursday for C.G.E. at 5.45 . . . . Local soccer meeting tonight at eight in the Chamber of Commerce when two teams will be picked to open play on next Sat'day; also first league games will be arranged . . . . East Peterborough Baseball League holds forth at 8.30 tomorrow (Tuesday) eve in Duffus' . . . . Malvern Grads spoiled the first ball game of the season for the Dukes in Oshawa Saturday by licking 'em, 8 to 2 . . . . Account of 'Y' cage games over the week-end appear elsewhere in today's paper.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

Two More Days
TODAY and TUESDAY
Mat. 2.30; Nights 7 and 9 o'clock

GUN-PLAY AND GANG-PLAY

A fearless gunner of the open spaces clashes with modern gangsters and shows them new tricks about their own racket.

FOX FILM presents
ZANE GREY'S
The LAST TRAIL
with
George O'BRIEN
CLAIRE TREVOR
EL BRENDEL
The Inventors LUCILLE LA VERNE Perils of Pauline

WEDNESDAY—DOUBLE FEATURE BILL

CAVALCADE HAS SPEED-STAMINA 1933 CAMPAIGN

English-bred Performer King of U.S. Three-year-olds Until Further Notice.

A "BIG BULLY."

High Quest Will Carry Sloane Stable Hopes in Preakness on Saturday.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 7. (AP).—The wise old fellow with the satchell full of horse shoes—meaning the blacksmith who nailed the plates to the Kentucky Derby winner — knew what he was talking about, after all. Cavalcade, as he insisted two days before the race was just a "big bully" and demonstrated it Saturday to the complete satisfaction of an amazing big crowd by over-powering all rivals in an exciting stretch drive at historic Churchill Downs.

He's the king of the three-year-old United States turf today and until further notice—this English-bred offspring of a long line of thoroughbred champions. It has been a literal procession of triumph so far this spring for Cavalcade, victor in three straight races. In rapid succession the star of the Brookmeade stable, owned by Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane of New York and Florida, has equalled one track record, broken another and romped off with the $37,000 classic of the Bluegrass.

So far the Brookmeade colt has not been hard-pressed at the finish of any race. He looks to have the stamina as well as speed for a great campaign, though his derby time of 2:04 was short of the record and expectations.

Cavalcade will not start in the Preakness ot Pimlico this Saturday. His stablemate, High Quest, will carry Mrs. Sloane's hopes in that three-year-old classic while the derby winner rests until the American derby at Chicago.

$353,854 IS WAGERED

LOUISVILLE, Ky May 7. (AP)—In a copyright story the Louisville Courier--Journal said $353,854 was bet on the Kentucky Derby Saturday through the pari-mutuel machines at Churchill Downs. In the 1933 Derby $229,362 went through the machines.

Britisher Wins

The first of three engagements between fencing teams of Great Britain and the United States opened in New York when foilsmen of the two squads faced each other at the Athletic Club. Pierce of Great Britain, foreground, is shown in action against Hugh Alessandroni, of the United States team, and national champion. Pierce won the bout by a score of 5 to 4.

Roosevelt's Book Hailed In London

LONDON, May 7.—(AP)— The London Post suggested today that some leaders—'not excluding Hitler'—should read President Franklin D. Roosevelt's new book if they would 'learn how it's done.'

The British edition of the United States president's work, 'on our way,' appeared today. It was greeted with cordial recognition by London newspapers.

The Post, sometimes a severe critic of United States, printed an editorial which said:

"Whatever verdict history may pass on the president's work as a whole, it may be anticipated with certainty that it will account him without controversy the saviour of his country at one of the darkest hours in her annals."

PEDEN AND AUDY WIN FIRST PLACE

Defeat Winter and Bartell by One-lap Margin in Toronto Grind.

TORONTO, May 7.—Torchy Peden added to his impressive list of victories in six-day bicycle racing and further proved that his combination with Jules Audy is one of the most powerful in the sport, when the Redhead from Victoria and his blond partner from Montreal finished first in the grind that concluded at the Arena Gardens on Saturday night.

A crowd of 6,500 fans roared their approval of the great show provided by the winners who made a great rally in the last night's riding to come from a trailing position three laps behind Reggie Fielding and Gadou to win by one lap.

Though Fielding - Gadou were ahead by three laps at one time, the battle that had been waged throughout the race between Charlie Winter and Frank Bartell with the ultimate winners, continued to the end and provided the competition for first place. Winer-Bartell had lost a lap to Peden-Audy early in the afternoon's action, and in spite of their strenuous efforts during the rest of the day and night, were unable to break away. They finished second by that margin.

The final standing:

	Miles	Laps	Pts.
Peden and Audy	2531	3	1228
Winter and Bartell	2531	2	1349
Fielding and Gadou	2531	0	1249
McNamara and Rush	2530	7	1076
MacDonald and Zach	2530	9	740

Munich, Germany, will hold highway expositions in June and September.

Leaf Receiver

JACK CROUCH.

One of the reasons for the success of the Toronto Leafs of baseball fame is Jack Crouch, catcher, whose handling of a none too stable pitching staff is all that could be desired, while his hitting is on a par with his work behind the bat.

ROUND TRIP
BARGAIN FARES
From PETERBOROUGH
MAY 11-12
TO MONTREAL
$5.25
QUEBEC CITY
$8.50
ST. ANNE DE BEAUPRE
$9.10
Equally low fares from intermediate points.

GOING — MAY 11-12
RETURNING — Leaving Montreal and Quebec City up to Evening of May 13th.
For full particulars consult your nearest Agent.

Canadian Pacific
Canadian National
26-3,7,10

CAPITALS QUALIFY FOR SENIOR FINAL

Will Meet All Stars Quintet for Basketball League Championship.

All-Stars and Capitals qualified for the Senior Basketball League finals by winning their games at the "Y" Saturday evening. The All-Stars defeated Normals, 46 to 34, while Capitals took a 27-23 win over Thistles. The victors will meet in a sudden-death game this week for the championship.

The first game was a free-scoring affair, with the winners having a marked edge the last frame. They led, 21-18, at half-time and outshot the Normalites in the second half. Cairns and Shepherd were the leading scorers for the losers, while the Holmes brothers and Smith carried the brunt of the attack for All-Stars. The teams:

Normals: Robinson, Cairns, Macdonald, Jackson, Fraser, Shepherd and Reed.

All-Stars: A. Holmes, V. Holmes, Smith, Brady, Stanger and Williams.

Referee, H. McLeod.

Thistles led Capitals at the halfway mark of the second game, 13 to 9, but faded somewhat before a withering attack by the ultimate victors in a torrid second chapter. This game was marked by neat team-play and checking, with little difference shown between the teams. Routley and Sager, with eight points each, proved the best snipers for Thistles. Kitchen with eight points and Broadley with seven were the top hoopers for the theatrical representatives. The teams:

Thistles: Routley, Hunter, Sager, Bancroft, McLead, Hunt and McIntyre.

Capitals: Broadley, Cadd, Kitchen, Taylor, J. Dundas and Currie.

Referee, Jim McClenaghan.

Softball Workouts

DUNLOP TIRES.

Dunlop Tires' softball team will practice at 5.45 Wednesday in Central, and all players wanting a trial should be on hand. As Brintons also claim this night for a workout, the dispute will have to be settled tomorrow, and a definite announcement will likely appear in Tuesday's paper.

GENERAL ELECTRICS.

C.G.E. softballers will practice at 5.45 in Central on Thursday evening, and a large turnout is expected.

SENIORS HOLD FIRST WORKOUT

Knotty Lee Expresses Satisfaction Over Prospects for Coming Season.

KONOPKA PRESENT.

About three dozen ball players answered the call Saturday of Knotty Lee for the Petes' senior workout—the first of the season. And over a hundred railbirds were in attendance. The players warmed up under a smiling sun at the Exhibition Grounds, but their workout consisted of nothing strenuous. They loosened their arms by tossing the ball back and forth the best part of an hour, and then a number took turns at hitting with the rest fielding. The outfielders chased fungoes for another hour. Knotty Lee expressed satisfaction and said future practices will be held nightly at Stevenson Park, and the prospective players would be put through stiffer drills. A number of the club officers were present.

Sig Konopka was present but did not workout. Some of those seen getting in shape were: Jack Murray, newcomer; Whatley, Ash, Calladine, Macdonald, Burton, Rose and Foley of last year's squad; McQuade of Picton; Huston of Milton; Rooke, Billingsley, Dallin, Saunders, Dinesen, Welch, Hillier, Smith, J. Corbett and half a dozen more former intermediates, as well as some City Leaguers and several strangers.

Oshawa Dukes Lose Opening Game 8 To 2

OSHAWA, May 7. — Behind a fine four-hit pitching performance by Lloyd Nourse, Malvern Grads spoiled Oshawa Dukes' home opening in the Ulster Stadium Baseball League here on Saturday, when they scored an 8-2 victory. The Malvern squad were the better team on the day's play, making ten hits off the pitching of Knox and Willis; while defensively they had but one miscue. The Dukes had three errors in the field and twelve were retired on strikes.

Malvern Grads	000103130	8	10 1
Oshawa Dukes	000y00100	2	4 3

Nourse and Breen, Knox and Tyson.

Umpires—Fair and Gerrow.

Bring Your PRINTING Problems to Us

Trinity College 11 Wins From Toronto

PORT HOPE, May 7. — Playing their first cricket match of the season, Trinity College School defeated Toronto Prep School Cricket Club here on Saturday afternoon with the winners showing superiority in every department. Wigle was the star of the game with a score of 50 retired, while Vaughan scored the remaining runs, which totalled 38. It was not necessary for the remainder of hte T.S.C. squad to bat Keeley for the visitors was outstanding with a fine score of 44.

Prep Club.

Keeley, c Whitehead, b Kerr	44
Buns, not out	1
McKnight, b Whitehead	1
Knight, run out	8
Barrow, run out	0
Law, retired	7
Allan, b Whitehead	1
Baker, not out	3
Turnbull, b Smye	1
Mudge, lbw Smye	0
Gibson, not out	5
Extras	8
Total (for 8 wickets)	79

T. C. S.

Wigle, retired	50
Vaughan, not out	38
Keefer, not out	0
Extras	9
Total (for 0 wickets)	97

Seagram, Rathbone, Cochrane, Russell, Smye, Osler, Whitehead, Kerr did not bat.

WRIGLEY'S AGAIN INTERESTED CANADIAN AMATEUR SWIMMING

Present Two New Trophies to Western C.A.S.A. for Annual Competition.

AT WINNIPEG, MAY 12TH.

Two handsome silver trophies have been presented by Wm. Wrigley Jr. Company, Limited to the Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia sections of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Associations for annual competition. These trophies are for the Men's and Women's One Mile Free Style Championships of Western Canada.

The Canadian Amateur Swimming Association will hold its Annual Meeting in Winnipeg on May 12th, presided over by Mr. H. E. Herschorn, Dominion President of the C.A.S. Association. Invitations have been issued by the Winnipeg body to delegates throughout Canada, and this Annual Meeting, it is anticipated, will be a history-making event, bringing together a large gathering of amateur swimming officials and at the same time that the first sectional championship—the Wrigley Mile—will be swam. It is expected that the best men and women swimmers of the West will compete.

The Canadian Amateur Swimming Associations in the West have seen a very enthusiastic development in distance swimming circles since 1930, when the Western Canada manager of the Wm. Wrigley Jr., Company, Limited, Fred N. Scofield, first made the announcement that his company would be happy to participate in amateur swimming development in Western Canada, and offered to donate trophies for competition. The first trophies presented covered the senior men's and senior women's mile swims in each the four Western Canadian Provinces. These trophies were most enthusiastically competed for, and out of these events there developed further trophies for the Half-Mile junior provincial titles—both boys' and girls'. The present development of presentation of trophies for the Men's and Women's Western Canadian Championships will doubtless become one of the Swimming Race Classics of Western Canada.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Mrs. George Fletcher,
Box 93, Balieboro, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated in your letter for analysis, indicates that you are quite energetic at times yet you appear to put off things till the last possible moment. Then you spur yourself on with a mental whip and try to make for lost time. This is all very well as long as you are not engaged upon some important work, but if you were, you would have to take more time in which to think properly before you rushed ahead as you seem to have a faculty for doing. The uneven size of your small letters shows plainy that you are changeable, and that you do not quite know your own mind. The capitals denote a tendency to dramatize yourself so that you appear glamorous and forceful to others. You see, you want to impress people through your personality, and in doing so you become temperamental. The body of your writing shows that at times you are too direct and dogmatic, and that you grasp new ideas slowly and cautiously. This tendency is noteworthy in that it contradicts some of the other characteristics. You see: you appear not to want to grasp new ideas till they seem to be your own. You are skeptical about anything which you have not tried yourself. Your number is seven. Your sign is Virgo the Virgin. You are ruled by Mercury. February and November should be your most fortunate months. Wednesday your best day. Your type as a rule are kindhearted and generous, and should try to avoid worry, because the nervous system is easily upset. Your personality number is a ten, and you should always remember not to let your heart overrule your head and sign notes for people who will in the end 'dupe' you. The number seven which I stated above is your birthpath number and reveals the real you. You are sensitive, often difficult to understand, and you try to make your true feelings so that others cannot understand how deeply you are hurt or how badly you are suffering in health. You seem to be fond of scientific knowledge, and should possess a slight occult power yourself. You type make excellent agriculturists, or gardeners, and should be very fond of planting flowers. As a rule your type prefer to work alone guided by an inner urge. People should listen to the words of wisdom from number seven's.

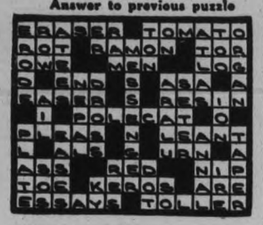
Perrin A. Clark,
516 Water St., City.

Your handwriting reveals an artistic tendency which if developed should bring you much pleasure. It seems to be somewhat in a draughting line, though art as an advertising factor would fill the bill also. You are keen minded and sharp, nothing of any importance misses your watchful eye. The long rounded loops shows love of out of door sports, good music and a susceptibility to flattery. You do want to be told how well you have done your allotted tasks. Don't you? The long stroke which serves as a 't' crossing indicates self confidence and a tendency to hurry over intricate details. However, you are going to overcome this tendency to hurry over details, as you learn to accomplish one definite task at a time. You have a propensity to desire to spread your talents out in too many directions, and so miss many splendid opportunities. Those 'y' loops depict the completion of well merited tasks with a grand gesture, and I hope this characteristic, will in time teach you to put more and more confidence (not only in yourself) but in your work, for you CAN do many more things than you give yourself credit for.

I said you 'liked to be told how well you had accomplished your work, well it is a designated trait of Gemini people (not to desire flattery), but to respond to kindness, and so, if someone praises your work, you will begin all over again with renewed effort, and this in turn leads to progress, both mentally and physically. You are of course a Gemini person. You are ruled by Mercury, and this is especially good for mental work. There is a slight leaning towards electrical work shown in your writing as well as the other characteristics as noted, but being a Gemini person this is quite natural for these people are versatile, and often accomplish more than one line of endeavour with exceptional ability. They are noted for their restlessness. They MUST be busy all the time if they are to be happy. On the other hand, if the mind of a Gemini person is not educated, this person can be about as lazy a creature as one could find anywhere. Dual nature is often depicted in Gemini people. Your number is eight, and is excellent for business. Friday is your best day. April and August your best months.

No pen-names are being used in this work any more, you see it might just be possible that someone in town really did answer to the name you chose.

Answer to previous puzzle



THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, May 8

A lively and possibly exciting day in many directions is the presage based on the chain of lunar and mutual aspects. The energies and faculties, especially the intellectual forces, will be found high-keyed and on tension, with possibly a necessity for subduing or concealing this because of some secret attachment or furtive agreements. Intrigue and craftiness dominate the affairs, which in the end are progressive, with promise of promotion or preferment from superiors. In all associations beware subtlety fraud and duplicity. Shun litigation.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a lively and intriguing year, with all the energies and mental faculties alert and under high pressure. A tone of secrecy, subterfuge or private understandings keys all relations both business and personal. There is need of wariness as to fraud, duplicity and subtlety. Avoid law. Superiors may be found disposed to grant favors or phone.

A child born on this day may be energetic, talented, with keen mind and sharp tongue. It may be emotional, imaginative and may find favor with employers or superiors.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind

MILLBROOK

A northern Institute branch, organized and carrying on with wonderful efficiency and regularity though located in a rather sparsely settled district, naturally meets at times with a difficulty crystallized in the fact that the one chosen to give the paper at the monthly meeting is not able to be present.

On the other hand, this branch has as president a woman of unfailing initiative and resourcefulness, filling in such a 'gap' as has been mentioned with readiness and practical benefit to the membership. Coming a bride to this northern community a little over two years ago, she had shortly afterward been elected to the office of chief executive, and it is safe to say that its requirements have never been more fully met.

As an example, at the April meeting the speaker for the day was kept at home by illness in her family; the son who usually drove his mother to the gathering, over very poor roads it might be mentioned, and that is no small item since the small farm home was a considerable distance from the little W.I. hall where the homemakers met, contracted a serious attack of appendicitis and there was of course no hope that the mother could take her place on the program.

The presiding officer was equal to the occasion, alebit no word of the 'absentee by necessity' had been received until arrival at the hall. "We'll just call our day's discussion 'Hodge Podge'," she announced; "and everyone will contribute something, as far as time will permit, to make the meeting profitable. I will begin by telling you of a special pudding I made the other day when we celebrated our second wedding anniversary in our home my husband, our little son, and myself. Well, I should say the little son only had the tiniest taste of the 'treat 'but we saw to it that he had a part alright in the occasion."

"As we all well know our shopping up here is largely done through the mail order catalogues, but my sister-in-law, in filling an order for me and sending it on from Toronto, included a tin of canned pineapple. That was an extravagance I would never have 'committed' myself so I determined to make our anniversary treat take in that pineapple. I placed the slices in the bottom of a big cut glass bowl that was one of our wedding gifts, cutting each one in two; then I made a custard with the yokes of two eggs, a slightly rounded teaspoon of cornstarch dissolved in a cup of sweet milk, the cup of juice from the can of fruit, sugar to taste, and flavored it with bitter almond extract. When the custard was cool I poured it over the fruit, and then topped it off with the whites of the eggs well beaten, and instead of browning since that was impossible in the cut glass dish, I beat bits of apple jelly through the whites, flavored with a tiny bit of vanilla and spread over the pudding."

"Was it good? Well, you just ask my husband—he thought he had never in all his life tasted anything that quite 'hit the spot' as did that pudding. What was over we gave to the family nearest us where there are two little girls just recovering from an illness, and whose mother is fairly distracted to please their appetities, naturally 'finicky' between the spring and the sickness through which they have passed. Sharing meant a greater enjoyment for ourserves, as it always does, you know."

Replying to a query that the special dish described had "been made out of her head," because she had had no recipe to guide her, led one of the elderly ladies present to enlarge a bit on the "joy of initiative," declaring that as one of the pioneer residents of the locality she had found it developed the virtue of patience, gave a joy to working, resulted in worth of character, added influence to example, taught the wisdom of economy, the value of time, the power of kindness, the improvement of talent, the real excellence of simplicity, and made life altogether more interesting.

The 'Hodge Podge' program brought forth many workable plans and recipes, 'tested and tried in the school of experience' as the president put it, and time was called long before 'the half had been told.' A written report was mailed to the one kept at home through her son's illness.

BONARLAW.

William Johnson and daughter, Lula, of Stirling, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Wellman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown and family called on Mrs. Fred. McKeown and Mrs. D. Wellman on Sunday.

Vernie Heath was in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Rev. Canon and Mrs. Swayne were guests of Mr. Wellman on Tuesday.

Mrs. James Booth and family moved on Tuesday to Marmora where they will reside.

FIRE LOSSES INCREASE

TORONTO—Fire losses in Canada during the week ended May 2, 1934 are estimated by the Monetary Times at $514,400 as compared with $185,825 during the preceding week and with $281,500 during the corresponding week of last year. Fire losses since Jan. 1 to May 2 totalled $5,863,600 as compared with $7,072,000 for the corresponding period of 1933.

FEELING MEAN AND NASTY?

WELL IT ISN'T YOUR SOUL —IT'S YOUR LIVER

GET THE POISON OUT AND THE SUNSHINE IN!

The best of people get "out-of-sorts" from time to time. No calm disposition, sound stomach, and strong nerves can fight a clogged up system. Don't carry these poisons around with you. If you do, you are bound to have sick headaches and nervous indigestion.

Let BEECHAM'S clean out your system and put liver, and stomach, and bowels functioning regularly again.

BEECHAM'S—are so mild and effective—they are purely vegetable and quite harmless—safe to give to children. So inexpensive—only 25c a box. Perhaps you don't think you are in need of BEECHAM'S today. Well, just try a couple tonight and see how different you feel tomorrow. That will prove how much you were in need of them. 7

Beecham's PILLS
THE GREAT REGULATOR

"SERVICE" SHOES with NUGGET

It adds not only extra smartness, but extra wear as well. "Nugget" keeps leather soft, pliable, serviceable months longer than if they are neglected and unshined.

NUGGET SHOE POLISH

There's a NUGGET shade for every shoe made

Oh My Head! How It Aches!

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles a person can be tormented with.

Those dull throbbings indicate there must be something wrong with the system.

However, whatever the cause, you will find in Burdock Blood Bitters a remedy to work in such a way that the headaches will eventually disappear and you will not be further troubled with them.

For sale at drug and general stores; put up for the past 55 years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BRICK BRADFORD—In the City Beneath the Sea — By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

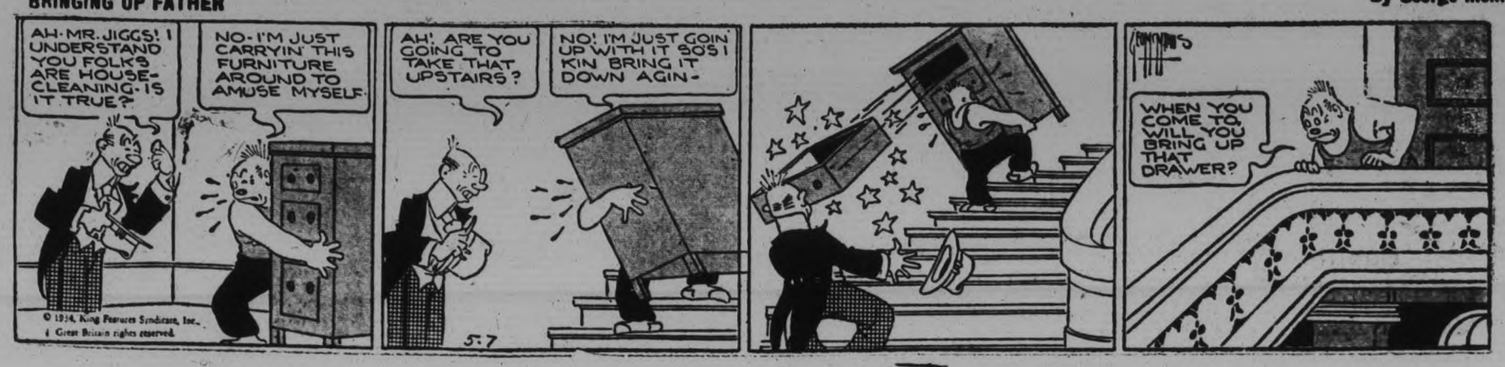
MUGGS McGINNIS — True — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — One on Herman T. Houynd — By GEORGE SWAN

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus



SOMEONE WANTS WHAT YOU HAVE OR HAS WHAT YOU WANT! use the Classified Page

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
We will call for your Ad. and give you the cash rate.
Phone 1600

CHARGES:

Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Local Page), per inch	$1.00
Black Locals (Local Page), per in.	$1.40
Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 2 inches)	75c
Over 2 inches, per inch	50c
With Black Border, extra	25c

INDEX TO EXAMINER CLASSIFIED WANT ADS.

Agents Wanted	L
Boarders Wanted	F
Business Opportunities	K
Chiropractor	U
Cottage, Summer Resorts	E
Dressmaking	Z
Employment Wanted	J
Female Help Wanted	H
Found	N
For Rent—General	C
For Sale—General	A
General Notice	T
Help Wanted (Male or Female)	X
Live Stock	O
Lost	M
Male Help Wanted	G
Personal	R
Pet Stock	W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs	P
Radio	I
Real Estate for Sale	D
Salesmen Wanted	Y
Situations Vacant	V
To Rent—Houses, Apartments	B
Used Cars for Sale	S
Wanted—General	Q

IMPORTANT!

In requesting us to call for your ad, the order must be phoned before 11 a.m. in order to insure it being inserted on the same day.

a For Sale—General

BUNDLES OF CLEAN PAPER, 5c each. Examiner Office. 6d-108-A

REAL DRY BUNDLED KINDLING—25 Bundls for a Dollar; also Sum-25 Bundles for a Dollar; also Summer Wood. $1.75 Large Load. Kingdon Barrel Factory. 'Phone 3230. 3d-109-1778A

GASOLINE LAUNCH, 26-FT. LONG, 7-ft. beam, Ford Marine motor, searchlight and full equipment; splendid condition. Now at Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake. Price $150. W. J. Grant, 81 Quebec Avenue, Toronto. 3d-109-1774A

.22 RIFLE, REPEATER. APPLY 490 George Street. 3d-110-1827A

TOP SOIL. 'PHONE 1943. 7d-114-1831A

ROTTEN MANURE, $1 LOAD, Delivered. 'Phone 2505J. 5d-112-5201A

ROUEN DUCK EGGS. 'PHONE 994 ring 12. 3d-110-1813A

MISS USTA KNIFE HAS BLOOD-poisoning. Now she uses both Cress Corn and Bunion Salve—on Sale at all Peterborough Drug Stores. 1d-108-5207A

NEWCOMBE PIANO, GOOD TONE. Apply Evenings, 596 Chamberlain. 3d-110-1812A

LOT AND HEN COOP. APPLY 308 Burnham. 'Phone 1078F. 3d-109-1766A

NINE-PIECE DINING-ROOM SUITE. Solid Walnut, and McClary Electric Stove (Cream and Green), nearly new; cheap. 690 Aylmer Street. 2d-108-1772A

THREE WHITE ANGORA RABBITS. Apply 239 Princess. 3d-109-1787A

LILIES, DAHLIAS, PERENNIAL Roots, Five for Quarter. Gladiolus cheap, 229 Princess. 3d-109-1786A

DRY MIXED WOOD, $2 LOAD. 'Phone 2409. 6d-112-1684A

EIGHT-PIECE SOLID OAK DINING-room Suite, also Cream Lloyd Stroller, $8, Wilton Rugs. Gentleman's Wheel $6; good condition. 51 River Road. 3d-109-1808A

OIL STOVE, KITCHEN CHAIRS, Kitchen Table, zinc top, large Oak Rocker. Set Bowls, Iron Vise, Pick-axe, Jacks, Gasoline Tank. 'Phone 208J. 1d-108-1794A

100 QUARTS MILK DAILY. WRITE Box 1808, Examiner. 3d-110-1808A

FOUR 30 x 3½ TIRES, AND FIVE 20-inch Rim Tires. 22 Cameron Street. 4d-111-1818A

a For Sale—General

MIXED WOOD, $2, 12" STEPHENson, 3576W. 6d-109-1694A

DOLLAR LOADS — DRY SLABS. 'Phone 58. 12d-117-1724A

GOOD TOP SOIL. 'PHONE 3366. 3d-108-1748A

UPRIGHT PIANO, CHEAP. 'PHONE 2826F. 3d-108-1752A

ICE-CREAM AND REFRESHING Drinks at Potvin's, 290 Charlotte Street. 3d-109-1798A

GLADIOLUS— DISEASE-FREE, FULL of pep, glorious colors, 75c, 1.00; $1.25 per 100. A. Prest, 242 Lansdowne Street. 6d-113-1811A

BABY CARRIAGE, GOOD CONDITION. 98 Gladstone. 3d-110-1810A

QUANTITY USED LUMBER. APPLY 452 Elm. 'Phone 260W. 3d-110-1824A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HEATED APARTMENT IN BANK OF Commerce Building. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street dtf-4177B

BRIGHT FOUR-ROOMED DUPLEX. Apply 183 Antrim. 6d-113-1834B

TWO NEWLY DECORATED UNFURnished Rooms, also Bachelor quarters; private entrance. 336 Stewart. 3d-7,9,11-1835B

COSY! BRIGHT LOWER APARTment, full plumbing, beautiful verandah, residential; central; low rent. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 4d-111-1836B

FOUR-ROOMED HOUSE, CONVENIences. 640 Armour Road. 3d-110-1840B

MODERN HOUSE, ALSO FURNISHED and Unfurnished Housekeeping Rooms, central. 2637W. 3d-110-1823B

UPPER DUPLEX, 5 ROOMS. 192 Dalhousie. 'Phone 2294F. 3d-110-1817B

UPPER APARTMENT, MODERN, BALcony, 5 Rooms, Twenty Dollars. 'Phone 443W. 6d-108-1615B

HOUSE, NO 249 WOLFE STREET. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-3682B

NO. 358 HUNTER STREET WEST (Bungalow). Possession First June. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5109B

HOUSE, 408 BELMONT AVENUE (corner Belmont and Weller) Apply 437 George Street. dtf-2199B

HEATED APARTMENT, IN GRAND Central Building. Possession arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-B

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURnished. 527 George Street. 6d-108-1641B

CLEAN, WARM HOUSE. APPLY 345 Rubidge Street. 3d-109-1797B

HOUSE, 12 INVERLEA. POSSESSION immediately. Apply between 2 and 8 p.m. 3d-109-5186B

APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 1232J. 6d-110-1716B

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, FURNISHed. 516 Charlotte. 6d-110-5144B

SIX-ROOMED HOUSE, THREE-piece bath, central. Apply 374 Downie. 3d-108-1745B

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, UNfurnished. 106 McDonnel. 3d-109-1784B

BRIGHT, MODERN APARTMENT, Furnishd. Unfurnished. Bell Apartments, Hunter Street. 3d-109-1770B

SIX-ROOMED SOLID BRICK HOUSE, conveniences, central; garage. 162A Park Hill Road. 2d-108-1776B

FOR SALE OR RENT — HOUSE, AT Springville, with good garden. 'Phone 971 ring 4. 3d-109-1791B

c For Rent—General

STORE, NO. 1734 SIMCOE STREET Immdiate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1897C

GARAGES TO RENT— CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

FOR SALE — REGISTERED YEARling Shorthorn Bull R. Matchett, Fraserville. 4d-2,4,7,1-1668O

MODERN STORE, CENTRAL, BELL Apartments. 6d-112-1771C

STORE, 32 292 CHARLOTTE STREET. 'Phone 2675. 3d-109-1799C

STORE, ON CHARLOTTE STREET, in Robinson Block. 'Phone 692. 3d-109-1805C

w Pet Stock

FOR SALE — BOSTON TERRIER Pups (Male). Apply 266 King. 3d-109-1785W

d Real Estate

FOR SALE — EAST ½ LOT 20, CONcession 3, Emily, 100 Acres; good location. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street, Peterborough. dtf-4222D

FOR SALE — CASH DEAL: 7-ROOM House, all conveniences, large garden. Apply 219 Simcoe Street. 'Phone 1773W. 3d-108-1755D

MODERN HOUSE, ALL CONVENIences, Homewood Avenue. Write Box 1804, Examiner. 3d-109-1804D

e Summer Cottages

FOR SALE — STONEY LAKE ISland, 2 Acres, nicely wooded, beautiful spot; Furnished Cottage, boat house, wharf, skiff, ice-house filled; close to Crowe's. Bargain for cash. W. J. Grant, 81 Quebec Avenue, Toronto. 3d-109-1775E

CHEMONG PARK, 2 FURNISHED Cottages. Mrs. Elliott, 351 Park. 3d-110-1830E

THE F. L. ROY COTTAGES AT Chemong Park are for Rent; season only. Apply Fred L. Roy, The Roy Studio. 3d-109-5173E

WANTED — TO RENT FOR SEASON, Cottage at Stoney Lake, with view to ultimate purchase if satisfied. Write, stating full particulars, to Box 1821, Examiner. 3d-7,9,12-1821E

f Boarders Wanted

ROOM, WITH OR WITHOUT BOARD. 'Phone 1507, or 467 Water Street. 3d-109-1706F

LARGE FURNISHED FRONT ROOM; Board optional. 356 Stewart. 3d-110-1829F

g Help Wanted, Male

WANTED — MAN OR BOY WITH Wheel. Apply 224 Perry. 3d-108-1729G

MAN WITH CAR, WILLING TO TRAvel; good opportunity. Call after 6 p.m., 285 Park Street. 2d-109-5206G

h Help Wanted, Female

WANTED — MAID FOR GENERAL Housework, sleep out preferred. Apply 409 Aylmer Street. 3d-108-1739H

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS; MUST be experienced. Apply Elite. 'Phone 7. 3d-109-5162H

j Employment Wanted

WOMAN WANTS WORK, SMALL family, town only. 352 Park Hill Road. 3d-108-1728J

CAR WASHING BY EXPERIENCED Man. Satisfaction on all jobs, $1.00. Cars may be left at Corner Service Station, S.-E. Corner Aylmer and Charlotte Streets, or 'Phone 806, and they will be called for. M. Williamson. 3d-108-1742J

FIRST-CLASS CARPENTER WANTS Work by Day or Contract; very reasonable. 'Phone 2063J. 3d-110-1816J

PAINTING, PAPERING, AND GRAINing. George Hawke, 1549. 2d-108-1758J

m Lost

G.M.A.C. RECEIPT BOOK. PLEASE return 390 Mark Stret. 3d-108-1762M

DROP EARRING, ONYX, SET WITH Brilliants. Finder leave at Examiner. 3d-109-1768M

GREY BELT OFF LADY'S POLO Coat, between Downie and Park, on McDonnel. Finder please 'Phone 2983. 3d-110-5199M

WILL THE PERSON WHO TOOK the Bicycle from 266 George Street return same and save further trouble? 2d-109-5205M

GATE OFF TRUCK RACK, ON NORwood Road. Finder please Phone 773W. 3d-110-1793M

o Live Stock

WORK MARE, $45. ONE BRONZE Gobbler. Also 250-Egg Incubator. A. B. Mann, Peterborough. 1d-108-1815O

q Wanted

WANTED — LIVE POULTRY. PAY good price. 'Phone M. Florence, 3573J. 26d-112-999Q

ALL KINDS OF RAGS, RUBBERS, Copper, Brass, Iron, etc. Highest cash prices. D. Florence, 342 Stewart Street. 'Phone 694W. 30d-126-4967Q

ROOM AND BOARD, CENTRAL, BY Young Man. Write Box 1822, Examiner. 2d-109-1822Q

WANTED— BY RELIABLE TENANTS, Modern House, in good locality. 'Phone 3587. 3d-110-5202Q

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR Rags, Paper, Copper, Brass, Aluminum, and all kinds of Junk. 'Phone 2505J. 5d-112-5200Q

THREE BRIGHT, UNFURNISHED Rooms, central, heated; gas fixtures. rent reasonable. 'Phone 956J. 2d-109-1833Q

WANTED — THREE UNFURNISHED Rooms, reasonable, by reliable party, South preferred. Write Box 1832, Examiner. 2d-109-1832Q

ONE OR TWO UNFURNISHED Rooms, central. Write Box 1820, Examiner. 3d-110-1820Q

WANTED — LIGHT CAR, ROADSTER or Coupe preferred; must be in good condition. Write Box 1802, Examiner. 3d-110-1802Q

REFRIGERATOR AND MEDIUM-sized Cook Stove. 'Phone 2063W. 3d-108-1726Q

WANTED — TO BUY, SET OF LAdies' Golf Clubs, Left, also Right-hand Set, and Set of Right-hand Gent.'s. Write Box 1736, Examiner. 3d-108-1738Q

WANTED — OLD GOLD. HIGHEST price paid. Phillips' Dental Laboratory, 408½ George (opposite Lech's). 6d-112-5181Q

SMALL HOUSE, ADULT FAMILY OF Three. Central or South preferred. Lrite Box 1807, Examiner. 2d-108-1807Q

WANTED—2 OR 3 ROOMED APARTment or Flat, reasonable; Business Couple. Write Box 3432, Examiner 2d-108-3432Q

SACRED CANTATA GIVEN BY CHOIR

Daughter of Jairus Composed by Sir John Stainer Sung in All Saints'.

ONE OF MAJOR MIRACLES.

"Daughter of Jairus," the sacred cantata composed by Sir John Stainer on the theme of one of the major miracles during the three years of public ministry by the Saviour, had a beautiful presentation last night in All Saints' Church, when the choir, under leadership and direction of George Chandler, excelled itself in the production of this work, which is imbued with deep religious feeling and is filled with lovely melody.

It is a short cantata, taking only an hour for its presentation, and the listeners never become weary of the music. It is unusual in the fact that the main recitiative is taken by a soprano voice, and in this phase of the production, Mrs. Stanley Willis was exceptionally good. Her clear, sweet soprano rang out with expressive phrasing in the story of the raising of Jairus' daughter from the dead, and every word was clearly discernible in the sacred narrative.

T. H. Boddy had the bass part, with a very fine solo in the episode in which he persists in petition to the Master, against the protests of his friends, who declaim on the certainty and unchanging character of death.

The major tenor solo of the work, "My Hope is in the Everlasting," was taken in splendid voice by Mr. Chandler, with a very fine organ accompaniment to this prominent portion.

The wailing of the women, effectively rendered, is ushered in by a brief organ introduction that confines itself solely to notes in the right hand, resembling a piano selection played entirely in the treble.

The high point of the soprano recitative is the exquisite, surprised passage, "Maid, I See Thee Arise," after the miracle has been performed, and Mrs. Willis rendered this with fine, expressive charm.

Following directly comes the major chorus, "Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead," in which the entire choir unites in a full burst of vivid melodic triumph that culminates in the expressive repeated phrase, "And Christ shall give thee light."

The men also have a very beautiful portion, "The Chorus of Unbelievers," in which they protest, "In the death of a man there is no remedy," rendering it with an unusual brisk tempo that dramatizes it very effectively.

The chorales are imbued throughout with depth and richness of tone and the whole work is of a dignified, sonorous type that does not verge at all on the sorrowful, but delineates the sacred story with power and force.

A duett for soprano and tenor, "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," was a very fine rendition by Miss Ena Young and Frank Roberts, while the triumphant finale is a splendidly-sung trio, "To Him Who Left His Throne on High," sung with forceful sweetness by Mrs. James Howard, Douglas Weir and Jack Gibson.

The organ accompaniment for this beautiful cantata was played by Mrs. W. A. Logan.

SEEK GOV'T. GUARANTEES

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont.—Separate school authorities today were in Toronto seeking Ontario government guarantees for about $50,000 worthof debentures for a new school here. Thirty-five pupils were turned away this year and there is an urgent demand for a structure to give more space.

EXCHANGE.

EXCHANGE 1926 FORD COACH FOR Electric Washing Machine, or Sell for $36.00. Write Box 1828, Examiner. 3d-110-1828

TENDERS

To wind up the Estates, TENDERS will be accepted by the undersigned for the Residence of the late ELIZABETH MILBURN and ESTHER MILBURN, in the Township of Smith, situate on the West Side of the Chemong Road, immediately opposite Milburn's School, about 3 miles from Peterbrough. Property consists of Brick Veneered Dwelling, small barn with cement stable, hog pen and hen house. Immediate possession.

The lowest or any Tender not neceesarily accepted.

Apply to PECK, KERR & McELDERRY, 415 Water Street, Peterborough, Solicitors for R. N. Scott and Ernest A. Scott, Executors and Administrators of the Estates of the said Elizabeth Milburn and Esther Milburn. 3d-7,9,12-5193

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

All Persons having any CLAIMS against CHARLOTTE M. BIRDSALL, late of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Widow, who died on or about the 11th Day of November, 1933, are hereby required to send their names and addresses and full particulars of their Claims duly verified by Affidavit to the undersigned Solicitors for W. G. Birdsall and E. A. Peck, Executors of the Will of the said Deceased, on or before the Sixteenth Day of May, 1934, after which last mentioned date the said Executors will proceed to distribute the Assets of the Estate among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the Claims of which they shall then have had notice.

DATED at Peterborough this 16th Day of April, 1934.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY,
415 Water Street, Peterborough Ont.,
Solicitors for the said Executors.
4d-16,23,30,7-4847

DR. McCRIMMON GUEST PREACHER AT PARK STREET

Professor in McMaster University Preaches Thirty-ninth Anniversary.

SOVEREIGNTY OF GOD.

Man Must Not View Religion as Simply Matter of Own Welfare.

"Science and philosophy can never take the place of religion," declared Professor A. L. McCrimmon of McMaster University, addressing the congregation of Park Street Baptist Church on the occasion of the church's thirty-ninth anniversary yesterday. "I believe in science and philosophy or I should not have a place on a university faculty. But I know that science and philosophy can not take the place of the personal worship of God. They can not foster that progress of the soul which worship of God brings."

Developing the theme, "The Ministry of the Holy Spirit," in addresses at both morning and evening services, Dr. McCrimmon, at one time Chancellor of McMaster University, contributed to the programs of worship arranged to mark the anniversary occasion. While the pastor, Rev. G. K. Tyler, presided, in addition to Dr. McCrimmon, Rev. Ralph Wright of the Gilmour Memorial Church and Rev. Edgar Russell of Millbrook, assisted during the day. Special arrangements of choral and organ music included solos by Miss Jessie Pattison of St. Paul's Church.

The enthusiastic congregations which joined in observing the passing of another milestone in the church's history included a number of former members who have moved to other localities and visitors from other congregations of this district.

Sovereignty of God

In his first address, Dr. McCrimmon spoke of the sovereignty of God on the one hand and the free agency of man on the other. God allows and recognizes the free agency of man, but the great initiative belongs to God, he said. During his evening sermon, he continued on the theme, taking his text from Psalm 127, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

"It matters not what house is being built, he said. The house may be man's soul or one of he worldly objectives in man's interests. Man may do the building, but God does the work. It is the free agency of man under the sovereignty of God which makes this possible, he asserted.

God, eternal and infinite in His majesty and grace, is beyond description, he continued. Because God allows man free agency, man often forgets God's sovereignty. Without God, man walks the world and loses his way. The great work of the true Christian is to bring those who have wandered astray back to the bosom of God, he said.

"It is a great thing to be occupied in work for the maintainance of mankind on the earth. What would civilization be if it were not built on the foundation of that great beating heart of God? I am speaking to men and women and boys and girls to make the best of the life you have. You can not do it without God."

Ingrowing Religion

Dr. McCrimmon warned his hearers against what he termed "ingrowing religion." Religion must not be strictly personal. Man must not view religion as simply a matter of his own welfare, but as something embracing all mankind. "Religion calls for the greatest powers you have, the deepest investment you can make and the best in you. If you want your soul to develop, you must go yourself with God and carry out His work among others."

Speaking of "Christian patriotism," he said: "We are Christians by virtue of the death of Jesus Christ. We have a great debt to repay. What are we doing for the church? we must ask ourselves. What have we done during the past year and what are we going to do during the coming year? Patriotism for our country is fine, but what about this greater patriotism? You ask what you can do to demonstrate your religious patriotism. Nobody would dare set a limit on what you can do. There is no holding the man who is in line with the teachings of Jesus."

"If you want to have a part in the great tasks of existence, you must find your soul in Jesus Christ," he concluded. "You can not shun the Lord and expect success."

During the service, Miss Pattison sang "Abide With Me," and "Nearer My God to Thee." A male quartet, consisting of George Tranter, George Batley, Clarence Corbett and Maurice Dunkley, Jr., offered a negro spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

p Poultry

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNtry, we are getting reports of extraordinary growth and livability of Bray Chicks — Halton County, 5-week-old Chicks, 10 ounces; Welland County, 9-week Pullets, 2¼ lbs.; Huron County, 12½-week Pullets, 3 lbs.; York County, 14-week Pullets, 3½ lbs. Losses averaged only 3½ per cent. Be guided by the results. Buy Bray Chicks. Eight breeds. Prices reasonable. Write for information. Bray Chick Hatchery, 45 Clayburn Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont. 3d-7,9,12-5177P

s Used Cars for Sale

FOR SALE — TWO-WHEEL TRAILer. Apply 390 Mark Street. 3d-108-1761S

PONTIAC COUPE, GOOD CONDItoin, rumble seat, for Sale, reasonable. Telephone 1826J. 3d-109-1790S

t General Notice

RIDING SCHOOL NOW OPEN. AT Exhibition Grounds. S. Bishop. 3d-108-1750T

LANDSCAPE GARDENER — NOW doing Landscape Work in Peterborough, Wants Gardn to take care of for the Summer. E. Jessen, P. O. Box 796, Peterborough (Agent for Brookdale Nurseries, Bowmanville). 4d-108-1661T

CAR FOR ALBERTA — ROOM FOR Two, Fare and Expenses. Write Box 1780, Examiner. 3d-109-1780T

PLOUGHING. ED. LYNCH, 2233J. 6d-112-1773T

HAVE YOUR CHESTERFIELD OR Rugs Cleaned by the new Electrolux Vacuum Cleaner: 3 Pieces 75c, Rugs 25c, Demothing $1.00 'Phone 3207J Evenings. 33-109-1767T

FLOORS WAXED AND POLISHED — 30c a Room; also Floors Laid, Filled and Resurfaced, reasonable. Wallpaper Expertly Cleaned. Painting and Interior Work. 'Phone 1672W. 1d-108-1836T

CARPENTER, CABINETMAKER. — Hardwood Floors Laid, Finished. House Repairs, Cabinetwork, Store Fittings, Jobbing. G. Hutchinson, 'Phone 1750F. 6d-113-1839T

HOUSE PAINTING — FIRST-CLASS Material and Good Workmanship never go bad. 'Phone 2581 for Free Estimates. H. Keller, General Decorator. 3d-110-1837T

Week-end Deaths

(By Canadian Press)

Ottawa. — Mrs. E. N. Rhodes, 53, wife of the Canadian Minister of Finance, ond daughter of the late Hon. W. T. Pipes, one-time Premier of Nova Scotia.

Northport, N.Y. — W. Arthur Cunningham, Comptroller of the City of New York.

Quebec. — Lt.-Col. O. E. Talbot, 79, former Liberal member of the House of Commons for Bellechasse, and director of the Canadian National Railways from 1920 to 1930.

Toronto. — Wilson M. (Bill) Tackaberry, Toronto sports writer and assistant secretary of the Ontario Hockey Association.

London — Sir Louis Bernhard Baron, 47, first baronet of the name, chairman and managing director of Carrera's Limited, tobacco and cigarette manufacturers.

Cleveland. — John T. Sencabaugh, 95, Canadian oil man and early associate of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.

Detroit. — Fred T. Morton, 61, auditor in charge of Canadian National Railways subsidiaries in the United States.

North Bay. — James T. McDougall, 69, Crown timber agent for Nipissing district.

Winnipeg. — Herbert Stainton, 57, noted authority on town planning, chairman of the Town Planning Commission of St. James, Winnipeg suburb.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
(Effective Sunday, April 29)
Going East—
4.55 p.m.—Indian River, Norwood Havelock Daily except Sunday
2.40 p.m.—From Toronto Daily except Sunday
11.00 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec Boston, and New York Daily except Sunday
11.10 a.m.—Sunday only to Havelock
1.30 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Ottawa Smith's Falls Montreal, St. John, Boston, and New York daily.
Going West—
4.50 a.m.—Toronto, Guelph, Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock St. Thomas, London, Chatham Detroit, Chicago, and New York daily.
7.20 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit, and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
9.35 a.m.—To Lindsay and Bobcaygeon.
3.50 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit Chicago, and intermediate points between Peterborough and Toronto Makes connections with the Trans-Canada Limited for Winnipeg and Vancouver. Daily except Sunday.
5.45 p.m.—Sunday only for Toronto and points West.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS TIME-TABLE.
(Corrected to April 29th)
8.35 a.m.—For Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
12.01 Noon—For Port Hope, Oshawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Philadelphia, and New York. Connects at Port Hope with the Maple Leaf Ltd. for London, Windsor, Detroit, Port Huron, Flint, and Chicago. Makes connection East-bound for Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal.
1.45 p.m.—For Lakefield.
5.12 p.m.—For Lindsay, Toronto, and connects at Toronto with International Ltd. for London, Port Huron, and Chicago, also with the Continental Ltd for Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Vancouver; with the North Bay, Timmins, Rouyn and Cochrane train, and with the 11.45 p.m. train for Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
8.20 p.m.—For Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cornwall, Montreal and the Maritime Provinces.
Daily—
1.30 a.m.—Pool Train from the C.P.R. Depot for Ottawa, and makes connection at Ottawa for Montreal.
2.30 p.m.—Sundays Only, for Lindsay, Toronto, and makes connections for Western Canada, Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
All Trains operate on Eastern Standard Time, and Daily except Sunday from Canadian National Railway Depot, Charlotte and Bethune Streets, unless otherwise shown.

ST. JAMES' SUNDAY SCHOOL OBSERVES 26TH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. H. R. Palmer of Port Hope Addresses Large Congregations at Services.

CHURCH DECORATED.

It is twenty-six years since the inception of St. James' United Church Sunday School, and the anniversary was marked yesterday with special services. As guest speaker, Rev. H. R. Palmer, D.D., of Port Hope, addressed all services at which there were large congregations.

"Know thou the God of thy father, and serve Him," formed the basis for the morning sermon, in which Dr. Palmer addressed the parents, children and their teachers.

To the parents, he put this query, "Do you want your children to be taught about your God?" Continuing, he cited many gods which parents serve, such as business, a profession, the getting of money or sport. The knowing of God must come before the serving, and the speaker emphasized the worth of service by boys and girls, who should pattern their childhood after that of Jesus. He honored His earthly parentage and home and He wants young people to use their youth and beauty for Him in service.

There was never a time in the world's history when parents were more anxious for their children's education, but the educated head without the educated heart is a menace to the earth. "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." and here the Sunday school plays its part.

Parents should know and pray for their children's teachers and their influence should instinctively lead the child to Sunday school. The command should be "Come," and not "Go."

It is the duty of the teacher, said Dr. Palmer, to teach the child to know his heavenly Father, for children are not candidates for but in the kingdom. The teacher's motto should be "My class for Christ now." His highest service is with the individual and he should give of his best and leave the rest with God.

It was a worth-while sight to see the hundreds of children and older girls and boys as they filled the church auditorium at the afternoon session.

The altar banked with flowers, the Sunday School orchestra, the choir composed of the Men's Brotherhood and the junior choir, were features which added much to the attractive program.

Presiding was A. E. Prest, the superintendent, who has held this office continuously and very acceptably throughout the twenty-six years.

The 121st Psalm, recited in unison by the girls of Miss Zetta Wood's class, was given as the Scripture lesson. This was followed by a solo number, "Dare to be a Daniel," by Joey McMahon, from the primary department. Choruses were rendered by the junior choir, who sang "Sunshine and Rain," and by the Men's Brotherhood, who gave as their selection, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Evening Service.

In a bright and interesting talk, Rev. Dr. Palmer addressed the assembled classes with "The Call" as his theme. In its three-fold application, "Who, what and where," the subject was developed in such a way that even the youngest child could understand. The "who" meant the call of God, and this was beautifully illustrated by the legend of the Qu'Appelle River; "what" is the calling of the children to God's service, and "where," right in the place where you are, and right now.

In his closing message Dr. Palmer spoke directly to the young people from the story of the rich young ruler and Jesus.

This young man's vital question was, "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" and in reply, Jesus made an appeal to his highest and best—an appeal to come and give all. So, the cross must come first. The church to-day, said Dr. Palmer, often makes religion too easy for young people, instead of offering the cross—a medicine for minds, sick because of pride, selfishness, or a fever of luxuries. The cross is not a burden but a help to lift you up and to carry you home to God.

Christ also offers a career — a chance for the investment of your treasures and talents of life. Earthly things are only precious as we put them into the building of heavenly estates.

Lastly, Christ offers character. Day by day in thought and deed, we are wearing the robe of character which we will eternally wear and which will become whiter than snow, when washed in the precious blood of Jesus.

Dr. Palmer concluded his message with an appeal to the young people to take up the cross, without which they will never know the richness of living nor of true success.

Frank Stevens, the organist, presented a specially fine musical program for this anniversary occasion, as follows:

Morning—Senior choir, anthem, "The Lord is Gracious" (Hey); junior choir, "Will I empty-handed be" (Hillis).

Evening — Anthem, "Holy Thou Art" (Handel), with solo parts by Mrs. C. Searles and Sid Turner.

Junior choir, "Hallelujah for the Blood" (Morris); "The Heavenly Vision," solo by Margaret Smart (Lemmel).

"The Voice of one crying in the wilderness," Mrs. H. F. Doig.

On behalf of the Sunday School, Mr. Prest expressed their appreciation for the splendid work by choirs and orchestra, and for the beautiful floral decorations carried out by the King's Own class.

Dr. Palmer will be at St. James' again to-night, when he will give his popular lecture, "A night in Ireland's loyal north," in Wesley Hall.

Makes You Forget You Have FALSE TEETH

No longer does any wearer of false teeth need to be uncomfortable. Fasteeth, a new, greatly improved powder, sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds them firm and comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Deodorizes. Get Fasteeth, 35c or 60c size, to-day at any good drug store.
FASTEETH— MADE IN CANADA

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS. HALL & EARLE'S — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephone: Office No. 66, R. R. Hall, K.C., residence No 603. T. J. Earley, LL.B., residence No. 3036.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND, K.C., M.P.P. — Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public. Peterborough. 'Phone 191. Money to Loan. 375 Water Street.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. Office: 415 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1950. R. A. Peck, M.P., P. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

GORDON & ELLIOTT — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, Patents and Trade Marks Money to Loan. Telephone 3500 — Hon G. N. Gordon, K.C., Alexander L. Elliott, Toronto Telephone Number Main 6581 Office: 410 Saturday Night Building.

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE STREET - PHONE 40

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN CO.
ESTABLISHED 1885
3% ON DEPOSITS
Interest paid or added half yearly, 30 June and 31 December, in each year. Every facility is afforded to Depositors both in depositing and withdrawing their money.
For sums of $100 and upwards this company's debentures afford a safe and profitable investment.
Further information in regard to which will be gladly furnished upon request.
SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT
W. G. MORROW, Managing Director.
Office Hours: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Open Saturday's until 5 p.m.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK - - By R. J. Scott

FIVE FORMER PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES WERE LIVING IN 1861 THE LARGEST NUMBER IN THE HISTORY OF THE COUNTRY

WOMEN'S GUILD AT MILLBROOK HOLDS MEETING

Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Church Arranges for June 6 Tea.

OTHER ASSOCIATIONS

Women's Institute Public Meeting Planned for Wednesday, May 9.

MILLBROOK, May 7.—A meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Thomas Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. R. Fowler, the president; Miss Anna Kells taking the chair.

The business was chiefly concerned with a discussion of the fancy articles to be made for the sale table which the Guild has been given permission to have at the tea served by the Junior W.A. on June 6, under the supervision of the superintendent, Miss Margaret Simpson.

The presiding officer announced that the next gathering, on the first Tuesday in June, will be the final one until fall, and the secertary, Miss Muriel Smith, reported that it is hoped to have on hand the objective of one hundred dollars after the sale on June 6. This amount which the Guild set itself to raise in the first six months of the current year, has been added to through the birthday calendars, in which ten cents is put for each member's birthday, each Saint's day, etc., through talent money receipts, and other sources; when meetings and work begin again in the fall, another one hundred dollars will be the objective in view.

Mrs. Fowler served afternoon tea at the close of the business session; Miss E. J. Grandy pouring tea, and Mrs. C. C. Ashby of Peterborough, assisting the hostess in waiting upon the guests.

St. Andrew's Women's Association

Mrs. J. L. Byam extended the hospitality of her home, Bank street, on Wednesday afternoon for the May meeting of the Women's Association; the president, Mrs. F. J. Smith, taking charge.

Mrs. Weston Fallis read the lesson, and following prayer, business items received attention; Mrs. W. Westall handed in one dollar of talent money from tea served at her home in April, and the invitation of Mrs. W. A. O'Brien to hold the annual strawberry festival at her home sometime in June was gratefully accepted.

The invitation from Mrs. L. S. Clarry to meet at her home for the regular June gathering was also accepted with thanks; this invitation having preceded that extended by Mrs. T. H. Douglas. The president was appointed convenor of the program committee for the festival, and Mrs. Ross Edmunds and Mrs. G. E. Burnham were selected to purchase the berries.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. McKnight, reported $5.88 from the Seth Parker concert at Cavan, and $15.25 from the "travelling shirt" fund on which those giving donations sewed a patch enclosing the amount given. Altogether in April $23.88 was realized, with no expense involved. Mrs. H. Bigelow gave a reading, "Winter, Good-Bye," and the remainder of the program was omitted as several of the members and officers were leaving early for Mount Pleasant, where the Seth Parker Club was to present its entertainment in the evening.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. Bigelow, and by Mrs. Arthur Martin, of Toronto, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byam, served a dainty tea, the "thank you" box, tastefully hand-painted by Mrs. Maud Hetherington, receiving the donations from the guests—the amount taken in made up the talent money jointly promised by Mrs. Bigelow and Mrs. Byam for the month of May.

Women's Institute

The Standing Committe on Agriculture of the local branch of the Women's Institue, Mrs. R. J. McKnight, convenor, is holding a public meeting again this season, on Wednesday, May 9, in the Town Hall, when the community orchestra will be present and lead in singing. Other features of the program will include a paper on "Farm Beautification," and choruses by the Young Men's Bible Calss of St. Andrew's Church; also humorous readings, and an address by Dr. Reynolds, former principal of the O.A.C., Guelph, on "Agriculture in the Economic Life of Canada."

E. A. Summer, Agricultural Representative for Durham, will be present and for one hour will show slides on "Noonday Lunch in the Rural School," and on "Insect Pests in the Home Garden," with a comic film featuring Charlie Chaplin between the two sections. The outside branches of the Women's Institute are being heartily invited, and the meeting is open to the general public.

Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. Group

The final meeting for this season of the Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group was held on Wednesday evening with fifteen members in attendance, and the president, Mary Burnham in the chair. A letter from Mrs. R. Dawson, expressing gratitude for the kindness of the group toward her daughter, Jean, during her long and serious illness, was read, and further activity along this line of helpfulness was planned. The good news that Jean is steadily improving in health was a matter of thankfulness with the entire group.

A "Sunshine Committee" to visit and report on any members ill, through the summer months when regular meetings will not be held was appointed, including the president, Beatrice Jones, Bryan Edmunds, and Bernice Smith. A report from Miss Jessie McPherson, secretary for C.G.I.T. work in Ontario, regarding receipts from C.G.I.T. week, was read, and on motion the girls promised to contribute ten cents each to be remitted to the Toronto office. The report showed that so far only two places in Durham had been heard from—Newcastle and Bowmanville; two in Peterborough County — Springville and Keene, and nothing at all was listed as contributed from the groups in Peterborough City. The amount asked for that the National Girls' Work Board might carry on through 1934 was $3,600, and less than half that amount has been received; hence the report, "the National Girls' Work Board will be in desperate straits unless the amount received is augmented at as early a date as possible."

The "Glen Wotty Calendar" for May was passed round, each girl reading the selection for one day, and a poem, "A Beautiful Recipe," was read by Beatrice Jones. The group prayer for the current year was repeated in unison, and the talk centered round the words, "Our Fight, His Victory," with selected readings from "Black Rock" (Ralph Connor), to illustrate the theme of the devotional period.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed at the close, with games and a "disc contest."

Millbrook Personals

Mrs. C. Ashby, and two children, are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Russell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Platt, and daughter, Mary, of Belleville, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Martin, and two children, Betty and John, motored from Toronto for the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Byam. Mr. Martin returned on Sunday evening, but his wife and family are remaining for a longer stay.

Preaches Next Sunday

Rev. A. Siscoe of Cardinal is to preach in St. Andrew's Church on Sunday, May 6, morning and evening, and at Fallis Line in the afternoon, exchanging pulpits with the pastor, who will be at Cardinal for the day. The congregational meeting will be on Thursday, May 10, at 8 p.m., with a view to exending a call to Rev. Mr. Siscoe for this charge, making an exchange of pastors for the ensuing ministerial term.

Local merchants began this week the annual Thursday afternoon closing, the stores keeping open on Wednesday evenings for the next few months.

The next dance in the Armouries will be on Thursday, May 10, under the auspices for the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, with Mose Yokom's orchestra supplying the music.

The financial statement issued by the Cosmos Rink Company shows total receipts of $152.71, as against expenditures of $208.19; leaving a deficit of $55.48. D. Sheppard is president, C. B. Sutton secretary, and B. B. Dawson treasurer. The company is sponsoring a street dance this summer to augment its funds.

"Splitting" Headaches

Until she learned why she was always miserable—and found out about BIB Tablets (Nature's Remedy). Now she gets along fine with everybody. This safe, dependable, all-vegetable laxative brought quick relief and quiet nerves because it cleared her system of poisonous wastes—made bowel action easy and regular. Thousands take BIB daily. It's such a sure, pleasant corrective. Mild, non-habit-forming. No bad after-effects. At your druggist's—25c.

NR TONIGHT

"TUMS" Quick relief for acid indigestion, heartburn. Only 10c.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

The local Liberal organization has secured a store in the Wallace Block as their committee room for the coming election. It is located next door to the shoe repair business of Richard Cooke, on Bridge street.

After spending the past few months with their daughter and son in Rochester, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron have returned to their home here.

Mr. Hector MacArthur was a business visitor to Belleville on Thursday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Henry Bakes is visiting her brother, Mr. Arthur Grier and Mrs. Grier, in Toronto. Mrs. Grier is recovering from a recent operation.

Mr. George Davidson attended the Liberal - Conservative convention, held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Thursday.

Mrs. D. A. Bennett returned home on Monday from North Augusta, where she was the guest of relatives.

Mrs. William Milton of Toronto is visiting relatives in Seymour Township.

Two of the very popular amateur plays recently produced in Campbellford, both of which were presented by organiations belonging to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, are scheduled to appear in other centres this week. "Safety First," the church choir production, will be presented in Lindsay on Thursday, where the Presbyterian Church at that point is sponsoring it; and "Here Comes Charlie," the Y.P.S. comedy, will be shown in Havelock on Wednesday evening.

Another prominent local businessman has started the season right by re-decorating his store fronts. This is George O'Sullivan, grocer, on Bridge street. The color scheme is leather brown and cream, the work being done by James Wilson.

The dance staged on Friday evening in the Regent Theatre by the A.Y.P.A. of Christ Church proved a very popular affair, with a very good attendance registered. Two orchestras featured this affair, Edge Dolman and his Aristocrats of Campbellford, and Jack Grant and his Aces. Dainty refreshments were served the dancers.

Mrs. E. R. Pegnam of Rochester, N.Y., was the recent guest of her brother, Mr. George O'Sullivan, and Mrs. O'Sullivan. She was accompanied by Mrs. Joseph O'Sullivan of the same city. The Very Rev. Dean O'Sullivan of Peterborough also spent the day with Mr. and Mrs O'Sullivan and their guests.

GOVERNOR GENERAL IN KINGSTON

KINGSTON— His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, Governor General of Canada arrived at the Royal Military College this morning and inspected the battalion of cadets in front of the Administration building. His Excellency congratulated the cadets on their splendid showing.

MONDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION:

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony 10—Variety 11—Instru Trio. 12—Speaker 13—Organ 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

(DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

5.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Gordon Dave and Bunny.
4—WEAF—Margaret West
6.00 P.M.
4—CRCT—Jugtan Serenader
4—WJZ—Irene Beasley
3—CFRB—Dick Steele, Boy Reporter.
12—WABC—Buck Rogers
6.15 P.M.
7—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim
3—CFRB—Fred Hotson
8—WJZ—Army Band
6.30 P.M.
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports
7—WEAF—Grandmother's Trunk.
6.45 P.M.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas
10—WABC—Dixie Circus.
10—CFRB—Crazy Water Crystals
11—WEAF—Gould and Shefter.
7.00 P.M.
6—CRCT—Amos n' Andy.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume
7.15 P.M.
6—CFRB—Just Plain Bill
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen
4—WJZ—Baby Rose Marie.
7.30 P.M.
1—WJZ—George Gershwin's Orch
10—CFRB—Canadian Goodrich Program and Luigi Romanelli.
4-6-WEAF—Shirley Howard and the Jesters
3-10-CRCT—Canadian Press News and Musicale
7.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Boake Carter
4—WJZ—Mario Cozzi.
6—WBEN—The Goldbergs
8.00 P.M.
10—CFRB—Mary Eastman and Evan Evans (CBS).
1—CRCT—Charles Dornberger's Orch
10—WEAF—Socony-land Sketch
8.15 P.M.
8—WABC—Edwin C. Hill
15—CFRB—Repertory Theatre of Air.
8.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Voice of Firestone.
15—CFRB—Musical Highway
4—WABC—Bing Crosby and Hayton's Orch
10—WJZ—Grace Hayes.
8.45 P.M.
15—CKCL—Flying Fingers
12—WJZ—Babe Ruth Baseball Comment
9.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Hawaii-bound.
1-4-WEAF—Horlick's Gypsies
10—WABC—Rosa Ponselle and Andre Kostelanetz Orch
—WJZ—Greater Minstrels.
9.15 P.M.
11—WGR—Piano Twins.
1—CFRB—Feagle Mowry and Orch.
9.30 P.M.
2—WABC—The Big Show.
11—CRCT—Conservatory String Quartette.
10—WEAF—Captain Dobbs "Ship of Joy"
11—WJZ—Melody Moments
10.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Duart McLean's Orch
1—WABC—Wayne King's Orch
4—CRCT—Gene Arnold and Male Quartette
9—WJZ—Symphony Orch
10.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Melody Lane (CRC).
10—CFRB—Pompeian Program
10.45 P.M.
4—WJZ—Siberian Singers.
1—WGR—Aubee's Mountaineers.
11.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Call of the North (CRC).
1—WJZ—Emil Coleman's Orch
3-4-WEAF—Press and Mary Courtland.
4—WABC—"Fats" Waller
11.15 P.M.
1—WEAF—Dan Russo's Orch.
4—WJZ—Poet Prince
11.30 P.M.
1—CRCT—Billy Bissett's Orch and News
1—CFRB—Charlie Davis' Orch. (CBS)
1—WEAF—Clyde Lucas' Orch
1—WABC—Charlie Davis' Orch.
12 MIDNIGHT.
1—WJZ—Reggie Childs' Orch.
1—WEAF—Jack Berger's Orch.

TUESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.30 P.M.
3—CRCT—Market Reports
11—WEAF—Lee's Ensemble.
2.00 P.M.
15—CFRB—The Home Beautiful Hour
10—WEAF—Merry Madcaps.
15—CRCT—Merry Madcaps (NBC).
3.30 P.M.
15—CFRB—Artists' Recital.
10—CRCT—"Smackout."
12—WEAF—Central Europe Press Reporter (NBC).
3.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—NBC Program.
15—WEAF—Blue Room Echoes.
10—CFRB—Metropolitan Parade
3.30 P.M.
10—WEAF—Woman's Radio Revue.
11—CFRB—Gypsy Music Makers.
11—CRCT—Music Magic (NBC).
4.00 P.M.
8—CFRB—U.S. Army Band (CBS).
7—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
4.45 P.M.
4—CRCT—Denver & Capella Choir NBC
11—CFRB—Four Showmen.
15—WEAF—The Lady Next Door
5.00 P.M.
11—WEAF—The Music Box.
15—CFRB—The Dictators (CBS).
5.15 P.M.
14—WABC—Skippy.
4—WJZ—Jackie Heller.
5.30 P.M.
14—CRCT—The Tattered Man.
4—WJZ—Singing Lady
5.45 P.M.
4—WABC—Gordon, Dave and Sunny.
14—WEAF—Nursery Rhymes.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
6.00 P.M.
4—WEAF—Madame Frances Alda.
3—CFRB—Dick Steele
12—WABC—Buck Rogers
4—CRCT—Indian Serenader
6.15 P.M.
10—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.
6.30 P.M.
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports
4—WEAF—Mid-week Hymn Sing
11—WABC—Mischa Raginsky's Ensemble.
12—WJZ—Stamp Club
11—CFRB—Jim Hunter.
6.45 P.M.
4-1-WEAF—Mary Small and Orch.
3—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
7.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume
4—WABC—Morton Downey.
7.15 P.M.
3—CRCT—Market Reporter.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen.
10—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.
13—WJZ—You and Your Government.
7.30 P.M.
4-1-WABC—Paul Keast and Hudson's Or.
1—CFRB—Ferde Mowry's Orch.
3-10-CRCT—News and Bright and Breezy (CRC).
6—WEAF—Eddie East and Ralph Dumke.
7.45 P.M.
10—WJZ—The Sizzlers.
3—WABC—Boake Carter.
15—WBEN—The Goldbergs
8.00 P.M.
1—CKNC—Rex Battle's Orch.
1—WABC—Little Jack Little's Orch
12—CRCT—N.C.E. Program.
4-1-WEAF—Phil Duey and Leo Reisman's Orch.
7—WJZ—Crime Clues
4—CFRB—Glen Devon Singers.
8.30 P.M.
10—WJZ—Conrad Thibault, Lois Bennett, and Salter's Orch
4—CRCT—Beautiful Lady (CRC).
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.
—CFRB—Hollywood Show (CBS).
9.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Fredie Martin's Orch.
10—WJZ—Edgar A. Guest, poet
15—CRCT—Violons et Violoncelles (CRC).
1—WEAF—Bernie's Orch
9.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Radio Theatre Guild (CRC).
9—WABC—Minneapolis Symphony Orch.
2—WEAF—Ed Wynn the Fire Chief, and Don. Voorhee's Orch
1—WJZ—Eddie Duchin's Orch.
10—CFRB—Wrigley Hour.
10.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Palmolive Beauty Theatre (NBC)
7—WJZ—Ray Perkins in Variety Show.
10—WABC—Glen Gray's Orch and Connie Boswell
4—CKNC—Concordia Choir (CRC).
10.30 P.M.
9—CRCM—Melodic Strings.
1—WJZ—Frank Black's Orch
4—WABC—Tom Lewis' Chorus.
8—CFRB—Roxy Reporter
11.00 P.M.
8—CFRB—News
15—CRCT—Nautical Nonsense.
1—WJZ—Emil Coleman's Orch.
10—WEAF—Fur Trappers.
10—WABC—Harlem Serenade.
11.15 P.M.
3-4-WJZ—Poet Prince
4—WEAF—John Fogarty
11.30 P.M.
3-1-WJZ—News and Phil Harris' Orch.
3-1-CRCT—Press and Bissett's Orch. (CRC).
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
10—WEAF—National Radio Forum.
12 MIDNIGHT.
1—CFRB—Harry Sosnik's Orch.
3—CRCT—Weather.
1—WEAF—Rudy Vallee's Orch.

Wave Lengths

Station	Metres	Kilocycles
CKNC Toronto	291	1030
CFCF Montreal	291	600
CRCO Ottawa	..	880
CFRB Toronto	434	690
CKAC Montreal	411	730
CRCT Toronto	312	960
CKCL Toronto	517	580
CKLW Windsor	555.6	540
CHNC Toronto	357	840
CRCO Ottawa	..	1010
KDKA Pittsburg	306	980
KMOX St Louis	275	1090
WABC New York	349	860
WTIC Hartford	282.8	1060
WGR Buffalo	545	550
WBBM Chicago	389	770
WBEN Buffalo	333	900
WEAF New York	454	660
WGY Schenectady	379	790
WKBW Buffalo	202	1480
WJZ New York	394	760
WJR Detroit	400	750
WLW Cincinnati	428	700
WMAQ Chicago	447	670
WTAM Cleveland	280	1070

REPEATERS TO PAY TUITION

SUDBURY.—High School board has decided students attending high school who have been attending any high school more than six years must pay for their tuition. In its motion the board said it was possible for a student to complete the course in five years and the limit set would permit one year's "grace."

C.D.S. TUESDAY STORE NEWS

Store Hours: 9 a.m. until 5.30 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. until 9.30 p.m. PHONE 3000

Cotton Classic Shirt Frocks 3.95

Tailored perfection for business, street, kitchen, beach, tennis courts or golf. Dashing stripes and plaids. Matching belt and buttons. Several styles. Sizes 14 to 44. Each 3.95

Seersucker and Novelty Cotton Pique

—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Extra! White Cotton Mesh Gloves Pair 49c

Besides being popular for Summer they're smart and cool. In pull-on style, 4-button length, in a lacey weave, with fancy white and colored flare cuffs. Sizes 6 to 8. Special, pair 49c

Smart Cotton Neckwear Each 49c

An opportune time to avail yourself of some smart Cotton Pique and Organdy Neckwear. Dainty ruffles and pleats. White and pastel shades. High and V necklines. Each 49c

Children's Cotton Hose

Three-quarter length, with turn-down cuffs. Some marl mixtures, others in allover patterns. Fawn, grey, brown and blue. Sizes 7 to 10. Pair 19c

Women's Cotton Hose

Fashioned-to-fit Cotton Hose with reinforced heel and toe. Colors: clearsan, fawn brown, gunmetal and black. Sizes 8½ to 10. Pair 15c

—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Cool Cotton Wash Goods

Heavy Novelty Cottons

These are popular for new Summer coats, in plain pastel shades. A strong corded weave, yet cool for Summer wear. 36 inches wide. Yard 69c

Colored Sport Pique

Definitely a hit in the fabric world this Summer. Smart for jackets, sport dresses, etc. A host of gay colors to choose from. 36 inches wide. Yard 35c

White Cotton Broadcloth

A fine English quality Broadcloth at a saving price! Ideal for boys' shirts and girls' slips. 36 inches wide. Special, yard 12c

—Main Floor, C.D.S.

Screen Doors, Window Screens

Sturdy Screen Doors

Grained Only 2.19 — Grained, Filled and Varnished 2.95

Made of carefully selected, well seasoned dry pine, with good quality 14-mesh galvanized wire screening. Every strand of wire is securely fastened. Sizes:

Width	Height
2' 6"	6' 6"
2' 8"	6' 8"
2' 10"	6' 10"
3'	7'

Perfection Window Screens Each 37c to 65c

Made of beech wood, sturdily constructed with mortised frames, 14-mesh galvanized wire cloth. Made adjustable with easy running, non-binding steel slides.

High	Closed	Open	Price
10"	20"	32½"	37c
14"	22"	36½"	45c
14"	26"	44½"	52c
18"	22"	36½"	55c
18"	26"	44½"	65c
22"	22"	36½"	65c

—Basement, C.D.S.

SPECIALS FOR TUES. AND WED.

Sun Glo Fresh Creamery Butter.. 2 lbs. 45c

Seedless Oranges, doz. .. 29c

C.D.S. GROCETERIA "Where It Pays to Shop"

Fresh Pork Shoulders, lb. 13c
Fresh Pork Butts, lb. 17c
Rolled Veal Roast, lb. 14c
ROUND STEAK ..... 2 lbs. 35c
Lean Stewing Beef, lb. 10c
Minced BEEF .... 3 lbs. 25c

50c MEAT ORDERS DELIVERED FREE

Aylmer Choice Quality Tomatoes. 14 oz. tin 5c

Choice LEMONS, doz. . 19c

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

ROTARY INTER-CITY LADIES' NIGHT HELD IN COBOURG HALL

Seven Clubs Participate in Second Annual Club Feature —Governor Grant Bird Present.

OVER 300 ATTEND

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, May 7.—With over three hundred in attendance, the second annual Rotary Inter-City Ladies' Night was held in St. Peter's Parish Hall, Cobourg, on Thursday evening and with seven organizations participating the function proved successful beyond anticipation. Opening with a banquet featured by the good will and jolity that always goes with a club luncheon, and over which Dr. Frank P. Lloyd, president of the Cobourg Rotary club presided, and for which Sandy Burrows of Belleville was song leader, and Leo Riggs pianist, a delightful one hour entertainment was staged in the concert hall, the concluding feature of the evening being a splendid dance at which Snell's Orchestra of Oshawa supplied the music.

The banquet was served in the large gymnasium, which was beautifully decorated with flags and streamers chief among which were the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes. Short addresses were given by the presidents of the seven clubs attending: Bowmanville, Tom Ross; Port Hope, W. (Bill) Bissett; Trenton, Charlie Foster; Belleville, Ed. Bernstein; Campbellford, Harold Carr, vice president, speaking for President Clarence Williams; Whitby, Dr. George Stevenson; Oshawa, Cec. Cannon. The two latter clubs were there as guests.

A splendid talk, in which he complimented the work of the committee responsible for the gathering, was given by Dr. Grant Bird of Oshawa, governor of the 27th District, Rotary International, in which he also brought greetings from Oshawa and the district executive. And a much appreciated guest who briefly addressed the gathering was John Stone of Toronto, one of the founders of the Cobourg Rotary club and an honorary member of it.

Following the banquet a splendid program was given in the concert hall, over which Bob Graham, past president of the Belleville Rotary Club, presided. The first part of this feature was a one act play entitled 'The Deceivers,' presented by the Cobourg Dramatic Club, and which was greatly appreciated and heartily applauded. The cast consisted of: Flora Little, Calla Morden; Amos Little, Frank Pickford; Phil, the Mink, Vincent Butler.

Two delightful tenor solos were given by Harold Buell of Bowmanville; Sergeant Major Weatherby of Trenton being greatly applauded for his humorous singing numbers; and in fine style, Elie Brunelle of Campbellford led the community in the singing of 'Alouette." One item that received a very appreciative welcome and responded to an encore was an unaccompanied octette from the Bowmanville club.

The dance, which was the concluding feature of the evening, was held in the gymnasium and voted by all a great success. Novelty dances were plentifully besprinkled among the numbers, for which many handsome prizes were given.

The inter-city committee which capably handled all arrangements consisted of Chairman, Ken Hodgirt; secretary, N. Alex MacColl; treasurer, Harold Staples. About thirty-eight Rotarians and friends from Campbellford attended the function.

THE MARKETS

AT ENNISMORE

ENNISMORE, May 7.—Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Beef, sirloin, 18c; round, 15c; roast, 10 to 18c; stew, 10c; veal, 20c; pork, 17c; lamb, 25c; breakfast bacon, 20c; butter, creamery, 21c; dairy, 20c; eggs, fresh, 15c; chickens, 18c to 20c; stewing fowl, 15c; potatoes, $1.50 a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, selects, 5½c a pound; common butchers, 4c; hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.60 cwt; select graded, $7.75 cwt; dressed, head on, $12.50 cwt; head off, $13 cwt.

Oats, 50c a bushel; wheat, 75c a bushel; barley, 60c a bushel; hay, $10 a ton; buckwheat, 50c a bushel.

AT DOWNEYVILLE

DOWNEYVILL, May 7.—Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Butter, creamery, 25c; dairy, 23c; eggs, fresh, 11 to 15c; chickens, 20c; potatoes, $1.50 a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, selects, 4 to 5c a pound; common butchers, 2½ to 3c. Hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.60 cwt; select graded, $8.60 cwt; dressed, head on $11 cwt; head off, $12 cwt.

Oats, 60c a bushel; wheat, 90c a bushel; barley, 70c a bushel; hay, $10 a ton; baled hay, $12 a ton; buckwheat, 50c a bushel; little pigs, $4 a pair; little chicks, 6 to 8c each; honey, 10c a lb.; muskrats, $1.50 each.

AT MILLBROOK

MILLBROOK, May 7.—Following are the week-end retail market prices:

Butter, creamery, 27c; dairy, 20c; eggs, fresh, 12 to 15c; chickens, 15 to 17c; potatoes, $1.50 a bag.

Livestock and grain prices are: Cattle, selects, 5c a pound; common butchers, 4¼c; hogs, live, thick smooth, $7.75 cwt; select graded, $8.25 cwt; dressed, head on, $11 cwt; head off, $12 cwt.

Prices quoted are: otas, 85c a bushel; wheat, $1.50 a bushel; barley, 70c a bushel; hay, $10 a ton; rye, 90c; buckwheat, 70c.

Fresh strawberries, 20c a small box; asparagus, 10c a small bunch; head lettuce, 13c; celery, 15c; grape fruit, 4 for 25c; cooking onions, 7 lbs for 25c; bananas, 10c lb; leaf lettuce and green onions, 5c a bunch; sheep, $4.50 a cwt; lambs $8 and $9 apiece.

AT MAROMRA

MARMORA, May 7. — Following are the week-end retail market price:

Butter, creamery, 30c; dairy, 29c; eggs, fresh, 15c; chickens, 20c; potatoes, $1.50 a bag.

Oats, 55c a bushel; wheat, 95c a bushel; barley, 75c a bushel; hay, $12 a ton.

LAING'S CANADIAN CREAM SAUCE

RECOMMENDED BY FRANCES THOMPSON

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter and cheese prices declined on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market last week, with egg and potato quotations slightly higher.

Fresh No. 1 butter in carlots or less finished the week at 19c to 19¼c &a pound, down 2½c from the previous week's closing prices. To retailers, solids were 21c a pound and prints 22c. Receipts for the week totalled 9,037 boxes, against 8,901 the previous week.

Initial cheese exports went forseason from Montreal went forward last week, a total of 3,238 boxes being shipped to the United Kingdom and 51 boxes to the West Indies. In 1933 exports started two weeks earlier and on the corresponding date 5,013 boxes had been exported. Ontario cheese lost ¾c to 1c at 9½c to 10c a pound. Arrivals dropedp from 1,196 the previous week to 669 boxes.

Eggs were up a fraction of a cent, graded shipments in carlots or less being quoted at 19c to 19½c for A large, 18c to 18½c for A medium, 17c to 17½c for B and 15½c a dozen for C. Western eggs were ¼c above the maximum of the general prices. A total of 23,538 cases arrived, in comparison with 19,381 the previous week.

Potatoes were quoted at 95c to $1 for Quebec per 80-pound bag, $1 to $1.05 for New Brunswick Mountains per 80-pound bag, and $1.25 to $1.30 for Prince Edward Island Mountains per 90-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Dust storms in Canada and forecasts of no big drought relief next week in the United States rushed wheat up 3½c a bushel Saturday.

The advance in wheat was from an earlier setback of more than a cent, because chiefly of a transient let-up in buying, and as a result of downturns of securities. Adding impetus to rapid late soaring of wheat was attention given to evidence the agricultural authorities at Washington recognized that possibility of complete crop failure over large areas existed both in the spring wheat belt Northwest and in winter wheat Southwest.

Wheat closed firm at virtually the day's top level, 1½c to 2c above Friday's finish, corn ½c to ¾c up, oats 1¼c to 1½c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 7. — Erasing an early loss of one-half cent, the wheat prices rallied on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange on Saturday in line with buoyancy at Chicago. As the finish gains amounted to ⅛@ to ¾c.

Export business, so far as is affected actual wheat was not large, sales totalling only about 250,000 bushels, but there was good purchasing of futures, which had the appearance of foreign interest.

May wheat closed at 66¼c, July at 67⅞c, and October at 68⅞c, all at the day's top. Good buying of July futures, in evidence for some time, led to the belief among the grain trade, that European crop conditions are even less favorable than reports indicate, and importers are protecting themselves by this accumulation.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
May	.66	.66¼	.65⅛	.66¼	.66
July	.66⅝	.67⅛	.66⅛	.67⅛	.66⅝
Oct.	.68⅛	.68⅝	.67⅞	.68⅛	.68⅛
Oats—
May	.32⅝	.32¾	.32⅛	.32⅝	.32⅜
July	.33⅝	.33⅞	.33¼	.33⅝	.34
Oct.	.34⅛	.34⅞	.33⅝	.34⅛	.34⅛

OTTAWA CARILLONNEUR'S SYMPHONY, PULITZER WINNER

PROBABILITIES.
Moderate to variable winds; fair and becoming somewhat warmer. Wednesday—Moderate south-east to south-west winds; partly cloudy and moderately warm.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXII., No. 108 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934 — PRICE THREE CENTS

INSULL FAILS TO RAISE $200,000 BAIL

MUSIC TORONTO REFUSED WINS PULITZER PRIZE

Honors Go to Percival Price, Dominion Carillonneur at Peace Tower.

WRITTEN IN VIENNA.

Was Rejected at U. of T. When Submitted for Composer's Doctor's Degree.

(By Louis Huot, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

NEW YORK, May 8 (CP)—Percival Price, the Dominion carillonneur who plays the bells of the slim Gothic Peace Tower in Ottawa, today had won a travelling Pulitzer Scholarship worth $1,500, with a composition the University of Toronto rejected when he submitted it for his Doctors degree.

Trustees of Columbia University selected the Toronto-born, Toronto University Bachelor of Music as "the student of music in America who may be deemed the most talented and deserving' after comparing his symphony, "The St. Lawrence," with many other entries from prominent composers of this continent.

"He wrote it for his Doctor's degree, but it was refused," Mrs. Frank Demille Price, mother of the carillonneur declared at Toronto last night. "He was at home at the time, I remember, and very disappointed. 'I think I'll send it down to New York,' he said, 'though it may not do anything for me.' I remember there was considerable annoyance registered in some quarters."

Taught By Mother

A music teacher before her marriage, Mrs. Price taught her son to play the piano.

"But the bells always had a special lure for him," she recalled. "Long before he touched a carillon he played 'bells' on the piano."

A symphony for full orchestra, the prize-winning composition was begun in January, 1932, in Vienna, where Mr. Price was studying. He finished it in the spring of the same year.

Shaped in the classical style with four movements, the symphony states the four moods of the historic St. Lawrence river. They are dedicated to 'The Islands,'— that section just below Lake Ontario, where the river moves placidly through idyllic surroundings, 'the rapids,'—swift flowing, dangerous waters just above Montreal, 'the flat lands.'—where the river is broad and tranquil amid pastoral surroundings below Montreal, and 'the mountains,'—tidewater from Quebec to the sea, where the river passes beneath towering bluffs.

The composition is the first full-length symphonic work of the carillonneur.

Although an experienced composer his previous works have all been either songs or compositions for strings quartette or chorus.

HOPES PUBLIC OPINION TO FORCE HYDRO CHANGES

MONTREAL, May 8. (CP)—Hope the province of Quebec would be forced by public opinion to put Hydro-Electric power resources in the hands of municipalities who who would market electricity at lower rates was expressed here by Hon. T. D. Bouchard, speaker of the legislative assembly and mayor of Ste. Hyachinthe, Que.

Trusts which for past years had been controlling electric rates had failed completely in their duty to the public, Mr. Bouchard said. The time had come when the public through force of opinion would compel such monopolies to fulfill their engagements or else return to the people the natural resources which they had obtained "under false representations" he said.

Canadian Star for Broadway

Miss Joan Miller, 24-year-old star who won the Lady Bessborough trophy for the best individual performance in the Dominion drama festival at Ottawa, is on her way to New York for a tryout before Broadway producers. Born in Nelson, B.C., Miss Miller always had a desire to go on the stage but she has had a long struggle to win her opportunity. She has been active in the Vancouver Little Theatre for several years, playing a number of various roles with distinction. In Maxwell Anderson's 'Queen Elizabeth' she took the title role and won high praise from the official adjudictor of the Dominion finals at Ottawa.

U. S. PROPOSING TO CUT FINNISH WAR DEBT RATE

Reduce Interest 3.5 p.c. to .03 —Only for Paid-to-date Nations.

EXAMPLE TO OTHERS.

Johnson Claims Token Payments Not Acceptable on June 15 Instalment.

WASHINGTON, May 8 (AP) A new Finish debt agreement, slashing its present high interest rate almost to the zero point, awaited President Roosevelt's approval to-day.

The draft, is satisfactory to the President, would give the only paid-up-to-date debtor of United States an interest rate of .03 per cent, as compared to the present 3.5 per cent.

Although Finland's remaining debt is a comparative trifle—$8,726,645—this definite and official suggestion assumed considerable importance when dropped into the muddled situation involving debts running to a total of more than $12,000,000,000.

President Roosevelt intends to dispatch to Congress shortly a message on war debts at least part of which wil ldeal with the Finnish obligations. Responsible officials said to-day the more favorable terms to be offered Finland could not be considered any standard formula for solution of the entire tangle.

An Example

There were no denials, however, that the agreement would be held up as an example to other powers.

If finally approved, Finland's interest rate would drop from the highest to the lowest. Great Britain also shares a 3.5 per cent rate. The scale runs down to a present 1.0 rate by France and an .04 figure for Italy.

The war debt situation flared into high relief yesterday with an assertion by Senator Hiram Johnson (R., Cal.), author of the act banning financial transactions with defaults, that further token payments would not be accepted on the next judgment day—June 15.

Johnson, angered at Attorney-General Homer Cummings' ruling that token payees were not defaulters and thus were outside the scope of the Johnson bill, hit particularly at Great Britain in his Senate speech. He asserted it was absurd to accept a smaller than agreed upon payment from a nation that boasted a surplus in its treasury.

Horses Are Killed By Sudden Change

TORONTO, May 8 (CP)—Stricken by the sudden change from severe cold to blazing heat, many horses in the Toronto district have been killed by sunstroke within the last week and others were overcome and are being treated by veterinaries.

Seven horses died near Bolton, six north of Georgetown, and others at scattered points throughout the area. It is claimed the late Spring left them in no condition to stand heavy work in blazing sunshine.

BANK SALARIES UP TO $13,500

Figures Ranging From $300 for Junior Clerk Tabled in House.

OTHER DETAILS BARED.

OTTAWA, May 8 (CP)—Salaries of bank employees in Canada ranged from a minimum of $300 per annum for junior clerks up to a maximum of $13,500 for managers, according to a statement tabled before the banking committee of the House of Commons to-day by Jackson Dodds, President of the Canadian Bankers' Association. The statement was filed in response to a request from Dr. Raymond Morand, Conservative member for East Essex.

Salaries for junior clerks ranged from $300 to $1,000; ledgerkeepers, $400 to $2,580; tellers, $500 to $2,620; accountants, $700 to $4,000; managers, $1,200 to $13,500; stenographers, $300 to $2,000, according to the statement.

The methods of four different banks in respect to pension fund, living allowances, insurance schemes, etc., were outlined in the statement. The names of the banks were not given, but they were designated by the four first letters of the alphabet.

Living allowances ranging from $50 to $400 per annum were made by one of the institutions. All four banks discouraged marriage on small salaries. And in some cases officers on salaries below $1,500 were not permitted to marry without the consent of the bank. The travelling expenses of employees when transferred by the banks were paid.

In each case pension funds were established to be drawn upon when superannuation became necessary.

LOWER INTEREST SAVING DEPOSITS AID GOVERNMENT

Marked Progress is Made in Banking Committee on Bank Act.

OVERDRAWN ACCOUNTS.

Confidence of Community Retained When Banks Permitted to Merge Quickly.

OTTAWA, May 8. (CP).—Swift progress marked to-day's sitting of the House of Commons banking committee, with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett substituting for Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Finance Minister, the committee passed a number of clauses of the Bank Act which have been standing since the measure came up for consideration.

At times objections were offered, and a number of amendments were substituted to sub-sections as the committee moved along, but there was no sustained opposition to clauses of the bill.

Merging of Bank

A suggestion from G. G. Coote, United Farmer member for MacLeod, Alberta, that banks be required to obtain authorization from parliament before merging, was debated briefly but the bill was not amended to compel this. Opponents of the suggestion stated that sometimes the time element was all-important in order to save a shaky institution from collapse. If banks were permitted to merge quickly, the confidence of the community might be retained unshaken and serious consequences averted.

A large number of sections of the Act were approved.

Discussion centred for some time about charges made by banks for various services which they performed. G. G. Coote, (U.F.A., MacLeod), stated that banks sometimes made a charge of 50 cents when an account was overdrawn. He failed to see any authority in the Act for such a charge.

Insufficient Funds

A charge of 50 cents was made by the banks in some cities when persons issued a cheque for which there was insufficient funds, said Jackson Dodds, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association. The charge was made in an effort "to discourage a very bad practice." He also stated that there was no set schedule for bank charges in connection with the operation of customers' accounts. The banks tried to make their branches pay consistent with reasonable rates for services rendered.

Mr. Coote agreed that a fair rate should be paid the banks for carrying small current accounts. On the other hand ,unfair charges should not be permitted.

J. A. Fraser (Cons., Cariboo), raised the question of interest charged by the banks to the ordinary business man. The banks were making the claim, he said, that interest rates had been reduced from eight to seven percent. That was not his experience.

He was informed that the Royal Bank at least had reduced its rate from eight to seven percent on Jan. 1, last.

Dealing with the section under which banks are permitted to pay interest on deposits, Mr. Coote raised the question if bank interest on savings deposits was not too large. He was aware that it had been decreased by one half percent, but he thought it should be lower. If banks paid lower interest, they would be in a position to charge governments and municipalities less for money borrowed.

Forest Fires Raging In Frontenac County

KINGSTON, Ont., May 8.—(C.P.)—Forest fires, which have been raging in the far northern part of the county, have become increasingly serious.

At Northbrook, about 60 miles north of Kingston, road gangs have been called out, the village being threatened by the advance of fires. One house in the village caught fire but the blaze was extinguished. No further fires have been reported in the village, though bush fires are burning very close to there.

FRENCH DOCTOR HONORED.

PARIS, May 8.—(A.P.)—Prof. F. De La Personne of Paris, chairman of the International Association for the Prevention of Blindness, was awarded to-day the Leslie Dana prize for his life work in combating diseases of the eye.

16-Pound Trout

MEAFORD, Ont., May 8.—A party from Goderich, Ont., opened the Meaford fishing season this year by hooking a salmon trout weighing 15½ pounds. J. H. Bendry of Meaford was the guide, and the big trout gave plenty of fight before it was successfully landed. This is the earliest the fishing season has opened here for some years and this trout will be entered in the local Board of Trade fishing competition held annually for the silver trophy. Four other fish were caught besides this one.

POLICE REFUSED TO KITCHENER

Chief Says Provincial Aid Declined in Strike Situation.

HUMPHRIES EXPLAINS.

KITCHENER, Ont., May 8.— (C.P.)—Requests to the Ontario Attorney-General's Department for provincial police to augment the local constables in quelling strike disorders were refused, Chief of Police W. Hodgson said to-day.

"We were told that the provincial police were not available," the Chief said. He added that word had come "from Toronto" to headquarters here that the provincial police force was not available to aid in the strike disturbane.

City Affair.

TORONTO, May 8.—(C.P.)—Requests for intervention of Ontario provincial police in the recent strike riots in Kitchener had been made to the Attorney General's Department here and had been turned down, Ira A. Humphries, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General said to-day.

"The situation is this," he explained. "The city has its own police force and police commission, Chief of Police in Kitchener had which may swear in extra constables in matters of this kind." The requested the intervention of provincial police and the police commission had been in communica-

(Turn to Page 5. Please)

TEARS IN EYES EX-FINANCIER IS LED TO JAIL

Too Much Spent Chasing Him to Take Chance on Less Bond Says "D.A."

ALL PLEADING USELESS.

Prisoner Suffers Heart Attack on Way to Court—"Resigned to Prison."

CHICAGO, May 8.—(AP)—Samuel Insull, a tragic figure, was placed under $200,000 bond by a federal judge today and, unable to furnish it, was led away to jail.

Eyes brimming with tears, steps lagging, he trudged silently between his guards to be locked up, a prisoner in the city where he had risen to greatness among the financial and utilities potentates of the United States.

U. S. District Attorney Dwight H. Green in demanding $200,000 bond said the government had spent a vast sum chasing this elderly gentleman around the hemisphere and wanted assurance he would be on hand for trial.

"This means he will be compelled to go to jail," protested Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, defender of Insull.

"If the government thinks we are bluffing, the government will find it is mistaken. We cannot raise this amount."

"When John Factor was held for removal to England recently the government only placed him under $50,000 bond."

The Bail Stands

Judge Barnes listened briefly to the arguments of Green and the defender, and then declined to lessen the bail.

Insull, to whom thousands were paltry, sagged in his chair. Thomp-

(Continued on Page 5)

SLAUGHTER OF 13,000 WOMEN IN CHINA RELATED BY EXPLORER

Recently Claimed Discovery of Queen of Sheba's Capital.

GOT BRITISH GUNS.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

PARIS, April 26—"I am sure that I have stumbled upon the lost capital of the Queen of Sheba. When the sands are shovelled away there will unfold itself before the worlds eyes a scene of incomparable splendor, something that will make the riches of Tutankamen's tomb look piffling." So said Andre Malraux, eminent French writer, winner of last year's Prix Concourt, the highest literary award given in France, who had the extraordinary luck of spotting Sheba's capital from an airplane, while flying above the most mysterious and inaccessible part of the Arabian desert.

The greatest explorers of all countries have searched in vain for that legendary city whence Sheba came in the long ago bearing treasures and gifts to King Solomon in Jerusalem. Only five years ago the famous British agent at Djedda, Mr. St. John Philby, made the redoubtable journey through the forbidding secret desert to the Djebel Achbar mountains on the Persian gulf . Only the fact that Mr. Philby embraced the Mohammedan religion and, like his predecessor, Colonel T. E. Lawrence, has a fluent command of the Arabic dialects spoken by the "throat-slitting" Benai Wahabi, enabled him to come through safely. He passed within five miles of the site now indicated by Andre Malraux as that of the dusky queen's gorgeous court. Doughty, the greatest of all Arabic explorers of all time, suspected the presence of buried cities in the secret desert, but he could not get near the place. Last year Alfred Jung, the Near Eastern correspondent of a Danish newspaper, was murdered by the fierce tribesmen — he had his throat slit in the traditional manner—as he tried to make his way to the interior. Dr. Wolfgang von Weisl, Jerusalem correspondent of Vienna Neue Presse and Ernst

(Turn to Page Six)

Athabascan Floods "Tree" Residents

FORT CHIPEWYAN Alta., May 8—(CP)—Men, women and children in the trapping area around Lake Athabaska today were reported to be living in tents pitched on platforms built into the trees 10 to 15 feet above the ground as flood waters emptied into the Lake from the Athabaska and Peace Rivers. No estimate could be made of the number of persons in the tents.

The high water has interfered greatly wth the muskrat catch. At Hay River, 10 miles west of Fort Chipewyan, residents fear that ice from Lake Mamaway and Lake Claire may come down and sweep away traders' stores and cabins. No loss of life has been reported but Horace McKay, a trapper was rescued as he neared exhaustion while clinging to his overturned canoe in a creek.

KINGSTON TEACHERS ASK RESTORATION OF PAY CUT

KINGSTON, Ont., May 8 (C.P.).—Teachers of Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute have asked the Municipal Board of Education to restore them to former salary schedules. Teachers have been working under a 10 per cent. cut for the past two years, and ask that old schedule be restored in September. The request will be dealt with by the Board on Thursday night.

Your Evening Smile

PRACTICING

"There is talk that the next war will be fought with radio."

"Well, I' in training. I've faced some terrible programs."

Dillinger?

CHICAGO, May 8 (AP)—A report that John Dillinger and members of his outlaw band were being chased by detectives on a South Side street was broadcast over the police wireless system this afternoon.

The unconfirmed report indicated that police had sighted two carloads of Dillinger gangsters motoring in from Whiting, Ind., and had given chase.

Squads throughout the South Side were dispatched in search for them.

CLAIM EMPIRES OF TIMBER GIVEN TO TORY FRIENDS

Contracts Handed Out by Henry Without Tender Says Hepburn.

PROMISES CLEAN-UP.

Conservatinve Choice in W. Kent Announces He Will Run as Independent.

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.).—The fast moving Ontario general election campaign found a rift to-day in Conservative ranks in West Kent and a new charge against the Government from Liberal sources. After West Kent Conservatives made their choice last night Mayor Isaac L. Davis of Chatham announced himself to the convention as ready to fight the election as a straight Independent.

At the meeting in Rodney where Douglas M. Campbell, present Liberal member, was selected to represent the combined Liberal-Progressive forces in East Kent, Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, accused the Ontario Government of giving "empires of timber" to government friends without tender. He described this as "some of the doings of honest George S. Henry."

Promises Disclosure.

He charged the Government was spending more money on the forests than they were receiving. His party, Mr. Hepburn declared, was not tied up with the timber interests and if the Liberals attained power they "will open the books and disclose the many things Mr. Henry refused to show us."

"When we get in power," he said, "we will clean up this mess and you are going to be amazed with those of the highest ups involved."

He renewed his attacks on the operations of the Liquor Control Board, claiming British distillers were forced to sell through agents in Ontario who made large profits from the commissions and placed large sums in party funds.

"I have documents to prove that Cabinet Ministers are implicated," Mr. Hepburn said.

West Kent Conservatives selected Burton L. Bedford, former Chatham Mayor as their candidate following which Mr. Davis announced

(Continued on Page Eight.)

The Weather

TORONTO, May 8 (CP).—Synopsis: The depression which was over Nova Scotia yesterday has passed eastward to the Atlantic and another of very moderate intensity covers the western provinces and north-west states, while pressure is high over the Great Lakes, St. Lawrence Valley and Eastern States. The weather has been mostly fair and moderately warm in the West, with a few very light scattered showers. Light showers have occurred in the Maritime Provinces, while fair and cool weather has prevailed in Ontario and the West.

Georgian Bay: Moderate variable winds; fair and becoming somewhat warmer. Wednesday—Moderate south-east to south-west winds; partly cloudy and moderately warm.

Northern Ontario: Fair and becoming somewhat warmer. Wednesday—Partly cloudy and moderately warm.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley: Moderate north-west winds; fine and a little warmer. Wednesday—Moderate south-east to south-west winds; fair and moderately warm.

Of the 1,206 boys who left secondary schools of Kent, England, last year only 91 were seeking employment three months later.

HOUSING SCHEME IS URGED UPON CITY COUNCILS

Frank Lundy Declares Many Houses Are Unfit for Habitation.

REQUIRES SPECIAL ACT.

T. J. McMurray Would Have Governments Pay Whole Cost of Relief.

Maintaining that many families on relief were living in houses "unfit for human habitation," Frank Lundy, unemployed, urged the City Council last night to seek an Act from the Governments so that the city may build houses for those on relief or else buy up a number of old houses and remodel them into apartments for families on relief. He declared that the Council "should agitate for such action" and secure the necessary financial assistance for such a scheme from the Governments.

Mayor Denne replied that such a suggestion was impossible since the city would have to have a special Act passed. The Council gave no consideration to Mr. Lundy's proposal.

Nor did the proposal of T. J. McMurray that the Council should request the Federal and Provincial Governments to assume the full burden of relief costs and thus ease the taxes of house owners, create much enthusiasm among Council members. Alderman Tuggey did urge that some such request by the Council to the Governments was in order and he too stressed the hardship relief payments meant to small taxpayers.

Mr. McMurray, during his address, declared that the taxpayers have a real grievance in the present situation and should not be forced to pay direct taxes for relief. "Have relief taken over to where it belongs," he stated. "Some will say that it would not make any

(Turn to Page 7. Please)

87 MINERS DIE IN SEALED SHAFT

Rescue Impossible as Victims Are Overcome By Gas, Fire.

VILLAGE IN MOURNING.

(By Elmer W. Peterson, A.P. Foreign Staff)

BUGGINGEN, Baden, Germany, May 8 (AP)—A flaming shaft of the Buggingen Potash Mines formed a temporary crypt to-day for 87 trapped miners, throwing this village into sorrow and suspense.

With the shaft hermetically sealed because of fire and gas hazards, the blocked entrance must be regarded as a tombstone for two weeks while the blaze burns itself out. Search for the bodies can not begin until it is safe to open the shaft.

To the sealed entrance children and widows of the victims took tear-stained floral offerings and prayers.

That the workers met swift death from rapidly-spreading carbon dioxide fumes after the mine timbers collapsed yesterday, short-circuiting the electric system, is regarded as a fact.

Flames and dense smoke trapped the men on the 2,600-foot level.

The only miner to break through died while being hoisted to the surface. He was the foreman of a crew working on the level. Burns and the effects of gas suffered as he was being hoisted caused death.

Six rescue workers were taken to a hospital in a serious condition after having been overcome.

The first warning of the disaster came when a 25-foot flame licked into the shaft from the level where the men were working.

This great flame, which ignited the mine timbering, was followed by suffocating clouds of smoke.

With rescue work abandoned, thoughts turned to the families of the entombed men. A government rescue commission was expected to reach the village to-day.

FALL BREAKS ANKLE.

MORT ARTHUR, May 8 (C.P.).—A broken left ankle and back bruises were suffered by Russell Neil, 23, of Collingwood, Ont. sailor on the North-West Transportation Company's steamer Superior, when he fell 14 feet into the boat's hold.

BRITAIN STARTS WAR TO LIMIT NIPPON EXPORTS

Will Ask Legislatures of Colonies to Institute Quota Restrictions.

DOMINIONS MAY FOLLOW.

Laborite Daily Herald Warns Gov't is Playing With Fire.

LONDON, Eng., May 8. (C. P. Cable).—The government of the United Kingdom to-morrow will launch steps to curtail Japanese exports of textiles to British colonies and protectorates by asking legislatures of those territories to institute quota restrictions.

Notice that Britain would take steps to meet Japanese competition in cotton and rayon goods was given yesterday in the House of Commons by Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade. Mr. Runciman explained restrictive legislation would be made effective as from yesterday. He indicated also that other limitations might be placed on Japanese exports to the British Isles and hinted strongly that the Dominions might be asked to take similar steps.

London's morning newspapers were almost unanimous in approving the government's step, although the Laborite Daily Herald warned the administration was "playing with fire" and that "Japan will intensify competition in neutral markets and the benefit to British industry will prove illusory."

Japan a Good Customer.

The Daily Telegraph, Conservative in politics, commented: "Japan is a good customer of the British Empire, and we are anxious to preserve that relation, but not at the price of handing over to Japan the markets we created."

The Morning Post, also Conservative, said: "Quotas will effectively curtail Japanese expansion, but no final solution can be sought in the Colonial Empire alone."

The Times, Independent in politics, voiced no opinion but recalled Japan accepted voluntarily restriction of her exports to India entailing a much greater loss than will be caused by the new quotas which will be based on the average trade figures for the period between 1927 and 1931.

The Financial Times said the British determination to lose no time is "manifestly justified in the

(Continued on Page Eight.)

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934.

Canada Packers quote:

Bacon hogs — F.O.B., $7.50; off truck, $7.60.

Selects $1 per hog premium.

Sows 3c off bacon prices.

Dressed Hogs— Head on, $12.00; headless, $12.50.

Cream—No. 1 (on truck) 20c.

No. 1, delivered, 21c.

Special, 2c per lb premium.

Insull Collapses At Marshal's Office

CHICAGO, May 8 (AP)—Samuel Insull, 74-year-old prisoner of his government, collapsed to-day as he reached the office of the United States Marshal who was to take him into custody.

A heart attack prostrated Insull and he was placed on a cot for medical treatment.

Considerate

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 8.—(CP)—Seats were scarce at the spring football game between Ben Franklin High School and Erie academy—but a whole section went unoccupied.

A sign on the empty section told the story:

Mother Robin had built her nest there; she preferred seclusion; there were bright blue eggs in the nest. So the fans stood.

ARGENTINE HAS "BIG 3" WHEAT NATIONS UNEASY

Trio Willing to "Loan" Her 20,000,000 Bushels of Their Alloted Quotas.

ASK EXPORT REFORM.

Strictly Opposed to Meeting Demand for 40,000,000 Bushel Increase.

By ALBERT W. WILSON

(Copyright, 1934, by the A. P.)

LONDON, May 8—Canadian, the United States and Australia are willing to 'loan' 20,000,000 bushels of their alloted wheat export quotas this year to Argentina, the Associated Press learned today provided a drastic reform is made in Argentina's export sales policies.

Argentina would pay back its 'loan' by sacrificing the big increase she has been privately promised in next year's quotas.

These conditions were set forth at a parley held secretly this afternoon by representatives of the "big four" wheat exporting nations — Canada, the United States, Australia and Argentina.

The only announced meeting in connection with the world wheat conference today was a session of the committee of which Andrew Cairns, of Canada, is chairman. This body is encharged with drawing up a list of the price minimums of all world wheat for consideration at the full conference which resumes tomorrow.

Oppose Her Demand

Regarding the private negotiations of the big four it was learned that Canada, the United States and Australia are firmly opposed to meeting Argentina's demand for a 40,000,000 bushel increase under any conditions.

They would like Argentina to accept a minimum price scheme as a condition for granting her increase, but, recognizing that the reputation of the wheat pact is at stake, they would be satisfied if Argentina gives assurance that she would pursue a more restrained policy hereafter on the world wheat market.

The extreme Low current prices and the heavy movement of Argentine wheat has alarmed other big exporters, particularly Australia.

The emergency nature of the situation is recognized on all sides since it appears certain that Argentina will reach the limit of her 110,000,000 bushel quota within the next few weeks.

How the three other exporters will arrange the "loan" to carry Argentina through until July 31, has not been decided.

Work Preferred

MILWAUKEE, May 8. (CP). C. O. Davis, superintendent of street sanitation, hasn't taken a vacation in 22 years.

The common council ordered him to take three months' leave with pay and see the world.

But Davis insisted that all he wanted to see was the ash hauling and street cleaning.

MUST LIGHTEN CANADA'S DEBT SAYS LIBERAL

Dr. Hurtubise Fears Present Policy Will Lead to Default.

C. N. AUDITORS' REPORT.

Farm-Labor Amendment to Motion to Go Into Committee on Budget is Lost.

OTTAWA, May 8.—(CP)—Legislation of a drastic character to bring Canada's capital indebtedness down to a lower figure and relieve the farmers of a portion of their debts should receive the serious consideration of the government in the opinion of Dr. J. R. Hurtubise (Lib. Nipissing). Joining in the budget debate yesterday Dr. Hurtubise said he could take nothing but a pessimistic view of the future as long as public debt continued to increase.

He had nothing but sympathy, he said, for the Minister of Finance, and realized the difficulty of attempting to balance the budget in times like the present. The only way to do it was to cut expenditures and increase taxation and both steps presented difficulties. But unless action were taken Canada faced the unpleasant prospect of unavoidable default.

Another Liberal touched on the debt problem when Thomas Reid of New Westminister expressed the opinion the debts could not be paid. He urged a conversion loan to reduce the interest rate and, for the Western Provinces, a refunding of the debt of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba with a dominion-guaranteed issue. To guard against loss federal subsidies might be withheld during the life of the guarantees.

C.N.R. Auditor's Report

Yesterday the house also received the report of the auditors of the Canadian National Railways which recommended steps to revamp the capital structure of the system. The present system of accounting, it stated gave the public an impression which magnified the financial difficulties although they were great enough in reality.

The debate on the budget continued throughout yesterday's sitting and other speakers were: D'Arcy Plunkett (Cons. Victoria), Joseph Bradette (Lib. Temiskaming North), Earl Lawson (Cons. West York), Oscar Boulanger (Lib. Bellechasse), George Nicholson (Cons. Algoma East), W. T. Lucas (U. F. A. Camrose) and F. W. Perras (Lib. Wright).

Amendment Defeated

Before the debate got under way Liberals and Conservatives united in a vote to support the speaker's ruling declaring a farmer-labor amendment to the motion to go into committee on the budget out of order. The amendment dealt with national control of credit and the point on which objection was taken was that the substance of it was already before the banking committee of the house.

Today the House meets an hour later than usual, at four p.m. in order to enable members to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. N. Rhodes, wife of the Minister of Finance, who died Sunday. Labor

(Continued on Page Eight.)

PERSIA, CHINA FRIENDS AGAIN

SHANGHAI, May 8.—(A.P.)—After a break of 1,300 years, diplomatic relations between China and Persia were restored to-day.

As a result, Persia will establish consulates in Shanghai and Nanking.

Shanghai, China, is to have an apartment building with 24 stories and a tower of 10 additional stories.

Wants Ring Back

Declaring himself to be still in love with his former fiancee, Eileen Gillespie, inset, petite New York society girl, John Jacob Astor III, scion of the wealthy Astor family and son of Mrs. Madeleine Force Astor Dick Fiermonte, is pictured in New York city upon his return from a world tour which was to have been their honeymoon. Asserting he was willing to patch up the damaged romance, young Astor told newspapermen he intended to retrieve the 32-carat diamond engagement ring, valued at between $100,000 and $250,000, he had given her.

MOVE TO BLOCK MERGER FAILS

Plaintiff Claims White Star Line Owes Firm $11,000,000.

36 SHIPS INVOLVED.

LONDON, May 8 (A.P.).—The Internationale Mercantile Marine Company's motion for an injunction restraining the Cunard-White Star shipping lines merger was dismissed by the Chancery Court to-day.

Justice Eve, in delivering the reserved judgment, said it was impossible to hold that I.M.M. was entitled to maintain the action, since a requisite of such a suit is that the plantiff be a shareholder in the company. The International Mercantile Marine Company is incorporated in New Jersey. The president is P. M. S. Franklin of New York.

Fighting the merger, which is sponsored by the British Government, Franklin said the White Star Line owed his concern $11,000,000 for 36 ships. He added that I.M.M. holds stock in the Oceanic Steam Navigation Company, owner of White Star, as collateral.

Franklin was opposed to the merger agreement, whereby Cunard would receive 62 per cent. of the stock in the new corporation. Injunction proceedings were filed on March 26, I.M.M. setting forth its objection to certain phases of the combination.

MUSICAL CONTEST ON VICTORIA DAY

May 24th Program Planned by Omemee Athletic Association.

OMEMEE, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—A large number of members were plesent at the athletic meeting held in Coronation Hall on Friday evening. In the absence of the secretary, A. Adams, the vice-president, W. Stephenson took his place. Mr. Haynes of Peterborough appeared before the members and outlined a musical contest to be held from 7 to 9 the evening of May 24th.

His plan called for entries from old time dance orchestras from near and far. These orchestras would compete in a contest from 7 to 9 and the winner would be hired by the Athletic Association to provide music for the square dancing from nine until one. The second place orchestra would win a cash prize of approximately $20 or $25 made up from the entry fees. Harmonicas, fiddles, banjoes and other instruments, are also expected to bring entries. After lengthy discussion Mr. Haynes' plan was adopted.

A ten piece dance band is being secured for the round dances. Given fair weather, Victoria Day, 1934 should be a memorable one in the sporting life of Omemee.

WAGON KILLS GIRL.

SASKATOON, May 8 (C.P.). — Crushed beneath the wheel of a wagon driven by her father, Emily Lisak, five years old, was dead today. The accident occurred on the farm of Peter Lisak, her father, in the Wakaw district.

ANNUAL GRANT SEYMOUR FAIR IS CUT IN HALF

Campbellford Unable to Make Usual Donation of $300, Opinion of Council.

LENGTHY DISCUSSION.

Village Hard Hit With $787 Relief Expenditure Last Month—Council Meets.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 8. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The Campbellford council's annual grant to the Seymour Agricultural Society was cut in half last evening, when on a motion sponsored by Councillors John O'Sullivan and P. J. Sarginson, the council passed a grant of $150 to this organization for the current year. Previous years this grant had been $300.

This action followed a lengthy discusion on the matter, following the request of a deputation from the society. This was headed by the president, W. S. Milne, who had supported the secretary, Geo. A. Kingston, and T. J. Horkins. Mr. Milne requested the grant this year be the same as in the past, as the society needed the money more than ever as it was necessary to have it to carry on.

Mr. Horkins stressed the need of the grant this year, pointing out that in 1933 the society had the best fair in years. The Seymour end of the fair, he said, had been a great success. Years ago there had been a show room at the fair, where merchants of Campbellford could display their wares, but this was not there now. The board had decided however, to transfer the poultry building to the present ladies' building, and use the former for a display building, adding to the present one hundred feet another thirty feet. It was only a matter of fair play, he said, that this should be built, and he wished the council to give the grant of $300 on the understanding that there was a place where people could exhibit. Much labor had been promised gratis, and part of the grant would go to the alteration necessary, in the buying of the necessary supplies.

Audit Figures

Mr. Kingston gave figures from the annual audit, which showed last year's receipts at $2,800, out of which amount $610.41 had been spent in Campbellford. This was divided: Labor, $416; supplies, $108; Water and Light Board, $14; insurance, $72.25. The fair, he said, was the only community affair in the district, and for the past sixty years had paid one hundred cents in the dollar.

A motion sponsored by Councillors A. D. Bennett and F. F. Long, that the usual grant of $300 be given, was lost when put, the amendment for $150, sponsored by Councillors O'Sullivan and Sarginson, being carried.

Mr. O'Sullivan was of the opinion that the way Campbellford had been hit, especially in regard to relief, it could not afford the usual grant. Added to this was the amount of unpaid taxes and the pending tax sale, and he thought it was unfair to sell people's homes to give these large grants.

High Relief Account.

Deputy Reeve E. C. McKeel also spoke against the giving of the grant, pointing out that although the society was doing good work, when the council did not have the peoples money to give the grant, it could not give it. The relief account last month had been $787, he stated, an expenditure that thy had never had before, and with the pending tax sale, he did not think it was right to sell people's property to pay for the grant. He did not think the merchants of Campbellford were getting the farmers' business, declaring that sixty per cent of it was going through the mail order houses. A few years ago, in the days of the horse, the fair did bring business to town, but this was not the case now.

Councillor Bennett could not see, he said, where the money was thrown away, if by giving $300 to the Fair Board, over $600 was spent in the town. He agreed that the

(Continued on Page Eight.)

Fish Net Yields Body Of Wallaceburg Man

WALLACEBURG, May 9. — The body of Matthew Doyle was dragged up in a fishermans net from the St. Clair River early last evening, just a few hundred yards below the spot where he is thought to have committed suicide after an attempt to kill his wife, on Saturday night.

Doyle is alleged to have attacked his wife late Saturday night and then gone out on the St. Clair river in a small boat, and jumped overboard. Last night Peter Gallarneau put out his fishing nets, and on the first haul the body was found in the net. H. R. Wilson of the R.C.-M.P. was immediately notified, and he summoned the Provincial Police from Sarnia. The remains were brought to Wallaceburg, and an inquest will probably be held to-day.

Mrs. Doyle is still in a serious condition at her home in Port Lambert, and Dr. W. A. Cathcart stated last night that she was progressing nicely, but was not yet out of danger. She is suffering from loss of blood and a bad scalp wound, inflicted, she said, by her husband.

An extensive search for valuable minerals is to be started in Northern Australia.

G. R.

Liberal-Conservative

CONVENTION

County of Peterborough

A convention of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Peterborough, for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding of the County of Peterborough in the approaching elections in Ontario, will be held in

CANADIAN LEGION HALL, Murray St. Peterborough

—on—

THURSDAY, May 10, 1934

at 2 o'clock p.m. (Standard Time)

The meeting will be open to the public and will be addressed by

HON. GEO. S. HENRY

Prime Minister of Ontario

J. F. STRICKLAND, K.C., M.P.P.

T. P. LANCASTER, M.P.P.

E. A. PECK, K.C., M.P.

MAYOR DENNE OF PETERBOROUGH

and the Candidate

In view of the approaching Ontario elections the message of the Prime Minister of Ontario should be of interest to every elector.

COL. R. E. BIRDSALL, President JOHN R. CORKERY, Secretary

God Save the King!

BAILIEBORO CLUB PRESENTS COMEDY

"Here Comes Charlie" is Subject of Three-Act Comedy Farce.

BAILIEBORO, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — "Here Comes Charlie," a comedy farce presented in three acts, was staged by the local dramatic club in the hall on Friday evening, to a crowd which completely filled the capacity of the hall. The various roles were exceptionally well taken by the cast and the humor brought peals of laughter from the audience, who gave splendid attention to the story of the play.

The cast included Mrs. F. White, Misses D. Dawson, I. Campbell, A. Barnard and W. Watt, and Messrs. J. Ackison, A. Dawson, Frank Barnard, A. Watt and A. Brown.

Mr. Alan Brown contributed violin solos between acts, accompanied on the piano by Miss Brown.

The proceeds amounted to about $28, which will go to the girls' softball club.

At the conclusion of the entertainment a dance was held ere the evening's program closed.

Off Duty

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 8.—(CP)—Sixty electricians sat in darkness for a quarter of an hour while a plumber fixed the lights.

The electricians were attending a meeting in the Central Labor Union Hall when the lights failed.

The custodian of the building — a plumber by trade — fumbled with fuses switches and wires in the cellar, while the electricians listened calmly to the speaker.

Personals

Mr. J. Byers has greatly improved the grounds around his residence and the alternations add greatly to the beauty of the village.

Mr. Wallace of Oshawa spent the week-end the guest of his daughter, Mrs. W. Lang.

Misses K. Barnard and P. Ross and Misses Wagg and Jones of Toronto spent Sunday the guests of friends in the vicinity.

Mr. W. Wood of Oshawa spent a few days during the past week visiting friends in the district.

Miss F. Rahmel spent the week-end at her home in Peterborough.

Mr. Keith Barnard of Toronto spent the week-end the guests of his parents.

Mrs. Clothier and son of Oshawa visited friends in the district on Saturday.

CHOIR OF ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH HEARD IN DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM

Mrs. Agnes Logan Green and Hyman Goodman Assisting Artists.

CAPACITY AUDIENCE.

(By Jeanette)

The choir concert last night at St. Andrews United Chulch, commemorating the hundred and first year anniversary of the foundation of the church, was a distinct success from every point of view. The musicians had a capacity audience, the program was varied in a delightful manner, the choral selections being interspersed by vocal violin and piano solos, and the applause accorded each selection was generous and enthusiastic. It was a pleasing and successful entertainment, from start to finish.

The ladies of the choir were in white, their summery gowns standing out in notable contrast to the dark suits of the men.

Under direction and leadership of St. Andrews new organist, Cyril Rice, the choir gave a number of beautiful glees and part songs, notable among them being the unaccompanied selections which were marked by precision of attack and release, splendid controlled volume and melodic ensemble tone.

In "a capella' fashion, they sang two German folk numbers arranged by Johannes Brahms: "In Silent Night," with a lightly touched staccato in the half voice ,and "Love, Fare Thee Well," with an expressive pianissimo and a soft, hushed finale, also a group that included a request number, "Creation's Hymn," a deep-voiced, sonorous composition for men's voices only, and "Parting," a farewell song that had a solo well rendered by E. Humpage. Two other unaccompanied choral selections were from the pen of the late Sir Edward Elgar and demonstrated his smoothly rich style. Soft and peaceful was the atmosphere of his "As Torrents in Summer," with a note of contrast in its companion, "Weary Wind of the West," a dramatic tone picture that delineated the approach, the power, and finally the subsidence of a storm, with the opening pianissimo passages merging into the forceful vigor of the storm scene, and a shaded soft finale closing the picture.

The opening selections were by the choir, in a lovely illustration of the soft meldoy of Dvorak's famous composition, "Goin' Home," from his New World Symphony, and the equally famous negro spiritual, "Deep River."

Solo Music

The soloists of the evening received the same meed of applause that greeted the choral offerings.

Mrs. Ross Williamson, whose pure, clear soprano voice has such power and yet is used with such dainty perfection, sang Handel's well-known aria, "O, Had I Jubal's Lyre," its gliding portamento ringing out in smooth tones, also "Orpheus With His Lute," which was especially attractive, with crystalline cadences that softened to a finale like the sustained pearly harmonic of a violin. Mrs. Williamson acknowledged the resounding appreciation of her singing with a bow.

Mrs. Agnes Logan Green wove again for her listeners that spell of thoughtful pleasure that seems to surround her charming piano playing. Something spiritual, of "another world" texture, seems to be imparted to the music that flows from these expert fingers. Imbued with soft, creamy tone were the three lovely selections: the Bach-Hess chorale, "Jesu, Joy of Mans Desiring," dating back many centuries for its inspiration; the Leschetiskey "Arabesque," with its controlled syncopation and legato runs, and the lovely fountain music of Debussy's "Reflets dans l'Eau" (Reflections in the water), cool, bright music which sounds just like its name.

Mrs. Green's encore was a strange little bit that was simply a reiteration of a low-pitched phrase.

Hyman Goodman, who is first violinist of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, made his premier appearance in the city last evening and established himself in the sincere appreciation of his listeners, who applauded to the echo each of the two groups which he contributed to the program. Manifestly the possessor of a masterly technique, Mr. Goodman has the happiness also to possess a cantabile tone of such a sweet, singing quality that it never sharpened for an instant, even in the difficult, exacting rendition of Hubay's "Hejre Kati," which is full of tonal pitfalls and tricky instrumentation. That velvety song of the broad, legato bow on the strings was demonstrated in the somewhat unattractive music of the Bach Air on the G string.

He played also a Francoeur-Kreisler composition, Sicilienne, "Rigaudon," light, shimmering, dancing music, and its companion, Gluck's sweetly-toned Melodie. An encore followed this group.

Bravura Number

On his second appearance, Mr. Goodman played the brilliant Hubay composition, also Sarasate's Romanza Andalusa, graceful, romantic music that progressed to the final highlight, a delicate harmonic in the fifth position. Kreisler's "Schon Rosmarin," the vibrating song of the beautiful maiden, was a dainty thing that called into play a light sautille (springing) bow, and was followed, after insistent applause, by an exquisite encore, the haunting "Hindu Song" (Song of the Jewel Merchant) from Rimsky-Korsakov's opera, "Sadko." This was played "con sordini," with the mute softening the vibrant strings.

Cyril Rice, in addition to leading and directing the choral numbers and playing the organ accompaniments for the initial selections, also sang several beautiful numbers in sweet tenor tones that were filled with expression and a very evident full appreciation of the sentiment of the compositions which varied greatly in mode.

Mr. Rice's first trio included Handel's lovely aria, "Wher'er You Walk," the Geoffrey O'Hara arrangement of Dr. Drummond's charming habitant song, "Leetle Bateese," and a striking thing that was unsual in type and treatment. This was so different as to strike the ear and the memory to quick appreciation of its "different" atmosphere. It was called "Cargoes" and outlined in picturesque, crisp sentences the differing cargoes of three ships. The tempo was original also. The drawn-out emphasis on the word "cargoes" was unique, while each word seemed to stand out by reason of the "framed," incisive quality imparted by sibilant articulation and emphasized values. It was essentially a song of the "spoken," dramatic type.

Mr. Rice's second group of songs was composed of selections written about children. They were charming in essence and rendition. Eugene Field's famous composition, "Little Boy Blue," was expressively given, followed by a remarkably attractive arrangement by Teresa del Riego of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Shadow March," a dainty thing colored with a gay staccato treatment that sent it dancing into the ears. Woodman's "Mr. Dream-Maker" was the third member of this delightful trio.

Each of the song groups by Mr. Rice was greeted with enthusiastic applause.

The accompaniments for Mr. Rice's songs were played by Mrs. Rice, while Mrs. Green played for Mrs. Williamson and Mr. Goodman.

Lawrence's Return Awaited In Arabian Crisis

IBN SAUD LAWRENCE, WHEN UNCROWNED RULER OF ARABIA

A crisis in Arabian affairs that is endangering interests of British and other foreigners is expected to bring Col. T. E. Lawrence, one-time "uncrowned ruler of Arabia" out of his obscure role as an enlisted man in British air corps, and send him back to the desert as peacemaker. Ibn Saud, king of Saudi, precipitated crisis by using planes, machine guns and other modern implements of war to overcome Imam of Yemen and capture his territory, including important city of Hodeida, scene from which is shown at TOP in above layout. INSET is shown heir to Yemen throne, while at extreme RIGHT, Lawrence as he is today.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at the Examiner Office by 5 p.m. on the day before insertion. All letters must be signed by the writer, although a pen name may be used when inserting non-controversial subject matter. Letters over 400 words will be cut down at discretion of the editor.

IS BEER MAIN PROBLEM

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—The main problem before this unhappy country is surely not brewery beer or home brew which? Stopping the manufacture and controlled sale of properly-made beer and making a brewery of every house and teaching the little children how to make and take it and have them come reeling home from school is surely not the way to make decent people. Had the question been to prohibit all beer it would have been a different thing but to make a brewery and sponging house out of the home has resulted, in the U.S.A. in simply ruining womanhood and if rysters can continue to go to hotels and in defiance of the landlords do as they please there because it is their dwelling and under the law then it is only home-brew made still more hellish. But why not give more effort to the main question?

J. H. Burnham.

THE BRITISH BUDGET.

The Editor, The Examiner,
Peterborough, Ont., Can.

Dear Sir,—The British Budget recently introduced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer reduces the standard rate of income tax by sixpence to 4/6d in the pound.

This fact is of importance to those of your readers who receive dividends or trust income from this country. The reduction will mean that although their net dividends will in most cases be increased, their repayment claims will be slightly smaller for the year ended 5th April 1935.

The sums recoverable will still be substantial however, and should any of your readers have difficulty in obtaining their repayments, I shall be pleased to advise them if they will communicate with me at the address below.

Yours faithfully,
W. T. FRY.
13, Buckingham Palace Gardens,
London, S.W.1.

MAN'S ONLY HOPE.

Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—Your editorial on the meeting of the unemployed in the market square of this city should be favorably accepted by the citizens as a reasonable summing up of the situation. Our actions towards those who have been more fortunate in sailing clear of the discomfiture in present conditions should be of a grateful and appreciative manner rather than that of a discontented and vituperate attitude. Many of the citizens who are called upon to lend a helping hand are on the verge of starvation only being concealed by their pride and moral conception. It is difficult to understand the forming of an organization in this city that will link itself up with the Canadian Labor Defense League and call upon its leader, A. E. Smith, to address a meeting here whose whole ambition is the establishment of a Soviet Canada. Claiming as they do to be a non-political party is ample proof that they would attain their object by force other than by ballot. Our grievances are too well known and understood to keep up a continual discussion by bringing agitators from outside cities who can be compared to nothing else than pop valves which accomplish nothing except making a great noise by relieving the pressure within. If our Dominion, Provincial and Municipal governments are not satisfactory we have the machinery to change them in a peaceful and constitutional way. The capitalists back the Conservative and Liberal party, the working man's only hope is in the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (C.C.F.). It is to be hoped at the next meeting of the unemployed to be held on the market square that instead of so much bally-hooing and parrot speeches which has become threadbare there will be some reasonable solution for the prevailing conditions.

Thanking you in anticipation for space in your Voice of the People column.

A. MURRAY.

ACCIDENTS THROUGH EXPLOSIVES.

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir:

The public, as well as the authorities, must be viewing with concern the distressing accidents which have been recurring throughout the county, by the use of explosives in our road construction project. Without laying the onus of blame on any person, I fear, there is a laxity in the manner of handling and using high explosives and detonators. In this recent accident on No. 7 Highway there seems to have been a lack of knowledge not only in the operation of blasting, but also in the nature of the compound used.

In the use of dynamite which is a nitro-glycerine compound and must be fired by detonation, the greatest care must be observed, for even without a detonator these explosives (under certain conditions) can be exploded by a severe shock or blow. In my twenty-five years' experience of handling explosives of diferent compounds and under varying conditions, in mining and quarrying, "the pouring of water into the shot-hole after the charge had been 'dropped' is to me a very dangerous and stupid practice. If there is not a law, relative to the use of explosives in Ontario, it is time that such laws were invoked for the safety of all concerned in the blasting operations. From legislation pertaining to the use of high explosives in Great Britain: (a) Every charge of explosive must be placed in a properly drilled hole, and properly stamped or stemmed; (b) Every charge shall be fired by a competent person appointed in writing, by authority and not being a person whose wage depends upon the yardage or amount of mineral to be taken out. (c) Detonators and explosives are to be issued only to such persons who have a permit of authority, and such explosives must be kept by them in a locked case and canister.

Detonators are extremely dangerous and the greatest care should be taken in the handling of them. A detonator is a small copper cylinder closed at one end, and contains a very powerful and sensitive explosive. They should never be allowed to lay about loosely, or where children may find them—the slightest scratch or pressure causing them to explode.

Thanking you for space on this important subject.

John Beggs.

TAKE OUT MEMBERSHIP IN THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY FOR 1934

Dear Sir.—The attention of readers was drawn to the fact that many growers of roses had sustained considerable losses through the exceptionally severe winter, and that people in this district were buying a great variety of new plants from the commercial growers; also the local horticulturists were in no way discouraged by the adverse conditions, weather it be that of abnormal weather, excessive killing out of perennials, shrubs, trees, vines, some of them after years of careful cultivation and care; or again, financial stringency, which no doubt is affecting a larger number of people than any previous depression.

In spite of all these setbacks, "hope springs eternal', and money well spent are those dollars laid out in beautifying one's home surrounding; a great number of growing things are almost permanent despite "Old Man Winter," therefore The Horticulturist Society seeks to aid all lovers and growers of all kinds of flowers, whether they aim for a constant succession from early Spring until late Autumn, or just a few of the annuals giving a brilliant show over a short period, and yet again the lovers of pot plants enabling one to carry over Spring, Summer and Autumn delights into the Winter.

This aid takes the form of a list of premiums, the choice of which can be made on payment of one dollar, carrying with it membership in the society, all kinds of shows and competitions without additional charge, the opportunity to know what other growers are doing and how they do it, seeing new introductions among all varieties of flowers, trees, shrubs, proving assistance to the kiddies in developing a love of nature, and by encouraging them to plant gardens, so breed the spirit of care and attention; not only to the efforts of their own handiwork but to assist in caring for and preserving their neighbor's lawn and garden, engendering civic pride.

You are not too late yet, so decide on renewing your membership at once, or become a new member helping to swell the band of stalwarts in Peterborough; should be have mislaid the list already mailed to you, or desire to receive a copy write of call, now: the Secretary, Mr. G. P. Benton, P.O. Box 784. You may not commence planting until May 24th, but order now for a good selection; note, however, no call can be filled for incarvilleas, roses and lillies, but there remains chrysanthemums, perennials, annuals, bedding plants (coleus, geraniums, begonias, cannas), gladiolus, vegetable plants, pot plants, and by no means to be missed "a year's subscription to Canadian Horticulture and Home Magazine."

Assist us by making this a banner year despite depression, for there are some dollars still around. Send in yours and receive the best value get given. We not only need your dollar, but also your enthusiasm behind it to make Peterborough indeed "The City Beautiful."

—HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

BANKING BILL DEBATE ON

OTTAWA, May 8. (CP).—Continuing its study of the new Bank Act the House of Commons banking committee meets to-day. No witnesses are to be called and the committee will likely spend its time debating the various sections of the bill. A number of members have amendments to propose to important sections.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Loses Ugly Fat 41 lbs. in 5 Weeks

Reduces Hips, Bust 6 Inches

New Safe, Quick Reducing Method

"I have taken a bottles of BonKora and lost 41 lbs. in 5 weeks. Reduced bust 6 inches and hips 6 inches. I feel fine. Lots of my girl friends are now taking BonKora."—Rose Jordan.

BonKora, the safe, pleasant Reducing Treatment, takes off fat the new "5-stage" way. Triple action, triple speed. Take a little BonKora daily. Eat big meals of foods you like, as explained in BonKora package. No dangerous drugs in BonKora. This treatment builds health while reducing fat the quickest way. Many say they look younger.

Get BonKora from druggist today. If not delighted with quick loss of fat, manufacturer refunds money paid for this bottle.

Get a Big Bottle of BonKora Today Special This Week at ALL GOOD DRUG AND DEPARTMENT STORES Your druggist has it or can get it quick from his wholesaler If not, write to-day to Battle Creek Drugs, Ltd., Dept. 2, Walkerville, Ont.

$30,000,000 Heiress Unperturbed

By Central Press Canadian

VANCOUVER, May 8. — The fact that she is one of two heirs to a fortune estimated at more than $30,000,000 doesn't excite Mrs. Jane Peever, 82, of Vancouver, for it's an old story to her.

Mrs. Peever and her brother, Moses Frost, 92, of Port Arthur, claim to be the direct descendants of James Hudson, old-time trading post factor of the James Bay district, whose estate has been in chancery for half a century.

'I have known of the estate for years and every once in a while there is some talk of it being disbursed," Mrs. Peever says. "My mother often told me of my grandfather, who was called 'Governor' Hudson, and I heave heard often of the will, written on buckskin, which was lost or stolen back in 1867."

Mrs. Peever says that if they do settle the estate and she receives her share of the fortune it will make no difference to her. She has lived for twenty years in Vancouver (she moved west after the death of her husband, John Peever) and likes it here. She resides with a son, William, a C.P.R. yardmaster.

Another son, Edward, resides in Vancouver, and Mrs. Peever's two daughters are Mrs. R. C. Styles of Buffalo and Mrs. Edward Hines of Kenora.

Mrs. Peever was born in Fort Coulonge, Quebec, and was married there. A second brother, Larry Frost, died years ago, and his daughter, Mrs. Jane Dixon of Sioux Lookout, is in England in connection with the attempt to get the estate out of chancery.

MRS. JANE PEEVER

James Hudson was supposed to have acquired vast estates during his years of fur trading with the Indians, and 47 years ago the fortune was estimated at $30,000,000.

AGE RECORD SET BY BOYD FAMILY

Total Years for Eight Members is 619 With Average of 77.

JOHN AT TRENT RIVER.

TRENT RIVER, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mr. John Boyd, one of Trent River's oldest and most highly esteemed residents, can boast of a family age record that is hard to beat for a family of nine—five sisters and four brothers—eight of whom are living and enjoying the best of health The sisters reside in London, England, while the brothers are in Scotland The names of the members of the family, with year of birth, are as follows:

John, Trent River, born June 28, 1849.
Alexander, born May 10, 1851.
William, born March 14, 1853.
Robert, born August 14, 1855.
Jane, born May 18, 1858.
Christina, bornMay 16, 1860
Elizabeth, born October 22, 1862.
Mary, born December 9, 1865.

Elizabeth and Mary live retired after many years in the Civil Service in London, England.

Mrs. Boyd, Sr., mother of this family, lived to the great age of 90 years.

TREASURES CHECKED OVER

SHANGHAI, May 8 (C.P.). — Procurators from the highest court of Nanking began to-day the colossal task of opening and examining 19,000 huge cases of "forbidden city" jewels and antiques, several million dollars' worth of which allegedly were stolen by Yih Pei-Chi, ex-president of the National Museum.

Authorities announced yesterday the Nanking Court will soon file charges of stealing many of the rare prizes against Yih.

Examination of the cases of jewels will require more than a year, it was said to-day.

$2 Bounty Offered By Alnwick Council

ROSENEATH, May 8.—Alnwick Township Council met on April 28 in the council chamber. All members present and Reeve Pacey in the chair.

Communications were received and read from the Department of Agriculture, re plan to assist farmers to procure seed grain. From the Public Utilities Commission of Cobourg. Both were received and filed.

Moved by Barton Thackeray, seconded by Harry Mouncey, that the Council give a bounty of $2.00 to any person destroying a dog while worrying sheep. Carried.

Moved by William Murphy, seconded by Edward George, that council accept the assessors roll until the court of revision. Carried.

Moved by Harry Mouncey, seconded by Barton Thackeray, that on the 28th day of May, at 10 o'clock, the council will meet as a court of revision in the town hall. Carried.

Moved by Harry Mouncey, seconded by Barton Thackeray that the reeve sign the overseers' pay sheets. Carried.

Moved by Barton Thackeray, seconded by Edward George that this council pay 30 cents per hour for man and team and 20 cents per hour for man while running the small grader, and $1.00 per hour for trucks during the year 1934. Carried.

Moved by William Murphy, seconded by Barton Thackeray, that the Reeve sign orders with the treasurer in favcor of the following: E. Harvie, valuating sheep worried by dogs, $2; T. S. Harvie, valuating sheep, $3; The Municipal World, supplies, $4.18; T. F. Harvie, bounty for destroying dog, $3; Charles Grigg part salary as assessor, $35; J. W. Pacey, committee work, $3; Harry Mouncey, committee work, $3; Ed. George, $3. Total, $56.18.

Moved by Harry Mouncey, seconded by Barton Thackeray, that the council adjourn to meet again at 1.30 o'clock on May 26.

Reform may be attempted in China of the ancient wedding and funeral customs, observance of which keeps many families in poverty.

COUNCIL PASSES 2 NEW BY-LAWS IN YOUNG CASE

By-laws Are Passed Unanimously by the City Council.

ACT AMENDED

Just Putting Double Lock on Council's Action, Solicitor Says.

Two new by-laws dismissing Dr. T. W. H. Young from the offices of Medical Officer of Health and City Physician were passed unanimously last night by the City Council.

Regarding the by-law passed on October 18th last, dismissing Dr. Young from his municipal offices, it was set forth in both new by-laws that they were being passed "without in any way prejudicing the validity of the other said by-law, or admitting any invalidity in the said consent and approval of the Minister of Health for Ontario thereto."

It was pointed by City Solicitor J. R. Corkery that on October 18, Dr. Young was dismissed from both offices by one by-law, but that it was not necessary to get the Minister of Health's approval to dismiss him from the office of City Physician. Mr. Corkery also explained that in March there was an amendment to the Public Health Act touching the dismissal of municipal health officers. Formerly the clause read and on the approval of the Minister of Health "to whom cause shall be shown for the dismissal" but this has been amended to read "who may require cause to be shown for the dismissal."

Mr. Corkery informed The Examiner. "We are just putting a double lock on the council's action in dismissing the Medical Officer of Health. It means little and is merely a precaution."

Both by-laws will be forwarded to the Minister of Health.

CRAMAHE RESIDENT IS 97 YEARS OLD

George E. Walker Celebrates Birthday Last Week—Lives in Colborne.

WARKWORTH, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — George E. Walker, a native of Cramahe Township celebrated last week his ninety-seventh birthday. Mr. Walker has lived in Colborne for over thirty years; previous to that time he carried on a successful farming business. He is perhaps the oldest and most highly-respected citizen in that vicinity.

He is strictly for temperance and a strong supporter of the Liberal party. Mr. Walker is a member of the United Church. He says that he can remember of three different unions of the Methodist Church.

He has one son, Clarence of Colborne; two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Black, Warkworth, and Mrs. Dean MacGregor, Cordova; fifteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. With the exception of a little lameness, Mr. Walker's health is good.

Princess Andrew of Greece recently created a sensation in London by wearing a set of massive gold beads.

1832 THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA INCORPORATED 1832 1934

Strength . . .

STRONG, progressive and with facilities international in scope, The Bank of Nova Scotia, with a record of over one hundred years successful banking experience, strongly invites consideration from those seeking a banking connection.

World-wide facilities in every department of banking

Coast to Coast in Canada

NEWFOUNDLAND, JAMAICA, CUBA, PUERTO RICO, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

NEW YORK, CHICAGO, BOSTON, LONDON, ENGLAND

The BANK of NOVA SCOTIA

OVER A CENTURY OF BANKING SERVICE

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.

The Daily Examiner, published every (awful) evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 416 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.

Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.

Member: Ontario Associated Dailies. T. L. Ashton, manager. Canada Permanent Building, Toronto.

U. S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden, Inc., Chicago Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.

Advertising Rates on Application.

E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments

TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934

NOT WORKING SO WELL.

The week's holiday declared in the silk textile industry in the United States, affecting some 30,000 employees, dramatically calls attention to what is likely to happen when an attempt is made to artificially stimulate business as has been done under the NRA.

It has been found necessary to shut the whole industry down for a week because of the over-production that has developed.

This condition has caused so much competition that prices have been forced down to an unprofitable level, while at the same time under the NRA code the manufacturers have been compelled to pay higher wages to labor.

Obviously something had to be done to meet this situation, and the code authority, in compliance with the demands upon the chairman, has decreed the week's lay-off as a curb upon production—a remedy that will only furnish merely temporary relief.

The whole theory of the NRA was that by establishing shorter hours and higher pay for workers the purchasing power of the latter would be correspondingly increased, and business and industry would profit accordingly.

In the case of the silk textile trade—and doubtless in other industries—the expected benefits have failed to materialize.

The textile mills have been turning out more goods than the public could absorb, and with the prices as a result down to unprofitable level, while manufacturing costs remain high because of the greater wages set down by the NRA, the industry is in a bad way.

Shutting down 900 mills with their 30,000 employees may help the situation momentarily, but it does not get rid of the problem of how manufacturers are to pay NRA wage scales and sell at depression prices.

EFFECTIVE TOURIST PUBLICITY.

From the office of Hon. A. S. MacMillan, Minister of Highways in Nova Scotia, The Examiner is in receipt of about the most attractive tourist traffic literature that has been issued in any part of Canada.

One booklet, profusely illustrated, is entitled "Nova Scotia, Canada's Ocean Playground," and another is a most interesting historic sketch of the province, also effectively illustrated. In addition, there is a very fine road map and another pamphlet, "Where to Stay in Nova Scotia," with a list of hotels, boarding-houses, tourist camps, etc., with all the necessary information, including rates.

The layout of this tourist publicity is complete in every detail. In the first place, there is a wealth of fine pictures that reveal the scenic charm of the Land of Evangeline, and that cannot be looked at without creating a desire to see these delightful vistas. The printed text strengthens that desire, and then with the prospective tourist "sold" on Nova Scotia as a most desirable place to spend the summer vacation, the road map and the list of hotels tells him how to get there and where to stay while down by the sea.

Nova Scotia's Department of Highways is to be congratulated upon this very effective bid for more tourist traffic; whoever is responsible for planning and carrying out this work has done a real job and it should get results in the form of many new visitors.

Incidentally it should cause more Canadians to decide to "see Canada first" and to staft out by visiting Nova Scotia.

WELCOMING OUR TOURISTS.

A paragraph in the current issue of Canadian Business is well worth general attention in view of the fact that the tourist industry is one in which we are all more or less concerned and from which we all benefit to a greater or a lesser degree.

"The time is ripe," says the article, "for us to take stock of what we can tender our tourist visitors. Attractive shop offerings, personal courtesy, efficient hostelries, general information, road maps and general assistance from business institutions all build good-will on the asset side of our tourist business. Furthermore, undesirable attempts to capitalize on tourist traffic should be sought out and removed."

The Examiner agrees with Canadian Business that the personal side of this question cannot be too strongly emphasized, and that we should recognize the absolute necessity of acting as good neighbors and friendly hosts to our visitors.

Fishing facilities, delightful scenery and good roads are important factors in bringing tourists in this country, but it is the treatment they receive that make our summer guests come back year after year or fail to return, as the case may be.

A hearty welcome, a cheery willingness to furnish information, a sincere desire to give service and a sensible refusal to treat tourists as a one-year crop —these are the things that convert a casual tourist into an every-summer visitor.

All our people can help in creating an atmosphere that will make permanent friends of the strangers within our gates, and they should be glad to do so as a matter both of good manners and good business.

WHY HAVE WE BEEN NEGLECTED?

How badly this section of Ontario, that is the district between Brockville and Toronto, has been treated in the matter of senatorial appointments is shown by facts recently called attention to by Dr. T. E. Kaiser, of Oshawa, who incidentally is himself being boomed for a seat in the Upper Chamber.

Dr. Kaiser declares that although this part of the province contains one-sixth of the population of Ontario, it at the present time has no representative in the Senate—although in this connection the doughty Oshawa politician has doubtless failed to remember that Senator H. H. Horsey can be said to represent Prince Edward County in the Upper House.

Even so, it is certainly strange that a section of Ontario that started out after Confederation with a representation of eight senators—John Simpson, of Bowmanville; James Shaw, of Smith's Falls; Robert Read, of Belleville; Ebenezer Perry, of Cobourg; John Hamilton, of Kingston; Billa Flint, of Belleville, and Alexander Campbell, of Kingston—should now have but one—if Senator Horsey is still considered as a member from this portion of the province.

The number of representatives from this part of Ontario never fell below three until 1923 when only Senators McHugh, of Lindsay, and Mulholland, of Port Hope, remained. By 1929 both had passed on, and since their death, as Dr. Kaiser points out, no person from this entire district has been honored with a senatorial appointment.

Incidentally the county of Peterborough has never had one of its residents selected for the Upper House, although a number of former citizens of the county have been promoted to the Senate after they had taken up residence in other parts of Canada.

Just why Central Ontario should be a "dead" spot in this matter of senatorial honors is a mystery to most people; probably we have suffered because we have not made sufficient noise about the matter to convince the powers that be that we had claims that could not be ignored.

BRITAIN'S PATIENT COURAGE.

In a recent address Sir John Simon paid a magnificent tribute to the national qualities that have enabled Britain to make such a splendid recovery from the severe economic depression. After pointing out that she has weathered the terrific economic storm without sacrificing her democratic institutions, he declared that this result had been achieved not by endeavoring to find salvation "in the leadership of a magnetic personality," but rather by trusting in British steadiness, strength of character, and courageous loyalty.

Sir John Simon's address was delivered at the annual dinner of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce. "The source of authority of British counsels in the world to-day is due," he declared, "before all to the fact that three years ago the country without distinction of party faced a terrible anxiety that threatened to overwhelm it. And not as the result of party argument, but directly as a result of the steadiness of character of the British people we set ourselves to save the state and we have done it."

That statement, while unostentatiously made, was received with tremendous applause and deserves to be pondered wherever the English language is spoken. The British throne remains unshaken and the supremacy of parliamentary institutions has not been lessened in the slightest degree. Undoubtedly it is true that the British people, confronted with a great economic crisis, did not allow themselves to be stampeded. This same quality prevailed throughout the entire period of the war, and was the main contributing factor to the victory of the Allies.—Brantford Expositor.

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATION FAR-REACHING.

For some time it has been evident that certain of the Canadian provinces are anxious to take upon themselves extradorinary powers, the constitutionality of which might be doubted. British Columbia was prominent in this respect, bringing forward an act which was somewhat similar to the blank cheque legislation of the Dominion Government. Then Alberta came along with legislation which at first seemed to set up that province almost as a political unit independent of the rest of the Dominion in trade and financial matters. Now comes Nova Scotia with a new tax bill which hits almost every line of financial and industrial activity.

It is high time that the Dominion or some competent authority stepped in to check upon some of the proposed measures. For instance, the Attorney-General of British Columbia has declared that the courts of that province will be closed to foreign bondholders who do not accept the offer of the Provincial Government regarding conversion of bonds under authority given in the Revenue Act passed at the recent session of the Legislature. By taking this step the province will certainly discourage foreign investors from buying its bonds.

Nova Scotia's new legislation is designed to increase the revenue of the province by $100,000 and affects banks, trust, loan and telephone companies with new levies on chain stores, and corporations capitalized at less than $25,000. A proposal to tax telegrams has been dropped, but there are still enough new taxes to satisfy the most gluttonous appetite. A provision exempting chain gasoline stations was struck out after considerable discussion.

So far as can be seen from the information yet available there is nothing unconstitutional about the Nova Scotia legislation, but it certainly would appear to be of doubtful wisdom, tending as it does to check the movement towards recovery.

For some years back certain of the other provinces have been putting through advanced legislation interfering in outstanding contracts. How far is this tendency to go?

Premier Bennett recently made a clarion call for some modern St. George to relieve the country of some of the "dragons" which beset it.

It is possible that the Dominion and some of the provinces may yet come to grips in a renewed battle on the question of jurisdiction.

This again draws attention to the need of taking up the revision of the British North America Act.—The Monetary Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Russia has been designated by Uncle Sam as a financial defaulter and United States-Soviet trade is virtually to come to an end. It seems only yesterday that the Toronto Star was hysterical over Canada's failure to deal with Russia.

Perhaps Premier Henry is reserving the announcement of the election date so that he can give out the news during his visit to Peterborough on Thursday.

Both Liberal candidates in Essex North have been endorsed in turn by their provincial leader No doubt Hon. Paul Poisson, the Government nominee in the riding, would be glad to have Mr. Hepburn endorse several more standard-bearers before polling day.

Don't forget that one of the biggest objectives of Clean-up Week is to give a man a job. Check up on what you have to offer somebody who has been without work for a long period.

Reporters have to take down what is said by speakers, and often their most important task is that of putting down what the speaker meant to say. —Niagara Falls Review.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

STORM DRIFT

By ETHEL M. DELL

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER 58

It was many minutes before Tiggie spoke again, and then there was a subtle change in his voice, it sounded many years older than himself.

"If it's a question of rights, he has forfeited any he ever had," he said. "If it's a question of killing, two can play at that game. Now listen, Viola, for I mean every word I say. Nothing will make me give you up. Whatever I may have to go through to make you my wife, I shall count as an honor for your sake. And I shall not shirk it. Do you understand?"

But Viola remained silent, her face hidden from him.

"Viola!" He spoke insistently. "You do understand. Tell me you do!"

But still she did not look up, though her whole body throbbed in his hold.

He waited for a few moments, then began to feel for her hidden face, seeking to turn it upwards. But at that she moved very suddenly, raising it to his own. Her eyes burned in their deep hollows with a strange and spiritual radiance in which there was nothing earthly. She lifted her hands to his shoulders, holding him slightly from her.

"I only know this," she said, and her voice was clear and firm as he had never heard it. "I have done wrong over and over again in taking help from you. But I have come to the end of it now. I'm going to cut adrift, of it now. I'm going to cut adrift Tiggie, and where I shall finish God alone knows. But it won't be on your raft, dear, ever again—though I shall never forget—never forget—your great goodness in taking me on board. Now I want you—please, Tiggie—to say good-by to me—for good, because it can't possibly be otherwise now. Don't you see I would sooner die than drag you down? If it came to that, I would die—that I solemnly declare to you—and even you wouldn't be able to prevent it. Yes, I am in earnest—I am in earnest, and nothing will make me change. If I loved you only a little, perhaps I might let you do it. But as it is, I am utterly unworthy, and I can't. There! I have done. Please will you kiss me now and go—go right away and take Harvey with you—so that we don't meet again? That is the greatest thing you can do for me now, dearest. Please—please—will you do it?"

There was no ignoring the entreaty in her voice now or the earnest supplication of those burning eyes. It came to Tiggie suddenly that to remain and resist her was to torture her as he had been tortured the previous night. And though his whole manhood rose up in fierce revolt, he kept it in leash for her sake.

Yet for a space he would not yield, because he could not. And only when her strength began to totter at last and she broke into bitter weeping, entreating him to leave her, could he by any means muster his own. Then, moved by her anguish as nothing else could have moved him, he held her to him, comforting her in the only way that was left to him.

"All right, darling! I'll go—I'll go," he said. "Don't cry! I can't bear it. This isn't the end. God knows it can't be. But I'll go—if you wish it."

She made desperate efforts to control her distress, but he saw that her powers were nearly spent. He got up and lifted her from her chair to the bed. And there he bent low over her, his arms still clasping her.

"Don't fret, darling! Don't fret!" he urged, and his own voice was broken and oddly uncertain, "I can't leave you if you fret. Oh, darling, hush—hush!"

She clung to him closely for a while, sobbing piteously like a child; then at last she grew still, and her hold relaxed.

"Good-by!" she whispered almost inaudibly.

He felt her go limp in his arms and as he laid her down, her head fell back. The face he stooped to kiss was deathly.

And then there came a touch on his shoulder and Helen's voice behind him. "Leave her to me! It's only a faint. You go now! It'll be better for her."

Bitter words, though kindly spoken, of which he could not question the truth! Dumbly he turned and stumbled from the room, hardly realizing what he did until he stood once more in the drenching sea mist, gazing out through a blur of tears and seeing nothing, while the gates of his paradise silently closed behind him.

* * *

When Tiggie came to himself he was back at "The Sea Lion", though he had not the faintest recollection as to how he arrived there. So intolerable was the pain at his heart that he felt as if the world of normal things must have come to an end. One thought alone stood out of his sea of suffering and to this he clung with a tenacity which seemed to save his reason, and that was the fixed determination to meet his enemy.

Upon the memory of Viola he dared not swell, but put it resolutely from him. As he had said, this was not the end, nor would he for a moment consider it as such. But what the end was to be it was impossible to say until he had seen Norman again. To find the fellow and thrash him without mercy was the first impulse within him, and till it was satisfied he swore to himself that he would never rest. There are times in the lives of tortured human beings when physical inaction is impossible—the greatest torture of all; and thus was it now with Tiggie. The need to meet and revenge himself upon his enemy was stronger than any desire he had ever known before. It urged him with a fiery and perpetual goading which swept him irresistibly on, brooking no delay. No madness of delirium could have driven him more relentlessly.

But "The Sea Lion" presented a blank and deserted appearance. It was not the hour for kindly gossip, and doubtless Joe Penny was busy within, working under his wife's capable guidance. It did not take Tiggie long to look into the bare, dingy rooms and find them empty. He went upstairs, but only to achieve the same results. The rosy cheeked chambermaid was the only person to be seen. All the doors were open, all the rooms tenantless. He went down again, still raging inwardly, chafing at the prospect of delay. Out again into the mist he tramped, hearing again the voice of the siren coming muffled through its shifting folds; then, struck by a sudden thought, he plunged back to search for something in the hall.

He found a stout ash stick—Harvey's property—and pulled it out, testing it grimly in his hands. Yes, it would answer the purpose. It was strong enough to hammer anyone to a pulp.

He went out again into the empty little street. All that was left was to wait till his enemy came, and waiting was the hardest task of all—or so he thought.

He strode along the road to the bridge beneath which the torrent ran. The waters were swollen from the rain on the hills, and a cloud of spray rose up from the boulders over which they rushed. The roar and turmoil of it fascinated him, seeming for a space to deaden the fiery torture within. But the relief was only temporary. Very soon he turned away, driven by the red devil of vengeance that would not let him rest.

Surely the fellow would soon make his appearance! There could be nothing to keep him for long in the open on a morning such as this. The mist had become a drizzle, gray and cold and penetrating. The impecunious clergyman and his wife had gone inland on the morning omnibus that met the midday train, hoping to leave it behind. He had heard them discussing the idea at dinner the night before, and it was evident that they had acted upon it. He was thankful that they were out of the way, for he wanted an empty stage for his reckoning with Norman. There was no fear of interference from anyone else, and he would thrash him like a dog in the street.

Furiously he fell to tramping up and down in front of the inn, the heavy stick clenched in his hand. It was like a hideous nightmare, punctuated by the ghastly wailing of the siren; and there were times during that eternity of waiting when the very mist itself turned crimson all around him and became a sea of blood.

"I suppose this means murder," he said to himself, and something within him leapt to the thought as a wild beast leaps to its prey.

On and on, to and fro, endlessly he strode, wheeling mechanically each time after the same number of paces, like a sentry on duty, while the awful tide of hatred surged higher and higher in his brain. It was like a treadmill of fury, and, fantastically, words that he vaguely remembered as Biblical coursed like fire through his seething brain. "The winepress of the wrath of God." Was that what he was treading in that hour? And what was it that came out of the winepress? That also he remembered with a vividness of which his commonplace imagination had never before been capable. And again the mist about him and the ground on which he walked was red—red as blood.

He felt the sweat running down his face. Why had he not killed the fellow the night before? Harvey had suggested it, and he had thought him mad. Surely Harvey had been the sane one of the two! But he would remedy the omission now. The weapon he carried was stout enough to smash a man's skull, and the strength of a giant nerved the hand that held it. It would not take long—perhaps one—perhaps two—at the most three—crashing blows! And the world would be rid of a vile scoundrel, and Viola would be safe.

Till now he had kept his thoughts rigidly turned away from her, but at this point like a revolving light wheeling shorewards they became suddenly focussed upon her. With the scattering of a man's brains on the blood-red earth, her freedom would be secure. He saw the pale anguish of her face as he had seen it last, and it pierced him like a sword thrust through his heart. It was the last drop in that terrible cup, and he drank it to the dregs.

There came the sound of running feet behind him and he swung around. A stout square figure came lumbering round the corner of the inn, and impetuously he moved to meet it. It was Joe Penny.

The landlord had evidently run some distance, for he was desperately out of breath, and as Tiggie reached him he swayed and would have fallen but for Tiggie's firm support. As it was, he doubled up with the breath whistling through his spent lungs and hung upon him almost in a state of collapse.

"What on earth . . ." said Tiggie. "What's the matter, man? Is everybody gone mad today?"

"No—no, sir!" Through tearing gasps Joe Penny answered him. "I'll be all right—in a minute. Give me time—get my wind!"

Tiggie gave him time. He did more, half-dragging and half-carrying him to a bench outside the porch upon which Joe sank thankfully, panting as though he were nearly at bursting point.

But in a very few seconds he was speaking again, forcing out his utterance in great jerks. "I come—to find you, sir. There's no one else—to help. All the boys—are out with the nets. You been through it—yourself, sir—and you know. I said to my mate—if anyone can help him—it's Captain Turner!"

"Who's wanting help?" said Tiggie.

But in that moment a strange power was upon him—and he knew.

Joe Penny gulped out his answer. "The gentleman—what come here—last night. He's fell off the cliff in the fog. He's down on Slimby Rock—crying for help."

"My God!" said Tiggie. "My God!" And it was as if his heart turned over with the words, uttering its own desperate cry for help.

Joe straightened himself a little, beginning to recover. "Jim's waiting up there, sir, and there's another bit of rope in the shed I said I'd bring. There's his two boys as well. They can pull on that all right, and I'll be able to help. But it's no good any o' them going down. It'll take a strong man to lift him. But I knew you'd come along, sir, if I could only find you. I'm better now. We'd best be getting along. It's life or death to him."

He staggered to his feet. Tiggie was standing stiffly motionless, as a man might stand before a firing party in the last terrific moment of his earthly existence. His heart was beating with wild spasmodic jerks. Life or death! Life or death! And what was life but one long fierce struggle to shipwrecked creatures fighting to escape perdition? And he—the sub.ime fool of them all—was he going to cast himself overboard to give his enemy place?

The blood was pounding in his temples. He could hear it like a muffled drum, urging him to some sort of action. But to what? To bring life to a man who, if he had crossed his path but a minute earlier, would even now be lying dead?

"My God!" he whispered again, and he spoke as a man in agony. "My God! Not this! I—can't!"

(To be continued)

Foreign Affairs

If Hard Tasks Make Brawny People, Supermen and Women Ought to Be the Product of These Times.

(By H. W. L. MAHOOD)

FRANCE

Domergue Has Task of Major Proportions.

Since the Versailles Treaty on leader of the French Republic has been beset by greater difficulties than has Domergue. Stubbornly France has maintained the gold standard. Her debts are crushing. In French enterprise and industry there is but little buoyancy. Taxation burdens are becoming increasingly heavier. Serious discontent can be sensed throughout the whole nation. The people are restless, but militantly patriotic.

Domergues task is twofold. The noise of discord must be quieted. The budget is to be balanced. By the regular procedure of the Chamber it was evident that the feat could not be accomplished. Domergue and his Cabinet received from the Chamber authority to manage the finances of the nation, if necessary by decrees extra-parliamentary. Having thus voted, the Chamber immediately adjourned in order to give a free hand to Domergue.

The sum needed to balance the budget is not excessive. But a little added to the much often means a crash. France is on the edge of bankruptcy. This danger comes not because France does not have the natural resources. It does come because she cannot liquidate.

Debt service requires twelve billion francs. Economies of four billion francs are all that are required to balance. Ordinarily that would be a very insignificant matter. But that little is the crux. Her debt service requires twelve billion francs. Military expenses, ten billion; colonies, nine billion. Not much, but it is the pound that is breaking the camel's back.

* * *

GREAT BRITAIN

David Lloyd George Has Lived Years in

To say that David Lloyd George has lived within the walls of Parliament for nearly half a century is a remarkable record. No other man living in the public affairs of a nation is as familiar with events of worldwide significance as is he. His knowledge of world questions is encyclopaedic.

In 1890 he was sent to Parliament from the Boroughs of Caernarvon, Wales. The seat has been his ever since. Doubtless it will be his as long as he consents. He is not now a regular attendant. Whether present at the sessions or absent, his views are sought. Not one event of high significance transpires without his judgment being sought by Parliament.

This British statesman has always been at his best when out among the people in advocacy of some humanitarian movement. In this respect he resembles William Jennings Bryan. Neither of these men was at his best within legislative walls. Neither, was a time-serving politician. Both were statesmen.

David Lloyd George's home is at Church, Wales. He had some tastes like those of William Wordsworth. Both loved the garden. To dig and rake and plant and watch the growth and the unfolding of vegetable and flower delighted the poet and the statesman.

When not out in the garden or giving an interview to some member of Parliament, he is usually busy at the writing of his Memoirs. The British people have begun to see David Lloyd George against the background of his varied and brilliant career. As often as the story of the Great War is read by old and young, David Lloyd George will be seen standing there in the foreground of that tragedy, and pointing the way of the victor.

He opposed the Boer War. The people rose in anger at him. Calmly he viewed the situation, and met it. Only a man with the gift of statesmanship could have won.

* * *

AUSTRIA

Hitler Rather Than Dollfuss Will Decide the Future of Austria.

Efforts have been made by Italy and some other nations to disrupt the attachment of Austria for Germany. History tells of the conquest of the Hapsburgs by the Hohenzollerns. But long before the Great War that contest was lost to sight in the effort to build up a great Empire. The Versailles Treaty shattered this ambition. Germany, however, did not let the Treaty bury the hope of a new Germany, with Austria back in the fold.

Hitler is an Austrian. This is the clue to the welcome he received from the German people. The masses of the Austrians have not been reconciled to the arbitrary manner in which the Versailles Treaty ripped Austria from Germany. It was France that dictated what should be done.

In Austria there are a few leaders who oppose return to the former German-Austria status. Their influence is fast dwindling. Italy has not helped the situation. Hitler understands Austrian movements as does no other European leader. Give him time, and Austria of her own accord will ask for the cancellation of the Article in the Versailles Treaty which severed her political relation from Germany.

By mumbling the press in Austria the present leaders, Dollfuss, Fey, and Starhemberg have made difficult the path of Hitler. There is a homogeneous German view which is shared by the government, by the Wilhelmstrasse, and by the more politically minded leaders of the Socialist Party, and of the army. This close filiation is based on consanguinity, and a thorough-going study of the Austrian situation.

In its leadership Austria is divided. Starhemberg is a tool of Italy. On very good authority the statement has been made that Starhemberg has received considerable personal material aid from Italy. Major Fey is a man of different stamp. In sentiment he is for reconciled. If they are, Hitler will reconciled. If they are, Hitler will be as strong in Austria as in Germany.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

MONCTON, NEW BRUNSWICK.

As may have been suspected this thriving city of New Brunswick, on the banks of the Petitcodiac River, derived its name from the famous British soldier, General Robert Moncton, who was second in command to Gen. Wolfe at the capture of Quebec.

In the early days the city was known as "The Bend of the Petitcodiac," from the fact that the little settlement was situated on a bend of the river. In 1855, when the town was incorporated, it was named Moncton, in honor of the war hero.

Originally, the site of the city was an Indian encampment. The date of the arrival of the first white settlers — a colony of Frenchmen — is shrouded in obscurity. German emigrants, comprising nine families, settled there in 1763, having crossed over from the then British colony of Pennsylvania. The date of arrival of the first English settler was lost in the early records.

A Thought

We make provision for this life as if it were never to have an end, and for the other life as if it were never to have a beginning.

* * *

Do not look forward to what might happen tomorrow; the same everlasting Father who cares for you today will care for you tomorrow and every day.

One-Minute Pulpit

And He shall judge the world in righteousness. He shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness.—Psalm 9:8.

LUCK CHANGES

WINDSOR, May 8 (CP) — James White, 35, colored, is not sure whether he is lucky or unlucky. Twice he has been shot but now he is to do two months on a theft charge to which he pleaded guilty.

About a year ago he stopped some slugs from a shotgun when he tried to place peacemaker between a man and wife. His second "shooting" was a nick in the hip by a bullet from a policeman's revolver. White was trying to evade arrest on the theft count.

The Cape Verde Islands are to have four new lighthouses.

New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster

COUPON

Clip 3 Coupons

on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98c

This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green textile leather, gold stamping.

Special—To get it bound in embossed art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edge and thumb indexed, send $1.00 extra.

NAME 13

ADDRESS .....

.....

Toronto Industrials Show Gains in Late Rally

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	185	175	185
Con Bake	10	....	....
Br Am Oil	14¾	14⅝	14¾
Bell Tel	119¼	119⅛	119⅛
Burt F N	33	....	....
Brazilian	10⅞	10⅝	10⅝
B C Power 'A'	28½	....	....
Can Cem	7⅞	7⅝	7⅞
C P R	16¼	15⅝	16¼
Can Dredge	23	22¾	23
Can Cár and F	7	....	....
Can Canners	7⅛	....	....
Can Oil	13¼B	....	....
Can Malt	32¼	31	32¼
Cockshutt	7⅜	7¼	7¼
Dom Bridge	33½	32⅝	33½
Dist Seagram	17⅛	15⅞	17
Ford 'A'	22	21¾	21¾
C G E	140B	....	....
Gypsum L and A	6½	6	6½
Cons Gas	180	179½	179½
Goodyear	120	....	....
Ham Bridge	66¼	....	....
Walk G and W	34⅛	30⅝	33⅞
Int Nickel	2805	2740	2805
Int Util A	3⅛	....	....
Int Util B	96	....	....
Ind AAlcohol	12½	10½	12⅛
Imp Oil	14⅝	14⅝	14½
Imp Tobacco	11½	11⅜	11⅜
Con Smelt	156	150½	156
Laura S	68	....	....
Loblaw 'A'	17⅝	17	17⅝
Mont L R and P	37⅛	37	37⅛
McC Frontenac	13⅛	13¼	13¼
Massey Harris	5⅝	5	5½
Moore Corp	16⅞	....	....
Page Hersey	66B	....	....
Pressed Metals	16⅛	....	....
Power Corp	11⅝	....	....
Photo Eng	18¼	....	....
Int Pete	26½	26	26½
Std Steel	6¼	6	6¼
Serv Stations	8⅛	8	8
Sup Petro	26½	....	....
Stand Paving	3	2½	2¾
Tip Top Tailors	10½	....	....
C Vinegar	26	25½	25½
Wineries	7½	....	....
Westons Ltd	37¾	....	....
Steel of Can	36	35¾	36

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	60⅝	58¾	59½
Auburn Auto	38	36½	37⅝
Allied Chem.	139½	138½	139½
Amer. Can.	99	96¼	98
Amer. Smelting	41⅞	37¾	41¼
Am. Rad. & S.S.	14½	13⅝	14⅛
Am. & F. Pow.	8⅝	7⅝	8⅜
Am Tel. & Tel.	112	109¼	111¾
Am. Roll. Mills.	20½	19½	20⅜
Anaconda Cop.	14⅜	13⅜	14¾
Balt. & Ohio	24⅜	23⅛	23⅞
Baldwin Loco.	11¼	10⅝	11¼
Bordens	23⅞	22¼	23⅝
Byers, A. M.	23	21¼	23
Bendix Avn.	15⅞	14⅜	15⅞
Beth. Steel	36⅛	25⅛	36⅛
Briggs	16⅞	16	16⅞
Canada Dry	23⅛	21¾	23⅛
Can. Pacific	16¼	15⅞	16¼
Case, J. I.	56⅞	55½	55⅞
Chrysler	44½	42¼	43⅜
Columbus Gas	12⅜	11⅞	12⅜
Coca Cola	117	116	116¾
Cons. Gas	33½	32½	33⅜
Com. Solvents	23⅜	22½	23
Dupont	88⅞	84½	88¼
E. Bond & Share	13⅜	13¼	13⅜
El Pwr & Light	5½	5¼	5⅜
El. Auto L.	22¼	20⅜	22⅛
Freeport Texas	41⅞	39½	41⅞
Fo m	15¼	14⅜	15
Gen. Electric	20⅞	15⅝	20⅞
Gen. Food Prods.	33⅜	33¼	33⅜
Gen. Motors	34¼	32⅝	34
Gillette Saf. Raz.	10½	10⅛	10½
Goodyear	33⅛	32	33
Houston Oil	22	21	22
Hudson Motors	14⅜	13¼	14⅜
Int. Harvester	37	35⅞	36⅜
Int Nickel	28⅝	27½	28¼
Interboro R.T.	8⅜	8½	8½
Int Tel & Tel	12⅜	11⅜	12½
Johns-Manville	51⅜	49	51
Liquid Carb.	30⅝	29	30½
Mont. Ward	27	25½	25⅞
Mack Truck	27¼	26⅜	27¼
Nash Motors	19	17½	19
N.Y. Central	29⅛	27¾	28½
Nat. Biscuit	39	38½	39
Nor. American	16⅜	15½	16¼
Phillips Pete	17⅞	17I	17⅝
Pack Motors	4¼	4	4⅛
Penn Ry.	31⅞	30⅝	31⅞
Pennock & Ford	56⅝	55⅝	56⅜
Pub Serv N.J.	34½	33¼	34½
Radio Corp	8	7⅜	7⅝
Radio-Keith	3¼	2⅞	3⅛
Raybes-Manhat	17⅞	17⅜	17⅞
Royal Dutch	34⅝	..	..
Sears-Roebuck	44⅞	42⅞	44¼
Simmons Bed	17	15⅜	17
Stan. Brands	20¼	19¼	20¼
St Gas C Elec.	10	9⅝	10
St Oil N.J.	43⅜	42⅜	43¼
Socony-Vac.	15⅝	15⅛	15⅝
Studebaker	5	4¾	5
Stewart-Warn	8	7½	7⅞
South. Pacific	23¼	21	22⅝
Texas Corp	24⅝	24	24½
Timken Roll B	31⅜	30¼	31⅞
Union Pacific	125½	124½	125½
Union Carb.	41⅜	40½	41⅜
United Corp.	5¼	5	5¼
U.S. Rubber	21⅜	19½	21¼
U.S. Steel	46	43⅞	45½
Vanadium Corp.	23	20½	22
Westinghouse	35	33¼	34¾
Warner Bros	6¼	5⅜	6¼
Yellow Cab	4⅝	..	..
Woolworth	50½	48⅝	50½

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE AND CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme Oil	26	24	25
Ajax Oil	114	110	110
Ashley Gold	90	88	88
Aldermac	26	22	26
Amity	2⅝	2½	2½
Bagamac	23	21½	22
Base Metals	150	147	148
Barry-Holl.	15	14	14
Bobjo	50	45	50
Braylorne	1360	1300	1325
B.R.X.	121	115	119
Bunker Hill	3½	3	3½
Brownlee	4	3½	3⅝
Canadian Kirk.	9	8	8½
Cent. Patricia	68	63	68
Cent. Manitoba	10¾	10	10
Coast Copper	450	..	..
Cassels-Tre.	61	55	61
Dalhousie Oil	40	38	38
Dome	3790	3725	3750
Dominion Ex.	4	4	4
Eldorado	280	255	280
Federal Kirk.	5¼	5	5
Hollinger	1535	1500	1535
Home Oil	148	145	146
Howey	127	123	127
Hudson Bay	1305	1250	1305
Int. Nickel	2805	2740	2805
Kirk. Hudson	65	..	..
Kirk. Lake	52	48	51½
Kirk. Townsite	28	25	27
Columasio	32	29	31
Bear	48	40	47
Little Long L.	450	440	445
Gunnar	160	150	154
Harker	11¾	11	11¾
Gods Lake	145	135	140
Bradian	270	265	270
Halcrow	31	29	30
Green St.	88	80	82
Lakeshore	4975	4925	4975
Lee Gold	15	14	14
McIntyre	4350	4200	4325
Macassa	267	252	262
Maple Leaf	63	60	62½
Malartic	68	63	66
Mining Corp.	190	189	189
Malrobic	5	4¾	4⅞
Moffat-Hall	6	5¾	6
McMillan	65	62	65
McVittie-Grah.	73	69	73
McWatters	42	40	41
McKenzie	121	115	120
Noranda	3975	3825	3960
North. Canada	30	28	29
Nipissing	286	..	..
Nordon	12	11¾	12
Pend Oreille	95	90	91
Pioneer	1260	1250	1250
Premier	130	127	128
Reno Gold	99½	..	..
Ribago	1½	..	..
Sherrit Gordon	111	107	108
Siscoe	214	210	212
San Antonio	384	378	378
Sudbury Basin	179	170	179
St. Anthony	53	51	52½
Sylvanite	262	243	260
Teck Hughes	610	585	610
Towagamac	60	55	60
Thompson Cad.	45	43	44
Ventures	90	..	..
Waite Amulet	128	127	127
Wayside	39½	38	39½
Wright Harg.	900	845	900
Wainwright	68	65	68
White Eagle	35½	33	35½

UNLISTED

Beattie	118-123
Bathurst	4½-5¼
Smelter Gold, asked	30
Great Bear Dev.	32-34
Young Davidson, asked	38
Toburn	148-155
Red Lake Gold Shore, ask.	42
McLeod Cockshutt	39-42
Long Lac Lagoon	24½-25½

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

CHICAGO.

	July	Sept.	May
High	84⅝	84¾	85¾
Low	81⅝	82⅝	83⅝
Close	84⅝	84¾	85¾

WINNIPEG.

	July	Oct.	May
High	70¼	71⅞	69⅞
Low	67¾	69⅝	67
Close	70⅛	71⅞	69⅛

LIVERPOOL CABLES.
Due—⅛ to ⅛ lower.
Open—⅛ to ⅛ higher.
1.30—Unch. to ¼ lower.
2.15—⅛ lower to ⅛ higher.
Close—⅛ to ¼ higher.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, May 8 (C.P.). — Stock rallied substantially to-day. The upturn was led by the metal shares. Virtually all parts of the list participated in the rebound. Following initial hesitation, the volume increased in the late demand. U.S. Smelting and Homestake Mining rose about 6 points each. American Telephone, Dome, Chrysler, and Johns Manville gained 2 or more each. Transfers approximated 2,000,000 shares.

DOME MINES DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, May 8 (CP). Directors of Dome Mines, Ltd., to-day declared an extra dividend of $1.50 and a quarterly disbursement of 50 cents, both company paid an extra of 25 cents and a quarterly dividend of the same amount.

Because new types of automobiles in Germany consume less gasoline, "gas" consumption in the country was less last year than in 1932 although the number of cars doubled.

$34.69 GOLD AT LONDON

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP)—Bar gold in London down four cents to $34.69 an ounce in Canadian funds; 136c 1½d in British funds. The fixed $35 Washington price amounted to $34.92 in Canadian.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

GOLD STOCKS STAGE RECOVERY ON TORONTO MINING SECTION

Heavy Buying During Late Trading Following Reversal of Trend at New York.

DOME DIVIDEND HELPS.

TORONTO, May 8 (CP)—Gold and base metal issues staged a recovery on the Mining Board of the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day, heavy buying coming in during the afternoon following a reversal of trend on the New York market. The big group was helped by the unexpectedly heavy dividend voted by Dome and gains up to $1.50 were registered. Noranda featured the base metal with a gain of 75 cents to $39.50. Silvers, with few exceptions closed on top, and the oils lagged.

Yesterday's selling wave continued to-day but dried up at the end of the first hour and in the second hour the tape lagged as traders awaited definite action on the New York Board. Dome closed $1.40 higher at $37.75, Hollinger 20 up at $15.20, McIntyre up $1.50 at $43.50, Teck up 15 at $6.05, and Wright Hargreaves up 40 cents at $8.90.

Gains in the base metals were unimportant outside of Noranda's advance.

Market Briefs
as Received Over Wire
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786—2787

STANDARD FACTS AND FORECASTS.

NEW YORK, May 8.—One of the striking things about the current market is the way in which it has moved down through the crucial March low prices with only a flurry of opposition. Usually these decisive movements are accompanied by climatic activity, but lately the resistance to the decline was almost perfunctory. This feebleness of the constructive forces does not add to the brightness. Unless business should do the unexpected and hold at a high level, the basic condition making for higher stock prices will be lacking. There is considerable talk about "taking off the brakes" from business, but it is well to keep in mind that political background against which the administration necessarily acts. In addition as a depression cure it has lost most of its charm and great part of its political effectiveness. It may be questioned whether the government after seeing its great monetary program turn out poorly would be soon willing to modify extensively its "reform" program, which is still politically effective. With these two gone, the new deal would look rather shrunken. Surmises such as these are obviously poor material on which to construct a stock market viewpoint, but nothing better offers itself at the moment. Prices are now close to a level at which they have repeatedly stabilized since the latter part of November, but at this stage there is no way of judging how effective this new support will be.

POLICE REFUSED TO KITCHENER

(Continued from Page 1)

tion with him in connection with the situation, Mr. Humphries said. It was pointed out to the commission that ample provision was made under the Constables' Act for the swearing in of special constables to deal with local problems.

There always had been and always would be the closest co-opperation between the provincial and local police forces, he said, and in some circumstances requests for the provincial force were acted upon. Where it was deemed the problem was a purely local one, affecting the property of citizens, it was left in the hands of local authorities.

Capt. James Abraham Speaker At Meeting

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the local branch of the Canadian Legion held last evening under presidency of Mrs. F. Millard, an interesting talk dealing with the work of the Pensions Committee of the Legion of which committee he is chairman was presented by Captain James Abraham.

On behalf of the branch, Captain Abraham expressed thanks to the ladies for the splendid work they were performing and for their untiring co-operation. He made special reference to the work of the Relief Committee, of which Mrs. Joseph Mills is convenor.

UNION MEN PREFERRED.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 8 (C.P.).—Two young women—the only feminine members at the Tennessee Federation of Labor convention—have set notions about husbands.

Her husband, if and when she marries, must be "a union man," said Miss Ruby Leobetter of Dyersburg.

"And that goes for me, too," agreed Miss Lucille Thornbaugh of Knoxville.

Palitizer Winners

NEW YORK, May 8 (C.P.).—The winners of the principal Pulitzer prizes for 1933:

Music scholarship: Percival Price of Ottawa, Ont., $1,500, for his symphony, 'The St. Lawrence."

Best novel by American author: "Lamb in His Bosom," by Caroline Miller of Baxley, Ga., $1,000.

Best book on American History: "The People's Choice," by Herbert Agar, $2,000.

Best American play: "Men in White," by Sidney Kingsley, $1,000.

Best newspaper reporting: Royce Brier, of San Francisco Chronicle, for his account of San Jose lynchings, $1,000.

Best American biography: "John Hay," by Tyler Dennett, $1,000.

Best volume of verse: Robert Hillyer, $1,000.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.) — The Toronto wholesale cheese market continued weak to-day, with dealers buying large colored pasteurized and government grades at 10c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New large, 11c; twins, 11¼c; triplets, 11½c. Old—Large, 17c; twins, 17¾c; triplets 18c; medium large 15½c; twins 15¾c; triplets 16c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., were reported unchanged today.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co. here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A-large, doz., 17c; grade A-medium, 15c; grade "C" 14c.

Churning Cream — No. 1 lb., 21c; No. 2, lb., 19c. Butter—No. 1, solids, lb. 19¾c; No. 2, 19¼c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag, 90 cents.

ONTARIO HOG PRICES

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.)—Following a general drop from higher figures, bacon hog prices in Ontario market points to-day steadied around $7.50 per cwt., f.o.b. shipping point.

To-day's prices: Kitchener, $7.50, unchanged; Peterborough, $7.50, unchanged; London, $7.40, down 10 cents.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, May 8 (CP)—Eggs—Grade A-large, 19 to 19½c; grade A-medium, 18 to 18½c; grade "B," 17 to 17½c; grade "C" 15½ to 16c. Butter—Fresh No. 1, 19¼c. Cheese Ontario, 9½ to 10c. Potatoes—Quebec's, 80 lbs., 85 to 90c; N.B. Mts., 80 lbs., 90 to 95c; 10 lbs., fancy, 17c; 15 lbs. fancy bakers, 27 to 28c; P.E.I. Mts., 90 lbs., $1.10 to $1.20.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, May 8. — (C.P.)—With supplies of more than 1,900 head, made up of 700 fresh receipts and 1,200 holdovers, cattle trade on the Toronto livtstock market continued dull this afternoon. Prices held about steady on morning sales but the market feeling, however, was weak. Calves, hogs, sheep and lambs sold steady at unchanged prices.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion livestock branch were: Cattle, 730; calves, 880; hogs, 1,180; sheep and lambs, 100.

Butcher cattle ranged from $5.00 to $5.25 with a few at $5.50. Common butchers sold as low as $3.00. Weighty steers brought $4.50 to $6.25, with bucher cows steady at $3.75 to $4.25 for choice and at $2.50 for common. Good bulls moved within a range of $3.25 to $3.75 with bolognas mostly at $3.00. A few fed calves made $5.00 to $6.50 and one went at a top of $7.00.

The calf division sold steady after a slow opening and prices held at Monday's 50 cent gain. Choice vealers ranged from $6.50 to $7.00 with plain kinds at $4.00 to $5.50. Hogs settled unchanged at $7.50 f.o.b. for bacons, $7.85 off truck and $8.25 off car.

Spring lambs, the only grade of lambs on the market, went from $4.00 to $8.00 each. Sheep continued steady at $3.50 to $4.00 for good light ewes.

Livestock quotations

Cattle, calf, hog, sheep and lamb quotations remained unchanged on the Toronto Livestock Market today.

HASTINGS

Mr. F. Gilbert of Toronto was a week-end visitor of friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clapper of Cobourg were Sunday guests of relatives in the village.

Mr. M. Beavis has moved into the apartments over the post office.

Born—On Saturday, May 5th to Mr. and Mrs. W. Wellman, a daughter.

Races — Entries — Selections Comment — Results

Kenilworth Entries

(For Wednesday, May 9).

First Race.

Purse, $700, claiming 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 5½ furlongs (12):

Sweepvale 96, Rock Crest 113, X-Sugar Jar 105, X-Acajou 103, Carhan Queen 113, Confection 103, X-Miss Roseland 103, Young Kitty 108, Wentworth 110, Miss Mash 110, Aymond 115, Childish Talk 100.

Second Race.

$700, claiming 4-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (8).

Donny Johnny 109, Sand Runner 109, Joe Macaw 109, X-Black Diamond 104, Compdore 109, X-Flying Fanton 102, Barter 113, X-Stephanus 104.

Third Race.

$700, 4-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (9):

X-Don Tasker 107, Athol 109, X-Steel 104, Darkskin 109, Timon 109, Egad 109, Try Come 107, Cornelia Clara 107, Craigoo 109.

Fourth Race.

$700, claiming 4-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, seven furlongs (7):

X-Milestone 102, Sea Kale 110, X-Pertoxical 105, X-Clarry 109, Crowland Bess 100, Corsinax 107, X-Stepoff 100.

Fifth Race.

$800, claiming 3-year-olds and up, seven furlongs (7):

Small Play 101, Brilliant Rose 101, X-Sweepstaff 96, Tallihoo 97, Broadway Lights 117, X-Live One 110, X-Herowin 96.

Sixth Race.

$700, claiming 4-year-olds and up, six furlongs (11):

Seemego 112, Stormer 114, En Evant 112, Fred Almy 114, Hillsborough 117, Siss 112, X-Lough Port 112, Sir Byron 114, X-Style Corner 109, All Forlorn 112, X-St. Nick 107.

Seventh Race.

$700, claiming 3-year-olds and up, mile and 70 yards (5):

X-Fall Apple 110, Butter Beans 111, War Plane 115, Waterway 115, Black Target 116.

X-A.A.C. Clear and fast.

KENILWORTH SCRATCHES

First—Lipton.
Second—Uma, Pertoxical.
Fifth—Irene's Bob.
Fifth—Crap Shooter.
Sixth—Margie Lou.
Track—Clear and fast.

INSULL FAILS TO RAISE BOND SET AT $200,000

(Continued from Page 1)

son pleaded again, but the court had decided.

Deputy Marshals assisted the broken man to his feet, marched off with him to the office of U. S. Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheimer where only an hour before Insull had been delivered into his custody by Burton Y. Berry, the Presidents messenger, who had brought him from Istanbul.

"I am resigned to jail," the elder Insull was quoted by his son.

Marshal Laubenheimer said it was likely Insull would be removed to the Cook County Jail, where the county houses short term prisoners for the government for 85 cents a day.

For the second time in his life, the second time to-day, Insull was fingerprinted at the jail.

Dr. McNarmara, who during her trial attended Dr. Alice Wynekoop, murderess, reported the prisoner had hardening of the arteries and intermitten pulse and a mitral murmur, advised that Insull be kept in the jail hospital, and this was ordered.

Suffers Heart Attack.

Insull, 74-year-old prisoner of his government, collapsed to-day as he reached the office of the United States Marshal who was to take him into custody.

A heart attack prostrated Insull and he was placed on a cot for medical treatment.

The old man's face became ashen grey as he lay on his side. physicians were summoned hurriedly.

Samuel, Jr., at his father's side, said the long walk through the train shed and the excitement of his return through the crowds at the Union Station had been too much for him.

"It was longer than he had walked for years," said Samuel, Jr., "and coupled with the excitement it was too much."

Insull was talking to a group in the Marshal's office when his strength gave way.

He sank into a chair and gasped: "I walked more this morning than I have in the last four months."

Someone called for a glass of water and it was brought to him. After a few sips he lay down on the couch for a few moments' rest, saying with labored breathing, "I'll be all right in a few moments."

While his condition did not appear to be serious, Dr. George B. Corey of New York, who joined the party at the coast and looked after Insull during the train trip, said: "He was in fine health all during the trip, but they walked him a long ways since he got here, and he's in pretty bad shape now."

Accompanied by his son, Insull entered Marshal Laubenheimer's office, where the latter signed the receipt for his custody and then briefly read the warrants on which he was formally arrested.

The aged financier talked briefly to reporters after this formality and said he didn't feel very good.

"The stairs were too much for me, I'd like to lie down for a moment."

He was helped to the couch, and holding his overcoat used it as a pillow. In a few minutes he was asleep, while his son made efforts to locate Dr. Arthur R. Elliott.

One untoward incident had marked the departure of Insull from the station. He had just seated himself in the automobile when a man ran up and tried to stick a hand through the window. Capt. Pat Collins of the police escort shoved the man away so violently he sprawled on the sidewalk. The car moved away quickly, and the stranger picked himself up and melted into the crowd, leaving spectators to guess whether he wanted to strike Insull or merely shake hands with him.

MURRAY'S SELECTIONS

AT KENILWORTH

First Race—	Second Race—
Young Kitty	Black Diamond
Rock Chest	Donny Johnny
Sweepvale	Joe McCaw
Third Race—	Fourth Race—
Steel	Sea Kale
Athol	Stepoff
Timon	Clarry
Fifth Race—	Sixth Race—
Broadway Lights	Fred Almy
Live One	Hillsborough
Tullihoo	All Forlorn

Seventh Race—
Butter Beans
Waterway
Black Knight.

Kenilworth Results

FIRST RACE.

$700, The Chatham, maiden 2-year-olds, foaled in Canada, 4½ furlongs:

Pestle, 112, Remillard, 36.10, 13.05, 9.00.

Miss Worthmore, 109, Vercher, 6.00, 5.20.

C-Asperge, 109, Aimers, 9.10.

Time, 56 1-5.

Aromette, Gay Sympathy, A-Which Prig, Cudgeldru, C-Faine, A-Primsweep and Fine Feathers also ran.

A-H. C. Hatch entry; C-Hon. D. Raymond entry.

SECOND RACE.

$700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, 5½ furlongs:

Cruising, 109, Peters, 8.00, 3.35, 3.60.

Meloy, 111, Foden, 2.70, 2.55.

Sorcery, 110, Horvath, 5.00.

Time, 1.07.

Wacket, Refiner, Tow Town, Bubbling Out, Kalola also ran.

Don C. Best Joined Manufacturers Life

The many friends of Don C. Best will be interested to learn that he is now associated with the Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, Barrie Building, under E. L. Sackville, Branch Manager of the Company for Central Ontario.

Mr. Best—or "Don" as he is familiarly known—is thoroughly a Peterborough boy, having been born here and educated in the city's Public and High schools. For the past several years he has been a shining light in the city's curling fraternity and in 1929 was skip on the team which won the Ontario Junior Tankard Championship.

Mr. Best, in his new position, will be a city representative for the company in Peterborough and district.

Work Is Reviewed By St. John's Class

At the regular business meeting of the Womens' Friendly Bible Class of St. John's Church, the president, Mrs. G. Pakenham, was enthusiastically welcomed back after her long absence from the presidential chair through illness.

The various reports showed much work accomplished. Mrs. C. Willson, sewing convenor, reported several quilts completed and sent out, with nine more on order.

The refreshment committee agreed to cater for the A.Y.P.A. banquet, which will be held on May 16th.

The business meeting was closed with prayer by the president, after which dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Vollans and her assistants.

King Is Luncheon Guest Of Commons

LONDON, Eng., May 8. (C. P. Cable).—The king and queen of Siam had luncheon at the House of Commons to-day as guests of Captain Victor Cazalet, conservative M.P. who was a public school colleague of King Prajadhipok at famous old Eton.

It was believed to be the first occasion on which a ruling monarch had taken a meal in the precincts of the House. Their Majesties also saw an item of British pageantry which King George himself has never seen—at least not since his accession to the throne. This was the small but imposing procession of the speaker on the opening of the House.

The king in the distinguished strangers' gallery and the queen in the speaker's ladies' gallery remained in the House during question time.

BRITISH HOUSE POLICY SCORED

Opposition Claim N. Zealand's Trade Offer Should Have Been Taken.

THOMAS DIFFERS.

LONDON, May 8 (C.P. Cable).—Political circles were stirred to-day by an assertion of the Opposition in the House of Commons that the Government had erred in failing to act on a New Zealand offer of decreased protective duties against British imports in return to assurance of continued free entry to the United Kingdom of her primary products.

Coupled with this was a statement in the House of Commons last night by Malcolm Macdonald, son of the Prime Minister, and Under-Secretary for the Dominions, who declared he would not say the United Kingdom was satisfied with the progress made by Canada and Australia in giving effect to the agreements they signed at the Ottawa economic conference.

The New Zealand offer yesterday provoked a heated debate in the House in which Sir Herbert Samuel, Liberal Opposition leader, maintained the Government should have given a definite answer to the Dominion's request. To Sir Herbert's support came L. S. Amery, former Conservative Dominion's Secretary, who claimed the Government answer to the request, fyled last autumn, had been evasive.

J. H. Thomas, Dominions Secretary, however, maintained the Government could not have granted such a guarantee to New Zealand without taking the same course with the other Dominions.

Mr. Amery said he could see nothing contrary to the practice of Imperial policy in having different trade agreements with different Dominions.

The debate wound up late at night with defeat by a large majority of an Opposition amendment to a bill of supply seeking to reduce the grant to the Dominions Office.

AUSTRALIA TO CURTAIL BUYING.

ADELAIDE, Australia.—Countries that do not buy freely from Australia could not expect a continuance of Australian custom, declared Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons in a speech at the Commonwealth Club here to-night.

Australia would be forced to confine her custom to those countries buying from her, the Prime Minister added.

FRANK TEMPLE ELUDES PURSUIT

Police Trace Tips in St. Thomas Area Fruitlessly —Hunt Continues.

MURDER CHARGE LAID.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 8 (CP). — Inspector Cousans, Constables Caveley and Noakes of the Provincial Police, County Constables Sharp and Gilbert have returned from Port Bruce district, where they ran to earth a clue that Frank Temple had been seen by a farmer there. They located the man the farmer saw and found he was a resident of the district.

Coroner Ewin opened an inquest into Constable McGregor's death at Williams Funeral Home this morning. The jury viewed the body and visited the scene of the fatal shooting and adjourned until May 18 for the taking of evidence.

The dead officer's funeral will be held Thursday afternoon.

Murder Charge Laid.

A charge of murder was laid by Chief of Police Ketchabaw this morning against Frank Temple, Sr., alleged slayer of Police Constable Colin McGregor Monday morning. No charge other than that of stealing bicycles, upon which officers yesterday sought to arrest him, has been laid against Fred Temple, who is under arrest at Memorial Hospital.

Frank Temple's wife, his son Frank, his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gose, are held at material witnesses.

DISTILLERY ISSUES AGAIN

Fractional Advances Seen in Oils, Steels, Construction and Miscellaneous Stocks.

FOLLOWS NEW YORK.

TORONTO May 8.—(CP)—Selling pressure worked itself out around mid-day on the industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange and in the final hour the list staged a nice rally net gains up to two points being recorded. The recovery was lead by a turn upward on the New York board. Distillery, Brewery, Metal issues responded locally and other groups with fractional gains at the close included oils, steels, construction and miscellaneous issues.

Smelters gained 6 to 156 and Nickel 50 to $36.

Walkers common sagged to 31 in the morning selling and sold above 34 in the last half hour. The close at 33¾ was up 1¾ net. Distillers Seagrams gained ¾ net and Industrial Alcohol more than a point. Brewers and Distillers added 10c for the day.

Joins The Business Of George W. Hall

George W. Hall who has been in the hairdressing business in his present location on Charlotte street for twenty out of the twenty-three years since he first opened up in this city ,announces that Mrs. M Dulyea has become associated in business with him.

The latter comes to this city from Brockville where for the past eight years, she has operated her own hairdressing and beauty parlor establishment. An expert marceller and finger waver and beauty culturist, Mrs. Dulyea is to occupy a section of Mr. Hall's store, which has recently undergone complete redecorating inside and outside. Mrs. Dulyea's equipment includes Nestle permanent waving machines.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS ATTEND MISSION AT THE CATHEDRAL

Rev. Father Howard Preaches on the Subject, "Venial Sin."

WOMEN'S WEEK.

No diminution in numbers was apparent in the large congregations present yesterday evening to hear a very forceful sermon delivered by Reverend William Howard on the subject, 'Venial Sin'.

Previous to the sermon, Rev. Father McCann in his opening remarks and announcements congratulated the women of the parish for their sincere cooperation thus far evident in the mission and exhorted them to continue and persevere in the good work so auspiciously began.

Choosing as his text, "He that is unjust in that which is little is unjust also in that which is greater (St. Luke 16:10). Father Howard said "Sin interferes with the sublime end of man's creation. Venial sin although not an offence in a serious matter, nevertheless is greater than man imagines. Small sins inevitably lead to greater offences. Venial sin is an obstacle to that perfection of sanctity to which all men are called." Regarding the punishments of purgatory in the next life reserved for venial sins, Father Howard continued, "They are not eternal, yet they are held to be as intense as those of hell. And because of venial sin, the soul dying in it must expiate its neglect in little things until entirely purged. Only then is it ready for Heaven into which nothing defiled may enter. If venial sin is such in the eyes of God, it follows that mortal sin, that is a more serious breaking of the laws of God is a greater evil and has greater consequences."

Then Father Howard enumerated the tragic effects of mortal sin. Deprivation of the grace and love of God upon earth and if the soul died unrepentant in that state—the loss of eternal happiness.

"The effects of sin are evident in individuals and in peoples and nations. They are evident in crime, lawlessness, poverty, squalor, sickness and in the industrial evils afflicting the world of today."

In conclusion he exhorted his hearers to turn to God in their continued avoidance of sin and sinful occasions. "Where there is sin" concluded Father Howard there can be no love of, or service to God".

At Mission devotions this evening one of the most instructive timely and important of the series of mission sermons will be delivered when Father Coghlan, C.S.R. will speak of the virtues that should adorn Christian family life.

AND GIVE SOME MAN A JOB

WEEK OF MAY 5th to 12th

SATURDAY and MONDAY
HOME INSPECTION Days

These days are so designated as to suggest to you that you go through your homes and consider just where some improvement might be made by cleaning, renovating, etc. You be your own inspector.

TUESDAY
COMMUNITY DAY

Any community is judged by the tidiness and cleanliness of its streets, parks, etc. Those responsible for this department of the city's life have and will co-operate further to do their share in making Peterborough a more beautiful community.

WEDNESDAY
PAINT and REPAIR DAY

Both interior and exterior of many homes, factories, etc., will need repainting or repairing. A little paint here and there adds dollars to their appearance. Then, too, there are alterations and repairs which will need to be done possibly, so this is the time to do them.

A Message from the Mayor

Again I hasten to most heartily endorse the annual Clean-up – Paint-up – Give-some-man-a-Job Campaign which will be conducted next week.

An orderly clean community reflects an industrious people and so we should all enter this wholeheartedly and endeavor to do our part for our own as well as for the sake of Peterborough. The suggestion as given to give some man a job during this time, if thoroughly considered and acted upon, will be a step in the right direction. There are many capable men who would welcome this temporary employment and you need only telephone the Relief Office and a man will be supplied.

Here's success to your co-operation and a more beautiful city.

ROLAND DENNE, Mayor.

Make Peterborough More Beautiful!

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP—Clean up back yards, alleyways, lawns, vacant lots, trim trees, paint your home, store, office, factory, repair verandahs, fences, shingle your house, change partitions, do some needed plumbing, tinsmithing, interior decorating, paperhanging, wash windows, etc., etc., and many more odd jobs. If you require a man, telephone the City Relief Office, 933W.

THURSDAY
Discarded CLOTHING Day

If you will take a look through your wardrobe it will no doubt reveal many garments which you will never wear again and which might be very acceptable by some less fortunate. Here is your opportunity to get rid of accumulated clothing.

FRIDAY
SANITATION DAY

Besides being necessary to health it is important that all refuse in the form of decomposed fruit and vegetables, etc., be cleared away and every sanitary precaution taken in the home and elsewhere—make Peterborough a Sanitary City.

SATURDAY
BEAUTIFICATION DAY

To make this week complete some consideration should be given to flowers about the home, factories and parks. The parks will be taken care of and the majority of factories are very particular about their lawns and flower beds. What can you do to improve the property about your home?

SPONSORED BY THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, MERCHANTS AND CITIZENS

MUSSOLINI TAKES BACK SEAT AS HITLER BECOMES DICTATOR OF 70 MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

Rise of Nazism in Germany is Spectacular Phenomenon.

COPIES MUSSOLINI.

LONDON, May 8 — When humorless Adolf Hitler fired a bullet in the Munich city hall in 1923 to open the Bavarian German labor revolution he began a journey which in a decade was to make the Austrian house painter the most powerful ruler in Europe, the absolute dictator of 70 million people, and the "ghost' that sent a dozen neighboring governments hurrying to the munition makers.

In the main muddled Germany fitted exactly into the Fascist requirements, plus military and territorial humiliations. It was ruled most of the time by a social democratic coalition, representatives of the trade unionists, though it kept a middle path between its tenacious electorate and the gigantic industrial magnates. Gradually, however, it gave ground, countenancing wage cuts and increasing taxes on the middle class "white collar groups.

Like balm Hitler's fiery words crept into German hearts: "That the Reich lost the war only by the Marxist-Jewish-Pacifist stab in the back: that equality must be hers again in arms; no more reparations; restoration of colonies and territories."

Copies Mussolini

But the Ludendorff-Nazi putsch fiasco which sent Adolf to a military prison for a year did not halt the new recruiting to his swastika-decorated troopers, whose discipline and methods of action he borrowed from his great teacher, Mussolini.

Communism had found in Germany one of its most fertile soils, and the philosophy of its seven million voters and constantly growing ranks terrified the propertied classes into quick action. Campaign funds poured in steady streams into the brown shirt-coffers, while hundreds fell in the bloody guerilla skirmishing between the hammer and sickle and the hooked cross. And when the Nazi deputies to the reichstag swelled into hundreds. Hitler began to demand the chancellorship.

The Social Democrats, unable to agree on a course of action against the illegal private armies and the brawls, gave away first to a Catholic Centrist government, followed by the return to power of the Junkers, though they had almost no parliamentary support, and ruled virtually by suspending the constitution. With the passing of time in 1932, people began to weary of the Nazi-Communist brawls and the chaotic coalitions. Elections showed unmistakably that the tide was swinging back to a Social Democratic majority, sufficient perhaps to constitute a single party government.

But the industrial barons who had financed Hitler, realising it was imperative to act before the Nazi tide retreated, forced Hindenburg's hand. On Jan. 30, 1933, Hitler became chancellor. At once he moved to crush his enemies. The reichstag fire became the means for annihilating the Communists, the Social Democrats were dissolved, and the Catholic party surrendered voluntarily.

Black Shirts Tame

"Gleichschaltung" — co-ordination of 70 million Germans into a single pattern—was enforced with a fury and a terror that made the Italian black shirts nursery maids in comparison. Pacifists, Socialists, Communists, Jews, were murdered, and beaten, and by tens of thousands herded in concentration camps —a million storm troopers (S.S. and S.A.) with ten years of pent-up restraint, combed the land, bludgeoning a submissive populace into conformity. Trade unions were suppressed and the press absorbed as a propaganda machine, as integral parts of the new "Totalitarian state," patterned on the black shirt corporation with powerful industrial leaders guiding the "labor-employer" guilds.

The chief electoral supporters of Fascist movements come from the middle classes (the little man). In Germany, however, the elaborate promises contained in the Hitler program as their reward so far have been dispensed with, the regulation of business, the destruction of the great department stores, and the lowering of interest rates. Hourly wages were cut and prices rose, and income taxes, unlike Mussolini's actions, increased 10 per cent. in the lower brackets.

Hitler's greatest triumph, however, is political. In seven months he wiped out the 20 principality border lines within Germany, to make the reich a single unity, thus accomplishing what the Iron Chancellor Bismarck was too weak and too fearful to attempt.

In the field of international diplomacy, Hitler accomplished wonders in restoring the tradition of Prussian might as a military nightmare. His National Socialist platform had promised a third reich, containing 80 million Germans, and bringing under its control the 20 million Teutons inhabiting the nations surrounding it: France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, and a dozen more.

Austria in Between

Prime move in the Nazification of these territories dealt with Austria. And in the present world cauldron, with its aggressive national encroachments, the Hapsburg morsel has become the centre of a struggle between the two greatest exponents of Fascism, Italy and Germany. Stripped unmercifully by the treaty of St. Germain, impoverished Austria attempted to survive as a free nation. Anschluss (union with Berlin) was taboo, for Mussolini had no desire to face a powerful neighbor on his northern frontier.

In Vienna, the Social Democrats had established a model government that gave the lower classes cheap housing, welfare services, and wage security. Outside the capital, a hostile farmer element, the Christian Socialists, looked with envy on such benefits. Prince Starhemberg, leader of the Fascist Heimwehr, financed by Mussolini, denounced the Viennese, and fought with the Austrian Nazis which Berlin was supporting. With the crushing of the Social Democrats in February of this year, and the outlawing of the Nazis, Dollfuss, leader of the Christian Socialist coalition, announced the formation of the "Christian Corporate State," copying Mussolini, his patron. The usual conclusion followed, and a feeble nationalism finds new sustenance in the Danubian Entente formed by Il Duce to prevent Hitlerism from spreading southward.

Reactionary Austria

When the preliminary draft of the new Austrian constitution was announced, it marked the highest tide of reaction to appear so far in present western "democracy," a return virtually to Metternich absolutism of a century ago. The nation becomes a "Catholic Christian Corporative State," with a president, for whose election or appointment there seems no provision, and responsible to no one. He can make laws at will, amend the constitution without interference, even from the population at the election polls. Four deliberative bodies, appointed from the chief executive in governing. The orthodox Fascist restrictions on individual freedom and liberty of the press were quickly enacted.

The ever recurring rumors of the return of the Hapsburgs found virtual affirmation recently with the news that exiled Prince Otto and his family are to abandon their Belgian castle soon. Restoration plans fathered by Prince Starhemberg, die-hard royalist and Austrian strong man, call for Otto's aeroplane flight to Vienna, to return triumphantly to his ancestral throne escorted by the heimwehr guard of honor. Perhaps this time Il Duce and the little entente will countenance a Hapsburg revival as the proper setoff for a turbulent Hitlerism.

Thomasburg

Mr. Malachi Cassidy had the misfortune to break his right arm on Wednesday while cranking his car. Dr. H. E. Welsh reduced the fracture.

The Junior Farmers Association held a very successful dance here in the Odd Fellows Hall on Wednesday evening, a large crowd attending. Lunch was served at the midnight hour. Music was furnished by Plainfield Orchestra. Mr. J. Calvert of Wallbridge calling for the quadrilles. The proceeds amounted to $40.

Larry OBrien and his travelling show gave an open air program here on Tuesday evening. Mr. O'Brien had a black bear which seemed very tame.

Mr. Clare Carter lost four valuable sheep through dogs while a number were seriously injured. Mr. Thomas Coulson and Mr. Clarence Carleton also had several sheep killed.

Mr. John Dudgeon re-opened his cheese factory last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bateman entertained a number of their friends on Saturday evening.

Mrs. R. Diamond and baby from near Peterborough are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens here.

Mr. Ross Wilson returned to his home at Smith's Falls on Wednesday after a few weeks visit at the home of Mr. Harry Lee.

Mr. Earl Bateman who has spent the past six weeks with his parents, left on Thursday for Goward to resume his work there.

Mr. and Mrs. Murney Hamilton entertained visitors on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. James Brown spent Thursday with friends in Belleville.

Mr. Grantley Burleigh of Roslin spent Tuesday evening at Mr. W. Harrison's home.

Master Ronald Sherry spent last week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherry.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Elliott entertained Dr. H. E. and Mrs. Welsh of Roslin on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dudgeon and Miss Mae Lee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter on Thursday evening.

Miss Irene Robinson spent Wednesday night with Miss Rose Rivers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Kellar spent Thursday evening with his father, Mr. Steve Kellar at Moira.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

Predicts War, 1940

H. G. Wells, internationally-known British novelist and writer, tips his hat to New York as he arrives on the Washington for a brief visit. His first prediction on arrival was that next war would start in 1940.

HOUSING SCHEME IS URGED UPON

(Continued from Page 1)

difference that we will have to pay for it anyway, but I say it does make a difference." Relief payments should be made from the Federal treasury, he declared, and thus paid for from the national revenue.

He alleged that the Council had not done "the fair thing" with monies obtained from the Government for relief works since the full cost of such works was placed on the taxpayers. He said he did not think the taxpayers could be forced to make payments for such works. "There is going to be a reckoning soon," he concluded.

When Mr. McMurray's resolution came up for the Council's consideration, Alderman Hamilton asked, "Haven't we passed resolutions along this line before?"

Alderman Tuggey replied, "No," and immediately launched into a description of the burdens the small taxpayers are bearing as a result of relief costs being charged into taxes. He urged that "the time is practically here to ask the Federal and Provincial Governments to pay more of the costs of relief."

Alderman Macdonald asked, "Do you think now is a good time to try it?"

Alderman Tuggey replied, "I certainly do with all these millions being spent for unemployment relief works."

Mayor Denne asked if anyone else wanted to discuss Mr. McMurray's suggestion. Apparently no one did, so the Mayor said, "We'll let it stand."

Mrs. Lundy, another member of the unemployed group, read an address in which she urged work for the unemployed at 40 cents an hour.

REALISTIC DREAM.

ATLANTA, May 8 (C.P.).—P. H. Hughes, 32, dreamed that he was in a burning building, that he was jumping out the window—and he did.

He crashed through a screen, fell five feet, and was taken to a hospital with a broken leg.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
(Effective Sunday, April 29)

Going East—
4.55 p.m.—Indian River, Norwood Havelock Daily except Sunday
7.40 p.m.—From Toronto Daily except Sunday
11.00 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls Ottawa Montreal Quebec Boston and New York Daily except Sunday
11.10 a.m.—Sunday only to Havelock
1.30 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston Perth Ottawa Smith's Falls Montreal, St John, Boston and New York daily.

Going West—
4.50 a.m.—Toronto, Guelph, Goderich, Hamilton, Galt Woodstock St. Thomas London, Chatham Detroit, Chicago, and New York daily.
7.50 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit, and Intermediate points Daily except Sunday
9.35 a.m.—To Lindsay and Bobcaygeon
3.50 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit Chicago, and intermediate points between Peterborough and Toronto Makes connections with the Trans-Canada Limited for Winnipeg and Vancouver, Daily except Sunday.
8.48 p.m.—Sunday only for Toronto and points West.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS TIME-TABLE.
(Corrected to April 29th)

8.35 a.m.—For Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo London, Windsor, and Detroit.
12.01 Noon—For Port Hope, Cobawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Philadelphia, and New York. Connects at Port Hope with the Maple Leaf Ltd. for London, Windsor, Detroit, Port Huron, Flint, and Chicago. Makes connection East-bound for Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal.
1.45 p.m.—For Lakefield.
5.15 p.m.—For Lindsay, Toronto, and connects at Toronto with International Ltd. for London, Port Huron, and Chicago, also with the Continental Ltd. for Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Vancouver; with the North Bay, Timmins, Rouyn and Cochrane train, and with the 11.45 p.m. train for Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
8.20 p.m.—For Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cornwall, Montreal and the Maritime Provinces.
Daily—
1.30 a.m.—Pool Train from the C.P.R. Depot for Ottawa, and makes connection at Ottawa for Montreal
7.30 p.m.—Sundays Only, for Lindsay, Toronto, and makes connections for Western Canada, Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
All Trains operate on Eastern Standard Time, and Daily except Sunday from Canadian National Railway Depot, Charlotte and Bethune Streets, unless otherwise shown.

AMATEUR ORGANIST BUILDS OWN ORGAN FROM NEWSPRINT

Though He Knew Little of Construction, Victoria Man Produced Fine Instrument

BY PERCY C. RICHARDS
Central Press Canadian Correspondent

VICTORIA, B. C., May 8 — That necessity still is the mother of invention in this almost ultra-civilized world, has been ably illustrated here by Frederick Hall, who having learned to play a pipe organ found he was unable to buy one on which to play.

Undaunted by the stress of financial circumstances attendant upon the situation, and fearless of the colossal task confronting him, Mr. Hall set out to build himself a pipe organ. He has finished it and gets a great deal of enjoyment out of playing the instrument of his own construction.

The manner in which it was made, however, is a fascinating story. It is another romance in the life of a newspaper, for ordinary news paper played an important role in its construction. In fact it is news paper that provides the music, for out of pulp paper, secured from one of the Victoria dailies, Mr. Hall made the pipes for his organ.

The instrument is an imposing one, although having only one manual. The tone is true and mellow, and in the opinion of some organists has better tone than is obtainable from pipes constructed of soft metal.

Mr. Hall really had no intention of constructing the pipe organ he now possesses. He owned a reed organ and thought that he might convert it into a pipe instrument, by using the wind blower, and the tubing in the reed, and attaching them to the pipes he planned to construct.

Pipes Made from News Print

This he has completed. He made some 50 or 60 pipes before he discovered the reed instruments could not be converted. By the time he had finished the pipe organ, he had made 110 pipes, and when it is remembered that each one had to be pitched right and then tuned to the other pipes, it can readily be seen that his task was quite difficult and one requiring a great deal of patience and skill.

The Newsprint Organ

What is amazing about this pipe organ is the manner in which the pipes were made. Mr. Hall had often watched pressmen in a newspaper plant change rolls of paper on the press. He noticed that the roll that had dwindled to nearly nothing still had a thickness of about a half an inch of paper on the cylinder to which it was attached.

He negotiated with the newspaper publishers for some of these rolls. Then with a sharp knife he cut the paper off the cardboard cylinder. Naturally having been wound tight the paper kept its circular form even after being removed from the cylinder. This made it easier for Mr. Hall to take several sheets of this paper and glue them together to form a cylinder of the size he wanted.

Mr. Hall during the course of an interview stated he had no knowledge with regard to pipe organ construction when he began. He built the instrument on what he learned from books he obtained at the public library.

Omemee

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Luxon of Toronto were visitors at Mr. and Mrs. H. Lamb the early part of last week.

Mr. William McBrien of Brighton visited Dr. H. McPhee on Thursday.

Mr. A. Adams visited friends in Orono on Friday.

Mr. Lowry of Bethany visited friends in this village on Friday.

Mrs. Touchburn of Peterborough spent a few days recently with her mother, Mrs. Bent.

The ladies of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church held their May meeting on Thursday afternoon. The second vice-president was in the chair and the roll call was answered by a verse from the Scripture starting with the letter M. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. R. Williasomn. The devotional leaflet was taken by Mrs Eggleston. The introduction of the study book "Living Issues in China" was given by Mrs. Reddick and was followed by readings by Mrs. Weir, Mrs. Haygarth, Mrs. Reddick, Miss Race, and Mrs. Morcombe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown and three daughters of Cobourg visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Brown and two sons visited Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, of Peterborough, on Sunday.

Misses R. Jones, M. Grey and G. Laidley were visitors to Lindsay on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Deyell and son, of Lindsay, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Deyell.

Miss Marion Rea motored to Oshawa on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Clemett of Peterborough, visited Mr. and Mrs. F. Clemett on Sunday.

Mrs. McPhee and Mrs. W. Henderson were visitors to Lindsay on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Bradburn and little daughter, of Kingston, visited at the home of the former's mother over the week-end.

Mr. C. Mackey of Lindsay was home for the week-end.

Mr. H. Wellington of Toronto was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sloan.

Mrs. J. Wylie and Mr. V. Fee visited relatives here over the week-end.

Mr. G. Morton of Kingston was at his home over Sunday.

Mr. L. Frost of Lindsay visited Dr. McPhee on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell of Lindsay were Sunday guests of Mrs. Burgomaster.

Miss P. Hunt of Peterborough was with his grandparents over the week-end.

Mr. Horace Reddick of Madoc, accompanied by a number of boy friends, visited his parents, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Reddick, on Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Hayes and Mrs. Rea returned home on Saturday after spending two weeks in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkin of Toronto were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mackey Friday and Saturday.

HOME BAKERY IN BREDIN SHOP

Weston Bread Co. Moves Distribution Depot to Hunter Street.

TWO RECENT CHANGES.

Two recent bakery changes in Peterborough indicate a lively competition in this business.

The Weston Bread Company have moved their distribution depot from the former Bredin Company shop in Dublin Street to 191 Hunter Street, opposite the Bell Telephone Company building.

Since then The Home Bakery has acquired the old Bredin plant and begun manufacture of an extensive line of bread and pastry products. J. M. Scott of Havelock and S. W. Reynolds of Colborne are engaged in this enterprise, with Mr. Scott and J. S. Reynolds in active management of the business.

"Every dollar we make stays in Peterborough," Mr. J. S. Reynolds told The Examiner this morning. "We are employing local men and believe that The Home Bakery will appeal to many householders in the city and district. We are already manufacturing, but have just completed our organization this week."

Weston's Expanding.

In moving their local headquarters to Hunter Street, the Weston Company desired larger and more central accommodation for their distributing depot. When they first came to Peterborough they bought the Bredin business and have eleven employees on their local staff, with a delivery fleet of eight wagons and one truck. These men are all local residents.

Acreage in Greece devoted to crops this year is 10 per cent greater than that of 1933.

Put Your

FOR SALE Sign

Where Cash Buyers Will Notice It . . . .

Sticking a peg-sign on your front lawn can't bring very healthy results — because only a limited number of people will see it! But put your for sale sign in the form of a Classified ad in our pages—and you're sure to get results, because hundreds of readers will see it the same evening! Don't trust in disinterested transients—talk to interested readers for results.
Use our classified columns.

The rate is 1c a word and figure with a minimum charge of 25c for any ad. The cost is so low that you have everything to gain by inserting any type of classified ad. Phone 1600 and we will do the rest.

THE PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER Ltd.

43 CANDIDATES ARE CONFIRMED BY BISHOP OWEN

Bishop of Toronto Conducts Confirmation Service at St. John's.

PRESENTED BY RECTOR

Candidates Urged to Keep Their Allegiance to Great Cause of Christ.

Through the ancient and hallowed rite of confirmation, which was performed by the Right Reverend Derwyn Trevor Owen, D.D., D.C.L., Bishop of Toronto forty-three young men and women were last evening accepted into full membership in the Anglican Communion at St. John's Church.

Venerable Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave, rector of St. John's presented a class of forty candidates consisting of fifteen young women and girls, and twenty-five young men and boys, including his youngest son Patrick Blagrave a member of the choir; while the Rev. J. L. Hughes, rector of St. George's Church presented three candidates from the Normal School consisting of two young women and one young man.

Addressing the confirmation class, in the presence of a large congregation prior to the laying on of hands, His Lordship, commended them to keep their confirmation vows, "right to the end." Referring to their allegiance "to the great cause of Christ," he stated, "keep that allegiance forever—not for to-day; not for this week; but forever."

Four Main Thoughts

At the outset of his address, the Bishop said he wished to speak to the confirmation class of four things in connection with confirmation. His first thought was of the preparation needed in connection with what he termed, "the most ancient service hallowed out of the ages of Christian antiquity."

Dealing more particularly with the form of service of confirmation, Bishop Owen, led up to the point in the service where the candidates are required to make sacred promises in the presence of the congregation. The promises he said, dealt with the reunciation of evil, and the determination to do right.

In taking those promises, His Lordship pointed out that by the "laying on of hands" the power of God, or the grace of God was made available to all who sought it.

Turning to his last thought, the Bishop spoke of the need of persistence. "We must persist in our religion and faith," he urged strongly. "You must keep it up right to the end. Your allegiance to the great cause of Christ, must not be for to-day; not for this week; but forever."

The surpliced choir was in attendance at the service, and under the direction of Frederic G. Mann, L.Mus., the anthem "Oh How Amiable-Paning" was presented.

Immediately prior to the laying on of hands, the choir and congregation all kneeling sang the hymn, "Come Gracious Spirit."

It is interesting to note that Bishop Owen, who spent a part of his youth in this city was ordained on the same occasion as was the Rev. E. R. James, who participated in the service last evening as assistant to the rector of St. John's.

RYLSTONE

The Rylstone Community League held their weekly meeting at the home of Mr. Herbert Spencer on Wednesday evening, May 2 with a good attendance.

Margaret Cocke, Devotional convenor then took charge of the program. Current Events by Lawrence Mieklejohn; reading 'Choosing Friends' by Jerrine Thomson; topic 'Enrichment Through Comradeship' by Jean Stewart; recitation, 'The Squirrel' by Georgie Rutherford; reading 'Visitors' by Leah Stewart; debate, 'Resolve that Marriage is a Failure.' The negative won.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Meiklejohn.

Monday's Deaths

(By The Canadian Press)

Brockville, Ont. — George B. Wilkinson, 66, former treasurer of Douglas County, Wisconsin, and member of the bars of Ontario, Illinois and Wisconsin.

London.—General Sir Arthur Louis Woolcombe, 74, retired commander-in-chief of the eastern command.

Philadelphia.—Hugh B. Suthland, 63, former associate editor of the Philadelphia North American.

Cork, Irish Free State. — David O'Connor, a leader in the Sinn Fein movement and at one time organizer of the Friends of Freedom in the United States.

Toronto. — Gilbert Acheson Smith, former principal of Parkdale Collegiate for 21 years and senior principal of Toronto schools.

BRITAIN STARTS WAR TO LIMIT NIPPON EXPORTS

(Continued from Page 1)

absence of any concerted proposals from Tokyo."

AN INFRINGEMENT?

By Glenn Babb

(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

TOKYO, May 8.—(A.P.)—A high foreign office official said to-day that Japan believes the British import quotas against Japanese competition infringe upon the most favored nation clause of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

However, he added, Japan will withhold retaliatory action—seeking first to protect her treaty rights through diplomatic methods and also studying the possible effects of such action upon Japanese trade with other nations.

At Osaka, textile leaders expressed the opinion the quotas, announced in London yesterday by Walter Runciman, president of the British Board of Trade, would do little harm to Japanese trade.

These authorities declared that if British action to place restrictions on Japan's exports to Crown colonies, starting Wednesday, goes no further than Mr. Runciman indicated it would not be necessary for the Tokyo government to act.

Nevertheless, Saburo Kurusu, chief of the commercial bureau of the foreign office, was assigned to pave the way for a possible Japanese course of action through a study of the effects of the restrictions and the chances of reprisals.

Most Japanese trade leaders appeared confident the Dominions will remain aloof from the Mother country's trade war with Nippon.

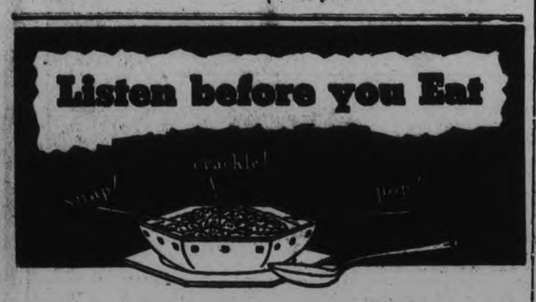
Wrecked Motorship Towed Into Victoria

VICTORIA, May 7 (C.P.).— The Norwegian motorship Childar found haven early to-day in Esquimalt after three days of distress.

Striking on Peacock Spit at the mouth of the Columbia River on Friday morning, she lost four men as she lay awash and "hogged" her way over sea-swept bars to deeper water. The United States coastguard cutter Redwing took her as she was heading to a final doom on another bar, and towed her 175 miles, a shattered hulk, breasting the full force of the Pacific.

Around Cape Flattery and into the calmer waters of the Strait of Juan de Fuca the Redwing surrendered her to the Seattle tugs Roosevelt and Forrest Crosby which brought her into port.

Listing 10 degrees to port down 10 feet at the stern, masts and all deck fittings gone or damaged, half the deckload of lumber washed overboard, the other half strewn across the port side, the Childar was a sorry spectacle from the smart ship that sailed out of the strait less than a week before, bound from British Columbia ports with lumber for South Africa via Pacific Coast ports.



HEAP a bowl with Kellogg's Rice Krispies. Pour on milk or cream. Pause . . . listen to them crackle and pop with crispness.

Then eat! What a grand flavor. Great for breakfast or lunch. So easy to digest, they're especially good for children. Ready-to-eat. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Listen!—get hungry

Agricultural Notes Of Interest To Farmers In District

HOW DEEP SHOULD VARIOUS CROPS BE SEEDED?

Wheat, oats and barley should be seeded at a depth of about two inches. Buckwheat gives better results at one inch. Peas and vetches do well at two inches. Potatoes should be planted deeper and do best between two and four inches. The smaller seeds such as grasses and clovers must be planted shallow and give best results at about one-half inch deep.

These figures are presented, based on the results of experiments conducted for the past four years, by the Field Husbandry Division at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. In this experiment thirteen different crops have been used. Wheat, oats, barley, buckwheat, peas, vetches, sunflowers and corn have been seeded at depths of one, two, three, four, five and six inches. Timothy, aslike, red clover and alfalfa were seeded one, two and three inches deep and potatoes at two, four, six and eight inch depths.

The proper depth of seeding has been influenced quite considerably by the amount of moisture present. In an extremely dry season most crops will germinate more satisfactorily if planted deeper than in a normal season due to the greater amount of moisture at the lower depth. The opposite is true in a very wet season when very shallow seeding produces better results. The above figures are based on a normal season and represent conditions in an average season in Eastern Canada.

It will be noticed that for the general run of field crops the most suitable depth to seed is about two inches with the exception of the smaller grasses and clovers. While the most suitable depth is approximately the same for most of these crops it has been noticed that some crops are more seriously affected than others by a departure from this depth. Common vetch, for instance, germinates almost as satisfactorily at a depth of five inches as at two inches. The two inch depth, however, is recommended. Next to vetch, peas were least affected by deeper plantings although they were considerably better at two inches than deeper. The germination and yield of wheat, oats and barley dropped rather gradually following planting from two to four inches, deeper plantings were followed by very marked decreases in germination and yield. The germination of corn was reduced to a greater extent than sunflowers following deeper plantings but both fell off quite markedly when planted deeper than two inches. Buckwheat was influenced most of all the crops and germination was depressed very considerably, when planted deeper than one inch.

The above recommendations refer to crops grown on sandy loam soil. On heavier clay soils, generally speaking, slightly shallower plantings should be employed.

CORN FOR ENSILAGE

In a series of tests, conducted over a period of years by the Division of Forage Plants, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the varieties of corn commonly offered for sale have been carefully compared on the basis of yield. The results of these tests, have shown that while the large, late varieties, such as Eureka and Red Cob, have yielded the highest tonnage of green fodder, when reduced to the more comparable basis of dry weight they have not proven superior in yield to the somewhat but earlier varieties, such as Wisconsin No. 7, Golden Glow, Leaming, Longfellow, Compton's Early, and Salzer's North Dakota. For Eastern Canada generally, therefore, the following varieties are recommended:—

Dents—Wisconsin No. 7, Golden Glow, and Leaming.

Flints — Longfellow, Compton's Early and Salzer's North Dakota.

Compared with the dents, the flint varieties are about 7 to 10 days earlier, but on the average are slightly lower in yield. The dent varieties are preferred by many farmers because they do not tiller heavily like the flints and are therefore somewhat easier to harvest.

One bushel of seed of any of the above varieties should be sufficient to plant 2½ to 3 acres in rows 3½ feet apart. Best results have been secured when the plants are not less than 6 to 8 inches apart in the row.

Harvesting is often governed largely by the weather, but the crop should be allowed to mature beyond the "late dough" or "glaze" stage before it is cut.

CLAIM EMPIRES OF TIMBER GIVEN

(Continued from Page 1)

his entry and criticised the convention for not inviting him to extend a civic welcome to Premier George S. Henry who addressed the meeting.

Henry Raps Drys.

Premier Henry threw out a challenge to temperance forces to run candidates in the various ridings, and accused them of "wobbling" on the question. He wanted to know why the temperance forces had not criticized Mitchell F Hepburn and his party for supporting the Government's wine and beer legislation, but instead concentrated their attacks on the Government.

Mayor Davis' entry into West Kent promises a three-cornered fight. Besides Mr. Bedford there is the Liberal candidate, Arthur St Clair Gordon of Wallaceburg.

The two other candidates to enter the political wars last night were Thomas A. Murphy, Conservative in the Toronto riding of Beaches, and William Lehtinen, who was chosen Communist candidate for Timmins.

Attorney-General W. H. Price opened the campaign in the Ottawa district when he criticized those who compared the Ontario and Quebec debts. Ontario's assets were greater than Quebec's, he declared, and this province had services unknown in the Quebec province. Ontario had a great Hydro system; had spent money on farm and veterans' loans and other services.

Timiskaming Conservatives will select a candidate at Englehart on May 16. A. J. Kennedy, member for the riding since 1923, will again seek nomination, and Mayor O. J. Thorpe of Haileybury and George Mitchell, K.C., are mentioned as possible candidates for the candidature.

Bruce Conservatives have postponed their convention until May 17. It was originally slated for May 10 at Port Elgin. The Liberals will make their choice on May 9. East Lambton Conservatives are scheduled to pick their man a Watford on May 16, with Howard Fraleigh, present member, expected to be the choice again.

MUST LIGHTEN CANADA'S DEBT

(Continued from Page 1)

department estimates will be up for discussion.

The Senate meets tonight.

Unite Legislatures.

A legislative union of the three prairie provinces to cut the cost of government in Canada was urged in the House of Commons yesterday by D'Arcy Plunkett, Conservative member for Victoria, and it might be wise, added the British Columbian, to apply the same thing to the Maritime provinces in the east.

Canadians have been over-governed, insisted the Pacific Coast member while the budget debate was in progress. Unless steps were taken to join Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, "we shall have them continually coming to Ottawa and knocking at the doors of parliament for money."

Mr. Lawson found in the tactics of Hon. J. L. Ralston (Lib. Yarmouth-Shelburne) a procedure familiar to lawyers—that of "setting up straw men for the purpose of knocking them down." He was more definite in his resolution, continued Mr. Lawson, when abandonment of the policy of "economic nationalism" was advocated.

Mr. Lawson believed it unfair to compare Caanda's 1933 trade figures with those of 1929. It would have been fairer to make a comparison between Canada's figures in relation to the world at large for these two years. It would then have been seen that while the world trade had dropped 68 per cent, that of Canada had declined only 62 per cent.

He was opposed to the gold tax, even with the improvement over the original proposal announced by the Prime Minister last week, Mr. Bradette said.

ANNUAL GRANT SEYMOUR FAIR IS CUT IN HALF

(Continued from Page 1)

people did not spend in the town on fair day, but felt that a display building for the merchants might help them.

Councillor Long, supporting the original motion, thought that Campbellford was a farmers' town, and without this business many merchants would have to close up, pointing out that the tax sale would have happened if a grant was given or not. He thought it was money well spent in advertising and brought money back into the town.

Councillor N. H. Thompson moved an amendment to the amendment calling for a $200 grant as a compromise, but received no support.

Replying to some of the criticism, Mr. Horkins stated that he had started in business in Campbellford with very little, and had made what he had from the farmers' trade. Any good merchant should not be afraid of the mail order house, for it was their own fault if they could not compete with them. "If you took away the farmers' trade from the town," he said, "you would have to close the stores."

A request from Bernard Kerr for a license to run the John L. Hay dance hall was granted, on condition that arrangements be made to pay the current taxes before the license was issued. Councillors Long and O'Sullivan sponsored this action.

The rate of wages for employees on the streets was set the same as last year: Man, 25c; man and team, 45c.

A new silent policeman was ordered erected at the west end of the bridge, and Councillor O'Sullivan stated that he would secure prices on railings for erection at the east end of the bridge to make this secure for foot traffic.

A request from James Jacobs, local plumber, to tunnel under the paving on Grand Road, for the purpose of connecting a sewer with two houses belonging to Mrs. Percy Naylor, was left to the Road and Bridge Committee to investigate and report back on. Irvin Hutcheon was given the privilege of connecting onto a water main for the laying of a summer service, on condition that he look after the expenses of this work.

Councillor Sarginson, reporting as chairman of the Band Committee, stated that only two town instruments could be located when the committee met with the band, the other instruments belonging to the Northumberland Regiment. The two instruments in question, he said, were just junk.

Councillors J. R. Battisby, O'Sullivan and Sarginson were appointed a committee to investigate the matter of replacing the present town scales with ten ton weighers, and reporting back to the adjourned meeting of the council.

Councillor O'Sullivan, chairman of the Road and Bridge Committee, was given power to purchase catch basin covers with the necessary tile, as they were required.

On motion of Councillor Battisby, Clerk John F. McGregor was instructed to write a letter of condolence to Mayor George Tice of Belleville, on the decease of his wife.

In the absence of Mayor H. N. Carr, Reeve N. Alex MacColl presided over the council, which adjourned to meet on Tuesday, May 15.

SLAUGHTER OF 13,000 WOMEN IN CHINA RELATED BY EXPLORER

(Continued from Page 1)

Davis of the Berliner Tageblatt were pursued for seven days by the Wahabi in 1930 when they had ventured too far inland.

Lost Tribe Still Exists

My own experience in the company of Von Weisl in the same direction resulted in complete failure and came near costing our lives. We had set out there on the theory that some of the ten lost tribes of Israel may be found living there. I still believe this, as does Von Weisl, and some day we will, I think, furnish the proof of our theory. Maybe after the next war, if we are not too old to ride camels.

Andre Malraux is famous for his luck. Winning a high literary award and unravelling one of the deepest mysteries of all time, all in a year's time, is not an everyday occurrence. I don't think I ever regretted anything more than my refusal to accompany Malraux to Arabia. His offer was very tempting. Malraux and I were in Germany together last year. He asked me at the time to come on the trip which has now produced this phenonemal discovery.

Although a red-hot revolutionary, in fact he is a vice-president of the Association of Revolutionary Writers and Artists, Andre Malraux is an official in the French government. This enables him to draw a salary. I don't think he has ever seen the inside of the office where he is supposed to work, but that is part of the job. In this respect he is like Paul Morand, that other famous French writer, who is an assistant secretary (nominally) in the ministry of colonies. Malraux is in the ministry of foreign affairs. Paying promising young literary men a salary and thus enabling them to travel is one of those subtle but highly commendable devices of the French government to foster literary talent. Washington and Ottawa papers please copy!

Had British Rifles

"I knew I could never hope to penetrate in the secret desert where so many have failed in the past," M. Malreaux said to me when I looked him up to hear an account of his extraordinary adventure, "so I chartered an aeroplane in Damascus and flew south. We circled around for five days in the direction of the Persian gulf. The tribesmen fired their rifles at our plane, but missed as usual. Some day," he said, "when you are down there, please find out for me how it is that the most ferocious tribes always seem to have the best make of British rifles. Yes, and brand new ones at that." I promised him I would.

"Those British-made rifles," went on M. Malraux, "do an awful lot of damage. I remember an extraordinary scene in China three years ago when I visited the interior of Fukien province. A certain city was taken by a peasant army and the rapacious war-lord who had held sway there for nine years was chased out. There was general rejoicing for the old rascal had been a hard taskmaster. Bonfires were lit and in token of the new freedom the women and the girls cut off their hair and decided to adopt the modern European style of dress. I was a participant in the celebrations and an eye-witness of what followed," said M. Malraux.

Perfectly Re-equipped

"After a week or so, the new government, feeling quite sure that the old governor wouldn't come back, relaxed its vigilance, with the result that one night the former war-lord slipped back into town and with him a new army perfectly re-equipped with British rifles and machine guns. They obtained them in one of the near-by river-ports. At ten o'clock in the morning the whole city was in a turmoil. The mayor, and council had fled and the people felt they were at the mercy of the old scoundrel. They feared a terrible revenge. To their surprise town-criers went around, though, announcing that no revenge would be taken, but that a celebration would be held that same afternoon on the large sports field outside the city, just under the walls.

"I saw that celebration," said Malraux. "It was the ghastliest thing I ever saw. Refreshment booths had been erected on the grounds as for a communal picnic. Bands were playing, thousands of couples were dancing and making merry. Then all the young girls were asked to stand aside and in the mass take up the form of the letter which in Chinese stands for happiness. You know one of those designs you see so frequently in the form of an eagle or an American flag. The old general explained that he wanted to have a photo taken from the air to send to his enemies. Thirteen thousand young women and girls in their holiday dress obeyed and grouped themselves in the huge symbol which denotes happiness. What followed is almost unbelievable.

Slaughtered 13,000 Women

"Scarely had they taken up their position when aeroplane came overhead, followed by a second and a third. But instead of taking photographs, the planes began to send down bombs. The one detonation followed the other. Shrieking hysterically the girls stampeded and tried to run away. They were trapped. A terrible panic ensued. Troops had surrounded the field and began to fire machine guns into the mass of women. Every shot was a hit. The bullets struck the bodies with a sickening thud. In half a minute's time the field was piled high with corpses and with writhing human forms. The wail of 13,000 trapped women sounded like a chorus from hell. But still the machine guns kept on firing. When all were down the war-lord and his officers walked through the field firing their revolvers into the faces of the wounded and those who were shamming death.

"The ghastly show did not come to an end till evening when the general ordered fire-works and Bengal lights to illuminate the scene of what he called his 'greatest victory.' It was the most horrible thing I have ever witnessed. Thirteen thousand women died that day for the crime of having cut off their hair."

"But tell me something about the Queen of Sheba's capital," I said after a while. "That is why I came to see you!"

"Can't tell you anything yet," he replied. "The city lies under the sand. You can come with us and dig it out if you feel like it."

"How long will the expedition take?" I asked.

"In six months we think we'll reach the top of the highest building," said M. Malraux.

"Six months is an awful long time. I'll first have a look at some unburied cities," I said, as I took my leave.

"Which ones?" he called back.

"Vienna, Moscow, Berlin perhaps!" I said.

"Better come with us," he insisted. "It's safer among the Arab throat-slitters than in Berlin—for you or me!"

Quality Has No Substitute

"SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

"MY IRISH ROSE" AT MILLBROOK

Lakefield Group Presents Interesting Play Under St. Andrew's Y.P.S. Auspices.

SPLENDID ACTING.

MILLBROOK, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—An appreciative and a fair-sized audience gathered in the Town Hall on Friday evening for the entertainment under the auspices of the Y.P.S. of St. Andrew's United Church, the Efficiency League of Lakefield, through its Dramatic Club, presenting the play, "My Irish Rose."

The Valley Serenaders' Orchestra provided music while the people were gathering, and between the acts, and the visiting players were introduced by B. B. Dawson, president of the Y.P.S., and the cast outlined by their pastor, Rev. Mr. Archer, of Lakefield.

Staging was well done, particularly for the first two acts when the scene was laid in the yard of the farm homestead a seascape making the background, while the stone wall and the entrance porch to the house, were covered with climbing roses, and the well of the 'old oaken bucket type', was also an attractive feature.

The play was presented with marked ability on the part of the entire cast, and though its story is familiar the audience never was wanting in interest throughout the three acts, laughing over the excited gestures of Colum McCormack, (Clifford Hurl), prosperous farmer of County Kildare, as he decided to speak to his niece, Rose Criegan (Helen Miles) who played the title role, because of her love affair with Maurice Fitzgerald (Ralph Darling), the rich Dublin artist who remains true to his "Wild Irish Rose" in spite of the difference in their social stations.

The efforts of Pegeen Burke (Hannah Webster) servant at the McCormack farm, to rouse Shawn McGilly (Jack Hendren), laziest man in Kildare, and their wild rush to hide in the well when they hear the horn of a car for the first time and think it is the Evil One himself, were among the high lights of the play. The gossip between Ann Mary McCormack (Marian Miles) Colum's sister, and the Widow Hannigan (Ethel Blake) who has money in the bank and tries to ensnare the farm owner with her wiles; was a well acted scene, as was also the appearance of a former fiancee of Sir Maurice Fitzgerald, Lady Agnes Barricklow (Etta Garbutt) who tried deceit and untruthfulness to make a breach between him and his country love; R. Dunford took the part of the wealthy English tourist (Archibald Pennywitt), with the monocle and exaggerated accent, exceptionally well, and Eileen Fitzgerald (Eva Hendren) the Dublin heiress, was an attractive character.

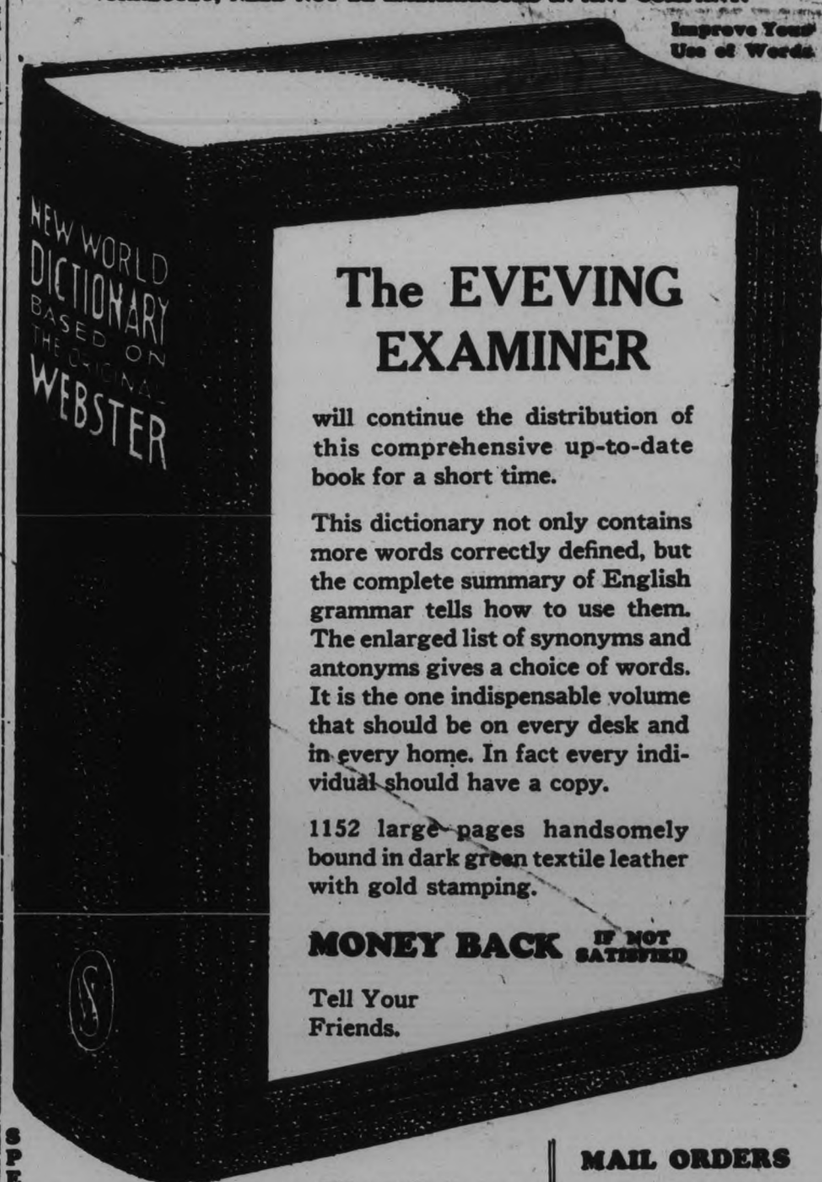
The story closed quite happily, after many humorous and trying situations, with Terry Creigan (Robert Spence), brother to Lady Fitzgerald, an exile for patriotic reasons, back in Ireland and reunited with his sister as well as reinstated in his position in the army, the Fitzgerald family lawyer, Michael Pepperdine (E. Dunford), discovering the relationship and making all clear to my lady's husband. The Country Rose measures up to the demands of her new position as the wife of Sir Maurice, exposing the wiles of her enemy, Lady Agnes, and as the final curtain drops, the cloud between Lord and Lady Fitzgerald is explained away, and all ends well.

Homemade candy was sold between the acts, and the funds of the Y.P.S. were substantially increased as the result of their share in the evening's receipts. The hostess society served a dainty lunch for the visitors before they left for home, the 'advance car-load', who arrived earlier in the evening to have the stage in readiness, being guests at the tea hour of the Misses Francis and Beatrice Jones at the parsonage.

Belgium's new stamp in memory of King Albert has a black border.

THE INDIVIDUAL, WHO CAN USE A REASONABLE NUMBER OF WORDS CORRECTLY, NEED NOT BE EMBARRASSED IN ANY COMPANY.

Improve Your Use of Words



The EVEVING EXAMINER

will continue the distribution of this comprehensive up-to-date book for a short time.

This dictionary not only contains more words correctly defined, but the complete summary of English grammar tells how to use them. The enlarged list of synonyms and antonyms gives a choice of words. It is the one indispensable volume that should be on every desk and in every home. In fact every individual should have a copy.

1152 large pages handsomely bound in dark green textile leather with gold stamping.

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED

Tell Your Friends.

SPECIAL To get it bound in art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb indexed, send $1.00 extra.

Clip 3 Coupons on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98 cents

MAIL ORDERS will be filled when postage is added.

Find Coupon Page 4

NEILL'S
"The Store of Better Values"
ALL WHITE SPORT SHOES

THE NEWEST STYLE
Something entirely new and quite different is this white Nu-Buck sport shoe for men. Made on the desirable brogue pattern with neat perforation. Solid leather Goodyear welt soles and heels. Genuine leather insoles, combination fitting. If you desire comfort and style, choose this popular model. Priced at .....
$5.00
Men's black and white leather Sport Oxford with sewn leather soles and rubber heels. This smart two-tone pattern is always a favorite for Spring and Summer wear
$2.95
Tan and cream Sport Shoe for men. Made with the comfortable Sport Rubber soles and low rubber heels. Attractive color combination make this a desirable inexpensive shoe at .....
$2.50
R. Neill, Ltd.
350-354 GEORGE ST.
"Canada's Greatest Shoe Store"

CRICHTON
CORSET SPECIALISTS
179 Charlotte St. Phone 3478
t.t.s

Blue Coal
Prices Reduced
For Prompt Delivery
Buy when the getting is good—Later Prices not Guaranteed.
Egg and Nut .$14.00
Stove 14.25
Pea 12.00
J. E. A. Fitzgerald Estate
PHONES 110 AND 111.
Coal, Coke and Wood Dealer.
11d,115

NEW ARRIVAL OF
BETTER DRESSES
We have just received a most imposing selection of new Wedding, Evening and Day-time Frocks in the various new shades of net, taffeta, lace, chiffon and organdie, plain and floral designs, and printed crepes. Also Afternoon Suits in plain and printed crepes. All at very moderate prices.
P. BLACK'S
GEORGE AT KING ST.

24-HOUR SERVICE
We Specialize in Re-Building Automobiles that have been Wrecked. Body and Fender Repairs, Welding, etc. Also Re-Painting and Re-Ducoing. All Jobs Guaranteed.
J. J. DUFFUS COMPANY
PETERBOROUGH
Tues.Sat.-tf

Wednesday and Thursday Specials
Golden West
Bread Flour 98 lb. - - $2.19
Castile Soap 10 bars 25c
English Multipliers 3 lbs. 25c
Fresh Creamery BUTTER lb 23c
Dutch Setts.. 2 lbs. 35c
No. 1 Certified Prince Edward Island Cobbler Potatoes, peck 45c
$2.50 bag.
Macaroni ....5 lbs. 23c
(Extra Special)
Haboco Stores
"QUALITY WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE"

The Peterborough Examiner
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934

86.32% OF 1933 TAX ROLL PAID

CONTRACT IS LET TO LOCAL FIRMS FOR 1935 WOOD

Permission is Granted by City Council to Establish Aviation School.

BUY 2,500 CORDS OF WOOD.

Price Delivered in City Yards is $4.85 Per Cord for Hardwood.

The purchase of next winter's supply of relief wood, a problem which has been before the City Council for some months, was decided last night. The tender of the Peterborough Fuel and Transfer Company and the Scott Coal and Wood Company to supply the city with approximately 2,500 cords of hardwood at $4.85 per cord, delivered in the city's yards, was accepted.

This wood is that cut by workers at North Monaghan Township's relief camp at Burleigh Falls, and successful tenderers, it was stated by Reeve Hy Wood, are purchasing it from the township at Burleigh camp at $3.25 per cord.

The North Monaghan Council also tendered to sell the wood to the city, delivered in the city yard, at the same price, $4.85 per cord. After some discussion it was decided, with only Alderman Stocker not voting, to accept the local wood companies' tender, since it was considered that in this tender local truckers would get the job of trucking the wood.

The City Solicitor was instructed to draw up an agreement for the wood purchase with the two companies.

The Council is not going to permit the Department of National Defence hold Peterborough responsible for the erection of any airport here. This much was made clear when J. H. Burnham's letter, asking the Council to inform the Department that the city granted permission to a group of young men, interested in aviation, to locate an airport and aviation school here under Government aid. This permission was granted but only on condition that the "city have no financial responsibility in connection with the establishment of such an airport."

"We're not going to commit the city to any expense in this connection," stated Alderman Macdonald.

Alderman Tuggey said, "There's nothing to prevent any private individual for starting up such a flying school on his own account."

See Our Flower Holders for Mother's Day
Fine assortment now on display.
Inexpensively priced at $1.00 and $2.00.
Complete with Flowers
See our windows.
Warne's
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

LOCALS

BE A TROUT.

Evidently trout do not bite at anything. They say 'what have you to offer?' Put in famous Reading Hard Coal, and while it may not be palatable, it is satisfying in the extreme. Sanitary Ice costs no more. 'Phone 3700.

dtf.

U. W. F.

Mass meeting Wednesday at 7.30 p.m. in Knights of Pythias Hall, (above Liquor Store). Special speaker. Unemployed and part-time workers. All welcome.

1d-109-5210.

CARD PARTY—TWELVE GOOD PRIZES.

Basement of Sacred Heart church, Wednesday, April 9th, 8 p. m. Come and bring your friends.

1d-109-5211.

POCAHONTAS COAL

Choice Pocahontas Coal, Red Jacket, Champion, and Helvetia Steam Coal; also all sizes of Coke in stock at current prices.

McCarthy & Johnston, Phone 96. Tues.,Fri.

ALL SAINTS DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS NANCY ANNA BROWN'S FOLKS, IN THE PARISH HALL, ON WED., THURS. AND FRIDAY, MAY 9, 10 AND 11TH, AT 8.15 O'CLOCK. ADULTS 25c., CHILDREN 15c.

3d-4-7-8-5151.

PLUMBING, HEATING, TINSMITHING

Have W R. Turner. 193 Simcoe Street. Phone 591

REPAIR EAVETROUGHING

Agents for Hecla Furnaces.

t.t.s-tf

NEW BEAUTY SHOP.

Permanent waves with curly ends. $5 wave for $3.50; $3.50 for $2.50. Free shampoo with every finger wave or marcel if booked Tuesday or Thursday this week. Open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Mrs. Dulyea, Hall's Barber and Beauty Shop, 216 Charlotte street. 'Phone 1633J.

2d-109-5189.

COURT OF REVISION

The Municipal Council of the Township of Harvey will meet at Lakehurst on Saturday, May 19th, at 11 o'clock, as a Court of Revision, to hear and determine the appeals against the Assessment Roll for 1934.

JNO. P. SMITH, Clerk.
3d,1,8,15,5094

PERMANENTS DOWN IN PRICE.

New Spring prices in permanents: Reg. $7.50 wave oil $5 (with Marroil shampoo included); reg. $5 wave oil, $3.75; reg. $3.75 Moore Wave, $2.50; reg. $7.50 Naturelle Croquignole, $5 (with Marro oil shampoo included); reg. $5 Moore Wave Croquignole, $3.75. — 296 Charlotte St. 'Phone 3095.

5d-114-5209.

GYM AND SWIMMING Y.W.C.A.

All juniors and babies, gym and dancing classes meet Wednesday afternoon 4.30. Please bring in all tickets, returns and fees. All seniors, gym classes, meet Thursday at 8 o'clock.

Swimming lessons start to-day. Junior classes Thursday 4.30; Senior classes to-night 7.30 and Thursday 6.30.

Camp shower and tea, Monday, 3.30 to 6 p.m. Y.W.C.A.

Annual meeting May 22

1d-109-5212

NOTICE.
COURT OF REVISION.

The Municipal Council of the Township of Otonabee will meet in the Town Hall, Keene, on Monday, the 4th day of June, at the hour of one o'clock p.m., to consider any appeals on the Assessment Roll of 1934.

Dated this 7th day of May, 1934.
John J. Moore, Clerk.
1d-109-5219

INCREASE SHOWN IN THE PAYMENT OF BACK TAXES

Arrears of Taxes Paid Thus Far This Year Total $39,911.16.

OUTSTANDING $165,239.91.

Bank Overdraft Slightly Increased at End of April.

Indicating some improvement in the finances of Peterborough citizens is the fact, as disclosed in the report of City Treasurer Frank Adams, that $2,565 more in back taxes have been paid into the city treasury to the end of April this year than during the same period last year.

Arrears of taxes paid thus far this year total $39,911.16, as compared with $37,346.16 last year. The total taxes paid to date on the 1933 roll is $797,000.75, or 86.32 percent, leaving unpaid $126,289.28. The total of taxes for 1932 and 1933 not yet paid is $165,239.91.

The bank overdraft at the end of April this year is $362,031.62, which is an increase of $37,112.15 over the bank overdraft on the same date last year. Payments for the first four months exceed receipts by $118,689.97, payments being $223,320.84 and receipts $104,630.87.

STATEMENT OF RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS
From 1st January to 30th April, 1934.

	Receipts	Payments
Assessments and taxes	$	$ 3,064.48
Administration of justice	191.70	3,881.87
Arrears of taxes	1,136.75
Board of Works:
Streets and bridges	184.13	4,753.23
Snow removal		6,034.13
Sewage disposal		2,100.08
Board of Education		77,000.00
Bathing beaches		17.77
Charity	248.50	4,052.23
Central Relief Board (1933)	19,580.52
Central Relief Board (1934)	25,605.02	47,998.38
County registrar	74.08
Elections and by-laws		1,047.19
Fire Department	107.89	9,304.31
Garbage		2,564.34
Gov. grant—on acc't. coll. inst. debts. for 1933	9,064.78
Health		1,245.50
Interest	542.68	4,591.90
Illuminated signs	150.00
Legal claims		1,506.75
Law and legislation		482.03
Light		7,344.07
Licenses	1,687.50
Market	8.40	533.15
Market tolls	418.34
Municipal government	51.04	4,277.44
Miscellaneous, Mfgrs.		633.92
Mothers' allawances		2,742.50
Marriage licenses	285.00	200.00
Nicholls Hospital		800.00
Old Age pensions		2,223.32
Property	132.60	1,272.72
Percentage	37.97
Police Department		8,467.78
Police court	290.75
Public Library Board		3,566.64
Postage and excise stamps		90.00
Parks	15.33	398.27
Provincial laboratory		1,006.08
Printing, stationery, and adv.		206.31
Provincial health nurse		166.64
Poll tax, (1933)	130.00
Queen Mary Hospital	68.25	1,522.76
Red Cross Society	303.49	303.49
Rents received	1,498.45
R. C. Separate School Board		8,000.00
Relief wood—account	18.07	670.69
Special grants		1,433.32
Sanitary conveniences		5.00
Tax lands	68.02
Taxes (1932)	11,392.18
Taxes (1933)	27,382.23
Unemployment relief pay rolls (1933)	1,585.07
Voters' lists		12.55
Water		8,000.00
W.W. surplus revenue	2,372.13
	$104,630.87	$223,320.84
STATEMENT
Payments in excess of receipts	$243,341.65 / 118,689.97
Overdraft, 30th April, 1934		$362,031.62

IN MEMORIAM.

CROSS.—In fond and loving memory of my dear son, John Cross, who passed away 3 years ago to-day.

"The flowers we place upon his grave
Will wither and decay,
But the love for him within my heart
Will never fade away."

Bewdley Pavilion
DANCING
Wednesday Night—Modern Only.
Thursday Night—Old Time and Modern.
Orchestra—7 Pieces
25c Each
1d-109-5218

ROSICRUCIAN ORDER
(A.M.O.R.C.)
Listen in To-night (Tuesday) at 7.15 p.m. (E.S.T.), Station CFRB. A most unusual Mystical Program, under the auspices of the Rosicrucian Order, will be broadcast on this and successive Tuesday Evenings, over this Station.

Business Opportunity
An opportunity is presented for an experienced lady in ladies ready-to-wear to take complete charge of this department with a local firm—one with some capital preferred. Write giving all particulars as to past connections, etc. to Box 5215 Examiner.
2d-8-10-5215

Weddings

GIRARD—HANRAHAN

The wedding of Catherine Agnes, daughter of Mr. M. J. Hanrahan of this city and the late Mrs. Hanrahan, and Mr. Leo N. Girard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Girard of Prince street, was solemnized by the Rev. J. C. Maloney at seven o'clock this morning at the Church of the Sacred Heart. The Nuptial Mass was attended by a large number of the friends of the young people.

Owing to the illness of her father, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. John Hanrahan, and entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mr. J. Armstrong.

Her dress of sky blue silk net, floor length, was trimmed with ruffles. She wore a white hat, white shoes and gloves, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink sweet peas with bow of white tulle.

The bridesmaid, Miss Valerie Brioux, wore pink flowered chiffon with white hat, shoes and gloves, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and mauve sweet peas, tied with mauve.

Mr. Lucien Girard acted as best man for his brother.

Following the ceremony, the immediate relatives were guests at a dainty wedding breakfast served at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Girard left for a motor honeymoon trip to Montreal. On their return they will live in Peterborough.

The bridge travelled in a grey ensemble, with matching accessories.

The gift of the bridegroom to the bride was a green gold necklace, to the bridesmaid, a bracelet in white gold, and to the best man a necktie and wear outfit.

ADDITIONAL UNIT TO INCINERATOR NOW NECESSARY

City Engineer Instructed By Council to Prepare Plans.

HEAT IS TOO GREAT.

Adjoining Sheds Caught Fire Last Week Due to Excessive Heat.

After Alderman Daniel Holland and City Engineer Parsons had emphasized the necessity of another unit being added to the present furnace of the incinerator, the Council last night decided to have the City Engineer draw plans for such an addition and the approximate cost.

Alderman Holland explained that while the present incinerator is quite capable of burning all the garbage brought to it, more heat is being created than the fire bricks can stand. "Last week so much heat was produced that the adjoining sheds caught fire and the fire brigade had to be called," he said.

With a new unit added, he stated, the present incinerator would last for 20 years, but without such a unit the present one "will be burnt out in three years."

Alderman Macdonald stated that it was his impression that the work down on the incinerator last year was to put in condition to last for many years. Mayor Denne explained that the incinerator was consuming all the garbage but it was being overloaded and the tremendous heat was a natural result.

Asked his opinion, City Engineer Parsons stated that the incinerator should have a new unit that it was tremendously overworked at present.

Alderman Tuggey declared the capacity of the incinerator should be doubled, and that he had urged the construction of another unit a year ago. Alderman Cotton explained that the new chimney was built to take care of two or three units.

Alderman Holland's resolution to get plans and an estimate of costs carried, with Aldermen Macdonald, Tuggey, McIntyre and Sloan voting against it.

On motion of Aldermen Stocker and Ellis the City Trust will be asked by the Council to investigate the advisability of purchasing ten acres of property adjoining Memorial Park, Armour's Hill, owned by the McBain estate, as an addition to the park. It was explained that this property would complete the park and could be purchased cheaply. The resolution carried.

Obituary

MRS. ROBERT BUTCHER.

There passed away at her home, 315 Burnham Street, on Monday evening, Mrs. Robert Butcher, aged 62. Mrs. Butcher, who is the daughter of the late Armar Weir and Mrs. Weir of Madoc, has been confined to her bed for the past 13 years. She is survived by her sorrowing husband and two sons, Armar of this city and Lyle in Napanee, and one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Crofts of 377 Mark Street, also one brother and five sisters.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday from the family residence, 315 Burnham Street, at three o'clock with the Rev. G. J. Bousfield officiating. Interment will take place in Little Lake Cemetery.

WED., THURS., FRIDAY
5c BREAD 5c
Sweet Relish Pickle, 9 oz. bottle 10c
Sweet or Sour Pickles, 8½ oz. bottle 10c
Fresh Pineapples, Large size 23c
Jelly Powders, 5 for ...25c
Libby's Catsup, lge. bot. 15c
Clark's Soups, 3 for ...20c
Carrots, 2 bunches 15c
New Cabbage, lb. 5c
Asparagus, 2 bunches .25c
Oranges, doz. ..20c & 30c
Lettuce, Radishes, Onions, Tomatoes, etc.
Carnation Milk, lge. can 10c
Matches, 3 for 25c
Round Steak, lb. 18c
Peameal Bacon, lb. ...25c
Beef Cuttings, 2 lbs. ...23c
Hamburg Steak, 2 lbs. .23c
Breakfast Bacon, lb. 18c
Pot Roast Beef, lb. 12c
Oven Roast Beef, lb. ..14c
P. J. HARRISON
Phone 725-2118 We Deliver

Card of Thanks

To the Citizens of Peterborough:

The Officers and Directors of the Young Mens Christian Association desire to express their thanks for the very excellent support given the Y.M.C.A. in its recent campaign for funds.

It is felt that at no period in its history has the work of an organization such as the Y.M.C.A. been as necessary as it is just now, and the directors are not only grateful for the financial assistance but for the fine comments made on the work that has been accomplished during the past trying years.

Assuring all of the hearty appreciation of your support,

I am,
Yours, faithfully,
CHAS. SHAW.
Chairman Campaign Committee.

TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF MISS LANCASTER

Private Service for the Inmates is Held at Anson House.

SERVICE IN ST. ANDREW'S.

Remains Are Forwarded to Petrolia for Interment.

Striking and impressive tribute was today paid to the memory of Miss Annie M. Lancaster, for 21 years superintendent of Anson House, formerly the Protestant Home, in private and public funeral services.

This morning a private service for the inmates, staff and members of the Board was held at Anson House, where the Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, rector of All Saints' Anglican church officiated, and this afternoon a largely-attended public service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean at St. Andrew's United Church, after which the remains were forwarded to Petrolia where interment is to be made tomorrow.

Died Last Friday

Miss Lancaster beloved by all who were privileged to know her during her long term of outstanding service as superintendent of Anson House, passed away on Friday morning last, following a brief illness contracted while away on her annual vacation. That her passing is deeply mourned was evident at both funeral services.

At Anson House where Miss Lancaster's kindly and sympathetic influence is most missed, each of the thirty men and women inmates of the institution, with exception of three who were too feeble or infirm to be present gathered in the large room in which the service was held, many of them unashamedly showing the emotion which the moment held for them and the loss of their beloved superintendent means to them.

Age Pays Its Tribute

One old lady, a Mrs. Poolman, though unable to venture too far from her room in view of her feeble condition, closely followed the service being held downstairs from her vantage point at the head of the staircase. Thomas Oldham, the oldest resident of the institution, now in his 97th year was unable to leave his room, but Henry Waters, 74, an inmate at Anson House for over sixteen years, voiced the general feeling of the residents at the institution when he told The Examiner, how great a shock the news of Miss Lancaster's sudden passing had been to all of them.

The Rev. Mr. Paterson who regretted the absence of other Anglican clergy from the service, who have all been closely associated with the late Miss Lancaster in the work of the institution explained that their absence was due to the fact that the annual meeting of Peterborough Deanry was being held at St. George's Church.

Note of Thanksgiving

In the course of a brief but eloquent tribute to the late Miss Lancaster the Rev. Paterson sounded a note of thanksgiving.

"Today," he said, "we think of one who was very close in our lives during the past years. The days that lie ahead are going to be difference without her but we are all thankful for having known Miss Lancaster and in having been privileged to draw upon the inspiration which her nobility of character provided".

"It was wonderful to be with her. I remember the way she played the piano at Sunday morning services in this room; I remember the way she tended her garden; I remember the way she took care of us all in this Home, and gave freely of her skill and sympathy to those who were in sickness".

"We are going to thank Goo that He allowed us to know her and associate with her. We must show that thankfulness in the way we live", the reverend speaker stated. "We must remember to try and show some of the virtues that she practiced so well."

The Hymns

Among the hymns sung at the private service, and for which Miss Dorothy Worboy, deaconess who is shortly leaving to participate in missionary work in the Canadian West, accompanied at the piano, were 'Rock of Ages'; 'Forever With the Lord'; and 'I Love to Tell the Story' as the closing hymn.

The service at St. Andrew's Church was virtually representative of every branch of the Protestant faith. The service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean, pastor of St. Andrew's, assisted by the Rev. G. K. Tyler, pastor of Park Street Baptist Church, who read the Scripture lesson, and the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, who led the congregation in prayer.

True Disciple of Christ

Describing the late Miss Lancaster as having been a true disciple of Christ, the speaker believed that the true essence of discipleship was in the living of a life that was meaningful and useful, and the cultivation of natural endowments.

"If I undersand the outlook which our good friend, Miss Lancaster had on life," Dr. McLean exclaimed, "it was an outlook which sought by the leading of a good and useful life to glorify God. She was generously endowed with talent which she was willing to develop with painstaking care and infinite patience to bring forth value to her kind."

He spoke of Miss Lancaster as having been a composer of verse and quoted a poem from a book of poems published by Miss Lancaster recently.

He also referred to her skill as an organizer and spoke of the benefit that many organizations throughout the city had enjoyed by her cultivation of that gift.

Touching upon what he termed the "outstanding feature" of Miss Lancaster's life and work, Dr. McLean dwelt upon her long years of service as superintendent at Anson House where he said, "She had labored faithfully and bravely."

A Real Home

"She made of Anson House a haven and a hospital for those who were near the western side of life." The institution, he felt, had been more to Miss Lancaster than a house constructed of material things. It was always her ambition to make of it a home in the real sense of the word. A home where the spirit of comfort, love and friendship might prevail.

The remains of Miss Lancaster were accompanied from Enid by her nephew, Mr. E. L. Kittredge, who was the only relative present at the services. Miss Lancaster is also survived by one sister and by another nephew. Following the services here the remains were forwarded to Petrolia for interment.

The pall-bearers, representing close personal friends of the deceased, and members of the Anson House Board, were: Messrs. Fred L. Roy, E. F. Mason, F. M. Somerville, Alderman James Hamilton, A. Mowat, and D. Drummond.

DIED

BUTCHER.—On Monday evening, May 7, 1934, Sarah Eliza Weir, beloved wife of Robert Butcher, of 315 Burnham street, aged 62 years.

Funeral on Wednesday at 3 p.m. from the family residence with the Rev. G. J. Bousfield officating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

See the Display of ELECTRIC REFIGERATORS
For Those Who Want the Best
Let us explain their Superior Qualities.
Guaranteed for 4 Years.
Watson's
'PHONE 965. Open Evening.
t-tf

COMING TO PETERBORO
TUESDAY
May 16th
THE NOW WORLD FAMOUS
M. W. LOCKE
SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN
The Only Shoe Designed and Approved by Dr. M. W. Locke, Williamsburg, Ont.
Exclusive Local Representatives:
NABORHOOD
SHOE STORE 338 GEORGE

DANCE TONIGHT
MAYFAIR
ALWAYS A GOOD TIME AT THE MAYFAIR.
JOHNNY THOMAS AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Admission 10c Ladies Free
DANCE 5c

OMEMEE A.Y.P.A. VISITS LIFFORD

Program of Musicals, Readings is Followed by Dancing.

LUNCH IS SERVED.

LIFFORD LINE, May 8. (Examiner Correspondence)—About thirty-five members of the Omemee A.Y.P.A. motored to Lifford community hall on Wednesday evening to pay a return visit to the members of Liford A.Y.P.A.

Lawrence Staples, president of the local society was chairman for the program. Rev. Mr. Holden, rector of the local parish, was present and assisted in carrying out arrangements. A brief devotional period introduced the program for the evening. Readings were contributed by Misses Vera Strachan and Lena Mulligan. Lawrence Staples rendered a vocal number, "The Little White Church on the Hill". Messrs. George Tims, Clarence Page and Ben Page played delightful violin music with Robert Sisson accompanying on the piano.

At the conclusion of the program lunch was served to the large assemblage of young people by members of the Lifford branch. The latter part of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing.

The visiting society voiced their hearty appreciation for the hospitality extended.

The Lifford Young People are commencing the preparation of a play "The Adventures of Grandfather."

SUCCESSFUL DANCE IS HELD IN APSLEY

250 Acres of Land Burned Over by Bush Fire in Methuen.

APSLEY, May 8. — (Examiner Correspondence).—A very successful dance was held in the Parish Hall on Friday evening under the auspices of the Apsley Agricultural Society, in aid of its funds, and the capacity of the hall was taxed to its utmost. Music, consisting of a five-piece orchestra, was provided by camp 4 and W. Reynolds. During the evening a beautiful silk patchwork quilt, worked by the wives of the directors, was sold by progressive auction by M. C. Ennis, and fetched the handsome sum of $20. Total proceeds of the evening amounted to $37.30, which will more than meet the deficit of the society.

The Methuen bush fire was reported under control on Wednesday. About 250 acres were burnt over, it is reported by Mr. Hess, and was a tough proposition to handle. Yesterday four small fires were reported in Chandos Township, and all being on private property, the responsibility of checking them rests on the municipality, according to a statement made by the reeve.

The camps on the highway are now running on daylight saving time, a concession that is appreciated by the workers, who thus have an extra hour in the evening for recreation, baseball being the favorite pastime.

TRENT RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carnrite motored home from Chicago with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kraus (formerly Dorothy Carnrite), who spent a few days with Mrs. Kraus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnrite, after which they left for Toronto where they will be visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Howse (formerly Gladys Carnrite).

Miss Doris Scott has returned to her home after spending a few months in Havelock where she held a position.

The Misses Mary Crawley and Jean Costello of Lindsay were visitors with Miss Josephine Terry on Friday afternoon.

The pupils of the public school with their teacher, Mr. R. W. Umphrey observed Arbor Day, Friday at the school. In the afternoon the boys of the school visited Connolly's School and lined up for the first baseball game of the season resulting in a score 7-6 in favor of Trent River.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Umphrey and son Jimmie were visitors Thursday with Mr. John Lawson and sister, Mrs. J. Free.

Born on Wednesday, May 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Volkenburg (formerly Helen Scott), a son.

FRUIT-A-TIVES GAVE WONDERFUL RELIEF ... CONSTIPATION SUFFERER STATES UNDER OATH

Mrs. Florence Williamson, Montreal, Quebec

So that others may also be helped Mrs. Williamson voluntarily has told of how Fruit-a-tives brought her relief from constipation. To give you positive proof she has stated before a notary:—

"I Make Oath and say that since I was twelve years old, I was ill with chronic constipation. I never felt good until I started taking Fruit-a-tives and now I can truly say they gave me wonderful relief. I enjoy life once more and strongly urge anyone who has the same trouble I had to try Fruit-a-tives."

Florence Williamson

A sworn statement to the above effect was made before a Notary Public at Montreal, November 4th, 1933. Original on file.

FRUIT-A-TIVES—25c and 50c at all Drug Stores

SIMPLE LINES FOR STATELY BEAUTIES

Milady Makes Earnest Effort to Choose Clothes That Suit Her Figure and Personality, Avers Stylist

Left, chartreuse green pebble satin crepe dress; center, black crepe gown; right white satin evening frock.

Never was an era when women made such an effort to choose clothes that suited their type as today. Stylists write on this subject at great length, and have done so for years—but at the present time milady actually is taking them seriously and striving nobly towards that end. The tall and stately woman, be she blonde or brunette, cannot do better than to wear a simply styled gown. The fabric may be as rich as she pleases, but the line's the thing. At no time were frocks more beautifully styled to suit this type of woman than now. A chartreuse green pebble satin crepe is worn by Dorothy LeBaire, left, which is classic in its simplicity. The deep V-shaped decolletage is caught at the point with an emerald clip, and an emerald tiara and bracelet complete the ensemble. A evening gown that is "different" is worn by Patricia Ellis, center. It is made of black crepe, fitting the figure closely, but with shoulder straps and back of cotton "honeycomb" buttoned on with huge brilliant buttons. This combination of materials is new and, as you can see, striking. Lillian Bond's statuesque beauty is enhanced by a white satin gown which is trimmed with silver and crystal banding. All three of these gowns have slight trains.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

SQUEEZE OR VIENNA COUP

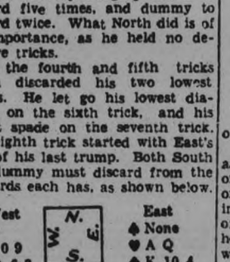
Puzzled players often ask wherein the Vienna coup differs from the squeeze, which S. S. Lenz, more than any other player, rendered famous. Doctors of both medicine and bridge often love to substitute new names for old, possibly to mystify patients. Today we will show a squeeze, and tomorrow another slightly different type of squeeze, called by some "The Vienna Coup."

Bidding went: South, 1-spade; West 1-no trump as a nuisance bid; North, 2-spades; East, 4-clubs; West, 5-clubs; South, doubled, ending bidding.

The opening lead was the king of spades. The declarer ruffed the queen of spades which followed. He knew that to have his 2½ quick tricks for an opening bid South should hold the missing king of hearts.

There were visible only 1 heart trick, 2 diamond tricks and 7 trump tricks. Some species of squeeze or end play had to be employed to enable the declarer to fulfill his contract. East ran off 6 tricks in trumps, thereby obliging South to discard five times, and dummy to discard twice. What North did is of no importance, as he held no defensive tricks.

On the fourth and fifth tricks South discarded his two lowest hearts. He let go his lowest diamond on the sixth trick, and his lowest spade on the seventh trick. The eighth trick started with East's lead of his last trump. Both South and dummy must discard from the six cards each has, as shown below.



Suppose South lets go his spade. Let go dummy's lowest heart. Put dummy in with the ace of diamonds, after taking declarer's king. Win with dummy's good spade. Discard declarer's last diamond. If South lets go a diamond, dummy's 10 of that suit become good and declarer's ace of hearts completes the small slam. If South lets go a heart when dummy's spade is played, then both declarer's hearts will win tricks. Instead of going down a trick on his contract, East makes a small slam. If South lets go a heart, instead of a spade, at the eighth trick, dummy will let go a diamond, and East will run two heart tricks, forcing South to another discard and an altimate small slam. If South lets go a diamond, at the eighth trick, dummy will let go a heart and ultimately a small slam must result. No play by South can prevent a squeeze for a small slam.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

"What are we going to have for lunch?"

You hold up the menu card and begin to read. Soup? Grapefruit? Codfish? Oxjoints? Vegetable plate? Spinach? Cauliflower? Omelette? Salad? With French dressing Ice cream? Apple pie? Milk?

Meanwhile bread and butter and water have been put on your table. And sugar and salt and pepper are already there.

How do you visualize these things? Are they just so many items of food? Or do you, as I usually do, analyze them in my mind's eye and break them up into so many different chemicals? I follow their fate in the body. I gauge how many calories they have, how many miles or hours I can go on them.

They are very important to you as you must realize. They are your only source of energy, except the oxygen your breathe. They are important both from the standpoint of your power, but also for your health, and your pocketbook. Some which may look cheap on the bill of fare are really very expensive—expensive because they give you so little of that energy you should have in comparison to what you pay for.

Perhaps my way is not really the best or sanest. It might even be distasteful to most of you to do a mental chemical analysis of what you are going to eat. But my training has almost compelled me to it whether I will or no. I know perfectly well—in fact, I have long advocated that the most normal and healthy meals are those dictated by appetite and taste. (Instinct, shall we say? Although it is an unfashionable word just now.) Certainly there are plenty of people who never heard of calories or vitamins or protein requirements, who go through life eating as they choose, without having more than their share of illness and living to ripe old age.

Of course, habit had much to do with what they selected to eat—the experience of the race set certain things before them.

And it was this experience of the race which, when analyzed, taught the physiologists what they know about the science of dietetics.

That science of dietetics, at any rate, has come to be an extremely exact one. Our knowledge of the functions and nature of foods has reached a point where it is unnecessary to engage in shoddy thinking and go off on tangents of food faddism which are just as senseless as people guilding their futures by consulting numerologists or astrologers. Dietetics certainly is far more of an exact science than, I gather from recent experiments in our fair land, is economics.

LIFFORD LINE

The many friends of Mrs. Cairns one of the oldest residents of Manvers, are sorry to learn of her receiving severe injuries on Tuesday as a result of a fall while engaged in raking lanes at the home of her daughter Mrs. Norton Mills where she resides. Medical attendance was necessary A few years ago Mrs. Cairns was the victim of a serious fall at Fleetwood Station, necessitating several weeks in Lindsay hospital.

The May meeting of the Fleetwood Women's Association was held at the home of past president, Mrs. Albert Sutton on Wednesday afternoon. Plans for sewing to be done by the society were laid.

The Ladies' Aid of Ballyduff Presbyterian Church were entertained on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Gaynor. At the conclusion of the meeting the hostess assisted by Mrs. J. J. Clarke and Mrs. P. Preston served refreshments.

USE EGG-O BAKING POWDER

Don't take chances with inferior baking powder. Try EGG-O—you use only half as much!

E-124

THIS RUG CAN BE YOURS FREE ...and it's a Beauty

This is Congoleum Gold Seal Rug "ALDEN" pattern No. 678.

CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUGS

Special Offer

If you purchase a genuine CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUG during the period of this contest, and then prove to be the winner of the Prize Rug, you have the option of taking the Prize or having the full purchase price of the rug you have already bought returned to you.

It's true! On Saturday next somebody is going to take this beautiful CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUG home . . . without it costing a cent. And that lucky person can be you just as easily as anybody else.

This prize Rug is on display in your dealer's window till Saturday. Beneath the Gold Seal which identifies it as a genuine CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUG, an unknown number has been hidden. If you can guess this number or if your guess comes nearest to the right number, the dealer will present you with this beautiful rug absolutely free.

There is no obligation to buy anything . . . no tiresome conditions to abide by. Simply ask for an entry form from the dealer displaying this rug and fill in your guess. Think what a pleasure it will be to own this beautiful, long-wearing, labor-saving rug. Examine your dealer's showing of Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs and you will appreciate what it will mean to you. They are the world's greatest value in home furnishings. This contest closes at noon Saturday and the winning number will be up in the window where the rug will be displayed at 4.30 the same afternoon. So ACT NOW!

CONGOLEUM CANADA LIMITED MONTREAL

LOCAL DEALERS IN CONGOLEUM RUGS

A COMPLETE LINE OF CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
D. BELLEGHEM & SONS
188 HUNTER STREET PHONE 85

A Wide Range of Congoleum Rugs
CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES
Watch for Prize Rug in Window.

LATEST PATTERNS AND SHADES IN CONGOLEUM RUGS
COMSTOCK'S
PHONE 156 300 GEORGE ST.

LET US SHOW YOU THE NEW CONGOLEUM RUGS
CAIN BROS.
178 HUNTER STREET PHONE 80

NEWEST—SMARTEST—CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
ROBERT FAIR & CO., LTD.
THE STORE OF DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

SPECIAL SHOWING OF CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
RICHARD HALL LIMITED
BEAUTIFUL PATTERNS Almost Every Conceivable Shade

SPECIAL VALUES IN CONGOLEUM RUGS AT HOME FURNISHING CO.
204-206 CHARLOTTE STREET. PHONE 1428

A Complete Line of Congoleum Rugs at
CHERNEY FURNITURE STORE
213 Charlotte Street. Phone 226

A CONGOLEUM RUG FOR EVERY PURPOSE AT McBRIDE & FRANKS
431 GEORGE STREET PHONE 2060

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

At the openings of new shows in most big cities, the fashionable "first nighters" usually step out garbed in their best bibs and tuckers. And one certainly does see some exotic and striking costumes and coiffures at these functions. The other night at an opening, for instance, a regal, blonde Follies lass stepped down the aisle wearing a coronet braid of a soft, rosy pink that exactly matched the shade of the trailing chiffon evening gown she was wearing. And you can take it from me, she certainly did look stunning!

Of course wearing colored braids that harmonize with gowns or contrast with the hair is a bit extreme for the average woman. But coiffure stylists claim that coronet braids that match the hair are now to be incorporated in many of the latest smart coiffures. These braids are particularly suited in the suave blonde and regal brunet types They lend the wearer an air of sophistication and queenliness. And they may be worn in a good many different ways.

The simple three-strand braid that our forebears used to sport in the past has, for modern purposes, many variations. In the first place, the braid may be made of four strands, a style that is particularly suited to the woman to whom a heavy type of braid is becoming. The braid may be just a single braid of three or four strands, or, for more classic lines, three slimmer braids may be worn over the head about an inch and a half apart. The braid may be worn flat over the crown of the head. And again, it may be so attached to a shell foundation that it stands up from the head somewhat in a halo effect. This latter, of course is most suitable for formal occasions, when hats are not worn.

If your own hair is not long enough for braiding, you can procure coronet braids to match your own looks in the better beauty salons. And if you aren't the type to wear a coronet braid, there are other hair pieces that might add a great deal of charm to your appearance. Fluffy little side curls, and sturdier curls for the nape of the neck, also can be procured. They are easy to attach, and do wonders to cover up broken hair ends. And they may prove just the thing you've been needing to glorify your entire appearance.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Mouth Wash

Agnes: A good mouth wash can be made by dissolving one-fourth teaspoon of borax, one-fourth teaspoon of peroxide and one-fourth teaspoon of salt in a glass of warm water.

Coco Butter

Carol: The coco butter may be purchased in cake form in any well-stocked drug store. It should be warmed to an oil before it is applied.

KEENE

The O.Y.P.A. met in the town hall on Tuesday evening with a good attendance. The main feature of the meeting was moving pictures shown by Fred L. Roy of Peterborough. Pictures of "Jack Miner," snowshoe and dog sled trip to Hudson Bay and fishing on Rice Lake were much enjoyed. It was decided the club spend $16 on road signs to be erected on the main road entering Keene. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Lang were called forward while Miss Lillian Bowie read an appropriate address and Dick Davis presented them with a handsome Kenwood blanket on behalf of the O.Y.P.A. in honor of their recent marriage. Mr. Lang on behalf of his bride thanked the club. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wigmore are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson.

Miss Jennie Plunkett, Reg.N., of Brooklyn, N.Y. is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Plunkett.

Mrs. J. S. Ferguson entertained the Swastika Club at her home on Wednesday evening. A program in charge of Mrs. F. A. Eason was much enjoyed.

Miss Ola Gillespie of Peterborough was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Gillespie.

Advertise in The Examiner

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Patterson and their daughters, Mrs. Grace Byers and Miss Mabel Patterson, have returned from St. Petersburg, Florida, where they spent the winter.

* * *

Last evening, the directors of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club met and approved the recommendation of the Golf Committee that the course be opened for play on Saturday. Tomorrow evening, at the Ladies dinner bridge at the clubhouse, election of nine ladies will take place to form a Ladies' Golf committee for the summer months. The result of the nominating ballot shows the following list of names, from which the committee will be chosen: Mesdames W. S. Derry, F. C. Perrie, J. O. Green, C. G. Graham, F. J. A. Hall, F. E. Hooper, A. F. Inch, A. E. Jagger, R. E. Knox, J. E. R. Munro, F. J. Overend, C. J. Ray, J. F. Reed, E. F. Riley, V. S. Rutherford, G. C. Solmes, F. M. Somerville, and the Misses Alma Dobbin, Anne Heideman and Margaret Widdess.

* * *

Something different in the way of entertainment has been planned for Friday night of this week at the Conservatory of Music Hall, when a costume dance will be held under the auspices of the T.O.B. Club. The ladies are to attend in old-fashioned costumes and the dancing program will include some of the old-time dances which went so well with more dignified types of dress. This is a departure in Peterborough and promises to be a novel and attractive idea. A feature of the program will be an old-time gavotte presented by members of the Elementary Gym. Class at the Y.W.C.A., who presented the lovely "Fern' dance number in the Y.W.C.A. Pageant at the Opera House, last Friday, to the tune of the "Glow Worm." In Toronto a short time ago a Colonial ball was given and thirty-two people danced a minuet and a Sir Roger de Coverly. Miss Dorothy Pratt, who taught the group the dances for this ball, said: "Dancing is becoming more leisurely and slower. There is more intelligence and enthusiasm in the older dances." Maria Bekeffi, a former ballerina of the Imperial Russian Ballet, says: "The 'slinky' dances have about reached their limit and will soon be replaced by the styles of dancing that were so much a part of the cultural life of the past. This will be made possible by the trend in women's fashions—gowns with more flowing skirts, which lend themselves so admirably to the grace of older dances." A Detroit paper says of the older modes in dancing: "Yes, they are more lively, more graceful and more joyous than the 'walk-about' dances, invented only for the benefit of dancers who could not dance but wanted the social satisfaction of walking around with girls in dance halls." However, this statement is questioned by S. Titchener Smith, who is past president of the Dancing Masters of America, and declares that the "walking-to-music" dance was invented by Vernon Castle, the originator of the one-step. "Most people," says Mr. Smith, "don't learn to dance at all. They walk around the floor to music because someone has told them that is all there is to it, and they think they are dancing. Orchestras are afraid to play a waltz because they think the people want something faster. As a matter of fact, they are catering to the young men while the dance floors these days are often filled with older men. The waltz will be more popular again; it is a beautiful dance.' In 1784, the minuet and stately quadrille were at their height of their glory. The waltz, declares another authority, came later, about 1813, and was considered quite disgraceful. The first public dance in Toronto was held in 1798; before that dances took place in homes only. (However, this dating of the waltz may be not quite correct. In a vivacious novel entitled "When Knighthood Was in Flower," written a coupe of decades back by Charles Major, one of the chapters dilates on the sense of shock experienced by Henry the Eighth when his gay sister, Mary, came back from France and introduced an abandoned waltz measure to the staid English court). On Friday evening, at the Conservatory, an opportunity will be afforded of witnessing some of these popular dances of another day, and all who wish to enter into the fun will be welcome. The program will, of course, include modern dancing numbers. It is hoped that many will attend in costume and thus make an original evening successful and entertaining.

* * *

The name of Miss Doris Bannister, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bannister, of Rubidge Street, appears in the list of those who have been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Miss Anna McGiverin of Picton, formerly of Peterborough, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Huffman, Hunter Street West.

* * *

Mrs. H. Butcher of 315 Burnham Street has a birthday to-day.

* * *

Mrs. T. Elcombe was hostess last week to the members of the D.D.D. Club. Bridge prizes were won by Miss Jean Mackness and Miss Marjory Mackness.

* * *

A ladies' dinner bridge will be an event of to-morrow evening at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

* * *

Miss Annetta Girard of Lindsay is in the city to-day and attended the wedding here this morning of her brother, Mr. Leo Girard, and Miss Agnes Hanrahan.

* * *

The members of the choir of Knox United Church presented their clever and amusing musical comedy, "Princess Bulbul," in the Sunday School auditorium of George Street United Church, last night, before a very appreciative audience. At the conclusion of the production, delicious refreshments were served by the members of the Co-Workers' Bible Class. A hearty vote of thanks from the guests was voiced by Mr. John Donaldson, the 'king' of the play, and acknowledged by Mrs. Lane.

* * *

Mr. J. DeFinney and daughter, Josephine, with Miss Peggy Hickey, and their guest, Mrs. V. Richardson, spent the week-end with friends at Crystal Lake.

* * *

Miss Mary Cooper of Warkworth has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Miss Lorna Cornell of Lindsay has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Morley Hancock of Port Hope has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with honors, from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Norman Moore of Port Hope has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

The name of Miss Helen Maria Hubbs of Picton appears in the list of those receiving the degree of Master of Arts from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Kenneth Platt of Cobourg has been awarded the degree of Master of Science by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Donald Blain of Trenton has received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. Frank Marett of Marmora has received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Local members of Cyzicus Sanctorum, No. 24, Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans, who attended the big A.M.O.S. gathering at the King Edward Hotel, Toronto, last Saturday night, included Messrs. F. J. Batten, F. J. Doughty, H. Stinson, J. S. Thompson, W. F. Green and S. Thomson.

* * *

Mr. Anthony Pepe of Charlotte Street has returned home after spending the past ten months in his native country, Italy.

* * *

The friends of Mr. Clarence Swan of Otonabee will be glad to know that he is progressing satisfactorily after his operation for appendicitis on Friday last, at Nicholls Hospital.

* * *

A number of friends gathered on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. A. Wilson, 214 Perry Street, to present her with a number of pretty gifts prior to her departure for Scotland in a fortnight's time. Mrs. Wilson was presented with a handsome silk umbrella by her friends, the presentation being made by Mrs. J. Brown. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. G. Siddall, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cordery, Mr. and Mrs. R. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson, Mrs. J. Brown, the Misses Gladys and Marie Williams, Messrs. A. Siddall, W. Hutton, Leonard Williams and D. McMillan.

* * *

Master Donald Perks was guest soloist last Sunday morning at George Street United Church, and at Trinity in the evening.

* * *

Mr. D. D. Airhart of Marmora is announced as one of the winners of a scholarship valued at $75 given by Queen's University, Kingston, to students in first-year Science.

* * *

Miss Ruth Harper of Norwood has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Mr. George Kerr of Tweed has been awarded the degree of Bachelor of Arts by Queen's University, Kingston.

* * *

Messrs. Dean H. Loucks and Hugh Loucks, of Norwood, have received their degrees of Bachelor of Arts from Queen's University, Kingston.

SALLY'S SALLIES

A man is made in twenty-one years, but it takes much less time to make a fool of him.

WEDNESDAY
BUEHLER BROTHERS
CREAMERY BUTTER, lb. - - 22c
WING STEAK, lb. - - - - 21c
VEAL LOIN CHOPS, lb. - - - 15c
PICKLED PICNICS Mild Cured lb. - 14c
SIRLOIN VEAL STEAK - lb. 16c
Dixie Sliced Bacon 2 lb. 31c
2 pkgs. Chateau Cheese .. 25c
2 lb. Veal Chops ... 25c
3 lbs. Minced Beef .. 29c
3 lbs. Veal Kidneys .. 25c
Brisket Beef 7c lb.
PHONE 3680 - 387 GEORGE ST.
30c Meat Orders Delivered Free.

BEE HIVE

GOLDEN
CORN SYRUP
A GREAT ENERGY FOOD

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Accessories for the mature woman automatically suggest to the mind those of a conservative and dignified character, which are, however, not to be confused with "the lavender and old lace" type. The gadgets and novelties of passing moments are essentially "right" possessions for the young, but are thoroughly inconsistent with the role of the older woman, who instinctively relegates inconsequential objects to the background. The older woman's accessories should reflect in so far as inanimate objects can, her own attitude towards life.

* * * * * * *

Contemporary fashions in accessories, as in other forms, appear to recognize no law governing age. Their appropriateness and enhancing qualities are as liable to go to one extreme as to the other, wherefore witness the present, latest trends in headwear and footgear. The new hats, with turned back childish brims, exposing the forehead and a good part of the hair, are naturally kind to the young girl. In direct contract the newest fancy in shoes—these with a very low heel and long pointed lines, seem especially designed for the mature woman who finds "spike" heels a menace to health and equilibrium.

* * * * * * *

Handbags and gloves in matching fabrics and colors, both carrying the same discreet trimming motif of tuck, etc., have become increasingly important this season, and are perfect for the mature woman who does not feel that variety alone is the spice of life.

* * * * * * *

Color is one of the important mediums through which the mature woman may attain chic, and this particularly as translated in her saratorial accessories. There was a time when the world demanded that the older woman confine her costume and its detail to sombre shades. This mistaken idea has now fortunately given way to a more sane point of view. It is true that many women prefer, and rightly, black and dark shades of blues and browns for their costumes, but they should choose their accessories in some contrasting color. This color may be the classic white, of course, but the soft pastels are infinitely more flattering and modish. You may select any one of the shades on the pastels palette—the delicate apple blossom shades of pinks, blues, etc., subdued tones of yellow, bud greens. It is particularly smart to employ pastel shades with dark colors this season, and is a fashion that the mature woman should not fail to adapt to herself.

New Shed Planned At Yelverton Church

YELVERTON, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The officers of Yelverton United Church have planned to have built a new church shed and many activities are being sponsored by the various organizations to assist in financing this worthy enterprise.

On Thursday evening Mrs. James Lawson held a most successful Pot Luck supper at her home. A goodly number were present and a highly satisfactory financial return was realized.

An interesting debate was carried on by young friends from Janetville. Songs, readings and other numbers rounded out a delightful program.

Warkworth

Miss Eleanor Patterson is spending the week-end in Toronto.

Mrs. J. H. Gooderich has returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Russell, Toronto.

Fashion Service

Today's easy-to-make dress is simple enough for a beginner to tackle. It boasts of its interestingly new shirred shoulders and its cool opened sleeves. It's the sort of simple type dress in which one always feels so smart.

It is lovely in crepe silk in plain or print, sheer crepe, washing silks, cotton and handkerchief linen prints, etc.

Pattern No. 3467 cuts in sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3⅛ yards of 39-inch material.

Order Fashion Department. Price of pattern 15 cents. Spring Pattern Book 10 cents. Send stamps or coin (coin is preferred).

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment. Allow five days for return.

REV. DR. PALMER GIVES ADDRESS

Speaks on "A Night in Ireland's Loyal North," in St. James' Church.

INTERESTING SUBJECT.

The lecture on "A Night in Ireland's Loyal North." as told by Rev. Dr. H. R. Palmer last night in St. James' United Church, left no doubt in the minds of his hearers as to his nationality. Sparkling wit, from the first to the last word, intermingled freely with much of the early history and geographic description of this vastly interesting subject.

The pastor, Rev. A. E. Moorhouse, welcomed the lecturer to h's church, and in glowing terms introduced him to a most appreciative audience.

What is generally termed now as the "North of Ireland" was formerly known as Ulster, and included the six most northern counties whose people have remained true to the Mother Country. Belfast, the capital, is the chief city of the "loyal north," and much of the lecturer's story was woven around this illustrious place. The harp, one of Ireland's emblems, is symbolic of this emotional people. Melody and joy is produced by one stroke of the finger, while the next records storm and discord, and the hearts of the Irish are just as responsive as the strings of the harp.

Dr. Palmer spoke of the early days of rebellion and persecution, which led to the consequent unsettled state of the Emerald Isle. In that time tenure of land was not individual, but by belonging to some chieftain's party. All land was held by clan, never by right, but always by might and power. Religious difference constituted another problem in Ireland, and much persecution was suffered by the Protestants.

Coming down to more recent times, Dr. Palmer illustrated his talk with many beautiful pictures of both urban and country life. The material side of life in Ireland was also shown. Pictures of the homes of wealth beside those of great squalor, showed the wide contrast. However, poverty had no compelling effect upon the Irish. There was always the humorous smile and the whimsical turn of conversation. Perhaps the pictures of greatest interest were those of nature, among which were the Giants' Causeway, the Loughs, the rivers and the islands, all of the rarest beauty. The Antrim coast road would be difficult to surpass in the whole world for its beauty.

The sports, of which there are many, ran from stag hunts to the automobile races, of which very realistic pictures brought us in contact.

A fair description of either the beautiful or the sordid side of life as given in Dr. Palmer's lecture, would be an impossibility. The great and massive engines, the monster shipbuilding, the linen and rope industries of Belfast, all the largest in the world, were visions almost passing belief.

Dr. Palmer revisited his home city, Belfast, two years ago, and had many happy memories of this visit to relate. By request, he delighted his audience with a real Irish song, accompanied by Miss A. Rose, and it was with regret that the last slide was taken off and lights turned on. Dr. Palmer is assured of a welcome to Peterborough at any time he may return to lecture on any feature concerning Ireland.

Arthur McLaren had charge of the lantern during the evening, which came to a conclusion with the National Anthem.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

FOR WEDNESDAY, MAY 9

An interesting and eventful day, according to the planetary government, with the attention centered on the personal, domestic, social or affectional relations rather than business, in which, however, there may be a breaking away of old stagnations with prospect of fair increase of possessions.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves on the brink of a year in which social, domestic, romantic or artistic activities engage the attention, to the probable slight of other more commonplace interests.

A child born on this day may be gracious, kindly, popular and of strong social inclinations and artistic temperament.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS
Lamb Stew With Vegetables
Green Vegetable Salad
Prune Pie Coffee

A nice flaky pie crust and a luscious filling—that's what a man likes for dessert—if he's in normal health. Try this pie crust recipe and the prune filling.

Today's Recipes

Pie Crust—One and one-half cups pastry flour, one-half cup shortening, one-fourth cup water, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon baking powder. Sift flour, salt and baking powder. Work in shortening, adding just enough cold water to keep paste together.

Prune Pie—Flaky pie crust, one-half pound prunes, one-half cup sugar, one teaspoon lemon juice. Make flaky pie crust as described. Stew prunes, stone, and rub through colander. Add lemon juice, mixing and crushing thoroughly. Add sugar and flavor with lemon juice or cinnamon. Pour onto pie crust, covering with upper crust. Sprinkle lightly with mixed sugar and cinnamon. Bake in hot oven 10 minutes. Reduce heat and bake for half hour longer.

Salmon Sandwich

One cup salmon, chopped fine; three tablespoons cooked salad dressing. Mix, season and serve on bread.

WIFE PRESERVERS

A blackboard eraser is an excellent polisher for window panes. It removes any lint and smears left after wiping with cloth, and gets into all the corners.

Officers Elected For Point Branch

YOUNG'S POINT, May 8. — On Wednesday evening, May 2, the annual meting of Young's Point Women's Institute was held in the hall. The different reports where read and adopted.

The election of officers are as follows: President, Mrs. J. Davis; 1st Vice President, Mrs. A. Brooks; 2nd Vice President, Miss Kearney; Secretary, Mrs. Max Kidd; Treasurer, Miss Redpath; Directors, Mrs. A. Duggan, Miss Reid, Mrs. McDonough; Auditors, Mrs. Wm. Brooks; District director, Miss Kearney.

It was decided to have programs printed for the year and hold meetings in the hall. The Summer series will be on June 20 in the hall, and the lecturer Miss Ethel Robson of Danfield.

At the close of the meeting the following program was given: Recitation, Babe Brooks; trio, Muriel Brooks, Dorothy Hurl, Mona Merrell; instrument, Miss Reid. The meeting adjourned by singing "God Save The King." The next meeting will be held in the hall on June 6, in the evening.

MARMORA

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jones of Wellington spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. O. R. Jones.

Mr. C. M. Parker of New York renewed acquaintances here over the week-end.

Mr. Henry Peterson visited his aged mother at Blairton on Sunday.

Household effects of the late Mrs. Willis Fry were sold by auction on Saturday afternoon and realized good prices.

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

MASTER VISITS PERCY LODGE

Warkworth Session is Attended by Members from Norwood, Keene, Bobden.

Y.P.S. HAS BANQUET.

WARKWORTH, May 8. — On Wednesday night May 2, Rt. Wor. Bro. E. C. Squire, Norwood made his official visit to Percy Lodge 161, A. F. and A. M. and was welcomed by an exceptionally large number of Mason. The District Secretary, Very Wor. Bro. Dr. H. G. Carleton and other Norwood brethren accompanied him. also there were present several from Keene, and lodges at Cobden, Plesherton and Bath were represented.

Mr. Squire paid high tribute to the officers of the lodge on the excellence of their work and congratulated the members upon the magnificence and spaciousness of their building. The subject of his after dinner speech was "Some Methods and Materials used in the Building of King Solomon's Temple." Addresses were also given by Rev. R. W. Paton, Roseneath; Rev. Dr. J. R. Cooper, Warkworth; Peter Gillespie, Keene and Rev. A. S. Cleland, Dr. H. G. Carleton, William Thompson and Lionel Nelson of Norwood.

B. Buchanan was toastmaster and Rev. G. R. Duncan, Dr. C. C. Armstrong and P. S. Ewing proposed the toasts. In July of this year Percy Lodge will celebrate the seventieth anniversary of its dedication and the brethren are discussing ways and means of commemorating the occasion.

The Young People's Society of St. Paul's United Church closed their meetings for a few months with a banquet held Friday evening May 4 in the Masonic Temple.

The large number present thoroughly enjoyed each feature of the evening as each number was heartily applauded. Community singing was enjoyed before the toastmaster Mr. F. L. Boyce took charge.

Rev. R. W. Paton of Roseneath was the guest speaker and his subject was "Scotland". The following program was given: Quartette—'When Its Lamp Lighting Time in the Valley', encore 'Side by Side' by Messrs Owen and Ronald Hawkey. Charles Mallory and Edgar Allen; vocal duet, Misses Maude Cooper and Ina Bowen, 'Jesus, Lover of My Soul'; reading, 'A Live Funeral' Mrs. W. Grant Allen; quartette, 'Blue Ridge Mountain Home'; dialogue 'The Five Fifteen'; vocal duet, Mrs. M. E. Smith and Mrs. Cyril Churchley.

Besides this, there were the following toasts: King, proposed by Gerald Tully, responded to by singing of the National Onthem. Canada, proposed by W. Grant Allen, and responded to by Nellie Greenly. Church, proposed by O. E. Kelly, responded to by Rev. Dr. Cooper. Young People's Society, proposed by Helen Partridge, responded to by Jean Walker.

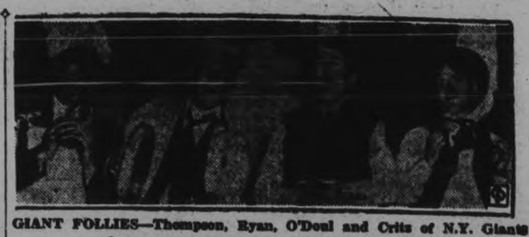
PETES-PONIES CLASH HERE IN C.O.B.L. OPENER, MAY 24

OUT AT PLATE—Frankie Hayes, young Athletic catcher, is tagged in attempt to steal home.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Read by More than 18,000 Daily | TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934 | Sports Department—Phone 1600



GIANT FOLLIES—Thompson, Ryan, O'Doul and Critz of N.Y. Giants form comic quartet on day off caused by rain.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

KENILWORTH has been enjoying a fairly successful meeting so far and racing during the first weeks in May seems an assured thing for Canadian hide followers. The J. E. Smallman string of seventeen head in charge of Trainer George Alexandria checked in from Baltimore. They all arrived in fair condition after the long journey northward and it will surprise us greatly if this outfit are not the leading money winners at this meeting. His horses have been campaigning all winter in the south and have a big edge in condition on those that have rested up in Canada.

× × ×

The Halliwell string that have been doing their stuff in Texas are also on the ground. In this consignment are such well known oat-burners as Polyp, Don Vern, Tarnish, Black Diamond and several that are all as fit as a fiddle. Circulet is one that should register real soon but remember six furlongs is as far as he will go. Any distance beyond that he stops as if he were shot. And please don't mention Powder Monkey, that was a slipup that we will remember for a long time.

× × ×

EDDIE SEAGRAM has Shady Well and Young Kitty all primed. In connection with the latter we may point out that this mare is the pride of Mr. Seagram. She is a former King's Plate winner and is now nine years old and has never performed under any colors but the famous yellow and black of Seagrams. She may be getting a little up in years but there is many a winning race yet in her aging legs and she still retains her heart of steel which enables her to outfinish any of the younger Canadian breds.

× × ×

Whitey Abel put over a double on opening day and will cop a few more before the week is over. He does his own training as well as his own riding so if he loses he has nobody to blame but himself. The same Whitey is better than a green hand at the racing game. Tom Clark the starter is coming in for great praise from both the public and the horsemen for the good starts he has been getting. Last year was his first in this capacity and it looks as if he is going to develop into a real one.

× × ×

BUTCH KEELING, the New York Ranger hockey player has his small string quartered at Kenilworth and says he expects to cop a heat with Lady Marnock before many moons. Conny Smythe has a few two-year-olds on the grounds. He flew in from Winnipeg the other day on his way back from the Maple Leaf tour to the west. Lloyd Gentry has the Hatch performers in good shape and expects to do business in a big way. He says Easter Hatter is back in form and if he is he will greet the judges from the winners circle immediately.

× × ×

Another one that looks like money in the bank is Nat Ray's Stealingaway. This one raced in the south all winter and shipped to Canada about six weeks ago and has been resting ever since. Tommy McCarthy has Broadway Lights back on the ground. This one was cut down last July at Windsor and has been on the shelf every since, with the exception of a couple of starts in Maryland during the last month. If he is back in form he will beat any horse in Canada this summer, and at any distance too. A number of horses that are entered at Kenilworth are stabled across at the Fair Grounds track in Detroit and are vanned over and back each day. This track opens a 120-day meeting in the near future, which should be more than enough to take of Detroit fans for the summer.

Leafs Open Series with 5-4 Victory Over Bears

BOONEMEN MAKE MERRY AT EXPENSE OF BEARS; 10 WINS IN 16 STARTS

Wings Boost Record to Seven Straight With 6-1 Victory Over Chiefs.

Sheriff Blake, Former Member of Chicago Cubs, Holds Newark to Five Hits.

ONLY TWO GAMES PLAYED IN KNAPP LEAGUE.

(By the Associated Press)

Rolling along at a pace that is rapidly leaving the other International League teams far behind, Rochester Red Wings today boasted of a record of seven straight victories and 14 triumphs in 17 starts this season.

The Wings began their winning streak April 30 in the final game of the Albany series and since then have swept through a four-game series with Baltimore and taken the Syracuse Chiefs into camp twice.

A combination of fine pitching on the part of Johnny Michaels and home run hitting gave Rochester its second triumph over the Chiefs yesterday. The score was 6-1.

Ends Homer Orgy

Michaels held Andy High's men to five scattered hits and entered into the home run orgy himself. He was joined in the circuit hitting by Estel Crabtree and Tom Winsett. In addition Ival Goodman connected with two triples, Tommy Carey got one three bagger and Benny Borgmann drove out a pair of doubles to give the Wings 29 bases in the 12 hits off Fred Fussell.

In the only other game played in the International League Toronto Maple Leafs nosed out Newark Bears to go into second place in the standings, with 10 victories in 16 games. The Bears, with nine setbacks in 21 starts, dropped to third place.

The score was 5-4 as Sheriff Blake, former member of Chicago Cubs' hurling staff, held the Bears to five hits while the Leafs were pounding Johnny La Rocca and Marvin Duke for 12 safe blows.

The Bears scored three times in the first inning on a pair of singles, a base on balls and Jesse Hill's triple but then went hitless until Selkirk and Saltzgaver found Blake for singles in the eighth. Meanwhile the Leafs collected two runs in the third, went out in front with two more in the fifth and added another in the last half of the eighth after Newark had tied the score.

Only Games Played

The other teams played their games as parts of double-headers Sunday.

Standings

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Rochester	14	3	.824
Toronto	10	6	.625
Newark	12	9	.571
Montreal	9	9	.500
Syracuse	7	8	.467
Albany	7	8	.467
Baltimore	5	13	.278
Buffalo	6	13	.278

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	12	5	.706
Cleveland	8	6	.571
Washington	10	8	.556
Boston	9	8	.529
Detroit	8	8	.500
Philadelphia	8	9	.471
St. Louis	5	10	.333
Chicago	4	10	.286

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	13	5	.722
Chicago	13	6	.684
Pittsburg	11	6	.647
St. Louis	10	8	.556
Boston	9	8	.529
Brooklyn	7	10	.412
Philadelphia	4	13	.235
Cincinnati	3	14	.177

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

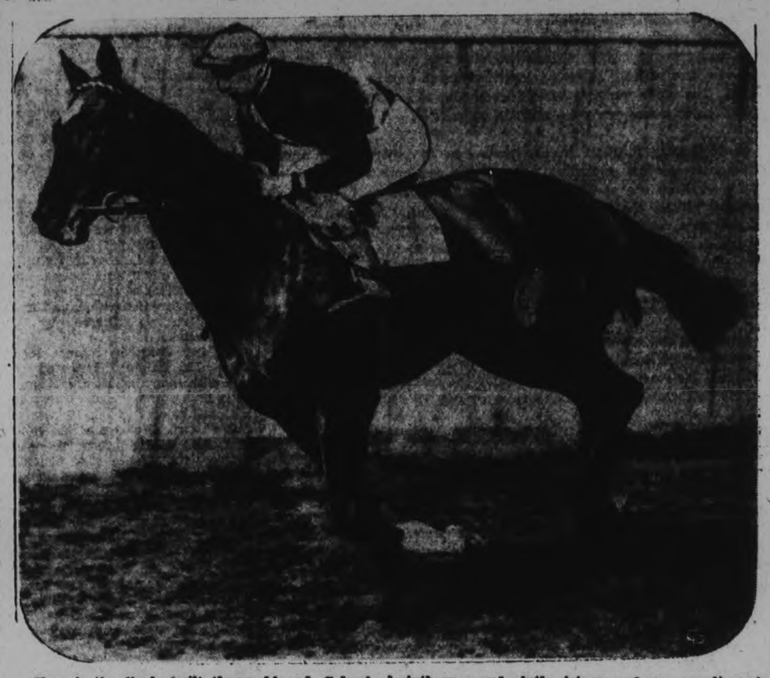
	Won	Lost	P.C.
Minneapolis	12	5	.706
Kansas City	10	7	.588
Louisville	10	7	.588
Indianapolis	9	8	.529
Toledo	8	8	.500
Columbus	7	9	.438
Milwaukee	6	11	.353
St. Paul	5	12	.294

FIRST HOLE-IN-ONE AT LONDON.

LONDON, Ont., May 8.—(CP). The honor of making the first hole-in-one of the season on local courses fell to A. G. Dixon of Victoria street, at the Highland Golf Club. Playing with H. Shales and T. Benson in a threesome, Mr. Dixon got his "oner" on the 115-yard third hole, the ball only taking one short hop before diving into the tin.

Pirates Register Fourth Straight Win

Pride Of England Is Favored To Win Epsom Derby



Here is the finely built thoroughbread, Colombo, which is called a "horse and a half" by English fans. His most recent feat was to win the Two Thousand Guineas stakes at odds of 2-7. This was Colombo's ninth race and ninth victory, and as a result, racing experts regard him as an almost certain winner of the Derby at Epsom Downs on June 9th. The photo was taken at Newmarket.

Win or Lose

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Toronto 5, Newark 4.
Rochester 6, Syracuse 1.
Only games played.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York 3, Cincinnati 2.
St. Louis 10, Boston 5.
Pittsburg 7, Brooklyn 6. Ten innings.
Chicago 2, Philadelphia 0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Washington 17, Chicago 7.
Philadelphia 7, Cleveland 3.
New York 14, St. Louis 1.
Detroit 8, Boston 6. Eleven innings.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Louisville 5, St. Paul 2.
Minneapolis 6, Indianapolis 2.
Kansas City 10, Columbus 5. Eleven innings.
Only games played.

CORSAIRS HOLD THIRD POSITION NATIONAL RACE

Avagetto's Single in 10th Gives Pirates 6-5 Win Over Dodgers.

CUBS-GIANTS WIN.

Cards Regain Fourth Place With 10-5 Victory Over Boston Braves.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The heaviest batting attack in the National League keeps Pittsburgh Pirates close to the top of the standing despite a combination of misadventures that might have proved fatal to a club less potent at the plate.

In spite of the loss of Captain Pie Traynor and Lloyd ("Little Poison") Waner through injury and illness and the inexplicable failure of Larry French to round into form, the Corsairs have played winning ball from the start.

French essayed his fifth start of the campaign against Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday and for the fifth time the veteran southpaw was not around at the finish. Drubbed for 11 hits in seven innings and trailing 6-5, Larry gave way to a pinch batsman and Leon Chagnon mopped up to receive credit for the 7-6 victory the Pirates eventually pulled out in the 10th on Harry ("Cookie") Avagetto's single following Arky Vaughan's second triple of the game.

The victory left the Pirates in third place, a game behind Chicago Cubs and a game and a half behind the champion New York Gaints, both of whom won. Mel Ott's double in the ninth drove in the two runs the Giants needed to shade Cincinnati Reds 3-2, give Carl Hubbell a decision over Benny Frey and extend the Reds' losing streak to eight games.

The Cubs uncovered a new right-hander, Bill Lee, who gave the Phillies four singles and shut them out 2-0. Ed Holley pitched well enough to deserve a better fate, but fell victim to the Cubs' extra-base hits.

St. Louis Cardinals regained fourth place with a 10-5 victory over Boston Braves who dropped to fifth position.

STEEPLECHASER DROPS DEAD

BALTIMORE, Md., May 8. (AP). Caporal III, a 7-year-old gelding belonging to Randolph Duffy, of Middleburg, Va., dropped dead in the midst of a workout at the Pimlico Race Track yesterday while preparing for a steeplechase to be run later in the week.

J. C. Mergler, jockey, who had the mount at the time of the accident, was thrown clear of the falling horse and escaped injury.

minister's excellent work on pro-

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

BY ALEX. J. MORRISON

A spared shot, one in which there is restraint in the swing, particularly when using a wood club, should never be attempted.

Against my advice, a player used a spoon instead of an iron for a shot of 180 yards. He had to spare the shot and on this occasion did get an excellent result.

I still condemned the practice. The player couldn't agree with me, having gotten such a good result. However, after he had played a few more shots he realized that something had happened to his swing. He has tightened up as I knew he would following the restraint he injected into his swing on the spoon shot.

Tension will creep in soon enough, you don't have to encourage it.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

... (By the Associated Press.) ...

Harry Lavagetto, Pirates — Singled home winning run against Dodgers in tenth. .. ..

Johnny Allen, Yankees—Limited Browns to seven hits, fanned seven.

Mel Ott, Giants—Doubled in ninth to drive in runs that beat Reds.

Lynwood Rowe, Tigers—Held Red Sox to two hits in five innings as relief pitcher, belted homer with one on in 11th.

Hill Lee, Cubs—Blanked Phillies with four hits.

Heinie Manuse, Senators — Clouted White Sox pitching for triple, double and single, driving in four runs and scoring three.

Jack Rothrock and Jim Collins, Cardinals, helped beat Braves with home runs.

Ed Coleman, Athletics—Collected home run, double and single against Indians.

Schedule

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Newark at Toronto; Albany at Montreal; Baltimore at Buffalo; Syracuse at Rochester.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Philadelphia at Chicago; New York at Cincinnati; Brooklyn at Pittsburg; Boston at St. Louis.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago at Washington; St. Louis at New York; Detroit at Boston; Cleveland at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Milwaukee at Toledo; Kansas City at Columbus; Minneapolis at Indianapolis; St. Paul at Louisville.

Newspaper Styles, Like Milady's Raiment, Change With Seasons

With the summer sports season opening up locally, The Examiner Sports' Dept. is preparing for a busy four months or so. This is undoubtedly the best sporting town in Central Ontario—and only surpassed in Ontario by a few of the larger cities—and this department believes in putting out sports pages that proclaim this fact. And so these pages are dressed today in their summer attire. Probably twenty thousand people of all ages read part or all of the sports published daily in The Examiner—the estimate being based on press circulation figures—and they naturally expect to have complete, accurate accounts of all athletics and displayed in attractive form. This department tries to fulfil expectations, and knows its pages surpass any in this section of the Province. Continued co-operation by sports' bodies in the city and district for the heavy season of summer sports will be appreciated.

HEAVY BATTING AMERICAN WARS

Yanks Back Up Allen's Seven-hit Pitching to Trounce St. Louis Browns 14-1.

SENATORS GOING UP.

(By Canadian Press.)

Terrific batting by New York Yankees and Washington Senators marked American League warfare. The Yankees backed up by Johnny Allen's seven-hit pitching with a long distance attack that included homers by Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey and trounced the St. Louis Browns 14-1. The Senators moved into a virtual tie for second place by pounding four Chicago White Sox chuckers for 16 hits and a 17-7 triumph. Nine bases on balls helped roll up the score.

John Welch allowed only one hit in two innings of relief pitching against Detroit Tigers, but that one happened to be a home run by Lynwood Rowe with one on in the 11th and the Tigers won 8-6. Philadelphia Athletics belted Mel Harder and Belve Bean for 12 hits and sank Cleveland Indians 7-3.

King Edward School Swamps Westenders

In a poorly-played one-side Public School Softball League game yesterday, King Edward School swamped Prince of Wales under a 31-13 beating. The homsters outhit, outpitched and outfielded the Wales' boys, tallying an average of more than five runs in an inning. Cold weather contributed toward a lot of errors, particularly in the case of the visitors. Mackness for King Edward and Jay and Csumrick of the other side were the fielding stars. The teams :

Prince of Wales: Beggs, p; Campbell, p.; McIlmoyle, c; Fowler, 1b; Macdonald, 2b; Jay, 3b; Hollingsworth, ss; Csumrick, rf.; Boddison, cf; Harding, lf.

King Edward: Markness, ss; Murduff, cf; Berwick, 3b; Castle, c.; Ridley, p; McWilliams, rf; Leggitt, 1b; Strickland, 2b, p; ine, lf.

Score by innings:

Prince of Wales	300 430 3—13
King Edward	577 634 x—31

Umpires: Board and Scates.

PROPOSED C.O.B.L. SCHEDULE RUNS MAY 24TH TO AUGUST 15

Several Saturday Dates Left Open for Exhibition Games if Desired.

OSHAWA HERE AUG. 6.

The proposed C.O.B.L. schedule for 1934 has been submitted to the various clubs by Secretary Newt Thompson of Belleville. It will run from May 24th to August 15th, each club playing eight home games and seven away. The schedule is drawn out enough to leave several Saturday dates open for exhibition games, if desired. A few changes may occur, depending on the wishes of the Peterborough, Belleville and Kingston executives, who are requested to check over the proposed schedule and make their comments to the secretary as soon as possible. Oshawa has agreed to the dates on which that club will play. Following is the schedule:

May 24—Oshawa at Belleville (2 games); Kingston at Peterborough.
" 30—Belleville at Kingston
June 2—Belleville at Peterborough
" 6—Kingston at Belleville
Peterborough at Oshawa
" 13—Peterborough at Kingston
" 16—Belleville at Peterborough
" 20—Peterborough at Belleville
" 23—Kingston at Peterborough
" 27—Peterborough at Kingston
Belleville at Oshawa
July 2—Oshawa at Kingston (2 games)
" 4—Kingston at Belleville
" 7—Belleville at Peterborough
" 11—Peterborough at Belleville
Kingston at Oshawa.
" 13—Belleville at Kingston
" 18—Kingston at Belleville
" 25—Peterborough at Kingston
" 28—Kingston at Peterborough
Aug. 6—Oshawa at Peterborough (2 games).
" 8—Belleville at Kingston
" 15—Peterborough at Belleville

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

FOR OVER 50 YEARS THE OLD RELIABLE
PEG TOP CIGARS 5¢

Ontario-Peterboro Counties Matched in Cricket Draw

CAPITOL TODAY! WED. THURS.

MIGHTIEST OF ALL HITS!

IT DWARFS ALL OTHERS!

KAY FRANCIS
AL JOLSON
DICK POWELL
DOLORES DEL RIO
RICARDO CORTEZ
HAL LEROY
GUY KIBBEE
HUGH HERBERT
FIFI D'ORSAY
RUTH DONNELLY
LOUISE FAZENDA
★10 FAMOUS STARS!
★4 GREAT COMEDIANS!
★600 GORGEOUS GIRLS!
★1000 PERFORMERS!
★MAMMOTH SPECTACLES!
★8 BIG SONG HITS!
"Going to Heaven on a Mule" - "Why Do I Dream Those Dreams" - "Don't Say Good Night" - "Vive La France" - "Don't Say Goodnight"

★★★★ Hear the Song Hits That Are Sweeping the Whole Country ★★★★

Feature Shown at 3.00 - 7.30 - 9.30

2.30 7.00 - 9.00

At the Theatres

AT THE CAPITOL.

"WONDER BAR"

There is a great variety of entertainment in this picture—spectacular effects, thrilling dances, beautiful girls, a romantic love element, a murder and a suicide, to say nothing of some glamorous songs in Dick Powell's melting tenor.

Al Jolson holds the stage and puts over the action in a big way. One wonders why this veteran actor with the beautiful voice doesn't have a part in more shows, for his acting is of that sophisticated-natural type that misses no detail in getting it across

Kay Francis is as glittering as ever in a role that calls for very little action. She is the two-timing wife of a French banker and they frequent Al Jolson's "Wonder Bar," a gay night club in Montmartre. Her big moment is Ricardo Cortez, in the role of Harry, the dancer. This fine actor is just as wicked and mean in this part as he is mild and kind in other pictures. And he dances beautifully with his infatuated partner, Ynez, who loves him not wisely, but too well, and is, by the way, very much liked by the dark Al Wonder and the baby-faced Dick Powell, leader of the orchestra in the "Wonder Bar."

The supporting cast is splendid, with Guy Kibbee and his side kick, the heavy-lidded Hugh Herbert, and their wives, Ruth Donnelly and Louise Fasenda, who fall hard for a beguiling gigolo.

The spectacular effects are quite marvellous. The dancing pair do the "Waltz Amoureuse," while Powell sings "Don't Say Good Night," with gorgeous scenes that include a curious "moving pillar" episode, with a glittering platinum blonde chorus, and ends with some of those much-liked "precision patterns."

Although the scenes of "Goin' to Heaven on a Mule" are quite extraordinary, there will be many who will refuse to like the idea of St. Peter and the Angel Gabriel as black men, smoking big cigars, with crooked haloes. This section illustrates just how far the silver sheet will go to provide something lurid in the way of entertainment.

—Jeanette.

CARL REYNOLDS IS COMING BACK INTO HIS OWN

Boston Red Sox Outfielder Travelling Along With Slugging Average of .507.

REGAINING HEALTH.

Had Title Dreams Shattered in 1933 When Dickey Broke His Jaw During Fracas.

(By Bill King, Associated Press Sports Writer)

BOSTON, May 8 (AP)—The fickle baseball gods, who have hit him from behind many times during his seven years in the majors, now appear to be pulling Carl Reynolds along as that Boston Red Sox outfielder races for the American League batting honors.

Just now the popular Reynolds, of that rare species known as "a ball-players' ballplayer," is several laps ahead of his closest rival, with a slugging overage of .507 for 17 games, and going stronger every day.

One gets the impression that repentant fates are trying to pay him for the cruel trick played upon him two years ago when, while hitting a .340 clip for the Washington Senators as late as July, Bill Dickey, New York Yankee catcher, shattered his batting championship dreams with a right to the jaw.

The blow caused a fracture, which gave Reynolds months of agony and finally a stomach disorder that hampered his play during all of the 1933 season.

This injury, for which Dickey drew a long suspension, limited Reynolds' 1932 season to 102 games and caused his batting average to slump to .306. Its aftermath, the stomach disorder, probably had much to do with his transfer to the St. Louis Browns late that year.

Hornsby, like most ballplayers, even rival pitchers, is pulling hard for the quiet and unassuming Reynolds this year and joins Eddie Collins and Bucky Harris in hoping that nothing will cheat him out of his just batting deserts. His sensational slugging, however, is no surprise to his Boston bosses.

Always Great Hitter

"Reynolds has always been a great hitter, when his health permitted," they explained. "Look at his record; a seven-year average of .313 in spit of all his bad breaks. If he continues in his present good health, he will end up leading the league, or so close to it that no one will notice the difference."

Flying time between Berlin and Warsaw is to be reduced to three hours.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse, Soccer Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

Two baseball meetings are slated for Duffus' tonight, a City League session at eight bells and an E.P.L. gabfest at 8.00 o'clock. Those interested in the City Loop should be on deck at a quarter to eight, we'd suggest, and try and run off their meeting before the E.P.L. one commences. Several baseball men are interested in both circuits and can't be spared from either meeting. Teams thinking of entering either loop, or anyone interested in any way, should ankle along and get a load of what's going on.

• • • • • •

Despite the chill in the air last e'en, another large turnout was noted for the senior baseballers at Stevenson Park—okay, Riverside to you oldtimers. Following a warmup and a batting practice, Knotty Lee put some of them through a lively infield workout. He had Fred Ash on first, Jack Murray on second, Sig Konopka at short, with Ike Batten and Cliff Houston (formerly of Milton) at third. They looked great, and Knotty remarked: "Considering the weather and the fact that it's their first infield practise, I'm tickled to death the way they shape up!"

• • • • • •

Ash was as flashy and dependable at the initial sack as over and will no doubt cinch that berth. This Murray chap gives much promise of rapidly developing into a fine second-sacker. He's long, fast, a good fielder and loaded with pep—in fact he doesn't know what to do with all his surplus energy! And Konopka appeared to be a sure thing at short, moving far to right or left to spear 'em and slapping the ball around either overhand or with an underhand snap. And he can clout 'em hard at bat, too, from either side, being a turnaround hitter. Batten looked in midseason form and will be hard to knock off third; but this Houston boy—who played on two Milton intermediate championship teams—isn't so dusty, either. If he doesn't get a regular spot, he might prove valuable as a utility infielder. We're not saying these chaps are sure starters, but they looked like it to us last night. Incidentally, Konopka could catch, also, in case Cy Whatley was hurt or anything. He may prove a real find yet.

• • • • • •

Some of the other prospects may try to shove one of these infielders out of a berth, and of course there are plenty of prospective outfielders trying out, along with Les Burton and Tommy Foley of last year's team. Rightfield appears to us to be the problem. They need a fast, sure fielder in that position and one that can hit well. They'll have to go a long way before they'll get a better one than the late Verne Beavis, who started there last summer. The Petes' catching should be taken care of okay again this year, but the pitching is uncertain yet. Archie Deyell and Bill Calladine were on hand last eve and both should be good for a number of victories this season. Russ Kitchen wasn't present, but we think he'll be out shortly if his arm (which he's breaking in gradually) is oke. Meantime, nightly practises, starting around 5.30, is the order.

• • • • • •

A copy of the proposed C.O.B.L. schedule appears today. There may be a few changes in it before it is adopted. It's a triple schedule, plus the Oshawa games, and the Petes play at home Saturdays and away on Wednesdays. We open here with Kingston May 24th, and the first trip away is in Oshawa June 6th. Several open Saturdays can be used for exhibition games, the schedule being dragged out a bit as Toronto won't have a winner till around September 15th.

• • • • • •

Men's City Softball League schedule opens one week from tomorrow—that is, Wednesday, May 16th. Meantime, the four teams are rapidly taking shape and practising regularly. They'll have to take turns practising at Central, no one team hogging the nights. To-night, it'll be Fashion-Crafts; tomorrow, Johnston's Tire (we've been calling 'em Dunlop Tire); Thursday, the C.G.E. bunch have it; Friday, it's Fashion-Crafts again; and Saturday afternoon at three, Brintons—who had it last night—go on again. President Fred Scates, who had the appointing of three members to the executive, has named Jake Beckerman, Harley Weir and Dick Cowan—all good men for this position.

• • • • • •

Local lacrossers had better get busy if they intended to do anything or they'll lose the service of several district stars. According to the Belleville paper, the Aajmaa (and what a screwy name that is!) Club down there is thinking of entering a lacrosse team this summer, as they have several former stars from other towns now living in Belleville. And the article adds that the Ingram brothers of Campbellford and Boster Whitton would be willing to play for the Quinte team.

• • • • • •

Ho, hum, Dempsey socks another rassler. We wouldn't mention it — as we have a horrible suspicion that the erstwhile Manassa Mauler is putting on an act in his refereeing of rasslin' bouts—but this happened to concern a guy who supposedly rassled here recently. 'Terrible Turk' Pasha is the egg, and a dispatch from Saginaw states: "He received a couple of Dempsey slaps and a punch to the bread basket which put him on the floor", 'cause he kept roughing up Frankie Hart. After having had to sit through one of the Terrible Turk's—and was it terrible!—rasslin' things here not so long ago, we took much pleasure out of the news that Dempsey slapped him down. But we only wish that Jack was back in the form he was in when he battered big Luis Firpo down eight times in two rounds, or when he nearly slaughtered Willard to take the title— if he had only socked Pasha around with some of that old fury back on his punches, then we would have been very happy indeed!

• • • • • •

Picking 'em off the grapevine: Board of Directors of the Kawartha Club has approved the Golf Committee's action in opening the golf course for play on the permanent greens this coming Sat'day . . . . Oakwood Seniors of Toronto may be here for an exhibition lacrosse game at the Armouries Friday p.m. . . . . Brintons and Hatton's Wreckers stage an exhibition men's softball game tomorrow eve at six on the Brinton grounds . . . . King Edward and King George won their school softball games yesterday, with the Central-Queen Mary one not being played . . . . St. James' Juniors opened the Church Softball Loop yester e'en with a 22-11 nod over George Street . . . . Executive meeting of the Gals' Softball League will be held Wednesday at eight in Duffus'; more entries wanted . . . . East City Leafs, baseball bantams, workout Thursday at six in Armour's Field at east end of Douro St.; all players welcome . . . . C.G.E. and 'Y' bowlers start their city titular matches Wednesday at eight in the 'Y' . . . . All-Stars and Capitals playoff for the city title Sat'day at 8.30 p.m. in the 'Y'.

Circuit Leaders

Home runs yesterday: Gehrig, Yankees, 1; Dickey, Yankees, 1; Collins, Cardinals, 1; Rothrock, Cardinals, 1; Coleman Athletics 1; Rowe, Tigers, 1.

The leaders—Ruth, Yankees, 6; Klein, Cubs, 6; Ott, Giants, 6, Hartnett, Cubs, 5; Medwick, Cardinals, 5; Foxx, Athletics, 5; Collins Cardinals 5.

League totals—Nationals, 90; American, 77; total, 167.

INTERCOUNTY LEAGUE TO MEET.

KITCHENER, May 8. (CP)—President Gar Reddon has called a special meeting of the Intercounty Senior Baseball League executive for Thursday night to deal with the withdrawal request from Galt Terriers. Hamilton City League's position n the circuit also will be discussed, it is understood. A meeting of the intermediate 'B' clubs in the Eastern Section of the league, called for Tuesday night, has been postponed until Thursday nigh'

FIRST GAMES TO BE PLAYED VICTORIA DAY

Draw is Announced for First Round for R. C. Matthews Trophy.

ELEVEN COUNTIES IN.

TORONTO, May 8. — Eleven counties in the Province of Ontario have entered the competition for the R. C. Matthews County Cricket Challenge Cup, and the draw for the first round, to be played on Thursday, May 24, has been made by the trustees of the cup, Messrs. R. S. Hart, Hamilton, Craufurd Martin and Harry Dean, Toronto. The initial matches, as a result of the conference of the trustees, will be as follows:

Ontario County v. Peterborough County, at Peterborough.

Essex v. Kent, at Windsor.

Middlesex v. Oxford, at Woodstock.

Lincoln v. Wentworth, at Hamilton.

Waterloo v. Halton, at Waterloo.

Lanark County, a bye.

Matches on Holidays.

When the first round has been completed the trustees will announce which teams will play off in the second round. All matches are to be played on holidays, and, if time permits, two innings will decide the winner. M.C.C. rules will be strictly adhered to and the results of each match are to be reported to the Secretary of the Ontario Cricket Association, R. W. Sharp, 53 Yonge Street, Toronto, who is acting on behalf of and co-operating with the secretary to the cup trustees, W. E. N. Bell of the Toronto Cricket Club.

Last year's joint winners of this trophy were Lincoln and Essex, who drew in the final match. With much more satisfactory arrangements in view for the 1934 season, it is hoped that each match will be played to a finish and that custody of the trophy will be vouchsafed to one of the counties named.

When the completion of a two-innings match is impossible, the first innings score of teams will determine the winner of each match. There seems to be some appreciable promise of keen competition, and the outcome of this series of matches, designed by th Hon. R. C. Matthews to promote greater interest and activity in cricket throughout Ontario, will be subject to considerable enthusiastic participation on the part of those counties which have entered. In a few years it is hoped that every county where cricket is played will aspire, as happens in England, to attain county championship honors.

(Herb. Martin)

Sometimes it is kind of hard to get something new every night, but we find that if you keep your ear close to the ground you generally pick up odds and ends.

× × ×

It seems that the tennis committee met the Board of Management the other night and put it squarely up to the old boys for more room for tennis players.

× × ×

Of course we are not supposed to spill all this dope, and may lose our job over it. . . but, then we promised to keep the fans informed as to what is going on and any little bit of news that we get, it goes in this column—that is what it is for.

× × ×

The increase in tennis membership, this year, is so large that it is just doubtful if any more can be accommodated without building new courts.

× × ×

And take a tip from me that if the applications keep coming in the way they have been recently, the board will have to seriously consider building more courts.

× × ×

If some of the bowling skips would take a little hint from the tennis committee, the bowlers themselves would have no trouble in getting their full quota of 40 rinks.

× × ×

Just got a tip that the tennis courts will be open tomorrow afternoon.

QUICK PRINTING SERVICE Modern Plant

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

Last Times Tonight, 7 and 9

ZANE GREY'S 'THE LAS T TRAIL'

With George O'Brien, El Brendel

STARTING WEDNESDAY

DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAMME

SEE THEM
SHAKE IT UP ON THE BOULEVARDS
SHAKE 'EM DOWN UNDER THE PALMS!

And there's a laugh in every shake as these mischievous mommas step out on the funniest gold-digging tour you've ever seen.

FEATURE NO. 2

ONTARIO MITT SLINGERS CARRY OFF HONORS IN SIMON PURE CARD

Wadsworth, Middleweight Champion, Defeats Quebec Contender to Win Ontario Athletic Commission Trophy —Tournament at Toronto.

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.).—Ontario amateur boxers to-day boasted an edge over a delegation of Montreal and United States boxers after one of the best simon-pure cards staged in the Queen City. Quebec champions faced Ontario titleholders in a fistic affray that had Len Wadsworth of Hamilton and Nick Nickilo of Montreal in the head-liner.

Wadsworth, Ontario middleweight champion, carried off the Ontario Athletic Commission Trophy by taking a decision from the rugged Nickilo, Quebec provincial titleholder. They fought on even terms until the fifth round when a slugging match gave Wadsworth the edge with the visitor groggy as the bell sounded, but his game display brought him the Willie Frank Memorial Trophy, donated to the gamest battler on the card.

Green Also Falls.

Another Montrealer to go down before an Ontario champion was Desmond Green. Jack Armstrong, Ontario flyweight champion, poked his way to a decision over Green with a long left, and then Sammy Tomlinson of Toronto walloped a decision out of Meyer Alper of Montreal at 126 pounds.

Quebec scored a victory when Joe Marsh, Quebec lightweight champion, was given his bout with Harvey Fleet of Kitchener, Ontario titleholder in the same class, fouled him in the fourth round. Fleet had been warned several times from breaking the rules. Eddie Heathfield, of Drummondville, Que., Quebec bantam champ, made it two for Quebec when he took a close decision from Tony Cansano, Ontario champ.

Smart Exhibition.

Two Detroit battling brotheds gave the couple of thousand fans a treat with some smartboxing. Jack Callura of Hamilton, Canadian bantamweight champion, was forced to step the limit before he took a split decision from Edgar Waling of Detroit, Michigan State Golden Gloves champion. Some of the fans shouted their disapproval of the verdict.

The best all-round display of the night was given by Edwin Waling of Detroit, United States national featherweight champion, when he trounced Mel Glionna of Toronto, Ontario crown holder, in a snappy bout. Waling was able to find his mark with both hands and his finished work gave him the edge as he tossed Glionna's blows aside and hooked him repeatedly for points.

Comes Back for West.

Kitchener's hope, Gordon Schmaiz, who holds the Ontario welterweight crown, wound up the evening with a knockout over Tony Mancini, Quebec welter king, who hails from Montreal. The Kitchener fighter required only 40 seconds to find Mancini's jaw, and when his right landed the fight was over.

Queen Alex. Team Lose 16-15 Count

King George nosed out a 16-15 victory over Queen Alex. in a School Softball League game on the Ashburnham diamond yesterday. It was a smart five-inning fray with the winners rallying in the fifth to chase across five big markers to cop the win. Fair twirling marked the game, with neat fielding in spots and some heavy clouting. Cooper for the East City nine and Metcalfe for the Q.A. lads each scored three runs to lead in this department. Galley had one homer, and Cooper knocked two. The teams:

Queen Alex.—Morrow, 3b; Parnall, ss; Galley, p; Metcalfe, c; Atkins, lf; King, 1b; Palmer, rf; Staunton, 2b; Peckenham, cf.

King George.—Scriver, c; Cooper, p; Hawkes, 1b; Gandy, 2b; Northcott, 3b; Ferguson, ss; Seymour, cf; Vivash, rf; Agnew, lf. Score by innings:

Queen Alex. .....302 06—16
King George ....911 05—16

Umpires—L. Agnew and E. Pearce.

Wrestling Last Night.

(By the Associated Press.)

New York— Jim London, 196½, St. Louis, defeated Joe Savoldi, 200, Three Oaks, Mich., 47:09 (Savoldi plunged out of ring and was counted out).

Portland, Me.— Fred Bruno, 175, New York, defeated Lloyd Stewart, 183, Lynn, Mass., straight falls.

Wilmington, Del— Paul Boesch, 200, Long Beach, drew with Bert Rubi, 195, Hungary, 54:56 (curfew law halted bout).

Camden, N.J.—Leo Wallace, 178, California, defeated Johny Carlin, 177, Sweden, straight falls.

Nine months after her wedding day, Mrs. George Hillman of Ealing, England, was buried in her wedding dress and, complying with her last request, her husband attended the funeral in his wedding clothes.

JACK CANUCK WEEKLY

$1000 CASH FIRST PRIZE

...and 8 other weekly Cash Prizes in Jack Canuck's Big Baseball Sweepstake

STARTS TO-DAY

5c At All Newsdealers

Nash has built A MILLION CARS

...and Nash Dealers are Giving A MILLION DEMONSTRATIONS in 30 days

... Nash dealers are out to show a million motorists—in 30 days—what there is that's so different in the driving of a 1934 Nash or its companion car, the new LaFayette.

Within 30 days, people everywhere will have a better idea of modern motoring at its very best.

Nash already has built and the public has bought a million Nash cars—evidence as strong as evidence can be that Nash puts something into its cars that is out of the ordinary.

You are invited to ride in a Nash or a LaFayette, or both, to see for yourself how Twin Ignition steps up motor performance—how the LaFayette "jeweled movement" engineering lifts the performance of this new Nash-built car clear out of its price class.

Call us for your "One in a Million" ride. We'll expose you to no high pressure salesmanship except that which you'll discover in the car.

BUILT TO STAY BUILT!

Big Six
116-inch Wheelbase, 80 Horsepower : 6 Body Styles
Advanced Eight
121-inch Wheelbase, 100 Horsepower : 6 Body Styles
Ambassador Eight
133-inch Wheelbase, 125 Horsepower : 2 Body Styles
Ambassador Eight
142-inch Wheelbase, 125 Horsepower : 3 Body Styles

NEW NASH-BUILT LAFAYETTE, THE FINE CAR OF THE LOWEST PRICE FIELD, 7 BODY STYLES

INDIVIDUALLY-SPRUNG FRONT WHEELS OPTIONAL

1934 TWIN IGNITION NASH

FOLEY & WILSON, Reid & McDonnel Sts. Phone 2027

(5086)

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Gomer Hastings,
R.R. No. 1, Ballieboro, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated specifically for analysis represents you as genial and intelligent. You have a way of your own of thinking out things and do not like to be ordered about or hurried. Your perspective on life is most refreshing, for you seem to look at the world through rose colored glasses, and to make the most of each day. You have a good imagination and enjoy being alone part of the time, so that you can think quietly. You are rather secretive as regards personal affairs, and perhaps inclined to be too reserved and reticent, but this characteristic is due in part to your natural inborn cautiousness. You give honor and respect to others, and feel deeply hurt if the same honor and respect is not paid to you. You do not bother your friends with your problems, because you think that they have enough of their own. In your choice of friends you are most discerning, because you prefer a few loyal and true ones to many who may be gushing and over exuberant in their demonstrations of affection. Seven is your number. Pisces the Fishes the birthsign, and you will find May and June fortunate months, with Saturday a lucky day. Sorry I had to use your correct name, but it must be so in order to avoid confusion.

Violet Hudson, 129½ Hunter Street, Peterborough, Ont.

Your letter with requ[illegible] for analysis reached me safely this time. You see, four months ago you forgot to put your address, and I am sure you must have noticed the requests from time to time in the column for correct name and address. This notice is now published at the top of the column each night, so if any of your friends failed to receive a delineation, you might tell them that I am very sorry, but would be glad to have them write again. It is nice to know that you are appreciative of the work, and I can assure you that it is very interesting. Your 't' bars with their hooked terminals indicate a persistent nature. You set out to get something, and you usually do. However, I am very much afraid that at times people are inclined to think you dogmatic or stubborn. Most of your writing is portrayed on the side of the pen, and foretells sarcasm. This is a characteristic which I think you will outgrow as you learn to 'stand upon your own feet,' for as it appears now, no matter how much others do for you, you seem to expect a little more. Your birth-sign is Taurus the Bull. You are ruled by Venus. Your number is five. Your best day Friday. May and July your best months.

Miss Marion Cavanagh,
617 George Street, City.

Your handwriting as portrayed on your sample for analysis with its tendency to lean forward in some formations and stand upright in others, depicts you as a person with a most versatile nature. You are artistically inclined but not determined enough to make that line of endeavor pay, in a monetary way. You desire to be so firm, but you always find yourself submitting your wishes, hopes, plans and talents for the benefit of others. You possess an attractive and kind personality and should endeavor to be individual. Live your own life. Do what your heart desires most, but be sure you do not sink your talented individuality among the mass. You should create your own style of clothing and wear the colors which appeal to your exquisite sense of good judgment....Be the artistic YOU. Art does not necessarily mean painting....Dressing to one's own taste, is an art. You are humorous, fair-minded and unpretentious. Eight is your number. Scorpio the birthsign, ruled by Mars. Tuesday your lucky day. January and July the two best months for important undertakings.

Mrs. M. Jones,
Norwood, Ont.

Your handwriting as portrayed on your sample for analysis emphasizes your generosity. This characteristic predominates to such an extent that it often leaves you in a state of mental unrest, because you have nothing left to give. You are a decidedly rapid thinker and do not always arrive at the correct conclusion. You enjoy the friendly society of people who are fashioned mentally, like yourself, but detest anything which borders on the 'high-brow.' You are somewhat of a dramatist and appear to look upon the events of the day either through rose colored glasses or black ones. It seems difficult for you to meet with a happy medium. Success in business for you could be accomplished by using your mental power of concentration to advantage, instead of letting it run riot as you appear to do now. Routine and detail bores you to tears. Yet you insist upon making yourself carry out a system much as you dislike it. Your number is four. Your birthsign is Pisces the fishes. Saturday is your lucky day. May and June your best months.

Mrs. E. M. Avery,
240 Munro Ave., City.

..Your handwriting for analysis would discern you as one who needs background and encouragement. You are not as physically robust as you would wish, therefore, minor, trifling annoyances upset you. You will find that you will constantly have to struggle to gain the 'upper hand' and control those high tension nerves of yours. You are a creature of impulses and often do more good on the 'spur' of a moment than others would do in a year of careful thought. You are unobstrustive and never 'push yourself in' where you feel that your presence is not appreciated. You are susceptible to kindness and would go to any length in order to repay a kind deed done in your behalf. You are sometimes argumentative and combative, but really prefer peace to strife though it is not always possible to avoid it. Your talents are all about normal, but the most noteworthy is an artistic tendency.

JANETVILLE

A large number of local men have found employment since sawing operations have commenced in the Burn saw mill. Another group of men have gone to Bethany to join Mr. Wm. Henry's extra gang on the C.P.R.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Capstick, whose hospitable large farm home is south of the village, were host and hostess on Saturday evening to a number of their friends for six o'clock dinner, it being the occasion of the birthday of the hostess. The later part of the evening was enjoyably spent in playing bridge.

The Janetville ball teams are "warming up" and have commenced practice on their diamond in the community park.

Among the young people from here who are attending the spring school which is being conducted by the Rev. Dr. Reddick at the United Church, Omemee are Misses Olive Jackett, Annie Irvine, Edna Robinson, Dorothy McGill, Normia Stacey, Mrs. Smith, Rev. C. Smith and Frank Russell.

BORN AND DIES ON SHIP

HALIFAX, May 7 (CP)—Born on one ship only to die on another within a year was the fate of Irma Kankanpaa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waino Kalle Kenkanpaa. Irma came to the proud parents in May last year while they were bound for Finland aboard the steamship Ilmatar. They were returning to Canada on the liner United States, when the infant died of bronchial pneumonia.

JANITOR-ROBBER

LONDON, Ont., May 7 (CP)—Robert Long, the janitor-robber who dropped through a hole in the ceiling into the presence of the owner of a grocery on King street yesterday afternoon, pleaded guilty in police court to-day to breaking and entering and to theft of groceries valued at $50. He was remanded one week until police check up other alleged losses..

★ STAR GAZING ★

By BOB McSTAY

With the recent growth of literary interest in biography, the motion picture producers have taken the hint from the publishing craft and are rushing to portray famous history-book dramas and personages. Latest of these, and one of the most pretentious productions in the history of the films, is 'The Rise of the House of Rothschild.' Set against the sweeping panoramic background of the Napoleonic wars, this 20th Century epic traces the evolution of the famous Rothschild banking institution from the humble ghetto days in Frankfort up to 1815 when the five sons of old Mayer Rothschild had established branches in the principle cities of Europe and were recognized as the leaders in international finance.

• • •

The cinematic treatment of the anti-Semitic theme may make for occasional historical inaccuracies in 'The Rise of the House of Rothschild," but directorial supervision has been undertaken with such care and shrewdness as to offend neither Jew nor Gentile. The picture will not be shown in Germany and so the only unscrupulous character is Baron Ledrantz of Prussia. The traditional ill-treatment of the Jews is seen in the Frankfort program sequences and offering a peculiar parallel to recent in dialogue references ,situations offering a peculiar parallel to recent activities in Germany. It is also pointed out consistently that the Rothschilds 'lend money to make peace but never to make war.'

• • •

In this picture, George Arliss, that eminent English actor of stage and screen, makes another contribution to his gallery of biographical portraits. He has already done Disraeli, Alexander Hamilton and Voltaire, but his role as Nathan Rothschild surpasses even the artistary of the first-named, although somewhat similar in theme.

Portrays Family Founder

Arliss first plays old Mayer Rothschild, founder of the family, dealer in foreign currencies and bane of the Frankfort tax-collectors. As he lies dying, the patriarch instructs his five sons to open banking houses in the capitals of Europe, exhorts them to secure power through wealth as a means of obtaining freedom for their race, and entrusts them with the task of obtaining for the Jews the right 'to live and trade and walk the world with dignity.'

• • •

It is a troublesome period in hisder of the English branch of the family-compact, he and his four brothers have become the richest and most influential bankers in the particular capital to which they have been sent.

• • •

It s a troublesome period in history. Napoleon has escaped from Elba and once more Europe is a cock-pit.

Splendid Picture

Despite the fact that the entire Rothschild fortune has been placed at the allies' disposal, it is a trying 'hundred days.' As Napoleon sweeps on triumphantly and the British troops retreat, panic grips England and stock market values tumble alarmingly. Nathan throws in the balance of the Rothschild fortune to maintain England's financial credit. A rumor that Wellington has been defeated at Waterloo results in a debacle at the Stock Exchange. The dramatic arrival of news by carrier-pigeon that Napolean is the loser and in flight results in a flurry of buying and once again the Rothschilds have guessed correctly and the family fortune is not only saved but substantially increased.

• • •

'The Rise of the House of Rothschild' is a splendid film and will undoubtedly rank as one of the 'ten best of 1934,' if not heading the list for the annual award of the Motion Picture Academy. Once again, a film has revealed what may be done in the way of imparting education without detracting from entertainment. The settings are magnificent, particularly in the technicolor sequence at the finish in which Nathan Rothschild is elevated to the peerage in a gorgeously-portrayed ceremonial at St. James'.

• • •

Outstanding in the distinguished cast which lends support to Mr. Arliss. Such British players appear as Boris Karloff, Reginald Owen, Alan Mowbray, Ivan Simpson, Gilbert Emery and Aubrey Smith, the latter in a brusque but loveable portrayal as the Duke of Wellington. Mention should also be made of Mrs. Arliss who plays the same role in the film as she does in private life, and of Helen Westley as the energetic and sharp-tongued matriarch of the Rothschild family.

Anemia—Lack of Blood

A Cause of Fatigue

You can easily make this test for anemia.
Examine the gums, the eyelids and the lips.
If they have a pale and bleached out appearance,
You have reason to suspect anemia.
Other symptoms are fatigue with slight exertion,
Shortness of breath on going up stairs,
General weakness and fickle appetite.
To overcome this condition
It is necessary to increase the quantity,
And improve the quality of the blood.
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food can be of great help to you
Because it supplies iron of good quality
And other minerals which are essential
For the enrichment of the blood.
A few weeks' use of this blood-building treatment
Will prove to you its efficacy
In overcoming the depressing symptoms of anemia.

READ THE WANT ADS

GOING TO NEW YORK?

You'll get more comfort, more service—more for your money at a NEW hotel—the Governor Clinton. Every NEW Hotel feature—1200 Rooms with bath, Radio, Servidor, circulating Ice Water. From $3. Only $1 more for two. B. & O. buses stop at door—Opp. Penn. Station.

HOTEL GOVERNOR CLINTON

C. W. RAMSEY, Jr. Manager

7th Avenue at 31st Street NEW YORK CITY

BRICK BRADFORD—In the City Beneath the Sea

By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

MUGGS McGINNIS

First—OrWorst—Aid

By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE

Tough on Pete

By GEORGE SWAN

THE TUTTS

By Crawford Young

TILLIE THE TOILER

By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER

By George McManus

SOMEONE WANTS WHAT YOU HAVE OR HAS WHAT YOU WANT! use this Classified Page

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.
If Charged 1½ Cent per Word or Figure per Insertion.
Phone We will call for your Ad. and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Local Page), per inch	$1.00
Block Locals (Local Page), per in.	$1.40
Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 2 inches)	75c
Over 2 inches, per inch	50c
With Black Border, extra	25c

INDEX TO EXAMINER CLASSIFIED WANT ADS.

Agents Wanted	L
Boarders Wanted	E
Business Opportunities	K
Chiropractor	U
Cottage, Summer Resorts	E
Dressmaking	Z
Employment Wanted	J
Female Help Wanted	H
Found	N
For Rent—General	C
For Sale—General	A
General Notice	T
Help Wanted (Male or Female)	X
Live Stock	O
Lost	M
Male Help Wanted	G
Personal	R
Pet Stock	W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs	P
Radio	I
Real Estate for Sale	D
Salesmen Wanted	Y
Situations Vacant	V
To Rent—Houses, Apartments	B
Used Cars for Sale	S
Wanted—General	Q

a For Sale—General

DELICIOUS DEEP LEMON TARTS—Topped with Egg Whites, Dozen 40c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1877A

REAL DRY BUNDLED KINDLING—25 Bundls for a Dollar; also Sum-25 Bundles for a Dollar; also Summer Wood. $1.75 Large Load. Kingdon Barrel Factory. 'Phone 3230. 3d-109-1778A

GASOLINE LAUNCH, 26-FT. LONG, 7-ft. beam, Ford Marine motor, searchlight and full equipment; splendid condition. Now at Crowe's Landing, Stoney Lake. Price $150. W. J. Grant, 81 Quebec Avenue, Toronto. 3d-109-1774A

.22 RIFLE, REPEATER. APPLY 490 George Street. 3d-110-1827A

TOP SOIL. 'PHONE 1943. 7d-114-1831A

ROTTEN MANURE, $1 LOAD, Delivered. 'Phone 2505J. 5d-112-5301A

ROUEN DUCK EGGS. 'PHONE 994 ring 12. 3d-110-1813A

NEWCOMBE PIANO, GOOD TONE. Apply Evenings, 596 Chamberlain. 3d-110-1812A

LOT AND HEN COOP. APPLY 306 Burnham. 'Phone 1078F. 3d-109-1766A

THREE WHITE ANGORA RABBITS. Apply 239 Princess. 3d-109-1787A

LILIES, DAHLIAS, PERENNIAL Roots, Five for Quarter. Gladiolus cheap. 236 Princess. 3d-109-1786A

DRY MIXED WOOD, $2 LOAD. 'Phone 2409. 6d-112-1684A

EIGHT-PIECE SOLID OAK DINING-room Suite, also Cream Lloyd Stroller, $6, Wilton Rugs, Gentleman's Wheel $6; good condition. 51 River Road. 3d-109-1808A

100 QUARTS MILK DAILY. WRITE Box 1808, Examiner. 3d-110-1808A

FOUR 30 x 3½ TIRES, AND FIVE 20-inch Rim Tires. 22 Cameron Street. 4d-111-1818A

MIXED WOOD, $2, 12". STEPHENson, 3576W. 6d-109-1694A

DOLLAR LOADS — DRY SLABS. 'Phone 58. 12d-117-1724A

ROLLED OAT DATE SANDWICH — Filled with Cooked Oats, Dozen 35c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 3d-110-1876A

GLADIOLUS— DISEASE-FREE, FULL of pep, glorious colors, 75c, 1.00, $1.25 per 100. A. Prest, 242 Lansdowne Street. 6d-113-1811A

BABY CARRIAGE, GOOD CONDITION. 98 Gladstone. 3d-110-1810A

IMPORTANT!

In requesting us to call for your ad, the order must be phoned before 11 a.m. in order to insure it being inserted on the same day.

a For Sale—General

DUTCH BROWN BREAD — MADE with Milk and Eggs. Loaf 10c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1875A

STRAWBERRY PLANTS, 50c HUNdred. Dooley Potatoes, $1.50 Bag. 'Phone 977 ring 13. 3d-111-1814A

GARDEN PLANTS. F. D. CORLO, 543 Parnell Street. 'Phone 1070. 2d-110-1845A

QUEBEC COOK STOVE, HALL RACK, Chest of Drawers. 64 Hunter W. 2d-110-1846A

DEMOCRAT. GOOD CONDITION. 352 Smith. 3d-111-1841A

LATHAM RASPBERRIES, CANE Plants. Apply Percy Rowe, R.R. 6, ¼ mile South of Downer's Corners. 2d-110-1843A

IRISH COBBLER POTATOES, GROWN from Certified Seed. 'Phone 544 ring 4. 3d-111-1856A

BABY CARRIAGE, GENT.'S BLUE Suit, size 36, Grey Fedora Hat, size 7¼. 69 McDonnel. 3d-111-1853A

PINE SLABS, $2 HALF-CORD. Baker's Wood Yard. 'Phone 676. 26d-134-1848A

QUANTITY USED LUMBER. APPLY 452 Elm. 'Phone 280W. 3d-110-1824A

HOME-MADE SALADS — POTATO, Cabbage and Lettuce, Pint 25c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1879A

WICKER CARRIAGE, REVERSIBLE Gear, good condition. 'Phone 1945W. 3d-11-1865A

ROTTEN MANURE AND TOP SOIL. 'Phone 2661. 30d-128-2436A

GOOD CLEAN SEED BARLEY. W. J. Scollard, Ennismore. 6d-114-5213A

ICE-CREAM AND REFRESHING Drinks at Potvin's, 290 Charlotte Street. 3d-109-1798A

REFRIGERATOR, MEDIUM - SIZED, only $7.50. Apply 454 Mark Street. 4d-112-1861A

ROLL-TOP DESK, OAK, GOOD CONdition. 'Phone 104. 3d-111-1860A

CLEARING LINE OF GIRLS' RAINcoats, in various shades, and Infants' Cashmere Coats, at $1.98. Black's, George at King. 1d-109-5216A

OUR BEEF STEAK PIES — WILL Satisfy. Take some home for supper, 4 for 25c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1878A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HEATED APARTMENT IN BANK OF Commerce Building. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street dtf-4177B

BRIGHT FOUR-ROOMED DUPLEX. Apply 183 Antrim. 6d-113-1834B

THREE-ROOM APARTMENT, PRIvate entrance, North. 'Phone 3006. 3d-111-1844B

COSY! BRIGHT LOWER APARTment, full plumbing, beautiful verandah, residential; central; low rent. Apply 393 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 4d-111-1856B

FOUR-ROOMED HOUSE, CONVENIences. 640 Armour Road. 3d-110-1840B

MODERN HOUSE, ALSO FURNISHED and Unfurnished Housekeeping Rooms, central. 2637W. 3d-110-1833B

UPPER DUPLEX. 5 ROOMS. 192 Dalhousie. 'Phone 2294F 3d-110-1817B

HOUSE, NO. 249 WOLFE STREET. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-3682B

NO. 356 HUNTER STREET WEST (Bungalow). Possession First June. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5109B

HOUSE, 408 BELMONT AVENUE (corner Belmont and Weller). Apply 437 George Street. dtf-3199B

HEATED APARTMENT, IN GRAND Central Building. Possession arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-B

CLEAN, WARM HOUSE. APPLY 345 Rubidge Street. 3d-109-1797B

HOUSE, 12 INVERLEA. POSSESSION immediately. Apply between 2 and 8 p.m. 3d-109-5186B

APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 1232J. 6d-110-1716B

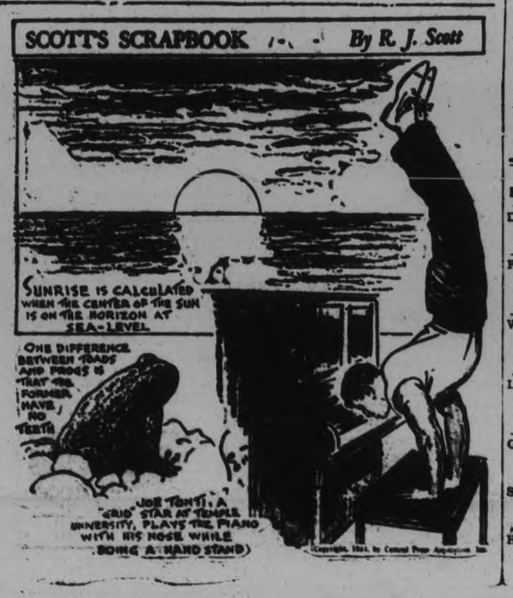
HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, FURNISHed. 516 Charlotte. 6d-110-5144B

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, UNfurnished. 106 McDonnel. 3d-109-1784B

BRIGHT, MODERN APARTMENT, Furnished, Unfurnished. Bell Apartments, Hunter Street. 3d-109-1770B

FOR SALE OR RENT — HOUSE, AT Springville, with good garden. 'Phone 971 ring 4. 3d-109-1791B

MODERN 6-ROOM HOUSE, SOUTHwest of City. 'Phone 1628J. 3d-111-5214B



b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

THREE-ROOM APARTMENT. HABoco Stores, Charlotte Street. 3d-11-5221B

CLEAN, WELL FURNISHED ROOM, good Board, home privileges; central. 2553M. 2d-110-1874B

SIX-ROOMED HOUSE, PARK STREET N. Newly decorated. 'Phone 1350M. 3d-111-1866B

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURnished; heated, all conveniences; central. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer Street. 5d-113-1870B

THREE UNFURNISHED HOUSEkeeping Rooms. 663 Water. 3d-111-1749B

STEAM-HEATED FURNISHED, UNfurnished Apartments, newly decorated, modern. 1699J. 2d-110-1858B

SEVEN-ROOMED HOUSE. APPLY 546 Park Street. 3d-111-1855B

TWO FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING Rooms, with Sunporch all conveniences. Apply 308 Stewart. 3d-111-5222B

c For Rent—General

STORE, NO. 178½ SIMCOE STREET. Immdiate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1397C

GARAGES TO RENT— CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

MODERN STORE, CENTRAL. BELL Apartments. 6d-112-1771C

STORE, 32 292 CHARLOTTE STREET. 'Phone 2675. 3d-109-1799C

STORE, ON CHARLOTTE STREET, in Robinson Block. 'Phone 692. 3d-109-1805C

w Pet Stock

FOR SALE — BOSTON TERRIER Pups (Male). Apply 266 King. 3d-109-1785W

d Real Estate

FOR SALE — EAST ½ LOT 20, CONcession 3, Emily, 100 Acres; good location. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street, Peterborough. dtf-4222D

MODERN HOUSE, ALL CONVENIences, Homewood Avenue. Write Box 1804, Examiner. 3d-109-1804D

FOR SALE — AT ONCE, 6-ROOM House, with garage, in Peterborough: $3,000—$500 cash. Owner, 896 Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. 3d-5,8,9-5178D

e Summer Cottages

FOR SALE — STONEY LAKE ISland, 2 Acres, nicely wooded, beautiful spot; Furnished Cottage, boat house, wharf, skiff, ice-house filled; close to Crowe's. Bargain for cash. W. J. Grant, 81 Quebec Avenue, Toronto. 3d-109-1775E

CHEMONG PARK. 2 FURNISHED Cottages for Season. Mrs. Elliott. 351 Park. 3d-111-1830E

THE F. L. ROY COTTAGES AT Chemong Park are for Rent, season only. Apply Fred L. Roy, The Roy Studio. 3d-109-5173E

NEW SUMMER COTTAGES, FURnished, Loon Lake, Apsley (two hours from Peterborough); bass and trout, sand bathing beach. Write early, Box 1539, Examiner. 6d-28,1,3,5,8,10-1532E

PORTABLE COTTAGE FOR SALE — 10 x 16. 2 Rooms up, 1 down. 491 Water Street. 3d-111-1872E

f Boarders Wanted

ROOM, WITH OR WITHOUT BOARD. 'Phone 1567, or 467 Water Street. 3d-109-1796F

LARGE FURNISHED FRONT ROOM; Board optional. 356 Stewart. 3d-110-1829F

g Help Wanted, Male

MAN WITH CAR, WILLING TO TRAvel; good opportunity. Call after 6 p.m., 285 Park Street. 2d-109-5206G

SALESMEN TO SELL FRIGIDAIRES, Electric Washers, Electric Ranges, and Radios. Real money in this for live wires. Write Box 5099, Examiner. 6d-1,3,5,8,10,12-5099G

h Help Wanted, Female

EXPERIENCED WAITRESS; MUST be experienced. Apply Elite, 'Phone 7. 3d-109-5182H

EXPERIENCED READY-TO-WEAR Saleslady. Apply in person, to Chesler's Store. 3d-111-1852H

AGENTS WANTED.

SELL EVERY HOUSE, CITY OR Country, 100% All-Canadian Line of Food Products, Medicines, Insecticides, Toilet Preparations, etc. Cash proposition, $35 will buy your first assortment. 90% commission. No risk. Money refunded if not qualified. Territory reserved. Big co-operation. Very attractive catalogue and advertising over Radio. Write immediately without obligation. The Familex Products Company, 570 St. Clement Street, Montreal. 12d-5,8,12,15,19,22,26,29,2,5,9,12-5172L

m Lost

DROP EARRING, ONYX, SET WITH Brilliants. Finder leave at Examiner. 3d-109-1768M

PAWN BELT OFF LADY'S POLO Coat, between Downie and Park, on McDonnel. Finder please 'Phone 2983. 3d-110-5199M

WILL THE PERSON WHO TOOK the Bicycle from 266 George Street return same and save further trouble? 2d-109-5200M

LADY'S RIGHT KID GLOVE, SATurday, on George Street. Expenses paid. R. J. Burton, Lakefield. 3d-8,10,12-5217M

GATE OFF TRUCK RACK, ON NORwood Road. Finder please Phone 773W. 3d-110-1793M

SMALL BLACK DOG, CURLY TAIL. "Bobby." 'Phone 2650J. 2d-110-1864M

HAMMOCK AND MATTRESS COVers, between Chemong and Peterborough. 'Phone 228W. 3d-111-1859M

TWO SELECT SOCCER ELEVENS OPEN LOCAL SEASON SATURDAY

Reynolds on Top

Three American League members of baseball's Big Six went on a hitting spree yesterday and sent their batting averages soaring upward. In contrast, the three National League representatives failed to get more than one hit each and lost ground. In the junior circuit, Heinie Manush gained 26 points, Joe Vosmik 22 pints and Carl Reynolds, the leader, 15 points.

	G.	AB.	R.	H.	P.C.
Reynolds, Red Sox	17	67	15	34	.507
Vosmik, Indians	14	57	14	26	.456
Manush, Senators	18	70	18	29	.414
Leslie, Dodgers	18	66	10	26	.394
P. Waner, Pirates	15	62	13	24	.387
Suhr, Pirates	17	63	10	24	.381

j Employment Wanted

FIRST-CLASS CARPENTER WANTS Work by Day or Contract; very reasonable. 'Phone 2063J. 3d-110-1816J

o Live Stock

FOR SALE— TEAM HORSES, HEAVY Wagon and Harness. 201 Antrim. 'Phone 2272. 6d-114-1868O

FOR SALE — 6 POLLED-ANGUS Year-olds. 'Phone 38 ring 1-4, Keene. 3d-111-1857O

q Wanted

WANTED — LIVE POULTRY. PAY good price. 'Phone M. Florence, 3573J. 26d-112-9098Q

ALL KINDS OF RAGS, RUBBERS, Copper, Brass, Iron, etc. Highest cash prices. D. Florence, 342 Stewart Street. 'Phone 694W. 30d-126-4967Q

WANTED—TO BUY, GARAGE THAT can be easily moved; must be reasonable. Write Box 1685, Examiner. 5d-113-1665Q

WANTED — COMBINATION SCREEN and Storm Door in good condition. Write Box 1863, Examiner. 2d-110-1863Q

YOUNG BUSINESS WOMAN REquires Room and Board, in quiet private home; must be central. Write Box 1847, Examiner. 2d-110-1847Q

WANTED — BICYCLE THAT CAN BE Rebuilt, or Parts. 'Phone 878. 3d-111-1871Q

WANTED—MODERN HOUSE, SEVEN Rooms, for immediate possession. Write Box 1849, Examiner, or 'Phone 1524. 3d-111-1849Q

WANTED — TO BORROW, ONE Thousand Dollars First Mortgage. State terms. 896 Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. 3d-5,8,9-5179Q

ROOM AND BOARD, CENTRAL, BY Young Man. Write Box 1822, Examiner. 2d-109-1822Q

WANTED— BY RELIABLE TENANTS, Modern House, in good locality. 'Phone 3587. 3d-110-5202Q

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR Rags, Paper, Copper, Brass, Aluminum, and all kinds of Junk. 'Phone 2505J. 8d-113-5200Q

THREE BRIGHT, UNFURNISHED Rooms, central, heated; gas fixtures, rent reasonable. 'Phone 956J. 2d-109-1833Q

WANTED — THREE UNFURNISHED Rooms, reasonable, by reliable party, South preferred. Write Box 1832, Examiner. 2d-109-1832Q

ONE OR TWO UNFURNISHED Rooms, central. Write Box 1820, Examiner. 3d-110-1820Q

WANTED — LIGHT CAR, ROADSTER or Coupe preferred; must be in good condition. Write Box 1802, Examiner. 3d-110-1802Q

WANTED — OLD GOLD, HIGHEST price paid. Phillips' Dental Laboratory, 408½ George (opposite Lech's). 6d-112-5181Q

s Used Cars for Sale

PONTIAC COUPE, GOOD CONDItoin, rumble seat, for Sale, reasonable. Telephone 1828J. 3d-109-1790S

'27 FORD COUPE, CHEAP. APPLY 8 Dunlop Street. 'Phone 3860. 3d-111-1854S

FOR SALE — 1930 CHEVROLET Truck Express body, in first-class condition. Cheap for cash. Apply E. W. Jones, Tweed, Ontario. 3d-111-5220S

FOR SALE — 1931 PLYMOUTH SEdan, 1930 Essex Sedan, 1932 Dodge Coupe, rumble seat, New 1934 Studebaker Sedan. T. H. Ruth & Son, 184 Simcoe Street. 2d-110-1873S

t General Notice

CAR FOR ALBERTA — ROOM FOR Two, Fare and Expenses. Write Box 1780, Examiner. 3d-109-1780T

PLOUGHING. ED. LYNCH, 2233J. 6d-112-1773T

HAVE YOUR CHESTERFIELD OR Rugs Cleaned by the new Electrolux Vacuum Cleaner: 3 Pieces 75c, Rugs 25c, Demothing $1.00 'Phone 3207J Evenings. 3d-109-1767T

CARPENTER, CABINETMAKER. — Hardwood Floors Laid, Finished. House Repairs. Cabinetwork. Store Fittings. Jobbing. G. Hutchinson, 'Phone 1759F. 6d-113-1839T

HOUSE PAINTING — FIRST-CLASS Material and Good Workmanship never go bad. 'Phone 2581 for Free Estimates. H. Kellar, General Decorator. 33-110-1837T

LANDSCAPE GARDENING — LAWNS Plyed and General Garden Work. 'Phone 292W. 3d-111-1869T

PAPERHANGING, PAINTING, CHESterfields, Rugs Vacuumed, Mothproofed. Doors, Windows Caulked Free. 1699J, 2d-110-1851T

Opening Ceremonies Will Be Conducted at King Edward Park at 3 O'clock.

PLAYERS REGISTER.

Two well-balanced soccer teams were selected at the meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association, last evening, to open the season on Saturday afternoon, on King Edward Park, at three o'clock. On a strict ballot vote, the players were chosen as follows:

"A" Team.—W. Curtis, goal; Art Downer and Asa Downer, full backs; S. Clark, T. Craig and G. Munt, halves; George Clark, N. Downer, Ben McMaster, Alex. Mitchell and Alex. Burgess, forwards.

"B" Team.—D. Green, goal; J. Mitchell and W. Dinesen, full backs; J. Taylor, J. Buchan and W. Rankin, halves; H. Keith, Fred Dyer, Art O'Halloran, Art Ross, and George Downer, forwards.

Reserves.—J. Chamberlain, goal; Sam Agnew, full back; Deb. Whatman, Eric Jones, and W. Robb, halves; J. Colbran, J. Earle, Cliff. Barson, J. Leggitt or A. Moir and T. McPhate or Ed. Adkinson, forwards.

Referee—Harry Hotson.

Linesmen. — Walter Harrington and George Nimmons.

Kick off is scheduled for three o'clock prompt.

B. McMaster captains "A team, and J. Buchan captains "B" team.

Call General Meeting

A duly signed credential requesting a special meeting to be held on Monday evening, May 21st when rules and regulations deferred from the previous meeting will be discussed; also a motion from the Lindsay club requesting that all Lindsay versus Deloro games be played in Peterborough so as to facilitate travelling.

The secretary was instructed to buy a field marker also four goal-field posts. Thomas Craig made an excellent offer on behalf of the soccer code that will be beneficial to the clubs on King Edward Park. Harry Hotston agreed to do the necessary work in connection with the field.

First League Games

The ballot recorded that the Canadian General will travel to Lindsay to open the season there, and that the Canada Packers will meet the Caledonians in the league. No schedule game was selected for Deloro owing to no confirmation from them recently.

The executive as a committe as a whole will meet and arrange the schedule for the month.

Players Registered

The following were registered with the secretary, and allocated accordingly for the season:

Canada Packers.—Albert Edward Todd, Richard Evans, T. J. Chamberlain, James Buchan, Arthur Downer, George Colbran, A. B. Downer, Newt. Downer. Eight players.

Caledonians.—George Clark, Clifford Barson, Thomas S. Craig, Joe Mayette, Walter Dinesen, Edward Adkinson, Wilfred Rankin, Harold Webb, S. Agnew, David Green, Robert Creighton, Deb Whatman, Fred Dyer, J. S. Leggitt, Charles Ward. 15 players.

Canadian General.—W. Robb, James Mitchell, William H. Curtis, Thomas McPhate, Stan Cark, Ben. McMaster, William Bolam, Fred Earle, Alex. R. Mitchell, Alex. Burgess, Eric Jones. 11 players.

Lindsay.—James Taylor, Harry Latham, Thomas Doble, Bertram M. Moore, Frank Munt, Jack Springhall, George Doble, Robert Worthington, Arthur OHalloran, George R. Munt, David M. Wilson, Alex Moir, Harry Keith, Jack Wiles. 14 players.

Practise Wednesday Night

All Caledonian and Canadian General players are requested to be at the park on Wednesday night at six o'clock prompt for a special practice.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By the Associated Press).

Holyoke, Mass.

Sixto Escobar, 120, Porto Rico, stopped Bobby Leitham, 117½, of Montreal (7).

Chicago.

Solly Dukelsky, 157, Chicago, outpointed Young Stuhley, 154, of Kewanee, Ill. (8).

Flint, Mich.

Roger Bernard, 131, Flint, outpointed Eddie Shea, 130, Chicago (10).

Wheeling, W. Va.

Mose Busch, 126, Pittsburgh, drew with Frankie Wolfran, 122, Winnipeg (10).

Sioux City, Ia.

Young Richtmeier, 127, Sioux City, outpointed Mickey Dodge, 128, Stockton, Cal. (8).

Bethlehem, Pa.

Danny Devlin, 149, Allentown, outpointed Eddie Shapir, 149, New York (6).

Buffalo.

Big Boy Brackey, 196, Buffalo, drew with Walter Brennan, 211, Niagara Falls (6).

Syracuse, N.Y.

Steve Halaiko, 140, Auburn, N.Y., outpointed Loy Amber, 135, Herkimer, N.Y. (6).

EXCHANGE

FORD SEDAN, GOOD CONDITION— Would Exchange for Potatoes, Wood or Horse. Write Box 1862, Examiner. 2d-110-1862

BANKING ASSISTANCE FOR FOREIGN TRADE

FACILITIES for every phase of the financing of Foreign Trade are put at the disposal of manufacturers and merchants by the Bank of Montreal.

The facilities extended through any of the Bank's 564 branches in Canada include—

Purchases of Bills of Exchange representing exports.

Providing Commercial Credits for purchases abroad.

Purchase and sale of exchange "futures" for protection against price fluctuations in foreign currencies.

Special wire facilities reaching the important exchange markets and extending the benefits of prompt action in these markets to the Bank's customers at all of its branches.

The obtaining of reports on the character and financial standing of foreign firms.

Enquiries are Invited

Head Office MONTREAL

MODERN, EFFICIENT BANKING SERVICE .... the Outgrowth of 116 Years' Successful Operation.....

BANK OF MONTREAL
Established 1817

BRANCHES IN PETERBOROUGH
Cor. Water and Simcoe Streets: T. A. MacKAY, Manager
George Street: C. S. CUMMER, Manager

TOTAL ASSETS IN EXCESS OF $750,000,000

SAINTS OPEN CHURCH LOOP 22 TO 11 WIN

Revs. Dr. A. T. Barr, C. D. Daniel, J. D. Paterson and G. K. Tyler Attend Opening.

ERRORS FIGURE IN RUNS.

St. James' Juniors opened the ing with a 22-11 win over George ing with a 22-11 win ober George Street. The opening ceremony saw Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, Rev. C. D. Daniel, Rev. J. D. Paterson, Rev. G. K. Tyler and Harold Rehill taking part. There was a large crowd on hand, but the game was only fair, errors figuring largely in the winners' runs and walks in the markers made by the losers. Ridley fanned fourteen but walked twelve for the Saints. He. Mowry and McGoverin were their big hitters while the latter and Heal went good in the field. The George Street youngsters were nervous and it showed in their play. Burnham pitched fairly well, but his teammates' errors kept him in the hole. He fanned four and walked five. Smith led at bat with two hits.

The teams:

George Street — Ward 2b, Heard ss, Kingdon c, Smith cf, Burnham p, Parnell 1b, Roberts 3b, Winslow lf, Rutherford rf, Burns ss.

St. James' — Heal 2b, Smart cf, Mowry lf, E. Leggitt c, Ridley p, McGoverin 1b, S. Leggitt ss, English 3b, Spencely rf.

Umpires—Len Agnew and L. McBain.

Mark Street Bantams play St. Paul's to-night at Queen Mary, while Knox Juveniles meet Trinity at Queen Mary; umpires from St. Andrew's and George Street. Five senor teams are now entered. St. Paul's being the fifth. Full schedule will be published later. This week George Street plays Mark Street at the Oval on Thursday, while Trinity meets Knox on Friday at King Edward Park, the former two teams supplying umpires.

DR. ALEKHINE LEADS

MUNICH, Germany, May 8. (AP) The thirteenth game of the championship chess match between Dr. Alexander Alekhine and E. D. Bogoljubow, adjourned from Sunday night, was finished here yesterday and resulted in a draw by repetition after 74 moves. Eight drawn games now have been recorded, and Dr. Alekhine continues in the lead, having won four games to Gogoljubow's one.

The fourteenth game will be played here to-day.

EXCHANGE.

EXCHANGE 1925 FORD COACH FOR Electric Washing Machine, or Sell for $35.00. Write Box 1826, Examiner. 3d-110-1826

Major Leaders

(By Associated Press.)
(Including yesterday's games):

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Batting —Leslie, Dodgers, .394; P. Waner, Pirates, .387.

Runs — Vaughan, Pirates, 23; Medwick, Cardinals, 17.

Runs batted in — Medwick, Cardinals, 21; Suhr, Pirates, and Klein, Cubs, 19.

Hits—Moore, Giants, 27; Leslie, Dodgers, 26.

Doubles — English, Cubs, 8; Ryan, Giants, 7.

Triples — Suhr, Pirates, and W. Herman, Cubs, 8.

Home runs — Ott, Giants, and Klein, Cubs, 6.

Stolen bases— Martin, Cardinals, and Frey, Dodgers, 3.

Pitching—Bush, Cubs, 5-0; Lucas and Chagnon, Pirates, and Walker, Cardinals, 2-0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Batting — Reynolds, Red Sox, .507; Vosmik, Indians, .456.

Runs — Manush, Senators, 18; Morgan, Red Sox, 17.

Runs batted in— Reynolds, Red Sox, 22; Gehrig, Yankees, 18.

Hits — Reynolds, Red Sox, 34; Manush, Senators, 29.

Doubles — Reynolds and Werber, Red Sox, and Greenberg, Tigers, 9.

Triples — Reynolds, Red Sox, 5; Manush, Senators, 4.

Home runs — Ruth, Yankees, 6; Foxx, Athletics, 5.

Stolen bases— Walker, Tigers, 9; Gehrig, Yankees, 4.

Pitching— Ruffing, Yankees, and Thomas, Senators, 4-0.

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS. HALL & CARLET — Barristers, solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce), Peterborough, Ontario. Telephone: Office No. 64, R. S. Hall, K.C., residence No. 609. T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No. 3086.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND, K.C., M.P.P. — Barrister, Solicitor, Notary Public, Peterborough. 'Phone 191. Money to Loan. 378 Water Street.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors, and Notaries. Office: 415 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1950. R. A. Peck, M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., W. J. McElderry, K.C.

GORDON & ELLIOTT — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries. Private and Trade Marks. Money to Loan. Telephone 2300. Hon. G. H. Gordon, K.C., Alexander L. Elliott, Toronto. Telephone Number Elgin 3331. Office: 410 Saturday Night Building.

OUR PRINTING PRICES are LOWEST

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE STREET • PHONE 40

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN CO.
ESTABLISHED 1885

3% ON DEPOSITS

Interest paid or added half yearly, 30 June and 31 December, in each year. Every facility is afforded to Depositors both in depositing and withdrawing their money.

For sums of $100 and upwards this company's debentures afford a safe and profitable investment. Further information in regard to which will be gladly furnished upon request.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

W. G. MORROW, Managing Director.

Office Hours: 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Open Saturday's until 5 p.m.

INFLUENCE OF THE NAZI REGIME ON WORLD PEACE IS ROTARY THEME

Splendid Address Given by Frank O'Sullivan at Club Luncheon.

SENIOR SCHOOL ORATOR

CAMPBELLFORD, May 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — "The influence of the Nazi Regime on the Peace of Europe," was the theme taken for the address delivered before the Campbellford Rotary Club yesterday at the noon luncheon, when Frank O'Sullivan, senior orator of the Campbellford High School, and winner of the Dr. O. C. Watson cup, delivered his prize winning oration before a very enthusiastic gathering of club members, guest of whom was the speaker's father, George O'Sullivan.

"The one all-important question to go up to the stars to-day from Europe is, 'Will peace be maintained?'" the speaker asked. It is not that Europeans are in the grip of a panic, but on the contrary they are fairly calm, their nerves are adjusted to the situation in which they live. Whence does the danger of war come? Most of us would answer with very little hesitation, from Hitler's Germany. This new neo-barbaric militarism has captured the imagination of Europe.

Conference Failure

Mr. O'Sullivan went on to describe the failure of the Disarmament Conference and the fading away of the league, all of which is ascribed by the average man to Hitler. "One thing is certain, the speaker said, Germany is not dreaming of an immediate or of any early attack on France, still less upon England. The military power of France, even without reckoning the numerous allies on the continent, is still so overwhelming that one cannot imagine even the maddest Nazi dreaming of an attack for many a year to come."

Germany however, the speaker explained, had told the world that she was no longer content with her present boundaries, and although she did not want colonies, she was looking for European expansion to the East at the expense of Russia and the Baltic Republics. Of Germany's hatred of Communism, he said "their hatred is the one fixed and guiding idea in Nazi foreign policy."

"The ugliest vista for the near future is the Polish enigma, he stated. Germany wants to throttle Poland by repeating the crime of Frederick the Great, when he seized that important little province, the Polish Corridor. Between a Polish nationalism that will not surrender 4,000,000 Slavs, and a German nationalism that will not endure a Polish Corridor, there is no possibility of a peace understanding."

One of the most disappointed countries to emerge from the World War was Italy, he said, although on the side of the Allies, she had come out of the struggle as she went in, a second rate state with the aspirations and appetites of a great power. The years after the war, while France grew visably stronger, Fascist Italy grew more resentful. Her desire for close relation with Berlin was clear, but the danger for her of any Austro-German alliance was evident. The right to a place in the sun, the old and once familiar demand of Pan-Germanism inspires Italian policy and Fascist purpose.

"One fact stands out," said Mr. O'Sullivan. "It was not Hitler the preacher of peace, who became German Chancellor amid the enthusiasm of his myriad followers. It was the Hitler, who for ten years had advocated war, and preparations for war, who raised his Storm Troops, who extolled violence and bloodshed at home and abroad, and who claimed for Germany the sacred right to colonize by force the soil of neighboring peoples, and bade Germans never allow another military power to exist in Europe along side of Germany. Prussianized Germany demands equality in armament, but can anyone guarantee that in her present temper, having obtained military equality as a right, she would not employ it as a weapon?" as asked.

The speaker also outlined the effects of the rise of Hitler and his regime on Austria and the forming of the Nazi party in that country, which was subsequently fought and abolished by Chancellor Dolfuss. "There are at the present time at least three possibilities of immediate conflict," he said, "and these arise out of the purposes of national socialism in Germany, the prospects of Fascism in Italy, and the fundamental program of Bolshevism in Soviet Russia. Only the first, Hitlerism, constitutes an acute peril, but in all the three countries, domestic conditions might bring disaster to Europe."

Denial of Civilization

"The case against Hitlerism is that it constitutes a dynamic denial of every principle of Western, and especially British civilization, and indeed, of the Christian ethic. Peace talk notwithstanding, Europe is headed for war, because war is the only means of settling disputes insoluble to persuasion. A true peace must either mean reconciliation or political destruction for the defeated, and for Prussionized Germany, the treaties of 1919 were neither. How far the Nazi revolution will manage to control is a matter of critical importance, not merely for Germany, but for the whole world," the speaker declared.

Rotarian Earl Greig, principal of the Campbellford High School, introduced the guest speaker, whom he described as a fine type of student with stirling qualities, the senior orator of the school, and captain of the school cadet corps. A vote of thanks to Frank O'Sullivan was moved by Rotarian Charles Calver, on behalf of the club members. President Clarence Williams handled the gavel, Rotarian Elie Brunelle being appointed the club's official delegate to the District Conference, being held at St. Catharines next week.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Slight alterations in mail collections have been made in town with the change in train services. The evening train from Toronto is now due at 9.25 p.m., the morning train from Belleville arriving at 7.13 a.m. In future all mail boxes in town will be collected at 8.30 p.m., the deadline at the Post Office for mailing letters being 9 p.m.

Mrs. Nelson Hardy of Dartford spent Friday evening in town with Mrs. Eleanor Hardy and attended the musical recital of St. Joseph's Convent, held in the High School. Mrs. Hardy's nephew, Mr. T. Hardy also attended this function.

Miss Margaret Guernsey and Mrs. Hannah Landon spent the week-end with Mrs. E. Hardy, before returning to their home in Norwich.

Mrs. N. A. MacColl and daughter Nancy are visiting in Montreal, the guests of Mrs. MacColl's sister, Mrs. H. W. Fleming.

The High School cadet inspection, which is scheduled for Friday next, will be held on the school campus at 2.30 p.m. The public are invited to attend this function.

Mrs. H. Witthun is in Montreal this week where she is visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Windrim and son Stanley were visitors to Port Hope over the week-end, the guests of Mrs. Windrim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley.

Mr. N. A. MacColl was in Toronto over the week-end, attending a meeting of the sub-executive of the Ontario Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

YOUR GUARDIAN ANGEL LAUGHS.

DO YOU believe that the longer a man lives the less chance he has for happiness—the more he will learn of the meanness, the nastiness, the general worthlessness of the human race?

Do you want to argue the subject?

If it's all the same to you I'd rather not.

Because I know you would be able to pile up such a mass of examples, so many stories of viciousness and ingratitude, betrayed friendship and beastly selfishness that I'd be licked before I started. And soon I'd be infected by your pessimism, and I'd start to match dirt with dirt, sad tale with sadder tale and end by having a lower opinion of life than you.

Sometimes it does seem that life is a trap in which men lose their fairest dreams, their better selves. Things do happen to verify your saddest thoughts, meanest suspicions. Men and women confirm your unhappiness. And YOU do the very things you never dreamed you'd do. The rich soil of you washes away and nothing is left but the infertile rock.

You forget to laugh. You lose the one talent which nature denies to the animals and gives to man.

If anything is divine in man it must be that gift of laughter. It came late in our growth, but since it is ours alone it was surely meant to be used. It was intended as our last cartridge against fate — to be used against our own pessimism or against the villainy of others who have forgotten, as we have, to laugh.

I believe man has a Laughing Spirit within—and that the gay Spirit of Laughter is his guardian angel. That angel has laugh wrinkles about his eyes, his mouth turns up in merry fashion, his nose is a perky pug, he is freckled and he can wiggle his ears.

But his great wings spread wide over the earth and his laughing eyes miss none of the odd foolishness of men. He sees them scrambling for fortune and favor, he sees them forgetting the best and sweetest part of themselves—and then he laughs.

And that laugh, beginning in gentle thunders, becomes a mighty clap of mirth and echoes to every corner of the world and starts all men to laughing again as they did in the childhood of the world. And when they laugh their guardian spirit is happy again, for he knows his children are as they were always meant to be—at ease on the earth and glad to be alive.

RENNIE SEED EVERYWHERE IN CANADA

THE FINEST IN THE LAND
Canada's Reliable Seed House for 64 Years
Grand Rapids Tomato, pkt. 25c
Wm. RENNIE SEEDS Limited
TORONTO
ALSO MONTREAL, VANCOUVER
Write for Catalog

TUESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION:

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony 10—Variety 11—Instru Trio 12—Speaker 13—Organ. 14—Children 15—Miscellan

(DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

5.45 P.M
4—WABC—Gordon, Dave and Bunny
14—WEAF—Nursery Rhymes.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.

6.00 P.M
4—WEAF—Madame Frances Alda
3—CFRB—Dick Steele
12—WABC—Buck Rogers
4—CRCT—Indian Serenader

6.15 P.M
10—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.

6.30 P.M.
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports
4—WEAF—Mid-week Hymn Sing
11—WABC—Mischa Raginsky's Ensemble.
12—WJZ—Stamp Club
11—CFRB—Jim Hunter

6.45 P.M.
4-1-WEAF—Mary Small and Orch.
3—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.

7.00 P.M.
15—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume
4—WABC—Morton Downey.

7.15 P.M.
3—CRCT—Market Reporter.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen.
10—CFRB—Just Plain Bill.
13—WJZ—You and Your Government

7.30 P.M.
4-1-WABC—Paul Keast and Hudson's Or.
1—CFRB—Ferde Mowry's Orch
3-10-CRCT—News and Bright and Breezy (CRC)
6—WEAF—Eddie East and Ralph Dumke

7.45 P.M.
10—WJZ—The Sizzlers.
3—WABC—Boake Carter.
15—WBEN—The Goldbergs

8.00 P.M.
1—CKNC—Rex Battle's Orch.
1—WABC—Little Jack Little's Orch
12—CRCT—N C E Program.
4-1-WEAF—Phil Duey and Leo Reisman's Orch.
7—WJZ—Crime Clues
4—CFRB—Glen Devon Singers.

8.30 P.M.
10—WJZ—Conrad Thibault, Lois Bennett, and Salter's Orch.
4—CRCT—Beautiful Lady (CRC).
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.
—CFRB—Hollywood Show (CBS).

9.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Fredie Martin's Orch.
10—WJZ—Edgar A Guest, poet
15—CRCT—Violons et Violoncelles (CRC).
1—WEAF—Bernie's Orch.

9.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Radio Theatre Guild (CRC).
9—WABC—Minneapolis Symphony Orch.
1—WJZ—Eddie Duchin's Orch.
2—WEAF—Ed Wynn the Fire Chief, and Don Voorhee s Orch
10—CFRB—Wrigley Hour

10.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Palmolive Beauty Theatre (NBC)
7—WJZ—Ray Perkins in Variety Show.
10—WABC—Glen Gray s Orch and Connie Boswell
4—CKNC—Concordia Choir (CRC).

10.30 P.M.
9—CRCM—Melodic Strings.
1—WJZ—Frank Black's Orch
4—WABC—Tom Lewis' Chorus.
8—CFRB—Roxy Reporter

11.00 P.M.
8—CFRB—News
15—CRCT—Nautical Nonsense.
1—WJZ—Emil Coleman's Orch.
10—WEAF—Fur Trappers.
10—WABC—Harlem Serenade .

11.15 P.M.
3-4-WJZ—Poet Prince
4—WEAF—John Fogarty

11.30 P.M.
3-1-WJZ—News and Phil Harris' Orch.
3-1-CRCT—Press and Bissett's Orch. (CRC)
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
10—WEAF—National Radio Forum.

12 MIDNIGHT.
1—CFRB—Harry Sosnik's Orch.
3—CRCT—Weather
1—WEAF—Rudy Vallee's Orch.

WEDNESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12.00 NOON.
4—CRCT—Eva Taylor.
12—WABC—Voice of Experience.

12.30 P.M.
4—WABC—Smiling Ed. McConnell.
11—WEAF—String Trio.
12—CFRB—Farmers' Market Report.

2.00 P.M
11—CFRB—Concert Miniatures.
15—CRCT—Two Seats in Balcony.

3.00 P.M.
4—CRCT—Joe White tenor.
4—WEAF—Marion McAfee
11—CFRB—Laforge Musicale.

4.00 P.M
1—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
10—CFRB—Manhattan News.
10—CRCT—Pop Concert.

4.45 P.M
15—CRCT—Lady Next Door.
4—WJZ—Morin Sisters.

5.00 P.M
1—WJZ—Roy Shields' Orch.
4-1-CFRB—Jack Brooks and Orch.

5.30 P.M.
4—WJZ—Singing Lady.
14—WEAF—Frank Merrivill's Adventures
5.45 P.M
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
4—WEAF—Arm Chair Quartette.
4—WABC—Gordon, Dave, Bunny.

6.00 P.M.
11—CRCT—Indian Serenader.
3—CFRB—Dick Steele.
1—WEAF—Waldorf Astoria Orch.
12—WABC—Buck Rogers.
4—WJZ—Westminster Choir.

6.15 P.M
15—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.
12—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster
6.30 P.M
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports.
4—WJZ—Three X Sisters.
12—WEAF—To be announced.

6.45 P.M.
1—WKBW—Leon Belasco's Orch.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas
4—CFRB—Croon-a-Tune Boys.
4—WEAF—Martha Meers.

7.00 P.M.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume
4—WABC—Vera Van.

7.15 P.M.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen.
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill.

7.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
3-14-CRCT—Canadian Press and Uncle Jerry (CRC).
4—WJZ—Yvette Rugel.
11—WABC—Music on the Air.
10—WEAF—Shirley Howard and The Jesters.

7.45 P.M.
6—WBEN—The Goldbergs
4—WJZ—Irene Rich.
3—WABC—Boake Carter.

8.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Royal Gelatine Program.
12—CKNC—Crimes Adventure.
3—CFRB—Frontpage Headlines.
6—WEAF—The Baron Munchausen
7—WJZ—Crime Clues.
4—WABC—Phil Duey.

8.15 P.M.
10—CFRB—Easy Aces.

8.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Fundy Fantasy (CRC).
11—CFRB—Broadway Melodies.
4—WJZ—Carlos Gerdal.
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.

8.45 P.M.
5—CRCT—Babe Ruth.

9.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—The Serenaders (CRC)
5—CFRB—Wes McKnight Sportviews
10—WABC—Andre Kostelanetz Orch.
10—WEAF—The Hour of Smiles
11—WJZ—Raymond Knight and the Cuckoos.

9.30 P.M.
6—WABC—Burns and Allen, with Lombardo's Orch
11—CRCT—Rainbow Rhythms (CRC).
1—WJZ—To be announced.
10—CFRB—Musical Highway.

10.00 P.M
1—CFRB—Cafe Continental.
1—WJZ—Vincent Lopez' Orch. Three Soamps
10—WBEN—Corn Cob Club.
10—CRCT—One Hour With You.
7—WABC—Dramatic Guild.

10.30 P.M.
3-10-CFRB—News and Pompeian Program
11—WABC—Albert Spalding.
1—WJZ—Jack Denny's Orch.

11.00 P.M
11—WJZ—Picken Sisters.
4—WABC—Nick Lucas.

11.15 P.M
1—CFRB—Little Jack Little's Orch.
10—CRCT—Raymond Knight and His Cuckoos
4—WJZ—John Fogarty.

11.30 P.M
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
4—WJZ—Jules Stein's Orch.
1—WEAF—Reggie Childs' Orch.

12 MIDNIGHT.
1—WJZ—Emil Coleman's Orch.
1—WABC—Red Nichol's Orch.
1—WEAF—Frankie Masters' Orch.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

MAY 8, 1924

The proposal to use South Central School, after repairs had been made, as a vocational training centre was rejected last night by the Board of Education....Classes are now open, free of charge, for the instruction of boys wanting to master swimming in the "Y" pool.

MAY 8, 1914

The local museum in the Public Library has been enriched recently by many old Indian relics unearthed in the banks of the Otonabee River north of here....Anniversary services will be held here Sunday both in the Park Street Baptist Church and in St. Paul's Church.

MAY 8, 1904

The local License Holders' Association met yesterday to discuss the bdewers' increased prices of $2.50 a hogshead and decided that retailers would have to sell beer in smaller glasses....Three new carriages have been added to Dr. F. L. Robinson's livery here.

IRVING BERLIN'S HITS FEATURE OF PROGRAM

Irving Berlin's latest melodies will be featured to-night, Tuesday, at 9.30 pm. E.D.S.T., over CFRB, by Wrigley's Rhythmic Spearmen, under the direction of Geoffrey Waddington.

Geoff has spared no effort to make his Rhythmic Spearmen a sensation of restful and melodious smoothness.

Other numbers to be presented include "Six Women," sung by Cliff Edwards in "George White's Scandals"; "Thank you for a lovely evening," a piece now reaching hit proportions at the Palais Royal Review, New York City; the ever popular "Carioca"; "Hold my hand," also from George White Scandals," featured by Rudy Vallee; and that lilting tune, "Last year's girl."

CENTRETON

Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfraim of Castleton spent Thursday with their daughter, Mrs. Janet McBride and family.

R. Lawlessof Grafton has started to make his usual trips to deliver groceries in the village.

Store Hours: 9 a.m. until 5.30 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. until 9.30 p.m. PHONE 3000

Wednesday at the C.D.S. is

BABY DAY

Now is the time for all well-meaning parents and relatives and doting friends to come to the aid of their baby friends.

Special! Broadcloth Rompers

Nothing like taking baby for a toddle in a pair of cool Cotton Broadcloth Rompers. Envelope style with round collar or without, short sleeves, contrasting trim. Colors: peach, blue, navy and Nile. Sizes 1 and 2. Special, pair 39c

Special! Celanese Bonnets

A pretty little Bonnet for the days baby makes a personal appearance on the street. Of pink or white celanese with frill, shirred and faggoted, and edged with lace. Cosily lined. Sizes 12, 13 and 14. Special Wednesday, each 29c

There will be scales in the department on which to weigh baby.

KNITTED SWEATERS — With or without collar. In white, pink or blue. Infants' sizes. Each ..... $1 and 1.25

CREPE-DE-CHINE DRESSES—Panties to match. Round collar, smocking, short sleeves. Various colors. 1, 2 and 3 years. Each.. 1.95

VOILE SLIPS — Of fine Swiss voile, in yoke style, lace trimmed, scalloped hem, white only. Sizes 1 and 2 years. Each..... 49c

Eatonia DRESSES — Of Swiss voile, trimmed with tucks, lace and shirring. White only. Sizes 1 and 2 years. Eatonia value, each..... 89c

BABY COATS — Of celanese, crepe-de-chine, corded silk and basket weave. Smocked or tailored. Pink, white, blue. Sizes 1, 2, 3. Each 1.95 to 4.95

SUN SUITS—Of linen. All hand-made with hand-embroidery. Some with pockets. Nile, blue, white. Sizes 1, 2 and 3. Each..... 89c

CELANESE ROMPERS — Envelope style, short sleeves, round collar. Colors: pink, blue, Nile and white. Sizes 1 and 2 years. Each..... $1

CARRIAGE COVERS — Of Rayon with bunny applique. Pillow Cover to match. Pink or blue. Medium size. Each..... 1.95

—2nd floor, C.D.S.

Infants' "Naturfit" Shoes

Soft Patent Leather Straps and Oxfords with chrome tanned leather soles and cushion insoles. Sizes 2 to 5. Pair..... 99c

—Main Floor, C.D.S.

For Baby's Comfort . . .

English Style Coach

Priced at 29.50

The all-steel body of this roomy, easy-riding Coach is handsomely designed and embossed, measuring 34" long by 18" wide, outside. The pushers are tubular steel nickel-plated. 12" wheels have 1¼" white rubber tires. Rear wheels have attractive dressguards. Equipped with cable hand brake and flexible steel side strap suspension springs. Floor model is in navy; can be ordered in kingfisher blue, grey, maroon or tan finishes. Each 29.50

—Basement, C.D.S.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE FIRST FRENCH IN ACADIA.

By Fred Williams.

ON THIS DATE, in 1604, Pierre deMonte, Seigneur de Guast, arrived at the mouth of the Bay of Fundy and French settlement of Acadia was inaugurated. Champlain was with him; indeed it was he who persuaded Demonts to come back to America. The latter had visited the St. Lawrence in 1603 with Pont Grave and had got as far as Tadoussac, but he formed a very unfavorable opinion of the country and when he was made head of the company founded by Champain to plant colonies in America he decided to try his luck in Acadia. It might be better than "Canada"; it could not be worse, in his opinion. So he came to the Bay of Fundy, or rather, to the St. Croix River, which Chaplain designated Riviere des Etchemenins after the Indians of the district.

The French spent their first winter on the island, which they named St. Croix because the main river and a stream above resembled a cross. It was really not until June 24 that Champain entered the Bay of Fundy, which it is certain was known to previous navigators from Europe, French, Basque and Portuguese fishermen in the 17th century. There is dispute as to the origin of its name, some claiming that it comes from the Portuguese "fondo" meaning "deep," but other historians prove that the name represents an early English corruption of the French "fendu," meaning "split?" Any way the bay is on the Cabot map of 1544. Demonts called it la Baye Francoise, but the original name came back and has since been retained. The visitors were, of course, astounded, as are visitors of to-day at the tremendous tides. Champlain and his party soon establish friendly relations with the Indians, a chief of whom in 1605 took Champlain up to the Basin of Minas to show him a copper mine.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter advanced on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday, while other lines held firm.

Fresh No. 1 butter in carlots or less gained 1c at 19¼c to 19½c a pound. To retailers, solids were quoted at 21c and prints at 22c a pound. Receipts were 145 boxes.

Curent Ontario cheese sold at 9¾c a pound. Arrivals totalled only 14 boxes.

Curent Ontario cheese sold at 9¾c a pound. Arrivals totalled only 14 boxes.

Graded shipments of eggs in carlots or less were 19c to 19½c a dozen for "A" large, 18c to 18½c for "A" medium, 17c to 17½c for "B" and 15½c for "C" Western eggs being ¼c above the maximum of the general prices. Offerings amounted to 1,035 cases.

Quebec potatoes per 80-pound bag were quoted at 90c to 95c, while New Brunswicks per 80-pound bag were 95c to $1, and Prince Edward Islands per 90-pound bag were $1.20 to $1.25.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Shooting straight for the zenith, wheat yesterday touched 7¼c above last week's low point, and held most of the grain.

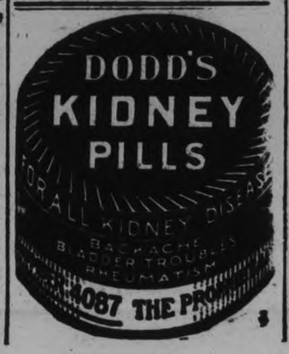
Widening of drought areas, with reports of 100 degree temperatures in the Middle West shattering all records for this time of year, and no substantial moisture relief in sight, led to increased general speculative buying both on wheat and other cereals. As yesterday's extreme advance, wheat was nearly 4c above Saturday's finish; corn up 2c; oats, 2¾c; rye, 2½c and barley, 3¼c.

An outstanding feature was that the steep rise of grain markets took place notwithstanding big sales to realize profits and despite weakness of securities.

Wheat closed unsettled, 2¾c to 3¼c higher for the day; corn advanced ¾c to 1¼c; oats showing 2c to 2½c gain, and provisions a climb of 5c to 15c.

Wave Lengths

Station	Metres	Kilocycles
CKNC Toronto	291	1030
CFCF Montreal ...	291	600
CROO Ottawa	434	880
CFRB Toronto	434	690
CKAC Montreal ...	411	730
CRCT Toronto	312	960
CKCL Toronto	517	580
CKLW Windsor ...	556.6	540
CHNC Toronto	357	840
CKCO Ottawa	[illegible]	1010
KDKA Pittsburg ..	309	930
KMOX St Louis ..	275	1090
WABC New York ..	349	860
WTIC Hartford ..	282.8	1060
WGR Buffalo	545	550
WBBM Chicago ...	329	770
WBEN Buffalo	333	900
WEAF New York ..	454	660
WGY Schenectady.	379	790
WKBW Buffalo ...	302	1480
WJZ New York ...	394	760
WJR Detroit	400	750
WLW Cincinnati ..	428	700
WMAQ Chicago ...	447	670
WTAM Cleveland ..	389	1070



TWO NEIGHBORS SAVE WOMAN, BABY FROM FIRE

TORONTO, May 8 (C.P.). Heroic work by Robert and Benjamin Johnston, brothers, saved the lives of Mrs. Edward Steane and her 18-months-old baby when fire broke out yesterday in the Steane house.

Awakened by the heat of the blaze thought to have been started by a cigarette butt falling on a chesterfield, Mrs. Steane screamed for help. Hearingher cries the Johnston brothers each carryinf an extension ladder, dashed to her aid and brought her safely to the ground.

Meanwhile Mr. Steane handed his two sons, Gordon 7 and Fred 10, across the alley 40 feet above the ground into the hands of neighbors who had opened their side windows after learning the Steane home was endangered by fire.

ALBERTA COAL MAY BE CUT $1

Delegation Seeks $2.50 Per Ton Subsidy on Shipments East.

WILL SEE BENNETT.

LONDON, Ont., May 8 (C.P.).—Ontario may have fuel at a price reduction of more than $1 a ton if plans for a subsidy on Alberta coal now under consideration are accepted by the Federal Government, according to Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, who was in London last night on his way from his former home near Brigden to Ottawa for an interview with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett.

A subsidy of $2.50 a ton on Alberta coal for shipment is asked by the Alberta delegation. Premier Brownlee said. This would only put the Alberta product on a parity with Nova Scotia coal regarding the subsidy, and would mean a probable increase in the production of Alberta coal mines of from 20,000 to 300,000 tons and subsequent increase in employment.

Already there is a considerable shipment of the harder grades of Alberta coal to the east, but with the subsidy it would be possible to ship the coal here at a very attractive price compared with American fuels.

Premier Brownlee will meet Premier Bennett to-morrow and a definite decision is expected at that time.

Plan C.C.F. Rallies For Durham County

This week, C.C.F. rallies will be conducted in various section of Durham County with Dr. Lorna Cotton being the chief speaker Meetings are listed as follows: Tuesday—Bethany; Wednesday — Millbrook and Friday—Blackstock.

On Saturday night, Dr. Cotton will speak at Orono and as well, addresses will be given by William Irvine, M.P. and E. P. Garland, M.P. At the latter meeting, several members of the Port Hope C.C.F. branch will attend.

MOTHER'S DAY IS HELD AT CAVAN

Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe of Peterborough Special Speaker at Sunday School Service.

DR. LANG TO RESIGN.

CAVAN, May 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—On Sunday afternoon, Mother's Day was observed in Cavan United Church, with the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Lang, the Sunday School superintendent, Mr. James Douglas, and Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, of Peterborough, taking part.

Mr. Douglas, when introducing the guest speaker, assured him that he had been the unanimous choice of the Sunday School for special speaker for this service. Indeed since 1928 Mr. Sutcliffe has each year been a much appreciated speaker at Cavan on Mother's Day.

He brought a very inspiring message, basing his remarks on Acts 5:42, "And daily in the temple and in every house they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ." Mr. Sutcliffe delighted the congregation with his solo, "My Mother's Bible."

Dr. Lang to Resign.

The Rev. Dr. Lang gave notice that, owing to ill-health, he will ask the consent of the Presbytery to retire from the ministry and resign from the position of pastor of Cavan circuit.

A meeting of the Quarterly Official Board was called for Monday evening.

Women Meet.

Cavan W.M.S. and W.A. held their regular meeting in the church on Thursday afternoon, with fifteen ladies present.

Mrs. Douglas was in charge of the devotional period, during which Mrs. M. Carr read the devotional leaflet and Mrs. Swain led in prayer. Mrs. Ray Syer gave the financial report of the Seth Parker concert, which had recently been given by the Millbrook group of St. Andrew's Church. Five dollars and eighty-eight cents were added to the treasury of each church W.M.S. The Easter offering and collection amounted to $16.33. A letter was read from a missionary, Miss Luella Rorke, telling of her work in China. Mrs. Swain read an article on temperance, entitled "The Place of Prayer in the Work." Miss Annie Tinney sang a solo, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord." Mesdames Perrin, Kennedy, Swain, Snider and Syer read study leaflets on missionary work. Prayer by the president, Mrs. Perrin, with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison closed the meeting.

During the W.A. session, Mrs. Kennedy sang a solo. Plans were made for having a lecture in the church in the near future.

Personals.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Fee, of East Emily, and family, were visitors in Cavan on Sunday.

On Sunday, May 20, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in Cavan United Church.

FATALLY HURT IN FALL

GODERICH.—Falling from the upper part of the chute at Graham's ice house at the dock last night, Thomas Gauley suffered a fractured skull and died while being removed in the ambulance to the hospital. An inquest will be held Tuesday.

MINING MAN SHOT NEAR TORONTO, BELIEVED MURDERED

PROBABILITIES.
Moderate fresh south to south-west winds; partly cloudy to-night and Thursday with occasional showers.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXII., No. 109 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1934 — PRICE THREE CENTS

ST. THOMAS KILLER TAKEN, WEST LORNE

Sudbury Relief Officials Sentenced

SHORTY QUESNEL FORMER CLERK GIVEN 4 YEARS

Accomplice Gets Two and Half—Conspiracy, Forgery Charges.

PRISONERS BREAK DOWN.

Betrayed Trust at Time Important to Prevent Unrest Judge Comments.

SUDBURY, Ont., May 9.—(CP)—Wilfred 'Shorty' Quesnel, 32, former Sudbury relief office clerk, was sentenced to four years in penitentiary for conspiracy and forgery, and his accomplice, Ralph Zamonsky, 27, to two and a half years for conspiracy and uttering by Mr. Justice McFarland at the adjourned spring assizes here today. They were convicted by a jury yesterday afternoon after a lengthy trial.

Both prisoners broke down when sentence was imposed, Zamonsky falling to his knees on the floor of the dock. Quesnel covered his face with his handkerchief, and his shoulders shook with emotion.

"Trial Been Very Fair"

"You have been tried by the finest jury that has ever come before me, or that I have pleaded before," his lordship told Zamonsky. To Quesnel he said, "you have been tried by an extraordinarily intelligent jury. Your trial has been very fair."

Imposing the lengthier sentence on Quesnel, His Lordship said he believed he was the instigator of the crimes and that the younger Zamonsky was led by him.

"I am not going to make a speech," he told Quesnel. "I have already said how seriously I consider your crime, particularly at a time when it is so important to prevent public unrest. You were a public servant and you betrayed your trust."

Pleading for leniency for his client, J. J. O'Connor, Quesnel's counsel declared that the prisoner should never have been placed in a position of responsibility as he was unfit for it either by experience or education. J. M. Cooper, counsel for Zamonsky, stressed the youth and previous good record of his client.

"He is the youngest of a family of eight, all of whom are very respectable people," he said. "He has been in Canada only four years and during that time has been a good citizen."

CRISIS REMAINS ON ARMS POLICY

British Cabinet Divided on Next Steps Fails to Reach Agreement.

NO NEW PLANS.

(By George Hambleton—C.P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, May 9 (C.P. Cable).—The British Cabinet, divided over the steps to be followed next, again discussed disarmament at a meeting this afternoon and the crisis remained. No further British plan appeared on the horizon, and definite announcement of policy, it was indicated, would not be made before the disarmament conference meets at Geneva on May 29.

One section of the Ministers favors the conclusion of a limited agreement as the best that can be obtained under the circumstances.

The remainder favor letting everything stand until the political atmosphere cools.

These differing views, however, it is emphasized, do not amount to an actual split in the Cabinet.

Your Evening Smile

FAIR WARNING

First Comic: All my life I've wanted to play a part in a tragedy.
Second Comic: Well you will if you don't leave my fiancee alone!

Summary of To-day's World News By Examiner's Own Wire Service

ST. THOMAS—Frank Mactemple captured after 40 hours chase for slaying police officer. Remanded for week.

WASHINGTON—U. S. adamant on war debt collection.

PARIS—Six drown as airliner crashes in Channel.

TORONTO—Mine official found shot. Murder suspected.

ATHENS—Troops fire on strikers. Five men, one woman dead.

WINNIPEG—Three gunmen loot bank of $3,000. 2 captured, money recovered.

SUDBURY—Ex-relief clerk gets four years for conspiracy.

OTTAWA—Imperial Tobacco profits $41,225,100 in five years.

LONDON—Crisis remains as Cabinet fails to agree on aramaments policy.

4 GUNMEN LOOT WINNIPEG BANK TWO CAPTURED

Police Cruiser Overtakes Pair Fleeing on Foot After Abandoning Car.

$3,000 CASH RECOVERED.

Eyewitnesses Claim Two Others Involved—Staff Locked in Vault.

WINNIPEG, May 9.—(C.P.P.)—Twenty minutes after a $3,000 bank robbery was committed here today, all the money had been recovered. Two of the four men sought in connection with the hold-up were taken into custody at Notre Dame and Arlington streets, a dozen blocks from the scene, by a police cruiser car.

The looted bank was the Bank of Montreal branch at the corner of Portage and Goulding streets.

The two captured men insisted they were the only two involved in the hold-up but eyewitnesses said two others took part. The men captured as they fled on foot after abandoning the car used in the hold-up, gave their names as Jack O'Brien of Kenora, Ont., and Israel Melinchuk.

The bank manager and the entire staff of the bank were closed in the vault by the gunmen. The staff consisted of C. H. Anderson, manager, G. F. Bjornson, teller, C. K. Agnew, ledger-keeper, and H. Hartley, junior clerk.

Twice before the same branch of the bank had been held up. On May 20, 1924, Frank Martin, dope addict, was shot and killed six blocks from the bank after a running gun-fight with police. On Jan. 29, 1926, three bandits held up the bank and seized $1,800.

Hearing For Insull On Bail Reduction

CHICAGO, May 9.—(AP)—Judge Will M. Sparks of the United States circuit court of appeals granted a habeas corpus writ for Samuel Insull this afternoon and agreed to hear a petition at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow for the reduction of his $200,000 bond.

The petition, signed by Insull himself in the county jail hospital, was presented by his attorney, Floyd E. Thompson, after another federal judge had refused an informal motion to trim the heaviest bond ever required in a Chicago federal court.

Thompson said he would argue that $100,000 which Insull can furnish, was ample bond to assure his appearance for trial and that the higher sum was exorbitant and violated his constitutional rights.

United States Plans To Build 1,000 Planes

WASHINGTON, May 9 (A.P.).—The United States Army dug into a $7,500,000 aviation fund to-day, starting a three-year drive to acquire 1,000 of the "world's finest fighting planes."

From the office of Harry H. Woodring, Assistant Secretary of War, came a call for bids on a fleet of 80 huge bombing planes—a call which initiated the War Department's policy of insisting upon competitive bidding.

The call to-day for bids on the 80 bombers, to be delivered early in 1934, specified that they be the "finest in the world."

"Full Dress"

OKLAHOMO CITY, May 9 (CP)—Monroe Hinton explained in court how a gushing oil well sprinkled his full dress suit with oil, and why he wanted $50 damages from the oil company.

"What do you do with a full dress suit?" has was asked.

"Wear it to church," he replied.

"You mean you wear a stiff shirt and all that to church?"

"No," Hinton explained. "Mine's just a Sunday suit like you've got on, but it's full dress for me."

SIX ARE SLAIN ATHENS STRIKE

Woman Among Victims as Troops, Police Use Machine Guns.

SITUATION SERIOUS.

ATHENS, May 9 (AP)—Police and troops turned machine-guns upon strikers to-day, killing six men and one woman during disturbances in Kalamata harbor.

An unidentified number of persons were injured.

Despite the police and military fire, the mob of strikers held their ground.

The bodies of the dead lay in the streets.

The authorities on the spot asked for additional soldiers.

The authorities unlimbered machine-guns when the strikers attempted to destroy the new grain-loading devices which have been installed in the harbor.

The workers were protesting agains the construction of the modern devices, contending they would throw a number out of work.

The Government immediately issued a communique saying the situation was serious.

MINE OFFICIAL IS FOUND SHOT NEAR TORONTO

Police Claim Victim Could Not Have Fired Fatal Bullet.

GUN ON KNEES.

Woman's Footprints Discovered Leading Away From Side of Car.

TORONTO, May 9.—(CP)—A bullet wound in the head, the body of William N. Fitchett, vice-president of the Patricia Rouyn Exploration Company, was found in a car early today on Shepherd avenue, North York.

Police stated preliminary investigation indicated Fitchett could not have fired the fatal shot. They advanced the theory he had been slain.

Footprints of a woman, leading from the right hand side of the machine, were the first clue discovered by investigators.

A .22-calibre rifle was found across the dead man's knees. Police contended that under the circumstances it would have been impossible for him to have shot himself.

It was learned at Fitchett's residence that he had left home early yesterday and had not been seen since. He was 49 years old.

(Continued on Page Five.)

Boy's Jaw Fractured While Playing Ball

C. Edward Johnston, 215 Perry Street, injured at Central School grounds while at softball practice last evening, was this afternoon stated by Dr. N. D. Buchanan to be resting comfortably at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Dr. Buchanan described Johnston's injuries as consisting of fracture of the upper jaw and cheek bones and a broken nose. While the injuries are severe, the doctor was hopeful that the condition would yield satisfactorily to treatment he is administering.

YEARLY SALARIES.

HOOPESTON, Ill., May 9 (C.P.).—It was pay day—Mayor Walter Trego received 50 cents, the aldermen "two bits" each.

The payments constituted their yearly salaries, fixed when the town was incorporated in 1877.

PARIS IS NERVOUSLY AWAITING NEXT OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE

Mysterious Activity by Many Parties Has Populace in Terror.

ARMIES AT GATES.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

PARIS, April 27. — People in all walks of life are buying arms in Paris. Fighting between groups of young socialists and communists on the one hand and members of the patriotic youth organization (jeunesses patriotiques), the King's henchmen (camelots du rel); the solidarists, franciats and fiery cross-men (croix de feu) on the other hand is an almost daily occurrence. The scraps generally start over the sale of party newspapers in the streets. Twice within three days' time and without having gone out of my way to look for trouble, I witnessed a sudden rush of two opposing groups of club-swingers fiercely assaulting each other. The fight was short, sweet and silent, both groups carrying off their wounded before police riot-squads appeared on the scene of action. The police contented themselves with washing away the blood from the sidewalks and collecting a score of hats, umbrellas and broken bottles.

Another novelty of Parisian life is the appearance of mysterious signs, usually in chalk, but sometimes in the form of small posters

(Continued on Page Three.)

80-Foot Flood

FORT CHIPEWYAN, Alta., May 9 (C.P.).—Sweeping buildings and trees in a mad rush, waters of the Peace River continued their record-breaking rampage as they rose 80 feet above the normal summer level at a point 100 miles west of here, reports reaching this point said to-day. Never before in white man's knowledge or Indian's memory has the river reached such flood proportions. Fort Chipewyan is 400 miles north of Edmonton.

Brighter Conditions Of Past Two Months Are Being Well Maintained In Peterboro'

Sale of two lots on Victoria Heights and several others in Ashburnham was reported this morning by Herb McCannan, who said he understood these properties had been bought for building purposes.

"More families have been moving into Peterborough," Mr. McCannan said, "and in every case, I believe, the heads of these families have come here to take positions they had previously obtained. Business with us has been considerably better than a year ago, and if there is no setback to the improvement of the last few months the season should be very satisfactory. We have rented some houses that have been vacant for months, one of them for a year and a half. There are signs that local money for lending is more available than it has been for three years, and if regular employment should increase another fifteen per cent. it is altogether likely that there would be a shortage of houses. Generally speaking, the brighter conditions of the last two months are being well maintained, in spite of the backward weather of this spring."

A Smart Pup

TORRINGTON, Conn., May 9 (CP)—There is a new hitch-hiker on New England roads—Anthony Vokeltic's Chow dog.

The dog satisfies his yearning for travel by jumping on the running board of automobiles and trucks.

His latest trip took him to Great Barrington, Mass., on a fruit truck. He returned three days later on the same truck.

PLANE CRASHES CHANNEL FLIGHT SIX LOSE LIVES

Wreckage is Spotted 18 Miles Off Boulogne, Rescue Craft Despatched.

GOES DOWN IN FOG.

French Nobleman Among Three Passengers—3 Crew Aboard.

LE BOURGET, France, May 9.—(AP) — The air France trimotor plane "Brequet" with her crew of three and three passengers was lost with all hands in the English channel today.

Her wreckage was sighted 18 miles northwest of Boulogn e by rescue planes sent out from Croydon Aerodrome, England, and Le Bourget Field, and boats started immediately for the scene.

Among those lost was a French nobleman, Count Ernest de Neuville who was a passenger on the plane when it left here at 11:15 a.m. today on its regular flight to Croydon.

The big airliner went down in a fog, smashing into rough seas which hampered the efforts of rescue ships.

Apparently, the Breguet crashed at about 12:20 p.m., just 20 minutes before she was due at the English flying field.

Grimly enough, the crash must have taken place almost at the same time that General Victor Denian, Minister of Aviation, was here toasting "the glory of French aviation" at a ceremony inaugurating improvements at Le Bourget flying field.

The occupants of the plane were: Pilot Cannet, French; Radio Operator Olier, French; Steward Hudson, English; Count Ernest de Neuville, French passenger; M. Guichard, French passenger, and a Mr. Traiffo

(Continued on Page Five.)

The Weather

TORONTO, May 9.—(C.P.)—Synopsis—A moderate depression covers Manitoba and the Northwest States with high pressure towards the Atlantic and Pacific Coast. The weather has been fair and comparatively cool from Southern Ontario eastward to the Maritime Provinces while light scattered showers have occurred in Northwestern Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Georgian Bay—Moderate to fresh south and south-west winds; partly cloudy to-night and Thursday with occasional showers.

Northern Ontario —South and south-west winds; unsettled with showers to-night and Thursday.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley—Moderate south-west winds, fair with a little higher temperature. Thursday: Moderate to fresh south-west winds; mostly fair and a little warmer; probably scattered showers in more northern districts.

WILY FUGITIVE OVERPOWERED FRIEND'S HOME

Nabbed by Ex-Neighbor as Police Surround House, Give Signal.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Had Covered 40 Miles Bush Since Officer Slain in Gun Battle.

ST. THOMAAS, Ont. May 9.—(C.P.)—Outwardly cool and collected, smiling at the police officers and whispering some comment to Inspector T. W. Cousans, as he entered the prisoner's box, Frank Mactemple alias Frank Temple, was arraigned before Magistrate. C.. F. Maxwell on a charge of murdering Constable Colin C. McGregor of the city police force, in city police court today and was remanded to the county jail for a week without pleading.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 9—(CP)—Frank Temple, 50-year-old farmer charged with shooting and fatally wounding a policeman, was captured early today at West Lorne, about 40 hours after he fled his home here following a pistol fight with three officers who sought to arrest him on a charge of bicycle theft.

Temple, whose pistol fire allegedly caused the death of Colin McGregor, youngest policeman on the St. Thomas force, wounded another officer and his own son, Fred, was taken at the home of a friend Richard Carnegie, West Lorne antique dealer.

Twenty-five officers of the St. Thomas, Ontario Provincial and Royal Canadian Mounted Police Forces, had chased him through four miles of swamp and dense brushland to Carnegie's house. Temple appeared not to realize his refuge was known. Officers signalled to Carnegie and the antique dealer overpowered him as the officers rushed in.

He was unable to resist or draw the .32 calibre revolver found in his pocket. The pistol contained in its chambers three exploded cartridges and two live ones.

Apparently unconcerned and still truculent, Temple was brought back by automobile, heavily manacled. He was suffering from a wound in his right hand, suffered, police believed, when he resisted arrest with a storm of bullets that enabled him to dart through the back door of his home and remain at liberty for hours.

Says Name Mactemple.

The prisoner in court this morning told Magistrate Maxwell that his surname is "Mactemple," not Temple.

In a calm voice he spelled the name slowly for the court. Small "T" asked the magistrate, "Yes, a small 'T'," the prisoner replied.

When told that he had the privilege of arranging for counsel, he asked with whom he would make arrangements. The magistrate explained that he could make his own arrangements, and if he was unable to engage counsel, he could take the matter up with Crown Attorney Haines.

"Very well," said Mactemple. "I have one now," I think," he added.

As he was about to leave the box, Mactemple leaned over the rail and told Crown Attorney Haines that he hoped to have C. St. Clair Leitch, K.C., of this city, defend him.

The prisoner was strongly guarded when he was brought into the court room and removed, the guard consisting of Provincial Constable Harry Noakes, County Constable Hugh Sharp and Sergeant Joseph McCulley of the city police force.

Has Smile For Court.

He glanced around the court room as he entered, a cheerful looking smile on his lips. There was not an indication of worry or weariness on his face. He did not look like a man who had been hunted by dozens of police officers for nearly 40 hours. As he sat in the box, waiting until Magistrate Maxwell came in, he turned his gaze on the row of newspaper reporters sitting to the right of the prisoners box, an amused look on his face. He kept his injured right hand cupped in his left hand.

Great crowds of curious people were congested in the city hall corridors while the brief court proceedings were in progress. They were not permitted to enter the court room. A half dozen or more police officers were at each door of the court room, prepared if Mactemple made any attempt to escape.

Slept Half Block From Home

In police headquarters this morning Temple sat waiting for a doctor to dress his wounded hand. He was uncommunicative about his wanderings, but revealed he had spent the first night of his flight only half a block from his own home, sleeping in a foundry.

While he rested there police scoured the territory for miles stopping automobiles, searching trains and lake boats as far west as Port Stanley.

From the time of the fight until he was captured the man had covered only about 30 miles. Officers said they believed he had spent

(Continued on Page Three.)

Visiting Town

LINDSAY, Ont., May 9.—(C. P.)—One of the largest raccoons seen in this district for some time is perched high in a tree in a residential section of the town and is serving to keep some official minds off the game fish problem for a time at least.

Steps have been taken to see that the animal is not killed, and if it does not leave town of its own accord to-night, Game Overseer R. D. Windsor says he will have to devise a method of capturing it to-morrow. Then it will be shipped to the government fur farm at Kirkfield.

U.S. IS ADAMANT ON COLLECTION OF WAR DEBTS

Will Grant Hearing to Nations in Distress Who Ask for Reduction.

NO APPLICATIONS YET.

Acceptance of Token Payments to be Decided on Merits of Case.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP) — President Roosevelt emphasized today that the United States stands for collection of war debt, but will grant a hearing to nations in distress who ask for reduced payments.

Whether token payments, which have been made in the past by Great Britain and some other debtors, will be accepted in June, will be decided upon the merits of the individual case, the President said at his press conference.

Debtors nations which have made token payments—a part of the obligation owed—have been exempted so far from the rigid terms of the Johnson Bill barring financial transacvtions with the United States by defaulting debtors.

The President said that no negotiations have been entered into with foreign nations for payments due next June 15.

No applications have been made for a hearing for reduced paymens. It was made plain that the United States still insists upon war debt collections and is offering no terms of revision.

French Take Action.

WASHINGTON, May 9 (A.P.).—Coincident with a statement of President Roosevelt that the United States expects full payment of war debts in June—unless there are convincing reasons for a reduction — Andre de Laboulaye, the French Ambassador, conferred to-day with State Department officials on that country's obligation of nearly $4,000,000,000 on part of which she is in default.

His visit with William Phillips, Undersecretary of State, added to the general belief that important developments on the war debts question may be expected soon—before the President sends a message to Congress dealing with the issue.

City's Relief Bill Down $100 Per Day

Peterborough's relief bill is about $100 a day less this month than for May, 1933, and A. L. Metheral, relief officer, said this morning that he expected further improvement in the prospect of increased employment.

Lord Londonderry, British secretary for Air, has just purchased an airplane for his private use.

IN FIVE YEARS COMPANY MADE $32,477,100.00

Imperial Tobacco Company Also Paid $1,861,900 to Six Executives.

GROWERS PRICE HALVED.

Company Controls About 70 Per Cent. of Canadian Tobacco Trade.

OTTAWA, May 9.—(CP)—The Imperial Tobacco Company of Montreal during the last five years made profits of $32,477,100 added $3,748,000 in profits from its subsidiaries, paid $1,861,900 in salaries to six executives, and reduced prices to tobacco growers 50 percent, it was shown today before the parliamentary mass buying committee.

Wanted Acreage Cut

Over-production was the cause of reduced prices, insisted Gray Miller, President of the Company who was on the stand for another three hours today. He insisted his company had tried to influence tobacco farmers to reduce acreage. If lowered prices had been sought, he submitted, the logical course for his company would have been to secure increased, not reduced acreage.

"Can you tell me," asked Norman Sommerville, committee counsel, what has your company done to assist this country through the depression? Can you gave me one single thing?"

The Imperial Company, replied Mr. Miller had warned against over-production, had maintained employment—although he admitted wages had been cut—and stabilized the retail trade so tobacco prices did not become chaotic as they did in the United States.

Enters Denial

A flat denial that T. L. Lea had

(Turn to Page 5 Please)

MACHINE GUNS MENACE MINERS

Police Gain Upper Hand in Alabama After All Night Battle.

2 NEGROES KILLED.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 9 (CP).—Under the menacing muzzle of machine guns mounted on the slopes of Red Mountain, quiet prevailed to-day where last night two Negroes were killed, a dozen persons were known to have been wounded and many more were believed hurt in battles between officers and striking ore miners.

Exchanges of fire were reported from several vicinities on the southern end of Red Mountain, centre of iron ore mining in the district, as Jefferson County officers and privately employed police patrolled the area fraught with disorders for more than 24 hours.

National guardsmen were rushed to the district last night, after Sheriff James Hawkins had reported to Governor B. M. Miller at Montgomery, the situation was out of control. At midnight they reported "all quiet."

The trouble is the outgrowth of a strike of 8,000 ore miners who walked out last Friday, when their demands for the seven-hour day, union recognition and wage increases of from $1 to $2.84 a day were not met.

HUGE BONUSES PAID IMPERIAL TOBACCO HEADS

Four Officers Divided About $1,491,000 in Past Five Years.

WORKERS AVERAGE $689.

25 High Executives Sold 420,000 Shares at $3—Now Worth $11.25.

By (Harvey John Hickey.)

OTTAWA, May 9 — The biggest incomes for industrial executives ever made public in Canada were revealed yesterday when the Stevens price spreads committee disclosed that four Imperial Tobacco Company officers divided approximately $1,491,000 between them during the five years 1929 to 1933 inclusive.

D. C. Patterson, former president of the company and now chairman of the board of directors, topped the list with a total of $469,094 during the five-year period. In 1930, his best year, Mr. Patterson received $142,087 in salary and bonus. As chairman of the board, he received only $10,000 in 1933, but in the four previous years, as president, the company paid him an average of $114,773 a year.

While the committee room crowd breathlessly leaned forward to hear, Norman Sommerville, special committee counse, read figures showing that in these five years Gray Mier, now president of the company, averaged $68,969 a year, while two vice-presidents, W. H. P. Buell and C. D. M. Townsend, had $67,695 a year each.

Wages in Industry.

"Do the wages in the rest of the industry compare at all with these salaries?" asked Donald M. Kennedy, Progressive committeeman, when Mr. Sommerville concluded his reading.

Sam Factor, Toronto Liberal, produced a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics stating that in 1930, the 7,215 men and women employed in the tobacco industry had received an average of $689 a year each. He asked Mr. Miller, who was on the witness stand, to affirm or deny this.

The Imperial president replied that he had not the information but would get it. He was subsequently requested to produce full data as to tobacco factory wages. Mr. Factor claimed that girls making nickel cigars by machine were paid only 75 cents a 1,000.

Mr. Miller disclosed that around 1921, the high executives of the day had been privileged to buy 420,000 common shares of the company stock at $5 a share, the company itself contributing $2 a share of this amount. Imperial shares are currently worth $11.25 at the market. The late Sir Mortimer Davis, then head of the firm, had got 200,000 of the shares so distributed.

The witness also affirmed a statement read by Mr. Sommerville showing the Imperial and its subsidiaries to have on hand at present a total of $11,886,573.97 in undistributed profits.

$8,138,486 Profits.

The parent company's undivided

(Continued on Page Three.)

Barrie Warehouse Razed In Night Fire

BARRIE, Ont., May 9.—(CP)—The coal and builders' supply warehouse here was in ruins today, razed by what police believe may prove to be an incendiary blaze. Only a concrete wall remained of the warehouse, owned by J. G. Scott and situated on the bay front.

Damage was placed at $30,000, coal, cement, wood, lime and tile and three trucks being lost in the flames. Company officials said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

At a recent wine testing held in London 216 different wines were offered.

To Be Presented At Court

Miss Joyce Taylor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitford Taylor, of Ottawa and Paris, France, who will be among the Canadian girls presented at the Court of St. James this month. Among other Canadians to be presented either in May or June are Mrs. Bertram Johnson, Lady Kemp, Cynthia Copping, Mrs. Gordon Bell, Evelyn Noxon.

—Photo by Mindel and Faraday, London.

RURAL DEANERY MEETS IN CITY

Bishop Owen Present at the Morning Session of Deanery.

ROGATION TUESDAY

A chapter meeting of Peterborough Rural Deanery concluded last evening with evensong at St. George's Church where the special preacher for the occasion was the Rev. H. F. Battersby of Hastings.

The meeting was preceded by Matins, followed by Holy Communion at St. George's Church yesterday morning. In the forenoon the Right Reverend Derwyn Trevor Owen, D.D., D.C.L., Bishop of Toronto was present, and the occasion being Rogation Tuesday, special intercession was made invoking God's blessing on the seeding operations now in progress throughout the land.

Also in the forenoon a Greek testament study was led by Venerable Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave, rector of St. John's Church. A brief business session followed with the Rev. G. J. Bousfield, the Rural Dean and rector of St. Luke's presiding.

After lunch a paper was presented by the Rev. E. W. G. Worrall of Havelock, and the afternoon session held at St. George's rectory was given over to a discussion of subjects relative to the church's work in the Deanery. There was nothing of an unusual nature brought forward in the course of business discussion, according to the secretary, the Rev. J. L. Hughes, rector of St. George's.

The Rev. Cuthbert McLean of the Nova Scotia Diocese was present at the sessions throughout the day as the guest of the Rev. J. D. Paterson, rector of All Saints' Church.

China plans to pay up all back debts due on its railways.

Mae West Alibi

HOLLYWOOD, May 9. (CP). Mae West says she has a new namesake—and she isn't the only one who "done 'em wrong."

The actress received a letter from a teacher in Waldo, Kas., telling of an arithmetic examination paper that was signed "Mae West."

Asked why the name, the pupil replied:

"Because I done 'em wrong."

Youngster Narrowly Escapes Injuries

HASTINGS, May 9 (Examiner Correspondence)—Little Miss Teresa Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelley of Trenton miraculously escaped fatal injuries on Sunday afternoon at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Noonan, Percy Township. The youngster had just motored from Trenton with her parents a short time before the accident. Mr. Kelley had just started his car when the youngster ran in front and was knocked down, quick thinking on the part of Mr. William Noonan no doubt saved her life when he grabbed the front of the car and took the weight off the child's body.

MINISTER VISITS JAPAN

KOBE, Japan, May 9. (C.P.-A.P. Cable.—Hon. John Greig Latham, Australian Minister for External Affairs, reached Kobe to-day on his informal goodwill tour of the Orient and Japanese speculated on his visit as being a possible opportunity to see whether Australia will follow the lead of the Mother Country in imposing restrictions on Japanese exports.

The chemical industry is now attracting more capital than any other local industrial activity in Japan.

Triple Loss

CINCINNATI, May 9. (C.P.)—For want of a cooling place, 3,200 barrels of beer were ordered dumped in a sewer.

The beer was made by a brewery, now in bankruptcy proceedings. With no money to operate the plant refrigerator, the custodian in bankruptcy received the dumping order from a federal judge.

The dumping means a loss of $15,000 in taxes to the government and more than $30,000 to creditors—and the cost of pouring out the beer is estimated at $400.

LIBERALS KEEP UP STEADY FIRE ON MARKET ACT

Object to Producers Being Forced to Conform to Schemes by Local Boards.

"INROAD ON LIBERTY."

Motherwell Withdraws Support—Senate Debates on League.

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—With the stiff Liberal opposition to the Governments Marketing Bill showing no signs of abating, discussion of the measure in Committee of the Whole resumes to-day in the House of Commons.

Hailed by Conservatives a practical step to benefit farmers and other primary producers, welcomed by the Farmer-Labor groups as a definite move in the direction of national economic planning and denounced by the Liberals as a serious inroad on individual libery and a wild plunge into Socialism, the bill is one of the mos controversial measures of the session.

Meanwhile the Senate continues its debate on the motion of Senator A. D. McRae of Vancouver, that Canada should withdraw from the League of Nations. Little support for the suggestion has been forthcoming from the elder statesmen, but it has provided an opportunity for a wide-open discussion of the work of the League and of Canada's position generally in world affairs.

Last night Senator F. B. Black of Moncton, N.B., threw his weight against the proposal, but denounced pacifists and the "slushy sentimentalism that leads to "a spineless, ineffective nationhood."

Senator W. A. Buchanan of Lethbridge thought the people of Canada would be opposed to the proposal, particularly as the withdrawal of Canada at this time would strengthen the hands of the enemies of the League who were

(Continued on Page Three.)

PRAIRIE STORM DAMAGE SOARS

Dust, Showers, Thunder, Cyclonic Winds Sweeps Saskatchewan.

BARNS WRECKED.

REGINA, May 9 (CP)—Damage mounting into thousands of dollars to-day marked the trail of dust storms, showers, thunderstorms and cyclonic winds across Southern Saskatchewan where drought afflicted farmers all season.

Sweeping across the southern stretch with fury, and dipping south across the international boundary, the storms last night took heavy toll through Wilcox, Gray, Vibank and adjacent districts. Tornadic winds caused damage in the Plentywood, Mont., district.

At Vibank, a roof was ripped from a convent, and several barns were wrecked. A garage was badly damaged at Wilcox. Outhouses and small buildings at Gray were toppled over. Also at Wilcox a family was forced from their damaged home to take refuge in a stout chicken coop.

Two barns, one valued at $4,000, were ripped up in the Corinne district.

A windmill was torn down, chimneys toppled and windows broken in the Vibank district.

A dense, black cloud of dust swept before the high wind, cut down vision on country roads and highways, and wheat fields were reported torn out in some districts.

From showers in the Western sections, the rain ranged all the way to a downfall of more than an hour at Regina and other points.

Nearly half an inch of moisture fell at Assiniboia in the first precipitation of the season, while an eighth of an inch was reported from Creelman, where hail, falling during the afternoon, did no damage.

Even Deal

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 9 (C.P.).—"What are you doing these days?" M. V. Sanford, Washington County agent, asked Jim Kingfisher, Cherokee Indian.

"Oh, I preach at Cherokee Church near Matoaka."

"Making much money?"

"Oh, about $50 a year."

"That's poor pay, isn't it?"

"Yeah—and poor preach."

HENRY IS READY TO OPEN LIQUOR BOARD INQUIRY

If Hepburn Can Produce Anything Specific to Warrant Action.

MACAULAY ON WAR PATH.

Charges Liberal Leader is Conducting "Mud-slinging Campaign."

TORONTO, May 9. (CP). — If Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, can produce "anything specific and of sufficient importance to warrant an inquiry" the government will give him a hearing on his charges against the Ontario Liquor Commission. Premier George S. Henry gives this assurance to the Liberal leader who has charged operation of a "toll gate system" in the Liquor Commission.

In his campaign speeches for the Ontario general elections, Mr. Hepburn has claimed British distillers have expended large sums through agents before being able to place their liquor with the Ontario Liquor Commission. He claimed the situation was known to cabinet Ministers one of whom, Mr. Hepburn said, had "even dictated about the distribution of the money."

Last night's election campaigning produced a "mud slinging charge against Mr. Hepburn. Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Ontario Minister of Highways, spoke before South York electors and denounced what he called Mr. Hepburn's "mud slinging campaign." Mr. Macaulay asked why the Liberal leader didn't make his "toll gate" charge during the legislature session when it could have been dealt with by a committee.

"I think the people of Ontario have reached the point where they have no faith in anything Mr. Hepburn says whatever" Mr. Macaulay said. He charged the South York Liberal candidate had imported "a disreputable band of scandal mongers that have dealt with nothing but personalities since they came into the riding."

Take 2 Henry

3 Tories Nominated.

Three Conservative candidates

(Continued on Page Three.)

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1934

Canada Packers quote:

Bacon hogs — F.O.B., $7.50; off truck, $7.50.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.

Sows 3c off bacon prices.

Dressed Hogs— Head on, $12.00; headless, $12.50.

Cream—No. 1 (on truck) 20c.

No. 1, delivered, 21c.

Special, 2c per lb. premium.

Fraserville

Mrs. Nelson Sage, of Peterborough, was the guest of Mrs. J. Solomon recently.

Mrs. Hamilton and daughter, Marilyn, of Peterborough, spent the past week the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Hewitt, returning home on Saturday.

Mr. Cameron Vance, of Mount Pleasant, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. W. G. Waterman, on Sunday.

Miss Roberta Holden and Miss Edith Holden left on Sunday for Toronto and Centre Island where they have secured positions.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson and family, of Otonabee, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carl on Sunday, Miss Pearl Carl returning home after spending the past week in Otonabee.

The Ladies' Aid will hold their weekly meeting in the Orange Hall on Thursday, May 10.

Mother's Day will be observed in Fraserville Sunday School on Sunday, May 13, at 10.30 a.m. The programs will be used issued by the Ontario Religious Education Council, and Mr. Harold Lackey, B.A., B.D., will deliver an address.

Expect Yemen Ruler To Ask British Aid

CAIRO, Egypt, May 9 (AP)—The Imam of Yemen may appeal to Great Britain or Italy to occupy his little country rather than allow it to fall into the hands of Ibn Saud, "The Conqueror," it was reported here to-day.

The London Daily Mail's Cairo correspondent said in a dispatch to his newspaper that should the Imam take such action, he would request occupation until the Yemen-Saudi Arabian border dispute is settled.

Controversy beween the Imam and Ibn Saud, powerful ruler of Saudi Arabia, over a hilly border stretch precipitated the bitter warfare which has aroused the apprehensions of at least three nations and atracted the attention of the world.

FARMER DIES OF INJURIES

HAMILTON, Ont.—Hiram Krick, South Grimsby farmer, who was seriously injured Monday when a team of horses trampled him in a field on his farm, died in St. Joseph's Hospital here yesterday. Mr. Krick was a well known resident of Grassies and was in his 73rd year.

Millbrook

Rev. Arthur L. Siscoe, of Cardinal, was heard with much pleasure in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday, morning and evening, and also at Fallis Line in the afternoon, when he exchanged pulpits with the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., for the day, with a view to a permanent exchange, providing this is agreeable to congregations of both charges, after conference meets in June.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas and son, Jack, of Toronto, were week-end guests of Dr. J. W. and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Thomas remaining with her son-in-law and daughter for a further visit, while her husband and son returned on Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis, of Welcome, was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Eastcott on Sunday.

Mrs. Eleanor Lefroy and two sons, Aylmer and Eric, of Toronto, were week-end guests of ex-Warden W. T. and Miss Margaret Wood, Aylmer remaining here with his uncle and aunt for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brock and Miss Myrtel, of Peterborough, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Brown and of Mrs. Mervan Kinsman on Sunday.

Mrs. H. W. Jordan, who was the delegate from St. Thomas' Auxiliary to the W.A. diocesan convention at Toronto last week, has returned home. Mrs. Jordan went on to Hamilton to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crealock, before returning, her little daughter, Natalie, being with her grandparents while her mother was at the large diocesan gathering.

Mrs. Norman Glendenning and daughter, Norma, of Toronto, is making an extended stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. McCorry, her mother being in ill-health.

Lawrence Ingram, of Toronto, spent the week-end with his mother and sister, Mrs. T. C. and Miss Vanita Ingram.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reynolds, of Toronto, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Paul on Sunday.

The repairs to the windows in Grace Presbyterian Church were completed last week by Mr. Bennett, of Peterborough, the Women's League taking the financial responsibility for this necessary renovation. The improvement was a matter of congratulation when the services were held on Sunday.

On Sunday, May 13, Grace Church will withdraw its evening service and meet with the school in the afternoon for the annual Mother's Day program. A mothers' choir will be one of the outstanding features of the service.

Buy GOOD TEA

Rev. W. W. and Mrs. Jones motored to Kingston on Friday, the latter remaining with her mother, Mrs. (Rev.) J. Roadhouse, over the week-end. Mr. Jones went on to Cardinal on Saturday, taking the service of the United Church there on Sunday, exchanging with the Rev. A. L. Siscoe, who was in Millbrook for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Weston C. Fallis entertained Rev. Mr. Siscoe, of Cardinal, during his stay over the week-end in Millbrook when he took the work on the United Church circuit for Sunday. The congregational meeting is called for Friday, May 11, at 8 p.m., to consider extending a call to Rev. Mr. Siscoe to become pastor of the Millbrook charge for the next term.

Donald Henry, who has been attending the University of Toronto for the past year, is at home with his brother, Grant, for the summer vacation. Mrs. Henry is still in Toronto, having a position with the Kraft Cheese Company.

There was a fair attendance at the dance held in the Armouries last Thursday evening, under the auspices of L.O.L. No. 79, R. J. Scott, master, with the Oshawa Merrymakers, furnishing music. The booth was accorded the usual patronage, Ken. Little being in charge. Other dances in the vicinity interfered with the social event here, and financially there was a small balance on the wrong side.

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute will be held on Saturday, May 12, at the home of Mrs. J. L. Byam, at 8 p.m. Roll call—pay your fee for the next year. Reports and election of officers will feature the meeting.

Marmora

Mrs. J. R. Hart is visiting friends in Toronto for a few weeks.

Mr. J. Prevost is moving into Mrs. H. Kerr's residence on Madoc street.

Mrs. James Booth and family have moved into the residence recently vacated by Mr. W. Wilde. Mr. W. Wilde has moved into the residence on Matthew street formerly occupied by Mr. Earl Wells.

The annual Old Tyme Dance under auspices of Marmora Agricultural Society was held in the Town Hall on Friday evening and received a good patronage. Charles Jones was floor manager and the musicians were: piano, C. Gibeon and A. Rylott; violin, Doug Jones and E. Craddock; banjo, Morris Bell; saxaphone, Arthur Jones; guitar and harmonica, Harold Auger. Refreshments were served at the midnight hour.

Mr. John Finnegan has moved back to the Marmora cheese factory where he has been re-engaged for another season.

Mr. Michael Finnegan has been engaged as cheesemaker at the Stanwood factory near Perth.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Thompson of New York and Mrs. R. E. Lyons of Ottawa are visiting Mrs. Feeney.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Hollingsworth and son Charles spent a couple of days last week at Finch with Mrs. Hollingsworth's parents.

Miss Kate Doyle who has been a patient at the Hotel Dieu, Kingston for some time has returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. P. Brawley of Marmora Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blakely have moved into part of Mr. W. Leonard's residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Derry have moved into rooms at Mrs. Jane O'Neill's residence.

There can be only ONE first!

combining Bigness . . Performance . . Economy . . Style—and in the Low Price Field . . it's the

TERRAPLANE 6

There are always two sides to an opinion. There can only be one side to a fact. If you are considering the purchase of a car—weigh these facts about the new Terraplane 6

First* in BIGNESS

By foot rule, yard stick or tape measure, there can be only ONE car that's BIGGEST. In the low price field today, that's Terraplane—15 ft. 10 in., bumper to bumper!

First* in PERFORMANCE

The Terraplane proves its performance with facts. The new Terraplane will outperform even the Terraplane 6 that broke 79 official CAA and AAA records last year.

First* in POWER

With 85 horsepower, the Terraplane 6 is the most powerful 6 in the low price field.

First* in STYLE

A car either has a tire carrier or baggage trunk in the rear—or the rear lines are clean. With clean, flowing rear body lines and a front end free of all air pockets, the Terraplane 6 is first in full advanced streamlined style.

First* in ECONOMY

Economy is money—either in your pocket or out of your pocket. Terraplane economy is not a matter of trick test or special adjustment. It has been proved in actual owner service—by owners' sworn statements.

Scores of new features . . . 14 models . . . 112 and 116 inch wheelbases . . . 80 and 85 horsepower engines.

Prices subject to change without notice

Hudson-Essex of Canada, Limited, Tilbury, Ontario

Your nearest Terraplane-Hudson dealer will be glad to have you take the wheel in your own hands

MAGEE MOTORS

210 HUNTER STREET WEST. PHONE 1080

Listen to the Terraplane-Hudson Program, Saturdays 10 p.m. E.D.S.T. WEAF WBEN

JOINT MEETING YOUNG PEOPLE

Warkworth and Campbellford Organizations Unite in Pleasant Social Rally.

AT WARKWORTH.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 9 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Fraternization of two church societies took place on Monday evening when the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Campbellford, were entertained by the kindred organization of St. Andrew's Church, Warkworth, the visitors putting on the program. About fifteen cars made the trip from Campbellford, the president of that group, Mrs. F. F. Long taking the chair for the entertainment, after the Warkworth president, Miss Dorothy White, had opened the meeting.

The program, which was varied and interesting, was heartily encored, to which the artists pleasingly responded. The numbers were: Vocal solo, Miss Mae Bell; reading, Hector MacMillan; vocal solo, Susan Atkinson; humorous reading, Aylmer Haig; instrumental selection the Labrash Trio; dialogue "The Wonderful Scholar," Betty Adamson, Verabella Fox and Aylmer Haig.

A short address was given by the Rev. J. C. Robinson of Campbellford, following which a vocal duet was given by Helen and Ruth McGee; vocal solo, with guitar accompaniment, Duffy Jones; reading Miss Rosina Clarke; vocal solo Frank Taylor; piano solo, Isabelle McGregor; instrumental selection, Labrash Trio; and a vocal duet by the Misses Jessie and Katharine Kennedy. Grace Labrash and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were accompanists for the evening.

A delightful lunch was served by the Warkworth young people, following which the National Anthem concluded the evening. Next Monday the Campbellford society will hold a social evening, at which the Hastings group will be the guests.

WILY FUGITIVE OVERPOWERED

(Continued from Page 1)

most of his time under cover, making his flight slowly and cautiously.

For 40 hours he fled with his wounded hand, fearing to draw police upon him if he sought to have it tended.

Somehow he appeared to have obtained food. He was in good condition when brought here. Officers asked him how he ate while he was a fugitive and he answered gruffly "How do you suppose?" He seemed unconcerned by the fact he will appear today before Magistrate C. F. Maxwell for preliminary hearing on a charge of murder.

Prepared To Fight

Police said Temple had vowed he would not be taken for bicycle theft and that he would shoot the first officer who appeared for him. McGregor, it was found yesterday, had been shot with a notched bullet, calculated to inflict the greatest possible injury.

Temple is a lankily built man, apparently capable of considerable speed. His attitude towards his arrest officers decribed as "inhuman." One policeman said: "He's not a sissy about anything."

His answers to questions caused police to describe him as a "Smart Alec."

Temple's capture, affected under leadership of Inspector T. W. Couzens of the London division of the Provincial Police, came about eight hours after a boy saw him in the haymow of Malcolm McNeil's barn near Dutton. The boy, a 16-year-old farmhand named McLellan, said he prodded the man with a fork as he was pitching hay.

Beats Police Over Swamp

The boy's story caused officers to concentrate near McNeil's home. They saw a man slip into the bushes at the edge of a four-mile stretch of swamp and pursued him. He beat them across the swamp and took refuge at Carnegie's house, apparently thinking he had outdistanced his pursuers.

After his arrest Temple admitted he was the man the boy had seen.

Temple apparently sought aid from Carnegie because he and the antique dealer were neighbors in the past when Temple and his family lived at West Lorne.

Police here are holding all members of Temple's family who were at home during the shooting as material witnesses in the trial. Fred, his son, is undef arrest in hospital, charged with bicycle theft and another son, Frank Jr., is charged with the same offense. Police claimed Fred sought to help his father resist arrest, but said young Frank took no part in the fight.

HAVELOCK MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION RALLIES

(xaminer Correspondence.)

MARMORA, May 9. — Havelock and District Ministerial Association met at the United Church parsonage, Marmora, on Monday afternoon, under the presidency of Rev. A. Cleland of Norwood.

An interesting paper on "The Minister amongst his People," was given by Rev. H. F. Battersby, rector of Hastings, and was followed by much discussion.

The next meeting is being held in Hastings.

The Hospitable Gesture of Serving

GOOD TEA

For formal or informal entertaining, GOOD tea is always correct. Pouring it is a rite the smart hostess reserves for herself as the crowning intimate, hospitable gesture. Always serve GOOD tea for your family's own enjoyment of its finer flavour, as well as for the pleasure of your guests.

GOOD tea always gives more: more cups, more energy, more flavour, more refreshment and so, is the most economical as well as the most enjoyable of beverages.

Everyone can afford GOOD tea, Empire grown for the Empire's homes and brought to you by famous packers who employ tea experts to maintain perfection of quality and blend.

THE CEYLON TEA BUREAU

... nothing so refreshing as a cup of GOOD Tea

HUGE BONUSES PAID IMPERIAL

(Continued from Page 1)

profits totalled $8,136,486. In its subsidiaries, undivided profits included National Tobacco Co., $879,697, B. Houde Co., $335,383, United Cigar Stores, $142,154, and Tuckets Limited $2,065,374. The total undivided porfits of Imperial and its subsidiaries was $11,886,573, witness answered counsel.

Wages in one of the United Cigar Store establishments had declined from $4,632 in 1931 to $2,991 in 1933, remarked Mr. Sommerville.

The sales in this establishment had been reduced from $42,000 to $33,000, said witness. There had been a reduction in wages paid in United Cigar Stores, but no set rate of decrease had been established.

To Mr. Factor, Mr. Miller said the Imperial Company paid $3,430,952 in wages in 1931, $3,234,548 in 1932 and $2,961,944 in 1933.

Denies Deliberate Delay.

A denial was entered by Mr. Miller to the suggestion the company had deliberately delayed the opening of the market for tobacco in the fall of 1931 in order to force down prices. That was the year of the "panic" as it is called by Western Ontario tobacco producers when prices dropped sharply and left the growers in bewilderment and distress.

One reason for the late opening of the 1931 market, said Mr. Miller was the illness of H. P. Buell, vice-president in charge of purchasing. He did not suggest that was the only one. Hon. H. H. Stevens, committee chairman, remarked the reasons given appeared weak, while Sam Factor (Lib., Toronto West Centre) described them as "insulting to the intelligence of the committee."

LIBERALS KEEP UP STEADY FIRE

(Continued from Page 1)

also, in many cases, enemies of international peace.

Oppose Compulsory Points

Liberal opponents of the Marketing Bill in the lower house yesterday centered their fire on the compulsory features of the measure. They objected to producers being compelled to conform to schemes devised by local marketing boards established under the act.

In answer, Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, said it would be impossibe to regulate marketing without a measure of compulsion, and Alfred Speakman (U.F.A., Red Deer) said there was already compulsion in marketing but of the wrong sort. The farmer was compelled to take any price offered him by the middleman. The bill would enable farmers to use a little compulsion in their own interests.

The veteran champion of pure Liberalism, E. J. Young (Lib., Weyburn) said the bill was an inroad on liberty. Any scheme which attempted to regulate supply in relation to demand was doomed to failure as had been proven by the experience of co-operative enterprises. These which devoted their whole attention to reducing the price spread between producer and consumer had had a measure of success, but those which had attempted to control the supply of a product and to regulate it had failed.

The bill was described as a "quadraheaded monstrosity" by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Minister of Agriculture. He had supported it on second reading because he felt it had a nucleus of good, but it should have been sent to the Agriculture Committee to be whipped into shape.

HENRY IS READY TO OPEN LIQUOR

(Continued from Page 1)

were nominated last night. Arthur Ellis, K.C., was picked as candidate for South Ottawa, William Duckworth was chosen for Toronto riding of Dovercourt, and Edward J. Murphy, K.C., was selected to represent the Toronto riding of St. Patrick's.

Mr. Duckworth defeated three other nominees for the Dovercourt candidature. Sam Wright, present member, has retired from politics and refused to stand for the nomiantion. Mr. Murphy is the present member for St. Patrick's, and Mr. Ellis also is the present member for South Ottawa.

Hamilton Home Owners' Association will have a candidate in East Hamilton. He will be Albert Maskell, president of the Association. His entry makes it a three-cornered fight for the seat, with Labor promising to run a man for a four-cornered fight. An independent will contest West Lambton, the choice of a candidate to be made to-morrow night at Courtright.

J. P. Moore, K.C., Conservative member for London North, will not enter the election and a new man will be selected at the convention May 18. On the same day Windsor-Walkerville Conservatives will make their choice.

MARMORA

Marmora Council No. 279 C.O.C.F. met at the home of Friends Mr. and Mrs. P. Sopha on Tuesday evening. Following the business session, cards were played by the members and friends, and a delightful lunch was served by the hostess.

Mr. Samuel Morris is receiving treatment at Nicholls Hospital.

PARIS IS NERVOUSLY AWAITING NEXT OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE

(Continued from Page 1)

on the hoardings and on the walls of the city. The sixth arrondissement, or borough, where I happen to reside, seems to be specially favored by the nocturnal scribblers and poster-plasterers. The signs, incomprehensible to the uninitiated, continue to baffle the police.

This morning, for instance, it was discovered that all the convents, monasteries, seminaries and private Catholic schools — there must be a couple of hundred of such institutions in our quarter—had a big white arrow marked on their front entrances. Only yesterday a police investigation disclosed that red arrows painted on certain arrows in the preceding night indicated the apartments occupied by prominent military men.

People Are Frightened.

Who paints these signs, which make citizens nervous and apprehensive of some vague unknown calamity? "It's the work of Communists," screamed the "Action Francaise," the royalist-nationalist paper which did so much to whip people up to the fever of excitement that resulted in the bloody riots of February. "No," says "Figaro," journal of Bonapartist nationalists, "this is not the work of Communists, but of German military agents, who are preparing an invasion." An inspection of the signs this morning showed that here and there the Swastika had been included. The Swastika is being used here by the so-called "Francists," a new organization built on the lines of the Fascists in Italy and the Nazis in Germany. The "Francists" wear the blue shirts. A noon-hour edition of the papers brought the explanation that houses marked with a Swastika indicate the residences of prominent Fascists. I noticed that a green Swastika has been daubed on the door opposite our house. But that is a bank, so I am not much wiser yet.

A joking-matter of two weeks ago, people no longer shrug their shoulders over these mysterious signs. They are beginning to grow frightened. Because the authors of these depradations have not been discovered and the wildest rumors about uprisings are circulating, Parisians close up their medieval shutters at nights and remain indoors. The boulevards are deserted and the hundred thousand cafes are empty.

Woods Swarming With Tanks.

A rumor circulating to-day, at least three people whispered it to me, that M. Jean Chiappe, the ousted police prefect, is not going to take his dismissal quietly. It was said that he has bought over the loyalty of several Senegalese and Tonkinese regiments stationed in the neighborhood of Paris. On the other hand, the radical-socialists, Herriot's and Oaladier's party, had, so the rumor went, moved several white divisions to the outskirts of Paris. A trip of investigation showed indeed that the forest of Marly and the forest of St. Germain-en-Laye were swarming with tanks and armored cars.

Adding to the general nervousness was the news printed by the reactionary paper for several days running and constantly enlarged that the socialists are buying and importing arms from Holland, and that Otto Rosenfeld, editor of Populaire, the socialist paper, is over there supervising the purchase and shipment of machine-guns. It availed Rosenfeld nothing that he vehemently denied the allegation, certain papers kept on printing the canard and even stipulated the date of the socialist insurrection.

Fear Violent Outbreak.

That something is in the air, or rather that labor leaders fear a coup d'etat, becomes clear when it is known that M. Paul Faure, one of the more militant chiefs of the socialist party, has issued a manifesto in which he calls upon the soldiers of France, "whether white or colored," to refuse to fire upon the crowds should the people decide "to go into the streets in protest against the slashing of wages and other reactionary measures." All demonstrations have been forbidden, but this didn't prevent forty thousand red banners to invade the square before the City Hall last night to battle the police for a solid hour before being dispersed. The Communist daily, Humanite, calls that demonstration a try-out for the monster-demonstrations scheduled for the month of May. That Socialists joined the Communists is hailed as a victory for the Stalinists, who see in it the formation of a united Marxist front. "The government of Doumergue," says the red daily, "will not have a walk-over as Dollfuss' government had in Austria. The French workers are going to fight!"

Adding to the general disquietude was the visit these last few days to every house in Paris of inspectors of the fire department, which in France is a branch of the regular army. They came to affix small posters and maps in every hallway and corridor to show inhabitants the shortest way to the fire-escapes, the bomb-proof cellars and the nearest police and first-aid stations. "C'est pour la guerre!" said my consierge (janitor). "War can't be far off now." When I ridiculed the idea of war, he added mysteriously, that a platform for an anti-aircraft gun emplacement was being built at the end of our street. I haven't seen that emplacement, but then I don't go clambering over Paris roofs. So I have to take the concierge's word for it.

To have some sort of an authoritative explanation of the general situation in France, I made the rounds of the chief newspapers today with a view to learn the opinions of the leading observers. They all shook their shoulders, sign of indecision in these parts. All felt apprehensive, nevertheless. That something is going to happen seemed indubitable to all of them. But what? I asked. "Ah, if we only knew." My own guess is that France will have some sort of an authoritarian regime. Some are talking of a democratic dictatorship, although a semi-fascist regime is more likely, before next winter.

Obituary

ROBERT MORTON

MILLBROOK, May 9 (Examiner Correspondance) — The death of Robert Morton, life-long resident of Cavan, after several months' illness took place on Friday, May 4, in his sixtieth year.

Deceased was born and brought up on the family homestead near the village of Cavanville, and spent his entire life on the home farm until last October when ill-health compelled his coming to Millbrook and remaining with his sister, Mrs. J. W. Hutchison, whose care and attention had been unremitting until death brought release from suffering.

The deceased had never married, and the immediate surviving relatives, besides the sister already mentioned, include Mrs. Charles Redpath, and Charles Wesley Morton, both of Peterborough; the two sisters and two brothers completed the family circle.

The funeral took place from the Commercial House, the residence of his brother-in-law, J. W. Hutchison, King street west, on Monday at 2.30 p.m., Rev. William Simpson, B.A., rector of the parish of Cavan, officiating at the service; the pall-bearers were all former neighbors and friends of many years' standing, and included Messrs. Bruce and Clifford Elliott, Fred Clarke, Norman Bowles, Sidney Todd and Thomas Madill.

Beautiful floral tributes from a number of intimate friends, and relatives, were laid in loving memory on the casket; interment was in the family burial plot in the Fraserville cemetery.

King's Wharf Shed Destroyed By Fire

KING'S WHARF, May 9 (Examiner Correspondence). — Angus Twomey, a resident of King's Wharf, suffered a $300 loss from fire on Tuesday afternoon when the shed back of his residence fell a prey to the flames. The building was used as a storehouse, and contained chop, feed, farm implements, hay and straw.

The alarm was put in by telephone, and a volunteer bucket brigade quickly formed, who battled strenuously to save the remaining buildings, which were constantly in danger due to the high wind blowing. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The 10 brainiest animals are, according to a London expert, the elephant, dog, chimpanzee, cat, sealion, orang outang, beaver, horse, bear, and gorilla.

MAY 9th and 10th ARE DAYS TO REMEMBER!

THESE ARE THE DAYS YOU GET

EXTRA TROUSERS

At No Extra Cost

WITH EVERY "CLOTHES OF QUALITY" SUIT ORDERED.

These are the Days Mr. A. S. McNinch

Special representative of "Clothes of Quality" WILL BE AT THIS STORE

During his visit we offer you extra trousers at no extra cost with every "Clothes of Quality" suit ordered.

"Clothes of Quality" Brand, made to your individual measure from world's famous woollens in any style you desire, will please the most exacting.

FIT AND SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

NEW SMART FABRICS ARE NOW ON DISPLAY.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO STAY AWAY.

2 PANTS	2 PANTS	2 PANTS	2 PANTS
22.50	27.50	32.50	42.50

BERGER "Clothes of Quality"

EXCLUSIVE DEALER

The V. A. Selkirk Men's Shop

325 GEORGE STREET

Girl With Baby in Her Suitcase Turned Back at Canadian Border

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 9.—Seeking entry into Canada last night a 17-year-old Michigan Soo girl was stopped by an immigration officer at the ferry dock for questioning during which it was discovered that she had with her in a suitcase her 10 day old baby son, Immigration Inspector T. J. Wyatt said in an interview yesterday.

She had hoped to gain entry into Canada to re-establish herself and build anew the foundations of a wrecked life. A lusty cry from the infant disclosed its presence to the surprised officer who, after hearing the mother's pathetic story, returned her to the American immigration authorities.

The girl landed from the 9.30 o'clock ferry carrying the suitcase. She seemed to be nervous and the officer on duty had her enter his office for questioning.

Startled by Cry

While making out the customary manifest he was startled by hearing an infant cry. For a moment or so he thought some other woman with a child might be outside his office or have gained admittance without his noticing it but this he speedily ascertained was incorrect.

Thinking himself mistaken he continued to make out the manifest when again a child's cry attracted his attention. There being only himself, the girl, and the suitcase in the office, and noticing the girl's anxious glance toward the case, he asked her what was in it.

The girl, at the request of the officer, opened the suitcase, and the tiny 10-day-old youngster was disclosed. It was dressed neatly and carefully but lack of air in its temporary quarters had impelled the lusty protest that had attracted the officer's attention.

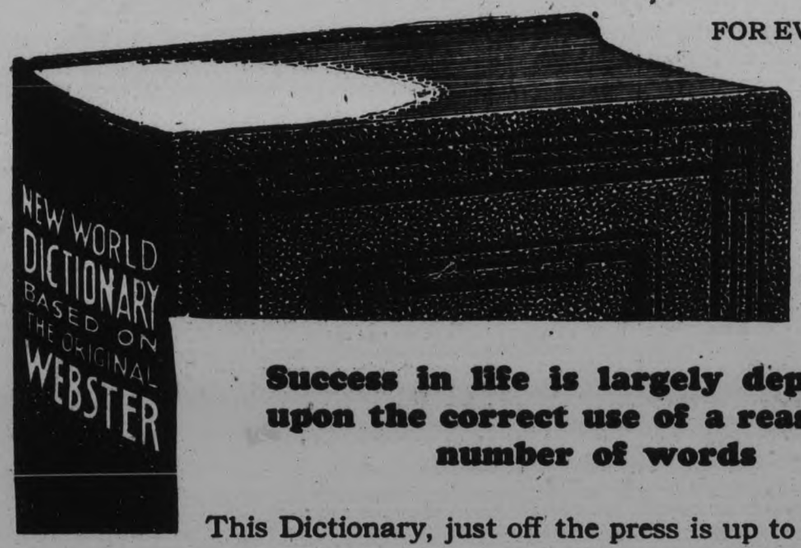
Story of Betrayal

The story told by the girl was the age old story of betrayal. Without a friend to turn to, with her family antagonistic to her she determined to seek entry into Canada and start life anew. One reason for her flight was that her father, she told the immigration officer, had stated his intention to enter an action against the father of the child, and to avoid giving evidence against him she determined on flight.

The officer, sorry for the girl, had no other course open to him but to return the girl to her home city. In order to ensure her safe return an officer was detailed to escort her to the other side of the river where she was handed over to the United States immigration officers.

QUICK PRINTING SERVICE Modern Plant

NEW WORLD Dictionary BASED ON THE ORIGINAL WEBSTER ENTIRELY NEW



FOR EVERY READER OF THE EVENING EXAMINER

This new book not only defines the most words but tells how to use them.

Success in life is largely dependent upon the correct use of a reasonable number of words

This Dictionary, just off the press is up to date, entirely new, defines, not only the usual words, but thousands of new words, many never before published in a Dictionary, all in alphabetical order, easy to find. Everybody should have a copy.

MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED

SPECIAL—To get it bound in art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges, and thumb indexed, send $1.00 extra.

Clip 3 Coupons on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98 cents

MAIL ORDERS will be filled when postage is added.

Find Coupon Page 4

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office: 416 George Street. $6.00 per year: Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.00 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
Member: Ontario Associated Dailies. T. L. Ashton, manager, Canada Permanent Building, Toronto.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden, Inc., Chicago Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1603. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments

WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1934

MORE AND MORE BEWILDERING.

As the election campaign gathers impetus, it cannot be said that the wine and beer issue is being effectively clarified; on the contrary, it becomes daily more involved.

The measure passed at the last session of the Legislature provides for sale by the glass in beverage rooms of standard hotels and with meals in hotel dining-rooms and restaurants, while veterans' and labor clubs are to be given the privilege of sale.

Mr. Hepburn has stated repeatedly that if his party is returned to power it will implement this program; and up to the present he has not indicated any change in the bill that he may have in mind.

Government speakers, on the contrary, are modifying the legislation day by day, and it has been declared by several Cabinet members that permits to restaurants will be very sparingly issued.

And if this were not confusing enough, there are Liberal candidates in the field flatly opposed to any relaxation in the present liquor laws, and pledged to submit the question to the people in the form of a referendum, and Conservative nominees who declare themselves hostile to sale of beer and wine in restaurants.

With both old parties officially "wet" and yet each developing a "dry" wing, with the voting public in a haze as to the details of the wine and beer legislation and with thousands of electors dissatisfied with the attitude of both Government and Opposition, the whole situation as regards freer beer and wine is to say the least bewildering.

DEFECTIVE AUTOMOBILES.

In calling attention to the necessity of cars being kept in a good state of repair, the Ontario Department of Highways is on sound ground.

In a recent bulletin it is pointed out that of 3,376 passenger cars involved in accidents on provincial highways last year 2,567, or almost 80 per cent., were three or more years old.

"Undoubtedly," says the bulletin, "a great number of these 2,567 cars needed mechanical adjustments to brakes or to lights, or new tires. Whether the accidents in which these cars were involved were the result of this lack of attention or not, the fact that they were operated under such conditions was obviously adding to the possibility of their implication."

As the department says, it is false economy to drive a car that is in need of repairs.

The individual who takes out into traffic an automobile that is handicapped by defective brakes or unreliable tires is inviting disaster, either to himself or to some other person, and if death results as a consequence of his carelessness the driver, if he survives, might well be put on trial to answer for his criminal negligence.

It cannot successfully be argued that a motorist who knowingly attempts to operate a vehicle without proper brakes, for example, is not guilty of negligence to a criminal degree, and the department is right to point out that the drivers and owners of cars who are aware of mechanical deficiencies face terrific responsibilities when they drive them.

A BUSINESSLIKE PLAN.

One of the annoyances that the public is subject to is that the first knowledge of the details of new legislation is usually the fact that some person who knew nothing about the provisions of a particular act has got into trouble for unwittingly breaking them.

The Federal and Provincial Governments place a large quantity of new acts on the statute books every session, but unless the measure is of major importance very little information in regard to it reaches the public and there is no easily available means of obtaining the facts.

In this connection the Government of Alberta is entitled to general thanks for the practice it has adopted of issuing a concise summary at the close of each session of the Provincial Legislature of the acts and amendments passed during the sittings of the House.

Following the recent session of the Legislature a pocket size pamphlet of 84 pages was published and widely circulated, giving in easily understood language the contents of 71 bills passed during the session.

With this information at their disposal the citizens of Alberta are in a position to know more about what their Legislature has been doing and more about the new laws that are likely to affect them than are the people of any other province in the Dominion, who have to depend principally upon the newspapers to keep them informed.

Obviously the press cannot be expected to keep track of every bill that comes along and the Alberta plan of issuing an official synopsis is a much more satisfactory plan of telling the people what they should know about new bills and changes in existing statutes.

CANADA'S BUSY PORT.

Montreal is not only Canada's largest seaport but one of the greatest in the new world, so that the annual report of the activities of this wonderful harbor should be full of interest to all Canadians.

It is gratifying to note that despite several adverse factors in the seasonal operation of Montreal harbor, that port was able to register an increase of approximately 200 in the number of ocean vessel arrivals, a new high figure for imports and a substantial increase in the tonnage of domestic merchandise, the heaviest import movement of coal and oil in the history of the port and the establishment of three new ocean lines.

The commissioners declare that despite the unsatisfactory state of St. Lawrence water levels and the unforeseen difficulties caused by an unusually severe and early winter, the business of the port for the year would have been eminently satisfactory had the export grain movement from Montreal been maintained on a level even approaching that of 1932.

The falling off in grain exports was, in fact, responsible for the smallest export total for twelve years, for the exports of commodities other than grain were actually greater by 218,695 tons than in the previous year.

The grain exports in 1933 were only one-third of what they were ten years before, while, on the other hand, the exports of other commodities were more than double the total in 1923.

In imports, however, a new all-time record was established, the total being 459,444 tons, an increase over the previous year's total of more than half a million tons.

Montreal's grain exports, in comparison with those of other ports on this continent, stood up relatively well, for the shrinkage in volume was widespread, such ports as New Orleans and Galveston shipping out only very small quantities.

The grain shipments from Montreal amounted to 65,435,618, while New York was next in line with 20,764,394.

Montreal, as a matter of fact, saw more than twice as much grain exported last year as the combined shipments from New York, Albany, New Orleans, Boston, Portland, Me., Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News, Norfolk, Mobile and Galveston.

BUT WATCH MOSLEY.

England is not likely to go Fascist any more than she is likely to go Communist. It may be well nevertheless, and repay interest, to watch Sir Oswald Mosley. His present marchings and antics may seem like an aping of Mussolini, yet any man who can crowd 8,000 people into Albert Hall just to hear him speak, and who can get scores of thousands of Englishmen to wear brown shirts and give the Fascist salute, is not to be dismissed lightly.

Moreover, nobody questions Mosley's ability. When he entered Parliament, some twelve years ago, old Henry Massingham wrote to him that he'd be a future British Premier. He was an independent Conservative then, supporting the League of Nations and with advanced views on Ireland. Later on he crossed the floor of the House, threw in his lot with Labor. He was a powerful debater, had something of the cold insolence of Disraeli, the audacity of F. E. Smith. It was said of him that he could have had any of a dozen safe Labor seats, but his choice instead in the next election was Ladywood, a stronghold of the Chamberlains. He lost that battle—by six votes—but he made it so hot for Neville Chamberlain that that scion of the great Birmingham clan promptly betook himself to a riding that was safer.

The Labor party became too small for him—or too Conservative. When the party took office they made him Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, which was a sinecure, and where the canny Scot MacDonald probably thought he would be safer. But Mosley wouldn't be safe. He got himself on a committee to deal with unemployment, this at a time when "Jimmie" Thomas had been called upon to cure it. Mosley proceeded to bombard Thomas with memorandums, but when he found he could send them no faster than the genial "Jimmie" could consign them to his waste-basket, he resigned his sinecure, carried the fight to the floor of the Commons.

The speech Mosley made then is worth reading. Not bitter, it was cold and devastating, was the first crack of doom for the MacDonald Ministry. Later on the fight was waged at a great conference of Labor, and while MacDonald won in the voting (he had the organization behind him) it was Mosley who won the argument; so much so that Thomas found himself kicked out of his job as an official of the railwaymen.

Mosley was finished with Labor. With ideas of his own about trade and marketing and other things, he began veering toward Fascism, has veered to it completely. It is said of him that he is an opportunist, that he is consumed by ambition, that he has boxed the political compass. It may all be true; but political history doesn't show that men with ambition and an opportunist turn of mind are incapable of making trouble politically. It shows just the contrary.

Therefore, it may be well to watch Mosley. He is rich, he is one of the best orators in England, he is young and he has terrific energy. Next to Walter Elliot, the Scot who is revolutionizing British agriculture, he is the most dynamic figure in England. He may never see his brown-shirts running Whitehall or installed at 10 Downing street. But he might well make a precious lot of trouble.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Imagine the embarrassment at the University of Toronto when it was announced that a composition turned down by 'Varsity was good enough to win the Pulitzer award for music!

After having had no diplomatic relations for 1,300 years, China and Persia are on friendly terms once again. There is hope for the League of Nations yet.

Everybody is trying to guess the election date, but we are satisfied to state that polling day will not be June 3, June 10, June 17 or June 24.

Mr. Hepburn says that he has documents implicating cabinet ministers in the alleged liquor "rake-offs." Names, please.

It is charged that the Ontario Government spends more money on the provincial forests than it receives therefrom. A similar complaint has never been made in connection with the road system.

Americanism: Ridiculing the dirty customs of other lands; permitting the sale of doctored foods that other lands bar as poisonous.—Robert Quillen.

Samuel Insull is being brought home on a ship called the Exilona. His odyssey will continue rich in picturesque details to the end.—New York Times.

President Conant, of Harvard, is investigating chlorophyll, the agent that makes vegetation green. Have any freshmen volunteered for the tests?—Detroit News.

Neighborhood friendship is sometimes strained at this season of the year by the old practice of taking a short cut across the other fellow's lawn.—Petrolia Advertiser-Topic.

"Is he fresh? Why, I had to slap him three times before I gave in."—Indiana Bored Walk.

These stories of growing tobacco without nicotine are old. There's the alfalfa in cigarettes.—Brandon Sun.

Clothes don't make a man, but they can break a husband.—Chicago Times.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

STORM DRIFT

By ETHEL M. DELL

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER 59

But even as Turner uttered the words he knew that he wrestled with a power against which he could never prevail. Out of his own heart came the word of command, and he had no choice but to obey.

He spoke to Joe Penny briefly, peremptorily. "You go and get brandy! We shall want it. I'll find the rope."

He broke free from his stiff inertia and dashed across to the shed. He found a coil of rope in a corner and slung it on his arm. Then he raced out again, meeting Joe Penny as he emerged from the bar.

"You say there are three fellows up there?" he questioned.

"Yes, sir, Jim Walls and his two lads. He's got a bad leg, but his arms are all right. He can heave on a rope. And the boys—they're young, but they can pull too. And I'm pretty hefty—only I've got no head left for them cliff jobs. I'm nearly 70, you know, sir," said Joe apologetically.

Tiggie nodded, and they swung into the path that led most directly to the cliffs of Slimby Point. "Water high, I suppose?" he said.

"Oh, yes, sir. Tide won't be down for another three hours, and you can't take a boat among them rocks, not to get really near 'em. I'll ring up the coastguard at Coombe if you can't do it, sir, but it'll take 'em a long while to get here." Joe Penny glanced at his companion in momentary doubt.

But though his face was hard set, as though carved in stone, Tiggie's answer was reassuring. "I'll do the job," he said.

And as he spoke, very strangely there came a lightening of the gloom around them and a ghostly gleam of sunshine shone down through the veil.

To Tiggie, as he strode forward at the highest speed that poor panting Joe could muster, it was as though in that moment scales fell from his eyes, and the mist was no longer red, but silvery white—touched with the glory of God.

When they reached the edge of the cliff above the Slimby Rock, the mist had gathered again so thickly that no object within a dozen yards was visible. Jim Walls, an old 'long-shoreman with whom Tiggie had had many a pleasant gossip, was there with his two boys of 14 and 15 and the rough apparatus for cliff rescue with which Tiggie was already familiar.

"He's left callin'," said Walls. "Can't hear nothin' but the sea birds now."

Nothing but the shrieking sea birds and the desolate sound of the invisible sea, and the long, searching call of the lightship siren that seemed to come in its weird persistence from all directions at once!

Tiggie took the flask of brandy from Joe Penny and thrust it into his pocket. He threw the extra coil of rope down, and in doing so discovered the stout ash stick belonging to Harvey still in his hand. He uttered a half-smothered oath and flung the thing from him, far out into the white darkness which received it in silence, giving back no sound.

"Now then!" said Tiggie.

The task before him was one which he had not begun to contemplate in detail. It was only when it came to the point that he realized that being let down the face of an overhanging cliff was a very different sensation from being pulled up it. Something like blank dismay entered his soul as he set himself to the task which filled him with a physical shrinking which was new to him. The feeling of unplumbed depth below, the inability to do anything to help himself beyond avoiding unnecessary bumps against outstanding fragments of rock, the isolation in which the mist enwrapped him, and the utter powerlessness of dangling at the end of a rope which ill chance might sever at any moment, all went to make an unforgettable impression upon Tiggie's newly awakened imagination which nothing in after life was to erase. Perhaps the violence of emotion through which he had passed served to intensify the horror of the experience, but horror was certainly his prevailing sentiment and it took the utmost resolution of which he was capable to keep it at arm's length.

"Damn it all!" he expostulated with himself. "If Harvey could do it, surely to goodness I can!"

Yes, Harvey had done precisely the same thing for him two nights before, and doubtless, had he been on the spot, he would have done it again for this man, whom he had so cooly advised him to murder. A funny chap—Harvey! It was difficult to know how to take him. One thing alone was certain. It was impossible to guage him by ordinary standards, and this descent which was so terrifying to a man of normal intelligence would probably fail to strike any sort of dread into his fantastic soul.

Ah! His feet scraped and jerked upon something solid at last, and he sent up a shout to the men above him. He could hear the wash of the waves below him far more distinctly now, but the crying of the sea gulls sounded remote, as though heard through a curtain. He was standing upon firm rock, but great care was needed, for the mist was thicker here and any step to right or left might send him floundering over the edge. Cautiously he felt his way.

And then very suddenly he stopped, for a man's voice, came to him out of the void—a feeble, gasping voice.

"Here! I'm here!"

Tiggie peered about him. The voice seemed to come from below. He found himself close to the edge of the rock, and went down upon hands and knees, peering over.

"Here!" gasped the voice again.

Then he saw in a crevice about eight feet below him a dark, crumpled mass. He pulled on the rope and proceeded to swing himself down.

A few seconds later he was kneeling in a slimy hollow of rock beside the man upon whom he had sworn such deadly vengeance so brief a time before.

He was lying in a heap like a half empty sack, his limbs huddled under him at strange angles, his head sunk between his shoulders. His clothes were in tatters and his face clotted with blood which still oozed from a wound on the temple. His eyes were half closed, but they opened wide at Tiggie's touch, regarding him with a fixed and dreadful stare.

"You—is it?" he said.

"Yes, me," said Tiggie.

Norman's lips drew back, exposing his teeth. "Didn't expect—you," he muttered.

"Afraid you're badly damaged," said Tiggie, trying to get an arm behind him.

"Damaged!" gasped Norman. "I'm—done for. Don't move me! I'm all—in pieces."

"I've got some brandy here," said Tiggie.

A faint gleam lightened the staring eyes. "Let's—have it!" gasped Norman.

Tiggie opened the flask and put it to the drawn lips. Norman drank with obvious difficulty, concentrating all his strength upon the effort, while Tiggie supported his head and did his utmost to prevent the liquid spilling over.

It took effect very quickly. Something of the wildness passed from his look, and he addressed Tiggie with more coherence.

"What did you come down here for?"

"To help you," said Tiggie.

Norman's lips went back into the old sneer. "Or to finish me—which?" he said.

"To help you," repeated Tiggie steadily.

Norman's eyes met his with a questioning, incredulous look. Then, "Where's the devil who pushed me over?" he asked abruptly.

"What?" said Tiggie.

Norman repeated his words with deliberate insistence. "The devil who pushed me over! Has he come along too—to see the end of me?"

"Good God!" gasped Tiggie. "D'you know what you're saying?"

"Yes. I do know." Contemptuously the answer came. "He got me up there—to meet you. But you were—discreet enough—to keep out of sight."

"What the devil . . ." burst from Tiggie; and then, commanding himself, "No. You're wrong. I wasn't there."

"Oh!" said Norman. "You weren't there." He seemed to consider this for a space, his eyes, over which a glassy look was stealing, still upon Tiggie's agitated countenance. "Yes," he said at last. "I believe that's the truth—though you'd have given your eyes to murder me, wouldn't you?"

"Not from behind," said Tiggie with a kind of desperate bluntness.

There was something so fundamental so terribly real, in the situation that he felt almost stunned by it, as one who contemplates an element too closely to grasp its entire significance. He was not afraid, but awed to the very depths. For he knew that within the next few minutes he would look upon Death.

Norman's voice, quiet now, and slightly supercilious, had in it more individuality than his look in which expression was waning like a sinking flame. "No—not from behind. I give you that. You're one of those blundering fools that go head down at everything. It'd take a wilier devil than you—to do me in. It was—a wilier devil." He paused, as though some obstruction checked his utterance.

"Have some more brandy!" said Tiggie.

He held it again to the livid lips; but they had begun to sag, and swallowing was almost an impossibility.

"Poor chap!" whispered Tiggie.

The words escaped him half unconsciously, but they reached the ears of the dying man, and suddenly the waning light returned like a flame renewed. He regarded Tiggie once more attentively.

"D'you mean—me?" he said.

"Yes." With the simplicity that made his soul as the soul of a child Tiggie answered him. "I'm sorry for you—damn' sorry."

"Sorry!" repeated Norman as if dazed. The light began to fail again, but the passing spirit paused on the threshold, arrested by that one amazing word, and held it up once more. "Listen!" he said. "Then I'm sorry too—sorry I crossed you—sorry I went after her again—sorry—for—everything. Understand?"

Again something rose in his throat, and the power of speech went out in a rattling sound as of broken machinery. But the light still shone for a few seconds longer, and ere it failed Tiggie's hand came with a warm compassion and grasped the nerveless hand that could not grasp it in return.

"That's all right," he said. "That's all right."

And while he was speaking, Norman died.

"Death by misadventure" was the pronouncement of the coroner's jury at Coombe, and Tiggie turned and left the court, mutely wondering at the simple logic by which they had arrived at that conclusion.

It had been Joe Penny's doing in the main. The landlord of "The Sea Lion" was in his element on such an occasion, and his theories regarding cliff sides had been expounded at great length. It was an undoubted fact that a wide crack had appeared at the top of the cliff above the scene of the disaster, due obviously to the recent rains, and anybody as didn't know the place and even some as did might quite easily stumble and go over the cliff in a fog. The cliff path hadn't been safe for years and it wasn't likely to get safer as time went on, if you understand my meaning, sir. Why the gentleman had gone up there on such foggy morning wasn't any mystery either. He'd only arrived the night before and was exploring the lay of the land. They all did it—especially them artists—and it wasn't a bit of use talking. He never talked himself, it was just a waste of time. It was only a marvel to him that fatal accidents weren't more frequent, that was all he had to say about it.

Tiggie's part had been comparatively easy. He had identified the body as that of John Norman, husband of Viola Norman at Cliff cottage, Farne, who was too ill to appear. He had corroborated Joe Penny's statements regarding his own share in the attempted rescue and had received the coroner's compliments thereupon with considerable embarrassment. As to John Norman's last moments, he had not been questioned very closely. Death by misadventure had been a foregone conclusion, and as he went out again into the open air he realized upon what small details great issues hang. Joe Penny's dissertation upon the effects of the rain upon the rock had made its mark upon minds already predisposed to agree with him. The jury had even attempted to add a rider to the effect that a railing ought to be erected along the edge of the cliff for the protection of Joe Penny's wandering artists, but this had been disallowed by the coroner. Fatal accidents in the vicinity were very rare, as he pointed out, and to erect railings all round the British coast was scarcely a practical suggestion.

Tiggie went back to Farne in Joe Penny's car with a dull sense of amusement behind his relief.

(To be continued)

Spain plans an extensive program of public works.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

WERE THEY BILL MINER'S PALS?

On this date, in 1906, a C.P.R. train was held up near Farrer, B.C., the second major banditry in the railway history of the Canadian West. The thieves used methods so similar to those employed by Bill Miner and his gang when they robbed a train of much cash and express matter at Mission on September 10, 1904, that it was thought that they might be some of his crowd who had escaped the law. That particular time Miner and his pals were safe behind the walls of the New Westminster penitentiary. Their holdup at Mission was the most daring in our annals, quite like an episode in the life of Jesse James or any other of the famous western Americans outlaws. But Miner and Company reckoned without the Mounted Police. Within a few days of the Mission holdup the whole gang were in custody. It was not however, until May 14, 1906, that Miner and most of his accomplices were sentenced to life imprisonment. Before being taken to New Westminster Miner boasted that he would not be there long. He was a prophet, for on August 8, 1906, there was a sensational breakaway from the penitentiary the escapees including Miner and his chief aides. In the pursuit that followed three of the convicts were killed; others were caught and taken back in irons; but Big Bill himself got away and never went back to the Canadian penitentiary. He crossed the border, but had to leave his booty behind and so became a wandering bandit in his native land. I have been told that he died not many years ago in a southern city in a state of dire poverty, thus proving once again that crime does not pay. The Farrer robbers were captured and in due course filled the vacancies left at New Westminster "pen" by the departure of Miner and the three who were killed.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

SWEETNESS OUT OF THE ROCK

Here in this cleft of the hills the sun beats fiercely upon the earth. The green of the spring grass is already wearing thin and the brown of the summer appears. Up there on the higher slopes the lupin and the wild mustard and the poppies spring from the rich earth and make a splendid show....But down here on these rocky slopes no flowers bloom, hardly a weed grows, all the earth has been washed away and you might say, if you were here, that nothing living could survive in this hot bit of the earth where the stones crop out and the land seems discouraged of all effort.

But when you look again you see gnarled stumps fixed in the fields. On the stumps are tender green leaves. The stumps are regularly placed and you see that this is a vineyard....You wonder why any man was so foolish as to make a vineyard in this depleted earth, and you muse over the vain, eternally hopeful spirit of humanity....But you are wasting your philosophy, because in this dry corner of this valley, the best grapes grow.

These vines know their business better than you think. They sink their roots deep, they live richly here. And out of this soil, from these grapes, comes a wine that men praise beyond many others. Some fair combination of soil and water and sun and air makes this vineyard superior. No man can tell you why but no man denies it....And it's an odd thing, but everywhere in the world you will find good vineyards growing in the rocky soil where the grain would not grown and the orchard would wither away.

So, standing here, a man might reflect: "Why are not all men as wise as the vine with its seeking roots and its twining tendrils? How is it that some men can survive only in the rich soil, while other men, like these vines are challenged by adversity and grow stronger in the struggle to survive? Why do so some men distill only bitterness from their years, while other men draw sweetness from the rock and create a spirit that is fairer and finer than any wine ever made by man?"

I cannot answer this question. All I know is that I saw those sturdy vines clinging strongly to the rocky soil, and I looked ahead to the rich harvest that would be theirs in the autumn—and my heart was lifted high in praise and exultation.

A Thought

If you ever find happiness by hunting for it, you will find it, as the old woman did her lost spectacles, safe on her own nose.

One-Minute Pulpit

For they sleep not, except they have done mischief; and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.—Proverbs 4:16.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO

The city of Belleville came into being when two villages on opposite banks of the River Moira, which flows into the Bay of Quinte at this point, merged as one place. The village on the east bank of the river was known as Myer's Creek, after Capt. John Myers, a revolutionary war figure of note, who settled there and erected a dwelling and a sawmill. The village on the west bank was known as Moira, named for the Earl of Moira, a general of Irish birth, who fought on the British side in the revolutionary war.

The two names of Moira and Myer's Creek were dropped in 1816 and the one name for the two villages became Belleville. In Dr. Caniff's book, "The Settlement of Upper Canada," the story is told that Sir Francis Gore, lieutenant-governor of Upper Canada, and his wife, Lady Arabella Gore, were journeying to Toronto. They stopped overnight at Belleville, and stayed at the tavern kept by John Simpson. During the evening a number of leading citizens met the lieutenant-governor, and the town, which had been newly surveyed that year, was renamed by Lieutenant-Governor Gore at the request of this company of citizens. The name chosen was Belleville, derived from the last half of the name, Arabella. For some years the word was spelled Bellville, but was later changed to Belleville. The place was incorporated as a village in 1834, as a town in 1850, and as a city in 1877.

IN DAYS GONE BY

Items Taken From Old Fyles of The Examiner

MAY 9, 1924

A local lady, visiting Little Lake cemetery yesterday, was surprised to see some oranges and apples placed on a grave; she discovered it was a Chinese grave....At the annual meeting of the Grenfell Labrador Mission here yesterday, Mrs. W. R. Morris was elected president.

MAY 9, 1914

There is a ban on selling cigarettes in Havelock on Good Friday, Christmas and Sundays, and on all other days from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m. ....Dr. Robinson is having a fine new moving picture house constructed on Charlotte street, west of the curling rink.

MAY 9, 1904

Much damages was done early to-day when fire, believed of incendiary origin, gutted George Fitzgerald's Carriage Works on Brock street....Dr. E. G. Hatton, formerly of Peterborough, has been appointed to the Legislative Council in the British West Indies.

New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster

COUPON

Clip 3 Coupons

on consecutive days and present or mail them to this paper with 98c

This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green textile leather, gold stamping.

Special—To get it bound in embossed art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb indexed, send $1.50 extra

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

.....

Nickel Drops in Late Trading - Industrial Issues Weaken

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	190	186	190
Con. Bake	9½	..	..
Br. Am. Oil	14⅞	14¾	14¾
Can. Bread Co.	3½	..	..
Bldg. Prods.	22¼-3	..	..
Bell Tel.	119¼	119	119
Burt F.N.	32-2½	..	..
Brazilian.	10¾	10½	10½
B.C. Power 'A'	28b	..	..
Can. Cem.	7¾	..	..
C.P.R.	16¼	16	16
Can. Dredge	22½	..	..
Can. C. and F.	6⅞	..	..
Can. Canners	7⅛5	..	..
Can. Oil	13¼	..	..
Can. Malt	32⅞	32¾	32¾
Cockshutt	7½	..	..
Dom. Bridge	33⅝	33¼	33⅝
Dist. Seagram	17⅛	16⅞	16⅛
Dom. Stores	20½	20⅛	20⅛
Ford 'A'	22¼	21½	21⅝
C.G.E.	140b	..	..
Gypsum, L. & A.	6½	6¼	6¼
Cons. Gas	179-9½	..	..
Goodyear	121	..	..
Ham. Bridge	121	..	..
Walk. G.-W.	34	32½	32½
Int. Nickel	2815	2770	2770
Ind. Alcohol	12½	12	12⅛
Imp. Oil	14⅞	14⅝	14⅝
Imp. Tobacco	11½	..	..
Con. Smelt.	158	155	155
Laura S.	57	..	..
Loblaw "A"	17½	17⅛	17½
Mon. L. H. & P.	37½	37½	37½
McC. Frontenac	13½	13¼	13½
Massey-Harris	5⅝	5¼	5¼
Moore Corp	16⅝	..	..
Page Hersey	66	66	66
PPressed Metals	17	..	..
Power Corp.	11½	..	..
Photo Eng.	19	..	..
Int. ePte	27	26½	27
Std. Steel	6¼	6	6
Serv. Stations	8	..	..
Sup. Petro	24	24	24
Stand. Paving	2⅜	..	..
Tip-Top Tailors	9½b	..	..
C. Vinegar	25½	24	24
Wineries	7⅛	7½	7½
Weston's Ltd.	38½	..	..
Steel of Can.	36⅛	36	36

New York Stocks
BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	60¼	58¼	58½
Auburn Auto	38⅛	36½	36½
Allied Chem.	140	137¼	137¼
Amer. Can	97½	96¼	96½
Am. Smelting	41¼	39	39
Am. Rad & S.S.	14⅛	13⅜	13⅜
Am & For Pow.	8¾	8	8
Am Tel & Tel.	111⅝	109⅞	110½
Am Roll Mills	20½	19½	19½
Anacinda Cop.	15⅛	14⅜	74⅝
Balt & Ohio	24⅜	23¼	23⅞
Baldwin Loco	11⅜	10⅜	10⅞
Bordens	23⅛	23	23
Byers A M	22	..	..
Bendix Abn	15⅝	16	15⅛
Beth Steel	36⅞	35⅛	35½
Briggs	17	16½	16⅞
Canada Dry	23	22⅝	22⅝
Can. Pacific	16½	16	16
Case J I	57½	55¼	55¼
Chrysler	44⅝	42⅞	42⅞
Col. Gas	13	12¼	12⅛
Con Gas	33⅜	33¼	33⅜
Com. Solvents	23⅛	22⅝	22⅞
Durant	87⅜	86	86⅛
El Bond & Share	14¼	13⅞	13⅞
El Power & Light	6	5⅜	5⅝
El Auto L	22¼	21¼	21½
Freeport Texas	42⅝	41⅜	41⅝
Fox Film	15	..	..
Gen. Electric	21	20¼	20¼
Gen Food Prod.	33⅝	..	..
pen. Motors	34¼	32⅞	33
Gillette Saf Raz	10⅝	10⅜	10⅜
Goodyear	32⅜	31½	31½
Hudsos Motors	14⅝	13¼	13½
Int. Harvester	37	35¼	35¼
Inter Nickel	28⅜	27⅝	27⅞
Inter Tel & Tel	13¼	12½	12⅞
Johns Manville	51½	50	50½
Liquid Carb	30¾	29	29
Mont Ward	27½	26¼	26½
Mack Truck	26⅜	25⅞	25⅞
Nash Motors	18⅞	18½	18½
N Y Central	29¼	28	28⅜
National Biscuit	38⅜	38⅛	38⅛
North American	16⅜	15¾	16
Phillips Pete	18	17½	17⅞
Pack Motors	4⅜	4¼	4¼
Penn Ry	32½	31¼	31½
Pennock & Ford	56⅜	56	56
Pub Serv N J	35	....	....
Radio Corp	7⅞	7½	7⅝
Radio Keith	3¼	3	3
Sears Roebuck	44⅞	43¼	43¼
Simmons Bed Co	17	16⅜	16½
Stand Brands	20	19⅝	19⅝
Stand Gas & Elec.	10¼	9⅞	9⅞
Std Oil of N J	43¼	42⅜	42⅞
Socony Vac	15⅞	15⅝	15⅝
Studebaker	5⅛	5¼	5¼
Stewart Warn	7⅜	7⅜	7⅜
South Pacific	23⅜	21⅜	21⅞
Texas Corp	34⅜	34	34
Timken Roll B	31¼	31	31¼
Texas Gulf Sulph	33⅜	33⅛	33¼
Union Pacific	125	122½	122½
Union Carb	41⅞	40⅜	40⅜
United Corp	5¼	5	5¼
U S Rubber	21	20	20
U S Steel	46¼	44⅛	44¼
Vanadium Corp	22⅝	22	22
Westinghouse	35¼	33¾	34
Warner Bros	6¼	6	6
Yellow Cab	5	....	....
Woolworth	50	48⅜	48⅜
National Dist	26¼	25¼	25¼

NO DIVORCE.

MARINETTE, Wis., May 9 (C.P.). —John Edelburg, 68, didn't want to be divorced—and he wasn't.

"I don't want a divorce; I'm going to die pretty soon," he told county court.

So the petition of Mrs. Minnie Edelburg, 52, was rejected.

Advertise in The Examiner

Toronto Mining
WATSON, WALLACE AND CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme Oil	25	24	24
Ajax Oil	112	111	112
Ashley Gold	95	..	..
Aldermac	25	23	23
Amity	2½	..	..
Bagamac	23	21½	21½
Base Metals	150	148	149
Barry Hollinger	14	13¾	13¾
Bobjo	48½	47	47
Braylorne	1355	1325	1355
Bunker Hill	3⅛	2½	3
Brownlee	4	3½	3½
Canadian Kirk	9	8½	8¾
Chem. Research	185	165	167
Cent. Patricia	70	68	70
Cent. Manitoba	10	9⅞	10
Coast Copper	450 asked
Cassels-Treth	66	63	63
Dalhousie Oil	40	..	..
Dome	3775	3725	3750
Dom. Explorers	4	..	..
Eldorado	295	280	280
Falconbridge	385	380	380
Federal Kirk	5	..	..
Hollinger	1550	1525	1550
Home Oil	147	145	146
Howey	129	125	125
Hudson Bay	1275	1260	1275
Int. Nickel	2815	2770	2770
Kirk. Hudson	70	68	68
Kirk. Lake	51	50	50
Kirk. Townsite	28	26	28
Gunnar	159	150	153
Green Stabell	83	80	81
Little Long Lac	450	430	450
Harker	12	11	11
Bradian	270	260	270
Columario	33	30¾	33
B R X	119	116	116
Bear	49	45	45
Parkhill	70	66	67
Read Authier	96	92	95
Halcrow	31	29½	30
Lakeshore	5000	4950	4950
Lee Gold	15	13¾	14
McIntyre	4350	..	..
Macassa	270	262	264
Maple Leaf	63	60	60
Malartic	70	63¼	63¼
Mining Corp.	200	191	200
Malrobic	5	4⅞	4⅞
Moffat-Hall	5¾	..	..
McMillan	65	64	65
McVittie-Grah	74	70	71
McWatters	41	40	40
McKenzie	122	115	117
Noranda	4000	3975	3975
North. Canada	30	28	28
Nipissing	245	237	237
Nordon	12	11½	11½
Pend Oreille	93	90	92
Pioneer	1275	..	..
Premier	130	127	128
Reno Gold	95	93	93
Ribago	1½	..	..
Sherrit Gordon	112	106	112
Siscoe	214	211	212
San Antonio	383	380	380
Sudbury Basin	180	179	180
St. Anthony	53	52	52
Sylvanite	253	246	253
Teck Hughes	610	600	610
Towagamac	60	57	57
Thompson Cad.	48	45	48
Ventures	91	87	87
Waite-Amulet	130	..	..
Wayside	39	38	38
Wright Harg.	905	880	895
Wainwright	66	65	65
White Eagle	37	35½	36

UNLISTED

McLeod Cockshutt	39½-41
Long Lac Lagoon	26-28
Beattie	118-123
Bathurst	4½-5¼
Smelter Gold	28-30
Pickle Crow, bid	70
Gt. Bear Dev.	32-34
Young Davidson, asked	38
Toburn	146-153
Red Lake Gold Shore, ask.	42

Sales—1,009,000.

Grain Quotations
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786 and 2787

Chicago	July.	Sept.	May.
High	85⅛	85¾	86⅞
Low	83¾	84⅝	85⅝
Close	84⅝	85¼	86¼

Winnipeg—	July.	Oct.	May.
High	71⅞	73	70¼
Low	69⅞	71½	68⅞
Close	70⅛	71¾	69

Liverpool Cables—
Due—1⅜ to 1⅞ up.
Open—⅞ up.
1.30—1⅛ up.
2.15—1⅜ up.
Close—⅞ to 1⅜ up.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP)—Securities on the Montreal Stock Exchange finished to-day's session with buoyancy permeating nearly every section of the list. The strong tone continued right up to the close although some of the leaders sold off on profit-taking.

Consolidated Smelters was up 1½ points and Bruc Silk a point. Canadian Industrial Alcohol Preferred jumped 1¾ points at 15, and the "A" stock eased ⅛ at 12, while the "B" was unchanged at 12. Montreal Power, Canada Steamship Preferred, Hollinger and Dominion Bridge were among the issues to advance fractions.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP). — Stocks quietly sold lower to-day, virtually cancelling the gains registered in the previous session. U.S. Smelting lost all of its 5½ point spurt yesterday. U.S. Steel, American Telephone, American Smelting and Case were off a point or more each. Transfers approximated 1,100,000 shares.

INTERLISTEDS SHOW LOSSES OVER GAINS AT MART CLOSE

Nickel Drops About 50 Cents as Sell-off Develops in Late Trading.

BEVERAGE STOCKS UP.

TORONTO, May 9 (CP)—Profit-taking on yesterday's late rally and to-day's morning show of strength, gave the Industrial Board of the Toronto Stock Exchange a moderate set-back to-day. The sell-off developed in the last hour, with Nickel dropping about 50 cents and the other interlisted shares showing losses of small fractions. Oils, foods and beverages shares were more widely represented on the upside at the close.

Walkers Common turned over in fair volume, most of the time at a loss of about ⅜. Industrial Alcohol closed unchanged at 12⅛, and Distillers Seagrams down ¼ to ⅝. In the Brewery section Canada Malting, Cosgrave and Walterville clung to the upside and the Brewing Corporation issues closed off a little.

MINING LIST FIRM AT CLOSE

Market Irregular as Expectations Over U. S. Silver Outlook Waxes and Wanes.

BASE METALS IN DEMAND.

TORONTO, May 9 (C.P.).—Mining shares drifted narrowly up and down to-day, as expectations over the silver outlook at Washington waxed and waned and finally closed with very slight gains predominating. The silver issues themselves were strong at the opening and at the close, though the best gains of the day were not retained. Some of the base metals were in demand and the close was generally firm.

Net advances of 25 to 50 cents were chalked up for Dome, Hollinger, McIntyre, Bralorne and Teck; Wright Hargreaves and Lake Shore closed unchanged. Secondary gold shares finished the day with few price variations.

Firm spots in the base metals were Noranda, Sudbury Basin and Waite-Amulet. Hudson Bay was off lightly.

Market Briefs
as Received Over Wire
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786—2787

NEW YORK N. Y., May 9—It was a normal technical sequence that prices for stocks yesterday recovered briskly from the extreme lows of Monday, when there was a general breaking of previous levels of support, and one must now proceed on the assumption, until the market proves otherwise, that it is an interruption of the down-trend rather than a lasting reversal. The breaking of the March lows was too important a market development to be regarded as an incident that may be over-looked, now that there has been a rebound. The probabilities are that the outcome of the silver conference will stimulate buying today especially in commodities and commodity and inventor stock sufficiently to extend the rally in the stock but assuming that leading industrials can advance two or three points more on the basis of silver stimulus and it's inflationary implications there is no prospect for a broad advance for the immediate future and accordingly we would consider a further rally as affording a good opportunity for lightening positions against the risk of a resumption of the downtrend. If the silver program is to spur the stock market to higher levels at this time there should be signs of it in the first half hour. If, however, prices after half an hour or so are not able to better their highs of yesterday the probabilities will be that the market benefits from the inflationary move will be concentrated in commodities and selected shares.

Exchange Rates

Exchage rates at 3 p.m. E.D.T. to-day were:

Pound sterling in Montreal, 5.11.

U.S. dollar in Montreal, 99¾.

Pound sterling in New York, 5.12.

Canadian dollar in New York, 1.00 3/16.

$34.75 GOLD AT LONDON.

MONTREAL, May 9.—(C.P.) — Bar gold in London up six cents to $34.75 an ounce in Canadian funds; 135s 11½d in British funds. The fixed $35 Washington price amounted to $34.87 in Canada.

A NEW BIRDIE

CASPER, Wyo., May 9.—(CP) — Ralph Conroy of Casper made a new kind of birdie on the Casper Country Club golf course. Conroy, 230 yards into a tree. The ball was found lodged in a knothole.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, May 9 (C.P.) — The Toronto wholesale cheese market continued weak to-day, with dealers buying large colored paraffined and government grades at 9¾ to 10 cents.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New large, 11c; twins, 11¼c; triplets, 11½c. Old—Large, 17½c; twins, 17¾c; triplets, 18c. Medium—large, 15½c; twins, 15¾c; triplets, 16c.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 9 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A-large, doz., 17c; grade A-medium, 15c; grade "C" 14c.

Churning Cream — No. 1 lb., 21c; No. 2, lb., 19c. Butter—No. 1, solids, lb, 19¾c; No. 2, 19¼c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag, 90 cents.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, May 9 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., were reported unchanged today.

ONTARIO HOG PRICES

TORONTO, May 9 (CP)—Bacon hog prices remained generally unchanged at Ontario market points to-day, packers paying around $7.50 per cwt., f.o.b. shipping point.

To-day's prices: Peterborough, $7.50; Kitchener, $7.50; Barrie, $7.50; Hull, Que., $8 off trucks.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, May 9.— (C.P.)— Eggs: Grade 'A' large 19-19½c; Grade 'A' medium 18-18½c; Grade 'B' 17-17½c; Grade 'C' 16c. Butter: No. 1, 19¼-½c. Cheese: Ontario, 9½c. Potatoes N.B, 80 lbs. 90-95c; 10 lbs., 17c; 15 lbs., 27-28c.; Quebec's 80 lbs., 85-90c; P.E.I., 1.10-1.20.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, May 9.—(C.P.)—Two grades of cattle lost ground on the Toronto livestock market this afternoon with losses of 10 to 25 cents for the day. Weighty steers sold 10 to 15 cents lower for the week and 10 to 15 cents lower for the day at $3.50 to $4.00 for choice, cows were down 25 cents on the day at $3.50 to $64.00 for choice. Trading on all grades was very dull and only half the supply was sold up to two o'clock. Calves, hogs, sheep and lambs sold steady.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion livestock branch were: Cattle 310; calves 980; hogs 1,370; sheep and lambs 160.

Bulls sold slowliy at $3.75 to $3.50 cwt. according to quality, with good butcher cattle from $4.75 to $5.00. One lot of choice butchers went at $5.35. No sales were made on fed calves and store cattle trade was very slow.

Calves were generally unchanged at the week's top at $3.50 to $5.50 for common to medium vealers and at $6.50 to $7.00 for choice. Hogs settled unchanged at $7.50 f.o.b. for bacons $7.85 off truck and $8.25 off car. Spring lambs, the only lambs on the market, went steady at $400 to $9.00 each and sheep also sold steady at $2.00 to $4.00 cwt. according to quality.

LIVE STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Steers up to 1,505 lbs.—Good and choice $4.75 to $5.35, medium $4.50 to $4.75, common $3.50 to $4.25.

Steers over 1,505 lbs.—Good and choice $5.50 to $6.00, medium $5.25 to $5.50, common $4.50 to $5.00.

Heifers—Good and choice $4.75 to $5.25, medium $4.50 to $4.75, common $3.50 to $4.25.

Fed calves—Good and choice $6.25 to $6.50, common to medium $4.75 to $6.00.

Cows—Good $3.50 to $4.00, medium $3.00 to $3.50, common $2.50 to $3.00.

Canners and Cutters— $1.25 to $2.25.

Bulls—Good $3.26 to $3.50, common $2.75 to $3.00.

Stocker and feeder steers — Good $4.00 to $4.25, common $3.00 to $3.75.

Milkers and springers — $30.00 to $45.00.

Calf, hog, and sheep and lamb quotations remained unchanged.

Roosevelt Favors New Silver Plan

WASHINGTON, May 9 (A.P.). — President Roosevelt is favorably canvassing the desirability of nationalizing silver in United States but is withholding final judgment on legislation until it is drafted.

He regards the bi-metallic proposal put forward yesterday at the White House conference as both permissive and directory legislation and, apparently, is willing to go that far.

In other words, a declaration of policy by Congress for a 25 per cent. silver backing for the monteary system will be regarded as a mandatory declaration of policy, but the President feels the time when it shall be put in effect must be left to him.

Irish Surplus

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, May 9.—(AP)—A budget showing a surplus of $1,355,000 (about $6,776,000) was presented to the Dail Eireann today by Finance Minister Sean Macentee.

A surplus for the second successive year, the minister declared, is "convincing testimony of the soundness of the country's position."

IN FIVE YEARS

(Continued from Page 1)

been sent to the Imperial Tobacco Company by R. C. Harrison of the British American Tobacco Company, who has been credited with smashing flue-cured tobacco prices in the United States, with the same object here, was entered by Mr. Miller. Mr. Lea will take the stand later to-day.

Comparing cigarette prices in Canada and the United States, it was shown that nine cents was available in the United States for distribution among growers, manufacturers, jobbers and retailers, while there was 14 cents in Canada. On a box of 25 cigarettes, there was 13 9-10 cents for distribution in Canada from grower to retailer.

"Pathetic Really"

When the President of the tobacco company, flanked with three or four assistants, could not tell the commitee what common brands of cigarettes were selling for in 1930 and 1934, Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman, said it was "Pathetic, really."

Apart from the drop in Federal excise taxes, the Imperial Company decreased prices for cigarettes for some brands since the 50 per cent reduction in raw tobacco prices, said Mr. Miller. He was unable to give figures, but promised to secure them.

70 Per Cent of Trade

The Imperial Tobacco Company controls about 70 per cent of the total tobacco trade of Canada, Mr. Miller said. Of cigarettes, the company controls 75 per cent; cut tobacco, 66 per cent; plug tobacco, 49 per cent; snuff, 97 per cent; small cigars, 91 per cent; and cigars, 57 per cent.

At the beginning of the 1933 season in Georgia, President Roosevelt, according to the Tobacco Journal, stepped into the situation and tobacco companies agreed with the United Sates Government to increase prices to the growers by 50 per cent. For bright flue-cured tobacco, the price had been raised to an average of 17 cents from the average of 11.3 cents paid in 1932. Was that correct? questioned counsel.

"For domestic manufacture," answered Mr. Miller. "The price fixed was on a limit of 250,000,000 pounds," added witness. The 1933 crop in the United States had amounted to 725,000,000 pounds.

Questioned by Hon. H. H. Stevens, committee chairman, witness agreed that these companies had made an adjustment with those farmers from whom they had already purchased 1933 tobacco. The adjustment was for the purpose of reimbursing those growers at the fixed rate.

The average price paid U.S. growers for their entire bright flue-cured crop in 1933 was 15.2 cents, witness replied to Mr. Stevens.

Under the 1933 agreement, the average price for Burley tobacco in the United States for domestic manufacture was raised to 12 cents that year as against seven cents in 1932, stated Mr. Miller.

The difference in price was absorbed by the whole tobacco trade, said Mr. Miller.

Average Price 15 Cents

In the United States, Mr. Miller told the committe counsel, the average price for cigarettes was 15 cents a package. The excise was six cents, leaving nine cents to be distributed among the grower, manufacturer, jobber and retailer.

In Canada, 20 cigarettes sold for 20 cents. The excise tax was eight cents and the sales tax, one cent. This left 11 cents for distribution from the grower to the retailer. On a package of 25 cigarettes there was 13 9-10 cents left for distribution.

If Canadian growers received 1¾ cents for the tobacco in an ordinary package of cigarettes in would mean a price of 23 1-3 cents a pound, green weight. This would mean a price increase of 23 per cent to the grower on 1932 levels.

Replying to Mr. Someville, witness said there was a surplus of tobacco in Canada, and had been for the last couple of years. "I believe there is even now 25,000,000 pounds of flue-cured tobacco on the market and held by manufacturers above their normal requirements," said Mr. Miller.

"We are willing to pay any agreed price if manufacturers got together," witness answered D. M. Kennedy (U.F.A., Peace River).

"But you are 80 per cent buyers and control the situation?" said Mr. Sommerville.

"No, we are not," answered Mr. Miller. "When we were 80 per cent buyers, we paid higher prices."

Company's Profits

"In the last five years the profits of the Imperial Company and its subsidiaries were $82,177,000?" questioned counsel. Witness agreed.

In addition there were undivided profits of subsidiaries of the Imperial Company amounting to $3,748,500," pressed counsel. He thought these undivided profits of $3,748,000 were accumulated before five years ago, answered witness.

In the last five years, amounts paid to six executives of the Imperial Company in salaries and bonuses amounted to $1,861,923, said counsel. These three amount ran to a total of about $38,000,000.

"During that time," said counsel, "you reduced the price to the grower and the wages to some of your workmen"

"And we reduced the price to the consumer and paid large amounts in taxes to the government," replied witness.

There were no taxes paid on the $38,000,000 which represented an amount after all taxes had been paid and after the Imperial Company had set up large depreciation allowances running sometimes as high as 100 per cent, said counsel.

He would like to check up on these depreciation allowances before making a statement, answered Mr. Miller.

"Having reduced your price to the consumer by 50 per cent that just added to the depressed condition in which the grower found himself," said counsel. He referred to the drop in prices in 1931 and 1932, added Mr. Sommerville.

BRISK UPTURN SEEN INSURANCE SELLING

"Downtown Branch," Montreal Sells $1,404,000 During April.

Additional evidence of the upturn in Canadian business comes from the Imperial Life Assurance Company whose "Downtown Branch," Montreal, an organization of only twenty men, sold in the month of April $1,040,000 of assurances. This exceeds by 40 per cent. the largest month's business in the history of the branch even including the boom days of a few years ago. That it was not a spasmodic increase is shown by the fact that the months of January, February, and March were also substantially ahead of the same months for 1933. The business written by the Imperial Life for the month of April throughout Canada was 40 per cent. higher than the same month in 1933. The management states that in recent months there has been a steady decrease in requests for loans and for surrender values on their policies on the part of policyholders. Substantial growth in the repayment of existing loans on policies is also noted. As the management points out life insurance can be purchased only with the surplus earnings of the individual and it would seem as though the average Canadian is now doing more than just make ends meet, and is beginning to accumulate a surplus in his personal budget.

MINE OFFICIAL IS FOUND SHOT

(Continued from Page 1)

The body was discovered by Leonard Franceschini, who was doing excavating work nearby. Franceschini approached the car to ask the driver to move on to make way for a steam shovel. He noticed the peculiar position of the driver and a second glance showed him to have a bullet-hole through the forehead.

Samples of Gold In Car

According to the police, it was impossible for the victim to hold the rifle up in front of him in the car and pull the trigger. In the back of the sedan, which was owned by the dead man, were numerous samples of gold, apparently brought from the mines of Northern Ontario. Papers found in his pockets by police led them to believe he was active in the mining market.

Mr. Fitchett was vice-president of the Patricia Rouyn Exploration Company, Ltd., engaged in the development of Northern Ontario mining properties. The company's offices were closed today.

Dr. E. R. Frankish, ballistic expert of the Ontario attorney general's department, is making an investigation.

According to Coroner Dr. J. Dunning of North York, however, Fitchett's death resulted from suicide. "It looks like a straight case of self-destruction," he said. "It appears as though he bought the rifle shortly before his body was discovered. Wrapping paper in the back seat indicates he unwrapped the rifle in the car." Only one shell had been removed from a box found in the car.

Insull, 9 Associates To Be In Court Friday

CHICAGO, May 9 (A.P.)—Samuel Insull will be arraigned in Federal Court Friday, it was announced today, to be charged in the two Federal cases against him.

The deposed utilities magnate, now in Cook County Jail, will be brought before Judge Philip L. Sullivan and will hear himself charged with using the mails to defraud, in connection with the sale of stock in Corporation Securities, Inc., and with fraudulent acts violating the bankruptcy laws.

The other defendants in the mail fraud case have already been arraigned, and will have their next day in court on May 15. The nine business associates who are charged, along with Insull, in the bankruptcy case have never been arraigned, however.

They will come into court with Insull Friday.

Races — Entries — Selections Comment — Results

Kenilworth Entries

(For Thursday, May 10).

First Race.

The Tunnel, purse $700, for maiden 2-year-old fillies, foaled in Canada, 4½ furlongs (5):

A-Donstick 110, Paine 110, Colle Chink 110, Aromette 110, A-Chickpen 110, Miss Worthmore 110, Gay Sympathy 110, Smoke Ring 110.

A-H. C. Hatch entry.

Second Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs (10):

X-Hasty Belle 96, X-Uma 106, Federal Reserve 116, Charles J. 105, X-Aleeta 106, Egad 113, X-Black Jewel 106, Cabainia 113, Kalola 111, Maebee 111.

Third Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, six furlongs (8):

Tom Jack Jr. 113, Bubbling Out 113, Polonian 113, Transpose 111, Don Carlos 116, X-Refiner 108, The Hun 113, X-Anna C. 98.

Fourth Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds, six furlongs (7):

X-Lady Rene 100, X-Mysterious Neil 100, Star Ballot 107, Esperanto 113, Herewand 109, Distribute 118, X-Cold Spill 104.

Fifth Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, 5½ furlongs (12-1):

Sorcery 109, JeJre 99, Rough Waters 107, X-Inflate 92, X-Theone 102, Lady Justice 97, River Sceptre 104, X-Princeton 104, Morgil 112, Charlie 112, Meloy 109, X-Happy Warrior 107; also eligible, Barter 107.

Sixth Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 6 furlongs (8):

Running Showers 102, Yesmur 105, Lady Worthmore 115, Rose Path 110, X-Sugar Jar 107, X-Toe Dance 115, Glaze 100, Olivia 105.

Seventh Race.

$700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, one mile and 70 yards (9):

Hurawav 115, Baunboy 107, Traumagne 113, Zegora 110, Woolorac 112, X-Mrs. Foster 105, X-Don Tasker 107, Margie Lou 110, Blighter 112.

X-A.A.C. Cloudy and fast.

KENILWORTH SCRATCHES

Second—Flying Fantom.
Third—Athol, Egad.
Sixth—Lough Port, All Forlorn.
Track—Cloudy and fast.

PLANE CRASHES

(Continued from Page 1)

fard, English passenger.

The plane was sought on both sides of the Channel by air and by sea, for several hours before hope began to wane.

The plane weighed 10 tons and it was believed that, if it fell into the Channel, it would not float long.

The lost plane is the "Brequet," attached to the regular Paris-London service.

It left Le Bourget at 11.15 a.m. to-day with Pilot Cannet in charge. The other members of the crew were the steward and radio operator.

The Brequet was last sighted over Treport, near Dieppe, leaving the French coast at 12.19 p.m.

One minute later came the last radio message indicating that, apparently, all was well aboard.

The plane was due at Croydon Aiddrome at 12.40 p.m., and, when it failed to appear, the English field sent out a general alarm.

BOND LIST

Dominion of Canada
1936	105	-105⅝
1937	110	-110⅝
1941	108	-108¼
1952	102⅛	-102⅝
1958	104	-105½
Province of Ontario
1948	109⅝	-110⅝

MURRAY'S SELECTIONS

AT KENILWORTH

First Race—	Second Race—
Miss Worthmore	Kola
Chickpan	Maebee
Aromette	Charles J.
Third Race—	Fourth Race—
The Hun	Distribute
Bubbling Out	Hereward
Tom Jack Jr.	Mysterious Nell
Fifth Race—	Sixth Race—
Meloy	Lady Worthmore
Princeton	Toe Dance
Sorcery	Sugar Jar
Seventh Race—
Hurawav
Mrs. Foster
Woolorac.

Kenilworth Results

FIRST RACE.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 5½ furlongs:

Young Kitty, 108, Wall, 49.70, 11.20, 6.70.

Aqmond, 115, Remillard, 3.55, 2.70, Rock Crest, 113, Osborne, 10.10.

Time, 1.06 4-5.

Sweepvale, Sugar Jar, Acajou, Carhan Queen, X-Confection, X-Miss Roseland, Wentworth, Miss Mash, X-Childish Talk, also ran.

X-Field.

SECOND RACE.

Barter, Joe Macaw, Donny Johnny.

NO TIME IS LOST AT DELORO PLANT

Star for Month is Awarded to General Division.

MARMORA, May 9.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — The regular monthly meeting of the Deloro Safety committee was held in Deloro Hall on Monday evening, R. A. Elliott presiding over a good attendance.

G. Brooks reported the receipt of five suggestions during April. One of these merited award. There were no lost time accidents during the month. The star was awarded the general division. Prone method practices were held by Floyd Gray in the oxide plant. Col. A. V. Yates will carry out similar practices in the silver plant during May.

For the Inspection committee, J. H. Hemphill brought in a good report. D. Robertson was appointed floating member for May. C. H. Buskard gave the monthly statement of the Benevolent Relief Fund and the report of the Publicity committee was furnished by W. R. Reynolds.

Joseph Judge who, with Harry Smith, attended the recent annual convention of the Industrial Accidents Prevention Association, gave a very interesting report. During the summer months the meetings will be held on the first Monday afternoon of each month in the electric shop.

Girl With

EASTMAN KODAK DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, May 9 (C.P.). — Eastman Kodak Company to-day placed the common stock on a $4 annual dividend basis against $3 previously by declaring a quarterly payment of $1. It is payable July 2 to holdings of record June 5.

Britain's population increase in the last year was less than 85,000.

INITIAL OFFERING OF TREASURY STOCK OF THE

Millar Mineral Exploration Co.

20,000 TREASURY SHARES

only of the Millar Mineral Exploration Co. are hereby offered for public subscription at $1.00 per share. Here is an opportunity to become associated with an enterprise, the stock of which offers a speculation of outstanding merit.

Do not fail to investigate.

Owing to the limited number of shares being offered (20,000) and the many unusual and attractive features in regard to Company's purpose, program and method of operation, an oversubscription is anticipated in which event all rights as to allotment of shares or refunding of subscriptions are reserved.

For Prospectus and further information as to the Company's holdings and program, without obligation, write or wire to

A. CARLYLE (Broker) Federal Bldg., Toronto
or to W. N. MILLAR
387A GEORGE ST., ROOM 3, PETERBORO. PHONE 662.

4d. 7, 9, 11, 14, 5186

JAPS WILL SEND BRITAIN PROTEST

Believe Trade Restrictions Infringe on Most Favored Nation Clause.

WILL DEFEND RIGHTS.

(By Glenn Babb, Associated Press Foreign Staff)

TOKYO, May 9 (AP)—A formal protest against Great Britain's newly-imposed quotas on Japanese imports likely will be the first gun fired by Nippon on the Anglo-Japanese trade war, it was indicated in high government quarters to-day.

A majority of the Foreign Office officials believe the British restrictions on Japanese trade infringe upon the most favored nation clause of the Anglo-Japanese Commercial Treaty.

For this season, a high government official said, legal experts are studying the relation of the treaty to the quotas announced by Walter Runciman, British Board of Trade head, to determine definitely whether Japans rights have been infringed upon.

If infringement is proved, Tokyo certainly will protest, the official said, adding:

"We are determined to defend our treaty rights."

He recalled as a precedent that Japan protested similarly when France instituted import quotas against her commerce.

The official declared that Japan will refuse to make any peace overtures and will not propose a compromise or suggest a revival of the project for an Anglo-Japanese trade conference.

Japan at present is withholding retaliatory measures, it was emphasized, but is retaining a free hand to act when circumstances compel.

Trent River

TRENT RIVER, May 8 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Young People's League meeting was largely attended Friday night with Mr. D. Walker in charge. The members decided to set the opening hour for the league at 7.45 o'clock, instead of 7.30 to allow some of the members more time for baseball practice on the Athletic Park. D. Walker read the scripture lesson. Mrs. John Scott took over the program as follows: reading, "Denny the Mule" by Miss Rena Chaplin; piano instrumental, Mr. Wesley Wildman; scripture reading, Miss Madge Hubble; topic, "What does it mean to be a Christian with money" read by Mrs. John Scott; vocal solo, Clifford Chaplin, with piano accompaniment played by Mrs. V. Chaplin. The mizpah benediction closed the meeting after which a rehearsal was held for the Mother's day program for Sunday, May 13th.

Crop Report

CENTRAL ONTARIO

Durham—Most of the fall wheat acreage has been cultivated and sown to barley or recleansed western spring wheat. Unfortunately most of this western seed is carrying a considerable quantity of wild oats.

Hastings—Fall wheat and clovers have been severely killed out and farmers throughout the district are finding it increasingly difficult to secure seed. Wheat and sweet clover are especially in demand.

Muskoka and Parry Sound—Observation while driving along the roads indicates that new seeding has come through the winter in excellent condition. A number of farmers interviewed during the weeks report that they are decidedly optimistic on the prospects for a good clover crop this year. According to reports, labor conditions are considerably improved. It is stated that local lumbermen are finding difficulty getting sufficient men for their log drives at $32 per month with board. Maple syrup making is over, after a fairly good season. The average price seems to be $1.50 per gallon, with a plentiful supply available. Potatoes are available in fair quantities, with prices varying from $1 to $1.25 per bag. Rain is needed to start growth. While the weather is warm, there has not been nearly the growth that might be expected.

Ontario—Fall wheat is almost a total loss. There isn't a good field of wheat in the county. Alfalfa and clover are badly damaged but the warm weather is bringing it along. Rain is needed, especially to start pastures. A great many cattle will be turned out early this spring.

Northumberland — About 75 per cent of the fall wheat in this area will not recover from the severe winter and unfavorable early spring weather. The same applies to new seeding of alfalfa and some of the older stands are still in the condition that it is impossible to estimate whether it will survive or not. Many trees which were apparently injured are now showing signs of life and improvement.

Peterborough — The seeding has been in full swing for six days and many farmers have over 75 per cent of their spring grains already in the ground. Seed grain is becoming scarce and two townships have taken advantage of the Seed Grain Subsidy Act.

Prince Edward — Very warm weather has continued all the past week and seeding operations are in full swing. Due to all fall wheat being killed as well as a great percentage of clover and alfalfa, farmers will have about double the spring's work to do this season. Seed grain and clover seed are becoming very scare. But development has been very rapid and if warm weather continues, spraying will be general this week.

Victoria—Now that growth has started, fall wheat acreage that has escaped can be estimated at 5 per cent. Oats and barley will be sown about 20 per cent. The remainder will be cultivated up. New seeding, except sweet clover, also badly winter killed. Old fields of alfalfa have also suffered. Timothy and sweet clover have survived.

York—It is estimated that in the County of York 90 per cent of the fall wheat will be reseeded to spring grains. This is the heaviest winter killing on record.

Activity, which started in the Catalonia textile industry of Spain, last Decemger, continues to increase.

ORDER GRANTED IN JONES CASE

Bethany Man is Granted Order to Foreclose Mortgage.

STAY OF COSTS DIRECTED.

Handing down his first judgment during the sessions of the Supreme Court here, Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy yesterday afternoon granted the order with costs sought by Josiah Jones, of Bethany against Arthur A. Jubb, of Toronto, to foreclose the mortgage on a 100-acre farm in Manvers Township. However, His Lordship directed that proceedings as regards costs be stayed until further order, in order to permit Mr. Jubb to take his threatened action against Melville Jones, executor of the estate of the late Robert Jones, brother of Josiah Jones.

J. W. Stevenson appeared for the plaintiff and W. F. Huycke for the defendant.

Josiah Jones stated that in 1919 he gave his brother, Robert Jones, a loan of $1,000 and in return received a mortgage on the farm in Manvers Township which his brother was selling to Mr. Jubb. Mr. Jubb made regular payments on the mortgage up until 1931, but only paid $50 on the principle. Mr. Jubb, witness said, had never complained about the mortgage.

Mr. Jubb testified that Robert Jones had informed him that he was getting a loan from his brother, Josiah, and had asked the witness to make the interest payments on the loan. By March 20, 1929, Mr. Jubb said he had paid the full sum agreed upon for the farm, $2,500, to Robert Jones and produced a deed given to him by Robert Jones for the property. The deed had been drawn by W. A. Jakeman, of Bethany, but it had not been registered. He stated that he had entered into an agreement with Robert Jones when buying the farm in 1919 to place a mortgage on the farm, but this agreement was not registered.

In reply the plaintiff called, Mr. Jakeman who told of drawing up the mortgage between Robert Jones and Josiah Jones on the farm, and he also drew the deed for the transfer of the farm from Robert Jones to Mr. Jubb. Mrs. Josiah Jones said that she had written all the correspondence with Mr. Jubb concerning the interest payments. She denied that her husband had ever written a letter, produced by Mr. Jubb and bearing her husband's alleged signature, in which the amount of the sum owing from Mr. Jubb was $300.

"Good Tea"

—is hard to define, easy to appreciate

THE CEYLON TEA BUREAU sought a descriptive phrase for better quality tea and selected the words "Good Tea". It is an apt choice because "Good Tea" has brought added pleasure to many Canadian homes. We had incorporated the slogan "Good Tea" in our advertising in 1894. "Good Tea" is hard to define, easy to appreciate. No product can acquire a "good name" overnight. In the business world a good name may only be won by a sustained standard of quality over a period of years. After forty years of uniformly high quality the name "RED ROSE" is your guide to "Good Tea".

NO ADVANCE IN PRICE

Red Label 25c ½ lb. Orange Pekoe 38c ½ lb.

Red Rose Tea

"is good tea"

434

SAFETY SPEED COMFORT SERVICE

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Quite Frankly, the Object of this Advertisement is to Stimulate Business.

The clouds of depression are gradually rising, and this movement towards better times can be speeded by a greater use of our railroads. In this you, the public of Canada, can help. The more you use the railroads, the more will be spent on wages and supplies, and,—so wide are the ramifications of this industry—every home in Canada will benefit. Besides, as a result of economical operation, you will receive unexcelled value for every dollar you spend.

So make your plans now for greater use of railroads, which were never before in a better position to serve you. For vacations, business trips, carriage of goods by express and freight, for telegraphs and transference of money, the railroads are your willing and efficient servants, not for part of the time only, when conditions are propitious, but all the year round. By rendering this continuous and essential service they deserve your patronage.

Do not think of railroads as transcontinental systems only. True, transcontinental business is important, very important, but the railroads are specially anxious to serve for short trips and on branch lines. You will find that for a surprisingly low expenditure you can go almost everywhere, be it near or far, in comfort and safety when you travel by rail.

CANADIAN NATIONAL

★ STAR GAZING ★

By BOB McSTAY

Former war ace and now the leading London exponent of ballroom dancing, Santos Casani of South Africa has decided to add to his long string of achievements by becoming a film actor. Santos, however, is no effete terpsichorean. The other night at the London Palladium a professional strong man offered a five guinea challenge to anyone who could lift a couple of weights totalling 720 pounds; whereupon the immaculate Santos Casani left his seat, mounted the stage, and stole the show by successfully raising the weights.

* * *

The new idol of Elstree was born in Rhodesia of Italian parents. He became a mining engineer and then joined the air force when war was declared. He was seriously injured after a crash in France and was one of the first plastic-surgery cases, the military medicos having to provide him with an entirely new nose. This may explain his hospital activities for Santos Casani is a governor of the Royal Orthopedic hospital, the West London hospital, the Royal Free hospital and the Acton hospital. He is also an accomplished horseman and annually donates Casani Challenge Shield to the International Horse Show.

* * *

One of teh busiest picture plants these days is Warner Brothers' studios at Teddington where a heavy schedule of British-made pictures has been launched under the supervision of Irving Asher. Previous to the rising popularity of British films, Warner Brothers had been content to turn out such pictures as the film quota required, refusing to invest too heavily in production costs and caring little whether their made-in-England pictures were profitable. Not until American screen-players, directors and scenario-writers flooked to England and started producing heavy money-making films for their new employees did Warner Brothers arrive at the conclusion that the people who had once worked for them in Hollywood might as well be working for them in England. Hence the activity at Teddington.

* * *

Claude Hulbert, brother of the famous Jack Hulbert of "Sunshine Susie' fame, has been signed up for five pictures. Laura La Plante, late of Hollywood, is busy making 'Church Mouse,' opposite Ian Hunter, British stage and screen star.

* * *

Another important step forward in the development of the motion-picture is the achievement, after eighteen years of painstaking research, of the new three-component technicolor process by means of which accurate and faithful color photography has been perfected.

The history of the development of color in motion pictures is an interesting one. As early as 1913, attempts were made to introduce color but this was first done in monotonones, whole sections of film being dyed red for fire-scenes or blue or night-scenes.

* * *

In 1916, painting by hand was resorted to with a fine-pointed brush under a microscope. The immensity of the task may be judged when it is remembered that 1,500 separate frames pass through the projection-machine every minute.

* * *

It was clear that color could only be brought to the screen by some mechanical process. A start on the present technicolor process was begun in 1916 by wo professors of the Michigan Institute of Technology. Their first commercial results after years of research was accomplished by coating both sides of the film with emulsions, one being impressionable to images in one color and the other to images of another color. The two-component process was first used in such early films as "The Ten Commandments," "Ben Hur" and "The King of Kings."

* * *

The next step was super-imposing two-color composites on one side of the film and thus the three-component process was developed.

WARKWORTH

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wilson of Hastings were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fawcett and Paul of Toronto and her father, T. S. Baker of Campbellford visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dawe are visiting Rev. L. H. Fowler and Mrs. Fowler at Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mowat and Moira of Toronto were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mowat.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Aird and daughter of Toronto spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mowat.

Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson, Robert and Harold Edgar and J. B. Leonard visited the former's parents at Lonsdale on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker and Blanche were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Baker, Hastings, Sunday afternoon and evening.

Stops pain of burns

Soothing and cool, Unguentine relieves pain, prevents festering, speeds healing. Used by 8 out of 10 hospitals. Buy it today. Never, never be without it!

Unguentine Quick!

MEXICAN HELD IN KIDNAP CASE

Document Giving Details of Abductors' Plans is Also Located.

THREE INVOLVED.

TUCSON, Ariz., May 9 (C P.).—The Associated Press was told by an authoritatipe source to-day that one of the men who figured in the kidnapping plot of June Robles, six-year-old heiress, has been found by investigators and is now within their custody.

It also was told that a written document giving details of the plot and locations where the child has been secreted was found penned by the man.

Not formally under arrest, nor the subject of any charges, the man has been in the custody of investigators for a week. The document, it was learned, implicates him as one of four persons in the kidnapping of the girl last April 25 from her home here.

He was identified as a Mexican.

Three Involved.

The others in the plot were described as a Mexican and his wife, and a man whose nationality was not revealed.

The document, it was ascertained, outlined a plan in which the man and the Mexican couple were to have taken June to Santa Cruz, Sonora, about 25 miles south-east of Nogales, Ariz., after she was seized, and wait there while the Mexican, now in custody, negotiated for the ransom, originally set at $15,000.

The money, the document disclosed, was to have been obtained within the first 12 hours after the kidnapping. At the end of that period the child was to have bene spirited to Cananea, 55 miles south of the border, below Bisbee, Ariz.

There she was to have been left with a relative of the man who wrote the document and a request made to the relative to take the child back to the Robles family.

The Associated Press was told that the man delegated to collect the ransom was frightened off by the widespread hunt for the child. Thus the first part of the plot for collection of the money failed.

BONARLAW

Spencer & Son, contractors are working at the new St. Mark's Church this week, pointing up stonework and clearing the ground.

A large number from this vicinity attended the annual Diocesan meeting of the W.A. which was held in Belleville last week. Those from Bonarlaw were Canon and Mrs. W. G. Swayne, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Baker, Mrs. W. J. Barlow and Mrs. M. Fitzgerald.

We have had fine weather for the past couple of weeks but rain is badly needed now.

On Monday evening of this week a social evening and euchre was held by the members of Springbrook Lodge I.O.O.F. No. 429 and their families in the Orange Hall at Springbrook about fifty persons being present. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. W. J. Barlow and the gentleman's prize by Mr. Fred Martin. After the game ice cream and cake was served and the Noble Grand, W. J. Barlow acting as toastmaster called on District Deputy Grand Master, W. H. Heath, Karl Sine, Noble Grand of Stirling Lodge, and J. F. Baker, of Springbrook Lodge for addresses. Some very interesting figures were given by the D.D.G.M. showing the state of the Order, the membership of which he stated was over two millions.

Brother Baker called the attention of the members and others present to the creditable manner in which the D.D.G.M. Bro. Heath who is a member of Springbrook Lodge had filled his term of office which is about to expire, and also to the fact that under the leadership of Noble Grand W. J. Barlow this lodge is flourishing, nine new members having recently been initiated and there are prospects for more. This record has only been exceeded by one other lodge in the province.

All joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne" ending a very pleasant evening.

DON'T BE CONFUSED BY MISLEADING CLAIMS

Be Sure You Get Genuine Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Bran has proved so successful in relieving common constipation that some cereal manufacturers, with products having only a fractional quantity of bran, have claimed that this minimum bran content is sufficient to get results.

You may have tried some of these part-bran products—and have been disappointed! The simple truth is that they do not furnish the amount of bran you need.

It's the "bulk" or fiber in bran that helps correct common constipation. This "bulk" is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. It also furnishes vitamin B, as well as iron for the blood. It has won millions of friends because it overcomes common constipation safely and pleasantly.

It is all bran just as the name implies—with nothing added except the flavoring of Malt, Sugar and Salt.

When you buy a bran cereal for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by getting Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—in the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario, Canada.

FREE STATE VICE-REGAL LODGE TO BE CONVERTED INTO MUSEUM

Stately Home Been Shuttered Since Buckley Named Governor-General.

CONSIDERED TOO LARGE.

By JOSEPH DENNIGAN
Canadian Press Correspondent

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, May 9 (C.P.)—Plans for conversion of the vice-regal lodge, official residence of the Governor-General of the Free State, into a museum have been approved by President Eamon De Valera.

The stately home in Sylvan surrounded by Dublin's Phoenix Park, largest park in Europe, has been shuttered and barred since appointment of Daniel Buckley as Governor-General. Mr. Buckley, a bachelor, did not relish the thought of residing in such a huge estate and preferred living in a modest villa near Kingston with two Gaelic-speaking policemen who are his aides-de-camp and one secretary.

The president pondered what he should do with the vice-regal lodge, now a white elephant, and considered suggestions that it should be turned into a military college, a sanitorium or a mueum. An application by the authorities of the National Museum for more floor space decided the matter and plans have been made for alterations.

Home for Relics

Congestion in the National Museum in Kildare street will be eased by decision to transfer from it all the obsolete artillery pieces, relics of the Crimean War and of the Indian campaigns of Lord Wellington.

When the vice-regal lodge becomes a museum the only building of historical importance untouched will be Dublin Castle, which Mr. De Valera has decided to spare. He has given instructions that it be preserved as the British Government left it, and it will be used for state banquets and receptions organized by the government.

Former President William T. Cosgrave, in a characteristically sarcastic comment on the government's decision to turn the vice-regal lodge into a museum, suggested one of the principal exhibits there should be the relics of the Irish cattle trade with Britain.

Home and School Association News

KING GEORGE SCHOOL.

The regular meeting of King George School Home and School Association took place yesterday evening and was opened in the usual way by the repeating of the Lord's Prayer.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $41.02.

Mr. Northey gave a brief report on the League of Nations—its purpose, the place of meeting, its method of settling disputes by peaceful rather than warlike means, and its accomplishments in preventing wars.

The question drawer brought out some very interesting and helpful discussion on the problems of children and parents, such as what should be done with the child in school who persistently talks to the detriment of his own and other children's progress, and how best to determine a child's future vocation in life.

Miss Bonnycastle's room won the banner for having the most parents present.

It was decided to hold the school picnic about the middle of June.

The program consisted of vocal duets, with guitar accompaniment, by Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Moynes; recitations by Joan Welsh, choruses by Miss Bonnycastle's room, recitations by Bobby Seymour, a recitation by Mrs. Turner, and an excellent address on the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind by Miss Tomkins.

Miss Tomkins said that 7,000 blind Canadians benefit from the Institute. It was begun after the war to help so many soldiers who returned home with the loss of their sight. One of its chief functions is to prevent blindness. Many factors contribute to blindness, such as careless treatment of babies at birth, overstrain of eyes when young, accidents with sharp instruments that pierce the eye, fireworks and explosives, etc. Many people read type much too small, or try to read while they are in motion, or read with too much glare of light on the book. All of these are a great strain on the eyes and contribute to blindness.

The School for the Blind at Brantford takes children as far as entrance standing. Blind children have no idea of color and only a limited one of size. The sense of touch takes the places of eyes. Maps are made in clay or plasticine so that they can be touched by the fingers. The children receive an excellent training in music.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind aims to help the child after he leaves school. It has a wonderful library of 20,000 volumes that are loaned. It sends out teachers to give children instruction at home. Factories have been established where the operators are blind people, and excellent work is done on machines by the sighted. Every effort is made to give the blind suitable vocations where they are self-supporting. Blind people want to make good and are very courageous; they dislike being pitied.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

At the regular meeting of Queen Alexandra Home and School Association on Monday evening, the members enjoyed a talk by Mr. Clair who is at present a student at the Normal School, but who has been, for several years, a teacher on the staff of the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville where some 380 children are in attendance.

Mr. Claire gave a most interesting general outline of the methods of teaching these deaf children to learn lip reading and eventually to learn to read the printed page and to speak. The boys are taught three trades—printing, shoe-making and manual training—as well as the regular public school course and the girls are given a course in household science as well as regular academic work.

The president, Mrs. E. Telford, extended the appreciation of the association to Mr. Claire for his giving such a very fine and instructive account of the educational work being done among the deaf children of the province.

The musical number on the program was a vocal duet beautifully sung by Jimmy Hawthorne and Bobby Parnell, with Mrs. Parnell playing the piano accompaniment. June Wallis then gave a very delightful reading.

The date for the annual ice cream treat for the children was set for May 30th and the annual picnic is to be held this year on June 22nd.

Mrs. R. S. McLaughlin's address which she gave at the Home and School Federaton convention in Toronto at Easter, was read by Mrs. H. G. Walker.

The formation of study groups for parent education was a topic for discussion it being decided that a meeting would be held next week for the purpose of forming such a group. Members who were interested in this were asked to give their names to the secretary at the close of the meeting and quit a number responded in this way.

It was announced that Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, of St. Paul's Church, would address the June meeting on religious education.

The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem, Mrs. Purdy playing the piano accompaniment.

Canadian Material Used In New Banks

Plumbing Goods Manufacturers Supply Materials for Two Banks in China.

An optimistic indication of the successful workings of the British Empire Trade Agreements comes to light in a report from the Empire Brass Manufacturing Company, Limited, London, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver. This company has just shipped a large quantity of brass pipe fittings and soil pipe to Hong Kong, China, where these materials will be used in the construction of the new Shanghai and Hong Kong Bank which is now in progress in that ancient Chinese City. Engineering talent and material for the construction of the new building are being obtained exclusively from party of the British Empire and when the new edifice is completed, it will actually be an all-British structure.

The details of the order received by the Empire Brass Manufacturing Company, Limited, will be of special interest to members of the plumbing trade. Included in the materials which the company is shipping, by the Empress of Japan on May 5, is a carloadof 40,00 tons of extra heavy brass pipe fittings which range in size from ½" right up to 8" and which were manufactured in their factory at London, Ontario. The order also includes 130 tons of Soil Pipe in sizes all the way from 2" up to 12". Part of this order for soil pipe has been shipped from the Anthes Foundry Company in Toronto and a part from the Anthes Foundry Company in Vancouver. All this material will go into the construction of the new bank, and a Canadian Plumbing Engineer has the contract.

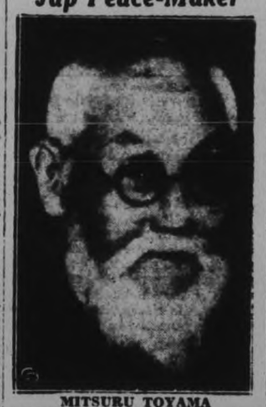
ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT' for inner cleanliness —gentle, sure ... forms no habit
CA24

Jap Peace-Maker



MITSURU TOYAMA

Fearing that resentment aroused by supposed U.S. opposition to a "Japanese Monroe Doctrine" for Asia, might result in anti-American riots in Tokio, Mitsuru Toyama, veteran Japanese patriot, appealed to his countrymen to remain calm and counselled against any deonmstrations.

350 DURHAM MEN TO BE EMPLOYED

Filling of Ditches on No. 2 Highway to be Undertaken at Once.

MEETING OF REEVE.

PORT HOPE, May 9.—Employment of between 300 and 350 unemployed men of Durham county on the widening of Provincial Highway No. 2 was proposed at a meeting of the representatives of ten townships at Orono last Friday night.

It is expected that this work will be begun before the end of this week, under the direction of W. L. Saunders, Port Hope, resident engineer of the Ontario Department of Highways. The Durham project is part of the program of employment that is being carried on throughout the province. No. 2 highway through Port Hope, Newcastle and Bowmanville will be widened by filling the ditches, a change which the Department has recognized as a needed improvement for increasing the safety of traffic.

Ten municipalities were represented at the Orono meeting which was presided over by H. C. Hudson, representing the Department of Labor, assisted by Rae Halliday, Oshawa manager of the Employment Service of Canada. Each municipality submitted a list of unemployed residents within its borders, and quotas were arranged for the work. It was intimated that the total number to be engaged might reach 350.

The meeting was attended by Mayor Ross Strike, Bowmanville; Mayor Crowhurst, Port Hope; Reeve Gibson, Newcastle; Reeve George Hooton, Cavan; Reeve C. G. Mercer, Hope; Reeve Fred Lovekin, Clarke township; Reeve Fred Gray, Manvers; Reeve George Annis, Darlington; and T. I. Bentley and J. R. Eakins of Millbrook council, representing Reeve Stinson; and Reeve Norman Green of Cartwright.

In Ontario county a contract has been let to the A. E. Jupp Construction Company, Toronto, for the laying of a concrete pavement between Brooklin and Greenwood, a distance of six miles. The men required for this work will be drawn from neighboring municipalities.

Council Meeting

WARKWORTH, May 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — The council of the Township of Percy met in the town hall here Tuesday, May 1, with all members of the council present, namely, Reeve C. H. Curtis, Deputy Reeve Roy R. Mallory, Councillors U. E Wartman, W. H. Nelson and W. Partridge.

Communications were read as follows: House of Assembly, Department of Agriculture, Hydro Commission, Consolidated Ins. Co.

Moved by Mallory, seconded by Nelson that Thomas Allen be paid the sum of $5 for the time he acted as truant officer, carried.

On motion of Nelson and Mallory, Stephen Dingman was appointed truant officer for the remainder of 1934 at the same salary as Thomas Allen, who resigned, carried.

On motion of Wartman and Mallory, accounts amounting to $79.08 for police village and $1,575.52 for Township of Percy were ordered paid.

Moved by Nelson, seconded by Mallory that this council abate the sum of $47.35 and that a cheque be drawn for this amount in favor of the collector to balance roll for 1933, carried.

By-law numbers 908 and 909 were introduced by Deputy Reeve Mallory and were duly read, passed, signed by reeve and clerk and sealed.

The council then adjourned to meet June 5th at 10 a.m. At this meeting the court of revision for the assessment roll for Percy Township will be held. Clerk to give notice of same.

TRANSPORT FIRM FINED

TORONTO — Found guilty of permitting a transport driver to work longer than the required 10 hours Boyce Cartage Company yesterday was fined $10 and costs in county police court.

DEFINITE ACTION UPON WAR DEBTS SEEN FROM U. S.

Expect Suggestions for General Settlement With European Debtor Nations.

FROM ROOSEVELT.

Johnson Act Brings Conferences With British, French Envoys.

By Lloyd A. Lehbras
(Copyright 1934, by the A. P.)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The war debt program, an international thorn for a decade, was reported today to have taken a turn that probably will draw a quick, clarifying statement from the White House.

It was stated authoritatively that if "anticipated developments" in the sensitive debt field take place, President Roosevelt may put forward suggestions for a general settlement with European debtor nations.

An expectation that some word might actually issue from the White House before nightfall was expressed in one informed administration quarter, but this was held to last minute changes in plans.

An immediate statement from the White House, however, is scheduled to be a preliminary "thinking out loud" to the war debt message the president shortly will dispatch to the United States Congress.

Capitol Hill predictions that Mr. Roosevelt will refuse further token payments meanwhile were discounted by Secretary of State Cordell Hull. He told reporters the administration had not yet decided on any rigid formula. The question of tokens, he said, would have to be decided when and if overtures are made by debtor nations.

Roosevelt Steps In

Definite word that Mr. Roosevelt now is taking a first hand interest in the War debt tangle was forthcoming overnight from an official close to the chief executive. He said that as late as last night the President held definite views on the debt question, but had not finally decided on the form of the suggestion to be presented to Congress.

Although informed sources declined all comment on the "anticipated" debt developments, it was indicated that the Johnson Act to ban financial transactions with defaulting nations had acted as a catalytic in the situation.

The British, French, Russian and other envoys of debtor nations were disclosed to have held a series of informal conferences with state department officials on war debt questions since the signing of the Johnson Act. The attorney general's opinion holding that token payers were not "at present" in default caused several of the envoys to make new visits in attempt to discover just where their nations stood.

As a result of those conferences, and the aftermath effects of the Johnson Act interpretation several of the debtor nations are expected to make overtures on debt questions before the June 15 payments fall due.

JAP TRADE BAN UP TO DOMINIONS

Britain Not Aiming to Urge Rest of Empire to Follow Her.

POSITIONS DIFFER.

LONDON, May 9 (CP Cable).—While the British Government would like to see the great Dominions follow its lead in imposing restricions on Japanese exports to the colonies and the British Isles, the British Government fully recognizes any such step is purely a matter for the initiative of the Dominion Governments, it was authoritatively explained to-day. It was intimated the British Government does not expect any such action.

Britain has informed the Dominions of its proposals in regard to Japanese competition, but has made not request for similar reduction of imports by the Dominions, it was stated.. The furthest the British Government has gone is to ask the Dominions to consider whether they would care to deal with Japanese competition on their own initiative.

Different Positions

The Dominions position in regard to Japanese competition is very dissimilar from that of the United Kingdom, it is pointed out. Canada, for one, has a considerable favorable trade balance with Japan. New Zealand, for another, takes a comparatively negligible amount of Japanese imports.

Premier G. W. Forbes of New Zealand was quoted to-day as explaining in answer to questions in the Wellington Parliament that New Zealand customs figures showed Japanese textile imports were by no means formidable in New Zealand.

Some resentment is expressed unofficially over Japanese reports indicating a trade war with the Empire is looked for. Anglo-Japanese difficulties are one question; Empire trade is another one entirely, it is stressed.

Workers in the wool and coal industries of Belgium object to the lowering of wages in the efforts to reduce production costs to compete with foreign producers.

Mourn Death Of 350 In Mine

Tearfully mourning their losses, widows and relatives of the victims are pictured huddled near the pithead of the Kakanj coal mine at Palkan., Yugoslavia, waiting for the recovery of the bodies of their men folk who were killed in a disastrous explosion in the mine. Of the 450 men in the mine when the explosion occurred, more than 350 perished, leaving nearly every family in the little mining village touched with tragedy.

Hawthorne Meeting Mt. Irwin May 16

James Hawthorne of Warsaw, Liberal candidate for the new Peterborough city and county riding, will meet the electors of Mt. Irwin district in Galway township Wednesday evening, May 16. He will be accompanied by T. J. Carley and J. J. Duffus.

Mr. Hawthorne will hold an organization meeting in Havelock next Tuesday night.

VISITORS THREATEN BOYCOTT

TORONTO—Seven hundred women of the Auxiliary of the Order of Railway Conductors of America, aided by considerably more than that number of conductors, yesterday threatened a boycott on each and every Toronto restaurant which charged them exchange on their United States money.

Many restaurants and stores announced they were not charging the exchange.

General Sees Japan Centre Hostile World

TOKYO, May 9. (A.P.).—A picture of a hostile world arrayed against Japan was painted before the annual conference of prefectural governors to-day by War Minister Senjuro Hayashi in a forceful plea for United National Support of the army program.

'Since Japan took action in Manchuria, " General Hayashi declared, "the powers have regarded us with eyes of suspicion and mistrust.

"To-day Japan is suffering the military and economic pressure of the powers.

"Soon our withdrawal from the League of Nations will be effective while time for the revision of the Washington and London naval treaties is nearing.

"Thus, Japan confronts an unprecedented national crisis.

"At this juncture if we make mistakes the ruin of the empire is as plainly visible as a column of flame."

FIND PEER'S SON HARD AT WORK

Scion of Irish Family Pushes Barrow After Losing Job in Africa.

RELATION BESSBORO'.

CROYDON, England, May 9 (A. P.)—Lord Naas, eldest son of the eighth Earl of Mayo, was found yesterday pushing a wheel barrow on a construction job here, drawing a laborer's wage of 45 shillings (about $12.50) a week.

The 44-year-old scion of a peer said that he took the job because "my one aim in life is to make good," and that he had had no luck "scraping around London trying to find work" after returning from Africa where he tried coffee planting.

Lord Naas, scion of an Irish family that traces its lineage eight centuries back, and a distant relative by marriage of the Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, was educated at Uppingham. He was intended for an army career but went coffee-planting in Kenya Colony. Later he joined the Royal African Rifles there and was ordered home, but was unable to stand the English climate and returned to Kenya.

There, however, he found his job gone, so he came home to England once more.

"This laborer's job has been a Godsend," he said.

"It does not mean much, about 45 shillings a week, but keeps me alive. Occasionally I run across some old friends and go to a show with them."

The seventh Earl Mayo, a cousin of his father, the present Earl, married Geraldine, the eldest daughter of Hon. Gerald Brabazon-Ponsonby, who was brother to the 5th, 6th and 7th Earls of Bessborough.

BAR BANK DIRECTORS FROM LOAN SESSIONS

OTTAWA, May 9.—(CP)—Under the new banking law bank directors will be prohibited from sitting in at board meetings where loans to themselves or companies of which they are members are passed upon.

Yesterday the House of Commons Banking committee took steps to tighten up the new Bank Act in this and other respect as it made rapid progress with approving the various sections. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett sat in with the committee yesterday in place of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, and himself moved the amendment to affect the change which was opposed only by representatives of the banks.

The very best thing for CHRONIC BRONCHITIS
Persistent dry or phlegmy cough. "For 10 years I suffered from Chronic Bronchitis—terrible attacks. Now I take RAZ-MAH, and the attack stops." Mr. T. Schiller, Three Rivers, Que. Guaranteed relief from $1 worth or your money back. No harmful drugs. 50c and $1 everywhere. 270
Don't cough, choke, gasp—Use
THE GENUINE — TEMPLETON'S
RAZ-MAH

CITY'S APPEAL IS DISMISSED

Appeal Against Decision of Judge Huycke Fails at Osgoode Hall.

GROSS NEGLIGENCE.

The appeal of the City of Peterborough against a decision of His Honor Judge E. C. S. Huycke handed down in the County Court here on February 26 last in which John O'Toole was awarded damages in the sum of $455 and costs for injuries received when he slipped on an icy sidewalk, was yesterday dismissed with costs in the hearing at Osgoode Hall before Justices Latchford, Riddell and Fisher.

John R. Corkery, city solicitor argued the case, while J. A. O'Brien counsel for the plaintiff O'Toole was not called upon.

When he slipped on the icy sidewalk in the vicinity of St. John's churchyard, the plaintiff sustained a fracture of an arm. It was alleged that water drained down over the sidewalk in question, no provision being made to carry it away by other means.

His Honor Judge Huycke, found that the absence of such provision, where the condition complained of had been known to exist for twenty years, constituted gross negligence.

Rose Island News

While preparing breakfast recently Mrs. Jas. W. Campbell broke a large egg and found within it a smaller egg about an inch long with a soft shell.

The farmers of Rose Island are busily working their land. A. Cadwell, 74 years old, is not seeking the old age pension, but is plowing a six acre field. Roy G. Cadwell is building a new house for himself.

John R. Post is visiting his brother who is ill at Glenalda.

Chas. R. Post is breaking in a team of colts for I. Hilker.

IT is difficult to convince the children that they don't need a big bowlful of Grape-Nuts. It is so delicious they always want more. But Grape-Nuts is highly concentrated nourishment. Four teaspoonfuls with milk supplies more varied nourishment than many a hearty meal—making Grape-Nuts one of the most economical foods to serve. Get a package for tomorrow's breakfast. Grape-Nuts is made from whole wheat and malted barley by a special process which makes it one of the easiest of foods to digest.

Grape-Nuts
MADE IN CANADA
G434
GET A PACKAGE FOR TOMORROW'S BREAKFAST

Spring COATS at Reduced Prices

3 Exceptionally Interesting Groups

If you haven't already bought your Coat, and are looking for the utmost in style, value and workmanship, it will pay you to see these interesting groups at special MARKED-DOWN PRICES. All this season's garments, made of quality tweeds and plain woollen materials. Full lined and beautifully tailored throughout.

Women's and Misses' Sizes

Belted, semi-fitted and swagger effects, mostly self trimmed. The new windblown and fancy sleeve styles are generously represented. Sizes in the group, 14 to 46½. Light and dark tweed mixtures, also navy and black. A few Swagger Suits included.

12.75 14.90 19.50

Sale of HATS

BRIMS . . . SAILORS CARTWHEELS — Formerly Selling 4.50 to 5.50 — 3.95

The newest style Hats at a sale price! Snappy styles in quality straws for general wear. Plenty of wide brims, Breton sailors, tailored brims and many other styles. A selected range of seasonable shades include brown, blue, grey, navy, red, green and black. Self or contrasting trims. Women's, matrons' and misses' models.

FOR APPEARANCE, QUALITY AND VALUE

'Lucky Sevens' Hosiery

AN EVERYDAY ECONOMY VALUE

89c Pair

What do you look for when buying Hose? Serviceability, first and foremost! Sheerness and beauty! sound, sensible prices! Lucky Sevens are the Hose that meet your requirements. The colors are new for Summer and they come in three very desirable weights:

Sheerettes—Fine and durable.
Chiffons—Ideal for general wear.
Service Weight—For those who like a heavier weight silk.

NEW SLIP-ON FABRIC GLOVES

A wonderful selection of smartly styled Pull-ons for every occasion. Short tailored cuffs; flared cuffs, outside stitched, and many other appealing effects. White, eggshell, beige, grey tan, brown and black. Sizes 6 to 8. Pair 79c

COOL PINEAPPLE KNIT UNDIES

Fine knit garments of silk and cotton mixture that is so cool and comfortable for Spring and Summer wear. Opera top Vests, elastic waist cuff knee Panties. Pink or white, in small, medium and large sizes. Each garment 49c

CHILDREN'S VESTS AND BLOOMERS

Finely ribbed cotton undergarments for kiddies 2 to 16 years. Cumfy cut style Vests, with elastic waist, cuff knee Bloomers. A splendid value in light weight garments for all season wear. Each garment 25c

NOVELTY WHITE HANDBAGS

Quite the smartest Bags we have seen this season! Trim styles, neat and roomy. Finished with inner slide fastener, mirror and change section. Back strap, chain and top strap holders. Smooth or nubby finish materials. Each 1.00

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

HAVELOCK RELIEF DROPS $600 UNDER LAST MONTH'S REPORT

T. P. Lancaster Paints Rosy Picture of Road Work, Mining in District.

COUNCIL SELLS LOTS.

HAVELOCK, May 9 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of the village council was held in the council chamber of Monday evening, May 7th, with Reeve Richard Sanderson in the chair and all the members of the council present.

The question of the council's responsibility in the matter of collecting arrears of taxes on a business property in town caused the village fathers much concern. A mortgage had recently been foreclosed on the property in question and the mortgagee blamed the tax collector for not seizing any chattels available. The council, on motion of Seeney and Hooper, finally decided to have the Reeve see the council's solicitor.

A great deal of correspondence was read, part of which follows: Ben Sarginson asked to have the job of finishing up a few odds and ends around the hall with a paint job, the fire-ball doors in particular. The Norwood Council and School Board billed the village with its share of the cost of education for county pupils from Havelock. After E. Griffith had been taken from the list as coming from the Township of Belmont, the council ordered the bill paid less two other pupils from town who could take the lower school subjects here and hence under sub-section (c) of the High School Act were not considered as county pupils. The cost of tuition for these two students was $110.25 for 1933. This means the village will send a cheque for $563.53; but will receive from the county half of this. The remaining cost of county pupils then is left at $281.77.

Dates Extended.

Dr. J. Holdcroft, M.O.H., was present and said if the council wished he would extend the time from May 15th to May 25th, as the time for having all village properties in a sanitary condition. The extension was on account of the unusually deep frost in the ground at this season.

Dr. Holdcroft also drew the attention of the council to a large number of the village's by-laws that were not being lived up to and found fault with the building restriction. The by-law requiring all milk vendors to take out a license was also being ignored. People selling bread and not taking out the required license was also noted.

Councillor Seeney suggested the existing by-laws be advertised through the press. The Reeve thought this would be too much Mr. Seeney said that he meant just the headings of the by-laws and a note reminding the ratepayers that they were to be obeyed. According to names mentioned of offenders it was surprising to note some of the village's prominent citizenry among the delinquents. Mr. Sanderson said it looked as if the chief constable would have to get after the offenders.

Miss M. Williams headed a delegation from the Jubilee committee of the United Church, requesting the council to purchase some of the historical booklets to store away in the village vault for future generations to peruse. After the ladies had left the motion by Seeney and Spencer carried that no action be taken in the matter.

The medical officer of health told the council of a property in bad sanitary condition and said the owner was in poor circumstances and suggested the council might remedy the situation by putting some of the relief workers on the lot. On motion of Hooper and Spencer, the Reeve, the M.O.H. will view the property on Wednesday.

Town Sells Lots.

Wm. Rice asked permission to have a garden on the village's two vacant lots east of Wm. McBurney's property. Harold Yeo asked to rent the road allowance on King Street near Union for a garden lot. He asked for a dollar reduction in last year's rate on account of a poor crop. It was decided to let Mr. Yeo have the use of the street providing a road was left to allow access to any properties on the street. The rate was reduced to a dollar. After considerable bantering the council finally decided to sell the two lots on east George Street to George Derrett for $35. The council had asked $50.

John Kinnaird, relief officer, presented a relief expenditure reduction of $600, under the last month's report. Mr. Kinnaird told how reluctant some residents were and what suffering some of them went through before coming to ask for help. On motion of Hooper and Johnston, the report was received and the thanks of the council extended for the invaluable services.

Councillors Seeney and Hooper moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Great War Veterans' Association as well as the Girl Guides and the Guide Association for the $5 relief donation after the tag day for the drop curtain.

Councillors Hooper and Seeney oil of some sidewalks in town that had been left in bad shape with the frost coming out of the ground. It was decided that the council will inspect same on Wednesday.

Councillors Hooper and Seeney were appointed as a committee to look into the village's coverage on fire insurance and report findings at the next meeting.

Road Work Speeded.

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., said the contracts had been awarded for the extensive road building program in the district and the water was again flowing under the bridge. He hoped to have many men at work within a week. He was pleased to see that a Havelock boy, Wm. Holdcroft, had obtained the contract for work on the Campbellford to Havelock section of the new highway.

Sixty-two men are registered for work here and almost as many more from the united townships. To assure equal distribution of the work it was suggested by the member that the council stagger the men.

The road camps in the north should be taking on some of the local men within the next week, he stated. A hundred men from the county will be taken north. This is not relief camp work, but actual construction work. A. A. Ferris of the Department of Labor is in charge of the staggering of men and at the present time has an office in Marmora. The employment office here will be in the council chambers and the Government will pay the cost of installing a telephone.

Mr. Lancaster said the mining picture for the district was extremely rosy, according to shrewd business executives. The highway work, he said, was chiefly for married men or heads of families and sons with widowed mothers. It was decided to hold a meeting with the Department's representative. Hooper and Seeney moved that the chambers be utilized as an office.

The accounts as read were ordered paid on motion of Hooper and Spencer. The chief constable reported his activities for the month. Boys with catapults had been warned; Trent River fire reported, and $2,463 is all that remains of 1933 taxes, uncollected. On motion of Hooper and Spencer, the report was received and 10 per cent. past due added to all outstanding taxes. The meeting adjourned to meet June 4th.

FOR EVERY BABY IN THE LAND

Canada's original Arrowroot Biscuits baked by Christie's for over 80 years.

At six months give a Christie Arrowroot Biscuit with the noon-day feeding. At nine months, pour half of the evening bottle on a crumbled Christie Arrowroot Biscuit.

Sold in handy, sealed packages or by the pound in bulk.

Christie's Arrowroots

HASTINGS

Miss Plant, Mrs. Battersby and Miss Sylvia Battersby returned from attending the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary in Toronto and reported a very enthusiastic conference. It was announced that the Junior Auxiliary of St. George's Church received rewards for mission study as follows: Berniece Dainard and Jessie Kirk received their fifth year seals on their certificates; Isobel Fowlds her third year and Silver W.A. pin; Leta Dainard her second year seal, and Barbara Gowans and Dorothy Blackbourn their certificates and first year seals. Amy Sargeant and Doreen Hazelwood received pictures for their first year oral examinations.

The resuts on their examinations were as follows: Isobel Fowlds 99%, Jessie Kirk 91, Bernice Dainard 82, Leta Dainard, honorary; Dorothy Blackbourne 72, Barbara Gowans 58, Doreen Hazelwood and Amy Sargeant, oral examinations.

The Senior Branch received credit for an embroidered set of communion linen from their treasurer, Miss Plant as an Easter offering, and the "Empty Stall" was furnished with a complete infants layette, also as an Easter offering, from their president (Mrs. Battersby) and her daughters Misses Margaret and Sylvia Battersby.

PLAY AT FENELLA BY CENTRETON Y.P.

"Path Across the Hills" Draws Splendid Crowd.

FENELLA, May 9. (Examiner Correspondence) — The Centreton Young People's Society presented their play, "The Path Across the Hill" on Friday night, in the Community Hall. All taking part were well suited to their roles, the darkies, Zuga, and her husband, Salamander, especially caused much laughter and added life to the play. Rev. Mr. Neville was chairman for the evening.

The play was given in three acts and the parts were taken as follows: Samuel Crawford, grandpa, (Percy Fraser); Ruth Comrad, his granddaughter (Miss Richards); Flo Grey, Ruth's cousin (Eileen Rogers); Dr. Reed, Ruth's lover, who married her cousin Flo, (Arnold Hope); Mrs. Davis, grandma, who married grandpa (Mary Lockhart); Lutie, a neighbor girl, very much in love with Walter Comrad; Mabel Webb, Walter Comrad, Clifford Berney, Robert Posts, who married Ruth, Joe Webb, Zuzu, the dark lady and cook, Dorothy Rogers, her husband Salamander, Willie Honeywell. Much credit is due to Mrs. Berney for the training of the amateur casts.

The program between the acts was: solo: "Life is What You Make It", by Miss Bernice McNaught; selections by the orchestra; Miss Elva Curtis, guitar; Mr. Lyle Curtis, violin; Mr. Gordon Sandercocks, mandolin; solo, "Granny's only left me the old arm chair" by Mrs. M. Adams.

HAVELOCK'S UNITED CHURCH ORCHESTRA STAGES CONCERT

Delightful Program is Linked With Golden Jubilee Festivities.

NEWLYWEDS HONORED.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, May 9 — The entertainment presented by the Havelock United Church orchestra, in connection with their Golden Jubilee festivities in the town hall here on Friday evening, was greeted by a capacity house.

The program was divided into two parts, the opening scene a broadcasting station, a program sponsored by the Rush Point Creamery, advertising a dairy product. The announcer was Ronald Kemp, who introduced his orchestra, the Venetian Serenaders, the entertainers for the evening. Classical music was the keynote of this first part, featured by solos, duets, quartettes, the assisting vocalists being Henry Campney, of Campbellford, Harvard Reddick of Omemee, and Mr. Mr. OBrien, of Peterborough.

The second part was given over to lighter numbers, the formal clothes of the earlier program being replaced by the Venetian costume of cream flannel trousers with satin blouse and sash.

A demonstration of gymnastics by a number of boys who took part in the school entertainment recently, proved a popular number. A demonstration wrestling bout by Gray Kemp and Nelson Chiles, a dialogue by Keith Chiles and Fred Hill, a humorous number "Steal Away, by Rae Peters, and vocal solos by Henry Campney, Harvard Reddick and Ted OBrien, were all greatly enjoyed, being interspersed by orchestral numbers in the lighter vein.

Highlights by the orchestra were "The Carioca," and Keb Calloway's theme song, "Minnie, the Moocher," the solo part taken by Nelson Chiles. "After the Ball," "Pale Moon," and "Wagon Wheel" were much appreciated contributions to the evening's entertainment.

The vocal numbers by Mr. Harvard Reddick of Omemee, were especially worthy of mention. They were sung in splendid voice with much ease and artistry. Mr. O'Brien of Peterborough, made his first public appearance, and scored a decided hit, in his first number, by request, "After the Ball."

Mr. and Mrs. William Sexsmith were guests of honor at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bannon on Friday evening, when about seventy-five young people, as well as a number of older ones, presented them with many useful and costly gifts.

The evening was spent in cards and dancing, and a delightful lunch was served at the midnight hour, after which dancing was resumed until the wee' sma' hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Sexsmith (nee Parcels) were married on April 7th, and leave shortly to take up residence in Toronto, where Mr. Sexsmith is employed by the C.P.R.

Mrs. Robert Vansickle suffered severe burns on Friday morning last, May 3rd, when she upset a kettle of boiling water as she was preparing the midday meal. The boiling liquid was poured over her lower limbs, inflicting severe scalds which required medical attention. Mrs. Vansickle, who has not been in very good health for the past few months, also suffered slightly from shock.

What might have proved to be a disastrous fire was started in the rear of Havelock Park on Sunday evening, when a match or a cigarette thrown carelessly from a parked car, started a blaze in the grass, which quickly spread to leaves and brush, and soon burned a swath about fifty feet back of the wire fence on the Mathison property. The fire got a real start, before the men, raised by the alarm of Mrs. Vansickle, reached the scene of the blaze. Fortunately they were able to subdue it before any real damage was done.

Pig iron and steel production in Poland is increasing rapidly.

Chandos Township Tax Roll Extended

The Municipal Council of Chandos met on May 5th at Glen Alda School House with all the members present.

Communications were read from Miss J. A. Batten, County Clerk informing that lot 16 concession 16 of the Township of Chandos has been patented.

Hales—Reynolds: That council order be drawn in favor of Mrs. Robert Tanner for the sum of $8 for auditor for 1934.

Reynolds—Hall: That committee of three men consisting of Reeve Hales, Collector James Campbell and Robert Scott, treasurer, be authorized to arrange with Bank of Commerce for loan.

Campbell—Hales: That township revert to statute labor for 1934.

Hall—Hales: That return of 1932 tax roll be extended to next meeting.

The following men were appointed pathmasters: William Johnson, Harry Wilson, George Bullied, Fred McColl, Albert Daniels, T. Liscum, Robert Hawley, John Jones, Ronald Currie, Dave Campbell, Clarence Campbell, John Tucker, Robert Tanner, George Couch, Charles Rusaw, Dill McCauley, Hubert James, Abert Davis, Richard Martin, David Wease, Joe Frotter.

The following orders were drawn, James Campbell, $4.50, timber and labor, per Charles Bullied; James Campbell, $8, per Robert Tanner; John Reynolds, $12, part salary; Albert Hal, $11, part salary; James Rosebush, $4, correcting pay sheets.

On motion of Campbell and Hall the meeting adjourned.

HIT—RUN VICTIM

TORONTO—Found unconscious beside his badly-damaged bicycle, 14-year-old Stuart Hutcheson was rushed to hospital where little hope was held for his recovery yesterday. He is suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries.

While the lad was fighting for his life in one hospital, his father, seriously ill, was in a similar condition in another institution.

FREE! 1,001 PRIZES EVERY WEEK

"HEY KIDS! JOIN MY BASEBALL CLUB — AND WIN ONE OF THESE SWELL PRIZES! JUST MAIL YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS WITH ONE QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT OR RICE BOX TOP TO BABE RUTH'S BASEBALL CLUB, P.O. BOX 1083 CHICAGO FOR MEMBERSHIP BUTTON & CONTEST ENTRY FORM."

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE PRIZES

Trips to New York or Chicago to see me play, all expenses paid. Free Spalding Baseballs and Fielders' Gloves.

Listen in to BABE RUTH over the N.B.C. Blue Network every MON., WED. and FRI., 8.45 to 9 p.m. E.D.T.

QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT PUFFED RICE

SIGNS OF SERIOUS TROUBLE INSIDE! READ HOW DR. PULAY TREATED THIS TYPICAL CASE!

"Every one of these ills was corrected—in 30 days" reports DR. ERWIN PULAY, noted Vienna specialist

Dr. Pulay is the famous author of 120 important medical articles; eminent member, Austrian Society of Dermatologists.

If your skin is broken out . . . stomach upset . . . bowels sluggish —this typical "case history" can probably HELP YOU!

HOW DOES YOUR SKIN LOOK? Unhealthy, rough, broken out? Do you suffer from unsightly pimples . . . painful boils?

Is your stomach upset? Do you feel distressed after meals? Are your "calls of nature" irregular . . . strained . . . not urgent as doctors say they should be?

Then note how similar your troubles are to the case illustrated above and described here by Dr. Pulay:—

"This patient's skin was greasy, full of pimples, itchy. Scalp covered with dandruff. Perspiration excessive.

"She often had indigestion, was frequently constipated. An X-ray of her intestines showed 'self-poisoning.'

"I had her eat yeast. At the end of four weeks, her skin was completely clear, her digestion greatly improved, and her intestines worked perfectly..."

Fleischmann's Yeast makes your stomach juices flow faster . . . strengthens your bowels . . . softens waste. As Dr. Pulay explains, it is "so much better than cathartics which are weakening, harmful to delicate bowel tissues."

Won't you take advantage of this great doctor's experience?

Eat 2 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast (rich in vitamins B, D, G) every day.

Keep on eating it for 30 days at least. Directions are on the label. You can get it at grocers, restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains. Get some today.

GEORGE FLETCHER, of Montreal, writes: "My digestive system didn't work well. My doctor prescribed fresh yeast. The food I ate began to do me good—I picked up strength. The results were really startling."

BUY MADE-IN-CANADA GOODS

BODY AND FENDER BUMPING
Duco Touch-up
GILLESPIE GARAGE
378 Aylmer St. Phone 950
"Service That is Service"

H. T. HICKEY
Phone 2024
ALTERATIONS AND BUILDING
Of All Descriptions.
Homes Built to Order.
Houses Converted Into Duplexes.

Mr. Bruyere
Foot Specialist, will be at our store Tuesday and Wednesday, May 16th and 17th, and will give Foot Adjustments and Fittings for
M. W. LOCKE
SHOES FOR MEN AND WOMEN
Exclusive Local Representatives:
NABORHOOD
SHOE STORE 338 GEORGE

The Peterborough Examiner
PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1934

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR
Permanently Removed
By Electrolysis.- All Skin Diseases successfully treated. Facial and Scalp Massages.
ANNE GRAHAM LOGAN
Dermalologist
(Formerly of Ulscott Institute)
12 Years Experience.
1181½ Hunter W. 'Phone 3102
m.w.f-Feb 15-3301

PLOT UNCOVERED TO OVERTHROW GOV'T IN BENGAL

Governor's Enforcement of Laws Against Terrorism Given as Cause.

TWO ARRESTED.

Attempt to Assassinate Sir John Anderson Failed—Man Suicides.

BOMBAY, India, May 9 (C.P., via Havas).—The unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Sir John Anderson Governor of Bengal, yesterday led to the discovery to-day of a vast plot against the Government.

Two Bengals shot at the Governor while he was attending the races. The Governor was not harmed as the shots went wild.

Meanwhile the authorities discovered that the two assailants were members of a secret society, the members of which had sworn to kill the Governor in revenge for alleged abuses by the Government in invoking strict laws against terrorism.

The two Bengalis had poison capsules on them to commit suicide. One succeeded in swallowing the lethal dose and died before bullets fired by the Governor's guard could reach him. The second assailant was arrested just as he was about to take the poison.

A young girl was arrested as an accomplice.

See Our Flower Holders for Mother's Day
Fine assortment now on display.
Inexpensively priced at $1.00 and $2.00.
Complete with Flowers
See our windows.
Warne's
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

LOCALS

DR. T. W. H. YOUNG

Doctor of Medicine and Master of Surgery (Toronto University). Graduate of Edinburgh, Glasgow, and London. Special attention given to Skin and Blood Diseases. Office, 305 Stewart Street. Hours: 2 to 5 and 6 to 8. Phone 347.
4d.28,2.5,9,1540

BEAVER CLUB DANCE.

To-night, May 9, in Simcoe Street Hall. Admission 15c. Whist and Euchre, Friday, May 11. Admission 25c. Refreshments. 1d-110-1880

KNOW THYSELF.

Consult Madame Alda, Psychologist. Different; Truthful; Accurate. Phone 1913F. 1d-110-5230

GEORGE STREET CHOIR.

Ladies of choir please remember to be present at 7.30 to-morrow night. Regular practice at 8.

BE A TROUT.

Evidently trout do not bite at anything. They say 'what have you to offer?' Put in famous Reading Hard Coal, and while it may not be palatable, it is satisfying in the extreme. Sanitary Ice costs no more. 'Phone 3700.
dtf.

PERMANENTS DOWN IN PRICE.

New Spring prices in permanents: Reg. $7.50 wave oil $5 (with Marro-oil shampoo included); reg. $5 wave oil, $3.75; reg. $3.75 Moore Wave, $2.50; reg. $7.50 Naturelle Croquignole, $5 (with Marro oil shampoo included); reg. $5 Moore Wave Croquignole, $3.75. — 296 Charlotte St. 'Phone 3095.
5d-114-5209.

DANCE

Indian River hall, Friday, May 11, auspices North Douro ball team Leahy orchestra. Jack Delaney floor manager. Refreshments. Admission 25c. 1d.110,5229

LEAKY EAVETROUGH

does considerable damage to your buildings. Why not have us repair or renew the old trough at once at a new low price. Phone Goodfellow's, 379 Water Street.
mwf, May4, 4665

"THE GREAT PYRAMID —ITS DIVINE MESSAGE"

is the topic of an illustrated lecture by Mr. Christian of Toronto, under auspices of British-Israel Federation, in the upper hall of Public Library, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. Everyone welcome. Silver collection.
2d,9,11,5237

"MOTHER'S MOMENT"

three-act play, will be presented by Mark Street Dramatic Club, Friday, May 11th, at 8.15 in the S.S. auditorium, auspices Young People's Society. Tickets, 25c; children, 3 for 25c. 1d,110,5167

ATTENTION! BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN

We have two new "Safe Guard Cheque Protectors" which have been held as a security. The time limit having elapsed they will sell to cover amount owing. These machines listed at $97.50 will sell them for $45.00 each. Grand Hotel, 295 George St.

DANCE

Legion Hall, Saturday, May 12. Old Tyme and Modern dancing from 8.30 to 12. Geo. Furphy and His Band. 1d-110-5235

ORANGE RECEPTION AND BANQUET

to Grand Master and Grand Mistress in St. Andrew's Sunday School hall, Friday, May 11, at 6.30 p.m. All L.O.L. and L.O.B.A. members of Peterborough county invited to be present. Tickets 50 cents. Gents. make your reservations early.
2d,7,9,5203

The Value of Chiropractic
Spinal adjustments do release the vital nerve forces that are required to improve your bodily resistence.
You have within you all the resisting power you need, but that power does not serve its purpose unless it reaches every part of your body.
If there is nerve impingement the flow of this vital force to the various organs will be interrupted.
Your Chiropractor is trained to locate and release this nerve interference.
He knows that a normal supply of nerve energy to all the tissues is necessary if you are to enjoy that degree of health which you need to carry on the strenuous activities of modern living.
The achievements of Chiropractic merit your investigation.
M. C. GOODWIN
Chiropractor
108 Barrie Bldg. - Peterborough
Phones 431 and 1340-J.

Blue Coal Prices Reduced
For Prompt Delivery
Buy when the getting is good—Later Prices not Guaranteed.
Egg and Nut . $14.00
Stove 14.25
Pea 12.00
J. E. A. Fitzgerald Estate
PHONES 110 AND 111.
Coal, Coke and Wood Dealer.
11d,115

DIED

WILSON—On May 8, 1934 at Nicholls Hospital Samuel George Wilson of Burleigh Township, in his 69th year. The remains are resting at Belleghem's Funeral Home until Thursday at 2 p.m. at which time the funeral services will be conducted at the residence of his son-in-law Arthur Moffatt, 169 Princess street with the Rev. Mr. Moore of Young's Point and the Rev. J. D. Paterson, rector of All Saints' Church officiating. Interment at Lakefield Cemetery.

COVERT—On the evening of May 8, 1934 Mervin Frederick Covert, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Covert of 437 Albert St. aged 2 years, 8 months. Funeral on Thursday at 3.15 p.m. from the family residence with the Rev. William McDonald officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

EAST CITY SOCIAL

The last of the season Friday, May 11. A combined committee of the Holy Name Society and the Sodality will be in charge.
1d-110-5234

ANTHRACITE COAL

Spring prices.—Egg, Stove, Nut down $1.00 per ton; Pea, 75c. Fill your bins now before prices advance. Phone 96. McCarthy and Johnston. W,S,2103

EXPERT EYESIGHT SERVICE

which cares for your eyes in a thoroughly modern scientific manner, at reasonable prices Edith Warren Kee, Optometrist Permanent office at Harris Drug Store, 172 Charlotte. Phone 527.
w,s-3245-tf

TOWNSHIP OF NORTH MONAGHAN

Public Notice is hereby given that all dog owners must keep their dogs tied or penned up and not allowed to run at large. All owners of fowl must keep their fowl in pens or enclosed yards.

It is also contrary to the Township By-law to allow any animals to run at large.

Offenders will be prosecuted according to the terms of by-laws governing the same.

Bruce Johnson, Clerk,
Township of North Monaghan,
2d,7,9,5192

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

Household Science Classes

Coaching classes in household science will be conducted by Miss Edith Hopkins of Lindsay at several centres in Peterborough county which will be announced in a few days. Miss Hopkins will be here for four days during the week of the 15th and also four days in the week of the 28th of May.

LACK OF QUORUM

Owing to the lack of a quorum of members at the regular meeting yesterday afternoon of the Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society, there was no business session and adjournment took place. Those in attendance yesterday were Mesdames Fanning and Welsh, also J. Edgar, C. A. Salmonsen, Ross Dobbin, W. Stocker and the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr.

MARK STREET Y.P.S.

Miss Mildred Currie, convenor of the Christian Fellowship Department of the Young People's Society of Mark Street United Church, was in charge of the regular meeting last night. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Mabel Reynolds, and Miss Eleanor Fallis led in prayer. Miss Currie took the topic of the evening: "Christ Knoweth His Own.' At the conclusion of the business session, games of carpet bowling were enjoyed.

SPARKS SET FIRE IN GARAGE

Sparks from an acetylene welder this morning set fire to some paper at the rear of a workbench at Reid's garage at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets and caused slight damage. The Fire Department was in attendance, responding to the call at 8.55 o'clock.

MISSIONARIES TO CHINA

TORONTO. — Dr. Richard L. Cockfield of Toronto, and Mrs. Cockfield, have been appointed by the South China Mission of the United Church of Canada to serve at the Shekkei Hospital, erected by Christian Chinese merchants of Hong Kong on condition a Canadian doctor and nurse be supplied. Dr. Cockfield graduated from Queen's University, Kingston, in 1931. His wife was formerly Miss Stella Rose Bingham, R.N., of Ottawa.

FAMILY MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED BY REV. COGHLAN AT ST. PETER'S

Marriage Not Only Contract But Raised by Christ to Dignity of Sacrament.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES.

Before a congregation that filled every available seat in the nave, transepts and gallery of the Cathedral, Father Coghlan, C.SS.R., yesterday evening spoke of the Church's traditional attitude and teachings concerning the rights and duties of family life.

With a style of delivery which seemed to establish at the outset an intimacy and sustained interest in the minds of his hearers, Father Coghlan in the brief time at his disposal, in simple and convincing fashion, treated of the manifold duties and the inevitable difficulties which go to constitute family life of the twentieth century.

Reminding his hearers that marriage is not only a contract but had been raised by Christ to the dignity of a sacrament, Father Coghlan elucidated the Church's teachings on the indissoluble character of matrimony.

"The Church throughout the centuries of her existence" he remarked, "has steadfastly set her face against all attempts to destroy the permanent nature of this holy union of man and woman. History," he continued, "bears eloquent testimony to the fact that she has preferred to sacrifice her own membership rather than compromise a divine principle." For Christ has said, Whosoever shall put away his wife and marry another committeth adultery and if the wife shall put away her husband and be married to another she committeth adultery". (St. Mark 10-11). In the light of this divine declaration one cannot help but admit that the divorce court is a civil process established for the sinful purpose of legalizing vice and breaking a commandment of God." The Church, stated Father Coghlan, "despite all accusations to the contrary, has never dissolved a real and valid marriage. It has occurred and does occur at times, that after most careful scrutiny and investigation the Church may declare that certain conditions necessary for the validity of marriage are lacking. The absence of these necessary conditions for validity is in itself sufficient reason to pronounce a decision of nullity. The marriage is then declared invalid or in other words as never having existed.

Treating of the mutual duties and relations of parents and children he reminded the mothers of the great trust and responsibility which is theirs in the Christian upbringing of their children. Emphasizing the necessity of wise parental control on the part of parents, and the corresponding duties of love and obedience on the part of their children, Father Coghlan characterized as senseless and immoral that theory of human conduct advanced by false teachers which would permit the child free and untrammelled opportunity of so-called expression of individual tendencies, good or bad. He recommended "repression" not "expression" of psychological tendencies which in later years could only spell moral disaster. "Expression"—in its last analysis, is license—and license is opposed to all constituted law and authority. Expression—run wild" stated Father Coghlan, is making this world an unsafe place in which to live, and is peopling our reformatories, houses of juvenile correction and prisons with an ever increasing army of enemies of society.

"The natural and ordinary state in which to live is the married state" stated the missionary, in urging young people not to postpone unduly this important event of life."

"There are exceptions to this rule in the case of persons who are called to devote their lives exclusively to God in the priesthood and in religious communities of men and women. The responsibility and duty of caring for aged and helpless parents also makes the choice of the married state a difficult, and at times, an impossible one. But otherwise God has intended that his people save their souls in the married state."

"Marriage" stated the missionary "in the majority of cases to-day has assumed the proportions of a "problem" artificially created at that by the exaulting and unnecessary demands made by single young women on otherwise potential husbands. "A late-model car, a powerful radio, a well-furnished home, a high salary—these are only some of the requisites demanded by the young lady of to-day before she will even consider matrimony."

Father Coghlan characterized this attitude toward married life as selfish and destructive of the moral courage so necessary in the stronger species even to broach this question of the future.

In voicing the Church's strong disapproval of pleasures and entertainments of a questionable and sometimes sinful nature, Father Coghlan remarked, "The Church wishes her children to enjoy themselves in all pleasures that are sinless, pure and decent, but is opposed to all else that might blight the flower of virtue." To safeguard their children the missionary exhorted parents to make their homes happy and holy homes, homes, in the enjoyment of which, their children would never desert in the quest of less holy pleasures.

"The perfect example of Christian family life is found in the House of Nazareth, the early shelter of the Holy Family. The tender care and solicitude of Mary and Joseph is the perfect example for all parents," concluded Father Coghlan.

Magistrate's Court

In traffic court before Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning, Philip Ronce was fined $2 and $4.25 costs for failing to produce his driving permit when called upon to do so; Ross Hood was assessed $10 and $4.25 costs on a speeding charge; and Harry Dinsdale was ordered to pay $4 and $4.25 costs for not having a rear view mirror attached to his motor vehicle. A charge of obstructing the highway, laid against Thomas McCracken of Trenton was adjourned for one week.

Appearing on an adjourned charge of keeping liquor for sale contrary to the provisions of the Liquor Control Act, Harry Carter who was arrested by Provincial and City Police in an early morning raid on his premises a week ago, was given a further adjournment.

The defendant who was represented by Jacob Low, was released on his own bond of $2,000 and $700 cash.

Resulting from another raid made by Provincial and City Police at 12.30 a.m. to-day Charles Fleetwood of 414 Dublin street was sentenced to 3 months' imprisonment in the county gaol upon pleading guilty as a second offender to a B.L.C.A. charge.

TOURIST TRADE NEEDS BOOSTING

Special Postage Stamps Are Recommended to Senate Committee.

C.P.R. WITNESS.

OTTAWA, May 9 (CP)—The proposal, advanced by J. B. Harkin, Superintendent of the Parks Branch, that a committee comprised of officials from the Customs, Immigration, Radio, Trade and Commerce, and Justice Departments, be set up in Ottawa "to smooth out any troubles arising out of the tourist business,' was warmly endorsed by J. Murray Gibbon, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, before the Senate Committee here to-day. The committee, headed by Senator the Hon. W. H. Dennis, is inquiring into the possibilities of expanding the tourist industry in Canada.

The issue of special postage stamps, designed to feature Canada's attractions, was urged by Mr. Murray Gibbon.

"The C.P.R.," he said, "is of the opinion that a great impetus to the tourist industry of Canada would be given if the whole population could be made more 'tourist conscious,' and we submit for consideration the suggestion of employing the postage stamp, something that everybody uses and knows, for this purpose.

"Our suggestion is that the three cent stamps used for postage in Canada and to Great Britain and the United States, and possibly also the five cent stamp used for letters to Continental Europe, be considered as a means of tourist propaganda.

We suggest that twelve designs of the oblong shape be issued during the year 1935, at intervals of one a month, each of the first ten to illustrate the most spectacular beauty spot or point of interest in each of the nine provinces, and the Yukon, the eleventh stamp to illustrate the North West Territories, and the twelfth to incorporate the Maple Leaf, emblem of Canada."

New Anti-Toxin Aids Rare Disease Victim

SASKATOON, May 9. (CP). Suffering from a condition rarer than leukemia but equally deadly, the case of Charlie Andrews, eight-year-old boy from Macrorie, Sask., now in the city hospital here, today had been greatly benefited by administration of a new anti-toxin, produced at the Connaught laboratories at Toronto, and donated by that institution to the hospital here. The disease is known as staphylococcus septicemia.

Charlie Andrews, son of William Andrews, Macrorie farmer, was admitted to the hospital on April 28. He was suffering from osteomyelitis, a bone disease that had infected his knee and caused the staphylococcus germ to spread through the body. He had been sick for four days at home where he was thought to be suffering from rheumatism.

He was operated on for osteomyelitis, when the blood cultures indicated the germ had spread through the body, a wire was sent to the Connaught laboratories for the anti-toxin. Administration of the anti-toxin has been made daily since the boy shows marked improvement. He is much brighter and taking more nourishment.

FARM LAD GIVES TIP THAT PUT TEMPLE IN JAIL

Uncovered Fugitive While Putting Down Hay at Night Chores.

NO VIOLENCE OFFERED.

Says Hunted Man Pleaded He Tell No One of Finding Stranger in Barn.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 9 (C.P.).—Decision of Clifford Anderson, 16-year-old farmhand on the farm of Malcolm M. McNeil, Dunwich, just outside Dutton, to remove hay from a certain spot in the mow because it "looked like a good forkful," led to the capture of Frank Temple, 50-year-old alleged slayer of Constable Colin McGregor.

To the Canadian Press, a member of the McNeil household revealed the young farmhand's thrilling experience. Malcolm McNeil and his brother had completed their part of the chores for the night and had been called for supper. This was at 6.30 p.m. last night. Clifford went to the mow to throw down the hay for the horses. He was hurrying in order to get to the house with the two men. He picked up the fork, saw the likely-looking bunch of hay and jabbed his fork into it. He uncovered a haggard-looking stranger who had been buried in the hay. Keeping his face averted, the stranger—who proved to be the much-sought Temple—talked to him in low tones, asking him not to tell the "boss" that he was there, Anderson said.

Fugitive Very Nervous.

Temple seemed very nervous and on the alert, the farmhand continued. He asked the youth to roll a cigarette for him, and the boy complied. Before reaching for the cigarette, Temple drew a pair of black gloves on his hands—evidently to prevent young Anderson from seeing his wounded hand—which Sergeant Sam McKeown hit with a revolver shot during the fracas on Monday which ended with the death of McGregor, and the wounding of McKeown and Fred Temple, son of the man now under arrest.

Wondering about the youth's delay in getting the hay down, Malcolm McNeil mounted the stairs from the lower part of the barn and called to the youth through the opening, telling him to hurry since supper was waiting. Unaware of the fact Temple was present, Mr. McNeil returned to the lower floor of the barn and then proceeded to the house.

Anderson said Temple pleaded with him continually not to tell "the boss" he had uncovered a man in the hay. The aged man did not threaten the youth with violence or display his revolver, the youth said, but continued begging him not to tell anyone what had occurred.

The farmhand promised he would not tell Mr. McNeil and was permitted to leave the barn unmolested. It was not until about two hours later that he told members of the household, and expressed the belief the man he had uncovered was Temple. Malcolm McNeil immediately telephoned a report to Chief William Ketchabaw of the city police department, giving him the details as told by young Anderson.

Obituary

SAMUEL GEORGE WILSON.

Samuel George Wilson, life-long resident of Burleigh Township, died last night at Nicholls Hospital after an illness of six months' duration. He was in his 69th year.

Besides his widow, formerly Mary Jane McCauley, the late Mr. Wilson leaves two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Church of Burleigh Falls, and Mrs. Arthur Moffat of Peterborough, also three sons: Robert at home, Norman of Apsley and Theodore of Mount Julian.

The deceased was a long standing member of Holy Trinity Church, Haultain.

The remains are resting at Belleghem's Funeral Home until 2 p.m. on Thursday, at which time services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Moore of Young's Point, and the Rev. J. D. Paterson of All Saints' Church, at the residence of his son-in-law, Arthur Moffat, 169 Princess Street, this city. Interment will be made at Lakefield Cemetery.

MERVIN F. COVERT.

After an illness of three months' duration, the death occurred shortly before half-past eleven last night of Mervin Frederick, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Covert, of 487 Albert Street. The child was 2 years 8 months of age.

Besides the sorrowing parents, the child is survived by two brothers, Bernard and Donald.

The funeral is to be held on Thursday at 3.15 p.m. from the family residence, with the Rev. William McDonald, pastor of Knox Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

UP A TREE.

TRUMBULL, Conn., May 9 (C.P.).—Mrs. Stephen F. Gutowski has learned why she couldn't find her bunch of keys after she was thrown from her last fall in an accident.

The keys, rust-covered from weeks of exposure, were found high in the branches of a tree nearby.

Ballmoney Ireland, has just decided that the city should have a speed limit.

DRUGS
VALUE!
MONDAY, TUESDAY, AND WEDNESDAY, as well as our Week-ends we believe we give you BETTER VALUES than you get elsewhere. Try us and see.
Below are some of our Specials for THURSDAY, FRIDAY, AND SATURDAY.
I.D.A. MILK OF MAGNESIA
—There are many brands of Milk of Magnesia, but this is equal to any and better than most 35c
16-ounce Bottle ....
MOTHER'S DAY SUNDAY, MAY 13TH
—We suggest Chocolates, either SMILES N CHUCKLES or HUNT'S in special wrappings 50c Per Pound .....
25c KLEENEX TISSUES 2 for 29c
$1.25 BON-KORA 98c
PEPSODENT TOOTH PASTE 33c
60c ALMOND LOTION 38c
LUX TOILET SOAP 3 for 17c
50c I. D. A. KIDNEY PILLS 29c
BURDOCK BL'D BITTERS 77c
NATURE'S REMEDY TABS 19c 37c 73c
A. B. S. & C. Tabs., 2 for 25c
Absorbine Jr. 89c
Blondex Shampoo . 20c-79c
Corega Powder.. 27c-44c-77c
Cuticura Soap 19c
Dodd's Kidney Pills 29c
English Health Salts, 1 Lb. 39c
Kotex (Wondersoft) ... 19c
Lavender Shav. Cream . 25c
Milburn's Heart & Nerve 37c
Moth Killer Crystals ... 39c
50c Magnes. Tooth Paste 29c
Murine Eye Remedy ... 44c
Rosarie Soap .... 4 for 19c
Scott's Emulsion ... 39c-69c
Seidlitz Powders .. 2 for 25c
Zam-Buk 31c
25c Blue Razor Blades, ... 2 for 25c
British Aspirin, 200 for 75c
50c Thompson's Shaving Cream, for 35c
BORLAND'S DRUG STORE
222 CHARLOTTE (Near Aylmer)
'PHONE 274 - - WE DELIVER

Western Floods Receding Rapidly

WINNIPEG, May 9. (CP).—Flood waters in widely-separated points of Western Canada were receding to-day, leaving behind extensive damage.

After taking three lives, wrecking bridges and damaging highways, floods in the vicinity of Port Arthur, Ont., definitely were receding. Rivers and creeks were losing their volume but guards were still stationed at many bridges to keep close record of their condition.

The swollen Athabaska and Peace rivers in northern Alberta were still far above normal but reports said the high point had been passed. At Fort Chipewyan, 400 miles north of Edmonton, people had built platforms in the trees to avoid drownings. With food supplies the families were said to be ready to await several days for the water to subside.

Distinct dropping of the Peace River in Fort Vermilion and North Vermilion was reported. Scores of people were forced from their homes to the high land when the river overflowed its banks. Silt and debris were left in homes.

SUMMER GARDENS BEING DECORATED

Announcement of the Opening Will be Made Within a Few Days.

Brock Street Rink is undergoing quite a change in anticipation of the dancing season, and an announcement of the opening of the Summer Gardens will be made in the course of a few days. At the close of the skating and hockey season tons upon tons of ice were drawn away in order that the building might be prepared for the laying of the dancing floor which was taken up board by board and is now being relaid. The floor this year will be about 1,000 square feet larger. It is being appropriately decorated and the interior has all been repainted. Those who patronized the Summer Gardens last year will appreciate the changes, and Mose Yokom and his band, it is said, will furnish music equal to any band in the province.

YOUTHS PLEAD GUILTY TO THEFT

Remanded For Sentence on Charges of Theft From Cottages.

18 CHARGES.

John McClennan and Theodore Zinston, youthful fugitives from Mimico Industrial School this morning, before Police Magistrate Langley, in answer to a long series of charges relating to breaking and entering and theft from cottages in Stoney Lake district.

Eighteen charges in all were preferred against the former, including a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, namely a revolver. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the charge of unlawfully possessing the revolver, and also pleaded guilty to five charges relating to breaking and entering and theft, and pleaded not guilty to twelve other charges of breaking and entering and theft.

Zinston entered guilty pleas to thirteen of the charges on which he was arraigned, and not guilty to six other charges of breaking and entering and theft.

On application of Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., the two accused are remanded until Tuesday morning next.

Following a complaint laid by George Douglas, who owns property on the west shore of Stoney Lake north of Cassidy's Bay, Provincial Constables David Silvester and William Warren undertook investigation that led to the discovery of a wholesale series of petty robberies from summer cottages on Stoney Lake in Smith and Dummer Townships.

One of the clues that is said to have led up to the arrest of the youths was a pair of elkskin boots. The boots, it is claimed, had high tops and belonged to one of the victims of the series of thefts. These were cut down and worn by one of the defendants.

Asked in court this morning if he had anything he wished to say, McClennan exclaimed, "I wish the police would get the right boys that did it, and not blame it all on us."

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

HEADACHES DUE TO EYESTRAIN
If you are suffering from this ailment, let us examine your eyes and advise you whether you need glasses or not. We replace broken lenses and do all repair work. . .
W. H. LACEY, Optometrist
410 GEORGE ST.
Phone 1524 for Appointment

DANCE TONIGHT
MAYFAIR
ALWAYS A GOOD TIME AT THE MAYFAIR.
JOHNNY THOMAS AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Admission 10c Ladies Free DANCE 5c

TURN YOUR
OLD GOLD INTO CASH
Highest prices paid. PHILLIP'S DENTAL LABRATORY, 408½ George St. Opposite Lech's. Phone 2188
Office Hours: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CLEAN-UP PAINT UP

AND GIVE SOME MAN A JOB

WEEK OF MAY 5th to 12th

SATURDAY and MONDAY
HOME INSPECTION Days

These days are so designated as to suggest to you that you go through your homes and consider just where some improvement might be made by cleaning, renovating, etc. You be your own inspector.

TUESDAY
COMMUNITY DAY

Any community is judged by the tidiness and cleanliness of its streets, parks, etc. Those responsible for this department of the city's life have and will co-operate further to do their share in making Peterborough a more beautiful community.

WEDNESDAY
PAINT and REPAIR DAY

Both interior and exterior of many homes, factories, etc., will need repainting or repairing. A little paint here and there adds dollars to their appearance. Then, too, there are alterations and repairs which will need to be done possibly, so this is the time to do them.

A Message from the Mayor

Again I hasten to most heartily endorse the annual Clean-up – Paint-up – Give-some-man-a-Job Campaign which will be conducted next week.

An orderly clean community reflects an industrious people and so we should all enter this wholeheartedly and endeavor to do our part for our own as well as for the sake of Peterborough. The suggestion as given to give some man a job during this time, if thoroughly considered and acted upon, will be a step in the right direction. There are many capable men who would welcome this temporary employment and you need only telephone the Relief Office and a man will be supplied.

Here's success to your co-operation and a more beautiful city.

ROLAND DENNE, Mayor.

Make Peterborough More Beautiful!

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO HELP—Clean up back yards, alleyways, lawns, vacant lots, trim trees, paint your home, store, office, factory, repair verandahs, fences, shingle your house, change partitions, do some needed plumbing, tinsmithing, interior decorating, paperhanging, wash windows, etc., etc., and many more odd jobs. If you require a man, telephone the City Relief Office, 933W.

THURSDAY
Discarded CLOTHING Day

If you will take a look through your wardrobe it will no doubt reveal many garments which you will never wear again and which might be very acceptable by some less fortunate. Here is your opportunity to get rid of accumulated clothing.

FRIDAY
SANITATION DAY

Besides being necessary to health it is important that all refuse in the form of decomposed fruit and vegetables, etc., be cleared away and every sanitary precaution taken in the home and elsewhere—make Peterborough a Sanitary City.

SATURDAY
BEAUTIFICATION DAY

To make this week complete some consideration should be given to flowers about the home, factories and parks. The parks will be taken care of and the majority of factories are very particular about their lawns and flower beds. What can you do to improve the property about your home?

SPONSORED BY THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, MERCHANTS AND CITIZENS

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Doyle, 308 Charlotte street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Gertrude Agnes, to Herbert James, youngest son of J. C. Masterson and the late Mrs. J. C. Masterson of this city. The wedding will take place early in June.

His Honor, Judge Huycke, is a member of the Honorary Committee for the Centennial Historic Exhibition and Pageant which is to be held by the Toronto United Empire Loyalists in the Eaton Auditorium, College street, Toronto, from May 14th to 26th, in honor of the coming of the Loyalists to Canada. Many historic articles will be on view at the exhibition. William Kirby of Niagara-on-the-Lake, grandson of the William Kirby who wrote "Le Chien d'Or," is lending a goodly part of his famous grandsire's collection of historic articles which are in his keeping at the old Kirby home near Fort Mississagua. Among them will be articles belonging to famous citizens of the Kirby connection who were prominent in the settlement of the old Peninsula during the last century. The Niagara Historical Society, through Mr. Kirby, is also lending some of its treasures. Major C. M. Wrenshall, president of the Toronto Loyalist Association, is having prepared an attractive catalogue which will probably be carefully preserved as a souvenir of Toronto's Centennial year. One of the most interesting of the many beautiful things which will appear at this Exhibition and Pageant is a beautiful, quaint gown which was worn at the Court of King George the Third by Mrs. John Denison, who came with her husband to Canada in 1792 and to Toronto in 1794. This gown is exquisitely designed and has a hand-painted floral pattern sprinkled over a background of heavy white silk, in tiny bouquets of pink and blue flowers. Created nearly two hundred years ago, this charming frock is still in a fine state of preservation, with its hooped skirts and side panniers, its tiny, tight-fitting bodice and lace-frilled elbow sleeves. In the trunk with it (says a Toronto writer), are the little black curls which Mrs. Denison donned for festive occasions and the little white satin slippers, buckled with amethyst and French paste, worn on her wedding day. And here also is a white shirt with beautiful, even stitches which was the handiwork of "Great-Grandmother Denison," when, as little five-year-old Sophia Harwood, she made it for her father. "It is a pretty fancy to think that Sophia Denison learned the art of needlework from her mother, Hannah Harwood, for handed down from generation to generation of Denisons has come the exquisitely-wrought sampler with the beauty of a pastel painting which was the handicraft of Hannah Harwood." It is interesting to note that the late Mrs. Shirley Denison, a former resident of Peterborough, was related to this Denison family of Toronto, also that the little village of Harwood, on Rice Lake, was named for Mrs. John Denison's family.

* * *

Mrs. G. C. Carruthers of Aylmer Street has a birthday to-day.

* * *

Mrs. D. R. Howat went to Toronto to-day and will remain over for the Violin Recital to be given at the Heliconian Club to-morrow evening by her brother, Mr. Deane Miner. Mrs. Agnes Logan Green will also attend the recital. The patrons and patronesses include Mr. and Mrs. Boris Hambourg, Mrs. D B. Hanna, Lady Mann, Mrs. C. B. Nasmith, Dr Charles G. D. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Turton, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Wagner, Lady Windle, and Mrs. Luigi von Kunits.

* * *

Mr. Roland Johnson of "The Bungalow," Lakefield, was a visitor to the city to-day.

* * *

The members of the local Lansdowne Lodge of the Sons of England took the opportunity at their regular meeting on Monday night to convey their good wishes to two of their members: Mr. George Benton, the president, who celebrated a birthday anniversary on Sunday last, May 6th, and Mr. Ray Dixon, the immediate past president of the Lodge, whose marriage took place yesterday. The members enjoyed a pleasant social hour. The Lodge is planning to attend service in the United Church in Port Hope on Sunday, May 27th, together with members of Lodges in Lindsay, Cobourg, Newcastle, Bowmanville, and Whitby. The Lodge Degree team also expects to visit Millbrook in the near future to initiate several candidates.

* * *

Miss Muriel McIvor of Gilmour Street leaves this evening en route to Liverpool, England, where she will spend the summer with her sister.

* * *

Miss Emma Meiklejhn of Campbellford, whose marriage to Mr. Allan G. Watson takes place on Saturday at her home in Campbellford, was guest of honor last evening at a pleasant gathering held after the Madrigal Singers' practice, at the home of Miss Ethelwyn Dix, Brock Street, when her associates in the Madrigal Singers' group presented her with two pretty pictures. The service of refreshments was in charge of Miss Pearl Carruthers and Mrs L. M. Brooks.

* * *

Last evening, a jolly gathering of about fifty young people, members and friends of the Young People's Society of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, took place at Bear's Creek near Hilliard Street, in the form of a Camp Night with refreshments served around a camp fire. The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Barr were present, also the recently-appointed deaconess, Miss Elizabeth Walker. Miss Clara Patterson was in charge of the service of refreshments and the program of games was looked after by Messrs. Harry Marsh and Russell Rowan.

* * *

Mrs. F. Brownscombe of Murray Street has a birthday to-day.

* * *

Owing to the difficulty in procuring enough old-fashioned costumes to make the event as successful as planned, the members of the T.O.B. Club have decided to turn their Friday evening party this week into an old-time barn dance, when costumes may include old-fashioned attire, hard-time wear or farmer and farmerette outfits. A prize will be presented to the young lady who most closely resembles a farmerette, and gingham overalls or beach pyjamas, with ribbon hair bows, will be favored among the ladies, while the men will wear khaki shirts or overalls and straw hats. A number of entertainers have been secured for the evening, as well as hay wagons to convey the revellers around town, if they so desire. The orchestra members will include Messrs. Andy Rutter, bass viol, Stanley Northrop, piano, George Gatfield, violin, and Johnny Thomas, saxophone.

* * *

The following item from the Toronto press is of local interest, as it refers to Miss Margaret Waterhouse, who is a niece of Mrs. Charles Shaw of Margaret avenue, and is a frequent visitor to the city. Mrs. Agnes Logan Green attended the recital: "Miss Margaret Waterhouse, brilliant piano pupil of Norman Wilks, gave a recital last night at the Conservatory of Music, Toronto, and was assisted by Mr. Reginald Barrow and Mr. Alfred Player, with whom she played a trio. The artiste wore a graceful frock of pale blue chiffon. The ushers were Miss Adelyn Boland, Miss Phyllis Stewart, of Lakefield, Miss Margaret Parsons, Miss E. Rudsby, Miss Jessie Instone, Mrs. Agnes Logan Green, of Peterborough. The recital was largely attended, and a few of those present were Dr. Healey Willan, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith, Mr. Norman Wilks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blachford, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Barrow."

Stone from surrounding mountains which has been used for some time in roads in three villages near Miskolcz, Hungary, has just been declared by experts to be high-quality black marble.

$3,000.00 Full Life Protection $1

Ages 1 to 75—No Medical Examination

This NEW Copyrighted Life Certificate with short-time PAID-UP FEATURE pays up to $3000 for DEATH FROM ANY CAUSE, to any Man, Woman or Child

SEND NO MONEY—Mail today your name, age, address and name of your beneficiary. By return mail you will receive, for YOUR FREE 10-DAY INSPECTION (with no obligation) this Life Protection Certificate, made out in your name. If you decide to keep it, then send only $1, which puts this remarkable protection in force for over 45 days—as low as 2c a day thereafter. Offer is limited. Write today to—INTERSTATE LIFE ASSOCIATION, Dept. E-207 Hollywood, California.

THURSDAY AT BUEHLER BROS. LIMITED

387 GEORGE ST. PHONE 3680

50c Meat Orders Delivered Free.

PORK Tenderloin 23c lb.

VEAL RUMP ROAST, lb. 14c

VEAL LEG STEAKS, lb. 19c

BLADE ROAST BEEF 12½c lb.

VEAL SHANKS, NECK BONES, VEAL BREAST ..... 6c lb.

LOIN VEAL CHOPS 14c lb.

WIFE PRESERVERS

A sturdy, flat-bottomed basket or deep wooden tray with high handle will save the housewife many steps if used to hold the small articles she needs in cleaning house. It can be carried from room to room—containing gloves to protect the hands, dusters, furniture polish, etc.

LAING'S CANADIAN CREAM SAUCE CC

RECOMMENDED BY FRANCES THOMPSON

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The basis of the science of dietetics is, like the basis of all sciences, a standard of measurement. The reason poetry is not a science is that while you can say "Keats' Ode on a Grecian Urn is beautiful" you cannot answer the question "Exactly how beautiful is it?"

Physics is a science because you can say not only "It will take a lot of work to pull that wagon up that hill" but also "Now, having weighed the wagon and measured the hill, I know it will take exactly so many foot-pounds to do that work."

And all the sciences, from mathematics to psychology, are scientific or not just to the extent that you can measure exactly the operations they describe.

On this basis, dietetics is pretty high in the scale of the sciences.

Its fundamental basis of measurement is the calorie. Dietitians apply the term "calorie" to food values, but it really is a measurement of heat in all physical science. It also, of course, can be converted into a mechanical term of energy.

By strict definition a calorie is the amount of heat which will raise one kilogram of water one degree centrigrade. Most of us do not think in terms of kilograms and degrees centrigrade no matter how hard they have been trying to get us to adopt the metric system, so it may be more graphic to say that a calorie is the amount of heat which will raise two pounds of water two degrees Fahrenheit.

A calorie is the amount of heat which will raise one kilo of water one degree centrigrade.

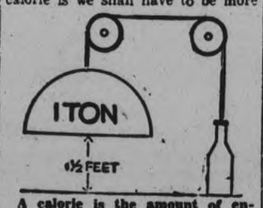
But to illustrate exactly what a calorie is we shall have to be more



A calorie is the amount of energy which will raise a ton one and one-half feet.

graphic. Other things besides food in burning release calories. A pound of wood will release about 2500 calories. A pound of coal about 4,000.

Measurement of a calorie is done by using an apparatus which explodes a bomb inside a metal cask surrounded by water. The explosion of the bomb heats up the water and this rise in temperature can be measured.

In mechanical terms, a calorie is the amount of energy which will raise a ton one and a half feet.

FESTIVAL SHOWS STEADY ADVANCE

Increased Entries at Manitoba Reflects Growth of Large Musical Event.

WINNIPEG, May 9 (CP)—Gratifying and steady improvement in all phases of its work was shown in this year's 12-day Manitoba Musical Competition Festival just concluded here. The standard of music, number of competitors and public interest displayed set a new high mark and evoked the commendation of judges.

Created in 1918 under the direction of the Men's Musical Club with 274 entries, the movement has shown steady growth. This year's festival was acknowledged to be the largest in the British Empire. More than 25,000 persons attended the various competitions. Entries numbered 1171 and competitors 10,300.

Appreciation of the interest displayed and the high standard of competition reached was expressed by Sir Hugh Robertson, conductor of the Glasgow Orpheus choir and chief adjudicator. "Eight years ago there was so much to say," he mused. "To-day there is so little. The work is so good. There has been an amazing advance."

He paid tribute to the work started by the Men's Musical Club. "This wonderful organization has placed Winnipeg in the unique position of guardian of the greatest festival in the English-sepaking world," he declared.

Thomas F. Dunhill, leading figure among present-day British composers and an authority on Chamber music, attended the festival with Dr. Percy Hull, organist of Hereford cathedral.

W.A. DELEGATES MAKE REPORTS

Afternoon Branch of St. John's Organization Will Hold Annual Picnic on June 12.

Reports from the delegates who attended the 48th annual meeting of the W.A. in Toronto recently featured the May business meeting of the afternoon branch of St. John's Women's Auxiliary, held yesterday, with the president, Mrs. H. A. Morrow, in the chair. Mrs. C. Campbell and Mrs. J. Cridland reported for the afternoon branch, Mrs. J. Stanger for the juniors, and Mrs. P. D. Craig for the 'teen age girls.

Activities of the past month were discussed and it was announced that the June board meeting of the W.A. would be held in Cobourg on Thursday, June 7, and all those desirous of attending were requested to notify Mrs. Morrow, the president.

It was also decided that the annual picnic of the branch should be held on St. John's Church grounds on June 12th.

Claimed to be the largest of its kind in the world, a ship elevator has just been placed in operation in Niederfinow, Germany, to raise vessels 117 feet in the Hohenzollern Canal at a speed of 4½ inches a second.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Efficiency is in part due to discovering little details and making use of the knowledge to advantage. The efficient woman whether a homemaker or a business person has a quick eye to note differences in methods, a ready understanding to grasp situations and an immediate response to these things in putting them to good use practically. Since it is possible for everyone who wishes to be efficient to succeed to greater or less degree, it is worth while paying heed to the business of learning.

* * * * * * *

Efficiency is not always comprehensive in its scope. For example a person who knows how to file letters, and do secretarial work competently, often relaxes when not occupied in such duties, and is far from efficient about household tasks. Fortunately on the other hand, many persons who are efficient in one way are also, in others. This is the part of wisdom, unless the worker can totally relax knowing that competent management exists in details not under her charge. Part of efficiency is known when to relax.

* * * * * * *

Much of the difference between the efficient and inefficient person consists in attention to details. For example the expert typist knows that paper has a tendency to curl one way more than another, and she puts the paper in her typewriter so that it curls back, not forward over her typing. It is a trifle in itself, but every typist knows how annoying it can prove to have to keep brushing back the sheets which insist in falling forward. While the paper is being run into the typewriter, it is easy to see which way it tends to curl, and a readjustment can be made without the loss of more than a second, much less time than would be wasted otherwise.

* * * * * * *

The homemaker knows that curtains which just escape the window sill will keep clean much longer than those which sweep across it with every whiff of air. When making the curtains the heading can be made double or the hem have an extra turning to insure the curtains being just the correct length while new and having an easily adjustable length to allow for letting down should the material shrink in laundering. Few nets, laces and other sheer curtain textiles fail to shrink when washed.

* * * * * * *

The two instances cited indicate how attention to trivial details make for efficiency. The homemaker who watches herself as she does her work during just one day, will discover efficient methods that, if used, will save her many steps, much time, and weariness.

Fashion Service

It's practical and in a very smart way—and inexpensive! You'll welcome again and again such a youthful and useful outfit.

A gay crepe silk print made the original. Most washing silks, cotton prints, linen, rayons, etc., are lovely for it.

Pattern No. 3493 includes dress and jacket and cuts in sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 4⅜ yards of 35-inch contrasting.

Order Fashion Department. Price of pattern 15 cents. Spring Pattern Book 10 cents. Send stamps or coin (coin is preferred).

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
I enclose 15c in payment. Allow five days for return.

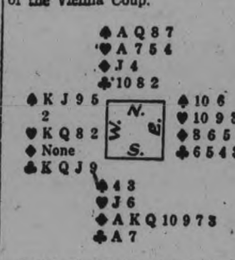
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

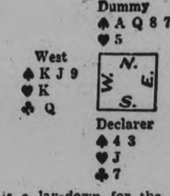
By E. V. SHEPARD

THE VIENNA COUP

As often explained, the Vienna Coup consists of the establishment of one or more high cards in opponents' hands, then squeezing those established cards from their holders. The following hand, the work of the famous expert, Carl T. Robertson, was given several years ago to a body of duplicate players of Cleveland, Ohio. It affords one of the finest examples I have seen of the Vienna Coup.



South played the hand at diamonds. In every case the opening lead was the normal one of the K of clubs. Win the first trick with declarer's ace of clubs. Lead the ace of diamonds. Lead a low heart. Win with dummy's ace, making what is termed the Vienna Coup, by establishing one or more cards in the suit for opponents to guard while the squeeze progresses. Of course, the idea is to clear dummy for the discards which it must make. Take six rounds of trumps. Dummy must make five discards. East need not be considered. West never had a trump, so it must make seven discards, including the one made when the first trump was led. At the end of the eighth trick, dummy and West hold the cards shown below. The declarer has led his last trump at the beginning of the ninth trick, and West must discard before dummy does. What shall West let go?



It is a lay-down for the rest of the tricks. If West lets go either a heart or a club, the declarer wins the last trick in the suit from which West discards, and again West is put through the discarding process. In case West lets go a spade, all four of dummy's spades will win, giving South his grand slam. The hand was from the first capable of winning the grand slam which it makes. Care alone was required to make the Vienna Coup.

Note that the squeeez today could result in the maximum score of a grand slam, by resorting to the Vienna Coup, as the long squeezing suit was not in the hand containing the tenaces. The squeeze given yesterday did not need Vienna Coup tactics, as the long suit was in the hand containing the A-Q tenace.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

The lovely Ginger Rogers, who gets more of a kick out of her ability to speak pig-Latin fluently than she does out of the fact that she is fast becoming one of Hollywood's brightest screen luminaries, possesses a very pretty pair of dimpled elbows. Ginger always rubs her elbows nightly with half a lemon, and then applies gobs of cold cream to them. And she firmly believes that every woman should give her elbows just as much attention as she does her face.

Ginger's comment on elbows certainly is a timely one. For now is the time when every gal should give her elbows close inspection. Most women neglect their elbows all winter, because they are hidden beneath long sleeves. But I've just returned from a preview of some of the new summer styles, and you can take it from me that elbows are going to be pretty much in evidence during this season. Short-sleeved, puff-sleeved and sleeveless frocks are all included in the new group of summer styles. And a pair of rusty-looking elbows will make even the smartest of these frocks look like a fire-sale special.

If your elbows have become sharp and scrawny-looking during the winter season, start pronto to practice corrective exercises. There are some excellent exercises for shaping the arms and elbows in my "New Figure" booklet. And in addition to exercising, massage your elbows nightly with warmed coco butter. In order to nourish the tissues and round out the contours.

If your elbows have become dark, rough and rusty-looking, a different procedure is essential. When taking your bath each night, scrub your elbows briskly with a bland soap, using a small flesh brush. Then apply a bit of plain lemon juice or peroxide to each elbow, and permit the chosen bleach to dry on the skin, so that it may remove any discolorations.

After bleaching, apply a generous quantity of nourishing or cold cream to each elbow, massage it well into the skin and permit it to remain on overnight. If you prefer, you may loosely wrap bits of gauze soaked in warm olive oil around each elbow instead. Either method of lubrication will remove any roughness, and will make the elbows alluringly soft and smooth.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Cosmetics

Rose: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge and light lipstick would blend harmoniously with your complexion. Try them.

Figure

Ethel: It is indeed possible to develop the bust and at the same time reduce the waist, hips, abdomen, thighs and legs. Full information on this is contained in my "New Figure" booklet.

INFANTS' COLDS Relieved!

Young children easily catch cold. So Mrs. Russel Ward, of Hilton Beach, Ont., wisely says: "If I notice that there is any sign of a cold I give Baby's Own Tablets and find they are a great help." Thousands of mothers do the same not only for colds but for fretfulness, indigestion, constipation, teething troubles, colic, upset stomach and so on. Baby's Own Tablets are safe and sure in relieving childhood's common ailments. Price 25c.

Dr. Williams' (3G)

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

BREAKFAST

Orange Juice
Fried Whole Wheat Mush Syrup
Coffee Milk

LUNCHEON

Soup With Crackers
Celery-Apple Salad
Whole Wheat Bread and Butter
Potato Doughnuts Milk

DINNER

Spanish Rice Spinach
Cabbage Salad With Vegetables
Pineapple Pie Tea

A simple way to make Spanish rice is to take one cup uncooked rice, add one quart tomatoes and one large onion, cut up, one teaspoon each of salt and vinegar. Steam together for an hour.

Today's Recipes

Fried Cracked Wheat Mush.—One cup water and one cup evaporated milk, mixed; one cup cracked wheat, one-half teaspoon salt. Scald milk. Add salt, then cereal, stirring constantly. Cook until cereal is thick; from three to ten minutes, stirring occasionally. Cover, and cook over boiling water until done, about 30 minutes. Pour into a deep pan which has been buttered. Cover and let set over night, in a cool place. Remove from pan, slice and fry slowly to a golden brown. Serve with apple sauce, sugar or syrup. An egg can be added to cracked wheat before setting.

Potato Doughnuts — One cup mashed potatoes, two teaspoons butter, one and one-half cups sugar added to the potatoes, two eggs, beaten; one and one-fourth cups milk, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon vanilla or any desired flavoring, three teaspoons baking powder, three cups flour. Mix ingredients in order given. Add the salt, baking powder to the flour. More flour may be added if necessary to make the right consistency to handle.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Use for Vinegar

A teaspoon of vinegar added to lard used for frying prevents the food from absorbing too much fat.

FOR SAFE ECONOMICAL FUR STORAGE

PHONE 340

OUR DRIVER WILL CALL

Barries

Manufacturing Furriers Ladies' Ready-to-Wear

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

TO SCOTLAND WITH TOM HAMILTON

The renowned Entertainer in song and story as Conductor on these special sailings

	From Montreal	From Glasgow
ATHENIA	-	May 18
LETITIA	June 15	June 29
LETITIA	July 14	July 27
LETITIA	Nov. 29	(from Quebec)

LOW OCEAN RATES

	One Way	Round Trip
Cabin Class from	$122.	$226.
Tourist Class from	104.50	189.
Third Class -	82.	144.50

Ask for our folder about this and other features of Scottish character.

Apply to your local agent—"No one can serve you better" or

Anchor-Donaldson Line
217 Bay Street, Toronto

ANCHOR-DONALDSON

"I TO THE HEART OF GLASGOW"

4-6B

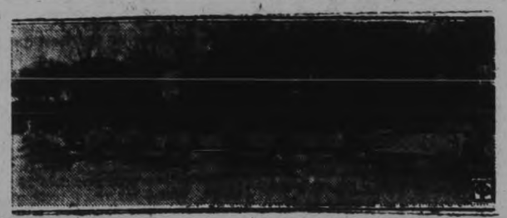
DYKES SUCCEEDS FONSECA ON CHISOX PILOT SEAT

WORLD RECORD JUMP—Here's Walter Marty clearing bar in Palo Alto, Cal., to set world high jump mark of 6 feet 9 1-8 inches.

MOST COMPLETE SPORT PAGES IN CENTRAL ONTARIO

PETERBOROUGH
EXAMINER SPORTS

Read by More than 18,000 Daily | WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1934 | Sports Department—Phone 1600



MARIETTA CREW—Here's crew which will represent Marietta, O., college in Poughkeepsie regatta in June.

Amerks Plan "Gang-Up" on Fast-Stepping Yanks

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

REPORTS FROM the Kenilworth racing plant say that business is just fair with an opening attendance of 4000 on Saturday but dropping to 634 on Monday with a mutuel handle turnover of only $30,000, due no doubt to the sudden turn in the weather... A. A. Borni, a U. S. trainer has his flock at the border track. This is the first time in a good many years that he has raced on this side of the border and it was only fitting that his good two year old Hardatit should cop the first race on opening day. M. Peters, the clever apprentice who does the riding for this establishment is a real jock and led all mountmen at the recent Oaklawn park meeting at Hot Springs, Ark.

× × ×

Conny Smythe has purchased the contract on G. Atkins to do the light weight riding for his stable and of course the veteran Dude Foden will look after the heavyweight bootin'. A very capable pair for any man's stable . . . . Tom Flippen's string of fourteen head are quartered at the Windsor track and with Jockey F. Groos in the pilot house should account for many purses during the season . . . . Jewell Bros. flock, headed by the good handicap performer are at Kenilworth ready for business.

× × ×

FOR THE benefit of those who are superstitious, here are a couple of gray horses to bear in mind, Athol and Stepoff. They say the mottled nags always win on Fridays or Saturdays but apart from that these two look ready to click almost any time. Dark Mission will walk his beat in handy style before the season is much older. They tell us he never looked or acted better and the long winter rest-up has done wonders with him...Darkling is another that is in superb condition.

× × ×

Frankie Mann who expected to ply his trade at Kenilworth is not among those present. It appears Harry Giddings, his employer told him he could go but at the last minute changed his mind and is keeping him at the Woodbine putting the finishing touches on Horometer for the King's Plate. We notice that they have Stephanus back in training. This one is as fast as chain lightning but has been troubled with dinkey legs for years. He usually manages to cop a heat or two each year but is a very uncertain proposition on account of his weak underpinning.

Race Results—Entries—Page 5

GREATEST VALUE IN TORONTO

ATTRACTIVE ROOMS WITH BATH
$2.00 $2.50 $3.00
WITH RUNNING WATER
$1.50 $1.75 $2.00

EXCELLENT FOOD
Breakfast from - - - 35c
Luncheon - - 50c and 60c
Dinner - 75c, 85c, $1.00

WAVERLEY HOTEL LIMITED
TORONTO
Write for Folder

CRONIN'S PACK HARD ON HEELS OF 'MARSE JOE'

But Yanks Keep to Front by Beating Browns in Eighth Inning Rally.

A's BLANK INDIANS.

Reynolds Goes Hitless as Tigers Take 5-1 Decision From Red Sox.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

If seven other clubs can work out some feasible system of "ganging up" to stop the Yankees, the prospects look very good for a closer race in the American League than in a good many seasons.

The Yankees to-day held a 2½-game lead over their nearest rivals but the pack, in full cry on their trail, included five clubs bunched within the compass of a game and a half in the standings.

Senators Not Fooling

Washington's Senators, pursuing a four-game winning streak, took the second notch with a 7-6 victory over the White Sox yesterday. Cleveland, victims of Joe Cascarella's three-hit pitching and a 2-0 defeat at the hands of the Athletics, dropped into a virtual tie for third place with Detroit Tigers, who whipped Boston, 5-1. The A's and the Red Sox, in turn, tied for fifth, a half game further back.

Cascarella, making his second big league start, recorded the day's best mound performances as he limited the Indians to three fruitless singles while Pinky Higgins' triple with one on and a passed ball brought the two Philadelphia runs. The Tigers also got good flinging with Tommy Bridges limiting Boston to six blows and holding Carl Reynolds hitless for the first time this season.

Washington had to come from behind after Zeke Bonura hit a homer with the bases full and Whitlow Wyatt, who has six decisions in 15 games Chicago has played, took the mound just in time to be charged with the loss.

The Yankees got another scare from St. Louis before they won their fifth straight game but Buck Newsom ruined his own good flinging job by making two wild pegs past first in the eighth inning and the Yanks rushed over six runs to win 8-3.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

HOUSTON, Tex.—Clyde Chastain, 174, Dallas, stopped Ed Dunaway, 180 (2); Chief Parris, 142, Oklahoma City, outpointed Bobby Garica 144, Houston (6).

Los Angeles.—Mickey Walker, 176 Rumson, N.J., outpointed Maxie Rosenbloom 178, New York (10).

Barney in Training

BARNEY ROSS

Barney Ross, world's lightweight champion, works as a lumberjack in Wisconsin woodland as he gets into shape for his New York bout with Jimmy McLarnin.

PIRATES GAIN SECOND PLACE WITH 5-2 WIN

Buccaneers Triump Easily Behind Steady Clouting of Suhr and Waner.

GIANTS TAKE BEATING.

Pittsburgh's Pirates again provided the outstanding National League performance when they advanced to second place by defeating Brooklyn 6-2 while the Cubs took a 13-6 trimming from the aroused Phillies.

Led by Gus Suhr and Paul Waner, who have hit safely in 17 and 15 consecutive games respectively, the Pirates won easily behind Bill Swift, who gave only three hits in the last seven innings. The Phillies slammed Lynn Nelson to cover before he had retired a man and rolled up 18 hits off three Chicago pitchers to offset Chuck Klein's seventh homer of the season.

The league leading Giants also took a beating when Cincinnati set out to end an eight game losing streak and did it, 7-3, by driving Fred Fitzsimmons to the showers and scoring six runs in the first. St. Louis tightened its hold on fourth place by coming from far behind to defeat Boston Braves for the second time, 5-4.

FAILURE OF CHICAGO CLUB TO "GO PLACES" IS GIVEN AS REASON FOR THE SHIFT

Comiskey, Owner Of Windy City Club, Plenty Upset Over Showing Of His Battlers So Far This Season—Team In Last Place—Change Effective Immediately

WASHINGTON, May 9. — Jimmy Dykes, veteran third baseman, last night was appointed manager of the Chicago White Sox to replace Lew Fonseca.

The uhange was announced by President Louis Comiskey, and came after the Sox had lost their third straight to Washington Senators. The Sox are in the cellar place of the American League.

It was undrstood Fonseca's contract, which had the season to run, had been brought up and that the change in managers would be effective immediately.

Dykes came to the White Sox a year ago from Philadelphia. Fonseca has been manager for the last two seasons.

Comiskey has been reported as considerably upset over the showing of his team this year, and it was understood he felt any change would do some good."

Waivers will be asked on Fonseca. Unless taken up he will be given his unconditional release. Recently Fonseca, who began his baseball career with San Francisco in 1920, has been acting as an occasional pinch-hitter.

During his stay in the big leagues Fonseca has appeared in the uniforms of Cincinnati Reds, Philadelphia Nationals, and Cleveland. He was traded to Chicago by Cleveland in 1931 and was appointed manager at the end of that season.

Dykes was a member of Connie Mack's Athletics as a regular from 1919 until 1932, when, with Al Simmons and 'Mule" Haas, he was sold to the White Sox for $100,000.

Comiskey said he and Fonseca were "parting the best of friends."

Major Leaders

(By the Associated Press)
(Including yesterday's Games)

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Batting—Reynolds, Red Sox, .479; Vosmik, Indians, .441.

Runs—Kuhel and Manush, Senators, 18.

Runs batted in—Reynolds, Red Sox, 22; Gehrig, Yankees, 18.

Hits—Reynolds, Red Sox, 34; Manush, Senators, 30.

Doubles—Reynolds and Werber, Red Sox, and Greenberg, Tigers, 9.

Triples—Reynolds, Red Sox, 5; Manush, Senators, 4.

Home runs—Ruth, Yankees, 6; Foxx, Athletics, and Boura, White Sox, 5.

Stolen bases—Walker, Tigers 9; Gehrig, Yankees 5.

Pitching—Gomez and Ruffing, Yankees, and Thomas, Senators, 4-0.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting—P. Waner, Pirates, .394; Suhr, Pirates, and Ott, Giants, .379.

Runs—Vaughan, Pirates 25; Medwick, Cardinals, and Klein, Cubs, 18.

Runs batted in—Medwick, Cardinals 22; Suhr, Pirates, 21.

Hits—Moore, Giants 30; Leslie, Dodgers, Klein and W. Herman, Cubs, P. Waner, Pirates, and Medwick, Cardinals 26.

Doubles—English, Cubs 8; Collins, Cardinals, and Ryan, Giants 7.

Triples—Suhr, Pirates 6; W. Herman, Cubs 6.

Home runs—Klein, Cubs 7; Ott, Giants 6.

Pitching—Bush, Cubs 5-0; Lucas and Chagnong, Pirates, and Walker, Cardinals, 2-0.

Standings

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Rochester	15	3	.833
Newark	13	9	.591
Toronto	10	7	.588
Montreal	10	9	.526
Syracuse	7	9	.438
Albany	7	9	.438
Buffalo	6	13	.316
Baltimore	5	14	.263

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	13	6	.684
Pittsburg	12	6	.667
Chicago	13	7	.650
St. Louis	11	8	.579
Boston	9	9	.500
Brooklyn	7	11	.389
Philadelphia	5	13	.278
Cincinnati	4	14	.222

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
New York	13	5	.722
Washington	11	8	.579
Cleveland	8	7	.533
Detroit	9	8	.529
Boston	9	9	.500
Philadelphia	9	9	.500
St. Louis	5	11	.313
Chicago	4	11	.267

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Minneapolis	12	5	.706
Louisville	10	7	.588
Kansas City	10	8	.556
Indianapolis	9	8	.529
Toledo	8	9	.471
Columbus	8	9	.471
Milwaukee	7	11	.389
St. Paul	5	12	.294

Win or Lose

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Newark 4, Toronto 1.
Buffalo 11, Baltimore 4.
Montreal 8, Albany 3.
Rochester 7, Syracuse 6.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Washington 7, Chicago 6.
Philadelphia 2, Cleveland 0.
New York 8, St. Louis 3.
Detroit 5, Boston 1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Cincinnati 7, New York 3.
Pittsburg 5, Brooklyn 2.
St. Louis 5, Boston 4.
Philadelphia 13, Chicago 6.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Columbus 5, Kansas City 3.
Milwaukee 11, Toledo 6.
Other games scheduled played previously.

BISONS SECURE KEN ASH

BUFFALO, N.Y., May 9. (AP)—Officials of Buffalo Bisons of the International Baseball League yesterday announced the purchase of Ken. Ash, righthanded pitcher, from the St. Louis Cardinal chain. Ash played with Columbus in the America Association in 1932, but was under suspension last year. It was a cash deal, but the money involved was not announced.

Skiing In May

Believe it or not, this picture was taken on the second day of May! Most of us put our skis away for the summer early last March, but up around Ottawa and the Gatineau Mountains they had enough snow for skiing early this month. Sigurd Lockbergie the skier. He is an official of the Canadian Ski Association.

6 TEAMS LEFT INTER-COUNTY BALL CIRCUIT

Armistice Reached When Officials Release Galt Terriers to H.A.B.A.

ON LOAN FOR SEASON.

Trouble First Started When O.B.A.A. Reclassified 3 Western Clubs.

KITCHENER, Ont., May 9. (CP) The intercounty baseball loop will play this season with six teams, the result of a peace move to settle the difefrences with the Hamilton Baseball Association. The intercounty has sacrificed Galt Terriers, a prized team, as part of the armistice agreed upon last night.

Officials of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association and the intercounty league reached agreement on the Hamilton-Intercounty differences by loaning Galt to the Amitious City for the season. The trouble started in March when the O.B.A.A. reclassified the teams, sending London, Brantford and Stratford into senior company of the intercounty, a step that met objections.

With Galt performing in the Hamilton group, the intercounty will have Guelph, Kitchener, St. Thomas, London, Stratford and Brantford in its senior division. The six intercounty teams will play a double schedule. The first four teams will qualify for the semi-final playoffs.

Opens Saturday

The intercounty circuit will be launched on its way Saturday with Kitchener playing London, Guelph at St. Thomas and Stratford at Brantford.

Although the set-up of the two loops has been settled, there is still a load on official shoulders. The powers of the leagues are now endeavoring to have J. J. "Tiny" McFadyen, past president of the inter-county group, reconsider his intentions of resigning.

McFadyen Resigns

Mr. McFadyen resigned at last night's peace conference because the intercounty heads failed to support his action in loaning Brantford club to the Hamilton organization. He made the loan at Hamilton last Friday during a meeting with O.B.A.A. officials and Hamilton baseball leaders, as instructed by the intercounty secretary.

BEARS OUST LEAFS FROM SECOND POST

Walter Brown More Effective Than Gene Schott and Newark Wins 4-1.

ROYALS GOING UP.

Montreal Team Rallies in Seventh Frame to Defeat Battling Senators 5-3.

(By Associated Press.).

Mainly through the efforts of a pitching "big three" composed of Ray Fritz, Curly Ogden, and Chad Kimsey, Montreal Royals are beginning to climb in the International League pennant race.

In fourth place to-day, the Royals trailed third place Toronto by only one game, and Newark Bears, second-place holders by only a game and a half, and good pitching has been chiefly responsible. In complete games, the Royals' elbowers maintained a clear-cut lead over all rivals. Ten times Montreal's starting flipper has still been around at the finish. Frits, Ogden, and Kimsey have contributed three complete games apiece to this record, the other standingto the credit of Clise Didley.

Ogden's effective pitching helped the Royals whip the Albany Senators yesterday 5-3. He allowed nine hits but spaced them where they would do the least damage. Ed Pipgras had the Royals blanked for six innings but they drove him from the hill with a five-run drive in the seventh. Three walks, a balk and three hits—one of them Billy Rhiel's second double of the game with the bases loaded—were the ingredients of the rally.

Meanwhile the pace-setting Rochester Redwings won their eighth successive victory although it took rallies in the eighth and ninth to pull out a 2-6 decision over Syracuse Stars. Bobby Coombs blanked the Redwings while his teammates clubbed Tony Kaufmann and Dykes Potter for a 6-0 lead after seven and a half innings. Then the Redwing firing began. George Toporcer's men clubbed Coombs out of the box with a three-run surge in the eighth and then won the game with four more tallies off Joe Bloomer in the ninth. Eight of the Redwings' 13 hits came in the last two frames.

Regain Second Place

Newark Bears regained second place by taking Toronto over the hurdles 4-1 as Walter Brown, immense right hander, limited the Leafs to eight well scattered safeties. Gene Schott, cuffed around for eight hits in seven innings, was charged with his first defeat in four starts.

Baltimore fell into undisputed possession of the cellar as the Orioles dropped an 11-4 decision to Buffalo Bisons, their ninth defeat in 10 games. George Milstead, giving up eight hits, had no worries after his mates piled up a 6-2 lead in five innings. Atwood and Kroner clouted homers for Baltimore, Butch Meyers for Buffalo.

SIMMONS "FEELING FINE"

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP).—X-ray pictures disclosed yesterday that Al Simmons's skull was not fractured when the Chicago White Sox outfielder was hit by a thrown ball in Sunday's game. Hospital physicians said that Simmons was "feeling fine."

Golf Courses Fall Prey To Bookmakers

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 9.—(C.P.-A.P. Cable.) — Members of the royal and ancient golf club look with staid disfavor on an influx of bookmakers and their clerks who yesterday began invading the sacred precincts of old St. Andrews, ready for the Walker Cup matches between Britain and the United States, opening Friday.

The bookies, who are coming from Glasgow, Edinburgh, Dundee and other cities and towns near by, are quoting odds of 6 to 4 against a British victory. The club, it is understood, contemplates no official action at the moment, but is considerably upset over the bookies' presence, an innovation at an international match in Scotland.

EAST PETERBORO LOOP REORGANIZED

C.G.E., Cogs and Fosters Are Sure Entries—Raybestos May Back Team.

The East Peterborough Baseball League will operate this summer with three, and possibly four teams in. This was definitely decided at a meeting held in Duffus' last night. C.G.E., Cogs and Fosters are the sure entries, with Raybestos or another team probable. Bill Prindible was elected president, with Len Foster the new secretary-treasurer. Executive will consist of these officers and a representative from each of the clubs entered.

Bill Kay, O.B.A.A. representative, acted as chairman, and suggested that officers be elected since three clubs were represented. The new president will get in touch with Robert Abbott of the Raybestos Company and see if a team cannot be entered from there to make it a four club league as in past years. Charlie Curtis' resignation was accepted with regrets and a vote of thanks for his long and faithful services to the league passed.

The secretary will write to the O.B.A.A. for certificates as soon as the finances are taken care of, which will be this week. All present favored a change in the present constitution ruling of transfer of players from one team to another in this league, but the matter was left over till the executive meets next Saturday evening at eight o'clock, in Duffus'. James Neary was appointed groundkeeper for the season, and there was considerable discussion on getting the grounds in shape in the near future. Various other matters were discussed and left till the next meeting. The session then adjourned.

Schedule

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.

Newark at Toronto; Albany at Montreal; Baltimore at Buffalo; Syracuse at Rochester.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Philadelphia at Pittsburgh; Brooklyn at Chicago; Boston at Cincinnati; New York at St. Louis.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Chicago at Washington; St. Louis at New York; Detroit at Boston; Cleveland at Philadelphia.

WINDSOR LAD WINS CHESTER VASE.

CHESTER, Eng., May 9. (C. P. Cable)—The Maharajah of Rajpipla's three-year old colt Windsor Lad won the Chester Vase over the mile-and-a-half course here yesterday. Z. G. Michlino's good three-year-old Zelina was second by a half-length, with Sir Hugo Hirst's Iron Grey third in the field of seven another two lengths back.

Our Boarding House - - - - - - - - - - - - By Ahern

LOOK for this Orange and Black Can
It's the safe way to buy motor oil

40c A QUART

VEEDOL MOTOR OIL
100% PENNSYLVANIA AT ITS FINEST

Tide Water Oil Co. of Canada, Ltd.
Montreal Toronto Regina

Patrick Plans Radical Changes in Bruins' Lineup

CAPITOL To-day and Thursday

Tremendous!

TICKLES EVERY MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT NERVE MADE

WONDER BAR

KAY FRANCIS • AL JOLSON
DICK POWELL • Dolores DEL RIO
Ricardo CORTEZ • GUY KIBBEE

2.30-7-9 Feature at 3-7.30-9.30

COMING FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
Bring 'Em Back Alive "WILD CARGO"
FRANK BUCK'S

LITTLE MORE WORK FOR CONTROL ALL FAMOUS LEFTY GROVE NEEDS

Former Athletic Southpaw, Known Earlier in Season as the $215,000 "Lemon," Has Every Confidence He Can Stage Comeback With Red Sox—Made Disastrous Start in His First Game.

By BILL KING
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

BOSTON, May 9. (A.P.)—A little more work, just enough to give him back his old time control, and Bob "Lefty" Grove will be in there taking his regular turn and showing the folks he's no $125,000 'lemon' so he says.

Lefty Grove

"Am I all through?' asked Boston Red Sox' costly southpaw. He answered his own question with a positive 'I should say not."

"My arm is as good as ever, or rather it will be in a few weeks from now. All I need is my control. I had everything but that Saturday when I flopped against St. Louis.

"Maybe it didn't look that way from the press box, but I had everything I ever had. Plenty of steam and the benders breaking nicely. All but control. I just couldn't find the corners and when I got a hole I had to groove' it and when I tried to play safe I walked them. I'll work off this wildness just like I did my sore muscle. Come around and see me in a few weeks. I'll be taking my regular turn by then and winning my share of games for the Red Sox too, and I'll be doing that next season and the one after that."

Made Poor Showing

Despite Grove's wretched showing in his first regular start, which consisted of pitching to five Brown batters, who scored two runs before filling the bases on a triple, double, single and two passes, Manager Bucky Harris has not lost faith in him.

"Grove is just anxious to work as I am to have him," Harris said. "but he is going to be right before he starts a game. . . "But anyone who says he's through is 'nuts'."

BAER-SAVOLDI BOTH SUSPENDED

Boxer Late for Meeting and Grappler Dives from the Rink.

CALIFORNIAN HAS CHANCE.

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Max Baer dawdled a bit yesterday getting down to the New York State Athletic Commission offices to discuss details for his world heavyweight title chance against Primo Carnera June 14, and as a result found himself last night under indefinite suspension.

He was suspended for "failure to appear when summoned," although he did arrive with his manager after the commissioners had held their weekly meeting and departed. His manager, Ancil Hoffman, also was suspended. Both the fighter and his caretaker were informed, however, that if they can get an earlier start and reach Friday's meeting before adjournment is taken, all will be forgiven.

Bert Stand, secretary of the commission, said the fistic fathers had nothing of particular importance to discuss wih the challenger.

Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame full-black, who has also made his letter wrestling, came under a long ban for his actions in a match here last night with Jim Londos.

Savoldi eliminated himself from the contest late in the evening by leaping out of the ring onto his head, contrary to commission rules. He also was accused of attacking Londos with a "flying drop kick," another violation of the local code. He was suspended indefinitely.

The commission approved a lightweight match between Tony Canzoneri, former champion, and Frankie Klick of San Francisco, for June 27 at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn. Recognition as a flyweight title match was extended a bout scheduled between Midget Wolgast, of Philadelphia, and Jackie Brown of England, in London, next month.

Stormy weather recently caused a lay-off of shellfish gatherers along the Firth of Forth coast in Scotland.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Associated Press)

Jess Haines, Cardinals — Pitched three-hit ball in 6⅓ innings of relief work to beat Braves.

Joe Cronin and Buddy Myer, Senators—Batted in three runs each in 7-6 victory over White Sox.

Don Brennan, Reds—Limited Giants to seven hits.

Joe Cascarella, Athletics — Shut out Indians with three singles.

Harvey Hendrick, Phillies — Led assault on Cub pitchers with two doubles and two singles.

Tommy Bridges, Tigers— Held Red Sox to six hits, fanning four.

Bill Swift, Pirates—Steadied after Brooklyn attack to pitch three hit ball in last seven innings.

Tony Lazeri, Yankees — Knocked in three runs against Browns with homer and single.

Last Frame Scores Win For Central

Showing across two markers in the last frame, Central took an 18-17 win over Queen Mary in a School Softball League game yesterday on the former's grounds. It was a postponed fixture from the previous night. This was one of the most exciting contests seen in the loop so far, with both sides scoring in almost every inning to keep the count see-sawing. Some fair twirling, good hitting and smart fielding were dished up on both sides. The twirlers weakened the last half and walked a number. The teams:

Queen Mary: Mortimer, 3b; Graham, p; Tully, 1b; Crasy, c; Jones, ss; Merrett, lf; McGregor, cf; Neiman, rf; Robson, 2b.

Central: Millen, cf; McKinnon, lf; Rumming, cf; Campbell, p; Hoy, 2b; Copperthwaite, 1b; Greenley 3b; Brown, ss; McInnes, c.

Score by innings:
Queen Mary .. .. 150 640 1—17
Central .. .. 333 124 2—18
Umpire, F. Calladine.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

BOSTON CLUB PILOT TO REBUILD ROSTER STRONG ENOUGH TO HOLD ITS OWN WITH ANY N.H.L. TEAM

Confirms Deal Bringing Sands and Shill of Toronto Leafs to Hub City.

NUCLEUS OF GOOD CLUB.

Art Giroux Also Purchased From Providence Reds of Can.-American Loop.

BOSTON, May 9 (C.P.). — The task of rebuilding the Boston Bruin Hockey Club to the glory it once knew was in the expert hands of Frank Patrick to-day. Action was his promise.

A few hours after Charles F. Adams, the Bruin president, announced here last night that the veteran hockey strategist had been appointed manager of the team, Patrick revealed at Vancouver that radical changes in the make-up of the team were contemplated.

Simultaneously Adams confirmed recent reports of deals with Toronto Maple Leafs. The Bruin head said he had purchased Charlie Sands, a right winger, and Jack Shill, a left winger, from the Leafs.

Sands scored 16 points while playing with the Leafs' second line last season, and Shill was brought up from the amateur ranks to take Busher Jackson's place when that outstanding forward was sidelined with injuries.

Three New Forwards.

The acquisition of these two Toronto players makes three new forwards added to the Boston team since the season ended. After the Canadian-American Hockey League playoffs, the Bruins announced the purchase of Art Giroux from the victorious Providence Reds.

"We have the nucleus of a good club. We will augment by purchases and deals until we have a club strong enough to hold its own with any other club," said Patrick in his statement.

Boston Mentor

FRANK PATRICK,
Newly appointed manager of the Boston Bruins in National Hockey League, plans radical changes in lineup for 1934 season.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

NOT THEORIES!
By Alex Morrison

The only thing constant in golf is change. You can be sure that no two shots will ever be exactly alike or played under the same conditions.

With this in mind, it's rather silly to stand in one spot and try to hit the ball along the same path indefinitely.

When you go out to practice around the green, make use of every bit of ground from which you can hit a ball.

Hit a few shots from different distances. Then change the angle of approach. Do everything you can to expose yourself to different conditions.

It's your swing that must be exacly the same each time That's the test.

Train yourself to go through the same movements, no matter what distraction is offered.

Detroit Wings Buy Boyd And Anderson

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—The purchase of Yank Boyd and Ty Anderson by the Detroit Hockey Club from the Philadelphia Club of the Canadian-American League, was announced yesterday by Jack Adams, the Detroit manager. The transacion involved $5,000.

Boyd is a right wing and Anderson a centre-man. They will report to Detroit Olympics of the International League in the Fall. Anderson, one of the few American-born hockey professionals, was a member of the United States Olympic team in 1932. Boyd was once owned by Boston Bruins but was sold to Philadelphia in 1932.

BELANGER WINS IN ENGLAND

NEWCASTLE, England, May 9 (CP Cable). — Charley Belanger, Winnipeg light-heavy, outpointed Tommy Farr, Welsh boxer and titlist, in that division, in a 12-round bout here Monday night. Farr used his left very effectively and held a lead in the early rounds but the Canadian proved the better boxer and gradually took the ascendancy with heavy attacks to the head and body.

W.A.F. PROTESTS LADY OFFICIALS

Objection to Alex. Gibb and Fanny Rosenfeld on British Empire Trip.

A.A.F. NOT CONSULTED.

VANCOUVER, May 9. (CP)—Appointment of Miss Alexandrine Gibb, Toronto, and Miss Fannie Rosenfeld, former Olympic runner, as manager and coach of the Canadian women's team for the British Empire games in London has been protested by the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation in a letter to J. H. Crocker, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

The letter was made public here yesterday by Miss Ann Clark, national secretary of the federation.

Objections were raised on the grounds the appointments were made without consulting the W.A.A.F. governing body of women's athletics in Canada and that neither Miss Gibb nor Miss Rosenfeld are persona grata with the national women's body.

Miss Clark's letter read in part:

"I should imagine that your British Empire games committee would have the courtesy to ask our federation's opinion and approval. . . We quite appreciate the fact that there are many questions coming up during the organizing of the great games which we would not understand or have any direct bearing on our federation but this one certainly does and the selection of officials should have been discussed with our members. . .

"Canadian women are much upset over the latest insult offered by M. M. Robinson and his so-called British Empire games committee of the W.A.A.F."

The letter stated Miss Gibb was not considered by the federation a proper choice for the position of team manager and, moreover, said she does not even belong to the federation, it charged she cannot possibly give the proper attention to her work as manager and to her work for the newspaper which she serves at the same time.

With reference to the selection for team coach, the letter continues.

"Miss Rosenfeld is a remarkable athlete, but she has not, we feel, the experience to successfully coach a girls' track team."

UNUSUAL SITUATION FACES BOBBY SMITH

Mrs. Sloane's Trainer Has Three Real Stars Eligible for Preakness.

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—It is not often a trainer of thoroughbred race horses has so many stars he can't decide which one to start in a big race. Yet that is the situation facing "Smiling Bob" Smith, who saddled Cavalcade for the Kentucky Derby, as he contemplates the $35,000 Preakness at Pimlico, Md., Saturday.

He may solve the problem by sending not only Cavalcade, but High Quest, rated by many the equal of the Derby winner, and Time Clock, victor in the Florida Derby, to the post for the 1 3-16-mile trip around the "Old Hilltop' course.

"It all depends on the way they ship to Maryland," said Smith, after he had clocked High Quest in 1.55 for 1⅛ miles yesterday at Belmont Park and then watched Cavalcade and Time Clock unload from Louisville.

Of the trio from Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade Stable, High Quest appears to be the most likely starter. The son of Sir Gallahad III. was in fine fettle as he stepped the first half-mile in 47 seconds, the six furlongs in 1.42 2-5, and the mile in 1.40 2-5, well in hand. He was not eligible for the Derby.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse, Soccer
Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

City Baseball League met last p.m. in Duffus' but the officers weren't overburdened with entries. They decided to drop the intermediate idea ker-flop—and we don't blame them as no intermediate teams apparently were interested anyway. Pat Calladine's team and the Curve Lake Indians appeared to be the only probable junior entries, at least at present. Havelock and Norwood were indefinite. Two juvenile squads are sure starters, one by Herb Ralph and another by Harvey Smith. East City Leafs will play bantam and J. McIlmoyle may run one in this section. There are a couple of other probable entries in this section, but they'll have to be checked up this week. So, it looks like the City Loop will consist chiefly of the minor series team, but that's oke. Get 'em started in baseball, and then they'll have no trouble catching onto softball teams when they get older.

• • • • • •

Prospects are bright for the E.P.I. The intermediate baseball circuit will run again this summer with at least three teams in. Cogs, C.G.E. and Fosters are in now, and maybe Raybestos will climb aboard by the next session, which is Saturday at eight in Duffus'. Bill Prindible, an oldtimer in this league, was appointed prexy and should make a fine one with his experience. And Len Foster, who was secretary of the City League a couple of years ago, was elected secretary-treasurer. He'll be all right, too. Various this-and-thats were gassed about at great length, but the main thing is: The East Peterborough League will be swinging along once more this year at the Exhibition Grounds.

• • • • • •

And so we'll see Lefty Wood catching and throwing from the wrong side again; and Doug Moore standing guard over the waterpail in a batting rally—so nobody could take a drink and thereby break up the rally; and Left Billingsley nicking 'em off first; and Doug Hatton telling his umps the ump—Messrs. Hotrum, Lebarr or McCarney—that, "Ya must be blind, it was right over the heart!"; and all the rest of ye merry E.P.I.-ers. And it'll be like old times once more. Those guys wanted to play ball, and it would have been a pity to keep 'em out. And this summer should see things much better down that way, what with less competition and more people back to work.

• • • • • •

We used to get a kick out of the way they used to signal the batter or runners. Hands on the coach's hips might mean a hit-and-run and so on. But the lads sometimes got mixed up, and there was fun! Like the tale from the training camp of the Big Leagues this Spring. Seems a manager was having a tough session trying to teach some dumb rookies to watch for signals and he swore with great gusto and told 'em: "Listen, youse guys! When I got one hand on my hip and the other in my pocket, that's for a steal, and every time I pull it—no matter what you're doing—I want to see you practice and steal and slide! And don't forget it!" And he told them the other signals they were to keep practising constantly, too. Well, he went with them to the hotel that evening and stopped to talk to the gal on the cigar counter. Without thinking he put a hand on his hip and the other mitt in his pocket. Immediately a dumb rookie tore across the lobby and slid into him, knocking the coach and cigar stand over. "What the this-and-that (with feeling) is the idea?" roared the coach. "Well," says the rookie, "you had it on; I seen ya!"

• • • • • •

They've finally got that senior baseball squabble in Western Ontario ironed out, with Galt being loaned to Hamilton and the other six clubs playing in the Inter-County League. Tiny McFayden of Galt has resigned from office in the loop because the league did not back up his action in loaning Brantford to Hamilton when he was instructed to make this loan by the Inter-County. What's the idea of that circuit stealing our stuff? The situation is almost identical to what happened between the C.O.B.L. and the Ulster League this spring with Oshawa the point of squabble. It even finds the accredited delegates to the inter-league meeting told to go ahead and fix things up, and then knocked 'cause they did what they thought best. We should have had a copyright on the matter. Can't the Inter-County League think up ballyhoo stunts of its own?

• • • • • •

However, one thing about that section of the province—they still go in for baseball in a big way. The athletes and fans still think it's a better game than softball, whereas up in this neck of the woods—and pretty well all through Central Ontario—softball is played more than its grown-up brother-game. The depression had a lot to do with the growing popularity of softball, it costing less to field a softball team than one of baseball. But how is it that baseball is very popular all through the west and down in the St. Lawrence Valley, when softball is hanging on the ropes? The only thing we can see is that the sections of the province near the border of the States—where baseball reigns supreme—derives benefit from such contact. Towns like Niagara Falls and Windsor, right on the border, go in for the tougher game almost exclusively.

• • • • • •

Not long ago, we wrote an item concerning Jo-Jo White of the Detroit Tigers and his wicked slide that had a lot of infielders guessing when they tried to tag him. The other day, we saw the following item on it again, written after a Tigers'-Browns' game: "Jo-Jo White was pretty rough with Melillo in the fifth inning. He first nearly knocked the St. Louis second baseman's hand off with a sizzling grounder and then he slid into him to break up a double play. Manager Rogers Hornsby didn't beef, although his star second baseman limped through the remainder of the game. When the Rajah walked back to the bench, he grinned at Coach Cy Perkins (of the Tigers). The Rajah approves of ball players like Jo-Jo." We always felt a good slide was very important in baseball.

• • • • • •

Eddie Johnston, 215 Perry Street, had his jaw fractured last evening while practising softball. As this was written, we hadn't' located any eye-witnesses, but understand he and another youth were chasing a fly-ball and collided Eddie having his jaw broken. Dr. Buchanan attended him and had the athlete removed to St. Joseph's Hostital, where he rested easily last night. We hope and expect he'll be around okay in a short time.

• • • • • •

Grab-bag: McCarthy of Keene righthand twirler, was out at the Petes' workout last eve, and should be a lot better this year as he has put on about fifteen more pounds . . . . Darcy Foster will manage the Foster entry into the E.P.I. . . . . Sports' copy being sent to us should be brief and to the point, and don't forget the deadline for the first sports page (for local copy) is the night before; for the second page, it's noon; and for the sports' column, it's ten a.m. . . . . Central nosed out an 18-17 nod over Queen Mary in their postponed school softball game yestiddy . . . . Executive meeting of the Gals' Softball Loop at eight this e'en in Duffus' . . . . Johnston's Tire softballers workout at 5.45 tonight in Central, while the C.G.E. boys have the diamond tomorrow.

POMORSKI BACK WITH ROYALS.

MONTREAL, May 9.—Johnny Pomorski, popular pitching member of Montreal Royals of the International League for the past three years, yesterday returned from Chicago, where he was released by the White Sox after a trial.

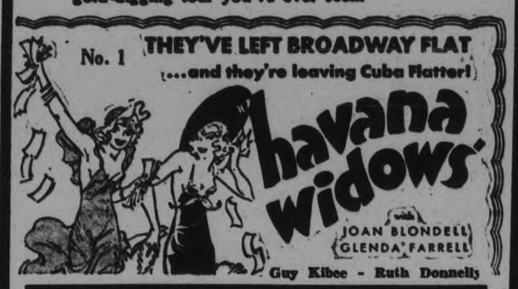
Pomorski will be placed on Royals' eligible list to-day, it was learned, and will be retained by the club unless the Sox again ask for him before June 15 when their option expires.

Regent ENTERTAINMENT

STARTING TO-DAY
DOUBLE FEATURE BILL
Last Complete Show Starts at 8.30 p.m.

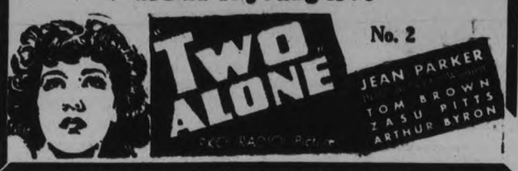
SEE THEM Shown at 7 and 9.30
SHAKE IT UP ON THE BOULEVARDS
SHAKE 'EM DOWN UNDER THE PALMS!
And there's a laugh in every shake as these mischievous mommas step out on the funniest gold-digging tour you've ever seen.

No. 1 THEY'VE LEFT BROADWAY FLAT
(...and they're leaving Cuba Flatter!)



Guy Kibee - Ruth Donnelly

The Star of "Lady for a Day" and "What Price Innocence" in a heart touching drama of young love



LEICESTER DRAWS WITH AUSTRALIANS

Time-limit Ends Match With Touring "Down-under" Team in Old Country.

LONDON, May 8 (C.P. Cable).—The time-limit forced a draw in the match between the touring Australian cricketers and the Leicester County side yesterday, with all the honors going to the visitors.

The scores were: Leicester 152 and 263 for nine (W. J. O'Reilly seven for 39 and four for 40, L. O. Fleetwood-Smith four for 83, Dawson 91); Australians 368 for five, declared (S. J. McCabe 108 not out, Don Bradman 65, A. F. Pippax 89).

It was the second game of the tour for the Australians, who easily defeated Worcestershire last week.

Middlesex defeated Northamptonshire by six wickets in a first-class county cricket match ending yesterday at Northampton, in which the bowlers had all the best of things. The scores were: Northamptonshire 124 and 152 (Peebles five for 54 and Robins five for 39); (Hendren 50, Enthoven 82, Mathews four for 15).

Essex defeated Kent by two wickets, but the match between Notts and Somerset ended in a first-inning's win for Notts County, play being prevented yesterday. The scores:

Kent 273 and 133; Essex 344 and 166 for eight wickets (Pearce 64, Lewis eight for 58, Cutmore 37 not out, Freeman five for 87) at Gravesend.

Somerset 156 and 89 for two wickets (F. Lee 52 not out), Nottinghamshire 252 (Walker 79, G. V. Gunn 57), at Nottingham.

Orioles Easy Prey In Southend Opener

The opening game of the Southend Softball League at the Exhibition Grounds saw Nationals downing their old rivals, Orioles, by a 12-4 count. It was featured by fine twirling by Alex Wedlock of the Nats who held his opponents to one hit for the seven innings, as he fanned nine and walked three. The Nationals, led by Ray Kitchen with three hits, hammered out fifteen safe blows off R. Hunter's delivery to hold a good lead till the eighth. A rally then netted seven runs for the Birds, but darkness forced the calling of the game, and the score reverted to the seventh.

Nationals—Clark, rf, c; J. Reynolds, 1b; Parsons, ss; E. Reynolds, 3b; Gibson, 3b; R. Kitchen, lf; Conlin, cf; B. Kitchen, cf; Pearson, 2b; Cowling, c; Wedlock, p; Tice rf.

Orioles—Millard, ss; Adamson, 3b; Cardino, 2b; Carter, cf; Watkins, c; T. Smith, lf; C. Smith, rf; M. Hunter, 1b; R. Hunter, p.

Score by innings— R H E
Nationals. .. .. 131 205 0—12 15 2
Orioles .. .. .. 000 040 0— 4 1 3

Umpires—Sweers at plate, Pearson on bases.

All league games are played in the Exhibition Grounds at six p.m., and fans should come out and see good softball by future city stars. Cogs and Orioles play this evening, while Nationals and All Saints' meet Thursday night.

PHILLIP LYONS MARRIES

OGDENSBURG, May 9. (C.P.)—En route to Wilmington, Del., where he will referee the Davis Cup matches, Philip D. Lyons, 53, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Frances Hunt Nairn, 35, of Greenfield, N.S., were married here yesterday. Lyons is President of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, and chairman of the Canadian Davis Cup Committee.

PLAY QUALIFYING ROUND ON MONDAY

U. S. Open Golf Championship Draws Record Entry of 1,063.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A total of 1,063 entries have been made for the United States open golf championship, the U.S. Golf Association announced yesterday. Of this total 150 will compete in the tourney proper at the Merion Cricket Club, Ardmore, Pa., on June 7, 8, 9. The others will have been eliminated in sectional qualifying rounds to be played in 22 cities on May 14.

New York and Chicago tied for the distinction of having the greatest number of entries, with 156 from each district, and 16 places in the championship proper were allotted to each city as well as to Philadelphia, from where there are 150 entries.

Wrestling Last Night.

(By the Associated Press.)

Providence—Gus Sonnenberg, 202, Boston, defeated Billy Bartusch 210, Chicago, two falls to one.

Reading, Pa.— Jim Londos 199, St. Louis, threw Hans Kampfer 212, Germany 43:39.

Albany, N.Y.—Joe Malcewicz 200, Utica, N.Y., defeated Sam Cordovano 204, Buffalo, two falls to one.

New Haven, Conn— Jim McMillen 219, Chicago, defeated Dick Raines 230, Texas (Raines disqualified after two falls aplit).

Indianapolis — Joe Savoldi 205, Three Oaks, Mich., defeated Sol Slagle 220, Topeka, straight falls.

In a proposed expedition to explore the upper reaches of the Amazon River in South America a flat-bottomed boat will go far beyond Manaos, and planes will be used for photographic and survey work.

She's Sharpshooters

RUBY BROWNING.

Miss Ruby Browning of Haddonfield, N.J., student in the Sargent School of Physical Culture, Boston, Mass., draws a "bead" on you. She not only captains her school rifle team, but is an expert shot.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Harold C. Ralson,
Norwood, Ont.

Your handwriting for delineation shows kindness and sympathy. It is symbolical of genuine intelligence and progressive qualities. You should have no difficulty in meeting with success if you continue as you are doing at present I think that you would be interested in business, especially if you could manage something yourself. It might be a department in a store, or one of your own. The long lower loops show that you could be a successful leader, if you desire to be one. It also represents the love of out-of-door recreation. Your general character is discerning and congenial. Secretive at times, but trustworthy and honest. I think your question is answered in the above delineation, the rest is up to you. You have the ability and the power, so I wish you every success. You may write again if you wish, and send your birthdate, month and year, for further assistance, but if you do, be sure that you give me the same name as above and mention the date upon which this handwriting delineation appears in The Examiner.

Edythe E. Killingbeck, 617 George St., City.

Your handwriting for delineation indicates that you are a person with a keen, intelligent mind. You are a quick, decided thinker and usually manage to arrive at logical conclusions. The softness of the letter formations show friendliness, but the fact that your writing is nearly all written in the same clear cut manner suggests that at times you find it necessary to be cutting in your remarks. The capital letters reflect an artistic tendency which should be developed, and I know you would derive enjoyment from it if only as a hobby. This tendency need not mean painting, but could be demonstrated in any other line of art. It may be perhaps the manner in which you wear your clothes or the way in which you arrange your surroundings. You are sympathetic and enthusiastic, but appear to tire very quickly of any project which necessitates long and tedious study. You possess a fairly good sense of humor, but will not respond to a joke, unless you know it is really very clever. Your willpower is fairly well developed but does not make you obdurate in any manner. Your number is three. Your birthsign Aries the Ram. You are ruled by Mars. Tuesday is your best day. June and July your most fortunate months for important undertakings.

Bernard Glaum, 337 McDonnel St., City.

Your handwriting for analysis describes you as a person with artistic and dramatic ability. There is a decided desire for self-expression. This could be accomplished by taking part in private theatricals, for church work or charity. The material gain is not your objective. Your large capitals denote an ambition to improve your talent and your 'w' indicates positively that you can be a leader in your own art. Some of the remaining letters are so small and undecided that I feel as though you were also a little timid and undecided or perhaps have not qute enough willpower to force you to accomplish your desire. Yet, you do not dot your 'i' with finality and that speaks for itself. When your mind is really made up nothing will change it. You have a rather generous disposition and you are perhaps given to flatter your friends more than they deserve. In an emergency you would think quickly and rightly. Unbounded energy is at your command. As you grow older you will understand better what I mean by the above remarks, but as things are now, I want you to feel encouraged and to know that if you do your best, your mental faculties will develop, and you will have no difficulty in reaching out for a place in the world of men.

Suffered 7 months from RHEUMATIC FEVER

Mr. R. Sherrard, Almonte, Ont., writes "Despite many treatments after 7 months suffering from rheumatic fever I was still not able to work. I couldn't raise my right arm and my right knee was stiff and painful. Nothing seemed to help me. Then my aunt from Calgary recommended T-R-C's (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules). I got immediate benefit. Indeed, by the time I had finished the box I was able to go back to work. The rubbing on of stuff for months didn't do me as much good as a single week's use of T-R-C's."

Pain and Stiffness vanish when you use T-R-C's. No harmful drugs. T-R-C's give quick, safe relief by entering your blood stream and helping drive out poisons located there. Great for Sciatica (stabbing hip pain), Neuralgia, (including Tic Douloureux), Painful Neuritis, Lumbago, (Lame Back), Headaches. 50c and $1 everywhere.

Stop needless misery—take

TEMPLETON'S RHEUMATIC CAPSULES
T-R-C's
MILLIONS SOLD EVERY YEAR

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

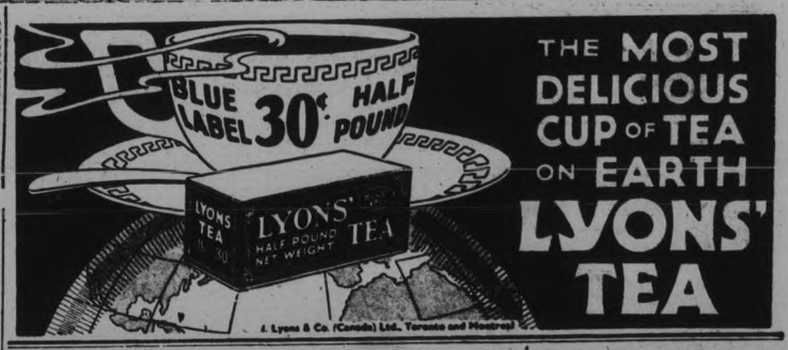
For Thursday May 10

Judging by the lunar transits this may be a day in which the energies may be centered on a matter of finances, either in connection with launching new projects, possibly of a bold and hazardous nature, in speculative enterprises or in certain stresses of private expenditure. In all these there is need of conservative and prudent handling of funds, since there are elements of peril in all monetary outlay. With care new ventures may prosper.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year in which they are beset by certain financial hazards unless they take care not to jeopardize their funds. Speculation, new undertakings or personal extravagances may prove hazardous to financial stability, but with precaution there may be security and gain.

A child born on this day may be lively, enterprising and ambitious, with a tendency to extravagance in its business as well as personal outlay.

Prince and Princess Kaya of Japan attended the recent banquet of the Japan Society in London.



Thomasburg

Mrs. H. B. Herrington, Mrs. Beatrice Morton and Mrs. Harold Morton took twenty children to H. Morton's grove on Saturday. Each one took their dinner and enjoyed a trip through the woods, and a few games of ball.

Miss Jennie Fox and her girl friend of Belleville spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Fox; also her sister, Mrs. Martin Smith.

Mrs. William Vance and Mrs. Harold Morton spent Saturday evening with their mother, Mrs. William Holbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Morton and daughter, Miss Luella Morton and Mrs. M. Wood of Belleville visited Mr. and Mrs. James Brown on Sunday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Hall of Plainfield, which was held here on Sunday, was largely attended. The deceased was a sister of Mr. Albert Beatty, who is well known here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Reid visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mullett of Moira on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vance and children of Tweed were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morton on Sunday.

Mrs. Ann'e Ward and son Jack, of Picton, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southworth and Mary were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Latchford and family of Foxboro visited Mr. and Mrs. Damon McCamon and family on Sunday.

Mrs. Maude Phillips spent Monday with Mrs. Milford Cronk.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter called on Mrs. Albert Geen, who fell and hurt her ankle on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Naylor visited Mrs. Lizzie Purvis of Larkins on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pearson and children of Belleville visited the latters mother, Mrs. Maude Phillips on Sunday.

Mrs. Montgomery Robinson and daughters, Irene and Reta, spent Saturday evening with Mrs. W. Harrison.

Bandsmen of the Salvation Army throughout the world now total 46,000.

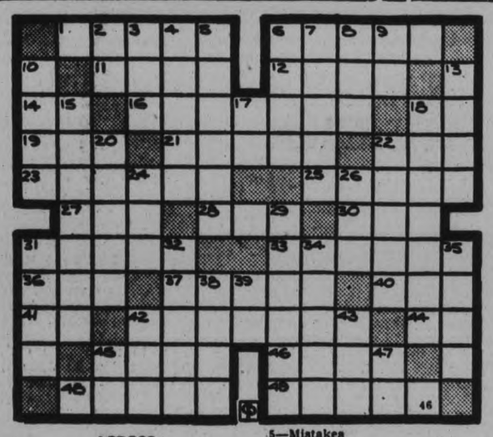
MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

Smothering Sensations Faint and Dizzy Spells

Those feelings of faintness; those dizzy spells, those all-gone smothering, sinking sensations which come over people, from time to time, are warnings that should not go unheeded. They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the nerves and other vital organs, and should be given immediate attention.

Those suffering in this way will find in Milburn's H. and N. Pills a remedy with which to recuperate their health, build up their run down system, and bring back their bodily vigor.

Ask your druggist for Milburn's H. & N. Pills.



ACROSS

1—Talk idly
6—The leaf of a grass
11—Declare to be true
12—Combinations of a number of molecules with electrons
14—Prefix meaning not
16—Wandering
18—A degree
19—Reformation (abbr.)
21—One who sows
22—An age of the universe
23—One who feels
25—To turn inside out
27—A duet (It.)
28—Observe
30—Suffix, of diminutive value
31—A river in Siberia
33—Fiery horses
36—In law a thing
37—A native earth varying from light yellow to deep orange or brown
40—Decay
41—Suffix used to form the plural
43—Secures
44—Female parent
45—Transaction
46—To get sight of
48—Consisting of oats
49—To acquire knowledge

DOWN

2—Sun god
3—Salutation
4—Forcibly concise
5—Mistakes
6—To seize with the teeth
7—The longest river in France
8—Ancient (abbr.)
9—Days' sight (abbr.)
10—A grass plot
13—Desire
15—Sewing implements
17—Articles of war (abbr.)
18—The realm of bores
20—Fiefs
22—One who catches eels
24—A river in north Chile
26—A small bay (Orkneys)
29—A biblical character
31—Any open space
32—High in excellence
34—Drawn tightly
35—Celestial body
38—Combining form meaning comb
39—An exclamation
42—A cereal grass
43—Watering spot
45—A continent (abbr.)
47—Year (abbr.)

CHILDREN ESCAPE FIRE

BELLVILLE, May 9.—Five children narrowly escaped with their lives when the white frame house of Mrs. J. Sullivan of Lonsdale burned to the ground Monday. Mrs. Sullivan, a widow, was helping other ladies of the parish with work at the church and the children, whose ages range up to 11 years, were alone in the house. The origin of the fire is unknown.

BRICK BRADFORD—In the City Beneath the Sea — By William Ritt and Clarence Gray

MUGGS McGINNIS — Viva American — By WALLY BISHOP

HIGH PRESSURE PETE — Oh Yeah? — By GEORGE SWAN

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

SOMEONE WANTS WHAT YOU HAVE OR HAS WHAT YOU WANT! use the Classified Page

WANT AD. RATES

Cash 1 Cent per Word or Figure per insertion.
Minimum Charge, 25c for Any Advt.

If Charged 1½ Cent per Word or Figure per insertion.

Phone We will call for your Ad. and give you the cash rate. 1600

CHARGES:

Birth Notice	50c
Death Notice	50c
Locals (Local Page), per inch	$1.00
Black Locals (Local Page), per in.	$1.40
Card of Thanks	50c
In Memoriam (up to 2 inches)	75c
Over 2 inches, per inch	50c
With Black Border, extra	25c

INDEX TO EXAMINER CLASSIFIED WANT ADS.

Agents Wanted	L
Boarders Wanted	F
Business Opportunities	K
Chiropractor	U
Cottage, Summer Resorts	E
Dressmaking	Z
Employment Wanted	J
Female Help Wanted	H
Found	N
For Rent—General	C
For Sale—General	A
General Notice	T
Help Wanted (Male or Female)	X
Live Stock	O
Lost	M
Male Help Wanted	G
Personal	R
Pet Stock	W
Poultry for Sale, and Eggs	P
Radio	I
Real Estate for Sale	D
Salesmen Wanted	Y
Situations Vacant	V
To Rent—Houses, Apartments	B
Used Cars for Sale	S
Wanted—General	Q

a For Sale—General

DELICIOUS DEEP LEMON TARTS—Topped with Egg Whites, Dozen 40c. Jean Ruth' Shoppes. 2d-110-1877A

.22 RIFLE, REPEATER. APPLY 490 George Street. 3d-110-1827A

TOP SOIL. 'PHONE 1943. 7d-114-1831A

ROTTEN MANURE, $1 LOAD, Delivered. 'Phone 2506J. 5d-112-5201A

ROUEN DUCK EGGS. 'PHONE 994 ring 12. 3d-110-1813A

NEWCOMBE PIANO, GOOD TONE. Apply Evenings, 596 Chamberlain. 3d-110-1812A

DRY MIXED WOOD, $2 LOAD. 'Phone 2409. 6d-112-1684A

100 QUARTS MILK DAILY. WRITE Box 1808, Examiner. 3d-110-1808A

FOUR 30 x 3½ TIRES, AND FIVE 20-inch Rim Tires. 22 Cameron Street. 4d-111-1818A

DOLLAR LOADS — DRY SLABS. 'Phone 58. 12d-117-1724A

ROLLED OAT DATE SANDWICH — Filled with Cooked Data, Dozen 25c, Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1876A

GLADIOLUS— DISEASE-FREE, FULL of pep, glorious colors, 75c, 1.00, $1.25 per 100. A. Prest, 242 Lansdowne Street. 6d-113-1811A

BABY CARRIAGE, GOOD CONDITION. 98 Gladstone. 3d-110-1810A

AMERICAN BANNER SEED OATS. Wellie Pearson, 504 ring 3, Lakefield. 3d-112-5226A

GARDEN PLANTS. F. D. CARLOW, 543 Parnell Street. 'Phone 1070. 2d-110-1845A

CEDAR STRIP CANOE, ALSO POINTed-nose Punt. 264 Stewart. 3d-112-1885A

150 FEET CHICKEN WIRE, 7 FEET high ,cheap. 1033 Water. 1d-110-1886A

NO. 1 ASPARAGUS PLANTS. 'PHONE 1916F, 3d-9,12,16-1862A

DISEASE-FREE VIKING RASPBERRY Plants, from Government Certified stock, $2 per Hundred, $15 per Thousand. 'Phone H. Johnston, 3658M, on Market Saturdays. 2d-111-1884A

MOTOR BOAT HULL, NEW, BARgain. 512 Stewart. 'Phone 3596M. 3d-112-1888A

HOME-MADE SALADS — POTATO, Cabbage and Lettuce, Pint 25c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1879A

WICKER CARRIAGE, REVERSIBLE Gear, good condition. 'Phone 1945W. 3d-11-1865A

ROTTEN MANURE AND TOP SOIL. 'Phone 2661. 30d-126-2436A

GOOD CLEAN SEED BARLEY. W. J. Scollard, Ennismore. 6d-114-5213A

REFRIGERATOR, MEDIUM - SIZED, only $7.50. Apply 454 Mark Street. 6d-112-1861A

ROLL-TOP DESK, OAK, GOOD CONdition. 'Phone 104. 3d-111-1860A

OUR BEEF STEAK PIES — WILL Satisfy. Take some home for supper, 4 for 25c. Jean Ruth Shoppes. 2d-110-1878A

b For Rent—Houses and Apartments

HEATED APARTMENT IN BANK OF Commerce Building. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-4177B

HOUSE, NO. 338 RUBIDGE STREET; hot water heating. Possession can be arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5244B

FURNISHED HOUSE, $35; HARDwood, fireplace, laundry tubs, garage ;8 Rooms. 'Phone 1863J. 3d-112-1896B

BRIGHT FOUR-ROOMED DUPLEX. Apply 183 Antrim. 6d-113-1834B

THREE-ROOM APARTMENT, PRIvate entrance, North. 'Phone 3006. 3d-111-1844B

COSY! BRIGHT LOWER APARTment, full plumbing, beautiful verandah, residential; central; low rent. Apply 293 Dalhousie Street. 'Phone 273. 4d-111-1836B

FOUR-ROOMED HOUSE, CONVENIences. 640 Armour Road. 3d-110-1840B

MODERN HOUSE, ALSO FURNISHED and Unfurnished Housekeeping Rooms, central. 2637W. 3d-110-1823B

UPPER DUPLEX, 5 ROOMS. 192 Dalhousie. 'Phone 2294F. 3d-110-1817B

HOUSE, NO. 249 WOLFE STREET. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-4662B

NO. 358 HUNTER STREET WEST (Bungalow). Possession First June. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-5109B

HOUSE, 408, BELMONT AVENUE (corner Belmont and Weller) Apply 437 George Street. dtf-2199B

HEATED APARTMENT IN GRAND Central Building. Possession arranged. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-B

APARTMENT, NEAR C.G.E. 1232J. 6d-110-1716B

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, FURNISHed. 516 Charlotte. 6d-110-5144B

MODERN 6-ROOM HOUSE, SOUTHwest of City. 'Phone 1628J. 3d-111-5214B

HEATED MODERN APARTMENT, Goodwill Apartments. 'Phone 191 or 2675. 3d-112-5231B

SEVEN-ROOMED HOUSE, PARK Street N. Newly decorated. Garage. 'Phone 1350M. 3d-112-1866B

THREE-ROOM APARTMENT. HABoco Stores, Charlotte Street. 3d-11-5221B

TWO NEWLY DECORATED UNFURnished Rooms, also Bachelor quarters; private entrance, 338 Stewart. 3d-7,9,11-1835B

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURnished; heated, all conveniences; central. Rent reasonable. 196 Aylmer Street. 5d-113-1870B

THREE UNFURNISHED HOUSEkeeping Rooms. 663 Water. 3d-111-1749B

STEAM-HEATED FURNISHED, UNfurnished Apartments, newly decorated, modern. 1699J. 2d-110-1858B

SEVEN-ROOMED HOUSE. APPLY 546 Park Street. 3d-111-1855B

TWO FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING Rooms, with Sunporch all conveniences. Apply 308 Stewart. 3d-111-5222B

c For Rent—General

STORE, NO. 173½ SIMCOE STREET. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1397C

GARAGE TO RENT— CONVENIENT to Downtown Offices and Stores. Apply 437 George Street. dtf-1092C

STORE AT 292 CHARLOTTE STREET. 'Phone 2675. 3d-112-1799C

TWO GARAGES, WITH FLOORS, ON London Street, between Aylmer and George. 'Phone 2517. 3d-112-1895C

MODERN STORE, CENTRAL. BELL Apartments. 6d-112-1771C

d Real Estate

FOR SALE — EAST ½ LOT 20, CONcession 3, Emily, 100 Acres; good location. Immediate possession. Apply 437 George Street, Peterborough. dtf-4222D

FOR SALE — CASH DEAL: 7-ROOM House, all conveniences; large garden. Apply 219 Simcoe Street. 'Phone 1773W. 6d-115-1809D

FOR SALE — AT ONCE, 6-ROOM House, with garage, in Peterborough: $3,000—$500 cash. Owner, 896 Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. 3d-5,8,9-5178D

FOR SALE — QUAINT OLD PLACE, modern improvements, spacious grounds, beautiful situation; easy terms. 'Phone 1916F. 3d-9,12,16-1861D

e Summer Cottages

CHEMONG PARK, 2 FURNISHED Cottages for Season. Mrs. Elliott, 351 Park. 3d-111-1830E

FOR RENT — COTTAGE, FURNISHed, at Stoney Lake. 'Phone 2675. 3d-112-1900E

PORTABLE COTTAGE FOR SALE — 10 x 16, 2 Rooms up, 1 down . 421 Water Street. 3d-111-1872E

WANTED — TO RENT FOR SEASON, Cottage at Stoney Lake, with view to ultimate purchase if satisfied. Write, stating full particulars, to Box 1821, Examiner. 3d-7,9,12-1821E

FOR RENT OR SALE— COTTAGE AT Chemong, electric light, fireplace. 'Phone 3325W. 3d-112-1883E

f Boarders Wanted

LARGE FURNISHED FRONT ROOM; Board optional. 356 Stewart. 3d-110-1829F

CLEAN, WELL FURNISHED ROOM, good Board, home privileges; central. 2553M. 2d-111-1874F

g Help Wanted, Male

FULLY QUALIFIED METAL FINISHers Wanted by Ontario Automobile Manufacturer .Must be capable of doing all Metal Finishing operations. Auto body experience essential. Apply to Employment Service of Canada, 179½ Charlotte Street, Peterborough. 2d-111-5238G

h Help Wanted, Female

EXPERIENCED READY-TO-WEAR Saleslady. Apply in person, to Chesler's Store. 3d-111-1852H

COOK-GENERAL, FOR FAMILY OF Three; references. Write Box 5227, Examiner. 3d-112-5227H

WANTED — A LADY, OVER 28, TO Demonstrate an unusual Corset Service. A real opportunity to make money. Demand biggest in years. Every woman a prospect. We train you. Write Box 5233, Examiner. 3d-112-5233H

j Employment Wanted

FIRST-CLASS CARPENTER WANTS Work by Day or Contract; very reasonable. 'Phone 2063J. 3d-110-1816J

m Lost

FAWN BELT OFF LADY'S POLO Coat, between Downie and Park, on McDonnel. Finder please 'Phone 2983. 3d-110-5199M

GATE OFF TRUCK RACK, ON NORwood Road. Finder please 'Phone 773W. 3d-110-1793M

SMALL BLACK DOG, CURLY TAIL, "Bobby." 'Phone 2650J. 2d-110-1864M

HAMMOCK AND MATTRESS COVers, between Chemong and Peterborough. 'Phone 228W. 3d-111-1850M

BETWEEN PETERBOROUGH AND Coldsprings, One Hog. Finder please notify Canada Packers. 3d-112-5242M

WILL THE PERSON WHO FOUND the 6-weeks-old Brown and White Puppy near Peel's Garage, please ring Peel's Garage? 1d-110-1896M

n Found

VALUABLE FOUNTAIN PEN, IN vicinity of St. Peter's Church. Finder please 'Phone 839J. 2d-111-1869N

TENDERS FOR COAL AND COKE.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Coal," will be received until 12 o'clock Noon (daylight saving), Thursday, June 14, 1934, for the supply of Coal and Coke for the Dominion Buildings throughout the Province of Ontario.

Forms of Tender with Specifications and Conditions attached can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Dept. of Public Works, Ottawa; and the Supervising Architect, 36 Adelaide Street East Toronto, Ont.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the Forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions.

The right to demand from the successful tenderer a deposit, not exceeding 10 per cent. of the amount of the Tender, to secure the proper fulfilment of the Contract, is reserved.

By order,
N. DESJARDINS,
Secretary.

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, May 8, 1934.
3d-9,12,16-5232

o Live Stock

FOR SALE — REGISTERED YEARling Shorthorn Bull. R. Matchett, Fraserville. 4d-2 4,7,1-1555O

FOR SALE— TEAM HORSES, HEAVY Wagon and Harness. 201 Antrim, 'Phone 2272. 6d-114-1868O

FOR SALE — 6 POLLED-ANGUS Year-olds. 'Phone 38 ring 1-4, Keene. 3d-111-1857O

FOR SALE — BAY PERCHERON Team, four and five years. Apply Percie Moncrief, Fraserville. 'Phone 230 ring 2-1, Millbrook. 3d-112-5236O

p Poultry

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNtry, we are getting reports of extraordinary growth and livability of Bray Chicks — Halton County, 5-week-old Chicks, 10 ounces; Welland County, 9-week Pullets, 2¼ lbs.; Huron County, 12½-week Pullets, 3 lbs.; York County, 14-week Pullets, 3½ lbs. Losses averaged only 3½ per cent. Be guided by the results. Buy Bray Chicks. Eight breeds. Prices reasonable. Write for information. Bray Chick Hatchery, 45 Clayburn Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont. 3d-7,9,12-5177P

q Wanted

WANTED — LIVE POULTRY. PAY good price. 'Phone M. Florence, 3573J. 26d-112-998Q

WANTED — IMMEDIATELY, SMALL Sedan or Coach, in good running condition Not expensive. 'Phone 927. 2d-111-1901Q

WANTED — TO PURCHASE — WE will pay Cash for Used Single-Cylinder and Light Twin Johnson Motors. Copping Marine Sales, corner Brock and Water Streets, Peterborough, Ont. 'Phone 199. 3d-112-1893Q

ALL KINDS OF RAGS, RUBBERS, Copper, Brass, Iron, etc. Highest cash prices. D. Florence, 842 Stewart Street. 'Phone 694W. 30d-126-4967Q

WANTED—TO BUY, GARAGE THAT can be easily moved; must be reasonable. Write Box 1685, Examiner. 8d-113-1685Q

WANTED — COMBINATION SCREEN and Storm Door in good condition. Write Box 1863, Examiner. 2d-110-1863Q

YOUNG BUSINESS WOMAN REquires Room and Board, in quiet private home; must be central. Write Box 1847, Examiner. 2d-110-1847Q

WANTED — BICYCLE THAT CAN BE Rebuilt, or Parts. 'Phone 878. 3d-111-1871Q

WANTED—MODERN HOUSE, SEVEN Rooms, for immediate possession. Write Box 1849, Examiner, or 'Phone 1524. 3d-111-1849Q

WANTED — TO BORROW, ONE Thousand Dollars First Mortgage. State terms. 896 Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. 3d-5,8,9-5179Q

WANTED— BY RELIABLE TENANTS, Modern House, in good locality. 'Phone 3587. 3d-110-5209Q

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR Rags, Paper, Copper, Brass, Aluminum, and all kinds of Junk. 'Phone 2505J. 5d-113-5200Q

ONE OR TWO UNFURNISHED Rooms, central. Write Box 1820, Examiner. 3d-110-1820Q

WANTED — LIGHT CAR, ROADSTER or Coupe preferred; must be in good condition. Write Box 1802, Examiner. 3d-110-1802Q

WANTED — OLD GOLD, HIGHEST price paid. Phillips' Dental Laboratory, 408½ George (opposite Lech's). 6d-112-5181Q

WANTED — JOHNSON OUTBOARD Motors . State best cash price, all H.P.'s. R. J. Stringer, Bancroft, Ont. 8d-118-1887Q

s Used Cars for Sale

'27 FORD COUPE, CHEAP. APPLY 5 Dunlop Street. 'Phone 3860. 3d-111-1854S

FOR SALE — 1930 CHEVROLET Truck ,Express body, in first-class condition. Cheap for cash. Apply E. W. Jones, Tweed, Ontario. 3d-111-5220S

PAIGE 5-PASSENGER COACH, small mileage, good condition. Peel's Garage. 3d-112-1894S

FOR SALE — 1931 PLYMOUTH SEdan, 1930 Essex Sedan, 1932 Dodge Coupe, rumble seat, New 1934 Studebaker Sedan. T. H. Ruth & Son, 184 Simcoe Street. 2d-110-1873S

t General Notice

PLOUGHING. ED. LYNCH, 2233J. 6d-112-1773T

HOUSE PAINTING — FIRST-CLASS Material and Good Workmanship never go bad. 'Phone 2581 for Free Estimates. H. Kellar, General Decorator. 3d-110-1837T

PAPERHANGING, PAINTING, CHESterfields, Rugs Vacuumed, Mothproofed, Doors, Windows Caulked Free. 1699J. 2d-110-1851T

LANDSCAPE GARDENING — LAWNS Fixed and General Garden Work. 'Phone 392W. 3d-112-1869T

EXCHANGE

FORD SEDAN, GOOD CONDITION— Would Exchange for Potatoes, Wood or Horse. Write Box 1869, Examiner. 2d-110-1862

EXCHANGE 1925 FORD COACH FOR Electric Washing Machine, or Sell for $35.00. Write Box 1828, Examiner. 3d-110-1838

IMPORTANT!

In requesting us to call for your ad, the order must be phoned before 11 a.m. in order to insure it being inserted on the same day.

BRITAIN, FRANCE GO INTO HUDDLE ON ARMS CRISIS

Gravity of Present Situation Keenly Apparent on All Sides.

GERMANY SILENT.

Expect Britain to Urge Trial of Two Five-year Plans.

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, May 9 (CP Cable).—In both London and Paris vital discussions are in progress on the disarmament crisis.

The Cabinet meets here to-day, and in Paris the Cabinet meets tomorrow. Arthur Henderson, chairman of the World Disarmament Conference, will interview Foreign Minister Louis Barthou across the Channel.

The gravity of the present situation, following the breakdown of international diplomatic negotiations, is apparent on all hands. For two years the negotiation both in and parallel with the League, have ended in a morass, with the great powers all waiting on each other to lead the way out.

Germany, resigned from both the League and the conference, announces she has said her say and has nothing to add.

France looks to a new lead from Britain.

Britain—Her old plan virtually in the discard with opinion sharply divided between security guarantees or isolation—is unlikely to have any new or startling scheme to lay before the general conference when it reassembles at Geneva on May 29.

Two 5-Year Periods

Making the best of a bad job, it is probable the British will turn their efforts towards conclusion of a convention that woud operate in two five-year periods. The main purpose in the first period would be to forestall the clearly-threatened race in armaments. It would endeavor to bring within the scope of a formal convention such provisions of air bombardment, gradual elimination of heavy offensive weapons, and establishment of some form of international supervision over natural armaments.

The second five-year period would aim at the effective and actual reduction of armaments.

Such a convention would fall short of the high hopes eloquently expressed when the Disarmament Conference first met in February of 1932. But the point made by its advocates is that half a loaf is better than none; that it may be made the starting point for a new endeavor.

Rumor Ridiculed

The Cabinet is still working for conclusion of an arms agreement, it is stressed. Responsible officials to-day for instance took time out to label as "ridiculous' reports that France and Britain were in a huff over shipments of British aeroplane engines to Germany.

Under the caption, "Britain must not turn traitor,' the News-Chronicle editorially made a last appeal to the British Government to-day to avert the calamity of a disarmament failure.' "No one can foresee the full consequences of a formal and final breakdown of the policy of disarmament," said the newspaper. "It will in any case be the heaviest blow the cause of peace has suffered since the armistice.

"Unless it strives fiercely and honorably to the last moment of the last hour, the Government of the day will not escape a large measure of the blame and shame of that tragic betrayal."

TENDERS

To wind up the Estates, TENDERS will be accepted by the undersigned for the Residence of the late ELIZABETH MILBURN and ESTHER MILBURN, in the Township of Smith, situate on the West Side of the Chemong Road, immediately opposite Milburn's School, about 3 miles from Peterbrough. Property consists of Brick Veneered Dwelling, small barn with cement stable, hog pen and hen house, 5 Acres of Land. Immediate possession.

The lowest or any Tender not necessarily accepted.

Apply to PECK, KERR & McELDERRY, 415 Water Street, Peterborough, Solicitors for R. N. Scott and Ernest A. Scott, Executors and Administrators of the Estates of the said Elizabeth Milburn and Esther Milburn. 3d-7,9,12-5193

BARRISTERS AND SOLICITORS.

HALL & LAMLEY — Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries, corner Hunter and Water Streets (over Canadian Bank of Commerce) Peterborough Ontario. Telephone: Office No. 98 E. B. Hall, K.C., residence No 603 T. J. Carley, LL.B., residence No 3066.

JAMES FORDYCE STRICKLAND K.C., M.P.P. — Barrister Solicitor Notary Public. Peterborough 'Phone 191 Money to Loan. 372 Water Street.

PECK, KERR & McELDERRY — Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries Office: 415 Water Street, Peterborough. Telephone 1960. S. A. Peck M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C., V. J. McElderry, K.C.

GORDON & ELLIOTT — Barristers Solicitors, Notaries Patents and Trade Marks Money to Loan Telephone 3300 — Hon G N Gordon K.C. Alexander L Elliott Toronto Telephone Number Elgin 6851 Office: 410 Saturday Night Building.

2 EXTRA CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD ~at NO EXTRA COST

GET the most for your money—buy Firestone—the tire that gives you 25 to 40% longer tire life—at no extra cost. Only in Firestone can you get all these extra features:

1 Gum-Dipped, Safe-T-Locked Cords—every fibre, strand and cord welded together with pure rubber.

2 Two Extra Cord Plies under the tread eliminate blowouts, punctures and loose treads—makes the tire safe at any speed.

3 Safety Tread of tough, heat-resisting rubber is wider, deeper, tougher to give 25% more non-skid wear.

IT really doesn't pay to take chances with ordinary tires when you can get all the Firestone extra values for the same money. And remember, Firestone tires are guaranteed for one year against blowouts, cuts, bruises and all other tire trouble except punctures. Drive in to your nearest Firestone Dealer today and let him replace thin, worn tires with the safest and most economical tires you can buy.

Firestone High Speed TIRES

ALL SIZES OF FIRESTONE TIRES AT

Hood & Cumming Motors Ltd.

276 GEORGE STREET. PHONE 2460

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
(Effective Sunday, April 29)
(Going East—

4.35 p.m.—Indian River, Norwood Havelock. Daily except Sunday
9.40 p.m.—From Toronto. Daily except Sunday.
11.00 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Ottawa, Montreal (Quebec Boston, and New York. Daily except Sunday.
11.10 a.m.—Sunday only to Havelock
1.30 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Ottawa Smith's Falls Montreal, St. John, Boston, and New York daily.

Going West—

4.50 a.m.—Toronto, Guelph, Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock St. Thomas, London, Chatham Detroit, Chicago, and New York daily.
7.20 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit, and intermediate points.
9.35 a.m.—To Lindsay and Sobeys-geon.
3.50 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago, and intermediate points between Peterborough and Toronto Makes connections with the Trans-Canada Limited for Winnipeg and Vancouver. Daily except Sunday.
5.40 p.m.—Sundays only for Toronto and points West.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS TIME-TABLE.
(Corrected to April 29th)

8.35 a.m.—For Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
12.01 Noon—For Port Hope, Oshawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Philadelphia, and New York. Connects at Port Hope with the Maple Leaf Ltd. for London, Windsor, Detroit, Port Huron, Flint, and Chicago. Makes connection East-bound for Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal.
1.45 p.m.—For Lakefield.
5.12 p.m.—For Lindsay, Toronto, and connects at Toronto with International Ltd. for London, Port Huron, and Chicago, also with the Continental Ltd for Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Vancouver; with the North Bay, Timmins, Rouyn and Cochrane train, and with the 11.45 p.m. train for Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
8.20 p.m.—For Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cornwall, Montreal and the Maritime Provinces.

Daily—

1.30 a.m.—Pool Train from the C.P.R. Depot for Ottawa, and makes connection at Ottawa for Montreal.
7.30 p.m.—Sundays Only, for Lindsay, Toronto, and makes connections for Western Canada, Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.

All Trains operate on Eastern Standard Time, and Daily except Sunday from Canadian National Railway Depot, Charlotte and Bethune Streets, unless otherwise shown.

BABY DIES OF INJURIES

BRANTFORD, Ont., May 9 (CP) Iris Proctor, two and a half years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Proctor, died at the Brantford General Hospital last night from injuries received when she was knocked down by a car driven by Harold Sayles, of Brantford. Police investigated but the driver of the car was not held. An inquest is being considered.

WHEAT EXPORTS INCREASE

OTTAWA.—Export clearances of wheat from Canada during the week ended May 4, last totalled 1,904,233 bushels, an increase of 178,626 over the previous week. In comparison with the corresponding week a year ago, however, when clearances totalled 4,258,365 bushels there was a drop of 2,354,032 bushels.

DAVIS-THOMPSON COMPANY
Insurance and General Agency
433 GEORGE STREET - PHONE 40

THE TORONTO SAVINGS & LOAN CO.
ESTABLISHED 1885

3% ON DEPOSITS

Interest paid or added half yearly, 30 June and 31 December, in each year. Every facility is afforded to Depositors both in depositing and withdrawing their money.

For sums of $100 and upwards this company's debentures afford a safe and profitable investment. Further information in regard to which will be gladly furnished upon request.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

W. G. MORROW,
Managing Director.

Office Hours:
9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Open Saturday's until 5 p.m.

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK . . By R. J. Scott

$100 GRANT MADE TO HASTINGS INSTITUTE FOR PARK PURCHASE

Society to Purchase Lots on Memorial Avenue for Village Park.

COUNCIL MEETING.

HASTINGS, May 9 (Examiner Correspondence)—The regular session of the village council was held on Friday night in the council chambers with Reeve G. B. Stevenson in the chair. Councillors Doherty, Brooks, Fairman and Kelley present.

A deputation of residents from Park street represented by Messrs. J. H. Calberry, D. E. Scriver and J. Pulford. The former acting as spokesman for the delegation asked the council for a cement walk. In the past couple of years Mr. Calberry has built a number of houses on Park street and was of the opinion they were entitled to a walk. The council decided to go in a body on Monday afternoon and inspect the street.

Mrs. J. A. Brown and Mrs. A. S. Spooner addressed the council for a grant towards the purchase price of the lots the Women's Institute intend to make a park. The ladies reported that a representative from the Agricultural College at Guelph who surveyed the lots and reported that the lots could be quite easily drained. The tile will cost $43 and the ladies expect to receive considerable labor from the youth of the town and district.

Communications were read from: E. L. McNachton of Cobourg, Walter M. Fowlds notified the council of an accident suffered by Mrs. Fowlds on April 18, when she stepped in a hole in the walk on Memorial Ave. and has since been confined to her home with a nurse in attendance.

Moved by Kelley, seconded by Fairman that the insurance company be notified of the accident suffered by Mrs. Fowlds.

A letter from T. Bonds, Sr. was read and filed, no action being taken.

Moved by Doherty, seconded by Fairman that the assessor's roll be left in the clerk's office for inspection and that Court of Revision be held on Friday, June 1st at 10 a.m.

Tax collector T. A. Walsh reported that there was still a balance of $1,245.77 of taxes unpaid. This matter will be dealt with at a special meeting on May 14th.

The following accounts were read: W. A. Killingbeck, $18; Plant's Foundry, $5.43; Bell Telephone, Town Hall, $4.39; Bell Telephone, constable, $2.05; Bell Telephone, fire chief, $2.05; George Lynch, $7; W. West, $1.40; H. Gilbo, $1.40; E. Shaughnessy, $2.60; H. Kelley, $1; Hydro Commission, street lighting, $126.25; Hydro Commission, Town Hall, $6.16; Peterborough Examiner Ltd., $1.75; C.N.R., wig-wag, $4.72; Fire Department, $7; W. Boyle, $8.33; J. Brinklow, 90c; J. J. Collins, $13.50; F. Barry, $4.80; W. McBride, $4.80; D. Noonan, $2.50; J. J. Collins, $13.50; W. Boyle, $1.75; T. J. Crowley, $4.75; G. Marryatt, $6.40; C. H. Smith, $40.80; G. R. Kerr, balance of salary, $25.

Moved by Brooks, seconded by Doherty that the accounts as read be paid and orders drawn on the treasurer in the usual way for the several amounts.

Moved by Fairman, seconded by Doherty that the Women's Institute be granted a rebate of $1.25 on the rentals of the council chambers the past month.

Moved by Doherty, seconded by Fairman that this council grant $100 to the Women's Institute to be applied on the purchase price of the lots to be used for a park.

Moved by Doherty, seconded by Fairman that the property committee see that flowers are planted and a caretaker arranged for the war memorial site.

The matter of putting something on the streets that are not paved to keep down the dust was discussed. It was decided to try and procure some oil when No. 7 highway was being oiled.

Weddings

WHITRED—WELLMAN

HASTINGS, May 9 (Examiner Correspondence)—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey "Dit" Clapper was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Friday night at eight-thirty, when Miss Mildred Inez Wellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wellman of Hastings became the bride of Walter Leslie Whitred, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whitred of Hastings. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. H. Hill, B.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The bride ooked pretty in a gown of blue bon-tex crepe with grey accessories. Miss Madeline was bridesmaid and wore a gown of blue chiffon with matching accessories. Mr. Aubrey "Dit" Clapper was best man.

A buffet luncheon was served by Mr. and Mrs. Clapper after which the happy young couple left for Hamilton. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Whitred will reside in Hastings.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. George Whitred and Mr. A. Thompson of Hastings.

Orono Tree Station Has Been Re-opened

ORONO, May 9. — An increased demand for seedlings and older trees for reforestation work being done in countless villages, towns and cities in Ontario has resulted in the complete reopening of the Provincial Forestry station here. Some 40 men are back at work and trees are being shipped regularly to many points.

Last fall the plant was virtually closed down, as the Department was not supplying trees for municipal projects, and only a skeleton staff was carried during the winter months.

Merchants in the village have been greatly cheered by the change in the policy of the Government, which assured a return to normal business conditions for at least the summer months.

Wave Lengths

Station	Metres	Kilocycles
CKNC Toronto	291	1030
CFCF Montreal ...	291	600
CRCO Ottawa	...	880
CFRB Toronto	434	690
CKAC Montreal ...	411	730
CRCT Toronto	312	960
CKCL Toronto	517	580
CKLW Windsor ...	555.6	540
CHNC Toronto	357	840
CKCO Ottawa	...	1010
KDKA Pittsburg ..	306	980
KMOX St Louis ..	275	1090
WABC New York ..	349	860
WTIC Hartford ..	282.8	1060
WGR Buffalo	545	550
WBBM Chicago ...	389	770
WBEN Buffalo	333	900
WEAF New York ..	454	660
WGY Schenectady.	379	790
WKBW Buffalo ...	302	1480
WJZ New York ...	394	760
WJR Detroit	400	750
WLW Cincinnati ..	428	700
WMAQ Chicago ...	447	670
WTAM Cleveland ..	280	1070

WEDNESDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

KEY TO CLASSIFICATION:

1—Dance. 2—Concert. 3—News. 4—Vocal. 5—Sport. 6—Comedy. 7—Drama. 8—Band. 9—Symphony. 10—Variety. 11—Instru. Trio. 12—Speaker. 13—Organ. 14—Children. 15—Miscellan.

(DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

5.00 P.M.
1—WJZ—Roy Shields' Orch.
4-1-CFRB—Jack Brooks and Orch.

5.30 P.M.
4—WJZ—Singing Lady.
14—WEAF—Frank Merriwll's Adventures.

5.45 P.M.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
4—WEAF—Arm Chair Quartette.
4—WABC—Gordon, Dave, Bunny.

6.00 P.M.
11—CRCT—Indian Serenader.
3—CFRB—Dick Steele.
1—WEAF—Waldorf Astoria Orch.
12—WABC—Buck Rogers.
4—WJZ—Westminster Choir.

6.15 P.M.
15—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.
13—CFRB—Mining Broadcaster.

6.30 P.M.
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports.
4—WJZ—Three X Sisters.
12—WEAF—To be announced.

6.45 P.M.
1—WKBW—Leon Belasco's Orch.
8—CRCT—Lowell Thomas.
4—CFRB—Croon-a-Tune Boys.
4—WEAF—Martha Meere.

7.00 P.M.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume
4—WABC—Vera Van.

7.15 P.M.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen.
15—WABC—Just Plain Bill.

7.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
3-14-CRCT—Canadian Press and Uncle Jerry (CRC).
4—WJZ—Yvette Rugel.
11—WABC—Music on the Air
10—WEAF—Shirley Howard and The Jesters.

7.45 P.M.
6—WBEN—The Goldbergs.
4—WJZ—Irene Rich.
3—WABC—Boake Carter.

8.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Royal Gelatine Program.
12—CKNC—Crimes Adventure.
3—CFRB—Frontpage Headlines.
6—WEAF—The Baron Munchausen
7—WJZ—Crime Clues
4—WABC—Phil Duey.

8.15 P.M.
10—CFRB—Easy Aces.

8.30 P.M.
10—CRCT—Fundy Fantasy (CRC).
11—CFRB—Broadway Melodies.
4—WJZ—Carlos Gerdal.
1—WEAF—Wayne King's Orch.

8.45 P.M.
5—CRCT—Babe Ruth

9.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—The Serenaders (CRC)
5—CFRB—Wes McKnight Sportviews
10—WABC—Andre Kostelanetz Orch.
10—WEAF—The Hour of Smiles.
11—WJZ—Raymond Knight and the Cuckoos.

9.30 P.M.
6—WABC—Burns and Allen with Lombardo's Orch.
11—CRCT—Rainbow Rhythms (CRC).
1—WJZ—To be announced.
10—CFRB—Musical Highway.

10.00 P.M.
1—CFRB—Cafe Continental.
1—WJZ—Vincent Lopez' Orch. Three Soamps.
10—WBEN—Corn Cob Club.
10—CRCT—One Hour With You.
7—WABC—Dramatic Guild.

10.30 P.M.
3-10-CFRB—News and Pompeian Program
11—WABC—Albert Spalding.
1—WJZ—Jack Denny's Orch.

11.00 P.M.
11—WJZ—Picken Sisters.
4—WABC—Nick Lucas.

11.15 P.M.
1—CFRB—Little Jack Little's Orch.
10—CRCT—Raymond Knight and His Cuckoos.
4—WJZ—John Fogarty.

11.30 P.M.
1—CFRB—Luigi Romanelli's Orch.
4—WJZ—Jules Stein's Orch.
1—WEAF—Reggie Childs' Orch.

12 MIDNIGHT.
1—WJZ—Emil Coleman's Orch.
1—WABC—Red Nichol's Orch.
1—WEAF—Frankie Masters' Orch.

6.15 P.M.
13—CFRB—The Morning Broadcaster
6—WABC—Bobby Benson and Sunny Jim.

6.30 P.M.
12—WEAF—Kirbery Page.
3—CRCT—Beckett Reports.
12—WJZ—John B. Kennedy.
4—WABC—Tito Guizar.

6.15 P.M.
10—CFRB—Croon-a-Tune Boys.
3—CRCT—Lowell Thomas
4—WEAF—Mary Small.

7.00 P.M.
12—CFRB—O Henry Readings.
4—WABC—Sylvia Troos.
5—WEAF—Baseball Resume.
6—CRCT—Amos 'n' Andy

7.15 P.M.
4—WJZ—Helen Jepson.
6—WEAF—Gene and Glen.
6—WABC—Just Plain Bill.

7.30 P.M.
7—WABC—Thelma Goodwin.
3-11-CRCT—News and Musicale (CRC).
4—WEAF—Shirley Howard and the Jesters.
1—CFRB—Ferde Mowry's Orch
10—WJZ—Romantic Melodies

7.45 P.M.
6—WBEN—The Goldbergs WEAF).
3—WABC—Boake Carter.

8.00 P.M.
1—CRCT—Rudy Vallee's Orch
12—WJZ—Arrival of Zephry in Chicago.
11—CKCL—Banjo Trio

8.15 P.M.
4—CFRB—Easy Aces (CBS).
6—WJZ—Grits and Gravy.

8.30 P.M.
11—CRCM—Three Plus Three.
4—WJZ—Jack and Loretto.
10—WABC—Voice of America.

9.00 P.M.
1—WJZ—Death Valley
10—CRCT—Under Bridges of Paris (CRC).
10—WABC—Presenting Mark Warnow.
10—WEAF—Captain Henry's Showboat.

9.30 P.M.
12—CRCT—Talk on Fishing
10—CFRB—Nelson Hour.
1—WJZ—Eddie Duchin's Orch
1—WABC—Fred Waring's Orch

10.00 P.M.
15—WJZ—Parade of Provinces—CKNC
4-1-CRCT—Deems Taylor and Paul Whiteman's Orch.
1—WABC—Glen Gray's Orch
1—CFRB—Duart McLean's Orch.

10.30 P.M.
3-13-CFRB—News and Ann Leaf (CBS).
15—WJZ—NBC Composers.
10—WABC—Doris Loraine and Cadets Quartette.

10.45 P.M.
12—CFRB—James Thurber (CBS).

11.00 P.M.
4—WABC—Vera Van
10—WEAF—Fur Trappers.
4—CRCT—Ukrainian Choir.
4—WJZ—The Cavaliers, male quartette
8—CFRB—News.

11.15 P.M.
1—CFRB—Isham Jones' Orch
4—WEAF—Katheryn Newman.
4—WJZ—Poet Prince.

11.30 P.M.
3-1-CRCT—News and Billy Bissett's Or.

12 MIDNIGHT.
4—WEAF—Ralph Kirbery
1—WJZ—Don Bestor's Orch.

Business Women . . . Homemakers . . .
Sports Women . . . Debutantes . . .
They All Come to the
C.D.S. for HOSIERY

And the reason isn't hard to find! All that is new, smart and worth-while in hosiery is quickly introduced in our Branded Lines. STYLE is a paramount factor. QUALITY is guarded jealously. And as for VALUE—that's where the C.D.S. Hosiery Department is really outstanding. You'll go far and seek wide to find better everyday regular values than Braemore and Eatonia. Join the throngs who ask for them regularly by name.

BRAEMORE 85¢

Well named the "budget" Stocking. Always the new shades, reliable quality, and moderate in price.
CHIFFON—Exquisitely ringless, individually wrapped in transparent packets . . . real silk to top with foot reinforcements.
SERVICE WEIGHT—The popular medium weight . . . real silk with top and foot of Durene cotton selected for its durability and appearance after washing.

Eatonia $1.00

Has wide acceptance among women who know quality, value and good looks in Stockings.
CHIFFON—Exquisitely sheer, with no objectionable rings or shadows to mar their loveliness. Silk from toe to top!
SERVICE WEIGHT — A 10-strand service weight whose good looks combine a remarkable capacity for wear. They are acknowledged value-leaders at their regular price.

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

THURSDAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

12 NOON.
3—WABC—Voice of Experience.
11—WEAF—Piano Recital.
4—WJZ—Songfellow Male Quartette.

12.15 P.M.
4—WABC—Conny Gates.
10—CRCT—The Sizzlers.

2.00 P.M.
13—CFRB—Ann Leaf (CBS).

2.30 P.M.
11—WEAF—Trio Romantique.
15—CFRB—Poetic Strings.
10—WJZ—Smack Out.

3.00 P.M.
11—WEAF—Royal Gipsy.
10—CFRB—Metropolitan Parade.

4.00 P.M.
15—WJZ—Betty and Bob.
15—CFRB—Curtis Institute of Music.
13—CRCT—John Winters.

4.45 P.M.
1—WABC—Columbia Salon Orch.
14—WEAF—Lady Next Door.

5.00 P.M.
8—WABC—On the Air To-night.
1—CRCT—Meredith Willson's Orch.
1—CFRB—George Hall and Orch (CBS).

5.15 P.M.
14—WJZ—Orphan Annie.
11—WJZ—Max Dolin, violinist

5.30 P.M.
14—CRCT—Winnie the Pooh.
14—WJZ—Singing Lady.

5.45 P.M.
15—WABC—Stamp Adventures Club
10—WEAF—Echoes of Erin.

6.00 P.M.
10—CRCT—Indian Serenader.
—CFRB—Dick Steele.
11—WJZ—Himber's Ensemble.
12—WABC—Buck Rogers

SHREDDED WHEAT HAS FINE RECORD

Billionth Canadian Sales Message Will Appear This Month.

Advertising message No. 1,000,000,000 for "Shredded Wheat" in Canada will appear this month. Records kept by The Canadian Shredded Wheat Company, Ltd. show that, through the consistent use of newspaper and magazine advertising during the past 36 years, this staggering total of sales messages will be reached. Naturally, the consumption of "Shredded Wheat" in Canadian homes has enjoyed a phenomenal increase during these years.

No amount of advertising could have put "Shredded Wheat" where is stands to-day in its popularity with Canadians, if the product itself were not of sterling quality. Being made from "number one" Canadian wheat, with nothing added and nothing taken away, it conforms to the medical advocacy of whole wheat as the ideal diet when served with milk or cream. Preserves or fresh fruit in season are an additional delight. Hot or cold, summer or winter, it is equally enjoyable and nutritious.

And "Shredded Wheat" is made in Canada, by Canadians of Canadian wheat in the wonderful modern plant at Niagara Falls, Canada.

School Results

S.S. No. 8, BELMONT

The following is the report for April:

(Numbers denote percentages).

Sr. IV—Muriel Menzies 67, Roy Pollock 63, Clarence Pollock 60.

Sr. III—Clarence Gratton 58.

Jr. III—Trevor Gratton 63, Everett Gratton 54.

II—Mae McArthur 87, Gerald Wrightly 86, Claude McArthur 47.

Sr. I—Donald Newton 86, Orville Quackenbush 74, Muriel Ellis 70, Earl Gratton 45.

Jr. I—Roy Keating 89, Murray Menzies 76, Harry Newton 61.

Pr. —Reta Gratton 85, Florence Gratton 81, Melvin Menzies 80, Maurice Newton 70, Donald McArthur 69.

Teacher—H. M. Buchanan.

TOT BADLY SCALDED

TORONTO — Terribly scalded when he pulled a pot of boiling water off the stove in his home, five-year-old Albert Catton, Scarboro Junction, is in hospital here with little hope held for his recov-

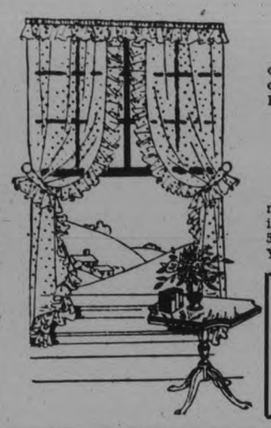
CLEANSE your Kidneys
—as well as your house

Just as your household may need Spring cleaning, so your kidneys need similar attention. Winter takes toll of your energy—Spring usually finds you with weakened and impure blood. Healthy kidneys filter the impurities out of your blood—that is their normal function. If they fail, poisons gather and illness follows. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best Spring tonic. They restore the kidneys to normal action. Your system is cleansed and invigorated by a full supply of pure, rich blood. Don't neglect your kidneys. 44

Dodd's Kidney Pills

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

Thursday Feature in Summer
CURTAINS and DRAPES



A Quaint Cottage Set
A bright and lovely Curtain Set for the cottage or home. Of good quality cream scrim with dainty dotted design in colors gold and green. Length 2¼ yards. Set 1.29

Figured Monk's Cloth
A new and very serviceable material for drapes or coverings. Comes in bright designs; 50 inches wide. Yard..... 1.25

Sundour Repps
Ideal material for sunrooms and sunny windows. Also suitable for coverings. Rust, rose, blue, green and yellow. 48 inches wide Yard 98c
—2nd Floor, C.D.S.

Striped Awning Material
Give your home the cheery Summer touch with colorful awnings and verandah curtains. Heavy Painted Awning Duck in smart color combinations. A wide selection. Yard, 29c 39c 49c
—2nd Floor, C.D.S

Bleached Cotton Sheets
Now's the time to buy a season's supply. Good quality Bleached Sheets of firm, evenly woven cotton that launders well and gives good long service. Plain hemmed.
Size 68 x 86 inches, each..... 95c
Size 78 x 86 inches, each..... 1.10

Eatonia Pillow Cases
Better quality Hemstitched Cases at a moderate price. Launder beautifully and give lasting wear. Eatonia value, pair..... 69c

Hemstitched Pillow Cases
Very satisfactory, medium weight White Cotton Pillow Cases with hemstitched hems. Size 42 x 33 inches. Pair..... 45c
—Main Floor, C.D.S.

SPECIAL!
MEN'S AND BOYS'
Balbriggan Combinations
Men's button front style, in short sleeve, ankle length and short sleeve, knee length. Boys' in button or buttonless style, knee length.
Men's sizes, 36 to 42, pair..... 59c
Boys' sizes, 24 to 34, pair..... 39c
—Main Floor, C.D.S

Polish Floors Without Rubbing
Per quart.... 89c Quart Can with Applier..... 1.59
Just apply Old English No-Rubbing Floor Polish to any floor or linoleum and watch it dry to a shine in about 15 minutes—no rubbing or polishing necessary. Lasts a long time.
—Basement, C.D.S.

IN THE C.D.S. GROCETERIA

Shoulder LAMB CHOPS..lb.	16c	Choice WING STEAK..lb.	20c	CUBAN PINEAPPLES
Butt PORK CHOPS..lb.	17c	Blade ROAST.....lb.	12c	Small .....2 for 35c
				Medium 22c

THE CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES LIMITED

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

A decline in potato prices was the lone price movement on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

Quebec potatoes per 80-pound bag eased 5c at 85 to 90 cents, while New Brunswick Mountains per 80-pound bag were off the same amount at 90 to 95 cents. Prince Edward Island Mountains were $1.10 to $1.20 per 90-pound bag.

Fresh No. 1 butter was unchanged at 19¼c to 19½c a pound, and prints 22 cents a pound. Receipts were 172 boxes.

Ontario cheese sold at 9¾c a pound and arrivals totalled 1,306 boxes.

Egg receipts were also heavy, 5,075 cases arriving. Graded shipments in carlots or less were firm at 19c to 19½c for A-large, 18c to 18½c for A-medium, 17c to 17½c for B and 15½c a dozen for C. Western eggs selling ¼c above the maximum of the general prices.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Kiting upward almost 3 cents a bushel in flurried buying late yesterday, the wheat market responded briskly to reports of prospective nationalization of silver in the United States.

Washington advices telling of developments in regard of President Roosevelts silver policy were construed as decidedly stimulating as to wheat values. The new soaring of wheat was from earlier low-price levels that were associated with indications of moisture relief Northwest and West. Subsequent official reports, however, showed rainfalls were insufficient to be of any material assistance to wheat crops.

Wheat closed strong at nearly the days maximum figures, 1¼c to 1⅝c above Monday's finish; corn ⅝c off to ¼c up; oats unchanged to ½c higher; and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 9. — In the most vigorous rally since October 23, 1933, wheat prices spurted upward for net gains of 3c on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday.

Bulls watched ahe Weatherman hoarding rainfall needed badly over the great wheat belt of North American and important wheat sections of Central Europe, and plunged into the market on the buying side.

Mounting to the day's top levels near the close, May ended at 69¼c. July options finished at 70½c, and October at 71⅞c.

Bullish enthusiasm already fed by weather conditions, was fanned by report purchases of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat. This support was supplemented by liberal purchases from New York for Eastern interests, and further accumulation of Winnipeg futures for foreign account. An appreciable volume of wheat was distributed during the day.

Cash grains offering were again light, and sales were limited to odd small lots. All coarse grains advanced to score substantial gains.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev Close
May	67⅛	69¼	67	69⅛	66⅛
July	67¾	70¼	67¾	70⅛	67⅛
Oct.	69¾	71⅞	69¾	71⅞	68⅛
Oats—
May	33¼	34⅛	33	34¼	32⅝
July	34⅛	35⅝	34	35⅝	33⅝
Oct.	35	35⅝	34½	35¼	34¼

Delegates Chosen By Marmora Tories

(xaminer Correspondence.)

MARMORA, May 9.—A meeting of Marmora Township Liberal Conservative Association, was held at the Royal Hotel on Monday evening under the chairmanship of the president, Lindsay . Neal.

The main business was the appointment of delegates to the convention, which is being held on May 11th. In addition to the president the following were elected delegates, Robert Bonter, Chas. Jones, W. D. Nickle, W. H. Derry, Charles Kelly, Bert Inkster, W. P. Pack, John Bonter and Irwin McCoy.

Proxies elected were: John Downard, James Downard, G. Fox, O. J. Leonard, Karl Jarvis, H. Clemenger, Alex. Gawley, Ray Bonter, T Nobes, William McCoy.

Soldier Grateful "TO MECCA" Had Rash on Leg
Tried 17 Various Salves and Ointments

Mr. Joseph Miller of Alberta, who was a soldier in the Boer War, writes: "For years past I have had an almost incurable RASH on both legs. I tried 17 different salves and ointments and incurred unlimited expense in doing so. By chance I tried Mecca, and this I know—that my rash is gone, thanks to Mecca."

"Mecca" ointment has brought relief and healing to sufferers from all kinds of skin ailments. Keep a tin of "Mecca" handy in your home.

Sold by all Druggists—25c, 35c (Tube), 80c and $1.00.

Advertise in The Examiner

BALLYDUFF CHURCH HAS ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Dr. Kannawan, of Toronto, Preaches Inspiring Sermons.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LIFFORD LINE, May 9. — The Ballyduff Presbyterian church, held special Sunday school anniversary services afternoon and evening on Sunday, May 6th, with Rev. Dr. Kannawan of Toronto, who is the head of all Young Peoples Societies of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, as special speaker for the annual occasion.

Dr. Kannawan conducted a special morning service at the Janetville Presbyterian church and was greeted at both appointments with hearty appreciation having won many warm friends on his former visits to this particular church circuit.

A special feature of the afternoon service was the ordination of a new elder of the church in the person of Mr. Henry Ward.

The scheme of all services was "Mothers Day," which was observed a Sunday in advance in order to secure the special speaker who is responsible for the preparation of the order of service leaflets.

The choir, assisted by the male quartette from Bethany, including Messrs. J. J. Clarke, Harry Preston, C. White and Edward Bray, rendered special music. The quartette rendered three numbers at each service, a particularly popular contribution being "My Mother's Prayer." Solo parts in the anthems rendered by the choir were taken by Mr. J. J. Clarke. Miss Viola Gray was the capable organist with Ralph Preston playing the bass horn and Ben Page the cornet.

Rev. Walker, pastor of the church was present and introduced the speaker in a few well chosen words.

A very creditable special offering was received which will be applied to furnishing supplies for carrying on the general work of the Sunday school.

At a meeting of the Ladies Aid of the church during the week it was decided to hold the annual strawberry festival on June 27th, at the church. It is hoped that a good play will be procurable from some sister church for the program for that occasion.

To stimulate the declining consumption of tobacco in Poland, the government tobacco monopoly has caused the removal of "No smoking" signs in public places and street cars.

GUNMEN ABDUCT LOS ANGELES OIL MAN, MIDNIGHT PARTY

PROBABILITIES.
Strong west to northwest winds or moderate gales; fair and comparatively cool to-night and Friday.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXII., No. 110 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1934 — PRICE THREE CENTS

TWO MEN DIE IN CRASH NEAR NAPANEE

Lancaster Conservative Candidate

COUNTY MEMBER IS THE CHOICE OF CONVENTION

Havelock Editor is Unanimous Choice of Conservatives in Combined Ridings.

FIVE OTHERS NAMED.

Every Section of Riding Represented in Capacity Audience in Legion Hall.

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., Havelock, received the unanimous nomination of the Conservatives of the new Peterborough riding, combining the city and county, at their convention in the Canadian Legion Hall this afternoon.

Mr. Lancaster was proposed on three of the nomination papers that were signed and handed to the secretary during the period assigned by Colonel Birdsall for this preliminary of the conventions business.

His sponsors were Vincent Christie and Lt. Col. F. E. Birdsall; by A. E. Stephens and William Hicks and by J. F. Strickland and S. T Millburn.

Others proposed were Reeve Richard Sanderson of Havelock; ex-Warden W. H. Montgomery Norwood; W. H. Bradburn, ex-M.P.P.; Dr. J. R. Fraser, Lakefield; and J. F. Strickland, retiring member of the Legislature for the former city constituency.

Colonel R. E. Birdsall of Asphodel, president of the Peterborough Conservative Association, was chairman of the convention, and in the absence of John R. Corkery, who was engaged in court work, Douglas Lawre was appointed acting secretary for the meeting.

Every section of the riding was represented in the capacity crowd, more than one-third of whom were women, that overflowed into the halls. The townships sent large delegations, some coming from both the extreme northwest and west corners of the county. Reeve Austin Jackson of Kinmount was among the delegates from Galway township. Havelock, Norwood and Lakefield were also largely represented.

The expected presence of Premier George S. Henry accounted appreciably for the large attendance, the actual nomiation having been anticipated for several weeks since the announced retirement of

(Continued on Page Five.)

Addresses Big Conservative Rally

HON. GEORGE S. HENRY
Premier of Ontario, who addressed the Liberal-Conservative Convention in the Legion Hall this afternoon.

A Jinx Color?

PITTSBURGH, May 10.—(C. P.)—Green automobiles are taboo, so far as Dr. S. F. Balcerzak of Carnegie Tech is concerned, for three reasons.

1. His first car, a green one, was destroyed in a garage fire.
2. His second one, a green one, ran over an embankment when the steering gear locked, landing in a junk yard
3. His third car, a green one, was stolen, recovered in damaged condition, repaired, and wrecked 10 days later in a collision.

QUEBEC GROWER PRESENTS CASE TO COMMITTEE

Establishment of Top-price for Minimum Grades of Tobacco Recommended

SIGNING OF PETITIONS.

Witness Claims Imperial Company Tried to Run Him Out of Business.

OTTAWA, May 10. —(CP)— Establishment of a top-price for minimum grades of tobacco together with a policy which would require growers to raise only certain types of leaf were advocated as a means for improving the tobacco growing industry by Joseph Marion, Mayor of St. Jacques L'Achigan, Que., before the Stevens mass buying committee here today. Mr. Marion, who is both a grower and a trader, gave his evidence in French with one of the official translators of the House of Commons acting as interpreter.

Signed Both Petitions

He told of petitions circulated throughout the counties of L'Assomption Montcalm and Berthier, by the large tobacco companies favoring the imposition of a 20 cent excise tax on leaf tobacco sold to others than manufacturers. Ten cents a name was paid for signatures. At the same time another petition opposing this tax was circulated, and said Mr. Maron "95 percent of those who signed the first petition also signed the second one!"

The effect of such a tax would

(Continuen on Page Five.)

CAR HITS TRUCK IN BLINDING RAIN OF WILD STORM

Two Girls and Third Youth Are Rushed to Kingston Hospital.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

Transport Driver Escapes Injury, Summons Aid—Inquest Called.

NAPANEE, Ont., May 10. — (CP) — A midnight auto drive ended in tragedy for a party of six young men and women when their light touring car crashed into a heavy transport near Odessa during the height of a violent electrical and wind storm.

Two youths in the car, Jack McGibbon, 27, driver, and Vincent Kilgannon, 28, of Odessa, were killed instantly. Two girls and a third youth were injured seriously and were rushed to hospital in Kingston where their condition was described as critical.

The injured are: Oscar Heath, Thelma Aylesworth and Lewis Powley, all of Odessa, and Vivian Clark of Moscow. Powley was not seriously injured. The transport driver, Eric Ricketts of Belleville, escaped unhurt.

The party of Odessa youths was returning from Kingston via Highway No. 2 when a storm broke, enveloping the highway in pitch darkness and blocking the road in sheets of heavy rain, beaten with a driving gale.

Car Made of Wreckage

Two-and-a-half miles from Odessa the touring auto and the transport collided violently, the smaller vehicle being shattered in a mass of twisted wreckage. When picked up McGibbon, a teller at the Odessa branch of the Royal Bank, and Kilgannon, were dead. The others were suffering severe wounds.

Ricketts managed to get in touch with authorities in Kingston and Constables were sent to investigate. The injured and dead were removed to Kingston.

The transport machine was damaged only slightly.

The two machines collided almost head-on. The touring car plowed into the side of the truck and was completely demolished. Both machines were taken to Odessa.

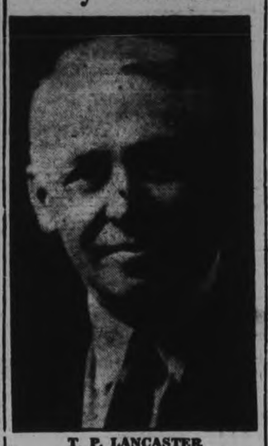
According to police, all occupants of the wrecked auto were thrown out onto the road, two meeting instant death from skull fractures and other severe injuries.

Injured Trio Improve.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 10 (C.P.). —Two young women and a youth, injured in an automobile-truck collision which killed two members of their party, were reported progressing favorably at hospital today. One of the girls, Vivian Clark, will be removed to her home and Thelma Aylesworth and Oscar Heath will probably be discharged to-morrow.

The parents of McGibbon arrived at Odessa to-day and arranged to take their son's body to Port Hope, where the funeral will take place The Kilgannon funeral will be held at Odessa.

Tory Candidate



T. P. LANCASTER
energetic member for Peterborough County, who was unanimous choice of the Liberal-Conservative Convention as party standard bearer in the coming provincial elections for the united ridings of Peterborough City and County.

RICH OIL MAN IS KIDNAPPED DURING PARTY

Two Masked Gunmen Nab W. F. Gettle at Pool After Midnight Swim.

NEAR LOS ANGELES.

Companion Left Tied to Tree, Prisoner Dragged Over Wall to Car.

LOS ANGELES, May 10 (A.P.).—Two masked men brandishing pistols snatched William F. Gettle, 47, wealthy oil man, from his newly purchased estate in the Foothills district of Arcadia at a midnight party, declaring "this is a kidnapping."

James Wolfe, a Westwood furniture dealer, was left bound and gagged and strapped to a tree on the estate. His wife freed him.

Gettle was abducted after a party of 10 entertained at the estate by Mr. and Mrs. Gettle, who are residents of Beverly Hills, had left a swimming pool.

Eight members of the party entered the house, while Gettle and Wolfe stopped in a small summer house to pull on trousers and shirts over their swimming suits. As they bent over they were startled by a voice, which exclaimed: "Stick 'em up and be quick about it."

Look Into Gun Muzzles.

They glanced up into the faces of two men and the muzzles of two pistols. Wolfe attempted to remonstrate but the men cut him short.

"No soft stuff," one snarled. "We're here for business. This is a kidnapping."

Working quickly, the two men bound and gagged Settle and Wolfe, marched them outside the small house and stopped beside a tree. Lashing Wolfe to the tree, they hurried Gettle to an eight-foot wall, pulled him up and over it and sped away down a rear driveway.

$50,000 IN PULP SWEPT BY FIRE AT HANTSPORT

Paper Company Office is in Flames and Mill Threatened.

FISHERMEN LEND AID.

Outside Assistance Asked — Fear Change in Wind May Raze Town.

HANTSPORT, N.Y., May 10. — (CP).—Fire raging through $50,000 worth of pulpwood threatened the mill of the Minas Pulp and Paper Company to-day.

The office and adjoining building were burning and the mill was directly in the path of the flames.

Rangers directing hundreds of volunteers expressed fears a shifting wind might threaten the entire township of Hantsport.

Detachments from Windsor and Kentville departments were on the scene ,assistant plant workers and volunteer firemen and farmers.

A group of men from the mill ventured into the danger zone and carried out several boxes of dynamite and dynamite caps which had been causing anxiety.

They were red-eyed and almost overcome by smoke when they emerged, but recovered quickly and rejoined the forces battling the flames.

Wharf Blazing

Piles of pulp on the wharf awaiting shipment on a freighter lying in the stream were blazing and there appeared to be little chance of saving any of the company's big stock.

R. A. Joudrey, manager, estimated that the sock wtas worh about $50,000.

The fire spread from the mill burner—a huge pile of sawdust being disposed of by fire.

Yesterday a fire marchal visited the plant and decided to apply for a permit to dynamite the pile into the harbor. Las night the fire increased and about nine o'clock this morning began spreading.

It had reached alarming proportions before noon, and calls for as-

(Please turn to Page 5)

SECOND ESCAPE FOR DOLLFUSS

High Explosive Bomb Found at Airport Before Chancellor Arrives.

VISITING SALZBURG.

SALZBURG, Austria, May 10.—(A.P.).—Chancellor Dollfuss again narrowly escaped death to-day when authorities found a high explosive bomb at the airport station here shortly before he arrived from Vienna for a patriotic front meeting.

The infernal machine contained 11 pounds of ekrasite and was equipped with clockwork.

However, the little Chancellor appeared unperturbed by the discovery.

He and Prince Ernst von Starmhemberg, the handsome Vice-Chancellor and head of the Fascist Heimwehr, were showered with flowers.

The two leaders were almost mobbed by buxom peasant girls who swarmed arcund them, repeatedly holding up their procession through the streets of Salzburg.

It was the first joint appearance of the two men as leaders of a patriotic front demonstration.

Forest fires recently have been threatening many villages in Japan, and much valuable timber was destroyed.

REFUSE TO CUT INSULL'S BOND

Official Tells Judge $100,000,000 Involved in Mail Fraud Alone.

MAY BE APPEAL.

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—Samuel Insull to-day was refused a reduction of the $200,000 bond under which he is held prisoner in the Cook County Jail.

Judge William M. Sparks of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, said he felt the evidence did not entitle the 74-year-old defendant to any lowering of the bond which Insull's attorney, Floyd E. Thompson, asserted was the highest ever demanded a defendant in any United States Court.

Thompson had brought his plea before Judge Sparks in a petition for a habeas corpus writ. Insull remained in the county jail hospital, where he has rested since Judge John P. Barnes, Tuesday, fixed the bond on his charges of using the mails fraudulently and violating the Bankruptcy Act.

$100,000,000 Involved

Forest A. Harness, Special Assistant Attorney General, told Judge Sparks the United States Government would show that frauds involving $100,000,000 were committed in the mail fraud case, and that $2,000,000 was involved in the alleged mishandling of assets in anticipation of bankruptcy.

"The importance of these sums," Harness said, "entitles the Government to assurance that Insull will be on hand for his trials."

Judge Sparks concluded the hearing with he remark:

"I do not see how any one could refuse you a hearing, but I am going to deny your application."

Refused any aid from Judge Sparks, Thompson said that two courses remained open. He may appeal the habeas corpus proceedings to the Circuit Court of Appeals, since Judge Sparks was sitting to-day as a Judge of the District Court, or he may seek to raise more funds.

Samuel Jr., left the court at the close of the hearing to tell his father of the adverse decision.

Trout Fishing

ORILLIA, Ont., May 10 (CP) —Major Clark Wallace tells the prize fish story so far this season. He was fishing in a trout stream and hooked a nice one, but his line broke. However, he went on fishing with what remained of the line, and afterwards he let his punt drop down stream about 50 yards, when he saw his fish tied up by his line to the submerged branch of a tree. He pulled up the branch, got his fingers in the trout's gills and landed him. It weighed three quarters of a pound.

ASK QUICK TRIAL FOR MACTEMPLE

Movement Under Way to Have Special Assizes Called in June.

40 HOUR HUNT COSTLY.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 10 (C.P.) —A movement was started to-day to have Attorney-General William H. Price recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council that a special assizes court be called in June to try Frank Mactemple, accused of the murder of Constable Colin C. McGregor.

No regular sittings of the Supreme Court will be held until September or October. Meanwhile Mactemple will be held in Elgin County Jail, from which he escaped some years ago while held on a theft charge. Cost of the 40-hour hunt for Mactemple was expected to run into several hundred dollars.

Chief of Police William Ketchabaw to-day advanced the theory that Constable Colin C. McGregor was disarmed when he went to the rear door of the old tenement house at 17 Queen Street, last Monday morning, and that both he and Sergt. Sam McKeown literally walked into a trap.

The revolver, which Sergeant McKeown tells of knocking from the hand of Fred Temple, wounded son of Frank Temple, is said to have been identified as the gun Constable McGregor was carrying. At the hospital, it was found that Constable McGregor's revolver holster was empty. Chief Ketchabaw's theory is that Constable McGregor went to the rear door of the house and knocked and was taken by surprise and disarmed.

FIVE STUDENTS ARRESTED

DACCA, India, May 10 (CP-Havas).—Five students were arrested here to-day in connection with the unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Sir John Anderson, Governor of Bengal

JAPS MAY ISSUE FRESH WARNING

Cannot Countenance League Plans to Aid China Financially.

MONEY FOR ROADS, FARMS.

TOKYO, May 10.—(A P)—Japan today gave advance notice of a probable warning to both China and the League of Nations as to "the advisability of suspension" of Dr. Ludwig Rajchman's plans for financial aid to China by the League.

An "inspired" statement by the Rengo (Japanese) News Agency declared that "Japan cannot countenance" such plans.

The warning was regarded as a step toward effecting the 'hands-off-China' policy which Koki Hirota, Japanese foreign minister, enunciated April 17 and which resulted in immediate diplomatic inquiries in Tokyo by the governments of Great Britain, the United States and France.

Regarding Mr. Rajchman's report which suggests financial assistance to China toward the construction of highways and improved farming facilities, the Rengo statement says the Japanese may take measures to 'cope with the situation likely to arise."

A lifeboat recently made a voyage of 500 miles from Cornwall, England, to its new station at Port Askaig, Scotland.

German Envoy Seeks British Arms Views

LONDON, May 10 (AP).—General Joachim von Ribbentrop, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's personal investigator and negotiator on arms questions, came to London to-day to learn British views on disarmament.

He arranged for interviews with Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal.

There was an air of mystery at the German Embassy as the entire staff conferred with the general before he went to the Foreign Office.

It was authoritatively stated that Ribbentrop's sudden visit was caused by German fears of sharp action by the League of Nations against German rearmament.

It was understood that Ribbentrop seeks to obtain a British promise that England will not support league action against Germany.

Commercial Department Collegiate Ranks First In 77 Schools Tested By Dr. Bennett

In an effort to determine the standing in Rapid Calculation in the High Schools of Commerce and Commercial Department throughout the province, Dr. W. G. Bennet of the Ontario College of Education, University of Toronto, last June conducted a survey on the subject. This survey took the form of an examination which was to be given the students under certain prescribed conditions. The object was to discover to what degree of accuracy the students preparing for office positions could perform the simpler operations of mathematics rapidly. The examination was divided into two parts; part one being speed tests in addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division; and part two being problems involving these operations, such, for example, as calculating an invoice or a payroll.

The results of the survey, which have been recently announced, show that of 77 schools co-operating, the Commercial Department of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School ranked first in both parts one and two. In part one Peterborough Commercial Department averaged 92 per cent., while the average in the province was 78 per cent. In part two, Peterborough averaged 70 per cent, while that throughout the province was 41 per cent. Combining the two, Peterborough averaged 81 per cent as against an average of 60 per cent. throughout the province.

Lindsay Commercial Department won second place in part two, and tied with Collingwood for second place in part one.

The teachers of the Peterborough pupils were Miss M. Craig, B.A., and Miss M. OConnell, B.A.

CAVAN FARMER LOST HIS BARN

Lightning During Wednesday Night's Storm Struck Barn of David White.

HORSES SAVED.

CAVAN, May 10 (Examiner Correspondence).—Struck by lightning during the most severe part of the electrical storm that swept over this district last night, the big barn of David White, 9th Line of Cavan Township, burst into flames and was razed to the ground.

Mr. White was able to remove his horses and calves from the blazing structure, but all else, including 150 bushels of wheat, a quantity of oats and farm implements, was destroyed. The stock had not been left in the barn last night.

It was 11.30 when lightning struck the barn. No estimate was placed on the loss to-day, although it was partly covered by insurance.

The Weather

TORONTO, May 10 (CP)—The depression which was over Manitoba and the Northwest States yesterday has moved northeastward to James Bay with increasing intensity, causing light showers in Eastern Manitoba and in some sections of Ontario and Western Quebec. Pressure is high over the western half of the continent and off the Atlantic coast, and fair weather has prevailed in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Georgian Bay.—Strong west to northwest winds or moderate gales; fair and comparatively cool to-night and Friday.

Northern Ontario.—Strong west to northwest winds; partly cloudy with scattered showers. Friday—Strong west to northwest winds; mostly fair and rather cool.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley.—Strong southwest to west winds; partly cloudy and probably a few scattered showers. Friday — Fresh to strong west to northwest winds; mostly fair and somewhat cooler.

Rare Disease Kills Belleville Woman

BELLEVILLE, Ont., May 10 (CP) A rare disease which causes the tongue to turn purple and swell to abnormal proportions ,was recorded here to-day with the admittance of Mrs. Melvin Mountney of Trenton to Hospital. Four of the city's leading doctors were called in but she died. One doctor said the woman was probably suffering from ludwig angina. Mrs. Mountney was 20 years old.

Ludgig Angina?

TORONTO, May 10. (CP)—Dr. M. M. Crawford to-day expressed the opinion that a woman who died in Belleville from a disease with peculiar symptoms, was suffering from ludwig angina. "The affliction is a disease of the neck glands, which, a few hours after it sets in, ends in strangulation," he said. "It is regarded as a rare disease."

Charge Is Laid For Gaffing Fish

A charge was this morning laid by Inspector Fred Marshall, county game warden, against a resident of the city who was recently caught gaffing fish at the Locks Bridge.

Gaffing or snagging of fish which has been allowed in the past is now prohibited in Peterborough County, the Inspector wishes to urge, and prosecutions will follow upon breaches of the regulation.

Inspector Marshall told The Examined that he had laid the information only after having issued several warnings which had not however been effective.

Bombshell Thrown In Tobacco Probe

OTTAWA, May 10 (C.P.)—Walter M. Stewart, of Montreal, president of the Macdonald Tobacco Company, threw a bombshell in the proceedings of the mass buying committee to-day. He wanted to call three members of the Government, whom he did not name, claiming his questions would concern the "buying of the Government."

York M.P.P. Named Tollgate Guardian

H. PRICE AGENT FOR DISTILLERY SAYS HEPBURN

Agency Turned Over to Brother—One Day's Business $15,000.

DENIAL FROM HARRY.

Henry Promises Probe if Sufficient Evidence is Produced.

TORONTO, May 10 (C.P.)—Political interest in Ontario to-day centred around the Ontario Liquor Commission as Premier George S. Henry and Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, threw charges and challenges back and forth regarding the Commission's operations.

One of the most hectic stages of Ontario's general election campaign was reached last night when six Conservatives and two Liberal candidates were placed in the field and Mr. Hepburn renewed his "toll gate" charges regarding the Liquor Commission. Premier Henry replied with a challenge for him to produce his evidence and the Government Leader promised an inquiry if the evidence proved sufficient.

The eight candidates nominated and their ridings were: Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health, Conservative candidate in Algoma-Manitoulin; William G. Willson, Conservative, Niagara Falls; J. Edgar Jamieson, Coiservative, Dufferin-Simcoe; A. F. Kenning, Conservative, South Cochrane; Thomas H. Bell, Conservative, Toronto Bellwoods; Coulter McLean, Conservative, Toronto Eglinton; Norman Wilks, Liberal, Toronto Beaches; and Dr. J. C. Bradley, Liberal, North Renfrew.

Mr. Hepburn at the North Renfrew Liberal Convention in Pembroke, charged that Harry Price, Conservatibe member for W. York, and his brother, Ray Price, Conservative candidate in the riding since his brother retired, held an agency for the sale of liquor to the Ontario Liquor Control Board. Mr. Hepburn charged Harry Price held the agency and then turned it over to his brother.

Mr. Hepburn, however, thought the agency might be turned over to another party at the present. He claimed $15,000 was one day's return for the agency.

Charges "Bit Weak"

In Toronto Premier Henry considered the charges "still a bit weak." He added, however, if Mr. Hepburn produced evidence to back his allegations an inquiry would be ordered. He thought Mr. Hepburn should not hesitate in presenting the evidence and he criticized him for journeying "away down to Pembroke to make these charges."

In an address to the Eglington Conservative convention, Premier Henry challenged "anyone in this province to connect anybody associated with me in anyway, either as a cabinet minister or as a

(Continued on Page Three.)

CLASSIFIED ADS are as useful as the day is long.

Government Officials Attend Funeral of Mrs. Rhodes

The whole of Canada, Ottawa in particular, mourned the passing of Mrs. E. N. Rhodes, wife of Canada's finance minister. Mrs. Rhodes was laid to rest from Christ church, Ottawa, this week. The above photo was taken during the service. At LEFT is seen Prime Minister Bennett and Hon. Hugh Guthrie, while Hon. Sir George Perley can be seen at the RIGHT.

CLAIM TOBACCO COMPANY ACTED TO LOWER PRICE

Charge Orders Given to Imperial Firm Came From U. S.

BUYER SAYS MONTREAL.

Lea Denies Stating He Bought Crop From Boy for 14 Cents Pound.

OTTAWA, May 10 (C.P.).—Charges action was taken by the Imperial Company of Canada in 1931 to depress prices on instructions from the United States were levelled at officials of the company and indignantly denied as the Stevens committee on price spreads and mass buying continued its probe into the tobacco business.

The committee continues its inquiries to-day, determined to bring out all facts in connection with the sharp price drop which caused the "panic" of 1931 in the tobacco areas of Western Ontario.

Yesterday the committee questioned T. L. Lea, formerly a buyer in the United States, who came to Canada in 1931. Mr. Lea insisted the drop in price was due to instructions from Montreal and not from the United States.

Denies Statement.

After Mr. Lea had denied making statements in Tillsonburg Hotel to the effect he had bought tobacco for 14 cents a pound from a boy putting himself through college who had taken "his medicine like a man," the committee heard F. R. Gregory, his predecessor as chief buyer, say he remembered Mr. Lea speaking about the boy. Sylvester Robbins of New Toronto, also recalled hearing Mr. Lea make the statement. Mr. Lea said he might have made it but did not remember.

Gray Miller, president of the company, who had already been questioned for several days, attributed the lower prices to over-production and said the company had tried to induce the farmers to reduce their acreage.

The company controls 70 per cent. of the total tobacco trade of Canada. Mr. Miller told the committee. It controls 75 per cent. of the cigarette business, 66 per cent. of cut tobacco, 49 per cent. of plug tobacco, 97 per cent. of snuff, 91 per cent. of small cigars and 57 per cent. of cigars.

Gandhi Decides To Play Safe

CALCUTTA, India, May 10 (AP)—Not only has the Mahatma Gandhi decided to abjure all forms of modern travel, but he has called on Congressmen to consider seriously the advisability of co-operating with him in boycotting mechanical transportation.

Because "the terrific noise was fast driving me mad," the Mahatma said he can no longer use trains and motor cars. He will not consider a suggestion of aeroplane travel.

Recent attacks on him were also said to have been a factor in Gandhi's decision to complete his tour in behalf of the Indian Independence Movement on foot.

Bridgenorth

The regular W.C.T.U. election of officers was held on Monday, May 7th, at Fairview United church. A very interesting talk was given on Temperance by Miss Duff, Field Secreary of Ontario. Following this the election of officers took place, and resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. Gordon Mann; secretary, Mrs. Percy Udy; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Albert Armstrong; treasurer, Mrs. S. Hammond.

The meeting was closed with prayer, after which a dainty lunch was served by the Fairview ladies.

Mission Circle Meeting

The regular meeting of the Mission Circle of the Gilmour Baptist Church, was held on Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the church. The topic was on Home Missions which was ably taken by Mrs. Wright. Papers were read by Mrs. Wright and Lillian McGregor and Mrs. Harold Archer. Following the business of the meeting lunch was served by the ladies.

The members of the Y.P.B., of Gilmour church, put on their Temperance pageant in George street United Church on Thursday evening.

Miss Duff of Toronto is the guest of Mrs. Wright while addressing the school meetings in this district.

Clare Northey spent the week-end with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Northey of Smith.

STRIKE PARLEYS ON

FORT FRANCES, Ont., May 10.—(CP)—Conferences to settle the strike of 1,200 mill workers both here and at International Falls, Minn., were scheduled to begin here today.

The unions are seeking establishment of a uniform standard of wages, hours and working conditions. They have suggested a return to the 1932 wage scales plus an increase of 11.1 percent. A six-hour day also is sought.

Barnum Motto

KANSAS CITY, May 10 (CP) The motto of the Barnum family is: "Stay away from the hills on July 1."

Brig. Gen. Henry A. Barnum, U.S.A., was shot in the left hip July 1, 1862, at the Battle of Malvern Hill in the Civil War.

His son, Maj. Gen. Malvern Hill Barnum, retired, of Boston, was shot in the right hip July 1, 1898, at the Battle of San Juan Hill.

NO PREFERENCE GIVEN BRITAIN

Irish Budget Places Her on Same Trading Basis as U.S., Japan, Germany.

NEED $35,000,000 LOAN.

By MICHAEL ROONEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, May 10.—(AP)—Great Britain will be on the same trading basis with the Irish Free State as are the United States, Japan, Germany and other nations under the new Irish budget.

A noteworthy feature of the annual budget, presented to the Dail Eireann yesterday by Finance Minister Sean McEntee, is the complete removal of all hitherto existing trade preferences to Great Britain affecting many classes of goods.

The Finance Minister painted an optimistic picture. He pointed out that the budget showed an estimated surplus of $6,776,000.

Nevertheless, McEntee announced that in order to meet estimated expenditures of about $140,000,000 in the coming year, it will be necessary to borrow about $35,000,000.

This borrowing formed virtually the only basis of criticism today Otherwise the budget was hailed with acclaim.

Morning newspapers generally welcomed the budget, save for opposition organs which—noting that the fresh borrowing will bring the total loans negotiated by the government in two years to approximately $50,000,000—voiced doubt as to the soundness of the Finance program.

MARKETING ACT AT STANDSTILL HOUSE DEBATE

Contemplated Gov't Amendments Will Come Up on Friday.

NO CLAUSE APPROVED.

Senate Committee Delays Bridge Bill Until Finances Probed.

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—Contemplated government amendments to the marketing bill involve no change in principle and will come before the House of Commons tomorrow. The measure which has been consistently opposed by the Liberals still stands in the committee stage without a single clause approved.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, yesterday said the amendments would be ready Friday and the attitude of the opposition when they are introduced will determine whether early progress will be made with the bill.

Both houses of parliament are adjourned today as it is Ascencion Thursday, a Quebec public holiday.

While the House of Commons concentrated on the Marketing Bill yesterday the Senate ranged over widely differing topics.

When the Thousand Islands bridge bill came up for third reading the question of the protection of purchasers of bonds in such enterprises occasioned discussions. The bill received the approval of the House of Commons but the Senate private bills committee inserted an amendment prohibiting the construction of the bridge until the company satisfied the board of railway commissioners it was financially capable of carrying out the undertaking.

Other Projects Pointed To

Reference was made to several other bridge and tunnel projects which were now in default and it was charged the common practise was for the promoters, through ownership of a small issue of capital stock took the profits with little risk, all of which fell on the public who were induced to buy the bonds.

Several Senators considered it a questionable practise to make the Board of Railway Commissioners pass on the financial merits of the scheme and the bill was referred back to the committee to see if a better way of meeting the situation could not be devised.

A bill dealing with the preventive service gave Senator J. J. Hughes of King's, P.E.I., an opportunity to present some views on liquor smuggling along the Atlantic coast. This trade had assumed serious proportions he said, and he doubted if existing forces were capable of curbing it.

A committee should be appointed, he said, to investigate the possibility of putting a stop to a practise which had the approval, if not the connivance, of the majority of the inhabitants of the Maritime Provinces. If it could not be stopped then the duties on liquor should be lowered to a point which would make smuggling unprofitable.

Hog Quotations In Peterborough

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1934

Canada Packers quote:

Bacon hogs — F.O.B., $7.50; off truck, $7.60.

Selects, $1 per hog premium.
Sows 3c off bacon prices.
Dressed Hogs— Head on, $12.00; headless, $12.50.
Cream—No. 1 (on truck) 20c.
No. 1, delivered, 21c.
Special, 2c per lb. premium.

Vehicle Takes Fire On Lakefield Street

LAKEFIELD, May 10 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Saturday evening the fire brigade had a call to a fire which suddenly burst in Mr. R. G. Charlton's motor car which was parked in front of A. B. Burrow's store. Prompt action prevented serious damage to the car.

On Sunday at noon the brigade was called to a chimney fire at Mr. G. W. Hutts' home on Concession street. No damage was done.

Japan has a new law for the prevention of unethical competition.

National Catholic Pilgrimage Planned

LONDON, May 10 (CP)—A National Catholic Pigrimage to the little town of Walsingham, in Norfolk, will take place in August, the first in 400 years. Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, and the Bishop of Northampton, Mgr. Youens, will lead the pilgrims.

In pre-Reformation days the shrine of Our Lady of Walsingham was one of the most famous in the world, and was visited by thousands of pilgrims every year. They included kings, queens, and princes.

The pilgrimages ceased in 1534, when Henry VIII. was formally declared head of the Church in England.

INJURED BY AUTO

LONDON, Ont., May 10.—(CP)—James Mitchell, 30, Canadian National Railways shop employe, was rushed to hospital early today with severe head injuries after being struck by an automobile driven by Cyril Strawbridge, a neighbor.

Mitchell was believed to be suffering from a fractured skull.

Police arrested Strawbridge and charged him with reckless driving.

MOORE WITHDRAWING

LONDON, Ont., May 9.—(CP)—J. P. Moore, K. C., present member in the legislature for London north, has asked the Conservative executive to find another candidate for the coming Ontario general elections. The convention to select a candidate will be held May 18.

350 GRADUATE FROM QUEEN'S

Spring Convocation Takes Place at University This Afternoon.

FIVE HONORARY DEGREES.

KINGSTON, Ont., May 9.—(CP)—More than 350 graduates of Queen's University received their degrees at the spring convocation here this afternoon, when honorary degrees were conferred on Dr. O. D. Skelton, Under Secretary of State for External Affairs, John Stanley Plasket, Director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria, B.C., Rev. William Robert Taylor of the University of Toronto, and Rev. Dorland Noxon Morden of Walkerville.

Dr. Skelton replied for the recipients of the LL.D., and Rev. Dr. Taylor for the two receiving the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

The address to the graduates was made by Dr. W. H. Fyfe, principal of the University and Vice Chancellor, who conferred the degrees in the absence of the Chancellor, James A. Richardson.

PREMIER VISITS KING.

LONDON, May 9 (C.P. Cable).—Premier L. P. D. Tilley of New Brunswick was granted an audience with the King at Buckingham Palace to-day. The Premier is on a visit to England to discuss markets for Maritime goods.

"I like Muffets"

"Breakfast to me is like a close shave. It's got to be smooth, easy to take and refreshing. That's why I like Muffets."

"It's a good thing that I do like Muffets. My mistress buys them all the time and she ought to know, her being a dietician before she was married."

"They're the ticket! A one way passage to health and enjoyment on the smoothest route I've ever travelled—get aboard the Muffet special."

An extra Muffet Feature

Muffets are the only whole wheat biscuits irradiated for Sunshine Vitamin "D" Patent (No. 281158). Sufficient quantities of this vitamin are essential to health. Ask your doctor.

Everybody likes Muffets

Muffets are ribbons of all-Canadian whole wheat . . . wound round and round . . . then toasted to a rich-flavoured crispness. A new process has made possible these new improved wheat ribbons that crumble easily . . . break readily.

MUFFETS

Made in Canada by The Quaker Oats Company

AN EXAMPLE TO KEEP

The pioneer knew thrift as a stern necessity and by its homely virtue gave beginning to a nation. His example is one to be followed today. Regular deposits in a Savings Account are the sure road to financial independence and security.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

Drinking of stale Coffee is Widespread

YOU may be one of the thousands of housewives who are buying coffee that has lost its flavor and become a definite source of nervous irritation.

RICH, full-bodied flavor and healthful stimulation are what you have a right to expect from coffee—but you'll never get them from coffee that is stale.

All stale coffee contains rancid oil. It loses most of its flavor. And sets up an irritation that nags your nerves into a state where petty grievances seem enormous.

Don't imagine you are safe just because you may be buying an expensive brand of coffee! Even high-priced coffees were among the 56 out of 93 brands purchased and found stale in an investigation covering 16 big cities.

Chase & Sanborn offer you one sure safeguard against stale coffee—their dating system. Every tin is marked clear and large with the date of delivery to your grocer. We watch this Date and see that no tin stays on your grocer's shelf more than 10 days.

It can't be stale. It's a delicious, healthful, vitalizing drink. Ask for Chase & Sanborn's Dated Coffee tomorrow! In pound and half-pound tins.

DATED means it's FRESH

Roasted and packed in Canada

PAYNE ACTION IS DISMISSED

Judgment is Reserved in Action Brought Against J. Raymond Paquette.

BOND BELONGED TO WIFE.

Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy handed down his judgment yesterday in the Supreme Court in the Payne will case dismissing the action with costs brought by Wallace and Charlotte Dewart, both of Dummer Township, against Mrs. Addie Evelyn Payne, of this city, widow of the late William K. Payne. Mr. Payne died without a will and the Dewarts, nephew and niece of William K. Payne, claimed their portion of the $4,000 in bonds and more than $1,000 in two savings accounts left by Mr. Payne.

Facts in the case disclosed, stated His Lordship, that several years previous to his death Mr. Payne had taken the four $1,000 bonds from his home, where they had been kept, and placed them in a safety deposit box at the bank. The safety deposit box was held jointly with his wife and he gave his wife one of the keys. Also the two savings accounts had been changed by Mr. Payne to joint accounts with his wife and she had transferred her separate account from the Bank of Nova Scotia to that held jointly with her husband in the Toronto Savings and Loan Company.

His Lordship ruled that it was clear that Mr. Payne had meant the bonds and monies for his wife, and that they should not be considered as part of his estate.

J. W. Stevenson acted for Mrs. Payne and Hon. G. N. Gordon, K. C., for the plaintiffs.

His Lordship reserved judgement in the action brought by J. Raymond Paquette to set aside two judgments gained against James B. Brown by his daughters, Lily A. Brown and Elizabeth Alice Brown, which were obtained a year ago on default of defence. The judgment of Lily A. Brown against her father is for $929.89 and that of Elizabeth Brown for $5,200 with costs.

Judgment Against Father

Previously explained A. L. Elliott, acting for the plaintiff, in outlining the case, the Misses Brown had been granted possession of their father's home at 307 Pearl avenue, but this conveyance had been set aside by the Appeal Court. They then entered suit to collect damages and won the actions when their father did not enter a defence. Mr. Elliott argued that they had no proper claim against their father and should not be considered as creditors.

B. D. Hall, on behalf of the two defendants, argued that their claims were just and proper since Lily A. Brown had for many years paid out monies for household expenses for her father and for the medical expenses of her mother for which she had not been repaid, and Elizabeth Brown had nursed her mother, now deceased, and kept house for her father for ten years without remuneration.

F. J. A. Hall, sheriff, said he had executions against James B. Brown one being a judgment in favor of the Royal Bank for $1,676.52. He had another against Mr. Brown in favor of Raymond Paquette for $2,555. Another for debt amounting to approximately $1,000, another of $929.89 against James B. Brown in favor of Lily A. Brown and another for $5,200 against James B. Brown for Elizabeth A. Brown.

Orville A. Moore, bailiff, said he had a distress warrant against James B. Brown for $152 for 1932 taxes and another against Lily A. Brown and Elizabeth Brown for 1933 taxes of $152. Mr. Moore said a seizure of chattels was made but there were not sufficient goods to make a sale worth while after exemptions were allowed.

H. C. Sootheran, manager of the Royal Bank here, said James Brown had secured a loan at the bank and the only security the bank had been successful in getting were second mortgages on some property in Lakefield and Campbellford. He considered these mortgages almost valueless.

This closed the case for the plaintiff.

Obtained Judgment

Lily A. Brown, first witness for the defendants, said she had obtained judgment against her father in January of this year for $929.89. This judgment was based on her claim for monies she had paid for household expenses, clothes for her sister and mother and medical expenses for her mother. She had been repaid none of this amount.

She had never consulted her father before or after she put in her claim against him. She said she had asked her father to give her back some money but he had said he did not have any ready cash. She estimated that during the past 12 years her outlay for household debts totalled about $2,000. Since her mother's death, she said she has been paying board but previous to that she had done housework for her board and attended her mother who was ill for ten years. Her sister did the housework, but during her mother's illness she could not attend to it all. Witness was employed as stenographer at Hall, Hall and Stevenson's office.

In 1924 her father told her that he would give the house at 307 Pearl avenue to her and her sister and from then on she said she paid more money into the household accounts. In August, 1931, her father deeded the house to her and her sister. In 1931 her father, she said, told her he was worth more than $10,000.

Owed Money

Later she said she knew her father owed money on mortgages but she did not know that they were judgments against him.

Under cross-examination, she said her father had paid some household accounts. From the time she was a child her father had had his money locked up in real estate and never had any ready cash.

She said she knew that her father owed the Royal Bank some money and also knew that Mr. Paquette had obtained a judgment against thim.

Asked why her father had delayed until 1931 to convey the house to her, she said, "It was just neglect."

James Brown, next witness, said he knew his daughters had obtained judgment against him. He stated he knew he owed the girls the money and their claim was just and therefore he did not defend the action. His daughter, Elizabeth, he said had done very strenuous work nursing her mother and doing housework. This daughter was a stenographer and bookkeeper and when she had come home from Toronto for a visit in 1922 and owing to her mother's illness had stayed at home as nurse and housekeeper. At that time he said he told Elizabeth that she was to have the house.

He promised Alice, his other daughter, if she would remain working in Peterborough and help with the housework she would have a claim on his property. Later he told both girls that they would have the house.

Mr. Brown said that his house on Pearl avenue could not be built for less than $6,000 and it was mortgaged now for $1,200.

Didn't Know About Action

Witness said he did not think that when he deeded his two daughters possession of his Pearl avenue house that the action between him and Mr. Paquette had arisen. In 1931 he traded a house he had built on George street to Mrs. Sarah English for a house in Campbellford. He has been a builder for 30 years.

Cross-examined, witness said he put the $1,200 mortgage on his Pearl avenue house in 1912. He said he did not transfer his property to his daughters to impede the Royal Bank in securing their claim against him. He said he understood the Royal Bank had good security for their claim against him.

Elizabeth A. Brown, testified that she had stayed home to nurse her mother because she was needed there. Previously she had been a stenographer. Her father, she said, promised if she would stay home she would be compensated for it. At a later date he said, she related, that he would give her the house on Pearl avenue. She never knew anything about her father's financial affairs, until some time after he had deeded the property to her and her sister.

Cross-examined she said she was claiming from her father $10 a week for a period of ten years. She had left it to her sister to see the lawyer about her claim and she and her sister's claim were entered against her father together. There was never anything but a verbal agreement between her and her father.

Dr. Herbert J. Dobson said he started attending Mrs. Brown in April, 1928 and in July, 1932 she died. Mrs. Brown suffered from creeping paralysis and was a complete invalid for many years, he said.

If Past 45
and "Low" and Upset Look for Acid Stomach

HERE ARE THE SIGNS:

Nervousness	Frequent Headaches
Neuralgia	Feeling of Weakness
Indigestion	Sleeplessness
Loss of Appetite	Mouth Acidity
Nausea	Sour Stomach

Auto-Intoxication

WHAT TO DO FOR IT:

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful 30 minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

OR—Take the new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets — one tablet for each teaspoonful as directed above.

If you have Acid Stomach, don't worry about it. Follow the simple directions given above. This small dosage of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts at once to neutralize the acids that cause headache, stomach pains and other distress. Try it. You'll feel like a new person.

But—be careful you get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, or Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets when you buy—25c and 50c sizes.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM

Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

MADE IN CANADA

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia

HAWES' FLOOR WAX

POLISHES AND PROTECTS
FLOORS, LINOLEUM, FURNITURE, AUTOS, etc.
Preferred in Fine Homes for Many Years

COUPLE OBSERVE 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waddell Honored by Friends at Social Gathering.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waddell were honored on Friday evening last when members of the Seymour West Community Club, with their relatives, gathered at their home to observe with them their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The honored couple were taken completely by surprise.

After the serving of lunch, William Anderson brought the company to order, and on behalf of those present congratulated the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago. Then little Evalena Hendy, on behalf of the relatives and Miss Margaret McCulloch, on behalf of the Club, presented Mr. and Mrs. Waddell with two handsome pieces of silverware. Mr. Waddell replied in a suitable manner, thanking those present for their kind remembrances. The evening was spent mainly in dancing and games.

H. PRICE AGENT FOR DISTILLERY

(Continued from Page 1)

supporter in this campaign, with the pushing of the sale of liquor in Ontario." He denied the Liquor Board purchased through agents and maintained their supplies were bought from distillers and brewers themselves.

His government, he declared, had no connection with agents if there were such persons.

Ray Price had no comment to make at the moment, declaring he would make his statement at the proper time but Harry Price denied Mr. Hepburn's charge.

"Never to my knowledge has an agent or representative of a distillery received an order from the Liquor Control Board," Harry Price declared. "Never have I been in touch with any member of the government or the Liquor Control Board in connection with any liquor interests and I'm ready to make an affidavit to this effect."

No Surplus Power

Premier Henry reiterated his statement the Ontario Hydro Commission did not have any surplus power and he said there was a possibility the Ottawa River might have to be devolped for power purposes. All the power wasn't in use but he predicted this reserve would be needed when industry returned to normal.

If the signing of the St. Lawrence deep waterway treaty was "unduly delayed," the Premier said, he was "quite convinced" power will have to be looked for from the Ottawa River. "It's either a case of developing the Ottawa River or getting more power from Niagara under an international agreement as well" he declared. He defended the government's operation of the Hydro system and maintained all power contracts entered into were necessary.

After he had been selected to represent the new riding of Algoma-Manitoulin, Dr. Robb announced additional accommodation for 1,300 beds was planned for Mimico, Hamilton, London and other mental hospital where there was accommodation at present for 12,000 patients. He stated at Fort William a building was being renovated for use as a mental hospital for Thunder Bay district cases.

There are 51 Conservative candidates nominated now with 74 Liberals, five C.C.F., one United Front and one Communist candidate in the running for what promises to be one of Ontario's most lively elections.

CAMPBELLFORD
NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

The local Liberal-Conservative party have taken the old McArthur meat store on the west side of the river, in the Riendeau Block, as their committee rooms for the coming political campaign.

Mr. William Ellis of Toronto, and a former resident of town, is renewing acquaintances in the district this week.

The Rev. T. H. Floyd, rector of Christ Church, was in Peterborough on Wednesday, attending a meeting of the Deanery of Peterborough.

The delivery of the new all-steel Dodge truck for the Water and Light Commission Board, was made on Wednesday, Mr. P. C. Denyes, plant manager, bringing it up from Windsor.

Dairy Notes

CAMPBELLFORD, May 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — About fifty per cent. of the cheese factories are now operating, and in the majority of cases the milk received is much less than any previous year.

There seems to be plenty of enquiry for cheese, although the price paid last week—nine cents—is not much in excess of last year's.

The makers in charge of the several factories in the Campbellford group remain the same as last year with but one exception, at Rylstone factory, William Moore, formerly of Prince Edward County, being in charge.

The winter kill of fall wheat, coupled with the complete destruction of clover, leaves the farmer facing a trying season. The loss of the clover is by far the more serious, as it will adversely affect the milk flow.

MORE AND MORE PEOPLE ARE Changing TO DUNLOP FORT

THE WORLD'S FINEST tire

DISTRIBUTORS OF DUNLOP TIRES

JOHNSTON'S
TIRE, BATTERY AND RADIO SERVICE

George and McDonnel Streets Phone 2123

DEALERS IN DUNLOP TIRES

ASHMORE SERVICE STN..... George and Romaine
FOLEY & WILSON ..... McDonnel and Reid
PEEL'S GARAGE ..... Park St. at Perry
T. H. ASHBY ..... Rubidge Street
BAKER'S GARAGE ..... Lakefield

Obituary

MRS. GEORGE PRYMER.

HAVELOCK, May 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mrs. George Prymer, an aged woman living alone about half a mile north of Cordova Mines, was found dead in bed on Wednesday morning about eleven o'clock by her neighbor, Mrs. Peter Vesterfelt, who noticed that Mrs. Prymer was not about her yard as usual.

Mrs. Prymer, who was in her sixty-fifth year, had spent the early part of Tuesday evening at the Vesterfelt home, and appeared to be in her usual health.

Doctor Crawford of Marmora was called, and he in turn notified Coroner Dr. Nichol of Madoc. An examination disclosed that death was due to natural causes, and had most probably taken place shortly after Mrs. Prymer had retired. She had been known to be in rather indifferent health for some time.

Mrs. Prymer, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Youmans, was a daughter of the late Daniel Youmans and Eliza Henderson, and was born at Cordova in Marmora Township, on the farm now owned by Mr. Demin Barrons. She was twice married. Her first husband, Thomas Wegg, died about twenty years ago, by a strange coincidence, in much the same way. There were four children by the first marriage. They are: Thomas of Weston, Daniel of Wilkesbarre, Mrs. Elmer Elo and Mrs. James Chilman of Toronto. Her second husband still survives. She also leaves four brothers: William, Amos and John of Saskatchewan, and Arthur in New Ontario. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

MRS. GEORGE WOULD

NORWOOD, May 10. (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of Mrs. George Would who died suddenly at her home in Dummer township Saturday was held from her late home Tuesday afternoon. The unusually large attendance testified to the high esteem in which she was held. The Rev. Mr. Cleland of the United Church conducted the services at the home and graveside.

Deceased was in her forty-first year. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Long of Asphodel and was married to her now sorrowing husband eighteen years ago, who at the present time is suffering a double misfortune, having sustained a compound bone fracture above the ankle some three weeks ago.

A family of three children are left—Annie, 11; Blythe, 9, and an infant daughter, Vera Jean, six weeks of age; also her father and mother; four sisters and one brother, namely (Cora) Mrs. Lancaster, Port Hope; (Mildred) Mrs. John Currie, Almonte, Mich.; (Annie) Mrs. Howard Adams; and Miss Bertha and Slater Long of Asphodel.

Many floral tributes surrounded the bier.

The Long and Would families, many friends from Campbellford, Peterborough, and Toronto, were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Would, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Taylor, South Monaghan; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Would, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster, Port Hope, and Mr. and Mrs. John Currie of Almonte, Mich.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Louis Andrews, Maitland Kirk, Samuel Buchanan, Harry Hubble, Leslie Would and Howard Adams.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. Would and family in this trying period of misfortune and bereavemet.

FRANK LONSBERRY.

WARSAW, May 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — Warsaw United Church was filled at the funeral service of the late Frank Lonsberry who died in Whitby. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson preached a sermon helpful to the mourners and to the congregation. The choir sang "When the years have ceased to roll."

Mr. Wilkinson held a short service at the house and the regular services at the church and at St. Mark's Cemetery, where interment took place. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Joseph and Richard Tedford, Allan and Gordon Payne, Uriah Payne, and Charles Calder.

Mr. Lonsberry was born in Cobourg seventy-five years ago last March. He married Matilda Hall, and to them were born seven children, who with their mother survive him. The family are: Ida, Mrs. O'Connell of Roseneath, Olive, Mrs Trotter of Peterborough, Mrs. Frank Darling, and Mrs. Maxwell Tucker, both of Dummer, Mrs. Thomas Bellowes of Peterborough Archie at home in Warsaw, and Allan in the West. There are also surviving him five brothers: George in Warsaw, John, Henry, Charles and Delbert and two sisters, Mrs. Twilley, Port Hope, ahd Minnie in Hamilton.

Mr. Lonsberry belonged to the Methodist Church, and attended Bethel Church until he left the farm.

Warsaw

Mr. and Mrs. Archer (formerly Maggie Clifford) with their younger daughter, motored, from Fenelon Falls on Friday afternoon. They left Miss Archer to visit their uncles, Mr. John and Mr. Harold Clifford for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Payne were Friday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ray.

Rev. Mr. Barker will conduct the service in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, May 13th. He will use the text "She made him a little coat" and he particularly asked parents and children to be present.

The United Church is preparing music for Mother's Day.

Stirling

On Saturday, May 8th at the Agricultural Grounds the Boy Scouts along with several adjoining schools met and assisted in a reforestation scheme. An area of the grounds had been set aside for that purpose. B. Belshaw, president of the Horticultural Society acted as supervisor. One thousand trees were planted in 35 minutes. Prizes were donated by the Stirling School Board. A softball being given to S.S. No. 7 and to S.S. No. 4, Huntingdon, a geographical dictionary.

Mrs. George Legrow is here to spend the summer after visiting in Keene all winter.

Misses Calow, Bowers and Moffatt spent the week-end in Toronto.

Mr. H. Disbrowe, local teacher of science and agriculture has accepted a position in Simcoe for the coming term.

Miss Emma Allen, nurse-training at Belleville General Hospital is spending a three weeks' vacation in Stirling and Campbellford.

Miss Carol Shaw of Toronto spent a few days in Stirling last week.

Miss K. Mundy is erecting a cottage at Oak Lake.

Mr. H. Disbrowe spent the week-end visiting in Aylmer.

Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn, third vice president of the W.I. district attended a meeting of the executive at the Children's Shelter, Belleville on Saturday afternoon, where arrangements were made for the district convention to be held at Bayside on June 7th.

Mrs. M. Nolan is visiting relatives in Belleville.

Miss Emma Allen is visiting her father, W. T. Allen in Campbellford.

Mr. Lindsay Meiklejohn spent Monday in Kingston.

Miss Irene La Chappelle visited her parents in Crookston over the week-end.

London's oldest business concern has been found to be the College of Heralds, which was founded in 1380, and the heralds are still appointed personally by the King to perform certain court duties and to help civilians find family trees and similar information.

Gulistan was the most famous work of the Persian poet Sadi.

School Results

S.S. No. 5, ASPHODEL

Class V—Verna McGee 78.

Jr. IV—Alice Coles 75, Vester Lynch 75, Irwin Warner 71, Lurle Beavis 63.

Sr. III—Irene Lynch 78, Evelyn Moore 74, Harold Fife 68, Lorne Beavis 60.

Jr. III—Helen Moore 67, Jack Warner 65, Rosie Coles 55, Jean Coles 46, Jack Elmhirst 45.

Sr. II to Jr. III—Pauline Humphries 74.

Sr. I to Jr. II—Lloyd Fife 83, Leo Lynch 82, Ronald Warner 82.

Sr. Pr.—Joyce McGee 89, Rena Warner 82.

Jr. Pr.—Doris Moore 79, Murray Fife 79, Jean Beavis 77, Jack Beavis 69.

Teacher—Bessie L. Hinton.

Naborhood for Thrilling Values
In Sport Footwear

No. 1—Ladies' Smoked Elk with Javelin rubber soles	1.98
No. 2—White Elk with leather soles, rubber heels	1.98
No. 3—Brown Elk with dark trim, with crepe rubber soles	1.98
No. 4—Black and White Sport Oxford with brogue style	1.98
No. 5—White Elk with Javelin soles	1.98
No. 6—2- Tone Brown Elk with leather soles, rubber heels	1.98
Ladies' Sport Oxfords, styled by "Ahrens," widths A to C, black and white and 2-tone elk	2.98

No. 1—Men's All-White Calf Sport Oxford. A remarkable value at	2.98
No. 2—Men's 2-Tone Brown Elk with rubber soles and heels	2.98
No. 3—Men's Black and White Sport Oxford, leather soles, long wearing	2.98
No. 4—Men's White Calf Sport Oxford, brogue styled. Supertest value	3.95
No. 5—Athol Sport Oxfords at	5.00

Headquarters for Kamp Shoes, Running Shoes and Children's Sandals at lowest prices.

It Pays to Shop at the

Naborhood Shoe Store
338 George St. » 338 George St.

Where to Economize as we can if GOOD Fa

AND WE SUGGEST YOU TRY

DOMINION STORES

RICHMELLO TEA

Good Quality GREEN OR WAX BEANS No. 2 Tins 10c

YELLOW LABEL Reg. 69c lb. 63c lb.

BLUE LABEL Reg. 55c lb. 49c lb.

The fine quality and delicious flavor of Dominion Stores' Teas is consistently maintained. You are always sure of GOOD TEA at Dominion Stores.

Fine Quality PASTRY FLOUR 24-lb. Bag 59c

HERE IS EXCEPTIONAL VALUE

CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S 8 O'CLOCK Marmalade Jar 21c

Prepared from Fresh, Sweet Oranges, Grapefruit and Lemons. Three delicious marmalades in one.

PINEAPPLE SINGAPORE SLICED Tins 10c

AMMONIA POWDER "HANDY" Brand Pkg. 5c

CORN SYRUP CROWN OR BEEHIVE No. 5 Tin 35c

PORK & BEANS CAMPBELL'S 28-oz. Tin 10c

MAYFIELD Selected Side BACON Cut from the Finest Selected Canadian Hogs. lb. 29c

Shirriff's JELLY POWDERS - pkg. 5c
ICING SUGAR - 2 lbs. 19c
Christie's FIG ROLLS - - - lb. 17c
Verything TOILET TISSUE - 3 rolls 10c
ROLLED OATS - 6 lbs. 25c
Lux TOILET SOAP - cake 6c

FREE! An Aluminum PIE PLATE With Each Pound of CRISCO 1-lb. Tin 23c

The Examiner

The Examiner is a Member of the Audit Bureau of Circulation.
The Daily Examiner, published every lawful evening by The Peterborough Examiner, Limited. Office 416 George Street. $6.00 per year Delivered in City. Out-of-town Subscribers by mail, $4.50 per year.
Member: Canadian Press, Limited; Audit Bureau of Circulation; Canadian Daily Newspapers Association.
Member: Ontario Associated Dailies. T. L. Ashton manager, Canada Permanent Building, Toronto.
U.S. Advertising Representatives: Prudden, King & Prudden, Inc. Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and New York City.
Advertising Rates on Application.
E. M. GLOVER, Managing Director.

'PHONES: Editorial 1601, Business Office 1600. Private Branch Exchange to all Departments.

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1934

GOOD-WILL DAY.

Ontario schools are being asked by the Department of Education to set aside May 18th of this year as good-will day, and to arrange a special program for the afternoon at least for the purpose, as Hon. G. S. Henry puts it, "of bringing to the attention of the children the characteristics of good citizenship, the need for good-will and co-operation among us as individuals and as nations, the continued and increased determination to do away with methods of force, and to adopt the methods of conciliation, co-operation and arbitration."

The date selected is the thirty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Peace Conference at The Hague.

It will be remembered that on May 18th, 1899, the nations met together for the first time in the world's history to consider some means of settling international disputes without resorting to war.

The high hopes of that historic occasion have scarcely been lived up to, for the peace movement that came into being at The Hague was not strong enough to prevent the World War.

Now The Hague tribunal has been succeeded by the League of Nations, which, in the face of many difficulties, is endeavoring to bring about the peaceful settlement of international difficulties.

The success of that effort is so desirable that such demonstrations as a good-will day around the world should be heartily encouraged, and it is well that our Ontario children should participate in this gesture of peace and international friendship.

NOT DRINKING ITSELF PROSPEROUS.

Uncle Sam's expectation that the country would soon be able to drink itself into prosperity with the abolition of prohibition is far from being realized.

The taxes on distilled liquor, it is now announced, will yield less than one-third the total expected at the time the $2 a gallon figure was set.

The actual revenue figures for March indicate a monthly consumption of less than 4½ million gallons a month, or about fifty-four gallons a year, whereas estimates early in the winter were made by Government experts at 105 million gallons a year, and these were thought to be very low.

Actually, Dr. James M. Doran, head of the Distilled Spirits Institute, has informed Business Week that he doubts if the annual consumption of distilled spirits in the United States will exceed 50 million gallons a year.

Present figures are deceptive, because stores all over the country are overstocked with legal liquor which has already paid its tax, but has not found its way to the consumers.

Bootlegging is being done on such a scale that Director Choate of the Federal Alcohol Control Administration declares that there is more moonshining and bootlegging than there was during prohibition.

While the amount of wet territory in the United States is just about what it was in 1911 and 1912 and the population of that territory is about ten per cent.. greater, the amount of legal liquor being consumed is only about one-fifth of the total in those years.

For the existing conditions the high taxes and strict local regulations are being blamed, the liquor interests pointing out that the federal taxes alone give the bootlegger the neat profit of $9.80 a case.

A GREAT INDUSTRY.

The canning industry in Canada is becoming each year of increasing importance, and from the monthly review issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway, it is learned that there was a large increase in the quantity of vegetables canned in 1933, although the production of canned fruits showed a falling off.

The pack of canned vegetables, exclusive of soups, baked beans, catsup and tomato pulp, increased last year from 3,747,195 cases in 1932 to 4,118,420 cases last year, while the output of canned soups jumped from 1,093,048 cases to 1,289,085.

The total pack of canned fruits last year is estimated at 33,080,373 pounds, with pears comprising the largest pack and apples, peaches and cherries following in that order.

It is scarcely necessary to say that tomatoes formed the biggest single item in the huge pack of 144,436,277 pounds of canned vegetables. There were 1,644,769 cases of canned tomatoes representing a total of 70,548,831 pounds, or some 35,000 tons. A brand new industry, the canning of tomato juice, put that product in third place in the list, with canned peas coming second. There was over half a million cases of tomato juice produced in Canada last year. Corn was fourth in the list and green and wax beans fifth.

It is interesting to learn that while canned vegetables were produced in greater quantity, both imports and exports of these products decreased last year; on the other hand, the production of canned fruit was smaller than in 1932, but there was an increase both in imports and exports.

RAILWAY PUBLICITY.

The Canadian National Railways management is to be commended upon the publicity campaign that was launched this week, the first advertisement of the series appearing in The Examiner yesterday.

By this means it is hoped to educate the public to a more favorable frame of mind toward the railways and to build up good-will toward and confidence in the C.N.R.

These are very desirable objects and their success is a matter of great importance to the people of Canada.

The more business done by the Canadian National Railways the better will it be for the whole country, and anything that gives promise of making Canadians more railway-conscious deserves general co-operation and support.

In these days of motorized transportation it is easy to overlook the great contribution toward Canadian development that has been made by the railways of the country and to minimize the splendid service that these transportation agencies have given and are giving.

There is a danger, as yesterday's advertisement indicated, that the public may think of the railways as transcontinental systems only, forgetting the service that is provided in short trips and on branch lines.

Bargain excursion rates have in the last year or so done much to correct this condition, and there is reason to hope that the advertising campaign now under way will complete the work of educating Canadians to make greater use of the admirable railway facilities that are at their service every day of the year.

AND EVE OVER ALL!

Who owns Canada's banks? According to some good people they are owned by the "Money Power," that mysterious, sinister force which, we are told, rules our destinies, makes statesmen and all the rest of us mere puppets of its greed. We are asked to shudder over the picture of the Holts and the Gordons conspiring over the trans-Atlantic telephone with Mr. Montague Norman and other "international bankers," plotting to sacrifice all of us to their golden calf. It is a fearsome thing.

• • • •

Unfortunately for this Sax Rohmer version, and perhaps fortunately for all of us, the truth is far less fearsome. A writer in the Toronto Financial Post has been analyzing the shareholders' lists of the twelve Canadian chartered banks, finds this:

1. That Canada's banking institutions are the property of the Canadian people to an extent in excess of 80 per cent. of all outstanding stock.
2. That ownership of our banks is passing rapidly out of the hands of men and into the hands of women.
3. That shares of the banks, far from being the possession of a few millionaires, are among the most popular investments in the country and are held widely by people popularly supposed to do most of their investing in penny mining stocks.

• • • •

Thert are people who when they speak of, say, the Royal Bank of Canada, think it is owned by Sir Herbert Holt, or who when they speak of the Bank of Montreal think similarly about Sir Charles Gordon. The actual figures show that of the stock of the Royal Bank of Canada Sir Herbert Holt holds less than 1½ per cent.; that Sir Charles Gordon owns exactly 768 shares of Bank of Montreal stock out of 360,000.

During recent weeks, with the Banking and Commerce Committee of Parliament in session, we have been hearing much about Mr. Jackson Dodds. He is the exceedingly able general manager of the Bank of Montreal, and doubtless many good people see him as the incarnation of the "money power," a powerful, immensely rich banker, gleefully nailing us to his cross of gold. Well, this Mr. Jackson Dodds owns exactly 5 shares of the great bank he manages. Owns fewer shares than many and many a hard-pressed Canadian farmer. He rose to his present great position from the ranks, is essentially a "democrat."

• • • •

The truth is that ownership of Canadian banks, instead of being centred in some "money power," or among a few financial barons, is the most democratic thing imaginable. Here is a list of the occupations of stockholders taken direct from the official returns:

Tailors, stonemasons, newspaper men, editors, telegraph operators, nurses, cheese dealers, carpenters, furriers, hardware merchants, milkmen, retired people, widows, architects, spinsters, married women, grocers, jewellers, photographers, merchants, bricklayers, automobile salesmen, farmers, ministers, parish priests, archbishops, shoe-dealers, sailors, joiners, garage keepers, bakers, capitalists, financiers, gentlemen, contractors, bankers, managers, physicians, printers, brakesmen, carters, inn-keepers, musicians, civil servants, laborers, teachers, barbers, real estate agents, sales managers, station agents, wood dealers, mechanics, electricians, painters, blacksmiths, authors, senators, artists, judges, butchers, members of Parliament and the Legislatures, lawyers, dressmakers, prime ministers and cabinet ministers, coal dealers, conductors, motormen, druggists, pilots, brokers, clerks, accountants, bishops.

• • • •

But the thing that interests us most, we confess, is that there are more women shareholders than men. In a way the male of the species still clings to his supremacy by holding the larger blocks of shares, but how long that will last, seeing that there is a steady process of husbands handing stock to wives, and fathers to daughters, and brothers to sisters, no one can tell.

And as with the banks, so with insurance. Canada has something like five billions of life insurance—and who owns it? Well, we feel fairly certain that men pay most of the premiums, but we're even more certain that the beneficiaries are 90 per cent. women.

The cold fact is that Eve, not satisfied with the sort of supremacy she's always had, is steadily extending her kingdom, invading banking and business, doing things that make men wonder whether, after all, they are really the lords of creation. Where it is all going to end, we don't know, though fifty years from now, we are persuaded, men will be speaking of their wives as "good providers" or otherwise, and odd extra dollar for awangling out of them the new hat or a box of golf balls.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

This week's disclosures before the Stevens Committee should give the Government an idea where to obtain a few million of revenue.

When it comes to cutting melons it looks as if the tobacco business is in a class by itself.

Ontario's man hunt has fortunately ended quickly and without any more shooting which, considering the fact that the fugitive was desperate and armed, is a matter for general satisfaction.

Tobacco heads have not been doing too badly in the matter of salaries, thank you, in view of the lean years through which the world has been passing.

There are times when the electors must almost wish that the politicians would get down to talking about public affairs for a while and call a truce in the mud-slinging tactics.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

STORM DRIFT

By ETHEL M. DELL

(Continued from yesterday.)

CHAPTER 60

Turner had seen nothing of Viola since the tragedy. Something had kept him from her—a curious feeling of dread. Even yet he was not sure that he could go to her—so great a gulf stretched between their last parting and the present. Only two days in actual fact, yet they seemed like half a lifetime! He even wondered if perhaps he ought to go away for a time without seeing her.

The evening sun shone golden over the sea as they came down from the hills into Farne. When they reached the bottom of the gorge where the stream rushed foaming over the moss-grown rocks, they were in shadow. Tiggie descended and went on to the bridge, leaning his arms upon the parapet to watch the racing wate , crystal clear in the shallows, thundering down. He was conscious of intense fatigue, and in a fashion the turmoil gave him a sense of rest. It was like life, changing yet never changing, and always the inevitable quiet end in the ocean of eternity.

A touch on his shoulder made him stand up sharply. He turned and saw Spot.

"Oh, thank God you're back!" he said almost involuntarily.

"Thanks!" said Spot, faintly smiling. "I'm beginning to think I never ought to have gone away."

"Man, I wish you never had," said Tiggie with fervor. "I suppose you've heard everything?"

"I've heard a good deal," said Spot. "I understand you are the hero of the hour."

"Don't make me sick, if you don't mind!" said Tiggie with some vehemence.

Spot laughed and took his arm. "All right, old chap. I won't. Come along to your pub and let's feed together!"

Tiggie went with him, but he had little to say. Spot did most of the talking, describing his few days' fishing with the utmost unconcern till gradually a more normal atmosphere began to make itself felt, and Tiggie found himself responding.

They dined alone as the hour was early, and when the meal was over they sauntered down with their pipes to the shore where the sea was all rosy ripples in the light of the sinking sun. And here, for the first time, Tiggie broke through his very unaccustomed reserve and asked for news of Viola.

"I hope she's getting on all right," he said anxiously. "She isn't worse?"

Spot answered him gravely. "It's been a bad setback, of course, but she's got strength for it now. She'll catch up again." He paused, then looked straight at Tiggie and said, "if you ask me, my boy, I think a good deal depends on you."

"You mean she wants me?" said Tiggie, deliberately avoiding the look.

"I'm sure she wants you," said Spot. "More than that—she needs you. I even might go a step farther and say I believe you are—all she needs."

Tiggie stooped, selected a large stone with apparent care, and flung it as far as his strength would permit over the sleeping sea. Then, red-faced, he turned to Spot.

"Thanks, old chap!" he said. "I wasn't—quite sure—how she'd feel about it. I'll go."

Spot detained him a moment. "P'raps I'd better tell you that she told Helen the whole story, and Helen told me."

"Good!" said Tiggie. "I'm glad you know."

Spot still detained him. "I don't know—everything," he said. "Tiggie, where's that lunatic brother-in-law of yours?"

Tiggie made a sharp movement to free himself. "I haven't the faintest idea. Why?"

"Never mind why!" said Spot.

Tiggie's eyes met his with a curious defiance. He spoke in a voice that challenged. "You'd better leave him alone."

"I see," said Spot quietly. "Yes, p'raps I'd better."

Tiggie turned and walked away from him without further words.

Steadily he mounted, without looking back, till his feet trod the cliff path, and so on without hesitation to the little garden gate through which he had passed so often.

The cottage door was open, and he entered with the same unfaltering determination. Joyce was in the sitting room, drinking her evening milk.

She ran after him to fling her arms round his neck and whisper, "Oh, Uncle Tiggie, Auntie Viola will be pleased!"

Then he went on up the stairs to the low door at the head and lightly knocked.

Her soft voice answered him, and the next instant he was in the room and the door was closed behind him.

Though peech has been described as man's greatest gift, in life's most stupendous occasions it often plays no part at all. At such times soul and body alike are inarticulate, yet—possibly—endowed with greater powers of self-expression than in the more ordinary moments.

Tiggie, kneeling beside the bed with Viola against his heart, did not even know that speech had failed him or miss, the power thereof. All that he knew was the ecstasy of perfect communion and utter peace, with the storm and stress all left behind and the safe haven reached at last.

It seemed a very long time before either of them found words, and during that time they were closer in spirit than they had ever been before. But when speech once more was possible, it was Viola who spoke, her face against his neck.

"Tiggie, you tried—to save him. I'll never forget—that. It was—just like you."

Tiggie answered, as if in self-defense. "I couldn't help doing it, darling. It was given me to do. Besides—poor devil—I was sorry for him."

"I know," she said. "I know. That—is just like you, too. I shall remember it always—always." And then she turned her lips to his, whispering, "Tiggie, is it wrong of us to be happy—now we're safe?"

And he answered as he kissed her, "No. Thank God! Thank God!"

"Amen!" whispered Viola.

ê ê ê

Long after the sun had gone, he left her, going softly, almost stealthily down the stairs and letting himself out without sound. He did not want to meet anyone just then.

He went forth into a world of infinite peace—a world of gray dust, faintly shot with rose in which a charmed sea murmured mysteriously under a sky of stars. Something within him drew him down to the shore where the water dreamed among the rocks. And here presently he came to that place where once the realization of the Divine Miracl head come to him, changing the whole earth. Now, as then, he knew that he trod sacred ground, and—perhaps for the first time in his life—he was aware of an impulse not to pray but to worship. He had come through stormy waters into calm and safety, and out of the childlike faith of his soul he knew that a Hand upon the helm had brought him thither. Not by vengeance and bloodshed, but by simple obedience and sacrifice, he had attained his heart's desire.

He spoke no word in that holy place, but he left it at length with reverence and his eyes were alight with a steadfast glow, as the eyes of a man who had seen a vision.

Someone was whistling cheerily in the room next to Tiggie's when he awoke the next morning, and he lay for some time listening and wondering if it could by any possibility be Harvey.

When he left his own room, all doubts on the point were set at rest. Harvey himself came out into the passage to waylay him—Harvey, sane and shaven and full of geniality.

"Hullo, old top! Whither away so early?" was his greeting. "Haven't got such a thing as a hammer, I suppose?"

"A hammer?" repeated Tiggie blankly. "What on earth for?"

The artist laughed, smoothing his trim beard. "Oh, not to brain anybody! Only to pack a picture. Care to come in and see it first?"

Tiggie, went in, somehow lacking initiative to do otherwise.

Harvey's bed was in the wildest disorder. All his belongings, including his battered suitcase, were scattered upon it.

"You're going, are you?" said Tiggie.

"You've guessed it," laughed Harvey. "The fell deed is accomplished, and there's nothing left to keep me here. It's a devilish dull place anyhow, specially when the only girl in it is the property of your best friend. Here it is!"

He seized Tiggie by the shoulder, and wheeled him around.

"Great heaven!" said Tiggie.

The picture had been propped at an angle where the morning light fell fully. He stood before it, gazing and gazing with eyes that seemed unable to look away.

"Like it?" said Harvey behind him.

Tiggie drew a deep breath. "It's—stupendous! You—you—man, how on earth did you know?"

"Oh, I know lots of things," said Harvey lightly, "and I've always been able to see to the bottom of your nice transparent soul—even when your back was turned. It's a decent back, isn't it, Tiggie?" He referred to the picture. "Think the B.P. will like it?"

But Tiggie was not looking at the figure of the man in the boat, but that of the woman—with her face of ineffable purity and the wonder of the dawn in her eyes.

"It's stupendous," he said again. "Sheer genius!"

"It ought to be," said Harvey. "It's stained with my soul's blood."

Tiggie turned sharply to look at him, and for a definite interval their eyes met in complete silence.

Then, with an abrupt gesture, Harvey terminated the long scrutiny, as one who disengages his weapon and returns it to its sheath.

"Well, least said, soonest mended," he said, with an airiness not wholly unstudied. "Every fool has his own hell as well as his own paradise. You've had yours and I—mine. I've been down to the very nethermost, I can tell you, Tiggie." A wistful expression like the memory of a past torment looked out of his eyes. "It's hell fire—nothing else—while it lasts. I shall have a spell of peace now. P'raps I shall die before it comes again—if there is such a thing as death. Think there is?"

"I don't know," said Tiggie soberly. "Probably not."

Harvey's Puck-like grin of derision leapt across his face. "Oh, you mortals! I know exactly what you're thinking. But you made your own laws, didn't you? And you've got to stick to 'em. They don't apply to me and never will. I don't belong, though there's only one person in the world who knows it."

"Who's that?" said Tiggie.

Harvey swung away from him and began to pack everything within reach of his suitcase with feverish zeal. "Janet, of course! Who else? The only woman who counts! And now I'm going back to her with a fortune on my back. And what do you think she'll say to me, eh, Tiggie? What d'you think I want her to say?"

"Don't know," said Tiggie.

"No," said Harvey compassionately. "You wouldn't. She'll say, 'Hullo, Harvey, you've come just at the right moment. Help me to coop these chickens!'"

He stopped still throwing articles promiscuously into every available corner.

"Well?" said Tiggie.

"Well," said Harvey, and looked up at him with eyes that mocked and yet almost seemed to appeal for pity, "that's all I want on earth. And you—have you got what you want too?"

"Well—yes," said Tiggie. "But—look here——."

Harvey cut him short. "I've no time to look anywhere. But I'm glad you're happy, old chap—damn' glad—though I can't stop to talk about it. Go and get some wood and nails and a hammer and we'll knock up a coffin for this picture! Then I'll clear out and leave you to your safe haven."

He resumed his task with redoubled energy, and Tiggie turned and left him.

There was nothing else to be done. And as he closed the door he felt that he dropped a curtain before something upon which it was better not to look.

(THE END)

(Copyright by Ethel Mary Savage)

One-Minute Pulpit

This is my rest for ever; here will I dwell; for I have desired it.—Psalm 132:14.

Rheumatism
RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO quickly relieved by this new treatment—USE RUMACAPS.
McDermid & Jury, Druggists
RUMACAPS

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

A GREAT SURGICAL FEAT

On this date, in 1863 Dr. Abraham Groves of Fergus, Ont., performed the first operation for appendicitis in Canada, and I think in the world The tale is brief, even if the consequences were a revolution in medical practice:

"One of his patients became seized with agonizing pains. Dr. Groves diagnosed the case as appendicitis. He decided to operate. In his little surgery he prepared his crude instruments, a razor-edge small knife, a homemade scalpel his harsh anaesthetic. He prepared the patient and then he did something which at that time was amazing—something also unknown on this continent. He carefully washed his hands and arms and face; he scorched his instruments in a flame. At this time little was known of antiseptic surgery. The discoverer of Lord Lister were still being attacked by the leaders of the profession in Europe, yet this country doctor, with only an indirect knowledge of the theory of bacilli life, took the necessary measures to preserve his patient's life.

Dr. Groves performed the operation and removed the appendix. The patient survived. That was the first appendectomy on official record in any medical archives in the world. It is known to be positively the first such operation in the western hemisphere; a couple of operations were said to have been performed in Europe a year earlier, but no record exists of them today. Dr. Groves' hospital at Fergus, one of the best of the small hospitals in America is a shrine for surgeons the world over.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

THE PAS, MANITOBA.

The name of this northern Manitoba mining and trapping town has been various called "Le Pas", "The Pas", and "The Pass", and is popularly presumed to be of French origin. Like many another Canadian town, however, the name sprang from the Indian language.

At one time this particular Indian camping ground was known as Opasquiapow, which means "a wooded bay." This expanation is easily accepted from the fact that a bend in the Saskatchewan River, as the place is approached by canoe, gives the appearance of a wooded bay.

The Church of England established and maintained a mission there for many years, before the white settlers came in large numbers and the church folk called it, "The Pas Mission," using only one syllable of the Indian name.

When the town was incorporated in 1912 the word "Mission" was dropped, leaving the name of the place as "The Pas."

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

THE BROWSER

This season of the year is very difficult for the Browser....The combination of spring fever and the dreadful activity of the publishers makes it hard for him to know which leaf to turn. Half way through one book he looks longingly at another, and when he is half way through that he thinks he ought to go back and finish the first....A very dizzy business..... And some of the books he reads, he forgets almost at once, but some he will remember for always.... There's Feuchtwanger's "The Oppermanns", for one....Hardly a pleasant book. How could it be, this story of what has been happening to Feuchtwanger's people in their Germany? But a strongly persuasive one. The author rarely raises his voice in telling his story of the Opperman family, brothers and sisters and sons and daughters and their friends, but line by line and page by page he fills in the picture of their misery....He knows too much of human nature to make his Oppermanns perfect, but he does not make them real....The last sitting together of the Oppermann family and Feuchtwanger's description of the Passover ceremony is one of the great pages of literature. ....Oddly enough, when the Browser met Feuchtwanger last year, he did not believe anything dreadful was about to happen to his race.... He expected to go back to Germany, but he has never gone back....He lives on the Riviera....Arnold Zweig the other German writer so often confused with Stefan Zweig, has gone with his family to Palestine.

George D. Lyman's "Saga of the Comstock Lode" is the best book the Browser has ever read on the silver sixties. The publishers refer to it as the "saga of the American gold-mining town", which deserves a pooh-pooh because everybody ought to know that the despised "blue stuff" that cluttered the gold miners' rockers on Sun mountain was really worth about $3,000 to the ton in SILVER....A grand, exciting story, this one—one to make the hair rise on the nape of your neck and give you a funny feeling in the pit of the stomach. Such energy, such courage, such high hopes, such wild extravagance, such agony, such despair, such pathos, and such delirium....Dr. Lyman knows this story well. He was born in Virginia City, Nevada, in 1862 and grew up in the shadow of the silver mountain in its quieter days, the son of a mining engineer....Now he's a child specialist who writes of the pioneer days because he loves them and because he must!....The Browser puts his volume on the shelf alongside of Carl Glasscock's "Big Bonanza" and when people ask him which they should read, he will say: "Read Glasscock's speed for racing speed, read Dr. Lyman's for its richly packed and glamorous detail. Read both of them."

Don't moan to the Browser, ever again, about the dull uniformity of life in the United States. On page 145 of Stuart Chase's "Mexico" he says that "all over Mexico a single pattern animates house interiors of the common people"....One room, a griddle, a metate for grinding corn, a water pot, painted wooden bowls, a square tin oil can, assorted pottery, hammocks or straw mats, a little shrine with tinsel and candles, two dogs, three hens, four babies, a broom of rushes, and somewhere flowers....That's all, no more....The Browser, dull wight, prefers America....From advertisement for Samuel Hopkins Adams' "The Gorgeous Hussy," "A hell-roaring frontier town that was the Washington of the 1780's. Not an innocent and gently rocking cradle of the nation's politics, but one of the toughest spots in the whole United States, with a saloon for every 90 inhabitants."

THE BROWSER.

A Thought

DUTY

Duty by hearsay, duty by argument, duty by eloquence, duty by propaganda—before God, there is not much in that!....If you want an example of those highest things which cannot be spoken but can be acted, you have it in duty. Act it first and then the words you use about it will have meaning. Leave it unacted and the words will avail nothing. Nay, worse than that.

When the highest things have been turned into themes of eloquence, or into subjects for the war of minds between contentious philosophers, and when everybody is eager to talk about them, there is a terrible danger that the habit of arguing about these things, and talking eloquently and learnedly about them, may become a substitute for doing them. Oh!.....the danger of letting the mere discussion of the highest become a substitute for the reality of it as acted on the stage of life!

I rather think that some of the deepest troubles of our civilization may be set down to that. The schools are suffering from it; the universities are suffering from it; the churches are suffering from it; the government is suffering from it.—Dr. L. P. Jacks.

People of Northern Ireland are demanding better railway service.

New World DICTIONARY Based on the Original Webster

COUPON
Clip 3 Coupons
on consecutive days and present or mail same to this paper with 98c
This new high class up-to-date Dictionary is far in advance of any similar volume heretofore distributed by newspapers. Larger page, more words to page, more pages and contains many thousands more words, many new words not published in any other Dictionary. Unquestioned for Scholarship. Durably bound in dark green textile leather, gold stamping.
Special—To get it bound in embossed art cover, maroon and old gold, with full gold edges and thumb indexed, send $1.48 extra.

NAME 15
ADDRESS .....
.....

Chicago Wheat Up 5c - Industrials Close Firm

MARKET QUOTATIONS

QUOTATIONS COMPLETE TO CLOSING TIME

Toronto Stocks

BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Abitibi	190	185	180
Con. Bake.	9	9	9
Br. Amer. Oil	14⅞	14¾	14⅞
Can. Bread Co.	3½	..	..
Bldg. Prods.	23	22¾	22¾
Bell Tel.	118½	..	..
Brazilian	10⅜	10⅛	10¼
Can. Cem.	7⅞	7¾	7⅞
C. P. R.	16	15⅞	15⅞
Can. Dredge	22	22	22
Can. Car and F.	6¾b	..	..
Can. Canners	7¼	..	..
Can. Malt	32½	31½	32
Cockshutt	7⅝	7¼	7½
Dom. Bridge	33-3½	..	..
Dist. Seagram	16½	15¼	16⅛
Dom. Stores	20¼-1	..	..
Ford "A"	21⅝	21	21½
Gypsum, L & A.	6½	6	6
Cons. Gas	179	..	..
Goodyear	121	120	121
Ham. Bridge	6	..	..
Walk. G & W.	15¾	15¾	15¾
Int. Nickel	2735	2660	2725
Int. Itil. "A"	3-	..	..
Int. Util. "B"	80	..	..
Ind. Alcohol	12⅛	11⅝	11⅞
Imp. Oil	14⅜	14¼	14½
Imp. Tobacco	11¼	10⅝	10⅝
Con. Smelt	155	150½	153
Loblaw "A"	17½	17⅛	17⅜
Mont. L H & P.	37¼-⅜	..	..
McC. Frontenac	13⅛	..	..
Massey Harris	5½	5¼	5½
Moore Corp.	16¼-⅜	..	..
Page Hersey	66	..	..
Pressed Metals	16	..	..
Power Corp.	11⅜	..	..
Photo Eng.	16½	..	..
Int. Pete	26⅞	26½	26¾
Std. Steel	5⅜	5	5
Service Station	8b	..	..
Sup. Petro.	24	..	..
Stand. Paving	2¾	2¾	2¾
Tip-Top Tailors	8-8½	..	..
C. Vinegar	25	..	..
Westons Ltd.	38½	..	..
Steel of Can.	36¼	36	36

Toronto Mining

WATSON, WALLACE AND CO.

	High	Low	Close
Acme Oil	25	24	24
Ajax Oil	114	112	112
Ashley Gold	102	90	100
Aldermac	23½	23	23½
Amity	2½	2¼	2¼
Bagamac	22½	20½	21
Base Metals	151	148	148
Barry Hollinger	14	....	....
Bobjo	48	46	46
Braylorne	1325	1300	1315
B. R. X.	112	110	112
Bunker Hill	3	2½	2½
Brownlee	4	3½	3½
Can Kirk	8¾	8¾	8¾
Chem Research	175	160	170
Central Patricia	69	65	66
Cen Manitoba	9	9	9
Coast Copper	425	....	....
Cassels Treth	60	59	59
Dalhousie Oil	43	....	....
Dome	3700	3675	3700
Dom Explorers	4	....	....
Eldorado	275	250	255
Falconbridge	385	380	380
Fed Kirk	5½	4¾	4¾
Hollinger	1580	1550	1575
Home Oil	140	138	140
Howey	126	125	126
Hudson Bay	1255	1250	....
Int Nickel	2740	2660	2725
Kirk Hudson	65	70	....
Kirk Lake	53	49	51
Kirk Townsite	28	27	27
Bear	45	41	41
Gunnar	155	149	155
Green-St	81	79	80
Harker	12	11	12
Columario	36	34	36
Little Long Lac	450	445	450
Park Hill	65¼	65	65¼
Read Authier	92	89¼	90
Paymaster	29	27	28
Bradian	270	265	265
Robb Mont	8¼	7¾	7¾
Lakeshore	4975	4950	5975
Lee Gold	14¾	14	14
McIntyre	4300	4190	4300
Macassa	265	260	262
Maple Leaf	61	55	55½
Malartic	66	64	64
Mining Corp.	185	..	..
Malrobic	4¾	4	4¾
Moffat Hall	6	5½	5½
McMillan	65	64	64
McVittie-Graham	74	67	68
McWatters	40	38	40
McKenzie	117	112	116
Noranda	4030	3870	4000
Noranda	4030	3h70	4000
Nor. Canada	29-30	..	..
Nepissing	235-240	..	..
Nordon	11½	11	11½
Pend-Oreille	93	90	90
Pioneer	1275	1250	1250
Premier	127	..	..
Reno Gold	91	90	91
Ribago	1¼	..	..
Sherritt-Gordon	106	105	105
Siscoe	215	211	214
San Antonio	381	375	380
Sudbury Basin	185	178	185
St. Anthony	52	48	50
Sylvante	251	246	249
Teck-Hughes	605	596	605
Towagmac	57	52	55
Thompson Cad.	49	46	46½
Ventures	88	86	87
Amulet	127	..	..
Wayside	38	37	37
Wright-Harg.	890	880	890
White Eagle	36	3v	33
Wainwright	73	68	73

New York Stocks

BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

	High	Low	Close
Atchison	57¾	55⅛	56
Auburn Auto	36⅛	34½	35⅞
Allied Chem	136	133¼	136
Am Smelting	38⅜	35⅝	37⅜
Am Rad & S S	13⅜	12⅜	13
Am and For Pow	8	7⅛	8
Am Tel & Tel	112⅜	109½	111
Am Roll Mills	18⅞	17½	18½
Anaconda Copper	14⅛	13⅜	14⅛
Balt & Ohio	23¼	22¼	22⅞
Bald Loco	10⅞	9⅞	10¼
Bordons	23½	22½	23½
Byers A M	21	19⅝	21
Bendix Avn	15⅛	14½	15
Beth Steel	35	33¼	34½
Briggs	16½	15½	16⅜
Canada Dry	22⅞	22¼	22¼
Can Pacific	15⅞	155½	15⅝
Case J I	55	50½	53
Chrysler	42⅞	40⅛	40⅜
Columbus Gas	12	11⅜	11⅞
Cons Gas	33	32¼	32⅜
Com Solvents	22⅝	21	22⅛
Dupont	85⅝	84¼	84¼
Erie	18⅜	17⅛	18
Elec Bond & Sh	14	13¼	14
Elec Pwr & Light	5⅝	5¼	5⅝
Elec Auto L	21	19¾	21
Freeport Texas	40	39	39
Fox Film	14⅝	14½	14½
Gen Electric	19⅞	19⅝	19½
Gen Food Prods	33¼	33	33
Gen Motors	33	31¾	32½
Gillette Saf Raz	10⅛	10⅛	10¼
Goodyear	30½	27½	28⅝
Graham Paige	3	2⅞	3
Houston Oil	21⅛	18⅝	20
Hudson Motors	14	12⅝	13½
Int Harvester	36⅛	34¼	36½
Inter. Nickel	27¾	26⅝	27⅛
Interboro R.T.	8½	8¼	8¼
Int. Tel. & Tel.	12½	12⅛	12⅜
Johns-Man.	49¾	47¼	49
Liquid Carb.	29½	27½	28¼
Mont. Ward	26¼	26½	26½
Mack Truck	26¼	24⅜	24⅜
Nash Mtrs.	18	16¾	17
N.Y. Central	28⅝	27⅜	28⅝
National Biscuit	38¼	37½	37½
North Amer.	16¼	15½	16
Phillips Pete	17⅞	16⅝	17¼
Pack. Mtrs.	4¼	4⅛	4⅛
Penn. Ry.	31	29½	30¼
Radio Corp.	7⅝	7⅛	7⅛
Radio-Keith	3⅛	2⅞	2⅞
Raybestos-M.	17⅝	17¼	17⅛
Sears Roebuck	43¼	41⅝	43
Sim. Bed. Co.	16¼	14¼	16
Stand. Brands	19¾	19¼	19¼
Std. Oil of N.J.	42⅝	42⅛	42⅛
Socony-Vac	15⅝	14⅞	15⅛
Studebaker	5	4⅞	5
Stewart-War.	7⅛	7	7
South. Pacific.	22	20½	22
Texas Corp.	23⅞	23¼	23¼
Timken R. B.	30½	29½	30⅛
Texas G. S.	33½	32½	32½
Union Pacific	122½	120½	120½
Union Carb.	40⅜	39¼	40
United Corp.	5	4⅞	4⅞
U.S. Rubber	19¼	17½	18⅝
U.S. Steel	44¼	42¼	43½
Vanadium C.	20⅜	19¼	20¼
Westinghouse	33⅜	31⅝	32½
Warner Bros.	6	5½	5⅝
Yellow Cab.	4⅞	4⅝	4⅝
Woolworth	49b	47⅜	49

BOND LIST

Dominion of Canada
1936	105	-105⅞
1937	110	-110½
1941	108	-108½
1952	102½	-102⅞
1958	105½	-105⅝
Province of Ontario
1948	100	-110¾

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

ACTIVE BUYING IN CHICAGO PIT

Reaction Occurs in Mid-day Following Profit-taking After Limit Reached.

COMMISSION TRADING.

CHICAGO, May 10 (A.P.)—Wheat prices spurted sensationally upward five cents to-day, the limit for daily fluctuations, on the strength of aggressive commission house buying late in the session.

Heavy profit-taking appeared after the sudden maximum price rise and a slight reaction occurred, but renewed buying followed.

The maximum rise was in the July delivery. Traders apparently centred attention on continuance of widespread drought and severe dust storms in wheat-growing territory.

GAINS MADE AT WINNIPEG

Gloomy Crop Prospects Attributed to Hostile Weather Conditions Sends Prices Soaring.

SIX CENT ADVANCE.

WINNIPEG, May 10 (C.P.). — Gloomy crop prospects attributed to hostile weather conditions sent the wheat prices soaring to-day on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Closing quotations saw futures 2¾ to 2⅞ cents higher, making gains of around 6 cents in three days.

The May option ended at 71⅞c, July at 72⅞c and October at 74¾c. Crop outlook was darkened by high temperatures, dust storms, and lack of rainfall, while the grasshopper menace remained an unknown quantity.

Bulls swept the pit with buying orders. Selling developed at peak prices, but failed to do more than slow up the rising tide of prices. The Winnipeg market emulated that of Chicago where a sensational spurt shot prices for the maximum gain allowed of five cents.

Traders were enthused, not only by the Canadian crop picture but by serious crop news from the United States and Eastern Europe.

MINING ISSUES RECOVER LOSSES

Toronto Trade Only Mildly Affected by Reversal of Trend at New York.

TORONTO, May 10 (CP)—The selling storm on some of the industrial Boards, passed over the Mining Section of the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day, the listing reflecting only mildly the New York price shake-down. Any recessions here were quickly made up after the selling subsided with exception of the few of the cheaper golds, including Granada and Maple Leaf and Eldorado in the silver group. These were down at the close.

McIntyre had the only stiff recession during the day, that issue falling back to 41.90 for a loss of nearly $2, but the situation was partly righted before the close. The net loss for the day was about $1. Dome closed about 50 cents down; Lake Shore, 25 cents off, and Teck Wright Hargreaves, Pioneer and Bralorne down 5 to 25 cents. Hollinger registered a net gain of 20 cents.

Grain Quotations

LEEMING AND LEEMING

Phones 2786 and 2787

CHICAGO.

	July	Sept.	May
High	88⅝	89⅜	90⅜
Low	84	85	85
Close	88⅝	89⅜	90⅜

WINNIPEG.

	July	Oct.	May
High	73⅛	74⅞	72⅛
Low	70¼	72	69¼
Close	73⅛	74⅞	72⅛

LIVERPOOL CABLES.

Due—¾ to 1 lower.
Open—⅛ to ¼ lower.
1.30—¼ to ⅜ lower.
2.15—⅜ to ¼ lower.
Close—⅛ to ⅜ lower.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, May 10 (C.P.).—Influence by the decline in New York, securities on the Montreal Stock Exchange dipped downward at the close to-day. The market tended lower right from the opening.

Several wide movements were experienced with Consolidated Smelters dropping 4½ points at 153, Howard Smith Preferred four points, Wabasso Cotton three, Dominion Coal Preferred two and Bruck Silk one.

International Nickel eased 50 cts. at 27.30, while Brazilian Traction, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal Power, Shawinigan Power, Dominion Bridge and Southern Canada Power were off fractions.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, May 10 (A.P.). — Stocks were swept lower in heavy selling waves in the forenoon today, but recovered substantially in late dealings. U.S. Smelting converted a 3-point loss into an equivalent net rise. American Telephone also displayed late strength. Declines of 1 to 3 points were reduced to a point or less by U.S. Steel, Chrysler and New York Central. Transfers approximated 2,150,000 shares.

$1,869 SURPLUS AT QUEEN'S

KINGSTON, Ont., May 10. (CP) Queen's University had an operating surplus of $1,869 during the past year, it was reported in the financial statement of the treasurer, Dr. W. E. McNeill, to-day but it was only by strict economy that the budget was balanced. Principal W. H. Fyfe, stated that increased endowment is absolutely necessary at the university.

OFFICER BURIED

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 10. (CP) With his fellow officers on the St. Thomas police force and provincial officers acting as pall-bearers and members of the Police Commission and the chief of police, as honorary members, Constable Colin Clair McGregor, slain in Monday's gun battle here and for whose murder Frank Mactemple is now held in jail, was borne to the grave this afternoon.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Market Briefs

as Received Over Wire
LEEMING AND LEEMING
Phones 2786—2787

NW YOREK, May 10.—All in all the stock market is left to its own inherent strength or weakness to find the line of least resistance, whether upward or downward during the coming weeks. The market is facing a crucial test of the lows of Monday. That these lows violated on volume and decisively the lows of March puts the burden of profit on the market to show that an important down-rend had not been entered. Nothing conclusive was proved by yesterday's reaction. It was a test of Monday's lows but not a complete test. Individual issues such as Allied Chemical, Atchison and Col. Carbon did break Monday's lows, but generally as indicated in the price averages the lows of the day did not seriously threaten the critical levels of support. Furthermore the decline was not accompanied by volume. Monday's lows have been a bottom through Tuesday and Wednesday, but the test is not finished. A lower opening this morning than last night's close would be immediately constituted a threat against Monday's lows, and the breaking of the lows of yesterday in a majority of instances would be a threat of new lows for the move all along the line. There is one thing that makes for technical strength in the market and that is the increasing disposition on the part of traders to take short positions. With prices in the critical position they now occupy and a crucial test still uncompleted, the hazards of indiscriminate short selling are about on a par with the hazards of indiscriminate buying.

CHICAGO, May 10, 10.00 a.m.—Terrible dust storm in progress at Fargo which has been going since 2 p.m. yesterday without a stop. Have seen dust storms before, but this is something different from anything ever experienced. It is really distressing to live in it.

Liverpool is fractionally lower; possibly the reaction may be attributed to the fact that no headway is being made at the London Wheat Conference. Argentine is balking at the minimum price feature and apparently will continue the policy of merchandising its wheat.

There were a few unexpected showers in Central and Eastern Canada. Small amount of rain in Southern Illinois. Starting to rain now at Oklahoma City. Has been raining at Enid. Also a few spots in Kansas had light showers yesterday. The Northwest the driest spot and probably needs rain badly. Believe markets will continue largely under the influence of later weather reports.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, May 10 (C.P.) — The Toronto wholesale cheese market was weaker to-day, with dealers buying large colored paraffined and government grades at 9½ cents.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New large, 10¾c; twins, 11c; triplets, 11¼c. Old—Large, 17¼c; twins, 17½c; triplets, 17¾c Medium—Large 15¼c; twins, 15½c; triplets, 15¾c.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 10 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on produce delivered at Toronto, as supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co. here to-day were:

Eggs—Grade A-large, doz., 17c; grade A-medium, 15c; grade "C" 14c.

Churning Cream — No. 1 lb., 21c; No. 2, lb., 19c. Butter—No. 1, solids, lb., 20c; No. 2, 19½c.

Ontario Cobbler potatoes, bag, 85 cents.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, May 10 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruit and vegetable with the exception of the following changes, were reported unchanged to-day. Louisiana strawberries, 24-point case, $2.50; Canadian asparagus, 11 qt. basket, $1.25 to $1.75. Canadian hothouse tomatoes, lb., 20 to 22c; Cuban pineapples, cases of 24, 18, 30, $3.25.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, May 10.— (C.P.)— Receipts were very light on all classes of livestock on the Toronto market and trading was the same way. Fresh cattle numbered 10 head with 250 holdovers. About 90 head were sold up to two o'clock and as all buyers were off the floor it appeared the week-end holdover would be slightly more than 150. Butcher cattle sold from $4.35 to $5.25, with a few weighty steers from $4.00 to $5.50.

The calf division was steady at $4.00 to $5.50 for the majority. A few good vealers sold up to $5.00 and $6.50. Receipts were 40 head. Truck hogs, the only grade on the market, went unchanged at $7.85 for bacons. Packers were bidding $7.25 f.o.b. and $8.00 off car for week-end deliveries. Spring lambs went from $5.00 to $8.00 each. No sheep were offered. Hog receipts were 180 and lambs 30.

Livestock Quotations.

Cattle, calf, sheep and lamb quotations remained unchanged.

Hogs, off car basis, selects, $1.00 premium; bacons, $8.15; butchers, $1.00 discount; heavies $1.50 discount; lights and feeders $1.00 discount.

TORONTO LIST CLOSES STRONG

Interlisteds Recover Losses Following Moderate Shake-down Earlier in Day.

DISTILLERIES ACTIVE.

TORONTO, May 10 (C.P.).—Industrial shares firmed slowly this afternoon, following a moderate shake-down earlier in the day in sympathy with a period of sharp declines on the New York board. Most of the inter-listed shares, International Nickel excepted, fully recovered and in the case of the distillery stocks, small net gains were recorded. Trading centred mainly in the distillery shares, Nickel, Ford and Smelters; the latter closed a point down at 154.

From a low point of 26.75, International Nickel came back to close at 27.20, off 50 cents net. Walkers Common was a strong spot in the late trading, closing around 33 for a fractional net gain. Industrial Alcohol and Distillers Seagrams also reduced their losses, and Brewers and Distillers broke even.

QUEBEC GROWER PRESENTS CASE

(Continued from Page 1)

have been to eliminate a large number of people handling the tobacco, centralizing control in the big manufacturing companies.

Victor Chartrand, a cigar manufacturer of L'Epiphanie, Que., told the committee the Imperial Tobacco Company of Montreal tried to run him out of business. Some years ago, a representative of the Montreal company told him to sell out at their terms or they would build a factory near his. He refused to sell. The competing factory was built and in the last five years, his production dropped from 5,000,000 to 1,000,000 cigars "because of the influence of the Imperial Tobacco Company on dealers, retailers and jobbers."

The Imperial Company, Mr. Chartrand charged, warned jobbers not to buy his products and their representatives instructed merchants not to display his goods.

Urges No Tax

In a brief read to the committee, Mr. Marion urged that no tax be levied on leaf tobacco. Half of the production in Quebec was sold in raw condition direct from producer to consumer, without passing through the factory.

"Undoubtedly, the leaf-tobacco trade is affected by the depression, but it is quite evident that no improvement is to be expected by blocking the market of our production; our growers want more freedom for their sales" said Mr. Marion.

"Our suggestions are very much along the same lines as those of the Ontario growers, viz: Organization of official classification by way of a central drying storage and public auction sales.

"At present, the market is overloaded with too many varieties of tobacco. Official classification and public auction sales would bring about a more regular and guaranteed market for the pipe, aromatic and other blends of tobacco, and would also help the production and sales of our cigar-tobacco and enable the export of a certain quantity of these tobaccos. We consider these means the most adequate for the producing and marketing of cigarette-tobacco which we hope to handle soon.

"In our district the culture of tobacco is being done on a rather small smale. We figure that we can make reasonable profits at ordinary prices if we can keep a free market for our leaf-tobacco and secure the necessary help to build up a drying storage and improve the classification and public auction sales system. With these objectives, we join the formulated requests of the growers of Ontario," Mr. Marion said.

Bank Clearings

Peterborough	$ 584,049
Brantford	782,954
Kingston	578,384
Kitchener	953,239
London	2,371,775
Sarnia	434,433
Sudbury	643,365
Toronto	118,658,188
Windsor	2,316,688

HOG PRICES IN ONTARIO

TORONTO, May 10—(CP)—Bacon hog prices remained unchanged in Ontario market points today packers paying about $7.50 per hundredweight f.o.b. shipping point.

Todays prices—Peterboro $7.50; Kitchener $7.50; Hull, Que, $8; London $7.40; Brantford $7.50.

His Last Theft

MEBANE, N.C., May 10 (CP) —A bald eagle, measuring 7½ feet from wing tip to wing tip, won't bother Norman Moore's Setter dogs any more.

Moore, who owns a kennel, saw the eagle making away with one of his prize pups. Snatching his rifle, he saved the pup —and bagged the eagle.

A Taboo Plant

LONDON, Ont., May 10 (CP). —A. R. T. Smith, chief weed inspector for this district, to-day revealed the golden rod started so much sniffling and sneezing with the hay fever, among the commuters living in Halton County, that the county had to pass a law against the plant.

The commuters can enjoy their wide open spaces this year, with never a sneeze, because the county has made the golden rod a noxious week. It is now against the law in Halton to let the flower mature to the point where it is dangerous to delicate nostrils.

COUNTY MEMBER IS THE CHOICE

(Continued from Page 1)

J. F. Strickland, M.P.P., as being an acclamation.

Premier Henry arrived at five minutes to three o'clock and was greeted with an enthusiastic reception of a minute's applause, followed by the cheers led by Gordon S. Matthews. Hon. Mr. Henry entered the hall just as Mr. Strickland was concluding his speech, in which he declared himself as not seeking the nomination, between interruptions by a group of unemployed including Mrs. William Childs and Mrs. Frank Lundy.

Some Heckling.

The little company of unemployed had arrived early and secured seats in the third row from the front. They passed up Dr. Fraser, Richard Sanderson and the others who had been proposed and who in brief speeches declined to enter a contest against Mr. Lancaster. But, Mr. Strickland drew the first fire of heckling, and responded with good nature to several questions which were directed to him.

"May I ask you one question?" Mrs. Childs queried.

"Certainly," Mr. Strickland replied.

"Have you any children?"

"I have."

"Well, they can't live on twenty-five cents a week."

Mr. Strickland —"Even that is better than nothing at all."

Mrs. Childs—"It is not. They might as well have nothing as twenty-five cents. They might as well starve right."

Mr. Strickland paused a moment and then with obvious irony remarked: "You look like a perfect specimen of a starved lady."

The audience burst into laughter at that comment, the point of which was a compliment to the natural bloom of Mrs. Child's healthy appearance.

After the salvo of cheers to Premier Henry subsided, Mrs. Lundy called out, "Three cheers for Section 98 (of the Crominal Code)."

At one point of Mr. Strickland's speech in which he was referring to the quality of the administration which had been given to the people of Ontario by the Henry government, and was speaking of its achievemetns, Mrs. Childs called out: "Beer."

Don't Want Beer.

Continuing she declared in a loud voice that could be heard all over the hall—"We don't want beer, we want food, and work and better wages. Children are actually starving in this city."

Mr. Strickland: I'm sure you wouldn't want beer.

From parts of the hall came shouts—"Sit down. Throw her out."

In another interruption one of the women said: "We want more food for our children so they can grow up and fight in the next war for people like you."

Mr. Strickland was unruffled by the heckling. He said that Mr. Lancaster would no doubt welcome any other candidate the interrupters might wish to put into the campaign. He paid a fine compliment to T. P. Lancaster who, he said, had a flair for public service and for diligent attention to the matters which he had to bring before the various departments. Both the Peterboro ridings had been represented by outstanding men in the past, including the Hon. J. R. Stratton, who had been a Cabinet Minister, but none of them, Mr. Strickland stated, had shown more energy and activity as a representative of his constituents.

From the course of the heckling during Mr. Strickland's speech, and the fact that he was selected by the group in the audience close to the platform, it seemed that they were simply having a "work out," a warming-up for Premier Henry's appearance. At the same time the temper of the audience was plainly opposed to sidetracking the main purposes of the convention, and with the nomination settled, of giving Premier Henry a most attentive hearing in his review of the Government's accomplishments and possibly with an added survey of the party's opponents in the present campaign.

Police Inspector Reid and several constables were conspicuous along the fringes of the audience.

Your Evening Smile

THE WHOLE TRUTH

"I admit, dear, I didn't get home till 6 o'clock."

"I knew it."

"That's why I admit it."

Races — Entries — Selections
Comment — Results

Kenilworth Entries

(For Friday, May 11)

First Race.

Purse, $700, claiming, 2-year-olds, 4½ furlongs (8):

Brannon 106, X-Treasure Ship 100, Which Prig 98, Candy Store 105, Harsha 105, X-St. Moritz 100, Cudgeldro 105, Marylitch 109.

Second Race.

Hand-in-Hand, purse $700, maiden 3-year-olds and winners of one race, 6 furlongs (10):

Gibable 102, Corduroy 100, Gray Chink 102, Small Play 102, Lady Rene 100, Idle Talk 100, Stage Idol 102, Muckle Do 109, Grand Rock 105, Penster 98.

Third Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 6 furlongs (9):

X-Sweepvale 96, Ville Crest 99, Taximan 115, X-Milestone 106, Running Showers 101, Babe Gaiety 102, Pepper Prince 111, Candy Pot 111, Pertoxical 110.

Fourth Race.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, foaled in Canada, 6 furlongs (10):

Sea Kale 115, X-Acajou 108, X-Mr. Chink 96, Thunder Light 115, Wentworth 111, Prince Rupert 111, Corsinax 111, X-Rose Lady 104, Mish Mash 111, Rock Crest 114.

Fifth Race.

$700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, six furlongs (12-1):

X-Steel 103, X-Aleeta 101, Meloy 108, Rough Waters 106, Egad 108, Joe Macaw 108, Craigco 108, X-Toy Town 101, Flyer 106, Wacket 108 Athol 108, Afro American 108; also eligible, X-Princeton 103.

Sixth Race.

Purse, $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, mile and 70 yards (7):

Hillsborough 111, Theone 102, Pan 104, X-Brookhattan 104, X-Mrs. Foster 101, En Avant 106, Sorcery 111.

Seventh Race.

Purse, $700, claiming, 4-year-olds and up, mile and a sixteenth (6):

Representative 107, X-Cat Walq 110, X-Raccoon 104, Spartan Lady 110, Dark Mission 107, Below Cost 110.

X-A.A.C. Clear and fast.

KENILWORTH SCRATCHES

Second—Aleeta, Egad.
Fifth—Sorcery, Rough Waters, Inflate, Theone, Meloy.
Seventh—Mrs. Foster.
Track—Cloudy and fast.

ELECTRICAL STORM DID LITTLE DAMAGE

Considerable Trouble, However, But All of Minor Nature Reported.

Despite the intense severity of the electrical storm that broke over Peterborough and district shortly after nine o'clock last night and continued for the space of almost two hours, a check-up this morning failed to reveal any serious damage.

Considerable trouble, all of a minor nature however, was reported by the Bell Telephone Company; the Peterborough Utilities Commission, and the City Fire Department.

Out on Chemong road at the city limits an aerial telephone cable and also an electrical transformer were struck by lightning. The cable, according to Bell Telephone officials, was burned through in places and resulted in many phones in the locality being put temporarily out of commission. The burning out of the transformer, Utilities officials said, also resulted in street and house lights in the immediate locality being placed out of order.

At the Fire Department, the Chief reported that while no fire alarms had resulted from the storm, three fuses had been blown on the protective switchboard in connection with the telegraphic fire alarm system. He did not believe that any fire alarm boxes had been damaged by lightning.

Lightning Hits Tree, Bolt Fires Cottage

BROCKVILLE, Ont., May 10 (CP)—When a tree at Ivy Lea was struck by lightning early to-day and caught fire, the blaze spread to the summer cottage of Ross Webster, Toronto, destroying it together with its contents. Two other cottages in the vicinity, owned respectively by Noah Peck and Charles Fredenburg, were saved with difficulty after hard work on the part of nearby residents.

TORY MOTORISTS HAVE TROUBLE

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. — Motorists going home from the Conservative convention at Espanola last night, found the going difficult. At least 25 cars had to be pulled out. Frost coming out of the ground and construcion work was the case of most of the trouble.

The Tokyo, Japan, stock exchange has reported that the value of stocks traded there gained nearly $65,000,000 in February.

Kenilworth Results

FIRST RACE.

The Tunnel, purse $700, maiden 2-year-old fillies, foaled in Canada, 4½ furlongs;

A-Chick Pen, 110, Thomas, 4.25, 3.25, 2.40.

A-Donstick, 110, Young, 3.25, 2.40.

Miss Worthmore, 110, Vercher, 2.50.

Time, .55.

Faine, Colle Chink, Aromette, Gay Sympathy, Smoke Ring also ran.

X-H. C. Hatch entry.

SECOND RACE.

$700, claiming, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs:

Hasty Belle, 98, Maschek, 6.80, 5.00, 3.20.

Kalola, 111, Madeley, 17.75, 6.75.

Maebee, 111, Parker, 3.70.

Time, 1.14.

Federal Reserve, Black Jewel and Cabainia also ran.

(Charles J. won but was disqualified).

$50,000 IN PULP

(Continued from Page 1)

sistance were sent to nearby towns.

Not a fishedman sailed from Hantsport to-day. They remained with plant workers, farmers, lumbermen and townspeople to fight the flames roaring on the outskirts of the town.

Early this afternoon it was stated the community would not be threatened if the wind held southwest, but if it swung to the eastward, however, would cause a conflagration.

Motorists In Paris Turn On Communists

PARIS, May 10 (AP)—The motorists of Paris, victims of repeated attacks in connection with Communist outbreaks, finally have rebelled.

One Communist is dead to-day and several lie wounded and injured as a result of rioting last night which motorists refused to accept lying down.

Police said before they could reach a section where Communists had reared barricades and attacked passing drivers, one motorist fired point blank into the ranks of the rioters.

In sharp fighting which ensued between police and Communists later, many more Communists were injured and three policemen were hurt.

The disorders took place at Livry Gargan, a suburb.

Couple Are Rescued By Alert Policemen

TORONTO, May 10 (CP) — William Ward and his wife were saved to-day from possible asphyxiation by the alertness of two policemen in a cruiser car when fire broke out in the Ward house.

Noticing smoke from the dwelling, the officers received no answer when they knocked. They broke in the door to find the couple sleeping soundly unaware of the danger. The occupants were partially overcome, but were soon revived. The blaze was quickly subdued and damage was slight.

Woman Drops Dead On Her Way To Mass

KITCHENER, Ont., May 10 (CP) —Mrs. Mary Schaefter, aged 67, died in a jitney bus while on her way to Mass shortly after seven o'clock to-day.

She had boarded the jitney near its Frederick street terminus and when it reached the centre of the city she was dead.

The driver, Harold Appel, was unaware of her condition until a passenger about to board the bus exclaimed: "Oh, I won't go in there. That woman is dead." No inquest will be held; death being due to a heart failure.

MURRAY'S SELECTIONS

AT KENILWORTH

First Race—	Second Race—
Marylitch	Muckle Do
St. Moritz	Idle Talk
Candy Store	Lady Rene
Third Race—	Fourth Race—
Candy Pot	Rock Crest
Sweepvale	Sea Kale
Ville Crest	Acajou
Fifth Race—	Sixth Race—
Flyer	Pan
Wacket	Hillsborough
Macaw	Brookhattan

Seventh Race—
Dark Mission
Below Cost
Representative.

FAMILY HUNTS FOSSIL ROCKS FOR DINOSAUR

Sternberg Father and Sons Comb Hinterlands for Petrified Skeletons.

14TH EXPEDITION.

By GUY E. RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, May 10 (C.P.)—If Levi Sternberg goes to the field this year, and he hopes he will, it will be his 14th expedition as a dinosaur hunter in 16 years, but that, he says, is nothing compared with the record of his father and two brothers.

Levi, preparator of paleontology at the Royal Ontario Museum, is the youngest member of a dinosaur-hunting family that has gained the plaudits of scientists for almost six decades. His father, C. H. Sternberg, made his first expedition to the Kansas fossil beds in 1876 with the late Edward Drinker Cope, professor of geology at the University of Pennsylvania and one of the most noted paleontologists of the last century.

The old man, now 84, is still working on the Pacific Coast, making his headquarters at San Diego, Cal. Levi has been working for the Ontario museum since 1911. Charles has been with the National Museum in Ottawa since 1912 and George is now at Kansas Teachers College in Hays.

Sternberg senior started collecting fossils in Kansas when he was 17, at a time when many people did not know the strange rock with patterns in them were remains of plants and animals that lived millions of years ago. He did little work in museums, but he was recognized as one of the greatest fossil hunters and is now the veteran of them all.

He and all his sons worked for the National Museum before the war, searching the badlands of Alberta for the petrified bones of monsters that roamed that weather-scarred, barren country when the land was a steaming swamp covered with tropical vegetation.

The father and George returned to the United States, but Charles and Levi remained in Canada and continued to make trips to Alberta, usually along the Red Deer valley, bringing back their specimens in the fall and spending the winter mounting them for exhibition in the halls of their museums.

Their days in the field are easier than some their father knew. When he first went west it was necessary to watch out for hostile bands of Indians. An expedition of which he was a member was once within three miles of the famous Sitting Bull when he roamed the Dakotas after wiping out Custer's little army.

Charles will not be able to go out this year owing to reduced appropriations by the Dominion Government for field work, but Levi hopes his museum will send him back. There is a lure about fossil-hunting that has kept the family at it all these years.

It is a healthy life, too. Old Man Sternberg has lived outdoors almost every summer for 67 years. Levi saw him last autumn and says he was as lively as a cricket.

Ice Cream Record Is Already Set For May

The long innings of the wood and coal merchant is up, and the ice storage operators and the ice cream manufacturers are at bat.

George A. Gillespie, manager of Peterborough Silverwood's Dairy told The Examiner that during the "heat wave" experienced at the opening of the present month, the local plant made and sold almost as much ice cream as was handled during the entire month of May last year.

He did not wholly attribute the brighter business prospect so far as the ice cream business is concerned, merely to the unusual weather conditions enjoyed here last week, but he felt that there was more money in circulation which promises well for business generally.

As proof that he is firm in his belief, Mr. Gillespie stated that a new 80 quart ice cream freezer has just been added to the equipment at the local plant in anticipation of improved demand for ice cream this summer. With the 60 quart freezer formerly in use, the plant is now in a position to produce 3,000 gallons of ice cream a day.

keeps leather LIVELY
Makes Shoes Wear Longer and Look Better
NUGGET SHOE POLISH
There's a NUGGET shade for every shoe make

MODE SHOWS ACTION

Motion is Incorporated Into Gown Design and is Popular Note of Season

Courtesy Stein and Blaine

Left, red and white print silk frock: right, cire striped brown organdie gown.

By LISBETH

This is to be a sheer summer. You can have your pick of materials—silk, cotton or linen, or combinations of two of them—but they all are thin and airy as a summer breeze.

Net is the Big News from Paris, for summer ensembles. The new nets have body and won't stretch out of shape and spoil the plan the dressmaker has when she or he made the smartest of costumes.

Right now, however, before the dog days have come, the printed silk frock is having its day. Prints are colorful and gay as the tulips, crocuses, violets and daffodils that bloom in the garden, and dainty as the spring beauties, hepaticas and other delicate posies that hide in the woods.

Just such a print is shown at the left of the picture. It is a red and white print with tiered skirt, the tiers piped in red. A crisp hand-embroidered lingerie vestee adds additional freshness to this chic frock. Worn with it is one of the new "cartwheel" hats with a tiny bunch of flowers perched on the wide brim.

Just a word about gloves for summer. They're as sheer as the frocks and suits. They are shown in Paris in all sorts of dressy fabrics, georgette gloves being the newest.

The graceful dress for formal wear at the right expresses movement—that symbol of the spring season of 1934. It is fashioned of cire striped brown organdy with white "angel wing" sleeves with a backward sweep of skirt ending in a "fishtail" train. It's a formal frock that would become the sweet young thing and the older woman who has managed to retain slender lines.

Reports To City Council

PARKS COMMITTEE

Your Parks Committee beg leave to report as follows:

We received an offer from the Brookdale Nurseries to supply 100 Norway Maple trees, 8 and 10 feet, for $80, delivered in Peterborough. We recommend that the chairman of this committee be instructed to purchase 100 trees and have them shipped through A. Blade & Son.

A letter was received from Sanitary Ice Supply, asking for the use of the wooden building in Inverlea Park, used at the skating rink for a dressing room, which they could use during the summer months and would return it clean and in the same shape as received. We recommend that the Sanitary Ice Supply be informed that the city has use for the building.

We recommend that the chairman of this committee be authorized to arrange for the use of the parks by athletic clubs this season.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE

Your Property Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

That tenders be asked for ice for the fountains and City Building for this season.

BOARD OF WORKS

Your Board of Work beg leave to report as follows:—

Your board received the following tenders for cement:—

Thomas A. Rehill Co.—In car load lots, f.o.b. siding, $2.88 per bbl., or $2.08 per bbl. net after the sacks are returned to their yard. Less than car load lots from warehouse $3.10 per bbl., or $2.30 per bbl. after sacks are returned.

Peterborough Hardware Co. — F.o.b. cars $2.07 per bbl., and for sacks extra 80c, making $2.87 per sacks extra, returnable subject to mill count and inspection.

Canada Cement Co.—F.o.b. cars in cloth $2.98 per bbl., the sacks being returnable at 20c each, or 80c per bbl. In paper, $2.35 per bbl.

We recommend that the tender of Thomas A. Rehill Co. be accepted.

We received a tender from Imperial Oil Ltd., for Imperial medium liquid asphalt at 11.50c per gallon in tank cars, f.o.b. siding Peterborough. We recommend that the chairman of this board and the City Engineer be authorized to purchase the road oil required at the best price obtainable.

We recommend that W. Brommell be appointed caretaker of the sewage disposal grounds on the usual terms.

We recommend that the letter from the Ontario Good Roads Association respecting membership in the association be received.

We recommend that the City Engineer place a sign on Simcoe street at the entrance to the ground which has been used for the disposal of refuse forbidding the disposal of any refuse there except such as may be burned, and that refuse and ashes be deposited in the gully east of the baseball grounds in James Stevenson Park.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

Your Finance Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

That the City Treasurer pay accounts for ploughing garden lots for unemployed up to the amount of $300.00, on the certificate of R. M. Glover, treasurer of the Garden Plots Committee.

That the tax collector give the city solicitor a list of vacant lands on which taxes are not paid to collect.

That the letter from W. J. Green offering to do certain work in the tax collector's office until July 15th for $300.00 be received.

That the matter of the guarantee bonds of officials be referred to the chairman of this committee and clerk to enquire into, and report.

That the auditor's report for last year be received.

That the matter of insurance for motor vehicles owned by the city be referred to the chairman of this committee with power to act.

That the following accounts be paid:—

Adamson & Dobbin, $4.65; J. W. Ashmore, $8.67; S. J. Black, $5; Bradburns Limited, $1,226; Buchanan & Terrace, $3; E. J. Cadd, $4.25; Campbell - Best, $2.85; Can. National R. Ways, $104.95; Can. Pacific Railway Co., $29.85; J. R. Corkery, $4.67; Curtis Service Station, $5.64; H. Davidson, M. Rielly, $3.20; Dawson's Service Station, $15.94; Jos. Detcher, $2.70; Dom. Road Machinery Co., Ltd., $61.54; N. H. Edgar, $7.84; Aldous and Metcalfe, $2.25; Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, $94.84; Gilbert Blondin, 50c; J. R. Brownlee, $5; Burroughs Adding Machine of Canada, Ltd., $7.40; Canadian Johnson Motor Co., $5.87; Can. Oil Companies, $54.75; Conger Lehigh Coal Co., Ltd., $3.32; John R. Corkery, $48.70; C. E. Curtis, Collector of Taxes, $59.25; A. Deal, $18.80; Dickson's Dry Goods Store, $27.69; J. J. Duffus Co., $12.02; Fanning's Steam Laundry, $15.29; F. & E. Lightning Cheque Writer Sales, $5; George Grange, $4.50; G. Walter Green Co., Ltd., $34.10; Gutta Percha and Rubber, Ltd., $1.50; Mr. Hamlin, $13.13; Hood and Cumming Motors, Ltd., $88.61; J. K. Hughes, Ltd., $2.06; Thos. Mark, $6.25; W. F. Morrow, $9.50; Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives, $45; Alfred McDonald Lumber Co., $2.75; McIntosh Service Station, $8.48; R. Neill, Limited, $3.15; Nicholls Hospital, $436.75; Ontario Hospital (Woodstock), $45.50; Peel's Garage, $7; Peterborough Examiner Ltd., $209; Peterborough Utilities Com., $25; Peterborough Utilities Com., $310.08; Postmaster of Peterborough, $10; Elliott Robinson, $1.45; St. Joseph's Hospital, $519.25; Schneider Bros., $4.50; Shell Oil Co. of Can. Ltd., $10.05; Soden's Bookstore, $11.30; R. J. G. Sutherland, $1.80; Treasurer of Ontario (M.A.), $1,000; Trebilcock Bros., $5; Underwood Elliott Fisher Ltd., $6.30; Whittington Service Station, $8.58; Foley and Wilson, $26.12; Gillespie Garage, $8.63; Grant & Loucks Co., Ltd., $8.69; L. R. Groombridge, $5; W. H. Hamilton, $5.55; J. Hodson, $4.50; Hopkin's Garage, $12.25; Kingan Hardware Co., Ltd., $18.15; A. G. Metheral, $4.75; J. J. Mortimer, $8.34; McCarthy & Johnston, $20; McDermid & Jury, 90c; V. J. McElderry, K.C., $64.80; New Centre Meat Market, $1; Ontario Training School for Boys, $23.25; Peterborough Examiner Co., $10; Peterborough Hardware Co., $7.90; Peterborough Utilities Commission, $62.85; Petetrborough Utilities Com. (G.D.) $4.96; Reid Bros., 25c; Safety Supply Company, $250; Sanitary Ice Supply, $12.10; Scott Coal and Lumber Co., $3.14; C. H. Smith, $16.50; Star Office Specialty Co., $9; Toronto Hospital for Consumptives, $172.71; Treasurer of Ontario (O.A.P.) $682.97; W. R. Turner, $29.21; Victoria School, $64.00.

FIRE, WATER, AND LIGHT COMMITTEE

Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

That the annual report of the Chief of the Fire Department be received.

That tenders for coal for the City Buildings, the Fire Station and the Queen Mary Hospital be asked for.

RELIEF COMMITTEE

Your Relief Committee beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee received the following tenders for wood:—

Henry Batten—No. 1 hardwood, 3,000 cords, $6 cord; in trees, $1. John Hodson, No. 1 hardwood, $8.25; W. H. Baker, 1,000 cords, $6. T. F. Doughty, same quality as now being delivered, $5. H. C. Bell, 250, mixed, $4.50; 50 soft, $4. Thos. F. Flannery, No. 1 hardwood, 1,000, $5.50; Leslie Bristow, No. 1 hardwood, 500, $5.50. Peterborough Fuel and Transfer Co., Scott Coal and Lumber Co., 4,000, No. 1 hardwood, $5.75; ditto, 4,000, 90 per cent. hardwood, $5.25; R. McQuade, No. 1 hardwood, 4,000, $5.50. H. Batten, 3,000, hardwood, $5.90; H. Batten, 1,000 mixed, $5. Peterborough Fuel and Transfer Co. and Scott Coal and Lumber Co., 2,000 cords of mixed wood at $4.65 per cord delivered in city yard, or delivered from their yards on relief orders at $3.35 per half cord in four foot lengths, or $3.75 per half cord in stove lengths. Township of North Monaghan, about 3,000 cords of mixed wood near Burleigh Falls at $3.25 per cord, or at $4.85 per cord delivered in the city yard.

Your committee received a letter from the Town of Simcoe asking if the city desired to dispose of its interest in a farm near Ansonville. We recommend that the Clerk reply and ask if the Town of Simcoe would repay the city $100 interest this city has in the land.

Acting on the authority given this city by the government, this committee recommend to the Relief Land Settlement Department, that John Harvey and family be located on a lot in Robillard Township and authorized the clerk to sign the application on behalf of this municipality, and the city treasurer to issue a cheque to the treasurer of Ontario for $100 if Mr. Harvey is accepted by the Provincial Department.

Bethany

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Driver and sons, Donald and Gordon, were week-end visitors with friends at Bethany.

Mrs. Cecil Edwards and son Jack of Peterborough, spent Sunday with friends at Ballyduff.

Mrs. John Staples, who has spent the winter months in Toronto, with her daughters, Hannah and Emma, returned to Bethany on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stanley, and son, Paul, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. D. Cairns.

Mildred Sisson of Toronto, spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. Staples here.

Lila Davis spent the week-end with friends in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Sisson and children were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sisson on Sunday.

Dr. C. H. Breseton and Fred Breseton of Toronto, attended the funeral of the late Mr. Murphy here on Sunday.

Mrs. F. B. Foster and son Bruce, of Toronto, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Kerr.

Miss Mabel Black of Toronto, was a guest over the week-end of Mrs. J. Kerr.

Doris Driver of Carscaddens spent spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Driver.

Miss Laura Morton of Deloro spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Johnston Morton.

Miss Mae McGrath of Toronto, spent Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs. J. Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sisson of the Eighth Line, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Flack on Saturday.

Mrs. J. J. Hamilton is the guest of friends in Toronto.

Frank Hamilton, of the Bank of Toronto staff, spent the week-end at his home here.

Charles Reynolds, Jr., was a business visitor to Peterborough on Saturday.

Muriel McKinnon of Toronto, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McKinnon.

LADS GET 3 MONTHS

LISTOWEL, Ont., May 9. (CP)—Pleading guilty to the theft of harness from the farm of Nicholas Sidder, of near Atwood, Arthur Wickie 21, and Hubert Fleischauer, 18, were given Reformatory terms of three months each by Magistate T. L. Hamilton yesterday. Charles Wickie, father of Arthur, was fined $10 and costs for receiving stolen goods.

Glasgow will build 20,000 houses.

SERVED IN A MINUTE!

"READY-COOKED, ready-to-serve" means a lot to me. Shredded Wheat not only saves me money and labor but the oven-crisp, golden-brown biscuits make a most nourishing and most delicious meal for young and old. It's made of selected Canadian whole wheat only . . . nothing added, nothing taken away . . . and contains all its natural and essential elements in an easily digestible form. Millions of other women solve their cooking problems with Shredded Wheat. Won't you try it too, please?

THE CANADIAN SHREDDED WHEAT COMPANY, LTD.
Niagara Falls, Canada

12 big biscuits in every box

SHREDDED WHEAT
MADE IN CANADA - BY CANADIANS - OF CANADIAN WHEAT

SUPERIOR STORES
EXPANSION SALE

EXTRA BARGAINS FOR THURS., FRI., SAT., MAY 10-11-12

CHIPSO Large Pkg. 21c

HAWES' FLOOR WAX 1's 43c

AYLMER PLUM JAM 32 oz. jar 23c

Clover Leaf Sockeye Salmon ½'s 18c

Beehive Corn Syrup 2 lb. tin 16c

Clark's Pork & Beans 2 squat per tin 8c

For a Smooth Skin Lux Soap 4 cakes 23c

Ingersoll Malted Cheese 2½ lb. pkg. 25c

Standard Tomatoes 2 squat 4 for 23c

VIP Enter the new Vip Slogan Contest. You may win one of the 100 prizes. 10 oz. tin 59c

Rolled Oats - 6 lbs. 25c

AYLMER Strained INFANTS FOODS
2 for 21¢
Eleven VARIETIES
APRICOTS SPINACH
CARROTS TOMATOES
ASPARAGUS PRUNES
APPLESAUCE BEANS
BEETS PEAS
INFANTS' SOUP
Recommended by Doctors

FRY'S COCOA, ½-lb. tin - - 23c
BENSON'S CORN STARCH, pkg. - - - 11c
SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER, 16 oz. - - 25c
HILLCREST PEANUT BUTTER, 12 oz. - - 15c
BLUE BOY COFFEE, one lb. - - - - - 29c
ROYAL YORK TEA - - ½ lb. 29c 1 lb. - - 57c
AYLMER ORANGE MARMALADE, 32 oz. - - - 27c

SUPERIOR STORES

PERCY ESTATE SUIT SETTLED

Trial Involving Will Made by Late F. C. Broadworth Halted at Cobourg.

IN NON-JURY SESSIONS.

An action by Mrs. Sabina Darling of Percy township against her brother George Broadworth, involving the will of their brother, the late Frederick C. Broadworth, was withdrawn from trial before Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy in the non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court of Ontario at Cobourg Wednesday, and was satisfactorily settled out of court.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., was counsel for the plaintiff and F. D. Kerr K.C., and M. A. O'Shea of Hastings, represented the defendant.

This case was the first on the docket of the court which opened Monday. Costs were assessed against both parties. It was brought out in evidence that the late Fred C. Broadworth was a bachelor living at Warkworth with an aged housekeeper. He became ill on June 6, 1933, and Dr. J. A. MacDonald of Hastings was called to attend him. The housekeeper was away on a holiday, and Dr. MacDonald suggested that the patient be removed to the home of his brother George.

Shortly before his death on June 7 F. C. Broadworth made a will, and it was alleged by plaintiff that he was influenced by his brother George, making the will in his favor to the exclusion of the other members of the family Louis Broadworth, Mrs. Darling and Mrs. Adelaide Cumming.

Mrs. Darling on behalf of herself and the other heirs at law alleged that they were entitled to share in the estate of the deceased. The terms of settlement were announced in court, but it was stated that they were satisfactory to the several parties.

46 CHILDREN WRITE ESSAYS

Prizes Will Be Presented by Humane Society on June 8.

TAG DAY JUNE 9.

Forty-five essays by city and county pupils of the second and third books were received by the Peterborough Humane Society in the competition conducted during April, Mrs. A. M. Young informed The Examiner today.

"The response by the school children was better than we expected", Mrs. Young said. "Some of the compositions on the subject "What it Means to be Kind to Animals" were exceptionally good, and as some of the pupils are wondering when the results are to be announced we wished to let them know that the prizes will be presented on Friday June 8. The judges have not yet made their awards, and the details of the presentation are not yet arranged. The police Commission have allotted the Humane Society the date of Saturday June 9 for the annual Tag Day to assist the Humane Society's work, and it has been thought that it would be timely to distribute the prizes on the preceding evening."

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

Gladys Glad

. . . on beauty

As one of the most famous beauties this continent has ever produced, Gladys Glad is well qualified to write of beauty, and how to gain and preserve it.

Read Gladys Glad Daily in

EXAMINER

Exiled Royalty Live In High Estate

GEORGE OF GREECE LIVES IN SMALL LONDON HOTEL — SAYS: "BEING KING IS A ROTTEN JOB"

KAISER AT DOORN GIVES "OFFICIAL RECEPTIONS," CULTIVATES ROSES, CHOPS WOOD, PREACHES IN CHURCH

Queen Helen of Roumania

King Alfonso of Spain

Wonder why exiled kings ever try to regain their thrones? Jobless monarchs now living in Europe have luxury and splendor at their command, throne or not. Even the country from which they have been exiled contributes in many cases to their welfare.

Queen Elizabeth of Greece

63 Fractures

BELLAIRE, O., May 10 (CP) Billy Neuhart, 18, the brittle-boney boy, has another broken leg.

His coster wagon ran into a roadside rock garden, and Billy went to bed with his right leg in a cast.

It was the 63rd major fracture he has sustained, but the first in more than a year. Doctors have been working to cure his mysterious bone malady.

DAIRYING INDUSTRY REVIEWED IN TALK

G. A. Gillespie Speaks at Meeting of Kawartha Butter Club.

The Kawartha Butter Club, newly-organized, held its first monthly meeting last night in the local Agricultural office. President C. R. Kennedy occupied the chair. Creameries represented were Lindsay, Omemee, Lakefield, and the local dairies, Canada Packers, Campbell's Sunshine and Silverwood's An executive committee was appointed consisting of: H. Junkins of Lakefield, William Dunlop of Lindsay and E. Harrison of the Sunshine Dairy.

G. A. Gillespie gave a very interesting address, a resume of dairying for the past twenty-five or thirty years, pointing out the changes and advancement made in this business. He also outlined a code of ethics for the butter-makers. In the butter and cream scoring contest, three prizes were awarded, Neil Driscoll of Canada Packers getting first, Wm. Dunlop of Lindsay second, and F. Healey of Canada Packers third.

Meetings of this club will be held the second Wednesday of each month, the next one being on June 13th.

Imports into the United States of agar-agar, a substance obtained from seaweed and used in compounding of medicinal preparations, broke all high records in the last year.

NO THRONE BUT BULGING PURSES IS LOT OF UNEMPLOYED ROYALTY

Even "Pretenders" to European Thrones Live in High Estate.

FARED WORSE YEARS AGO

By THOMAS C. WATSON
Central Press Canadian Correspondent

LONDON, May 10.—Unemployed and exiled royalty appear to be the only persons in the world being paid for being jobless.

The late King Manuel of Portugal lived "en prince" on about $200,000 a year on a magnificent estate on the Thames, while the banishment of the Hohenzollerns from Germany has been solaced to the extent of about $50,000,000 up to now, and it is likely to go on, although the ex-All-Highest has just received—like many others, not even unemployed — a 20 per cent slash.

The lot of the Greek royalties is being ameliorated. Hitherto they have lived on private funds and private hospitality, but now the Greek government has unbent and King George of Greece is making a "touch" for a few million drachmas to keep the wolf from the door.

His sister Helen, erstwhile consort of Carol of Roumania(recently had to ask the Roumanian government to sweeten up the royal alimony, as she was not getting anything from her own country. That now has been taken care of, and she will benefit with the rest of the royal Greek exiles.

"Pretenders" Live Well

The pretenders to the French throne do very nicely, too, in the way of unemployment pay. Checking their income and capital with the rest of the royal Bourbons, the lesser breeds from Spain, Parma, Sicilies and Braganza, it amounts to about $150,000,000. The exiled Alfonso of Spain lives very comfortably.

The French pretender once lived in regal state in England as the Duke of Orleans, but he wearied of the democracy of the British rustic, who declined to doff his cap to him, likewise he was sickened at the local nobility and gentry, who were disposed to ignore the "summonses" of this illustrous house, simply because their women were expected to curtesy and the menfolk wear satin short pants and silk stockings. The French branch sold out of uneulturel England for Belgium, Italy, Austria, where the plebians know how to treat royalty, "ex" or otherwise.

Among the eastern potentates there is the ex-Sultan and Caliph of Turkey who manages to rub along on $150,000, but without his harem. Then there is the ex-Marajah of Indore, with his American bride, he has an unemployment dole of $200,000 a year.

The irony of this is that in the old days, when monarchy was supreme in the world and democracy a comparative novelty, exiled rulers fared much worse. The fugitive Charles nearly starved in France, where his relatives ruled, while Cromwell ruled England. The Bourbons suffered equal distress while Napoleon reigned in France, and so on.

Choir Practices

GEORGE STREET CHOIR

Ladies' rehearsal to-night at 7.30; general rehearsal at 8. All members please attend.

KNOX CHOIR

Practise to-night at 8 o'clock. All please attend.

ALL SAINTS' CHOIR

will practice to-night at 7.30.

Wins Music Award

PERCIVAL PRICE

His symphony 'The St. Lawrence' turned down by the University of Toronto when submitted for degree of doctor of music, Percival Price sent the manuscript to New York, where it has won for him the Pulitzer prize for music. Mr. Price is carilloneur of the Peace Tower at Ottawa and is formerly of Toronto.

COMB ARIZONA FOR KIDNAPPERS

Second Ransom Note is Received by Parents of June Robles.

GIRL STILL ALIVE.

TUCSON, Ariz., May 10 (AP) — Search for the kidnappers of June Robles, six-year-old heiress, centered in Arizona today following receipt of a second ransom note which the victim's family considered as probably authentic.

Authorities believed delivery of the second note indicated the presence in or near here of the abductors in addition to the self-styled contact man now detained.

An aeroplane was pressed into service last night by Oliver White, Chief Criminal Deputy of Santa Crus County and two United States Customs guards for a trip to Ajo, Ariz., 120 miles west of here. They carried a shovel with them, but declined to say why.

Earlier in the evening the three had made a secret motor car trip outside Nogales.

The second ransom note was understood to have been accepted by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Robles, and her grandfather, Bernabe Robles, was assured that she still was alive.

FAST RESULTS ON PAGE 19

Pansies For Mother's Day In Full Bloom 2 Boxes 35c

GRASS SEED Special Mixed lb. 30c | GOLDEN WEST BREAD FLOUR 98 lb. bag 2.19 | PALM OLIVE SOAP 5 bars 25c

WHITE NAPTHA and IVORY SOAP While it Lasts Get Yours Early All For 23c | JEWEL SHORTENING Friday and Saturday 2 lbs. 19c

Salted Peanuts Freshly Roasted and Salted lb. 15c | Marshmallow BISCUITS Fresh and Tasty 2 lbs. 29c | Soda Biscuits Fresh and Crisp 2 lbs. 25c | Something New Educator CRAX WAFERS Pkg. 10c

BUTTER Fresh Churned Creamery, lb. - - - 22c

PINEAPPLES—For Preserving Size 24—Each - 20c; doz. - 2.25 Size 18—Each - 25c; doz. - 2.75 Good, sound, ripe fruit

BANANAS Golden Hard Ripe Fruit 3 lbs. 20c

CRISCO SPECIAL 1 lb. tin and 1 lge. pie plate - 23c

PURITAN SOAP A fine hard Laundry Soap 10 bars 25c

Cooked Ham For Friday and Saturday Thinly Sliced—½ lb. - 20c; 1 lb. - 39c

TENDERLOIN Fresh cut, lb. - - - - - 23c | COTTAGE ROLLS Mealed or plain, lb. - - - 17c

VEAL Boneless Leg Fillet, lb. - - - - - - - - 15c Boneless Shoulder Fillet, lb. - - - - - - 13c

Government Graded BEEF Boneless Prime Ribs, lb. - - 20c Extra Fancy Blade Roast - 14c

Plate Rib Stewing 9c | Chuck Pot Roast 10c | Shoulder Roast 12c | Boneless Beef Cuttings 3 lb. 25c

FISH Silver Bright Salmon, lb. 19c | Fresh Fillets lb. 18c | Smoked Fillets lb. 18c

BETTER GOODS F & G MARKETS BETTER SERVICE

YOUTHFUL AMATEUR CHOSEN EXPEDITION'S RADIO EXPERT

Will Accompany Party Into Uncharted Wilds of B. C.

Lt.-Col. H. F. G. Letson
(By Central Press Canadian.).

VANCOUVER, May 10 — A Vancouver youth who has made a hobby of wireless has been chosen as communications officer for the Bedaux big game expedition which will cross northern British Columbia with a tractor caravan this fall.

He is Bruce McCallum, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McCallum, high school graduate, air mechanic and "ham" wireless operator. He will be in full charge of the expedition's communications and is now constructing a special wireless transmitter and receiver for the trip.

McCallum will join the expedition at Edmonton about the middle of June. From Edmonton the tractor party will get under way early in July for Fort St. John. From there it will proceed by Sifton Pass to Dease Lake and Telegraph Creek.

The expedition will be led by Monsieur C. E. Bedaux, whose home is the historic Chauteau de Conde in Paris. He has led similar big game hunting and exploratory trips in other parts of the world, notably in the Sahara and Libyian deserts. In 1926 and 1932 he explored northern British Columbia, but this time he plans to travel through an area never traversed except by trappers and prospectors.

BRUCE McCALLUM

Young McCallum is an associate member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

The set which he is constructing for use on the expedition is particularly compact and efficient. It will weigh about 100 lbs., and will measure 18 by 14 by 10 inches. Power from one of the tractor batteries will operate it.

LONDON PLANS WATER SUPPLY

Will Build 2 Reservoirs to Assure Source for 15 Years.

COST £10,000,000.

(By Thos. T. Champion—C.P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, May 10 (C.P.). — A scheme which will ensure London against drought for at least 15 years is to be inaugurated at a cost of some £10,000,000 as soon as Col. J. R. Davidson, new chief engineer of the Metropolitan Water Board, takes up duty at the end of May.

"It is impossible to say at present what scheme will be evolved," says Sir William Prescott, chairman of the board. "It will probably mean two new reservoirs, one of which will certainly be in the Lea Valley. We have to look at least 15 years ahead—and the work is urgent. Colonel Davidson should have his plans ready by the end of June, and we will start work immediately.

"There is no question of a shortage of supply; storage problems are those which have concerned us. London is growing at the rate of an average sized county borough every year, and we have had to increase our mains by 10 miles a year for a long time."

The Escot, the second of Britain's "E" class destroyers was launched recently at Greenock, Scotland.

Expect Britain to Ask League Oust Liberia

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

GENEVA, May 10. (A.P.).—Reports were current here to-day that some nation—possibly Great Britain—may demand Liberia's expulsion from the League of Nations at the forthcoming session of the League Council.

This, however, would be the last resort in the controversy between the League and Liberian authorities over the administration of the Negro republic.

The Liberian question is one of the most important facing the council, which convenes May 14.

It is deemed possible the League may request the three more interested powers—Great Britain, the Unied States and France—to assume joint responsibility for cleaning up the situation in Liberia.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY
(Effective Sunday, April 29)

Going East—
4.55 p.m.—Indian River, Norwood Havelock. Daily except Sunday.
7.40 p.m.—From Toronto. Daily except Sunday
11.00 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Smith's Falls, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec Boston, and New York. Daily except Sunday
11.10 a.m.—Sunday only to Havelock
1.30 a.m.—Havelock, Tweed, Kingston, Perth, Ottawa, Smith's Falls Montreal, St. John, Boston, and New York daily.

Going West—
4.30 a.m.—Toronto, Guelph, Goderich, Hamilton, Galt, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, Chatham, Detroit, Chicago, and New York daily.
7.20 a.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Buffalo, New York, Galt, Woodstock, London, Chatham, Detroit, and intermediate points. Daily except Sunday.
9.35 a.m.—To Lindsay and Bobcaygeon.
3.50 p.m.—Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston. Woodstock, London, Windsor, Detroit, Chicago, and intermediate points between Peterborough and Toronto. Makes connections with the Trans-Canada Limited for Winnipeg and Vancouver. Daily except Sunday.
8.45 p.m.—Sunday only for Toronto and points West.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS TIME-TABLE.
(Corrected to April 29th)

8.35 a.m.—For Lindsay, Orillia, Midland, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, London, Windsor, and Detroit.
12.01 Noon—For Port Hope, Oshawa, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Philadelphia, and New York. Connects at Port Hope with the Maple Leaf Ltd. for London, Windsor, Detroit, Port Huron, Flint, and Chicago. Makes connection East-bound for Cobourg, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Montreal.
1.45 p.m.—For Lakefield.
5.12 p.m.—For Lindsay, Toronto, and connects at Toronto with International Ltd. for London, Port Huron, and Chicago, also with the Continental Ltd. for Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Vancouver; with the North Bay, Timmins, Rouyn and Cochrane train, and with the 11.45 p.m. train for Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit
8.20 p.m.—For Hastings, Campbellford, Stirling, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Cornwall, Montreal and the Maritime Provinces.

Daily—
1.30 a.m.—Pool Train from the C.P.R. Depot for Ottawa, and makes connection at Ottawa for Montreal.
7.30 p.m.—Sundays Only, for Lindsay, Toronto, and makes connections for Western Canada, Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Detroit.

All Trains operate on Eastern Standard Time, and Daily except Sunday from Canadian National Railway Depot, Charlotte and Bethune Streets, unless otherwise shown.

QUICK PRINTING SERVICE Modern Plant

HERO OF NIAGARA BIG ATTRACTION AT "EX" IN 1891

Old Prize List of Peterborough Exhibition Carried Very Few Advertisements.

20 PETERBORO' HOTELS.

Lengthy List of Business Men Assisted in Putting Fair Over.

Forty-three years ago the directors of the Peterborough Exhibition engaged as their feature attraction S. J. Dixon, so-called and advertised "Hero of Niagara," the World's Champion Tight Rope Walker, who crossed the Niagara River on a slender cable September 6, 1890 and again on July 17, 1891, two months prior to the local Fair dates.

Older citizens will probably recall Dixon, the "Man of Iron" as the directors billed him, announcing that he would give three performances on Wednesday, September 22, the closing day of that year's three-day Fair.

Recollections of the Exhibition of forty-three years ago are kindled by a mouse-nibbled copy of the 1891 prize list, and also by the fact that the directors are making a departure this year in stripping their prize list of the numerous pages of advertising which it has carried for a long time. The old booklet which was recently shown to The Examiner has only two cover advertisements. One of them relates to the law firm of Stratton and Hall over Muckleston's Hardware Store next to the Post Office, and the other sets forth the progress made by the Sun Life Assurance Company of which W. H. Hill was manager for Central Ontario. The Sun Life Office was located at 400 Water Street.

Twenty Peterborough Hotels

Apparently the hotel-keepers of the city were all contributors to the funds of the Fair for the specific purpose of encouraging horse races. Subscriptions were acknowledged from the following citizens were proprietors of local hotels—A. P. Morgan, J. E. McIntyre, T. Cavanagh, Wm. Clancy, Wm. Croft, J. S. Fanning, Wm. Snowden, F. J. Daly, W. White, M. Connors, Wm. Cardwell, J. H. O'Shea, Jeremiah Carew, Jos. Tully, Thos. Dunn, John Clancy, S. G. Bennett, George Lipsett, R. R. Hamilton, Brown Bros., John Callanane.

The prize list also provides information regarding the twenty "principal" hotels, their room capacity and rates, which may be an interesting memory to older readers of The Examiner:—

Oriental, Hunter street, James E. McIntyre, proprietor. Capacity 200. Rate $2 a day.

Grand Central, George street, (north of Charlotte) F. J. Daly, capacity 200, $1.50 a day and up.

Snowden House, Charlotte street (now Charibond building) William Snowden, capacity 60, $1.50 a day.

Canadian Pacific, Simcoe street (now King's Hotel), William Overend, capacity 100, $1 a day.

Peterboro' House, Hunter street, John Clancy, capacity 25, $1.

Commercial House, George St., J. S. Fanning, capacity 25, $1.

Croft House, Hunter and Water, Wm. Croft, capacity 40, $1.

Stewart House, Hunter St., J. Callanane, capacity 50, $1.

Morgan House, Hunter and Water, A. P. Morgan, capacity 80, $1.

City Hotel, George St., Wm. Clancy, capacity 30, $1.

Cavanagh House, Water and Charlotte, capacity 100, $1.

Maple Leaf, Elizabeth street (Hunter street, Ashburnham), G. Lipsett, capacity 40, $1.

Royal Oak, Hunter street, James H. O'Shea, capacity 50, $1.

Carew House, Hunter street, Jeremiah Carew, capacity 40, $1.

Cardwell House, Brock street, Wm. Cardwell, capacity 50, $1.

White House, Charlotte Street, R. White, capacity 50, $1.

Albion Hotel, Elizabeth street, Ashburnham, S. H. Bennett, capacity 100, $1.

C.P.R. Restaurant, opposite C.P.R. Station, R. R. Hamilton.

The Hub, George street, Martin Connors.

The Palace Restaurant, George street, Thos. Dunn, proprietor.

Business Men Assist

An additional list of subscriptions is acknowledged as follows: Edison General Electric Co., $10; J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., $10; W. J. Devlin, harness, $20; Meldrum & Davidson, $5; J. Muckleston & Co., scale, $6.50; John Armstrong, 200 lbs. flour, $6; Hall, Innes & Co., buggy rug, $6; H. Owens, cistern pump, $6; Dundas and Grandy, $22; McFarlane Wilson, silver cruet, $5; R. Neill, boots, $5; J. T. Stenson, boots, $5; McKee and Davidson, hardware merchants, $5; Kingan & Co., $5; Robert Fair, French millinery, $5; Mark Curtis & Sons, drain tile, $5; Fortye and Phelan, revolver, $5; T. Cochrane, wheelbarrow, $5; Fairweather & Co., buggy rug, $4; B. Shortly, gig saddle, $3; Mills Bros., hat, $4; W. J. Morrow, box cigars, $3; Stapleton & Elcombe, box cigars, $3; John Craig, cake $2; Ten Cent Store, oil chromo, $2; John Garvey, tea, $1; P. Hamilton, $5; Alex Hamilton, $2; J. J. Crowe, $2; A. St. A. Smith, bank manager, $1; James Baptie, $24 H. LeBrun, $10; John Hunter, $1; S. J. Campbell, $1; W. H. Crowe, fifty cents.

Population 12,000

According to information in the old prize list regarding the town, the assessed value of the property in 1891 was $4,137,105; the tax rate was 15½ mills; the population 12,000; "and the town is practically out of debt."

And then there is an appended list of industries which is quoted in part as follows:—Canadian headquarters of the Edison General Electric Co.; the only Carbon works in Canada; Heath's lamp factory; Brook's porcelain works, only one in Canada; Taylor Knife, Scissors and Razor factory; to be built at once, the Patterson-Corbin Car Works; the Wm. Hamilton Co.; the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works; Mowry's Agricultural Works; White's Agricultural Works; The Brooks Manufacturing Co.; The Central Bridge Works; Peterborough Lock Co.; 4 saw mills; 3 planing mills; 5 flour mills; 4 woollen factories; 3 boat and canoe factories; 3 furniture factories; 1 pork packing plant; 1 fanning mill factory; 1 biscuit and confectionery works; 3 tent and awning factories; 1 mattress factory; 1 cigar factory; 1 box factory; tanneries, etc.

Ritzy or Risque

PORTHCAWL, Wales, May 10.—(CP Cable).—Grey flannel trousers, a pullover sweater and a beret constituted the golfing costume of Miss M. Barron when she went out yesterday as a member of the Welsh team against an Irish team.

Her colleagues, dismayed, were still in hurried consultation about the ethics of the costume when Miss Marron drove off, so they decided to tell her when she got back that they resented her costume.

In consideration of this, officials of the Ladies' Golfing Union decided to take no official notice.

Pleased China—Urked Japan

Captain Frank Hawks (left), noted speed flier, pictured in Shanghai China, after he had demonstrated the efficiency of his giant Condor bombing plane to a group of Chinese army officials. Capt. Hawks' plane-selling activities in China are reputed to have been one of the reasons for Japan's recent attempt to rush through a "Monroe Doctrine" for Asia.

LORD CURZON'S GRIEF AT LOSS OF PREMIERSHIP IS UNFOLDED

Stigmatized Baldwin as Man of Utmost Insignificance When Told of Choice.

LIFE'S DREAM SHATTERED.

(By THOMAS T. CHAMPION

Cable).—In the agony of disappointment at last-minute denial of the Premiership he coveted, the late Marquess Curzon of Kedleston described the call to Stanley Baldwin in 1923 as "ludicrous" stigmatizing Baldwin as a man of the utmost insignificance.

This is related in almost painful detail in 'Curzon—The Last Phase' published to-day by Harold Nicolson, a well-known writer who for some years was on the foreign office staff.

Lord Curzon entered Asquith's cabinet early in the War; he became a member of the supreme war cabinet and secretary for foreign affairs in 1916, and held that post in the Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law and Baldwin cabinets.

When the Canadian resigned the Premiership in Spring, 1923, Lord Curzon received a telegram from Lord Stamfordham, His Majesty's secretary, summoning him to London without delay.

Lays Future Plans

He travelled up from Somerset with Lady Curzon, writes Nicolson, during the journey discussing future plans in detail. "I shall use No. 10 (Downing Street) only for official purposes" he told his wife. "We shall live and entertain at Carlton House Terrace. I shall remain Curzon even though I am Prime Minister."

They arrived at London, where photographers clustered in the railway station. They lunched expectantly, and then waited and waited. At 3.30 in the afternoon Lord Stamfordham was announced. Nicolson continued:

"With some embarrassment he explained the King had decided to send for Baldwin. 'Such a ludicrous decision should immediately be reversed," said Curzon.

"Lord Stamfordham explained that at that very moment, Mr. Baldwin was being received at Buckingham Palace. Curzon gasped with shock, the dream of a lifetime lay shattered. Stamfordham left him in agony of mortification. He collapsed into a chair. Lady Curzon tried to console him but he wept like a child. He had forgotten Baldwin. Nobody had ever thought of Baldwin.

Man of No Experience

" 'Not even a public figure' sobbed Curzon. 'A man of no experience and of the utmost insignificance,' and he bowed his face in his hands. 'The utmost insignificance' he repeated."

During that week-end many forces had been set in motion, the author explains. The Laborites objected to a Premier in the upper house, and misgivings from the highest political and other quarters were convened to His Majesty, leading to a reversal of his earlier decision.

"The crushing disappointment fell upon Curzon when," according to Nicolson, "his superb direction of foreign policy during his last year of office was restoring British prestige on three continents."

Curzon was Viceroy of India from 1898 to 1905 but it was 10 years later before he entered the ministry. He retired early in 1924 with the reputation of a great Viceroy, a great foreign secretary, and a fine orator. He died in 1925.

FARMERS WORRY OVER DRY SPELL

Predict Grain Yield May Approach 1894 and 1930 Famine Years.

UNUSUAL FOR MAY.

(By The Associated Press)

Drought etched gloomy lines into the United States farming picture to-day.

Some argricultural officials went so far as to predict grain yields would approach the low points of 1894and 1930—called by some "famine years."

Reports of mounting damage came from the parched grain fields of the Midwest. Prolonged dry weather, unusual for May, has deteriorated Winter wheat, prevented germination of late Spring wheat, and retarted corn planting.

New plagues of chinch bugs, grasshoppers and other insect pests added to the damage. Farmers' wells and streams are drying up and their feed supplies are dwindling.

The monthly crop bulletin of the Department of Agriculture is to be issued this afternoon. Unofficial predictions were that the report would place the wheat yield at many million bushels below the 491,793,000 estimated a month ago.

In the Midwest, farm officials said many districts faced virtually complete crop failures unless immediate rains come.

HOLDS FALSE TEETH ALL DAY LONG

Fasteeth, a new, pleasant powder, keeps teeth firmly set. Deodorizes. No gummy, goosy, pasty taste or feeling. To eat and laugh in comfort, just sprinkle a little Fasteeth on your plates. Get Fasteeth, 85c or 60c size, to-day at any drug store.

FASTEETH— MADE IN CANADA

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

Nancy Anna Brown's Folks Well Presented by All Saints' Club.

WILL BE REPEATED.

"Nancy Anna Brown's Folks" saw its first production by the Dramatic Club of All Saints' Church, last evening, with further performances scheduled for to-night and to-morrow night.

This very entertaining three-act comedy drama gives the audience an opportunity to attend a play which is enacted on the stage, as a "play within a play" fills out the action of this interesting presentation.

The members of All Saints' Dramatic Club are exceptionally well trained by James Price who spares no effort in giving every detail its full value. Costuming and scenery are always appropriate to the action of the piece, at All Saints' and the actors, under Mr. Price's skilful direction, always give of their very best, so an extremely worthwhile production is assured all who attend these dramatic highlights in the life of the parish.

Last night's production of "Nancy Anna Brown's Folks" was another successful effort of this clever group and each actor gave of the very best to ensure a creditable performance.

The plot is full of interest and romance and goes to a swift tempo.

The part of the leading lady, Nancy Anna Brown, whose name in the stage play is Rosalind Raylor, is taken by Miss Gwen Dobbin. Nancy is a snobbish person who thinks better of her parents when they achieve money.

Ma and Pa Brown, quaint characters who are much liked by the audience, are played respectively by Mrs. E. Lebarr and H. Carter; the stage director, who presents the "play within a play," and whose stage name is Nick Miles, is portrayed by Bert Alcock; his fiancee, Inez Clifton, is played by Miss Frances Dillon, and the villain of the piece, Rod Quinton, is delineated by Mr. Braund.

Miss Genevieve Price is the ingenue, Connie Stair; Milton Fowler is Val Vincent, the comedian, who is in love with Connie; Mrs. Al. Heckman is Juliet Saul, and James Price is her husband, Denny, both playing character parts in the "play within a play."

The leading man, Barry Raymond, is played by Oswald Price, and his inamorata, Wella Dean, is enacted by Miss Leta Ruth.

The two stage hands who get the stage ready for the play are Pete and Dave (James Price, Junior, and Homer Lundy).

In intermissions last evening, a pleasing program arranged by Miss Marguerite Rome, was presented. Miss Rome and her pupil, Miss Mary Sisson, played the piano, and Miss Olive Rome sang.

"Nancy Anna Brown' Folks" will be repeated again to-night and to-morrow night in All Saints' Parish Hall.

Madrid, Spain, will build 3616 workers' cottages, starting at once.

AMAMI SHAMPOO

brings out the true LUSTRE and BEAUTY of your hair Shampoo with Amami

IT BEAUTIFIES

Cleanses perfectly Dries quickly

Friday night is Amami night

At Drug and Department Stores, 15c

Packard & Courtenay, London and Toronto

ROUND TRIP

BARGAIN FARES

From PETERBOROUGH

MAY 11-12

TO

MONTREAL

$5.25

QUEBEC CITY

$8.50

ST. ANNE DE BEAUPRE

$9.10

Equally low fares from intermediate points.

GOING — MAY 11-12

RETURNING — Leaving Montreal and Quebec City up to Evening of May 13th.

For full particulars consult your nearest Agent.

Canadian Pacific

Canadian National

8d-3,7,10

Loses Ugly Fat 14 lbs. in 11 Days

New Safe, Quick Reducing Method

"I lost 14 lbs. the first 11 days taking BonKora. Since then, taking it less regularly, I have lost a more lbs. (25 lbs. in all)."—Miss Hilda G. Lantzer, who was overweight

Others who say ordinary methods failed, report 10 to 41 lbs. lost in 8 weeks with BonKora, the new quick, safe, pleasant Reducing Treatment.

Reduces fat the new "3-stage" way. Triple action; triple speed. No starving. Take a little BonKora daily and EAT BIG MEALS of proper combinations shown in BonKora package. There are no dangerous drugs in BonKora. In fact, this treatment builds health while reducing fat the quickest way.

Don't let fat ruin your charm. Get a bottle of BonKora from druggist today. If not delighted with quick loss of fat, manufacturer refunds money you paid for this bottle. You don't risk a penny.

Get a Big Bottle of BonKora To-day. Special This Week at ALL GOOD DRUG AND DEPARTMENT STORES Your druggist has it or can get it quick from his wholesaler. If not, write to-day to Battle Creek Drugs Ltd., Dept. 2, Walkerville, Ont.

China Seeking Greater Control Over Foreigners

NANKING, May 10 (A.P.). — Speculation as to whether China intends to abolish extraterritoriality arose to-day as the Nanking Government moved to obtain a greater measure of control over foreigners and foreign shipping companies entering the country.

Hereafter, not only will persons of other nationalities visiting China be required to have chinese visas, but foreign steamers plying China's inland and coastal waters will be required to submit to inspection by the Government Bureau of Navigation.

Moreover, it was announced, these foreign steamship companies must obtain licenses from the Government, supplying complete information regarding their movements.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY FINAL DAYS of ROGOW'S STYLE SHOP

Gigantic Spring Sale

SWAGGER SUITS

Your last chance to buy suits of the highest quality at such ridiculously low prices at .....

8.95 to 12.95

REG. UP TO 29.00

COATS

There are only just a few left and we are clearing them at .....

7.95 to 14.95

REG. UP TO 29.00

Last Minute Arrivals of SUMMER DRESSES

Over one hundred Summer Printed Dresses in a great variety of patterns, shades and styles. Sizes 14 to 20. Spring sale prices are only .....

2.95 to 4.95

WE NOW HAVE ON HAND A COMPLETE RANGE OF SUMMER DRESSES AND COATS.

ROGOW'S STYLE SHOP

Corner George & Brock

Opp. Toronto Savings & Loan

BUY now! and make WORK

There is a buoyancy in the air!

The day of business paralysis was yesterday.

Today revised conditions demand action.

Every dollar wisely put to work means more pay envelopes and consequent buying power.

Every mother's son is involved in this new phase of commercial revival. Remember when you spend a dollar it stimulates trade.

What do you need?

Why delay the gratification of the need?

Don't hold back because you feel it unseemly to buy what you want.

BUY THE THINGS YOU WANT

IF YOU HAVE THE MONEY TO SPEND

SPONSORED BY THE CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPERS ASSOCIATION

DEBT DEADLOCK MAY BE BROKEN

U. S. Expect Early Call From British Envoy Upon Subject.

FORMULA IN OFFING.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (A.P.)—An expected early reopening of conversations with Great Britain gave promise to-day of a possible break in the war debts deadlock.

Now that President Roosevelt has opened the door for negotiations, State Department officials frankly anticipated an early call from Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador. Signs appeared both here and in London of a willingness to talk debts and there were definite indications that officials of both nations are feeling about for some formula that can be placed on the table.

Another sign of leavening in the debt mass was seen in calls yesterday by Andre de Laboulaye, French Ambassador, and Paul May, Belgian Ambassador, on William Phillips, Undersecretary of State.

Foreign Minister Barthou in Paris explained that Laboulaye had sought an explanation of the Johnson Act which prohibits nations in default to the United States from selling securities in this country. The Ambassador, Barthou said, wished to "keep posted to see if there is any possibility of a token payment."

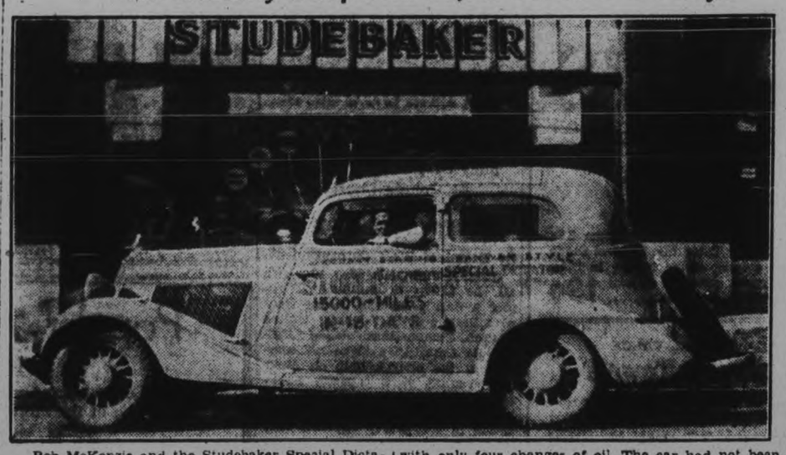
France, openly in default, has never made a token payment, and news that the Quai D'Orsay was even thinking of one was received by administration officials with high interest.

Diplomatic chiefs here displayed considerable interest in the reported reconsideration by the British Cabinet of the previously intimated plan to tender another token in partial payment on the $85,670,705 due next month.

HealYourPiles

Don't let itching, bleeding, internal or protruding piles sap your vitality and cause an expensive, painful operation. In 15 minutes you can stop the pain and quickly shrink sore, swollen tissues with the Doctor's new prescription, Chinа-Roid. It must fix you up in 10 days or money back. Ask your druggist for Chinа-Roid.

Car Recently Completed 15,000 Miles In 15 Days



Bob McKenzie and the Studebaker Special Dictator St. Regis Sedan, in which he recently completed the "fifteen thousand miles in fifteen days" endurance run under all sorts of weather conditions. The car and its driver paid a flying visit to Peterborough on Friday afternoon last, calling upon Charles H. Elliott, the local Studebaker dealer. When the car arrived here, the speedometer recorded 17,824 miles, the distance it has run since coming off the assembly line, with only four changes of oil. The car had not been regreased since leaving the facotry at the start of the 15,000 miles endurance run. Sole purpose of the trial was to demonstrate the stamina and endurance of the Studebaker automobile which is the lowest priced sedan in the entire Studebaker line. "It is noteworthy", remarked Mr. Elliott, "that the distance this car travelled in 15 days is equivalent to the use the average driver will give his car in about eighteen months."

DEVICE ENABLES SCIENTISTS TO STAGE SUN ECLIPSE AT WILL

Machine So Sensitive It Can Register Heat and Light of Candle Across Atlantic.

SHOWS COLOR OF STARS.

BY F. B. COLTON
A. P. Science Writer

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(AP)—Joshua, who commanded the sun to stand still, will have nothing on modern astronomers when they start using a new device reported today to the National Academy of Sciences.

With it, say the machines proponents, you can stage an eclipse of the sun anytime you want to, without waiting for one of the rare occasions when the moon drifts across Old Sol's face.

The device will be chiefly useful, said Dr. A. M. Skellett of New York city, for studying the corona, the mysterious pearly streamers of light that extended outward from the sun hundreds of thousands of miles into space.

Another astronimical instrument so sensitive that if set up in New York it could register the heat and light of a candle burning across the Atlantic in Paris was described by Dr. Joel Stebbins of the University of Wisconsin.

With it astronomers can learn the colors of stars too far away to be studied by telescopes, Stebbins declared.

The "artificial eclipse" machine enables astronomers to see the sun by television, with the glare done away with. Ordinarily the sun is so bright that the coroner cannot be studied except during an eclipse.

A small hole in the machine, with a photo-electric cell or "electric eye" behind it, is aimed at the sun and moves slowly back and forth over the sun and the nearby region of sky.

The light from the Corona and the sun itself is changed into electric currents as it shines upon the electric eye, but a filtering device takes out the 'glare' and throws only an amplified image on the Corona on the screen.

With this device, said Dr. Skellett, "it should be possible to reproduce the major features of a solar eclipse at any time when the sky is clear."

CHAIN STORE PIONEER DIES

HAMILTON, May 10. — (CP) — William Carrole, pioneer in the chain store business in Canada, died at his home in Appleby this morning after a short illness.

Egypt expects an auto boom.

52 MEN GIVEN EMPLOYMENT ON CONNECTING LINK

Work is Being Pushed Ahead on Lansdowne Street Contract.

REDUCING GRADE.

Company Awaiting Instructions From Department on Lakefield Job.

Work on the Lansdowne street connecting link between Highway No. 28 and Highway No. 7, for which the contract was awarded to The Law Construction Company of Toronto last year, is again in full swing.

Fifty-two men largely recruited from among the city's unemployed, and twelve teams and two dump trucks, comprise the labor forces of George Hawkins, superintendent of the job, while various local concerns are gaining direct benefit in the supply of lumber, sand and gravel, and cement, in addition to the countless minor requirements of any construction gang.

Resumed April 19

Work on the 1.9 mile section of Lansdowne street extending from the westerly junction with Highway 28, east to connect with Highway No. 7, was commenced last fall and provided employment for a number of the city's unemployed men for several weeks until operations had to be suspended due to severity of the weather and the depth to which the frost had penetrated into the ground. Operations were resumed on April 19, according to the superintendent, the men who are being paid at the rate of 25 cents an hour being recruited through the local employment bureau. Men and teams are paid at the rate of 45 cents an hour.

Superintendent Hawkins told The Examiner, who paid a visit to the scene of operations yesterday afternoon that the contract which he did not expect would be completed until the end of the summer, "is progressing favorably." The men were working well, and no dissatisfaction had made itself evident, he said.

Lakefield Road Job?

Asked if he could give any indication as to when paving work, for which The Law Construction Company were recently awarded the contract, would be started on Lakefield road, the "super" smilingly observed that he had enough to do to worry about the present job, without concerning himself with any other contracts his company might have in hand.

A brother of the superintendent of the present job on Lansdowne street, Chief Superintendent W. J. H. Hawkins who happened to be down from Toronto, was likewise unable to give The Examiner any definite information as to when the Lakefield road job would be started.

Stating that the surveyors had not yet completed their survey, the Chief Superintendent remarked that his company was just awaiting the instructions of Highways Department. He believed, however, that the work would be started in the very near future.

The Examiner's meeting with Superintendent Hawkins took place near the Lansdowne street and Webber's side road intersection, at which point considerable widening improvement is to be noted.

Reducing Grade

Major operations of the large army of men and teams is still being exerted at the westerly end of Lansdowne street where the grade is being reduced with a 15-foot fill, while some few hundred yards to the east of the incline the construction of cement culverts has started in the swamp by the intersection already referred to.

In the brief time that The Examiner was at the scene of construction operations, one of The Peterborough Lumber Company's trucks discarded a load of lumber being used in the making of forms into which concrete is poured for construction of culverts; a big dump truck belonging to The Municipal Road Spraying and Oiling Company of Toronto drew up with a load of bagged cement from the Canada Cement Company's Lakefield plant and found work for a gang of four husky men in the task of unloading; and another dump truck drew in from Patterson's Gravel Pit near by with a load of sand.

Through the cloud of dust a battalion of men and teams could be seen up the road to the west moving against the background provided by the once formidable-looking hill which is now being cut down to a lesser gradient.

With the completion of the contracts on No. 7 Highway and the present contracts at Marmora and Madoc No. 7 will be entirely finished in regard to grading and culverts and rock surfacing.

THE RED & WHITE STORES

"GOOD TEA NEVER FAILS YOU"

...and you get MORE CUPS to the Pound

Red & White Orange Pekoe — You'll enjoy the rich aromatic, delicious and satisfying flavor 55c

CROWN Blend 1-lb. Bag 47c — It has both strength and flavor.

Vi-Tone — The Tonic Food Beverage, Hot or Cold 12 oz. Tin 53c

Mazola Oil — Makes salad dressings smooth and rich. 16-oz. Tin 29c

Tomatoes — Falcon Std. No. 2½ — 2 for 19c

TOMATO Catsup — Chef—12-oz. — 2 for 25c

RED & WHITE COFFEE — 1-lb. Sealed Tin 39c

RED & WHITE Soda Wafers pkg. 10c

TURKEY Sandwich Spread 3½-oz. Tin 10c

NATIONAL MIXED Cakes lb 15c

FIVE ROSES FLOUR — 24 lb. Bag 85c — The All-Purpose Flour

NEW Cabbage - lb. 6c
CALIFORNIA Carrots - 2 bhs. 15c
COOKING Onions - 8 lbs. 25c
FLORIDA Celery - 2 for 25c
MEXICAN Tomatoes - lb. 20c
Rhubarb - bh. 10c
SWEET and JUICY Oranges - doz. 39c
CUBAN Pineapples - each 18c
SEEDLESS Grapefruit - 3 for 25c

SALMON — Shamrock Red Sockeye ½-lb. tin 17c

Roman Meal - 32c Pkg.
POST Bran Flakes - 2 PKGS. 23c
QUAKER Corn Flakes - 2 PKGS. 17c
RED & WHITE Flour - - 7-lb. Bag 25c
PRAIRIE BLOSSOM Flour - - 98-lb. Bag $2.24
RED & WHITE Peanut Butter - 13-oz. Bbls. 15c
ASSORTED Chocolates - lb. 23c

Extra Special — One Pint Tin — Hawes' FLOOR GLOSS with LONG HANDLED HANDY APPLIER — Both for 69c

SOAP P. & G. White Naptha 5 for 18c
Sunlight Soap 4 for 23c
Gold Medal Floor Wax 1 lb. Tin 25c — Gives a hard brilliant finish
CLARK'S PORK & BEANS - 2 for 23c — No. 2½
CHOICE PUMPKINS - each 10c — No. 2½
KEIFFER, FALCON PEARS - - 2 tins 25c — No. 2 Squat
RED & WHITE BAKING POWDER - 25c — 16-oz. Tin
RED & WHITE JELLY POWDERS - 25c — 4 PKGS. and 1 Pkg. FREE
STRAWBERRY or RASPBERRY JAM—With Pectin - 39c — 40-oz. Jar

EXTRA SPECIAL—Five Cakes GUEST IVORY SOAP, 23c—2 Cakes P & G Soap FREE.

SAVE! VISIT YOUR NEAREST

2 lbs. 19c — Jewel Shortening

GROCETERIA Store

FRIDAY and SATURDAY — Wrapped Per Loaf BREAD 5c

Choice Creamery Butter lb. 22c

Redpath Granulated Sugar 10 lbs. 67c

PINEAPPLE COOKIES - 2 doz. 25c
CRISPY Butter SODAS 2 lbs. 25c
CHATEAU CHEESE - Spreads or Slices 2 pkts. 25c
RED ROSE TEA - - Old Price ½ lb. 25c
BREAKFAST COFFEE - lb. 27c, 35c
HEINZ'S VINEGAR — Medium 15c — Large 25c

"Golden West" BREAD FLOUR 98-lb. Sack 2.19

Clark's Famous Assorted SOUPS 3 tins for 20c

FREE — Write a NEW SLOGAN for This Delicious, Scientific Health Drink

Bicycles, Roller Skates, Soft Balls

'VIP' "Keeps you vibrantly healthy." Recommended by doctors.

See demonstration at Main and Market Store. Medium Tin 59c Large Tin 98c

Singapore PINEAPPLE, tin 10c

MARSHALL'S BRISLING SARDINES 10c — Regular Price 15c—Now

Lightens Labor — Large Packet 15c — SUNLIGHT SOAP 5 Bars 25c

Keep the School Girl Complexion — WASH FOR BEAUTY WITH PALMOLIVE — 3 Cakes 14c — 5 GUEST IVORY SOAP 2 P. & G. FREE 23c

P.D. SAUCE 2 bottles 25c — Delicious with Cold Meats

SWEET or SOUR PICKLES Large Jar 25c — Guaranteed Fresh and Crisp

CHRISTIES CAKES Special Prices — ANGEL CAKE 20c — RASPBERRY LAYER 25c

7 Stores - E.F.MASON - 7 Stores

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Some girls buy special tissues at the drug store for removing make-up — others still use the old-fashioned method of rubbing it off on some boy's coat.

NORWOOD PLANS TAX DISCOUNTS

Five Per Cent to be Allowed for Those Paid by July 1st—Assessor's Roll In.

ACCOUNTS PASSED.

NORWOOD, May 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Norwood Council held its May meeting on May 7th; Reeve Tedford and Councillors Rork, Thompson, Brown and Sedgwick present.

The assessor presented his roll, which was accepted, on motion of Sedgwick and Brown; which also named June 4, as date of Court of Revision.

On motion of Brown and Rork, the collector's salary of $60 was ordered paid.

Messrs. McCarthy and Trembly addressed the Council re fire pump. No action taken.

On motion of Thompson and Brown, a bylaw was prepared, authorizing discounts of 5 per cent to July 1st and 2½ per cent to October 1st for prepayment of taxes on amounts of $10 or over, the same to be paid to the collector, and also to include a penalty of 5 per cent. for non-payment by Dec. 14th in each year.

On motion of Rork and Sedgwick, Mr. Ed. Slater was engaged to look after grass cutting and flower beds.

Councillor Brown was appointed to look after wood cutting.

On motion of Rork and Brown, application will be made to J. A. Ellis of the Provincial Department for contract for repairs and extensions to sidewalks and sewers, to the amount of $1,200.00.

On motion of Brown and Rork, the following accounts were ordered paid:

Isaac Puffer, salary for April, $14.50; T. Morrison, 4½ hours work on street, $1.10; T. McMaster, work on street, $9.20; A. Mason, $5.90; Prov. Treas., five marriage licenses, $20; R. J. Gordon, snowploughing, $1.80; I. Puffer, supplies, Town Halls, $7.75; H. E. Power, Town Hall, $4.13; D. Rogers, work on street, $9.55; W. Simpson, grading streets, $16.65; Gordon Simpson, 27½ hours work, $6.05; R. A. Dean, salary account, $40; extra work, $15, $55; Jean Roxburgh, insurance premium on Town Hall, $15; W. H. Giffin, wreath, $9; Prov. Treas., Town Hall license, $3.

BUY GEM LYE

You Get More For Your Money. Opens Clogged Drains, Also Makes Fine Soap At Less Cost.

Write for free Booklet

CUDAHY SOAP WORKS, TORONTO

Now There's Much Joy in This Home—Dad's RHEUMATISM Cripples Him No More

Off to work went Father—mother laughs with joy—the kids are happy and no wonder.

Three weeks ago he was nearly a cripple — the piercing rheumatic pains almost drove him mad—then came a bottle of ALLENRU — a present from a neighbor. In 2 days the agony left—almost like magic—no wonder gloom changed to joy in that modest home.

Within 24 hours after you begin to take ALLENRU for rheumatic pain, neuritis or lumbago the excess uric acid starts to leave your body—in 48 hours the terrible agony is gone—that's why leading druggists everywhere sell and recommend it for rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and neuritis.—4 oz. bottle costs only 85c.

Consider these Specials for Friday Bargain Day at HALL'S

SPECIAL VALUE IN Foundation Garments
1.00

A splendid group of high and low Back-lace Corsets in sizes 23 to 36; also Corselettes in sizes 30 to 36, and Side-hooked Girdles in sizes 24 to 32. Light weight garments, ideal for warmer weather wear.

WASHABLE REAL
Chamoise Gloves
1.69 PAIR

Just think, pull-on style, white or eggshell Washable Chamois Gloves at such a price! They're so smart for general wear, and so practical. Sizes 6 to 7. Instructions for laundering included.

THE TIME FOR Lunch Cloths
SPECIAL 79c

You'll need a few extra Cloths for the kitchen, cottage and for picnics, and these are ideal. Irish linen crash, size 50 x 50 inches, with colorful striped border in rose, green, gold and blue.

Special Repeat Offering of Women's Cotton Undies
21c and 27c

An interesting group of plain and ribbed knit garments. Opera, shaped and short sleeve style Vests . . . regular style Bloomers. Comfortable, cool and so inexpensive. Each garment 21c

You'll want many pairs of these dainty cuff knee style Panties with trim applique, and the Vests to match are just as neat. Fine, evenly woven Summer cotton in white only. Small and medium sizes. Each garment 27c

"Gordon Maid" Silk Hose

Better quality Hose at a low price. Sheer, silk-to-top chiffons and quality service weight. All first quality, cradle foot, slender panel heels. The best shades always in stock. Pair 79c

Summer Silk and Fabric Gloves 59c

These Gloves are mostly samples and in the ordinary way would sell from 1.00 to 1.25. Trim pull-on and cuffed styles, in Summer shades with plenty of white. Select at least one pair to-morrow. Special price, pair .....

Tubfast Quality Gingham and Prints 19c

These cool, crisp checked Ginghams will make many smart Summer frocks, sport blouses and beach pyjamas this year. Various size checks in every desirable shade. Gay, colorful tub Prints in a most varied selection of light and dark shades. Yard .....

Tubfast Porch and Home Frocks 1.49

Quality Frocks of vat-dyed prints that tub beautifully. There's many styles, each and every one smart. Mostly short sleeve effects with contrasting trims. Women's and misses' sizes, 14 to 51. Each .....

16-INCH LINEN
Towelling

Superior quality Irish Linen Tea and Roller Towelling. Natural shade with colored stripe border in blue, red, green, gold, etc. Special bargain value, yard..... 19c

SPECIAL VALUE
Terry Towels

Stock up on these Towels for taking to the cottage and beach. Handy size with colored border and checked pattern. A limited quantity selling Friday at, each..... 15c

Ankle Socks
29c Pair

Plain or mesh knit Socks of fine silk and cotton mixture. Ankle and shorter length, in pastel shades, white or with fancy striped tops. Sizes 5½ to 9½.

Awning Duck
39c Yard

Quality awning materials with combination color woven stripes of brown and white, green and white, navy and white, and some with brighter interwoven stripes. 30 inches wide. A weighty quality, splendid wearing.

SPLENDID VALUE IN Girls' Dresses

Many different styles in Dresses for girls 2 to 14 years. They're cool, fresh looking and quite tubbable. Short sleeve styles, jumper effects and stripes. A varied selection of colors. Remarkably low priced at 98c

Girls' Summer Pullovers

Lovely little Sweaters in short puffed sleeve, with round neckline. Open lacey knit, in shades of pink, blue, applegreen and maize. Sizes 8 to 14. Special 98c

Pantie Dresses
FOR TOTS 2 TO 6
69c

Just received a special value for Friday. Neatly styled, short sleeve pantie dresses in quality tub prints. Effectively trimmed, neatly finished. Sizes 2 to 6 only.

KIDDIES'
Bloomers

Cool Summer weight Cotton Bloomers. Roomy cut sizes, neat and comfortable. White or pink, in sizes 2 to 16 years. Special 25c

Manufacturer's Clearance of CurtainEnds
Some Slightly Damaged
36-Inch Self-Dotted Marquisettes
White and Ecru
19c Yard

Here is a saving you will appreciate because it means new curtains for kitchens, pantries, bedrooms, bathrooms and cottages at an unusually low price. Various size lengths, ranging from 1 yard to 5 yards. Shop early Friday for best selection.

Frilled Voile Curtains 79c
COLORED DOTTED BORDERS

Curtains all ready made up, ready for use! Fine white voile with blue, rose, green or gold dotted frill borders and tie-backs. Standard window size, 2¼ yards long. Special selling price, complete .....

ROOM SIZE
Axminster Rugs
6' 9" x 9' 19.75
9' x 10' 6" 29.75

We have just received a special group of new patterns in these famous Rugs. Rich, effective Oriental patterns and colorings. Desirable Rugs that give splendid service and add much to the appearance of the room, whether it is dining, living or bedroom. Two popular room sizes, two special prices!

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

CAMPBELLFORD AMATEUR PLAY IS BIG SUCCESS

"Jimmy, Be Careful" is Splendidly Staged by Y.P.L. of St. John's Church.

VERY FINE CAST

By Examiner Staff Correspondent.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 10—With all the talent of professional actors a cast from the Young People's League of St. John's United Church, Campbellford, staged "Jimmy, Be Careful," a three-act comedy, in the church hall, on Monday evening, to a capacity audience, that showed the appeal of the play and the fineness of the acting in the hearty applause they rendered.

Produced under the direction of Miss Reta Palliser, the cast was well chosen and fitted into their parts with an ease of manner that was hard to beat. The theme of the play was charming, centering as it did around the purchase of supposed oil lands, on which was eventually located a "gusher," but not until the hero had lost his girl, who married another man, and he had linked up for life with his old girl's sister. Although dramatic in places humour was often to the fore and added that touch of interest which always spells success for a production of this kind.

Tillie, the maid (Reta Palliser), a good natured Swedish girl, is splendid in her impersonation, and makes a great deal of the fun in the play, pairing off well with Pietro, her admirer (George Palliser), who is a sunny, happy-go-lucky Italian, of a very affectionate disposition, and ably assists her in the role of fun maker. Emilie Blake, a younger daughter (Margaret Cover), is a serious, unselfish and a palent girl, very much in love with Jim, but she does not carry her heart on her sleeve. This part was very well taken and acted with grace and in a very pleasing manner. Jim Blake, who is a young man of fine principle, generous and considerate, and very much loved by his friends, was exceptionally well taken by Ernie Ferguson, whose natural charming manner, made his acting worth while.

Ma Blake, a patient, devoted but short-sighted mother, was very ably portrayed by Marjorie Ferguson, who took this mature character in fine style. And then there was Aunt Ellen, a rather worried woman but devoted to her sister, Fanny, and the children, in which role Kathleen Wilson excelled. Verna Blake was the spoiled daughter of Ma Blake; she was attractive but selfish, and nearly loses what she most desires through her selfishness. Ruth Palliser fitted into this character in fine style, and was the spoiled girl to perfection, carrying a difficult role.

And Chris, the countrified fellow, rather boastful, but a little afraid of his wife, was played by Ken Hazell, and added to the production many of the laughs that pleased the enthusiastic audience. And another fun maker was Willie Blake, who was full of laughter, and fond of practical jokes and a love of teasing. Fred Palliser took this part to perfection and showed some real acting. And the business-like, Keen, Herb Clark, who was dangling on Verna's string, was splendidly portrayed by Don Holmes, showed himself to be keen and brisk of manner, a distinct contrast to Chris, the ever laughing country fellow.

From all angles the production was a great success and again emphasized the fact that amateur productions are very popular with Campbellford audiences. Between the acts, Clark and Frank McKelvie rendered violin and guitar selections, and Jack Cassan, piano and mouth organ novelties. It is expected that the play will be staged at Wooler at an early date.

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND
"SALADA" TEA
"Fresh from the Gardens"

Popular Astronomy

THE MOON

George Eliot in Adam Bede, in the XVIII. chapter, refers to one of the more common Moon beliefs.

BY H. W. L. MAHOOD

George Eliot is telling of the burial of old Thias Bede by the "White Thorn." This is what she says, "It 'ud ha' been better luck if they'd ha' buried him i' the forenoon when the rain was fallin'; there's no likelihoods of a drop now, an' the moon lies like a boat there, dost see? That's th' sure sign o' fair weather; there's a many as is false, but that's sure." George Eliot was relating a very common belief in her day. She was a lover of the tales and myths of Old Britain. As truly did she love the old hedgerows and barns and crumbling moss-grown walls. In Silas Marner there are touches that appeal to every one familiar with either the old Myths or the scenes that hold something that survive from the long past.

The observer has noticed that when the Moon shews a very thin crescent, the dark part of the planet can be seen dimly standing out against the sky. The faint soft light, sometimes named The Ashen Light—or as the French would say —La Lumiere Cendre is very alluring to a person with a taste for delicate shading.

Do the Moon's changes affect the weather? From antiquity the belief has prevailed to the present that they do. Not only do the uneducated believe that the weather is thus influenced, but many of the literate also believe.

In the spring time and during the harvest this writer's Dad noted the lie of the Moon. He said, "When a line joining the horns or points of Moon's crescent lies nearly perpendicular to the horizon, so that the crescent cannot hold water, the Moon is wet." Whether the Moon lies prone or supine has no more to do with the weather than the Tropic of Capricorn.

$93.18 RELIEF MONTH OF APRIL

Court of Revision for Village of Millbrook Will Convene on June 4th.

COUNCIL MEETING

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, May 10. — Millbrook Council met in regular session on Monday, at 8 p.m. All members present, and Reeve P. Stinson, presiding.

A. H. Jeffrey and D. Sheppard, representing the Cosmos Rink Co., waited on the council, asking use of King street, for a street dance, and on motion of Councillors Fowler and Eakins, permission of council was granted.

Mr. Bain, of the Globe indemnity Company, addressed Council, re renewing of liability insurance. After much discussion it was moved by Councillors Eakins and Fowler, that council renew policy with the Globe Indemnity Company—Carried.

The Fire Company made a report of practice on this date, and everything in good order. Report received and adopted.

J. J. Clarke, assessor, returned the roll showing a toal assessment of $269,271.00, with a population of 699.

Councillor P. I. Bentley, chairman of Relief, made a report of relief dispensed during April, amounting to $93.18.

Ball-Fowler: That the report be received, and accounts for relief be paid.—Carried.

Ball-Bentley: That a court of revision be held on Monday, June 4, at 7 p.m—Carried.

Eakins-Ball: That the following accounts, which had been duly presented, be ordered paid.—Carried.

Hydro Commission	$76.44
Telephone Co., 2 months ...	12.40
H. Nattress, caretaker	15.00
E. C. Richards, constable	10.00
J. J. Clarke, assessor, $75, postage $1	76.00
Co. Treas, Miss Gillott	27.13
Co. Treas., Mrs. Turner ...	27.13
Co. Treas., Mrs. Bradley	6.13
S. Donnelly, digging	18.50
S. Donnelly, work	7.40
H. Murney, work culvert	3.20
W. West, work culvert	5.00
Millbrook Coal Co., cement..	.65
G. F. Burton, postage	1.95
G. E. Burnham, coal oil	1.15
R. H. Edmunds, acct	1.30
Fred Turner, labor	1.00
Relief Com. accounts Ap. ...	93.18

On motion of Councillor Eakins Council adjourned.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Congratulations to Miss Reta Palliser, who this year graduates from Queens University, Kingston, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Miss Palliser is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Palliser.

Mr. Ross Douglas was a business visitor to Toronto on Monday.

Mr. Neil O'Keefe of the St. Lawrence Hotel was in Belleville on Saturday, attending to business.

Officers Elected Bethany Institute

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, May 9. — The Womens Institute Branch of Bethany, held their annual meeting on Saturday evening, May 5th. There was a splendid attendance, and the meeting was opened with the president repeating the Institute Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Following the business of the meeting the installation of officers took place, as follows: — President, Mrs. R. W. Price, vice-president, Mrs. A. Thorndyke, secretary, L. Washington, treasurer, Mrs. Sidney Armstrong; piano committee, Mrs. Jamieson and Mrs. S. Armstrong; Flower Committee, Mrs. H. Arnott, Miss McMullen; Auditors, F. C. Dawe and Mr. Padgham.

The next meeting will be held in June at the home of Mrs. Sidney Armstrong.

JAPAN'S HAND IS SEEN BEHIND INDIA'S DRIVE FOR INDEPENDENCE

Nippon Strengthening Her Financial Stake by Propaganda.

EXTENDING CREDIT

By PAULIN B. SEAL
Central Press Canadian Correspondent

BOMBAY, May 10.—Evidence is multiplying that India has a powerful friend for her independence movement in Japan.

There is little doubt that Japan hopes to draw this country into her Pan-Asiatic scheme, and she is strengthening her position through traders, travellers, pilgrims, students and out-and-out propagandists. Her activity in this direction is given tremendous significance in the eyes of the British by Tokio's recent pronouncement of a "Monroe Doctrine" for China, with Japan as acting guardian.

Indian traders are allowed extensive and long-term credit by the Japanese firms exporting goods to India. Thus Japan is amassing a big economic stake in the country as she establishes a predominant position in the Indian market. An exception is made among nationals and responsible positions are given Indians in Japanese concerns in India. This is not the case in Japanese concerns in other countries.

Gain Vulnerable Position

Vernacular papers in the north of India make frequent references to increased Japanese trade activities in the Punjab and Kashmir. Japan wants neighboring Sinkiang, because of the gold and other unexploited minerals which are known to exist there. The climate is temperate and very suitable for Japanese colonization.

Japan also has reasons for the possession of this province. If a base could be established in this Chinese province, Russia could be attacked at vulnerable points in the heart of Asiatic Russia. The strategic importance of Sinkiang from this point of view cannot be exaggerated.

Headway in Siam is also being made by the Japanese. Siam is situated on the left flank of India. The people are of Mongolian origin and are mostly Hindus and Buddhists. Japan has thus racial and religious links with this country.

A few days ago, there were dispatches that with the consent of the Siamese government, Japan proposes to cut a canal through the Isthmus of Kra thus shortening the route to India. The canal, of course, has its strategic value. Thus, Siam, will, in a few months' time, be the centre of conflict between French, British and Japanese diplomacy, with the Dutch keeping a watching brief. For Japan has been suspected of interfering with the Malayese in the Dutch dependency.

After burning for several weeks a blaze has been extinguished in a new oil gusher in the Jebel Tselfat district of Morocco which is said to be large enough to supply the country's entire petroleum needs

---

Building construction is increasing in all parts of China.

Tired.. Nervous Wife Wins Back Pep!

HER raw nerves were soothed. She banished that "dead tired" feeling. Won new youthful color—restful nights, active days—all because she rid her system of bowel-clogging wastes that were sapping her vitality. NR Tablets (Nature's Remedy)—the mild, safe, all-vegetable laxative—worked the transformation. Try it for constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizzy spells, colds. See how refreshed you feel. At all druggists'—25 cents.

Made in Canada

NR TO-NIGHT TOMORROW ALRIGHT

"TUMS" Quick relief for acid indigestion, heartburn. Only 10c.

Enterprising Westerner Shingles Without Shingles

What with "Bennett Buggies" and other novel ways of beating the depression, western Canadians have made many contributions to the field of invention. Here, for instance, is another way of shingling a garage without shingles. An enterprising garage man, near Edmonton, had plenty of time, but little money to spend. So he got himself 1930's automobile license plates and used them. The result is a neat building, completely shingled with license plates, including the roof.

Lakefield News

Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Langley were in Hamilton for a few days last week.

Miss Helen Porter, who has been attending Queen's University, Kingston is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Porter.

Mrs. Gilbert Palmer of Toronto spent the week-end in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingol Grant and daughters, Doreen and Evalena of Toronto were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kendall.

Messrs. J. A. Porter and G. W. Porter were in Millbrook on Friday evening.

Messrs. J. C. and J. S. Ridpath and Master Billy Ridpath of Toronto spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ridpath.

Mr. Roy Everett of Peterborough was a week-end visitor in the village.

Mr. Harry Wannamaker of Toronto was in the village last week.

Mr. A. W. Clark was in Toronto for the week-end called by the illness of his father.

Rev. W. R. Archer was in Havelock last week as guest speaker at the jubilee services of the United Church.

Mrs. A. M. Bowen of Toronto was in the village last week with friends.

Mrs. R. J. Burton and son Douglas who spent the winter with relatives in Newfoundland, have returned to the village.

The members of A Group of the Womens Association of the United Church are holding an afternoon tea, sale of home cooking and cut flowers for Mother's Day on Saturday afternoon in the vacant store next to Mr. Thomsons.

W. H. Cunningham, who has arranged many excellent programs in the past, is bringing his orchestra and other high class talent to give a sacred concert for the W. M.S. of the Lakefield United Church on Tuesday evening next in the auditorium of the church.

The annual church parade of the I.O.O.F. will be held on Sunday evening next to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Marmora

Mr. Isaac McNutt moved into the residence of the late Mrs. Willis Fry on Monday.

Mr. Donald McInroy is receiving treatment for his back in the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. William Pinner of Fort William, and Mrs. F. Butler, of Toronto, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Mrs. U. Pinner for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bowen have moved into their cottage at Crow Lake.

Miss June Yeomans of Havelock has been visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Dougald Sanderson have moved to their cottage near Booster Park.

Mr. James McInroy had the misfortune to lose a horse on Sunday.

Mr. John Bonter has moved into the residence owned by Mrs. Ben Demas.

Mrs. James McInroy is confined to her bed through illness.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Adams visited relatives near Havelock on Sunday.

Mrs. James McGrath returned from Cochrane last Wednesday.

Large Attendance Millbrook Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, May 10. — An attendance of 70 at the Young People's Society on Monday evening, was a high water mark, though not quite up to the record for the current year of 96 two weeks previously.

The Christian Fellowship Committee, Oliver Brock convenor, was in charge, the Good Shepherd being the worship theme, Beatrice Jones giving the talk, after all had repeated the 23rd Psalm, and Anna Rowland leading in the prayer. Kenneth Kidd read the lesson, and Madeline McDowell gave the talk which followed the explanation.

A special feature was the singing by the pupils of Principal B. B. Dawsons room from the Public School, the three part song being taught by the musical supervisor, in preparation for the school fair this fall, being a number particularly appreciated. The topic for the evening was taken by Jean Burnham, and was an outline and was an outline of Denton Massey's last talk to his York Bible Class. The theme was "The Son of Man."

Business items included the announcement by the president, Mr. Dawson, that the young people are invited to Lakefield for next Monday, May 14, as guests of the United Church Y.P.S. of that town. The community gathering in St. Andrew's church on Monday, May 21, when a missionary from South America will address the meeting, and show pictures, and the banquet on May 28, as the final event by the Y.P.S. until fall.

The usual recreation hour was enjoyed after dismissal by prayer.

Norwood

Miss Christina Roberts of Stoney Lake spent the week-end with Miss Lola Stark.

Miss Margaret Burgess was the guest of Miss Florence Scott over the week-end.

Mrs. Winterbourne, who has spent the last couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. McConnell, returned to Winnipeg on Monday.

Miss Lillian Scott of Toronto is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. C. Squire.

Mr. Alex. Morrison of Huntsville is the guest of his cousin, Miss Bessie McNaughton.

Miss Georgina Beavis, of Apsley, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beavis.

Mr. Henry Kavnaugh has taken up residence in Mr. David Williamson's house.

Mr. George Walker has moved into the John Parker house on King Street.

Accept none but the Genuine

'Vaseline' Petroleum Jelly is a standard product the world over—pure, safe, sanitary. For first aid, nursery and a hundred other uses, nothing can take the place of it. Soothing and healing. An ideal emollient. Tasteless, may be taken internally. It is refined by a special process of the Chesebrough Manufacturing Company. For your own protection insist upon the genuine.

LOOK FOR THE TRADEMARK VASELINE WHEN YOU BUY.

If you don't see it you are not getting the genuine product of Chesebrough Mfg. Co., Cons'd., 5520 Chabot Avenue, Montreal.

CRICHTON
SYSTEMS SPECIALIST
119 Charlotte St. Phone 3675J
t,f,s

The Peterborough Examiner

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1934

THINK OF IT
The World's Greatest Tires
GOODYEAR
At a Price to Suit Every Purse
All Sizes—All Times
WATSON'S
George & Brock Sts.
Th.tf.

"THE STORE OF BETTER VALUES"

NEILL'S
WHITE FOOTWEAR

Footwear stylists predict white footwear will be extremely popular this season. Many delightful fashions are now being displayed in Calf, Kid, Elk, Nu-Buck and Canvas.

Ladies' White Leather Plain Pumps with new Cuban or spike heels. Neat leather soles and rubber top lifts. Always good style—
$1.95

An unusually smart 3-Eyelet White Calf Tie, with fancy perforated collar and vamp. Dress Cuban heels—combination fitting in widths. It's a "Modern Princess"—
$3.35

The popular "T" strap model is shown in a fine quality calf with cut-outs on vamp—open shanks and spike heels. All leather lined — combination fitting—and is obtainable in comfortable fitting widths. You'll like the style and wear.
$4.50

Ladies' All-White Elk Sport Oxford, with specially molded sport rubber soles and military heels. Neatly perforated—solid leather insoles. Correct for sport or golf wear.
$2.95

Men's All-White Nu-Buck Oxfords, with Goodyear welt leather soles and heels. Very dressy style—
$5.00

Ladies' fine quality Canvas "T" Strap and Tie models, with Cuban covered heels and rubber soles—
$1.70

R. NEILL, LTD.
350-354 GEORGE STREET

Frankford Nurse Wins Gold Medal

KINGSTON, Ont., May 10.—(C.P.)—Sixteen nurses graduate from the St. Joseph's training school for nurses, Hotel Dieu Hospital, at the exercises to be held on May 15. The winner of the gold medal for highest standing, donated by His Excellency Archbishop M. J. O'Brien, is Miss Margaret Sweetman of Frankford, and the honor winner of the silver medal, for second highest standing, donated by Dr. Charles E. O'Connor, K.S.G. was Rev. Sister Larocque, Hotel Dieu, the third award going to Miss Margaret Birket of Madoc.

PALMOLIVE SOAP

SPECIAL 3 for 14¢

PENETRATING OLIVE OIL LATHER CLEANSES THE PORES . . . LEAVES SKIN SOFT, SATINY AND FRESH

Crosse & Blackwell—32-oz. Jars
Raspberry Jam - - - 35c

Soap Chips 3 lbs. - 19c
Swift's Arrow Flakes, pkg. 10c

Turkey Spread
Delicious for Sandwiches
2 tins 19c

Cleanrite, 10c
(2c Refund on Bottle & Cap)
Javel Water, 2 bots. 13c

Creamery Butter lb. 23c

Crisco, lb. 23c
Aluminum Pie Plate Free!

Shopping Baskets
Large Size, 20c Each

PINEAPPLES—Medium Size - 20c
Singapore Pineapple, No. 2 Tin, 10c

Cherries, No. 2 tins .14c
Marmalade, 32-oz. jars .27c
British Educator Wheat Thinsies and Grand Slams ...2 pkgs. 25c
Macaroni ....5 lbs. 23c
Baking Soda, lb. 5c
Infants' Delight Soap .. 5 for 25c
McCormick's Soda Biscuits, pkg. 10c
Toilet Paper, Sani-White, large rolls ..3 for 25c

For Friday Only
Fresh Fillet lb. - - - 15c

Raspberries, No. 2 tins, choice, tin 20c
Swift's Boiled Dinner, tin 19c
Lemon Oil, 16-oz. bottle 15c
Old English Wax, 1 lb., and Furniture Polish Free 59c
Pure Plum Jam, 32-oz. jars 23c
Pure English Carbolic Soap, cake 5c
Catelli's Spaghetti, large tin 15c
Potatoes ..2 pecks 55c

Haboco Stores
"QUALITY WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE"

LOCALS

BE A TROUT.

Evidently trout do not bite at anything. They say 'what have you to offer?' Put in famous Reading Hard Coal, and while it may not be palatable, it is satisfying in the extreme. Sanitary Ice costs no more. 'Phone 3700.
dtf.

PERMANENTS DOWN IN PRICE.

New Spring prices in permanents: Reg. $7.50 wave oil $5 (with Marroil shampoo included); reg. $5 wave oil, $3.75; reg. $3.75 Moore Wave, $2.50; reg. $7.50 Naturelle Croquignole, $5 (with Marro oil shampoo included); reg. $5 Moore Wave Croquignole, $3.75. — 296 Charlotte St. 'Phone 3095.
5d-114-5209

PLUMBING, HEATING, TINSMITHING

Have W. R. Turner, 195 Simcoe Street. Phone 591

REPAIR EAVETROUGHING

Agents for Hecla Furnaces.
t,t,s-tf

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

W.M.S. annual banquet will be held in George Street Sunday School hall, Friday, May 11, at 6.30 p.m. Short selected program will follow, including bell ringing. Welcome to all women and girls. Tickets 30 cts. each. 2d,7.10,5204

WOOD

Good dry body mixed wood, choice heavy dry hemlock slabs; also dry mixed slabs for sale, cut as required. 'Phone 96. McCarthy & Johnston. Mon.Thur

PROGRESSIVE EUCHRE

will be held in the Moose Hall Friday evening at 8.15 p.m. Ten splendid prizes; everybody welcome. Next to Campbell & Best Hardware, Hunter street. 1d,111,5257

"EYES OF LOVE"

This comedy drama, in 3 acts, will be presented by Lily Lake Christian Endeavor Society, at Lakevale Church, Fowler's Corners, on Friday, May 18, at 8.15 p.m. Adults, 25c; Children, 2 for 25c.
2d,10,15,5258

"MACBETH"

To-morrow, Friday, Henry Herbert, eminent English actor, will give "MacBeth" in recital in Cambridge United Church, Lindsay, at 8.30 p.m. Adults, $1.10; students, 50c. 1d.111,1903

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

W.M.S. annual banquet will be held in George Street Church, tomorrow, (Friday) at 6.30 p.m. Tickets 30c each. 1d,111,5249

AUCTION SALE

Monday, May 14th, unreserved credit sale, horses, milch cows, young cattle, full line machinery, furniture, automobile, Mrs. Bruce Kidd, Lot 28, concession 14, Smith. J. H. Miles, auctioneer.
2d,112,5251

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. George Pryde tenders his thanks to the nurses of Nichol's hospital attending physicians and friends for the kindness shown during his recent illness.

WHY EAT A PECK OF DIRT

When you can eliminate the dust nuisance by treating your roads with calcium chloride, the perfect dust layer. Sold by Thos A. Rehill Co. Phone 245. 2d-10-12-5261

ORDER YOUR COAL NOW

While the prices are lowest. We handle only best quality Anthracite which assures perfect satisfaction. Thos. A. Rehill Co., 210 Wolfe St. Phone 245.
2d-10-12-5262

DOWNEYVILLE ENTERTAINMENT

In the Parish Hall, Downeyville, on Friday evening at 8.30, Father Galvin's Dramatic Society of Grafton will present Oliver Goldsmith's famous play, "She Stoops to Conquer." Excellent costumes of the year 1773 and superb acting by the talented cast provide an evening's pleasant entertainment. All are welcome. 1d,111,5246

Blue Coal Prices Reduced

For Prompt Delivery

Buy when the getting is good—Later Prices not Guaranteed.

Egg and Nut . $14.00
Stove 14.25
Pea 12.00

J. E. A. Fitzgerald Estate

PHONES 110 AND 111.
Coal, Coke and Wood Dealer.
11d,115

Mother's Day
Sunday May 13

Have You picked out the Gift for Mother?

What could be more appropriate than one of our Beautiful Flower Holders, filled with fresh flowers, and delivered to her on Saturday.

A fine selection to choose from at $1.00 and $2.00 complete.

Order one now.

Warne's
DIAMOND HALL
Phone 880

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter.

PREMIER TO ADDRESS KINSMEN

The Honorable George S. Henry, Prime Minister of Ontario, who addressed the Liberal - Conservative convention here this afternoon, graciously accepted an invitation to be present as guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Peterborough Kinsmen Club at Empress Hotel this evening.

Not only is the dinner meeting of the club to be outstanding because of the prominence of the speaker, but also on account of the fact that it is the organization's inter-club night when a representation of Kinsmen is expected to be present from Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg and Oshawa.

MONTREAL HOUSE RE-OPENING

The Montreal House on Aylmer street having recently been acquired by Mr. and Mrs. John Loucks, is to be reopened tomorrow, for the accommodation of boarders and roomers. The hotel has undergone renovation and is comfortably furnished.

Mr. Loucks, a native of Marmora, is a lifelong resident of Peterborough district. During the war he served overseas with the 52nd Battery.

USED CARS!

1929 OLDSMOBILE SEDAN.
1928 DURANT "65" COUPE — Rumble seat.
1932 FRONTENAC SEDAN.
1929 STUDEBAKER COMMANDER SEDAN.
1927 OAKLAND COACH.
1925 JEWETT COACH.
1926 FORD COACH.

CHAS H. ELLIOTT
STUDEBAKER DEALER
253 Hunter St., at Bethune.
Phone No. 1300 — Evening No. 3.
Fuel Office of J. E. A. Fitzgerald

Dr. W. M. Locke

You have heard all about this miracle man. Now you will be able to purchase

W. M. LOCKE SHOES

the Only Shoes Designed and Approved by Him

Exclusive Local Representatives:
NABORHOOD SHOE STORE
338 GEORGE STREET

MRS. J. PROCTOR TAKEN BY DEATH

Danced With King Edward When He Visited Canada as Prince of Wales.

LINK OF OLD ERA.

TORONTO, May 10 (CP)—The gentility and charm of a vanished era of artistocracy were recalled with the passing of Mrs. James A. Proctor at a hotel here. She died last night at the age of 94.

Mrs. Proctor, who danced with King Edward when he visited Canada as the Prince of Wales, who participated in the frilled and furbelowed social whirl of Washington during Ulysses S. Grant's last term, was in Ford's Theatre the night Abraham Lincoln was assassinated.

She had come to Toronto in 1849 and loved to describe her earliest reminiscences of the "New World." She described her earliest remembrances, of being told by her father one day while she was playing in the gardens of Hamilton Square, Birkenhead, England, that the family was going to America.

She described the trip on a sailing vessel, her family being the only passengers on the ship during their 28-day journey. The family had entered the Dominion's inland by water, as there was no railway.

Weddings

DIXON—CUMMINGS

Married at Park Street Baptist church parsonage on Tuesday May 8 at 8 p.m. by the Rev. G. Tyler, Jeannette Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Cummings and Raymond E. Dixon, son of Mrs. L. Dixon.

Attendants were Miss Reta Cummings, sister of the bride, and Mr. Maurice Dixon, brother of the groom.

Obituary

MISS ELIZABETH HOWREN

Resulting from injuries she received when she slipped and fell on an icy sidewalk three months ago, the death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday afternoon of Miss Elizabeth Howren. The accident occurred, according to a sister of the deceased, outside the Y.W.C.A. building on Simcoe street, and Miss Howren sustained a fractured hip.

She leaves two sisters, Miss Nellie Howren and Mrs. M. Mayock, both of this city.

The funeral is to be held on Saturday from the residence of Mrs. M. Mayock, 457 Elm street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, where a celebration of Requiem Mass is to be held at 9 a.m. Interment will follow at St. Peter's Cemetery.

FRANCIS AITCHISON

The death took place early this morning of Francis Aitchison at his residence, 106 Lansdowne street, at the age of 79 years.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Aitchison, the deceased was a native of Bewdley. Before coming to this city sixteen years ago, he resided at Meaford, where he followed his trade as a cabinet-maker and carpenter.

Surviving is his widow, formerly Alice Victoria Blake; also two sons, George of Lucknow and Percy at home, and two brothers.

Funeral services are to be conducted at the family residence on Saturday, at 2 p.m., by the Rev. C. D. Daniel, pastor of Mark Street United Church. Interment will be made at Little Lake Cemetery.

MICHAEL J. QUINN

The death occurred at the House of Providence, early this morning, of Michael J. Quinn, aged 86 years.

The late Mr. Quinn was born in Dublin, Ireland, and entered the service of the British army as a drummer-boy at the age of thirteen. He served in India and other parts of the Empire for many years.

Mr. Quinn had no relatives in this country and had made his home at the House of Providence since 1921.

Funeral Mass will be celebrated to-morrow morning in the Chapel of the House of Providence, followed by interment in St. Peter's Cemetery.

U.S. Officials Battle To Stem Strike Tide

WASHINGTON, May 10 (C.P.).—The weight of President Roosevelt's administration was thrown against the spread of strikes in United States to-day, bringing promise of settlements in two labor disputes.

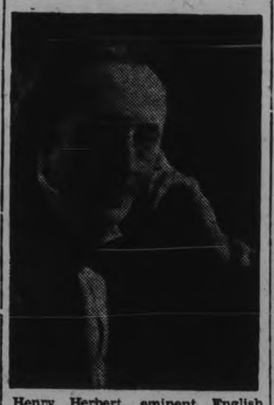
Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, oil administrator, recommended a "fair and equitable method" of ending the strike of 2,000 Cleveland gasoline station operators.

An ultimatum by Secretary of the Navy Claude Swanson brought a "turning point" in the strike at the Camden, N.J., plant of the New York Shipbuilding Company, with a final conference called for Friday.

Secretary Swanson ruled that unless work is resumed by Monday, the U.S.S. Tuscaloosa—a cruiser 95 per cent. completed—will be removed to the Philadelphia navy yard.

Coal production in Poland is greater than a year ago.

Coming To Lindsay



Henry Herbert, eminent English actor, who will be seen in "Macbeth" in the Cambridge Street United Church on Friday, May 11, at 8.30.

Fred Roy Captures Two Blue Ribbons

Two photographic prints which have recently been awarded the blue ribbon of the Ontario Society of Photographers are on display in the windows at the Roy Studio. Taken by Fred. L. Roy, the pictures are charming studies of Mrs. S. W. English and little Peter Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bailey, of this city.

Mr. Roy entered four prints in the photographic exhibition held in connection with the annual convention of the Ontario Society of Photographers in Toronto, and he is justly proud of the fact that he captured two of the twenty-one blue ribbons that were awarded, emblematic of the highest honors of the society for photographic art.

BIRTH

CULLEN — At Nicholls Hospital, May 9th, 1934 to Mr. and Mrs. Morgan C. Cullen, 122 Dufferin street, a daughter (Olive Dianne).

MARRIAGE

DONALDSON—WOOD. — On Monday, May 7th, 1934, by Rev. C. D. Daniel, Isabelle, daughter of Mrs. A. Donaldson, to Frank A., elder son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wood.

DIED

AITCHISON—On Thursday, May 10, 1934, Francis Aitchison at his residence, 106 Lansdowne street, aged 79 years.

Funeral on Saturday at 2 p.m. from the family residence, with the Rev. C. D. Daniel officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

HOWREN—At St. Joseph's Hospital, on Wednesday, May 9, 1934, Miss Elizabeth Howren, after an illness of three months' duration.

Funeral from the residence of her sister, Mrs. M. Mayock, 457 Elm street, on Saturday, to St. Peter's Cathedral for celebration of Requiem Mass at 9 a.m. Interment at St. Peter's Cemetery.

You will pay MORE for the DUNLOP "FORT" —gladly

The DUNLOP "FORT" Tire is the fullest expression of British and Canadian manufacturing genius. Built not to a price, but to an ideal, the DUNLOP "FORT" commands an infinitely more distinguished patronage than any other tire in the world. Unmatched dependability has won this position for the DUNLOP "FORT". Of course it costs more — but it is sane, long-term economy.

DISTRIBUTORS:
JOHNSTON'S
Tire, Battery and Radio Service
COMPLETE VULCANIZING AND GENERAL GARAGE SERVICE
George and McDonnel Streets
OPEN EVENINGS PHONE 2123

DEALERS DUNLOP TIRES:
Ashmore Service Stn.—George and Romaine
Foley & Wilson—McDonnel and Reid
Peel's Garage—Park St. at Perry
Baker's Garage—Lakefield
T. H. Ashby—Rubidge St.

PARK EMPLOYES PLANTING TREES

150 Maple Trees Set Out Along the City Streets.

ASSORTED SHRUBS.

Under the supervision of Alderman Walter Stocker, employees of the City Parks Department have been busy for the past several days planting trees and shrubs to improve the appearance of certain streets. About 150 maple trees, 8 to 10 feet high and purchased from nurseries, have been planted along the west end of Sherbrooke street, Aylmer street near Park Hill Road, and George street, south. Assorted shrubs have been planted on Walkerville Avenue and Murray street. Alderman Stocker reported to-day that the planting was just about completed.

THE EXCHANGE
165 KING ST. PHONE 2958.
OPEN EVENINGS.

WANTED—Bicycles, Lawn Hose, Garden Tools, Wheel Barrows, Gas Stoves, and Cook Stoves.

BARGAINS—The best buy in the city in Chesterfield Suites, Dining Suites, Sets of Diners, Dressers, Extension Tables, Chairs, Day Beds, Simmons Beds, Wash Stands, Floor Covering, Baby Carriages, Bookcases, Mirrors, Floor Lamps, Typewriter Desk, Steel Filing Cabinet, 8 drawers, Electric Radios, Guitars, Piano Accordian, Piano, A-1 condition, Electric Stoves, Cook Stoves, Wash Tubs, Copper Boilers, Lawn Mowers, Refrigerators, large and small sizes, 2 Sets of Team Harness, 2 Brooder Stoves.

2 Almost New 1¾ H.P. Single Phase Electrics.

Business Opportunity

An opportunity is presented for an experienced lady in ladies ready-to-wear to take complete charge of this department with a local firm—one with some capital preferred. Write giving all particulars as to past connections, etc. to Box 5215 Examiner.
2d-8-10-5215

AUTO LOANS
And Re-Financing
1930 Models and Later
Private Sales
FINANCED.—SEE
G. W. LUNDY
95 Hunter St. W. Phone 213
Representing
CAMPBELL AUTO FINANCE CO., LTD., TORONTO

The Peterborough Salvation Army Songsters, 55 strong, are planning to go to Toronto on May 26 and 27 and there present a musical festival. It will be the fourth trip that the Songsters have made to Toronto. The choir is under the capable leadership of Ben Smith.

DANCING »« MAYFAIR
THE SEASON ENDS SATURDAY, MAY 12.
DANCE TO OUR SMART MUSIC.
JOHNNY THOMAS AND HIS ORCHESTRA
Admission 10c Ladies free
DANCE 5c

Mark Street Dramatic Club Presents
"MOTHER'S MOMENT"
in the Sunday School Auditorium
FRIDAY, MAY 11, AT 8.15 P.M.
Auspices of the Young People's Society.
ADULTS 25c. CHILDREN 3 FOR 25c.

DANCE TO-NIGHT
MOOSE HALL (NEXT POST OFFICE) - 8.30 P.M.
ADMISSION - 25 CENTS PER COUPLE—15 CENTS SINGLE
ORCHESTRA: "J. BLACK'S MELODY-MAKERS"
WHO ASSURES EVERYONE A REAL GOOD TIME.
Hall Cool and Well Ventilated. Rights of Admittance Reserved.

MARTIN-SENOUR
100% PURE PAINT
It Pays to Paint—The Better the Paint the Better It Pays

CLEAN UP

Tools for Lawns and Garden

Lawn Rakes, Lawn Brooms, Turf Edgers, Pruning Shears, Digging Forks, Garden Rakes, Spades, Hoes. OUR STOCK IS COMPLETE. OUR PRICES ARE DOWN.

TWO WEEK-END SPECIALS

LAWN MOWERS—
Ball-bearing, 4-blade, 16-inch cut, 10-inch drive wheel. Very special..... 9.75
Clearing of low priced Mowers! 3 and 4-inch blade, 12 and 14-inch cut, 8-inch drive wheel..... 5.90 to 6.90

STEP-LADDERS—
7-ft., iron braced under each step. Each..... 1.95

CAMPBELL & BEST
134 HUNTER ST. PHONE 89

WATCH
Saturday's paper for important announcement by the management of the Brock Street Summer Gardens!

It will be the best news dancers of Peterboro' district have heard for a long time!

Look Here for the Date of Slicing

"Maple Leaf" Radio Programme (Donald Heins and Ernest Seitz) is broadcast every Sunday evening over Stations CFRB, Toronto; CKPC, Brantford; CKCO, Ottawa; 6.15 to 6.45; Eastern Standard Time.

BACON

FRESHNESS ENSURED BY DATING

CANADA PACKERS LIMITED
Producers of

MAPLE LEAF BACON

PLANTS AT: PETERBOROUGH, TORONTO, MONTREAL, HULL AND WINNIPEG

CP-74

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Roast Leg of Lamb With Pears
Baked Potatoes Asparagus
Lettuce, Green Onion Salad
Lemon Snow Cake Coffee

Roast lamb with pears is a variation from the usual roast lamb. Leg of lamb is a splendid spring dish for the fairly large family. It is good sliced cold and served with creamed new potatoes—or old ones, for that matter—greens and ice cream and cookies for dessert.

Today's Recipes

Roast Leg of Lamb With Pears.—One leg of lamb; salt, pepper, four slices bacon, six pickled pears, two tablespoons butter, fresh mint. Wipe lamb, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in roasting pan, lay slices of bacon across the top. Sear in a hot oven, 475 degrees Fahrenheit, for the first 20 to 25 minutes. Reduce the heat and cook more slowly at 300 degrees, allowing 30 minutes per pound. Baste frequently, but do not add water. Drain sweet pickled pears. Melt butter in a frying pan and saute pears in it until delicately browned. Sprinkle with fresh mint and arrange on platter with lamb. Use sprigs of fresh mint for additional garnish.

Halycon days was a name given by the ancients to the seven days which precede and the seven days which follow the shortest day of the year.

ON SALE AT LOBLAWS Week of May 10 - May 16th

Featuring the well-known Overseas line by Reckitts

"SPECIAL" NUGGET SHOE POLISH Assorted Shades 2 Tins 19¢

Silvo Silver Polish Large Tin 22c
Brasso Brightens Metals Large Tin 22c
Karpol With Polishing Cloth Tin 35c
Poliflor Wax 16-oz. Tin 49c
Zebra Stove Polish Large Tin 13c
Dome Lead Stove Polish Pkg. 24c
Blueing For White Clothes Bag 6c

RINSO "Soaks Clothes Whiter" Med. Size Pkg. 9c

AYLMER STRAINED FOODS For Infants, Invalids and Special Diets 2 Tins 21c

The Latest British Educator BISCUIT SENSATION is at LOBLAWS
CRAX BUTTER WAFERS
Crispy Flaky Dainty — New All Purpose Cracker — Perfect Bed-Time Snack
Use with Soups, Cheese, Oysters, Salads, Sardines, Butter, Thin also as a Soda cracker
Pkg 10¢

CALIFORNIA Navel Oranges Good Size 37c Dozen

"SPECIAL" ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR
2-lb. Bag 8¢ 7-lb. Bag 22¢ 24-lb. Bag 69¢
"Specials" like this are worth waiting for!

JUNKET Powders Assorted Flavours Pkg. 11c

"SPECIAL" Extraordinary! Presenting an Entirely New Biscuit Confection
WESTON'S English Quality Wedding Bell Creams
27 Sandwich Creams to the Pound
Biscuits of this quality should sell for 29c lb. Average count of 27 biscuits to a pound.
Special 1 lb. 19¢

N. B. Yeast Flakes Rich, Fresh Brewer's Yeast Dried & Flaked Package 29c

SURPRISE Soap 5 Bars 19¢ Really Does Surprise You
BRIGGER'S RED PLUM JAM With added Pectin 32-oz. Jar 23¢ Most every basket will contain a jar at this price
QUAKER PUFFED RICE 2 Pkgs. 25¢ So Useful in many Recipes as well as a Cereal
DOMESTIC or EASIFIRST SHORTENING 1-lb. Carton 10¢

LOBLAW'S CAKE
CHERRY 27c lb.
CENTENIAL 27c lb.
MADERIA 17c lb.

OUR DIETITIAN
Miss G. G. Taylor, B.H.S.
Tells how to surprise the family at very little cost!

—MENU—
Veal Olives
Escaloped Potatoes Fresh Spinach
Cabbage and Pineapple Salad
Fruit Rolls with Brown Sugar Sauce

SHIRRIFF'S SWEET MYSTERY DESSERT Chocolate Malted 3 Pkgs. 23c

OXO 10 Cube Box 26c

VEAL OLIVES
2 pounds veal from leg, cut in ¼ inch slices.
Salt Pepper Arrow Brand Bacon
Cut veal in pieces 2 by 4 inches. Put slice of bacon on each, having bacon extend beyond the veal. Roll and fasten with toothpick. Brown entire surface in frying pan, in bacon fat. Season with salt and pepper. Put in baking dish, add hot water to half the depth of meat, cover and bake until tender. Thicken liquid in dish, for gravy.

Your Health
by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Some illustrations which attempted to convey graphically just what a calorie is, were given yesterday.

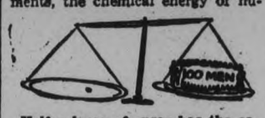
For instance, a calorie is the amount of energy which will raise a ton about one and a half feet.

This leads us to some interesting calculations. Even in bed, an adult of average weight uses up 1,500 calories. So at the lowest limits of activity your body requires enough energy to raise a ton a little less than half a foot.

Where does all the energy go to? Most of it is used by the heart in pumping blood through the vessels. If a man weighing 150 pounds were to be converted into a sort of elevator and his heart used as the engine, and it started to raise him through the shaft of a modern office building, the heart would land him on about the fiftieth floor in the course of twenty-four hours.

The work of the heart. If it were attached to an elevator machine it would raise a man of 150 pounds fifty floor in twenty-four hours.

One musn't think of him as scooting up to the fiftieth floor as a modern elevator does. The point is the time element. The body's processes as an engine are slow. In one minute he would rise only about a foot. Besides the work of the heart, body energy goes to moving the chest in breathing, moving the muscles of the intestines, thousands of eye movements, tongue movements, the chemical energy of nutrition. Yes, even while you are lying in bed, you body is doing plenty of things.



Half a lump of sugar has the caloric energy to raise a hundred men one and one-half feet.

Where does all the energy come from to do all these things? Of course, from calories in the food. And here again we come across some surprising calculations.

The greatest energizer—that is, the quickest and most successful form of human energy—is sugar. It doesn't make much difference what kind of sugar, although the simplest is the best. But since ordinary granulated sugar is more familiar than any other, we will use it as an example.

A lump of granulated sugar, as usually served, weighs about five grams, and as sugar has a value of four calories per gram, we find the astonishing fact that half a lump of granulated sugar has enough potential energy to raise 100 men a foot and a half.

The body is not a perfect machine, however, and uses only 33 per cent of the potential energy of foods.

CONTRACT BRIDGE
WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS
By E. V. SHEPARD

WHICH IS WHICH?

Yesterday we had a fine example of the Vienna coup. The day before we had a plain squeeze. I recently played the hand given today. Which is this? Note carefully the play before deciding whether it is a Vienna coup or a plain squeeze.

	♠A 9 8 ♥A 10 7 3 ♦A K 9 2 ♣7 5
♠K J 5 ♥K Q 8 6 ♦Q J 10 8 ♣8 3	W. N. E. S.	♠7 6 4 3 2 ♥9 4 2 ♦7 5 4 ♣Q 10
	♠Q 10 ♥J 5 ♦6 3 ♣A K J 9 6 4 3

My partner sat South and dealt. I opened the bidding with 1-heart. After that bidding went: South, 2-clubs; North, 2-diamonds; South, 3-clubs; North, 3-no trumps; South, 6-no trumps, to my astonishment; West doubled, ending bidding, with nobody vulnerable. Evidently West held strength in both of my red suits.

The opening lead was the 3 of spades. While looking over dummy I noticed West draw a card, as if to play it—a clear violation of etiquette. I played the Q from dummy. West changed the card he had intended playing, putting up the K. The Ace won, partly because our side had the suit stopped again, and partly because I knew that West had first intended playing the J, expecting me to play the 10 from dummy. Evidently the contract could be made only by a squeeze, either of the plain variety or as a Vienna coup.

A low club was led from the North hand. It was too dangerous to depend upon the adverse 2-2 division. East played the 10, dummy's J won the trick. While in dummy was the chance to once lead diamonds through West. The latter played his 10, as expected. The K won the trick. I led my last club. That suit broke. The K picked up the Q and the last opposing club fell. Five clubs were led. West and North each had five discards to make. What East did was of no consequence beyond holding all his hearts, which he did. West let go his lowest spade, his lowest diamond, and his two lowest hearts, before he had to consider what he had best do at the ninth trick. I let go my lowest diamond, my lowest heart, and both my spades, to pay the hand in Vienna coup manner, with the 10 of spades in dummy obliging West to hold his J.

For his next discard West let go his Q of hearts, as he dared not let go a diamond, or I could have won two diamond tricks, and made the coup, as West knew. As West blocked diamonds I let go my last low diamond. It could do no good to lead the J of hearts from dummy. I needed that card where it was, as East appeared to be holding the missing 9, twice guarded. The K of hearts was won with my Ace. Dummy's J won the next trick. ace of diamonds let me in. My 10 of hearts won the thirteenth straight trick for our side. The Vienna coup did it.

In 1646 a plague ravished Naples claiming 300,000 victims in five months.

Round Trip To West Cent a Mile In June

MONTREAL, May 10 (C.P.).—Announcement of a round trip fare to western points from Eastern Canada set at a cent a mile has been made by C. P. Riddell, chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association.

The new rates will start June 10 and will continue to June 30, and will be effective on both the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railways from all points east of Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, Capreo l and Cochrane, Ont., to all points west of Port Arthur and Armstrong, Ont. The same rates will go into effect in Western Canada June 8 and will last until June 30.

A return limit of 45 days is placed on the excursion tickets. Going and returning trips must be made over the same railways except where the interchangeability of tickets is permitted in the existing pool zones.

ALWAYS ASK FOR Interlake PURE—SOFT ABSORBENT
3 Rolls 2100 Sheets 25¢
MADE IN CANADA
Interlake Toilet Tissue

The Salvation Army was founded by William Booth in London, England, in 1865, under the name of East London mission.

Your last chance TO WIN THIS FREE Congoleum GOLD SEAL RUG

This is Congoleum Gold Seal Rug "ALDEN" Pattern No. 678.

Special Offer

If you purchase a genuine Congoleum Gold Seal Rug during the period of this contest, and then prove to be the winner of the Prize Rug, you have the option of taking the Prize or having the full purchase price of the rug you have already bought returned to you.

Time is short! The Congoleum Lucky Number Contest will definitely close at noon Saturday and your last chance of winning this beautiful rug FREE will have passed.

Have you deposited your entry? Remember it costs you absolutely nothing to try. There is no obligation to buy anything. All you have to do is to go to the store where this Prize Rug is on display, ask for an entry form and guess the number which is hidden under the Gold Seal on the Prize Congoleum Rug. If your guess is correct, or if your guess is nearest to the correct number, your dealer will present you with the Prize Rug Free.

Think what this beautiful, long-wearing, labor-saving rug will mean to your home. Examine the Congoleum Gold Seal Rugs at your dealer's and you will appreciate it.

Don't delay or you may miss this wonderful opportunity. The contest will definitely close at noon Saturday, and the winning number will be up in the window where the rug is displayed at 4.30 the same afternoon. So visit your dealer's and deposit your entry NOW.

Note the Special Offer at the side

CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUGS
CONGOLEUM CANADA LIMITED • MONTREAL

LOCAL DEALERS IN CONGOLEUM RUGS

A COMPLETE LINE OF CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
D. BELLEGHEM & SONS
188 HUNTER STREET PHONE 85

A Wide Range of Congoleum Rugs
CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES Limited
Watch for Prize Rug in Window.

LATEST PATTERNS AND SHADES IN CONGOLEUM RUGS
COMSTOCK'S
PHONE 156 300 GEORGE ST.

LET US SHOW YOU THE NEW CONGOLEUM RUGS
CAIN BROS.
178 HUNTER STREET PHONE 80

NEWEST—SMARTEST—CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
ROBERT FAIR & CO., LTD.
THE STORE OF DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

SPECIAL SHOWING OF CONGOLEUM RUGS AT
RICHARD HALL LIMITED
BEAUTIFUL PATTERNS Almost Every Conceivable Shade

SPECIAL VALUES IN CONGOLEUM RUGS AT HOME FURNISHING CO.
204-206 CHARLOTTE STREET. PHONE 1428

A Complete Line of Congoleum Rugs at
CHERNEY FURNITURE STORE
213 Charlotte Street. Phone 226

WE SELL CONGOLEUM GOLD SEAL RUGS
FINE'S FURNITURE STORE
189 CHARLOTTE STREET. PHONE 3475W

A CONGOLEUM RUG FOR EVERY PURPOSE AT McBRIDE & FRANKS
431 GEORGE STREET PHONE 2089

NEIGHBORLY NOTES

Please Phone Items to 1600 or 1601

Mrs. Fred Adkinson announces the engagement of her eldest laughter, Winifred, to William Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parks, Braidwood avenue, wedding to take place quietly this month.

* * *

The ladies' dinner and bridge party at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club last night was a very pleasant event of the waning social season. Over one hundred ladies were present for the dinner and the evening of bridge games which followed and which were brought to a close with the display of fireworks arranged by the elements for the occasion. The clubhouse solarium, where the card tables were arranged, was brightened again and again by flashes of pale, livid lightning that ringed it about with living flame. Directly after dinner ,balloting took place for the ladies' committee which will function at the clubhouse this season. From twenty names, the following eleven were chosen: Mrs. F. C. Ferrier, Mrs. C. G. Graham, Mrs. F. E. Hooper, Mrs. A. F. Inch, Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, Mrs. F. J. Overend, Mrs. C. J. Ray, Mrs. J. F. Reed, Mrs. G. C. Solmes, Mrs. F. M. Somerville and Miss Margaret Widdess. At the conclusion of the bridge games, the prizes were drawn for, with Mrs. C. G. Graham in charge. Mrs. C. J. Ray drew the winning tickets for prizes which included silk lingerie and pretty pieces of china, won by Mrs. C. E. Edwards, Mrs. B. Pitchford, Mrs. G. C. Solmes, Mrs. R. H. Turner, Mrs. R. Hanscom and Miss Cathleen McCarthy. Guests present included: Mesdames F. Crichton, E. L. Sackville, J. F. Reed, J. R. Marshall C. A. Sollitt, L. H. Ingram, C. E. Edwards, R. A. Davis, G. W. Fitzgerald, H. Scott, R. Wolstenholm, P. Fuller, W. A. Greenslade, G. A. Borland, R. J. Martin, J. E. R. Munro, J. Heffernan, J. C. MacDonald, W. L. Ferguson, F. E. Johnston, J. Baird, C. J. Ray, W. A. Murrell, W. E. Frank, R. G. Cottrell, R. E. Clarke, W. Bell, R. M. Hanscon, S. A. Archibald, A. H. Mowry, D. V. Ketcheson, H. C. Sherwood, B. C. MacLean, A. F. Skinner, J. A. Bell, A. E. Jagger, R. Henry, J. H. Cooper, A. H. Davis, B. W. Pitchford, N. Moore, J. G. McCarney, M. C. Metheral, H. Kelso, T. G. Louden, J. C. Green, E. F. Riley, G. Hill, H. Foster, B. Jackson, W. N. Hayes, H. A. Owen, R. E. Knox, L. D. Carver, C. G. Graham, F. J. A. Hall, F. Hooper, R. H. Turner, S. O. Shields, W. T. Fanjoy, L. H. Bearne, F. M. Somerville, E. H. Bartlett, W. G. Ovens, H. Borland, W. S. Derry, L. R. Mitchell, R. B. White, F. C. Ferrier, F. L. Buckland, G. C. Solmes, G. W. Harper, N. McLeod, and the Misses B. Inch, Doris Burgess, Violet McKeown, Florence Adams, Verna Burgess, Margaret Cameron, M. Bailey, Meta Meredith, M. Jamieson, Mary Greer, Olive Rightmyer, Sybil Hood, L. Johnston, Gladys Coon, Maida Conner, Marjorie Read, Edna Conner, Mary Mulholland, Florence Murray, Ellen Eagleson, M. McDonald, Meta Hart, G. Robinson, Tuna Hart, Irene Pogue, Evelyn Scott, Evelyn Tudhope, M. Lauder, Cathleen McCarthy.

* * *

The many friends of Mr. G. A. Benor will regret to learn that he became seriously ill in a local restaurant on Tuesday evening and was removed to Nicholls Hospital.

* * *

Mrs. Elise Vinette of 10 Lisburn street is today celebrating her eighty-eighth birthday anniversary, while her son, Mr. Edward Vinette, is sixty-two years old today.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Seaton have gone to Toronto where they will spend the summer.

* * *

Mr. Sherman Preston is in Oshawa, where he has secured a position

* * *

Miss Beverley Cowell of Prince street entertained the members of the On We Go Class of St. James Sunday School, at her home on Tuesday evening. The program consisted of piano solos by the Misses Jean Meeks and Beverley Cowell, vocal numbers by Miss Winnie Cunningham, a tap dance by the Misses Eileen Jeffries and Evelyn Hill, saxaphone solos by Miss Myrtle Foster a guitar duett by the Misses Mildred and Marion Anderson, a violin solo by Mrs. E. M. Foster and an instrumental trio by Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Quinlan and Miss Myrtle Foster. An enjoyable contest was won by Miss Evelyn Hill. Dainty refreshments were served by the Misses Beverley Cowall and Freda Field.

* * *

Mr. J. D. Fowler of Smith township is celebrating today his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bannister, Rubidge street, were in Kingston yesterday, attending the Convocation of Queen's University, when their daughter, Miss Doris Bannister, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

* * *

About eighty-five girls, members of the C.G.I.T. and organized Teen Age church groups of the city, held a jolly Camp Rally program at the Y.W.C.A. last night. They enjoyed swimming in the pool, in charge of Miss C. Littlefield, a sing song led by Miss Marion Armstrong, games under leadership of Miss L. Brownscombe, and refreshments served by ladies from the different groups. Miss Elizabeth Walker, the deaconess at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was introduced to the girls. The evening was promoted by the Girls' Work Board of the city in the interests of C. G. I. T. Week at the Y.W.C.A. Camp at Stoney Lake.

* * *

Mrs. James Booth of 516 Chamberlain street is seventy years old today.

* * *

Mrs. M. J. Lewis and Russell Lewis, of London street, with Miss B. Pascoe, were in Toronto on Wednesday attending the funeral of their aunt, the late Mrs. A. O. Hogg.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Walker of George Street were in Kingston yesterday for the Convocation of Queen's University, when their daughter Miss Margaret Walker, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

* * *

Captain Frank Morin of Lakefield, skipper of the tug 'Bob Hall', was in the city today on business.

* * *

Under the auspices of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E., a bridge party will be held on Friday evening at the Y.M.C.A.

* * *

Mrs. J. W. Bullock of Port Arthur, who is visiting friends in the city, spent a few days with Mrs. Thomas Chatten of 28 Barnardo avenue.

* * *

A complimentary banquet is to be tendered at half past six o'clock tomorrow evening in St. Andrew's Sunday School Hall, to the Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Orange Lodge for Ontario East, Mr. H. B. Fetterley of Belleville, and the Grand Mistress of the Lodge, Mrs. C. Wright of Peterborough. An invitation to be present is extended to all members of the L.O.L. and L.O.B.A. of Peterborough County.

* * *

Mr. E. J. Waterman of 519 Romaine street is seventy-five years old today.

* * *

At the regular weekly euchre party of the Sacred Heart parish, held last night under the auspices of St. Anthony's Society twenty-7 tables of cards were played and prizes were won as follows: Miss G. Feeley (four); Mesdames Leach, Clarke, H. Brioux, E. Woodhouse, Clayton, the Misses M. Desautel, F. Collins, M. Allen, Messrs. Hopgood, Bruce Clarke, Leo Pearson, M. Mowry, John Collins (one each).

* * *

Mr. William Stevens of High St. has a birthday today.

* * *

A delightful reception to the recently-appointed deaconess at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Miss Elizabeth Walker, was held yesterday afternoon in the Ladies' Parlors of St. Paul's in charge of the group known as the Minister's Aid. The purpose of the gathering was to introduce Miss Walker to the ladies of the congregation and the reception was attended by nearly two hundred guests, who were welcomed by Mrs. A. T. Barr, Mrs. R. Ross, head of the group, and Miss Walker. Decorations were carried out in pink and green. The tea table was beautifully done with a cloth of Irish lace, a central mirror reflector holding a silver basket filled with pink snapdragon, and tall green candles in junior silver holders. Lighted candles and roses also decorated the piano. Tea arrangements were in charge of Hrs. W. A. Burrell and Mrs. W. Gordon Hall. Mrs. J. Marsh presided at the table, assisted by Mrs. Burrell, Mrs. Gordon Hall, Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Hardie Jackson, Mrs. F. J. A. Hall, Mrs. T. H. Gilgour, Mrs. G. M. Roger, Mrs. W. Perks. Mrs. Ada Craig looked after the replenishment of refreshments. Special guests of the afternoon, who mingled with the others and introduced newcomers to the church, were the presidents of all the various church organizations, the men presidents being represented by their wives. During the afternoon, the presentation of a lovely bouquet of roses to Miss Walker, the gift of the Minister' Aid, was made by little Dorothy Ross and acknowledged in a brief appropriate speech.

WIFE PRESERVERS

This is an old one, but may benefit a bride. When food has been scorched, take cover off the pan in which it has cooked, and set the pan into a larger pan of cold water for a few moments. The food may easily be removed and will not taste scorched.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Remnants are evil things to buy unless you know just what you are going to use them for. It is very seldom indeed that the bargain hunter finds exactly the right use for that lovely little three-quarters of a yard of material in such a fashionable shade.

* * * * * * *

Here is an attractive gift idea which can easily be made from remnants. It is a bridge table cover or luncheon cloth made of squares of linen. It may be of heavy or fine linen. Perhaps you may have enough white linen left over from your summer clothes. If so all you need to hunt for is a remnant of some pretty blue, brown, bright red, yellow or green. When you have found just the color you want to combine with the white, cut it in squares and make a big square luncheon cloth, with the white squares opposite each other and the colored squares opposite colored squares. Small triangles appliqued in the center, dark on the light and vice versa, and block initials are a smart trimming.

* * * * * * *

Four luncheon napkins to match this cloth are merely squares just like those in the cloth, two white ones and two dark ones. Hems on both napkins and cloth are hand rolled.

Fashion Service

Today's pattern is for a very smart and simple dress especially designed for growing daughter. It's just pretending a cape, which makes it so distinctly individual.

It can be carried out in a great many different materials. Dainty blue and white pique voile was used for the model dress, with blue buttons and binds. Gay plaided gingham or checked seersucker with white pique is fetching.

Pattern No. 2658 cuts in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 2 yards of 35-inch material with 1¾ yards of binding.

Order Fashion Department. Price of pattern 15 cents. Spring Pattern Book 10 cents. Send stamps or coin (coin is preferred).

The Examiner:
Please order for me—
Pattern Number .....
Size .....
My Name .....
Address .....
.....
